Parade Officially Opens Livestock Show

With 28 choice club calves, 125 top lambs and 16 fat hogs from seven West Texas counties entered, Midland's Sixth Annual Livestock Show opened Monday and will continue through Wednesday. The show is being held at the grounds of Midland Fair, Inc. A parade through the downtown section at 10 a. m. Monday officially opened the three-day attraction.

The procession was led by a motorcycle escort, mounted flag bearers, and the Midland High School Band. The band was followed by mounted riders carrying the FFA banner, more than 30 other riders, and 26 motor vehicles. The Midland County champions will be selected Monday afternoon. The judging started at 1 p. m. The winners will progress to the district show Tuesday.

Classes are provided for light and heavyweight dry lot and milked calves, light and heavyweight fine wool and crossbred lambs, and light and heavyweight barrows, and light and heavyweight hogs. Midland County Agent V. G. Young, show secretary, said the class and quality of the livestock far surpasses that of any other previous show. No tail-end lambs, calves or hogs are on exhibit, he said. The stock was worked by a sifting committee Sunday afternoon.

The fancy calves, lambs and hogs are shown by 4-H Club and FFA members from Midland, Ector, Glasscock, Martin, Upton, Ward and Howard Counties. Many club members, their parents and friends were flocking to Midland for the annual event.

By-Passing UN On Aid Hit In Senate

WASHINGTON —(P)— Fresh Republican proposals arose Monday that President Truman (1) officially report his Greek-Turkey aid program to the United Nations and (2) designate Herbert Hoover to direct relief activities in the two countries.

As Congress awaited a legislative blueprint on the President's program to spend $400,000,000 in bolstering the Mediterranean nations against threats of Communism, Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) voiced concern at any "by-passing" of the UN. He said he thinks a "frank statement" of American intentions should be made directly to the international organization.

At the same time, Senator Moore (R-Okla.) suggested that Hoover, who recently completed a European food survey, be named to direct relief and rehabilitation expenditures which will go along with the limited military aid Truman promised the two countries.

Most members of Congress, meanwhile, awaited with mounting interest the imminent return of Paul Porter from his economic mission to Greece and of Ambassadors Lincoln Mac Veagh and Edwin C. Wilson from Athens and Ankara, respectively.

Almost simultaneously with word that the former OPA chief had left for home Sunday to submit his findings to Truman, diplomatic officials disclosed that the two envoys also were ordered back for consultations.

Porter seemed certain to be called before congressional committees for direct question on data which he said at Athens should provide this country "with the factual basis for further defining its policy in regard to Greece."

It appeared likely that Mac Veagh and Wilson also would be invited to testify in line with the growing congressional desire for all possible information behind the historic foreign policy shift.

On the issue of keeping the UN abreast of any American moves in the Mediterranean, Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a reporter he fears that if the United Nations is ignored entirely in the present crisis, its future ability to help keep the world's peace will be weakened.

"I don't want to by-pass the United Nations in this situation, even if it is unable to cope with the present crisis because it has no police force and no money for expenditures," the New Jersey senator said.

"I think this government should make a frank statement to the United Nations of what we are doing and why we believe that our actions are for the benefit of ultimate world peace."

Three Killed In Train-Car Wreck At Pecos Monday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An automobile-train accident at Pecos Monday morning killed three persons and injured another to bring the weekend toll of violent deaths in Texas to at least fifteen.

Killed when their automobile collided with a train at a T&P grade crossing were Miss Mildred Edwina Stuart, 26, Carlsbad, N. M., James Webster, 18, Boylston, Ala., and John Lenhart, 23, Edmond, Okla.

Charles J. Smith of Pecos, owner of the car in which the four were riding, was injured.

The three men were members of the K B Ranch Hands, a local orchestra.

The orchestra recently finished an engagement at the Log Cabin Inn near Midland.

The train involved was an east-bound Texas & Pacific. The accident occurred at 2:30 a. m.

In Fort Worth Sunday four were killed in a train-auto collision at a crossing. Killed were Von Ray Frasier, 24; his wife, Mrs. Nellie May Frasier, 20; their son, Danny Ray, 20 months old; and Mrs. Jean Brooks, 20, of Birdville.

