issue is set with the construction of a new elementary building — the maximum price tag approved by the voters last May.

However, cials have found a challenge with the recent economical boon in West Texas which has attracted families and job seekers from around the nation and helped to fuel a worker shortage in the area.

Today, trustees will meet at 6 p.m. in a specially called session to set the guaranteed maximum price for the bond project with the construction manager at risk.

"We had this (item) on our board agenda at our last board meeting, but we felt that we needed to get a little bit more detailed information to our school board members, so we didn't take any action at the last meeting," said Randy Johnson, FISD superintendent. "This delay bought us a little bit of time to dig up some dollar amounts and break it up in different ways, so we could get the board detailed information on cost of the project. It's just the next step to trying to get everything set for the next stage."

Last May, voters in the FISD district approved a $23.8 million bond project which included the construction of a new elementary school near the junior/senior high building. Dirt and utility work began in February and the project is expected to be completed in time to open doors for the 2015 academic Johnson admits the construction ing school-age population.

"We had to set the price of the bond election based on estimates," Johnson said. "That was done over a vear ago. The actual election was done in May of last year. We had to set that amount prior to that. Since last April and May until now, there has been a dramatic increase in the cost of some of those services. We are working through the process and making sure everything will come within budget once we set that maximum price."

Even with the change of environment, the district must stick to the approved bond amount, Johnson said.

"We don't have any choice," he said. "We will get it done within those numbers whatever it takes. whether through changes of design or cutting smaller projects, we have no choice but to get it within that dollar amount."

Trustees will meet in the boardroom, located at 411 W. Sixth St., Forsan

Council tables proposed traffic changes

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

A plan to covert a section of Second and Lancaster streets near Gregg into one-way traffic has been tabled for now, fueled by opposition from some businesses in the area.

The plan, designed to increase parking at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and to eliminate left turns from Second onto Gregg, was preliminarily approved by the Big Spring City Council earlier this month.

The plan, Public Works Director Johnny Womack said, called for the alley between Gregg and Lancaster to be closed to through traffic from Second to Third. In

Tornadoes kill 16 in Arkansas, 1 in Oklahoma

VILONIA, Ark. (AP) — Three years after a tornado devastated the Little Rock suburb of Vilonia, its residents again huddled in storm cellars as the most powerful twister this year carved an 80-mile path of destruction through suburbs north of the state capital, killing at least 16 people.

Emergency officials began to pick through the rubble to look for survivors as the sun rose Monday morning. The tornado that touched down around 7 p.m. Sunday about 10 miles west of Little Rock grew to be half a mile wide and remained on the ground for much of that route, authorities said.

It was among a rash of tornadoes and heavy storms that rumbled across the center and south of the country overnight. The National Weather Service warned that the destructive storms were expected to continue Monday in the South and Mississippi Karla Ault, a Vilonia High School volleyball coach, said she sheltered in the school gymnasium as the storm approached. After it passed, her husband told her their home had been reduced to the slab on which it had sat.

"I'm just kind of numb. It's just shock that you lost everything. You don't understand everything you have until you realize that all I've got now is just what I have on," Ault said. The National Weather Service in North Little Rock said it was virtually certain that the storm that hit Vilonia and nearby Mayflower would be rated as the nation's strongest twister to date this year.

"It has the potential to be EF3 or greater," said meteorologist Jeff Hood. EF3 storms have winds greater than 136 mph. "Based on some of the footage we've seen from Mayflower and where it crossed Interstate 40, things were wrecked in a very significant BrandonMorris, spokesman for the Arkansas Department of Emergency Management, said crews were clearing debris as soon as the sun started to come up Monday.

"Right now, the main focus is life safety," Morris said. "We're trying to make sure everyone is accounted for."

He said officials are also looking at the environmental impact. "Making sure utilities are cut off in the area. We don't want anything to get, any fires to start or anything like that."

Another twister killed a person in Quapaw, Okla., before crossing into Kansas to the north and destroying 60 to 70 homes and injuring 25 people in the city of Baxter Springs, according to authorities in Kansas. A suspected tornado struck near Plain Dealing in northwest Louisiana.

The overall death toll stood at 17 early Monday.

Among the ruins in Vilonia was a new $14 million intermediate school that had been set to open this fall.

"There's just really nothing there anymore. We're probably going to have to start all over again," Vilonia Schools Superintendent Frank Mitchell said after surveying what was left of the building.

