Rangers win 4-3 complete sweep of West-leading Asti ARLINGTON. Texas en games Sam Dyson of the plate for

Sports

ARLINGTON, (AP) — All that really matters for manager Jeff Banister and the Texas Rangers is getting the victory that finished off a three-game sweep of the AL West-leading Houston Astros.

"It wasn't pretty, typically you don't win a ballgame when you walk eight and hit one," Banister said. "That's a first for me ... a low-scoring, one-run game and win that game."

Chris Gimenez hit what proved to be a deciding home run and Texas held on for the 4-3 win Wednesday night, using five relievers after Nick Martinez allowed one hit and one run over five innings on his 25th birthday.

The homer by Gimenez leading off the second for a 4-0 lead was the only extra-base hit for the Rangers, and came after they scored three unearned runs in the first off Scott Kazmir (6-6).

The Rangers have won four in a row and seven of eight, moving within five games of the division lead, the closest they have been since June 30.

"It was a big series for us," Banister said.

All three Houston runs were scored by players who reached on a walk. With 20-save closer Shawn Tolleson unavailable after pitching six of the previous sev-

Texas en games. Sam Dyson of the plate for an error. got his second career save — both since a Friday trade from Miami. He closed it out only after allowing a leadoff single in the ninth and hitting Jose Altuve with a pitch.

"I think everybody's doing their jobs," shortstop Elvis Andrus said.

Martinez (7-6), walked three and struck out one while throwing 86 pitches in a game which start with the temperature at 100 degrees.

"It wasn't a clean outing for him," Banister said. "Essentially, he battled himself all night long trying to get the ball in the strike zone."

Kazmir, in his third start for Houston since a July 23 trade from Oakland, lowered his ALbest ERA from 2.10 to 2.08 since only one run against him was earned. The right-hander struck out five in his 5 2/3 innings.

He had thrown 14 2/3 scoreless innings in his first two starts for Houston, part of his five games in July while allowing one earned run over 34 innings (0.26 ERA). Earlier this season for the A's, Kazmir gave up only three runs over 21 innings in three starts against the Rangers.

Delino DeShields reached to start the Texas first when Kazmir was unable to cleanly field the roller in front Ryan Strausborger, in his first major league atbat, had a sacrifice bunt but reached on catcher Hank Conger's throwing error. Prince Fielder had a sacrifice fly before consecutive RBI singles by Mitch Moreland and Elvis Andrus.

"It all started with me. It did. I didn't set the tone well. It was an easy play right in front of me and I just rushed it," Kazmir said. "A couple errors early on against a team like that gave 'em momentum. It's tough."

Houston was within 4-3 after five consecutive batters reached with one out in the sixth against two relievers.

Carlos Correa and Jed Lowrie drew consecutive walks before Evan Gattis' RBI single. Sam Freeman, after replacing Phil Klein, walked the first two batters he faced, including Conger with the bases loaded.

Carlos Gomez had a leadoff walk in the fourth and scored on a double by Lowrie.

"That's a tough day," manager A.J. Hinch said. "Eight walks and a hit-by-pitch; we just didn't score enough runs."

In the Texas fifth when Astros CF Gomez had a long running catch in the gap, 2B Altuve made a diving play to his left and 20-year-old SS Correa went into the hole toward third base and then and made a long jump-step throw for an out. An inning earlier, Texas SS Elvis Andrus made a similar play and rookie RF Strausborger had an inning-ending diving catch.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Discretion is a talent, but it also can be learned. Whether or not you were born with the instinct to hold your tongue, your inclination to do so will save someone from embarrassment today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You've thought long and hard about letting someone off the hook, and today brings the perfect opportunity to do so. Forgiveness brings so many benefits that it almost seems like a selfish act.

