

Senate To Investigate 'Many Firms'

Demos' Objection To Concentration On Hughes Upheld

WASHINGTON—(P)—A Senate investigation of wartime entertainment spending by "many firms" was promised Monday by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) who termed a "glaring example" the spending by Howard Hughes' Aircraft Company.

Ferguson made the promise to Democratic colleagues as an inter-party squabble broke out over the course of his war investigating subcommittee inquiry into the Hughes Aircraft contracts.

Indonesians Join Cease-Fire Orders

BATAVIA, JAVA—(P)—The Indonesian Republic joined the Dutch Monday night in announcing a cease-fire order to troops, stopping the hostilities in Indonesia and inviting the United Nations its first big victory for peace.

The exchange between the senators came as the committee recessed its hearings for lunch.

A Republican reply to the U. N. Security Council's demand for a halt to the 15-day war said the Republic was issuing a cease-fire to all troops Monday night.

The exchange between the senators came as the committee recessed its hearings for lunch. Waiting to testify was Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President. Pepper touched off the debate when he remarked that although the Hughes accounts list expense vouchers totaling more than $5,000 for entertainment of former Colonel Roosevelt and his friends, the total spent on the late President's son himself was much less.

The announcement was broadcast from Jogjakarta shortly after 8 p. m. (8:30 a. m. central standard time).

Other officers to testify

The Dutch had announced Sunday a cease-fire effective Monday midnight. Dutch advances had halted even before the deadline.

Jogjakarta announced plans for a midnight broadcast by President Soekarno in his capacity as commander in chief of the troops.

Henry Ford, II, youthful head of the big auto firm, declined to attend the last scheduled session although he cut short a vacation to return here.

The Republican government asked the Security Council to appoint an impartial committee to supervise enforcement of the cease-fire. It said Dutch military operations had cut communications in numerous places, leading to difficulties in enforcing the order on the Republic side, and asked the world to take this into consideration.

License Law Applies To Children Who Ride Power Scooters, Cars

AUSTIN—(P)—Terms of the motor vehicle license law apply to children who putter around on power scooters or in toy automobiles.

Chief A. X. Temple of the Department of Public Safety warned Monday many under-age children are violating the law because they are ineligible for operator's licenses.

Pepper wanted to know whether the committee would go into the spending of other companies, which he said he has often criticized.

He said he thinks the accounts of 50 of the largest companies should be examined and compared with those of the Hughes company. Ferguson said the committee would do this.

Pepper said he thinks the committee ought to investigate the entertainment expenses of "U. S. Steel, General Motors, other big aircraft companies, Pan-American and TWA."

He said he thinks the accounts of 50 of the largest companies should be examined and compared with those of the Hughes company. Ferguson said the committee would do this.

The boy's body was recovered two hours later, but a search still is being conducted for Rayl. The river will be dynamited Monday.

Union Offers New Plan To Avert Strike

DETROIT—(P)—An official of the CIO United Auto Workers said Monday the union had a new proposal which it hoped would avert a strike of 107,000 Ford Motor Co. employees.

Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO vice president, did not reveal terms of the new suggestion which he said was to be offered to the company at a last-ditch negotiating session.

The strike was scheduled for noon Tuesday.

Leonard's statement came moments after the company delegation announced it had no new plans for averting the threatened walk-out, which would be the first major strike in the auto industry in 17 months.

Henry Ford, II, youthful head of the big auto firm, declined to attend the last scheduled session although he cut short a vacation to return here.

"I do not think my attendance at this morning's session would add anything helpful," the youthful company president stated Monday in a telegram to Leonard.

He termed the proposed walkout "not an attack on the labor policy of the Ford Company but a strike against the law," and added the UAW-CIO seemed "determined" to strike "unless we agree with you to establish for all industry who seems to us a disastrous precedent for scuttling union responsibility provisions in the Taft-Hartley law."

No progress was reported by negotiators who conducted day and night talks during the weekend.

Action Against Rioters Started

LONDON—(P)—Court actions began in three English cities Monday against persons arrested in connection with anti-Jewish riots that followed the reprisal hangings of two British sergeants in Palestine.

At Liverpool 12 persons were remanded on bail on charges arising from what police prosecutor described as "anti-Jewish trouble and demonstrations" during the week.

Many shops and windows were broken and crowds shouted anti-Jewish slogans, he said. Trials were set for Thursday.

Five men at Salford, arrested on similar charges, were released on bail. These trials were set for next Monday. The prosecutor there said 29 anti-Jewish incidents occurred during the weekend.