That tornado didn't form until night was setting in, so the full extent of the damage wouldn't be known until after sunrise on Monday. The Arkansas twister shredded cars, trucks and 18-wheelers stuck along Interstate 40 north of Little Rock. After the storm passed, tractor-trailer rigs tried to navigate through the damage as gawkers captured cellphone photos of the destruction.

State troopers went vehicleto-vehicle to check on motorists and found — with genuine surprise — that no one was killed.

"About 30 vehicles — large trucks, sedans, pickup trucks — were going through there when the funnel cloud passed over," said Bill Sadler, a spokesman for the Arkansas State Police. The country had enjoyed a relative lull in violent weather and didn't record the first tornado death until Sunday, when a North Carolina infant who was injured by a twister Friday died at a hospital. But the system that moved through the Plains, Midwest and South on Sunday produced tornadoes that struck several states, including also Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa.

From communities west of Little Rock to others well north of the capital, emergency workers and volunteers were going door-to-door checking for victims.

"It turned pitch black," said Mark Ausbrooks, who was at his parents' home in Mayflower when the storm arrived. "I ran and got pillows to put over our heads and ... all hell broke loose."

"My parents' home, it's gone completely," he said.

Texas ag commissioner candidate sees money in hogs

SAN ANTONIO (AP) – A flamboyant figure in Texas politics who is running for the post of agriculture commissioner said the state could boost revenue, create jobs and hedge against the rising cost of meat by expanding its hog-harvesting program.

Best known as a singer and humorist, Kinky Friedman described the state's fast-growing boar population as an untapped industry, according to the San Antonio-Express News.

He faces insurance agent Jim Hogan in a Democratic runoff election May 27, his third run for statewide office.

"If you are going to kill a bunch of feral hogs, let's at least do it for a profit and business for the state," Friedman said, adding that the meat tastes "quite good."

Some food banks, small grocery stores and restaurants in Texas and elsewhere in the U.S. sell the meat, which the Texas Parks and Department Wildlife describes as "tasty" and In the opinion of Texas A&M professor and wildlife specialist Billy Higginbotham, the more hogs that are butchered, the better. Feral swine destroy crops, transmit diseases to livestock and threaten highway drivers with major collisions, he said.

Currently the state have the changes tabled for now, and the rest of the council followed

There has been no set date for the plan to be revisited for now, city acts as an unpaid middleman, buving live boars from landowners and trappers at 100 buying stations across the state. The Texas Animal Health Commission has guidelines for baiting and snaring feral swine and transferring them to approved holding pens. The hogs are inspected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture before being slaughtered and sold for human consumption. Between 2004 and 2009, about 460,000 hogs in Texas were captured, slaughtered and sold, according to Higginbotham.

The hogs, which range in weight from 60 pounds to 200 pounds, sell for about 30 cents per pound, but the state does not tax or earn revenues from the transactions in the buyback program.

"Texas is literally able to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," Higgin-

Friedman says the state should broaden the program and take a profit. Hogan opposes the idea.

You deserve a factual look at . . .

The Truth about the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) Movement

Does it stand for Middle East peace or does it seek Israel's destruction?

Leaders of the effort to boycott, divest from and apply sanctions against Israel—the so-called BDS movement—say they stand for an "end to the occupation of the Palestinian territories," "justice in Palestine" and "freedom for the Palestinian people." But what are the real motives of BDS leaders—do they really want peace between Israel and the Palestinian people?

by an obsessive hate of Zionism.

What are the facts?

While the BDS movement uses highly emotive language in their appeals for support—such as "ending repression" and "Israeli war crimes"—a closer look at the real motives of the movement reveals a more sinister goal.

First, note that the BDS movement focuses only on alleged war crimes and repression by Israel-and ignores real war crimes and tyrannical repression by other Middle Eastern nations and terrorist organizations. When Hamas and rockets at Israeli civilian populations Rather than a movement that seeks in violation of international law, BDS utters not a word of criticism, let alone a call for boycotts or sanctions. When Iran's government violently crushes peaceful protests and Egypt stifles its press and political opposition with a dictatorial hand, BDS is likewise silent. Why? By singling out Israel for criticism and economic pressure, BDS employs a double standard—a hypocritical and dishonest tactic frequently used by anti-Israel and anti-Semitic hate The reason, as we'll see, is that the BDS movement is not really interested in alleged war crimes or repression. Rather its purpose is to delegitimize and then destroy Israel. The second critical fact about the BDS movement is that while it masquerades behind words like "freedom" and realize that these are code words for the elimination of Israel. BDS leaders oppose a two-state solution—why? While the United States, Western European powers, Israel and the U.N.

