Public hearings set Tuesday...

Council to consider annexations

By STEVE REAGAN
 Staff Writer

Annexation matters are expected to be the main topics of conversation when the Big Spring City Council holds its regular meeting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in council chambers, located at 307 E. Fourth St.

Council members will hold a series of public hearings concerning the possible annexation and/or rezoning of property during the meeting.

The first public hearing concerns the possible annexation into the city limits of approximately 40 acres of city-owned land south of Willard Street and west of Parkway Drive, followed by another hearing to give citizens a chance to discuss how they would like to see the property zoned.

Another pair of public hearings concern the possible remapping and zoning of almost two acres in the Brennand Addition in Big Spring. The rezoning discussion will involve possibly changing the property's designation from single family 2 to multi-family zoning. The council will later consider first reading of an ordinance authorizing the remapping and rezoning of the property.

In addition, the council also will consider a petition to annex slightly more than 74 acres in the Kentwood Addition during the meeting.

In other business, council members will consider:

- Emergency reading of an ordinance providing for an increase in the general fund budget for the purpose of developing a comprehensive master plan for the city.
- Emergency reading of a resolution appointing Tim Blackshear as the city's nominee for director of the Howard County Joint Tax Appraisal District board of directors.

- First reading of an ordinance that would issue a single use permit to Daniel Mondier to operate a pet shop at 2101 Scurry St.
- Bids for two sanitation trucks, wastewater treatment plant contract A and for the master plan.

Dust Bowl memories topic for program here

By STEVE REAGAN

Local residents will be able to hear a first-hand account of the great Dust Bowl migrations when Mike Martin presents "Confessions of a Migrant Okie Childhood" Wednesday at Heritage Museum.

Martin, who now lives in Visalia, Calif., was one of thousands of Oklahoma natives who migrated to California after their farms were devastated by severe drought and dust storms during the Great Depression Era.

His presentation will begin at 5:30 p.m. at the museum, located at 510 Scurry.

Health insurance info to be offered at YMCA

Special to the Herald

Scenic Mountain Medical Center and YMCA of Big Spring are partnering Thursday to provide information to the community about new health insurance options.

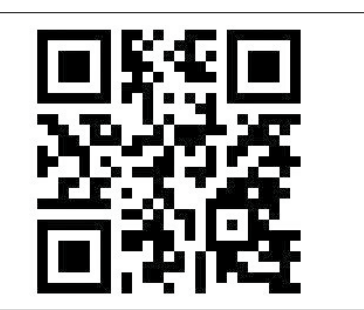

The free information session will be held at 5:30 p.m. at the Y.

Scenic Mountain Medical Center will have representatives available to help clear up confusion surrounding the Health insurance marketplace. This initiative is part of the Affordable Care Act, which requires most U.S. citizens to have health insurance beginning Jan. 1.

A primary goal of the Affordable Care Act is to help uninsured, eligible Americans gain access to affordable healthcare. Financial help to lower costs is also available for people who qualify.

Question of the week

Facebook question of the week - This week's question was: If you went to the Howard County Fair, what did you enjoy most about it?

- Kelly Lockhart Paige - All the great booths. There were a lot this year with lots of great stuff.
- Ray DeLeon - Booths and live music.
- L.I. Carson - The fireball ride was great. And the bumper cars were fun.
- Nancy Parker Stinson - Well, what was there was enjoyable. It's so very sad that our fair has dwindled down to almost nothing. It truly is getting very close to where no one will be going anymore if something isn't done. I pray that it gets better. No wonder people always go out of town for entertainment.

"He's currently touring through Texas," said Heritage Director Nancy Raney. "He emailed us, telling us he'd like to stop here and make his presentation, and it sounded like an interesting thing for us to do."

Martin's program has been described as a Dust Bowl-Great Depression presentation with a twist, in that he looks at this period of time from the perspective of an insider looking out rather than an outsider looking in. Some of the causes and consequences of the period of extensive internal migration that took place back then are viewed in terms of how they were actually experienced by a family of migrants exemplary of many others.

