Local man dies in wreck

VOLUME 108. NUMBER 185

By STEVE REAGAN

A Big Spring man died from injuries suffered in a one-vehicle accident in Midland early Sunday.

Midland Police Department officials say Robert "Tito" Vasquez II died early Sunday morning after he lost control of his vehicle while driving the wrong way down a one-way street.

The accident occurred just past midnight in the 500 block of W. Illinois, re-According to reports, Vasquez was eastbound on Illinois — the wrong way — at a high rate of speed at 12:47 a.m. when he lost control of his vehicle. His car then left the roadway, striking a tree head-on on the driver's side. Midland police and fire department officials responded to the scene, where Vasquez was declared dead. There were four passengers in the car at the time of the accident, but only one required medical treatment — that person was transported to Midland Memorial Hospital with minor injuries, the report stated — while the other three were unin-MPD Public Information Officer Sara

Aquatic Center dedication Wednesday

Herald Staff Report

The public is invited to the dedication of the Russ McEwen Family Aquatic Center Wednesday morning.

The center will be renamed in honor of the former Big Spring mayor during ceremonies scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Wednes-

Debbie Wegman, director of the convention and visitors bureau, said Wednesday's dedication will not mark the opening of the center for the summer.

"There will only be a very short dedication ceremony," Wegman said. "We will have our annual Splash-In event May 25 ... and the center will open to the public June way to honor McEwen's contributions to establishing the center.

"Mayor McEwen was instrumental in bringing the Family Aquatic Center to our community," she said. "His entire adult life, including the 10 years that he served as mayor, was dedicated to improving Big Spring, for all of our citizens."

SHAWNEE, Okla. — Hearing on the radio that a violent storm was approaching her rural Oklahoma neighborhood, Lindsay Carter took advantage of the advanced warning, gathered her belongings and fled. When she returned, there was little left of the community she called home. Several tornadoes struck parts of the nation's midsection Sunday, concentrating damage in central Oklahoma and Wichita, Kan. One person was killed near Shawnee, Okla., and 21 injuries were reported throughout the state. Victims and emergency responders might not get much of reprieve as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Storm Prediction Center was forecasting similar weather for Monday over much of the same area. The worst of the damage

Sunday appeared to be at the Steelman Estates Mobile Home Park located amid gently rolling hills about 35 miles had vanished. "Everything is Hoke said he started trying to help neighbors and found his wife's father covered in rubble.

"My father-in-law was buried under the house. We had to pull Sheetrock off of him,"

Hoke said. Forecasters had been warning of bad weather since last Wednesday and on Sunday said conditions had ripened for powerful tornadoes. Wallto-wall broadcasts of storm information spread the word

Sunday, leaving Pottawatomie County Sheriff Mike

Booth grateful.

"There was a possibility a lot more people could have been injured," Booth said. "This is the worst I've seen in Pottawatomie County in my 25 years of law enforcement." Carter had heard on a radio broadcast that a storm that had originated southwest of Oklahoma City was headed toward Shawnee.

"We got in the truck and left," Carter said. With upward of 30 minutes' notice for Pottawatomie County, Carter had time to leave one of the few frame homes in Steelman Estates — and most of her house was intact when she returned.

"I walked up, and the house was OK. Part of the roof was gone," she said. The scene was different a short distance away. "Trees were all gone. I walked further down and all those houses were gone," she Booth said a 79-year-old

but the sheriff didn't have details on where he had lived.

"You can see where there's absolutely nothing, then there are places where you have mobile home frames on top of each other, debris piled up," Booth said. "It looks like there's been heavy equipment in there on a demolition tour.

"It's pretty bad. It's pretty much wiped out," he said.

Tornadoes were reported Sunday in Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma as part of a storm system that stretched from Texas to Minnesota. Following the Oklahoma twisters, local emergency officials went from home site to home site in an effort to account for everyone. Keli Cain, a spokeswoman for the Oklahoma Department of Emergency Management, said that, many times in such situations, people who are not found immediately are discovered later to have left the area ahead of the storm. A storm spotter told the National Weather Service that the tornado left the earth "scoured" at the mobile home park. At the nearby intersection of Interstate 40 and U.S. 177, a halfdozen tractor-trailers were blown over, closing both highways for a time.

