Wiseman, McLellan issue State of the County/City addresses

By ROGER CLINE Staff Writer

Just over 100 people turned out to the East Room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at Howard College Thursday to hear about the state of Howard County and Big Spring. The event was the State of the County/City Address, and was organized by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce. Howard County Judge Kathryn Wiseman and Big Spring Mayor Larry

McLellan each spoke for about half an hour about their respective local government entity.

Speaking first, Judge Wiseman led off with a brief word about the history of Howard County, including its formation from Bexar County in 1876, named for US Congressman Volney Howard, and other facts about construction of the county's first "calaboose," or jail, and construction of routes which would later become parts of US Highway 87 and Interstate 20.

Wiseman went on to discuss the services provided by the county, which receives just under 18 cents out of every property tax dollar paid by

Forsan Elementary to hold Veterans Appreciation Program

It's almost Veterans' Day, and a group of elementary school students in Forsan has been working hard to honor the men and women that served in the United States military. "It's just an appreciation program for any veterans who would like to come and join us," said Forsan Elementary Music Teacher Cheridan Fulgham. "We'll just sing several songs and honor them, and then have a short reception in our cafeteria following." Fulgham said the program, titled "American Pride," will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10, in the cafeteria at Forsan Elementary School, 500 W. Main St. in Forsan; and is being put on by the school's fourth and fifth graders.

"They've been working on it about a month now," she said. "There will be songs and speaking parts. It's just kind of a musical program." The program will last about 20 to 30 minutes, with a reception to follow. "The reception will just be 'at will," she said. "If they want to leave and not do the reception, that's fine with us; if they'd like to stay at the reception, they can stay as long as they want. We'll have punch and cookies and that kind of thing."

His comments came after he launched a multi-part Twitter attack criticizing his former 2016 rival Hillary Clinton and the Democratic National Committee Friday morning. "Crooked Hillary bought the looking at the DNC & then stole the Demo-

Asked if he would fire Sessions if DOJ doesn't focus its investigative powers on Democrats, Trump said, "I don't know."

Trump continued: "A lot of people are disappointed in the Justice Department, including me."

Earlier Friday, Trump said the American public "deserves" a federal investigation of Clinton and the DNC over a joint fundraising agreement they signed in August 2015.

poor in Howard County with indigent health services. We provide you, each one, an opportunity to elect all offices of influence, and that's from school board trustees all the way up to the president of the United States. These elections will also serve to amend state and federal constitutions, to determine the policies that affect you every day."

Wiseman then gave a brief verbal "walkthrough" of the Howard County courthouse, where describing offices and courtrooms are located in the building. As she did so, she briefly commented on the jobs and workload of each office. Some of the facts she mentioned were that the county clerk's office recorded more than 11,000 documents last year; while the county's three Justices of the Peace: Bennie Green, Robert Fitzgibbons, and Connie Shaw, collectively handled 3,442 criminal cases and 504 civil cases. Brent Zitterkopf is the county

"They are busy!" she ex-Other officials she commented on included County Elections Officer Jodi Duck; County Treasurer Sharon Adams, newly appointed as a replacement for retiring Teresa Thomas; County Auditor Jackie Olson.

"She is the taxpayer's very best friend, because she is completely out of the county's control, in the district's control, and she is the one who audits county offices and continually reminds us that every penny we use belongs to the taxpayers of Howard County," she said of Olson.

Wiseman also recognized County Attorney Josh Ham-"The county judge's office, the county clerk's office, and the county attorney's office have to work hand in hand,' she said. "When I came into the office, our five-year average at clearing criminal cases was below 88 percent. I am happy to report to you that now, today, our criminal clearing cases now stands at 97 percent, so everyone did really hard work. I want to thank Josh, and my awesome assistant, Megan Green for their hard work in getting these cases on the docket and then disposed. We received 1,413 criminal cases and 196 mental health hearings this year. I also preside over lots of guardianship hearings and probates."

Indigent Health, Tax Assessor's Office, Adult and Juvenile Probation offices, and Howard County Tax Appraisal Office were also recognized by the judge.

Wiseman spoke at length about tax appraisals.