"Rather than simply discussing the situations the family had to deal with, events are vividly recounted through the use of a unique and fascinating private collection of non-stock period photographs — explanations of why the family moved in the first place, what their journey was like, what they experienced upon arrival at their new location, what it was like to adjust to living and working in new surroundings, where they lived and then ultimately settled, what became of them over the years, and where they are today," promotional material for the presentation states.

Material for the program is taken from Martin's recent books, "My Indian Territory School" and "Bryant:

A Creek Indian Nation Townsite."

Admission is free to Wednesday's event, Raney said.

News in brief

2 Americans, German win Nobel medicine prize for discovery of cell transport system

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Americans James Rothman and Randy Schekman and German-born researcher Thomas Suedhof won the 2013 Nobel Prize in medicine on Monday for discoveries on how proteins and other materials are transported within cells.

The Nobel committee said their research on "vesicle traffic" — the transport system of our cells — helped scientists understand how "cargo is delivered to the right place at the right time" inside cells.

"Disturbances in this system have deleterious effects and contribute to conditions such as neurological diseases, diabetes and immunological disorders," the committee said.

Rothman is a professor at Yale University while Schekman is at the University of California, Berkeley. Suedhof joined Stanford University in 2008.

The medicine prize kicked off this year's Nobel announcements. The awards in physics, chemistry, literature, peace and economics will be announced by other prize juries this week and next. Each prize is worth 8 million Swedish kronor ($1.2 million).

Egypt: Drive-by shooting east of Cairo kills 1 army officer, 4 soldiers

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian security officials say one army officer and four soldiers were killed in a drive-by shooting east of Cairo.

The officials say the five were on patrol in a pickup truck when masked gunmen in another vehicle opened fire at them in an area west of the Suez Canal city of Ismailia on Monday.

The officials say the killed officer was a lieutenant. The officials spoke on condition of anonymity because they were not authorized to speak to the media.

The drive-by attack and a blast earlier on Monday that hit a security headquarters building in southern Sinai, killing two and wounding nearly 50 people, come a day after at least 51 people were killed in clashes between security forces and supporters of ousted Islamist president Mohammed Morsi.

Audits show Indian tribes mishandle millions in fed funds, suffer few consequences

ETHELE, Wyo. (AP) — American Indian tribes have been caught misappropriating tens of millions of taxpayer dollars, according to internal tribal audits and other documents. But federal authorities do little about it — due to a lack of oversight, resources or political will.

The result? Poor tribes like the Northern Arapaho of Wyoming suffer.

One Arapaho manager pocketed money meant to buy meals for tribal elders. Another used funds from the reservation's diabetes program to subsidize personal shopping trips. And other members plundered the tribal welfare fund, then gambled the money away at one of the tribe's casinos.

Altogether, employees drained at least a half-million dollars from the coffers of a tribe whose members have a median household income of about $16,000 a year.

Federal agencies questioned millions more dollars the Northern Arapaho government spent, but decided not to recover any of the money — and even increased funding to the tribe.

Kerry pleased with pace of Syria chemical weapons destruction, says Assad deserves credit

BALI, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry said Monday that the United States and Russia are "very pleased" with the progress made so far in destroying Syria's chemical weapons stocks. And, he offered some rare, if qualified, U.S. praise for Syrian President Bashar Assad.

Kerry, speaking at a press conference with Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov, said the Assad regime deserves credit for its speedy compliance thus far with the U.N. Security Council resolution calling for the elimination of the weapons. However, Kerry stressed that Assad is not off the hook yet and needs to continue to comply with U.N. demands.

"Let me be crystal clear," Kerry said, "we're very pleased with the pace of what has happened with respect to chemical weapons." He noted that on Sunday, just over a week after the Security Council and the international chemical weapons watchdog acted, experts had started the process of destroying the stockpiles.

"I think that was a terrific example of global cooperation, of multilateral efforts to accomplish an accepted goal and they have moved with equal speed to get on the ground in Syrian and begin the operations," he said.

"I think it is also credit to the Assad regime for complying rapidly as they are supposed to," Kerry said. "We hope that will continue. Now, I am not going to vouch today for what happens months down the road. But it is a good beginning and we should welcome a good beginning."

Gov't shutdown enters 2nd week with no end in sight, ominous signs about debt limit prospects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government shutdown entered its second week with no end in sight and ominous signs that the United States was closer to the first default in the nation's history as Speaker John Boehner ruled out any measure to boost borrowing authority without concessions from President Barack Obama.

