Council eyes bag restriction

To discuss regulation of plastic sacks Tuesday

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

Are plastic bags an endangered species in Big Spring?

Big Spring City Council members will discuss regulating the use of plastic bags when they meet in regular session at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in council chambers, located at 307 E. Fourth.

As anyone who drives Big Spring streets — or just about anywhere, for that matter — can attest, discarded plastic bags are an ever-present eyesore. And, because they have an exceedingly long shelf life, they're a more-or-less permanent eyesore, as well.

Officials with Keep Big Spring Beautiful and other similar organizations have long advocated for regulations limiting the use of plastic bags, and those efforts are starting to gain traction with local and state governments across the country.

In late September, California became the first state to approve a bill that bans plastic shopping bags, making California the first U.S. state to officially prohibit stores from handing them out for free. Many localities across the country have similar bans on the books.

Tuesday's agenda item is discussion only at this time, although it could lead to action in the near future.

In other business, the council will consider:

- A resolution renaming a portion of the U.S. 87 reliever route in honor of Bill Crooker.
- An ordinance rezoning 16 acres of city property from single-family to multi-family usage.
- Budget amendments.

Gasoline prices continue downward slide

Special to the Herald

Average retail gasoline prices in Texas have fallen 6.2 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $2.84 per gallon Sunday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 13,114 gas outlets in Texas.

This compares with the national average that has fallen 3.7 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.05 a gallon, according to gasoline price website GasBuddy.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Texas during the past week, prices Sunday were 23.4 cents per gallon lower than the same day one year ago and are 31.9 cents per gallon lower than a month ago.

The national average has decreased 28.4 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 25.9 cents per gallon lower than this day one year ago.

"You know, I wonder if gas stations will run out of 2's to use on their signs because they can't remember where they put them all," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Patrick DeHaan. "It's been a long time since we've seen this many stations nationally under $3 a gallon — nearly four years."

"The best part is that Americans are saving a staggering amount of money — almost $110 million a day — vs. what was being spent at the pump a year ago," DeHaan added. "We're quickly approaching 70,000 gas stations in the U.S. selling under $3 a gallon vs. around 7,500 stations one year ago."

But while prices will continue declining in most areas across the country, there is some bad news for motorists in the nation's midsection — mainly the Plains states — but the issue may trickle over into a few neighboring states.

There has been some supply tightness surrounding seasonal refinery work that's causing wholesale prices in that region to rise. While the problem is temporary and may last a couple weeks, motorists in that area may notice prices rising in the short term.

News in brief

New York, New Jersey emphasize home confinement for Ebola

workers amid government criticism

NEW YORK (AP) — The governors of New York and New Jersey are at odds with scientists over Ebola as they back 21-day quarantines for medical workers returning from West Africa, while the nation's top infectious-disease expert warns that such restrictions are unnecessary and could discourage volunteers from aiding disease-ravaged countries.

The two governors late Sunday night emphasized separately that their policies permit home confinement for medical workers who have had contact with Ebola patients if the workers show no symptoms. They will receive twice-daily monitoring from health officials.

The emphasis on home confinement was at odds with the widely criticized treatment of a nurse returning from Sierra Leone who was forcibly quarantined in a New Jersey hospital isolation unit even though she said had no symptoms and tested negative for Ebola.

New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo said such quarantines in medical facilities would only be used in some cases, such as if the health care workers were from states other than New York or New Jersey. For workers under home confinement, family members will be allowed to stay, and friends may visit with the approval of health officials. Workers displaying any symptoms will go straight to the hospital.

"We're staying one step ahead," Cuomo said Sunday night. "We're doing everything possible. Some people say we're being too cautious. I'll take that criticism."

How was Liberian Ebola patient's treatment different from American patients who survived?

DALLAS (AP) — When Thomas Eric Duncan became the first diagnosed case of Ebola in the United States, his relatives with roots in virus-ravaged Liberia knew what questions to ask.

Would his treatment include experimental drugs? Was a blood transfusion from a survivor an option? What about a transfer from the hospital in Dallas, where he was being treated, to one of four medical centers nationwide that specialize in highly infectious diseases like Ebola?

Duncan, poor and uninsured, did not get all the help his family members wanted, and they now question why his care was different in some ways than that of Americans infected with the deadly virus who survived. Of the nine people who have been treated for Ebola in the U.S., only Duncan has died.

