County enrollment goes up

Dimmitt Public Schools' enrollment reached 1,671 Monday, exactly the same as on the third day of school last year, according to Supt. Charlie White.

ENROLLMENT at Nazareth reached 365, an increase of one over the third day last year, and at Hart the figure Monday was 620, a substantial increase over the 1975 first-day total of 580.

Dimmitt and Nazareth began classes last Thursday and Hart on Monday.

Hart Supt. Ted Averitt said he knows no reason for the 40 added pupils enrolling there, but the term began a week later than last year.

He expects enrollment to continue to increase. Last year's enrollment reached a peak of 675 and that pattern should be repeated this year, Averitt said.

DIMMITT enrollment figures usually rise during the term also, and a few more pupils are expected at Nazareth, school officials there said.

The early figures reverse a downward trend in first-of-school enrollment noted in all three Castro County school systems in recent years. On opening day last year, Dimmitt schools listed 34 pupils less than in 1974.

385 work approved

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission Monday approved a reconstruction project on a section of US Highway 385 in Castro County.

The project will extend from State Highway 194 at Dimmitt southward to Farm to Market Road 1524, a distance of approximately 7.8 miles.

Estimated cost of the work is $1,268,000.

No date has been set for the project.

The approval was a major breakthrough for local highway boosters who have fought for improvement of the highway. Because of its unique "dirtcrete" base, the portion of US 385 in Castro County defies standard reconstruction techniques.

District Highway Engineer Rhea Bradley of Littlefield—who said road-builders have been stymied over how to rebuild the highway—has estimated that it will cost more than $6 million to eventually reconstruct all the "dirtcrete" portion.

Since the name of Jimmy Carter surfaced as a candidate for the presidency charges have been made that he couldn't, wouldn't or was afraid to face up to the issues. That little bit of supposition should have been dispelled this week when he told a national convention of the American Legion that, as president, he would issue a blanket pardon to Vietnam draft evaders and that deserters would be dealt with on a case to case basis. That is facing up to the issue under the most difficult situation, but I believe the man was expressing an honest conviction about a situation that was created by the involvement of our country in an unpopular war.

The republican candidates will place the blame for our involvement in the Vietnam conflict, civil war, on the last two democratic administrations without mentioning the fact that the SETO Treaty was a product of the Dulles' foreign policy under the administration of President Eisenhower. It was that treaty that the succeeding democratic administrations was fulfilling in committing more troops and equipment to the Vietnam conflict. Attention should also be called to the fact that the Eisenhower administration was the first to send military advisors and equipment into Vietnam.

Club to give drug seminar Tuesday night

A seminar on drug use for Dimmitt youth and their parents will be presented here Tuesday by a Hereford law enforcement officer who has had several years' experience working with juveniles in this area.

SPONSORED by the Castro County Lucky 7 CB Club, Philip Sciombato, Deaf Smith County Juvenile Probation Officer, will present a two-part program with films and slides dealing with the facts of drug use and the effects as he has seen them.

The public is invited, with a special invitation to young residents and their parents, to the meeting in the Dimmitt High School auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The first part of the three-hour seminar will be a 35-minute film narrated by Sonny Bono, dealing with marijuana and its effects.

Kay Mansell, program chairman, says this film will offer information of interest to youngsters from fourth to seventh grades and their parents, as well as to junior high and high school students.

Parental discretion is suggested for the attendance of younger children at the remainder of the program when Sciombato will show slides he has collected during his work with youthful drug users, showing the effects of hard drugs on users, physically and mentally.

THE SPEAKER was recently chosen for his present post in Deaf Smith County, after serving as juvenile officer on the Hereford police force. Previously he was on the Hereford PD detective squad.

Final okay given to county budget

Final approval of the county budget for the coming fiscal year was given by Castro County Commissioners Court at its session Monday.

COUNTY Judge Weldon Bradley said the budget in its final form is substantially the same as the proposed budget prepared early this summer, which showed total estimated expenditures of $909,013 for 1976-77.

On the basis of this figure, the commissioners had set the new tax rate with an across-the-board raise in county taxes, the first in 30 years. The increase comes through a doubling of appraised property valuations with a lowering of the actual rate per $100 assessed valuation from 90 cents to 60 cents.