Washington will be closely watching the financial markets on Monday to see if the uncompromising talk rattles Wall Street and worldwide economies just 10 days before the threat of default would be imminent.

Treasury Secretary Jack Lew warned that the budget brinkmanship was "playing with fire" and implored Congress to pass legislation to re-open the government and increase the nation's $16.7 trillion debt limit. Lew reiterated that Obama has no intention to link either bill to Republican demands for changes in the 3-year-old health care law and spending cuts.

A defiant Boehner insisted that Obama must negotiate if the president wants to end the shutdown and avert a default that could trigger a financial crisis and recession that would echo 2008 or worse. The 2008 financial crisis plunged the country into the worst recession since the Great Depression of the 1930s.

The stuff of government work is stacking up during shutdown: Trash, germs and a frozen eagle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Across America the government's work is piling up, and it's not just paperwork. It's old tires and red Solo cups littering a stretch of river in Nebraska. Food poisoning microbes awaiting analysis in Atlanta. The charred wreckage of a plane in California, preserved in case safety investigators return.

And it's the dead eagle in Wendi Pencille's freezer.

Pencille tends to injured birds in her upstate New York home. When a bald eagle dies, she sends the federally protected remains to a special eagle repository near Denver that ships feathers and carcasses to Indian tribes for their sacred ceremonies.

But the federal bird shippers are on furlough while much of the U.S. government, like her fallen eagle, is on ice.

Libyan government seeks U.S. explanation after Delta Force raid snatches wanted al-Qaida suspect

(AP) — A suspected Libyan al-Qaida figure nabbed by U.S. special forces in a dramatic operation in Tripoli was living freely in his homeland for the past two years, after a trajectory that took him to Sudan, Afghanistan and Iran, where he had been detained for years, his family said Sunday. The Libyan government bristled at the raid, asking Washington to explain the "kidnapping."

The swift Delta Force operation in the streets of the Libyan capital that seized the militant known as Abu Anas al-Libi was one of two assaults Saturday that showed an American determination to move directly against terror suspects — even in two nations mired in chaos where the U.S. has suffered deadly humiliations in the past.

Hours before the Libya raid, a Navy SEAL team swam ashore in the East African nation of Somalia and engaged in a fierce firefight, though it did not capture its target, a leading militant in the al-Qaida-linked group that carried out the recent Kenyan mall siege.

"We hope that this makes clear that the United States of America will never stop in the effort to hold those accountable who conduct acts of terror," U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry said Sunday at an economic summit in Indonesia. "Members of al-Qaida and other terrorist organizations literally can run but they can't hide."

Nazih Abdul-Hamed al-Ruqai, known by his alias Abu Anas al-Libi, was accused by the U.S. of involvement in the 1998 bombings of the U.S. Embassies in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and Nairobi, Kenya, which killed more than 220 people. He has been on the FBI's most wanted terrorists list since it was introduced shortly after the Sept. 11, 2001 attack, with a $5 million bounty on his head.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	2♥	Pass
3♦	Pass	4NT	Pass
5♦	Pass	6♦

Opening lead — jack of spades.

This remarkable deal appears in Terence Reese's book "Reese on Play." South makes six diamonds even though West's A-10-8-7 appear to constitute two impregnable trump tricks. Even when you study all four hands, the slam seems impossible to make.

Nevertheless, the contract can be made with proper play. The hand starts innocently enough when South wins the spade lead with the queen and returns a low diamond. West plays the seven and dummy the queen, on which East shows out. Prospects of making the slam, which a moment before had seemed almost certain, now appear to be virtually nil.

But a little thought reveals that the contract can still be made if West has precisely a 3-3-4-3 distribution. The prospects are not good, but at least the outlook is not hopeless.

Accordingly, South cashes the ace of hearts and ruffs a heart. He then enters dummy with a spade and ruffs another heart. The purpose of these ruffs is to reduce South's trump holding to the same length as West's.

Declarer now cashes his last spade and three clubs, winding up in dummy. With everyone down to three cards at this point, dummy has the king of hearts and K-3 of diamonds, South has the J-9-6 of diamonds, and West has the A-10-8.

