Meet the Teacher dates for BSISD Elementary Schools

By TYLER SCHELLIE
 Staff Writer

The school year is right around the corner, which means it is time for students and parents to go out and meet their new teachers, and get familiar with the school they will be attending. BSISD elementary school Meet the Teacher days/orientations are approaching quickly. These events allow teachers and students to gather their supplies and prepare everything they may need to start the school year off right, as well as parents and students getting acquainted with and learning a little more about who will be teaching them. Along with meeting the teachers, this is a good chance to drop off school supplies for your child attending any of the listed Elementary schools.

"It's a good idea for the parents and students to bring in a bunch of their school supplies ahead of time. We don't want them to come into school on the first day lugging around these huge bags or backpacks," said Carman Wommack, Moss Elementary Principal. "Our meet the teacher allows for not only parents to get to know the staff, but lets parents help the children settle in and set up their desks. The kiddos being this young, still require quite a bit of help from the parents, this day allows for a little extra help to support their students start to the school year," Washington Elementary Principal Kaitlin Jeffery said.

It is also a good idea to stop by the front office of the school your student will be attending before their meet the teacher day to verify your address, and to ensure that your child has indeed been placed in a class. When doing this, please bring your driver's license or state issued ID and a utility bill.

Goliad Elementary
 Goliad's Meet the Teacher day will take place on Wednesday, August 15th from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the school, which is located at 1801 Goliad St. in Big Spring. For additional information, please call 432-264-4111.

Back to school Sales Tax Holiday scheduled Aug. 10-12

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

The first day of school at all Howard County public schools is August 20, and the State of Texas is continuing an annual tradition by holding a tax-free weekend on many items kids need as they head back to school.

The 2018 Sales Tax Holiday is scheduled Friday, Aug. 10, through Sunday, Aug. 12, statewide. State sales tax is 6.25 percent; the city of Big Spring typically tacks on an additional 2 percent, Coahoma adds 1.5 percent, and Forsan adds 1 percent. None of that sales tax will be charged on qualifying items during the Sales Tax Holiday, giving parents a break on providing school clothes and supplies for their children as they return to school.

"It just takes a little financial pressure off of families as they prepare for the beginning of school," said BSISD Assistant Superintendent George Bancroft. "All parents, they typically buy some new clothes and school supplies. It's not something you budget for monthly, it's an annual expense. So it's nice of the state to provide a little bit of relief from that burden."

In most cases, shoppers don't need to give the merchant any type of coupon or certificate to buy qualifying items tax free. An exception to this rule is for people buying items using a business

Back to School Block Party to offer haircuts, eye exams, entertainment and more

By TYLER SCHELLIE
 Staff Writer

The Northside Movement and the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) will be hosting their "Back 2 School Block Party" at Ryan Hall on August 12, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. This event is a great way to get students of all ages ready for the upcoming school year.

"We've partnered up with a few hair salons who will be at the event giving free haircuts. The Lions Club is bringing school supplies and doing the eye exams, along with a few other sponsors that are helping us out and helping the children out," event organizer, PJ Dominguez said.

School is important, and some children may not be able to get all of the supplies they need for the fresh school year.

"This event really is all about giving back to the community, especially when we have a community that does as much as Big Spring and Howard County does for any person that may be struggling," Dominguez said.

The Back 2 School Block Party is an event that truly benefits the children heading into

Bredesen, Blackburn win primaries in race for US Senate

By JONATHAN MATTISE and ADRIAN SAINZ

Associated Press
NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Former Tennessee Democratic Gov. Phil Bredesen and Republican U.S. Rep. Marsha Blackburn have been running their campaigns for a critical U.S. Senate seat like their matchup was assured. Voters made it official Thursday.

Bredesen and Blackburn disposed of minimal opposition in their primary elections, kicking off what's expected to a bruising, expensive fight that could determine Democrats' chances of overturning the 51-49 Republican Senate majority.

Polls have indicated a close contest to replace retiring Republican Sen. Bob Corker.

A general election win would be historic for Blackburn, who would become the first female U.S. senator ever elected in Tennessee.

Voters faced a more competitive field in the race for the nomination to replace term-limited Republican Gov. Bill Haslam.

Former Nashville Mayor Karl Dean won the Democratic primary, defeating state House Minority Leader Craig Fitzhugh after outspending him $4.4 million to $984,800.

Taking a page from Bredesen's playbook, Dean has touted himself as a leader who can break down partisan barriers and make divided government work during divisive political times. He told his supporters Thursday he intended to run a positive race focused on jobs, affordable health care and good education.

Businessman Bill Lee won a bruising GOP primary. He mostly stayed out of the fray while other opponents savaged each other in attack ads. Lee billed himself as the race's only conservative outsider and emphasized his Christian faith. "I am someone who is not a politician, but I do have a vision for Tennessee to lead the nation," Lee told supporters during his victory speech.

The field also included U.S.

Rep. Diane Black, who began the campaign as the favorite and got the endorsement of Vice President Mike Pence but stumbled to a third-place finish.

