Smith celebrates 30 years with Big Spring Police Dept.

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

A lot has changed at the Big Spring Police Department in the last 30 years, but the one constant has been Lonnie Smith.

Smith, who has moved up the ranks from patrol officer to chief at BSPD during his career, was the guest of honor at a reception Thursday to mark his 30th year in law enforcement.

"When I end my career, I'll end it with the BSPD."

The Big Spring native said so much has changed in law enforcement — particularly in the areas of technology — in the last three decades, but some things have stayed the

"There's lots of things I'm proud of as chief administrator of this department," Smith said. "You're only as good as the people around you, and we've had some outstanding people here over the years."

Smith followed in the footsteps of his older brother, Wayne Tollett, in becoming a police officer and was hired by BSPD on Oct. 23,

Battle in Big Spring brings MMA to 'The Dorothy'

By THOMAS JENKINS

Area residents not familiar with MMA (mixed martial arts) competitions will get the chance for a crash course Saturday evening, as Lonestar Combative Sports Promotion prepares to unleash Battle in Big Spring at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Headed up by co-promoters Kevini Maumau and Phelp Tino,

Battle in Big Spring is with a laugh. "We're going to present a number of matches, including some special matches that will highlight the importance of mixed martial arts, the ground game and other aspects of the sport. It's going to be a great way to introduce the people of Big Spring to the sport."

Maumau said the card has seen point because we have fighters several changes over the last few calling from all over the region days, including one unfortunate still wanting in," said Maumau blow to the show's headline fight-

"Leland Chapman was supposed to fight, but he and his bodyguard got mixed up in a fight in San Francisco," said Maumau. "Because of that, they have to stay in San Francisco and get that cleared up, and won't be able to make the fight.

There's still time to make reservations for the Wings Silver Hangar 25 Air Museum's major fundraiser.

Organizers ask that those planning to attend to RSVP no later than 5 p.m. Monday. The ball is planned Saturday, Nov.

3 at the Big Spring Country Club, with a 7 p.m. start. "It's a wonderful opportunity to get dressed up and have a good time," said Meghan Bias, museum administrator.

Hangar 25 Air Museum is perhaps best known for chronicling the history of aviation in Howard with obvious County emphasis on the Big Spring Bombardier School and Webb Air Force Base. Each year, many Air Force veterans and civilian workers who had ties to the area — Webb AFB in particular — stop by to rekindle memories.

Steers Spotlight: DT Xavian Young

By JONATHAN HULL

Big Spring's Steers were holding onto a 13-10 lead Oct. 12 over the Plainview Bulldogs with just to play. However, Plainview had just moved the ball inside Steers' 1-yard line. The next play was quarterback sneak. Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, they decided to try and sneak the ball over the left side where 6-2, 315 pound defensive tackle Xavian Young was lined Young stayed low and clogged the hole, allowing middle linebacker Cade Hollandsworth to come over the top to stop the quarterback from crossing the goal line. On the next play, Young disrupted the snap, causing a fumble that Big Spring recovered. "That a huge moment of that game. It's not often in football that the offense has the ball on the one-inch line and they don't put it in the end zone," Big Spring Head Coach Mike Ritchey said. "Xavian was right there in that play. His involvement there helped us turn the game." "I was just trying to stay low," Young explained. "They had some big guys on their line. I just wanted to get under them and disrupt the play."

Red Sox cooling hot Rockies, take 2-0 series lead By MIKE FITZPATRICK

AP Baseball Writer

BOSTON — There's more than one way to rough up the Rockies. Boston's big bats battered them in the World Series opener. Then October ace Curt Schilling and a stingy bullpen shut down Colorado in Game 2. Relying more on guile than pure gas, Schilling pitched Boston to a 2-1 victory Thursday night and a 2-0 lead in the World Series over the suddenly stagnant Rockies. Mike Lowell hit a tiebreaking double in the fifth and the Red Sox got 3 2-3 innings of shutout relief from Hideki Okajima and Jonathan Papelbon to win their sixth straight Series game, including a sweep of St. Louis in That victory ended an 86-year title drought and set off a wild winter of celebrations all over New England. Two more wins this year and the party's on

"This was the Pap-ajima show tonight," Schilling said. "That was just phenomenal to watch."

The Series shifts to spacious Coors Field for Game 3 on Saturday night, when $103 million rookie Daisuke Matsuzaka pitches for Boston against Josh

With no designated hitter allowed, the Red Sox must decide whether to play hobbling slugger David Ortiz at first base or leave his mighty bat on the bench.

If they keep getting this kind of time in a Red Sox uniform.

