

A & M RESEARCH FOUNDATION RECEIVES $1,000 GIFT COLLEGE STATION—(P)—Texas A and M College's research foundation has received a gift of $1,000 from Houston Endowment, Inc. Dr. A. A. Jakkula, foundation executive director, has announced. Houston Endowment is a philanthropic organization founded by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones, of Houston.

February Coal Exports Below January Shipments—(P)—Coal exports during February fell 37,892 tons below January shipments and were 721,638 tons less than had been allocated for February movement overseas, the Solid Fuels Administration said.

U. S. May Participate In Refugee Organization—(P)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee recently unanimously recommended United States participation in the International Refugee Organization. I.R.O. was set up by the United Nations to handle the problem of approximately 1,000,000 refugees and displaced persons remaining in European occupied areas.

Contour Cultivation Proves Beneficial In Fighting Wind Erosion—(P)—Contour cultivation has proved beneficial in helping control wind and water erosion, N. L. Heidelberg, cooperater with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, reported last week. Heidelberg, who has been farming on the contour for several years, said his fields blew severely and lost a large amount of top soil when he had straight rows and that he lost very little soil by blowing when his rows were on the contour. He said he had to delay plowing two or three days longer after a rain when farming on the contour than with straight rows because of the additional moisture held by the contours. Lines for contour cultivation were run on the farms of H. R. Solomon, W. H. Seales, and W. T. Horreis, who is farming on the A. H. Bengel Ranch. Assistance in running the lines was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service. Complete soil and water conservation plans were completed on the farms of A. C. Teinert of the Valley View conservation group and W. M. Bramlett of the Prairie Lee conservation group last week. These plans included such practices as contour cultivation, crop residue management, cover crops, and crop rotation.

RECALL OF WITNESS ASKED—(P)—Defense attorneys have asked for the recall of Princess Sophia of Greece as a witness in Col. Jack Durant's military trial for theft of the Hesse crown jewels. A "Texas Day" program was in charge of Mrs. C. W. Thorpe. Those on the program included Mrs. Thorpe, Mrs. D. M. Pinnell, and Mrs. J. H. Galloway. Refreshments were served. Other members present were Mrs. J. P. Roach, B. F. Seay, Carl Ham, Reg Durham, John L. Cobb, Garland Lindsey, and the hostess. Fire destroyed the temporary quarters of the National Supply Company of Frankel City Friday night. Construction of a permanent structure to replace the one destroyed by fire two months ago, is almost completed. Jimmy Burleson, formerly of Brownwood, has assumed management of the Wallace Theater here. He replaces Howard Mayes, who left recently. Evangelist Preston Cotham of Lawton, Okla., will conduct the gospel meeting at the Andrews Church of Christ April 9-20. Initiation of a county home demonstration program for Andrews County was begun Saturday when Mrs. Hatty G. Owen of Odessa met with women of the county interested in the work. Miss Helen Nichols, student in H-SU, Abilene, recently was a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nichols. Charles Curtis, who has been on occupational duty in Italy since last July, is in Andrews visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Curtis. Mr. and Mrs. Clint Storey of Pensacola, Fla., have returned to their home after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ham. Howard Tucker is spending a few days in Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooksey and son, Frankie, are visiting in Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dorsett of Virginia have been recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith. Dr. and Mrs. John L. Cobb are in Dallas where Dr. Cobb attended a meeting of the American Medical Association. Miss Ruby Lois Shook of O'Donnell is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McGill. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bigham were weekend guests of relatives in Roman. Mrs. R. A. Davidson left Thursday for Lubbock where she will visit her daughter who is attending Texas Tech. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Caskey are the parents of a son born March 13 in the Andrews County Hospital. The baby weighed 7 1/2 pounds, and was named Danny.

Andrews News—(P)—Mrs. Yates Harwell was complimented at a pink and blue party in the home of Mrs. Knox Irwin Thursday evening. Party colors were used in decorations and refreshments. Refreshments were served to Mrs. D. M. Pinnell, Sammy Marcus, Russell Austin, J. W. Pinnell, Misses Loma Smith and Fannie Matthews; and to the honoree, Mrs. Harwell. Charles Pinnell, star Mustang track man, established a new meet record last Saturday at Big Spring when he ran the high hurdles in 15.3 seconds to top the old record of 16.1 seconds, established in 1945. Pinnell also battered the regional record, which has stood at 15.9 seconds for approximately 10 years, according to Coach Francis Tubb of Andrews.

Irving Goodspeed Enroute To Texas To Face Murder Charge—(P)—Irving Goodspeed is en route from Santos, Brazil, to Montague County, Texas, to face a murder charge in the slaying of Marlin Camp, North Texas distributor of the Dallas Morning News. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, said the steamship Murray M. Blum, bringing Goodspeed in custody of two Texas officers, is scheduled to dock at New Orleans March 30. It left Santos March 7. Gov. Beauford H. Jester sent Texas Ranger Robert L. Badgett and Sheriff J. L. (Buck) Jameson of Montague County to Brazil to return Goodspeed to Texas.

JAP NAVY BECOMING JUNKMAN'S DREAM—(P)—The Japanese Navy, once third largest in the world, is rapidly becoming a junkman's dream. Thirty-one ships now are being scrapped in 17 ports.

AIRLINERS WILL TRANSPORT UNIVERSITY PEP SQUAD—(P)—Two four-motored airliners are planned to transport a flying pep squad from the University of Texas to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball Tournament in Kansas City.

Midland Show Club Calves Dress Out Far Above Average

Ten head of calves slaughtered and dressed by the A. and M. Packing Company following the 4-H Club and FFA livestock show and sale here last week, are reported to be the finest and prettiest ever seen here.

Henry Brooks, manager of the packing plant, said the calf purchased by Tom Sloan from James Locklar, Midland County boy, dressed out 68.63 per cent, which is far above the average. Packers here say it is the best they have ever seen.

Each of the 10 calves dressed better than 63 per cent, Brooks said. The beef is on display at the plant.

The company also slaughtered and dressed five club sheep and four hogs.

Dirt, Squirt And Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Well another stock show success can be chalked up. The Sixth Annual Midland Livestock Show was a success in every way, including the rain that fell on Tuesday. The many spectators commented on the quality of the stock in this year's show, saying it was the best ever shown here.

E. H. Barron, president of the Midland Livestock Show, A. G. Bohannon, general superintendent, and V. G. Young, secretary, expressed appreciation to all the business firms and individuals who made the show possible. They especially thanked members of the various committees who worked early and late in arranging and staging the show.

D. Davis, T. and P. agent in Midland, says the construction crews have arrived in Midland and have started reworking the livestock loading pens. This is welcome news to our livestock shippers who have been advocating these improvements for several years.

Four-H and FFA Club members selling stock at the club sale last week went home with $14,797.99 for 130 head of livestock.

Griff McConal, 4-H Club member and son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McConal of Midland, had to leave the show because of illness, and last reports on Griff is that he has a light case of pneumonia.

Charlie Cox and daughter, Carlynn, from down Glasscock County way, showed some of their good quarter horse stock at the Midland show.

The rain last week will be worth much to both the farmer and rancher. Most farmers had their lands bedded and ready for the rain. The rain will assure most of them adequate moisture to plant. Ranchmen say this moisture will make the weeds grow, and to the sheep man at this time of the year, this means that young lambs will get off to a good start. The freezes in January and February loosened the soil so there was very little run-off.