"It seemed like it went on forever. It was a big rumbling for a long time," said Shawn Savory, standing outside business in Shawnee. "It was close enough that you could feel like you could reach out and touch it."

Gov. Mary Fallin declared an emergency for 16 Oklahoma counties that suffered from severe storms and flooding during the weekend. The declaration lets local governments acquire goods quickly to respond to their residents' needs and puts the state in line for federal help if it becomes necessary.

Heavy rains and straight-line winds hit much of western Oklahoma on Saturday. Tornadoes were also reported Sunday at Edmond, Arcadia and near Wellston to the north and northeast of Oklahoma City. The supercell that generated the twisters weakened as it approached Tulsa, 90 miles to the northeast.

"I knew it was coming," said Randy Grau, who huddled with his wife and two young sons in their Edmond home's safe room when the tornado hit. He said he peered out his window as the weather worsened and believed he saw a flock of birds heading down the street. "Then I realized it was swirling debris. That's when we shut the door of the safe room," said Grau, adding that they remained in the room for 10 minutes.

In Wichita, Kan., a tornado touched down near Mid-Content Airport on the city's southwest side shortly before 4 p.m., knocking out power to thousands of homes and businesses but bypass-his damaged remodeling ing the most populated areas of Kansas' biggest city. The Wichita tornado was an EF1 on the enhanced Fujita scale, with winds of 110 mph, according to the weather service.

Sedgwick County Manage-Emergency ment Director Randy Duncan said there were no reports of fatalities or injuries in Kansas.

There were also two reports of tornadoes touching down in Iowa on Sunday night, including one near Huxley, about 20 miles north of Des Moines, and one in Grundy County, which is northeast of Des Moines, according to the Des Moines Register. There were no immediate reports of major damage or injuries.

In Oklahoma, aerial television news footage showed homes with significant damage north-

News in brief

As GOP weighs how best to profit from Obama's problems, Democrats hope it overplays its hand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scandals dogging President Barack Obama are a political gift to Republicans, who could use some good luck after recent election losses. It's not clear, however, how Republicans can best capitalize on Democrats' woes, legislatively or politically.

Last November's election dynamics complicate the picture on both fronts. Republican leaders are urging a bit of restraint in exploiting the White House's new weaknesses.

Legislatively one of Obama's biggest second-term goals is to overhaul the nation's immigration laws, including a new pathway to citizenship for millions of people living here illegally. Many Republicans would like to deny him such a legacy-enhancing prize.

But GOP strategists say their party may need "immigration reform" more than Democrats do.

Small Fla. city anxiously waits to learn winner of historic Powerball jackpot

ZEPHYRHILLS, Fla. (AP) - It could be an anxious wait of up to two months for people in a small Florida city to find out who won the highest Powerball jackpot in history: an estimated $590.5 million.

The lucky ticket was bought sometime Saturday or earlier at a Publix supermarket in Zephyrhills, a city of about 13,000 people best known around the state for its brand of spring water with the same name.

The winner has 60 days to claim the lump-sum cash option, estimated around $376.9 million, at the Florida Lottery's office in Tallahassee. No one had come forward as of Sunday afternoon.

"It never happens this quickly," lottery spokesman David Bishop said. "If they know they won, they're going to contact their attorney or an accountant first so they can get their affairs in order."

The winner wasn't Matthew Bogel. On Sunday, he loaded groceries into his car after shopping at the Publix. He shook his head when asked about the jackpot.

Report: 23 Hezbollah members killed in Syria, more than 70 wounded in fighting near border

BEIRUT (AP) — Syrian government forces pushed deeper into a strategic rebel-held town near the Lebanese border, battling rebels in fierce street fighting, Syrian state-media said Monday. An activist group said at least 23 elite fighters from Lebanon's Hezbollah militant group have been killed in the clashes.

The Britain-based Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, which tracks the country's civil war, said that in addition to the deaths more than 100 Hezbollah members have been wounded in the fighting around the town of Qusair. If confirmed, it would be a blow to the Shiite group that has come under harsh criticism in Lebanon for its involvement in Syria's civil war.

