A REPORT To The People Of Midland County

By action of the Midland Chamber of Commerce a Community Chest Board was appointed and charged with the task of organizing a Community Chest for Midland County and with putting the Chest in operation this Fall. The board organized and took the steps necessary to initiate the campaign for funds which is now going on

A Community Chest must belong to the people of the community, which it serves. Your Midland County Community Chest belongs, then, not to the Board but to the participating agencies, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Junior Canteen, Salvation Army and the Goodfellows and also to every person who makes a contribution of time or money to the Chest.

Every person who contributes becomes a contributing member of the Midland County Community Chest, and his or her name and address is kept on file. Next year, each contributing member will have an opportunity to vote for new replacements on the Board.

In the past years, each of the above agencies has solicited the public independent of the others which has meant many hours of labor by voluntary workers and many separate calls on you, the contributing public. By means of the combined Chest drive we will relieve the burden on voluntary workers and serve you by calling upon you only once.

This is your Community Chest, and to function effectively it must have the support not only of your dollars but also of your interest and cooperation. The Community Chest Board itself is only one small part of the Community Chest organization, and it's only reason for existence is to serve you. The Board welcomes any suggestions from you.

Respectfully,

THE MIDLAND COUNTY COMMUNITY CHEST BOARD

Action Is Essential

There are indications that the Eupropean relief program may run into 1948 politics at the special session called by President Truman. This would be most unfortunate. There is a time for everything. This is not the Truman says that France needs $357,000,000 from us before the first of January, when Congress ordinarily would meet; Italy needs $285,000,000; the occupied countries need $500,000,000.

These figures may be right, or too high, or too low. We are in no position to know. We do not ask Congress to rubber stamp them. It is Congress' privilege and duty to check them with care.

But it is important that Congress should not delay. Congress should, by now, have most of the information necessary for reaching a sound decision. If the President has facts not in possession of the legislators, it is to be assumed that he will supply them.

The important thing is that neither the President nor Congress should play politics with this matter. The important thing is action. Correct action is very desirable, but prompt and positive action is essential.

A few unobservant or deliberately blind tourist have returned from Europe denying that the hunger and want there verges upon starvation and destitution. These are in a minority. Not only our most trusted officials, but our most proven objective observers agree that Europe's need is so great that we cannot deny it, so pressing that we dare not delay.

Perhaps the Europeans brought this misery on themselves. Too many millions tried to live on a continent incapable of supporting them. In the pressure for something a little better than existence, they have stepped on one another's toes.

But this is no time for recriminations. There they are—the countries which, with the Americas, make up occidental civilization. They are cold, they are hungry, their clothing is in tatters, their homes are shambles, their industries are broken down by war, their raw materials are depleted. They have little money, and there is little to buy.

Moscow does not want us to help them. That is a most convincing argument why we must. Moscow knows that the colder, the hungrier, the more disgusted and discouraged the people of Europe become, the weaker will grow their faith in democracy, the readier they will become to listen to the siren song of Communism.

Out of poverty and misery we saw Communism arise in Russia. Out of poverty and defeatism we saw Fascism take over Italy and Nazism seize upon Germany. Surely we need no further proof that Totalitarianism feeds on distress, and we cannot forget that Totalitarianism breeds

We can't sit by and watch the rest of Europe drift into the Comintern's web.

It is important whom we elect as President next year, and what principles he is pledge to. But that battle should be fought out on legitimate issues. Our children would never forgive us if, to advance the fortunes of a political party or a candidate for office, we procrasinate about halting that economic and moral breakdown in Europe which—if we let it proceed—as sure as shooting will end up in a third world war.

It's funny how the average loafer usually wishes he was doing something else.

Ignorance has its value—producing about nine-tenths of the world's conversation output.

School Land Board To Open Lease Bids

AUSTIN-(P)-The State School Land Board Tuesday was scheduled to open bids in a mineral lease sale of 2,465,324 acres of state-owned land, 1,989,840 acres of which are tidelands clouded by the Supreme Court's recent decision upholding federal claim to California tidelands.

Because of the cloud, the board had expected $2,000,000 in revenue would be lost by the permanent school fund, recipient of all such revenue, because of some oil operators declining to participate.

United Nations Held Together By Though a Republican, Winant Fear Of Failure

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst The mood of those who are concerned with the welfare of the United Nations is one of increasing fear that our peace organization, which was to unite mankind into one world of friendship, already is an irrevocably tragic failure as the result of the fierce conflict between the Communists and the Democracies.

One strives eagerly but vainly to recall some greater accomplishment by the UN than when the political committee, after a long and bitter battle, finally achieved unanimity It adopted a resolution condemning all forms of propaganda likely to provoke or encourage any threat to peace.

Agree On One Point

Well, it's as good to find our peace organization at least agreeing that it is against war! Apropos of this, one is reminded of the story about the late President Calvin Coolidge and the Sunday Sermon. I've forgotten who first related the tale but suspect it was Mrs. Coolidge herself who told of asking Cal, upon his return from church, what the minister preached about. "Sin," replied the ever-laconic

"What line did he take?" persisted Mrs. C.

"He's against it," said the Presi-Kept Together By Fear

So the fruit of weary months of fighting is a resolution condemning war. And having passed this they have returned to the wrangling Small wonder that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt expressed a hope and a prayer in the UN for a "gradual increase of good will here rather than this continued back-andforth of our telling each other

The way it looks from this column's observation post, the UN is being kept going largely because of stark fear among member nations of what would happen if the organization collapsed. The results of a breakdown are too terrible to