Wade Winston of Snyder was a visitor at the Midland club sale last week.

Jay Floyd, Midland ranchman, is helping rid the county of coyotes. Jay killed a coyote in his pasture last week. That will be one less range marauder the sheepmen will have to contend with. The death loss from coyotes this year has been high, and the South Midland County ranchers have spent a lot of time and money in trying to eliminate this menace.

The Midland Cattle Auction sale had a run of 200 head of livestock last week, with bidding active and prices generally strong. Fat calves sold up to 20.00, fat cows up to 13.50, stocker calves by the head went up to 67.75 while stocker cows cashed in up to 13.00. Canners and cutters brought from 10.00 to 11.00, cows and calves by the head brought up to 122.00 a pair. The sale had a good run of hogs with the best butcher kind going for 26.00 per hundred.

G. W. Barnes, Texas A&M College Extension Service beef cattle specialist, was a visitor to the Midland livestock show and sale. Barnes judged the fat steers at the Sand Hills Hereford show in Odessa.

Three ranchmen down in Glasscock County are starting a feeding experiment with medicated cake to offset the bitterweed problem. Recent short period experiments in the Fort Stockton area have shown some good results in offsetting this poisonous weed.

Several Midland County cattlemen are complaining of the amount of lice cattle are carrying at this time. One ranchman has lost a few head of calves and is planning to spray all of his cattle to clean them up. DDT is still a good means of controlling lice and horn flies.

Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, says the garden booklet mentioned in this column a few weeks ago, soon will be ready for distribution. It will have some excellent information for persons interested in having nice lawns, trees, flowers and shrubs.

Case Against Former Judge Goes To Jury

HARRISBURG, PA. —(AP)— The government's conspiracy case against former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson and five co-defendants was turned over to a jury of nine men and three women at 2:13 p. m. Saturday.

U. S. District Judge James Alger Fee, of Oregon, specially presiding at the trial told the panel in his charge that "some overt acts have been proved in this case," and instructed the jurors that "if you find that the defendants knowingly worked together—if the evidence shows they did—they must be found guilty."

He told the jurors they could have "as many days as you want" to reach verdicts, warning that a separate verdict must be returned for each defendant.

Judge Keith Receives Package From Italy

Judge Clifford G. Keith, Saturday, received a package from a former Army friend, Lt. Carl L. Tucker, stationed in Italy.

The package contained an unmounted cameo and a fancy cribbage board of inlaid wood.

Lieutenant Tucker was with Judge Keith in England. He is now with a unit near Naples, Italy, as an ordnance officer.

Chemicals similar to aspirin are used to fight plant diseases.

Mrs. Davidson Attends Big Spring Conference

Mrs. Linnie H. Davidson, executive secretary of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, returned Friday from Big Spring where she attended a two-day regional conference of tuberculosis association representatives. "Programs for Local Associations" was the conference theme.

Special topics discussed included development of the voluntary association; relationship of the national, state and local organizations; organization and administration; program planning and case-finding; and education and rehabilitation.

Dr. Earl Sellers of Abilene, and W. C. Mitchell, area counselor for the division of vocational rehabilitation, San Angelo, were the principal speakers.

Midland Legion Members Attend Big Spring Meet

A delegation of Midland American Legion members, including J. F. Friberg, commander, M. C. Peck, Ed C. Vahrenkamp, H. C. Hanna, F. D. Reven, Joe Buttry, Mary C. Buttry, A. C. Hefner, the Rev. Fred McPherson, Thomas J. Inman, and W. B. Franklin, were in Big Spring Saturday night to attend a barbecue and meeting honoring Paul Griffith, national commander of the Legion.

Commander Griffith, on a tour of Texas, addressed the area meeting which was attended by hundreds of West Texas Legionnaires.

Labor, Teachers' Pay Bills, Taxes Crowd Solons

AUSTIN —(AP)— Labor restrictive bills, teachers pay and taxes are crowding each other to hold the spotlight as the 50th Legislature pulls deeper into the second half of its session.

The session's headlong plunge into legislation opposed by organized labor has been checked twice in the last week.

First, Rep. Marshall O. Bell's proposal to submit his "open shop" constitutional amendment failed to win the necessary two-thirds vote in the House.

Then the Senate passed the bill incorporating the same ideas, but slapped on an amendment which Bell is likely to oppose bitterly when the matter comes before the House again for concurrence. The House passed Bell's bill, unamended, 96 to 37.

Bell also announced he would press Tuesday for a showdown vote on the open shop constitutional proposal. It was passed on second reading 85 to 52, which left it 15 votes short of the necessary 100 before it can be sent to the Senate.

The Senate's amendment exempts all organizations included in the National Railway Labor Act. Teacher Bill Before House

Standing at the top of the House calendar is the session's first tax bill, a measure to raise $36,000,000 annually for teachers pay and country roads.

Closely linked with tax legislation are the various teacher pay proposals.

Fresh in the minds of most members was the orderly march on the capitol of around 1,000 school teachers last week, to urge their demands for minimum pay of $2,000 per year under a bill raising per capita apportionments to $55 a year.

There is a great deal of talk of possible unionization of teachers and possible strikes, if some sort of pay raising legislation is not enacted. Both sides told the teachers this session would not let them down.

Harrisdale Farms Win Odessa Show Honors

ODESSA — Harrisdale Farms of Fort Worth annexed both championships in the registered Hereford divisions at the annual Sand Hills Hereford Show here Friday.

The Harrisdale bull, H. D. (Beau) Brummell 87th, was the Hereford bull champion, and Lady Husky 124th, won the female division. The reserve champion Hereford bull and female were shown by Stanton's Hereford Ranch at Johnson City.

Nettie B., owned by Foster Conger of Sterling City, was judged the champion quarter mare, and the champion stallion was Peppy's Pepper, a three-year-old owned, and shown by Lloyd Jenkins of Fort Worth.

Miss Neva, entered by Buster Cole of Midland, was the reserve champion mare, and the reserve stud was Bob Steel, shown by C. E. Hobgood of Lubbock.

In the filly foals of 1946 class, Cole won first, and Roy Parks, Jr., Midland, won second and fourth. Cole also had the first place winner in the stud foals of 1946, and Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., Midland, had the second place winner in the stud foals of 1944 or before. In the get-of-sire class, Parks showed the second place winner.

Rotary Club To Stage Program In Seagraves

Col. John Perkins will be the speaker when the Midland Rotary Club presents a special program at the anniversary banquet-meeting of the Seagraves Rotary Club there Tuesday evening.

The Midland club sponsored the organization of the Seagraves unit several years ago. T. Paul Barron is chairman of the program committee. Several Midland Rotarians are expected to attend the meeting.

Marilyn Bigelow Marries Doyle Cobb In Ceremony Read By Baptist Pastor

Marilyn Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bigelow of Spokane, Wash., and Doyle Cobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cobb, Garden City Road, were married Saturday afternoon in a ceremony read in the home of the Rev. Vernon Yearby, 311 North Main Street.