No Democrat has won statewide here since Bredesen was re-elected governor in 2006, when he clinched all 95 counties. It's been an even longer drought in the Senate, with the last Democratic victor former Vice President Al Gore in 1990.

Bredesen, who remains popular, would again need to peel off support from moderate Republicans and independents. He is pledging to work across party lines, saying he will support Trump on policies that are good for the state, and oppose him when they aren't.

He thanked his supporters Thursday night and vowed to be "the best damn senator you ever sent up to Washington."

Blackburn is a strong Trump backer in a state that voted for the president by 26 percentage points in 2016. She has run in support of Trump's agenda, including his wall-building immigration crackdown and his U.S. Supreme Court pick, Brett Kavanaugh.

"We know what Tennesseans say that they want to see in their next senator is somebody who is going to stand with President Trump to finish the agenda that they voted for when they elected him and sent him to Washington," she told her supporters, some of whom were wearing T-shirts emblazoned "Marsha Marsha Marsha."

Blackburn has billed herself as a "hardcore, card-carrying Tennessee conservative" from the outset of her campaign. She has benefited from center-stage appearances alongside Trump and Pence in public events and fundraisers in Tennessee.

Pence and Trump have already attacked Bredesen, saying he's too liberal for Tennessee and would fall in line with Democratic Minority Leader Chuck Schumer.

Bredesen has countered that his record as governor shows he's an independent thinker who won't cave to party leaders.

Bredesen has criticized Trump's tariff policies, which threaten an estimated $1.4 billion in Tennessee exports, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, a longtime Republican ally. The exports are linked to more than 850,000 jobs in the state related to farming, steel, baked goods, car manufacturing, whiskey distillers like Jack Daniel's, and more, the chamber said.

Blackburn has expressed "grave concern" about the tariffs, but said she appreciates the administration's goal of punishing bad actors like China. She asked the commerce secretary to reconsider broad tariffs to avoid harm to Tennessee's economy.

Blackburn has opposed Corker's proposal to require a congressional vote on tariffs issued in the name of national security, a move that fellow Tennessee GOP Sen. Lamar Alexander supports.

Tennessee has a history of electing centrist senators. Corker, for one, has further complicated the race by saying he's supporting Blackburn but won't actively campaign against Bredesen, whom he has called a friend.

Corker also has very publicly tussled with Trump, once saying he had turned the White House into an "adult day care center," with the president tweeting in response that Corker "couldn't get elected dog catcher in Tennessee." Corker endured booing at a Trump-Blackburn rally in Nashville this spring.

The Payment Will Come Due

It is so easy to go into debt these days. Every time you turn around there is another commercial offering you stuff that you don't have to pay for until 2019. Every other day, it seems, there is another envelope or two in the mailbox telling you that you've been preapproved for another credit card and it comes with 0% interest for so many months initially. They are very thorough in letting you know it's like they are giving you "free money."

GREG SURLES

The devil has his schemes as well. He has a smooth pitch. He wants us to believe that the sin that entices us won't really cost us anything. At the very least, he can get us the deferred payment plan. "Just enjoy yourself," he says, "and don't worry about the cost." Many people give in to sin because, on the surface, there seems to be no downside.

Jesus, on the other hand, makes it clear from the start that it will cost us something to be one of his disciples. He also talked about the true cost of sin and that it should be avoided at all cost. In Matthew 18, after he told his followers what they must do in to be great in the kingdom of heaven, he warns them of sin and its consequences, especially to those who also cause others to stumble spiritually and sin.

Matthew 18:5-9, Jesus says, Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, but whoever causes one of these little ones who believes in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea. Woe to the world for temptations to sin. For it is necessary that temptations come, but woe to the one by whom the temptation comes! And if your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life crippled or lame than with two hands or two feet to be thrown into the eternal fire. And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life with only one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into the hell of fire (ESV).

The world says not to worry about sin - most even deny the concept of sin. Jesus says that sin is a serious matter and very worthy of our consideration. In Romans 6:20-23, the Apostle Paul writes that the outcome of continuing to choose sin and be enslaved to sin is death. Sin is not something to be taken lightly!

Well, "What are we supposed to do about it," someone may ask. Jesus said that we must do whatever it takes to avoid sin. Most people would consider removing a body part to be extreme. I remember the story of a man hiking alone whose arm was pinned under a large boulder during a rockslide. He could not move it on his own, so he cut off that arm with his pocket knife in order to save his life. He understood that he would not continue to live with that arm attached to his body.

How about removing a television? Do some of us need to go to that length to cut off the sinful sights and sounds from entering our homes and our minds? But everybody has a TV. Isn't that a little drastic, some might say? What about - dare I go there - our computers, even the small ones we carry around in our pockets and purses? For some, they are a constant temptation to look at sinful things and to take part in sinful activities. What are you going to say to Jesus when he asks you why you were unwilling to give up something that was a source of temptation in your life? "Everybody's got to have a computer, Lord." "Did you really expect me to go through life without my smartphone, Jesus?"