"(The Tax Appraisal Office) is completely independent from county government," she said. "If you have a problem with your property taxes and the tax appraisal values, it's not because of the county. Remember the comptroller. They get their marching orders from the comptroller.' The State of Texas Comptroller is Glenn Hegar.

Mayor McLellan took the podium and started off by thanking city employees and elected officials, including City Manager Todd Darden; and city council members. Councilmen Raul Benavides and Jim DePauw attended the event.

"I think we have a council that is very concerned with things like tax rates and the effect it will have on our citizens, and I thank you for your support and dedication to the City of Big Spring," he said. Next, McLellan outlined some of the city's accomplishments over the past year.

Among the milestones he mentioned included the near completion of the Historic Spring restoration project. "This is something that we all can be proud of in Big Spring," he said. "When I moved here in '84, everyone that I talked to afterward would ask me, 'Is there a "Big Spring?"' Yeah, there is, but it's not anything... I hate to say we weren't proud of it, but it just was just not up to our speed. Now we have moved forward thanks to (project designer) Kelly Cook, Debbie's (Wegman) staff, Mr. Weaver – H.A. Weaver. I can't wait to open this. I believe it's Nov. 16. 4:30 in the afternoon. I promise you, you all will be, if you haven't been out there, you'll be surprised at what we have created as our namesake. Those who come into Big Spring from now on will make it a point to visit the 'Big Spring'."

McLellan also mentioned progress on the US 87 Truck Relief route and the construction of the new Big Sandy landfill, and planning on a new Downtown Plaza to be located between the Hotel Settles and the Municipal Auditorium. "It gives us another anchor downtown for entertainment," he said. "I feel like for years, small cities lost their downtown. We didn't have a downtown. It was a place you just didn't go. Malls came along, and all of a sudden, it was just a run-down building. This is something I truly believe that the citizens of Big Spring will be very satisfied with the results here.'

McLellan also mentioned that the city recently purchased a building to consoli-structure and streets were also on McLellan's list, as well as progress on the new Water Treatment Plant and purchase of airplane displays at Hangar 25 Air Museum. McLellan urged continued growth and expansion of the Airpark.

"There's so much potential there," he said. "But we've got to take care of business ourselves. We've got some things we need to do. I tell you, there's two companies in the airpark, if you combine their sales tax, they rank second in the city as far as collection of sales tax. That's two companies in our airpark. I don't know how we do it, but we've got to have some plan to get moving in this area."

McLellan wrapped up the program by expressing pride and love for the city.

"Thank all of you for listening," he said. "I think we all have a passion for this city. I know I do. I moved here in '84. It's our home. We have a lot of good things here. A lot of things we have to fight for. If we don't claim it, we don't get it. But the people in Big Spring, Texas, are the best people I've ever been around. I wouldn't live anywhere

NEW YORK (AP) — The eight people killed in a truck driver's rampage were honored by friends and strangers with a walk down the riverfront esplanade where the victims died as both investigators and terrorweary New Yorkers tried to make sense of the crime.

Some at Thursday's nighttime march carried candles as city lights twinkled on the water. Others pushed bicycles in solidary with the victims, who were cut down on the long bike path that runs the length of Manhattan's Hudson River waterfront. The mourners included Harry Kassen, a student at the Manhattan school where one of the victims, Nicholas Cleves, 23, worked part-time. "You never think it is going to be someone you know," said Kassen, 17. He said he'd just recently worked with Cleves on lighting and sound for a school performance. "We were up in the tech booth, chatting. Then, two weeks later, here we are. And he's gone," Kassen said. The march began near the spot where authorities say Sayfullo Saipov, 29, an immigrant from Uzbekistan, steered a rented truck onto a bike path and sped south toward the World Trade Center, striking cyclists and pedestrians in his path. He was shot by a police officer a school bus and arraigned Wednesday on terrorism charges. Two women carried the flag of Argentina, in remembrance of the five people from that country who were killed when Saipov's truck plowed into a group of friends who had come to New York together to celebrate the 30th anniversary of their high school graduation.

