Confidential depression screenings slated by West Texas Centers, SMMC

Special to the Herald

Big Spring State Hospital and West Texas Centers will offer free and confidential depression screenings, Thursday, Oct. 9, on National Depression Screening Day.

Big Spring State Hospital and West Texas Centers began offering the screenings in 2000 to the Howard County community. Scenic Mountain Medical Center in 2007 began its partnership with the two agencies to provide screenings at the medical center.

The screenings will be held on the fourth floor of SMMC, 1601 W. 11th Place, Big Spring, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Screenings are free and are open to people of any age, said West Texas Centers CEO Shelley Smith, LMSW. Upon arrival, attendees are provided with a short questionnaire and will visit with a mental health professional to review the answers.

"These are questions provided by the National Depression Screening Day organization," Smith said. "The answers to this set of questions gives us insight and a starting-off point for dialogue."

The clinicians and attendees review the answers together, which gives the mental health experts an idea if follow-up care for depression is necessary or if the person is only experiencing a sad period in his or her life.

"The screening tool has really been very helpful in determining whether the attendees need to be seen for follow-up care either as an outpatient or an inpatient," said Lorie Dunnam, Big Spring State Hospital superintendent. "We have seen people at our depression screenings who have lived with depression for years and needed professional help for their illness. They have been so thankful for these screenings."

Mental health professionals at the screenings do not diagnose depression. But following the screening and interview, they may suggest avenues participants can pursue, Dunnam said.

Depression affects more than 15 million Americans each year, according to the National Mental Health Association. Clinical depression is treatable through a variety of methods, including medications and psychotherapy or a combination of the two.

Other people may be living with periods of sadness or have experienced a difficult time and are feeling that they will never be happy again.

News in brief

Hong Kong police warn pro-democracy protesters not to occupy government buildings

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong police warned of serious consequences if pro-democracy protesters try to occupy or surround government buildings, as they have threatened to do if the territory's leader doesn't resign by midnight Thursday.

The warning came as tensions grew with the approach of a deadline set by students protest leaders for the city's Beijing-backed top leader, Leung Chun-ying, to step down — part of broader demonstrations pushing for electoral reforms for the Asian financial center.

Protesters have sought to block the entry to the main government headquarters since Wednesday night in a tense standoff that led to police forming a human cordon inside the compound's gates.

"This action will obstruct officers from carrying out their duties which could lead to serious consequences," Hong Kong police spokesman Steve Hui told reporters. "It will also allow criminals to take advantage of the situation and the public order could be undermined."

Man who brought Ebola to US told nurse he just arrived from Africa, but was still sent home

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas emergency room sent a man with Ebola home last week, even though he told a nurse that he had been in disease-ravaged West Africa, and officials at the hospital are considering if they would have acted differently had the entire medical staff been aware.

The decision by Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital to release the patient, who had recently arrived from Liberia, could have put others at risk of exposure to Ebola before the man went back to the ER a couple of days later when his condition worsened.

A nine-member team of federal health officials was tracking anyone who had close contact with the man after he fell ill on Sept. 24. The group of 12 to 18 people included three members of the ambulance crew that took him to the hospital, as well as a handful of schoolchildren.

They will be checked every day for 21 days, the disease's incubation period.

Minneapolis community guards against extremists who try to recruit young Somalis for jihad

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Every evening after work, Abdirizak Bihi strolls through neighborhood parks where young Somalis shoot hoops and play soccer. He tells jokes, urges them to clean up their trash and even grabs the basketball to take a few shots.

It may seem like fun, but Bihi's eyes are scanning the playgrounds and ball courts of Minneapolis for something sinister — anyone who might try to recruit these kids to join a jihad overseas.

If Bihi doesn't show up for his personal patrol for five, six or seven days, "somehow the word gets out, and they're back," he said.

Community members and law enforcement officials are on a mission to stamp out terror recruiting in Minneapolis, home to the largest Somali population in the United States. A handful of people from the community have left to join militant groups in Syria within the last year.

