Let Us Bow Our Heads in THANKS...

Today, in the spirit of the first Thanksgiving, let us give thanks to the Creator for all the blessings we have received . . . both as individuals and as Americans . . . a free people, living without fear in a free country. Like the Pilgrim Fathers, let us humbly acknowledge our debt to Divine Providence for all that we are and may hope to become. Like them, let us bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to the Giver of "every good and perfect gift."

Councilmen Hear Application For Plant Operator

City Council meeting in regular session last Wednesday night received an application for the power plant operator's job and decided that certain establishments were in violation of the city's sewer ordinance and would have to get on the sewer line.

R. L. Ould, Tnna, Texas employed by Prewitt, Jones and Ballard, petitioned the council for a job as operator of the city's new electrical power plant. Prewitt, Jones and Ballard are installing the equipment now on the city's plant site.

The council, authorized City secretary J. H. Aschenbeck to notify county officials that present sewage facilities for the old courthouse were inadequate and that the building would have to be put on the sewer line. The same order was issued concerning Yuca Courts, Yuca Cafe and the Plains Hotel.

Councilmen ordered that an outhouse erected one block off the highway in the southwest section of town be moved. The building was constructed for several Latin-Americans employed by Garland Swann and renting housing from Bryant Sisco.

Councilmen voted to draw a contract with Allen Wagley to lay a gas line from the main line at the east end of town to the new electric plant.

★ Heath Catches 'em Before They're Wanted

Deputy Sheriff Olan Heath last weekend gave New Mexico law enforcement officers a helping hand, even before they asked for it.

A Louisiana Negro stepped into a car in Tatum and drove off. He headed for Lovington but altered his route and came toward Plains. While New Mexico officials were searching for him the culprit was running people off the highway and making a general nuisance of himself.

Heath persuaded him to spend the night in the Plains jail and went back out on the highway for the car. While he was there New Mexico officials were broadcasting for assistance in catching a car thief. Heath informed them over his car radio that he had the man and the car in custody and that they could pick him up.

The negro signed a waiver of extradition and was taken back to Lea County.

The owner of the car, a Tatum resident, got off with only a damaged tire.

No Action On Request Taken By City Council

Lea County Electric Co-op, Inc., petitioned the city council Wednesday night for approval on reduced electric rates for residences inside the city limits of Plains.

The council took no action on the request made by R. B. Moore of Lovington, manager of the cooperative.

The proposed new rates would be in effect except during the months beginning with October meter reading and through the March reading each year.

New rates, as proposed by Moore, are:

First 25 kilowatt hours 6 cents per kwh.
Next 40 KWH 5 cents per kwh.
Next 100 kw/h 3 cents per kwh.
In excess of 100 kwh 2 cents per kwh, and in excess of 500 kwh billed at 1 cent per kwh. Monthly minimum charge would be $1.50.

Present electric rates are:
First 20 kwh 10 cents, next 20 kwh 5 cents, next 20 kwh 4 cents, next 120 kwh 3 cents, next 100 kwh 2.5 cents and excess of 100 kwh 2 cents per kwh, with a monthly minimum of $2.

Council deferred action on the rate change until a later meeting date. Also, it was pointed out that the new rate would not go into effect until after March.

In other transactions with the electric cooperative, councilmen requested. Moore have some poles moved from the alleys that are presently across the alley from the cooperative's poles being used as guy poles. More agreed that the city could use the poles on a $1.50 per year per pole rental or have them removed if the city paid for the moving. Engineers for the city and electric cooperative were authorized to work towards an agreement.

The festive seasons call for traditional festive foods. Thanksgiving and Christmas always bring to mind cranberries, pumpkins, and turkey. The foods may not vary, but the method of preparation can and does. Take cranberries, for instance—

Cranberry Glazed Ham
1 smoked ham (8-10 lbs.)
2 dozen long stemmed cloves
1 lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
½ cup brown sugar

One-half hour before end of baking time, remove ham from oven. Pour fat from pan. Score ham, stud with cloves and return to baking pan.

Crush cranberry sauce with fork. Combine with brown sugar. Spread half of this mixture over ham. Continue baking, basting occasionally.

Cranberry Apricot Glaze
1 lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
¾ C. apricot jam

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork or beater. Combine with apricot jam. Spoon over baked ham last half hour of baking (until glaze bubbles).