Observatory director Rami Abdul-Rahman cited "sources close to the militant group" for the death toll but declined to reveal their identity. The Observatory relies on a wide network of activists in the ground in Syria.

For weeks, fighting has raged around Qusair, located in the central province of Homs. The regime launched a push Sunday to regain control of the town, which has been in rebel hands since early last year.

Before Sunday's offensive, Qusair had been ringed by regime troops and fighters from the Lebanese militia Hezbollah, an Assad ally, for several

Thousands of military sex abuse victims seek VA health care, benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 85.000 veterans were treated last year for injuries or illness stemming from sexual abuse in the military, and 4,000 sought disability benefits, underscoring the staggering long-term impact of a crisis that has roiled the Pentagon and been condemned by President Barack Obama as ""shameful and disgraceful."

A Department of Veterans Affairs accounting released in response to inquiries from The Associated Press shows a heavy financial and emotional cost involving vets from Iraq, Afghanistan and even back to Vietnam, and lasting long after a victim leaves the service.

Sexual assault or repeated sexual harassment can trigger a variety of health problems, primarily post-traumatic stress disorder and depression. While women are more likely to be victims, men made up nearly 40 percent of the patients the VA treated last year for conditions connected to what it calls "military sexual trauma."

It took years for Ruth Moore of Milbridge, Maine, to begin getting treatment from a VA counseling center in 2003 — 16 years after she was raped twice while she was stationed in Europe with the Navy. She continues to get counseling at least monthly for PTSD linked to the attacks and is also considered fully disabled.

"We can't cure me, but we can work on stability in my life and work on issues as they arrive," Moore said.

Officer's split-second choice ended with Hofstra student, suspect dead after home-invasion

NEW YORK (AP) — Experts say the officer who killed a Long Island college student and a home invasion suspect on Friday was confronted with a split-second choice. John Jay College of Criminal Justice professor Michele Galietta says the death of Hofstra University junior Andrea Rebello illustrates the difficulty officers face when responding to calls involving armed gunmen.

Nassau County police say the gunman pointed his weapon at the officer, prompting him to open fire.

Investigators say Rebello was being held in a headlock by a masked intruder when she was hit by one of eight shots fired by a responding officer. Suspect Dalton Smith was also

The officer involved is on sick leave while authorities investigate.

Who—and How Many—Are the Palestinian Refugees?

How, under the auspices of the UN Relief and Works Agency, can their numbers have exploded from 650,000 in 1948 to more than five million today?

In 1948, some 650,000 Arabs fled from Israel during Israel's war of independence against six invading Arab armies. The United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) was then formed to provide humanitarian aid to those Arab refugees. Sixty-five years later, UNRWA has grown into a huge, half-a-billion-dollar-a-year bureaucracy that claims a constituency of five million Palestinian-Arab refugees. How has the number of Palestinian refugees grown so dramatically? Is UNRWA helping resettle the refugees, or is it exacerbating the problem? Finally, why would the Palestinian Authority in negotiations for a Palestinian state insist that these refugees be moved to Israel?

The Palestinians insist that millions of "fake" refugees

"return" to Israel—though 98%

What are the facts?

UNRWA's original definition of a refugee was someone "whose normal place of residence was Palestine between June 1946 and May 1948, who lost both their homes and means of livelihood as a result of the 1948 Arab-Israeli conflict." UNRWA began by providing emergency assistance, temporary shelters and basic relief. Soon after, UNRWA helped resettle the refugees in permanent housing and educational and health institutions. But, unlike the treatment of refugees in all other wars, UNRWA dramatically and inexplicably expanded the definition of "refugee" to include of them have never set foot there. descendants of Palestinian refugees.

Today, UNRWA claims more than five million Palestinian refugees, most of whom are in fact descendants and have never lived in Israel. UNRWA currently employs 30,000 people, mostly Arabs in Gaza and the West Bank. The organization receives more than $600 million annually to serve these people, almost 40% of which comes from the U.S., and the Palestinian economy has become absolutely dependent on this aid.