Mr. Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double-ring service before the living room fireplace. The bride wore a light blue suit with a white hat and black shoes and bag. Her corsage was an orchid. Her suit served as something "old and blue" and her hat as something new. She carried an old handkerchief belonging to Mrs. C. Cobb, mother of the bridegroom.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now as vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Junior Class Selects Blue Spinelle Rings

The blue spinelle ring was chosen by the Junior Class as its Senior ring for next year at a class meeting Monday.

This has been the traditional Senior ring about 12 years, John Wilson, representative of the Star Engraving Company of Houston, said.

The blue was chosen from a choice of a red stone, black onyx, blue stone, and an all-metal ring. Measurements were taken Tuesday.

The Seniors of 1948 will receive their rings at the beginning of the Fall term.

At the class meeting Monday, committees also were appointed to start work on the Junior-Senior Banquet which will be held Wednesday, April 2.

The decoration committee, sponsored by Miss Helene Huff and Miss Gwendolyn Gordon, includes Sonya Little, Fred McMurray, and Emma Sue Cowden.

Doyle Roberts, Patsy Patterson, and Bob Johnston are on the entertainment committee, sponsored by Mrs. W. J. Parr, Jr.

The invitation committee, sponsored by Miss Josephine Weaver, includes Richard Clarke and Eva Kimbrell.

John Morrow, junior president, presided at the meeting.

Support MHS's Volley Ball Team

Why have a good girls' volleyball team, if the school does not support it? The Midland girls' volleyball teams are winning four out of five games, but at every home game, the same old story is enacted—grandstands half-filled, instead of overflowing.

The volleyball team deserves to be supported as well as the football team, the basketball team, or any other team.

It is not the fault of the playing ability of the girls, either. Other schools are interested vitally in volleyball ball—Midland High is the one that is behind!

So wake up! Support the team! Show it a little consideration and appreciation for its efforts.

Crazy People

Of all the memorable dates in history, none has made so great an impression on my parents' minds as my birthday. I remember the occasion well; I was there at the time.

Anywho, time marched on, and I grew up like a normal child for me, this was quite an accomplishment.

Finally, at the ripe old age of 15 years, I was allowed to have dates, but I was a shy, meek little creature, and what was worse, the boys could outrun me.

Next, year I shall take my ghastly form to University where I will begin pre-med. I'm a regular cut-up with a scalpel.

The Martin Mauler, new Navy dive-torpedo bomber, has flaps that open both up and down to serve as brakes for coming out of a dive.

MHS Volley Ball Team Scores Again

Midland High's fighting A and B girls volleyball teams scored again Monday night with 22-14 and 35-26 victories over Kermit in the school gym.

These girls have a reputation of being among the best volleyball players in the state.

The teams are scheduled to play Monahans here Monday night. They played in a tournament in Big Spring Friday and Saturday.

D. E. Students Give Hill Billy Jamboree

A Hill Billy Jamboree was given by the D. E. Students in the High School gym Friday night.

Prizes were given for the best jitterbugs, and soda pop and candy were sold by Lowell Stewart, Sara Jo Bradshaw, and Sue Reeves.

Music was furnished by The Fanchers and Baylor Playboys, a string quintet. All types of dances were played—jitterbug, waltz, square dances, called by Jean Fancher.

At MHS Clubs

The Science Club, under the supervision of Miss Ida Cary, attended the Geology lecture presented to the Junior Geologists Club Thursday.

The National Honor Society will have its initiations of the new members on April 7 in the auditorium.

The Typing Club under the direction of Mrs. Don Moore had speed tests.

In the Spanish Club, Miss Minnie Jackson told the students about her trips to Mexico.

The Band had a guest director, Mr. May, a former director at Odessa High School.

The Dramatics Club worked on facial expressions with Miss Harris, the director, directing the students.

Choir Gives Program At Teachers Meeting

The A' Capella Choir, under the direction of Don Moore, sang at the annual teachers' meeting in Lubbock March 14.

Two school buses provided transportation for the choir, which sang in Lubbock March 14. The Choir, with the Plainview, and Lubbock High School choirs, sang "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," "Praise Ye the Father," "America My Own," and Fred Waring's arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Two school buses provided transportation. One stop was made in Lamesa. The student singers arrived in Lubbock in time to attend a rehearsal preceding the afternoon session of the meeting.

Audie Merrill Solos With McMurry Band

Audie Merrill, featured soloist, a graduate of M. H. S., was presented with the McMurry College band. Under the direction of Raymond Bynum, the band presented thirty minutes of musical entertainment in assembly Tuesday morning.

The opening number was a march version of "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise." Other selections included "Safari," featuring Audie Merrill, and an accordion solo, "Dark Eyes," by James Hobbs, a veteran. His encore was a combination of "Honeysuckle Rose" and "In the Mood." Other numbers by the band were "Stormy Weather" and "South American Way."

A choir of 17 veterans, accompanied by the band, sang "Stout Hearted Men." The closing numbers were "Easter Parade" and "Roll a Silver Dollar Across the Barroom Floor," sung by the Collegiate Cantors—Carson, Jones, and Chalcraft.

Coming Events

MONDAY: Home room at 10:30. Girl's volleyball game at 7 p. m. in the High School gym. Midland vs Big Spring.

TUESDAY: P-TA at 4 p. m. featuring debate teams. Assembly at 10:30.

WEDNESDAY: Home rooms at 10:30.

THURSDAY: Clubs at 10:30. FRIDAY: Volley ball game at 7:00 p. m. in the MHS gym. Midland vs Odessa. Junior Canteen open in High School gym from 7 p. m. to 11 p. m.

SATURDAY: Junior Canteen open in High School gym from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

MHS Irishmen Take To Green On Their Holiday

More than a usual amount of green dotted the Midland High Campus Monday as students celebrated St. Patrick's Day.

Not only the Irish had on green but also almost everyone else who could find something green in his wardrobe.

Mrs. Elsie Magee, Mrs. George Phillipus, Miss Lucy Moore, and Miss Helen Miley wore corsages of green carnations.

John Scroggins was easy to spot because of the brilliant green of his shirt and Elizabeth Cowden also was the proud wearer of a Kelly green coat.

Oddly enough, however, with all the Irish spirit displayed, none was seen trying to drive the snakes out of Midland. (P. S. For those concerned—St. Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland.)

Until next St. Patrick's Day, the Barney Stone will continue to bring good luck to the Irish who kiss it.

RUG CLEANERS

Desirable after Thirty, Urgent after Forty!

This scientific preparation has been developed for one purpose—to help older skin look more youthful.
 Plus 30 Cream contains only the genuine hormones found in nature...not a synthetic imitation. This hormone ingredient tends to replenish the lagging supply of Nature's substance...
 the substance which may contribute to the soft,
 vital pliancy and radiance admired in young skin. Women over thirty usually may expect results after using one jar of Plus 30 Cream.

YARNS
 from
The Little Yarn House

Yarn No. 6

Once upon a time a little boy went to school but he couldn't spell and he couldn't do his arithmetic and his teacher thought he was just plain stupid. But he told his teacher that he was cold all the time because he didn't have a sleeveless sweater like the other boys did - - or even one with sleeves. When his mother found that out, she ran down to THE LITTLE YARN HOUSE and knit him two beautiful sweaters - - one with sleeves and one without. And now the little boy is warm and just SO smart.

