Big Spring Firefighters regroup while the remains of a two-story house in the 800 block of Main Street smolder this morning. Firefighters fought the blaze for several hours containing the damaging only to the home and some heat damage to buildings adjacent to the structure.

A two-story house is a complete loss this morning after Big Spring firefighters battle a major fire for several hours to contain the damage only to the home. Only smoldering remains and the fireplace was left this morning of an old two-story house in the 800 block of N. Main St. after the early morning fire completely engulfed the structure. The cause of the blaze is under investigation by the Big Spring Fire Marshall's office.

According to Big Spring Fire Chief Craig Ferguson, the department received a call of a house fire a little after 3 a.m. in the morning.

"When we got here, it was fully involved, burning," Ferguson said. "It was a really big blaze. It got very hot. We had to back off when we initially arrived at the scene. It actually melted some decals on some of our trucks. One truck was parked in the middle of the street and the heat melted the stickers."

Ferguson said the 17-member response team went into containment mode to keep the blaze from spreading to adjacent buildings, including an apartment complex located behind the structure.

Neugebauer will not seek re-election in 2016

BY LYNDEL MOODY
Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. Randy Neugebauer, representative of the 19th Congressional District, announced Thursday afternoon he will not seek an eighth term in office.

"Every two years, the American people decide who they want to represent them in the 'People's House.' I have asked for that honor seven times, you have overwhelmingly given me that opportunity each time, and I thank you for that," Neugebauer said in a press release issued Thursday afternoon. "After much thought and prayer, I have decided not to seek re-election in 2016. This was a difficult decision, but I feel this is a good time to end this season of my life and move to another.

The congressman from Lubbock will continue to serve in his role until the end of his term, the release said.

"While I am announcing that I will not seek re-election, I am not walking away from the important work that lies ahead," Neugebauer stated.

Neugebauer

"There are still 15 months left in this Congress, and I am committed to work tirelessly on your behalf until the final gavel ends this Congress in January 2017 and another individual takes that special oath soon after."

Neugebauer was first elected to the U.S. House on June 3, 2003 in a special election to fill the seat of Larry Combest who had resigned. He won that election by defeating Mike Conaway, who is now the 11th district of Texas representative in the U.S. House, by a vote of 50.5 percent to 49.5 percent. In the 2014, Neugebauer won seventh term receiving 77.8 percent of the vote in the general election. His political career included serving on

Tractor Supply hosting pet adoptions for Pet Appreciation Week

Special to the Herald

The Tractor Supply Co. store in Big Spring will host activities for families and their pets, including pet adoptions, Saturday as part of Pet Appreciation Week.

Held Sept. 16 - 20, Pet Appreciation Week or P.A.W. is Tractor Supply's annual, nationwide, event to celebrate pet owners and their furry friends.

"Pet Appreciation Week is one of our favorite and most successful events of the entire year," said Doug Allen, manager of the Big Spring Tractor Supply store. "More often than not, animals become a member of the family, and there's something really special about helping a family find and care for the perfect pet."

As part of the main event on Saturday, Tractor Supply will feature pet adoptions, demonstrations on pet nutrition, gift cards, and giveaways, including a tennis ball and pet food mats while supplies last.

All Pet Appreciation Week events are open to the public — and pets — and will take place at Tractor Supply at 1104 W Interstate 20 in Big Spring.

In addition to finding good homes for dogs and cats, Saturday's adoption events will also raise awareness of the importance of spaying and neutering pets and provide information on proper pet care and nutrition.

Several activities will take place during the main event, including Pet Adoption, Pet Clinic and dog grooming.

Community partners for this year's Pet Appreciation Week include: Happy Day Humane Society, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Big Dog Groomers, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; and Western Hills Animal Clinic, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Contact the Tractor Supply store at 432-264-6162 for pet adoption details and other planned activities. For more information on Pet Appreciation Week, visit Facebook.com/TractorSupplyCo or TractorSupply.com.

FIRE

Two buildings were evacuated as a precaution and at least three buildings received minor heat damage from the blaze.

"The guys did an incredible job of protecting these buildings with the amount of heat and fuel that was there, an incredible job," Ferguson said.

Because of the heat, firefighters blocked off several streets around the structure for a number of hours as they battled the flames. The fire was still smoldering as of 8 a.m. this morning while tired, thirsty firefighters regrouped to watch for, and extinguish, hot spots.