The memorial walk and vigil took place hours after several of the Argentinian survivors of the attack visited a severely injured and hospitalized member of their group, Martin Marro, of Newton, Massachusetts, to tell him for the first time which of his friends had died. "I think Martin had to know the truth. Maybe he already imagined that but now he knows and is a step that his friends wanted to take before returning to Argentina," Argentina's consul in New York, Mateo Estreme, told reporters in Spanish. "It was something very emotional for all of them."

New York officials on Thursday began to put up temporary concrete barriers at 57 locations where it is possible for vehicles to turn onto the bike path where the attack took place. Long stretches of the path of the victims were struck in 2006 when a drunk driver entered the path by mistake.

For years, the city and private property owners concerned about truck bombs and other attacks have been gradually installing thousands of metal posts to block vehicles from getting onto sidewalks and public plazas. In May, one of those bollards halted a car speeding down a crowded sidewalk in Times Square, but not until it had killed one person and injured more than 20.

The New York Police Department's top counterterrorism official, John Miller, said investigators still hadn't uncovered evidence that Saipov had any accomplices in the attack, but said information was still being gathered.

A propaganda arm of the Islamic State group called Saipov "a soldier of the caliphate." A message in an Islamic State weekly newspaper used the term in an item published late Thursday. That item then was translated the SITE Intelligence Group. The Islamic State group has an interest in taking credit for attacks carried out by individuals who are self-radicalized.

Did you ever wonder: Israel has a queen married He Athaliah, a daughter of Ahab, and he followed the ways of the kings of Israel. He led the people of Judah into idol worship.

Since Jehoram turned from the Lord, God left him. Many of the nations that surrounded Judah rebelled against him. Elijah delivered God's word to Je-horam, "Because of all the evil you have done, the Lord is about to strike your people, your sons, your wives and everything that is yours, with a heavy blow. You yourself will be very ill with a lingering disease of the bowels." (2 Chronicles 24:22-15 paraphrased)

At the death of Jehoram, his son Ahaziah, became king of Judah. His mother, Ahalitha, had encouraged him to worship the baals. Ahaziah reigned only one year. He was killed during Jehu's purging of Ahab's male descendants. After the death of her son, Athaliah, conspired to slay the remaining royal family of the house of Judah. She proclaimed herself Queen of Judah, and she was not even of the tribe of Judah. She ruled for six years. We must remember that Athaliah ordered the last male descendants of King David slain. God had promised David that there would always be someone from the house of David on the throne of Judah. Jehosheba was a daughter of King Jehoram, the sister of Ahaziah and wife of Jehoiada, the priest. She hid Joash, a very young son of Ahaziah, and his nurse in the temple of God for All this time Joash was under the tutelage of Jehoiada, the priest. Finally Joash was ready to show his strength; he engaged four army commanders to support him. These officers made a covenant with the king at the temple of God. Then they went throughout Judah gathering support for Joash. Jehoiada issued shields that had been used by King David's army to the priests and Levites. They stationed themselves around the young king and vowed to defend him to the death. Just in front of the Temple, Jehoiada and the priests anointed Joash and crowned him king. When they shouted, "Long live the king," people came running and shouting for joy. Athaliah heard the noise and ran to the Temple. She saw the young king standing with the priests, Levites and army officers around him. She tore her robes and shouted, "Treason!" Jehoida ordered that Athaliah be escorted off the Temple grounds and slain. Jehoida reinstated the Temple Joash did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, and he reigned for forty years. He ordered the Temple-tax of Moses reinstated and the Temple repaired.

After Jehoiada died, the officials and princes of Judah came and paid homage to Joash, but they went back to worshipping Asherah and their idols. They drew Joash away from God and he began worshipping the God sent Zechariah, son of Jehoiada, to tell Joash, "Since you have forsaken the Lord, He has forsaken you." King Joash did not remember the kindness of Zechariah's father. He ordered Zechariah stoned.

As Zechariah lay dying, he said, "May the lord see this and call you to account."

oon the army of Aram marched against Joash. The Aramean army was much smaller, yet, the Lord delivered the army of Judah into their hands. The army of Aram killed all the leaders of Judah and left King Joash severely wounded.

Joash's advisors conspired against him and killed him in his bed.