"We asked. We begged. We pleaded. I even offered my own blood, even though it wouldn't do anything for him," said nephew Josephus Weeks, who was so close in age to Duncan that they were raised like brothers. "We requested everything we could think of to save Eric. They said no."

Girl wounded in Washington state school shooting dies, bringing death toll to 3

MARYSVILLE, Wash. (AP) — A 14-year-old girl who was wounded when a student opened fire inside a Washington state high school has died, raising the death toll in the shooting to three.

Gia Soriano died Sunday night, more than two days after she was shot, officials at Providence Regional Medical Center Everett said.

"We are devastated by this senseless tragedy," her family said in a statement, read at a news conference by Dr. Joanne Roberts. "Gia is our beautiful daughter, and words cannot express how much we will miss her."

Roberts said Gia's family was donating her organs for transplant.

Another girl was killed Friday when a popular freshman at Marysville-Pilchuck High School north of Seattle opened fire.

South Korean prosecutors demand death penalty for captain of doomed ferry

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean prosecutors on Monday demanded the death penalty for the captain of a ferry that sank in April, killing more than 300 people, and life sentences to three key crew members, a court official said.

Prosecutors also requested that a district court sentence 11 other crew members up to 30 years in prison on charges that they were negligent and failed to protect passengers when the ferry was sinking April 16, said an official at the Gwangju District Court in southern South Korea. He spoke on condition of anonymity, saying he wasn't authorized to speak to the media about the requested punishment.

The 15 crew on trial were among the first people rescued from the ship when it began badly listing en route from Incheon, west of Seoul, to the resort island of Jeju.

Most of those who died in the disaster were students from a single high school who were on a field trip to the island.

Capt. Lee Joon-seok and the three key crew members — a first mate, a second mate and the chief engineer — were indicted in May on homicide charges. Eleven other crew members were indicted on less serious charges.

Court officials have said the court will issue verdicts on the 15 crew members in November.

Whale hunts, polar bears and door knocks: Getting out the Senate vote above the Arctic Circle

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — Three children whizz by on a snowmobile as Gabe Tegoseak, crunching through icy streets in the town that's as far north as you can go and still be in the United States, is hunting for votes.

He's tired after a late night spent butchering one of three bowhead whales that subsistence hunters towed in from the pewter-colored waters of the Chukchi Sea. Slabs of blubber cover front yards all over town, and Tegoseak has some whale of his own to cut up and cook at home.

But not yet. There is an election coming soon, and doors await his knock. Harold Snowball answers one of them.

"Are you a Republican or Democrat, do you mind if I ask?" says Tegoseak. Snowball thinks he's a registered Democrat but says he votes for who he believes will do a better job. In this case, that will probably be Alaska's Democratic U.S. senator, Mark Begich.

"Yeah!" Tegoseak says with a fist pump, and later makes a note of this on a spreadsheet.

SUVs — once a symbol of American excess — are becoming the world's favorite ride

DETROIT (AP) — Once a hulking symbol of American excess, sport utility vehicles are quickly becoming the world's favorite way to get around.

It's a surprising rebirth for a vehicle that was the subject of obituaries when gas prices spiked in 2008. Automakers won back customers by making smaller, more fuel-efficient SUVs that also appealed to newly wealthy buyers in Asia and South America and former skeptics in Europe.

Indian drivers want SUVs to navigate rough roads. In China they're a status symbol. European and American Baby Boomers buy SUVs because they're easier to climb in and out of. Upwardly mobile Brazilian families like their spaciousness. Cheaper subcompacts like the Renault Duster are bringing in customers who couldn't afford SUVs before.

McCoy suddenly back in spotlight in Texas

ARLINGTON (AP) — Just the prospect of Washington quarterback Colt McCoy playing in his return to Texas was enough to get family and friends buzzing.

The former star for the Texas Longhorns will start Monday night against the Cowboys if the Redskins decide, as expected, that Robert Griffin III needs at least another week to recover from a dislocated ankle.

Even if Washington does the unexpected, the past week has been a refreshing one for McCoy. He was signed by the Redskins in the offseason only because they wanted a third quarterback to absorb some work behind Griffin and Kirk Cousins.

"I was going to get a few tickets before (when) I wasn't playing and now it has turned into a laundry list," McCoy said. "I don't want it to be too big of a distraction, though. I am excited about going back to Dallas."

McCoy's return to the site of his last college game in his home state feels more like a reunion than a return.

The 2010 third-round pick by Cleveland started 13 games for the Browns in 2011 before he was sidelined by a head injury. He hasn't started since.

