Rains give big boost to Lake Thomas

CRMWD reservoir at highest level since 1987, officials say

By STEVE REAGAN

The silver lining behind all the dark clouds that have hovered over the area the past week is that water — lots and lots of water — is pouring into Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoirs.

Grant

Rainfall associated with the remnants of a Pacific hurricane dumped more than 10 inches of rain over parts of this area during the past week, and a lot of that precipitation is finding its way into Lake J.B. Thomas, the oldest and driest of CRMWD's reservoirs.

Lake Thomas, which was below 2 percent full before the storm system passed through the area, is now approaching levels CRMWD officials haven't seen in decades.

CRMWD General Manager John Grant said that, as of this morning, Lake Thomas has risen 33.8 feet and is now 42.9 percent full. More than 26 billion gallons of water have poured into the lake in the past several days, with more expected over the course of the next week.

The last time Lake Thomas had this much water was in November 1987, Grant said.

Accused White House intruder to appear in court

By JESSICA GRESKO
 Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Following an embarrassing security breach at the White House, one of the most closely protected buildings in the world, the Secret Service is said to be considering establishing new checkpoints to screen tourists in public areas near the presidential mansion.

Meanwhile, the man accused of scaling a security fence and getting into the president's home carrying a knife is scheduled to have his initial appearance Monday in federal court.

Omar J. Gonzalez, 42, of Copperas Cove, Texas, is facing charges of unlawfully entering a restricted building or grounds while carrying a deadly or dangerous weapon. The Army says Gonzalez served from 1997 until his discharge in 2003, and again from 2005 to December 2012, when he retired due to disability.

The Secret Service tightened its guard outside the White House after Friday's security breach. Gonzalez is accused of scaling the White House perimeter fence, sprinting across the lawn and entering the building before agents could stop him.

President Barack Obama and his family were away at the time. Obama says he still has confidence in the troubled agency's ability to protect him and his family.

Secret Service Director Julia Pierson has ordered increased surveillance and more officer patrols, and has begun an investigation into what went wrong.

The Secret Service is conducting

Gasoline prices continue to fall

Special to the Herald

Average retail gasoline prices in Texas have fallen 2.7 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $3.15 a gallon Sunday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 13,114 gas outlets in Texas.

This compares with the national average that has fallen 3.4 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.34 a gallon according to gasoline price website GasBuddy.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Texas during the past week, prices Sunday were 12.1 cents per gallon lower than the same day one year ago and are 10.2 cents per gallon lower than a month ago.

The national average has decreased 8.1 cents per gallon during the last month.

"As expected, fuel prices nationwide continue to decline following the expiration last week of the EPA's 'summer blend' gasoline requirement," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Gregg Laskoski.

"That's good news for consumers," Laskoski added. "We know that when gas prices rise in springtime it removes billions from the U.S. economy ... Logic dictates that the reverse is true too, and that as prices fall, it puts a little money back in consumers' pockets."

ing preliminary discussions about setting up security screening checkpoints near public areas around the White House, a law enforcement official told The Associated Press on Sunday. The official insisted on anonymity because the official was not authorized to discuss internal deliberations by name. The official said the measures had been discussed previously, but the talks have taken on added urgency.

ally untouched by the storm system, Grant and his colleagues were all smiles. "This is the kind of rain you have reservoirs for," Grant said. "You just hope from time to time to get this kind of rainfall."

While cautioning that one tremendous storm system does not a drought break, Grant added the recent downpours have given the water district some much-needed breathing room in its struggles to provide for its member cities' water needs. "First of all, we still need to get more rain and want to caution everyone that the drought's not over," he said. "But this helps our system tremendously ... We've received 186,000 acre feet of water in the past few days and that puts us in good shape for the next 24 months."

The breach triggered a rare evacuation of much of the White House. Secret Service agents drew their weapons as they hurried White House staffers and journalists out of the West Wing through a side door.

Officials first said the fact that Gonzalez appeared to be unarmed may have been a factor in why agents at the scene didn't shoot or have their dogs pursue him before he made it inside. But a criminal complaint issued late Friday revealed Gonzalez had a small folding knife with a 3½-inch serrated blade with him at the time of his arrest.

Jerry Murphy, whose mother was married to Gonzalez for several years, said Gonzalez suffers from post-traumatic stress disorder and needs treatment, not to be treated like a criminal. He said Gonzalez had been driving around the country and living out of his truck for the past couple of years, and that he always carries his knife. He said he doesn't believe Gonzalez intended to hurt anyone.