Reflections: Halloween that changed the world

t was Halloween, October 31, 500 years ago. A little known monk left the monastery where he lived and walked, almost unnoticed, the few blocks to a church at the other and of the street.

other end of the street. There he nailed a hand-written document to the wooden door for all to see. Like a single flaming match dropped into the dry straw of a forest, Martin Luther's 95 theses ignited a conflagration that engulfed all of Europe and continues to this day.

TINSLEY

This week over 2 mil- lion people descended on Wittenburg, Germany, current population 2,135. Many believe that this was the door by which Europe exited the Dark Ages and entered the Age of Enlightenment. Historians point to tiny Wittenberg as the cradle where the modern Western world was

I visited Wittenberg a few years ago. The ancient village is surrounded by modern development. But the old streets have been preserved, much as they were 500 years ago. I sat in the courtyard outside the monastery where Martin Luther worked through the book of Romans and wrestled with the words, "The just shall live by faith." (Romans 1:17). I walked from the monastery to the church, the same path Luther took 500 years ago.

Luther was a young priest, only 34 years old, assigned to an obscure village. He was devoted to the Roman Catholic Church. But when Johann Tetzel came to his town promising his parishioners that their deceased family members could be released from Purgatory and enter Heaven if they would only make a contribution to the church, he could not contain himself. Tetzel's efforts had been wildly successful in raising money. But, to Luther, it was wildly heretical.

It was a paradigm shift, 14 centuries after Jesus was born. Somehow the manuscripts recorded in the first century by those who saw Jesus, who listened to his words, who watched Him crucified and witnesses His resurrection had been buried beneath religious tradition and ritual.

His discovery changed everything. Heaven, the one thing he desired most, could not be earned by good works and penance, nor by contributions to the church. It could not be bestowed by the words of any man, priest or pope. Heaven was a free gift to anyone willing to repent of their sins and place their faith in Jesus Christ.

Heaven could not be earned by our efforts or bought with our money. The Bible was clear. Peter had stated it to Simon, a Samaritan magician who wanted to buy the gift of the Holy Spirit, "May your silver perish with you because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money." (Acts 8:20).

From the first century until now it has always been the same, for rich or poor, for people of every nationality, language or ethnicity, "if you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved; for with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth he confesses, resulting in salvation. For the Scripture says, 'Whoever believes in Him will not be disappointed.'For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, abounding in riches for all who call on Him; for "Whoever will call on the name of the Lord will be saved." (Romans 10:9-13).

First Presbyterian Church, Big Spring

On Wednesday the Lectionary Bible Study, led by Craig Holstedt and Tom Koger, meets at 5 p.m. in the church library. The Chancel Choir rehearsal is at 6 p.m.

This Sunday the Children and Youth activities will not meet because so many are involved in band contests.

Because last Sunday was the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, during worship Rev. Holstedt remembered the members and friends of this congregation who have joined the church triumphant this past year by lighting candles for Fern Cox, John Currie, Lee Emerson, and Dianne Pippins.

The annual BBQ Lunch last Sunday was a wonderful time of food and fellowship. A nod of appreciation goes to Buddy Cochrane, Danny Kennemur, and Tom Koger for cooking the meat and to everyone for the delicious go-with dishes. The Service Committee reminds everyone that Sunday, Nov. 5, is the final collection for the Annual Food Drive. Anyone who has not received a bag or food list may pick one up at the church office this week. This is the food that goes to stock the North Side Center food pantry and the church food donation pantry.

Members were reminded that those who wish to order poinsettias to give in honor or in memory of loved ones for Advent should do so the next two Sundays: Nov. 5 and 12.

The Covenant Class, led by John Ferguson, begins the final unit in the study In Covenant with God. The four Sundays of November will focus on the theme "An Everlasting Covenant: When the People of God Are Unfaithful to Their Loving God, God Remains Faithful," based on readings from Jeremiah.

The Discovery Class begins a new DVD study by Ray Vander Laan, entitled A Clash of Kingdoms. Participants will discover how Paul communicated the Good News of Christ to Philippi, a Roman colony that worshipped false gods.

Jennifer Patterson is in charge of Take Ten for this Sunday.

