Strawberry Shortcake Appeals

Old-fashioned strawberry shortcake—a welcome seasonal treat.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Giving a Decoration Day party? Then serve old-fashioned strawberry shortcake. It's a luscious seasonal treat that all men seem to like. Use plenty of partly crushed and sweetened berries, lots of cold thick cream.

Strawberry Shortcake
(Serves 6)
Two cups sifted enriched flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 to 4 tablespoons shortening, 2/3 to 3/4 cup milk, 1 quart strawberries, sugar.

Sift together flour, making powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a moderately soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 1/2 minute. Roll out 1/2-inch thick. Cut with large cookie or biscuit cutter. Brush tops with milk. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Serve with sweetened crushed strawberries and cream.

Here's a good quick luncheon dish when guests surprise you:
Tomato-Cheese Raribit
(Serves 5)

One-quarter cup butter, 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 1/3 cup flour, 1 cup hot milk, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 cup cooked tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash cayenne pepper. Melt the butter in a heavy skillet. Add cheese. Sprinkle the flour over the cheese. Cover the pan. Cook very slowly until the cheese melts and bubbles up through the flour. Stir in the milk slowly. Blend thoroughly. Add soda to tomatoes. Stir into cheese mixture. Season. Simmer a few minutes to blend. Do not over-cook. Serve on crackers, toast points, or cooked rice.

POLAND PLANS BIGGER EXPORTS

WARSAW (AP)—The Economic Daily says Poland's Baltic ports expect to ship 11,000,000 tons of goods this year. That includes 8,000,000 tons of coal, 1,500,000 of cement, 2,500,000 of ore and substantial quantities of cotton goods.

Gdansk (formerly Danzig) is slated to become the chief coal shipping port. It is to have a new coal basin capable of handling 10,000 tons daily.

Texan Sees His Profits Eaten Up By Animals In India As He 'Lingers'

MADRAS, INDIA—(AP)—For two hot months, Buck Reed, American animal trainer, has been waiting in Madras for a ship to take him back to Texas with his seven elephants, three pythons, 150 monkeys—and Peer, the brother of Sabu, the movie actor.

Buck, whose official name is L. E. Reed, lives in Gonzales, Tex., but he has been on the road with circus shows so much of the time that he hardly knows which town to call his own. His older home is Chatman, N. Y.

109 Rupees A Day
But these seven elephants and 150 monkeys—they are eating all the profit out of Buck's animal trip to India. He pays out about 100 rupees a day for food and pay for seven mahouts. (The rupee is worth about 20 cents, U. S.)

And what seven lucky mahouts they are, including Peer, the brother of Sabu. All are going to the United States with Reed, but then they are coming back at Reed's expense, unless some Hollywood promoter snatches them away to fame and fortune the way it happened to Sabu.

All the animals except the monkeys came from Mysore state. Peer isn't as handsome as his movie actor brother, but Reed said that was perhaps because he had continued to live as a mahout, which is a tough life without much profit. Sabu, he said, used to get eight rupees a month as a mahout in Mysore.

Kept In Zoo
In the movies Sabu probably earns eight rupees a minute while he is acting. Reed said Sabu's relatives in Mysore do not hear from him very often.

Reed is keeping his animals in the Madras Zoo and the zoo is very glad to have them. It means they have a free attraction without any cost, because Reed pays for the mahouts, for the food and all the attendants.

Moderation In Number Of Saloons Is Law

BUTTE, MONT.—(AP)—Butte and its suburbs have 194 liquor selling establishments, but a recently passed Montana law sets 40 as the maximum number for the area.

This doesn't mean that any of the present places need close but no new licenses may be issued until 155 places have shut down.

One man is reported to have spent between $15,000 and $20,000 in construction and equipment for a tavern he can't open.

Chaplain-Padre Builds Church Stone By Stone

AP Newsfeatures
MESCALERO, N. M.—Above the Mescalero valley of southern New Mexico towers St. Joseph's Mission—an imposing structure that prompts inquiry why this Apache Indian agency headquarters has such a large cathedral.

The answer is Father Albert W. Braun who built it stone by stone, beam by beam in about 20 years.

