There certainly has been no lack of news in Ozona the past week, beginning with Friday. The red light on Watson's corner was completely knocked loose from its moorings sometime during the wee hours by person or persons unknown, truck probably, cutting the corner too short. The guard rail has been knocked down many times, but this is a first for the light pole. As heavy as it is, whoever hit it just had to know it.

Scottie Houston's crew had no more than shored up the light pole until a truck fire broke out in downtown Ozona. This time right in our front door. We saw the truck pull up and at least four young men pile out while the truck was still moving, including the driver. This was unnerving, but when we saw the thick smoke we really did get on edge. We had two choices, get out the back door and as far away as possible before the explosion; grab the camera and take a picture like a trained newspaper hound. Being conditioned to the latter, I (not with courage) grabbed the camera and headed toward the burning truck. I was shaking so, it took three exposures before I got a printable print. However, the trusty firemen arrived and it was soon over. As it turned out, it was not nearly so frightening as our first impulse told us.

In and out of rain all day, a trip to the Care Center greeted us with a leaking roof. The roof, has in fact, leaked since the building has been built. Can any of you imagine paying a contractor the amount paid for the center and at the same time paying for running water in the hall everytime it rains? And, I'll have to hand it to the contractor, he's promised to fix the roof ever since the first rain. He hasn't done it and he's gotten away with it for over a year now.

Friday afternoon late, a bad wreck was reported over the scanner. In driving rain Tom headed for the office and the camera and then took off west on Hwy. 290. He got home some thirty miles later and said he couldn't find the wreck. We thought he had overshoot it, but as it happened, the wreck was eight miles east of town. I accompanied him on this run so I could navigate. Still raining, we came upon the wreckage as they were about to pull them off, and Tom really earned his Brownie points. In falling rain with no light, he got a perfect print of the car.

We are usually alerted by Manuel Hartnett, but he has been patrolling in Irion County most of the time lately and we have really missed his good cooperation. From the rash of wrecks and the completely insane driving, it is obvious that the county has missed him too. He is working in Irion County because they are furnishing him the latest thing in radar equipment. The Crockett County Commissioners Court has so far refused to furnish this equipment for the Department of Public Safety here although it has been brought up for consideration.

It is our considered opinion that we need our Highway Patrolman working I-10 and 290 in Crockett County. We think the court's refusal to purchase the radar equipment (CONT'D ON PAGE 8)

HEAD ON CRASH FATAL TO DRIVER of this car late Friday afternoon in driving rain. A Houston man was killed and his wife seriously injured when the car crashed head on with a pickup at the point where I-10 meets with Hwy. 290 eight miles east of Ozona. The wrecker service has dragged the car up onto newly paved I-10 which is not yet open to traffic. The wreck occurred as the car came off I-10. There were three wrecks in this location within four days.

Bountiful Rains Fall On Ozona

After almost a week of welcome rains, the official gauge in the Water District Office measured 4.48 inches as of noon Tuesday and it was still raining.

Rains fell generally throughout the county, with the dry western part recording up to three inches. There were reports of eight inches and up to five inches in other parts of the county, but these were unconfirmed. The rains began Thursday and fell throughout the weekend at a steady clip. Flood warnings were in effect all day Saturday and part of Sunday. Water was over roads in many areas and Highway 163 was closed south of Ozona.

The heavy rains slowed somewhat by late Sunday night and it showered briefly throughout Monday. Under cloudy skies Tuesday, a heavy shower during the noon hour amounted to .13 of an inch of moisture in Ozona.

All Stars To Sonora Mon.

Ozona High School boys became aware of the upcoming gridiron season this week when head football coach, Rip Sewell's annual letter to the high school athletes was received.

Coach Sewell pointed out he felt the upcoming group of young men had excellent abilities and skills and urged them to report in good condition to preserve these qualities. The high school coaching staff will be at the field house on August 4, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. to issue shoes to all prospective high school football players.

Thursday, August 5, at 3:30 p.m., in the boys' gym, those athletes wishing a free physical examination should be present. Dr. Don Carlisle has offered his services for free physical examinations for the students and will be at the gym at this time. (CONT'D ON PAGE 8)

One Fatality In Rash Of Wrecks

The week-long rainfall, so welcomed by Ozonans, took tragic toll in life and property damage on the county's highways during a five-day period.

Unofficially there were fourteen traffic accidents in and around Ozona during the periods of the heaviest rainfall the last few days. Most were fender benders which sent property damages soaring, but some serious injuries and one fatal injury was recorded.