Samantha Bell, Gonzalez's ex-wife, said she and Gonzalez married in 2006 and lived together in Copperas Cove, near Fort Hood, until she split up with him in 2010 because of his worsening mental condition. After his second tour in Iraq, Gonzalez began carrying a .45 on his hip at all times and kept three or four rifles and shotguns behind the doors in their home, said Bell, who remarried and now lives in southern Indiana.

Less than 24 hours after Gonzalez's arrest, a second man was taken into custody after he drove up to a White House gate and refused to leave, Secret Service spokesman Ed Donovan said, prompting bomb technicians in full gear to search the vehicle as agents briefly shut down nearby streets.

On Sunday, Secret Service spokesman Brian Leary identified the man as Kevin Carr, 19, of Shamong, N.J.

There were no indications the two incidents were connected. But they only intensified the scrutiny of the Secret Service, which is struggling to rehabilitate its image following a series of allegations of misconduct by agents in recent years, including agents on Obama's detail.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 NT Pass 3 NT
Opening lead jack of diamonds.

This deal occurred in the Canadian Trials to select a team for the 1972 world women's team championship. The hand features a sparkling defensive play — the kind you read or hear about but rarely ever see.

The heroine of the piece was Sharyn Linkovsky of Montreal, who held the East cards at the first table. Her partner led the jack of diamonds. The winning defense would have been easy to find had declarer played the queen from dummy; in that case, Linkovsky would have taken the King and returned a diamond, leaving South in a hopeless position.

But declarer, no green hand, went up with the ace on the diamond lead, and it was on this trick that Linkovsky made the magnificent play of the king! As a result, declarer went down one. West won the club lead at trick two, established her diamonds and soon afterward got in with another club to cash her remaining diamonds and set the contract.

Had Linkovsky not dropped her king of diamonds on the ace, declarer would have made 10 tricks with proper play instead of the eight she actually wound up with.

At the other table, North became declarer at three notrump, and East made the perfectly normal lead of a heart. Declarer won with dummy's queen and led the queen of clubs. West took the king and shifted to the jack of diamonds, but North went up with the ace and led another club to make four notrump.

At the second table, East could have duplicated Linkovsky's feat had she found the brilliant opening lead of the king of diamonds. But in Canada, they don't play the game with mirrors.

Cowboys erase 21-point deficit in 34-31 win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dez Bryant had so much distance on the closest defender, it was pitch and catch. Blown coverage made it the easiest play the Dallas Cowboys made in a comeback that matched the biggest in franchise history.

“No one ever comes that wide open,” quarterback Tony Romo said of the 68-yard touchdown pass that was among the big plays that helped the Cowboys erase a 21-0 deficit and stun the St. Louis Rams 34-31 on Sunday. “You want to make sure you don’t do anything stupid.”

The Cowboys (2-1) had plenty of time to chip away, and no one panicked about the cushion they’d spotted the Rams. “We never spotted the Rams. I can honestly say that,” Bryant said.

Romo has 21 comeback victories in the fourth quarter or overtime, a franchise best.

“Tony went out there and did what Tony do,” Bryant said. “He was poised and he knew what he wanted to do.”

Terrance Williams scored the go-ahead touchdown late in the fourth quarter, and Bruce Carter returned an interception 25 yards for a TD on the next snap, capping the rally.

DeMarco Murray’s 1-yard run late in the first half began the rally. Dallas also rallied from a 21-point deficit in 1984 against New Orleans and 1999 against Washington, although both of those wins came in overtime.

It tied the second-largest lead blown by the Rams (1-2), who slowed Murray but got burned everywhere else. Among other breakdowns was a flubbed snap by center Scott Wells, who didn’t realize Austin Davis was in the shotgun, resulting in a lost fumble, and a dropped touchdown pass by Jared Cook that could have put the Rams up 28-21. They settled for a field goal.

“I feel like I let this game slip through my hands and it’s my fault,” Cook said.

St. Louis is 0-2 at home and was whipped 34-6 by Minnesota in the opener. Fisher said Davis played well, but that Shaun Hill would be the starter after the upcoming bye week.

“So, we’ve got some work to do and some time to look at what we’re doing,” Fisher said. “They played very, very hard. But they didn’t play very smart.”

