Weeds along Main Street medians get the boot

Keep Big Spring Beautiful members Jan Forsyth, left, Terri Hansen, Lisa Brooks, club president; Greg Brooks; and Steve Smith tackle a median on Main Street in downtown Big Spring. They were out Friday afternoon removing weeds and beautifying the median along with workers from Superod.

Weeds parked in the Main Street medians located in downtown Big Spring received their eviction notice last week. Now they are composting in the Big Spring landfill.

Members of Keep Big Spring Beautiful (KBSB) along with some employees of Superod, a fiberglass sucker rod manufacturer, were out late last week with shovels and hoes forceably removing the unwanted house guests in an effort to beautify the area.

"This year the club has decided to focus some attention on medians in downtown Big Spring because they are so beautiful, and they were so overgrown with weeds," said Lisa Brooks, president of Keep Big Spring Beautiful. "It's amazing. All a weed needs is a place to park, and they will germinate."

The club has commenced a campaign to recruit business to join its effort in cleaning up and beautifying the town by adopting something like the medians to keep clean and weed free, Brooks said. The club will provide garbage bags and utility work vests.

"What we (KBSB) are here to do is to motivate and inspire everyone who lives in Big Spring to do something to beautify our town," Brooks said. "We have a litter campaign that says 'Clean it Up Big Spring' just to remind people don't throw that cup out the window or that cigarette out the window. Keep it in your car until you find a trash can to throw it away."

Brooks added to be successful, the effort to beautify the town will

Diesel fuel spill closes Wasson Road Saturday

BY LYNDEL MOODY

Staff Writer

Parts of Wasson and Howard roads were closed temporarily early Saturday afternoon as Howard County Volunteer Firefighters mopped up a diesel fuel spill.

According to HCVFD Fire Chief Tommy Sullivan, the call came around 11:30 a.m. of a trail of diesel fuel along Wasson Road.

"The trail was about a quarter of a mile long," Sullivan said. "It went from Howard Road to Wasson to Highway 33."

According to Sullivan, the flashpoint for diesel is 110 degrees, so there was no real danger of explosion but the chemical could cause a slipping hazard for passing traffic. Firefighters spent about an hour and half laying down absorbent and removing the chemical before reopening the road for traffic, Sullivan said.

A source of what caused the spill is undetermined, and Sullivan estimated approximately 30 gallons of diesel was spilled.

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

Big Spring City Council members will take steps toward finding a new city attorney when they meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in council chambers, 307 E. Fourth.

The council will hold an executive session to discuss a possible replacement for Linda Sjogren.

Sjogren, who has held the position for the past several years, announced her retirement effective the first of the year. In her absence, Kaye Edwards has filled the post on an interim basis.

"We certainly wish Linda the best," City Manager Todd Darden said. "She has done an outstanding job for the city and we will definitely miss her."

The closed session highlights a routine agenda for the council, which will also consider:

- The police department's annual contact report.
- A right-of-way and easement agreement with Oncor.
- Amending the airport budget to allow the purchase of two mowers.

ALON USA hosts national speaker

Morecraft tells story to emphasizes importance of safety procedures on the job

BY LYNDEL MOODY

Staff Writer

Safety first is the mantra repeated by businesses everywhere especially those in the refinery industry.

However, long-time employees are usually well versed in all the short cuts to get the job done and Charles T. Morecraft was just that kind of employee.

After 15 years on the job at a New Jersey Refinery owned by Exxon, Morecraft knew his job well, knew all the rules and all the short cuts to take to finish his work just a little bit faster.

And those little skips of the safety procedures nearly cost him his life.

Morecraft spoke to ALON USA - Big Spring refinery employees, spouses and guests Monday, Feb. 2, about his multi-year recovery from a terrible on-the-job accident where his was burn more than 50 percent of his body.

"I want to them (the refinery employees) to know safety is personal," Morecraft said. "It's not about the company. It's not about statistics or about money. It's not about any of that. It's about going home at the end of the day, kissing your wife and hugging your kids. That's it."