"We plan to get a backhoe in to spread the remains out and get water on the hot spots," Ferguson said on the scene this morning, adding that he expected his crew to remain for several more hours to watch any flare ups.

"Our main focus right now is to get the hot spots taken care of and get the investigator in there figure out what started the blaze."

Big Spring Fire Department responded to the fire with three pumper trucks, 1 ladder truck, one rescue truck, an ambulance and one command

ARREST

"Upon arrival, contact was made with a female victim," Howard County Sheriff Stan Parker said. "The victim stated she gave a male subject a ride home from a local establishment. When they arrived at his residence, he forced her inside his residence using a knife. Once inside his residence, the victim was sexually assaulted."

A search warrant was executed at Gonzales' residence in which evidence was located supporting the offense, the release said.

Gonzales was arrested at his home without incident by sheriff's deputies, the release said.

the Lubbock city council from 1992-1998 and serving in the Mayor pro-tempore position from 1994-1998. Neugebauer was also the first president of the Ports-to-Plains Alliance, an organization that promotes a trade corridor from Mexico to Canada that comes through West Texas and Big Spring via U.S. Highway 87.

"Over two decades ago, I embarked on a journey that I had never anticipated," Neugebauer said. "In 1992, with the encouragement of friends, family, and community leaders, I offered myself for public service as a member of the Lubbock City Council. I was very fortunate and humbled that the citizens of District Five gave me that opportunity. Thus began a new season in my life.

"When I decided not to run for a third City Council term, I thought that the season of public service was ending," He continued. "Little did I know that a few years later, on June 5, 2003, I would be sworn in as the fourth Member of Congress to represent the 19th District of Texas, as well as the 236th Texan and the 9,833rd American citizen to serve in the United States House of Representatives."

Neugebauer is the Chairman of the Financial Institutions and Consumer Credit Subcommittee and Vice-Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. He also serves on the science, space and technology committee.

"To say that this has been an honor would be an understatement," he said. "Representing the citizens of the Big Country and West Texas has been one of the most rewarding times in my life. Dana and I have had the opportunity to travel this wonderful district and meet many remarkable people. Working for you has been a labor of love. I love this country and spending every day making sure we leave a bright future for the next generation has been my passion. Dana and I have experienced the American dream and I want to make sure that same opportunity exists in the future.

"There will be a lot of speculation on why I came to this decision. Some will say it's health reasons; I feel great and I am cancer-free," he stated. "The bottom line is that I really think this is the right time for my family and me to have more time together. I have a four-year-old granddaughter that I have never been with on her birthday. I am looking forward to the next season God has for Dana and me. I hope it brings more time for family and maybe a little more time for fly-fishing as well.

"As I have on many occasions, I want to end by saying, may God bless you and may He continue to bless the United States of America."

Did You Ever Wonder? Back to Egypt

The scholars fill in bits of the story here that were not mentioned in the Scriptures. Zipporah gave birth to Moses' second son on the day of the Burning Bush. Moses communed with God on the side of the mountain over a period of seven days.

When Moses finally accepted his commission from God that he must go back to Egypt, the next day he immediately prepared for the journey. He loaded Zipporah and both of their sons on a donkey and began the trip toward Egypt.

EUNICE FILLER

In the evening, they stopped at an inn. Exo 4:24 says, "Hashem encountered him and sought to kill him." This was the evening of the eighth day of the baby's life. In God's covenant with Abraham, He said that baby boys are to be circumcised on the eighth day, and Moses had not honored this.

Scholars say that the Angel of God grasped Moses in such a way that Zipporah understood his danger was because he had failed to circumcise the baby. Circumcising the baby was Moses' responsibility. But Zipporah quickly circumcised the baby and touched the foreskin to Moses' foot, transferring the merit to him. The Angel released His hold on Moses; Zipporah had saved his life!

God had dispatched Aaron to meet Moses in the desert so that they re-entered Egypt together. When they addressed the Hebrews, the elders did ask Moses for proof, and Moses showed them the three signs.

After the sign of the affliction of Moses' hand and its healing, they believed strong enough to allow him to represent them before Pharaoh. Remember Jacob and Joseph had been dead a long time. The Hebrews had not heard from God or any representative from Him for many years.

They were literally putting their lives on the line here. After so many years of slavery, they must have had a hard time believing that God even cared.

The Hebrew elders accompanied Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh's palace, but the elders began to lose their nerve. One by one they dropped out of the procession.