The lectionary passages for the Twenty-second Sunday after Pentecost are Joshua 3:7-17; Psalm 107:1-7, 33-37; I Thessalonians 2:9-13; and Matthew 23:1-12. Rev. Craig Holstedt will deliver the sermon and officiate at Communion. The Chancel Choir will open the service with the Introit "Spirit of the Living God" by Daniel Iverson. Reminder: Please set clocks back one hour before going to bed Saturday night because Daylight Savings Time ends at 2:00 a.m. Fall back! to be on time Sunday morning.

Please note that our worship service begins at 10:50 a.m. for announcements and parish concerns before our radio broadcast starts at 11.

If you cannot attend worship, you may listen in on KBST 1490 AM, beginning at 11 a.m. If you wish to have a printed bulletin for Sunday services, please call the church office at 263-4211. You may also see what's happening at the church by visiting our website www.fpcbs.org. On our website, you can find a link that will enable you to listen to several recent sermons by Rev. Craig Holstedt. We would be pleased for you to Like us on Facebook.

"Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves receive from God." 2 Corinthians 1:3-4

You're invited to gather with the people of First Baptist Church Sunday morning at 10:50 in honor and reverence of The Lamb of God, Jesus Christ. Music Minister Alan Schantz will lead worshippers in music consisting of classic hymns of the faith and contemporary praise and worship songs. Pastor Mark Lindsey will bring the message titled "Surrender to Me" from the sermon series 'Seeking God First.' Drawn from Genesis 22:1-8, listeners will ponder the Biblical account of Abraham's test of his love for God, and soberly consider what it means to trust Him with that which is most dear to us in order to obediently demonstrate our trust and faith in Him alone. If you have mobility issues, use the west circle drive and someone will be happy to assist you inside and park your vehicle. If unable to attend, you may join the service through the live stream on the website at: fbcbigspring.org.

At 9:30 a.m. Sunday School groups meet throughout the building with children gathering in the Good News Garage on the first floor, and youth, college students, and adults meeting in second floor classrooms. Greeters are available to help you find your class and direct you to coffee; come early to enjoy a time of fellowship.

Martinez and Miller head to State

By MARISSA LOFTIN

Sports Editor

Big Spring Steer cross country runners Cooper Miller (Sr.) and Aaron Martinez (Jr.), will make their way to Old Settlers park in Round Rock, Texas this weekend to compete in the UIL 4A State Cross Country meet.

Both qualified for the state meet with top finishes at Regionals, which was held in Lubbock, Texas on October 23, 2017. Martinez finished in 11th place with a time of 16:38:58, and Miller finished in 20th place with a time of 16:57:26.

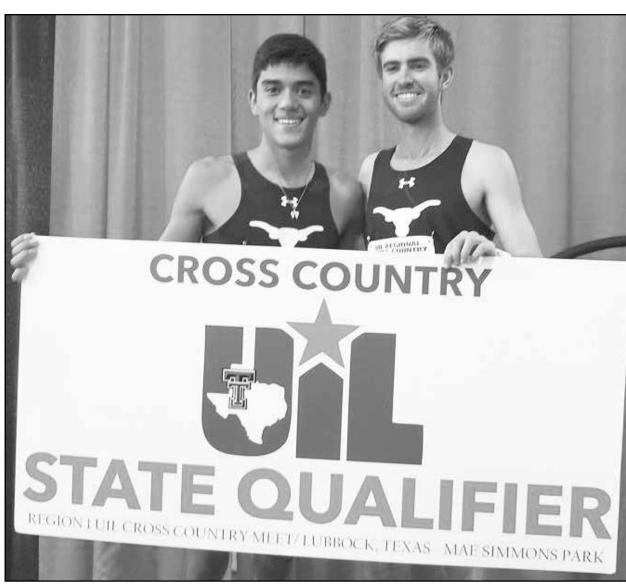

"Martinez is a senior, so this is kind of his last opportunity to run a cross country meet and kind of show college recruiters what he can do. Miller is a junior so he still has some time, but it's kind of the same thing for him even though he still has another year," said head cross country coach Randall Shaw. "Both are planning on running track in the spring so they aren't quite done yet as far as running, but it was a really a big honor for me to step in this season and coach both of them. They are great kids. Really all of our varsity runners were just great kids to coach, but I am just really proud of these guys and it is a huge accomplishment for them."

