Hitting the road this holiday?

Many motorists are expected to take advantage of low gasoline prices during the upcoming Labor Day holiday. Department of Public Safety officials are urging drivers to use caution while on the roadways.

DPS: Labor Day travelers, be wary Traffic along the roadways are expected to increase this weekend as motorists taking advantage of the summer's low gas prices hit the road for the Labor Day holiday. According to GasBuddy, a website that tracks gas price trends, "motorists have enjoyed the cheapest summer at the pump since 2004, saving $18.9 billion over its duration versus last summer." With more traffic on the road for the three day weekend, the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is reminding drivers to use extra caution when driving.

"Texans are killed on our roadways every day because of reckless drivers who get behind the wheel after drinking, and DPS works around-the-clock to help prevent these tragedies," said DPS Director Steven McCraw in a news release. "During the Labor Day weekend, troopers will be on the lookout for impaired and dangerous drivers, and we are urging drivers to do their part by strictly obeying traffic laws and finding alternative transportation if they plan to drink." According to DPS statistics, during the 2015 Labor Day holiday troopers made 488 DWI arrests and issued 8,515 speeding citations, 1,091 seat belt/child safety seat citations and 1,062 no insurance citations.

When driving this weekend, DPS request drivers follow these safety tips:

- Don't drink and drive – designate a driver or take a cab.
- Eliminate distractions, including the usage of mobile devices.
- Buckle up everyone in the vehicle – it's the law.
- Slow down – especially in bad weather, construction areas, and heavy traffic.
- Don't drive fatigued.
- Drive defensively, as holiday travel may present additional challenges.
- Make sure your vehicle is properly maintained before your trip begins.

HCSO seizes abused horses

By LYNDEL MOODY
 Staff Writer

The Howard County Sheriff's office seized 13 horses Tuesday as part of an ongoing animal cruelty investigation according to Howard County Sheriff Stan Parker. "The horses had not been properly fed or watered," Parker stated in a written release. "Due to the malnourished condition of the horses, they have been seized as part of a criminal investigation for animal cruelty." The animals were seized from a location in the northern area of Howard County, the release stated. Once the investigation is completed, the case will be filed with the prosecutor, Parker said. "The animals are currently in the custody of the Howard County Sheriff's Office and are being properly cared for under the supervision of a local veterinarian," Parker stated. "At this time, no further information is available." The case comes on the heels of another reported animal cruelty investigation, this one being conducted by the Big Spring Police. On Tuesday, Aug. 23, a man in the 500 block of Union St. called police after he found the remains of a cat found in his mailbox. The cat appeared to be burned, according to a report at the time.

Insurance fraud case highlights grand jury session

By STEVE REAGAN
 Staff Writer

A Big Spring woman was hit with three indictments after allegedly defrauding two insurance firms. Stacey Irene Averette, 41, of 1807 Morrison, was indicted on two counts of insurance fraud and one count of fraudulent use or possession of identifying information during this week's session of the Howard County Grand Jury. District Attorney Hardy L. Wilkerson said Averette is accused of defrauding All State Insurance and Aflac Supplemental Insurance of more than $80,000 in separate incidents in 2014 and 2015. Both insurance fraud indictments carry possible prison terms of up to 10 years upon conviction, while Averette could face up to two years in a state jail facility if convicted on the fraudulent use or possession of identifying information charge. Others indicted during this week's session of the Howard County Grand Jury include:

- Wesley Lyn Arledge, 57, Abilene, driving while intoxicated/third or more offense (third degree felony).
- Don Lloyd Brooks, 50, 1712 E. 15th, possession of a controlled substance (enhanced to third degree felony).
- Crystal Rene Hinojosa, 28, 1401 Princeton, theft over

$1,500/under $20,000 (state jail felony).

- William Jerod Franks, 39, 2612 Dow, sexual offender/duty to register (enhanced to first degree felony/habitual offender status).
- Heather Danielle Hudgins, 32, 108 N. Johnson, possession of a controlled substance

BSPD: Stolen car suspect arrested

By LYNDEL MOODY
 Staff Writer

A 15-year-old male was arrested after leading police in a pursuit around neighborhoods in southwest Big Spring Tuesday afternoon before abandoning the vehicle in a side yard of Gunter St. and fleeing on foot.

According to reports by KBYG, Police Chief Chad Williams confirmed Wednesday the 15-year-old was taken into custody on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, evading arrest using a motor vehicle, and burglary of a habitation. The youth was turned over to Juvenile Probation, Williams told the radio station. According to previous reports, Big Spring Police pursued a silver extended cab pickup which had been reported stolen. The chase ended in the 2900 block of Gunter. There were no injuries reported in the chase, but the recovered pickup did have some damage.

News in brief

Trump retreats from vow to deport all living in US illegally

PHOENIX (AP) — Donald Trump is retreating from his vow to deport the nation's entire population of people living in the country illegally, even as he sticks with an aggressive tone on illegal immigration and remains committed to building a physical wall along the U.S. border with Mexico.