Don't take sin lightly. The Bible is serious about sin. Jesus is extremely serious about sin and about making a commitment to turn away from it and be with him in eternity. The payment for sin is eternal hell fire. Be obedient to Jesus and go to whatever extremes you must to avoid sin.

NEW BEGINNINGS

By Dr. Lillian Bohannon

When I moved with my family to a smaller Nevada town at the age of six, I entered the new First Grade classroom. There was a little guy there who became a lifelong friend. He was the water boy in our high school football team because he was too small to play football. Probably the most likeable guy I had ever met. He became my friend because he made me feel very welcome in first grade.

LILLIAN

By the time we graduated from high school and moved on to college, we lost track of each other until just recently. He still lives in that little town in Northern Nevada. I know only because I tracked him down through friends on Facebook. I only remember him because he gave me a new start in a scary situation as a newbie in a new town.

When I entered college, again in a new town, new scary situation, it was almost overwhelming to my young life. That was the year of new beginnings for me. I met the man I would later marry. I started a career of knowledge that eventually ended up by my choice to be a teacher. And after graduation, I did enter a lifelong pursuit of teaching children how to learn enough to get them over being afraid to try new beginnings. I still do that even though some people think I should retire. I have retire-twice, but am still teaching in a private Christian school.

Fifty years ago the Lord Jesus Christ showed me another and more important new beginning. I was twenty four at the time. I was confronted with the question, "Are you 100% sure you will go to Heaven when you die?" I couldn't say "Yes," so I told God, if I wasn't a Christian, would He please make me one. He did and I received a brand-new beginning in a brand new life.

My first grade ended when I turned six, my high school career ended just before I turned eighteen, my college career ended when I turned twenty-one. My Life in Jesus will never end. It was a new beginning for me that will last throughout eternity.

The only new beginning we have to look forward to now is the return of our Saviour Jesus Christ. That's a whole new Heavenly Beginning!!! Are you ready?

ranged by Benjamin Carr. The Anthem presented by the Choir will be "Lamb of God" by Twila Paris. "Become to Us the Living Bread," a French melody will be the Communion Anthem.

Please note that our worship service begins at 10:50 a.m. for announcements and parish concerns before our radio broadcast starts at 11.

PROVERBS 10:12

*"Hatred stirs up strife, but love covers
all offenses."*

I am undone

Isaiah 6:5 "Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone..."

The temptation in life is to look at those around us and come to the conclusion that we are the only ones who are messed up. We look at our interior, and then we look on the exterior of others and come to the conclusion that we somehow missed the happy boat. So, we try really hard to look as if we are happy and fulfilled in life. But we soon learn that all this work yields very little, if any fruit.

It is so easy to cover up the truth about who we really are, especially if we have been indoctrinated in the art of wearing religious masks. The truth is that all of us are messed up. No matter how happy or fulfilled we may manage to appear on the outside, we are all conflicted. We all struggle with some sort of contradiction in the secret part of our lives. There are times when our faith is really strong, and then there are those days when we wonder if God even exists.

Welcome to the human race.

Thankfully, there is a Christ, a risen Christ who is faithful, no matter what we may feel on the inside. He really does exist and He really is there for us, even on those dark and dreary days when we question His very existence.

The best part is that Christ is not religious. I know this because He is our merciful High Priest and He never lives to make intercession for us, no matter how intense or dramatic our inner contradictions may be. He died for those who cannot handle the universe of contradictions that dwells in them on their own.

Wow...talk about a gift!

Reflections: Re-dreaming the Dream

Fifty-five years ago this month, Aug. 28, 1963, Martin Luther King, Jr. took his place on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial and addressed a crowd of 250 thousand. His name is permanently linked with the Civil Rights movement. Boulevards, schools and institutions are named for him. But Martin Luther King, Jr. was first and foremost a Baptist preacher and pastor.

His words that day, and the non-violent actions he adopted grew out of his faith. When he announced, "I have a dream," it was a dream that sprang from Scripture and the teachings of Jesus. Inspiring a generation to correct past wrongs, he exhorted, "in the process of gaining our rightful place we must not be guilty of wrongful deeds. Let us not seek to satisfy our thirst for freedom by drinking from the cup of bitterness and hatred. ..." "I have a dream that one day my four little children will live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. ... I have a dream that one day every valley will be exalted, every hill and mountain shall be made low. The rough places will be made plain and the crooked places will be made straight. And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together. ... With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood."

Dr. King's words need to be heard again. The Bible is a dreamer's book. God is always inviting us to a new dream that transcends prejudice, suspicion and resentment.

Abraham's story begins with a vision and a dream: to leave his home in Mesopotamia so that God can make him a blessing to the nations. (Genesis 12:1-3). Jacob's life is transformed in a dream at Bethel where he saw angels ascending and descending from Heaven. God told him, "In you and your descendants shall all the families of the earth be blessed." (Genesis 28:14). Peter's vision at Joppa changed his opinion regarding other ethnicities. He said, "I certainly understand now that God is not one to show partiality, but in every nation the man who fears him and does what is right is welcome to Him." (Acts 10:34-35).