Fines were levied against three laborers in Manchester for throwing bricks through shop windows and being drunk and disorderly.

Police officer testified one of the men was yelling "now is the time to strike—down with the Jews."

Ten Scraped Off Truck As It Fails To Clear Underpass; Two Killed

BUTLER, MO.—(P)—Ten persons, riding atop a truck carrying carnival equipment, were injured, two fatally, when the load failed to clear a highway underpass Sunday.

All of the injured were carnival workers.

Fatally hurt were Harold Barter, 35, and his wife, 25, of New York City. James S. Graham, 25, Columbus, Kan., and Lambert Ellis, 31, Delmon, Texas, were injured critically.

The load was about six inches too high to safely clear the underpass, highway patrolmen reported.

The victims were riding in gondolas used in a concession ride called The Spitfire when they were scraped from the truck. The carnival was being transported from Columbus, Kan., to Moberly, Mo.

The carnival, known as the Victory Exposition, is managed by Don M. Brasher, Harlingen, Texas.

Honeymooning Couple Held In Murder Case

LAS VEGAS, CALIF.—(P)—A young Exeter, N. H., couple, married less than a week, was held Monday on murder charges and Sheriff Glen Jones said they had signed statements concerning the slaying of James W. McLain, 48, of San Fernando, Calif.

McLain's body, shot three times in the back of the head, was found Sunday near Truckee, Calif.

Sheriff Jones said he had three separate statements from Joseph L. Hardy, Jr., 24, and the former Lois Hunt, 21.

Negro Held In Sheriff Death Case In Ralls

LUBBOCK—(P)—A complaint charging murder in the fatal shooting early Sunday of Sheriff J. J. Pierce of Crosbyton was drawn against George Holland, Crosby County negro, and probably will be filed later Monday, the office of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said.

Holland, a 33-year-old ex-convict, was arrested in Amarillo Sunday and brought to the county jail here. Croslin said Holland had made an oral statement.

Pierce was killed with his own gun which was jerked from his holster. His body was found on a vacant lot in the negro residential section of Ralls.

Pierce was serving his first term as sheriff of Crosby County. He had told members of his family that he was going to Ralls to "make a raid."

Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock County said Holland had served two years in a three-year prison term for perjury in 1935.

Sensation Hinted In Overall Trial

SANTA ANA, CALIF.—(P)—The state's case against Louise Overall, 18-year-old heiress and George (Bud) Gollum, her young sweetheart, on charges of murdering her parents, Monday entered its final and most important phase.

Prosecutor Eugene D. Williams opened the trial May 26 with the declaration to the jury the two young lovers bludgeoned Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overall and then blew up their yacht. Monday Williams summoned a surprise witness in an effort to establish his claim "an illicit, unnatural relationship amounting almost to a frenzy" existed between Louise and Bud and was the motivating factor in the killings.

In advance of the court opening, Williams declined to disclose the identity of the witness.

Knife-Wielding Mother Of Seven Fined In Justice Court Monday

A dramatic story of jealousy and illicit love, told in excited Spanish or strongly accented English, was heard by Justice of the Peace B. C. Girdley Monday morning at the trial of a Latin-American mother of seven children who was charged with having assaulted an unmarried rival for her husband's affections.

The defendant admitted having used a knife in an attack on the plaintiff, last Saturday afternoon when a long-smouldering feud between the two women came into the open as they met between downtown Midland and the Latin-American section of the city. But, the defendant maintained, she would not have used the knife had not her rival been accompanied by another woman who indicated she was going to help the plaintiff in battle.

The plaintiff, a somewhat younger woman who admitted mothering three children without legal fatherly, showed the court several scratches on her arms and breast. The plaintiff's companion exhibited similar evidence.

All the trouble arose, the defendant stated over the plaintiff's boast she already had one child by the defendant's husband, a café cook, and was expecting another by the same father.

A fine of $63.40, including costs, was set by the court, but only $23.40 immediately was payable, the remainder was suspended for 30 days.

Resigns In Outside Fee Controversy Man Who Beautified Texas Highways

AUSTIN—(P)—Jac L. Gubbels, the man responsible for most of Texas roadside parks and for the program of beautification along state highways, resigned Monday in a controversy over outside work.

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, said Gubbels' resignation was accepted "with regret" and Gubbe's said "I can not afford the luxury of working for the state with a restriction which would prohibit my contracting for any other work."

Gubbels' state salary is $366 a month. Recently the Austin School Board paid him $23,250 for a site survey, and Attorney General Price Daniel ruled the payment illegal.