The Republican nominee for president promised Wednesday to remove millions of people living in the country illegally if elected president, warning that failure to do so would jeopardize the "well-being of the American people."

"Anyone who has entered the United States illegally is subject to deportation," Trump said in a highly anticipated speech, which took place mere hours after his surprise meeting with Mexican President Enrique Pena Nieto in his first trip abroad as the GOP nominee.

But the billionaire New Yorker also said the effort of a proposed immigration task force in a Trump administration would focus on removing criminals, people who have overstayed their visas and other immediate security threats.

Left unanswered by Trump: What would happen to those who have not committed crimes beyond their immigration offenses?

Mexican president likely hurt by 'ill-advised' Trump meeting

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Enrique Pena Nieto's decision to meet with possibly Mexico's most-disliked man is turning into a public relations disaster for him, with social media posters and politicians calling it a national humiliation likely to lower the president's already historically low popularity ratings.

Not only did Pena Nieto not demand that Donald Trump apologize for calling Mexican migrants rapists and criminals, but he stood silently by in their joint press conference while the Republican candidate repeated his promise to build a border wall between the countries.

"This is an insult and a betrayal," said artist Arturo Meade as he joined a protest against Wednesday's meeting in Mexico City. "What can this meeting bring us except surrealism in all its splendor?"

Televisa news anchor Carlos Loret de Mola marveled that Trump would dare come to Mexico and reiterate his intention to build the wall. "The humiliation is now complete," he tweeted.

Particularly irksome to Mexicans was that Pena Nieto appeared to do little to push back against Trump's earlier negative statements about Mexican migrants and unpopular proposals.

Brazil's Michel Temer inherits presidency on shaky ground

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The permanent ouster of deeply unpopular President Dilma Rousseff by Brazil's Senate means that a man who is arguably just as unpopular is now faced with trying to ease the wounds of a divided nation mired in recession.

Long known as an uncharismatic backroom wheeler-dealer, Michel Temer inherits a shrinking economy, a Zika virus outbreak that has ravaged poor northeastern states and political instability fed by a sprawling corruption probe that has tarred much of the country's political and business elite — himself included.

So far he's struggled in the nearly four months he's served as interim president following Rousseff's May impeachment, which suspended her from office while a final trial was prepared. The Senate's 61-20 vote on Wednesday to permanently remove her means Temer, who had been her vice president, will now serve out her term, which ends in late 2018.

Just hours after Rousseff was removed, Temer assured the nation his administration was up to the task.

"From today on, the expectations are much higher for the government. I hope that in these two years and four months, we do what we have declared — put Brazil back on track," he said.

Hawaii hit by strong rain, surf as tropical storm brushes by HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Heavy rains hit parts of Hawaii and strong waves pummeled shorelines as a downgraded yet still-powerful Pacific storm passed near the island state.

Though Tropical Storm Madeline was no longer a hurricane, the weather's uncertainty couldn't let Hawaii's Big Island relax.

There were periods of intense rainfall Wednesday as the National Weather Service downgraded Madeline, with winds falling below hurricane strength of 74 mph.

Wind speed diminished slowly throughout the day and by 8 p.m. (11 p.m. PDT), they were swirling at 60 mph. Forecasters said continued weakening was expected.

Madeline's center was 175 miles south of Hilo and moving southwest and away from the state at 15 mph — not predicted to make landfall on any Hawaiian island. Still, the Big Island and Maui County were under tropical storm warnings.

10,000 Syrian refugees find new home in US

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — On Sunday, Nadim Fawzi Jouriyeih participated in a ceremony in Amman, Jordan, to mark the United States hitting its target of taking in 10,000 Syrian refugees in a year-old resettlement program. On Wednesday, the 47-year-old former construction worker and his family were walking grocery aisles, stocking up on roasted chicken, milk and lemons for their new home outside San Diego.

It didn't take long for Jouriyeih, his 42-year-old wife and four children, ages 8 to 14, to feel welcome.

"America is a beautiful country," he said through an Arabic translator at the office of the International Rescue Committee in El Cajon, a San Diego suburb that has been a magnet for Iraqis and, more recently, Syrians who are fleeing war. "The way they treat people and the people of America are very nice ... When you go down the streets, everyone smiles at you. Even if they don't know you, they just smile at you."

San Diego, the nation's eighth-largest city, has received 626 Syrian refugees since Oct. 1, more than any other in the United States. Many smaller cities have accepted outsized number of Syrians, including Erie, Pennsylvania (205), Toledo, Ohio (109), and Boise, Idaho (108).

California and Michigan are neck-and-neck among states for receiving the most Syrian refugees, followed by Arizona, Texas and Illinois. Cities with large numbers include Chicago (469), Glendale, Arizona (384), Troy, Michigan (325) and Dallas (293).

G20 governments endorse trade but tighten controls

BEIJING (AP) — Leaders of the United States, China and other Group of 20 major economies who meet this weekend say more trade would shore up sluggish global growth but are tightening their own controls on imports.

