Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

Things are picking up around here this week, and everybody seems to be inflicted with the Christmas spirit at once. It took a few days for the community to get its collective mind off of football and on Christmas, but, by golly, we did it.

All the stores are brim-full of all kinds of Christmas gifts. Seems to be a better selection than ever this year locally. I browsed around last weekend and came up with some interesting observations. The most unusual and useless gift is at Westerman's Drug. It's a lifelike head of a horrible old crone.

When you pull the string, she spits on you and laughs like a mad woman. It would be the perfect gift for that someone who has everything, 'cause chances are he doesn't have one of these.

The most attractive Christmas window just has to be the one at Brown Furniture Co. Santa is checking his list in front of the fireplace while two youngsters sleep in a brass bed covered with an authentic antique quilt.

Small Fashions, while featuring all sorts of gifts for the younger set, has a Christmas tree decorated with ropes of candy and other goodies and when you turn it on it snows on its branches.

Travel on down to Bakers Jewelers and you'll find all kinds of lovely gift items, an especially large selection of watches. And, of course, Ozona Butane has all the large G.E. appliances that make great gifts for the lady of the house.

South Texas Lumber is literally running over with gift items and you can spend hours just looking. They still have all the things you need everyday right along with the elegant gift items.

The Village Drug has lots to offer too. I don't know if Ray hijacked a load of hair curlers or has the Christmas spirit. He sure has some bargains on electric curlers, blowers, stylers, etc.

Perry's has a fantastic record album and stereo tape sale going on right now, along with a full line of gift items.

You can find everything you want from C.B. radios to transistors at C.G. Morrison Co., since they have acquired the Radio Shack distributorship. And they have a store full of lots of other things.

Ozona TV System has every kind of television set you could ever want and while you are looking Ozona Boot has everything you'd ever

Commissioners Court Meets Monday In Regular Meeting

Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday with all members present and for the most part held a routine meeting. County Judge Troy Williams submitted the following report:

Sheriff Billy Mills appeared requesting a raise for his deputies. The Grand Jury Report was considered and discussed. It was pointed out that deputies handling traffic are required by law to wear uniforms. Sheriff Mills was requested to investigate the cost of these uniforms on purchase or lease basis. The county will pay for the uniforms and laundry. Sheriff Mills was further instructed to negotiate for someone to clean the jail system thoroughly once a week.

The new High Band Radio System is to be installed in the next few weeks.

Sheriff Mills was promised a raise for his deputies in January. The exact figures to be determined at the statutory time for setting salaries, the January meeting.

Von Parker, County Road Superintendent appeared requesting salary raises for the road employees. He was also promised raises to be set in January. Parker reported extensive damage to paved roads in the county system as a result of the moisture conditions and hard freezes the past 30 days. He requested a 3/4 ton pickup for the County Road Department. The request was approved and bids will be called for the January meeting.

A group of individuals met with the court including Wayne West, Dick Henderson, James C. Burnett, James Dalby and Toxie Beavers who represented his father-in-law, James Cleo Thompson, Jr.; after a lengthy discussion concerning property ownership, hangar rental and fees the following motion was passed:

"The Commissioners Court of Crockett County recognizes and honors the private ownership of airplane hangars at the County Airport. These hangar owners are authorized to lease, sell or otherwise utilize their hangars, for airplane use primarily, or if not needed for airplane storage, for other use that will not create an undue fire hazard."

In other business Gary

Vannoy and Tom Ed Montgomery, representing the Ozona Chamber of Commerce, appeared and asked that the County assist in providing financing for signs advertising Ozona on the Interstate. A question was raised whether the county could legally do advertising and the auditor was instructed to secure an Attorney General's Opinion. It was suggested to the Chamber of Commerce that they make a concerted attempt to raise funds for these signs among the business people of the town as the business community receives the benefits of such advertising.

The Court will work with the Chamber of Commerce if they can legally do so.

Bids were opened at 2:00 p.m. and Lawrence James' bid, being the only legal bid submitted, was accepted for the surplus blue ambulance. His bid was $350.00.

The Court directed the auditor to transfer money in the farm to market fund warrant proceeds to the farm to market sinking fund.

It being brought to the attention of the Court that normally the Court contributes money each year to the Christmas lighting fund. The Court authorized an expenditure of $450.00.

The Court instructed the County Judge to write a letter requesting persons who have wrecked vehicles, junk cars or other objects on the county streets, including the utility easement, which customarily is ten feet from the curb, to remove same or the county will remove these at the owners expense under the abandoned car act of 1975.

The Redistricting Suit was discussed and it was pointed out that the members were not required to be present in Dallas at the Court Hearing to be held Wednesday, Dec. 15, 1976.

The County Judge reported on a meeting held Wednesday, December 8, 1976 with the Governor's Office of Economic Resources. Those attending the meeting from Ozona were Dick Kirby, Foy Moody, Steve Kenley, Tom Stokes and Judge Troy Williams. According to the Governor's office, Crockett County school system will no longer be a budget balanced system but will be eligible for $140,000 state aid.

Services Here Saturday For Mr. Henderson

Funeral services for Walter Roy Henderson, 85, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home.

Mr. Henderson died Thursday in Crockett County Care Center where he had been a resident for the past few years.

He was born January 11, 1890 in Paint Rock and had lived in Crockett County all his life. He was the son of a pioneer Crockett County ranching family. He was a prominent Crockett County rancher, with ranching interests in Crockett, Kenney and Pecos counties. He had been a director of the Ozona National Bank since 1914. He was also vice president of the Wool Growers' Association for many years.

Survivors include his wife, June Perner Henderson; a daughter, Mrs. Louise Bunker of Ozona; a granddaughter, June Bunker Cameron of Waco; a grandson, George Bunker, Jr., of Ozona; three great granddaughters and one great grandson.