God instructed Moses and Aaron to say to Pharaoh, "So said Hashem, the God of Israel, 'Send out My people that they may celebrate for Me in the Wilderness.'" Pharaoh replied, "Who is Hashem that I should heed His voice to send out Israel? I do not know Hashem, nor will I send out Israel!"

Moses and Aaron answered, "The God of the Hebrews happened upon us. Let us go for a three-day journey in the Wilderness and we shall bring offerings to Hashem, our God, lest He strike us dead with the plague or the sword."

Pharaoh would not consider letting the Hebrew slaves leave.

"Behold! The people of the land are now numerous, and you would have them cease from their burdens!"

And on that day, Pharaoh ordered the taskmasters to cease delivering straw to the Hebrews. They must now gather the straw for themselves, but their quota of bricks would not be reduced!

Remember that Pharaoh worshipped many gods. Hashem was a name that he truly did not know.

The gods of Egypt actually had no power; Pharaoh's priests manifested small signs by divination from Satan. Pharaoh truly could not understand the enormous power of God Almighty so he did not fear Him.

Reflections: The War Room

When I first saw the advertisement for the movie, War Room, I thought, okay, here we go again, another blood and guts movie: special effects, bombs, explosions, guns; angry men killing each other and trying to survive. It is the typical stuff for most war movies.

My son-in-law slipped off with some of his buddies to see it. This further confirmed my assumptions. The movie was number one at the box office on Labor Day. I decided to check it out. So, I took my wife, we bought a ticket, and wandered into the theater to sit back and see for ourselves.

There are no bombs or explosions. No one gets killed. There is no blood.

BILL
TINSLEY

War Room is all about the battle taking place every day in homes around the world. Husbands and wives whose marriages are falling apart. Parents absorbed in their own problems, trying to make ends meet, stressed out and blaming each other. Children falling through the cracks.

The "War Room" is a closet, a place to pray.

It could be a break-through movie. It could save marriages. It could lead husbands and wives to discover what we discovered years ago, that there is nothing more powerful than prayer. Across the years my wife has prayed for me, and I am convinced it has made all the difference.

We have always prayed. But years ago I realized that I forget what I pray for. And, when God answers prayer, I seldom give thanks or recognize His answer. I started writing down prayer requests as I prayed. Later, when I reviewed my prayer requests, I was astounded at how faithful God was to answer my prayers. Of course, sometimes His answer was, "No." Sometimes He taught me that I was asking for the wrong thing. That in itself was helpful. And sometimes He granted what I requested.

I learned that prayer is a conversation with God. He speaks to us as much as we speak to Him. Not in an audible voice, but with an inner voice. Often the best part of prayer is listening to God. I discovered that when I pray in the early morning, the conversation with God lingers and continues through the rest of the day.

I have never met anyone who felt they prayed too much. I have met many, including myself, who wished they had prayed more. When Billy Graham was 92, a reporter asked him if he had it to do over, would he would do anything differently. He said, "Yes. I would spend more time in meditation and prayer."

James wrote, "You desire but do not have, so you kill. You covet but you cannot get what you want, so you quarrel and fight. You do not have because you do not ask God. When you ask, you do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, that you may spend what you get on your pleasures." (James 4:2-3).

Jesus said, "Which of you, if your son asks for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? If you, then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good gifts to those who ask him!" (Matthew 7:9-11). "But when you pray, go into your room, close the door and pray to your Father, who is unseen. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you." (Matthew 6:6).

Wayne Newton's Las Vegas estate opening as museum

LAS VEGAS (AP) - Wayne Newton's Las Vegas estate, filled with luxurious gilded furniture, cars, a jet and a capuchin monkey is set to open as a museum.

The 52-acre Casa de Shenandoah in southeastern Las Vegas opens Friday for tours with prices starting at $35.

Fans start at the visitor's center and then shuttle into the compound to see the iconic entertainer's memorabilia, house, jet, cars, gift shop and exotic animals, including Arabian horses.

Visitors can even opt for the VIP package with Newton as the tour guide.

Newton had lived on the property for 45 years, but he moved out in 2013 after selling it to CSD LLC.

The plan to create a "Graceland West" attraction to celebrate the singer's long career had been stalled by a bankruptcy with the business entity.