China hopes its status as G20 host will give it more sway in managing the global economy and has made trade a theme of the meeting in Hangzhou, a scenic lakeside city southwest of Shanghai. Chinese officials say Beijing will propose a plan to promote commerce through cooperation in finance, tax and energy.

Governments also have said they want to discuss climate change, efforts to reduce surplus production capacity in steel and other industries and limits on use of tax havens, though no detailed agreements are expected.

U.S. President Barack Obama, German Chancellor Angela Merkel and other leaders will speak out against protectionism, their governments say. But at the same time, G20 governments are ratcheting up restraints on imports of steel and other goods, prompting concern support for global trade might be eroding.

The summit is the first global event for British Prime Minister Theresa May after her country's June vote to leave the European Union, a move seen by some political analysts as the start of a possible wave of nations pulling back from economic integration.

Forever Changing

Think you're following the same rules of grammar that your grandparents or parents did? Think again. While you might have been taught some of the same rules, you might also be learning some new ones. That's because the English language is constantly changing.

Listen to your grandparents or parents chat. Now, listen to some teens chat. Hear a difference? Chances are you do. Computers, cell phones and technology in general have led younger people to speak and use the English language differently. While Grandma might have been taught never to start a sentence with the conjunction "but," you might have been taught differently.

The English language is constantly changing to reflect the times. Emailing and texting have resulted in new words and new uses for punctuation marks. The grammar rules you are learning now as a student may no longer apply when you are attempting to help your kids with their homework years down the road.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is accepting applications for the following position:

Mechanic – Responsible for maintaining and repairing district equipment including mechanical and electrical repair of all vehicles and heavy equipment.

For additional information visit www.crmwd.org

that the JPM EOC OPERATING, INC., [RRC Operator No. 448014] has made application for a spacing exception permit under the provisions of Railroad Commission Statewide Rule 37 (16 Tex. Admin. Code section 3.37). Applicant seeks exception to the lease line distance requirement because the Applicant is less than the required Rule 37 lease line distance to an unleased or non-pooled interest within the subject unit for the NEW DRILL permit in Sec. 29, Bk. 32T1N, T&P RR CO Survey, A-142, SPRABERRY (TREND AREA) Field, HOWARD County, being 3 miles NE direction from BIG SPRING, Texas.

PURSUANT TO THE TERMS of Railroad Commission rules and regulations, this application may be granted WITHOUT A HEARING if no protest to the application is received within the deadline. An affected person is entitled to protest this application. Affected persons include owners of record and the operator or lessees of record of adjacent tracts and tracts nearer to the proposed well than the minimum lease line spacing distance. If a hearing is called, the applicant has the burden to prove the need for an exception. A Protester should be prepared to establish standing as an affected person, and to appear at the hearing either in person or by qualified representative and protest the application with cross-examination or presentation of a direct case. The rules of evidence are applicable in the hearing. If you have any questions regarding the hearing procedure, please contact the Commission's Docket Services Department at (512)463-6848. If you have questions which are specific to the Application or the information set forth in this Notice, please contact the Commission's Drilling Permit Unit at rule 37 (512)463-6751.

IF YOU WISH TO REQUEST A HEARING ON THIS APPLICATION, AN INTENT TO APPEAR IN PROTEST MUST BE RECEIVED IN THE RAILROAD COMMISSION'S AUSTIN OFFICE AT THE ADDRESS, FAX NUMBER, OR E-MAIL ADDRESS SET OUT ABOVE BY Oct 5, 2016 at 5:00 p.m. IF NO PROTEST IS RECEIVED WITHIN SUCH TIME, YOU WILL LOSE YOUR RIGHT TO PROTEST AND THE REQUESTED PERMIT MAY BE GRANTED ADMINISTRATIVELY.

HOLIDAY MATHIS

New Moon and Solar Eclipse

The new moon and solar eclipse develop a richly complex snapshot, Polaroid-style, right before our eyes. There is beauty in danger, danger in safety, safety in battle. Life can neither be experienced nor explained in simple terms. However, hopefully there is solace in the reality that we only have to show up to one moment at a time. ARIES (March 21-April 19). Don't be surprised if your personality naturally starts to curve to the job at hand. This flexibility of form is a strength, not a weakness. It is because you are so solid at your core that you're able to bend to your environment. TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Every change is a key to the door of another opportunity. It is not always clear which door the key goes to, though. You'll spend part of the day trying different "doors," seeking the right fit. GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Oddly, the difficulties attract you. Or maybe this isn't so strange. Maybe it's the mark of fine character to seek constant challenge. The rewards are, after all, richer where powerful efforts are the demand. CANCER (June 22-July 22). You'll ride a highly creative frame of mind all day, similar to the one you often experience just as you are drifting off to sleep. There is gold to be mined in this beautiful mix of conscious and subconscious awareness. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). The one you're wild for is always somewhere on your mind, no matter what you're doing. Therefore, being thoughtful comes easily to you. You're magnetized toward anything that might delight your love. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). As for your all-consuming, deep, affectionate attachment, sometimes you can't remember how it began. Other times you can't have a thought that's not remembering. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). The fresh luck will come after what's old has been wrapped up. Consider bringing in some outside forces to finish the job faster. The results will be well worth the money. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Get the word out about what you do. Post wide and far. You'll be surprised who can make use of your talent, and in ways you will really enjoy. That you make money too will be the cherry on top. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Troubled people sense your empathetic nature, and they will tell you their problems. Don't let this stress you out. Your mind will race to how you can help, but you needn't worry: Your listening ears are help enough. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You have an excellent sense for placing people in the position they are best suited to. Now the trick is in knowing how to state things to make the job appealing to the person who should be doing it. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). There's so much that needs to be wrapped up today that you'll wish you had your own staff to help you finish. Unless you do have your own staff, and then you'll wish said staff were slightly more efficient. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). To the untrained eye, your carefree ways belie your strong character. The reality is that it's precisely because of your inner strength and faith in yourself and life's process that you can afford to be easygoing.