Colorado Rockies catcher Yorvit Torrealba, left, waits for the throw as Boston Red Sox's Kevin Youkilis comes in to score on an RBI double by Boston Red Sox's David Ortiz during the second inning in Game 1 of the baseball World Series Wednesday at Fenway Park in Boston. The Red Sox won 2-1.

pitching, it might not matter.

One night after Josh Beckett blazed through the Rockies with 97 mph fastballs in a 13-1 rout, Schilling shut them down with savvy and splitters.

Nearly automatic in October, he improved to 11-2 with a 2.23 ERA in 19 postseason starts and tipped his cap to the pulsing crowd as he walked off the mound — perhaps for the final

His fastball hovering around 87 mph, Schilling held punchless Colorado in check for 5 1-3 innings and became the second 40-year-old starter to win a World Series game.

Coming off eight days of rest, the wide-eyed Rockies looked awfully rusty while getting blitzed in the opener. They hardly resembled the team that had won 10 straight and 21 of 22 to earn the first pennant in its 15year history.

Colorado came to play in Game 2. But Boston's pitchers were too much for an offense that really hasn't hit all month. The Rockies' incredible charge to the World Series masked this fact: they came into Thursday batting only .235 in the postseason.

"Tonight we played better, we pitched better. We just didn't get the big hit," Colorado's Garrett Atkins said.

Young is one of 12 seniors on the Steers' roster. However, he didn't play football his junior year, but decided to return after Ritchev took over the program this sea-

"I have a lot of respect for Coach Ritchey. I liked him a lot as a principal and that made me want to come back to the football team," Young said. "He asked me to come back and contribute after he got the job. He had me start coming in during the summer to try and get ready for the season."

Young didn't contribute much at the start of the season, but he's seen his time on the field increase with every week.

"He had a limited role at the start of the season because he had been out of football for a year," Ritchey said. "His role has increased as the season has progressed and he's gotten in better football shape. He brings a lot of size and strength to the defensive line secures the A gap. He doesn't get moved back a whole lot and creates some opportunities for Cade to make a lot of tackles."

Most of Young's snaps come on the defensive side of the ball and he wouldn't have it any other way.

"Defense is me," he said. "I love how physical I can be on that side of the ball. I like to hit. It's what I do."

Other than his performance on the field, Young also brings a fun attitude to the sidelines and locker room.

Ritchey notes how Young's personality keeps the team from getting too

"Xavian keeps everybody loose because of his fun spirit," Ritchey said, "but that doesn't mean he doesn't focus on winning. He's a very serious competitor, too."

"That's just who I am. I'm always trying to joke around and make someone laugh," added Young. "Some of the other guys on the team are a more serious type of leader. I try to keep everyone relaxed. We were kind of tight before the Plainview game so I started playing around and loosened everyone up. I feel like that's my role as a senior leader on this team."

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS Taking comfort in things is a worthy goal for the security-loving Taurus moon, but even for her, the safety of objects is temporary. As Mercury asks for existential answers from Pluto, new truths

HOLIDAY MATHIS

Among them: Rock-solid security is always within our internal reach and is generated by feelings of serenity and self-esteem.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You're asking for assistance or protection now, and you will receive it. Do be willing to accept whatever form it comes in. Help doesn't always look like you expect it to.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You don't want to dominate anyone, but you do want to rule your world. Using your intuition and trying to be sensitive to the feelings of others, you command respect and compliance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're expressing your inner drive on a rather popular plane. With a marvelous sense of humor, you influence

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR OIL AND GAS WASTE DISPOSAL WELL PERMIT

Sundown Energy LP; 13455 Noel Ste. 2000; Dallas, 75240-6604 is applying to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a permit to dispose of produced salt water or other oil and gas waste by well injection into a porous formation not productive of oil or gas. The applicant proposes to dispose of oil and gas waste into the San Andres Formation, Myers Lease, Well Number 3. The proposed disposal well is located 14 Miles NE of Big Spring, in the Knott (Pennsylvanian) Field, in Howard County. The waste water will be injected into strata in the subsurface depth interval from 3300 to 6050 feet. LEGAL AUTHORITY: Chapter 27 whomever you wish to.

But all of this is wasted if you don't know what you want. CANCER (June 22-July 22). You're feeling clear. Mental clarity has values beyond what most people can see. With a focused mind comes a focused heart — a heart that knows what and whom it loves and does so ardently. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22).

The steps you take to become better informed, sharpen your talent and clarify your dream won't necessarily be rewarded. That's how life toughens you up and prepares you for the wondrous things to come.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You have the ability, like a chameleon, to turn the colors of your environment. It's an astounding gift, and the best part of all is that you can determine when it's best to turn the transformation on or off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). No one is you. And that's the problem. Because if there were more yous, you could do all the work on your list that only you can do. Since no one is you, though, you'll have to improvise with "them."

