Story of Poppy Day is Told; Millions To Wear Symbol On Memorial Day

Every year on the Saturday before Memorial Day millions of Americans wear little red poppies on their coats. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary and other women's organizations are on the streets all day with baskets of poppies, pinning the little flowers on all passersby. Of course you know that the poppies are worn in memory of the men who lost their lives in the World Wars, but I wonder if you all know the poppy came to be the nation's memorial flower.

Take a map of Europe and draw a wavy line from the Swiss border, through France and Belgium, to the North Sea. Imagine this line to be a double line of trenches, and picture vast armies on both sides of it locked in a four-year battle. That is the way Europe looked in 1914 to the fall of 1918. The line waved first one way and then the other as the contending armies pushed forward or were driven back. For miles on both sides of it the ground was trampled by the heavy shoes of millions of fighting men. It was churned and re churned by the shells of thousands of cannon, blown full of ugly craters by the explosions of mines, and bleached by clouds of poison gas.

In this area of death and destruction hundreds of thousands of American boys advanced in 1917 and 1918, determined to put an end to the horrible war. You all know that they did end the war, restoring peace to a war-torn world and bringing liberty to subjected people. But many months amid the desolation of the battle-front, many weeks of continuous fighting and many thousands of fine young lives were required to complete the task.

As the American soldiers struggled forward through the shattered villages, across the shell-torn fields and over the blasted hillsides they saw only one touch of life and beauty in all that region where death and destruction reigned. This was the little wild poppies. Along the very edges of the trenches, about the ragged shell holes and in the fields raked by machine gun fire, the brave little poppies grew and loomed. When comrades were left beneath the bare dirt of hastily dug battle graves, the poppies sprang up and clothed the graves with flowers. It seemed as if the gallant spirit of the dead had passed into the blood-red blossoms and that through the little flowers they were sending a message of courage and hope to those who still lived.

Another World War has now been fought, some of its battles in that same territory. Thousands of our young men made the supreme sacrifice of their lives for their country in this second great war and that little scarlet poppy, now as then, covers the earth where our young Americans lie.

The poppy has become the symbol of the dead—their memorial flower. It has become the sign that the high ideals for which these brave young men gave their lives and are honored. That is why we pin on the poppy when we pay tribute to our dead of the two World Wars. The poppy covers the soil in France beneath which many of them lie, and on Poppy Day we place the flower over our hearts, where the memory of the great sacrifice they made for our country is forever enshrined.

IT'S ALL BUICK

for the price of a smaller car!

(Come in and check it!)

YOU certainly can throw out your chest and call this strapping big Buick yours.

Because—as any comparison shows—the dollar difference between this brawny beauty and the well-known smaller cars is now virtually erased.

So if you've been holding back, thinking a Buick was out of reach—let yourself go. You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car—and the price tag we'll show you proves it.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That's a major reason for the phenomenal success of Buick today. So much so, that production and sales are hitting new peaks to move Buick more firmly into the tight circle of America's best sellers.

And a companion reason for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of cars to give you a choice in any price class—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But pure and simple, it's all the automobile you get for your money that's winning so many new owners to Buick.

It's the extra pride you feel, the extra room you enjoy, the extra comfort you get, the extra safety you sense—from Buick styling, Buick size, Buick ride-engineering, Buick solidity of structure.

It's the extra lift and snap and ginger you get from Buick high-compression V8 power—and the fun and thrill of bossing such eager might.

As we said—if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—even with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo[†] at modest extra cost.

So why settle for anything less than a Buick? Drop in on us, take the wheel, press that pedal, and see for yourself what a whale of an automobile—and a whale of a buy—today's Buick really is.

[†]Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series

DID YOU KNOW——that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
—that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Thrill of the year is Buick

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"If I Should Die" . . .
What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that omic equality of the American farmer. There has been a propaganda campaign going on in many of the urban areas against the American farmer. He has been portrayed as a scoundrel who has been milking the public treasury and is responsible for the consumer prices of food products. This vicious campaign is, in my opinion, closely akin to treason. It is false, it is deliberate and it is malicious. Some of the accusations and innuendoes directed against the American farmer would lead one to believe that the beads of sweat on a man's brow have now become badges of dishonor. God forbid that we ever reach that state. It would definitely denote the complete failure of Christianity and civilization.