At the same time, the attorney general was critical of the policy, and the Highway Commission last week formally reaffirmed its limit on employees doing outside work.

Gubbels is author of several books on roadside development, and 15 years ago conceived the idea of converting barren highway rights-of-way to parks emphasizing native flowers, shrubs and trees.

"The landscape and urban planning work you have performed for the State Highway Department will stand forever as a living monument to your vision and enthusiasm," Greer told Gubbe's in a letter accepting his resignation.

Tobey Demands Release Of RFC-B&O Report

WASHINGTON—(P)—The weeks-long controversy earlier this year over an $80,000,000 RFC-B&O loan arrangement flared anew Monday with a call from Senator Tobey (R-NH) for publication of a "suppressed" congressional committee report.

Tobey, chairman of a Senate banking subcommittee which conducted hearings into the railroad's financing last spring, contended "unusual" and "unethical" efforts by B&O and RFC officials helped keep the document secret.

RFC Chairman John D. Goodloe replied he had asked members not to sign the report until they had studied it carefully because it covered ground already passed on by a federal court.

The hearings by Tobey's group revolved around an agreement by the RFC to extend its B&O loan from 1944 to 1965. Testimony brought charges and denials the RFC engineered a "fraudulent bankruptcy" of the B&O.

The inquiry was recessed early in May with tentative plans for a reopening later.

CRC TO DRILL WILDCAT IN NW DAWSON REGION

Childress Royalty Company of Monahans has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start drilling at once on its No. 1 Lillar Scanlan, as a 5,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Dawson County.

It will be 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 83, block M, EL survey. That puts it about six miles southwest of the small town of Welch, and approximately three west of the closest oil producer in the Welch field.

Drilling with rotary is to start by August 8. The wildcat is on quarter of a mile south and the same distance east of the Wilso No. 1 Scanlan, drilled several years ago, and which had some good shows for production in the Sar Andres-Permian above 5,000 feet.

SUTTON PROJECT WAS DRY IN ELLENBURGER; TO P&A

H. L. Hunt No. 1 Bundy, Southeast Sutton County wildcat, 666 feet from south and east lines of Absalom Gray survey No. 71, drilled to total depth of 4,800 feet, its contract level, and is to be plugged and abandoned.

It topped the Ellenburger at 4,445 feet. The section at 4,460-4,505 feet ran a 40 minute drillstem test, after the samples from that zone had shown some porosity and oil stains and oil odors.

Recovery, from the test, was 330 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. There was a slight blow of air for a part of the period.

No further signs of possible production were encountered between 4,505 feet and 4,700 feet. A Schlumberger survey was run, and operators ordered the abandonment.

ECTOR DEVONIAN DISCOVERY HAS BEEN ABANDONED

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 421-E Goldsmith, Northwest Ector County wildcat, located 1,922 feet from south and 666 feet from east lines of section 15, block 44, TP survey, T-1-S, and in the Goldsmith shallow field, has been plugged and abandoned as a dry hole, on plugged back total depth of 8,022 feet in the Devonian.

This prospector drilled to total depth of 9,811 feet and found water in the Ellenburger. It plugged back to 8,022 feet, and completed the well about two months ago. The Devonian interval between 7,799 feet and 8,022 feet, for an initial production of 131 barrels of oil, and 161 barrels of water, with 86,500 cubic feet of gas per day.

Operator was never able to eliminate the water—in fact it increased, and the oil yield decreased. The well was plugged off July 27, after the production had dropped to 17 barrels of oil, and 416 barrels of water each 24 hours.

ELLENBURGER EXPLORATION CONTINUES TO MAKE HOLE

Gulf No. 430-E Goldsmith, northwest stepout from the No. 421-E Goldsmith, and 1,992 feet from north and 2,001 feet from west lines of section 15, block 44, TP survey, T-1-S, has reached 9,613 feet in Ellenburger lime, and was drilling ahead.

This exploration has flowed oil in commercial quantities from the Ellenburger, and will probably be completed from that formation in the near future.

TP COMPLETES ANOTHER DEEP FULLERTON WELL

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 16-E Jackson, flanker to Ellenburger producers on the northwest side of the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County, and 1,830 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 17, block A-32, psl survey, has been completed for a 24-hour potential of 1,862 barrels of 40.8 gravity oil, from Ellenburger pay at 9,735-9,815 feet.

The flow was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 515-1.