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The information overload you experience now is actually positive. It forces you to return to what is simple and true. These values guide you to focus on your highest priorities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You'll find comfort with someone you usually avoid or ask the advice of someone you normally wouldn't trust. It's a testament to your open-mindedness, and you get what you seek.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Your success depends on your ability to discern who is trouble from who is your ally. The ones who are trouble are not necessarily out to get you, but they could waste your time which is sometimes worse.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Small lessons affect the basic nature of your character. You're still you, just wiser and more determined. Tonight: It's the ideal time to meet those people you've heard so much about.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). The absurdities of life are not lost on you. In fact, you are uniquely able to weave them into your beautiful plan, and then sit back and be amused at the interesting way it all plays out.

WEEKEND LOVE

FORECAST: ARIES: When you consider someone's advice as well intended, you're free to see his or her valid points and drop the rest of the story. TAURUS: In the eyes of another, your resourcefulness and ability are unmatched. Look at yourself through this one's eyes.

GEMINI: A harmless flirtation leads to more than you bargained for. Leave temptation alone.

CANCER: A good reality break is essential to your peace of mind. Curl up with a good book, and let a world of romance unfold inside.

LEO: You're generously lenient on friends, especially the clueless ones.

VIRGO: Bottom line: A critical heart is tough on love. Your biggest critic is you. LIBRA: You'll change change it back again. No worries. Your partner won't hold you to it. SCORPIO: Intimacy is as much about good timing as sharing heart and soul. Time your your mind and then sweet approach. SAGITTARIUS: Understanding is the only barrier between you and the one you love.

CAPRICORN: Feelings may not be convenient, but not sharing them leaves your partner clueless. AQUARIUS: Your contrary nature confounds even you. Ask your heart what it wants to say. PISCES: You don't need to leave the house to create a cozy love retreat. COUPLE OF THE WEEKEND:

of everything at the department, from patrol officer to detective to court officer to supervisor of both patrol and detecdivisions. advancement also has been steady — he was named a patrol sergeant after four years and a lieutenant a year later.

Eventually, Smith was promoted to captain, a rank he held until he was named to replace the late Jerry Edwards as chief in 1997.

As head of the department, he has overseen upgrades in technology for example, each officer carries a laptop computer with him while on patrol — but his biggest challenge has been maintaining personnel levels.

"The biggest change in them, both professionally

30 years is that fewer people are getting into law enforcement," Smith said. "This is not just a problem for Big Spring, but nation-wide, also."

Recruitment problems mean that officer retention becomes a priority.

"All you can do is try to ensure that the work environment for officers is as good as you can make it," Smith said. "You have to care for take care of them, they will provide a very beneficial service to the community.'

Still, Smith admits a career in law enforcement can be challenging.

"Some of the things you'll see will break your heart," he said. "People tend to forget that police officers are human and have emotions — we're not made of stone — and there are things we and personally. If you encounter that affect us, as well."

It's a career, however, that Smith has loved and will continue to love, for the foreseeable future.

"As far as the time frame goes, I don't know when I'll retire," he said. "I thought about some things I'd like to do after I retire, but I enjoy my work ... I do know I don't want to work for any other police department than Big Spring. When I

Chapman, who was born in Groom, is a Hawaii-based bail bondsman and bounty hunter, and the third son of Duane "Dog" Chapman, a reality television personality. Chapman is also well known for his well-"Lelanddocumented isms," the most recently being, "If your bodyguard sucker punches Don Frye and you see Scott Norton heading your way, run!"

Maumau said the show will go on, however, and if interest is any factor, he expects to see plenty of top-notch fighters ready to take the ring Saturday night.

not to see it." said Maumau. "We just opened a gym in Big Spring, and you should see the kids and adults that are just walking in off the streets. It's amazing. I guarantee you a champion is going to come out of Big Spring. That's a fact.'

Maumau and Tino, who recently opened a mixed martial arts gym at 2210 Main Street, said they have big plans for the Crossroads area.

"It's kind of funny.

We've only been at the location a little while, and we're already beginning to outgrow it," said Maumau with a laugh. "Me and Phelp came here from Hawaii, mainly because the school systems there are at the bottom of the list for America. The school system here is really top notch, and we're already seeing serious improvement in their studies.

"When we first came here, I had planned to work in the construction business, flipping homes. However, the market here just wouldn't support that, so I began looking for something else to do. Raul Marquez (former Development board member and official with KBYG Radio) encouraged me to develop the gym and these MMA shows. I have to say, I'm very humbled to have him supporting us. He's a big reason we're doing what we're doing now. The people in Big Spring are much more friendly than the people back home, we're all very happy to be here."