A request from the county attorney for a salary raise was discussed, but tabled as the commissioners decided to postpone for the present all requests for higher salaries.

FURTHER discussion of a recent request by the Castro County Senior Citizens for a grant of $2,000 resulted in a decision that the county budget will not allow this expenditure under the present tax rate.

The court approved the purchase of a folding machine costing $650 for the county Extension agents' office.

Steve Cole, representing the Austin Co., which is constructing the new Amstar Corp. refinery, appeared to ask permission for use of a county road in Precinct 4 to move dirt to the county landfill site. Permission was granted.

Girl Scouts, Brownies being organized here

Start of a Girl Scout program in Dimmitt is underway this week with Twila Schinkus serving as troop organizer-consultant. Girls in the first through sixth grades are being invited to join, and an information meeting for parents is set tonight (Thursday).

PARENTS OF interested girls are invited to meet at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall Assembly Room, Mrs. Schinkus said.

She was appointed as local troop organizer by Mrs. W. C. Griggs of Lubbock, president of the Caprock Girl Scout Council. Her duties during a two-year term are to appoint troop organizers, consultants and leaders so Girl-Scout membership may be available to all girls of the community.

She will also preside at meetings of adult volunteers to plan goals for the Dimmitt troops and ways of meeting them.

LEADERS who have already volunteered to direct groups of Brownies, the younger girls in Scouting, are Ellen Gregory, Sydney Lynn, Beverly Hill, Jeanette Phillips, Sue Ivey, Lupe Flores, Lanell Hansen, Charlotte Massey, Shelly Shive and Sue Boozer.

Other leaders and assistants will be needed. Mrs. Schinkus emphasized, and she is seeking more volunteers to complete a local Service Team. Anyone interested is asked to telephone her at 647-2298 for information.

Training programs for these leaders are conducted by the Caprock Council.

The Girl Scout organization was founded in America in 1912 and millions of girls have been members since that time. There has been no organization in Dimmitt in recent years.

SCOUTING in the Caprock Council, which covers 18 counties, includes several area activities, such as the Brownie Day Camp for younger girls, Junior Olympics for older elementary, style show, backpack trips and heritage trip to Austin for junior high girls and trips to points as far as Wyoming and Mexico for high school groups.

Camp Rio Blanco is owned and operated by the council and is available for year-round camping.

Volunteer leaders conduct the weekly local troop meetings, with a wide range of programs from cooking to camping.

Last call for reserved seats

Monday will be the final day for last year's reserved-seat holders in Bobcat Stadium to claim their places for another season, Dimmitt School Supt. Charlie White reminded this week.

After Monday, the seats will go on sale on a first-come first-served basis, White said.

The tickets are now in the school office, White said, and those who have paid for 1976 reservations may pick them up now.

BRING ON THE STEAKS!—Members of the Dimmitt United Lions Club this week are completing six deluxe barbecuers which they're planning to sell to raise money for Girlstown and for their community service projects. Working on the barbecuers are David Sanchez, Anastacio Rojas, Rosendo Amador, Emigdio Sandoval, Roberto Soto and Ray Sandoval.

LOTS OF EXPERIENCE—New Head Coach Bruce Bush looks over the senior lettermen that he and his coaching staff have inherited for the 1976 football campaign. Seniors will make up almost the entire offensive line for the Bobcats. Linemen, from left, are end Jim Wright, tackle David Malone, guard Joe Aleman, center Ricky Hunter, guard Steve Anthony, tackle Gary Nutt and split end Brad DuLaney. Behind the linemen are linebacker Jody Minnick [42] and fullback Tony Washington. The Bobcats' probable starting offense averages 180 in the line and 178 overall, while the defense averages 169 with the "front four" averaging 187. The Cats, highly regarded in the pre-season ratings, will open their season Sept. 3 against Crosbyton here.

Rotary Fellow describes Britain's 'fear of future'

"When I left on the Rotary Foundation Exchange Program for a stay in England I was a fervent liberal," Levelland businessman Gary Stacy told the Dimmitt Rotarians at their lunch Friday, "but I came home a staunch conservative."