Oslo latest city to drop out of Olympics race

The Olympics that no one seems to want is down to just two candidates.

Oslo became the latest city to drop its bid for the 2022 Winter Games after the Norwegian government rejected financial backing for the project on Wednesday amid concerns the games were too costly — a decision the IOC said was based on “half-truths and factual inaccuracies.”

Oslo's exit leaves Beijing and Almaty, Kazakhstan, as the only two contenders.

Oslo is the fourth city to pull out of a race that has been thrown into turmoil in the wake of the 2014 Winter Games in Sochi, where the overall price tag was put at $51 billion, scaring off politicians and taxpayers and leaving the International Olympic Committee with a major image crisis.

Oslo's fate was sealed after the ruling Conservative party failed to support financial guarantees for the bid. Lawmaker Trond Helleland said it was a split vote and the party could not propose that the government go ahead with the candidacy.

The junior partner in the minority coalition voted against the bid four months ago, and polls have shown that more than 50 percent of Norwegians are opposed.

Prime Minister Erna Solberg said there was not enough support to spend 35 billion kroner ($5.4 billion) on the Olympics.

“It's important to get support for such an expensive project and there is not enough to carry through such an expensive project,” she told Norwegian NRK television. “Without enthusiasm, it's not natural to carry this through.” Stockholm; Krakow, Poland; and Lviv, Ukraine, withdrew their bids in recent months. Before that, potentially strong bids from St. Moritz, Switzerland, and Munich, Germany, were dropped after being rejected by voters in referendums.

The IOC will select the 2022 host city on July 31, 2015, in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Beijing, which selected the 2008 Olympics, is seeking to become the first city to host both summer and winter games. Almaty, a city in Central Asia which hosted the 2011 Winter Asian Games, bid for the 2014 Olympics but failed to make the final short list.

In a strongly-worded statement, IOC executive director Christophe Dubi described Norway's decision as a “missed opportunity” for the city and country. He said Norway would miss out on $880 million in sponsorship and television revenues that the IOC will provide to the 2022 host city.

Dubi said the Norwegian bid team asked for a meeting with the IOC earlier this year for an explanation of all the requirements and costs.

“Unfortunately, Oslo sent neither a senior member of the bid team nor a government official to this meeting,” Dubi said. “For this reason, senior politicians in Norway appear not to have been properly briefed on the process and were left to take their decisions on the basis of half-truths and factual inaccuracies.”

Bumgarner, Giants silence Pirates 8-0 to advance to NLDS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Brandon Crawford figured the San Francisco Giants needed one run, maybe two, the way ace Madison Bumgarner was dealing.

A grand slam provided all that and more, silencing a revved-up crowd and propelling San Francisco into the meat of the playoffs. Streaking in May and slumping in September, the Giants are back to their old resilient selves in October.

Hey, it's what they do this time of year.

Crawford's slam off Edinson Volquez in the fourth inning led the Giants to an 8-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League wild-card game Wednesday night, Washington for the best-of-five Division Series starting Friday.

“We thrive in these situations,” Crawford said. “I don't know what it is. We just keep fighting no matter what the circumstance.”

The Giants won their eighth consecutive postseason game and seventh straight with their season on the line, a streak that dates back to their run to a World Series title in 2012. While much work remains before they can start thinking about the franchise's eighth championship, there was certainly a familiar feeling at PNC Park as San Francisco silenced the Pirates.

“We've been through it before, a lot of this team has,” Brandon Belt said. “We used that experience tonight. We know when we get in these situations we're going to have a good ballclub.”

Particularly when Bumgarner is on the mound. He tossed a four-hitter with 10 strikeouts, needing 109 pitches to put a quick end to Pittsburgh's second straight playoff appearance.

Sliding his fastball with a slider and curve the Pirates rarely touched, Bumgarner was in complete control and looked very much like the ace who won 18 games during San Francisco's bumpy regular season.

“If you don't want to pitch in these games, you probably need to find something else to do,” he said.

No chance of that for Bumgarner or the rest of a roster that flourishes once the calendar flips past September. Crawford's grand slam was the first in postseason history by a shortstop — and he wasn't aiming for the fences.