Maumau said gates are set to open at 6 p.m. with seating at 7 p.m.. Tickets will be sold at the door with general admission $10, ringside seats $20 and children 7 years old and younger free.

"We're non-profit, so we rely on grants, donations and fund-raisers," said

However, the museum's ties to aviation history should not lead anyone to think it's important to have an Air Force or Webb-related background in order to attend the ball.

"Our museum is dedicated to local history and everyone is a part of that. We encourage everyone to come enjoy a night of fun," Bias said.

The annual event will be a full evening of activity — a silent auction, plenty of hors d'oeuvres, dancing and live music.

Among the items to be awarded is a guitar autographed by members of the band, No Doubt. Also on the auction block are overnight packages at vacation locations.

In a separate give-away, someone will receive a two-night stay at the historic El Paisano Hotel in Marfa, plus $200 in trip expenses.

Tickets for the ball are $25 per person. Reserved tables for eight are $200. To RSVP, call (432) 264e-mail or hangar25@crcom.net.

Hangar 25 Air Museum will gladly accept donations from people who would like to help the museum, but cannot attend the fund-raiser. Also, any businesses or individuals having items they'd like to donate for the auction are encouraged to contact Bias at the museum.

OUR VIEWS

We salute:

Each week, the Herald salutes individuals and groups from our community and area who have been recognized for special achievements or accomplishments.

We recognize these special people for working to help make our region a better place to live, work and play

This week we salute:

- Everyone who participated in Make a Difference Day, whether it was cleaning Comanche Trail Park Lake, planting flowers or picking up in your own front yard. It's always great to show the pride we have in ourselves and our community.
- Everyone who has taken advantage of the early voting period so far in the Nov. 6 election. Early voting continues from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. next week at the county courthouse. Don't forget to vote!
- Local and area public schools celebrating Red Ribbon Week. It's an important message that needs to be taught at an early age. We applaud our teachers and administrators for placing an emphasis on staying away from drugs and alco-
- Bands from Big Spring, Forsan and Stanton high schools on advancing in University Interscholastic League marching competition. Good luck to all three this weekend as they march toward state!
- Officials at Howard College and other institutions of higher learning — particularly community colleges — who spoke out against Gov. Rick Perry's cuts and raised enough commotion to be recognized. It appears that the state government has now reached an agreement to reverse those

Is there an individual or organization in our community that you feel should be saluted? If so, please send us their name and why you think they should be recognized. We must have your name and telephone number and you must provide it in writing.

A SMALL PRAYER

by K. Rae Anderson

You, Lord, are our happiness, thank You,

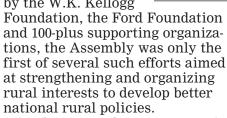

Amen

Rural America must speak louder or five years, now ending, it has been my privilege to write this column for the Rural Policy Research Institute (RUPRI). But if rural America is to overcome its plight and live up to its potential, rural voices must continue to speak. Loudly. And in unison. Fortunately, they are. Last June, 300 rural leaders gathered at the first annual National Rural Assembly to create an agenda for rural progress. Sponsored by the W.K. Kellogg

On the money front, pressure is mounting for the philanthropic community to open its eyes and its wallet to rural America. Last year, Sen. Max Baucus of Montana challenged philanthropies to double the amount they give to rural needs in five years. We're still waiting on the check; but at least foundations are starting to realize that neither the need for funds nor the opportunities for effective investments stop at the city limits.

Further, rural America is making itself heard in deliberations over the pending Farm Bill. Sure, the House-passed bill is little better than the 2002 version; but there's still hope that Senator Harkin of Iowa will be able to deliver some real help to rural communities and not just to the big-in-size-yet-small-in-number farmers that have always gotten the lion's share of federal rural support. Harkin's draft is being hashed out as I write, but according to RUPRI President Emeritus Charles Fluharty, the senator's rural development title is "by far, the single most significant piece of rural development legislation ever offered by a seated Chairman of any U.S. Committee."

Urging Harkin on in his quest to make a difference for the nearly 90 million people of rural and small town America is one of the largest rural coalitions ever assembled. The Campaign for a Renewed Rural Development has signed up some 600 national, regional and local organizations from all 50 states to call for at least $2 billion in new mandatory funding for rural America in this year's bill.