Declarer leads the king of hearts from dummy and ruffs with the jack, rendering West helpless. If he over-ruffs with the ace, he will be forced to return the ten or eight, and in either case South scores the nine and king. If West under-ruffs the jack, South leads a diamond toward the king, and again West makes only one trump trick.

There is no escape for West. One of his two apparently certain trump tricks vanishes into thin air.

Tomorrow: Magnificent defense.

BSHS swim getting stronger

By BRIAN MCCORMACK

Sports Editor

Big Spring's swim team has steadily improved each week. The Steer swimmers welcomed Fort Stockton Saturday for the first competitive meet of the season at the YMCA and several participants made significant strides toward reducing event times.

Now in his fifth year as head coach at BSHS, Randall Shaw described his squad as young, but able.

"We're pretty strong this year," he said. "We had a strong crew return from last year and we had a lot of freshmen come out this year who are very competitive. We did pretty well against Fort Stockton. Everyone is dropping in their time, we are improving. Myles Jones dropped almost 30 seconds off his time in the 500."

Though an ideal swim team would be comprised of 35 to 40

Dallas' DeMarcus Ware sacks Broncos' QB Peyton Manning during the second half of Sunday's 51-48 loss.

Cowboys fall to Manning, Broncos in 51-48 shootout

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Peyton Manning had to make sure Tony Romo wasn't the last man with the ball in his hands.

The Denver quarterback did it by keeping the Broncos out of the end zone in the final moments of the second-highest scoring game since the NFL-AFL merger.

Manning maintained his record pace for touchdown passes, then milked the clock for a game-ending field goal after an interception by Romo spoiled the first 500-yard game in Dallas history, and the Broncos stayed unbeaten with a 51-48 victory Sunday.

Matt Prater's 28-yard kick for the Broncos' 16th straight regular-season win came after linebacker Danny Trevathan's diving interception at the Dallas 24 with Romo trying to direct a third go-ahead score in the fourth quarter.

"We had the huge defensive play at the end, which was significant," said Manning, who threw four touchdowns to give him a record-setting 20 in the first five games. "And we did not want to give them the ball back." Needing a first down but not a touchdown so the Broncos (5-0) could run out the clock, Manning and Knowshon Moreno shouted at each other in the backfield just before the snap.

"He basically was asking me, 'How am I supposed to do that? How can I get a half a yard but not get a yard and a half?'" said Manning, who had 414 yards passing to move past Dan Marino for No. 2 on the career yardage list.

"I just said, 'You can't! You can't score! You can't do it!'" Moreno managed to pull off the first down without scoring, and Manning took three snaps to drain the clock to 2 seconds for Prater, who had a 50-yarder among his three field goals.

It was quite a debate over a measly yard in a game with 1,039 yards of total offense combined in the fourth-highest highest scoring game in NFL history and tied for the second-highest in regulation since the merger in 1970, according to STATS.

Schaub throws 3 interceptions in Texans' 34-2 loss to 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Matt Schaub and the Houston Texans have hit "rock bottom," and coach Gary Kubiak believes the quarterback who helped put them there can bring them back.

At least for now.

Schaub, throwing three interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown for the fourth straight game, and the San Francisco 49ers trounced the Texas 34-3 on Sunday night to hand Houston its third straight loss.

"It's a broken record right now," Kubiak said. "It looked the same. Hopefully, that's rock bottom."

The 49ers turned a prime-time showdown into an all-out pick party at The Stick.

Tramaine Brock jumped in front of Schaub's first pass of the night for an interception, running 18 yards for a touchdown just 90 seconds into the game to set the tone for San Francisco's stellar defensive effort.

Things only got better for Brock and San Francisco, and worse for Houston's beleaguered quarterback. Schaub was replaced by T.J. Yates in the fourth quarter, but Kubiak said Schaub would remain his starting quarterback.

"As a team, we need to get better and get better fast. And that's myself included, most importantly," Schaub said. "We've worked too hard, and I've worked too hard since I've walked in this building, for it to come to this right now. I'm better than I'm playing and our team's better than we're playing right now. We need to all correct it very fast."