DIRECT TESTIMONY ENDS—Telephone Fact Commission Will Report From Austin

ODESSA —(P)— Gov. Beauford Jester's fact-finding commission Monday began study of its investigation into the Odessa telephone dispute, with a view toward making recommendations for its settlement to the governor and Legislature.

The five-man commission adjourned its on-the-spot investigation early Sunday morning, subject to call at Austin at a later date.

Adjournment of the final meeting at 12:25 a. m. Sunday came after Southwest Telephone Workers Union and Southwest Bell Telephone Company officials had reviewed issues in the dispute which led to a walk-out at Odessa and sympathy work stoppages in almost every portion of the state.

Commission members said they did not expect to announce their decision until after the Austin meeting.

The Odessa local union had demanded Mrs. Elizabeth Allen's demotion from evening chief operator because they alleged she had used physical violence on operators, was abusive and did not know her job properly.

Removal of Mrs. Allen was regarded by the company as the sole issue in the dispute, George K. Meyer, general traffic employment supervisor from St. Louis, said.

Meyer declared the company had held the charges against Mrs. Allen were "trivial" and had never said it would not remove her. He said during early negotiations the charges were not substantiated.

Court Upholds Right To Fire U. S. Communists

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Supreme Court Monday in effect upheld the right of the Civil Service Commission to fire a government employe on grounds he is a Communist sympathizer.

The court refused to review protests by Morton Friedman, who was ousted from a job with the War Manpower Commission by order of the Civil Service Commission. His refusal leaves in effect rulings by lower federal courts which upheld the commission's order.

Friedman in appealing to the Supreme Court said he was fired as a result of a "witch hunt" which he stated "is now proceeding in the government service and elsewhere."

THE STORY: Sherry's cough gets worse. She stays home from work and the boys bring her lunch over to her. Peter comes. Tony's face goes white when he looks at the handkerchief with which she's been covering her mouth. There is blood on it.

XVI

It was hot now and the breeze that wafted warmly through the open windows was laden with roses and honeysuckle. Sherry breathed it deeply and closed her eyes.

The mountains would be nice, she reflected, the aromatic pines and the quiet lakes. But the doctor had said that if she was moved at all it would have to be to the desert.

They could not afford that, of course, and Sherry was glad. If she was going to die, anyway, it was dreadful to have the boys spend so much money on her. As it was it was awful to lie here day after day, knowing that every cent they made went for her milk and eggs and jellies and broths. Besides, they could never all work at once now, because one of them always had to be with her.

Sherry moved petulantly. She felt hot and sticky and she would have liked a bath and clean cool sheets and a fresh glass of water; but Sandro was busy in the kitchen and she knew how tired he was.

Kris must be tired too, she thought. He had taken the night shift and then got a call for work in the morning. They did not dare turn down a call now.

Tony was staying tonight and Sherry sighed. It was awful to think of their hard days and the nights of sleeping with one eye open all because of her. She knew from the doctor's persistent cheerfulness that he did not hold much hope for her, yet the boys had been so sure, so positive that she would be well and strong again. Maybe they were right. At least after six weeks she was still alive.

At first the doctor had advised wiring Sherry's parents that she must be instantly moved to Arizona—to a quiet sanatorium where she would have absolute rest and plenty of milk and eggs. But it had been that day that the letter from her mother had come.

"I hate to tell you this, honey," it had read in part, "but poor Daddy has lost his job after being with the firm 15 years. . . . For a while, at least, we won't be able to send you your allowance. . . . We thank God that you are working though, and getting a good salary. . . . So Sherry had not told them, and the boys had insisted that they could manage.

SANDRO came in from the kitchen.

His short-sleeved shirt was open to the waist and beads of perspiration glistened on his forehead. He looked at the pile of freshly laundered nightgowns he carried and said, "These ruffles do not look so well. I was stiffly scared I would scorch them."

He opened a drawer and laid the folded gowns in neat piles.

Sherry smiled and told him they looked beautiful.

Sandro wiped his damp forehead with a handkerchief.

"But as yet there is not a thing for dinner."

Sherry said, "Why don't you rest a while, darling?" She reached out a hand to him. "Tony'll be home pretty soon with the car. You've been working all day long and it's so hot."