By contrast, the UN's High Commission on Refugees (UNHCR)-formed in 1950-serves all the world's refugees except the Palestinians, and has successfully resettled 50 million refugees. Yet UNRWA, with its strange definition of refugee, has actually increased the number of Palestinian refugees by more than 700%—several million of whom are citizens of Jordan, and millions more of whom are living in Lebanon, Syria and Gaza. By 2030, the number of Palestinian "refugees" is expected to hit 8.5 million.

UNHCR, which currently serves about 34 million refugees, employs only 7,685 staff—about one for every 4,424 refugees. UNRWA, however, employs one worker for every 172 refugees, and their staff budget per head is double that at UNHCR.

After 1993, when an agreement between Israel and the Palestinians gave broad authority for self-governance to the Palestinian Authority (PA), many donor nations argued that UNRWA's purpose should be taken over by the PA and refugee host governments, such as Jordan and Lebanon. UNRWA argued vehemently against this move, however, and won out.

How many true refugees from Israel are left? In May 2012, Senator Mark Kirk introduced and Congress passed a bill known as the Kirk Amendment, requiring the U.S. State Department to specify the real number of refugees who meet the original UNRWA definition. That number is estimated to be no more than 30,000 Palestinians—a far cry from the five million claimed by UNRWA. The actual number is critical because the U.S. is the single largest donor to UNRWA—contributing about $240 million annually. Surely U.S. citizens have a right to know whether they're supporting legitimate refugees from Israel's 1948 war of independence or whether they're paying to support millions of descendents of refugees and thus creating a new category of Arab welfare dependents.

Why does the Palestinian Authority want millions of "fake" refugees moved to Israel? One of the greatest obstacles to an Israeli-Palestinian peace has been the insistence by Palestinian leadership of the "right of return" of Arab refugees to Israel. Of course there is no inherent right of legitimate refugees, let alone their descendants, to move to Israel. But in every peace negotiation, the Palestinians have stubbornly insisted that millions of "fake" refugees—descendants—"return" to Israel, though 98% of them have never set foot in Israel. This poses an obvious question: Why would Palestinian leaders who are determined to create a Palestinian state want their people now living in the West Bank, Gaza, Lebanon, Syria, and Jordan to move to Israel instead of to their own new state?

There can be only one explanation: They want a Palestinian state and they want to conquer the Jewish state. For surely, if Israel, with a population of eight million—six million Jews and two million Arabs-were to agree to such peace terms, it would be tantamount to suicide. An influx of five million Arabs would swamp Israel demographically, and it would instantly

It's clear that UNRWA is an organization that has outlived its usefulness. Rather than working to help stateless Palestinian-Arabs assimilate into other societies, it encourages refugee camps. Rather than promoting Palestinian self-determination and selfreliance, the agency is nurturing a new, rapidly growing welfare class. Rather than working to eliminate the problem of Palestinian refugees, UNRWA has become a bloated bureaucracy whose goal seems to be its own perpetuation and the demise of Israel—a mission that costs American taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

Bulldogettes bounced by Comanche, Buffs lose heartbreaker to Fort Hancock

By BRIAN MCCORMACK

Sports Editor

CRANE — Fort Hancock may have ended Forsan's baseball season Saturday, but if you made the trek to Crane to watch the best-of-three, regional quarterfinal series you'd doubtlessly agree it was worth the price of

The Buffaloes roared back after an 8-0 Game One loss on Friday to pummel the Mustangs 11-0 in the second outing Saturday. But in a hard-fought Game Three, Fort Hancock edged Forsan, 9-8 to move on to the Region 1-2A semifinals.

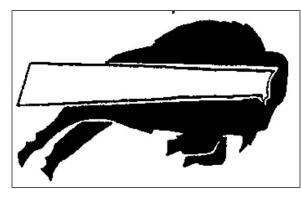

Disappointed with the loss — as any coach would be — Forsan Manager Jason Phillips still enjoyed

"It was a lot of fun," Phillips said. " Even though we lost, it was one of the most fun games we've ever played and it was one of the most fun games I've ever coached. The kids played as hard and with as much heart as I've ever seen. It was two good teams getting being a part of such an exicting duel.