Hizbollah target thousands of

"occupation," one need only listen closely to its rhetoric to Security Council have embraced a "two-state solution" as the basis for peace in the Middle East, BDS leaders, such as Ali outspokenly oppose a two-state solution. Why?

Abunimah and Omar Barghouti, are clear: They openly and Because when BDS supporters talk about "the occupation of Palestine," they refer not to disputed West Bank territories, but to all the land between the Jordan River and the Mediterranean Sea—including all of Israel. When they talk about "freedom," they don't mean freedom from security roadblocks, they mean freedom from Jews in their midst.

When they talk about "occupation," they mean not just Israeli security forces in the West Bank, they also mean Israelis "occupying" the state of Israel.

The third telling fact about the BDS movement is that it consistently and vehemently opposes any efforts to bring Israelis and Palestinians together to work in peace and on peace. For example, BDS leaders advocate boycotting cultural exchanges between Israelis and Palestinian artists. They condemn educational cooperation between Israeli and Palestinian universities. Most revealingly, they oppose peace talks between Israel and the Palestinian leadership, calling them

"collaborationist." peace and freedom, BDS is motivated BDS is not about "occupation." In short, BDS is not about peaceful > coexistence or ending the "occupation" of the West Bank. Indeed, Omar Barghouti, a graduate student at Tel Aviv University and BDS founder, admits, "If the occupation ends \ldots would that end support for BDS? No it wouldn't-no."

Not only do BDS leaders admit this, but they implacably support the "return" of nearly five million descendants of Arab refugees who left during Israel's war of independence in 1947. In fact, most of these Palestinians are not truly refugees—fully 95 percent of them have never set foot in Israel.

Most importantly, the immigration of millions of Arab refugees' descendants to Israel would make Jews a minority in their own state. As President Obama has correctly noted, "The 'right of return' would extinguish Israel as a Jewish state, and that's not an option." Yet destroying Israel by flooding it with millions of Palestinians is precisely what BDS leader Barghouti insists upon: "This (the right of return) is something we cannot compromise on."

BDS's goal: "Extinguish Israel as a Jewish state." BDS unequivocally rejects Israel's many peace offers-including numerous land-for-peace proposals supported by the United States—and rejects Israel's willingness to sit down to direct peace talks without preconditions.

Thus, the facts make BDS's intentions clear: Rather than being a movement that seeks peace and freedom, it is a movement motivated by an obsessive hate of Zionism and Jews and opposition to the Jewish state—one bent on fomenting strife, conflict and enmity until Israel is utterly defeated. If you support peace between Israel and the Palestinians, if you support two states for two peoples—living side by side in cultural, social and economic harmony—please oppose the ill-intentioned BDS movement in your community. Speak out against hateful, one-sided campaigns to boycott Israeli goods, to divest from companies that do business with Israel and to enact sanctions against the state of Israel. This is not the path to peace! FLAME is a tax-exempt, non-profit educational 501 (c)(3) organization. Its purpose

Big Spring thinclads headed to state

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

LUBBOCK - The ticket to the big time has officially been punched for the Big Spring High School Steers and Lady Steers track and field teams.

In fact, it was punched more than a few times on Saturday at the Region I-3A Track and Field Championships at the Fuller Track complex at Texas Tech University. The boys' and girls' track teams both nailed down multiple berths in the upcoming state track meet en route to finishing as the Region I-4A runners-up in the overall team standings.

The Big Spring Lady Steers did exactly what was expected of them at the meet. The BSHS girls qualified for state in both the 4x200- and 4x400meter relay races, and saw freshman Faith Roberson earn a state bid in the 800-meter run.

That total could go even higher. The Lady Steers' 4x100-meter team finished third overall, and was vying for the at-large berth. The fastest time among the four third-place finishers advances to state. UIL officials were expected to announce their at-large berths on Sunday.

The Lady Steers were without equal in the 4x400-meter relay. Big Spring turned in a time of 4 minutes, 1.53 seconds. Their time was more than 3 seconds faster that Gatesville, which took second at 4:04.78.

The BSHS 4x200-meter squad placed second in their event by running a time of 1:43.34. Kennedale earned the win in the race with a mark of 1:41.48.

Kennedale, which tallied a total of 59 points in the meet and edged out the BSHS girls for the regional team title by just three points, won the 4x100meter race. Wichita Falls Hirschi was second.