Lighting Contest Is Monday

Ozona's annual Christmas Lighting Contest will be held Monday, Dec. 20. Residents are urged to turn on lights at 7 p.m. and leave them on until 10 p.m. The judging will take place during these hours.

Recognition will be given for Best Door, Best Window and Best Overall Decorations. Three places will be given in each category. Winners will be announced in the Christmas issue, Dec. 23, of The Ozona Stockman.

Monday Rain Amounts To .32 Of Inch

Ozona received .32 inches of rain as a result of a front which moved through the area early Monday.

Rain fell intermittently throughout the day Monday. Some sleet was reported shortly after noon, but only fell briefly and the rainfall continued. Ozona missed the heavy snowfall reported in counties to the west.

Last Year's Champs Repeat-----

Chiefs Down Brady For Tournament Championship

The Lake View Chiefs repeated their performance of last year and walked away with the championship trophy again this year at the 46th Annual Ozona Invitational Basketball Tournament. They downed the Brady Bulldogs in the championship game Saturday night 63-59 to win the top spot for the second consecutive year.

Eldorado downed Menard for the third place spot 58-50, and the Ozona Lions lost 40-32 to Coahoma for the consolation trophy.

The Lions only had three days of practice before the tournament, due to the football play-offs, and were a bit rusty on the basketball court. However, they turned in a respectable 33-32 performance while losing to Iraan in their first game Thursday night. They beat McCamey 57-50 Friday and went on to down Mason 53-32 to gain the consolation finals.

The Lion coach, Jim Williams, was not able to choose a team on such short notice and boys are still working out for the team this week. However, the Lion line-up included Vaden Aldridge, John Galvan, Orlando DeHoyos, Gary Warren, Mike Fay, Blake Moody, Douglas Bean, Bruce Whitley and Sterling Lay. Aldridge and Lay placed on the all-tournament team for Ozona.

Brady's Ira Routt gained the tournament's outstanding player award by leading the Bulldogs into the finals.

Others placing on the all tournament team were Menard's Red Hensley and Vance Simmons, Eldorado's Jimmy Bosmans, Reagan County's Mitch Kiser, Coahoma's Ken Kelso and Sonora's John Elliott.

The all-tournament team was announced following the final game Saturday night, along with presentation of the trophies. The outstanding player and members of the all-tournament team received individual trophies. Lake View was presented with the championship trophy, Brady received the runner-up trophy and Eldorado received the third place trophy with the consolation trophy presented to Coahoma. Menard won the sportsmanship trophy.

The tournament got underway Thursday at 2:30 with Eldorado beating McCamey 56-45, and the Ozona JV being downed by the Big Lake Owls 63-27. In the third game Thursday, Lake View started its winning streak by beating Sonora 70-43, and the Lions suffered a 33-32 defeat by Iraan in the final game.

Still in first round play, Menard downed Coahoma 67-51 in the first game Friday afternoon and Mason was beaten by Brady 53-43.

Mrs. Baggett Buried Here Fri. Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Monroe (Lillie) Baggett, 85, were held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home.

Mrs. Baggett died Wednesday in St. David's Hospital in Austin after a brief illness.

She was born July 15, 1891 in Stonewall County and was a lifelong resident of Ozona. She was married to Monroe Baggett July 21, 1909 in Ozona. They were an early-day Crockett County ranching family. Mrs. Baggett had resided at Westminster Manor in Austin for the past five years.

Mrs. Baggett was active in civic work, various clubs and was a lifetime member of The Ozona Methodist Church. She was a 50-year member of the Ozona chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star and was a past district deputy worthy matron.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Brown of Austin, Mrs. Posey B. Smith of Lamar, Colo. and Mrs. Buelah H. Pace of Hutto; one sister, Mrs. Lula Nelson of Amarillo; one brother Frank Boerner of Phoenix, Ariz.; nine grandchildren; and 17 great grandchildren. Her husband, Monroe, and a son, James Baggett, preceded her in death.

Playing toward consolation, Sonora beat the Ozona JV in the final game of the afternoon session Friday.

The evening session Friday saw the Lions down McCamey, Lake View knock out Big Lake 53-38, and Eldorado overcome Iraan 51-48.

The Saturday session got underway with Coahoma knocking Sonora out of the consolation finals 70-49 in the first game of the morning. Next Ozona gained the consolation finals beating Mason 53-32. In finals play Saturday afternoon, Brady beat Eldorado 67-54 to gain the championship finals, while Lake View edged Menard 49-47 on the way to the championship. Eldorado beat Menard 58-50 for third place, while Lake View downed Brady 63-59 in an exciting championship tilt.

Although the Lions were rusty, some of them managed to get into double figures in each game but the final, Sterling Lay, an all-tournament pick, scored 10 points in the first game, a big 18 points in the second game, and 12 points in the third game. Mike Fay scored 12 points for the Lions in the second game, and Vaden Aldridge, another all-tournament pick, scored 10 points in the third game. Aldridge and Gary Warren each scored 9 points in the final game with Coahoma.

Santa Claus To Visit Ozona Tues.

Santa Claus is preparing for his annual pre-Christmas visit to Ozona. He sent word from the North Pole early this week that he would arrive in Ozona Tuesday, Dec. 21. Santa is coming by plane, as his sleigh is being loaded with toys for his Christmas visit.

His plane should be above the city around 1:50 p.m. and he will be picked up at the airport by the fire truck and transported to downtown Ozona. Santa will set up shop between the courthouse and the annex by 2 o'clock. He will be ready to talk to the youngsters and give out bags of Christmas candy.