PRESIDENT of Stacy-Mason Home Furnishings stores, he was a member of a group of business and professional men who made the trip, spending most of his time in London.

He had high praise for the friendliness and hospitality of the English people in whose homes he stayed, but he found that though they are proud of their history and traditions, "many people in England are not happy about the present and fear the future."

"England has a big problem," he emphasized, "and the government has about taxed itself out of existence. Now 35 percent of the people are paying 95 percent of the taxes."

THE BRITISH educational system is still a good one, Stacy noted, and many people enjoy the numerous social services provided by the government, but under socialized medicine he found doctors overworked and disliking the program, many of them leaving their practice to the Africans and West Indians who are coming into England in increasing numbers.

Unions are so strong that a few people can stop the work of many, he said. And the country's churches, many old and rich in tradition, are sparsely attended.

His change to a conservative outlook, Stacy said, came "because I can see America in the same trouble even now, still to a far less degree, but on the way. This country was built on the three R's, Risk, Reward and Restriction — and unless we return to those ideals we may find ourselves in Britain's plight."

Blood drive set Tuesday

Plains Memorial Hospital will sponsor a blood donor drive Tuesday at the Dimmitt City Hall. Hours will be 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

BLOOD donated through the drive is credited to Castro County in a program in which the local hospital cooperates with the Coffee Memorial Blood Center in Amarillo.

Home scrimmages scheduled Friday

Dimmitt's Bobcats, Hart's Longhorns and Nazareth's Swifts will all scrimmage on their home fields Friday night in preparation for their Sept. 3 season openers.

THE BOBCATS will test their mettle against Lubbock Cooper of District 5-AA, with a junior varsity scrimmage at 6 and a varsity scrimmage at 7.

The Cats scrimmaged Abernathy here Friday night, and Head Coach Bruce Bush said their performance was "about what you'd expect in a first scrimmage."

Dimmitt's varsity will open its season with a Sept. 3 home game against Crosbyton of District 4-A. The junior varsity, freshman and junior high teams will begin regular-season play the following week.

HART'S Longhorns—ranked 10th in the state in Class A by Texas Football Magazine—will host Hale Center's Owls of District 4-A in a scrimmage at 7 p.m. Friday.

Coach Bill Taylor's 'Horns will open their season at home against Anton Sept. 3.

NAZARETH'S Swifts will scrimmage Kress Friday at 7:30 at Swift Field—and it will be their last home appearance for a month. Coach Leslie Cowan's Swifts will travel to Farwell Sept. 3 for their season opener, and will play four games away before their first home bout.

Schools losing control over taxes, Ryan says

Texas school districts have lost control of their funding policies and are in danger of also losing their authority to evaluate local property and set their tax base, Robert Ryan told the Dimmitt Lions Club Tuesday.

THE DIMMITT Independent School District business manager said two factors are mainly responsible for the current revolution in school funding practices—the state government's refusal to increase taxes for public education, and the historic Rodriguez case in which the court ruled that the state must equalize the financing among all school districts.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's pledge of "no new taxes" has become a sham under the court-ordered financing policies, Ryan said. "The legislature makes a lot of decisions for the school districts, and issues mandates telling us how much we must spend," Ryan said. "This policy forces the school districts to do the dirty work of raising the money to meet the requirements established by the state government."

FOR THE 1976-77 school year, Ryan said, the state mandated that a minimum education program for the DISD would cost more than $1 million, then allocated less than $700,000 in education funds to do the job—leaving the local district to raise $338,000.

The DISD's "local fund assignment" was $123,905 in 1974, then jumped to $247,810 in 1975 and to $338,896 this year, Ryan said. School districts throughout the state are fighting the same spiral, he said, while the state shifts tax funds from richer school districts to poorer ones.

Of the DISD's total funds, Ryan said, local taxes provide 46.3% and state and federal funds provide 53.7%.