Faith Roberson garnered the Lady Steers' sole individual ticket to Austin. She turned in a time of 2:22.55 in the 800. Stephenville's Bayleigh Chaviers won the race with a time of Martha Lewis finished eighth in the girls' 100.

The BSHS 4x400-meter relay squad proved it was the best relay foursome in the region with a solid effort in the boys' division. The Steers posted a time of 3:22.82 in the event and edged out Dalhart for first by almost a full

Ryan Lopez also punched his ticket to state. He sprinted to a gold medal in the 400, turning in a time of 50.24. Teammate Ian Gonzales finished

Big Spring feeling confident heading into bi-district playoff with Ft. Stockton

By TOMMY WELLS

The best way to describe the BIg Spring High School Steers' approach to the upcoming bi-district showdown with the Fort Stockton Pioneers is to say they're guardedly optimistic.

Without a doubt, Big Spring head coach Bobby Smith feels the Steers are capable of winning their three-game playoff series with Fort Stockton, but he isn't ready to put the team into celebration mode.

"We've played them twice this season already, so we know we can win, but that also makes me a little nervous," he said. "We don't want them to go into the game overconfident because we're going to need to play well."

The Steers will kick off their postseason appearance on Thursday with Game 1 of a best-of-three series at San Angelo Central High School. The contest will begin at 4:30 p.m. Game 2, as well as a third game, if needed, will be held Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m.

As a team, the Steers enter the postseason on a sour note, ahving lost their final two games.

Smith said the Steers' losses are a bit decieving. The team, having already clinched a postseason berth, pulled starting pitcher while ahead against Monahans for precautionary measures, a move that helped the Lobos rally for a win. The loss to Wylie in the regular-season finale was meaningless for both

"It was one of those games that didn't mean anything to either team," said Smith. "If it had meant anything as far as the standings went, we would have taken it a little more serious."

Big Spring should have plenty of confidence against the Panthers, who finished third in the District 3-3A race. The Steers won both of their previous meetings with Fort Stockton, taking a 11-4 victory in the Fort Stockton Invitational Tournament and a 9-2 decision prioor to spring break. "I know the guys are excited to get it going," said Smith, who had coached the Steers to a 15-11 mark this fall. "We feel pretty good about our chances."

Castilaw, Neff power Coahoma to win over Post

HERMLEIGH - Julia Castilaw stood in the middle of the field following her game-clinching homer that gave the Coahoma Bulldogettes the Class 2A bi-district championship with a 13-3 win over Post in front of a large crowd at the Hermeligh Softball Complex.

They were tears of joy ... and, she laughed, re-

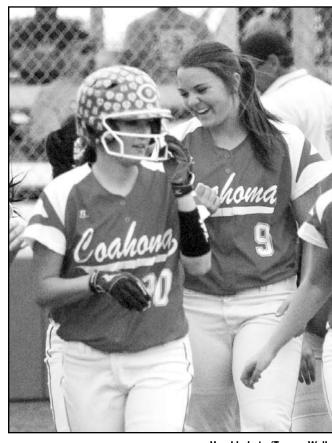

Facing a "hit or be mandate, grounded" Castilaw highlighted the Bulldogettes' dominating victory by driving a pitch over the wall in left for a three-run blast that enforced the 10-run rule in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Roberson opens play in state tourney today

Big Spring High School senior Devin Roberson began his quest for the Class 3A state golf title this morning at the Hyatt Resort at Lost Pines in Austin.

The 18-year-old son of Nick and Anne Roberson, Devin was scheduled to tee off at 8 a.m. Texas athletes playing in the event.

Roberson is making his third appearance at the state tournament. He played as part of the Steers' state-qualifying golf teams in each of the past two seasons. Results of Monday's first round will appear in Tuesday's edition. The state golf tourna-He is one of several West ment is scheduled to run through Tuesday.

Forsan waiting for opponent

Forsan School Lady Buffaloes find themselves in the least enjoyable part of the postseason. They're waiting to find out who they will play.

The Lady Buffaloes, ranked no. 10 in the Texas Girls Coaches Association Class 1A postseason poll, drew a bye

High in the first round of the softball playoffs. They will meet the winner of the Eldorado-Van Horn bi-district matchup beginning on May 3. Eldorado, 11-7 overall, and Van Horn, 7-8, are scheduled to face off tonight beginning at 6 p.m. at the Crane High School softball complex.