A Houston man was dead at the scene of a head-on crash eight miles east of Ozona on Highway 290 Friday afternoon at 7:28, in a driving rain. Dead is Bernard C. Berryman of Houston.

Berryman was traveling west in a 1965 Chevrolet when Lonnie Neal Boggs in a late model pickup collided with him head on. The accident occurred when Berryman lost control coming off of I-10 onto 290 and veered into the east bound lane. Boggs, driving the pick-up attempted to avoid the collision and swerved into the west bound lane. The car then cut back across the highway resulting in the grinding head-on crash.

Mrs. Berryman, a passenger in the auto, sustained serious injuries and at press time was in critical condition in Shannon Hospital. (CONT'D ON PAGE 8)

FLAMING TRUCK COMES TO HALT IN DOWNTOWN OZONA - Merchants and shoppers were startled Friday morning when this burning truck pulled up to the curb at the south side of the square and quickly was abandoned by its driver and occupants. Ozona firemen quickly extinguished the blaze which was too near a tank of butane gas to be really comfortable.

Hold New Election

Court Asked to Throw Out Democratic Primary Results

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in regular monthly session and was halfway into the meeting when a delegation, claiming to be representatives of the Mexican-American community, dropped in. Although it was not on the agenda, their spokesman, Hector DeHoyos, was recognized.

DeHoyos informed the court that he had been contacted by the U. S. Department of Justice attorney, and had been informed that the Department had rejected the new precinct lines, or the precinct lines as they now stand, and had set them back to where they were before the court voted to change lines.

DeHoyos asked the court to hold a new Democratic Primary before the general elections in November. He said he had been instructed to request the new election by the group's attorney Luis Segura. He suggested dates for filing, etc. with the election to be held October 2. He said the dates were being used by Frio County where a similar situation exists.

Commissioner Jess Marley pointed out the fact that the County Democratic Party sets elections, not the Commissioners Court and that if another primary became necessary, dates would be set specifically for Crockett County.

After some discussion, the court came to the conclusion that no action would be taken until official notification was received by that body, if indeed the Justice Department had made a ruling as claimed. In any event, the court refused to discuss the matter further until the court's attorney was contacted.

When asked what reason was given for the decision, DeHoyos said he was given no reason, just the decision. In other business the court approved a salary raise for Orval Maney's cemetery crew, to match salaries paid to Dudley McCary's maintenance crew. A 25¢ per hour raise was approved for Maney and his crew.

The court agreed to pay a $225 tuition and expense fee for seven local firemen who have expressed an interest in attending a fireman's school at Texas A&M.

Marley asked Judge Williams for a report on Felipe Castro and his pigs. The court passed an ordinance at its last meeting to have the pigs removed from county property, and it had not been enforced as of Monday. Judge Williams said he had assisted Castro in finding his property line and had been informed by Castro that he would move the pigs.

A fence, which houses the pigs, is attached to a county guard rail. Marley made a motion that if Castro's fence is not moved within ten days, the guard rail will be removed. Bill Black seconded the motion and it carried. Dudley McCary gave his monthly report and was informed by Commissioner Jack Williams that Vaughn Parker, B. W. Stuart and

R. B. Babbitt had taken the responsibility for getting the Little League Park in shape for a possible play-off game. The park has been in bad playing shape all season, although the county is supposed to maintain it.

Jack Baggett brought the new Workman's Compensation proposal. Premium for the coming year will be $25,884, but with a 13.5 percent discount the actual amount expended will be $22,390, with dividends based on loss ratio to be figured at the end of the year.

Civic Center director Garland Young gave his monthly report, and was instructed to get an estimate from Ozona Butane for a new dishwasher. It has been brought to the attention of the court by several groups that one dishwasher is not sufficient for large functions.

After discussing the hospital report, it was decided to raise care center rates to put them in line with Medicaid rates. The motion was made by Chuy Castro and seconded by Bill Black.

It was also voted to raise the tax assessment rate from 30% of actual value to 40% for the coming year and lower school and county rate approximately 25¢ and 15¢ respectively. School taxes need to be approved by the school board, but a firm figure will be decided upon. At any rate, the rate will not be more than $2.50 the court said.

CARE CENTER RESIDENTS ENJOY MUSIC HOUR Friday with Mrs. Sara Hignight at the organ. Billie Lovell takes turns dancing with various ones. Here Mrs. John Bailey takes a turn in a spritely two-step. The leaking roof in the hall doesn't dampen their spirits in the least.