Annie's Mailbox

A Less-Than-Ideal Party

Dear Annie: A few weeks ago, it was my birthday. For months, my husband was hinting that he was going to do something very special. I was excited. I assumed it might be a romantic dinner at my favorite restaurant in the city. When the big day finally came, I put on my best party dress and prepared for our memorable night. While we were driving, he began to look a little nervous. I asked him, "What is wrong, honey?" He said, "I just hope you like what we have planned." We pulled up to a very casual restaurant. (Needless to say, I was very overdressed.) "Party of 20," he said to the hostess. "Wow, a surprise party!" I thought. When I got to the table, I looked around at the guests. With the exception of two couples, all the people there were his friends. I put on a broad smile, but inside I was disappointed. I ended up having a good time. When we got in the car, I asked him why my friends were not there. He explained that most of my friends were away that weekend at a college reunion and couldn't make it. I couldn't help but wonder, if he knew a month in advance that my friends could not make it, why did he go through with the party anyway? -- It's My Party, and I'll Cry if I Want To

Dear It's My Party: Hold those tears, birthday girl. Your husband planned a special dinner to celebrate you. True, he probably should have thought to rework the plan once he learned so many of your friends wouldn't be able to make it. But this is a case in which you need to concentrate on the full half of the glass. He acted out of love. Thank him for the dinner and the nice gesture, and after some time passes, gently tell him that surprises just aren't your thing and to please leave the party planning to you.

Dear Annie: My very healthy and able 80-year-old mother has started to repeat herself. She was widowed two years ago, and at first I attributed it to stress and grief, but it's getting worse. She has gone for a cognitive functioning test and passed. She is considered above-average -- so perhaps this repeating herself is just a part of aging. My question is: What is kind etiquette? Do I just let her tell the story again, or do I say I've heard this already? -- Concerned Daughter

Dear Concerned: As Joan Didion once wrote, "we tell ourselves stories in order to live." For your mom, repeating these anecdotes is most likely a way to make sense and meaning of the past, to revisit lost loved ones and sort snapshots into an overall narrative. Continue to monitor her health and ensure there's no presence of dementia. If all is well, let her take you down the same familiar stretches of memory lane. It's good exercise. Dear Annie: As a daily reader of your column, I have noted that you failed to alert readers to the possibility that medication is causing negative behavior, particularly in the elderly. Most recently, "Sad Grandma" wrote that her husband had recently started bullying their 9-year-old grandson because of his long hair, despite the fact that Grandpa himself had long hair as a teenager and the grandson had been growing his hair for a long time. Grandma and her son need to investigate side effects of any medications that Grandpa may be taking, identify any other changes in behavior or physical ability, and talk with a doctor. Changing medications or dosage could be an easy solution, although such changes in behavior could also indicate a developing serious illness. -- Been There

This Date In History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 1, the 245th day of 2016. There are 121 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On Sept. 1, 1939, World War II began as Nazi Germany invaded Poland.

On this date:

In 1715, following a reign of 72 years, King Louis XIV of France died four days before his 77th birthday.

In 1807, former Vice President Aaron Burr was found not guilty of treason. (Burr was then tried on a misdemeanor charge, but was again acquitted.)

In 1905, Alberta and Saskatchewan entered Confederation as the eighth and ninth provinces of Canada.

In 1914, the last passenger pigeon in captivity, "Martha," died at the Cincinnati Zoo.

In 1923, the Japanese cities of Tokyo and Yokohama were devastated by an earthquake that claimed some 140,000 lives.

In 1941, the first municipally owned parking building in the United States opened in Welch, West Virginia.

In 1945, Americans received word of Japan's formal surrender that ended World War II. (Because of the time difference, it was Sept. 2 in Tokyo Bay, where the ceremony took place.)

In 1951, the United States, Australia and New Zealand signed a mutual defense pact, the ANZUS treaty.

In 1969, a coup in Libya brought Moammar Gadhafi to power.

