County purchases two new copiers

Commissioners voted unanimously Monday to purchase two copy machines from Canon. Bids were submitted by Canon, Minolta and Xerox. Commissioners decided to purchase two model NP 270 Canon machines at a bid price of $7,150. The Canon representative offered $1,170 for trade in for the county's old machine. The county owes approximately $1,100 on the old machine. Service and maintenance cost will be based on the actual use of the machines. Minolta's bid for two large machines was $8,710, with service and maintenance charges set at $1,425 up to a certain amount of copies. Xerox bid $7,266 for two large machines, with an estimated service and maintenance cost of $1,742 per year. Commissioners decided that it would be best to purchase two machines with the largest copy capability. The three brands of machines had been installed in the courthouse during the last month, and employees using the machines rated the Canon machine above the rest. County Clerk Joy Jones informed commissioners that Castro County has not been charging certain fees in District court cases, which other counties charge. Jones told commissioners that the counties she had contacted charged a $5 jury fee, a $10 law library fee and a $3 steno fee. Commissioners voted unanimously to begin charging these fees. Commissioners set a policy concerning caliche roads in the county. They agreed to prepare the road bed and spread the caliche for persons wanting to caliche a road. Commissioners passed a resolution to join the Panhandle Plains Agricultural Development Corporation.

They must now appoint a director for Castro County. The corporation was developed to make low interest, tax exempt bonds available for agricultural entities. To qualify for bonds, a company must be 50 percent owned by producers. The corporation will issue bonds, and a bond buyer must be found (bank, individual, etc.). The rate and length of the terms will be negotiable.

Several other Panhandle counties have joined the corporation.

TCGA meeting set Feb. 6

The theme for the Eleventh Annual Texas Corn Growers Association Meeting will be "Farm Policy Decisions in '84." The TCGA meeting will be held Feb. 6 at the Castro County Exposition building in Dimmitt. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. with a welcome and the President's report given by TCGA President Carl King.

Weldon Davis, Chairman of the Corn Producers Board, will give a report on the board's 1983 activities. Harold Bob Bennett will give the financial and secretary's report.

Also scheduled to speak during the morning session are: Lee Morse and Pat Morrison. Morse, along with two representatives of the Central Bank of Coops in Denver will discuss the financial aspect of TCGA's new marketing concept concerning food corn contracts.

Guest speakers for the morning session will be Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, Jim Hightower and USDA Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, John Ford.

A free barbecue lunch will be served at 12:30. Following lunch Sen. Bill Sarpalis will speak, then Governor Mark White will give the main address.

Entertainment will be provided by The Singing Farmers from Hart. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Davis announces for re-election

Jimmy F. Davis has announced his plans to seek re-election as County-District Attorney of Castro County this week. Davis, 38, has served in that capacity since 1977. He is a graduate of Texas Tech University and the University of Texas School of Law.

Davis, a Democrat, recently completed requirements for membership in the College of the State Bar of Texas, for attorneys active in continuing legal education. He is a member of the American Bar Association and the Texas District & County Attorneys Association. He has completed a course on the functions of the prosecutor through the National District Attorneys Association as well as an advanced criminal law course through the State Bar of Texas.

"I look forward to the opportunity of another term as your County-

District Attorney. I appreciate the confidence and support which I have received from the citizens of Castro County, and I will work to be worthy of your continued trust and support if re-elected," Davis said.

Exchange students

'Dimmitt is flat, but very friendly'

By LINDA MAXWELL

The three foreign exchange students currently living in Dimmitt and attending Dimmitt High School are all finding it hard to adjust to the flat, treeless land, but they are all impressed by the friendly people they have met.

Anja Blester of West Germany is staying with the Monty Boozer family, and Owen Viles of New Zealand is staying with the Doug Pybus family. They are both in the US on the AFS exchange program. Nina Moberg of Finland, staying with the Dickie Holcomb family, was directly placed by her mother, Dimmitt's first AFS student.

"Even though my mother told me so much, I still was not totally prepared for what I found here," Nina said. "It is even flatter than I could imagine, but the people are also much friendlier than I could imagine."

The others agreed. Owen said, "In New Zealand, the opinion seems to be that Americans just look out for themselves, but here I have found everyone to be very friendly, open, cooperative and helpful."

However, Anja said that America is not the land of opportunity that many Europeans think. "Americans have the same problems as other people. They are not all rich and out to have fun like J.R. There are still problems with politics, and opportunities are still limited here, too," she observed.

Besides adjusting to the flat terrain, the trio have also found difficulty in adjusting to the different food, climate and time schedules.

At home, Anja said that school would dismiss at 1 or 2 p.m. each day, making the days here seem much longer with school lasting until 3:35.

"And then there are so many evening activities, with sports and all. I was really tired a lot when I first came — I even skipped going to one of the dances because I was so tired, but now I'm doing fine, and I wouldn't miss a dance for anything," she vowed.

"I really like the change in the seasons," Owen said, noting that his country's temperature climate doesn't change so radically. "We never get snow where I live. Last week, we tried to build a snowman, but it turned into a snow fight instead."

Nina said that she lost a little weight when she first came, because "the food seemed so strange. But now I'm learning to enjoy all of it and I gained the weight back, plus a little more."

The girls chose Mexican food for their favorite here, while Owen picked "chicken strips and M&M's."

"Cheryl (Pybus) keeps a huge jar full of M&M's all the time and I keep trying to empty it. She always says she's not going to get me any more, but then Doug brings some more home," Owen related.

Owen added that he misses the mutton and lamb from home, while Anja said she misses the wide variety of vegetables she enjoyed at home.

MHMC official says SHM will not close

The new management of South Hills Manor nursing home this week scotched rumors that the home may close, and the former management assured local creditors that it would pay the debts it incurred before it gave up the management of the home.

Jerry Amsler of Midwest Healthcare Management Corp. of Dallas, new operator of South Hills Manor, was in Dimmitt Tuesday to meet with affected individuals and discuss concerns expressed about the home's continued operation.

Amsler's message is that "everything's going to be all right."

Blaming a lack of communication for misunderstandings that have arisen, Amsler said his company is "trying to do everything possible to straighten things out."

Medwest assumed operation of the home Dec. 1, taking over from Central Care Systems, Inc., also of Dallas.

"We understand that Central Care accumulated a lot of debts with some of the merchants in town, and that is unfortunate, but our operation agreement did not include paying Central Care's past debts," Amsler explained.

"More misunderstandings have arisen from the fact that we don't pay invoices or bills until the 25th of the month following the month in which the expense is incurred," Amsler said. "However, vendors are welcome to contact the company to see about making other special arrangements for a different method of payment."

Since Medwest took over Dec. 1, any expenses incurred in December would not be paid until Jan. 25, he said.

"We intended for everyone with whom the home does business to be informed about the change-over and new procedures, but there was

Coffee is Friday for Carol Hance

A coffee will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. Friday in Dimmitt for Carol Hance, wife of Congressman Kent Hance.

The coffee will be held at the home of Mrs. Bill Lloyd on the Clovis Highway.

The coffee is open to all of Mrs. Hance's friends who would like to "renew acquaintances," as well as to those who would like to meet her.

Mrs. Hance, a native of Dimmitt, is the daughter of Nancy Hays of Hereford and the late Charlie Hays.

She is currently helping her husband in his campaign for the US Senate.

HANDS ACROSS THE WORLD — These seven Dimmitt High School students all have a common bond — the American Field Service. This is their special week in Dimmitt and throughout Texas, proclaimed by Gov. Mark White and Mayor R. L. Fleming as "AFS Week" in tribute to the popular international student exchange program. From left are Kyla Boozer, who was an AFS student in Italy last summer; Denise Smith, who has been guaranteed placement overseas next summer; Cara Higgs, who spent last summer in

Germany; Anja Blester of Germany and Owen Viles of New Zealand, this year's AFS students in Dimmitt High School; Nina Moberg of Finland, whose mother, Pia Nasman Moberg, was Dimmitt's first AFS student; and Toby Tischler, who was an AFS exchange student to Norway in the summer of 1982. Since 1961, Dimmitt has hosted 28 students from other countries and sent five abroad under the AFS student-exchange program.