SCHOOL districts can only tax property, and acreage provides the largest single share of tax revenue for the DISD, Ryan reported. Of the school's tax sources, acreage provides 46.2% of the income, commercial and industrial property

Boosters need more dues paid

Coach Bruce Bush reviewed the Bobcats' scrimmage against Abernathy for the Booster Club Tuesday night, citing Joe Aleman and Brad DuLaney as the top offensive players while Gary Nutt and Steve Anthony sparked the defense.

THE CLUB voted to film the first two Bobcat games in color, but decision on color filming of later games was delayed until more dues come in. The treasury report showed available funds not sufficient to pay the $40 extra per game that is required to film in color.

Booster Club President George Howell and Edmund Hunter were appointed to make lawn signs to be posted in front of the homes of all players. Members voted to get the same kind of Booster badges as were worn last year.

Howell urged all Bobcat boosters to pay their dues "as soon as possible." Dues are $2.50 for an individual and $5 per couple, and must be paid before a person can participate in the club's football contest, which will start next week.

The show which was made from Agatha Christie's book was well presented. The actors are well-known except to me. There were 11 in the cast. This was our first trip to the Hayloft. Next month a new play will begin. You can check the Lubbock paper for the name.

Terri Sikes of Slaton will teach science and a physical ed class at Hart School. She is my niece. And as Jerry Marvin says "You folks be kind to her." Terri got her degree from WTSU this spring. I think she is 22.

I heard Verbie wanted lobster so all went to The Depot, a nice cafe, then on to a show. May you have many more years together. Both men have to attend a Boy Scout program this coming week. Don can tell you about that.

The James Simses spent the weekend in Hobart, Okla. to visit Dr. Sims parents and his brother and family, the Louis Simses, from Washington, D.C.

George and Josie Bradford stayed two or three days in Lubbock visiting her sister Martha and a nephew Herbert Boswell and family. They like to eat out at those good restaurants too.

GOLDMAN AND Carole Dyer and all the clan went to Canyon to see daughter and sister Diane Sanders graduate from WTSU where she received her degree in primary work. Oh yes, of course husband Joe Bob went too. Diane is now teaching kindergarten at Nazareth.

We saw Jaci and Butch

SEASONS CHANGE
For a time leaves are green, then in early fall they become brilliant with many colors. Finally they turn brown and fall from the trees, leaving them drab and lonely looking. God never changes, he is an ever present help. "For I am the Lord, I change not" Attend church and learn more of God's wonderful and never changing love.
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Corn-disease tour draws crowd of 175

About 175 farmers, seedsmen, specialists and agents gathered along the turnrows of George Sides' farm nine miles west of Dimmitt Aug. 17 to see the results of a corn disease demonstration program.

ROBERT BERRY, Texas Agricultural Extension Service plant pathologist, headed up the event with the help of Castro County Extension Agent Charles Hottel.

Berry, Hottel and Sides planted 70 commercial corn hybrids in four-row plots a half mile long for observation of disease development and variety resistance. With the corn now standing mature and tall, the guests were able to see examples of head smut, a disastrous disease that strikes in isolated pockets throughout corn production areas, and rust and Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Plant Pathologist Dr. R. A. Frederiksen discussed preliminary results of disease research projects also being conducted on the Sides farm.

The most damaging disease has been head smut, Berry told the group. In 1975 the field had 30% of the plants infected with head smut and producing no grain. The yield was reduced by 30% from the long-time average on the Sides farm. Berry said there has been little information available on the disease in field corn since it has never been reported in an epidemic.

BERRY SAID evaluations for head smut indicated that varietal differences do exist. The most susceptible hybrid had 47% infected plants, while 12 of the entries were not infected. In fact, 55 entries had less than 5% smut and 15 entries had 6% to 47% disease, he said.

Corn rust got an early start in the demonstration program because of heavy July rains. The disease attacked all but one entry, and it appeared to Berry that 66 hybrids are "very susceptible to rust."

"Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus has been recognized as a serious disease of corn for several years," the pathologist reported. "It has not caused many problems in High Plains corn production, but infected plants have been present in nearly every field. In the demonstration plantings, I counted infected plants which were greatly stunted and apparently not going to produce grain."