In 1976, U.S. Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, resigned in the wake of a scandal in which he admitted having an affair with "secretary" Elizabeth Ray.

In 1983, 269 people were killed when a Korean Air Lines Boeing 747 was shot down by a Soviet jet fighter after the airliner entered Soviet airspace.

In 1995, a ribbon-cutting ceremony was held for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum in Cleveland. (The hall opened to the public the next day.)

Ten years ago: Mexican President Vicente (vih-SEN-tay) Fox was forced to forego delivering his final state-of-the-nation address in person after leftist lawmakers stormed the stage of Congress to protest disputed July elections; Fox instead gave his speech on television. An Iranian passenger plane caught fire on landing in Mashhad, killing 28 of the 148 people on board. Nellie Connally, the former Texas first lady who was riding in President John F. Kennedy's limousine when he was assasinated, died in Austin, Texas, at age 87.

Five years ago: In a fiery broadcast from hiding, Libya's Moammar Gadhafi warned that loyalist tribes in his main strongholds were armed and preparing for battle. Leaders and envoys from 60 countries and the U.N. met in Paris for talks with Libya's rebel-led National Transitional Council to map the country's future.

One year ago: President Barack Obama stared down a melting glacier in Alaska in a dramatic use of his presidential pulpit to sound the alarm on climate change. Invoking "God's authority," Rowan County, Kentucky, Clerk Kim Davis denied marriage licenses to gay couples again in direct defiance of the federal courts, and vowed not to resign, even under the pressure of steep fines or jail.

Parent's Corner: Fire zones are there for a reason

I would like to dedicate the column this week to the observance of the school fire lanes. We had an incident recently with an automobile parked in the fire lane of one of our campuses preventing the fire truck from performing its duty. I spoke with a member of our fire department and he said this has been a problem for several years, but never before has a car been parked when an emergency vehicle needed to use the space. Let me identify the dilemma. Someone pulls up to one of our schools needing to pick up a student, so they quickly park their car in the fire lane in an effort to hurry into the school, check out the student, and rush back to the car and leave. In the effort, they leave the car, parked, unattended in the fire lane, which is against the law. If there is a driver that is still in the car, the car is not left unattended and therefore is not classified as parked; however, without a driver in the car, it is classified as parked and subject to citation or to be hauled away. The school district and the fire department does not want to issue citations; we both know that the cost of a citation can be anywhere from $250 to $2,000, and we don't want the folks of our community to have to be out that kind of money, but we must observe the requirement of fire lane parking. Please observe this regulation and save yourself the cost of a citation. If you must leave your car unattended during a school visit, no matter how short, or the reason, please park in the parking lot. If you have questions concerning this regulation you may contact the Big Spring Fire Department. Now to end on a more comical note; did you hear about the man who parked his car and went into a café for breakfast? When he left the café he noticed a policeman writing out a parking ticket. He walked up to the policeman and said, 'Come on man, how about giving me a break I was only in there for a few minutes'. The policeman ignored the man and continued writing the ticket. The man called the policeman a name or two, but the policemen just glared at him and started writing another ticket, something about the tires sticking out further than the body of the car. So the man called him a few other names. When the policeman finished the second ticket and put both tickets on the windshield, he started writing a third ticket for not having a front plate. This went on for about 10 minutes. The man continued calling the policeman names that are not to be repeated in this article, and the officer continued writing additional tickets. Finally the man turned and walked away, shouting loudly over his shoulder, "Have a great day Officer. By the way, that's not my car!"

Petroleum Museum to host series of classes on robotics, engineering

The Petroleum Museum of Midland is holding a three session series called Building Bots — Robotics & Engineering Fun-Lab. According to the Museum's website, the classes are geared to engage children in "engineering challenges, team building, and creative robotic design. Each session features a different theme and STEAM (Science-Technology-Engineering-Art-Mathematics). It is open to students in the grades kindergarten through sixth. Each class is $25 a piece or $20 for museum members. All classes meet from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, Sept. 6: Biomechanical Engineering
Tuesday, Oct. 4: Sound Engineering
Tuesday, Nov. 1: Special Guest: Bricks 4 Kidz

Steers look to rebound from 5A loss

By DREW WILLIAMS
Sports Editor

When the Big Spring Steers take the field against the Sweetwater Mustangs Friday, head coach Clint Finley will be going up against a long-time family friend.

Sweetwater head coach Shane Mobley has known the Finley family for years after growing up in the same part of West Texas.

"I don't think we know each other from a football terminology or scheme standpoint, but I've known him since he was a couple years older than me when I went to Iraan and he was at Big Lake. We've known each other for a long time, and he's a good guy," Finley said.

As far as X's and O's, Sweetwater will provide a similar challenge as the 5A Amarillo Caprock Longhorns that the Steers faced last week in their 37-12 loss. Sweetwater and Caprock both feature

Forsan's win over Coahoma provides only win in Howard Co. entering week two

It's been a while since the Forsan Buffaloes (1-0) played the Eldorado Eagles (0-1). Forsan head coach Jason Phillips said he wanted to change that.