On the Go

Terry and Zeldia Ellison were guests of Bill Mack in Fort Worth over the weekend. Friday evening Bill carried them out to meet Merle Haggard who was performing at Billy Bob's. They spent about three hours backstage milling around with reporters, photographers, members of the group Exile, and members of Haggard's band, the Strangers. The person they enjoyed the most was Merle's driver who's been a friend of Merle's from way back. They got to sit on stage during part of Haggard's performance. Also sitting on stage was Coach Darrell Royal, among others. Terry met Billy Bob himself.

Saturday Zeldia did some interviews, one of which we will be able to hear on Country Crossroads sometime in the future. Zeldia says that the interviews were difficult for her. That evening they went to Granny's, a dinner theater in Dallas, with Bill and his wife to see Jerry Lee Lewis. Mr. Lewis was not feeling very well that night and did not allow photographers or the press backstage. He did, however, request to see Bill Mack, so the Ellisons got to go backstage and meet the members of his party. Zeldia says this group was especially cordial, introducing them to absolutely everyone in the room.

Sunday afternoon the Ellisons went down to KLIF to watch Bill Mack in action at the radio station. Bill played some of Zeldia's records and chatted with her over the air. He very much enjoys being a disc jockey, and it was quite fun watching him work.

As Terry and Zeldia raced to the airport to catch their plane, Mr. Mack spoke of them on the air and dedicated a couple of songs to them. Zeldia said that having listened to Bill Mack on the radio as far back as she can remember, having him refer to Terry and her on the air was a thrilling experience. Congratulations, Zeldia — we are so proud of you!

The Ellisons' daughter, Tiffany, spent the weekend with her grandparents, Sterling and Dorothy Donaldson, at Farwell.

Island at her daughter's and family, Ginger and Joe Wallis. Her granddaughter, Sheri and Michael Washington came over from Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada. (Michael plays professional football with the Canadians.) They all enjoyed visiting friends and going to places of interest and eating out. Trudy spent one night with her sister, Frances Tatum, in Lubbock before she left for Washington. Mrs. Dennis (Cecil's mother) celebrated her 100th birthday in Greenville, Texas recently.

The Castro County Community Concert will have a Board Meeting on Thursday, Feb. 2 at the Rhoads Memorial Library meeting room at 7:30 p.m.

Johnny and Janet Stanford and their two sons, Michael and Chris, had a good weekend trip to Monahans recently to visit Gordon and Diker Stanford (former Dimmitt residents.)

Our sympathy goes to the Goodwin family in the death of their daughter, Kay Sharon Freeman. Also to the family of Mrs. Ellen Norris, mother of Clara Vick and Clarence Norris, and to Mrs. W. T. Autry and her family in the death of her brother in Oklahoma.

The Thursday Bridge Club met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge playing. Elizabeth Huckabay was hostess and Faun Welker won high score and Oleda Schumacher won second high.

Others enjoying the day were: Bernice Hill, Jo Gregory, Sal DiCuffa, Alice Collyer, Cleo Forson, Andy Schumacher, Beash Bradford, Jean Christian, Louise Mears, Ruth Skinner, Susie Reeves, Opha Burks, and Emily Clingsmith.

Congratulations to Coach Kenneth Cleveland for receiving the Panhandle Coach of the Year award from the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame. Also congratulations to Shanna Schaeffer, Rala Byrnes, Tara Grand, and Matt Sims for winning the third grade spelling bee. Also congratulations to Kevin Cleveland for receiving the award for the basketball player of the year from the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

The Ramey family gathered in Dimmitt to celebrate Ann Marie Ramey's birthday at her great grandfather's home, Mr. Goose Ramey. Her grandparents, Bub and Emily Ramey from Amarillo and her great aunt, Decimae Beene from Friona, helped with the hostess duties. The pretty birthday cake was in the shape of a rainbow and was decorated in all the rainbow colors. Others enjoying this festive occasion were: Ann Marie's sister, Lenora Ramey, a friend, Susan Brouder, from Amarillo, Rose Acker, and Beral Hance. Carol and Susan Hance had supper with Beral Hance on Friday night. They also visited relatives in Hereford, Carol's mother, Nancy Hays, and her brother and sister and their families.

The Braafladt family entertained an exchange student, Lotte Morreslet from Copenhagen, Denmark over the weekend. On Sunday they were eating out with the family — Chuck and Patricia and children, Todd, Tiffany, and Christian and Chet and Helen Braafladt. Miss Morreslet is attending classes at Tascosa High School and she is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Ron Lacy in Amarillo. She is an only child and there are no children at the Lacy home so she enjoyed being with the Braafladt children.

Other families entertaining exchange students over the weekend were: the Gregorys, Sheffys, Thompsons, Nelsons, Bentons, and Bruegels. Several parties were planned for the visiting students.

Keith and Carolyn Rick-enbrode had a birthday luncheon for Deanne Clark on her birthday Sunday. Guests were: Margaret Parsons, Jean Christian, Barry and Stephanie Love, V. C. and Dorothy Hopson and the honoree.

It was Men's Day at the First Baptist Church on Sunday. Dr. Charles Vandiver brought the morning message, Edgar Dennis led the all men choir, Jerry Heller was the pianist (how talented he is) and the men's quartet plus one more, sang a special — Gene Ivey, Bryce Dowell, Matt Howell, Rick Bagwell, and Edgar Dennis.

A reception was held Sunday night for Bruce and Ruthie Ammons and they received a money basket. Bruce has been the youth director at the First Baptist Church and he will have a similar position in the church at Hale Center.

More reports from the group who went on the trip to the Holy Land.

Rev. John Street said, "This was my third trip to the Holy Land. It is amazing to see the progress made in Israel. Millions of trees have been planted. Vast areas have been converted to productive fields. Thousands of acres of previously barren waste are now beautiful and profitable.

Israel is an interesting blend of modern development and ancient history. It provides the spiritual cradle for Christian, Jewish, and Moslem religions. Pilgrims from every part of the world are benefited by visiting the land.

I am impressed by the changes I have seen; especially, in face of military confrontation and unbelievable inflation. I think of the nation as a modern miracle."

Randy Morgan reported, "Israel, a world within itself. Even though true paradise is in the soul,"

Like The Grass

The Psalmist wrote long ago that the life of man is like a dream, like grass... which is renewed in the morning; in the morning it flourishes and is renewed; in the evening it fades and withers.

As any really honest person must do, the psalmist was confessing that, so far as one's earthly vision is concerned, the life of man has no real meaning. "Our years come to an end like a sigh;" they are; they vanish, and they are no more.

One must look somewhere else other than within this natural universe to find any secure source of meaning for his life. For every part of the universe is like man himself; it too passes away. The answer of the Psalmist remains the only answer and that is, to look to the Power which calls man and his world into existence and out of it.

Let the favor of the Lord our God be upon us, and... the work of our hands establish thou it.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

On the Go

(Continued from Page 2) being there gave me a vision of what the Garden of Eden might have been like, it is so fruitful. My eyes must have been as big as half dollars at times from amazement. Going on that trip was one of the best things I ever did!"

Dan Heard said when he studied geography in school, he thought he would like to see the pyramids some day. Now that he had the chance to see them, he was very disappointed. They were about 200 feet high, the steps leading to the top were narrow, and it was hot and stuffy inside. Thousands of workers toiled for years to build the pyramids as tombs for kings.