BIG SPRING HERALD

Friday, October 26, 2007

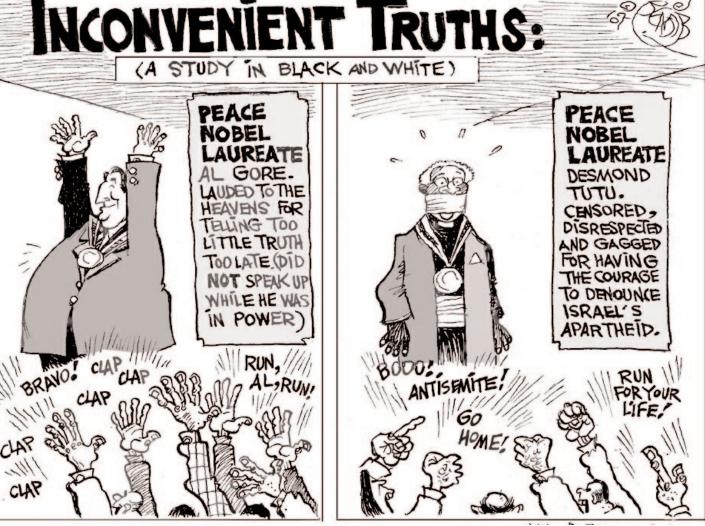

That money, of course, won't go far enough in paying for all the planning, water, sewer, high-speed Internet, health care, workforce training and business development needed to shore up the rural economy, but it will go a lot farther than any past legislation. And the number of people calling for its passage will go a long way in determining whether the call is heard...and answered. If it isn't, we'll likely be waiting five more years until the next Farm Bill...and praying the whole time that it won't come too late.

So get out your pen, get on your phone or crank up the computer. Add your voice to those calling for renewed rural development. This might be my last chance to be heard; don't make it yours. Speak

And thanks for listening when I

Correct competition in corrections lbert Einstein's observation that "in the middle of difficulty lies opportunity" could easily apply to the Texas Youth Commission. Following a series of abuse scandals, the closure of a TYC contract detention center operated by the GEO Group prompted a Texas Senate hearing last week on the role of private operators in juvenile and adult corrections. Texas should not abandon the use of competition in corrections, but this is a promising opportunity to boldly restructure such outsourcing.

LEVIN

While the conditions at the GEO lockup were unsanitary, the sexual abuse cases at the core of this spring's TYC scandal occurred almost entirely in governmentoperated facilities.

Moreover, TYC spends $62,000 per year per youth on its own facilities, but its contract with GEO Group for this facility was $24,000 less. Of course, there's no virtue in saving money if kids are being neglected, but the conditions could and should have been remedied for a cost far lower than that difference.

At the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, private adult prisons save taxpayers 10 to 15 percent and are contractually required to provide exactly the same product as TDCJ facilities right down to the cell locks. However, that's not necessarily a good thing, as one-third of TDCJ offenders are re-incarcerated within three years of release. Similarly, the GEO Group provided the same re-socialization programming as TYC's own facilities, and most likely had a recidivism rate equal to TYC's dreadful 52 percent.

The true promise of competition in corrections lies not in saving money while providing the same product as state-run prisons, but in harnessing the innovation of the private sector to develop programming that will reduce recidivism, since 99 percent of inmates are ultimately released.

The average Texas inmate has a sixth grade education and lacks vocational skills, both of which are highly correlated with returning to a life of crime. Future requests for proposal should not simply seek the lowest bidder, but combine a per diem with performance incentives based on the recidivism rate, the number of GEDs earned by inmates, demonstrated educational progress by inmates and the amount of restitution and child support paid by inmates through earnings from on-site private industry work programs. Private operators would thus compete to come up with innovative programs that measurably reform offenders, reducing the crime rate and the future burden of incarceration on taxpayers.

Oversight of private facilities must also be restructured. TYCemployed monitors, seven of whom have since been fired, evidently failed for months to report the squalor at the GEO facility. Ordinarily, a corrections agency has an incentive to whitewash problems at all facilities because they reflect poorly on an agency's oversight. However, the situation reverses when, as in the case of TYC, capacity is being reduced and the agency might want to safeguard its own budget, employees

To avoid this kind of Jekyll and Hyde oversight, legislators should assign to the Texas Commission on Jail Standards the authority to monitor conditions at private lockups. The Commission effectively performs this function for county jails and would not face the conflicts inherent in simultaneously contracting and competing with the private operator.

Besides offering innovation and cost control if contracts are properly structured, privately operated facilities have several other advantages. First, they can be used as a stopgap measure for overflow while new prison diversion initiatives reduce the need for new prisons. State-run lockups are virtually impossible to close due to the jobs they create in those rural communities.

Private prisons also buffer against overly powerful prison guard unions.

The state corrections employees union in California has made more than $10 million in political donations and sank Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger's December 2006 plan for prison alternatives.

As a result, California taxpayers will pay $7.4 billion for new prisons, while some guards make more than $100,000 a year.