"We haven't played those guys in several years. They used to be in our district years ago, but we've been trying to get them back on the schedule. They're a good group of guys down there," he said.

Phillips said this week of practice wasn't as cut and dry as last week. The Howard County Bowl featured two teams that ran similar schemes, while Eldorado runs something completely different.

"They run the wishbone, which is tricky for us because we're about as far away from the wishbone as you can get. It makes the scout team a little bit difficult to get a good look. But our guys have done a good job," Phillips said.

The wishbone isn't as popular as it used to be, with current trends leaning towards spreading the offense out. The wishbone packs everyone in the offense close to the quarterback, normally lined up with a fullback and two running backs. Though the wish-bone primarily features just two wide receivers, Phillips said the play of his defensive backs will be crucial this week as they try not to let running plays get outside.

"The corners have a very huge role in the way you stop the wishbone. Especially out of our defense, they have to be able to come and force the runner and keep everything back inside and not let it spill outside. A lot of times, you could throw a blanket over all 22 guys on the field, everybody's going to be crammed in there. They've got to make sure they keep everything inside, and they've got one of the biggest responsibilities this week," he said.

But against a team that likes to run as much as Eldorado, the line of scrimmage is still where Phillips expects the game to be won or lost.

"This week it's going to be our defensive front," Phillips said regarding which position group will be the most important Friday. "We're going to give them a little bit of a different look than we've shown in the scrimmages or against Coahoma. We're going to have three big boys down there because we want to make sure we control the line of scrimmage and not let them get three or four yards

Q: Forsan head coach Jason Phillips has talked about the difficulties of practicing against the wishbone. Does preparing for Forsan's spread offense provide an equal challenge for Eldorado?

A: Pretty much so. We kind of mixed ours up a little bit, doing a little more spread this year. Normally what's tough is when we line up to run the ball, we don't usually see a lot of teams that do what we do (in practice), so trying to determine how they're (Forsan) going to line up against what we do is kind our our problem. We'll get into the wishbone, which not many schools do these days, so when we watch film it's hard to determine what we need to do.

Q: Jason Phillips and the Buffaloes like to pass to set up the run. How do the Eagles approach their offensive play calling?

A: We're a little on the other side of that. We like to run the ball to open up the pass. What they're doing though, they do a good job. Their quarterback and their running back are probably two of the best we'll see all year, so we definitely know we're going to have to be on our toes when we show up Friday night.

Q: Which matchup on the field do you need to win to give the Eagles the best chance to win?

A: It all starts up front. In order to get done what you need to get done, you definitely have to take care of that offensively and defensively to have a chance there in the fourth quarter.

Q: We'll see the wishbone formation on offense, but what will Forsan fans see from the Eagles on the defensive side of the ball?

A: We run a 4-3. We're pretty set in the positioning. Four down linemen, three linebackers, two safeties, two corners. Pretty typical 4-3 defense.

Coahoma looks to minimize mistakes in game 2

By DREW WILLIAMS

Sports Editor

Coahoma head coach Fred Dietz knows what to expect from the McCamey Badgers Friday, but he said after a season opener that featured five Coahoma turnovers, the focus this week will be on themselves.

"They're a pretty explosive team at times. They have some speed, they ran the opening kickoff back against Reagan County," Dietz said. "But we're still zoned in on ourselves and trying to get better at the little things. We want to make sure we don't turn the football over. We just want to keep progressing as a football team ourselves. So that's been our focus this week."

The Bulldogs' five turnovers were the main factor in their 42-19 loss to the Forsan Buffaloes in the Howard County Bowl a week ago. Though the game didn't go their way, Dietz said his team was able to see the bigger picture in their 23-point loss.

"Our kids realized that we were able to play with them and kind of trade punches with them, and if it wasn't for the mistakes, anything could happen. We were right there in that game, 14-7 at the half. Too many turnovers made the score go the direction we didn't want it to go, but really, when you look at the stats and the total yards gained by both football teams, it was a very close game. And our kids realized that," he said. "Our kids understand that we played a pretty good football team, and we did some good things against them. I feel like it was encouraging and our kids understand that even though we lost the game, we're a very capable football team."

If the Bulldogs saw a version of themselves in Forsan's spread offense, they will surely see more of the same, and then some, in the Badgers.

"I would say McCamey is even more like what we are offensively than what Forsan was. Very similar style, their base football players are pretty much what ours are, as far as the running game. They're a little different in the passing game, but it's good for our young kids to be able to rep those things to our older kids, and it just gets them prepared for their game on Thursday night," Dietz said.

While Coahoma is known for their heavy passing attack, the Bulldogs' running back Braden Pearson was a bright spot in their first game. Pearson finished with 106 yards on 21 carries.

"We know Braden is a very capable runner. He's kind of a deceptively fast kid. You look at him and you don't think he's all that fast, but he really is," Dietz said. "And he runs very determined. He's a powerful runner, and he's still kind of feeling out the ins and outs of playing running back, as far as the timing and the patience it takes for some of our plays to develop. He's only going to get better and better as the year goes on."