Hoping you are the same,

SECTION THREE

Tryouts Begin Wednesday On Theater Production, 'State Of The Union'

Tryouts for Community Theater's May production, "State of the Union," the 1946 Pulitzer Prize winning comedy by Howard Lindsey and Russel Crouse, will begin at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the City-County Auditorium, Art Cole Community-Theater director, announced Saturday.

The play will be staged May 1, 2, and 3. This current success, which is still playing on Broadway and on the road, has been leased to Community Theater through special arrangement with the authors. Rights to produce the play were granted the Midland organization in February, but public announcement was not permitted before March 1 since the professional West Coast company recently toured the Southwest with Conrad Nagel, Irene Hervey, and Henry O'Neil of the movies heading the cast.

The Midland production by Community Theater is thought to be the first in Texas and one of the first in the nation by a non-professional acting group. Work began last week on the three full-stage settings required by the play which takes its audiences behind the Washington scene for a glimpse at the Republican Party's selection of its 1948 Presidential candidate.

Authors Lindsay and Crouse, whose "Life With Father" has been on Broadway for the past eight years, are masters of comedy. Together they have written such successes as the musical comedies

Pittman Succeeds Booth As Christian Science Director

BOSTON—The Christian Science board of directors announce the resignation of W. Stuart Booth, CSE, for eight years a member of the board, and the appointment of Alfred Pittman, CSE, to succeed him. As Pittman's successor as publishers' agent, the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy announce the appointment of Hudson C. Burr, CS, who resigns from the board of trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

Pittman of Boston is a native of St. Joseph, Mo. He attended public schools and was graduated from William Jewell College. Later he carried on special studies in England, under a scholarship from the American Association for International Conciliation at Harvard University.

Pittman served on the editorial staff of the Kansas City Star and of The Christian Science Monitor, and subsequently as associate editor of System and Factory magazines in Chicago.

Salvation Army's Mary Metz Is Top Expert In Locating Missing Persons

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Mary Metz, a middle-aged woman with straight greying hair and a ready smile, is one of the most successful and least known detectives in the world.

"State of the Union" is a combination of politics and romance. The play keeps apace of the news from week to week in the New York production, and the Community Theater production, through arrangement with the authors for their latest text revisions, will likewise be up to the minute.

It has been selected by Community Theater for its special timeliness, its highly entertaining comedy and its crystal clear picture of behind-the-scenes Washington today, Cole said.

Twenty persons are needed to fill the play's large cast, though not all of these are speaking roles and many of them are small parts. Heading the list of major roles is that of Grant Matthews, a distinguished-looking man in his middle forties and a very successful manufacturer, who is being looked over as presidential timber for '48 when the play begins. Mary, his wife, is an attractive woman in her thirties. The politician interested in Matthews is Conover, a quiet spoken man about 60 and of good appearance, but not quite the type an audience would expect to be a politician. Also interested in Matthews' prospects as President is Spike McManus, a Washington political reporter of some experience, and Kay Thornydyke, a handsome woman in her late thirties and publisher of several newspapers in the Middle West.

Major Mary Metz

The rest of the cast is composed of Norah, middle-aged maid in the Conover home, Stevens, Conover's butler, Sam Parrish, industrialist friend of the Matthews', Swenson and Jennie, the Matthews' butler and maid, Judge and Mrs. Jefferson Davis Alexander, from the Deep South, Mrs. Draper, Senator Lauterback, and William Hardy, politicians all, three gentlemen representing labor, and a bellboy and a waiter.

Readings will start at 8 p. m. Wednesday and will continue each evening thereafter until the play is entirely cast. Any resident of Midland may try out for a role in "State of the Union" and everyone interested in a part is urged to attend the first try-out reading. These meetings will be open to the public.

V. W. Rogers will direct the work of constructing two completely new stage sets and revamping an old one for the play.

Personnel Failures Still Cause Airplane Crashes

WASHINGTON—(P)—The human factor appears as a consistently important cause of commercial flying accidents in a chart prepared by the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA).

Personnel failures cause 59 per cent of the air crashes, material failures 30 per cent, weather and darkness five and one half per cent, and terrain and undetermined causes five and a half per cent.

Although popularly referred to as "pilot error," personnel failures also include those made by maintenance and service employees, such as inadequate checks, improper assembly of equipment and forgetting to remove blocks from controls.

The chart study covers all air carriers, including scheduled as well as non-scheduled operations. Most complete data is for the scheduled airlines which have been under strict supervision and reporting requirements since 1938.

Non-scheduled carriers were not even required to file their name until last year.

Eight Have Perfect Record
Reporting on the safety records of 17 airlines which have operated since 1939, the CAA disclosed that eight never have had a passenger fatality. The largest airline had accidents in six different years. The next three largest had fatal accidents in three different years. Three others had accidents in two years, and two had accidents in one year.

Analysis regard that record as support of the present method of basing safety factor on the number of passenger-miles flown. The carriage of one passenger one mile is a passenger-mile.

The accident-free airlines are, with one exception, the eight smallest operators in terms of passenger-miles.

WHAT'S THE USE?

When you are sick and discouraged, you may say, "What's the use, life is not worth living!"

BUT IT IS!

The future is rich with promise. You may visualize it. You may plan, you may set a goal! But one of the most important elements to consider in the achievement of your goal is your health! Chiropractic teaches that the spine is the key to health. Before you become ill, there is sometimes a fall or an accident that subluxates a vertebra and pinches nerves. After that happens, your vitality is lowered, function is disturbed and sickness and despondency is only a follow up.

Many people have learned to seek the aid of Chiropractic in their hour of trial and this science has proved to be a great boon to millions as is well illustrated by the following case histories:

V. L. CASE NO. 6,385—Woman, age 45, had severe pains in neck and head, faulty elimination, dizzy spells at times. She did not sleep well and had chronic pelvic disorders. After giving Chiropractic a trial, all her various symptoms disappeared.

V. L. CASE NO. 11,728—Woman, age 44, had a nagging pain that ran down her left leg to the foot. She was nervous also, had headaches and became tired easily. When nothing else brought relief Chiropractic cleared up the misery within a few days.

V. L. CASE NO. 11,304—Woman, age 48, was nervous and had chronic headaches. There was tension in her neck and a pain and numbness that ran down the right arm. Her hands swelled and there was soreness all over the body. After doing much else without relief the woman sought company with the groups that go to the chiropractor with their problems and in a short time she, too, was well.

V. L. CASE NO. 11,288—Man, age 24, felt sore all over, had headaches, was nervous, stomach was upset, neck was tense and stiff, and he had become so irritable he did not like to be around people. Yet even so, his problem cleared up quickly after going to a chiropractor.

Lives Too Long, Loses Large Income

SINGAPORE — (P) — Mrs. Lee Choon Guan, holder of the British MBE and one of Singapore's most popular Chinese socialites, will lose a monthly income equivalent to $943 because she outlived her millionaire husband by more than 21 years.

The highest Singapore court overruled her appeal against a provision in her husband's will saying the part of the estate from which the annuity has been paid should be divided among his grandchildren 21 years after his death.

Mrs. Lee is well known throughout Malaya for her numerous charitable activities. During the war she took part in welfare work among British troops in Southern India. She has been decorated by the British for charitable work in Malaya during World War I.

'Aunt' Clara Has Lived In Hotel For 90 Years

CARLYLE, ILL. — (P) — Miss Clara Truesdail, 93, has lived in the same hotel 90 years and hopes to celebrate her 100th birthday in it.