Rescuers release rehabilitated turtles into Gulf of Mexico

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) - A loggerhead turtle with a hook in her throat dwindled to 70 pounds before weeks of care and her eventual return to the Gulf of Mexico.

Officials with a National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration marine facility in Galveston, Texas, on Wednesday released six rescued turtles into the water.

The Galveston County Daily News reports the five Kemp's ridley sea turtles and the female loggerhead turtle were caught by fishermen in July and August.

Research fisheries biologist Lyndsey Howell says the loggerhead turtle, caught off the Galveston fishing pier, had a lung infection and was emaciated. The turtle had surgery to remove a hook from her esophagus.

Howell says the turtle, when released Wednesday on the Galveston beach, weighed 102 pounds and was eating 5 pounds of food daily.

Seattle Aquarium trains otter to use inhaler for asthma

SEATTLE (AP) - The Seattle Aquarium has diagnosed a sea otter with asthma and is training the animal to use an inhaler.

KING-TV reports Dr. Lesanna Lahner diagnosed the otter, named Mishka, after she was having trouble breathing when smoke from wildfires was in the Seattle area.

Mishka's trainer uses food to teach the 1-year-old to push her nose on the inhaler and take a deep breath. The medication in the otter's inhaler is exactly the same as what humans use.

Lahner says reduced genetic diversity could have contributed to Mishka's diagnosis. Sea otters went extinct in Washington and 40 years ago, Alaskan sea otters were brought south and reintroduced to the coast.

Agriculture secretary announces goal for cutting food waste

NEW YORK (AP) – Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced a goal Wednesday to cut the amount of food that Americans waste by 50 percent by 2030.

“The United States enjoys the most productive and abundant food supply on Earth, so too much of this food goes to waste,” Vilsack said in New York City, where he was joined by food-industry representatives and officials from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Vilsack likened the effort to reduce food waste to the anti-littering campaigns of the 1960s and ‘70s that shamed Americans for tossing trash out car windows.

“This is the logical extension,” he said. “This is the next litter campaign.”

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that Americans waste 133 billion pounds of food every year, or 31 percent of their overall food supply.

Vilsack said other nations waste similar amounts and the U.S. must lead a global effort to use food more efficiently. “This is an opportunity for us to make a statement and provide leadership,” he said.

EPA officials said the massive waste is a problem not just because the food could feed the hungry but also because it ends up in landfills and affects the environment.

“Twenty-one percent of all the waste in landfills is food,” EPA Deputy Administrator Stan Meiburg said. “Once it’s there, it produces methane, which is a greenhouse gas.”

Leslie Sarasin, president and CEO of the Food Marketing Institute, a food retailers’ trade association, said the industry supports cutting food waste because it operates on a “razor-thin” margin of 1 or 2 percent.

“Reducing food waste at all levels in the food chain, from farm, factory, store and home, is certainly one of those issues with economic and emotional appeal,” she said.

The officials spoke at a facility in Long Island City, Queens, operated by the nonprofit City Harvest, which started in 1982 as an effort to salvage excess food from restaurants. City Harvest now takes donations from businesses and farmers and delivers it to 500 food banks and soup kitchens.

Vilsack toured the warehouse packed with donated produce like carrots that were too big to sell and called it “truly inspiring.”

He said the campaign to cut food waste includes educating consumers about how long to keep food before it must be thrown out.

He said he recently used the USDA’s new mobile FoodKeeper app to determine whether chicken salad in his refrigerator was still good.

It was, and he ate it.

The Latest: Tsunami advisory for California is canceled

HONOLULU (AP) – The latest on tsunami advisories that were issued for Hawaii and parts of California after a powerful earthquake off Chile (all times local):

9:50 a.m.

The National Tsunami Warning Center has canceled a tsunami advisory for a 300-mile stretch of California’s coast.

The advisory had applied to the coast from San Onofre State Beach, 45 miles southeast of Los Angeles, up to Ragged Point, 50 miles northwest of San Luis Obispo.

The warning center said Thursday that the tsunami generated after an magnitude-8.3 earthquake in the Pacific Ocean off Chile no longer poses a threat.

The center says, however, that some areas may see small sea level changes and surges.

The tsunami was recorded from San Diego to Alaska but only reached the center’s advisory level for part of California.

9:30 a.m.

A small tsunami triggered by a deadly earthquake off Chile has reached as far north as Alaska.

The National Tsunami

Warning Center says King Cove, Alaska, reported water heights of six-tenths of a foot late Tuesday morning.