Complicated conventions often lead to disastrous partnership misunderstandings, but every now and then they produce sensational results. For example, take this deal played in the match between Pakistan and Australia in the 1981 world championship. When Munir Ata-Ullah and Jani Fazli held the North-South cards for Pakistan, the bidding went as Acol with Pakistani Pre-empts). The opening three-club bid by Fazli was artificial and indicated one of seven different types of hands! The true nature of the hand would presumably be described later on by the threeclub bidder. Ata-Ullah responded artificially with three hearts, aware that if Fazli's three-club bid was based on a long, solid suit, it could not be hearts. Fazli thereupon jumped to four spades, indicating a powerful eightcard spade suit, one ace and a void in an unspecified side suit! Ata-Ullah's five-club bid showed first-round control of that suit, and Fazli's five-diamond bid identified his void in diamonds. This was all North needed to know, and he jumped to six spades, closing the bidding. There was nothing to the play.

The Pakistani pair were using a system called SAAPP (Stone-Age

Fazli ruffed the diamond lead. cashed the Λ-K of trumps and king of clubs, then led a heart, losing only the heart ace to score 1.430 points.

It was a magnificent triumph for the SAAPP system. The same deal was played at four other tables, and at each of them the South player opened the bidding with four spades. This was followed by three passes at

Annie's Mailbox ®

Dear Annie: My husband and I have been married for three years. He has three teenage children from a previous marriage. His ex-wife is manipulative and controlling. She gets my husband to fix her stairs, give her gas money and pay for the kids' school trips and extras, even though that is part of the child support. And somehow, we always end up with the kids here. Every weekend, she coincidently "has to work." My husband and I have no time to be alone together. His ex has brainwashed the kids about me, convincing them I'm a horrible person and a threat to their existence. I've been nothing but welcoming, positive and kind, and I attend all of their activities.

She is trying to destroy our marriage, and it has caused major stress. My husband always takes the path of least resistance, which means doing whatever she asks. They text back and forth for hours on end, and she calls daily and not about the kids. It has reached the point where my husband hides all communication with her and deletes her texts so I can't see them.

I'm sure it's so we won't fight about it.

My husband was emotionally abused by this woman for 15 years. He is a good person with a heart of gold, but she's taught the kids that Dad is a mean, crabby person. Any discipline or rules he tried to enforce were undermined by his ex in front of the kids. My husband now does the "guilt parenting," not wanting to upset the kids or the ex, so the kids have no rules and are given everything they want.

I'm also losing trust, because my husband is so secretive about everything pertaining to her or the children. He refuses counseling. He seems more concerned about his ex than about our marriage. Any advice? -- Hurt and Confused

Dear Hurt: Your husband is more concerned about losing his children's affection (not his ex) than anything else. She is a nightmare, but he won't stand up for himself. And when it turns into an argument with you, it only adds to the problem. We know you want "alone" time, but his kids are part of the package, and you must schedule around them, the same as any other parent. If you need counseling, please get it, even if your husband won't go. Meanwhile, you can find help through the National Stepfamily Resource Center (stepfamilies.info).

Dear Annie: My sister's daughter-in-law is pregnant with her first child, and my sister is in a dilemma about whether or not to host a baby shower. Her son and daughter-inlaw never come to any family functions, and his wife has never attended any family bridal and baby shower. I seriously doubt that any family members would recognize her if they passed her on the street.

Is it tacky to have a baby shower and invite family members who really don't know her? -- Baby Shower Dilemma

Dear Dilemma:

Technically, showers should not be given by immediate family members (e.g., grandma-to-be). Nonetheless, we know many people do this anyway. A shower is about providing for the child. Your sister wants to do something nice for her daughter-in-law and ensure a good relationship with the new grandchild. It's OK to invite family members, and those who don't wish to attend (for any reason) can RSVP that they won't be there.

Dear Annie: "Concerned Reader" wrote in response to the letter from "Need Help," the teenager with mood swings, painful headaches and weakness. "Concerned" suggested testing for Lyme disease. I'd like to add to that excellent suggestion that if the regular test is inconclusive, it is important to get a Western Blot Test that is more thorough. I know because it saved a friend from being misdiagnosed. --Concerned Reader

Solar Eclipse and New Moon

Sometimes stickto-it-ness is called stubbornness, and other times it's called determination. Much depends on who benefits from the immobile attitude. The solar eclipse and the new moon in Taurus put tenacity on tap, and successful people will apply it to a focus that helps many.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Even seemingly immutable circumstances can be changed when you have the right attitude, and boy, do you have it. You'll be filled with belief enough for several people.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You see, recognize and accept the way things are. You may not like things the way they are, but your willingness to be present with them anyway speaks to your inner fortitude.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Though you are educated enough on a subject to be considered an expert, you'll happily be stymied by today's puzzle. You'll take comfort in the fact that there is still much to learn. HOLIDAY