Sandro came over to her and kissed her hair. Then he sat down beside her.

He said, "I scrubbed the kitchen floor, even, and did the brass. Friday I will do the bathroom curtains."

"You're so sweet, Sandro," Sherry said. "I never thought men could be so sweet."

Sandro would have said something only Tony came in the front door with some packages. He looked tired and hot and glared at Sandro.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the narrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

MGS MEETING SET FOR TUESDAY AT NOON

Warm blooded animals are usually more susceptible to snake poisons than cold blooded animals.

"I brought home some cold cuts and things because I thought you'd be tired," he said, "and all you've been doing is hanging-around the house!"

Sherry sprang to Sandro's defense.

She said, "Oh, Tony! Sandro's worked like a dog till this very minute! Can't you see how clean and polished everything is? He even washed and ironed and he is tired."

Tony put down his packages and kissed her.

Sandro said, "Sherry has not coughed all day," very proudly, as though he had something to do with it.

Tony's eyes widened.

He said, "Really? Why that's—that's wonderful!" and kissed her again.

KRIS came in and said, "Believe it or not, I made $15!" He kissed Sherry. "I can get the check Friday."

They were all pleased.

Sherry said, "I'm glad you're early, darling, you must be tired."

Kris said, "Not very, but my gosh it's been hot!"

The telephone rang and Sandro answered it. Then he called Tony. "But it is Peter," he said.

"She hasn't had a cough all day," Tony told Kris, as he went out to the telephone.

Kris said, "Grand!" and then he kissed her again.

"How do you feel?" he wanted to know. "I mean inside."

Sherry told him she had felt well all day, and Tony came back from the telephone.

He said, "Peter's going to drop by for a few minutes tonight."

Sherry said, "Don't, you think it's funny that Dr. Drexell hasn't sent a bill yet?"

Kris said, "We were just talking about that the other night. I guess he's going to wait till you're all well."

Sherry thought it more likely that Peter Barton was paying him and she knew the boys thought so, too. She hated that so she said, "I guess so," and Kris and Tony looked relieved.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — In a traditional rivalry at the University of New Mexico, arts and sciences students regularly undertake to pull down the engineers' flag just before the annual engineering student's annual St. Patrick's Day dance.

Health Problems...

You may not feel like working. You may tell yourself that you feel too bad even to do minor things. Perhaps you do, but there is a cause for it. Your emotional unbalance may be at fault. And then again the cause may be in your spine. An accident may have subluxated a vertebra... nerves are pinched as a result and your resistance is lowered to the point that you are sick and need to see a chiropractor as was true of the following:

DR. C. L. BRADY
Palmer Graduate

CUTS FROM CASES:

V.L. CASE NO. 11,288—Man, age 24, felt sore all over, had headaches, was nervous, stomach was upset, neck was tense and stiff, and he had become so irritable he did not like to be around people. Yet even so his problem cleared up quickly after going to a chiropractor.

V. L. CASE NO. 11,226—Woman, age 35, had fallen down some steps and her back and legs hurt so badly she had to be assisted in walking. She was nervous, could not sleep and her head and neck had a heavy, dull feeling. She was driven 40 miles to see a chiropractor and the woman said most of her discomfort was gone before she returned home.

V.L. CASE NO. 11,728—Woman, age 44, had a nagging pain that ran down her left leg to the foot. She was nervous, also had headaches and became tired easily. When nothing else brought relief, Chiropractic cleared up the misery within a few days.

LET THE RAILROADS THROW THE MUD...

We'll Provide the Service!

The air today is filled with charges, inferences, and innuendos... Many of the railroads are mud slinging.

What's troubling them, of course, is that the scheduled airlines are GETTING MORE AND MORE OF THEIR PASSENGER BUSINESS.

There's only one reason. The public hasn't been known to show preference without good reason.

THE AIRLINES TODAY ARE OFFERING MORE TO THE TRAVELER, FOR LESS, THAN THE RAILROADS.

Today, Continental Air Lines announces the FINEST SERVICE IN ITS HISTORY. Passenger Service which will leave nothing to be desired, by you, the passenger. Continental knows the war's over. We're flying a new fleet of Skystreamers... our experienced personnel is back. We have NO EXCUSE TO OFFER, and we offer none.