Paul the Apostle was a devout Jew when he was young. He had little use for Gentiles and was a zealous Pharisee. But a vision of Christ changed all of that. He later devoted his life to reaching people of all nations with the message of God's love in Christ. In a world and a time known for its prejudice, violence, slavery and sexual abuse he wrote, "There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free man, there is neither male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus."

Prejudice, discrimination, resentment and violence are enemies that never die. Every generation must redream the dream to overcome these destructive forces.

Lady Steer volleyball gets new year started with intense Two-A-Days under new head coach Mitzi Bell

By JORDAN PARR
Sports Editor

The Lady Steers kicked off a new athletic year for Steer Nation this week with an intense two-a-days schedule under new head coach Mitzi Bell. Coach Bell is in her first year with the Lady Steers after signing on this Monday. Coach Bell comes to Big Spring from Colorado City where she had a record of sustained success. Coach Bell has plans to continue that success here in Big Spring. "Our goal is always state. We don't want to set the goal of just getting to the playoffs, we want to go multiple rounds deep in the playoffs every year and I believe we have the girls that can do that".

The Lady Steers practiced hard and with a lot of energy during two-a-days as they prepare for multiple scrimmages this weekend here in Big Spring. The entire coaching staff stressed team work and the importance of positive attitude towards each other and the process throughout the week.

Coach Bell said that "one of the biggest challenges the team faces early in the year is how little time they have had to prepare together and to get to know each other", but that "they are coming together quickly and are showing a lot of promise early in the process". I believe the Lady Steers have the opportunity and the coaches that can help them get where they want to be as a group if they gel and buy into the process that Coach Bell is bringing to the table.

Lets go ladys, Steer Nation is behind you!

Head Coach Mitzi Bell addresses her team about the importance of being positive, being a team player, having the right kind of attitude and work ethic, and practicing like you play after their two-a-days practice on Thursday afternoon.

Rangers score 10 in first 2 innings, beat Orioles 17-8

Texas Rangers' Elvis Andrus (1) and Rougned Odor (12) celebrate Odor's two-run home run against the Baltimore Orioles during the sixth inning of a baseball game Thursday, Aug. 2, 2018, in Arlington, Texas.

Associated Press

ARLINGTON, Texas — Jurickson Profar helped the Texas Rangers get a big win in a matchup of retooling teams, and hand the struggling Baltimore Orioles another low this season. Jurickson Profar hit a three-run home run and a run-scoring single as Texas scored 10 runs during the first two innings, Rougned Odor homered and walked a career-high five times, and the Rangers routed the Orioles 17-8 Thursday night.

The Rangers — who traded pitchers Cole Hamels, Keone Kela and Jake Diekman earlier this week — saw 13 runs driven in by players age 25 or younger. A Texas team that has occupied last place in the American League West since April 9 has won five of its last six games for its best stretch since winning seven straight from June 16-23.

"It's great to envision what these guys are going to be," Texas manager Jeff Banister said, "but what they're doing now is nice. It's why we decided to go in the direction that we're going."

Yovani Gallardo (6-1) won his third straight start but lasted only 5 1/3 innings despite having a 13-1 lead through four. Gallardo, who pitched for the Orioles in 2016, allowed five runs on nine hits, including home runs by Mark Trumbo and Caleb Joseph, plus two walks on a season-high 104 pitches.

The 17 runs and 18 hits were season highs for Texas, while the Orioles allowed their most runs this year.

The Orioles have lost 12 of their last 13 away games and are 13-41 on the road this season, worst in the majors. At 33-76, they're on pace to finish with the league's worst record for the first time since 1988.

Baltimore was even more active at the non-waiver trade deadline, dealing second baseman Jonathan Schoop and pitchers Kevin Gausman, Zach Britton, Brad Brach and Darren O'Day.

Andrew Cashner (3-10) retired only five batters, allowing eight runs on seven hits. He struck out one, walked one and had a wild pitch.

"It was just one of those days," said Cashner, who played collegiately at nearby TCU and pitched last season for Texas. "I was just really struggling finding my pitches."

Odor, who hit .341 in July, hit a two-run homer into the right-field second tier in the sixth, his 11th of the year. His first four walks came in the first four innings.

Joey Gallo hit his team-leading 27th home run for Texas in the seventh.

Elvis Andrus had two singles and a double to extend his hitting streak to 13 games, the longest active streak in the majors.

Eddie Butler, acquired from the Chicago Cubs in the Hamels trade, earned his first career save by pitching the final 3 2/3 innings.

"I'll take 'em however I can get 'em,"

Butler said.

Tim Beckham had his second three-hit game in the last four.

ANOTHER POSITION PLAYER TICHES

First baseman Danny Valencia was Baltimore's final pitcher and faced one batter, striking out Gallo looking. Orioles manager Buck Showalter had not done that since summoning Ryan Flaherty from third base to pitch one inning in a 12-2 loss to Houston on August 20, 2016.

