

Rodeo, Barbecue Feast Will Liven Big Weekend in Plains

The rodeo performances won't begin until Friday night, but a large group of Yoakum County citizens have been celebrating practically all week. They're the ones who have been getting ready for the big event, which will include a gala celebration in Stanford Park Saturday at noon honoring old settlers of the area.

The Yoakum County Roping Club is sponsor of the rodeo and barbecue feast.

First rodeo performance will begin Friday night, with the grand begin at 8:00 p.m. in the county rodeo arena in Plains.

Saturday from 11 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., Old Settlers will be honored with a barbecue feast and all the trimmings. The barbecue is free. Roping club officers expect that a crowd of 2,500 persons will be fed. It is stressed that there is no charge for the barbecue. Ty Field, Glenn Cleveland, Rusty McGinty, Murphy Luna, Sherm Henard and Gene Bennett each donated a calf towards the barbecue, as individuals. Miss Sue Stevens of Allred donated $25 toward the feed and the Roping Club treasury will bear the rest of the expense.

Rusty McGinty expects to be up at 4:00 a.m. Saturday and begin barbecuing the calves. He and a group from the Roping Club butchered Tuesday morning. Bobby Chambliss, Duane McConnell and Kenneth Burns assisted him in the job.

Those attending the barbecue will feast on red beans, potato salad, potato chips, ice tea, probably coffee, and all the trimmings needed to make it a real "Texas style" barbecue. Maybe even a few ants.

Roping Club President Gene Bennett has advised all persons who possibly can to attend the free barbecue. He also asked that voters go to the polls early, cast their votes, and attend the reunion and both rodeo performance.

Wednesday, a group of Plains residents and Roping Club members with a caravan of automobiles painted for the occasion, and a loud speaker, toured Tatum, Lovington, Bronco, McDonald, and Hobbs, N.M., and Seminole, Seagraves and Brownfield boosting the rodeo.

The group was led by Olan Heath of the Yoakum County Sheriff's Office. Driving the cars (all loaded with rodeo boosters) were Dick McGinty, Gene Bennett, Amos Smith, and Stork Wagley.

Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. and again that night at 8 o'clock there will be rodeo performances.

The rodeo is strictly an amateur affair. There is a good-sized group of local entries already signed up to contest, and Rodeo Bookkeepers Robert Henard and Leo White have announced there are some really big rodeo names who have either entered or indicated they would be here. The big-

The Cogburns while in Dallas saw some of the items they will carry being manufactured at the Oliver-Myers furniture factory.

Commissioners Will Hear Plains Pool

Health Unit Plans 4-Day Clinic Here

During these periods free immunization will be given for the following: whooping cough, polio, diphtheria, and smallpox.

Those who cannot secure immunization for their children from their private physician are urged to take advantage of this opportunity. Immunization for whooping cough, diphtheria, and smallpox will likely be required for admittance into the Plains School this fall.

Municipal Electric System Bond Purchase Agreement Is Signed

This One's A Whopper!

Unless there is a time we do not know of, and that's possible, this issue of The Review is the largest in the history of the paper. There are 12 pages, eight columns to the page making a total of 96 columns of news and advertising. Roger Curry says he published a 12-page paper one Christmas. His pages had six columns for a total of 72 columns or news and ads—so, we're still the biggest.

Something else we would like to brag about: This issue carries 18 pictures (this has got to be a record) of 40 persons, some of whom are in more than one picture.

Political ads have a lot to do with this bigger paper, but Plains merchants have a good share in providing The Review's subscribers with a better newspaper.

However, it's the pictures we like the most, and you will continue to get lots of them in each issue of The Review.

87% Of Users Pledge Change To City Power

An agreement whereby the First Of Texas Corp., of San Antonio and associates would purchase $159,000 in revenue bonds from the City of Plains' acquisition of a municipal power and light plant was signed Wednesday night. A bond order is expected to be executed in the early part of next week.

City Council members secured 287 names on pledge sheets which authorized the city to furnish the signers electric power as soon as the power plant is operating. This number represents over 87 per cent of the power users in Plains and was felt sufficient participation by the bonding company, to justify buying the bonds.

A call for bids is being prepared by City Engineer Cecil Hawk of Lubbock and will be published during August. Mr. Hawk is also preparing specifications and plans for the power plant and distribution system. The two items will be bid on separately.

Wally Payne, representing First of Texas, expressed faith in Plains when signing the purchase agreement. He advised the councilmen to begin immediately to prepare for further expansion to supply a growing city.

Prewitt Electric Co. of Brownfield has purchased from Stanolind Oil and Gas Co., a three-generator power plant and will bid that plant on the call for bids. The plant in Prewitt's possession is a gas operated system. Prewitt would provide for a one-year warranty on the plant if he were successful bidder. The company also plans to submit a bid on the distribution system.