Today, you who want to travel to any of our 26 western cities or to any airline city in the world (via connecting carriers) will be served as follows:

(1) A phone call to our reservations department within seconds and without delay will get you immediate reservation service. Information on connecting flights, ground transportation, hotel and resort facilities, etc., is accurate, up-to-the-minute, cheerfully given.

For the businessman, travel credit cards are honored. Children under 12 travel for half fare, cutting costs of family travel.

(2) Skystreamer flights set the pace for cleanliness and comfort. Experienced hostesses attend to your every need and desire. Spotlessly white pillows, big reclining rubber-foam seats will lure you into a nap, unless scenery through your window takes your interest. Or choose from a list of current magazines. Individual reading lights are available.

(3) Mealtime on a Continental Skystreamer is a high point in any trip. Flying builds up a hearty appetite, and tempting food, served aboard plane, is an experience all Continental passengers look forward to. These meals, and between-meal beverage service, are complimentary, of course.

(4) You arrive a your destination with many hours saved. Often, businessmen are able to complete their business and return by air that same day. You're clean, refreshed, relaxed—ready for work or play. And best of all... THIS LUXURY SERVICE COSTS NO MORE IN MOST CASES.

We at Continental invite you to call us the next time you plan a trip. And if you're an old customer... who had an unpleasant experience during the war or in the difficult post-war adjustment period... we're even more anxious to please you with Continental's superior travel service.

Robert F. Six
PRESIDENT

In flying safety, U.S. Scheduled Airlines showed a sensational 40% improvement in 1946 over the preceding year. And no common carrier can surpass Continental's record of 12 years of SAFE operations without an injury or fatality to a passenger.

Too Much History?

Every few months, it seems, somebody discovers the answer to "What's wrong with America?" Not long ago Philip Wylie diagnosed "momism" as the single cause of most of our individual and national ills. Now Prof. Garrett Mattingly of Cooper Union in New York City has a new one.

The trouble, he says, is that we over-emphasize the teaching of American history in our schools. He perceives a distorted nationalism and cultural isolation as a result.

Professor Mattingly told this to a group of leading educators at Princeton University's international conference on educational problems. Nobody contradicted him, so maybe he's right. But we can't help recalling the questionnaire on American history which the New York Times submitted to a nationwide selection of high school graduates three or four years ago.

Though we don't remember any specific instances, the results were appalling. Some of the answers were howlingly funny until one stopped to realize the pathetic ignorance that had produced them. As a result of this poll, several states made the teaching of American history compulsory.

Perhaps the emphasis has now swung the other way. But even so it seems unlikely that it could have produced these dire results. We doubt that American minds are growing more distortedly nationalistic. Nor is there any dead level of thinking among our youth on the subjects of which Professor Mattingly speaks.

Furthermore, isolationism and twisted nationalism are not chiefly products of the history classroom. They are affirmed or denied by home teaching and environment. These in turn are shaped by many influences—the neighborhood, the section of the country, the parents' occupation, economic position, racial origin, and so on. These are surely as important as the sketchy instruction which grade and high school pupils necessarily get in so vast and complex a subject as world history.

Professor Mattingly seems to feel that this major emphasis on American history is bad in itself. But does it always produce the bad results he describes, no matter how excellent the textbook or teacher may be?

It seems quite possible that an intelligent presentation of American history could combat distorted nationalism and cultural isolation. It seems equally possible that world history could be presented in such a way as to encourage those misconceptions.

Professor Mattingly must agree that the evils of which he complains have been more prevalent in past years than they are now. They are still strong, of course. But they seem even stronger as the world draws more closely together, and the United States assumes a more important role in world affairs.

World history must be taught to the youngsters who will help shape future history. It scarcely seems dangerous if they devote even more time to learning of their own country and its people.

Hope is great because life without it is so hopeless!

Price Drops Are Predicted By Fall

WASHINGTON —(P)—Commerce Department officials expect price drops by next fall on the products which have soared highest in the post-OPA rise — like cotton goods and food.

The forecast was made in a cautious report on commodity prices, soon to be published. On the basis of the official report, Commerce Department economists gave these unofficial conclusions.