competition. That's what you keep telling yourself, while another part of your brain counters: Then why does it feel like a competition? Either way, you won't be able to stop yourself from winning.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). It takes a lot of brainpower to comprehend nature, and the smartest people wonder whether it's even worth thinking about. The body has intelligence far beyond what the mind can grasp.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). It's the heightened circumstances that make life stressful -- the changes in relationships, jobs, health, location, etc. that bring a curious mix of chemicals to your blood. You can handle it. Give yourself permission to relax.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Does life inflict the same harsh reality on pessimists as it does on optimists? The law of averages would suggest it; whereas, the law of attraction -- you get what you focus on -suggests otherwise.

it. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). There is always another route to get where you need to go. Seek new direction; find adventure. Once again, you'll know what it feels like to be the most interesting person in the room.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The thing you dread -- it's not so bad. So go on and get face to face with it. Put your hands in and get a little bit dirty. This will be over soon enough, but only because you were willing to deal with it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Here's something you should know: Your magical thinking is a kind of threat to someone who thinks differently. And when your ideas work out brilliantly, try not to rub it in.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). In your current mood, it's hard for you to like things -- you love them instead. Therefore, be stingy with musical instruments isn't the answer, either. Try to remain calm and work out a payment plan with Dad, in writing, with the amount he needs to pay each week until an agreed-upon total is reached. It may take longer than mid-August, and you might also consider paying for part of the bill because the party was for you. But it's better than the all-out war you are contemplating. We also suggest you involve your mother in this transaction since she, too, has a say in the family finances and may bring a more level head to the discussion. Dear Annie: My husband's parents live several states away. They are both in poor health, one worse than the other. I fear that when one passes away, my husband will want us to move and take care of the other one. We have two young children and this would involve us leaving our jobs. When we visit, I am miserable the entire time and have no desire to move. We could not ask the remaining parent to move, either, because they both have jobs, as well.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Your mind will be whirring, even when you're asleep. The best idea will be the new one you come up with now. Don't be surprised if it's the only one on the table.

TODAY'S BIRTH-DAY (Aug. 6). Over the next six weeks, when you decide to do something, it's as good as done. That's why it will be wise to take your time with decisions, test them and gather opinions from experienced folks. Your well-executed plan pays thousands in September. November heats up your love life. Capricorn and Scorpio people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 10, 4, 15, 7 and 39.

I realize that my parents' business sometimes goes through hard times, but Dad still manages to eat out frequently. He's terrible with money, and I am not sure he will ever pay me back. I told him that I expect complete repayment by the middle of August and if I don't get it, I'll start selling his vast collection of unused musical instruments. He doesn't believe me.

I am paying for my first year of college through grants, scholarships, my savings and the money I earn from my job. I never expected anything from my parents because I know they can't afford much. If the parents are near retirement age, it makes just as much sense for them to relocate where your jobs are, instead of vice versa, and where family is already established to help in their care.

You and your husband should have this conversation now and talk about realistic alternatives, including retirement or assisted living communities nearby, and the type of medical facilities and senior assistance in the area. If the two of you cannot reach agreement, we recommend asking an unbiased, third party to act as a mediator.

The Grand Slam bid is done; Jordan Spieth is not

Jordan Spieth was on the 14th green and battling in conditions so severe the wind approached 40 mph.

"They pulled us off the course," he said.

Spieth wasn't talking about St. Andrews.

This was Sunday at Whistling Straits, where he took a two-day scouting trip of the course that will host the final major of the year.

Spieth was one shot away from making the PGA Championship the most significant golf event since Tiger Woods completed his sweep of the majors in 2001 at the Masters. The 22-year-old Texan was trying to become the first player to win them all in one season, and he came closer than any of the other three greats — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Woods - to getting the third leg of the Grand Slam at the British Open.

His three-putt on the 14th green at St. Andrews, when the second round resumed in wind so strong Spieth was heard to say, "We never should have started." is not what cost him a chance at the claret jug. He had four other threeputts that round. He took four putts on the eighth green in the final round. He also made a bunch of birdies all week, and at the end of 72 holes, he needed one more. Simple as that.

If there was a hangover, it didn't last long.

Spieth was playing golf in Dallas with friends when his roommate mentioned the "weirdest feeling" about watching the Open.