Santa's visit each year is sponsored by the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department. The firemen also furnish the candy and they spent their last meeting night bagging over 500 pounds of Christmas candy.

FAMILIAR FIGURE TO RETIRE from Ozona National Bank December 30. Roy Thompson, vice president, and a bank employee for over 34 years will turn his pen and pencil set for golf clubs and move to the Thompson's new home in Clyde around the first of the year. Thompson began his banking career in Abilene where he worked for eleven years before moving to Ozona Sept. 15, 1942. He and Mrs. Thompson [Darr] have been active in all phases of Ozona church, civic and social life and reared both their children, Jeannine and Darrene, here. They plan to join each other in fishing, golf and gardening.

DEATH SENTENCE DESERVED

If we were to nominate the most nauseating news story of 1976, it would be the announcement that some money-hungry book publishers and motion picture producers are said to be interested in dramatizing the sordid story of killer Gary Gilmore - with Gilmore featured as a sort of hero. The propaganda buildup has evidently already started. Washington news writer Patrick Buchanan cites the following gem written by an unidentified "national correspondent": "Despite the violence that has punctuated his life in and out of prison, Mr. Gilmore had one side of his personality that showed some sensitivity, and he dabbled in poetry and oil painting." Buchanan promptly and accurately labeled this description of Gilmore as "sentimental swill."

In all of the attention being given to Gilmore's suicide attempt, his hunger strike, his jail-house betrothal and his past record as something of a prison escape artist, the reason why he was sentenced to death seems to have been forgotten. It is time that we remembered.

On July 20, Gilmore murdered David Jensen, 24, in a nickels and dimes gas station holdup. Jensen, a former missionary in the Mormon church, was working at the service station to help pay his way as a law student at Brigham Young University, and to support his wife and baby. None of that mattered to Gilmore, of course. David Jensen was gunned down in cold blood.

On the very next night, July 21, Gilmore pulled another holdup. This time his victim was Bennie Bushnell, a motel clerk in Provo, Bushnell, also married with one small child and another baby on the way, was working to earn money to get back into school. Bushnell followed the instructions of the robber to the letter. He turned over the money from the till, $120. Then he was ordered to lie face down on the floor, which he did. Then Gary Gilmore who, we are now told, "has some sensitivity," coldly fired two shots through his young victim's head.

If our sob-sisters are determined to weep tears, why don't they weep for the two widows and three orphaned children? Let the name and memory of Gary Gilmore be consigned to the garbage heap where it belongs. Any book or movie memorializing this vicious killer would be an insult to every American.

WATCH YOUR POCKETBOOKS

There are some signs that, after conferring with various and sundry officials in Washington, President-Elect James Earl Carter has mellowed considerably from his high-flying campaign "promises." We can but hope that between now and inauguration day he will "mellow" a great deal more.

Consider, for example, these excerpts from a news story, with headlines from a UPI dispatch from Boston:

"Massachusetts Banking On Carter Aid - Expecting Sudden Bonanza of Federal Funds...Boston (UPI) - Massachusetts political leaders are looking to President-Elect Jimmy Carter to be an economic rainmaker who will bring new life and growth to the fiscally depressed state..."

"Massachusetts hasn't had it so good since the New Frontier days of the Kennedy White House."

"A federal takeover of the (Massachusetts) welfare system alone - one of Carter's goals - would free up to an estimated $1 billion annually in state funds. A national health insurance program would further ease the tax burden."

"And that's only the beginning..."

Shortly after the above news story appeared, a number of big city mayors, including Boston's, met for the purpose of bringing pressure upon the new Carter administration for Federal funds to bail them out of financial difficulties.

Apparently, the Massachusetts politicians are still laboring under the illusion that we, the American people, have such unlimited personal income that we can be taxed for more and more money, above the taxes we are paying now, so that they can continue their spendthrift habits which got them into their financial binds in the first place.

Perhaps they didn't hear the other campaign promise made by Carter to lower taxes.

Well, gentlemen, it can't be both ways. The only real solution is to stop spending money like drunken sailors and to begin to run the various city and state governments in a financially responsible manner. If the politicians in "Taxachusetts" think that people in other states are going to pay for their financial foolishness, then they have, as our favorite Grandmother used to say, "another think coming!"

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The U. S. Secretary of Interior is pressing Gov. Dolph Briscoe to take a stand in a hot controversy between water and wildlife interests.

The issue: replacing wildlife habitat destroyed by the waters of major new reservoirs.

Secretary Kent Frizzell wants the governor to explain his opinions on "mitigation" — steps which should be taken to reduce destructive effects of reservoir building on habitat — at the 11,000-acre Palmetto Bend project near Edna.

At the same time, the National Wildlife Federation is pushing Briscoe to provide $3 million in local and state money to purchase 3,700 acres for wildlife management in the reservoir area.

Briscoe has supported federal action to speed Limestone and Choke Cannon reservoir projects without specifying steps to reduce harmful effects on wildlife habitat.

Although Frizzell's question pertains specifically to Palmetto Bend, the governor's answer, in effect, will spell out his position on the broad issue.

Insurance Fight

Another major insurance battle — over product liability coverage — is predicted by industry spokesmen for the 1977 legislature.

The industry is prepared to lobby for legislation to place limits on awards for punitive damage and pain. Another proposed bill would provide immunity from product liability suits if product designs are certified as having risks reduced to acceptable levels.

Other proposals would regulate attorneys' contingency fees and establish compulsory arbitration. High risk businesses have expressed concern product liability suits could ruin them.

VRA Review Set

The U. S. Supreme Court is going to review the contest over whether Texas really should be subject to the expanded federal Voting Rights Act.