What happens to the American farmer during our generation may well determine the future of this country. We have during the past few years permitted farm income to drop tragically, while at the same time the cost of living was increasing. This not only jeopardizes the farmer, but it puts the small independent American business man in the farm supported communities in a squeeze from which he cannot free himself and must face eventual bankruptcy. The decrease in farm income has resulted in a substantial decrease in the farm population. The records will reflect that this emigration from the farm has turned into immigration to the metropolitan areas and a resulting increase in the general labor market. In other words, the former consumer of the products of labor is fast becoming the producer of those products and no longer the consumer thereof. This can result in nothing except an unbalance of the general economy. This means unemployment, it means social problems, and it means subsequent demands for expansion of present social programs. This cannot contribute to the perpetuation of the free country visualized by those who signed the Declaration of Independence. Destroy the American —family-sized farm, and you destroy America.

person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it—but in many cases it is not. The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death:

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half. Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parents who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

The American Farmer
Yesterday and today the House has been embroiled in bitter debate concerning the future of the American farmer. The bill under discussion is H. R. 12, which primarily fixes supports on the six basic commodities, cotton, corn, wheat, peanuts, tobacco and rice at 90 percent of parity for the crop years 1955, 1956 and 1957. Under the economy as it presently stands in this country, the American farmer is entitled to the passage of this bill. However, you will know the fate of the legislation by the time this letter reaches you. I sincerely hope that it is good. I will introduce an amendment to the bill in a very few hours which will increase the price supports on grain sorghums. This is very important to our section of the country, because grain sorghums are the major cash crop in our sections of Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico. I expect great opposition to the amendment from people who understand more about arithmetic than they do human beings. The amendment will probably fail because it is designed to contribute to the econ-

Texas Bond Week Committees Named
H. W. Golden, Chairman of the Castro County Savings Bonds Committee, today announced the names of local people who will serve as sub-committee chairmen to promote U. S. Defense Savings Bonds Week for Texas, May 22-28. Local committee members will join with 1300 other volunteer workers throughout Texas in promoting the sale of U. S. Defense Savings Bonds during the week proclaimed by Governor Shivers as Texas "Full Speed Ahead" Week for Bonds. Last year Texas ranked only 38th among all states in percentage of bond sales quota accomplished. Texas volunteer workers in the bond program intend to put Texas in first place in 1955. Local sub-committee chairmen named by Mr. Bob McLean to serve during Texas Week are B. M. Nelson, Publicity; Jack Malone, Banking; Harold Stephens, Payroll Savings; R. S. Vestal, School Savings; Mrs. Pearl Sheffy, Women's Organizations; Marvin Simms, Farms and Ranches; and Earl Brock, Community Activities. Texas' bond sales quota for 1955 is $201,900,000, according to Mr. Golden. The goal for Castro County will be announced later.

Farm Electric Consumption Up
REA power consumption on Texas farms has increased more than twofold during recent years. The average monthly power consumption per farm on REA-financed lines in Texas increased from 79 kwh in December 1947 to 149 kwh in December 1954, figures released by the Rural Electrification Administration show. REA now serves 317,698 farms in Texas, the largest number of any state. This jump in power consumption is evidence that farmers are making electric power do more work for them. Electric farm equipment not only affords a big opportunity for labor saving but also enables the progressive farmer to increase his production, reduce waste and improve the quality of his farm products. Automatic watering and feeding equipment for livestock, barn cleaners, electric water pumps, milking machines and coolers, pig lamb and chick brooders, ventilating fans, crop driers, yard and barn lights, feed grinders, freezers and electric hand tools are only a few of the many labor-saving uses to which farmers are profitably putting electricity. Mrs. J. F. Bright of Dimmitt and Mrs. Ray Freeman of Plainview visited their mother, Mrs. A. B. Driggers at Trent last week-end.

Underneath Ford's long, low Thunderbird-inspired lines lies one of the strongest reasons why the swing is to FORD: Ford's rugged, 5-cross-member-frame!

Ford's husky K-bar frame has five cross members—more than any other car in its field. Ford bodies are welded to eliminate rust-inviting seams. Ford finishes are baked on to keep their showroom complexion. Ford engines are deep-block, low-friction engines . . . built to stay smooth, quiet, and savingful. reciprocity in trade rather than a one-way street whereby our markets are flooded with foreign imports for the purpose of additional financial aid to foreign countries.