The play of Pearson, and Coahoma's offensive line, could result in a more balanced attack this year from Dietz's Air Raid-based offense.

"Also our offensive line played really well. They did some good things up front. They really protected the quarterback well when we threw it, but they came off and really gave us some room to run the football as well," Dietz said. "The running game is a positive thing for us. We're going to continue to try and be balanced. We're going to put the ball in the air just because we want to keep defenses honest, and we want to keep people out of the box, but we are going to run the football, and it was very encouraging to see our running back and offensive line play as well as they did."

With McCamey looking to spread the ball around and air it out at times, Dietz said he'll be looking for his de-

See COAHOMA, Page 3B

Q&A with McCamey Badgers head coach Ricky Peacock

Q: The Bulldogs and Badgers run a spread offense. What's the biggest difference between the two schemes?

A: They play a little more up tempo than we do, but as far as formations and plays, there's some similarities.

Q: Is it any harder getting prepared for Coahoma's 3-3 stack base defense than it is any other defense?

A: Not especially. I've coached against the 3-3 stack quite a bit over the past few years in the panhandle region, so I'm pretty familiar with the defense. It's not too dissimilar from the split defense that we run. In some ways, that makes it a little bit easier as far as we're concerned when it comes to preparation.

Q: Should Coahoma fans expect to see more run plays or pass plays from the McCamey offense?

A: We try to be balanced. We're probably a little more run-oriented. Right now we've got a sophomore quarterback, so we're trying not to put too much on him and trying to let him develop. But we are going to spread it out a little bit, and try to be balanced. It's probably going to be more 60-40, but we'll try to do enough to keep the defense off balance.

Q: What formations will Coahoma fans see from the McCamey defense?

A: I still call it the split, and the 4-2-5 is just a different variation of the split. Fronts are basically the same, it's just a little different in the back end. But it's something we're in our second year with now here, and the kids are more familiar with it. It's a pretty balanced defense, so we don't have to do a lot of adjustments or motion. We'll just line up and run it.

Q: What will be the most important facet of the game for the Badgers and the McCamey coaching staff?

A: We feel like it always starts up front. Last week against Reagan County, they were able to control the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball. It really took us out of our offense, and they just kind of ran over us on defense. We've got to get better up front. The big plays, those are going to happen sometimes in high school football. It's kind of inevitable so you just have to live with those and try to cut down on special teams mistakes to give yourself a chance at the end of the ballgame.

plenty of speed and experience at the skill positions.

"I'm expecting a heck of a football team. They're a veteran football team. I think they have one underclassman, a sophomore. The rest are juniors and seniors, and they're stacked," Finley said. "They play with a lot of confidence and they've been running the same schemes their whole career. So they know what they're doing and we're going to have to play really good."

Though Big Spring's five turnovers could have given many teams reason to hang their head, Finley was proud of his team for its strong second half, when they outscored Caprock 12-2.

"We've got a lot to work on, but I like the fight in our kids. They came out and competed and I was really pleased with that. As long as they come out with that kind of intensity, hopefully we'll be in more football games," Finley said. "As far as what I liked, I liked they way our defense came out and played in the second half. They had every reason in the world to give up. They didn't. They came out, they fought back, and they used it to get better, and hopefully we can use that experience this Friday."

Finley added that he didn't think Caprock "took their foot off the gas" with a big lead, pointing to starters being on the field and an onside kick attempt from Caprock when they were up 35-0.

"I didn't see very many non-starters in the game. They were still competing and trying to get better. I think we made some pretty good adjustments with the kids, and I think the kids made the adjustment with how they were playing more than anything. It wasn't necessarily the coaches, it was the motivation of the kids," he said.

Regarding which unit of the Steers needs to play the best to get a win on Friday, Finley, like most defensive-minded coaches, said his offensive and defensive lines.

"They're all so important to me, but I think it has to be the trenches. I think that's going to be the answer for me every week. We have to win in the trenches, we have to play physical, and we've got to win the line of scrimmage on both sides of the football. That's where the game is won and lost, we've just got to make sure we take care of the football. We can't give it to them," he said.

Big Spring and Sweetwater kick off at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium in Big Spring.

Q: When did preparation start for Big Spring?

A: That starts Saturday morning after we watch the game film with the kids. The kids go home and the coaches stay up on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and we start preparing.

Q: The Mustangs have a lot of experience on the team. Are the younger athletes contrib- uting with scout team work at all since your team is filled with upperclassmen?

A: We've got a good group of JV kids. We call them the 'White Knights,' and they go out there and run the scout team for us, but it's hard to simulate (Big Spring). We've got a couple kids that most definitely will give us a good look, but I think like most schools our size, we'll just run our defense against our offense.

Q: How familiar are you with first-year Big Spring Coach Clint Finley?

A: I remember Coach Finley from when we were growing up. I grew up in Big Lake and I know he spent some time at Iraan, but I know his dad and I know his family pretty well. Just those small West Texas ties.