Showalter's decision was based in part on Valencia's next start as a hitter being scheduled for Saturday.

"It's a tough call," he said. "I don't like doing it at all."

ROSTER MOVES

2B Jonathan Villar played his first game with Baltimore after being acquired Tuesday from Milwaukee. He became the Birds' 10th leadoff hitter this season and went 2 for 5. To make room for Villar on the roster, INF Breyvic Valera was optioned to Triple-A Norfolk. ... Texas signed former Orioles RHP Chris Tillman, who was released July 27, to a minor league contract.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Rangers: Manager Jeff Banister said there's no concern about OF Nomar Mazara (sprained right thumb) even though he hasn't played since July 14.

UP NEXT

Friday's game will match rookie right-handers. Baltimore's David Hess (2-5, 5.94 ERA) will make his first start since June 29 and hasn't won since May 25. Texas' Ariel Jurado (1-1, 4.22) replaced Cole Hamels in the rotation last Saturday and held Houston to one run in six innings.

Pearce hits 3 homers, Red Sox boost AL East lead over Yanks

Boston Red Sox's Steve Pearce celebrates his home run that scored Andrew Benintendi (16) during the fourth inning of a baseball game against the New York Yankees in Boston, Thursday, Aug. 2, 2018.

Associated Press

BOSTON — Steve Pearce homered three times, the second a three-run drive in an eight-run fourth inning as the Boston Red Sox rallied from an early deficit to beat the New York Yankees 15-7 on Thursday night and take a season-high 6 1/2-game lead in the AL East.

In the opener of a four-game series that gave New York the potential to erase most of its division deficit, the Red Sox instead opened a bigger gap, taking advantage of manager Aaron Boone's decision to pull starter CC Sabathia after three innings with a 4-2 lead. Jonathan Holder (1-2) faced seven batters and did not record an out.

Mookie Betts had four hits and two walks, reaching safely all six times he came to the plate. Pearce, J.D. Martinez, Ian Kinsler and Andrew Benintendi had three hits apiece for Boston.

Didi Grigoriu homered twice, Aaron Hicks hit one and Giancarlo Stanton got his 25th of the season for the Yankees, who have lost just twice in the past week but dropped two games in the division.

Brian Johnson (2-3), making a spot start because AL ERA and strikeout leader Chris Sale went on the disabled list, fanned a career-high 11 for his first victory since April 2.

Johnny Football set for first CFL start

Associated Press

MONTREAL — Johnny Football finally gets to play football again.

Johnny Manziel will make his first Canadian Football League start Friday night when the Montreal Alouettes face the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, the team the 2012 Heisman Trophy winner turned NFL bust began his comeback with. He last saw regular-season action with the NFL's Cleveland Browns in a 17-13 loss to Kansas City on Dec. 27, 2015.

"I'm hoping to come in and just provide above average, solid quarterback play and give us something consistent week in and week out," Manziel said Thursday. "I don't feel I need to come up here and completely light everything on fire

Montreal Alouettes quarterback Johnny Manziel throws during practice in Montreal. The Alouettes announced that Manziel will be their starter Friday night, Aug. 3, 2018, when they host the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

and throw for 500 yards a game and do this and do that. I just want to come in and be a solid starter, eliminate turnovers and hopefully make some plays when needed. I feel I can contribute that for sure. I feel our offense is ready to go out and execute."

Hit by a series of quarterback injuries, Montreal traded for Manziel two ago weeks ago, and the former Texas A&M star backed up Vernon Adams last week in a home loss to Edmonton.

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

Test your play

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Diamonds. North leads the six of trumps. How would you play the hand?

WEST	EAST
♠ A Q	♠ J 9 3
♥ —	♥ A Q 10 8 2
♦ A J 10 9 7 4 2	♦ K Q
♣ A K 9 8	♣ 6 5 3

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Hearts. North leads the king of clubs, which you win with the ace. You play a diamond to dummy's king, both opponents following low, and lead a heart to the queen, South playing the three and North the nine. How would you continue?

WEST	EAST
♠ K J 9 4	♠ —
♥ A Q J 7 5	♥ 8 6 4 2
♦ J 2	♦ A K 8 7 5 3
♣ A 3	♣ 10 6 5

1. Win the trump with the queen, lead a spade to the ace and return the queen of spades. This virtually assures the contract, since it enables you to dispose of the 9-8 of clubs on dummy's ace of hearts and jack of spades.

It would be a serious mistake to attempt a spade finesse at trick two. If the queen lost to the king and North led another trump, you'd eventually go down one, losing a club trick as well as the spade trick. The temptation to try a spade finesse should be firmly resisted.

2. By far the best plan is to cash the ace of hearts at this point. If the trumps divide 2-2, the slam is certain even if the diamonds break 4-1. You would continue with a diamond to the ace, ruff a diamond, ruff a spade and then ruff another diamond, establishing dummy's last two diamonds as tricks, with a second spade ruff as the entry. At worst you'd lose one trick.