With the bases loaded in the fourth and nobody out in a scoreless game, Crawford turned on Volquez's hanging breaking ball and sent it to right. Pittsburgh's Travis Snider waited to play it off the wall. He never got the chance, instead slumping his shoulders as the ball landed a couple of rows deep to give the Giants a 4-0 lead that felt considerably larger.

“I was in shock a little bit,” Crawford said.

So were the Pirates, who never recovered. One night after Kansas City edged Oakland in a thrilling start to baseball's postseason, this one was over by the middle innings.

Overpowering one of the NL's best lineups, Bumgarner walked one and threw 79 strikes in his latest stellar October performance. The big left-hander, who allowed only four singles, has thrown 15 scoreless innings in two World Series starts.

Manning about to join Favre in the 500 TD club

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Peyton Manning's next touchdown throw will be his 500th, and he's spreading the credit around just like he does the football.

The five-time MVP doesn't like to talk about individual accomplishments.

As he approaches another milestone in a career filled with so many big moments, however, Manning took time Wednesday to reflect on all the help he's received on his 499 TD passes.

He acknowledged that yes, he looks at his TD throws and interceptions every year because if the former is high and the latter low, “that means you're getting your team in the end zone and that means you're protecting the ball. I think that particular statistic usually leads to winning football games.”

“As far as the other thing, obviously, you're just trying to win this football game,” Manning said. “But when asked about it, I have reflected on how many great teammates and coaches that I've been with along the way that have been a part of that. You don't throw that many touchdowns without a lot of help.”

It's not just the 44 players who have caught one of Manning's TD throws, but the rest of his teammates and coaches.

“As my old center Jeff Saturday said, the only reason I've thrown that many is because I had great protection for so many years. Typical line-man speaking, especially one in the media now,” Manning said. “But to tell you the truth, he's right. There are so many people that have helped me along the way.”

He'll face men who made big early impressions on him Sunday when the Denver Broncos (2-1) host Arizona (3-0).

Cardinals coach Bruce Arians was Manning's first quarterback coach when Manning arrived in the NFL in 1998. And Arizona's assistant head coach Tom Moore was his offensive coordinator during his 13 seasons in Indianapolis.

The Cardinals would love to delay Manning's milestone another week, but they know as well as anyone that it's probably just wishful thinking.

“That's tough because Peyton always finds a way to get the ball in the end zone,” Cardinals cornerback Patrick Peterson said.

The last time Manning didn't throw a TD pass was Nov. 14, 2010, against Cincinnati.

So, chances are No. 500 will come sometime Sunday.

“He'll probably brush it off like it's just another touchdown,” Denver nose tackle Terrance Knighton said. “But I know it means a lot to him.”

Rangers' High-A team will now be in California

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers have reached a two-year player development agreement with the High-A High Desert Mavericks of the California League.

The Rangers' High-A team was in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the past four seasons, and this year made the Carolina League playoffs for the fourth season in a row. Before going to the Carolina League, the Rangers' High-A team had been affiliated with Bakersfield of the California League from 2005-10.

The High Desert Mavericks, part of the California League since 1991, are located in Adelanto, California. High Desert just ended an eight-year affiliation with Seattle.

Grand Tournament slated for Oct. 4 at CTGC

Food and a dance will be held after the event.

The parents of his used-to-be friends have shunned him because of what has happened in our family. I have felt the snubbing as well with my own encounters.

I have contacted our middle school guidance counselor, and she will keep an eye out for our son, but how do we stand up for ourselves? We feel devastated. We not only lost our beloved son, but we feel like outcasts in our own community. Moving is not a possibility right now. What can we do? -- Confused and Hurting

Dear Confused: Our heartfelt condolences on the loss of your son. We know this is a terribly painful time for your family, and it is hardly a comfort for us to say that time will alleviate some of your concerns about your community. Until then, please contact the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (afsp.org). You can find information, referrals to therapists, and support groups where you can share your grief with others who have suffered a similar tragedy. They also can connect you to support groups for children and teens.