The hotel was built by her father in 1857 and now is operated by her nephew, Truesdail Fiske, a member of the third generation.

"I've lived in this hotel 90 years," said "Aunt" Clara, "and in all that time no damage from fires has occurred."

A glass case in the lobby contains Carlyle's prize relic. It is an old register bearing the names of Horace Greeley, James Gordon Bennett, and U. S. Senator Stephen A. Douglas, who stayed there March 18, 1858.

Radio Networks Tune Out Some High Priced Shows As Program Sponsors Shop For More For Their Money

By S. BURTON HEATH

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If some of the old standbys are missing when you tune in the radio from now on, don't be surprised. They may be on other hours or different networks. But maybe they won't.

This is what Variety, colorful Bible of the amusement world, calls "the year of the ulcer" for radio. The networks are losing many million dollars' worth of lush business. And heads that long wore crowns on stage, screen and radio are falling right and left.

Frank Morgan and Kate Smith, Bob Burns and Parkyarkarkas, Rudy Vallee and "Buck Rogers," Abbott and Costello are big names that are moving out or along. Some of them may be picked up by new sponsors. Radio will still go on.

But while network time salesmen are dusting off their briefcases and rehearsing sales talks they haven't had to use for years, talent scouts are combing the bushes for eager young genius that is willing to work for a fraction of what the stars of the airwaves have been getting.

During the war, when newspapers and magazines could not begin to accept the advertising they were offered, radio had a big boom. Money was free—Uncle Sam's money, deductible from the drastic excess profits taxes.

But now money is getting tight. Costs are up, buyers are resisting prices, excess profits taxes are gone, and advertisers must pay their own bills. So they have been looking over what they were getting in return, and now they're taking up their belts several notches.

Pulling In The Belt

Schenley (Cresta Blanca) says they must watch expenses "so we are trying to use our advertising money where it will do the most good." Anacin and Kolyons (Hollywood Jackpot) say they're pulling in the belt. Eversharp is diverting Maisie's budget to newspapers and magazines. Tums' maker, Lewis-Howe Co., says that "this is a good time to get back into newspaper and magazine advertising."

There will be good healthy livings in radio for those who crack through routine salary ceilings. But there will be very few entertainers pulling out $7500 a week for themselves, after the reshuffling is over. There's "a tighter clutch on the money bags," and the agencies are thinking now in terms of $3500 a week as a reasonable take for even a top-notch.

In general the shows that are moving on have represented a high outlay in proportion to their "Hooperating," or listener-interest measurement. Not one of them appears on the most recent compilation of those ranging from Fibber McGee and Molly's 33.4 rating down through the Great Gildersleeve's 18.5.

Kate Smith On Air

Frank Morgan's Fall Mall program has been costing $15,000 a week exclusive of radio time. It is being replaced at about a third of the cost. Kate Smith has been getting $14,500 a week from General Foods and Hollywood Star Time the same amount from Frigidaire. Both are cancelled. The latter is being replaced by a less costly mystery.

Texasco has been paying Eddie Bracken and his cast $10,500, the same as Eversharp has paid the Maisie group. Harry Einstein's budget for Meet Me at Parky's was $7500; Alka Seltzer was putting up $9000 a week for the Roy Rogers show; Rudy Vallee's cast got $8500 a week. They're all moving off the payrolls.

Eddie Bracken gives way March 23 to Tony Martin and Jane Powell; Maisie's engagement ends March 28 and Eversharp is giving up the radio time; Milton Berle already has started wisecracking the praises of Philip Morris cigarettes in Vallee's place.

Probably you've missed Squibb's Academy Award and Cresta Blanca's Hollywood Players. In "The Whistler," sponsored by Household Finance. But on that other network where you've been hearing "That's Finer," plus Household Finance, there'll be a vacant chair.

Do you lust date on the daytime tear-jerkers? Our Gal Sunday, and the Romance of Helen Trent, will stay on 85 out of the 160 stations they have been playing, and Aunt Jenny will continue on only 45 stations.

Variety says Abbott and Costello, who have been getting $17,500 a week for their Camel show, and Lever Brothers' $17,000 Joan Davis program are being peddled. Both sponsors are understood to be looking for something less costly.

Off The Air

Vox Pop, Buck Rogers, Hollywood Jackpot, It's Up to Youth, Garry and His Mouse, Pot o' Gold, Sparkle Time, Harvel Music Time, Sunday Serenade, and shows backed by General Electric, Grove Laboratories and a couple of others are definitely off the air or on their way off unless they get new sponsors.

The magazine Broadcasting says that at least ten sponsors are looking for summer shows—not merely to fill the usual hot weather gap but because they are dissatisfied with the shows and talent for which they have been paying big money this season.

It would be hard to figure what the candlelights are costing the networks. For Buck Rogers daily 15 afternoon minutes General Foods has been paying around $750,000 a year, plus production costs. Pot o' Gold has cost Tums around $800,000 a year. The cost depends upon the program's length, hour, and the list of stations used.

In any event, the situation is giving the industry what The Wall Street Journal calls "jitters." Varety puts it: "Damoscles Threat Has N. Y. Networks Staffers Uneasy." Stories from the studios report CBS firing 17 girl pages and shifting the other five to different jobs; Mutual discharging 15 in New York and Chicago, mostly in promotion, news and publicity; NBC letting out more than a score of engineers and at least half a dozen sustaining entertainers, mostly singers but including emcee Dorothy Kirby of Honeymoon in New York.

Pitcher Collector In There Pitching

CHATTANOOGA, TENN. — (P) — Seventy-year-old Mrs. Anna S. Houston of Chattanooga turned fireman to protect antique pitchers she has collected during the past 50 years.

When flames burst forth from the wooden building which housed the antiques, the elderly woman planted herself in close range of the fire and for an hour poured water handed her by a bucket brigade of neighborhood women until the flames were under control.

Mrs. Houston has collected approximately 10,000 pitchers.

Styled to Stop 'em — built to Go!

YOU know from the way your own eyes follow the smart new Buicks on the road—

Wherever you go in this one, you're going to steal the show.

Wherever you travel, there goes tomorrow's car fashion—long, sweeping fender lines drawing glances as surely as the smartest new Paris creation.

But take over this husky awhile — and see how you earn respect as well as admiration.

Watch the fellow ahead give you road room — when he glimpses your grille in his mirror. Your car not only looks big and powerful, but freely proves its lift and life with every nudge you give its Fireball power.

See how even bad roads grow humble at your coming — the roughest and toughest meekly give up to the gentling action of Buick's all-coil springing.

The miles batter fruitlessly at husky frames and understructure. Time can't seem to lessen the youthful liveliness of Accurite cylinder finish that keeps your engine young.

Poised on Silent Zone body mountings, the body stays taut and quiet. Brakes, wheel, gearshift need only a hint to give you certain-sure action. You've got a beauty to handle as well as to see — a plenty-smart car, and the year's smartest buy.

So add it up. Strike a balance of things-you-want and see why this is America's most wanted automobile.

Army Air Force Gives Top Priority To Devising New Fighting Tactics For Its Shooting Star Jets

Jet Fires .60 Caliber Machine Guns At 500 MPH

A P-80 jet fighter finally has succeeded in firing, at speeds in excess of 500 miles an hour, the .60 caliber machine guns mounted in its nose (arrow). But the military effectiveness of this firepower still is questionable.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Devising entirely new air fighting tactics so that an effective military use can be found for high speed jet planes has been made top priority problem of the Army Air Forces.