Now let's suppose North shows out when you cash the ace of hearts at trick four. In that case, you can still make the contract if the diamonds are divided normally, that is, 3-2. Lead a diamond to the ace, ruff a diamond, ruff a spade and then start running dummy's established diamonds. You lose a trump trick sooner or later to South's king, but that is the only trick you lose.

It would be wrong to attempt a second heart finesse after the first one succeeds, since in the process you would waste a precious entry to dummy that you desperately need to establish the diamond suit. The contract would become unmanageable if South started with three hearts to the king, and you would go down in a slam you could have made.

Tomorrow: Baiting the hook.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Appetite Moon

Remember when you tried to take a picture of the magnificent moon with your phone and the representation looked like a tawdry speck? The largeness of life cannot be accurately captured. All the more reason to enjoy it in the moment, as vividly as you possibly can, while the Taurus moon stimulates our appetite for life.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). If only you could clean your mental hard drive as thoroughly as you clean your digital one. Though bad memories are hard to overwrite, it's not quite as hard to find a more empowering way to frame them.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Everything is moving so fast that it's already time to educate yourself again. Internet classes, library books, YouTube videos: It's never been so easy to get the specific information you need to go to the next level.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The best way to learn the codes of others is by observing what they do. Forget what they say; that's a decoy. Switch to a deeds-only policy and you'll "hear" what people are really telling you.

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS best is good

CANCER (June 22-July 22). While the calculations point to the fact that your life, and all life for that matter, is a mathematical miracle, you don't always experience it as such. So it's wonderful when today, for a moment, you feel the awe of being alive.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). There are those who are thoughtlessly agreeable, easily led (and fooled) and generally without the imagination to rebel. Lucky them! Life is so complex for smart folks such as yourself. You'll spend a good deal of time weighing your options.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Your enough. Anyone who doesn't think so is helping you figure out where to go next. Head toward those who have the ability, experience and heart to really appreciate what you do.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're inclined to do what comes naturally, but that course of action won't take you where you want to go. So there's a choice to make. Don't worry: With enough practice, the other way will seem like second nature, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Choose your topics of conversation carefully. There are those who will be jealous of or threatened by the happiness of others. For some reason, they mistakenly believe that there won't be enough to go around.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Establishing boundaries isn't just for defensive people. It's for people who appreciate order, who like to help others feel comfortable and who want to have more control over their own destinies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). While you are wary of those who wear trendy causes like designer shoes, you do admire helpers, and you want to give, too. This is a great time to look deeper into the needs of the world. Where can you do the most good?

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Because the purpose in your heart is to do what's most beneficial for the people around you, it is easy to make choices. The right decision will be obvious, and the right action effortless.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Love yourself even though you know that you've fallen short in some way. Everyone has and will again. Grace and mastery are a matter of making quick corrections. No fuss. Move back toward the light.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Aug. 3). The pressure is on in these first weeks of your solar return, encouraging you to a new level of production, savvy and power. You're too modest to admit it, but you're undeniably attractive. Hopefully, you won't mind being pursued and cherished. Your soaring ambitions for 2019 will be matched by your ability to realize them. Pisces and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 4, 20, 3, 1 and 15.

WEEKEND LOVE FORECAST: ARIES: Everyone has a different kind of "silly." Someone is loving your levity. TAURUS: You're hard to impress, but you'll give people points for trying.

GEMINI: Popularity is a function of one person's ability to lift the other. CANCER: Ultra-attractive habit: Take what's underappreciated and turn it into something special. LEO: You've admired someone from afar, and now it's time to close the gap, either by actually going to where they are or by embodying the quality you admire. VIRGO: You fear boredom. Luckily, a certain someone will make sure that doesn't happen for you. LIBRA: There's something you'd like to be better at. You'll get a chance to practice in a safe environment. SCORPIO: People say, "Just be you," like that's so easy. Luckily, this weekend, it will be! SAGITTARIUS: You have talents you won't know about until you get into a certain situation. CAPRICORN: Regardless of how it turns out, you'll love yourself for taking a chance. AQUARIUS!

: Your smile is your logo. Like most logos, it will appeal to the people who will most resonate with the rest of the package. PISCES: Your most attractive quality will be a certain clarity you possess about who you are and why you're here.

COUPLE OF THE WEEKEND: The Leo sun and the Taurus moon supersize the cosmic heart of the weekend, infusing the atmosphere with a sense of grandiosity. No twosome feeds more off the energy than Leo and Taurus. As the sign of exaggeration, Leo turns their love story into an artful, entertaining tale. Taurus, being the sign of luxury, will tilt the weekend toward unforgettably decadent plans.

This Date In History

Today is Friday, Aug. 3, the 215th day of 2018. There are 150 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On August 3, 1936, Jesse Owens of the United States won the first of his four gold medals at the Berlin Olympics as he took the 100-meter sprint.

On this date: In 1492, Christopher Columbus set sail from Palos, Spain, on a voyage that took him to the present-day Americas.