Miller and Martinez were sent off this morning right outside of the high school with a parade of supporters as they made their departure to Round Rock. Their race kicks off Saturday afternoon at 3:10

It was a thrilling night of basketball on Wednesday as the Howard College Hawk and Lady Hawk basketball teams hosted the Weatherford College Coyotes and Lady Coyotes in a double-header that had fans on the edge of their seats the entire evening.

The women's team kicked things off and ended up taking their game into double-overtime. The Lady Hawks came out on top with a final score of 66-63.

Kaki Simpson, a freshman and former Amarillo High Sandie, led the team in scoring as she posted up 24 for points, four rebounds and two assists for the night. Kendall Alsup, a sophomore out of Del Rio, Texas, followed up with 12 points, four rebounds and one assist, and Corbyn Cunningham finished with 10 points, 15 rebounds and two assists. All three each had one steal.

The Lady Hawks were a little shaky shooting from the field but were able to make up for that with their free throws, something Weatherford had trouble

The Lady Coyotes out-shot Howard College as they sank 40% of their shots from the field compared to the Lady Hawks' 22.5%. As far as three-pointers and free throws go, it was the other way around. The Lady Hawks shot for 25.7% to their 23.1% beyond the arc, and a whopping 65.6% to Weatherford's 47.1% from the charity stripe. So, it was the free throws that were the difference maker in this one, as it came down to the wire and had to be settled in double-overtime.

Coming up for the Lady Hawks is a trip to Thatcher, Arizona to face Eastern Arizona College and Pima. They will be back at home on November 15 to

CTLGA update

Special to The Herald

The end of the year golf meeting was held on October 23, 2017 at the Comanche Trail Golf Shop and presided over by Lanita Fryar, outgoing President of the Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association (CTLGA). The main topic of business was electing new officers to serve in 2018. The nominating committee of Mary Gilbreath, Annie Ward and Patsy Sharpnack recommended and was approved by acclimation from the members for these new officers:

President - Vickie Purcell Vice President - Debra Lusk

Secretary - Tammy DePauw Treasurer - Pam Steel

All interested lady golfers are welcome to play and join the CTLGA. Competitive play within members is held every Monday morning (weather permitting) beginning March 12, 2018, and ends when the time changes in the Fall. Members are also eligible to play once a month in a golf tournament at another golf course near by that is a member of the Permian Basin LGA, which is a nice benefit.

Call the Comanche Trail Golf Course for more information at 432-264-2366.

Cowboys' Ezekiel Elliott: Will play Sunday against Chiefs

(RotoWire) — Elliott will be able to play against the Chiefs on Sunday after the Court of Appeals 2nd Circuit granted him an administrative Friday morning, Adam Schefter of ESPN reports. The back-and-fourth continues, as it previously seemed that Elliott would finally begin his sixgame suspension this Sunday against the Chiefs, but yet another procedural workaround will allow him to continue playing.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Surely I'm not biased, right?

ost people are biased to some degree. I am biased to some degree. My life has been shaped by a certain set of circumstances and specific experiences. These things influence the way I perceive other people. I may gravitate towards others who have similar backgrounds to mine. I might be more quick to accept these people. On the other hand, those with very different backgrounds to mine, who don't look or act or speak like I do, initially may receive my suspicions rather than my acceptance.

Something else that may happen is that we tend to project ourselves onto others.

If I do certain things for certain reasons, I may assume that others have those same motives for doing the same things. If I am only nice to others out of selfishness, thinking what they can do to benefit me, then I may question someone's motives even when they are being kind to me. If there are actions and attitudes that I try to hide from others, then I may begin to assume that everyone is hiding something. It's hard to be completely objective, but we should try. Surles

Jesus had to deal with bias from others. No one could deny the things that Jesus did, especially the miracles. However, some didn't like him because he did not fit into their mold or try to conform to their group. Some of the Pharisees were like this. In Matthew 12:22-24, we read about another confrontation between Jesus and sinners and tax collectors. He didn't them.