Q: What can Big Spring fans expect to see from the Sweetwater offense?

A: We're in the spread. We've been in the spread ever since I got here, and this is my fifth year. We've got a lot of skill kids, and we feel like the best way to utilize them and get the ball out there is to spread it out and let the kids run.

Q: What will the Mustangs be trying to do defensively Friday?

A: We're going to be very multiple. Defensively, we can base out of a 4-3, or a 3-4. Depending on what we get, we'll walk linebackers out and we'll roll secondary guys in different looks depending on the offensive formations.

Hergert to play through injury

Forsan quarterback Bryce Hergert gets tackled by Coahoma defenders in last week's season opener.

By DREW WILLIAMS
Sports Editor

Forsan head coach Jason Phillips won't have to worry about his quarterback, Bryce Hergert, starting the game Friday against Eldorado. Hergert missed most of the first half of Forsan's first game with an ankle injury.

"He's good. He's still a little gimpy, but I think we'd have trouble keeping him out of the game on Friday," Phillips said.

Phillips echoed his comments after his team's first game when he said that Hergert is determined to show his ability to play, despite a sore ankle.

"He wouldn't leave me alone. He was driving me crazy, and he said, 'Coach, I'm fine,' and put on a little exhibition showing off for me at halftime. He was running and cutting, and he looked good," Phillips said after the game against Coahoma.

Forsan fans should be able to tell how Hergert's ankle is holding up by watching the defensive side of the ball. Prior to his injury, he was a defensive starter, but didn't play any snaps in the defensive backfield following the injury.

Forsan's Blaze Yeater did it all a week ago in the Howard County Bowl.

Yeater had a game-high three touchdowns in the contest, including two on special teams via a kickoff return and a recovered muffed punt.

His lone offensive touchdown came in the second half when he caught a touchdown pass from quarterback Bryce Hergert.

every time they get the ball. We've got to have some zero-yard gains or some one-yard gains."

One point of focus for Phillips and the Buffaloes this week will be "starting earlier." Forsan scored just 14 points in the first half, compared to 28 in the second.

"We kind of had a slow start against Coahoma, and we've talked to them this week about getting a fresher start, and not waiting until the third quarter to start playing, and they responded well," Phillips said.

Forsan also got a better feel for their backup quarterback situation last week. Though starter Bryce Hergert eventually came back in after his injury, Ehren Hillger provided a spark for the Buffaloes, leading them to a field goal attempt and a touchdown in his first two possessions.

"We talked to both of them, and the good thing about having Ehren Hillger is he's been playing quarterback for us basically as long as Bryce Hergert. They're both juniors, they've been kind of like quarterback 1 and 1A, and we have as much confidence in Ehren as we do in Bryce," Phillips said. "He came in and we threw a pass his first play in there and he completed it, so we have all the confidence in the world in him. I don't know that he expected to play as soon as he did, but he responded well."

Forsan and Eldorado kick off at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Buffalo Stadium.

defenders to focus on tackling and not allowing the big play. Also worth noting is the explosiveness of McCamey's special teams. The Badgers returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown against Reagan County last week.

"It's containing them and not allowing the big play," Dietz said regarding the main focus this week. "They've shown the ability to be explosive and make you pay if you miss a tackle here or there, so we want to make them snap the football again. Don't give up the big play. If they happen to find some running room or complete a pass, let's get them on the ground and make them snap it again and not let them hurt us with one play."

And as one might expect following a five-turnover game, Dietz said the key for the offense will be to minimize mistakes.

"Offensively, we've got to take care of the football. We've got to eliminate the sloppiness and the turnovers, and that's what our focus has been," he said.

McCamey and Coahoma kick off at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Bulldog Stadium.

Attention Herald readers & coaches

Fans of the area's smaller football teams (Sands, Grady, Stanton, Borden County, Garden City), as well as Big Spring, Coahoma, and Forsan, are encouraged to submit photos, scores, and statistics from all of their school's sporting events this season. Credit will be given to each person that submits a photo.

Please submit photos, stats, and other items to the Big Spring Herald sports department via email at sports@bigspringherald.com.

Photos must be submitted by 8 a.m. on Saturday to be included in the Herald's weekend edition.

Enter To Win $50 At These Participating Merchants

Rules: Find this week's games between the merchants' ads on this page. Choose the teams you think will win. Clip and fill in the official entry blank on this page with your team choices. The entry with the most correct picks will win $50 and a Pizza Inn Gift Certificate. You must be 18 to enter. No Photo Copies Accepted. In the event of a tie, the tie breaker will determine the winner. For the tie breaker, the entry with the correct team will win. If both entries have guessed the same team, the second tie breaker will be the one closest to the total points. Decisions of the judges are final. Employees and family of The Big Spring Herald are ineligible. All entries must be received at one of the participating merchants by 1 p.m. Friday of the week played. Do not drop your entry form at the Big Spring Herald. Winners will be announced in the next Pigskin Contest Page.