Ahead 6-0 in Saturday's first game, Forsan's Kaleb Stanley picked up a two-out, bases loaded triple which accounted for three RBI. Stanley then scored on an error during Tyler Evans' at-bat to give the Buffs a 10-0

Trevor Burchett drew a walk and Marcus Cervantes recorded an infield single, sending plating Matthew Mims for the 11th Forsan run.

In the top-half of the next inning, Burchett — who struck out six and issued only a walk in a complete-game performance — gave up a single, but a diving catch by Polo Morin in the outfield left the Mustang base runner stranded as the Buffaloes claimed a run-rule victory.

Each team earned a shut-out to force a Game Three, but the third installment of the affair would come with some drama.

2-0 heading into the bottom of the first inning.

Undaunted, Cervantes reached on an error, Clayton Galloway walked and Blaise Coffman loaded the bases with a single. Garrett Kligora knotted it up at 2-2 with a two-RBI double. Dillon Bagnall picked up a RBI and reached on an error for the go-ahead run.

Stanley had an infield single, Mims walked to load the bases yet again, with two outs, Evans smacked a base hit which was good for two RBI as the Buffaloes took a 5-2 lead.

Fort Hancock tied it up when Manny Grejada — who victimized Forsan Similar to Game One, Forsan trailed in Game One from the mound and then with a grand slam home run recorded RBI Nos. 5, 6 and 7 with a three-run blast in the top of the third. The Mustangs extended their lead to 8-5 as the Buffaloes' offense struggled to manufacture runs, despite having the bases loaded bottom of the fourth.

A lead-off walk by Burchett and a RBI base hit by Galloway finally gave Forsan a spark. With one out, Coffman took a base on balls and Bagnall reached on an error to load the bases with Buffs once more.

Stanley came through again, tying it up at 8-8 with a two-run single before the inning ended with a strikeout by

Fort Hancock led off the top of the seventh with a base hit. Grejada was walked intentionally and with runners on the corners, a passed ball allowed a run to score.

The Buffs fought all the way to the last out, however.

Burchett led the bottom of the seventh off with a triple, quickly putting the tying run in scoring position. Cervantes and Galloway both popped out and Coffman was walked on purpose.

Kligora stepped into the batter's

Cabrera blasts three HRs, but Rangers down Tigers, 11-8

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Miguel Cabrera's first two home runs of the game put Detroit in His third wasn't enough to rally the Tigers to a win.

David Murphy put Texas ahead for good with a three-run home run just over the wall in right field in the sixth inning, and the Rangers spoiled the second threehomer game of Cabrera's career with an 11-8 victory on Sunday night.

"You don't feel very good when guys hit three home runs and you lose the game," Tigers manager Jim Leyland said. "We just didn't pitch well enough. We just didn't stop the bleeding. We had opportunities, but we just made some horrible pitches late in the game."

Cabrera hit a three-run homer in the third and a solo shot in the fifth off Derek Holland, then went deep again in the eighth against Tanner Scheppers.

Cabrera, the 2012 AL Triple Crown winner and this year's leader in average and RBIs, went 4 for 4 with 5 RBIs and has 11 homers, one off the AL lead. Cabrera also hit three homers on May 28, 2010, at home against Oakland.

Still, the Tigers lost three of four this weekend to the Rangers, who won a four-game series for the first time after twice losing with a chance to do it.

"I've never seen a guy that puts the bat head on the ball as regular as he does, and on all pitches," Rangers manager Ron Washington said. "He's just a tremendous hitter. I'm very happy that he's headed to the airport."

Murphy's homer gave the Rangers an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the sixth after Prince Fielder had a three-run double to put Detroit up by two in the top of the inning when the Rangers walked Cabrera intentionally even though there were runners on first and second.

The drive from Murphy came against Jose Ortega (0-1), who hadn't allowed a run in six relief appearances covering seven in-

"Very nice to be on the winning side," Murphy said. "Big game, fun game, national TV. We got to witness the best hitter in the game hit three homers."