Plains voters approved the bond issue for the electric plant, the new sewer system and the gas system Aug. 17, 1954.

Lea County Co-operative of Lovington, New Mexico is presently supplying power for the city. The co-op has 23 years remaining on their current franchise.

Work is expected to begin within 60 days on installing the new plant. Prewitt's plant is ready to move immediately if that company

Candidates Make Last Push In Effort to Gather Votes In Democratic Primary Saturday; 48 Absentees Asked

The final stage of the 1956 Democratic primary election campaign has been reached and what has, until now, been a reasonably quiet race is picking up steam. The primary will be held Saturday.

Candidates in all races that are contested have been spending more and more time among the voters in that last minute push to reach each vote. On the state and regional level most candidates are using every means within their power to talk to the voters.

In Yoakum County, interest is not as keen as it has been in the past. That could be explained in that with election years split because of the new four-year terms of office there are not enough candidates to spark the usual interest. It is expected, however by old-time observers that more excitement will prevail in the runoff campaign which will be decided Aug. 25.

County Clerk J. W. O. Alldredge has processed 48 applications for absentee voting privileges. Mr. Alldredge points out that there will be some of that 48 which will not vote absentee or else they will not properly vote and the ballot will have to be thrown out.

There is only one chance for a run-off in Yoakum County offices. That is in the race for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. There are five candidates in that race: Vance W. Brown (the incumbent), Johnny Grace, Jack Gray, David Whitaker and Oliver Vaughn Jr.

The county attorney, Vernon Townes, is seeking his first elective term to that office. He was appointed in June 1955 to replace Paul New. Opposition for Townes is Jerry Paquin, both of whom are residents of Denver City.

Pete Sampson and Gene Payne (incumbent) are fighting it out for the post of Commissioner Precinct

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ABOUT EARLY EDITOR

Dear Editor:
We noted in a recent issue of the Review that there was some discussion about the late Neil H. Bigger, not Bigger, as was printed in the Review. Reason was that there was a family that used the "s" living in Lubbock at that time, that Neil H. didn't admire, and he always strenuously insisted that his name was spelled without the concluding "s".
Anyway, the writer bought the Terry County Herald from Bigger, as of June 1, 1909. We had worked for Bigger since January that year at $45 per month. He still owed us some $85. There were two notes of $250 each Bigger had made for the paper, and never paid anything, not even interest.

The late Judge W. R. Spencer held the notes, and he agreed to let me take up the first note for $125, plus the $85 that Bigger owed us. We did by borrowing $125 from our brother who lived at Anson at that time. We finally paid off the other note on our own.
As for Bigger, he messed around here in the real estate business till sometime in 1910, at which time we had installed a large jobber press to print the Herald, so, we sold him the old G. Wash. hand press we had used up to that time, plus some old body type that had worn out, and he went to Plains and put in the Yoakum County News. In about 1912, Bigger thought he had discovered greener pastures, and pulled out, lock, stock, and barrel for Moun-tainair, N. M., and started a paper. He passed on in a few years and we understand that his son, Sam, took over the Breeze, as I remember the name. And that was about the last we ever heard of the Bigger family.

Concerning the article by Mrs. Moreland, I had always understood that the Sheriff of Yoakum County was to make sale of the Bennett land the day that the drillers declared in the afternoon that they had a producer. Bennett had stalled the sale till 4 P. M., and just before that time some Ft. Worth capitalists agree to let him have the money to pay off the mortgage, and saved his land.

After a number of wells were developed on the ranch, Bennett moved to Abilene to put his sons in college, and built the Auditorium at Abilene Christian College, which bears his name. So, we learn that Bennett was not just after money. But Mrs. Moreland being on the ground, perhaps her version is the right one. Anyway a bunch of us drove over there that afternoon to see the well, the first oil well in this area, but did not attend the big "blowout" when the well was finaled, as was stated in last week's Review, as was off on a trip to our native Tennessee.

Ford has sold more V-8's than any other manufacturer . . . by millions. And with good reason! Ford's far out front with the biggest engine in its field!

When one make of V-8 takes the lion's share of the honors in performance and economy, then you know you've got a real winner! And that's exactly what Ford's V-8's have done. After beating everything in its field in major stock car events, a Ford V-8 set a new stock car record for 500 miles at the famous Indianapolis Speedway. Earlier Ford proved its economy by finishing first in its class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run. Of course, Ford's special ability to handle smoothly, efficiently, and safely over the toughest terrain helped keep Ford on top! No wonder Ford's the world's best-selling eight. Step in and give one a try!

Now up to 225 h.p.