"Mostly what I want to get across is the effect it had on my family," he continued. "It was devastating to my family. They (the employees) don't really care about comp cost or statistics. They do care about their families and if you want to get through to them that is the only way."

One day in 1980, Morecraft said he was performing a routine job when taking short cuts resulted in an explosion and fire. During his speech, Morecraft described in his no nonsense, plain spoken New York accent about the explosion and hearing the screams of his own and fellow burn victims as they lay in a tank to remove the burned skin, a process he underwent every day for two months. Morecraft spent five years in the hospital and said his family life fell apart.

"I caused the accident," he said. "There were things my refinery could have done. The job could have been done perfectly safe if I followed all the procedures but I knew all the short cuts. They were all small short cuts I had gotten away with for 15 years."

Morecraft travels around the world to tell his story and has spoken in such places as Africa and Saudi Arabia.

“I am hoping that our employees will take away from this the impact an accident and injury will have on them and their families and why it is really important for them to make sure they do the job safely with the right equipment on so they can go home to their families that night the same way they went to work that morning,” said Lynn Richardson of Director of Safety at Alon USA.

Merkel to brief Obama on four-party Ukraine crisis talks, show no split on arms for Kiev

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Barack Obama and German Chancellor Angela Merkel are trying for a public display of unity despite a potential split over arming Ukrainian fighters to wage a more effective battle against Russian-backed separatists.

That was the unstated point of Monday's meeting at the White House, where Merkel was to brief Obama on upcoming talks aimed at reviving a peace plan for besieged Ukraine.

At issue is not only Russian President Vladimir Putin's support for the separatists but the revival of the Soviet Cold War strategy of trying to create a critical division between the United States and its NATO allies, Germany in particular.

Merkel and French President Francois Hollande met with Ukrainian leaders and Putin last week and have announced a new summit meeting for Wednesday in Minsk. French and German leaders are to sit down with Ukrainian President Petro Poroshenko and Putin in an attempt to breathe life into a much-violated September peace plan. The United States will not be at the table.

That meeting in the Belarusian capital takes place with Merkel and Hollande deeply opposed to arming Ukraine in its bid to push back the separatists that NATO and the United States insist are being armed by Russia, which also has troops fighting in the eastern Ukraine. The White House has let it be known that Obama, who had resisted calls to send arms, was now considering doing just that. Opponents of arming Kiev believe that could open a proxy war between Washington and Moscow. Merkel and Hollande insist the only way to end the conflict is through diplomacy.

Egypt suspends soccer league after 22 fans killed in clashes with police, stampede

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's Cabinet has indefinitely suspended the national soccer league after at least 22 fans were killed in a stampede and clashes with police outside a Cairo stadium, three years after Egypt witnessed one of the deadliest soccer riots in the sport's history.

The Cabinet announced the suspension late Sunday after riot police clashed with hundreds of soccer fans and fired tear gas to clear a narrow corridor leading to the Air Defense stadium in an eastern Cairo suburb, setting off a deadly stampede.

Egypt last suspended the league in 2012 after 74 fans were killed in rioting at a match in the Suez Canal city of Port Said. That violence sparked widespread outrage at the police and the then-ruling transitional military council for not doing enough to stop the killings.

Fans have only recently been allowed back in stadiums, but authorities continue to limit the number who can attend.

Egypt's public prosecutor has ordered an investigation of the violence. The largely militarized police force is already facing heightened scrutiny following the shooting death of an unarmed female protester last month in downtown Cairo.

Fact check: Limited impact on national security if Homeland Security budget is shut off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spending for the Department of Homeland Security hangs in the balance as Congress fights over immigration matters in the agency's annual funding bill. Without action by Feb. 27, the department's budget will shut off.

To hear Democrats and many Republicans tell it, the result would be unacceptable risks to U.S. security at a time of grave threats worldwide. In reality, though, most people will see little change if the department's money flow is halted, and some of the warnings of doom are as exaggerated as they are striking.

"There are ghoulish, grim predators out there who would love to kill us or do us harm," said Sen. Barbara Mikulski of Maryland, top Democrat on the Senate Appropriations Committee. "We should not be dillydallying and playing parliamentary pingpong with national security."