McCoy got the call at halftime last week when Cousins was struggling, and led a fourth-quarter drive to Kai Forbath's last-play field goal in a 19-17 win over Tennessee.

He's ahead of Cousins on the depth chart for now, but he'll never be ahead of a healthy Griffin, the 2012 Offensive Rookie of the Year who won the Heisman Trophy a year earlier at Baylor, just up the road from McCoy's college home.

None of that will matter if McCoy is under center on "Monday Night Football" in one of the NFL's oldest rivalries at the $1.2 billion home of the Cowboys.

That's where McCoy's pass off the railing with the clock approaching 0:00 led to the officiating crew putting a second back on the scoreboard.

Texas kicked a field goal in a 13-12 win over Nebraska for the 2009 Big 12 championship game and a spot in the national title game.

Alabama then won the BCS crown after McCoy was sidelined early by a shoulder injury.

"I've seen a lot," said McCoy, whose record as a starter is 6-15. "My path in the NFL so far has been a lot different than other guys, but I'm thankful for the things I've learned and the experience I've gained."

McCoy will be wearing a burgundy No. 16 rather than the burnt orange No. 12 that's so familiar to fans of the winningest quarterback in Texas history.

And he'll have one of his former offensive linemen on the other sideline in Tony Hills, a tackle who protected McCoy's blind side for the quarterback's first two seasons at Texas. Hills will be in his second game with the Cowboys after getting signed off Miami's practice squad.

Hills, a fourth-round pick by Pittsburgh in 2008, knows a thing or two about NFL purgatory. He sat out last season wondering if his career was over at 28.

"And now I'm back home in the state of Texas," said Hills, a backup who isn't likely to play. "You've just got to keep grinding, keep pressing."

Bumgarner's gives Giants 3-2 lead in WS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hall of Famer Juan Marichal mingled in the San Francisco clubhouse and waited patiently for his chance to share a kind, congratulatory word with Madison Bumgarner.

Marichal understood it would be tough to find a moment with the man of the night. MadBum, the man of the postseason, more like it.

One of the greatest pitchers ever thinks the world of one of baseball's brightest young arms, so standing in line to speak to the lefty was no big deal.

What Bumgarner did in one victory of another World Series championship certainly was.

The Southern southpaw tossed a four-hit gem in his latest brilliant post-season start, and the Giants beat the Kansas City Royals 5-0 on Sunday night to reach the cusp of a third championship in five years.

"It's what you set your sights for before you go out there, you want to finish the game," Bumgarner said.

The best-of-seven series shifts back to Kansas City and Kauffman Stadium for Game 6 on Tuesday night, and the Royals will try to stage off elimination with the blue-clad crowd behind them.

If the Royals can push it to a Game 7, they might just see Bumgar-ner come out of the bullpen.

"He's so smooth. I say that he's cold-blooded," Marichal said. "When he's on the mound, he dominates everybody — everybody."

Once Bumgarner's initial postgame duties on the field were complete, he removed his black cap and tipped it in several directions to the sellout crowd, then offered a wave to the frenzied faithful in orange chanting their would-be World Series MVP.

"Clayton who? MadBum!" one man yelled as he exited AT&T Park in reference to Clayton Kershaw of the rival Dodgers.

It's true. Bumgarner is the one who has proven himself on the October stage, now drawing comparisons to some of the best pitchers ever this time of year — October aces Bob Gibson, Sandy Koufax, Curt Schilling.

"Very humbling," said Bumgarner, who improved to a remarkable 4-0 in four World Series starts with an 0.29 ERA.

The fans are sure letting it be known MadBum is the "M-V-P! M-V-P!" and Bumgarner seems the logical choice if the Giants can win one more in Missouri. He outdid his own dazzling performance from Game 1 last week with a sensational start Sunday at AT&T Park, where he

Foster's 3 TDs in Texans' victory

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — J.J. Watt takes the NFL very seriously, so he gave Titans rookie quarterback Zach Mettenberger a reminder that this isn't high school by mocking the first-time starter with a pretend selfie.

Watt celebrated and sent his message after coming up with two sacks, a batted pass he nearly picked off and a forced fumble as the Houston Texans beat the Tennessee Titans 30-16 Sunday for a win in the franchise's 200th game.

The Texans defensive end said he noticed Mettenberger posted a few selfies this week, including one a couple hours before kickoff.

"I take my job very seriously, and if I was a rookie quarterback and a starter for my first time in the league I'd be a little bit more focused than that," Foster said. "Maybe he'll learn from it, maybe not, but we won the game and that's all that matters."