Competition can work in corrections, but policymakers must think outside of the cell rather than trying to wring the last dollar of savings from replicating the state's cookie cutter corrections programs.

Church News

First United Methodist Church

This Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Jim Smith will preach our commitment sermon at both the 8:30 a.m. and 10:50 a.m. services of worship. This is the time for our church membership to consider the needs of the church for 2008 and commit to the missions and projects of the church through tithing and special gifts. We will have a special guest soloist this Sunday, Larry Russell, a long time friend of our minister of music, Jim Wright.

Living Christmas Tree rehearsals have begun and as customary we invite anyone who loves sing beautiful Christmas music to join us and be a part of the "Tree Choir." Practices are Saturday mornings at 9 a.m. and Monday evenings at 6:30 p.m. For further information, contact Jim Wright at 267-6394.

Big Spring's Church Women United will meet in the sanctuary on Saturday, Nov. 3, at 11 a.m. The study will feature a World Community program titled, Day "Embracing Justice God's Tent." Under Refreshments will be served in Youth Hall following the program.

We appreciate the many prayers and inquiries regarding our pastor Shane Brue. Jill Brue has created a Web site for up to date information on Shane through CARING BRIDGE, a non-profit service that connects family and friends during a critical illness, treatment or recovery. Go http://www.caringbridge.org/visit/shanebrue. Please continue to hold that family and our congregation in your prayers.

You are always welcome at First Methodist. Our buildings

Never buy a cell phone from someone who thinks a tailgate is only for a pre-game party.

Instead, get superior coverage and hometown service from WESTEX Wireless.

Getting good wireless service is tough some times. Geography has an awful lot to do with good coverage and good cell phone signals. In fact, if a cell phone company doesn't know the terrain, or if they just don't have enough transmission towers in our region, your phone will drop calls frequently.

It pays to know your terrain and know your customers. If you have questions or problems with your cell phone service, it's also nice to know there's a WESTEX Agent or Customer Service Representative you can talk to face-to-face.

That's not true of our competitors. Most often, you have to work through voicemail at an undisclosed faraway location to solve a billing or service problem. Some of those folks never saw the working end of a pickup or stock trailer. And most of them are indifferent to the unique challenges of getting good cell coverage in West Texas. Not WESTEX. We didn't just circle our region on a map and decide to sell something here. WESTEX Wireless: we live here, we work here, and we do both by choice.

This Date In History

Today is Friday, Oct. 26, the 299th day of 2007. There are 66 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History:

On Oct. 26, 1881, the "Gunfight at the O.K. Corral" took place in Tombstone, Ariz., as Wyatt Earp, his two brothers and "Doc" Holliday confronted Ike Clanton's gang. Three members of Clanton's group were killed; Earp's brothers and Holliday were wounded. On this date:

1774,the First In Continental Congress adjourned in Philadelphia.

In 1825, the Erie Canal opened in upstate New York, connecting Lake Erie and the Hudson River. In 1942, Japanese planes badly damaged the U.S. ship Hornet in the Battle of Santa Cruz Islands during World War II. (The Hornet sank early the next morning.)

In 1957, the Soviet Union announced that defense minister Marshal Zhukov had been relieved of his duties.

In 1967, the Shah of Iran crowned himself and his queen after 26 years on the Peacock Throne. In 1972, national security adviser Henry Kissinger declared, "Peace is at hand" in Vietnam. In 1979, South Korean

President Park Chung-hee was shot to death by the head of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency, Kim Jae-kyu. In 1984, "Baby Fae," a newborn with a severe heart defect, was given the heart of a baboon in an experimental transplant in Loma Linda, Calif. (Baby Fae lived 21 days with the animal heart.) In 1994, Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin of Israel and Prime Minister Abdel Salam Majali of Jordan signed a peace treaty during a ceremony at the Israeli-Jordanian border attended by President Bill Clinton.

In 2001, President Bush signed the USA Patriot Act, giving authorities unprecedented ability to search, seize, detain or eavesdrop in their pursuit of possible terrorists.

Today's Birthdays: Actress Shelley Morrison ("Will and Grace") is 71. Actor Bob Hoskins is 65. Author Pat Conroy is 62. Actress Jaclyn Smith is 62. TV host Pat Sajak is 61. Sen. Several churches will be participating in Trunk or Treat or Tailgate Halloween events Wednesday. Above, this group enjoyed Trunk or Treat at First Christian Church last year.

or visit our Web site at www.stmarysbst.org. St. Mary's is located at 1001 S. Goliad.