Schaub finished 19 of 35 for 173 yards passing and a sack. The horrendous showing came a week after a 23-20 overtime loss at home to Seattle when he threw an interception for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Fans in Texas were already furious and burning his jersey — and there's a sign over one freeway calling for Schaub's ouster. Now Houston (2-3) has its first three-game skid since the end of 2011.

"He's going through a tough time," left tackle Duane Brown said. "I've been here with him my whole career and I don't know if he's ever been in a moment like this, but I think he's mentally strong enough to get out of it."

In a stadium set to be destroyed after the season, Schaub himself imploded. He could be seen muttering to himself with a shocked expression walking off the field as Kubiak buried his face in his hands.

With Schaub struggling, San Francisco's offense didn't need to do much.

Colin Kaepernick tossed a 64-yard touchdown pass to Vernon Davis and Frank Gore ran for 81 yards and a score. The 49ers (3-2) are right back in the NFC West race after the Seahawks (4-1) lost at Indianapolis.

Anthony Dixon added a 2-yard touchdown run for the NFC champions, while Brock had a second interception and nearly a third.

Kaepernick went 6 for 15 with 113 yards as the 49ers won their second straight in emphatic fashion following the first two-game losing streak under third-year coach Jim Harbaugh. Kaepernick completed four of his first six passes, then threw

Venus' Expansion Plans

The excitement is just getting started. The transit of Venus, the love goddess of the zodiac, into Sagittarius, the sign of robust fortunes, foreign travel and expansion, is an extremely positive omen for relationships.
Don your best look, which undoubtedly includes a confident smile, and mingle a bit.
Your fortunes will expand with your network.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You share your experiences, and not because you like to hear your own voice or because you enjoy telling the story, but because you want people to know you understand them. You've been there.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Don't withdraw the niceties just because they don't seem to garner the proper response.
Your loved ones will look back and appreciate how well you cared for them, even if they currently are forgetting their manners.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Do you believe that to impress anyone new you have to put on a faaade? Well, that's not entirely true, although you are correct in assuming that not every aspect of your personality is appropriate to highlight in a first meeting.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). If you stick to the facts and what you actually know,

Dear Annie: Six years ago, I tried to take my own life. I was a popular high school student, excelled at sports and had a girlfriend and a supportive family who were always there for me. People thought I had it all. What they didn't realize was that I was struggling with debilitating depression.

One night, when things seemed hopeless and I felt my life was too much for me to handle, I decided to jump out of my ninth-story bedroom window. Luckily, I survived and am able to share my story in the hope that it will help others.

Why would I suffer from depression? As a male, statistics say I am far less likely to have depression than females. I also am African American — a group that traditionally has low depression and suicide rates. But statistics don't matter if you are the one who is suffering.

What I want everyone who reads this to know is that depression affects all walks of life. It doesn't matter your age, gender, economic status, race, color or creed. Depression does not discriminate. The good news is that help is available.

October 10 is National Depression Screening Day. I encourage anyone who may be struggling to visit HelpYourselfHelpOthers.org and take an online depression screening. The screenings are free, easy and anonymous, and provide resources that allow

Annie's Mailbox

KATHY MITCHELL
MARCY SUGAR

people who may be depressed to take a first step toward healing.

While I still deal with depression, I am alive today because I got the help I needed. Sincerely — Jordan Burnham

Dear Jordan: Thank you for sharing your inspiring story and mentioning National Depression Screening Day. Depression can affect anyone, no matter their circumstance. A screening can be a helpful way for those struggling with depression to receive the help they need. We encourage our readers to visit HelpYourselfHelpOthers.org. If you or someone you know is in suicidal crisis or emotional distress, please call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 800-273-TALK (8255).