Dear Annie: Our father has become a rather strange miser. He doesn't hoard his money. Instead, he manipulates others to obtain things for free.

When he needed Band-Aids, he finagled a handful when he went to the doctor (and also asked for pharmaceutical samples). When he needed rubber bands, he stopped the postman. He tells his neighbor that he's a horrible cook and encourages them to bring him their leftovers.

Money is not the issue. Is he being a master manipulator, or is this normal? -- Bewildered in California

Dear California: A lot of people do this, either to save money or because they get a mild thrill out of the ability to snag freebies. If Dad has always been like this, we wouldn't worry. He isn't stealing or hoarding, and people are willing to enable this behavior. However, if this is a recent development, please get Dad to his doctor for a full checkup. New and odd behaviors can be symptoms of underlying medical conditions (e.g., small strokes) that require treatment.

Dear Annie: You often recommend Al-Anon for spouses of alcoholics. I was led to Al-Anon 38 years ago, and it saved my life and those of my children. I learned about how alcoholism affects the whole family. I also learned that we are so centered on the alcoholic that our lives revolve around him. But in Al-

Anon, I changed my focus and became happier.

My husband was a wonderful man afflicted by the disease of alcoholism. I tried for 10 years to change him, only to discover that I probably hindered his recovery by thinking his drinking was partly my fault. Discovering that he was sick and that I had also become sick because of his drinking was an eye opener. Three years before he died, he wrote that if it hadn't been for the Al-Anon program, we would not be together today. What a beautiful written memory our children have of their father.

I encourage anyone out there to try Al-Anon. You might be surprised at what you can learn at a meeting. For information, call 1-888-4AL-ANON (1-888-425-2666) or visit www.al-anon.alateen.org. -- B.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Mercury Retrograde Countdown

Mercury goes retrograde on Saturday, so this is the time to take advantage of his straight-shooting status. The practical Capricorn moon is rooting for you to say the piece of truth that will put your situation in a productive mode. Venus in Libra helps you do so with social grace and diplomacy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You didn't come to this realm of being because you were perfect and needed to save the others. Like everyone else here, you came to learn. Embrace imperfection and open yourself to the lesson.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You're not worried about what others think of you, but you do notice and feel their approval or disapproval. It's fine if you don't shake it off as quickly as you want to. That's called being human.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Having been offered unconditional acceptance, love and support at key times in your life, you now are able to give this to yourself. Consider yourself lucky. Not everyone is capable of self-nurturing.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Maybe you don't need to improve yourself. Maybe what's really needed is for you to discover yourself instead. Take a compassionate approach. Nothing drastic needs to happen today.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). The old maxim suggests that often the cure is worse than the illness. That's why it's not always in your best interest to rush to solve the problem. Sometimes you should submit to the problem instead and see where that takes you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You're on purpose, dedicated to the cause and willing to work with the others even if it means you don't get to win the prize on your own. What you accomplish as a group will be far more satisfying than any singular personal gain.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). This is the time to achieve a higher understanding of your circumstances, how they came to be and what your specific part is in this drama -- or comedy, as the case may be.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). So powerful is your drive to learn now that books will give you a thrill beyond what real life can allow you to experience. And you'll soon find an application for the theoretical knowledge you pick up today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Your ideal partner may indeed share your dreams of achieving financial security and establishing a gracious home and family life -- and yet this person is also fallible and in need of your forgiveness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Deliver the message now. If you wait, it will only get harder. Besides, you have a way with words now, and your sincere delivery will make for a smooth interaction.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). In every moment, you have a choice to do what's automatic or what you know to be a better choice. It takes courage to veer from the familiar, and you have plenty of that now.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You've been putting something off that really shouldn't be put off any longer. Live the life you want to live now; otherwise, you're abusing the present.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 2). Because you deal so well in the discomfort of the unknown, the year will bring many adventures. Your education will net you a prime earning opportunity this month. Romantic letters and gestures will be part of the November fun. Family connections bring new business in February. Invest in July. Cancer and Libra people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 30, 2, 11, 28 and 5.