Robbie Ross (2-0) pitched a scoreless seventh inning for the win, and Joe Nathan worked around a leadoff walk in the ninth for his 13th save. He has saved all 36 career chances against Detroit.

The Tigers led 4-1 after Cabrera hit a three-run homer over the Texas bullpen in right-center field in the third and added a solo shot to center off Holland, who had given up just two homers in 57-plus innings this year after setting a club record by allowing 32 homers last year.

The Rangers had wiped out that lead — and another one after Fielder's double — and were ahead 11-7 when Cabrera hit another solo homer to center off Scheppers.

"Miggy never ceases to amaze you," Leyland said. "I also take my hat off to Prince Fielder for that situation against a left-handed pitcher. Between the two of them, that was impressive."

The Rangers overcame

Bae shot a closing 1-under 69, even after that double bogey and another bogey on the next hole while squandering all of his early lead. He finished at 13-under 267, two strokes ahead of Keegan Bradley. The 26-year-old South

Korean now has a win for 1st PGA tour title in the United States to go with his 11 international victories on the Korea, Japan and Asian tours. After a par at the 18th hole, Bae got a congratulatory hug from the widow of the tour> nament's namesake. "It's something I've always dreamed of, winning on the PGA Tour," Bae said.

> Bradley was trying to become the Nelson's first wire-to-wire winner since Tom Watson in 1980. Bradley set the TPC Four Seasons course record with an opening 60, a round in which he had two bogeys. He shot a 2-over 72 in Sunday's windy conditions.

Four birdies in a five-hole stretch on the front nine gave Bae a four-stroke advantage in the final group.

Players wore red ribbons during the final round in memory of Ken Venturi, the 1964 U.S. Open champion who died Friday.

Bye-Bye, Taurus Sun

The Taurus sun bids of adieu with this insight: When the destination is in clear sight, the quest is made easier. This is not, however, usually the case. Most of the paths we journey will twist, dip and climb, making it impossible to keep the destination in our sightline. Look then through the lens of the heart, and let hope lead the way.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). All of the pressure on you lately gives you a short temper. Choose your battles carefully. The upside of this is that your high expectations will inspire others to be their best.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Greed, jealousy and revenge may be perfect themes for the movie of the week, but they hold no appeal for you. You'll avoid those people whose lives seem preoccupied with this kind of drama.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). If you fantasize about something, does that make it more or less likely to really happen? You'll come up with strong evidence to support whatever assertion you believe.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your goals will require both whimsy and organization. Whether you blow the seeds off of dandelions to send your wish to the winds or make a spreadsheet complete with deadlines, your aims are well within your reach.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Being on time will be crucial to the impression you make on others now. It may seem unfair, but people will decide what kind of a person you are based on your punctuality and other aspects of your timing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Even though you're goodhearted, you're not a saint. You'd like to know that there's a return on your investment. Your engagement with others will have a lot to do with how appreciated you feel inside the relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Your fortunes are many — a fact that's easier to see when you run into those whose fortunes are few. Your problems always seem a lot smaller when you get out and experience the bigger picture of life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Your thoughts bounce, race, dance and generally carry on in an uncontrolled manner. You don't have to communicate all that's going through your mind, though. Later, you'll be glad for what you didn't say.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You have no desire to be pinned down, and yet your attractions, if followed, will most certainly lead to some kind of agreement. Agreements are, by definition, behavior inhibitors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The right way has already been discovered. The new right way will only come from exploring all the wrong ways. A creative mind like yours won't have any trouble thinking about what hasn't been tried.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You are not afraid of looking foolish or worried about protecting your respectability, and that unconcerned fearlessness is precisely why you are so respected by those around you today.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (May 20). Because you see money as a form of communication and an acknowledgment of services rendered, it becomes easier for you to offer more value and accept more money in return. The next 10 weeks see you in passionate pursuit of a mission. August brings the prize. At the end of the year, keep to your budget. Aquarius and Aries people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 20, 1, 33, 24 and 19.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTIONS: "I can hear electricity dripping down the walls of my house. The highpitched sound of my WiFi sometimes keeps me up at night. I distrust microwaves. I can't talk on a cellphone without getting a strange electric taste in my mouth and feeling my head and ear heat up with the energy. I try not to think about these things so I can just live my life, but I can't help but think that all these radio waves are not good for anyone and could very well be poisonous for me. Have you noticed that certain signs are more susceptible to electromagnetic fields?