Mauzee Youts reported on their visit to one of the communes in Israel called a Kibbutz. The government gives them the money to start a commune which consists of from 600 to 800 people. They can stay for one year and then they are voted in. Everyone works and there is no money involved — they have farms, dairies, restaurants, and craft shops. No one job is better than the other. The government wants to promote more of these communes. They all eat together in a huge dining area. The children are kept in a separate building from their parents, who are allowed to keep their children only two hours a day.

This is Wvette Maynard's report of the Holy Land. He was the only child going on the trip. "The water in the Dead Sea felt greasy enough to fry in. It was very salty, probably about like three cups of salt to one cup of water. Our guide Isaac said it was about 10 times saltier than the oceans.

We saw lots of fruit growing and vegetables. We had never seen cauliflower heads so big — about 14-16 inches across. The orange groves were really pretty. We saw avocado trees too.

We saw lots of children begging and selling stuff. I saw kids at a school on recess playing soccer. They wear uniforms to school.

Our hotel at Tiberius was the nicest I've ever been in. The one in Cairo was really nice, too. We could see the pyramids from our room.

My mother and I climbed up in the Cheops pyramid to the place where the body was put. It was in a big stone box. Our guide said the pyramid had over two million stone blocks in it and each one weighed about 2½ tons. I wonder how they made the tunnel through the rock on the inside of the pyramid that they pulled the big box through. It was carved in the rock.

Connie Heard and I rode a camel from the Cheops pyramid to the Sphinx — about one-half mile.

The Garden Tomb was one of the prettiest places I have been."

"The happen discovery of the first Dead Sea Scrolls in 1947 by a Bedouin shepherd boy started a momentous find and made Qumran a very important site. The most important of these scrolls to the Christian world was a complete text of the book of Isaiah. This script predates the oldest manuscript at that time by about 1,000 years. A copy of this scroll is now on display in the Shrine of the Book in Jerusalem. This building is designed to give the visitor the concept of being in a cave. It is humidity controlled for further preservation of the hundreds of scrolls found in the various caves of Qumran."

Swiftettes stymie Sudan

"Just give me the ball," Shari Schilling seemed to be saying in the final four minutes Tuesday night, and when she got it she put on a show.

The 5-9 Nazareth post scored 8 points in less than four minutes to spark the Swiftettes to a 35-26 win over Sudan before 800 fans in Hornette gym.

The Swiftette defense forced three Sudan turnovers in three minutes and Schilling scored after each one, two buckets were on assists from LaDawn Schmucker.

Another Schilling basket with :35 left gave Nazareth a 33-26 lead. Renee Ramaekers scored the final Swiftette basket with :04 to go.

The win moved the Swiftette's unblemished record to 23-0, and they are in first place in District 6-A with a 5-0 mark. Sudan now is 20-3 and 4-1 in district.

The district win was Nazareth's 85th in a row, dating back nine years. It was the second time this season the Swiftettes have beaten Sudan. The first was a 40-28 decision in the Queens Classic finals in Plainview.

Sudan opened scoring in the game and led most of the first quarter. They were up 12-9 at the end of that stanza.

Nazareth got its first lead in the game (15-14) on a freethrow by LaDawn Schmucker, with 3:19 left in the half.

Nazareth's full court pressure forced seven Sudan turnovers in the second quarter and the Swiftettes capitalized for a 19-14 halftime lead.

Sudan held the Swiftettes without a field goal from 2:24 of the second quarter to 6:49 of the final period.

Nazareth's only points in the third stanza came on two freethrows by Schilling. Sudan scored six points, but the Swiftettes held a 21-20 margin at the end of the quarter.

Sudan recaptured the lead 24-23 midway through the fourth quarter, but it lasted only a few seconds as Ramona Heiman scored on a layup. The three ensuing Sudan turnovers and Schilling's buckets put the Swiftettes out of reach.

Nazareth's stifling defense held all state post Sharla Harrison to only two points (she shot only twice), and forced 16 Sudan turnovers in the game. The Swiftettes had only seven turnovers in the game.

Nazareth won the rebounding battle 21-16. The two teams meet at Nazareth for their second district clash Feb. 10 at 6:30 p.m.

Methods for brush control effective during winter

Ranchers now have an arsenal of broadcast brush control methods that can be used year-round. So the winter months are often a good time to attack brush. "Broadcast methods include both chemical and mechanical treatments that can be effective this time of the year," points out Dr. Tommy Welch, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Broadcast chemical treatments involve the use of pelleted herbicides — picloram and tebuthiuron. Tebuthiuron pellets (Graslan 20P and 40P) are available only through Elanco Products Co. approved aerial applicators, says Welch. The pellets provide excellent control of post oak, blackjack oak, sand shinnery oak, Mohrs shinoak, Bigelow shinoak, running live oak, winged elm, whitebrush, blackbrush, creosotebush, tarbush, cenizo and white-thorn acacia.

Welch recommends the Graslan 40P formulation at a rate of 1.5 pounds active ingredient per acre or the Graslan 20P product at lower rates.

Picloram pellets (Tordon 10K and Grazon 10K) can be used for both individual plant treatment and broadcast application. They provide good control of whitelypear, huiscache (small undisturbed plants), redberry juniper (cedar), Macartney rose, hawthorne, sumac, willow baccharis and whitebrush. "These pelleted herbicides have several advantages over liquid foliar-applied chemicals," points out Welch. "Drift is minimal and the pellets may be applied over a longer period of time and a wider range of growth conditions than liquid herbicides. Also, the pellets are ready to apply and do not require mixing."

Broadcast mechanical methods of brush control include root plowing, chaining and roller chopping, and all work well during the winter months, says the specialist.

"Because root plowing is expensive, it's best used on sites with high production potential," advises Welch. "A root plow with thin blades will keep turf damage to a minimum. Root plowing is most efficient when there is enough soil moisture to allow the plow to pass through the soil with reduced resistance."

Welch suggests seeding a forage species following root plowing.

Chaining involves a heavy anchor chain pulled by caterpillars. Chaining uproots or breaks off brush plants and is considered a temporary control because of resprouting. However, chaining may enable grasses to make sufficient growth to use prescribed burning as a follow-up treatment, says the specialist.

Chaining can also be used effectively as a follow-up to areas treated with herbicide. For example, the most effective control of mesquite may be obtained by chaining an area three years after a herbicide treatment, Welch says. This allows time for roots to die and decay.

Chaining during late fall and winter provides good results, the specialist notes, because the dormant and brittle mesquite plants break up easily. If soil moisture is high, many of the previously sprayed plants will be uprooted, thus removing the bud zone from the soil to prevent resprouting.

Roller chopping is also a temporary method of brush control because of the resprouting problem, points out Welch. However, it can reduce a brush stand to allow grass to grow. With sufficient grass growth, prescribed burning may be used as a follow-up treatment.

"With these broadcast methods of brush control — either chemical or mechanical, a brush management program may be developed around control measures almost anytime during the year," notes Welch.

GS cookie sales to begin

Girl Scout cookie sales will begin at 4 p.m. Friday and will continue through Feb. 12.

Two new varieties of cookies have been added to the cookie sale this year. Golden Yangles cheese crackers are back, and a new sandwich cookie will be available for the first time (Coconut Cremes).

Other cookies for sale will be: Kookaburras, Hoedowns, Scot-Teas, Thin Mints and Savannahs. Cookies will sell for $2 per box. Golden Yangles are a better buy this year, because the package size has been increased from seven ounces to nine ounces. They are made with real cheese and have no sugar added.

The coconut cremes have real coconut very finely chopped, incorporated in the cookie dough. All cookies contain no artificial preservatives, are baked with all vegetable shortening and may be frozen.

The golden-winged lendar "Pegasus" is the featured design on posters, patches and T-shirts this year.