V-8 power? You name it. The big 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8 is available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models . . . the mighty 202-h.p. Thunderbird V-8 is standard. And the 202 is also available in Mainline and Customline models at low extra cost.

ONE VOTE

Never seems important
before an election

But on the day AFTER . . . on November 5, this year . . . someone, somewhere will be saying: "If we'd only had ONE MORE VOTE!"

It may happen in a "little" election . . . for township trustee, or a county officer, or a rural school board member . . . or for the Presidency of the United States.

It HAS happened many times in our short history.

- ONE VOTE cast by a voter who left his sick bed to go to the polls gave victory to an Indiana Congressman.
- ONE VOTE cast by this same Congressman, in 1876, made Rutherford B. Hayes President of the United States . . .
- ONE VOTE cast by a miller in DeKalb County, Indiana, in the 1840's, elected a certain man to the state legislature . . .
- ONE VOTE cast by this same legislator, sent Edward A. Hannegan, to the United States Senate . . .
- ONE VOTE cast by the same Edward Hannegan, admitted Texas to Statehood . . . for which U. S. and Mexico went to war . . .
- ONE VOTE admitted California, Idaho, Washington and Oregon to the Union . . .
- ONE VOTE in the U. S. Senate denied this statehood to Alaska . . .
- ONE VOTE more in each California precinct in 1916 would have defeated Woodrow Wilson, and given victory to Charles Evans Hughes . . .
- ONE VOTE more in each of Ohio's and California's precincts would have tied the electoral race between Dewey and Truman in 1948 . . .
- ONE VOTE in each of the 6 counties in this district could have elected a different District Attorney in 1948 . . .
- ONE VOTE in November could change world history . . .

To the People of Yoakum County:

This week will be the last of a very good campaign . . . but, a quiet one. After tomorrow the fields will be narrowed down and a very serious new campaign will begin for those fortunate enough to have been elected to be in the run off in November.

All candidates have been trying to put across all their best points and trying hard to meet as many people of their prospective precincts as possible. But voters of the county, it takes time to meet you all and it also takes time to make livings for our families . . . and speaking for myself, my family comes first. I hope the voters of our county don't have it in their hearts to hold it against a candidate if it wasn't possible for him to see each person individually, but will vote for the man of his or her choice, on the basis that whomever they favor, they feel that he is the right man for the job and not slight a man because he failed to shake their hand.

At this time I would like to say a line or two about myself. I have approximately 12 years in construction work covering road building, maintenance and other phases; such as building construction and pipe line: I have been in a supervisory capacity for about one half of this time. I have heard and read "experience counts." If this is so, then I feel I am very well qualified for the job of commissioner of precinct one. I assure the people of the county that if elected, I will work for the county and the people of the county to the very best of my ability and further assure you that I shall not favor any person or group of persons over any one.

In closing, I wish each and every candidate the best of luck and may the best man win.

The fastest gaining calf in the contest might be one that was not present last Saturday. Jay Bryson's calf was the leading gainer last Saturday. During the first sixty-three days of the feeding period, his calf gained 164 pounds. The amount of gain that an animal will put on during the feeding period will reflect several things. The quality of the feed has something to do with the rate of gain. The amount of feed allowed to the animal has something to do with the gain. The attention that the animal gets and the comfort of the animals has something to do with the rate of gain. All these things can be controlled by the feeder. He can give the calf a plentiful supply of good quality feed each day. He can provide plenty of fresh water at all times and he can put up a shade to keep the animal cool as possible. He can control flies and keep the pens clean. He can give the animal the right amount of exercise and he can keep the animal brushed clean. He can give the calf a bath at regular intervals which will add to the comfort of the animal and the calf might still be a slow gaining calf. The thing that was lacking was in the calf. Some calves have an inherited ability to gain that others do not have. So when a club member selects a calf to feed, they need to get one that has the ability to put on a fast gain. If the man who raised the calf has studied his cattle, he may be able to tell the prospective buyer which calves in his herd have been doing the best job of raising big calves. If the man who raised the calf has been trying to improve his herd, he will have already sold off all the cows that were raising the light weight calves. By culling out the low producers in a herd of beef cattle and replacing them with heifers from the high producing cows is the way to build up a herd of cattle. The rancher will have to change sires every few years so he will need to know something about the gaining ability of each new bull that is used in the herd. If a rancher so desires, he can participate in the beef improvement program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This program has been operating since 1953. During 1955 there were a number of ranchers who were participating in the program. Some 1,200 head of beef calves were weighed and graded in the Panhandle of Texas last fall. The calves from herds participating in the program for the first time in 1955 weighed seven percent less than the calves from cows of the same age in herds which started the program in 1953. A breeding program that improves the weight of the calves at the same time that it improves the quality of the herd is bound to be worth something to the cattleman. The details of this improvement program are available in the county agent's office.