In 1807, former Vice President Aaron Burr went on trial before a federal court in Richmond, Virginia, charged with treason. (He was acquitted less than a month later.)

In 1914, Germany declared war on France at the onset of World War I.

In 1921, baseball commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis refused to reinstate the former Chicago White Sox players implicated in the "Black Sox" scandal, despite their acquittals in a jury trial.

In 1943, U.S. Army Lt. Gen. George S. Patton slapped a private at an army hospital in Sicily, accusing him of cowardice. (Patton was later ordered by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to apologize for this and a second, similar episode.)

In 1958, the nuclear-powered submarine USS Nautilus became the first vessel to cross the North Pole underwater.

In 1966, comedian Lenny Bruce, whose raunchy brand of satire and dark humor landed him in trouble with the law, was found dead in his Los Angeles home; he was 40.

In 1972, the U.S. Senate ratified the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union. (The U.S. unilaterally withdrew from the treaty in 2002.)

In 1980, closing ceremonies were held in Moscow for the Summer Olympic Games, which had been boycotted by dozens of countries, including the United States.

In 1981, U.S. air traffic controllers went on strike, despite a warning from President Ronald Reagan they would be fired, which they were.

In 1987, the Iran-Contra congressional hearings ended, with none of the 29 witnesses tying President Ronald Reagan directly to the diversion of arms-sales profits to Nicaraguan rebels. In 1994, Arkansas carried out the nation's first triple execution in 32 years. Stephen G. Breyer was sworn in as the Supreme Court's newest justice in a private ceremony at Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist's Vermont summer home. Ten years ago: Nobel Prize-winning Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn died near Moscow at age 89. Al-Qaida confirmed the death of a top commander (Abu Khabab al-Masri), apparently in a U.S. airstrike in Pakistan; he was accused of training the suicide bombers who'd killed 17 American sailors on the USS Cole in 2000. At least 145 people were killed in a stampede of pilgrims at a remote mountaintop Hindu temple in India. Five years ago: President Barack Obama's trade representative, Michael Froman, vetoed a yet-to-be-enacted ban on imports of Chinese-made Apple iPads and iPhones, overruling the U.S. International Trade Commission and dealing a setback to rival South Korean electronics company Samsung. Samsung's electoral panel declared that longtime President Robert Mugabe had won re-election by a landslide. One year ago: Senators introduced two bipartisan bills aimed at protecting Special Counsel Robert Mueller from being fired by President Donald Trump. (Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said the effort was unnecessary, and that he wouldn't let the legislation reach the floor.) West Virginia Gov. Jim Justice said he was switching parties to join the Republicans, a move that came as President Donald Trump visited his increasingly conservative state. Thursday's Sports In Brief

Associated Press

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio State closed ranks around the rollout of its football season as the university investigates whether coach Urban Meyer failed to report domestic abuse allegations, a scandal hitting a school already accused of not facing up to sexual misconduct allegations against a sports doctor.

The Buckeyes planned to open their first football practice Friday without Meyer, who was put on administrative leave during the probe and also suspended from an endorsement deal by restaurant chain Bob Evans. It's not clear how restrictive the paid leave will be for the coach set to earn $7.6 million for the season after getting a raise this year.

Ohio State officials said reporters would be barred from football practices until at least next week, and university trustees announced that a six-member committee will head up the investigation.

Co-offensive coordinator Ryan Day has been named acting head coach.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Vanderbilt coach Derek Mason says backup quarterback Deuce Wallace has been suspended this season over a violation of school policy.

Mason announced the suspension before the Commodores open fall camp and would not say what Wallace did.

The Commodores have senior Kyle Shurmur returning as the starting quarterback. Vanderbilt's other quarterbacks are Mo Hasan, who played at Coffeyville Community College last season after transferring from Syracuse, and freshman Allan Walters.

NFL

CANTON, Ohio — The Ravens and Bears honored their great linebackers Ray Lewis and Brian Urlacher with some defense to make them proud in the Hall of Fame game that opened the NFL's preseason.

Oh, there was a little spark of offense, some provided by Baltimore's first-round draft pick Lamar Jackson in the second half of a 17-16 victory. His 7-yard touchdown pass to fellow first-rounder Hayden Hurst came after the Ravens' defense recovered a fumble.

Chicago put together its best drive in the final minutes and journeyman Tyler Bray connected with Tanner Gentry for a 10-yard score to cap a 92-yard march. But the 2-point conversion pass fell incomplete.

Otherwise, D was the letter of the day: there were six turnovers in all, and 12 sacks, eight by the Bears.

The teams exchanged tipped interceptions on the first two possessions of the preseason.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The Tennessee Titans will be working out veteran safety Eric Reid in their search for a potential replacement after losing Johnathan Cyprien for the season with a torn left ACL, according to a person familiar with the visit.

Reid will work out for the Titans on Friday.

The Titans will become only the second NFL team to bring Reid in for a visit this year. Reid's visit with the Cincinnati Bengals ended with the safety filing a claim this spring arguing he was unsigned as a result of collusion by NFL owners over his protests of police brutality and racial inequality by kneeling during the anthem.