All money collected from the cookie sale remains in the Council to help support seminars, workshops, and other troop and council-sponsored activities. The funds will enable local girls to participate in national Girl Scout events such as the Wider Opportunities program. The funds will also help maintain and develop Camp Rio Blanco near Crosbyton, a resident camp for the 18-county Caprock Girl Scout Council.

The cookie sale provides Girl Scouts, ages 6-18, with a valuable learning experience. In troop meetings before the sale, girls practice skills such as record-keeping, taking sales orders, and making change.

Girls participating in the two-week project will be eligible for such awards as T-shirts, posters, and patches which will feature Pegasus. Top sales awards will include $85 camp scholarships toward resident camp fees and Council events, and $55 camp scholarships. These awards are given to participants for sales of 180 boxes and 120 boxes, respectively.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies of Dimmitt and Hart ask the support of all county residents during the sale.

Senior Citizens

Castro County Senior Citizens Center is open to all persons who are fifty years old or older without discrimination as to color, race, sex, marital status, economic condition, religion, denominational preference, national origin, or ethnic background. The Center is located at Third and Jones and is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. A nutritious meal is served each day from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Bridge will be played Thursdays, Fridays, and Wednesday mornings beginning at 10 a.m., and duplicate bridge on Monday evening.

There will be a blood pressure clinic today (Thursday) from 10 a.m. to noon.

There is an exercise class for everyone Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings at 10 a.m. under the leadership of Oleda Schumacher.

There will be Bible study Monday at noon.

An evening of table games will be held Tuesday, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Quilting, crafts, and table games are daily activities.

Police calls

Dimmitt Police arrested a 24-year-old Dimmitt woman Friday on charges of forgery.

She was arrested in connection with the passing of a forged check Jan. 14 at the D&W Grocery Store in Dimmitt.

Richard Garza Jr., 19, of Floydada, was arrested early Sunday morning for burglary of a vehicle. Kent Irons of Hart discovered Garza inside a pickup parked in his driveway Sunday morning.

Garza was subdued by the owner of the pickup, and the Hart City Marshal and a Castro County deputy arrested him.

Bond has been set at $3,000, and Garza remains in jail.

Dimmitt Police arrested two male juveniles last Thursday in connection with an incident which occurred at Allsup's that same day. $65 in currency was taken from the cash register. The juveniles have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

A 19-year-old Dimmitt man was arrested Friday for driving while his license was suspended.

Four minor traffic accidents occurred during the week, three related to the icy road conditions.

No one was injured in the accidents.

Farm income may improve

While it may not be a banner year for agriculture, 1984 should bring some improvement in Texas farm income over the depressed conditions of recent years, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"We could have a 10 to 15 percent increase in farm income over 1983," Anderson said.

Anderson sees an increase in farm earnings due to slightly higher prices, fairly steady production costs and continued improvement in demand for farm commodities.

"However, there is a dark cloud hanging over crop producers," contends the economist. "The potential for overproduction is there. It could take hold again and put farmers right back where they were a year ago — facing surplus commodities and depressed markets."

Government programs are offering farmers higher target prices and larger deficiency payments in 1984 which should boost cash flows for participants, said Anderson. However, the voluntary nature of the programs and the $50,000 payment limitations will not entice enough farmers to participate so as to have a major effect on curbing production.

"Without doubt, farmers will be facing either tighter production controls or lower prices for the next several years," says Anderson. "At current demand, some crop acreage must be retired. However, the mood in Washington reflects a more flexible farm policy, less government control and market-oriented programs for the 1985 farm bill."

For 1984 farmers with strong management skills in producing, financing and marketing and with little or no debt should do well, says the economist. But agricultural lenders will tighten up on credit conditions, with the Farm Credit System and the Farmers Home Administration handling an increasing number of loans.

Ranchers, like farmers, should see some improvement in prices during 1984, notes Anderson. Reduced beef and pork supplies should help market prices along with an improved demand resulting from continued economic recovery. However, heavy marketing of culled dairy cows as a result of the new dairy program could dampen meat prices somewhat.

As far as land values are concerned, Anderson sees cropland prices stagnating or declining slightly, especially in prime agricultural areas such as the Texas High Plains.

STEADY

Consumer use of red and processed meats, such as luncheon meats, has steadied after recent declines compared to the use of poultry and fish. A recent report by the American Meat Institute and the National Livestock and Meat Board shows that while consumers are still concerned with health considerations — obesity, caloric intake, fat and cholesterol — when buying food, there is less emphasis on price than previously thought. Major concerns seem to be quality and convenience, notes a meat specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The report spells good news for livestock producers and others in the meat industry.

NATHAN NELSON takes a shoulder in the midsection as he lays in a basket on a fast break to give Dimmitt a 79-40 lead over Tulia's Hornets here Friday night. Nelson finished the night with 10 points as the Bobcats routed the Hornets, 93-56.

Bobbies take third in first-half race

Dimmitt's Bobbies won a pair of close ones during the week to finish in third place in the first half of District 2-AAA play. The Bobbies edged Tulia 33-32 here Friday night, and downed Friona 49-45 in overtime Tuesday night at Friona.

The two wins gave the Bobbies a 3-2 district mark. Abernathy won the first-half title with a 5-0 record, while Littlefield came in second at 4-1.

Against Tulia, the Bobbies had to overcome a first-half deficit and their own cold shooting to take a 33-32 win. They connected on only 28 percent of their field shots — well below their average — and no one got into double-figure scoring.

At Friona Friday night, it was come-from-behind time again as Kim Howell scored a tying basket in the final seconds of regulation play to send the game into overtime at 44-44.

During the overtime, Howell and Tammie Washington sank five free throws in the final minute to give Dimmitt a 49-45 victory over the Squaws.

Tobby Tischler turned in one of her best performances of the year as she led Dimmitt in both scoring (16) and rebounding (10). She also garnered six credits in the game.

G.T. parents stress support

Parents of the students enrolled in the Dimmitt Middle School Gifted and Talented Program met recently and elected officers.

Susan Hanners was named chairman. The group elected Wanda Nelson co-chairman and Sandra Waggoner as secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was held to assess the interest in forming a parent support group for the G. T. program.

The majority of parents were overwhelmingly in favor of giving organized parental support to the Dimmitt school program.

Mrs. Glenda Sims, teacher of the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade students, explained how students are chosen for the program and gave an assessment of where the Dimmitt program is at this time.

Donna Clopton of West Texas State University spoke to the parents. She urged parents to give support in three areas: to each individual child, to the local G. T. program, and to gifted education in general.

She said, "gifted children are not necessarily better or smarter, they just learn in a different way."

Mrs. Hanners told the group, "If your child is in the band, you are a band booster. If your child is an athlete, you cheer at every game. We must give as much, if not more support to our child's formal education."

The parents were urged to bring their ideas and goals for the new organization to the next meeting planned for Feb. 21.

Bobcat-Mule game 'crucial'

Dimmitt will play Muleshoe and Littlefield will meet Tulia Friday night to decide which two teams tie for second place in the first half of the District 2-AAA boys' basketball race.

All four teams go into Friday night's games with 2-2 district records. Two of those teams will emerge Friday night with 3-2 records and a chance to gain a playoff berth in the district's second go-round.

The Bobcats will host the Mules Friday in a game that Coach Ken Cleveland labels as "crucial."

"We can tie for second place, then we can start over with a new chance in the second half," Cleveland said.

However, he added, "I'll guarantee you we'll have our hands full Friday night. Muleshoe has a good team."

Abernathy has sewn up the first-half championship, but the jockeying for second place has become torrid among four evenly matched teams.

Dimmitt has defeated Tulia and Friona, and lost to Abernathy (by one point) and to Littlefield (by two in overtime).

Muleshoe has defeated Littlefield and Friona, and lost to Tulia and Abernathy.

Littlefield has defeated Dimmitt and Friona, and lost to Muleshoe and Abernathy.

Tulia has beaten Muleshoe and Friona, and lost to Abernathy and Dimmitt.