STATE HIGHWAY WORKMEN find that rain caps and coats are necessary as they arrive at a traffic light pole which was knocked over during the night, probably by a truck carrying a heavy load. The iron railing around the pole has been demolished several times by vehicles cutting the corner too short. This is a first for the heavy pole which is solidly set in concrete.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

During the hot summer months roses need attention to keep plants growing vigorously for production of roses. Feed them lightly each month and correct iron chlorosis by applying iron chelate or iron sulfate either as a foliar spray or as a soil application. Proper watering is fundamental—so is spraying for insect and disease control. Continued production of flowers also depends on the pruning. When removing flowers, cut the stems only as long as needed. Leave as much foliage as possible for food manufacture. Regularly remove faded, shedding roses from plants.

Start your Christmas gift avocado house plants now even though it is a little late. They are popular with everyone and the cost - one avocado seed and three toothpicks per plant. Here is one way to grow them.

1. Wash seed, suspend (broad end down) over water-filled glass with three toothpicks. Water should cover 1/4 inch of seed at least. Keep water level constant.
2. Place in warm location out of direct sunlight. Seed will crack as roots and stem form (two to six weeks).
3. When main stem is six to seven inches long, cut back to about three inches. When roots are thick and stem leafed, plant in terra cotta pot.
4. Plant in rich humus type soil. Use pot with 10 1/2 inch diameter. Leave seed half-exposed. Keep plant moist.

Since potted plants are so expensive, if you plan to have very many for your garden next year, it will help to bridge the color gap between spring-flowering bulbs and annual bedding plants to start your perennial seeds now. They will have plenty of time to develop strong plants for over wintering, and next summer you'll have lots of color on display. Tall growing perennials include, gloriosa daisies, holly-hocks, oriental poppies and larkspur. For intermediate height, chrysanthemums, coreopsis, gaillardia, shasta daisies, and sweet williams. Low growers include alyssum, candytuft, dianthus, English daisies, violas and others.

After planting, keep the soil evenly moist, as sprouting seeds need a continuous supply of moisture. After the seedlings are up, you will need to either thin or transplant them. Water the beds at least an hour before transplanting, and carefully lift each plant out. Reset in a well-prepared bed 6 to 12 inches apart, or in small pots. Keep the seedlings watered and shaded during the hottest part of the day until they are well established.

If it is a new bedroom suite that you need—come in at BROWN FURNITURE and select your new group now.

Debra Says
by Debra Price

In selecting vegetables, look first for freshness--vegetables should be comparatively dry because excessive moisture makes them decay.

The number of servings you get from a common-size purchase unit of a vegetable--pods, husks, parings and trimmings--lower the yield of edible food per pound. Some fresh vegetables shrive because they lose water during cooking, and others absorb water and swell as they cook.

Here is a list of seasonal fresh vegetables with the approximate amount to purchase for six servings of about one-half cup each.

Snap beans- 1 lb.,
broccoli- 2 lb., cabbage- 1 1/2 lb., carrots- 1 1/2 lb., corn- 3 in husks, okra 1 1/2 lb., peas- 3 lb. in pods, squash- soft shell- 1 1/2 lb., Tomatoes- 1 1/2 lb.

Even under ideal storage conditions--right temperature and humidity--most fresh vegetables retain top quality only for a few days. Green, leafy vegetables quickly wilt and change flavor as water evaporates from tissues. Other vegetables such as corn, beans and peas lose sweetness with a short time as sugar converts to starch.

Always sort vegetables before storing. Discard or use at once any bruised or soft vegetables; do not store them with sound, firm vegetables.

Store ripe tomatoes uncovered in the refrigerator. Keep unripe tomatoes at room temperature away from direct sunlight until ripe, then refrigerate. Too much sunlight prevents development of even color.

Most fresh vegetables keep well and stay crisp if put in covered containers or plastic bags and stored in the refrigerator.

If you wash vegetables before storing, drain thoroughly because too much moisture can hasten decay. Corn is best stored unhusked and uncovered in the refrigerator.

BLOOD BROTHERS

We're always encountering the heredity versus environment controversy . . . even when we think about brothers. Is blood primarily responsible for the bond of comradery and affection pictured here?

Or did the influence of parents and the atmosphere of their home largely inspire this relationship?

History suggests the answer in man's religious growth: it was when he came to know God as his Father that he began to think of other men as his Brothers.