Dear Annie: My granddaughter is having a destination wedding in Hawaii, where she lives and works. I live on the East Coast, and so do all of the other family members. Going to Hawaii would mean a long, expensive trip, plus the cost of a hotel and meals. What is the protocol concerning gifts in lieu of attending this high-cost wedding? — Grandma's Not Going

Dear Grandma: Etiquette says the wedding gift should be the same regardless of your personal expenses. But we understand that people often give more or less depending on what it costs them to attend. We only ask that you keep in mind the fact that as the grandmother, any gift from you will have special significance.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

you'll be limiting yourself, but you'll also be playing it safe. Only you can determine how big of a risk you're willing to take.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your likes, dislikes, flaws and idiosyncrasies are precisely what make you unique and attractive. Any attempt to assimilate in a group or hide your individual preferences will only serve to dampen what's so irresistible about you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You like people, and you welcome them into your life, but only to a certain degree. Lately you require a great deal of space for your own internal dialogue. You're working something out, and you need to do that alone.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Crowds usually excite you — not today, though. There's so much strange energy to contend with that the crowd will seem to take something from you instead of fulfilling your need for excitement.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You don't have to give every thought that drifts through your head a voice. This is liberating. Unless you're standing for something that is essential to who you are,
it won't be necessary to offer a judgment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You will receive recognition for your talent. It makes you happy, but not entirely. Part of you immediately starts to wonder what you'll have to do next in the way of exceeding the new expectations of you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). If domestic life lacks the glamour and intrigue you secretly wish it conveyed, consider that this is precisely what makes it so comfortable. Don't worry. There will a bit of the glamour you crave later this week.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Someone who knows you well will earn special treatment and privileges in your world. This person has a way of vaulting the invisible barriers you've erected around your heart.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). In your quest to solve a problem, you'll be pouring over new ideas, methods and information.
There's a rare gem in there somewhere, so

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Entrepreneur Simon Cowell gained fame as the mean judge on "American Idol" and "The X Factor," though the world is likely to see his softer side now that he's expecting a baby.
Strong paternal instincts are featured in Cowell's natal chart, with Saturn, the father
Capricorn. As for relationships, three Libran planets suggest that Cowell is surprisingly easy to get along with.

This Date In History

Today is Monday, Oct. 7, the 280th day of 2012. There are 85 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Oct. 7, 1929, former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall, one of the main figures of the Teapot Dome scandal, went on trial in Washington, D.C., charged with accepting a bribe from oil tycoon Edward L. Doheny. (Fall was found guilty and sentenced to a year in prison and fined $100,000; he ended up serving nine months. Ironically, Doheny was acquitted at trial of offering the bribe that Fall was convicted of taking.)

On this date:

In 1612, Italian poet Giovanni Battista Guarini died in Venice.
 In 1777, the second Battle of Saratoga began during the American Revolution. (British forces under Gen. John Burgoyne surrendered ten days later.)
 In 1849, author Edgar Allan Poe died in Baltimore at age 40.
 In 1858, the fifth debate between Illinois senatorial candidates Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas took place in Galesburg.
 In 1910, a major wildfire devastated the northern Minnesota towns of Spooner and Baudette, charring at least 300,000 acres. Some 40 people are believed to have died.
 In 1949, the Republic of East Germany was formed.
 In 1960, Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy and Republican opponent Richard M. Nixon held their second televised debate, in Washington, D.C.

 In 1982, the Andrew Lloyd Webber-Tim Rice musical "Cats" opened on Broadway. (The show closed Sept. 10, 2000, after a record 7,485 performances.)
 In 1985, Palestinian gunmen hijacked the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro (ah-KEE'-leh LOW'-roh) in the Mediterranean. (The hijackers, who killed Jewish American tourist Leon Klinghoffer, surrendered two days after taking over the ship.)

Harvick wins wreck-filled race at Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Kevin Harvick didn't simply have his hands full with the rest of the Sprint Cup field Sunday. He also was trying to tame a squirrely surface at Kansas Speedway.

He handled both better than anybody else. Harvick pulled away from Kurt Busch and Jeff Gordon on a late restart to win a wreck-filled race over the recently repaved track, keeping his No. 29 Chevrolet out of trouble all afternoon and making a big move in the Chase for the Sprint Cup championship.

"It was an interesting weekend, to say the least," said Harvick, who moved into third in points behind leaders Matt Kenseth and Jimmie Johnson. "Everybody was battling the tires and the track, and I think it was like driving on a razor blade."

Harvick sat on the pole for the first time in 254 races, and that should have given him some confidence. He also won the last time he qualified first, at New Hampshire in 2006.

"These guys just did a great job all weekend," Harvick said. "To have a car fast enough for me to qualify on the pole says a lot about how fast this thing is."