If the Bobcats can corral the Mules here Friday night, then finish either first or second outright in the second half, they'll go into the playoffs.

The second half will start Tuesday night when the Bobcats travel to Abernathy for another important shootout with the Antelopes.

"Our fate is in our own hands," Cleveland said. "We've got to do it and Anja Blester of Germany. American Field Service exchange students were joined by several who are in the area under the Youth for International Understanding program for the weekend get-together here. They stayed in local homes, attended school, church and basketball games, and enjoyed a swimming party, meals and "gab sessions" together with their host students while here. The weekend was sponsored by the Dimmitt AFS chapter.

Nina was surprised at the wide variety of things available in the supermarkets here, including such things as squeeze butter, canned cheese and "so many, many varieties of cereals." Other differences the three noticed concerned the schools, fashion and sports. Anja and Owen agreed that the school system here does not seem to be as difficult or structured as the ones they left, and Owen noticed the greater emphasis on sports. Anja also noted that "girls here wear dresses more and have so many clothes, and just about all of them wear makeup and curl their hair. It's not that way at home." Besides learning so much about America — or Texas — and its people, all three said that this experience has also taught them a lot about themselves. I'm more independent and able to better make my own decisions," Nina said. "I even look at my friends back home (communicating by tapes) in a different way now. I see things differently and try to be more open now." "Some of the things that I once regarded as weak spots have become strengthened and other new areas of myself have been brought out," Owen revealed. "I am more open to the views and opinions of others and I'm learning to adapt and get along a little better." Learning so much in so short a time affects a person, according to Anja. Not only does one learn about people and their character and how to deal with them, but, "You also learn much about yourself and your life back home. Things you didn't see before, suddenly become clear. You learn to appreciate things when you realize you miss things that you never really thought about before — little things like everyday customs." Nina seemed to sum it up for all of them when she said, "Being here is doing me a lot of good, and I'm really glad I got to come."

PECAN TREES HURT BY COLD

The late December cold spell in Texas could have a major impact on the 1984 pecan crop. Many rapidly growing young pecan trees (less than 7 years old) as well as pecan trees in nurseries took a severe beating from the prolonged cold weather, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Mature trees that were stressed from a heavy crop in 1983 could also have suffered some freeze injury. This is especially true of Barton, Mahan and Wichita varieties. Also, mature trees that were drought-stressed at the time of the severe cold weather likely suffered more freeze damage.

The First Baptist Church of Dimmitt will host The Four Runners in a varied program of "Sermon in Song" Sunday at 7 p.m.

THE FOUR RUNNERS will be in concert Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt at 7 p.m. Members of the group include (from left) Nelda Thomas, Alice Ivey and Jeannine Wimberley. The fourth member of the group will be introduced at the concert.

Included in the unusual concert will be the use of film slides, along with music and chalk artistry. Members of the group make their headquarters in Dimmitt, spending three to five days a year here, and traveling the rest of the year across America sharing the gospel through music and testimony.

Speaker for the group is Nelda Thomas, a native Californian who has lived in Texas most of her life. Along with singing and sharing, she accompanies on organ and trumpet and provided the photography used in some of the concerts.

Alice Ivey and Jeannine Wimberley are sisters, and nieces of Gene and Connie Ivey of Dimmitt.

Ivey sings mezzo-soprano and alto and plays the electronic piano and guitar. Raised in Missouri, she attended Missouri Southern State College in Joplin prior to the formation of the group. Playing the marimba and autoharp and singing soprano is Wimberley, who also presents chalk art paintings during some concerts. A native Texan, she married Ira Wimberley, formerly of Dimmitt, who also travels with the group.

There will be no admission charge to the concert, and the public is invited to attend, according to Joe Higgs, minister of education and music at the First Baptist Church. Also, the group's latest album will be available at the concert.

obviously a breakdown in communications," Amsler said. "The delay does not mean we're not going to pay. It's just a company policy. Medwest does pay its bills."

Amsler said that some of the people with whom he spoke during his visit here mentioned rumors that Medwest was not paying the employees at the home, or was not paying overtime.

"We make the payroll on a two-week basis, but in December we had a delay because the big freeze in Dallas damaged our offices and the 'brown-out' messed up our computers that issue the checks," Amsler reported, adding that the situation is straightened out now.

Families of several Manor residents have expressed concern about a damaged hot water line and a broken dishwashing machine at the home, both of which caused potential health hazards. Amsler said the dishwasher company would not repair the machine until back bills from Central Care were paid, so Medwest ordered a new machine from another company. He also reported that the broken hot water line is being tended to now that the warmer weather has made it possible for the plumber to dig under the building to get a look at it.

"Rumors that the utilities are going to be shut off are untrue, since we talked to the gas, electric and water companies and explained to them about Central Care's responsibility for any balances previous to Dec. 1," Amsler said.

He said that those holding unpaid bills from Central Care need to contact the Central Care offices.

Margie Sommerfeld, receptionist-secretary for Central Care, said Wednesday, "We do recognize our responsibilities and do intend to pay our bills, although it may take a bit of time. We can't send out payments right now, but we are trying to collect some of our receivables to get our cash flow going. We're trying very hard, and will make payments as soon as we can. Please have patience with us."

She added that bills may be sent to Central Care Systems, Inc. 1131 Rockingham, Suite 230, Richardson, 75080.

The address for Medwest is 2425 North Central Expressway, Suite 260, Richardson, 75080.

Amsler asked Delores Heller of the Chamber of Commerce and Garland Coleman of Coleman Pharmacy to talk to any concerned persons and gather additional questions for him to answer, and said he will provide any information possible.

"Better communication and good performance is what is needed. We just ask to be given a chance," he concluded.

Baker acquitted

Harry J. Baker, Jr., 64, of Champaign, Illinois, was acquitted of felony theft in 242nd District Court on Tuesday.

Baker, President of Texas Grazon, Inc., was indicted by a Grand Jury after the assignment of the profits of a cattle feeding contract to Hart Feeders, Inc.

Chief witness against Baker was Harold Smith of Hart, who was majority stockholder in Hart Feeders.

District Judge David Wesley Gulley of Hereford instructed the eleven man and one woman jury to return a not guilty verdict after three hours of testimony. The Court ruled that the evidence was insufficient to prove that Baker committed any offense in his individual capacity, and that if an offense was committed it was committed outside Castro County and after the expiration of the Statute of Limitations.

"Better communication and good performance is what is needed. We just ask to be given a chance," he concluded.

Check frozen cans

Those canned green beans you have stored in the garage may taste a little mushy when you finally get around to eating them, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

"A decrease in quality or texture may be noticeable in canned foods which were stored in garages or sheds during December's freezing temperatures," says Dr. Alice Hunt.

If you haven't already, check stored foods now for broken seals and cracks in jars or bulging cans, says the specialist. These foods will not be safe to eat and should be discarded, she adds.

Rust formed from condensation on the outside of cans poses no danger, says Hunt, although you may want to wipe up any remaining moisture to prevent further rusting. The food will not be safe to eat "if the rust has gone through the can," cautions the specialist.

If Texas is hit with more severe cold this winter, canned foods stored in unheated areas would have an additional slight decrease in quality. But it would take many severe freeze-thaw cycles to make the food completely unpalatable, Hunt says.

Persons with specific questions about the safety of canned goods should contact their county Extension office.

Four members of the Dimmitt Kiwanis Club plan to meet the Kiwanis International President today (Thursday) in his visit to the Hereford Noon Kiwanis Club.

Howell reported that the funds are being used to help complete the new FFA steer barn.

Other guests at the meeting were Key Club members Brandon Cox and Dwight McDonald. Fourteen members and the club sweetheart were also present.

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Water Resources Institute has posted "wanted" signs for rustlers that annually steal millions of acre feet of water each year from along river banks, springs and reservoirs.