A special provision was placed in the bill authorizing the President to limit foreign oil imports and other commodities essential to the national defense whenever it is found that they are damaging the domestic industry to the extent of endangering the national security. This is of particular significance with reference to oil, because the President's cabinet advisory committee has already reported that oil imports in excess of the 1954 ratio between imports and domestic production would endanger the national security. Administration officials have assured members of Congress that they will use the authority written into his bill by the Senate Finance Committee to keep foreign oil imports in line with the 1954 ratio.

Excessive Imports Hurts Texas

Excessive oil imports have already damaged the domestic oil industry in our State. Unless imports are restricted, independent producers, who have no foreign oil production, cannot successfully compete with the major companies which own and import foreign oil at less cost than producing it at home. Independent producers form the backbone of the oil industry in our State, and they are entitled to be protected against destruction by foreign oil.

In addition to the independent segment of the industry, our State tax revenues require protection from excessive foreign oil imports. When domestic production is reduced, State tax revenues are reduced. Today oil production is limited to 16 days per month in Texas, and this is due partially to excessive oil imports. We are hopeful that the House will approve the authority to limit oil imports and that the President will enforce it so that this problem will be solved by the importers voluntarily or under the com-

Farm Price Supports

By a vote of 206 to 201, the House last week passed a bill which would restore farm price supports of 90 percent of parity for the basic commodities. The measure now goes to the Senate Agricultural Committee, which may not complete action on the bill at this session. Some committee members who opposed Secretary Benson's flexible support bill last year think it should have a fair test before returning to rigid supports. However, if farm conditions do not improve, there will be a strong effort in the Senate to agree with the House on restoring 90 percent of parity.

During the House fight on this bill a standing vote eliminated peanuts as one of the basic commodities. However, this action was reversed by a vote of 215 to 193 just before final passage. The bill as passed by the House includes cotton, wheat, corn, rice, and peanuts as basic commodities.

Business Disaster Oans

Hearings have been held before the Small Business Subcommittee of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee on a bill introduced by Senator Johnson and the writer authorizing the Small Business Administration to make emergency loans to small businesses adversely affected in drought areas. Although it has been argued that the Small Business Administration has had its authority under existing law, the present administrators have taken the position that loans of this type cannot be made without amending the present law. Judge Edgar Taylor of Snyder and Judge Milton Ramsey of Andrews testified before the committee in behalf of the bill.

Rural Electric Co-ops

A large delegation of representatives from Texas rural co-ops gave a dinner for the Texas delegation in Congress last week and presented their views on matters pending in Washington. Strong opposition was expressed against recent Hoover Commission recommendations for reorganization and changes in the REA, FHA, and other loan programs. They found pretty solid agreement among the Texas members of Congress that this is no time to increase interest rates and to make loans more difficult for farmers, ranchers, home builders, veterans and small businesses. An effort in this direction under the Administration's "hard money" policy of 1953 proved to be a mistake, and it was soon dropped. The mistake should not be repeated.

New L.C.F. (Low Cab Forward)

Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Powered by the most modern V8 in any truck... Chevrolet's new Taskmaster V8 engine!

Chevrolet's great new L.C.F. models bring you all the advantages of a C.O.E.—plus a long list of important new advances you won't find anywhere else.

For example, the cab is a full seven inches lower than former C.O.E. models. And it has only two steps instead of the usual three for C.O.E.'s. Just think of the time and effort this will save the driver! Also, the low L.C.F. is handsomer by far than any C.O.E. ever built!

Inside, the L.C.F.'s new Flight-Ride cab has a level floor with plenty of "stretch-out" leg room and offers new driver comfort. The driver has a commanding view of the road—both far ahead and close up front—through the big, broad panoramic windshield.

Quicker, simpler maintenance is another big advantage offered by the new L.C.F. Everything's easier to reach in the roomy engine compartment.

In an L.C.F. you still get the easy maneuverability of a C.O.E. plus—new frames, new suspension, a whole truck-load of modern features!

Shortest Stroke V8 of All! The new Taskmaster V8—the most modern V8 your money can buy—powers the new L.C.F. With a 12-volt electrical system for faster starting!

Year after year, America's best selling truck! CHEVROLET