MOST OF the entries have good tolerance to MDMV, he added, with 59 having 3% or less infection. 19 of these 59 showed no mosaic infected plants. On the other hand, two varieties had 15% MDMV in infected plants and there were 11 showing 4% or greater infection. The heavy infections will undoubtedly be reflected in a reduced yield for the very susceptible hybrids.

The prevalence of corn on the Texas High Plains is in striking contrast to what it was just three years ago, Berry noted. Acreage has jumped from about 300,000 acres in 1973 to over a million this year.

Texas Corn Growers Association President Carl King of Dimmitt told the crowd that action was well underway toward getting a corn check-off program going. The TCGA has its sights set on next year for approval for grower check-offs. Funds from that program would be used, among other things, in research and demonstration projects such as the one held here last week.

WHILE THERE is mixed speculation regarding amount of water supplies that will be available to corn growers on the Texas High Plains, most experts agree there will be yet further expansion of corn acreages, mainly toward the eastern and southern portions of the 40-county area. Heaviest corn production now is centered around the northern and western areas.

Besides the uncertainty of long-term water supplies, farmers also have to face what they believe to be certain increases in energy prices and even further energy shortages. In addition, the southwestern corn borer and fall armyworm present formidable obstacles.

"WE'VE BEEN able to hold down problems with our crops," he said, "until we could adjust. This has happened in sorghum and cotton, and is now happening in corn. We will have to level off our production and try to hold costs down, but I believe corn will be around for a while where sufficient water is available."

Berry told the crowd that final evaluations would be made of the demonstrations and summary data provided upon request to local county agents.

As a leader in nuclear energy and the construction of atomic reactors, the US has been an enthusiastic seller of nuclear power plants abroad. But suddenly a frightening development has come to light.

THE COUNTRIES who purchase the nuclear power plants are not using them solely for generating electricity. Instead, they have been extracting plutonium, created from the nuclear reaction in the power plant, and using it to build atomic bombs.

There is enough nuclear reactor capacity outside of the US and Russia to supply enough plutonium to make over 1,000 atomic bombs a year. By 1990, nuclear reactor capacity in the less-developed countries alone will produce enough plutonium to make 3,000 atomic bombs a year.

India detonated an atomic bomb two years ago, built with plutonium extracted from a research reactor built by Canada. Brazil has purchased two reactors from Germany, including the techniques for enriching uranium for the fuel and the procedures for withdrawing plutonium for use fuel.

IT IS ALMOST a certainty that Israel has the bomb, manufactured with material produced at an Israeli reactor in operation since the early 1960's. South Korea and Pakistan have both been persuaded to cancel orders for nuclear fuel reprocessing plants from French manufacturers because reprocessing the spent fuel, is the key to building an atom bomb.

The US has been the largest supplier of enriched uranium for the overseas market. But in 1974 this country announced that the US enrichment plants overbooked with orders and no new orders could be taken in the immediate future. This opened the door to foreign suppliers of enriched uranium. The US could no longer be considered as a dependable source of enriched uranium and foreign countries had to look elsewhere.

A number of countries have informally agreed and insist that all contracts for nuclear reactors contain a provision for inspectors from the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency to inspect nuclear facilities to prevent for the misuse of facilities for construction of atomic weapons.

Beef Research-Information Act would help develop new markets

A bill of great importance to the US beef industry is due for a public hearing Sept. 14-15 in Dallas.

It's the Federal Beef Research and Information Act, which may eventually give cattlemen the opportunity to vote on whether they want to invest 3/10 of 1% of the sale value of their animals in beef research, education and market development.

The Dallas hearing (to be in the Baker Hotel) is one of six which will be conducted in major US cities by the Dept. of Agriculture. Any interested party may testify for or against the Beef Research and Information Act at these hearings.

The act dates back to March 1974, when the Texas Cattle Feeders Association first appointed a study committee. The American National Cattlemen's Association followed up, a Beef Development Taskforce was formed, and in the spring of 1975 the bill was introduced in Congress.

Last May 28, President Ford signed the bill after it had passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 200-170 and the US Senate by 65-27.

"This is an exciting and far-reaching opportunity for cattlemen," said O. J. Barron, chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce, which successfully pushed the bill through the legislative phase in spite of adamant opposition by labor unions and consumer activist groups.