Cranberry Nut Bread
2½ cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 cup milk
1 egg
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup fresh chopped cranberries

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together in mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until texture of coarse meal. Form a well in dry ingredients. Add milk and egg. Mix until flour mixture is dampened. Stir in chopped nuts and cranberries. Pour into well-greased loaf pan.

Spread batter into corners of pan, leaving the center slightly hollowed. Allow to stand 20 minutes before baking. Bake in moderate oven 350 F 60 to 70 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool. Store overnight for easy slicing.

Frozen Cranberry Creme
1 (3 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 cup heavy cream

Fire Care Around Farm May Save You Much Money

College Station—Officially, winter is still a few weeks away but colder weather has arrived. When temperatures drop and all forms of heating equipment are brought into use on farms, the chances for farm fires increase. Every year in the nation more than 100 million dollars worth of farm property is lost to fire and members of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council say most of this vast loss can be prevented.

W. L. Ulrich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Council says studies made at many of these destructive fires shows that defective chimneys, carelessness with combustible materials or misuse of petroleum products rank high as causes of farm fires.

He says the Council recommends that a check be made now of all heating equipment used on the farm whether in the home or in connection with water systems or in other farm buildings. Cracks or other chimney defects should be repaired and rusted and burned out stove pipes should be replaced. Petroleum products should never be used to start or hasten a fire. Make sure, emphasizes the engineer, that combustible materials are protected and stored away from heat sources.

He suggests using a metal or asbestos floor covering under wood or coal-burning stoves and a spark arrester on the chimney to eliminate the risk of a roof fire. Care should be taken to see that stock water tank heaters, brooders and other types of farm heating equipment are installed safely and kept in good operating condition. Make sure, he adds that dampers in stoves or furnace pipes are never closed so tightly as to force carbon monoxide or other gases out into a room.

Too, he cautions against running combustible motors in closed shops or garages. If farm machinery is being repaired in a closed shop, make sure the ventilation and heating systems are safe and in good operating condition. Keep combustible materials away from heat whether it comes from a stove or a torch being used in connection with the repair job. Care can prevent waste.

THANKSGIVING

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day.
Humbly, in our simple way.
For all the gracious gifts which Thou
Hast deigned so richly to endow—
For life — for every passing minute—
For this, Thy world, and all things in it!

We give Thee thanks, dear Lord, for these—
The green beneficence of trees.
The kindness of rain, the birth
Of springtime from a barren earth—
The earth that bears the bread we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

We thank Thee, Lord, for healing song.
For courage, wise and tall and strong:
For all the laughter and the tears
That mould the pattern of our years:
For truth and trust and constancy.
For faith that lets us lean on Thee!

We give Thee thanks for ears to hear.
For feet to tread Thy pathways here,
For hands to touch, and lips to sing
Thy name in every lovely thing—
For friendship with our fellow men—
But mostly for Thy love.

AMEN

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your CAPITOL

Issue is whether rural electric cooperatives can continue service in areas after they are annexed by cities. In August the Supreme Court refused to review lower court decisions in favor of the co-ops.

Suit was brought by the attorney general, numerous private utility companies and the League of Texas Municipalities. On the other side is the Upshur Rural Electric Cooperatives, backed by 54 other co-ops and the City of Gilmer.

Private utilities contend the law restricts co-ops to towns of 1500 or less. Co-ops say they can't be thrown out once they've legally entered an area.

No date for arguments was set by the high court.

STATE WINS PRIZE MONEY—Business offering prizes to customers must pay a 20 per cent state tax, according to court ruling.

Third Court of Civil Appeals also judged in a suit against Mrs. Tucker Foods, Inc. It offered coupons worth 15, 25 and 50 cents with cans of shortening. Attorneys for the firm argued the prize tax applied only to theaters and places of amusement.

District and appeals courts interpreted the statute as apply to "any business enterprise".

HOSPITAL DIRECTOR RESIGNS—Dr. James Bethea, executive director of the State Hospital System since 1953, has resigned effective June 1.

Dr. Bethea will be 70, statutory age for retirement, next October. He said he submitted his resignation early to give the state hospital board plenty of time to pick a successor.

Board members will take up the matter at their next meeting Dec. 10.

DROUGHT UPS WELFARE PAYMENTS—Impact of the drought is reflected in climbing old age payments, says the Department of Public Welfare.