Franciscan padre and Army chaplain to two generations of World War soldiers, Father Albert began the mission as a memorial to the soldier dead.

The design was by W. C. Stanton, Philadelphia architect and friend. Occasional volunteers aided Father Albert. Antonio Maria Leyva, aging stone mason, worked on it the last 16 years of his life. But mostly it was the padre who quarried the rock, hewed the timbers and built the church. The completed superstructure was dedicated in 1939 by Bishop A. Schuler of El Paso, Tex.

The windows were boarded, waiting for unsolicited funds to provide glass when the imminence of World War II called Father Albert to the colors again. He was one of the 1,600 men from New Mexico who were with the 200th Coast Artillery in the Philippines when war came. He survived Bataan and a long imprisonment by the Japanese, and returned to find friends had subscribed funds for the stained glass windows.

Blueberries Make Luscious Pie

Cultivated blueberries enrich the season's first blueberry pie.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Like fat, juicy, vividly blue cultivated blueberries? If you do, then rejoice. They are beginning to come to market. So begin tomorrow with the season's first blueberry pie—a novel, shortening-saving, rich and handsome pie.

Tru-Blu-Berry Pie

Pie Crust: One and one-half cups graham cracker crumbs, 1 cup peanut butter, 5 tablespoons honey.

Blend peanut butter and honey thoroughly. Work in cracker crumbs with a fork. Press firmly onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Bake in 325 deg. F oven for 10 minutes. Let stand until cold before filling.

Pie Filling: One tablespoon breadcrumbs, 1 cup apricot jam,

1 box cultivated blueberries. Sprinkle bottom of pie shell with breadcrumbs, 1 cup apricot jam, a heavy pan and melt over low heat, stirring constantly with wooden spoon. Put jam through a strainer and then pour into pie shell covering the bottom of the pie. Allow jam to cool and then spread blueberries over the jam. Serve plain or with cream cheese whip made as follows:

Cream Cheese Whip: One 3-ounce package cream cheese, 1 1/2 tablespoons light cream, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Allow cream cheese to soften at room temperature. Blend in cream, sugar and vanilla and beat until light and fluffy. Spread over top of pie in thin layer or for more decorative effect, pipe with pastry tube in rosettes. This yields about 1/2 in mix.

Down Where The Bluebonnets Grow
Rough And Tough Texas Goes In
For Floral Culture In Big Way

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Texas is rough and tough and woe betide the man who flips a wrist at a Lone Star Steer.

But you'd be surprised how important a part flowers play in the life of Texas. There is, for example, San Antonio's battle of flowers. And Palestine's dogwood trails. The lower Rio Grande Valley has its bougainvillea trail.

Timely comments could be made about bluebonnets. In fact, we will comment.

Old timers say this year's crop of bluebonnets is the heaviest in years. Marlin holds one of the state's unique celebrations, an annual Texas bluebonnet photo fiesta. It is usually held late in April. Hundreds, sometimes thousands, gather there to take pictures of the gorgeous bluebonnets. And Marlin provides charming young models to pose amid the blossoms.

Market For Bluebonnets
The floral development sub-committee of the farm and ranch committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce has been experimenting with the marketing of the flowers.

It has learned that 40,000 dozen bluebonnets can be harvested per acre on well-covered fields. These same bluebonnets can be delivered in Chicago for six cents a dozen. Trial shipments have been flown to Chicago, Detroit and New York by Slick Airways. New methods of packaging and handling the perishable flowers are being tried.

Down at Orange, a quarter of a million red hibiscus blossoms annually will pay silent but blazing tribute to the men and women who served in World War I. The Orange chapter of the Texas roadside council has set out 1,250 hibiscus shrubs, and Arthur Black, florist, estimates they will bear 250,000 blossoms each year.

Then, of course, one mustn't forget Tyler, the rose capital of the world. The annual Rose Festival will be resumed this year. It will be big.

There are setbacks to the flower program, though. Down in Laredo, the Laredo Garden Club, assisted by other organizations, decided to beautify the entrance to the border city. They set out oleander plants and palms along San Bernardo Avenue. Just after they had finished their difficult job, a gang of hoodlums made a midnight swoop, pulled up and destroyed over 100 plants.