In the view of some House conservatives, though, shutting off the agency's $40 billion budget for a time "is obviously not the end of the world," as Rep. Matt Salmon, R-Ariz., put it, because many agency employees would stay at work through a shutdown.

Who's right, and what would the impact be if Congress were to let money for the department lapse?

Three of the four top Grammys now staying with Sam Smith; he thanks his muse for big haul Somewhere in England sits a man who was the unwitting inspiration for the biggest winner at the Grammy Awards.

He's the man who loved, and dumped, 22-year-old British soul singer Sam Smith. Smith's yearning hit, "Stay With Me," won Grammys for song and record of the year and he was named best new artist — three of the four biggest awards the Grammys present each year. His album, "In the Lonely Hour," won best pop vocal album but lost to Beck for album of the year.

Still, not a bad haul.

While accepting his record of the year award, Smith said he wanted to thank the man he's been in love with for the past year "for breaking my heart, 'cause you got me four Grammys."

Backstage later, Smith said that "I'll be seeing him soon, so I can let him touch the Grammys — once."

Another storm begins to batter New England, parts of New York; Boston braces for up to 2 feet

BOSTON (AP) — Snow is falling yet again on New England and portions of New York state, threatening to bring up to 1 to 2 feet to some areas and making the first commutes of the workweek potentially hazardous.

The National Weather Service issued winter storm warnings for central New York, the western Catskills and much of New England through early Tuesday.

Government officials Sunday announced that schools and municipal offices in many communities would be closed and that parking bans would be in effect. As accidents began to accumulate, drivers were warned to stay off the slick roads.

"This storm marks our third major snow storm we have experienced in nearly two weeks," as parts of Massachusetts have already seen over 60 inches of snowfall, said Gov. Charlie Baker. He said it would cause "many challenges" for the state.

The Boston area was expected to receive 1 to 2 feet of snow through Tuesday while Hartford, Connecticut, and Providence, Rhode Island, could each get up to a foot.

As gay marriage comes to Alabama, chief justice tells judges to refuse gay marriage licenses

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Tori Sisson and Shante Wolfe camped in a blue and white tent outside the Montgomery County Courthouse during the early hours Monday, hugging and talking excitedly of getting married soon.

They hoped to be the first couple to get a marriage license Monday morning as a federal judge's order overturning the state's ban on gay marriage goes into effect, making Alabama the 37th state to allow gays and lesbians to wed.

"It's about time," Wolfe, 21, said of gay marriage being allowed in the Deep South state.

Alabama Chief Justice Roy Moore, in an 11th hour move to keep the weddings on hold, sent an order to state probate judges Sunday night telling them to refuse to issue the marriage licenses to gay couples. Moore argued that judges are not bound by the ruling of a federal judge that the gay marriage ban is unconstitutional.

It was a dramatic return to defiance for Moore who was removed as chief justice in 2003 for refusing to obey a federal court order to remove a washing machine-sized Ten Commandments from the state judicial building. Critics lashed out that Moore had no authority to tell county probate judges to enforce a law that a federal judge already ruled unconstitutional.

Rising star or flash in pan? Yair Lapid seeks 2nd chance to be fresh face of Israel's future

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — After bursting onto the political scene with a surprisingly strong showing in Israel's last election, Yair Lapid said he was bound for the prime minister's office. But today the telegenic ex-anchorman, actor and novelist hopes to avoid becoming another flash in the pan.

His fledgling party, Yesh Atid or "There's a Future," came from nowhere in the 2013 election to capture 19 of the Knesset's 120 seats, second only to the party headed by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. But instead of leading his largely secular and middle-class supporters into opposition to battle Netanyahu, he cut a deal to join the prime minister's government as finance minister — but also wilted his own grass roots support in the process.

On the campaign trail ahead of the March 17 election, Lapid has dumped his previous brash talk of replacing Netanyahu as Israel's leader and emphasizes he simply wants his party to retain enough votes to be a force in parliament, either back in the Cabinet or in the opposition. He's hoping that voters forgive him for propping up Netanyahu, and instead credit him as the man whose bitter breakup with Netanyahu's Likud triggered this early election.