"This shows what a united cattle industry can do. We had endorsement by 81 state and national beef and dairy organizations, plus the Farm Bureau and the National Grange. Never before has the cattle industry been so united behind a program."

Barron added, "This is enabling legislation, which merely permits the Secretary of Agriculture to publish an order and conduct a referendum. There will be no program unless two-thirds of the producers voting approve it."

After the hearings this fall, Barron said, a final order will be published and a referendum date announced. He estimated March 1977 as the probably referendum date.

If the referendum were to carry by two-thirds of the beef producers voting, the industry could collect 3/10 of 1 percent of value added to beef animals for a national beef market development program. The assessment would raise an estimated $30 million to $40 million per year for beef research, education, information, promotion and market development.

"This is something our industry has needed for a long time," Barron said.

J. P. Aaron, former Hart resident, dies

Bob Brummal, Southwestern Public Service Co.'s division manager in Lubbock, has announced that the utility is now burning coal at its new Harrington Station Power Plant.

THIS IS the first time in the modern history of the company that coal has been used to fuel the boilers that produce steam at Southwestern plants. The low-sulphur coal is being brought in from Wyoming in 110-car-unit trains on a twice-a-week schedule and will be used at the rate of 3,500 tons per week when the generating unit is operating at capacity.

Construction of the second 350,000-KW generating unit is underway at Harrington Station, with completion scheduled in 1978. Plans call for additional coal-fired units to be in service in 1980, 1982 and 1984.

KNEE-HIGH socks are popular for the young set. Favorites are bright space dye patterns, ethnic embroidered looks and heat-transferred prints.

I wanted to be a photographer, but nothing developed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDonald have returned from East Texas, where they attended the funeral at McKinney last Thursday of her father, J. P. Aaron, 68, of Grand Saline, former resident of the Hart community. He was buried in Blue Cemetery, Denton County.

The wedding is planned for 7 p.m. Oct. 23 in the Bedford Street Church of Christ, with a reception following in the church fellowship hall.

Formerly Kathryn Lusk of Plainview

Kathryn Lusk weds Dan Knox Saturday

The marriage of Kathryn Lusk of Plainview and Daniel Lee Knox of Dimmitt was conducted in the chapel at the Plainview First Baptist Church Saturday evening.

DR. CARLOS McLeod, pastor, officiated at the twilight service as the wedding party stood before an ivy-covered arched candelabra with spiral candelabra on either side. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Lusk of Plainview and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Knox of Spearman.

Lillian Lusk was her sister's maid of honor, Mrs. Tony Hester of Lubbock and Mrs. Joe Flood of Hereford the bridesmaids. Nieces of the groom, Cindy and Shelley Knox of Hart, were flower girls.

His brother, David Knox of Hart, served the groom as best man with Danny Womble of Spearman and Tony Hester as groomsmen. Cary Gunter of Plainview carried the rings.

TOMMY AND Claude Lusk, brothers of the bride, who acted as ushers, lighted tapers before the processional was played by Mrs. Gene Owen, organist. Other wedding music was by Gary Lloyd, vocal soloist, and Edgar Womble of Spearman, guitarist.

Ushers included Carol Day of Beaumont, Mark Guest of Vail, Colo., and the bride's cousin, Dock Gary of Schlater, Miss.

The bride's gown was designed by her mother, with bodice of Alencon lace featuring cameo neckline and fitted long sleeves. The skirt was a full circle of candlelight satin-back organza lengthening to a brief train.

HER PICTURE hat of the lace was scalloped around the brim and banded with satin roses and seed pearls. From it a tiered veil floated over the train. She carried gardenias and Stephanotis in a cascade bouquet.

Bridal attendants were

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Not long ago our star columnist Myrtle Sheffy was coming into the News office just as Postman Shorty Barlow was leaving, and they almost collided at the door.

HE STEPPED back politely and then capped his gesture with a courtly bow. Not to be outdone, Myrtle dropped him a pretty curtsy. Then they explained that they were just good examples of the nobility and chivalry of the Old South, and such behavior was natural for them!

