BSHS to greet alumni

Homecoming activities begin Tuesday evening

BY LYNDEL MOODY

Staff Writer

Break out the Black and Gold, it's homecoming week for all Big Spring High School students, parents and alumni.

The festivities begin Tuesday with the annual bonfire and community pep rally on the old Anderson Kindergarten campus.

"It will begin no earlier than 8:30 p.m. and no later than 20 minutes after the Lady Steers volleyball games," said George Bancroft, Big Spring ISD community relations coordinator. Then on Friday, the homecoming parade will start at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday is the last day to sign up a parade entry. To sign up, call the high school's main office at 264-3641 and entries will be taken until 4 p.m.

"No candy can be thrown or handed during the parade," Bancoft said. "Once contacted by BSHS student council, those who entered can pick up their parade packet at high school from Wednesday to Thursday 24 and sign a release

News in brief

US weighs unprecedented abstention on UN vote condemning Cuba embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the United States may be willing to accept a United Nations condemnation of the U.S. trade embargo against Cuba without a fight, The Associated Press

U.S. officials tell the AP that the Obama administration is weighing abstaining from the annual U.N. General Assembly vote on a Cuban-backed resolution demanding that the embargo be lifted. The vote could come next month.

No decision has yet been made, said four administration officials who weren't authorized to speak publicly on sensitive internal deliberations and demanded anonymity. But merely considering an abstention is unprecedented. Following through on the idea would send shock waves through both the United Nations and Congress.

It is unheard of for a U.N. member state not to oppose resolutions critical of its own laws.

And by not actively opposing the resolution, the administration would be effectively siding with the world body against Congress, which has refused to repeal the embargo despite calls from President Barack Obama to do so.

Pope meets with Fidel, but misses out on seeing dissidents after they're blocked from vespers

HAVANA (AP) — Pope Francis flies to eastern Cuba on Monday for the next leg of his pilgrimage after having met with both Raul and Fidel Castro but missing out on an encounter with Cuban dissidents.

The Vatican stressed that no official meeting had been planned with the dissidents. The Vatican embassy in Havana did make calls to some leaders "as a sign of attention to these people," the Vatican spokesman said, but in the end the dissidents were prevented from reaching the cathedral where the greeting was planned.

The Castro meetings went off without a hitch.

The Vatican described the 40-minute session with Fidel Castro at the former president's home as "informal and familial," with an exchange of books and discussion about big issues facing humanity, including Francis' recent encyclical on the environment and the global economic system.

Video of the encounter broadcast on Cuban state media showed the 89-year-old Castro chatting animatedly with Francis and shaking the pope's hand, the pope standing in his white vestments and Castro sitting in a white button-down shirt and Adidas

AP Investigation: World Health agency's bungling hindered Ebola response in Sierra Leone

KENEMA, Sierra Leone (AP) — The chlorine was expired. The protective gear was missing. And the red tape was so thick that responders fighting last year's Ebola outbreak had trouble getting approval for boots and buckets.

The 2014 Ebola epidemic pitted a lethal virus against barely-there health systems, and it was always going to be deadly. But an Associated Press investigation has found that a string of avoidable errors badly undermined the work of international aid workers. The World Health Organization, charged with leading the fight against global outbreaks, already has been criticized over its management of the disease-fighting effort. Earlier this year, an AP investigation found that WHO delayed declaring an international emergency — similar to an SOS signal — on political and economic grounds. Newly obtained emails, documents and interviews show that WHO and other responders failed to organize a strong response even after the signal was issued.

Experts say the bungling ultimately cost lives across West Africa.

Syrian refugee family rebuilds life in the US, hopeful relatives will be able to join them

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Hussam Al Roustom and his wife didn't tell anyone before they and their two small children left Syria, fearing their plans for escape could fall apart.

Leaving their homeland had never been part of the picture before. Al Roustom had a supermarket and owned their home in the western Syria city of Homs. But a civil war that started with unrest in 2011 had taken its toll, especially on his son Wesam, already dealing with autism and so traumatized by the barrage of violence that he stopped speaking entirely.

"When they would exit the house, it was only to the sounds of war," Al Roustom said through a translator. "When they would sleep, they would hear the sound of bullets."

These days, it's the sounds of passing cars and conversations between people on the street for Al Roustom and his wife, Suha, as they and their children settle into their small apartment in Jersey City, New Jersey. They've been here about three months, among the 1,500 or so Syrian refugees who have been resettled in the U.S. out of an estimated 4 million who had fled the country in recent years.