A wave of indignation swept the town, says our Laredo agent.

TIME TO QUIT

GARDEN CITY, KAS.—(AP)—Alta Brown, teacher of first grade classes in Garden City schools for 42 years, resigned recently. "When grandchildren of my former pupils began showing up in classes this year, I thought it was about time to quit," she said.

Sawed off the coast of Chile sometimes grows longer than 240 feet and has fronds 50 feet across.

Scientists May Be Able To Atomize Clouds So Rain Would Bring Death

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Scientists are weighing the possibility of exploding an atomic bomb in the midst of storm clouds to create a literal rain of death.

The advantage of this technique, experts studying the plan told a reporter Wednesday, is that a city far inland could be drenched with radio-activity without the necessity of exploding a bomb under water, as was done in the Bikini experiments.

Until now, coastal cities or those near large rivers or lakes were the most probable targets for such type atomic bombing.

There is, however, a definite possibility that the very power and heat of the bomb might foil the plan.

Some scientists contend that a bomb exploded in a cloud bank might first blast the cloud away and then dissipate its moisture high into the air and away from the target.

But proponents of the idea say it would be necessary only to watch the drift of weather toward a target and select a day when rain clouds several thousand feet thick were floating overhead. Radar would pick up the target for the bombing plane, and the bomb would be exploded in the thick of the storm. Rain falling from the clouds would be poisoned with the deadly by-product of the bomb's explosion.

The use of radioactivity in this manner would be aside from previously reported plans for spraying a target area with radioactive material released from an airplane.

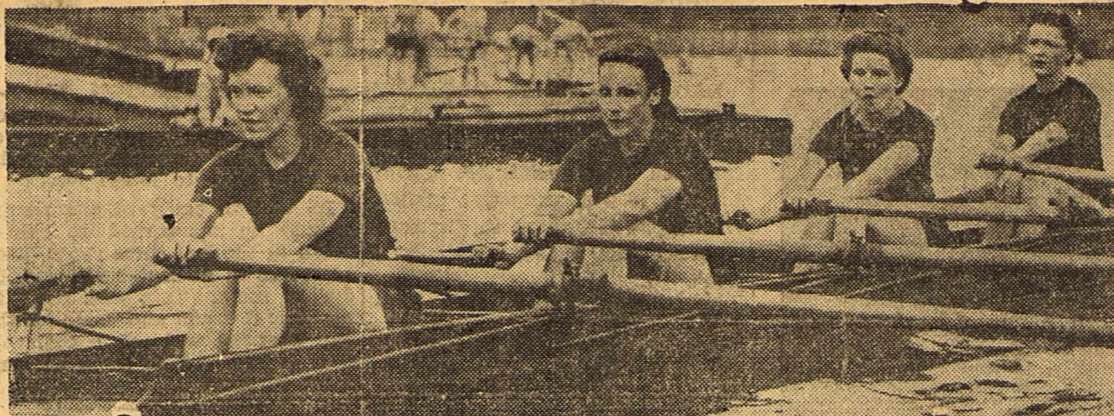

API Head Favors Fund For Federal Oil Group

WASHINGTON—(AP)—William R. Boyd Jr., president of the American Petroleum Institute, called recently for continued maintenance of the Interior Department's oil and gas division.

The statement, released by the National Petroleum Council was filed with the Senate subcommittee on appropriations which is considering a House proposal to reduce the division's budget and wipe out all of its functions except enforcement of the Connally hot oil act.

Boyd's statement made it clear that he was speaking as a member of the petroleum council and not as president of the API.

Forger, Forging Ahead, Is Forged By Forgers

AP Newfeatures
AMSTERDAM — American art lovers eager to acquire an "original Van Meegeren" may be aware that the master-forger of Holland is being forged himself.

Han Van Meegeren, the Dutch painter who swindled Hermann Goering by selling him an oil, "Christ and the Adulteress," signed by the famous seventeenth century dutch painter Johannes Vermeer, now is complaining that there are several "faked Van Meegerens" in circulation.