The Texans (4-4) snapped a three-game skid and beat the Houston Texans they replaced in Houston for the fourth time in five games. Arian Foster ran for 151 yards and two touchdowns and also caught a pass for a score, topping 100 yards rushing in his fourth straight game for the first time

Tannehill leads Dolphins by Jaguars, 27-13

REYAN Tannehill threw for 196 yards and a touchdown on Sunday and led the Miami Dolphins to a 27-13 win over the Jacksonville Jaguars.

"We didn't perform up to our standards in any phase of the game offensively," Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill said. "Defense played well. Defense made plays. I'm not happy about how we played offensively. It has to be better. We have to get this corrected."

With the win, Miami improved to 4-3 for the season.

Tannehill completed 16 of his 29 passing attempts against the Jaguars.

Final road game ...

The Coahoma Bulldogs will make their final road trip of the 2014 season this Friday when they travel to Coleman to face the District 3-3A-leading Bluecats. Coahoma is coming off a tough 14-13 loss to Post.

Cardinals OF killed in accident in Puerto Rico

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Oscar Taveras, the St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder regarded as one of the majors' top prospects, died Sunday in a car accident in his native Dominican Republic. He was 22.

Taveras was driving a 2014 Chevrolet Camaro at the time of the crash on a highway between the beaches of Sosua and Cabarete in Puerto Plata, about 215 miles north of the capital of Santo Domingo, said Col. Diego Pesqueira of the Metropolitan Transportation Agency.

"He wasn't carrying documents at the time of the accident, but his body was identified by family members," Pesqueira said.

National police spokesman Jacobo Mateo Moquete said he was told by the mayor of Sosua that Taveras lost control of his vehicle and went off the road. Edilia Arvelo, 18, who was in the car with Taveras, also died in the accident.

Taveras made his major league debut this year. He hit .239 with three homers and 22 RBIs in 80 games for the NL Central champions.

"I simply can't believe it," Cardinals general manager John Mozeliak said in a release.

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION FOR WATER QUALITY TPDES PERMIT RENEWAL FOR INDUSTRIAL WASTEWATER

TPDES Permit No. WQ0004872000

APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION. Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721, which operates the Big Spring Water Reclamation Plant, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for a renewal of Texas Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (TPDES) Permit No. WQ0004872000, which authorizes the discharge of reverse osmosis concentrate at a daily average flow not to exceed 525,000 gallons per day via Outfall 001. The applicant has also requested a minor modification to change the pH sampling method from grab sampling to an in-line pH probe. This application was received by the TCEQ on April 11, 2014.

The facility is located at 3500 East Farm-to-Market Road 700, west of the Big Spring Wastewater Treatment Plant on the north side of Eleventh Place, approximately 800 feet east of the intersection of Farm-to-Market Road and Eleventh Place, and approximately 0.6 mile south of intersection of Farm-to-Market Road 700 and Interstate Highway 20 in the City of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas 79720. The effluent is discharged to Beals Creek; thence to the Colorado River Below Lake J.B. Thomas in Segment 1412 of the Colorado River Basin. The unclassified receiving waters have limited aquatic life use for Beals Creek. The designated uses for Segment No. 1412 are high aquatic life use and primary contact recreation.

The TCEQ Executive Director has completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit. The draft permit, if approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The Executive Director has made a preliminary decision that this permit, if issued, meets all statutory and regulatory requirements. The permit application, Executive Director's preliminary decision, and draft permit are available for viewing and copying at the Colorado River Municipal Water District Office, 400 East 24th Street, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For the exact location refer to the application. <http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=32.254>

PUBLIC COMMENT / PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting about this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comments or to ask questions about the application. TCEQ holds a public meeting if the Executive Director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. After the deadline for submitting public comments, the Executive Director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Unless the application is directly referred for a contested case hearing, the response to comments will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments and to those persons who are on the mailing list for this application. If comments are received, the mailing will also provide instructions for requesting a contested case hearing or reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in a state district court.

TO REQUEST A CONTESTED CASE HEARING, YOU MUST INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN YOUR REQUEST: your name; address; phone number; applicant's name and permit number; the location and distance of your property/activities relative to the facility; a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the facility in a way not common to the general public; and the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing." If the request for contested case hearing is filed on behalf of a group or association, the request must designate the group's representative for receiving future correspondence; identify an individual member of the group who would be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activity; provide the information discussed above regarding the affected member's location and distance from the facility or activity; explain how and why the member would be affected; and explain how the interests the group seeks to protect are germane to the group's purpose.