Tsunami effects also were felt along the coasts of California, Oregon and British Columbia.

Most of the surge occurred outside a 300-mile stretch of California under a tsunami advisory, said Paul Whitmore, the center’s director in Palmer, Alaska.

Whitmore says the advisory likely will be lifted in the early afternoon.

8:50 a.m.

A tsunami advisory has been dropped for Hawaii after a powerful earthquake off Chile, but it remains in effect for parts of coastal California.

The Pacific Tsunami Warning Center dropped the Hawaii advisory Thursday morning.

Officials originally issued a more serious tsunami watch for the state shortly after Wednesday’s magnitude-8.3 earthquake. But they later downgraded it to an advisory, saying no major tsunami was expected.

The National Weather Service says a 3-foot wave was recorded at Hilo Harbor on Hawaii’s Big Island shortly after 4 a.m. Thursday.

Forecaster Tom Birchard says he hasn’t heard of any significant impacts.

The National Tsunami Warning Center says an advisory remains in effect for Ragged Point, California and San Onofre State Beach, California.

Authorities in California are calling on people to refrain from waterfront activities.

Rangers complete 4-game sweep of Astros for 1st in AL West

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Shin-Soo Choo talked about the veterans on the Texas Rangers, and their collective experience in big games.

“That’s what showed the last four games,” he said.

Mitch Moreland hit a three-run homer and Colby Lewis, another holdover from the Rangers’ two World Series teams, pitched six innings for his 16th victory as the Rangers beat Houston 8-2 on Thursday night to complete a four-game sweep that put them in the AL West lead.

The Rangers (79-67) entered the series trailing Houston by 1 1/2 games, but now lead by 2 1/2 with 16 remaining.

“I believe that our ballclub was as focused, as determined, as locked in as we could be for a four-game set, and especially where we were,” said manager Jeff Banister, who was then asked what he likes best about how his team is playing. “The energy, the passion, the grit. These guys, they’re here to play.”

Houston (77-70) had been alone atop the AL West for 49 consecutive days until losing Tuesday night. The Astros finished a 2-8 trip but stayed 1 1/2 games ahead of Minnesota for the second wild card after the Twins lost 11-8 to the Angels. Los Angeles is 2 1/2 games back, and plays in Houston next week.

“It’s difficult to absorb these losses when we’ve put so much time and energy in,” Astros manager A.J. Hinch said. “Obviously, we feel pretty bad about the way these four games went. It’s nothing that a good win can’t overcome.”

The Astros play Oakland on Friday, the first of nine games on their final homestand of the regular season. They have the AL’s best home record at 48-24.

Moreland’s 21st homer was an opposite-field drive that just cleared the 14-foot wall in left in the third. Choo had a one-out single and Prince Fielder walked before Moreland made it 3-0 off rookie right-hander Lance McCullers (5-6).

Choo matched his career high with four hits, scored twice and drove in two runs.

Lewis (16-8), Moreland and shortstop Elvis Andrus were part of the World Series teams in 2010 and 2011. Third baseman Adrian Beltre and catcher-turned-left fielder Mike Napoli, reacquired last month, played for the 2011 AL championship team.

Fielder and Choo arrived last season, when the Rangers finished last with 95 losses. Now they’re in a pennant chase.

Lewis allowed two runs and seven hits. The right-hander, already with a career high for victories, struck out three.

Jed Lowrie had a two-out

“I believe that our ballclub was as focused, as determined, as locked in as we could be for a four-game set, and especially where we were,” said manager Jeff Banister, who was then asked what he likes best about how his team is playing. “The energy, the passion, the grit. These guys, they’re here to play.”

single in the Houston fourth before an RBI double by Evan Gattis, a ball misplayed by Napoli, who was playing left for only the fourth time in his professional career. Lewis hit a batter with a pitch before Luis Valbuena’s RBI single closed the Astros to 3-2.

Houston had two runners on in the fifth when Colby Rasmus grounded into an inning-ending double play. Second baseman Rougned Odor went to his left to field the ball, and was falling away when he threw a strike to Andrus for the relay to first.

In the seventh, Beltre fielded Jose Altuve’s chopper, stepped on third and threw across the diamond for another big double play. George Springer then struck out to end that inning, stranding a runner at second.

“It was definitely a complete series for us,” Moreland said. “Each game seemed like a complete win. We threw the ball well, we played good defense and created a lot of opportunities on the offense side, and we were able to capitalize.”