"It's not about who I want to be, it's about what I want to do," Lapid told The Associated Press last week at a late-night Super Bowl party with supporters in a Tel Aviv bar.

Whether there's a future for Lapid's barely three-year-old party may seem like a local issue for Israelis alone. But Yesh Atid's tepid performance in opinion polls is dispiriting for the legions worldwide who want Israel to dump the internationally unpopular Netanyahu. Many still see in Lapid the most charismatic face in a field cluttered with less-than-electrifying leadership candidates.

Lawyers for Concordia shipwreck survivors demand cruise company, not just captain, pay a price

GROSSETO, Italy (AP) — Whatever verdict is delivered in the trial of the Italian sea captain for the shipwreck of the Costa Concordia cruise liner and for the deaths of 32 people, survivors and victims' families already are wondering if justice will be done.

The trial, expected to bring a verdict this week, has a sole defendant. Francesco Schettino is accused of causing the shipwreck on the night of Jan. 13, 2012, when he steered too close to a tiny Tuscan island, smashing into a granite reef that sliced open the hull, sending seawater rushing in.

Schettino is also charged with multiple manslaughter and injury, and of abandoning the luxury liner when many of the 4,200 passengers and crew were still aboard and desperately trying to save themselves — some by leaping into the sea — as the Concordia was capsizing.

Survivors, shivering as they staggered ashore on Giglio Island, were startled to see the captain, already safe on land, "without even getting his feet wet," noted Prosecutor Alessandro Leopizzi in closing arguments.

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

This hand was played in an international tournament some years ago by Polish star Janusz Polec. He got to six spades as shown after East opened with a weak two-heart bid.

West led the queen of hearts, and Polec could see at once that the slam depended upon losing only one club trick. The normal way of playing the club combination shown is to lead a low club to dummy's queen and finesse the ten on the way back.

But Polec decided that West was more likely to have the jack of clubs than East, so he adopted an entirely different line of play. He ruffed the heart lead and drew three rounds of trumps, discarding a club from dummy after West discarded a heart.

Polec then played the A-Q-J of diamonds, overtaking the jack with the king. He next ruffed a heart in his hand, returned the four of diamonds to dummy's seven, West discarding a club, and ruffed dummy's last heart.

This brought Polec to the end position he had envisioned from the start. Having played all his trumps and diamonds, he was left with only three cards, the K-10-2 of clubs. West, in the meantime, had been reduced to the A-J-8 of clubs, while dummy had the Q-7-6.

Polec now led the king of clubs, and West was a goner. If he ducked the king, declarer would simply lead another club toward the queen to make the slam. In practice, West took the king with the ace and returned a low club, hoping his partner had the ten. But this hope did not materialize, and Polec won the last two tricks with the ten and queen of clubs.

It might seem that if West hadn't discarded his fourth heart earlier in the play, declarer would not have made the slam. But if West had discarded two clubs rather than a heart and a club, Polec would then have started the clubs before using his last trump and would still have gotten home safely.

Tomorrow: Steppingstone to success.

Ohmie, Eaton power HC to sweep of Temple

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

Samantha Ohmie drilled a three-run home run in the bottom of the first and Juliet Eaton added a solo blast in the fourth to help power the Howard College Lady Hawks to a 6-5 victory over Temple College in Game 2 of a double-header sweep at Foundation Field on Saturday afternoon. Power wasn't the only thing the Lady Hawks needed to complete the sweep. They also needed an error and a passed ball by Temple College in the bottom of the seventh to salvage the come-from-behind win.

With the contest tied at 5-5 going into Howard College's last at-bat, HC first baseman Tatiana Sorokina led off the inning by beating out an infield single. Two outs later, Temple College's left fielder misplayed a fly ball that enabled to Corrina Liscano to reach base.

Temple College self-destructed from there. The Lady Owls' pitcher uncorked a pitch that scooted away from the catcher and allowed Sorokina to race home with the game-winning run.

A Temple error in the sixth enabled the Lady Hawks to tie the game at 5-5. Temple College, which committed four errors in the last two innings, allowed HC second baseman Kylee Keller to score from second on a fielding error at first.