A long smoldering hush-hush feud between Army and Navy aviation officials is now out in the open over the military value of high speed jet planes. Navy experts claim the jets aren't worth much as a direct weapon. Within the Army Air Forces—and between the AAF and the Ordnance branch of the Army—the question of arming jet planes has recently been a source of hot debate.

The fact that no jet plane had been able to fire a gun, rocket or cannon successfully according to combat specifications, was recently first revealed in an exclusive NEA Service dispatch printed in this newspaper. As a result of this publication, the AAF ordered that work on trying to arm its P-80 jet fighters be drastically speeded up.

Several days ago, after intensive tests, the AAF decided it had found the answer to firing at least machine guns, successfully, from a P-80. The last rounds of a 10,000-round test were fired from six .60 caliber guns with a plane flying at more than 500 miles per hour without the mounts breaking loose.

How to fire rockets and cannons from jet planes are two major unsolved problems, Air Force officials admit.

And how to change the tactics in air fighting—which proved so successful during World War II—so that this newly found fire power can be used to the best advantage is another big problem worrying the experts. They admit that super high speed is going to force a complete overhaul of tested tactics.

One of the problems is ground strafing. The new .60 caliber guns developed by Ordnance, it is claimed, can fire twice as fast as the old .50 caliber guns. But with the new gun, in a test with a jet flying 600 miles per hour as it strafed the ground, the bullets were scattered 50 feet apart on the target area. This is far from satisfactory, AAF armament experts admit. It's not concentrated enough fire to do much damage.

Effective accuracy is another major unsolved problem of firing from jets. Two planes, both flying in the 600-mile-per-hour range, would approach each other at about 1200 miles per hour. At this speed they would be past each other before either pilot could see a plane, how can he shoot it down? The answer is radar or some other electronic device. But this sort of fire-control equipment is extremely complicated to operate and very heavy.

Two jet planes "dog fighting" is a maneuver which high speed makes old-fashioned. The jet plane has to turn in such wide arcs that by the time a pilot got his plane around to take another crack at an enemy, he would be so far away he wouldn't be able to find his foe in the sky.

The Germans were the first in the air during the war with jet planes. They had to slow them up to fire. This made them vulnerable. But the Germans also counted on the elements of surprise and speed in the approach to make attack successful. U. S. Air Force experts agree that speed and surprise are the chief values of jet fighters. But radar detecting devices have been improved so much the possibility of surprise has almost been eliminated.

Air Force experts who are grappling with the problem are the first ones to admit that the guided missile with an atomic bomb in the nose might eventually make an air force a thing of the past. But they think that their present line of endeavor is the only thing that will keep the nation adequately protected until that time comes.

British Won't Oppose Elizabeth's Marriage

LONDON (AP)—A government source said there was reason to believe the British government would not oppose a marriage between Princess Elizabeth and former Prince Philip of Greece.

The source, who would not be identified by name, said the cabinet had discussed the long-rumored romance informally. The members, he indicated, appeared to have recognized that "the two young people are very fond of each other" and that Elizabeth's affection for Philip is "very real."

America's Voice: Marshall The Boy-Playing Soldier Was Favorite Game

By MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

A gangling red-haired boy peered intently from behind a huge old tree. All around him were the worn hills of the river valley. Nearby was the plank road leading through mountain passes from Baltimore to the great western plains.

The boy looked shyly about for a second, then raised a stick to his shoulder—and fired. Instantly he dropped into a low crouch. Protected by a short ridge, he ran a few hundred yards along this natural embankment, raised his head cautiously, and fired his stick gun again.

George Catlett Marshall—"Flicker" to his friends—was defending Uniontown, Pa., from attack. Playing soldier was his favorite game. He couldn't remember when he first decided to be a real soldier when he grew up. Perhaps it had been decided for him before he was born that New Year's Eve in 1880.

His father and his uncle, John Ewing, both had been officers in the Union Army. Now they were prosperous businessmen.

But they often sat talking over old campaigns and young Marshall and his older brother, Stewart, listened fascinated. From the other side of that conflict, he heard stories of another relative, Col. Charles Marshall, who carefully wrote Gen. Robert E. Lee's last field order as the general dictated.

Young Marshall was a shy but not backward boy with a ready grin. His early growth gave him youthful strength but he never was belligerent; he fought when occasion demanded, not otherwise. At school he sat stiffly on a wide wooden seat and studied hard; his scholastic record was better than average but not outstanding. He finished his secondary education at a private school.

Young George was organ pumper at Uniontown's St. Peter's Episco-

Marshall was just 16 when he climbed the steep ridge from Lexington, Va., and first saw Virginia Military Institute. He had wanted to go to West Point but failed to get an appointment. VMI was the second choice. Two years before Stewart had gone to VMI; young George followed him.

The scars of the Civil War still showed. In the west wall of the old Gothic building where he lived were imbedded Union cannon balls. At special retreats he heard the companies solemnly call the roll of students killed in the Battle of New Market and still carried on the company lists. When he passed the chapel at nearby Washington and Lee University where Lee was buried, he saluted.

Like other "rats", he rolled out of bed before reveille in the morning. He ran up the four flights of stairs to his top-floor room. He entered the room of every upper classman on the run, slid to the farthest corner, came quickly to attention facing the wall and "finned-out", his back ramrod stiff, his shoulders and elbows pushed so far out behind that great wrinkles filled the back of his uniform coat. On order from an upper classman he "finned-out" squatted over a bayonet or atop a ledge until he fainted from exhaustion. He jumped and ran at the beck and call of every man in school but his Brother Rats. He learned the name of every upper classman and addressed them by name on all occasions (a tough job for Marshall who has a prodigious memory for details but often can't remember the names of his closest associates).

He was so awkward, a classmate remembered, "he couldn't even drill; all he could do was sweat and look embarrassed."

He learned physical coordination, military science, languages, mathematics. He drilled until he was physically exhausted. He polished his boots until he was accused of wearing patent leather. He worked so hard his classmates called him "Pug".

At the end of his first year he stood thirty-fifth in his class, but people were beginning to notice him favorably. In the next three years he outgrew his gangliness. By dogged determination he rose to fifteenth in his class. In his last year he made All-Southern football tackle and was Regimental Cadet Captain, top tribute of his classmen and the school. He had grown to a full six feet and weighed 170 pounds. His jaw had squared, his hair turned from red to a softer sandy shade.

He was ready for the Army. On Feb. 2, 1902, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry. A few months later he left for the Philippines. Marshall was just 21.

New Mexico Dignity Doesn't Fit Utah

SALT LAKE CITY.—(P)—State senators of New Mexico and Utah conduct business differently.

At Santa Fe, N. M., Senator W. E. Clarke thrice asked consent for the clerk to drop the title Senator in calling the roll of 24 names. And three times the Senate refused. Senator James Morrow explaining, "It behooves the Senate to retain what dignity it has left."

But in Salt Lake City, Utah's legislators gave Senator Taylor P. Brockbank's bill to set up a state fire prevention board an unusual reception when it reached the floor. A group of them dressed in firemen's hats and coats and carrying extinguishers, fire hoses, and axes rushed into the chamber.