The controversial act requires U. S. Justice Department approval of any state or local government act bearing on elections or voting rights. Only about 25 decisions of Texas governing bodies (there are 4,000 political subdivisions in the state) have been overturned under VRA. But a House committee recently estimated the act has cost the Texas taxpayers $190,000 and forced local governments to devote 35,000 of manpower to necessary paperwork to comply.

A U. S. appeals court has held against excluding Texas. The high court will hear arguments next March on the appeals lodged by Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Secretary of State Mark White who claim Texas was improperly brought under the act.

Susan Speaks Out

By Susan Gurley McBee State Representative, District 70

It's hard to believe that it's almost time for the next legislative session to begin. The 65th Legislature convenes in Austin at noon on January 11, 1977, and will be in session until the end of May.

Every indication is that it will be an interesting, important, and action-packed 140 days.

Of course financing our state government is the number one assignment for each legislature. And I'm delighted to tell you that we anticipate, as of now, a "surplus" of between 2.6 and 3 billion dollars in the state treasury. The surplus dollars will create another problem-keen competition between state agencies and various special interest groups for a piece of the pie.

Sometimes it is harder to budget when we do have an excess because it is hard to allocate the funds without setting up new levels of spending that in time and through inflation will reach the point where a sizable tax increase is needed. But we all are cognizant of the current difficulties of many less financially stable governments, like New York city's so I think you will see the state's revenue budgeted in a very judicious and, hopefully, effective manner.

One area that will receive a fairly heavy ingestion of new state funds is education. Both the Legislature and the Governor are committed to increasing the amount of money Texas spends on educating children. The state's acceptance of more of the cost would have two important consequences: Cost of education in the state would be more equalized, as we are under court order to do; and some of the burden on the local property taxpayer would be lifted. This school financing issue will probably be the one on which the next Legislature spends the most time, effort, and money.

Also tied in with the budget and the disposition of it, is our highway situation. I don't need to belabor this point, as I'm sure you are by now well aware of the funding crisis our highway department faces.

An adequate and well-maintained highway system as people in our part of the state well know-is a must for continued economic development in Texas as well as for our very life style. The problems of the State Highway Fund will receive the highest consideration during the 65th Session.

Let me take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support and encouragement. It is a great honor and pleasure to serve as your representative, and I appreciate the continued confidence you have demonstrated in me.

During this interim between sessions I have enjoyed traveling in the district, meeting with interested constituents and making speeches, in addition to performing my legislative committee duties. Between now and the first of January, I shall be studying legislative issues and drafting bills in preparation for the coming session. You may reach me at Post Office Drawer Z, Del Rio, 78840; or telephone 512/775-5952. After the first of January, please don't hesitate to contact me in Austin at the House of Representatives, Post Office Box 2910, 78769; or telephone 512/475-2763.

Cussin' The Golden Eagle Illegal

It may be a little hard to believe, but any sheep or goat man who so much as shakes a finger or utters an obscene word at a golden eagle, even one in the process of carrying away a crying lamb or kid, faces the prospect of a stiff fine, a prison sentence, and/or confiscation of a sizable amount of his property.

That reads like something out of a poorly conceived scare story, and, admittedly, it's a little long on drama, but it is absolutely possible under the penalties and definitions set forth in the Bald Eagle Protection Act and amendments.

The Act, which applies to golden eagles just as fervently as it applies to their white-haired cousins, provides for a penalty, under Section 668, of "not more than $5,000 or (imprisonment of) not more than one year or both" for a first violation. A second or any subsequent violation is punishable by twice the previous fine and prison sentence. A further provision states that each such bird "taken" (an astounding definition of "to take" will follow) "shall constitute a separate violation".

Under the law, "to take" an eagle includes "pursue, shoot, shoot at, poison, wound, kill, capture, trap, collect, molest or disturb". As we all know, eagles and other predatory birds have well-developed senses of sight and hearing, so molesting or disturbing them should be relatively easy, especially for a rancher whose livelihood is being carried away before his eyes!

As a matter of fact, a good number of ranchers have sufficiently developed vocabularies to quite effectively disturb a cedar post for carelessly bending a fence staple.

It might be noted that the law, under Section 668a, allows for eagles to be "taken" for various purposes, including "the protection of wildlife or of agricultural or other interests". The law further states that such an authorization must be preceded by a request from the governor of the state affected. It sounds fairly reasonable, but when Governor Dolph Briscoe requested authorization for a number of Southwest Texas counties, his request was denied. Meanwhile, the federal government continues to feed its feathered charges on privately-owned livestock.

While most ranchers subject to eagle predation are probably aware that killing the birds is a violation of the law, many of the wildly illogical extensions of the law mentioned above will probably come as a shock; not only are they prohibited from protecting their livestock, but, according to the Act, they are also subject to extreme penalty for so much as reacting to the carnage.

Obviously, it is highly unlikely that a rancher will be penalized for shaking his fist at an eagle, but the fact remains that the legal wording is on the books and someday, somewhere, it could be applied. It should be a sobering thought.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

With the rush and planning for Christmas upon us, everyone will join this time for baking, gift giving, shopping, attending church and club festivities. May we not miss the true purpose and spirit of the season amid this preparation.

If you're interested in Hollies, they are highly prized for decorations and gifts at this season of the year. Holly is the traditional material for Christmas wreaths, arrangements and ropes for hanging over doorways etc. Plant them this winter, and you will be the proud owner of your own shrubs for next Christmas.

Most of the evergreen hollies native to the United States grow naturally in southern states. These include youpon (Ilex vomitoria) and American holly, the most popular of our native species. There are also several native deciduous species, such as winterberry and possumhaw also popular for their brilliant red berries.