Then a demon-opressed man who was blind and mute was brought to him, and he healed him, so that the man spoke and saw. And all the people were amazed, and said, "Can this be the Son of David?" But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "It is only be Beelzebul, the prince of demons, that this man casts out demons." (ESV)

They could not deny the power of Jesus and his ability to perform mir-

The crowds were amazed and were beginning to make the connection between Jesus and the messiah ("Son of David" was one of the designations the Jews had for the messiah). The Pharisees didn't want Jesus to be the messiah because he didn't do things their way all the time. Jesus ate with follow all of their traditions. So, they tried to make people doubt his purpose and plan.

We must not assume the worst of people. I must not project my failures and inadequacies onto others. At the same time, we should do good because that is what Jesus did. We must not let biases of others keep us from doing what we know is right. We need to really get to know people.

We will study this situation more in future articles, but for now we should look at ourselves. I need to evaluate my own heart.

It's hard to see our own biases, but we need to try, and others can help us in this regard. Ultimately, our goal should be to follow the example and teachings of Jesus in everything we take on Cisco College, which is scheduled to begin at 5:45 p.m.

The men's matchup was full of excitement as well. Strong basketball was demonstrated from both teams in what turned out to be a pretty evenly matched game.

Jake Hutchings, a returning sophomore out of Las Vegas, Nevada, started the game off with the hot hand as he sank his first three three-point shots from beyond the arc to give his team a boost.

first half if Jake doesn't come out and make those threes. Thank goodness for him. Boy, he was clutch. He got us off to a good start, and I really liked his aggressiveness going to the rim a couple of times. Jake was huge." said head basketball coach Scott Raines.

The game was tied 48 all at the half, and remained neck-and-neck until the game clock hit zero.

Within the final seconds of in the game, both teams were tied at 86. Weatherford fouled Hawk sophomore, Jack Pagenkoph, to stop the clock with only a few seconds on the board. He made one of his two free throws to put Howard College up by one. Following a Weatherford timeout, the Coyotes inbounded the ball and threw up a last chance shot from way downtown to try and steal the win but it didn't sink, and the Hawks came away with a 87-86 victory.

"They're a really good weatherford team. I don't even know how we won, honestly. I thought they outplayed us, and I thought they out-toughed us there for a good part it. Probably a lot of it was just them missing shots down the stretch, but I am happy. All that matters is a win, and we have to get better from it but we do feel good about our bunch," said Raines. "I'll tell you what the funny thing is, we didn't have a zone defense going into today's game. We could not begin to guard number zero (Tyrik Armstrong) and number two (Ken Busby) off the dribble. They just went by everybody and we were fouling and fouling. So with about 15 minutes to go, I just said 'has anybody ever played a 2-3 zone at some point in their life', and we just went to a 2-3. We have never practiced that. I ran a 2-3 one year as a head coach. We normally are like a 1-2-2, or 1-3-1. I figured that was the one thing that we could all run and, and while it wasn't great, it slowed them down enough. They started settling for jump shots, and they went a long stretch without living on the free throw line. They were just too quick and too good for us there for a big part of that game. I'm really happy with our guys. We made just enough plays to win the game."

Up next, the Hawks will make their way to Lewisville, Texas this weekend to take on Angelina on Friday, and Lee on Saturday. Their preconference schedule proves to be filled with tough competition, so the Hawks should find out a lot of things about this new team and have quality opponents to help brush off that rust and prepare for conference play.

"We have a big weekend. Angelina is really good, Lee is really good, so we have tomorrow and Friday to practice and prepare. Then we will play those games Saturday and Sunday afternoon in Dallas. It's a big next couple of days for us preparing and getting ready for this weekend. I just hope we can win enough to not get beat down a little bit," said Raines. "We play two really tough east texas teams this weekend, and then next weekend, we go to Levelland. We play Coastal Bend, who's traditionally just okay, but then Arizona Western Saturday on neutral ground, who are top 20-25. Then I think we have six days, and then we play Arizona Western at their place, followed up by Eastern Arizona, so we will learn a lot about our team over the next couple of weeks. We just want to be able to win enough games, keep improving and keep good attitudes. It's just easier to be upbeat when you get a victory So that was big for us, and hopefully we will relax a little more because we were a little bit uptight. Im just really pleased in our guys. If they work really hard, this is a special group and we want them to get paid off for it.'