Reid, 26, has been out of work since playing out his contract with San Francisco. He started 69 of 70 games with 10 career interceptions.

The safety said in March that he does not plan to protest during the anthem this season if signed by a team.

NBA
MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Simply redesigning uniforms wasn't enough for the Memphis Grizzlies. They seized the opportunity to change so much more.

Everything from logos to color schemes to the way their court at FedExForum will have a new look this season, part of the team's most significant reimagining since 2004.

All that and the Grizzlies also added FedEx to the jersey as the team's corporate sponsor. The unveiling ceremonies at FedExForum for the media and key fans even included a FedEx courier delivering packages containing the new jerseys.

BASEBALL

PHOENIX — San Francisco Giants infielder Pablo Sandoval will miss the remainder of the season after tearing his right hamstring while sliding.

Giants manager Bruce Bochy said the 2012 World Series MVP has a significant tear requiring surgery. Sandoval was injured while sliding into home plate Sunday against San Diego.

The 31-year-old Sandoval was hitting .248 with nine homers and 40 RBIs. He also played first and third base during his second stint with San Francisco.

NEW YORK — Mets slugger Yoenis Cespedes had surgery on his right heel, the first of two procedures that will likely sideline him for eight to 10 months.

Dr. Robert Anderson removed bone calcification in Cespedes' heel during the operation in Green Bay, Wisconsin.

Assistant general manager John Ricco said Cespedes will rest for eight to 12 weeks before getting surgery on his left heel.

Ricco also said doctors want to make sure Cespedes has some mobility in the right leg before the second surgery.

GOLF

AKRON, Ohio — Ian Poulter has never had much success at the Bridgestone Invitational until he opened with an 8-under 62. That was four shots better than Tiger Woods, who plays well at Firestone all the time.

Poulter was motivated by reading over his results and realizing he has never finished better than a tie for 13th. He made eight birdies in soft, vulnerable conditions and saved par from the bunker on his final hole to build a one-shot lead over Rickie Fowler and Patrick Cantlay.

Back at Firestone for the first time in four years, Woods had his lowest opening round of the year. He shot a 66, but on a day like this, it was needed just to keep pace.

Forty-five players in the 71-man field broke par.

Rickie Fowler and Kyle Stanley each had a 63, while Jon Rahm, Si Woo Kim and Patrick Cantlay were another shot behind. Seven players were in the group at 65, which included Rory McIlroy, Justin Thomas and Jason Day.

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England
The big thing missing for Minjee Lee in her impressive season is a strong performance at a major championship.

She might get it at the Women's British Open.

The No. 8-ranked Australian shot a 7-under 65, including a right-to-left putt for eagle from 25 feet on the par-5 15th hole, to lead by one stroke after the first round at Royal Lytham.

Mamiko Higa was a shot behind after a 66, while five players — Georgia Hall, Teresa Lu, Park Sung-hyun, Lee Mi-hyang and Pornanong Phatlum — were a further stroke back on a day that started with showers and a breeze before brightening up.

Top-ranked Ariya Jutanugarn bounced back from a double-bogey 6 at the second hole to shoot 71. Second-ranked Inbee Park dropped four shots in her first five holes in a 76.

RENO, Nev. — Ollie Schniederjans scored five points with a closing eagle to take a three-point lead in the Barracuda Championship, the PGA Tour's only modified Stableford scoring event.

Schniederjans hit a 5-iron approach from 275 yards to 3 feet to set up the eagle on the par-5 18th at Montreux Golf and Country Club.

He finished with 17 points, also making six birdies. Players receive eight points for an albatross, five for eagle, two for birdie and zero for par. A point is subtracted for bogey, and three points are subtracted for double bogey or worse.

After going 21 of 32 for 168 yards and a touchdown in two exhibition games for Hamilton, Manziel watched starter Jeremiah Masoli play the first five regular-season games.

"What defense does John know better than any other defense in the league?" said first-year Montreal coach Mike Sherman, the former Green Bay coach and GM who lured Manziel to Texas A&M when he coached the Aggies. "He played against (Hamilton) every day (in practice). He'll have to start eventually and he'll have some growing pains. He's not going out there with any expectations. He's going out there to do a good job moving the football for us and I believe he'll do that."

The Alouettes are 1-5 and have won just once in 17 games going back a year.

"If we win this game we're back to where we want to be, even after the mishaps that we had at the start of the season," Manziel said. "It's a great opportunity for us. We're in a division that is a little down and that's good for us because we can capitalize on that and maybe get on a bit of a winning streak and put ourselves in contention to get in the playoffs."

Manziel will be the 14th quarterback to start for Montreal since CFL passing king Anthony Calvillo retired after the 2013 season.

"That was a different time than we have now in Montreal and it's something we're trying to get back to — being in contention every year and having a good playoff run and putting ourselves in position to win a Grey Cup," Manziel said. "But right now we're trying to build something, a championship team, and that takes time."