Besides the natives, there are evergreen varieties of Oriental hollies that are widely used for ornamental purposes in the south. One of these is Chinese holly (I. Cornuta) which has highly glossy, spiny leaves and large, red berries. Burford is one of the best known cultivars of Chinese holly and has almost spineless leaves and large, bright-red berries. Japanese holly (I. Crenata) is sometimes used for Christmas decoration, despite its small, spineless leaves and black fruit.

Don't overwater gift plants you may receive for Christmas. This may cause more problems with container plants than any other practice. Most plants should be thoroughly soaked when watered and then allowed to dry out. Hopefully the pot will have a drainage hole. Pour excess water from the drainage saucer to avoid root damage. A plant's needs depend on the kind it is, its location in the house, light exposure, soil type, room temperature, and other variables. The watering program that works for your plants will not automatically work for those belonging to someone else.

Trees and shrubs get thirsty during the winter. Proper watering practices are as important during the winter months as in warmer periods of active growth. Just because trees and shrubs are dormant does not mean they can do without moisture. Shallow-rooted plants and those in containers are especially vulnerable to water

MRS. JEFFREY STUART
...nee Miss Janet Zuehlke

Miss Zuehlke Becomes Bride Of Mr. Stuart

Miss Janet Gwen Zuehlke became the bride of Mr. Jeffrey Dain Stuart in a double ring ceremony December 11, at 4 p.m. in the Open Door Christian Fellowship Church in San Angelo.

Arched candelabra, entwined with ivy, enhanced the altar with large baskets of white gladioli tied with soft blue bows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stuart of Ozona and Mrs. Helen M. Zuehlke of San Angelo.

The bride wore a formal length gown of candlelight satin and organza adorned with Chantilly lace. Styled with a round neckline, wide lace bands crossed the shoulders and joined the empire waistline. A large flat satin bow accented the back. Long bell sleeves were finished with Chantilly lace.

Stress during the cooler months. Plants exposed to prevailing winter winds and those located beneath the roof overhang need special attention to ensure adequate moisture. Drying is especially serious on evergreens and early spring-flowering plants, since they require a steady supply of water. Water at 3 to 4 week intervals if rainfall is inadequate.

with rows of lace and ribbon and the full skirt was encircled with a deep ruffle flounce and lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged with matching lace, fell from a bishop cap fashioned of satin. She carried a cascade of white carnations trimmed in soft blue.

Traditional wedding selections were presented by Mary Carter at the organ.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Lynn Phillips. She wore a gown of ice blue crepe accented with beaded trim, and carried a colonial bouquet of light blue carnations.

Laura Zuehlke, sister of the bride, lighted the candles and presided at the guest register in the church foyer.

Gregory Stuart, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. The serving table was laid with a creme lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white glads and blue carnations. Serving were Mrs. Gary Causin and Mrs. Stacy Mohler. Miss Lori Clayton and Miss Shelby Stuart gave out rice bags.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner

Friday night at Zentner's Daughters Restaurant. White glads and blue carnations with white candles decorated the tables.

Following the brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Ozona.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's brother, Douglas Stuart of Washington, D.C.

Attending from Ozona were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Ray Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dunlap, Miss Bridget Dunlap, Mrs. Carolyn Clayton, Debra and Lisa, Mrs. Gregory Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson and Darolynn, Michael Wellman, Stanley Flanagan, Charles Turland, Billy Tom Turland and Chris Reeves.

Debra Says

by Debra Price

Successful deer hunters have learned that for the best quality of venison, the time that is shortened between the kill and the freezer becomes the critical factor.

There are two basic ways of field dressing deer, and both require a sharp knife with a large handle so that it can be held firmly. The first method is usually recommended for game that is to be mounted later. The second way is slightly quicker and is used for game that is not too old or big and will probably not be mounted.

The first method begins by placing the animal on its back and securing it by placing stones on either side. Remove the external sex organs first. Then make a vertical cut from the pelvic bone to the middle of the breastbone. Turn the knife blade up to prevent cutting into any of the internal organs.

Hold the entrails outside the rib cage and cut the outside layer, the diaphragm to expose the inner organs. Sever the esophagus and windpipe and pull them down. Pull the entrails free to the pelvic region. Finally, cut the skin and muscles around the anus but use care not to cut the bladder. Then remove the intestines.

The second method requires two basic cuts. Begin the first cut at the belly and slightly to one side of the breastbone to make cutting easier. After completing the cut up to the neck, sever the esophagus and windpipe. Pull the lungs and heart free of the diaphragm and then at the diaphragm. While still holding the esophagus and windpipe, lift out the remainder of the viscera.

Make the second cut along the thin seam that holds the two pelvic bones together. The seam is pronounced on younger animals and can be cut easily with a sheath knife. Next set the animal in a spread-eagle position with one foot on each of the hind legs. A pull on the tail should then break open the pelvis so that the intestinal and reproductive tracts can be pulled from the body. Finally, cut the viscera free from around the anus.

If the head is to be mounted, hang the animal by its hind legs to allow the remaining blood to drain free of the body. Otherwise, hang the animal by the head or antlers. Place a stick between the halves of the rib cage to speed the cooling of the carcass.

Skinning the animal is easiest as soon as possible after the kill. After skinning, wrap the carcass with a solid cloth material rather than cheesecloth because flies can deposit eggs through the cheesecloth.

Keep the carcass clean and put it in cold storage as soon as possible to insure high meat quality. Additional information on field dressing big game is available at the county Extension office.

Students In Piano Recital

Mrs. Bill Williams will present her piano students in a recital at the First Baptist Church, Thursday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. A reception will follow the recital.

Ozona Garden Club Meets Monday

"A Gift of Roses" was the theme when the Ozona Garden Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Ben Bohmfalk. Mrs. O.D. West was assisting hostess.