First Christian Church

The 125th anniversary celebration was a high moment for First Christian Church, with 186 registered attendance on Sunday, and there were probably as many or taking Saturday night. It was a wonderful event celebrating all the marvelous things God has done for Big Spring through the church.

We thank all the individuals and businesses who helped make the celebration a giant success.

Be sure to join us for our next community event: Trunk or Treat set Luke 18:9-14. for 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday in the parking lots at 10th and Goliad. The Halloween event is being co-sponsored by St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Our regular Sunday activities morning include Sunday School for adults and youth at 9:30 and worship beginning at 10:50. This week's message by the Rev. Dr. Ken McIntosh is entitled "My Bad" and is based on

Hillcrest Baptist Church

The Good News Senior Adult Choir from Southcrest Baptist Church in Lubbock, by James directed Kinman, will be in concert at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at Hillcrest Baptist Church, 2000 W. FM 700. The public is invited.

Join Wednesday from 6 p.m. to p.m. for Trunk Treat at 1700 FM 700. It's a safe time for little ones and fun for the whole family.

North Birdwell United Methodist Church

Angel Food delivery day is Saturday. Because of the early delivery

November, we will be taking orders for November today until 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Other ordering dates for November are Friday, Nov. 2, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. until 4

Angel food is a nonqualifying food program hosted by North Birdwell UMC for Big Spring and surrounding communities. For more information, call 267-3241 or 267-

Halloween is a fun time for kids, but their safety is most important. We will be having a tailgate Halloween for children on our church parking lot, at 2702 N. Birdwell. The fun will begin at 5:30 p.m. and end at 7:30 p.m.

Mark Nov. 10 on your calendar. We are having a chicken spaghetti dinner to replenish funds spent to pave our parking lot. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children 5 through 12. There will be a give-away for adults. Alton and Treva Hall will be the celebrated chefs for the night. For tickets, contact any member of North Birdwell UMC.

Worship services are held each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. with fellowship and Sunday school immediately following. Sunday evening service is at 5 p.m. Bible study is the first and third Wednesday and United Methodist Women is the second and fourth Thursday, at 4:30 p.m.

Jacque Mauch, certified lay speaker, has recently been assigned to our church and will be bringing the messages. Come join us in showing Christ's love to each one we come in contact with. All are welcome.

Spring Creek Fellowship

"Extreme Graceover" is the title of our pastor's sermon Sunday. Pastor Dennis Teeters will continue the series of sermons on grace — the unearned favor of God. When we cannot come to God because of our sin, He made a way through His son, Jesus Christ.

Spring Creek has a place for you and every member of your family. Our Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. every Sunday. Come early for fellowship coffee and donuts.

We have a wonderful Sunday evening program beginning at 5 p.m. AWANA's for kids to memorize scripture and have fun is going strong. Adult Bible study is a special time for our adults Our pastor is teaching a Bible study for the men and Susie Teeters is leading a study for the women. The students have choir practice at 5 p.m. Sunday evening worship begins at 6 p.m. This week, we will celebrate the Lord's Supper.

Come out for a free home-cooked meal Wednesday evenings beginning at 5:30 p.m. Bible study begins at 6:15 p.m. for the adults. Our teenage students have a time of worship with music and bible study with our student pastor, Christ Tucker. The children are learning to praise God in music in children's choirs.

We would be honored to pray with you and for you. Give us a call at the church office, 714-4584.

Get to Spring Creek Fellowship by going down I-20 east to the Salem exit. Take a left at the overpass and left again on the service road. SCF is on the right, just before the onramp.

Be looking for a special sign that will be posted on FM 700 announcing where the new location for Spring Creek will be. God has blessed us with land for a new campus for the future!

Dallas man in wheelchair disarms, fatally shoots home intruder

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police say a man in a wheelchair disarmed and fatally shot a home intruder with the intruder's own gun.

The shooting happened just before 3 a.m. Friday at the man's apartment in the Village Oaks Apartments in the Fruitdale neighborhood, south of downtown Investigators say the man was able to wrestle the gun away from the intruder and shoot him. The suspected burglar died a short time later at Baylor University Medical Center.

No identities have been released. Police say the case will be submitted to a Dallas County grand jury for review, but no charges will be filed.

Police arrest stepfather of toddler found abandoned in bathroom

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The stepfather of a 2-yearold girl found bruised and abandoned inside a locked apartment bathroom was arrested Thursday on a child endangerment charge.

The girl had been living with her mother and stepfather, Dionicio Mendietta III, when she was found in an apartment bathroom Oct. 7 after neighbors reported she was crying and screaming. She appeared dirty and bruised, authorities said.

The child may have been left alone for as many as two days, according to an affidavit. Text messages between the couple show Mendietta knew of the abuse and helped lock up the child, the affidavit said.