Electromagnetic field sensitivity or (EMF sensitivity) is an increasingly common condition, though the scientific community is skeptical as to the claims of those who suffer symptoms. It has been my experience that while water signs (Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces) are usually more sensitive to the emotional tones around them, it's the air signs (Gemini, Libra, Aquarius) that are more sensitive to electromagnetic fields. It is likely that your high personal frequency allows you to perceive a wider array of vibrations. You can get grounded and spiritually recharged by spending time in nature away from devices.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Cher was born when both the sun and Mercury were in Taurus, the sign of distinct and strong voices. Her natal Mars and Pluto in Leo suggests a love of entertainment and a drive to delight. Her Capricorn lunar influence is a moon of longevity and business savvy. Though it's been a while since the Academy Award winner was in a film. Cher's planets suggest that there are still juicy roles in her future.

This Date In History

Today is Monday, May 20, the 140th day of 2013. There are 225 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight History:

On May 20, 1927, Charles Lindbergh took off from Roosevelt Field in Long Island, N.Y., aboard the Spirit of St. Louis on his historic solo flight to France.

On this date:

In 1712, the original version of Alexander Pope's satirical mock-heroic poem "The Rape of the Lock" was published anonymously in Lintot's Miscellany. In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Homestead Act, which was intended to encourage settlements west of the Mississippi River by making federal land available for farming. In 1902, the United States ended a three-year military presence in Cuba as the Republic of Cuba was established under its first elected president, Tomas Estrada Palma. In 1932, Amelia Earhart took off from Newfoundland to become the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic. (Because of weather and equipment problems, Earhart set down in Northern Ireland instead of her intended destination, France.) In 1939, regular trans-Atlantic mail service began as a Pan

Detroit's early lead with a four-run fifth highlighted by a pop fly double from Adrian Beltre that scored two and gave Texas a 5-4

Beltre went 4 for 5 with two doubles both of them bloopers — and Geovany Soto and Lance Berkman had three hits apiece for the Rangers, who matched their season high with 18 hits.

Soto, who came in hitting .185, went 3 for 5 for the Rangers and had a fourth hit taken away when Andy Dirks caught a long drive to center while crashing into the wall.

Dirks' catch on Soto ended a string of six straight Texas batters reaching in the sixth against Ortega (0-1), who had allowed only five base runners this season.

Soto started both Texas rallies with leadoff hits in the fifth and sixth innings, when the Rangers scored eight of their runs.

The light-hitting catcher had a double to start the fifth and scored on a groundout by Elvis Andrus. Murphy, who also had a sacrifice fly, walked and Berkman drove in Craig Gentry with a single before Beltre's second double.

Washington scrambled to protect a 5-4 lead in the sixth, finally ordering reliever Jason Frasor to walk Cabrera with runners at first and second when he got behind 3-1. Washington brought in left-hander Michael Kirkman to face Fielder, but the lefty slugger ripped his second double to the wall in center field.

Soto started the sixth with a single, and Andrus walked with one out before Murphy pulled a pitch from Ortega to right to put Texas ahead for good.

"Neither team quit fighting," Washington said. "It was a very good ballgame. It didn't matter what you tried to do. Each team came back, and we got the final blow and were able to sustain."

Holland and Detroit starter Doug Fister both went just 4 2-3 innings, the shortest outing of the year for Holland.

allowing the Spurs to hit 53 percent of their shots and a franchise postseason-record 14 3-pointers.

San Antonio raced out to a 17-point lead in the first quarter, then came up with a response when Memphis rallied to get within six in the second half. Both teams pulled their starters with over 5 minutes left and the Spurs leading by 21.

"It's as good as we could ever expect," said Spurs cornerstone Tim Duncan, who didn't need a big game with so many outside shots falling. "We shot the ball incredibly well from the 3. Tony controlled the game all around: scoring, passing the ball, on defense.