Mrs. J.C. Schroeder, vice president, presided over the business meeting. The Christmas Lighting Contest which will take place Dec. 20, was discussed. Members were reminded to turn on lights at 7 p.m. and leave them on until 10. Club members and guests plan a Dutch treat luncheon at the El Sombrero and a Christmas tour of the John Parks and Jeffrey Sutton homes before the judging.

The program, "A Gift of Roses" was presented by Mrs. Larry Elliott.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed Christmas table.

Others present included Mrs. Fleet Coates, Mrs. Maggie Crawford, Mrs. L.B. Cox, Jr., Mrs. J.W. Howell, Mrs. A.S. Lock, Mrs. Glenn Sutton, Mrs. Johnnie Hokit, Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Maudie Couch.

History Book Delayed

Due to many unforeseen printing corrections that had to be made the Crockett County History Book will not be ready for distribution before January.

The Committee, who have worked many long hours on the project, deeply regrets the delay but thought it best to try to publish as accurate a text as possible rather than accept errors in haste.

Orders are still being taken at the Museum should anyone desire to give a gift certificate for Christmas.

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity. People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparations. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow.

Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe. Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas after all, is the birthday of our Lord, and should be celebrated first of all where most birthdays are celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

Ozona Schools to Dismiss or Holidays

Ozona schools will dismiss Friday afternoon for the Christmas holidays and classes will not reconvene until January 3, at the regular time in all schools. The Primary School will dismiss at 1:45 Tuesday in the park before Santa arrives. The Intermediate School children will be dismissed at 2 p.m. and will also go to the park. High School and Junior High School will be dismissed at 2:30 and all busses will run from the park shortly after 2:30.

Santa Letters Deadline Near

Hey Kids! The Ozona Stockman is the official depository for Letters to Santa Claus, and the deadline is fast approaching. Try to get your letters in by this weekend, and we will get them off to Santa in plenty of time for Christmas.

Letters will be printed in the paper as they arrive and then will be sent immediately to the North Pole for Santa's inspection. Santa has informed us that his elves are working 'round the clock filling orders.

Dear Santa, I have been a very good little boy this year. I would like to have a horse whose tongue sticks out when I pull on the reins. Also I want to remind you to look for the torch out at the Indian Wells Plant. We will keep it on so you will find us out here. I love you, Robert Shane Hester

Schroeder Honored On 25th Year

F.C. Schroeder, Maintenance Foreman at Shell Oil Company's JM Unit, Ozona, was honored recently on the occasion of his 25th service anniversary with the Company.

Floyd began his Shell career in December 1951 as a Maintenance Man in Hobbs, New Mexico, and in December 1955 was promoted to Lease Operator. He transferred to Monahans, Texas, in February 1966 and was promoted to Maintenance Leadman. This was followed by a promotion to Maintenance Foreman in September 1967. During the period October 1971 until November 1975 he was assigned to Shell's Elk City Unit, Elk City, Oklahoma, transferring to the JM Unit at Ozona following that assignment. Schroeder was born in Kiefer, Oklahoma, and attended schools in Wynoma, Oklahoma. He and his wife reside in Ozona.

Ozona-Sonora Gas Play To Be Featured

Drill Bit Magazine, the oil and gas publication for the Permian Basin, will feature the Sonora-Ozona gas play in its Feb. issue, according to

John Pitts, managing editor. "This gas play in Sutton and Crockett counties is one of the most significant discoveries and development programs in the last two decades," said Pitts. "It has brought prosperity not only to this section of the Permian Basin but to rest of the Basin as well."

Drill Bit will devote a major section of the February issue to the gas play with articles on geology, drilling, completions and the economic potential of the play. Extra copies of the issue will be printed for distribution in Sonora, Ozona, Eldorado and Big Lake.

Drill Bit with a readership of over 20,000 in the Permian Basin and other parts of the nation is published in Midland.

2 Hospital Employees Finish Course

Two employees of the Food Service Department of the Crockett County Hospital and Care Center recently completed a 90 hour course in Food Service Supervision at Midland College.

Lottie Burdic and Lupe Galvan were recognized as being the students who traveled the longest distance to classes and were the only members of the class who had a perfect attendance record.

Lorna Miller, Registered Dietitian, instructor for the course, commended the two for their superior performance during the four month course. It included principles of management, food production, diet planning for regular and modified diets, and food purchasing.

Lottie Burdic is Food Service Supervisor at Crockett County Hospital and Care Center, and Lupe Galvan is Assistant Supervisor.

By Mrs. Dan Gerber
Many mothers have asked me, "Won't my baby be healthier eating food I've made at home?"
"Not necessarily," I always reply. I know that mothers ask this question because they want to give their babies the best, but in some cases they may be risking their infants' health by preparing their food at home.
The reason is that the making of baby foods is a precise science.

*Helpful Tips
For your Dishwasher*

- ★ A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- ★ Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- ★ Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

"Plan carefully and be ready for the trip. Late, last minute packing, cooking, shopping and gift wrapping can leave you tired and exhausted before you ever start.

"Pack as much of the luggage, presents and food in the trunk so you and your children will not be crowded inside the car. Put pillows, snacks, a change of clothes and some of the children's favorite toys inside the car where they can be reached easily."

The specialist advised planning for rest stops—about every two hours. Rest stops can break up a long trip for you and your youngsters and can be a source of conversation, too. If weather permits, take the children on a brief walk or let them exercise during each stop. Texas highways have many roadside parks conveniently located. Once back on the road, talk to the children about what they saw and did during each stop, she said.

"On long trips, children will understandably get restless. You can help keep them entertained by talking with them about where you are going and what you will be doing. Point out interesting sights during your trip. Older children can keep up with progress on their own road maps as you discuss the trip.

"Use your imagination for other kinds of entertainment. Play guessing games, counting games or sing songs if the children need a diversion.