ASTROLOGY 101: WHAT IS SCORPIO LIKE? Though Scorpio's

main symbol is the scorpion, it is also represented by the phoenix, a magical bird of transformation. The phoenix dies by way of spontaneous combustion and then is reborn from his own ashes. This theme of transformation runs strong through the lives of Scorpios. In one lifetime, a Scorpio will have many incarnations. And Scorpio is often unrecognizable from one identity to the next -- the transformation is that complete. Scorpios have a lot of fun creating and recreating their identities. This sign possesses great magnetism and mystery, partly because Scorpios do not fear change and do not care an awful lot about what people think of them. The enigmatic charm of Scorpio has a potent effect on others, and so it comes with responsibility. Scorpios must be mindful of their powers and of the difference they can make in the lives of others. Psychic ability is associated with Scorpio, and often this sign will make decisions purely based on instinct. They can be very private and careful about whom they let into their inner circle. Scorpios know immediately whom they click with and are seldom dissuaded from their first impressions.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Annie Leibovitz recently shot Kate Upton for the cover of the 100th anniversary of Vanity Fair. Widely considered to be one of the greatest portrait artists of her time, Leibovitz possesses many of the qualities her sign is known for: elegance, a love of harmony (visual or otherwise), an artistic point of view and the ability to bring interesting things out in people.

Steer Pride Corner

By Geroge Bancroft
BSISD community relations coordinator

It is a festive Homecoming week across the BSISD.

In celebration of Spirit week, students participated in Superhero Day at the High School on Monday and Big Spring Intermediate students showed of their '70s attire Tuesday for Tye Dye Day Players from the varsity football team stopped by Kentwood Pre-kindergarten to read to the students in Ms. Chesworth's class.

Ms. Chesworth's students also got to pop popcorn and glue it to the letter P as they worked on a new letter from the alphabet. Ms. Magee's students got to hone their letter P skills with some pink pig pancakes.

Coahoma Elementary School is holding a fundraiser to raise money for the Student Activity Fund, which is used for classroom technology, field trips, and other student activities. Pictured here are Reagan Chapman and Payten Harrison. This year's fundraiser is ABC pies and cheesecakes. All students have the opportunity to earn prizes, and each day during the fundraiser, one student is chosen as Duck Commander for the day. If you would like to support this fundraiser, please call Coahoma Elementary for more details. The last day to order will be Friday, Oct. 10.

New Mexico hopes 'singing road' helps curbs speeding

TIJERAS, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico transportation officials are hoping a "singing road" along historic Route 66 will curb speeding.

Tigress Productions is creating the road between Albuquerque and the mountain community of Tijeras for a new National Geographic Channel series dubbed "Crowd Control" that will debut in November.

The road uses a series of rumble strips to create music. The driver will hear the tune as long as the speed limit is obeyed.

There are only a few such "singing roads" in the world.

Aside from getting drivers to slow down, state Transportation Secretary Tom Church says the rumble strips will keep drowsy drivers from falling asleep at the wheel.

He says the goal of the experiment is to change driver behavior in a fun way by giving them a reward for obeying the speed limit.