Keller had led off the inning by reaching base via an error on a ball misplayed in center-field.

The Lady Hawks didn't look as if they would need any last-inning heroics early on. Ohmie and Eaton blasted Howard College to a 4-1 lead in the early going.

After Temple College had scratched out a run in their first at-bat, Ohmie made sure everyone took notice of her power.

Freshman outfielder Courtnee Laughlin led off the HC first by drawing a one-out walk. Corrina Liscano followed moments later with a sharply hit single to left.

Ohmie didn't waste any time on in putting Temple College on its heels. She smashed a line drive over the wall in centerfield to put HC up 3-1.

Eaton pushed the Lady Hawks' lead to 4-1 by leading off the fourth with a towering home run to left.

Temple College managed to get its offense going in the

BS swim team shines at I-4A meet

Featuring one of the youngest teams at the Region I-5A Swimming and Diving Championships, the Big Spring High School Steers swim team may not have scored as many points as they might have wished but they did gain some valuable experience for the future.

"It was an incredibly fast meet, an amazing meet to watch," said BSHS head swim coach Randall Shaw.

Big Spring did well in its events. The Steers' 200-Yard Medley and 200-Yard Freestyle relay teams both narrowly missed berths in the consolation finals by finishing 17th in their respective races. Teams that finished 9-16 in each event moved into the consolation finals.

The BSHS 200-Yard Medley team of Luke Soldan, Trinidad Ramirez, Daniel Jimenez and Nathan Schneider swam a time of 2 minutes, 16.74 seconds and placing 17th. Ramirez, Jimenez, Ivan Delgado and Schneider notched a time of 2:02.59 in the 200-Yard Freestyle relay race 17th.

So. Carolina OKs hiring of Jon Hoke

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina trustees approved a two-year contract Monday for Jon Hoke to join the Gamecocks as co-defensive coordinator.

Hoke will make $750,000 a year. Current defensive coordinator Lorenzo Ward has a year left on his deal that pays him $750,000 a season.

School leaders were expected to approve Hoke's agreement last Thursday, but a fatal shooting on campus earlier in the day delayed the hiring until Monday.

Hoke is a former defensive coordinator at Florida under Gamecocks coach Steve Spurrier. He has spent the past 13 seasons coaching in the NFL with the Houston Texans and Chicago Bears.

Spurrier called on Hoke to improve a

South Carolina defense that had slipped to next-to-last in the Southeastern Conference after ranking near the top of the league the previous three seasons.

The Gamecocks were fifth in the SEC in total yards allowed at 350 per game in 2013, a total that soared to 432 this past season. South Carolina had lost five starters on defense, including the NFL's overall No. 1 pick in defensive end Jadeveon Clowney of the Texans.

South Carolina surrendered fourth-quarter double-digit leads in losses to Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The 58-year-old Hoke, the brother of recently fired Michigan coach Brady Hoke, coached at North Carolina State, Bowling Green, San Diego State, Kent State and Missouri before joining Spurrier at Florida.

The Spider

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was the editor of a small Missouri paper.

One day, he received a letter from a subscriber stating that he had found a spider in his paper and asked if this was an omen of good or bad luck.

Twain replied, "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever after."

ATTENTION PROPERTY OWNERS

Property owners have certain rights that may reduce their property tax burden.

HOMEOWNERS

Persons who own their residence on January 1, 2015, may claim their home as a residential homestead. The filing of this document is only necessary if the homeowner has changed homesteads since January 1, 2014, or has become eligible for additional exemptions since last year. Homeowners may also defer the portion of the tax on their residence homestead if the value of the home was raised more than 5% above the previous year. Although the tax collection is deferred, interest continues to run on the unpaid portion of tax at a rate of 8% per annum and the deferred tax remains a lien on the property. To apply for the deferral, the owner should contact the appraisal district which appraised the property in question and complete an application.