Heading the most-wanted list are saltcedar and mesquite, but also included are willow, cottonwood, hackberry and elm trees that, along with other plants with little or no economic value, consume 37 percent of all the rain which falls on the Lone Star State each year.

CO<sub>2</sub> coal pipeline being studied

New Mexico Governor Toney Anaya recently announced a joint study by the State of New Mexico, Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) and Perma Resources Corp. on the technical feasibility and the social and economic impacts of a coal-slurry pipeline using liquid carbon dioxide.

The study will examine a possible pipeline from the coal regions of Raton, N.M., to a planned SPS power plant northeast of Lubbock.

SPS is the electric utility serving eastern New Mexico, parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Perma is a coal mining company based in Colorado Springs, Colo. Along with a group led by J.A. Frates of Tulsa, Okla., Perma is involved in the acquisition of Kaiser Steel Corp., which holds over 600 million tons of coal reserves near Raton.

Also, Perma owns coal reserves in southern Colorado.

"A barrier to the development of Raton coal is the lack of economical transportation," Anaya said. "If this problem cannot be solved, Southwestern Public Service will be forced to turn to coal sources in southern Colorado."

"I am expanding the scope of the task force I created in October to examine transportation issues in the northwest part of the state to also consider the legal and institutional problems that may affect possible carbon dioxide pipeline construction."

SPS and Perma will examine the technical aspects and cooperate with the New Mexico Department of Transportation in studying the impacts on landowners, agriculture, the environment, the railroads and employment.

"We are committed to work with Southwestern Public Service and Perma to further economic development in the northeastern part of the state," Anaya said. "Also, we want to assess the potential of a pipeline to unlock significant volumes of coal in New Mexico's San Juan basin, the development of which has been forestalled by the lack of viable transportation in the area."

The system would be the first ever to use carbon dioxide. Existing pipelines in other parts of the nation transport a slurry of powdered coal and water. The water then is separated from the coal at the end of the pipeline.

Normally a gas, carbon dioxide becomes a liquid under pressure.

Carbon dioxide is plentiful in underground reserves in New Mexico. It is in demand by oil companies, which pump it into oil wells to force up more oil than otherwise would be recovered.

After the carbon dioxide is separated from the powdered coal at the power plant, Berl Springer, chairman of the board of SPS said, it could be used in the oil field.

"The use of carbon dioxide would eliminate the need to obtain water rights for slurry," Springer said.

Because the pipeline would be a first of its kind, significant technical and cost questions must be answered, Springer said.

"We also want to look at all the potential impacts on agriculture, the environment, railroads and employment," Springer said. "We are very conscious of the possible effects to areas along the pipeline's route from Raton to Lubbock."

"Before we would move ahead with this project, the study would have to prove that a pipeline would help keep down the cost of electricity for customers," Springer said.

"Our primary objective is to get the lowest cost of electricity we can for farmers, homeowners and other consumers," Springer said. "But we're not about to do anything that in the long run damages the agricultural base of our area. Agriculture is important to our company's future, along with the futures of everyone else."

SPS and many electric companies who burn coal as boiler fuel in making electricity transport the coal to their plants via the railroads. Some agricultural organizations have expressed concern that if railroads lose much of their coal-hauling business to pipelines, they will raise rates for grain and other farm products to make up the difference.

Springer said he believes there is enough demand for coal that there is room for both the railroads and pipelines.

"We will still need rail transportation for coal to our area and the rest of the Southwest," he said. "We have contracts and tariffs for unit trains for our existing power plants so we will not be taking existing business away from the railroads.

"But," he said, "one factor the study will look at is whether the electric service ratepayer is having to subsidize other railroad customers through exorbitant coal-hauling rates charged by the railroads. These factors will be considered in planning future plants."

Springer said he hopes agricultural organizations will help study all potential impacts on farms and ranches, including the cost of electricity.

If the pipeline proves feasible and desirable, it would be built sometime in the late 1980s or early 1990s, Springer said.

No construction would begin until the engineering and impact study is completed, he said.

The pipeline would be about 300 miles long. No exact route has been determined and no right-of-way has been purchased, Springer said.

SPS primarily provides electric service to a population of more than one million in a 70,000-square-mile area of the Southwest.

THREE-POINT PLAY—Despite being jammed by two Tulla defenders, Dimmitt's Richard Saucedo (12) scores a basket in the third quarter of Friday night's District 2-AAA game here. Saucedo was fouled on the play and made his free throw to give the Bobcats a 62-34 lead. Dimmitt went on to win the game in a runaway, 93-56.

The increase requested over test year revenues is $149,359.00 or less than 2 percent.

Sales taxes show increase

Based on retail sales made in November and reported in December, city sales tax payments from State Comptroller Bob Bullock to Dimmitt and Nazareth in January showed a considerable increase over the amount received in January of 1983.

Dimmitt's January 1984 payment was $8,007.74, compared with $7,139.36 in January of 1983, a 12.16 percent increase.

Nazareth received $849.47 in January 1983, bringing it up to $885.66 in January of 1984, an increase of 4.26 percent.

An apparent bookkeeping delay caused Hart to show no payment for January 1984, while in January 1983 Hart received $601.34.

Statewide, Bullock said that the January payments are up 39.5 percent over last January, crediting the increase "in part to the economic recovery we're seeing in Texas."

Bullock also noted that a big part of the increase came because 15,000 taxpayers who previously only paid taxes four times a year started paying every month, and thus the money is returned to the city halls quicker.

SUPER SNOWMAN—Kris Keith, 10 (far left) and his friend Justin White, 13, show Kris's mother, Pat, and his 4-year-old brother, Michael, the 8½-ft. snowman they built Sunday in the backyard of the Keiths' home at 308 NW Fourth St. The "Super Snowman" had a tub hat, carrot nose and charcoal-briquet eyes, mouth and buttons. The snow — along with the snowmen — melted in most places Monday and Tuesday as the temperature climbed into the 40s and 50s.

The odometer statement, disclosing the cumulative number of miles traveled by the motor vehicle at the time of transfer, must be surrendered to the County Tax Assessor-Collector with purchaser's application for title.

All certificates of title issued by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) covering vehicles transferred on and after Jan. 1, 1984, will record the latest odometer reading as reflected by the application for title.

The prescribed forms for odometer statements can be obtained from the DHT Motor Vehicle Division or any County Tax Assessor-Collector's office.

102 bound for Houston

One hundred and two Castro County youth have registered 143 entries in the 1984 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo set for Feb. 18-March 4.

The Castro County 4-H has 19 exhibitors lined up to show one steer, nine lambs and 14 barrows. The Nazareth FFA's 36 exhibitors plan to show 43 animals, and two have entered scramble events. Fifty members of the Dimmitt FFA will show a total of 74 animals — 13 steers, 37 lambs and 24 barrows.

The two scramblers from Nazareth are Kim Drerup, entered in the beef scramble, and John Kleman, entered in the dairy scramble.

The 1984 show will feature several new additions, including a carcass competition, a new three-judge system in the junior market division, and a different sifting process for barrows.

The junior livestock competition includes beef heifers, dairy cattle, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers, breeding rabbits, market lambs, poultry, swine and steers. The carcass contestants will be for the market lamb, swine and steer shows.

In the carcass competition, all first and second place winners in the market lamb, swine and steer divisions will be slaughtered and their carcasses judged. "The thrust of the junior market competitions is to develop the best market animal in terms of efficiency, profitability and consumer satisfaction," said Mike McCravey, assistant manager of the show.

"By initiating these carcass contests and disseminating the results quickly after the show, exhibitors and livestock producers know exactly which animal types are producing the best all-around market animal by show and consumer standards," McCravey said, adding that the goal of market competition is to select a champion animal that is ready to go to market now and give the consumer the highest possible return for his food dollar, as well as providing the highest possible return for the livestock producer.