CANCER (June 22-

MATHIS

July 22). You can try to impose a structure on emotional chaos, or you can just let it be chaotic for a time, and the emotions eventually will settle themselves into more manageable feelings.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Handle problems as they occur. If you have to kick the problem to a higher authority, the full reality of the situation will be lost. It's better to have a partial solution in the moment than a full solution never.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You have a healthy, thriving inner life. While the time you spend on hypotheticals isn't exactly a waste, practical knowledge will trump intellectual knowledge at the end of the day.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). When you're not sure how much luck you'll have at your disposal (and who could ever be sure about that?), diligence and confidence will stand in as able substitutes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Someone you're interested in is becoming more and more interested in you with time. The door isn't standing wide open, but it's ajar. This is your day to walk through.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Your first idea will be to kindly, politely get your way. Your next idea (and the next and the one after that) still will involve getting your way. You will have many, many ideas before you consider a compromise.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Multitasking doesn't really work for the vast majority of people, and even if it did work, it doesn't look as cool as doing one thing really well and with full attention.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (April 28). Give your imagination a regular and disciplined workout, because this year will often be as you imagine it. Spoil yourself over the next five weeks. You'll need to be relaxed and in good form for the opportunity that comes in June. Friends help you make more money in July. New relationships thrive in August. Libra and Scorpio people adore

you. Your lucky numbers are: 1, 4, 33, 19 and 27.

NEW MOON WISHES:

There's an art to good wish making. This is why there are folk stories in so many cultures having to do with people who are granted wishes by a magical entity only to squander those wishes away in foolishness and selfishness. The solar eclipse and the new moon in Taurus mark an excellent time to make a wish and start anew. How can you best apply this fortunate energy? ARIES: Wish for something that will help your family as much as it will help you. TAURUS: Wish for help in making a change inside yourself. GEMINI: Wish for the rise of a cause you believe in deeply. CANCER: Wish for a second chance. LEO: Wish for happy, positive feelings without a worry as to what brings them on. VIRGO: Wish for deeper knowledge about the subject that inspires you. Today is Monday,

April 28, the 118th day of 2014. There are 247 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History: On April 28, 1789, there was a mutiny on the HMS Bounty as rebelling crew members of the British ship led by Fletcher Christian set the captain, William Bligh, and 18 sailors adrift in a launch in the South Pacific. (Bligh and most of the men with him managed to reach Timor in 47 days.) On this date: In 1758, the fifth president of the United was born in Westmoreland County, Va. In 1788, Maryland became the seventh state to ratify the Constitution of the United States. In 1817, the United States and Britain

signed the Rush-Bagot

Treaty, which limited the number of naval vessels allowed in the Great Lakes. In 1918, Gavrilo Princip, the assassin of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria and the archduke's wife. Sophie, died in prison of tuberculosis. In 1937, former Iraqi president Saddam Hussein was born in the village of al-Oja near the desert town of Tikrit (he was executed in December 2006). In 1945, Italian dictator Benito Mussolini and his mistress, Clara Petacci, were executed by Italian partisans as they attempted to flee the country. The Bulldogettes, now 12-15 for the season, scratched out an early lead against Post. The Bulldogettes scored once in the first and tacked on two more in the second to grab a 3-0 cushion.

Savannah punched a huge hole in Post's playoff hopes in the fourth. She highlighted a 4-run barrage by smashing a threerun home run over the centerfield wall. Her home staked Coahoma to a 7-0 lead.

Neff finished the game by going 3-for-4 from the plate with four runs batted in. Post answered back in the top of the fifth. The Lady Antelopes scored three time in the frame and cut the Bulldogette lead to four, at 7-3. Coahoma put the win away in the bottom of the fifth, scoring six times. Kodi Howard led off the frame with a single to left. Neff followed with a line drive double to the wall in center that scored Howard.

Post hurt themselves from there. The Lady Antelopes committed a throwing error on Clanton's ensuing at-bat, allowing Clanton to reach base - and allowing Neff to score.

After pinch-hitter Reagan Overton had drawn a walk, Coley Rhinard dropped in a bloop single and brought Castilaw to the plate.

As a team, the Bulldogettes collected 14 hits in the contest, including three from Neff, Howard and Clanton. Taylee Miller and Kendra Dyer added two apiece.