DISABLED PERSONS

Persons who are disabled under Social Security law are entitled to additional exemptions on their residential homestead. Disabled applicants must apply with the appraisal district and furnish a determination letter from Social Security. Disabled persons now receive all benefits on their home that are available to over 65 persons (see below)

PERSONS WHO ARE OVER 65 YEARS OF AGE

Persons who are over 65 years of age or disabled persons may file for additional exemptions and a ceiling on school taxes for their residential homestead if they become 65 during 2014. Over-65 persons should apply for this exemption at the appraisal district office in their area. Over-65 persons are also eligible to defer paying the tax on their residential homestead if they wish. The taxes continue to accrue during the deferral along with an interest rate of 8% annually, but no attempt will be made to force payment during the deferral. Details and an application may be obtained from any appraisal district or the State Comptroller.

DISABLED VETERANS

Persons who have been declared by the Veteran's Administrations are eligible for additional exemptions on property they own. The declaration letter from VA is mailed annually, but the appraisal district only needs a copy in the first year of eligibility or if the percentage of disability changes.

FARM AND RANCH OWNERS

Farmers and ranchers may be entitled to receive an alternate method of appraisal determined by the farm income to the property. This method is available to farms and ranches commercially raising crops or livestock or which are used as a wildlife habitat under State guidelines. An application for agricultural use value and additional information is available from your appraisal district. Re-filing is only necessary if requested to do so by the Chief Appraiser.

EXEMPTION APPLICATIONS

Exemption applications for all property tax exemptions including total exemptions for charitable, religious, and other total exemptions may be obtained from an appraisal district nearest you or through the State Comptroller's Office at 1/800-252-9121.

BUSINESS PERSONAL PROPERTY OWNERS

State law now requires the filing of a rendition declaring what types of business personal property that a person or company owns. Failure to file the rendition will result in a 10% penalty. If a fraudulent rendition is filed, a 50% penalty is mandated. A rendition can be obtained from the appraisal district office where the property is located. A 30 day filing extension is available by written request. This is a public service announcement by Howard County Appraisal District, 315 South Main, PO Box 1151, Big Spring, TX 79720 #8588 January 22, 2015

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION AND INTENT TO OBTAIN AIR PERMIT RENEWAL PERMIT NUMBER 17411

APPLICATION Power Resources, LTD., has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for renewal of Air Quality Permit Number 17411, which would authorize continued operation of the C. R. Wing Cogeneration Plant located at 500 Refinery Road, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas 79720. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For the exact location, please refer to the application.

http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=32.2722&lng=-101.4222&zoom=13&type=r. The existing facility is authorized to emit the following air contaminants: organic compounds, nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxide, carbon monoxide, and particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on December 12, 2014. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ Midland regional office, and the Howard County Library, 500 Main Street, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Midland regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. Information in the application indicates that this permit renewal would not result in an increase in allowable emissions and would not result in the emission of an air contaminant not previously emitted. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

PUBLIC COMMENT You may submit public comments, or a request for a contested case hearing to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments is 15 days after newspaper notice is published.

After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process.

After the technical review is complete the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. If only comments are received, the response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will then be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who is on the mailing list for this application, unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING

You may request a contested case hearing. The applicant or the executive director may also request that the application be directly referred to a contested case hearing after technical review of the application. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court. Unless a written request for a contested case hearing is filed within 15 days from this notice, the executive director may act on the application. If no hearing request is received within this 15-day period, no further opportunity for hearing will be provided. According to the Texas Clean Air Act § 382.056(o) a contested case hearing may only be granted if the applicant's compliance history is in the lowest classification under applicable compliance history requirements and if the hearing request is based on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission may only grant a hearing on those issues raised during the public comment period and not withdrawn.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; and (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility. If the request is made by a group or association, the one or more member who have standing to request a hearing and the interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns.