"By inaugurating a three-judge system in each of the junior market shows, the show is emphasizing its commitment both to quality competition and to the uncompromising standards which reflect the most current trends in the industry today," McCravey said of the judging change.

The large number of entries each year in the barrow division has necessitated a change in the sifting procedure for the barrows will be sifted at the Washington County Fairgrounds in Brenham on Feb. 25-26. Sifted barrows will then be loaded directly for sale through normal livestock auction consignment. Non-sifted barrows will proceed to Houston and the livestock show competition.

Also, the show schedule has been changed to accommodate the change in handling barrows. The junior market barrow auction now will take place March 1, as the first of the junior auctions. The rodeo will begin Feb. 22, continuing through March 4. Entertainers scheduled to appear include Waylon Jennings, Lacy J. Dalton, the Oak Ridge Boys, Gladys Knight and the Pips, Roy Clark, Conway Twitty, Charley Pride, Eddie Rabbitt and Crystal Gayle. All rodeo performances will be held in the Astrodome. Tickets are priced at the same level as 1983 — $4 and $8. Tickets are on sale now by mail: Ticket Director, Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, P.O. Box 25395, Houston, 77005-5395.

Reed and Heath exchange vows

reception for the couple in his home. The couple are making their home in Dimmitt. Children of the pair are Rhonda and Russell Heath, and David, Roger and Kevin Reed.

Calico

I'm celebrating! This week holds my favorite part of football season — Super Bowl Monday. Why Monday, you ask. Because that's the day football season really ends. No more games, no more referees, and best of all, no more instant replays.

On Super Bowl Monday, husbands all over the country wake from the dream-like state that's held them since August. They look around the living room and realize that you rearranged the furniture (that was in October). They ask things like, "Have the children grown?" or, "Is Reagan still president?"

Of course, the end of football season has its drawbacks too. You have to explain to the kids that the fellow crouched by the television constantly adjusting the verticle hold is their father — not the TV repairman. And you have to start including him in the family's plans instead of just being careful not to step in front of the screen on your way out the door.

This season has been a little worse than usual around our house. The Cowboys didn't make it past the play-offs and my husband was catatonic for two weeks. On Sunday afternoons he wandered aimlessly through the house wearing a blue and silver t-shirt that read "Roger Come Back" with an unopened sack of Doritos under each arm and the remote control clutched tightly in his fist.

He could only bring himself to watch the last half of the Super Bowl (What a sacrifice!) I started to suggest that he adjust the color on the set until one team's uniforms looked blue, but, in his state of mind, I was afraid a joke might push him over the edge. I still don't let him handle anything sharp. My toddler cuts up his meat.

But, like I said, the season's over and I'm celebrating. I know what you're thinking, there's a new football league, and the start of its season is just around the corner. Never fear — that's all taken care of.

My husband simply doesn't know the United States Football League exists. I knew the USFL would mean several more months with Mr. Potato Head planted on my sofa, so I kept it from him.

If they mentioned the USFL in a newspaper article, I clipped it out and said it was a recipe I wanted. If it came up in conversation on the Wide World of Sports, I quickly switched to an old movie. And I served dinner during the Six O'Clock News.

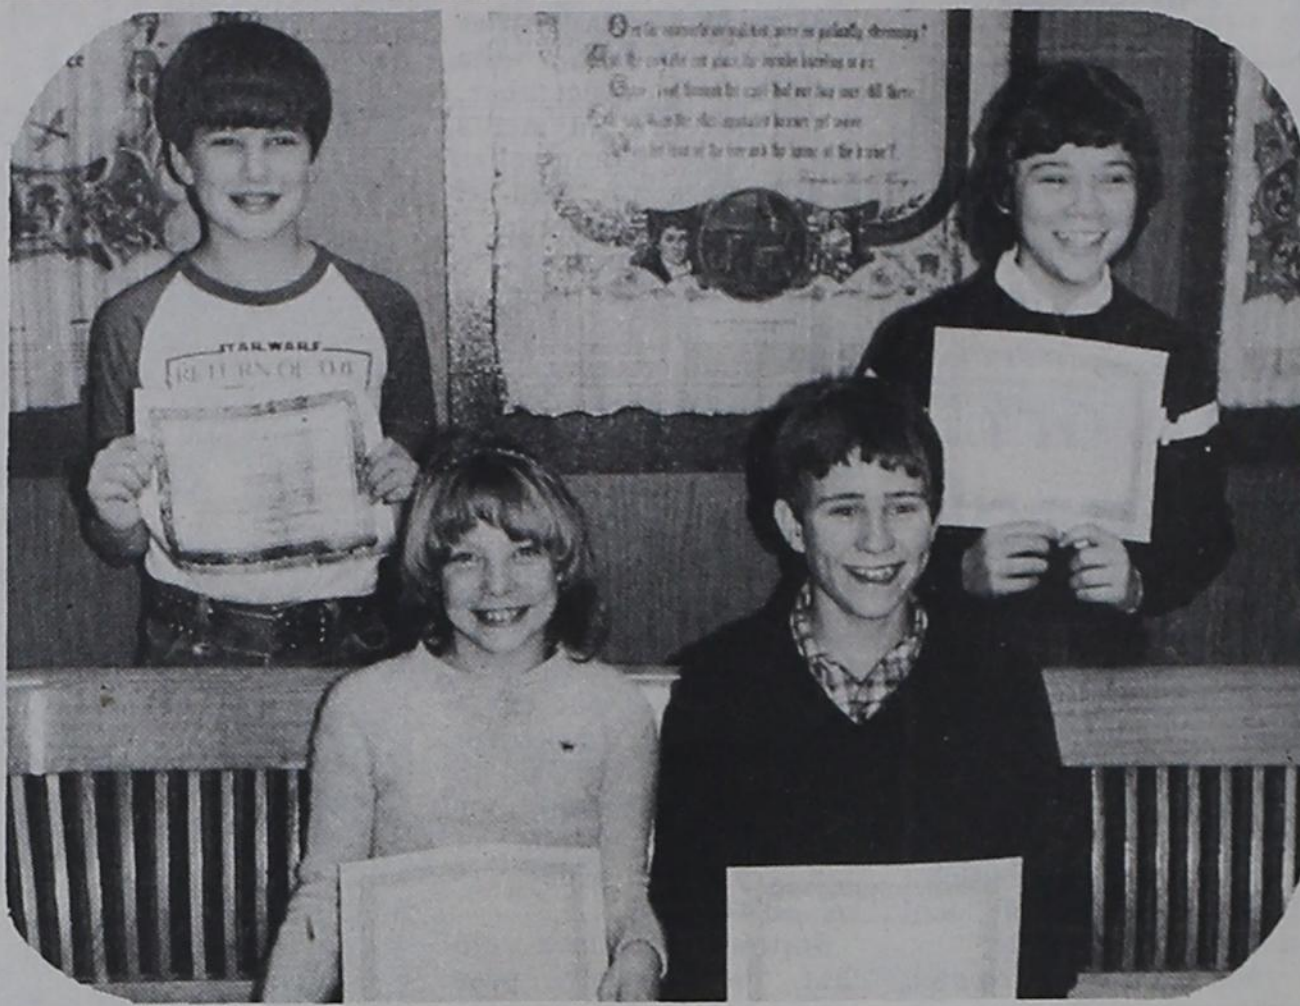

It hasn't been easy though. One day I got home late from shopping, and he was watching the news. I thought it was all over — he'd heard of the USFL. Thinking quickly, I explained that the USFL was the United States Foreign Legion. I said the people who joined were called players and they were sent to other countries to help the needy — like the Peace Corps. He bought it. Actually, I had a sack of Der Wienersnitzel dogs in my hand and he was too hungry to question.