After the interruption the Senate passed the bill.

Treasury To Push Bond-A-Month Plan

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The Treasury has come out with a new "bond-a-month" plan to spur systematic investment in government savings bonds by bank depositors through deductions from checking accounts.

Under it, depositors wishing to buy a bond monthly will sign cards authorizing their banks to deduct the purchase price from their checking accounts. The banks will issue them at their convenience during the month and mail them to the purchasers.

Secretary Snyder invited all banks to participate. He said the program would be ready for operation in most banks by June 1.

Take the Laughter

Copyright by Karen DeWolf Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC. by Karen DeWolf

THE STORY: Sherry is up at last. One evening she is alone with Tony and their casual goodnight kiss becomes an embrace from which Tony tears himself away with difficulty. Sherry is happy about it but the next day Tony appears unfriendly. Sherry asks him what's wrong. He says he is afraid she is angry with him. When she asks him why she should be he seems relieved. "Never mind why, sweet," he says. "You wouldn't understand."

Sherry felt a lot better after their talk, and Marcia asked her to come to dinner with her and the man who was taking her. Sherry did not want to be a third, but Marcia insisted. "It won't be exciting," she said, "but it'll give Tony a chance to miss you for a change." That won.

MR. BRENNAN was pleasant and the drive in the cool of the evening refreshing. Dinner was nice, too, in an attractive little place with a thatched roof and sandles on the tables. After dinner they drove slowly home and Marcia and Mr. Brennan talked about mines. Sherry sat in the back seat and planned an airy attitude toward the boys. At the court she thanked Mr. Brennan for the lovely dinner, and he and Marcia went on to a movie. Sherry was excited as she walked toward the boys' house. She wondered if Tony had really missed her, and was glad that she had taken Marcia's suggestion. Through the open windows she could see them moving about, and decided it would be fun to slip around the side and boo at them. She smiled to herself and walked quietly.

Tony was saying, "You know as well as I do that she can't work for months yet." Kris said, "Well, we've pulled her through this far. I guess we can manage another few months." Tony said, "As long as we're working with a meaning and then, 'But that isn't the point. We can't keep her in bed now. She'll start going out with other people pretty soon and she's too doggone attractive to these heels.'"

Kris chuckled. "Oh ho! I begin to see a light." Tony said, "Don't be such a fool." Sherry knew she should not be listening, but now she was afraid to move, afraid some little sound would tell them she had heard. Kris was saying, "You sound like an anxious father," and Tony snorted.

"Well, we're responsible for her, aren't we?" he wanted to know. "She can't go back to her family when they haven't any money. Besides this climate's better for her. She hasn't anybody but us."

Kris said, "So what? Are you planning to marry her?" Sandro said, "I will be glad to marry Sherry," very seriously. Kris laughed, and Tony said, "Oh, shut up. What can you do for her?" "I could send her to my mother and—"

But Tony interrupted. "She'll enjoy the walk to France. She needs building up now, lots of food and rest. Do you want her to have a relapse?" Sandro said no, and Kris looked thoughtful. "It's nearly two years before I can go home."

"Yes, and she could die in six months," Tony told him. Sherry thought they were terribly sweet, and the tears sprang to her eyes. She could not leave now. She had to hear Tony say that he was going to marry her.

Tony said, "Jerusalem! I'd marry her myself if I had any way at all of taking care of her." Sherry's heart contracted. She thought, "That isn't it, Tony! That isn't what you meant to say!" but Tony went on.

"No. We've got to think of something. Maybe we'd better talk it over with Marcia." Sherry could not stay there any longer. She crept away as stillly as she came. So Tony would talk it over with Marcia. Tell her that something must be done about Sherry. And all the while Marcia would know that Sherry loved him and that he did not want her.

She let herself in Hidden House and closed the door. She could not bear the lights and she did not want to sit on anything. She was too hurt, humiliated. She knelt beside the davenport and put her face in her hands and pressed her elbows tightly against her sides. She felt shrunken, small. (To Be Continued)

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority (Written for NEA Service) For many years the average player has felt that when he holds two five-card suits, he should bid the higher ranking suit first. The expert makes one exception to this rule. That is, when holding five spades and five clubs, it is preferable to open the auction with a club and eventually bid the spades. By opening with one club rather than one spade it is more convenient to handle partner's response without crowding the bidding.

On today's hand, which was played at the Winter Carnival Tournament in St. Paul, Minn.,

Hand analysis table showing suits and scores for both vul.

North and South very nicely got to six clubs via an opening one club bid. When South bid his spades on the second round, North knew that South held at least five clubs (possibly six). When South showed a heart preference on the next round, North felt justified in bidding six clubs, which was easily made.

Although it may appear that the six club contract can be reached if the opening bid is one spade instead of one club, it actually is not easy. If South opens with a spade, North will bid two diamonds, after which South will bid three clubs. A valuable round of bidding has been lost, and it is very probable that the final contract, if a slam is reached, will be six no trump by North.

As a matter of fact, at one table North did get to six no trump doubled and redoubled—down two with a normal spade opening by East.

Radium Tests Given Baltimore School Children Reduce Nose, Throat Infections, Aid Deafness

BALTIMORE, MD.—(NEA)—Research on the use of radium to reduce the severity of nose and throat infections and their complications such as coughs, sinus, and ear infections which are caused by common colds, is producing remarkable results on tests with Baltimore school children.

Nine out of 10 children who have had the treatment to date have shown marked reduction of coughing and nose running after they have had colds. They have also shown very rapid recovery from the other secondary cold infections. Recommendations that this treatment be used as a general public health measure for children all over the country are now being considered. It is not a treatment for the acute cold, ear or sinus infection, but a preventive measure.

The work is being done by Dr. Samuel J. Crowe, professor of otology—the science of the ear—at Johns Hopkins University. He has pioneered the use of radium for treating deafness in children and certain types of deafness in adults. He began his research in 1924.

The radium treatment he has developed is the same treatment used on aviators and men in the submarine service during the war, where it produced sensational results in the cure of aerotitis. Aerotitis is the sensation of pain and fullness in the ear, occurring after sudden big changes in air pressure. It also produces a "popping or crackling" sound in the ear and, frequently, impaired hearing.

The treatment is said to be painless and not dangerous to the patient. It is given with a radium applicator. This is a small metal rod about seven inches long with radium salts in one end. This end is inserted into each side of the nose and passed back to the upper throat, to the point where the Eustachian tube opens. Each treatment lasts eight and one-half minutes. Three applications are made at intervals of two weeks.

Children are "screened" to determine which ones need the treatment. Those who have marked "overgrowth of lymphoid tissue in and around the pharyngeal orifice of the Eustachian tubes" are selected. It is found that about 750 children out of 5,000 are in need of radium treatment, according to Dr. Crowe. It is the excess of lymphoid tissue around the opening of the Eustachian tube in certain children, which causes some kinds of deafness. Its presence also ag-gravates the after-effects of colds. This tissue serves as a good breeding ground for germs.

Lymphoid Tissue Disappear
Radiations from radium in certain doses, it is known, make this lymphoid tissue disappear. This is the basis of Dr. Crowe's work.

"Our task is to recognize early the children who are in need of treatment to help tide them over the childhood years, and thus prevent permanent damage that may interfere with their physical development, education and even their careers," says Dr. Crowe.