Mendietta, 21, was in the Kleberg County Jail on a $50,000 bond Thursday.

Adrianna Mendietta, 28, the girl's mother, faces charges of child endangerment, unlawful restraint and injury to a child. She remains in the Nueces County Jail on Monday on bonds totaling $100,000.

It could not be immediately determined if the Mendiettas had an attorney.

The family has been the subject of two previous child welfare investigations, according to the affidavit.

The girl's father, Benjy Olivarez, 34, was awarded temporary custody earlier this week.

5-year-old killed by train in Watauga

WATAUGA (AP) - A 5-year-old boy searching for dinosaur bones with two other children was struck and killed by a freight train Thursday night.

Police said the other children, ages 5 and 7, were not injured.

The boy was struck about 6:20 p.m. on the tracks near the subdivision where the children lived. His name was not immediately released.

Watauga is about 10 miles north-northeast of Fort

Police say 4 Houston toddlers test positive for cocaine

HOUSTON (AP) — Four toddlers of a Houston family tested positive for cocaine, including twin 11-monthold boys, after police said nurses became suspicious when one of the twins showed little pain despite a fractured arm.

Parents Emanuel Jones, 43, and Tammy Lynn Melton, 25, have been charged on felony counts of child injury and remain in jail. Both tested positive for cocaine and antidepressants and were arrested late Wednesday, police said.

Authorities said they are unsure how the children, including a 2-year-old girl and a 1-year-old boy, ingested the drug. In all, the two cared for eight children, including twin newborn girls.

"Either the parents are smoking cocaine around them or they are sharing it with them," Catheryn Gardner-Sanders, a Houston police investigator, said in Thursday's online editions of the Houston Chronicle.

All of the children have been removed from the home and placed in foster care, authorities said.

The parents were arrested one week after taking one of their twin boys to the hospital with a fractured wrist. Nurses called police when the infant wasn't "showing the pain reaction a child should show," Gardner-Sanders said.

Jones, Melton and the eight children lived in a buginfested, one-bedroom apartment in northwest Houston, police said. An invalid great-grandmother also lived with the family.

Rollover of Wackenhut van kills one

SAN MANUEL (AP) — The Department of Public Safety says the driver of a Wackenhut security van died when the vehicle rolled in South Texas.

DPS says a 9-year-old boy and another Wackenhut employee were injured in the one-vehicle wreck Thursday afternoon near San Manuel.

The accident happened on eastbound FM 1017.

DPS says the driver apparently failed to negotiate a curve, she swerved, then overcorrected and the van rolled several times.

Bidding Quiz

You are South, and the bidding West North East

Pass Pass What would you bid now with each of the following four hands? . ♦ 764 ♥ J5 ♦ AQJ832 ♣ AJ 2. ♠ 83 ♥ 62 ♦ AKQJ74 ♣ KJ6 3. ♠ 10 ♥ Q843 ♦ AK9642 ♣ A5 4. ♠ 7 ♥ A9 ♦ KQ9753 ♣ KJ82

1. Two spades. When you open with minimum values, you are obliged to rebid thereafter in minimum terms. Your opening diamond bid is clearly of the minimum class, and partner has done nothing that should cause you to alter that assess-

Two diamonds told partner not to expect too much, and this message is repeated by showing a willingness to let the bidding die at two spades. If partner continues the bidding, he does so in the face of your slowdown tactics. Two notrump over two hearts would be more forward-going than the hand merits, and would also suppress your three-card spade support for partner's almost certain fivecard spade suit.

2. Three notrump. Having previously indicated minimum values with your two-diamond rebid, you now tell partner that your hand is not nearly as bad as it might have been.

(For example, your diamonds could have been A-K-x-x-x, in which case you also would have bid one and two diamonds.)

The leap to three notrump cannot be construed as representing a big hand, since you previously were willing to quit at two diamonds. With partner having made two forcing bids, you can't afford to make another discouraging rebid.

3. Four hearts. Obviously, your hand rises greatly in value once partner bids hearts. His initial spade response reduced your hand in value, but the two-heart bid has now boosted it well beyond its original evaluation. It would be wrong to bid only three hearts, which might cause partner to think you were responding only because you had to.

The jump to four hearts indicates maximum values based on a good heart fit. It invites partner to try for slam with the right cards, bearing in mind, however, the limited strength indicated by your two-diamond bid. 4. Three clubs. The danger of a total misfit is clearly suggested by partner's responses in the suits where you have less than adequate support for him. The best way to warn partner of the misfit is by bidding three clubs. This tells him you have length in the minor suits plus distribution that will not lend itself well to notrump play. A two-notrump bid at this point would show a more bal-