MOMENT FOR MILO

There was a moment of silence before the game to honor Hall of Fame broadcaster Milo Hamilton, who died Thursday at age 88. Hamilton spent 60 seasons broadcasting major league games, and had been with six other teams before going to Houston in 1985.

He retired after the 2012 season and had since served as a guest radio commentator for select Astros home games.

TRAINER’S ROOM

Astros: C Jason Castro was back in the lineup after being activated from the disabled list. He missed 16 games with a right quadriceps strain. ... Lowrie played for the first time since getting hit by a pitch on the left shin Monday night.

Rangers: OF Josh Hamilton (left knee) hopes to take batting practice on the field Friday, a week after arthroscopic surgery to clean meniscus in his knee. He hopes to maybe pinch-hit by the end of the weekend.

UP NEXT

Astros: Mike Fiers (7-10) is set to start the homestand opener against Oakland.

Rangers: Yovani Gallardo (12-10), who is 9-4 his last 21 starts, takes the mound in the opener of a three-game series against Seattle.

This Date In History

Today is Friday, September 18, the 261st day of 2015. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On September 18, 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the U.S. Capitol.

On this date:

In A.D. 14, the Roman Senate officially confirmed Tiberius as the second emperor of the Roman Empire, succeeding the late Augustus.

In 1759, the French formally surrendered Quebec to the British.

In 1810, Chile made its initial declaration of independence from Spain with the forming of a national junta.

In 1927, the Columbia Phonograph Broadcasting System (later CBS) made its on-air debut with a basic network of 16 radio stations.

In 1931, an explosion in the Chinese city of Mukden damaged a section of Japanese-owned railway track; Japan, blaming Chinese nationalists, invaded Manchuria the next day.

In 1940, Harper and Brothers published "You Can't Go Home Again" by Thomas Wolfe, two years after the author's death.

In 1961, United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold (dah HAWM-ahr-shoold) was killed in a plane crash in northern Rhodesia.

In 1965, the situation comedies "I Dream of Jeannie" and "Get Smart" premiered on NBC.

In 1970, rock star Jimi Hendrix died in London at age 27.

In 1975, newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst was captured by the FBI in San Francisco, 19 months after being kidnapped by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

In 1984, retired U.S. Air Force Col. Joe Kittinger became the first person to complete a solo balloon flight across the Atlantic Ocean as he landed in Italy, four days after leaving Maine.

In 1990, the city of Atlanta was named the site of the 1996 Summer Olympics. The organized-crime drama "GoodFellas," directed by Martin Scorsese, had its U.S. premiere in New York.

Ten years ago: German conservative challenger Angela Merkel's bloc won the most votes in elections, but fell short of a clear mandate to govern.

Five years ago: Despite Taliban rocket strikes and bombings, Afghans voted for a new parliament in the first election since a fraud-marred ballot cast doubt on the legitimacy of the embattled government.

One year ago: In a show of solidarity with Ukraine, President Barack Obama welcomed the new president of the embattled former Soviet republic, Petro Poroshenko, to the White House. Home Depot said a data breach that lasted for months at its stores in the U.S. and Canada had affected 56 million debit and credit cards. Don Spirit, a convicted felon living in Bell, Florida, fatally shot his six grandchildren and his daughter before killing himself.

Thought for Today: "Make your mistakes, take your chances, look silly, but keep on going. Don't freeze up."

From "You Can't Go Home Again" by Thomas Wolfe (1900-1938)

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker
Test Your Play

Assume you, South, are declarer in a notrump contract, that you have plenty of entries to both hands in the side suits, and that to make your contract you must win five tricks in each of the following three combinations:

- North: K Q 9 3 2
South: A 10 5 4
- North: A 6
South: Q 10 8 7 4 3 2
- North: Q 10
South: A K 8 7 4 3

How would you proceed in each case?

Also, how would you play each of the next three combinations to assure four tricks?

- North: J 7 6
South: A 9 5 4 3 2
- North: A 10 7 5 3
South: Q 8 6 4 2
- North: J 10 8
South: A K 6 5 2

1. The only danger is that one opponent has J-8-7-6. To guard against this possibility, cash dummy's queen. If either defender shows out, take the marked finesse against his partner to score all five tricks.