Murray had 100 yards on 24 carries and lost a yard for the fourth straight game dating to last season, even after switching from carrying the ball on his left side to the right. Three of his 10 career 100-yard games are against the Rams and all leading to victories, with a franchise-record 253 yards in 2011 and 175 yards last season.

Janoris Jenkins’ 25-yard interception return, the fifth defensive touchdown in his three seasons, put the Rams up 21-0 with 6:06 to go in the first half.

Davis cut the Cowboys’ lead to three points on a 4-yard pass to Austin Pettis to 2:36 to go, but Morris Claiborne’s interception clinched it with 1:02 left.

Romo was 4 for 5 for 40 yards and scrambled 16 yards on third-and-13 on the go-ahead drive. His second-half play overshadowed a third costly INT of the year.

“We were able to execute under pressure or whatever you want to say, blah, blah, blah,” Romo said. “We got it done.”

BSHS takes 2nd at meet

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

Karina Alvarado may want to look into a career with the U.S. Postal Service after her performance on Saturday at the Elgen Suazo Invitational Cross Country meet. Neither rain, mud or anything else slowed the Big Spring High School stand-out.

Alvarado splashed her way to a medal and helped power the Big Spring Lady Steers to a second-place finish in the girls’ varsity team standings.

A senior multi-sport star at BSHS, Alvarado was among the top runners at the meet. She covered the 5-kilometer course in a time of 12 minutes and 18 seconds.

Alvarado wasn’t the only Lady Steers runner doing well in the event. Freshman Samantha Solid finished fourth overall with a mark of 12:20. Teammates Hannah Alsbrooks, Kaitlyn Mathews and Hope Arguello also turned in top 20 efforts.

Loree Dello and Samantha Rodriguez highlighted the junior varsity efforts in the meet. Dello was fourth in the JV standings with a time of 14:50. Solis was sixth.

The Big Spring Junior High School cross country team emerged as the top squad in the junior high division.

Chloe Bustamante paced the Lady Steers by finishing second overall with a time of 13:06. Haiven Rushing also did well, finishing at 13:20. Mackenzie Rodriguez, Mariah Chaveirria and Arianna Ornelas also did well.

Big Spring is scheduled to return to action on Saturday at the Lubbock Invitational. The race will be held at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock.

Sands falls to Ira, 55-54

No. 1-ranked Ira scored on a 1-yard run late in the fourth quarter on Friday and rallied to claim a 55-54 win over the Sands Mustangs in six-man football action.

Sands, now 1-3 overall, rolled up 511 total yards in the game.

Rua’s HR lifts streaking Rangers past Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The Texas Rangers are determined to put a strong finish on a mostly miserable season.

Ryan Rua hit his first major league homer, connecting off Huston Street in the ninth inning as the Rangers beat the playoff-bound Los Angeles Angels 2-1 Sunday for their eighth win in nine games.

Tomas Telis had a bases-loaded infield single for Texas, which took two of three in the majors-leading Angels’ final home series of the regular season. The late-season surge even pulled the Rangers out of the overall major league cellar, putting them a half-game ahead of the Arizona Diamondbacks with one week to play.

Those details might not affect much besides draft position, but interim manager Tim Lincecum wants the Rangers to head into 2015 with reason for hope after wrapping up this season with a weeklong homestand.

“Everybody wants to put the persona on us as the worst team in baseball, record-wise,” said Bogar, who is 9-6 since taking over for Ron Washington. “We’re not the worst team in baseball. We just don’t have an impressive record. We don’t want to have the worst record, but we also know what comes with having the worst record.”

“So it’s one of those things where we’re not going to try to lose games. We’re trying to win every game from here on out. And if we do that, we’re definitely not going to have the worst record.”

Rua broke a tie with his one-out shot to left on an inside fast-ball from Street (1-2), the Angels’ normally reliable closer. It was the first homer in 83 at-bats for Rua, who made his Texas debut late last month.

“It came at a good time, and I’m happy about it,” Rua said. “I’m still trying to process it, but it definitely felt good. They pounded me in pretty much the whole game, and I didn’t really take any good swings. ... I was trying to be short and quick with an inside pitch today if I got it.”

Texas’ Nick Tepesch was sharp in his first start after earning his only victory since June, pitching seven innings of four-hit ball against the majors’ most productive offense.