Because he was not being acknowledged by Dutch art critics in 1936 Van Meegeren started painting forged Vermeers to fool critics, art dealers and other experts, "to prove their incompetence and my own genius," he said.

He painted six bogus Vermeers. The sixth, "Christ and the Adulteress" was sold to Nazi No. 2. After the liberation of the Netherlands Van Meegeren was charged with "collaboration with the enemy."

To prove he was innocent of collaboration and guilty of forgery he painted, under police supervision, a seventh "Vermeer," "The Child Christ in the Temple with the Elders."

That's Going Long Way To Give Boy Present

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA —(AP)—Thanks to 15 days of horseback riding by an aunt from Denver, Colo., eight-year-old Donald Davidson has his own pony.

The aunt, Miss Mabel Murray, said she first planned to ship the gift horse, then decided to deliver it in person.

With her own pony for a spare, she rode one horse while leading the other on the 550-mile trip from Denver to Council Bluffs.

No one but a "horse lover" could have done it, she commented.

Oil, Politics, Dollars And Iraq Ire May Cause Difficulties In Future

AP Newsfeatures

BAGHDAD—American oil men, angling for pipeline rights-of-way in the Middle East—location of the world's known oil reserves—may find little Iraq a tricky pool to work.

In the first place the Iraq Arab has a chip on his shoulder about Washington policy. Secondly, he's not too happy about the benefits being derived from the one big international oil company already here.

Also he has had long experience with foreign domination and, although he's admittedly eager for dollar credits, he is not looking for bowl-of-porridge propositions.

Palestine a Sore Point

President Truman's statement on Jewish immigration to Palestine aroused the Arab's ire. Iraq is the most outspoken, if not the strongest champion of an independent Arab Palestine.

The projected loan to Turkey also stung. Many Iraqis have not forgotten their days in the Ottoman empire. Strong leftist elements constantly preach that aid to Turkey represents tooling up for war on Russia. Such a war, they say, would start right in their own backyard, reopening still-visible wounds left by Genghis Khan's Mongolian experts in destruction some 600 years ago.

Most of Iraq's oil is held under a 75-year concession by the English-managed, American-English-Dutch-French owned Iraq Petroleum company. Iraq receives four gold shillings for every long ton delivered to the Mediterranean sea.

At present there are only two 12-inch lines moving four million tons annually. Two more 16-inch lines recently started should boost output to 12,000,000 tons.

Dollar Credits Eyed

But the Iraqi argues that increased production will strip the proved fields, and he suspects that his take is "peanuts" compared to dividends going abroad.

He frets too over British control of his railroads, his monetary system and foreign trade.

Wealthy merchants, always a political power in this part of the world, are impatient for credits abroad, especially dollar credits—which come hard in sterling-control areas. On the other hand, political "Independents" and left wing journalists term the dollar mark "the new swastika."

All these things, observers say, add up to hard bargaining over right-of-way for the proposed giant 30-inch Trans-Arabian pipeline from Saudi Arabia, and similar carriers from Iran and Kuwait.

Queen Victoria was 12 years of age when for the first time, in a carefully prepared history lesson, she learned she would be a queen.

Woolens Came In Handy During German Winter

EAD WILDUNGEN, GERMANY —(AP)—Nearly a quarter of a million clothing items produced by American Red Cross volunteers during the war helped occupation soldiers and displaced persons in Germany withstand the coldest winter in 50 years.

The distribution to troops included 150,000 woolen helmets, 11,500 woolen gloves, 32,644 mufflers, 6,574 pullovers and 4,120 wristlets. The totals turned over to UNRRA for distribution to displaced persons in Germany and Austria were: 12,229 gloves, 800 mufflers, 6,500 pullovers and 4,000 wristlets.

Tommy's Shell Game Hooks Old Fossils

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.—(AP)—Tom Wing, 9, who has considerable difficulty keeping track of his coats and caps, finds it's comparatively easy to locate fossils.

In his own backyard and nearby vicinity he has turned up half a dozen in the last three years. They are relics of ancient shells embedded in rocks. Tom puts them in his attic museum and longs for the day when he will get to some old rock quarry and do some big-time fossil hunting.