1. The downturn will be mild, not approaching the depth of a true "recession."
2. It will start around midyear with drops in a few lines, then gain speed as more items come into a balance with demand.
3. It will be uneven. Some prices may still be rising while those farthest out of line come down.

Special 1916 Edition Of The Midland Reporter Shows Big Plans Being Made For Livestock Show

By BILL DUNCAN
Browsing around in a museum can bring out many facts that people do not know or have forgotten. And a tour of the Midland County Museum has brought to the front many facts on a former Midland Livestock Show.

Since the Sixth Annual Midland Livestock Show opened Monday, it is timely to bring out a few remarks from a special edition of the Midland Reporter, dated Saturday, September 16, 1916. It was called the Second Pre-Edition of the Reporter in Celebration of the Midland Fair and Inter-State Livestock Show.

The Reporter of that date was a 40-page edition with a front and rear cover. Each page contained four columns of type. All type was hand-set.

Some Exhibitors Named
Among the first articles in the paper was one by the editor. He had just returned from the grounds and had this to say:

"Among those who have arrived early there are large exhibits of Herefords by Henry M. Halff, of Midland; George M. Bowles, of Lubbock; Jowell & Jowell, of Hereford; and C. M. Largent & Son, of Merkel.

Only two Angus exhibits are now on the grounds. These are by G. F. Cowden and Son, Midland, and Sam H. Hill & Son, of Christoval.

Midland had a college at that time. It was located south of the present location of the Log Cabin Inn. The Midland College was organized in 1910 and an article in the paper carried a summary of its work during the first six years.

Pictures Of Livestock
One section heads: "In 1913 such an organization" (an organization with sufficient funds to operate the college as a first class school) "was affected and the growth has been steady until this the seventh year opens with double the enrollment of boarding students over that of any previous year."

Throughout the paper are shown pictures of some of Midland's best livestock. Maple's Lad 4th, which heads the Lone Star Herd, owned by Scharbauer & Eidson, successor to Scharbauer Bros., is shown in a picture and also in the Scharbauer & Eidson ad. The firm advertised the Lone Star Herd of Herefords.

Livestock breeding companies were heavy advertisers in The Reporter. Many full page ads are shown throughout the one-section paper.

The G. F. Cowden & Son (Elliot F. Cowden) firm had a page ad showing two pictures—one of Bamano, the grand champion bull of Midland in 1915, and the other of the undated aged herd.

Aycock And Sons
B. N. Aycock and Sons advertise "one hundred breeding cows of the big boned Beau Donald kind." Aycock and Sons were Hereford breeders.

Mrs. H. M. Pegues & Son, of Odessa, had a page ad of their cattle, which were known as Pegues Herefords.

Wm. E. Wallace had an ad showing the polled Victor of the Wallace Herd.

It will be of interest to many persons, who now are finding difficulty in locating living quarters, that Midland was suffering from a housing shortage in 1916. The following statement is taken from The Reporter:

"Shortage Of Houses"
"Rather a remarkable statement to be made of any town. It is so, nevertheless. There is not a vacant residence to be had in all Midland; or if so the owner don't want it occupied. Daily we receive inquiry for rent property. Does it not appeal to you reader, that here is a good field for investment? Rent property commands a good price. Hundreds of new houses are needed, but here is the secret of this lack: Most Midland people own their homes, and the usually small incomes from rent property do not tempt them."

Now here is another statement from the same article: "Midland people, immensely wealthy as a rule, are looking for larger profits, and the comparatively few rent houses owned by accident rather than as an intended investment."

A reporter on the paper made a trip to the grounds of the stock show and wrote the following article:

"Over 200 head of registered cattle have already been entered in the sections, covering the different representative breeds. In last year's magnificent show only 167 head were represented in these sections. Practically every old exhibitor and many new ones are included among these breeders. Over a hundred head of these cattle are already comfortably housed in the big barn, and the good natured rivalry of the contesting breeders is already being manifested by those present; while the increasing crowds of daily visitors indicates the great interest being taken by other breeders and lovers in general of fine cattle."

Bull Brings $1,500
A picture is shown of the bull, Bertha's Real, which was bought at the Midland show "last year (1915) by Mr. Van Huss, who paid $1,500."