SOMETIMES it makes you wonder whether or not anything really makes any difference. That is no original thought, and it occurs to me pretty often but was reinforced lately when I was reading some statistics about the percentage of qualified voters in this country who actually vote.

The striking figure was the one on teenage voters. The 18-to-21 group put lots of steam into their campaign for voting privileges a few years ago, promising us a brave new world if we'd only give them the ballot.

SOME OLDER heads, on the other hand, predicted dire effects if "all these kids" were allowed to vote, but the vote was given them anyway and there has been time to assess the results.

What results? Well, it's not easy to see any marked change on "the mess this country is in" which the eager kids were going to clean promptly, nor any alarming increase in progress toward the bow-wows or wherever it is we are going.

And the figures showed that of all age groups voting in the last national elections, the smallest percentage of actual voters was from 18 to 21 years.

LSA slates fall events

The annual family cookout of the Deaf Smith-Castro County Legal Secretaries Association will be held at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Ronald Fuhrmann home, 129 Ave. D, in Hereford.

MEMBERS and their families are invited. The occasion is the second anniversary of receiving the group's charter from the national association.

The September meeting will be in the Castro County Courthouse Community Room and the date has been reset for Sept. 9. Jimmy L. Ross, Dimmitt attorney who is the chapter's Boss of the Year, will speak on "The Role of the Lawyer."

New members to be initiated after the program are Charla Dickson, Delva Emanuel, Elaine Jennings and Judy Noyes, all of Hereford.

The chapter will conduct a basic legal secretarial course beginning Sept. 23, open to non-members for a small fee. Information may be obtained from Clara Vick. Topics will cover ethics, human relations, communications, legal terminology and preparation of legal papers.

Kiwanis to sponsor Girl Scout troop here

Sponsorship of the Dimmitt Girl Scouts during their first year, with assistance in getting the program for girls launched here, was voted by the Kiwanis Club at its lunch Monday.

Mrs. Danny Lewis had spoken to the club, explaining the current move to organize a Girl Scout program here, first for the younger girls in Brownie Troops and later, as the demand develops, for older girls. She said members and leaders are already enrolled for 10 troops.

She asked the Kiwanians as sponsor to designate a member to attend meetings of the adult council which will administer the program here and to attend a meeting at 7 tonight (Thursday) when staff members of the Caprock Council's Lubbock office will be present to answer questions.

THE GROUP plans to ask the Dimmitt United Fund for inclusion in its program, she said, and after organization is completed the Girl Scouts should be self-supporting, but a sponsoring group is asked to give personal support and perhaps assist occasionally with fees for a girl whose family is unable to pay them.

Mrs. Lewis is one of a group of women working to set up the program here, under leadership of Twila Schinkus. Her husband, a Kiwanian, was named as the club's contact man with the local council.

Showers raise hopes, don't hinder harvest

Spotted showers that dropped moisture over the county Tuesday evening, ranging from dust-settling sprinkles to an inch, were generally beneficial to crops and pastures, County Agent Charles Hottel said.

A SPATTERING of hail accompanied the welcome rain in some areas of western Castro County, enough to strip leaves on the corn, but early reports indicated no heavy damage from either hail or wind gusts that occurred in scattered spots.

With the harvest of corn for ensilage well underway and the harvest of potatoes and onions almost complete, the showers apparently did not interfere seriously with those operations.

Rainfall was measured at .21 of an inch at Radio Station KDHN, which makes the official reports for Dimmitt. Ten miles north of the city, M. L. Simpson reported .60 at his place Tuesday night, after a shower last Thursday night that amounted to .98 of an inch. WEST OF Dimmitt, the Houston Lust farm in the Bethel community gauged .25 inch in "two nice showers," and on the Bob Kay place 12 miles west and four north, rain measured half an inch and some hail fell.

Heavier rain and more hail occurred to the west of the Kays, Rocky Kay reported. At the Bud Hill Feedlots south of Easter, rain measured .35 of an inch. Flagg Grain and Tam-Anne Fertilizer both reported less than a quarter-inch of moisture.

At Nazareth, Dimmitt Agri-Industries said "a nice shower" measured less than .25 also. Rachel Hunter reported about .25 of an inch from the Jumbo community.