Requests for a contested case hearing must be submitted in writing within 15 days following this notice to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the executive director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact relating to relevant and material air quality concerns raised during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

MAILING LIST In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list for this application by sending a request to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. Those on the mailing list will receive copies of future public notices (if any) mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk for this application.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION Public comments and requests must be submitted either electronically at www.tceq.texas.gov/about/comments.html, or in writing to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. If you communicate with the TCEQ electronically, please be aware that your email address, like your physical mailing address, will become part of the agency's public record. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Public Education Program toll free at 1-800-687-4040. Si desea informacion en Espanol, puede llamar al 1-800-687-4040. Further information may also be obtained from Power Resources, LTD., P.O. Box 2700, Big Spring, Texas 79721-2700 or by calling Mr. Chris Simpson, Environmental Health and Safety Coordinator at (432)263-8468. Notice Issuance Date: January 15, 2015 #8615 February 9, 2015

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Moon Void-of-Course

The Libra moon harmonizes with the Aquarius sun in the early morning before going void-of-course. It may feel like there's no rush to get anything done. All will eventually get accomplished as long as we keep making gentle efforts at a relaxed pace. Tomorrow comes with more intensity, so enjoy this rather laid-back Monday.

HOLIDAY MATHIS

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You have a short list of people you'll report to, out of choice, obligation and duty. Just be sure to put yourself on that list. You're inarguably the most important person on the list.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Maybe it seems like digital privacy isn't even a thing anymore, but at least you have your emotional boundaries. You'll get the obvious chance to enforce them today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You can't be a poster girl with no poster. You can't be a rodeo clown without a bull. Admit that you need other elements to pull off this adventure and look around -- you'll find them.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You're in danger of being swept into the delicious swirl of a dizzying romance. Keep plans flexible so you're available for fun. Avoid that trying person you know.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). The most important agreements are the ones you make with yourself. Dare to expand those personal pacts beyond what you believe you're capable of achieving. Life gets easier when you think big.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Your ruling planet, Mercury, acts as your publicist, helping you choose a stylish and effective way to deliver your message. No need to oversell yourself. Quiet confidence attracts the best in every area of life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Avoid hyperbole. People long to be attended to by you. They don't want to be called "indescribably fantastic." They want you to describe it. They need to know you care.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Find something to enjoy about a job or remind yourself what you enjoyed about it. If you can't, it's time to look for something else. Wouldn't it be wonderful to be happy at work?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Life is sweet because you've decided to stop waiting for your ship to come in. Once you've accepted the situation for what it is, you can change it. But you have to accept it first. That part is non-negotiable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You will interpret the whole scene in a way that empowers instead of drains you. Inspiration will come in the form of captivating ideas, fascinating images and, best of all, a love that embraces you exactly as you are.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Why wait until life gets stressful to draw on your inner strength? Set aside time each week to center yourself. You'll then be able to attract exactly what (or whom) you want PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). The thing in your secret heart belongs only to you. Don't tell anyone - you'll only feel rotten about it later. Also, you'll probably change your mind in a few weeks, so for now, stay mum.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Feb. 9). This is your year to work and play in a team environment. You'll learn and derive great satisfaction and a deep sense of belonging from the group. Your self-esteem is on the rise because of upgrades you'll make this month and next. May and July are the best times to explore and take risks.

Pisces and Taurus people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 20, 4, 33, 19 and 38.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTIONS: "How do you know when a relationship is beyond repair? I've been with my Cancer husband for 14 years. The things I used to find mysterious and charming I now find dull and annoying. Why does it always have to be me who does the work in the relationship? It's all so one-sided. I wish he'd make a romantic suggestion one day, like "Let's go to Morocco." That will never happen. If I do nothing, we're just going to keep drifting apart. What do you think? I'm an Aquarius."

It's hard to be the only one working on a relationship. But are you sure you're giving enough credit to your husband? Is it possible he does more for the relationship than you think? Is he pleasant? Does he contribute financially? Is he appreciative? Is he easy to live with? Perhaps you've always been the idea person in the relationship -- Aquarius is so imaginative -- and your romantic suggestions are simply what's needed to keep the fire alive. Is that so bad really? Don't give up out of boredom. Fight for your marriage.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Rock and Roll Hall of Famer Carole King is one of the great treasures of American pop music. This prolific singer/songwriter has had seven Top 10 albums, including the iconic Tapestry, which spent nearly six years on the Billboard Top 200 chart. Her sun, Mercury and Venus in musical Aquarius are accented nicely with three major Taurus influences in her natal chart. Taurus rules the voice.