This lymphoid tissue is sometimes called adenoid tissue. If a child's adenoids aren't above normal size, according to Dr. Crowe, this treatment can be substituted for an operation to remove tonsils and adenoids, unless there is a history of attacks of tonsillitis. If the tonsils are infected they must be removed by operation.

"I can now say it is an established fact that the results following irradiation of the naso-pharynx alone in selected cases are as good and often better than those following operative removal of tonsils and adenoids," he declares.

Irradiation with radium is used to supplement operation on large adenoids to help keep them from growing back, and against causing impaired hearing, ear infection, sinusitis, and in some cases asthmatic bronchitis.

Doesn't Replace Operations
It is not being recommended that radium treatment entirely take the place of the operative removal of tonsils and adenoids. Doctors have many reasons for taking out tonsils and adenoids. They cause other trouble such as sore throats, in addition, perhaps, to contributing to deafness in children. Irradiation eliminates adenoids as a cause for deafness. If that is the only trouble they are given, then irradiation can take the place of their removal.

Except for curing aerotitis or "pain in the ear" which is caused by unusual pressure changes, Dr. Crowe's treatment is less effective on adults than children. In adults, he explains, certain physical changes have taken place in the interiors of the ear, nose and throat which render his treatment much less likely to produce results. And there are many other causes for deafness in adults than lymphoid tissue blocking the Eustachian tubes.

The same reasoning, he says, explains why the treatment isn't as successful in reducing secondary infections from colds in adults as it is in children.

Dr. Crowe emphasizes that his radium treatment is no panacea for deafness or other nose and throat infections. Only those troubles which are caused by an excess of lymphoid tissue can be helped by an application.

"It was designed for one purpose alone—the removal of lymphoid tissue," he points out.

Air Age Studio Has Film Love Minus Noise

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The movie hero and heroine are in a clinch, and he is about to say, "I love you." Then—

"Z-z-z-z-z"—the hum of a passing airplane filters into the studio and reaches the sound track. Result: ruined film and delays that cost the studios hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

Such troubles, which include trucks rumbling and fire engines shrieking past, have been licked by Edward Nassour. A hundred and twenty planes roared over his new soundproof studio recently and they couldn't be heard inside, where movie shooting went on without interruption.

The walls are of solid concrete 10 inches thick. Inside is an air space 12 inches wide, then an inner plaster wall. On the room side of this wall is a three-inch layer of spun glass that deadens echo within the studio.

The roof is three feet thick and includes, from top to bottom: a two-inch layer of concrete; an air space; spun glass and wall board; another air space; a plasterboard ceiling with spun glass on its under side to deaden echo.

Nassour rents his new studio. It is getting interested once-overs, he says, by "Sam Goldwyn and practically every other big man in the industry."

Holland Studies
Supply Problem;
May Delay Homes

THE HAGUE—Holland's acute problems are the scarcity of coal, timber, reconstruction material, textiles, tobacco and newsprint. The long term problem is whether to give priority to the house building program or the industrial program.

The minister of economic affairs, Dr. G. W. M. Huysmans, stresses that the building of new houses is urgent, but on the other hand execution of the industrial program is a necessity for the future prosperity of the country. He urges that the country go the Swiss way and establish industries. He also favors decentralization of plants as a remedy for unemployment in the agricultural districts.

He said the Dutch-Belgian customs union was an alliance that could lead to a successful marriage. Belgium, for instance, has a large glass industry, he said, which should be a reason for the Dutch not to concentrate on a similar industry.

Huysmans hopes for foreign investments in the Netherlands.

PONTIAC
A fine car made finer

A Product of General Motors

There's a purpose back of Pontiac!

When you buy a Pontiac you get a car that is deliberately designed and built to give you a certain type of value.

First of all, it is designed to give you fine performance—really fine performance—performance that will give you a thrill every time you take the wheel. This applies to the engine, to the car's roominess and comfort, to its roadability and handling ease.

Yet—Pontiac is also designed to give you economy—to operate inexpensively—to be easy on service—and to last a long, long time. In short, Pontiac is designed to give complete satisfaction—at extremely low cost.

This is always true of Pontiac—year after year. So regardless of when you expect to get your next car—make it a Pontiac. It's a wonderful value.

THE SOONER YOU PLACE YOUR ORDER for a new Pontiac, the earlier you will get it. So place your order now for future delivery.

Mud Drilling School Will Get Underway In Odessa Monday

ODESSA—The second Odessa Drilling Mud School will be held in Odessa at the new French Tool and Supply Company building on East Second Street starting Monday, March 24 and ending Friday, April 4. These schools are sponsored by the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors and the University of Texas and have been conducted for more than 900 men in five oil producing states. Many men were unable to attend the first Drilling Mud School in Odessa because of the influenza epidemic, and the second school is open to all who wish to attend.

The Drilling Mud School is in session twice each day, Monday through Friday, for two weeks. Enrollment may be made by going to the French Tool and Supply Company building on East Second Street at 9 a. m. or 7:30 p. m. Monday March 24, and registering with the instructor. Enrollments will be taken Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 24, 25 and 26. The class that meets at 9 a. m. each day is for the evening tour and graveyard tour men, and the class that meets at 7:30 p. m. daily is for the daylight tour and graveyard tour men. Roughnecks, drillers, tool pushers, engineers and all others employed in the oil industry who can benefit by this type of training are invited to enroll in the class most convenient for them to attend.

The subject matter of the Drilling Mud School, which is being taught by Foy L. George, includes functions of drilling mud, all standard mud tests, use of chemicals in drilling mud; control of viscosity, weight, water loss, etc. All standard mud testing equipment, mud materials and chemicals are used in the school and are furnished for use by those who attend the school.

A new revised edition of the "Drilling Mud Control" manual, which is issued by the Division of Extension, University of Texas, is furnished to all who enroll in the school. Certificates of Completion will be awarded, to all who complete the course by attending eight of the ten classes, by the Texas State Board for Vocational Education.

During the next sixteen weeks, the drilling Mud School will also be given at Andrews, Seminole, Kermit, Monahans, Hobbs and Eunice.

BETTER BUILT TO DO A BETTER JOB by Jacobs

The COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC HOME LAUNDRY

NOW see this great new automatic home laundry that combines eye appeal with economy and ease of operation. Lauderall is completely automatic—washes, rinses and spin dries. No pre-soaking required with Lauderall—just one flick of the switch does the entire job thoroughly and gently. And it's loaded and unloaded from the waist-high top to eliminate stooping and bending. Lauderall is engineering skill at its best. Lauderall is Better Built to Do a Better Job.

You needn't be psychic to discover that one refrigerator is different from all others. Listen to a Servel Gas Refrigerator. You won't hear even a whisper! Look at its freezing system. You won't find a single moving, wearing part!

The Servel Gas Refrigerator stays silent, lasts longer because a tiny gas flame takes the place of valves, pistons, pumps. There's no machinery to wear or get noisy.

Permanently silent, the Gas Refrigerator brings you wonderful modern conveniences too... Room for frozen foods, for tall bottles... And just the right temperatures for meats and vegetables.

SERVEL IS DIFFERENT... NO NOISE! NO MOVING PARTS TO WEAR! LONGER LIFE!

We do not sell Servels ourselves...