"We know they're going to play better. They're going to change some things. We know we're not going to shoot the ball as well as we did. We have to be prepared for that. For tonight, right now, that's as well as it could have gone.'

Game 2 is Tuesday night in San Antonio.

The Grizzlies will surely be trying to tinker and get back to the formula that got them to the conference finals for the first time: a combination of a suffocating defense and Randolph rumbling for points and rebounds inside.

He had a playoff-best 28 points and 14 rebounds in his last game, when Memphis eliminated the Thunder in Game 5 on Wednesday night.

"Obviously, he's their best scorer. He's a beast inside," Parker said. "We know he's not going to play like that every game. It's just sometimes it happens." Randolph, who missed his first seven shots before a tip-in for his only bucket, said he told his teammates he has "to do better for them.'

"A lot of my shots were just off," he said. "I didn't get the good looks I wanted to."

The Grizzlies started to rally as soon as Randolph came out of the game for the first time in the second half.

Quincy Pondexter made a baseline cut for a layup off Darrell Arthur's pass, then hit back-to-back 3-pointers during a 10-0 burst. Jerryd Bayless' two-handed, fastbreak dunk off a steal got the Grizzlies within 62-56 with 3:43 left in the third quarter. The comeback was short-lived.

Bayless missed a 3-pointer on the next trip, and Manu Ginobili was able to make one at the opposite end to spark an 11-1 response that restored the Spurs' lead to 16 by end of the quarter. Leonard hit a pair of 3-pointers and Gary Neal had one as San Antonio kept pouring it on in the fourth.

The four regular-season meetings were all won by the team with more points in the paint, but perimeter shooting proved to be a bigger factor in the playoff opener. Memphis, which was second in the NBA by holding opponents to 33.8 shooting on 3-pointers, let San Antonio make 13 of its first 24 from behind the arc and finish 14 of 29.

Danny Green connected three times and scored 16, and Matt Bonner hit four of his five attempts for 12 points.

"It was just one of those nights. Pretty much, everyone was shooting well," Bonner said. "We won't expect that to continue every Pondexter led Memphis with 17 points, Marc Gasol scored 15 and Conley had 14 points and eight assists. The Grizzlies hadn't allowed 14 3-pointers in a game all season.

"We were just so hyper, just running all over the place on defense," coach Lionel Hollins said. "We'd have four guys in the paint and nobody would be out on the perimeter guarding anybody. And that's not how we play defense."

The Spurs asserted themselves early, scoring on their first seven possessions and also getting a couple head-to-head defensive stops from their veterans while claiming a quick 23-8 lead. Parker swiped the ball from Conley on Memphis' second possession, running out for a layup, and Hollins burned a timeout in the first 2 minutes.

Tim Duncan snuffed out the ensuing play by blocking Randolph's shot, and the Spurs' strong start continued. Bonner hit back-to-back 3-pointers for a 17-point edge late in the first quarter, and San Antonio pushed out to a 43-23 advantage following consecutive baskets by Parker with 6:06 left before half-

Two years ago in the first round, Memphis won Game 1 in San Antonio and went on to knock the topseeded Spurs out of the playoffs. San Antonio had a 2-0 lead on Oklahoma city in last year's West finals before losing four in a row. "I can promise you this: Nobody's happy in our locker room, because we were up 2-0 (in the West finals) last year and we lost," Parker said. "It's just one game. It means nothing. We still have a long way to go."

With several seniors departing, Phillips had a few words to say about their time on his roster.

"We will miss those seniors," Phillips said. "A couple of them have started for three years. At the end of every year, we talk about the positive things the kids have done. This group is no different. It's Forsan's eighth year playing baseball. I consider it one of the best 1A programs in the state "

Phillips — who also serves as head football coach and athletic director at FHS — expects another quality season next year.

"We're losing some good kids," he added. "But we will have some good players coming back and a good group of young kids who are exciting to watch coming up. It's been a lot of fun. It's a blessing to coach at Forsan, because the kids will give you everything they have."