Following the close of all applicable comment and request periods, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for reconsideration or for a contested case hearing to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. The Commission will only grant a contested case hearing on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission will only grant a hearing on issues that were raised in timely filed comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. TCEQ may act on an application to renew a permit for discharge of wastewater without providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ACTION. The Executive Director may issue final approval of the application unless a timely contested case hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed. If a timely hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed, the Executive Director will not issue final approval of the permit and will forward the application and request to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting.

MAILING LIST. If you submit public comments, a request for a contested case hearing or a reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision, you will be added to the mailing list for this specific application to receive future public notices mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk. In addition, you may request to be placed on: (1) the permanent mailing list for a specific applicant name and permit number; and (2) the mailing list for a specific county. If you wish to be placed on the permanent and the county mailing list, clearly specify which list(s) and send your request to TCEQ Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

All written public comments and public meeting requests must be submitted to the Office of the Chief Clerk, MC 105, TCEQ, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, TX 78711-3087 or electronically at www.tceq.state.tx.us/about/comments.html within 30 days from the date of newspaper publication of this notice.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION. If you need more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the TCEQ Public Education Program, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040. Si desea informacion en Espanol, puede llamar al 1-800-687-4040. General information about the TCEQ can be found at our web site at www.tceq.state.tx.us.

Further information may also be obtained from Colorado River Municipal Water District at the address stated above or by calling Mr. Cole Walker, P.E. at 432/267-6341.

Harmony of Venus and Neptune

Neptune is the higher octave of Venus, and these two prove the point today as they sing together across the universe. The musical score is brought by way of trine -- planets at a 120-degree angle from one another -- and it's a most pleasant way to start the week. The beauty of the season will strike a chord on levels both superficial and deep.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Laughter provides chemicals for the brain that help you better handle the stressors of this hectic day. Consider taking a laughing break while the rest take smoking and/or coffee breaks.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Your strength lies in your determination. Because you're willing to hit the same job again and again and again from different angles, you'll break on through to the other side.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). No one knows what the animals think about, but fantasy and nonsense are necessary ingredients to human life. So when you "indulge" in a bit of that today, maybe it's not really an indulgence at all.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Your emotional guidance system is plugged in and ready to navigate. Beware that it may take you on a few detours, and you can bet these will wind up being shortcuts compared to the logical or usual route.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Successful people are not impervious to rejection, pain and negativity; they are just good at handling it and moving on. It's a skill you only learn with experience.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Someone suggested that in every fat book there is a thin book trying to get out. You'll appreciate brevity in whatever form it comes today -- it's refreshing, smart and respectful of your precious time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Today will feel like you're both in the game and watching it simultaneously. If you wind up disappointing yourself in one way or another, the thing to do is to hop right back onto your own side and start cheering.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Of course you prize people over environments - although today you'll find that a lovely environment is more conducive to your happiness than most people.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You'd rather act in good conscience than do what is likely to earn you a good reputation. Today, happily, the same action will serve both categories.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). A change is coming for your financial scene. Your wealth will increase as your appetites decrease. When you don't want much, you can be rich with very little.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). There's something in you that says you can do it. There's also something in you that says you can't. Which voice is speaking the truth? Whichever voice you listen to.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You've agreed to the terms and conditions of many a website arrangement without reading the small print -- who has time for all that? As for today's small print, read it. There is good reason.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 27). You're growing a strong competitive nature that you will apply to making headway in a cutthroat environment. By February, you'll have the position you want. Your personal life is much more tender, and love will be a process of letting go of the need to control things. You'll have excellent financial luck in April and June. Sagittarius and Aquarius people adore you.

Your lucky numbers are: 21, 4, 37, 49 and 31.

MARS IN CAPRICORN: The recent passage of Mars into Capricorn brings a matching of powerful energies: the aggressive, action-oriented, courageous qualities of Mars and the authoritative, organized, self-disciplined qualities of Capricorn. When Mars is in Capricorn, the warrior planet is unleashed, free to climb as high as ambition takes him with all of the internal motivation to get to the very top. This is the kind of transit that bodes well for erecting bridges and skyscrapers or for beginning climbing expeditions. Granted, most people will do none of those things between now and December 4, 2014, when Mars shifts to Aquarius. However, as it is in astrology, the transits are to be taken figuratively, not literally. This is a time to decide: What would be the equivalent of a skyscraper, bridge or mountain-climbing expedition for you? Maybe it's a job you'd like to apply for or a marathon you want to train for. Maybe it's mustering up the courage to flirt with someone you've had your eye on and finally ask that person out. Whatever your quest, Mars in Capricorn is on your side, pushing, pulling and inspiring you to go for it.