In its annual report the department said it added 533 to the old age rolls during fiscal 1956, compared to only 90 the year before. Drought, it said, reduced income, not only of oldsters, but of children and relatives who helped support them.

Total old age assistance payments for 1956 were $111,410,645, parceled out in monthly payments from $5 to $55. Average was 41.71. Cost is paid 33 per cent from state funds, 67 per cent from federal funds.

"YOUNG TEXAN" JURY—Picking of the five outstanding young Texans of 1956 is under way. Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced the committee which will name the honorees.

They are Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank, Dallas; T. Harrington, chancellor of Texas A&M College; Vern Sanford of Austin, manager of the Texas Press Association; Walter G. Wright president of the General Telephone Co.; Malcolm Meeke, Abilene bank president; Dr. Stanley W. Olson, president of Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston; and Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas.

TEXAS, THE MIGHTY—Texans, despite their reputation for boosting the home state, find they can hardly outdo the latest account by outsiders.

U. S. News and World Report devoted 17 glowing pages to "the new powerhouse of the United States". Post-war industrial boom, says the magazine, has made the state a "modernized Goliath". It's "an empire that keeps getting mightier," says the report, because it's "so big and so naturally rich."

Statistics cited: factory output, up 690 per cent since 1939; business activity, up 488 per cent; oil and gas production, up 468 per cent; construction, up 303 per cent.

Conclude the editors: "The United States is finding more and more that it cannot get along without Texas."

NEW GOOD ROADS EXEC.—Callan Graham of Houston has been named to succeed Jim Lindsey as executive vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association. Graham is a former Kimble County attorney and legislator. Lindsey is speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and cratic Executive Committee.

SHORT SNORTS: Texas hatcheries produced 9,261,000 chicks in October, a 16 per cent increase over last year. . . . Egg production also rose to 186,000,000, or 12 per cent more than the previous month. . . . Texans paid out more than $165,000,000 for hunting and fishing privileges during the 1956 fiscal year. . . . William J. Burke, purchasing agent for the City of Corpus Christi, will become executive director of the State Board of Control on Dec. 15. He succeeds Walter Bell of Fort Worth, who retired in October. . . . Texans fattened Uncle Sam's treasury with $2,406,585,000 in income taxes during the last fiscal year. Total U. S. income tax collections for the period totaled $75,100,000,000.

Savings Bonds Sales in County Amount to $48,007

During October of this year, Texans increased their purchases of Series E Savings Bonds, Mr. D. P. Moorhead Chairman of Yoakum County Savings Bond Committee reported today. Sales of the popular E bond increased 3.4 per cent over the same month in 1955.

Total sales of Savings Bonds for the first ten months of this year in our county amounted to $48,007 while sales in Texas were $160,301,508 for the same period, Chairman Moorhead continued.

"During this season of giving, I would suggest a gift which keeps on giving. United States Savings Bonds. You can make gifts of Series E Savings Bonds with absolute assurance that they will continue to appreciate in value for a period of up to 19 years and 8 months, when they will be worth 80 per cent more than you paid for them. Meanwhile, they have a cash-in value of cost, plus accrued interest, at any time after the first sixty days," Mr. Moorhead advised.

Mrs. V. L. Wheeler and Mrs. Betty Sue LaValley and baby of Albuquerque visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Morris last week.

... Texas now is second only to Mississippi in number of certified tree farms, with 912 farms covering 3,434,853 acres. . . . October draft registrations totaled 6,018. . . . Texas Employment Commission reports placement of 51,172 persons in non-farm jobs during October. Agricultural placements totaled 38,820. . . . Prolonged drought and increased discharge of industrial waste have greatly increased its responsibilities in checking local water supplies, reports the State Department of Health. Accelerated growth of Texas cities created another problem. Officials estimated some 25 to 30 per cent of the 800 domestic sewage units inspected were overloaded. . . . If junior loses a school book, he must pay the full price, regardless of the book's age, according to a new ruling by the State Board of Education. Formerly book cost were depreciated 15 per cent a year. But it was too confusing and unprofitable besides, the board decided.

Statistics cited: factory output, up 690 per cent since 1939; business activity, up 488 per cent; oil and gas production, up 468 per cent; construction, up 303 per cent.

Conclude the editors: "The United States is finding more and more that it cannot get along without Texas."