2. Lead the deuce toward dummy. If West follows with the five, play the six. This assures at least five tricks. If West plays the nine, jack or king on the deuce, or if West shows out, win with the ace and return the six toward your hand to attain your goal.

3. Lead the three and, if West follows low, finesse the ten. If West shows out on the three, go up with the queen and return the ten through East's remaining J-9-6-5 to guarantee five tricks.

4. The lone threat is that one defender has K-Q-10-8. To guard against this, lead the deuce. If West has all four missing cards, he can do no better than win with the queen. You later lead the three toward the J-7 to assure four tricks in the suit. If East has K-Q-10-8, he wins dummy's jack with the queen but later scores only one additional trick with the K-10-8 after you twice lead the suit from dummy toward your A-9-5-4-3.

5. Lead the deuce and, if West plays the nine, finesse the ten. If West shows out on the deuce, play the ace and return the three toward your hand.

6. The only danger is that one defender has Q-9-7-4-3. To cater to this possibility, lead dummy's jack. If East has all five cards, he cannot stop you from making four tricks in the suit, whether he covers the jack or not. If West has all five missing cards, he is equally helpless, whether he takes his queen or not.

Tomorrow: A most improbable outcome.

Saturn in Sagittarius

No one observes everything there is to observe.

HOLIDAY MATHIS

Survival depends on picking and choosing what to pay attention to or acting on an instinctual understanding of what's important. Saturn's move to Sagittarius opens up more of the world to gather lessons from, which can enhance or ruin our experience. What do you really want to know? ARIES (March 21-April 19). Artificial glory can be bought. It's shiny and brand-specific, and it makes an impression strutting down the street, though often not the impression intended. People, including you, sense real confidence. That's what you respond to today. TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The early day is filled with imperfect delights. The temptation will be to improve upon them later, although the more artistic choice may be to leave it alone and see how memory enhances the picture. GEMINI (May 21-

June 21). Your way with words is that you're never without them. The words are always right where you need them -- well, almost always. Today brings an unfamiliar sensation: the argument getting lost on the tongue. It's for the best. CANCER (June 22-July 22). Just because they can't handle it doesn't make it "too much." You have a different tolerance, a different facility with the subject matter and a degree of confidence you can't expect them all to understand. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). If it's important to you, it's important. The same goes for the foolishness of the past that seemed do-or-die at the time. Have compassion for "past-you." You had your reasons, even though you no longer believe them. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). If there's someone you want to know better, ask now while your personal energy is impulsive, assertive and charming as all get-out. Don't think about it too much. Just aim and launch. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Though your most accurate answer to today's questions may be "I don't know," it's not the answer that will move you forward. Resolve to learn whatever is necessary to succeed with your project. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The good opportunities in the near future will come much earlier or later in the day than you would normally choose to be active, but don't let that stop you from saying you'll be there. It will be worth it to change your schedule. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The village idiot often winds up being the wisest one of them all. That's why you respectfully listen (if only for a limited time) to all of the many opinions wafted your way today. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Being able to entertain views that differ from your own in a reasonable, calm, detached way will ultimately make you smarter and give you an advantage should you need to resolve a conflict of interest. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18).

20-Feb. 18). There are a lot of people you like and feel friendly toward, but truly hitting it off with another person is a relatively rare gem of an occurrence and worth following through on. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). The exercise routine that's fallen away doesn't need to stay away. Your physical energy may be low, and that's all the more reason to push yourself. The effort won't drain you; it will invigorate you. TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 18). You're a deep thinker and will be an even deeper doer. Once you start working, you won't be able to stop. The emotional, professional and physical muscle tone you develop will help you make a leap of lifestyle in 2016. You'll turn complicated family dynamics into art. You'll generate a large sum for a cause. Scorpio and Leo people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 4, 2, 22, 29 and 16. WEEKEND LOVE FORECAST: ARIES: You will not share the workload 50/50. Working together will be more fun when you drop that expectation. TAURUS: Playfulness is a desired trait, but you do not want a partner who acts like he or she is your child. GEMINI: The most attractive thing you can do: Be into the other person. No one can resist the one who can't resist them. CANCER: Taking turns will make the relationship balanced. Sharing will make it complicated. LEO: The one who steals your heart may not have money and power but has something even better: comic exquisiteness. VIRGO: The nice things you do for the other person make you feel more confident in who you are. LIBRA: Distraction can be a very healthy part of life. Give in to it. SCORPIO: You'll hit the sweet spot by sharing more without sharing too much. SAGITTARIUS: Is it love? If it makes you feel loving, it is. CAPRICORN: Bad dates have pluses. Did you at least see a good place? Did it make another contender look dreamy by comparison? AQUARIUS: If you listen carefully, you'll learn the other person's hidden desire. PISCES: A weird fact of love is that the more reliable your affection and attention are the more they're taken for granted. COUPLE OF THE WEEKEND: Saturn has entered Sagittarius, and the moon will follow suit, drawing attention from the Virgo part of the sky. Virgo usually does find Sagittarius to be intriguing, worldly, sophisticated and full of potential. Sagittarius is all those things and also very difficult to rein in. Virgo won't have to worry about that this weekend, but when the time comes, "reining in" just happens to be Virgo's specialty.