The beliefs that draw families to church on Sunday inspire the dimensions of brotherhood every day.

Reagor Receives Service Award

Billy H. Reagor of Ozona, Crockett County Extension agent for the past two years, has been selected to receive the Distinguished Service Award for 1976. The award is the highest given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

According to Dawson County Extension Agent Lee Roy Colgan, the Distinguished Service Award is presented annually to county agents throughout the nation who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture and have improved the quality of rural living over a period of 10 years or more. Colgan is president of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association (TCAAA).

Reagor is one of seven Texas county agents to receive the award.

The Texas award winners will be recognized at the state association's annual meeting Aug. 1-3 at the Knights Inn in Waco. Presentation of awards will be at the national association meeting Aug. 15-19 in Richmond, Va.

Reagor began his career with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1964 as an assistant county agent in Matagorda County. He then served as Martin County agent for eight years before transferring to Crockett in 1974.

Reagor has conducted outstanding educational programs in both crop and livestock production in

Since moving to Crockett County, he has also conducted outstanding programs in horticulture and gardening.

As a result of Reagor's efforts, a strong 4-H program in livestock feeding has been developed in Martin County, and 4-H members under his leadership have exhibited champion livestock at major stock shows in Texas.

American Foods Today The Result Of Rich Heritage

American foods of 1976 are the result of cultural heritage, a bounteous land and a creative people. Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, notes.

"From a 1776 population of about 2.5 million people with a simple agricultural society, we have grown to today's 200 million people, mingling all their food traditions and ethnic temperaments," she added.

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Immigrants came to America because of the vision of a land without hunger, as well as the promise of freedom to worship and to govern themselves.

"Some of the ancestors of peoples living in the United States in 1976 did not belong to the original colonies, but brought food backgrounds which are a part of today's food heritage," she said.

In all parts of the continent, the indians shared their knowledge of foods. Corn was used in different parts of the continent, but was especially important in New England because it could be grown there successfully where wheat was not productive. Corn was a primary crop of indians living in the Southwest.

The Mexican-Americans of both Spanish and Mexican-Indian origin added to the nation's food selections frioles, masa, chocolate, Aztec hot peppers and hot chili peppers in such dishes as chili con carne, she continued.

"Franciscan fathers brought seeds of peaches, apricots, apples and plums of spoiled food, with cookbooks carrying instructions on making tainted foods palatable.

"What sugar was available was often brown, hard and lumpy. Salt was important for preserving food as well as for adding flavor.

"Early Americans depended on Yankee peddlers for supplies. First they carried them on backpacks. Later they rode horse back or carried their supplies in wagons over poor roads. They took few bulky or heavy foods. At first, they had only salt, and a little tea--later they also had coffee, spices and sugar. Peddlers on rafts reached early settlers living on rivers and waterways. When specialized heavy-duty wagons were acquired, they might carry 25 cooking ranges on one trip," she said.

Earliest grocery stores sold spices, tea, coffee and sugar.

"By 1800, most Americans in the colonies were living above the subsistence level. Their meals were more elaborate and varied. But there were differences in the diets among families in the towns and those on farms."

Much of the produce grown at the edge of towns was brought by the producer to the consumer until late in the 1900's. Milk came to homes in large cans and was dipped out. It was often kept cool in the "spring" house or by lowering it in a cistern or well just above the water level. Preserved food was salt-brined, smoked or dried.

Original settlers in New England found an abundance of fish and wild game. Cooking fat was bear oil.

needed borders on criminal negligence. If we get a ticket for speeding, we had much prefer to pay our fine in Crockett County. We also feel that if we were speeding it would more than likely be on the way to San Angelo rather than in Crockett County. We also feel that if the court sees fit to raise taxes, it can't afford to turn up its nose at money in fines paid by offenders on 290. Upon investigating, we found that fine money, paid to Crockett County has dropped drastically since Manuel has been sharing his duties with Itron County.

Nobody likes to get a speeding ticket, but we have never found Manuel going over-board on ticket-giving. In fact he is more on the restrained side. We hope the court will reconsider this matter and we can return to sanity on 290. Just the presence of a "Smokey" is sometimes all that is necessary to restore normal driving habits, especially for trucks, some of which pass by this office going in the vicinity of 80 miles per hour.

I will now get off my soap box and get busy making up the paper. However, if you see your commissioner, let him know your feelings on this subject. I for one can see no sense in this "anti-law enforcement" attitude some officials seem to have.