Christmas Seals Mailed This Week

Ninety-three thousand pounds of TB-killing material went through Uncle Sams mail this week in Texas.

Its magic will be spread in post office boxes throughout the State. By itself the material will not kill tuberculosis, but it provides a means of controlling the disease which yearly causes more deaths than all other infectious and parasitic diseases combined. That disease is tuberculosis.

Those 93,000 pounds are Christmas Seals.

In the 50 years since the first bright bit of gummed paper appeared on the American scene, much has happened to tuberculosis control. Because of money brought in by those bits of paper, 3,000 TB associations dot the country, working slowly but tellingly against what was, a half-century ago, the nation's no. 1 killer.

Today, because of contributions of the voluntary TB movement, research and medical knowledge have been able to cut the death rate from the disease 68 per cent in Texas in the last ten years.

Perhaps from the comfort Texans have derived from that scaled-down death rate, complacency has right. Pat Henard and I have been having a friendly argument for the past 18 months about the value of the beef cattle improvement program which is commonly called the weight for age program. Last week for age program. The thing that happened was that we finally understood each other and both of us had the same idea all the time but each of us thought the other had something else in mind.

The argument started when the question came up about the size of the cattle that a rancher should use if he is trying to get heavy calves at weaning time. Many people have the idea that the larger cattle will raise heavier calves than the small type cattle. They base their opinion on the herds that they have seen and it is not hard to find a herd of small type cattle that we commonly refer to as TO cattle that are very slow growing. Some of the large type cattle are slow growers, also, yet there are animals in each type that have the ability to produce heavy, fast growing offspring.

Pat and I agreed that we needed a kind of beef animal that would produce a 600 pound calf by the time it was six months old and that the same calf should continue to gain 100 pounds a month for the next four months. We wanted this 10 months old calf to weigh 1,000 pounds and be the kind of a calf that would place high in a show and have a dressing percent of about 70. We may never find it, but that is what we need.

The beef calf feeding program that we have here in this county is helping to prove that some cattle will gain faster than others. We have a weigh day on the third Saturday of each month so the boys and girls can weigh their calves and keep up with the progress of their animals. There is a gain contest sponsored by G. W. Cleveland and he gives an engraved loving cup to the boy or girl who has the highest gaining calf. All of the calves in the contest were weighed on May 19 and the final weight will be taken on February 22 when they come to the county show.

The last weigh day was held on November 3, which was 168 days after the initial weighing. There were 19 of the calves weighed in November, and six of them had gained more than 400 pounds during the 168 day period. Four of these best gaining calves were fed by Ty Earl and Dallas Powell. These boys are good feeders and some of the gain on their animals can be credited to good feeding practices. Three of their calves came from Murphy Luna's ranch, and they are leading the pack as far as gain is concerned.

The fastest gaining calf at the November weigh day was a calf called Pee Wee fed by Ty Earl Powell. Pee Wee gained 486 pounds in 167 days for an average of 2.89 pounds per day. The calf standing in second place was another Luna calf fed by Dallas Powell. It had gained 454 pounds during the first 168 days of the contest. Ty Earl's other calf, another Luna calf, had gained 445 pounds since the 19th day of May and it ranked third at the November weigh day.

The next weigh day will be held on Saturday, December 8, and it will be an all day affair. It is likely that there will be a number of calves weighed that day that have not been weighed since the beginning of the contest.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

We all hesitate to think about it but nevertheless the windy sand storm season will be here soon. Some fields in the Yoakum Soil Conservation District are well protected by cover crops, some are protected by good heavy stubble, some have some crop residues but not enough to fully protect the soil, and some are almost bare. We need to take a critical look at our cropland and plan on methods of protecting it from the wind.

Fields which have a winter growing cover crop will probably be well protected if they receive sufficient moisture to grow. If moisture is short, a good irrigation will not only give you more protection but will allow your cover crop to grow and produce more organic matter.

Fields with a good stubble can make the winter in good shape if the stubble is allowed to help you. The stubble cannot be of much value if it is turned under, grazed off or otherwise destroyed. If you need to plow to open up the soil this tillage can be done with sweeps that plow beneath the stubble and leave it on the surface to protect the land.

Where the stubble is thin some type of tillage may be necessary in order to roughen the soil surface to help slow down the wind. Some soils can be chiseled to roughen the surface and still leave the stubble on the surface. In some cases the land must be listed but in listing the stubble can be left on the surface to help control erosion.