CENTRAL GAINES WILDCAT IS DRILLING ON DOWN

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Kuehn, wildcat to 5,000 feet, in Central Gaines County, about one and one-half miles southeast of Seminole, had reached 4,740 feet in time, and was making more hole.

Operator has not released any geological information on the project. Unofficial observers report that its structural position is understood to be satisfactory.

SE MARTIN PROSPECTOR IS MOVING IN EQUIPMENT

King, Warren & Dye No. 1 Martin, Southeast Martin County prospector to 4,800 feet, three miles east of Stanton, was moving in rotary equipment and will start making hole soon. Olson Drilling Company (Continued on Page 7)

No Time For Politics

A veteran reporter writes from abroad that, in all his years of experience there, no peacetime action has ever electrified Europeans as the Marshall plan has. "The only thing comparable," he says, "was President Wilson's promise of a warless world through the League of Nations."

A slightly younger veteran reporter writes from Washington that three leading Republicans in the House of Representatives have warned that the Administration's foreign aid program will be in for tough sledding unless the President gives the people some assurance of tax relief.

If Congress stalls the Marshall plan by withholding appropriations, says the European reporter, "governments throughout Western Europe would topple like nine-pins. . . . If Congress reneges, Western Europe in its bitterness will turn a willing ear to Moscow. . . . Only the Communist press is playing up doubts regarding congressional action. Should Moscow prove right, however, the result would be nothing short of terrifying."

The Washington reporter quotes Rep. Clarence Brown as saying, "If the people of the United States are to be given no relief from heavy war taxes at a time when war taxes have already been reduced in Great Britain and the people of Canada have enjoyed two tax reductions, then I am very fearful that the Administration will find it most difficult to sell Congress on the idea of voting hundreds of millions or billions for foreign relief."

It is notable Mr. Brown implies no criticism of the Marshall plan itself. His proposal is simply a matter of political horse-trading. That is an old Washington custom, but its dangers in this case are readily apparent.

Non-Communist Europe has grasped at the Marshall plan with an eagerness bordering on desperation.

If Congress should now scuttle the whole program by failing to keep the American part of the bargain, it is easy to believe that the dire predictions of our European reporter would be fulfilled. The spread of world communism would be encouraged to the limit of Moscow's fondest hopes. Not only Europe but the United States, would be in grave danger.

It is not necessary to go into the merits and demerits of the opposite views on tax reduction held by Truman and the Republican Congress. But it is urgently necessary that both turn their eyes from the next presidential election and settle their differences sensibly.

There is certainly a connection between taxes and foreign relief. A survey is now being made to determine this country's ability to aid Europe and still maintain its own economy at a safe level. This ought to form the basis of any tax reduction plan. It is a matter for statesmanship, not politics.

In fact, the President and Congress will need all the statesmanship they can muster in the coming year. If both should shorten their sights to November, 1948, and aim accordingly in their conduct of international affairs, the result is not pleasant to contemplate.

The personal, political White House-Capitol quarrel which kept the United States out of the League of Nations did not help the cause of world peace. If a similar quarrel were now to erase the Marshall plan, that cause not only would be injured but perhaps destroyed.

Now, if the shortage of gas would only affect the political machines.

An Oklahoma soda jerk inherited $10,000. Now his hair can stay slick for a long, long time.

Colorful Indian Reservation Marriages Ruled Legal; Are Rites Long Practiced Before Whites Came Along

TUCSON, ARIZ. — When Arizona's attorney general recently reaffirmed that reservation marriages carried out according to Indian tribal custom are legal, he spotlighted some of the continent's most colorful wedding ceremonies.

As the annual spring rush to marriage license bureaus reaches its peak, many red-skin youths will come to follow the rites practiced before the white man reached the Southwest.

In the land of the Hopis some wedding ceremonies still last for weeks, and it is the man who makes his bride's finery.

With the match agreed upon, the mother of the bride-to-be takes her daughter, carrying a tray of meal, to the house of the bridegroom. She is received with thanks.

For three days, quiet and unnoticed, the girl grinds corn. Then comes the wedding. On that day the mother cuts the bride's front hair at the level of her chin and dresses the longer locks in two coils which she will wear forever to show that she is no longer a maiden.

At dawn on the fourth day the two families gather together. The mothers pound Yucca roots and use them as soap. The bride's mother washes the hair of her son-in-law and his mother does the same for his wife. Then they go to the side of their hill-top village, hold meal to their lips, and cast it towards the dawn as they pray for a long and prosperous life.