Carly Fiorina's rocky tenure as Hewlett-Packard CEO is still a matter of campaign debate SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ten years after GOP presidential candidate Carly Fiorina was unceremoniously fired from her job as chief executive of Hewlett-Packard, her tumultuous business career is still the subject of heated discussion. Even as she enjoys a surge in momentum after last week's Republican debate, Fiorina is facing more jibes about her tenure at HP. Rival candidate Donald Trump declared her time there "a disaster," after Fiorina boasted of HP's growth and the "tough choices" she made as CEO. The truth is, her HP tenure was rocky. "It is pretty hard to find too many people who think she did

Romo injured, but Cowboys beat Eagles 20-10

- Now the Dallas Cowboys have to defend their NFC East title without Tony Romo, Dez Bryant and DeMarco Murray.

Romo joined Bryant on the injured list with a broken left collarbone, but the Cowboys shut down Murray and beat the Philadelphia Eagles 20-10 on Sunday.

Romo, who missed 10 games with a similar injury in 2010, will be evaluated Monday. Bryant will miss at least six weeks after having foot surgery. Murray plays for Philadelphia, though he probably wishes he never left Dallas.

"The NFL really is about adversity," Romo said. "It's about how you handle it, how you approach it individually and collectively as a team."

The Cowboys (2-0) passed a tough test.

Kyle Wilber returned a blocked punt 26 yards for touchdown, Brandon Weeden threw a 42yard touchdown pass to Terrance Williams and the Cowboys overcame a franchise-record 18 penalties in their 10th consecutive road win.

"Whenever you have a coaching staff that doesn't panic, the players see it's not as bad as things seem," Williams pick in the draft than the playoffs.

Murray, the reigning NFL rushing champion, had 2 yards rushing on 13 carries in his first game against his former team. Sam Bradford had three turnovers, including an interception in the end zone. Philadelphia had 21 total yards in the first half and finished with 226.

"All I'm worried about is winning," Murray said. "I'm not worried about rushing yards or touchdowns. We have to find a way to get it done. It's as simple as that.'

Romo was knocked out of the game in the third quarter when Jordan Hicks sacked him. Fletcher Cox recovered Romo's fumble and Bradford drove the offense to the Cowboys 3 before Sean Lee intercepted his pass in the end zone.

"I'll be back," Romo said. "It's going to take a little bit of time. It's a broken bone. It is what it is."

Some observations after the Cowboys beat the Eagles for the fourth straight time in Philadelphia:

SAM'S STRUGGLES: Bradford finished 23 of 37 for 224 yards and one TD along with two interceptions. He lost a fumble when center Jason Kelce snapped the ball early in a shotgun formation. "We're all Dallas, but they look really frustrated," Bradmore like a team that ford said. "We have to establish our rhythm."

22-25, 24-26. Kiowa Lesser led the team in assists with 10. Katie Wash had a teamhigh 14 digs, as well as four blocks, three kills and two assists. Big Spring is back in action on Tuesday against rival Monahans, their final game before district play. The game will be at Steer gym with Varsity getting underway at 6:00 p.m.

Weeden, who finished 7 of 7 for 73 yards, started 15 games for Cleveland in 2012 as a 29-year-old rookie. He threw two interceptions in a 28-17 loss to Arizona last year in his only start for Dallas. Overall, he's 5-16 as a starter. "I know how to prepare, having Tony around will and you just don't put added pressure

on yourself," Weeden

NOWHERE TO RUN: The Eagles had 7 yards rushing on 17 carries. Murray has 11 yards on 21 runs in two games. Coach Chip Kelly blamed the offensive line, which has two new starters because he released two-time Pro Bowl left guard Evan Mathis and right guard Todd Herremans. Allen Barbre replaced Mathis and Andrew Gardner took over for Herremans. "Too much penetration upfront," Kelly said. "We just didn't block."

REPLACING DEMAR-CO: Joseph Randle had 51 yards rushing on 18 carries, Darren McFadden had 31 yards on 10 carries and the Cowboys finished with 109 on the ground. Lance Dunbar caught three passes for 45 yards and Randle and McFadden for three catches for 35 yards.

The Steer Tennis team opened district team play with a dominating performance against the Sweetwater Mustangs Saturday. The Steers swept 18 out of 19 matches in picking their first District win.

"We were very dominating in singles and particularly strong in doubles on the boy's side," head coach Dana Jones said. "We're still trying out combinations of teams on the girl's side and trying to solidify those teams. Also, the mixed team is still being worked out."