"Lap boards such as a TV tray or a checkerboard are useful if the children want to draw, color or play cards," she suggested.

Roslynn Williams will be the organist and Barbara Burger, the pianist.

Hollies
For The Holidays

The holiday season would not be complete without a touch of holly. And Texas is the perfect home for new holly plants.

"A touch of Christmas cheer can be had through the year with a holly plant," notes Dr. William Welch, landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The female holly with its bright red fruit is especially attractive in landscapes."

The Greenleaf and Savannah varieties are some suggested hollies. These will grow to a height of 20 feet or more and provide food for nearly 20 species of birds, points out Welch.

"Since the holly plant is native to many parts of Texas, it is not surprising that its relatives, the yaupon and possumhaw or deciduous yaupon, are also abundant in the state," points out Welch. Other fine hollies include the Dahoon, Hume and Inkberry varieties.

"These trees also bear the dark red fruit and have been widely used in home landscaping. The holly family shrubs are often chosen because of their durability and compact growth. They make excellent hedges."

Most hollies should be transplanted between November and March when the plant is dormant, explains the horticulturist. However, plants found in a nursery can be planted any time with sufficient care. Welch recommends the balled-and-burlapped types rather than bare-rooted plants.

The plants need not be fertilized until their second year of growth. Barnyard manure may be mixed with the soil and a mulch of leaves and pine straw provided.

"Texas grown hollies are adapted to their surroundings and can make an attractive addition to any landscape," contends Welch.

Your own yard can provide this year's inexpensive but elegant decorations for Christmas.

A landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests just a sampling of the ways that branches, fruits, leaves and other yard paraphernalia can be utilized to bring in the holiday spirit.

Such items as yaupon, deciduous holly, pyracantha and pine branches can be designed into an attractive wreath, or the branch can be used alone, especially if it is unusual, says Dr. William C. Welch.

Pine cones, lotus pods, cattails and cockleburbs can be spray painted in a variety of Christmas colors and added to the centerpiece of a festive table.

Persimmons, crabapples, pears and quince also provide color for indoor decorations.

Magnolia, yew and pittosporum leaves can be dried or used in their natural greenery to surround a nativity scene or similar setting, adds Welch.

Leaves of magnolia, pittosporum and loquat last long when used in the dried form. To retain their shape, Welch suggests hanging the leaves, cut stem up, in a cool, dry shady area for a few days or weeks.

The uses of garden greenery for holiday decorations is limited only by one's imagination, contends the horticulturist.

The world's largest non-profit scientific and educational institution is the National Geographic Society, founded in 1888.

Improvement Loans Easier To Obtain

The new "retail philosophy" among bankers may help homeowners weigh the pro's and con's of remodeling.

Bankers are more eager to make home improvement loans than any other type of consumer loan, Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says.

"Home improvement loans cost less to service; the average loan has doubled during the last 10 years and losses are less. Also, bankers realize that when a home improvement loan is made they have a better chance of obtaining a family's checking and savings account as well as making loans in the future," this specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

"The family with a good credit rating and an income sufficient to support the loan has greater leverage to bargain for better terms. This family is in a position to negotiate for a lower interest rate and a longer term loan. It is advantageous to talk with several bankers in order to obtain the most favorable terms."

A recent Federal Trade Commission ruling, known as the holder-in-due-course, provides another indirect benefit to homeowners, the specialist said.

"If financing for a remodeling project has been arranged by the contractor with a lending institution, the borrower can stop payment on the improvement if he is not satisfied with the goods or services. This also applies to other consumer loans."

"Consequently, lenders are more selective of contractors they work with. It is to their advantage to finance reputable contractors. When fly-by-night contractors cannot obtain financing, the homeowner will benefit in the long run," she pointed out.

The largest recorded snowflakes fell on Montana in 1887. They were 15 inches in diameter.

Bankers' School To Deal With Agricultural Loans

A special session on making agricultural loans will be one of the highlights of the 25th Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers, Feb. 7-9, at the Rudder Center, Texas A&M University.

"Different agricultural enterprises require specific analysis and consideration, so six major loan areas will be examined at the school," notes Tom Prater, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service who is the school's general chairman.

"The six loan sessions will look at field crops, cow-calf operations, feedlots, dairies, rice and grain storage and warehousing. Bankers from throughout Texas, who are experienced in making these types of loans, will conduct each of the sessions."

Another special feature of the school will provide a brief look at recent developments in the agricultural industry, according to Prater. Gene Finley, vice president, Capital National Bank, Austin, will preside over this session. Topics to be discussed include energy and agriculture, the new meat grading system, animal reproduction, grain sorghum research activities, new insights into beef tenderness, improved weather services and the new estate tax law.

"The school will be kicked off with a session which will examine ways farmers and ranchers may get control over capital. Discussions will include expected changes in dealer methods of financing farm equipment and farmers and outside equity capital."

"Rounding out the school will be sessions dealing with crop, livestock and money market outlook information, correspondent banking relationships and the banker and his customer," says Prater.

The annual school is planned for bankers by the Agricultural and Rural Affairs Section of the Texas Bankers Association. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Bankers Association.

In conjunction with the school, an Agricultural Credit Analysis Workshop will begin the afternoon of Feb. 9 and continue through the morning of Feb. 11. The workshop will deal with preparing financial statements, analyzing and reconciling farm records, and preparing cash flow projections. Case problems will also be studied and solved, points out Prater.

Running concurrently with this credit workshop will be a special two-day Commodity Hedging Session. This session will investigate the mechanics of hedging, hedging decision guides and what a banker should know about living with a hedged loan.

Prater invites Texans who are concerned with agricultural financing to attend both the school and either of the two workshops.