Activity was varied over the weekend for the county sheriff's office. Saturday about midnight, Mrs. Frances May Shipley of Farmington, New Mexico, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated a half mile west of Denver City on Highway 83. She pled guilty as charged, spent the required three days in the county jail and paid a fine of $71.80. A. W. Baxter of Lovington, passenger in the Shipley car, was arrested for being drunk, and pled guilty in justice of peace court where he was fined $19.50. Making the arrests were Sheriff Robert Chambliss and Deputy V. E. Sanders. Thursday night, W. W. Samples, who has been employed in Denver City, was picked up on a warrant for forgery for Levelland authorities. Sheriff Chambliss turned Samples over to the Levelland

COBB AND PRENTICE FIELDS IN YOAKUM COUNTY MERGED BY ORDER

The Texas Railroad Commission this week issued orders for the merger of the Cobb and Prentice fields of Yoakum County.

The new combination, to be designated the Prentice Field, came at the request of Honolulu Oil Corporation, sole operator of the Cobb area. The company presented data showing that the Cobb field had been proven to produce from the same reservoir as the Prentice, although established separately and regulated under different rules.

In other matters effecting fields in this area, rules and an MER of 300 barrels per well per day were officers the following day. Other activity for the sheriff's office included investigation of a possible attempted suicide, a car accident, and a knifing.

Don Ham in WTSC Closing Vehicle

Don Ham of Plains played the lead part in the closing play by the speech department at West Texas State College in Canyon last week. The play was presented at the Branding Iron Theater.

The play centered around a skull which appeared in "The Great Big Doorstep," a hilarious family comedy which concerns a group of Cajuns who dream of a bigger house on the banks of the Mississippi. The human relic was the first piece of equipment in son Arthur's pre-medical education.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ham of Plains. He graduated from Plains High School where he was very active in many organizations the school sponsored.

Yoakum County voters voted at a wheat marketing referendum last Friday that marketing quotas and penalties shall be in effect, and that price support on the crops will be available at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity to those who comply with the farm wheat allotments. The vote was 11 for and 0 against.

Fellow Citizens of Yoakum County, Precinct 1:

Time is fast becoming a reality in the County Commissioner's race and I want to thank you sincerely for the many courtesies shown. The visits in each home were enjoyable and even though I failed to contact some of you personally I hope that you will consider this as a personal solicitation for your vote, and use it as the privilege you have by voting for Vance W. Brown in this primary election.

Let me take this means to say to you that my success depends entirely upon you, the people. I believe that we've had a successful term in office and for that reason I want to work in that capacity for a second term, using the experience gained to save the precinct money and time.

In conclusion, I would urge you to go to the polls and vote for the man of your choice. I hope to warrant your support, but if not, I still want the friendship of each of you. Thank you.

Co-author of Small Claims Court Law which has been very helpful to business men on the collection of small accounts; co-author of new probate code; co-author of Parks Improvement law; co-author of new partnership law; co-author of law giving equal treatment to Korean War Veterans; voted for increased funds for Highways and farm-to-market roads.

CLEAN GOVERNMENT: Mr. Gillham was the co-author of the House resolution which created the House Investigating Committee which has made a thorough investigation of the Veterans Land Scandals and the Insurance Scandals. He also sponsored a bill which completely reorganized the Veterans' Land Board. He also voted to submit to the people a constitutional amendment this fall which will give the Veterans' Land Board an additional sum to lend to veterans. He believes that the many thousands of veterans who have not yet had the opportunity to participate in the program should have that opportunity, for he believes the program is sound if properly administered. He was the co-author also of HB240 which passed in the House but was killed by the Senate. This bill would have saved U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co. investors more than one million dollars.

WATER AND CONSERVATION: Mr. Gillham has been a member of the Conservation and Reclamation Committee of the House which handles all water legislation. He has actively supported water conservation legislation, but has been constantly alert to the protection of the rights of his people on the high plains. He killed in the House the constitutional amendment resolution which would have imposed an ad valorem tax of 3c per $100.00 valuation, on all the real estate and personal property of every Texas citizen. Mr. Gillham argued that it was unfair to place a tax upon those who would never benefit from dams on our rivers, from which we could never get a drop of water. After a hard fight, the House turned down the proposition by a three-to-one vote.

TAXES: Believing in a balanced budget, Mr. Gillham insisted on appropriations being met by sufficient taxes. He also believes in fair and equal taxes, therefore voted to raise beer taxes from 37 1/2c per barrel to $3.35 per barrel; voted against a 2c gasoline tax; voted for two increases in corporation franchise taxes even though these directly affected him. Voted twice against a general sales tax and a state income tax.