Fields that are bare can be a very difficult problem. These fields may require several tillage operations to keep them from blowing. Each of these operations opens up the soil so that moisture is lost and if winter moisture does not come to replace this moisture they may become too dry to work and nothing can be done to prevent blowing until more moisture is available.

The Yoakum County Soil Conservation District has a set of large flat sweeps which can be used on the carrier or put on your own tool-bar. These sweeps can be used to plow under your stubble and leave the stubble on the surface. Anyone who would be interested in using these sweeps is welcome to use them. If you would like to use them, see your District Supervisor or someone from the Soil Conservation office in Plains.

This is a picture of sorghum stubble on Leon Clanaan's farm 10 miles East of Plains. This sorghum was seeded in 20 inch rows and this narrow spaced stubble gives excellent protection against wind erosion.

YOAKUM COUNTY ABOVE AVERAGE IN BOND SALES

Yoakum County was listed as one of the 62 counties in the West Texas area to be above the state average in the percent of Series E and H savings bonds sold, in an article in the November issue of West Texas Today.

According to the article in the monthly publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the state average has reached 67 percent of the total quota in bond sales. Andrews county was the only county in the state to exceed its quota by 200 percent or more.

Postmaster Gives Basic Pointers for Christmas Mailing

Postal patrons this coming Christmas season can speed the processing and assure quicker delivery of their Christmas parcels and cards by availing themselves of various postal services and free postal information pamphlets, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

The services mentioned by the Postmaster General include:

1. This year, for the first time, sealed parcels may be mailed at the third- or fourth-class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should also be used.
2. Combination Mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself.
3. Certified Mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season, which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters, cards or parcels having no intrinsic value for a postal fee of 15 cents plus first-class postage.

The free postal pamphlets — available at all post offices — are entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees".

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Brooks and family arrived Wednesday and spent Thanksgiving with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Stamps. Mr. and Mrs. Stamps returned them to their home in Big Spring Sunday.

Federal Income Tax Forms To Be Available Dec. 3

Federal income tax forms for the preparation of 1956 returns will be available about December 3 in reasonable quantities to accountants, attorneys and other professional personnel. Mr. Howard O. Nichols, District Director (Administrative Officer) of the Lubbock office of the Internal Revenue Service, said today. The Internal Revenue Service has provided order blanks to the 3500 North Texas tax practitioners who have, in most cases, already submitted orders. These orders are being packaged and shipped starting December 3.

Individual taxpayers on record will receive their forms and instruction booklets through the mails on the same schedule as last year, during late December said.

There are very few changes in the form other than minor revisions for clarity and simplification. The instruction booklet which accompanies it has been changed, however, to provide a line-by-line series of explanations, keyed to the arrangement of the form and its sequence of entries.

New type-faces have been used in both form and booklet, Mr. Nichols said, and should, with the simplified treatment and explanations, make preparation of a return much easier than in past years.

The Internal Revenue Service will sponsor the printing of 185 million copies of Form 1040. Taxpayers were advised to begin study of the tax instructions as soon as possible since a good understanding of the tax instructions will mean money in the taxpayer's pocket when he files his tax return.

Opposing Increase Rates

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is opposing a proposed increase of 15 per cent in livestock freight rates which the railroads are seeking in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, September 27. It is the position of TSCRA that livestock is now bearing more than its fair share of the transportation burden and is in worse condition than the railroads. Testimony and exhibits will be prepared in an effort to save the livestock industry this additional burden.

was passed by agreement and will come up at a later term of court. The suit of Ben Dansby, Jr. vs. Humble Oil & Refining Co., for termination of oil, gas and mineral lease was dismissed, and it was reported a settlement was reached but no amount given nor confirmation of the report received.

In the case of Buford Dulin vs. O. W. Henderson dba Western Builders, was passed for service of citation and will come up at a later date. The only other suit on the docket was R. L. King et al vs. L. H. Walker, with a settlement of $1750 being agreed upon.

Two non-jury cases had been previously set to be heard by Judge Reed Friday. However, the divorce action of Don G. McGinty Henderson vs. H. L. Henderson was postponed and tentatively set for next Thursday, Dec. 6. The damage case of Cecil Richardson et al dba S&G Trucking Co., vs. Continental Drilling Co. was transferred to Midland County on a plea of privilege.