BIG SPRING HOMECOMING

Steers look to 'bring it' against Mustangs

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

Big Spring High School head coach Phillip Ritchey isn't trying to pull the wool over anyone's eyes when it comes to Friday night's showdown with the Andrews Mustangs. Getting the "W" will be anything but easy for the Big Spring Steers. Not because Homecoming will be a distraction for his players. Not because the Steers will have a bigger target on their back after climbing to No. 8 in the Class 4A state poll. And not because Halloween's trickery could come early. The reason Ritchey and the Steers will be extra dedicated when it comes to Friday's outing is simple. If there is such a thing as a rivalry between teams, Andrews is to Big Spring what oil is to water or Penny is to Sheldon. "They're probably our biggest rival over the years," said Ritchey, who had guided Big Spring to a 4-0 start, including a stunning 27-21 victory over state-ranked Graham. "It is going to be a tough game, for sure. We're going to have to get everything together and bring it again if we want to win." "They (Andrews) are a very good team," he added. Andrews has certainly backed up Ritchey's belief through the first half of the season. The Mustangs roll into Friday's showdown at Memorial Stadium sporting a 4-1 record. Their only loss came last week in a 62-48 setback to the Sweetwater Mustangs. Andrews will bring with it one of the more explosive offenses the Steers will face this season. Through its first five games, the Mustangs have scored more than 35 points in a game three times, including 60 in their Week 2 rout of Lubbock High School and 35 against Monahans in Week 4. As a team, Andrews is averaging 39.5 points per outing. Jase Hammack pulls the strings on the AHS offense from his quarterback position. A senior, he has rolled up more than 650 yards and six touchdowns through the air. Overall, he has completed 56 of his 106 passing attempts. Hammack heads into the cast with a large arsenal of receivers to throw to. Through the team's first five games he has completed passes to 13 different receivers. Among the Mustangs' top receivers is senior Braden Grimsley and Calenb O'Connor. Grimsley has snagged 13 passes for 197 yards and a TD, while O'Connor has pulled down 14 passes for 181 yards and a team-leading three scores. Running back Torey Kelly powers the Mustangs' running game. The junior speedster has rushed for a team-leading 301 yards. In the Steers' the Mustangs offense will be running into one of the state's most rapidly improving defensive units. As a team, Big Spring forced seven turnovers last week en route to leading the Steers to a 27-21 victory over eighth-ranked Graham. "We're getting more comfortable playing with each other," said BSHS senior Allen Ryle, who picked off a

Steers climb to 8th in latest Class 4A poll

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor
Big Spring High School head coach Phillip Ritchey didn't really want to use the "L" word following his team's win over state-ranked Graham on Friday night, but even he had to admit the Steers are legitimate.

"We played a team that was ranked in the top five all year, and we came here and beat them on their field," said Ritchey. "We can be a very good team." The state's pollsters agreed with Ritchey earlier this week, moving the Steers to eighth in the latest Associated Press

Class 4A state rankings. Big Spring, one of seven unbeaten teams in the poll, received 64 points and climbed two spots from 10th. Navasota held onto the top spot in the weekly poll. They claimed 19 of the 25 first-place ballots cast. Argyle, Gilmer, Ken-nedale and Stephenville rounded out the top five. Stephenville, the pre-season No. 1, received one first-place vote. LaGrange, West-Orange Stark finished sixth and seventh, respectively in the poll, while LaMarque and Van were ninth and 10th. Graham fell to No. 16.

Park among nation's leaders in QB sacks

Forsan High School defensive standout has been to high school defense what Houston Texans' defensive end J.J. Watt is to the NFL. A dominating force.

IAN PARK ...

Park, a 5-foot-11, 155-pound defensive end, currently ranks second in the state of Texas - regardless of class in the total number of quarterback sacks. He has registered a total of 13 sacks through the Buffaloes' first five outings.

El Paso Hanks' linebacker Travis Fox currently leads the state in sacks with 14.

Nationally, Park ranks sixth in total sacks, according to Max Preps. Jacob Murrietta of Kennedy High School in Fremont, Calif., is tied for the lead in the nation in quarterbacks sacks with 17 with Greenwood (Miss.) sophomore Marquiss Spencer.

Park isn't the only sack artist in his family, however. His brother, Walker, has recorded five sacks this fall, giving the brothers a total of 18.

STEERS

a game-clinching pass in the end zone last week. "We're becoming more of a family."

The Big Spring defense has certainly done its job in holding defenses over the past three weeks. Since giving up 98 points and more than 900 yards in their first two games, the Steers have turned the corner. Big Spring has held its last two opponents - pass-oriented teams in Hereford and Graham - to just 35 points and less than 240 yards per game.

Garrett Wigington heads into Friday's showdown as the Steers' top tackler, totaling 36 in Big Spring's 4-0 start.

"A lot of people doubted them early on, but they (the defensive players) come out here and work hard every game. They're getting better every game, and people are beginning to see that," said senior wide receiver Dee Parker.