Shawn Tolleson (3-1) got two outs in the eighth for Texas. Nef-tali Feliz struck out the side for his 11th save.

Although the AL West champion Angels (96-60) wrapped up their home schedule with a quiet loss, they still finished with a league-best 52 home victories. They have lost five of eight overall, but still lead Baltimore by 2 1/2 games for home-field advantage throughout the postseason after the Orioles’ 3-2 loss to Boston.

Marisnick’s homer leads Astros over Seattle, 8-3

HOUSTON (AP) — Jake Marisnick is beginning to make quite an impression with the Houston Astros.

Seattle’s playoff hopes took another hit, as Marisnick had a three-run homer and the Astros won their third straight game and Alex Presley drove in two runs to lead the Astros to an 8-3 win over the Mariners on Sunday.

Marisnick was acquired in July in a trade that sent right-hander Jarrod Cosart to the Marlins. He hit just .167 in 14 games this season for Miami, but is batting .276 with three homers and 19 RBIs in 45 games for the Astros.

ly for him learning up here at the big league level for the first time,” interim manager Tom Lawless said. “He’s made some adjustments in his swing. He’s a hard person to defend because he can drop a bunt down or he can rip it right pass the third baseman or he’s got power also ... I think he’s going to be a fun young man to watch in the future.”

Marisnick, who has also wowed coaches with his excellent play in the outfield, attributed his recent success to extra work he’s done in the batting cage.

“I’m just getting a little more comfortable out there and putting good swings on good pitches,” he said.

Houston took two of three from the Mariners, who entered the day a half-game back for the second AL wild card.

Rookie Collin McHugh (11-9) allowed four hits and three runs in six innings to extend his career-best winning streak to seven. He’s the first Astros pitcher to win seven straight since Roy Oswalt reeled off nine in a row from Aug. 23, 2006, to April 17, 2007.

The Astros trailed 3-1 in the fifth inning before an RBI double by Jose Altuve. A two-run single by Presley, who finished with three hits, came with two outs in the inning to make it 4-3 and chase Hisashi Iwakuma (14-9).

Michael Saunders hit a two-run homer for the Mariners, who were outhit 14 to seven.

Iwakuma was trying to bounce back from his last two starts where he was 0-2 with a 12.91 ERA. Instead, he allowed six hits and four runs in 4 1-3 innings for yet another loss.

Houston was still up by one in the seventh when Marisnick padded the lead with his homer to the Crawford Boxes that made it 7-3. Two of Marisnick’s three homers this season have come in the last two games.

Fall Equinox

The sun's passage into Libra is traditionally greeted with a grateful heart. The Wiccan tradition of celebrating Mabon includes giving a nod to the harvest thus far and hopes for future bounty. Wednesday evening brings Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, which is celebrated with apples and honey to symbolize the desire for sweet blessings to come.

MATHIS

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You are showing who you really are these days, and you will soon assemble a tribe of admirers. The individuals who are attracted to you now are just the start.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You have a romantic fantasy going on that may not reflect reality in all its starkness, but keep it up anyway, because it just may color reality in a rosy glow that changes everything.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The one who can give 100 percent to a relationship and then expect nothing in return is a rare individual indeed, but this is the path to true love.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Address the things that hurt you directly. Your tendency lately has been to keep those slights to yourself or tell an outside party, but now it's better to go one-on-one with your offender.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your mood: unpredictable. You won't do the same thing twice. You won't be the same person twice. Enjoy that band of rapt admirers watching to see what you'll do next.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Modesty and good character go together. Seek the friendship of people who aren't overtly competitive. The one who is busy patting himself on the back will have no hands left to applaud your success.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Don't worry about your loved ones seeing the situation differently from the way you see it. They will, of course, and that's fine for you as long as you keep communicating. You'll come to a shared consensus.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The amateurs will be impressed by what you've accomplished recently, but those who are experts in assessing character will measure you by the consideration and tolerance you have for others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Feeling and giving kindness not only contributes to a better world, but it contributes to a better you. Your capacity for happiness will expand with every selfless act.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You've lived remarkable moments. People ask you to talk about what you've seen, but there's much of your experience that is powerfully beyond what can be recounted in words.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You go where you know you have something of value to add to the situation. Whenever you deprive another of solitude, you make sure to provide them with excellent company.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Your time, energy and love are precious commodities, and you'll give them as such. You can be strong in yourself and still be there for your loved ones. That's the balance you'll work on today.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 22). Because you're grateful, you'll get much more than you asked for this year. You'll take a risk in October and be better for the unexpected outcome. The exciting commotion in November involves a new player in your life movie. December and February bring financial opportunities. Seal a deal in January. Leo and Pisces people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 11, 3, 33, 29 and 41.