Immediately after the wedding breakfast, the groom's father runs through the village carrying a bag of cotton and distributing it to male relatives who remove the seeds and return it to the young husband. The men get together and spin the cotton.

Then the bridegroom and the men of his family spend weeks weaving the precious white wedding blanket which the bride will wear only twice during her life-time. The first time is when she puts it over her head, leaves the home of her husband's people, and goes with her husband to her people, for in this land of women's rights the husband must live with his wife's relatives. The second time will be at the ceremony of naming their first child.

A native Apache wedding is far more simple.

The young man or his representative formally presents his marriage request to the girl's parents. If accepted, he demonstrates he has the ability to support a wife by sending her family presents.

The girl and her female relatives proceed to build the couple's future home close to her parents. It is customary for the bride's family to equip the new house. When all is completed the couple move in, and are man and wife in the eyes of the tribe and the State of Arizona.

From then on, the groom is a member of his wife's family group, although there are certain members he must forever avoid.

Many of the Navajo young people, like members of all other tribes, take out the white man's marriage licenses to protect themselves against tribal divorces, but age-old ceremonies are still being performed.

Matches are frequently made at a Squaw dance. There a boy shows he likes a girl by dancing with her frequently. If a girl scampers after a boy who doesn't like her, he tries to escape or buys her off if caught.

The boy's father carries the proposal of marriage and gifts to the mother of the prospective bride. The mother refers the request to her oldest son, and the matter is thoroughly discussed. The bride's mother lets it be known what gifts she would like to receive from her future son-in-law, and after they have been delivered sets the date of the wedding.

A home is built by the girl's family. When it is finished a wedding feast is prepared. Late in the day the boy's family arrives and sits on the north side of the hogan, the girl's family on the south. The boy enters and sits in the place of honor. The girl's father brings in the bride and seats her to the right and slightly behind the groom. The couple pour water over each other's hands.

A new ceremonial basket filled with cooked corn meal is placed on a white line pointing to the east.

The boy dips meal from the basket and eats it. The girl does the same. When they are finished the rest of the meal is given to the guests, and then the feast is served. The respective fathers give words of advice, the wedding basket is given to the boy's mother, and the guests depart leaving the newly-married couple in their own home.

The bride's mother cannot attend the wedding, as she should never be seen by her son-in-law.

Arizona's Attorney General also has ruled that divorces performed according to tribal custom are equally legal. If a Nava'o woman wants to divorce her husband she places his saddle outside the hogan. If a man wants a divorce, he picks up his saddle and belongings, steps over the fire in the center of the hogan and proceeds out the door, never to return.

Naval Academy's 'Slanguage' Is Exclusive Type

By HAL BOYLE
ANNAPOLIS —(P)—Midshipman "Joe Gish"—the U. S. Naval Academy's equivalent of "Joe College"—has a language all his own.
It's an argot for his off hours, made up of old and new slang phrases, nautical terms and ordinary words that have developed a special flavor and meaning at the Academy.
Here are some samples, as taken from "reef points," the annual handbook of the Bridge of Midshipmen:
Anchor Man—the lowest ranking man in the class. There, but for the grace of God, walks a civilian.
Bilge—to flunk out, to be returned to "civilian duty."
Brick—The blind date who was supposed to have looks, personality and money—and turned out to have only money.
Bucket—Someone mentally dull.
Collision Mat—Pancakes a la Bancroft Hall.
Flake Out—Take a nap, same as the Army's "hit the sack."
Flower Pot—A girl who is both a "brick" and a "bucket," as described above.
Gravy train—A rich girl friend.
Greasoir—One who "oils the wheels of his own progress" with grease, which means pull or influence.
Hair Tonic—Steak sauce.
Lost Battalion—Those who have to stay for re-exams while the others are on leave.
Monthly Insult—"That very small part of $65 on which we get our hands."
Red-Eye—"That great disguise, ketchup."
River—A final exam.
Sea Gull—"Various types of bird served in the mess hall under the general classification of 'chicken.'"
Shivering Liz—A well known gelatinous dessert.
Snake—A Midshipman who doesn't bring a date, but always has someone else's.
Incidentally, don't call a Midshipman a "middy" in his presence. The Academy slang guide says "middy" is "an odious term used as uninformal circles synonymously with Midshipman."