"Bertha's Real will be shown at the stock show next week. He is at the head of the Van Huss & Joss herd, a firm composed of our townsman, R. E. Van Huss, and G. E. Joss, of Topeka, Kans."

In 1915 the weather created a problem for the show. Here is a quotation from the 1916 paper: "Last year it will be remembered, the show was almost rained out. It rained every day, though despite this there was a good attendance and it was a wonderful success."

Picture Of 1907 Flood
A picture of the corner on which National Banks are located, shows the streets flooded over the curb. The picture was taken in July, 1907. The outline said "The precipitation was more than three inches in less than 40 minutes."

A scene is shown of the old G. S. Curtis Ranch, six miles north of Midland. The picture shows a herd of deer grazing on the ranch. The picture was taken in July, 1907. The outline said "The precipitation was more than three inches in less than 40 minutes."

The 4-H Club girls of the last few years are not the first to take prizes for showing prize stock. A picture of the former Geraldine Cowden with an Angus calf, "exhibited by her in the 1915 show," is shown in the 1916 paper. "At the time of the exhibit the calf weighed 255 pounds and was one hundred days old. It was a champion in the two classes shown and won money prizes to the amount of $400." She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cowden.

The Amarillo Fair was held a week before the Midland show in 1916 and several Midlanders took prizes at the event. Here are quotes from an article about that show:

"We were very proud of the showing made by Midland cattle last week at the Amarillo Fair. Mrs. H. M. Pegues & Son's Herefords and those of Jowell & Jowell were among top notchers in all classes, while W. F. Cowden & Son took the honors in 'Angus' classes."

"We had conversation with young Mr. Cowden yesterday morning. Said he: "Every animal we led out got a ribbon. With twelve head of cattle we won six first places, one senior championship, and one grand championship on cows, and our steer captured the grand championship. There were four herds of Angus cattle on exhibition and competition was hard."

"The aged cow that we showed at the Midland Fair in 1915 brought twin bull calves on September 30th, 1915, and on September 2nd, this year, she gave us another bull calf, which makes three good bull calves in eleven."

"These Angus cattle of the Cowdens are breeders as well as show stuff. You'll see them at the show next week."

Already Planning 1917 Event
The fair and show committee already was making plans for the 1917 event. In the paper several new ideas were being formulated to make the next show "one of the biggest and best ever held in West Texas."

HOUSE PANEL TO HOLD TRADE POLICY HEARINGS
WASHINGTON — (AP)— Members said Monday the House Ways and Means Committee has voted 13 to 8 to open hearings March 24 on the Truman administration foreign trade policy.

A number of Republicans in both House and Senate have complained that the United States, in its reciprocal trade policy, gives too many favors to foreign traders and gets too few concessions in return.

ATTEND MEDICAL MEETING
Dr. and Mrs. Tom C. Bobo and daughter, Betty, left Monday to attend the Southern Medical Convention in Dallas. They will return to Midland Saturday.

JIMMY ALLISON HERE
Jimmy Allison, a cadet in Seawane Military Academy, arrived Saturday night by plane for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Allison.

TENNIS KINGS MEET
PHILADELPHIA — (AP)— The greatest shotmakers in pro tennis — Bobby Riggs, Don Budge, Fred Perry, Frank Kovacs—began firing Monday in the first annual Philadelphia Inquirer $10,000 world professional indoor tennis tournament.

Indians in the territory that later became the United States cultivated 25 different crops.

About 25 per cent of foods used by Americans are dairy products.

Williams Practices Hitting To Left Field

TAMPA, Fla.—(P)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox has his sights set on another 400 batting average this year and since he regards the "Williams shift" as a barrier to his goal he is practicing left field drives to break it up.

Admitting he was "a bit bull-headed at times" last year, the slugging outfielder now says his persistent refusal to hit to left then probably cost him the American League batting title.

Ted estimated he lost about nine hits directly because of the shift, enough to enable him to have beaten out Mickey Vernon for the crown. As it was, he finished with a .342 and 11 points behind the Washington first baseman.

Will Sacrifice Homeruns
"I definitely am going to hit to left more often this year," said Williams, "especially when they use that cock-eyed shift against me."