Opening lead — six of diamonds.

This deal occurred in the 1990 world team championship final between Germany and the United States. It featured excellent bidding by Americans Mike Moss and Charles Coon, who reached six spades as shown with the North-South cards.

Moss' two-club opening was strong and artificial, and Coon's two-spade response promised a spade suit and seven or more high-card points. Moss supported spades, setting the trump suit, and Coon bid four

Earnhardt races to win at Martinsville Speedway

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Dale Earnhardt Jr. roamed around Martinsville Speedway as a child, soaking in the sights and the sounds and the smells while his dad collected six of the treasured grandfather clocks awarded to the winner. Earnhardt desperately wanted to win at the historic short track, to bring one of those big ol' clocks home to his house. In his 30th try, he finally got his clock. Earnhardt raced to his first Martinsville victory Sunday, a week after he was eliminated from the Chase for the Sprint Cup championship. It was his fourth win of the season, but perhaps the one he treasured most. "This place has a special meaning and a special place in the series and the sport," he said. "I've been coming here since the early '80s, watching races here. Dad won several races here, brought home several clocks. I remember one in particular that set at the front door, in the hall by the stairs. Had this little round rug right in that hallway that I'd run my Matchbox cars on, listening to the race. That clock would ring on the hour. "I always wanted one. The clock seems so hard to get. This is very personal and very special to me to be able to win here." It was 10 years ago this weekend that a Hendrick Motorsports plane on its way to the race crashed, killing all 10 on board. Lost on that day were team owner Rick Hendrick's son, brother, twin nieces, the team general manger, head engine builder, a key sponsor representative, two Hendrick pilots and a pilot for Tony Stewart. So his four drivers try desperately to win at Martinsville for Hendrick, for the organization, for those who died that October day. It was Earnhardt who pulled it off, with teammate Jeff Gordon right behind him in a 1-2 finish for Hendrick. Hendrick, who often doesn't decide until race day if he's emotionally able to travel to Martinsville, was present for the win. "This is an extraordinary man that when all that went down, two days later he was at Hendrick Motorsports speaking to all the employees," Gordon said. "It's just the kind of person that he is."

he hasn't always been his best while pitching better on the road. "It's Oct. 26 and he's as strong as he was in May," catcher Buster Posey said. And this October: 12 hits over 31 innings with 27 strikeouts. "That was pretty cool, actually," Bumgarner said. "It was really neat to hear."

One thing he doesn't want to hear are questions about fatigue or a tired arm, or even his high innings count at this stage. The durable, 6-foot-5, 235-pound pitcher from Hickory, North Carolina, swears he can handle it all physically. San Francisco's relievers were thrilled they got to watch it and not warm up the way Bumgarner was dealing.

"I've never seen a better overall starter's performance in the playoffs than that," fellow lefty Jeremy Affeldt said. "He continues to amaze us a little bit. That was a performance I actually became a fan in the ninth. I was really, really happy to say I got to watch that game."

Who could blame Affeldt? Bumgarner struck out eight and didn't walk a single batter. No Royals baserunners reached third base. Bumgarner pitched the first World Series since Josh Beckett did so for the Marlins in the 2003 Game 6 finale at Yankee Stadium.

It was the lefty's second this month. Bumgarner got the wild-card Giants' special run going with a 109-pitch, 10-strikeout four-hitter in an 8-0 win at Pittsburgh in the one-game playoff Oct. 1.

WIN

he's done that in his career.

The performance marked Foster's 31st career 100-yard rushing game, tying Priest Holmes for the most in NFL history by an undrafted player.

"He makes a lot of yards because of his vision," Houston coach Bill O'Brien said. "He sets up blocks well. He has great instincts. He's good in the passing game. It's all the things I've said from day one with him. He's tough and he's a big back. He's hard to tackle. He had a whale of a football game."

Texans linebacker Jadeveon Clowney played for the first time since hurting his knee in the season opener. Clowney played mostly in passing situations and finished with one tackle.

Mettenberger turned the ball over twice, finishing with 299 yards passing and two touchdowns. The Titans go into their bye at 2-6.