The Steer have a week off from district play, al-

APPLICATION AND

PRELIMINARY DECISION. Weatherford International, LLC, 1409 East Highway 350, Big Spring, Texas 79720-0477, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for issuance of Proposed Air Quality Permit Number 124667, which would authorize modifications to a Wound Fiberglass Products Facility located at 1409 East Highway 350, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas 79720. This application was submitted to the TCEQ on October 31, 2014. The proposed facility will emit the following contaminants: organic compounds, nitrogen oxides, carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, hazardous air pollutants and particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less.

completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit which, if approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The executive director has made a preliminary decision to issue the permit because it meets all rules and regulations. The permit application, executive director's preliminary decision, and draft permit will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, the TCEQ Midland regional office, and at Howard County Library, 500 Main Street, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review at the TCEQ Midland Regional Office, 9900 West Interstate 20 Suite 100, Midland, Texas.

The executive director has

International Day of Peace

On Sept. 21, 1981, the Holiday United Mathis Nations

declared the first International Day of Peace. The theme for this year's celebration is: Partnerships for Peace -- Dignity for All. The Capricorn moon of power and authority suggests a reluctant ceasefire and a skeptical laying down of arms. Any progress counts as positive in a matter this important!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Those who spend a great deal of time on social media will find it difficult to refrain from the dangers of comparison. Just remember: No one else is you, so what is there to compare?

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Happiness is a small number of reasonable aims. Once you've whittled down the list, you'll achieve your goals. Then all you have to do is choose how you'll celebrate!

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're not an easy audience. Right now people have to be either mighty charismatic or completely in line with your current interests in order to get your attention.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You didn't get this far by being lackadaisical about your own success. However, this is one of those times when pushing ahead won't help. It will serve you better to sit back and take stock of where you are. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). You'll take a carefully chosen approach to business that begins in your mind and your closet. You may make an investment that helps your image match your message.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Upon meeting an admired someone, your thoughts will quickly knit together a plan for embodying the desirable qualities this person possesses. It is in you to be who you wish to be. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). When life heads you in directions you don't want to go, your attitude will control the pleasantness of the journey. Accept what is. Mentally adjust to make yourself more comfortable. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You and your friend or partner have grown in distinctly different ways. When you reconnect in the near future, you will have much to teach each other.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Your methods are different from those of your teachers. You've taken all you've learned and turned it into a new way. Just be sure to give credit where it's due.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Contentment is nothing to take lightly. How often in life can we really say there is nothing we need or want that we don't have already? Tomorrow brings ambition anew, so enjoy the present peaceful state.

20-Feb. 18). The people who irritate us teach us something about ourselves. They offer shortcuts to spiritual evolution. What do you have inside you that matches their undesirable

qualities? Identify

AQUARIUS (Jan.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

and rid yourself of it. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You usually do your own bidding, but today you can trust another person to do it for you while you tend to a different matter. This new matter will not end peaceably without your involvement.

TODAY'S BIRTH-DAY (Sept. 21). Nobel Prize-winner Andre Gide said. "Man cannot discover new oceans unless he has the courage to lose sight of the shore." This year's journey starts with your bold decision to trade a familiar view for an adventure. You'll be paid handsomely by year's end. You'll earn a new license or degree in 2016. Pisces and Sagittarius people adore you. Your Annie's Mailbox ® lucky numbers are: 6,

...and this is the reason they eat different foods, and talk different talks and feel different moods, and walk different walks and dance different dances, and play different games, and have different romances and talents and limits and wishes and dreams...

But wait! Am I missing what this really means?

Each person there is only wants to be free, to find some kind of home and live in harmony in a place that feels safe, like it's where they belong and can do their own thing, and can sing their own song.

Dear Annie: Our daughter and her husband are major hoarders. They have two teenage children who have to climb over things to get into their beds. Every room has piles of junk. They will not get rid of anything because "one day, it may be valuable." They never invite anyone into their home, which is a disaster and in major disrepair.

We are concerned for their health, but we're afraid that if we challenge them, we will be cut off. We are also concerned that their home is a fire risk. There is so much flammable stuff, and so few clear pathways, that were ever a fire, they would all likely die. How can we approach this without disastrous results? --Worried Mother

Dear Mother:

These types of problems are heartbreaking, because sometimes, there is little vou can do. A great deal of hoarding consists of simply collecting too much (of anything), having difficulty getting rid of things and problems with organization. Many hoarders won't admit that anything is amiss.