Williams said he realized that striving for a 400 batting mark meant he would have to sacrifice some of his home run power.

"I am going to concentrate on getting hits," he said, "Babe Ruth's homerun record can wait."

Williams pointed out that Ruth was past 30 when he made his record of 60 home runs in 1927. Ted is 28. He feels he has a long time to go.

"Occasionally, and when the situation demands it, I'll swing for that long one," Williams grinned boyishly.

All snakes shed their skins one or more times each year.

STANTON LOSES—

Girls Basketball Loop Votes To Stay Independent League

HILLSBORO —(P)— Members of the State High School Girls Basketball League have voted to continue under the present organizational set-up and not to become a part of the Texas Interscholastic League, L. O. McKemie, state director, said Monday.

As the league wound up its eighth annual tournament over the weekend with East Chambers of Winnie-Stowel winning the championship by beating Stanton 24-22 in the finals, McKemie revealed that a vote had been taken by districts and that with the exception of one man had gone solidly for keeping girls basketball in the hands of the schools instead of turning to the Interscholastic League.

There were 245 members of the league this year. There are more than 500 schools in Texas with girls basketball, members estimated, thus the league has about 50 per cent of them as members.

The Interscholastic League has been studying the question of sponsoring girls basketball and has a committee working on the matter. The principal objections voiced by McKemie's organization are that the Interscholastic League would want women coaches and women officials and that prior to organization of the State High School Girls League the Interscholastic League opposed participation by girls in competitive athletics and at that time did not want to sponsor girls basketball.

East Chambers Holds Ball

In the final game Saturday night, Maxine Pate and Mary Ann Wilson led the East Chambers, scoring with nine points apiece but brilliant Betty Blissard, Stanton forward, showed she was entitled to all-tournament selection by her great basket shooting that brought 12 points and kept her team in the game to the end. With less than three minutes to go Blissard hit a lone one to make the score 23-22. Pate, however, was fouled and got a free shot which she sank, then the East Chambers team held the ball until time ran out.

Illinois Runner Sets New 440-Dash Record

CHICAGO —(P)— The track record books may never catch up with hurricane Herb McKenley of Illinois before the 1948 Olympic Games, but the long-limbed Jamaican convincingly has demonstrated he should be rated the fastest quarter-miler of all time.

McKenley broke in a new pair of spiked shoes Saturday night with the fastest indoor 440 yards ever galloped 47.9 seconds in the Illinois Tech relays at the University of Chicago field house.

Although temperatures on the plateau of Yellowstone National Park drop as low as 60 below, geyser and hot springs areas remain snow-free, with grass and shrubs thriving around them.

Hank Leads Pirates To Win Over Braves

By The Associated Press
A Spring training victory or homerun doesn't mean a thing when baseball's opening day rolls around but Pittsburgh fans were keeping their fingers crossed Monday after Hank Greenberg's smashing performance against the Boston Braves Sunday. The Pirates won 13 to 1.

Ordinarily Hankus-Pankus is no ball of fire in the grapefruit league and that's why his two homers and single against the Braves was considered highly significant. The big slugger likes to take his time rounding into condition for the league games which count.

Other news from the training camps:
Tampa—Grady Hatton, the Cincinnati Reds' sophomore third baseman, was a casualty Sunday as the Boston Red Sox whipped the Red Sox 6-4. The young Texan stopped a ninth inning single by Pete Layden with his jaw, but was not believed seriously hurt.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—With their grapefruit league record evened at three wins in six starts with a 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers called on Hal Newhouser to pitch Monday in their second meeting with the Yankees.

San Diego—Pitcher Orval Grove says the Chicago White Sox have the "best looking bunch of rookies I've ever seen at a training camp, especially the pitchers. If Gebrian, Gillespie, Harrist and Evans keep going as they have, we regular pitchers will have a tough time making the club."

Los Angeles—First Sacker Eddie Waitkus aggravated his ailing arm on a throw to second base and Chicago Cub Manager Charlie Grimm announced he will be sent to Bays Springs, Calif., for treatment by Denny Carroll, retired ex-Detroit trainer. The Cubs pounded Bob Feller for five runs and eight hits, including Andy Pafko's three-run homer, to whip Cleveland, 8-1, Sunday.