McKenney on Bridge

America's Card Authority
Asheville, N. C., where the Southern Appalachian Tournament of the American Contract Bridge League will be held Aug. 22, 23, and 24, has some outstanding players. Mrs. J. E. Folline, who is Life Master No. 51, is a resident of Asheville during part of each year. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Gross also are well-known tournament players. Few players get a bigger "kick" out of an unusual play than Murray Gross does. I played against him in Florida last spring and today's hand came up. I am forced to admit that Gross gave me a bottom score with the play he made.
Most of the other pairs in the room reached the same contract, but East and West cashed only three rounds of clubs. East refused to continue the fourth club because he did not want to give declarer a ruff.

WAVES TAKE OVER WALDORF ASTORIA

NEW YORK —(P)—More than 3,000 former Waves from all sections of the United States jammed the grand ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel recently for the first civilian reunion since the women's reserve of the U. S. Naval reserve was created on July 30, 1942. Celebrating the Fifth Anniversary of the Waves, the young women received the traditional Navy "well done" for their war service in a telegram from Secretary of Defense Forrestal, former Secretary of the Navy, and a speech by Rear Adm. Monroe C. Kelly, commandant of the Third Naval District.

However, when Gross played against me, he continued the fourth club, and there was no way to keep West from making the queen of spades. I discarded the ten of diamonds and hoped that West did not have the queen—but he did, and I was down one. Murray's explanation of his play was simple and accurate. He knew that West, his partner, had only one or two spades, because declarer had bid and rebid spades, showing at least a five-card suit, and there were four in dummy. Therefore, if West held an honor, he would not make it except on the fourth club. He reasoned that the discard and ruff would mean nothing, as declarer probably had all the rest of the tricks—which was correct.

Social Situations

The Situation: You have several guests for dinner. As they enter the dining room they look to you to tell them where to sit.

Wrong Way: Say, "I don't care where you sit. Just sit anywhere."

Right Way: Tell them where to sit, since that is one of your duties as hostess. It saves embarrassment and confusion.

Olympic Swim Team To Be Best Ever

TYLER (P)—America's swimming and diving team in next year's Olympic Games will be the best this nation ever has boasted.

The meet closed Sunday night with Ohio State taking the team championship, young Jimmy McLane of the New Haven, Conn. swim club splashing to a triple win to capture high point honors and three national and two American records being smashed.

Ohio State became the first college to win four titles in one year—the Western Conference indoor, NCAA indoor and national AAU indoor, and now the national AAU outdoor.

One of the world's largest institutions of learning is El Azhar University, Cairo, Egypt. It has 21,000 students.

VERNON—Last-place Vernon beat second-place Midland, 5 to 4, Sunday with a ringing double by a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning. Morris Cowser, pinch-hitting for Boswell, in the eighth, saved the Vernon day by cracking a double to score Chapetta and Simons. Engel scored on an error as an aftermath of the drive. Two successive singles before Cowser and then his blow erased what looked like certain defeat for Vernon. The throw-in to nip Engel at the plate canceled off Gray's leg.

Midland was leading, 4-2, up to the eighth frame.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Dodgers Looking Like They'll Slip Back Again

By The Associated Press Will history repeat? Are the Brooklyn Dodgers going to duplicate their famous floppers of 1942 and 1946?

These questions are on the tip of many baseball fans' tongues Monday following Sunday's 6-0 defeat, the third successive setback handed to the Brooks by the once-tame Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers still own a seven-game bulge over the stubborn St. Louis Cardinals but last year the Brooks blew a seven and a half game mid-season lead and lost the pennant to the Cards.

And if 1946 was a heartbreaker, consider the '42 season. On August 4 of that year, five years ago to the day, the Dodgers had a 10-game lead. The Cardinals staged one of their whirlwind September finishes to nip the Dodgers by two games.

The Cards outslugged the Philhills 10-8 at St. Louis Sunday. A wild throw by Walker in the last half of the eighth enabled the Cards to score two unearned runs and win the game.

Giants Win The home run hitting New York Giants remained a half game back of the Cards by defeating the Pirates 11-2 and then battling to a 6-6 tie in the called second game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh.

The Yankees went 13 1/2 games ahead of the field, their widest margin yet, in defeating the Cleveland Indians 5-4 while the second-place Boston Red Sox were absorbing a 10-3 drubbing from the Detroit Tigers.

Larky Ewell Blackwell's string of consecutive consecutive games was snapped at 13 as the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves split a double-header, the Braves whipping the Reds and Blackwell 4-2 in the opener, and the Reds winning the second 6-1.

Phil Marchildon gained his 13th victory of the season as the Athletics divided a twin bill with the St. Louis Browns in Philadelphia 2-0 and 4-3.

Frank Papias, Chicago left-hander, pitched the White Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Senators in Washington.