West took the jack and returned a spade, but Leventritt rose with the ace and ran his hearts and diamonds to finish with 10 tricks. As a result, the U.S. team gained 730 points on the deal.

Leventrift did not allow himself to get caught in the series of crisscross finesses that undid the Argentine declarer. Instead, he relied on the strong likelihood that dummy's hearts could be established and run before the defenders could score enough tricks to defeat him. Tomorrow: Still waters run deep.

Top Texas land office staffers got large, frequent bonuses

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Top staffers at the Texas General Land Office routinely collected cash bonuses worth tens of thousands of dollars despite earning annual salaries exceeding $100,000 under its former commissioner — and many remained in powerful posts until a major staff shakeup in recent weeks, according to documents obtained by The Associated Press.

Such "one-time merit increase" bonuses are common throughout Texas government, but in other agencies are often small pay bumps for employees who aren't otherwise highly compensated.

Beginning when Jerry Patterson became land commissioner in January 2003 through fiscal year 2015, his office paid more than $6.5 million in onetime merit bonuses, according to data obtained via open records requests. That included more than $1.2 million just in Patterson's final months, after he ran unsuccessfully for lieutenant governor.

"We used it quite a bit to give people essentially bonuses for a good job as opposed to a pay raise since that raise stays there the following year, when they may not do such a good job," Patterson said.

His successor, George P. Bush, whose grandfather and uncle were president and whose father is campaigning for the White House, took office Jan. 2 and has led an agency "reboot," vowing to impose fiscal conservativism. More than 100 staff members have been fired or voluntarily left since then, 26 of whom accepted $15,000 payments to retire early.

General Land Office spokeswoman Brittany Eck said Sunday that "the majority if not all" of the staffers receiving large previous bonuses under Patterson had left the agency after the latest round of dismissals, retirements or transfers that occurred just in the last two weeks.

Environment group official says Texas water grid should wait

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A proposal to study the possibility of a statewide network that would pump water across vast Texas should be sidetracked until more immediate attempts at water conservation are examined, a top official in Texas' largest environmental group says.

"If we're going to do a study, we need a comprehensive study of how efficient we can become," said Ken Kramer, water resources chairman of the Lone Star Chapter of the Sierra Club.

The El Paso Times reported Sunday (http://bit. ly/1LGvPmf) a proposed water grid study from two Republican state lawmakers — Rep. Lyle Larson of San Antonio and Sen. Charles Perry of Lubbock failed in the most recent legislative session but remains a likely topic for lawmakers when they return in 2017.

Texas is facing water challenges amid huge population growth. Larson has described a proposed water grid as "major arterials to convey water throughout the state" and said it needed to be looked at "from a 50,000-foot view."

TEXAS

Kramer likens such a huge infrastructure project to one narrowly defeated by Texas voters nearly a half century ago. In 1968, a $3 billion bond proposal to import Mississippi River water and distribute it throughout Texas failed by 6,600 votes.

The former president and CEO of the El Paso Water Utility, Ed Archuleta, says such a statewide water grid project is impractical because of costs.

Archuleta, now director of water resources at the University of Texas at El Paso, also says environmental regulations now on the books further complicate a statewide project.

State and federal water planners should do more to make conservation technologies — like reusing water that comes out of wastewater treatment plants — more attractive, he said. El Paso took advantage of a 15 percent federal innovation incentive when it built a water reclamation plant in 1985.

Man fatally shot by Dallas police at apartment complex

DALLAS (AP) — A man has died after being shot by police in Dallas.

Deputy Chief Rob Sherwin said officers responded to reports of a disturbance involving a motor vehicle accident at the Avondale Parc Apartments around 11:45 p.m. Sunday. While responding to the first call, officers received an unrelated call about a man waving and firing a gun on the other side of the apartment complex.

According to Sherwin, police went to investigate where the man was and made contact with him. Sherwin said officers fired at the man, striking

The man was taken to Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital where he was pronounced dead. No officers were injured.

The identity of the man has not been released.

1 dead, 6 rescued after boat accident near Baytown

areas, including Austin.

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard says one person has died after an accident involving two boats in Cedar Bayou near Baytown, Texas.

Watchstander Phillip Woods says the Coast Guard got a call for help Sunday afternoon from a person aboard one of the boats that there had been an accident involving two boats carrying seven people. Woods says a Good Samaritan rescued four people and the Chambers County Sheriff's Office rescued another two before the Coast Guard arrived.