Manning proves he still has it in comeback win over Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — All those doubters who kept saying that Peyton Manning was washed up, that his arm strength was depleted and his drive for championships diminished?

He silenced them along with everyone else in Arrowhead Stadium on Thursday night.

Manning calmly led the Broncos to a tying touchdown in the final minute, then watched from the sideline as Denver cornerback Bradley Roby returned Jamaal Charles' fumble 21 yards for another score with 27 seconds left to cap a stunning 31-24 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs.

"The talk doesn't really get to me," said Manning, who threw for 256 yards and three touchdowns along with a pick-six. "I don't read a lot of papers and watch a lot of analysis. But obviously, you get friends and teammates and it seems to make them quite angry."

"Obviously, it's nice when guys on your team, and your friends and family have your back. But it doesn't affect me," he added. "We're 2-0 and played two really good teams."

Much as he did last week against Baltimore, Manning struggled early against Kansas City (1-1), throwing a costly interception to rookie Marcus Peters as the Broncos dug themselves a 14-0 hole.

But when the game was in the balance, Manning looked like the vintage All-Pro.

After Knile Davis had given the Chiefs the lead with 2:27 left, Manning stoically led the Broncos down field. He completed three long passes to Demaryius Thomas, then hit Emmanuel Sanders on third-and-10 from the Chiefs 19 with 36 seconds remaining to knot the game 24-all.

And when Charles was stripped by Brandon Marshall on the next play from scrimmage, and Roby picked up the loose ball and ran it back, it was Manning who led the celebration. So much for his chamionship drive withering away.

"Obviously, he's not done," Chiefs coach Andy Reid said. "You could see that in the Ravens game. When he wasn't being hit, he's the same old Peyton. He's what you saw here. Very similar."

What was an usual was seeing Charles cough the ball up twice.

The dynamic Chiefs running back is typically sure-handed, so when he fumbled early in the game to squander a good scoring chance, everyone on the Kansas City sideline simply brushed it off.

Then came the second fumble, one that essentially cost the Chiefs the game.

"I was just trying to make a play and wasn't careful with the ball," said Charles, who ran for 125 yards and a touchdown. "I should have been smarter and put two hands on the ball. I caused us this loss today. I tried to put the team on my back and I ended up losing the game."

Not entirely, of course. Alex Smith threw two interceptions and the Chiefs had five turnovers in all, and nine penalties kept scuttling what appeared to be promising drives.

Oh, and Manning had something to do with the outcome, too.

Here are some of the takeaways from the Broncos' seventh straight win over the Chiefs:

TAKING OWNERSHIP: Reid said he was hoping Charles might pop a long run, which is why he didn't take a knee and head to overtime. "I'll take responsibility," Reid said.

DT AND E: Thomas finished eight catches for 116 yards, while Sanders had eight catches for 87 yards and two touchdowns. "It was definitely one of the best games I've been part of," Sanders said.

UGLY EXECUTION: The turnovers and penalties were costly for the Chiefs, but so were third downs. They had seven of them and never converted one. "We pulled this game out, coming off a short week," DeMarcus Ware said. "It was a great win for us."

PETERS MAKES A PLAY: Marcus Peters had a memorable first touchdown, intercepting Manning and returning it 55 yards for a score. The first-round pick also had an interception last week against Houston. "It feels good," he said, "but it stings too bad. We're going away with a tough loss."

HOUSTON, WE HAVE A PROBLEM: Chiefs linebacker Justin Houston had two more sacks, pushing his season total to three. He had a franchise-record 22 last season. "It's all about winning and we didn't win," he said.