Defensively, Andrews has played well this season. The Mustangs have limited opponents to just 138 points - or an average of 26.1 points per night.

Andrews is led of the defensive side of the ball by senior Kenny Bills and junior Keegan Gray. Bills has amassed 25 tackles this season as a linebacker. Gray leads the team in tackles with 33.

Micah Melton has also played well on defense. He is the team's third-leading tackler with 23.

"They're going to come out and play hard," said Ritchey. "We have a lot of respect for Coach (Ralph) Mason and his teams. They will be well coached and ready for us."

The Andrews defense had better be ready if it hopes to find a way to slow Toba Tannehill and the BSHS offense. Through the first four weeks of the season, the Steers are averaging better than 300 yards and 38.1 points per outing.

Tannehill has been the sparkplug for the Steers thus far this season. The senior quarterback has accounted for 1,286 all-purpose yards and 13 touchdowns. As a passer, he has completed 54 percent of his passes (43 of 70) for 596 yards and eight TDs. As a rusher, he has rolled up a team-high 690 yards and 5 TDs.

Parker and Matt Yanez have both developed into top-flight receivers when Tannehill needs to go to the air. Parker enters Week 5 of the Steers' schedule with 12 receptions for 234 yards and a team-high four scores.

Yanez leads the team in receptions and yards with 21 catches totaling 254 yards.

Hunter Hill has also played a key role in the receiving game, hauling in nine passes for 209 yards and three TDs.

Hill and sophomore Preston Alexander both shine as running backs. Hill has rushed for 224 yards and four touchdowns, while Alexander has amassed 274 rushing yards and five TDs on just 42 carries.

A Guess Becomes a Certainty

East dealer. North-South vulnerable. NORTH: ♠ Q 8 6, ♥ Q 10 4, ♦ K 5 2, ♣ K 10 6 5. WEST: ♠ 10 3, ♥ 7 6, ♦ J 9 8 4 3, ♣ J 9 7 2. EAST: ♠ A K J 9 5 4, ♥ 8 3 2, ♦ A 6, ♣ 8 4. SOUTH: ♠ 7 2, ♥ A K J 9 5, ♦ Q 10 7, ♣ A Q 3.

The bidding: East 1♠, South 2♥, West Pass, North 3♥. Opening lead - ten of spades. East took the king with the ace and returned a diamond, and South was at the crossroads. He had to decide whether to finesse the ten of diamonds, or whether to go up with the queen and hope to discard the ten on dummy's fourth club. After reviewing the play to this point, declarer correctly rejected the diamond finesse (which would have been fatal) because the contract had by now become a certainty. South knew that East had started with exactly six spades (West discarded on the third round) and had followed to three rounds of trumps. East had then also shown up with the A-6 of diamonds. With 11 of East's original 13 cards fully accounted for, it was impossible for him to hold more than two clubs. So, after taking the diamond queen, South cashed the A-Q of clubs and led a third club. When West produced the nine, it was a simple matter to finesse the ten, since East could not have the jack of clubs. The same result could have been achieved if South had cashed his last trump after winning the diamond queen, a move that would have embarrassed West for a discard. The key point, though, is that by resorting to elementary counting, declarer found a way to avoid embarrassing himself.

Counting how many cards the opponents hold in each suit might be more work than some players would like to undertake, but it sure saves a lot of guesswork. Take this deal, for example. East won the opening spade lead with the jack and continued with the A-K, South ruffing the third spade high as West discarded a diamond. Declarer then drew three rounds of trumps, West discarding another diamond, and led a low diamond to the king. Tomorrow: Bidding quiz. ©2014 King Features Syndicate Inc.

The Forsan High School Buffaloes will try and extend their win streak to five – and more importantly, close out its non-district schedule on a high note – on Friday when they host the Wink Wildcats at Buffalo Stadium. Now 4-1 overall, Forsan will face off against Wink, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Wink comes into the game sporting a 3-2 record, including a tough 34-32 loss to previously winless McCamey last Friday.