Harvick was chased across the line by Busch and Gordon.

seven straight incompletions before connecting with Bruce Miller early in the fourth quarter and then Davis' TD.

Brock and the ball-hawking defense was a big reason why.

He recorded his first career pick six, then gained 13 yards on his second interception midway through the second quarter. That set up Dixon's second TD of the year.

Brock nearly had a third late in the first half but was called for defensive pass interference, and rookie safety Eric Reid dropped a would-be interception right at him late in the third.

Even fringe defensive lineman Tony Jerod-Eddie — an injury replacement for Ray McDonald — got in on the interception fun in the third quarter.

On Houston's second drive, Randy Bullock hooked a 45-yard field goal try wide left — and the 49ers capitalized afterward again with Gore's touchdown late in the first quarter. Bullock produced the Texans' lone points with a 41-yard field goal in the third.

Missing three key defenders for the second straight game, San Francisco's opportunistic D still didn't flinch and kept the penalties in check after early season problems with flags.

Kubiak turned to Yates in the fourth quarter and Ben Tate lost a fumble on Yates' second play, with San Francisco's Tarell Brown recovering. The 49ers, who had lost their last two Sunday night games both to the Seahawks, amassed 177 yards rushing with five different players each making a run of 11 or more yards.

know after the Broncos ran their total to 230 points — the most by an NFL team through the first five games — and set a franchise record with their eighth straight road win:

MAGICAL DAY, SAD ENDING: Romo was 25 of 36 for 506 yards and five touchdowns for Dallas (2-3), breaking Don Meredith's franchise record of 460 yards. He is the fifth quarterback in NFL history to pass for at least 500 yards and five touchdowns in a game. He was up to 13 TD passes with just one interception for the season before Trevathan's game-changing play. "I thought Tony was brilliant today," Dallas coach Jason Garrett said. "I thought he played as good of a football game as I've ever seen him play. Unfortunately, it didn't end the right way."

MANNING'S BOOTLEG: Manning had already turned a 14-0 deficit into a 21-17 lead when he fooled all 11 Dallas defenders and the 92,758 watching his first game at the $1.2 billion home of the Cowboys with a bootleg for an easy 1-yard score and a 28-17 lead late in the first half. Denver lined up for what looked like a run on third down from the 1. But Manning had faked the handoff, and the roar from thousands of orange-clad Denver fans grew as they realized he was jogging toward the left corner of the end zone for his first touchdown rushing since 2008. "The key is you want to do it about every five years or so," said Manning, who tied his dad, Archie Manning, with 18 TDs rushing for his career.

BACK AND FORTH IN FOURTH: The Cowboys converted Manning's first interception in 227 passes, by Morris Claiborne, into a 41-38 lead on Romo's 10-yard scoring pass to Jason Witten. The Broncos pulled even with Prater's 50-yarder, then Romo threw 79 yards to Dez Bryant to set up another go-ahead score — a 4-yarder to Cole Beasley. Manning answered with a 73-yard drive to Moreno's tying 1-yard score with 2:44 remaining.

ROMO'S WEAPONS: Dallas had three 100-yard receivers with Witten (seven for 121), Bryant (six for 141) and rookie Terrance Williams (four for 151). Williams had an 82-yard touchdown that helped cut Denver's biggest lead to 35-27 in the third quarter. Cole Beasley had four catches for 47, including a 23-yarder to set up the go-ahead score in the fourth.

RECORDS, RECORDS, RECORDS: Manning's 20 TDs in the first five games broke the record of 18 by Minnesota's Daunte Culpepper in 2004. He moved past Marino on the career yardage list with 61,371. Brett Favre is the all-time leader with 71,838. The team's 230 points are 13 more than St. Louis and Kurt Warner's "Greatest Show on Turf" in 2000, when the Rams scored 217 in the first five games.

participants, Shaw currently has 27. But that's a larger number than last year and Shaw hopes to keep increasing the numbers.

"That's kind of the challenge," he added. "The kids haven't had a coach stay around for more than a year, so it's hard to retain kids when you keep changing coaches."

Shaw plans to stick around for a while. After a four-year absence from BSHS sports, he returned two years ago and resumed head swim coach duties.

The Steers will be back in action Tuesday as they play host to Andrews beginning at 5 p.m.