Of course, I don't know how long I'll be able to carry on this charade. He's fairly bright. It only took him three days to put the baby bed together. But, I know I have to try. It's important to me that my children don't think of their father as the visiting TV repairman.

Oh No! My husband just walked in with a huge smile on his face and that familiar, glazed look in his eyes.

"I just remembered," he exclaimed, "the Pro Bowl comes on in a couple of weeks!"

So much for the celebration.

Local Students win contest

Four Dimmitt Middle School students from the gifted and talented program won awards in a recent play writing contest sponsored by the Night Writers of Plainview.

With adult and juvenile divisions, sixth grader Cory Joiner won first place in the juvenile division with his entry, "Surprise on Vegetare," a science fiction thriller.

Second place in the juvenile division went to sixth grader Kristi Sims for her play, "That Special Christmas."

Winning honorable mention were fourth grader Holly Axtell with "The Adventures of Supergirl," and sixth grader Barry Hill with "A Great Camping Experience."

Glenda Sims, a teacher of the gifted talented class in Dimmitt, received a special award for promoting the play writing contest as a class project.

The purpose of the contest was to provide plays suitable for classroom use as a learning tool. Plays were limited to two scenes, few props and a performance time of 15 minutes.

All entries are being edited for publication in a booklet which will be distributed to area schools. First and second place winning plays will be performed at a date to be announced later.

Winners in the contest were announced at a reception held recently in Plainview, with about 50 people in attendance.

Delegates to be sent

Three voting delegates were approved by the Dimmitt Classroom Teachers' Association at the group's meeting Monday night.

The delegates will attend the Texas Classroom Teachers Association state convention in Fort Worth in February, and vote in the election of state officers. Aurora Dominguez of Hereford will be a candidate for state vice president.

About 10 issues will be discussed, including legal responsibilities, computers in the classroom, the 1984 elections, and curriculum changes and improvements. At Monday's meeting, Jodie Minnick presented the program on income tax, discussing several changes which have been made in the forms and rules, and noting items which are often overlooked. A question and answer period ended the program.

Ebeling makes Who's Who list

First Christian has new minister

The First Christian Church of Dimmitt hired Terry L. Griffith as its new minister Jan. 8, and Griffith and his family moved here Friday.

Griffith, 29, was born and raised in Amarillo, graduating from Caprock High School. In 1979 he obtained his bachelor of sacred literature degree from Ozark Bible College in Joplin, Mo.

In 1977 he served as a missionary intern in Jamaica, and in 1979 he worked in St. Lucia. He served as senior minister at the Lordsburg Church of Christ in Lordsburg, N.M., and was part time youth minister with the Oakdale Christian Church in Amarillo before coming here.

His wife, Melissa, graduated from Ozark in 1978 with a degree in Christian education, and has done some work with puppet ministries. Also, Griffith is a tenor and performs musically.

The pair have two daughters, Trisha, 3, and Tabitha, 5 months.

"We're looking forward to our ministry here and working with the people," Griffith said. "We plan to start a more active youth program for the church, too. We encourage everyone to come out and hear the Bible preached."

Former minister Roy E. Barringer resigned as of Dec. 26, and he and his wife, Wenonah, moved to Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawls are at home in Bronte

Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Dell Rawls are at home in Bronte, following their New Year's Eve wedding in the Zion Lutheran Church of Walburg.

The bride is the former Terri Colleen Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Andrews of Georgetown. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rawls of Dimmitt.

The candlelit, double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Lowell Rossow.

Deborah Walther of Georgetown attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Andrews of Georgetown, sister of the bride, and Dana Thurmond of Waco. Jeff Bell of Lorenzo served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Scott Rawls of San Angelo, brother of the groom, and Jackie Edwards of Victoria. Ushers were Curt and Craig Andrews, brothers of the bride. Craig also served as candlelighter.

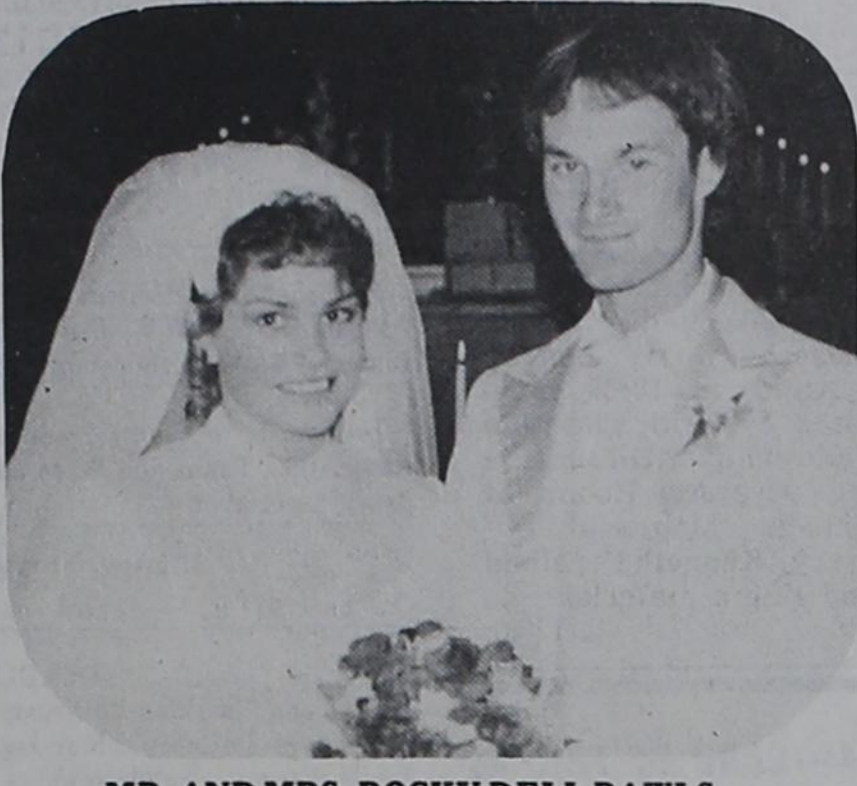

Organist Bonnie Wolbrueck accompanied Dr. Gary Warmink as he sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of chiffon and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a high Victorian neckline of sheer net and lace, accented with seed pearls. The dress has a fitted waistline and long, sheer sleeves with lace cuffs. Rows of scalloped lace accented the full skirt, which extended into a chapel-length train. Her veil was formed of layers of silk illusion bordered with Chantilly lace scallops.

The bride's cascade bouquet of royal blue and white silk flowers was designed and made by her aunt, Linda Wear.

The feminine attendants wore identical formal-length, full skirted dresses of royal blue satin, featuring fitted bodices with full, puffed sleeves. They carried bouquets of tiny white roses and baby's breath, trimmed with greenery and satin ribbon streamers.

Arrangements of white gladioli and candelabra entwined with English ivy decorated the altar, and white tapers lined the aisles. A small table featured two white tapers and a large unity candle engraved with the names of the couple. After the ceremony, a reception was held at Stonehaven Community Center in Georgetown, prepared by Linda Wear, Margie Rydell, Joyce Andrews, Lori Andrews and Melba Williamson, all aunts of the bride.

MR. AND MRS. ROCKY DELL RAWLS ... She's the former Terri Colleen Andrews

The bride's table featured a three-tiered cake decorated with royal blue flowers and bows, and topped with an arrangement of ruffled lace and tulle and white wedding bells.

The groom's cake was a chocolate confection decorated with a full basketball court. Pick up foods were also served.

Other members of the house party included Sue Dean, Becky Dedear, Margo Andrews, and Lisa Rydell, as well as photographers Beth Wear and Doug Dedear, all cousins of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Zion Lutheran School and Georgetown High School. She attended Tarleton State University and is presently enrolled at San Angelo State University in San Angelo.

A graduate of Dimmitt High School, the groom received a bachelor of science in education degree from Southwestern University in Georgetown. He is currently the head basketball coach at Bronte High School.