For registration information, contact Prater at Room 107C Agriculture Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Leftovers Turkey Provides Many Meal Possibilities

Leftover turkey meat provides endless possibilities for future family meals, Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Cool cooked poultry quickly and store, loosely wrapped, in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Cooked turkey meat can be stored in the freezer in moisture-vapor resistant wrappings such as glass, rigid plastic containers, freezer foil and freezer paper or plastic wrap.

"Cooked turkey covered with broth or gravy will keep for up to six months, but turkey not covered with broth or gravy will keep only one month.

"If the meat is removed from the bone before packaging and freezing, less freezer space will be used and the meat will be ready for use. Defrost in the refrigerator before use," she advised.

Try the following recipes to make the best use of one of this year's best buys--turkey.

Turkey Croquettes
2 cups turkey, cooked, diced
1 cup rice, cooked
1/2 cup celery, chopped
2 tbs. onion, chopped
1 teaspoon flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 egg, beaten
1/4 to 1/2 cup evaporated milk
3/4 cup breadcrumbs, fine, dry
2 quarts oil for frying
1 recipe turkey sauce
1/2 cup nuts, chopped or a few sprigs parsley

Combine turkey, rice, vegetable, flour and seasonings. Add egg and enough milk to moisten. Shape into 12 croquettes. Roll in breadcrumbs. Heat oil in a deep kettle or deep-fat fryer to 375 degrees F. Fry croquettes until browned, two-five minutes. Drain on paper. Serve hot turkey sauce over croquettes. Garnish with nuts or parsley, if desired.

Note: To obtain one cup cooked rice, use 1/2 cup raw rice.

Calories per serving: About 360 if garnished with nuts; about 315 if garnished with parsley. Yield: Six servings, two croquettes each.

Turkey Pinwheels
3 tbs. celery, finely chopped

2 teaspoons onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons water
1/4 cups turkey, cooked, finely chopped
1/4 cups flour, unsifted
2 teaspoons baking powder double-acting
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk
1 recipe Turkey Sauce

Cook celery and onion in water until tender. Drain, reserving two teaspoons liquid. Combine turkey, vegetables and reserved vegetable liquid. Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. (very hot). Stir flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Add milk; mix just enough to moisten dry ingredients. Turn dough onto a lightly floured board. Roll one-fourth inch thick. Spread turkey mixture evenly over dough. Roll as for jelly roll. Cut into six slices. Place slices on a greased baking pan. Bake 20 minutes. Serve Turkey Sauce over pinwheels.

Calories per serving: About 275. Yield: six pinwheels.

Turkey Sauce
1 to 3 tbs. butter or other fat
3 tbs. flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups turkey broth or a mixture of
1 1/2 cups milk, whole or skim and 3 turkey-flavored bouillon cubes

Melt fat over low heat; blend in flour and salt. Heat and stir until bubbly. Add broth or milk and bouillon cubes slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Note: Chicken fat adds extra flavor.

Calories per recipe: About 310 if made with turkey broth; 520 if made with whole milk and bouillon cubes.

es. Yield: one and one-half cups sauce

Turkey-Kidney Bean Salad
1 cup turkey, cooked, coarsely chopped
1/4 cups kidney beans, cooked or canned, drained
1/2 cup pickle, sweet, coarsely chopped
3/4 cup celery, coarsely chopped
1 tbs. onion, finely chopped
2 eggs, hard-cooked, diced
1 teaspoon salt
3 tbs. mayonnaise
1 teaspoon mustard, prepared
1 teaspoon pickle liquid

Combine all ingredients. Toss lightly. Chill at least one hour to blend flavors. Calories per serving: about 205. Yield: six servings, one-half cup each.

Band News

By Michelle Jones-Reporter

The concert season is well on its way for the Ozona Lion Band. The band is anticipating a successful season. Just as in the marching season, the pride and spirit is still in dominate among the band members...

December 10th, a number of band members attended the Regional Band in Brownwood. Among these participants were Jennifer Nicholas, John Martinez and Paul Zapata.

Although nobody made the band they still performed well among the many other band students participating.

The many members of the Lion Band are working as a team to achieve the band's goal of "true greatness in pride, spirit, attitude and enthusiasm." The marching season has ended but the goal is still in effect for the 1976-77 concert season for the O.H.S. Lion Band.

Cattlemen Call For Negotiation Of Quotas

The President of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas, T.A. Cunningham, called for William E. Simon, Chairman of the Economic Policy Board, to consider the policy concerning the negotiations of the 1977 meat quotas. If the United States continues formal country-by-country import quotas to restrict 1977 meat imports, the USDA is authorized by law to implement formal quotas. However, if it's agreed that voluntary restraint agreements should be again negotiated between the U.S. and foreign exporting countries, the question that is of utmost importance is whether the USDA or State Department should be the chief U.S. representative in these negotiations. Cunningham urged Simon to allow officials of the United States Department of Agriculture rather than the State Department, to negotiate these voluntary restraint agreements with the countries exporting meat into this country.

Cunningham contends that the USDA is the most suited governmental entity to negotiate effective quotas as "the important data necessary for input in determining allowable amounts of meat imports as specified in the 1964 Meat Importation Act is readily accessible to the officials within the USDA." If these negotiations are spearheaded by the USDA, agreements could be made to eliminate any attempts of circumvention of meat import quotas from the beginning of 1977. "The cattle industry of this nation can not withstand another situation such as we have experienced in the free trade zone at Mayaguez, Puerto Rico," Cunningham concluded.

The ICA represents a membership in the excess of 100,000. As members are directly affected by decisions concerning the cattle industry, the Association believes that it is time that agricultural decisions be made by the Department of government that is directly concerned with the importation of foreign meats.