HAPPY MABON 2014: The fall equinox has been celebrated by mankind for thousands of years, and the themes are pretty much the same all over the world. The thinking goes something like this: The day and night are equal now, and that's pretty neat. But it also means that there are harsh times to come. It will get cold. The plants will die. Survival depends on our ability to get to work, gather things, store things and prepare for the worst. So let's get to work and appease the gods -- we need them on our side right now.

There are many holidays around this time of the year: Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, Oktoberfest, the feast of Saint Michael, and one of my favorites is the Chinese and Vietnamese Mooncake Festival. The legend goes that the moon has her birthday on this day. People offer up food and presents to the moon, and she is rumored to shower flowers down to Earth like lunar confetti.

However you decide to celebrate the day, you'll be in line with the feeling of this passage when you include these three things: 1. A grateful heart. 2. The spirit of sharing. 3. The intention to get to work in the weeks to come.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: With more than 45 million records sold and numerous music-industry awards to his name, operatic tenor Andrea Bocelli lives up to his sign's reputation for high standards and hard work. His sun, Mercury, Venus and Pluto are all in Virgo. His moon in Capricorn shows a competitive spirit and relentless drive. There are few singers in the world who could compete with this level of success.

Annie's Mailbox

KATHY MITCHELL
MARCY SUGAR

Dear Annie: My brother, "Ned," worked alongside my dad for many years. Now that Dad is getting up in years, Ned has taken over the business.

Ned has had a drinking problem for a long time. Ten years ago, he landed a lucrative contract for the business, and my parents were able to put money in the bank. Since then, however, his drinking has become worse, and he has been unable to get any contracts at all. His temper has become volatile, and he briefly went to jail. He eats my parents out of house and home and ruins our family get-togethers by arguing with everyone. He threatens to sell his house, move to Hawaii and end his life if anyone tries to confront him. He refuses treatment.

We are all worried about Ned, but mostly, we are concerned about my parents' health. They don't know how to handle Ned's irrational behavior anymore and want to close the business before they lose everything. What do you suggest? -- Worried Sis

Dear Sis: If your parents still own the business, they ought to sell it, unless they can hire someone else to run it profitably. But if Ned is a part owner, your parents will need to consult an attorney. Ned's drinking, his volatile temper and his threats are not within their control. He has to want help and may need to hit rock bottom to get there. In the meantime, your parents have to protect themselves. Start by contacting Al-Anon (al-anon-alateen.org).

Dear Annie: I have owned all kinds of pets and have always loved them dearly and considered them "family." I can understand signing their name on birthday cards, holiday cards, etc. But I was surprised when I received a sympathy card with the signatures of the husband and wife along with the pet's name and paw print. Do you think this is appropriate? -- Still Grieving

Dear Still: The dog's paw print changes the tone of the card from sympathetic to "cute." It is not appropriate, but some folks simply don't consider how that type of card is going to be received by someone in mourning. We don't believe they meant to treat your grief lightly. Please forgive them. Our condolences on your loss.

Dear Annie: I can't believe you told "Mom" that her arriving college freshman daughter should tolerate her new roommate's boyfriend staying overnight in their dorm room.

Obviously, the mom should get in touch with the roommate's parents and tell them she vetoes this plan. The young couple can then be angry with the mom, not the new roommate. Or if need be, call the university and request a new roommate ASAP.

This is where the sexual revolution has led us. The most shameless behavior is supposed to be tolerated by everyone for fear of "rocking the boat!" -- Mother of Two College Students

Dear Mother of Two: We didn't tell her to "tolerate" it. We told her to talk to her roommate and ask that the boyfriend spend his evenings elsewhere and also to request a new roommate as soon as it can be arranged. But here's where we disagree: We don't believe the parents should be working this out. This girl is now an adult, and part of the college experience is learning how to manage these types of situations without parental assistance. She needs to deal with this roommate on her own. We hope she will assert herself.

Dear Readers: Today is Family Day (casafamilyday.org). Studies show that children who eat dinner with their parents have a reduced risk of substance abuse. Please try to make meals a family event.