A similar amount fell at year, Dimmitt High School had 413 pupils, up 19 from the 394 in 1975; Middle School enrollment at 734 had dropped 31 from 765 the previous year; and Helen Richardson Elementary School with 524 pupils had 12 more than a year ago.

THE ONE-PUPIL increase shown at Nazareth Monday was in the high school, where there were 120 enrolled, compared with 119 last year. Combined elementary and junior high enrollment remained at 245.

Enrollment at the start of the 1976 term at Nazareth had shown a decline of 20 from 1974.

All divisions of the Hart Public Schools shared in the larger enrollment. There are 132 in high school, up 11 over the 121 of the previous year; 109 in junior high, compared with 103 last year; and 379 elementary pupils, an increase of 23 over the 356 last fall.

THE MOST welcome person is the one who knows when to go.

Hart, Farmers Grain reported, with a little more to the southwest and much heavier rain — an inch or more — to the east. Sunnyside Grain reported only a sprinkle, and the Eddie Haydons a mile south said the amount there was about the same.

CORN CUTTING for ensilage will continue about another two weeks, Hottel estimated as the crop rolls into the feedlots. Of approximately 200,000 acres of corn in Castro County, Hottel said about 10,000 acres is under contract for ensilage.

Harvest of corn for grain will probably begin within a month, he added. Maize and cotton harvests will follow, "and everything seems to be a little later than usual this year," the county agent said.

LaMantia, Cullum, Collier & Co., which handles the bulk of Castro County's vegetable crop, has been running carrots since mid-August. Manager Albert Maxwell said he expects the onion and potato harvests to be finished this week unless there is more rain.

ALL THE vegetable crop yields have been about normal in volume this year, Maxwell said, and generally of good quality although the price of potatoes and onions has been disappointing.

Sunflower seeds, which usually come on the market late in August, are not yet being received at the Castro Co-op Gin, but the harvest is expected to begin soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Martinez of Dimmitt are the parents of a boy, Max Jr., born Aug. 16, weighed 8-pounds, 9-ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Burns of Lazbuddie are the parents of a boy, Cory Lee, born Aug. 18, weighing 7-pounds, 4-ounces.

OBOY! — Bobcat lineman Gary Nutt makes strawberry his first-round draft choice as Mrs. Jody Minnick and other players' mothers dish up homemade ice cream during the kickoff meeting of the Dimmitt Athletic Booster Club last Thursday in the DHS cafeteria. Approximately 100 attended the meeting, which included the introduction of coaches and players, election of Booster Club officers and the ice cream social. Despite the big appetites, there was more ice cream than the large crowd could eat.

'Scare tactics' show need for ag chemicals

Another side of the picture painted by environmentalists who blame chemical pesticides for destroying wildlife and taking human lives was presented by Bill Dannevik in a talk to Dimmitt Rotarians recently.

HE BEGAN with a graphic illustration, as he unwrapped a stalk of corn with its leaves riddled by insects, and shook a small caterpillar off one of the leaves as he said, "Here is your 1976 corn crop." His next exhibit was an enlarged color photo of the tiny worm.

Then he said such "scare tactics" are being used in platform and television programs to condemn farmers who use pesticides for protection of their crops, when nothing is said in their defense.

Quoting figures compiled by a large US chemical firm, Dannevik said nobody denies that our environment has been damaged by wasteful use of resources "when there was always plenty of room farther on," and by uncontrolled pollution. That this damage must stop is admitted, he said.

BUT HE stressed that modern technology is necessary if the American farmer is to produce crops which the world needs, although it does create problems. These problems are being solved and can be further eliminated without going to extremes that hurt more people than they help, he continued.

Resources of technology are being brought to bear now in solving problems which technology created, he said. Users of technology's products also have a responsibility, and so does the individual "who can see that the 5-year-old doesn't play in the cornfield that has just been sprayed, to become a statistic in a panic campaign against sprays," he concluded.

Some of our doctors are being forced into early retirement. Others are having to limit their practices to low-risk procedures. And young doctors are having second thoughts about setting up practice in Texas.

These are results of high "malpractice" insurance rates in Texas.
