Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

The following article came across our desk the other day and had been attributed to George Baker of the Fort Stockton Pioneer. Knowing George, we can certainly believe he wrote it. It's too clever not to pass along. It might be titled "A News Writer's Prayer" or "A New Year's News Writer's Prayer," whatever.

"God, you called some to be teachers and some to be preachers and some to be deacons, and drawers of waters, and hewers of wood; and some who were fit for none of these worthy occupations...you called to be writers of words.

"We ask Your grace upon such as these in 1977. Help them, God, to get their stories factual and straight. Guide their fumbling fingers on the typewriter keys, and for whatever good it may do, strengthen the connections between their fingers and their minds.

"And, such hearts as they have, bid them use them freely that their printer's ink might evoke the flowing not of blood but of fellowship.

"Give them a good story now and then to keep their editors civil, their readers happy and their minds off their own degradation.

"And, when that day comes for their final 30 dashes, mercifully grant them just a glimpse of Your glory before they travel to the eternity to which they have been consigned so frequently by so many."

kk

Some people making news around Ozona these days include Ray Boykin, who received an invitation to the presidential inauguration, and wore out most of his shoe leather showing it around (hand engraved, looked awfully expensive), he also appeared with his wife, Judy, on the Pat Atterberry Show on KCTV Monday afternoon. Don't know what he will do for an encore the rest of the week.

Worthy of note, also, are members of the Lion Booster Club for putting on such a fine banquet on pretty short notice. And then, there is Oscar Kost, who finally ran across something electrical he couldn't fix, my microwave oven Santa brought me for Christmas (ho ho ho).

I hate to be a nag, but please try to get your news in while it's still news. At least no later than a week after it happens. This rag was designed to be a newspaper, not a history book.

Regional Champs Honored

The Regional Champion Lion Football Team was honored Monday evening with a banquet at the Civic Center. A large crowd of fans, faculty, coaches and players attended and enjoyed an after dinner speech by Angelo State University Coach Jim Hesse.

Following a broiled chicken dinner, Gene Hood took over as master of ceremonies and introduced Superintendent of Schools Foy Moody, who spoke briefly before turning the program over to Lion Coach Rip Sewell.

Sewell recognized the individual players and their various honors, before announcing the annual Fighting Heart Award. The award is presented annually on selection by the team. This year there was a tie between Clyde Bailey and Mike Fay, so the two will share the honor.

Sewell said the all state Class AA teams has yet to be announced, but that he expected some Lion names to appear on the rosters.

Coach Hesse gave an entertaining and amusing speech about football, the perils and the pleasures of life in football. He asked his audience to remember that losing is not fatal and winning is not final.

The banquet was sponsored by the Ozona Lions Booster Club with Jerry Lay heading up the planning.

First Court Meeting Of The Year Anything But Routine

By - Barbara Davidson

The Crockett County Commissioner's Court met Monday for the first time in 1977 and it was anything but a routine day. The morning was spent in further controversy over the airport situation. Dudley McCary was relieved of his duties at the hospital, and the day ended with Judge Troy Williams' announcement of his intention to appeal to the salary grievance committee upon the Commissioners' denial of a raise for the executive official.

The salary controversy arose when the Court voted to raise the salaries of the Sheriff, Clerk and Auditor from $1,012 per month to $1,165. The County Judge has in the past been given a like amount, keeping the four elected officials at the same salary.

This year, however, the Commissioners balked. They do not feel the Judge's salary should be increased this year and gave numerous reasons why. The judge is furnished free office space and utilities even though his private law practice is conducted in these offices. He is furnished $300 per month secretarial allowance. Beginning this month, Judge Williams is turning his monthly salary as ex-officio school superintendent (approximately $250) over to the County; his Co salary will be increased accordingly so he may draw retirement on this amount. And, since the Commissioners did not, and had no intention of voting themselves a raise, they tended to class Williams as a member of the court, as they are, instead of with straight salary-drawing officials. Leta Powell, Dick Kirby and Billy Mills devote full time to their offices and their salaries represent their primary income. This is the first raise in four years for these three officials.

Williams was extremely unhappy with the Commissioners' decision. He feels it is unjust for the judge to be drawing a lower salary than the sheriff. The County Judge claimed he is forced to keep irregular hours and cited two instances when he had been called out at night on county business. In answer to the secretarial allowance, Judge Williams stated that he would much prefer the county to drop the allowance and furnish him with a secretary for county business instead. His arguments were of no avail and he will appeal to the salary grievance committee for a ruling on the matter.

Other raises for county employees were given to balance out raises given to some departments last year and are as follows: Veteran's Service Officer, $100; chief deputy-tax office, $75; County treasurer, $50; other courthouse clerical employees, $50; County Agent, $50; Nancy Hale, 30c per hour. The Road Department employees received a 10% raise across the board. Chief deputy's salary was raised to $975; other deputies' to $900.

The salary grievance committee, to which Judge Williams and any other dissatisfied parties will appeal, is made up of the County Judge (who is a non-voting member); County Clerk, Leta Powell; Sheriff & Tax Assessor, Billy Mills; County Attorney, Karl Lovelady; County Treasurer, Jim Dudley; and enough members of the current grand jury to total nine voting members. Grand jurors' names are drawn by the Court. They are: Wyna Boyd, Bekie Diaz, Garland Young, Dale Bebee, and Aurora Najar. Should any of these persons decline to serve, another name will be drawn as a replacement.

Jim Hearne and his attorney, Adam Morris, of Sonora, met with the Court to ask that the Court suggest or devise some means of compensation for the loss of hangar rents which have been the major income for the running of the airport. It was stipulated in his contract with the county that these monies were to be collected by him for use in the airport's operation, and their loss makes it impossible to continue operating in the present manner. Also present were most of the pilots who currently fly out of the county airport and house their planes there.

A discussion of almost three hours ensued during which the Commissioners, Morris and Hearne tried to work together in clarifying issues in order to make a fair decision. These efforts were in spite of Judge Troy Williams' continued belligerence and uncooperative attitude. At one point in the discussion, Judge Williams openly insulted Dr. David Blanton in response to a question asked by Blanton concerning the position of the pilots in this year's long controversy over ownership of hangars.

Several decisions were reached as a result of the morning's discussion. On Adam Morris's suggestion, last month's resolution recognizing private ownership of hangars was amended to read as follows: "The County Court of Crockett County recognizes and honors the private ownership of airport hangars at the County Airport. These hangar owners are authorized to lease or sell their hangars for airplane use. All hangar owners are subject to the airport rules and regulations adopted by the Commissioners Court." Jess Marley made the motion for the amendment; Bill Black seconded.

Secondly, all interested pilots. Hearne and Morris are to meet this month to write airport rules and regulations for the Court's approval at the next regular meeting. Morris urged any or all of the Commissioners to try to be present for this meeting to voice their views in an attempt to save the Court's time when the rules are submitted for approval.

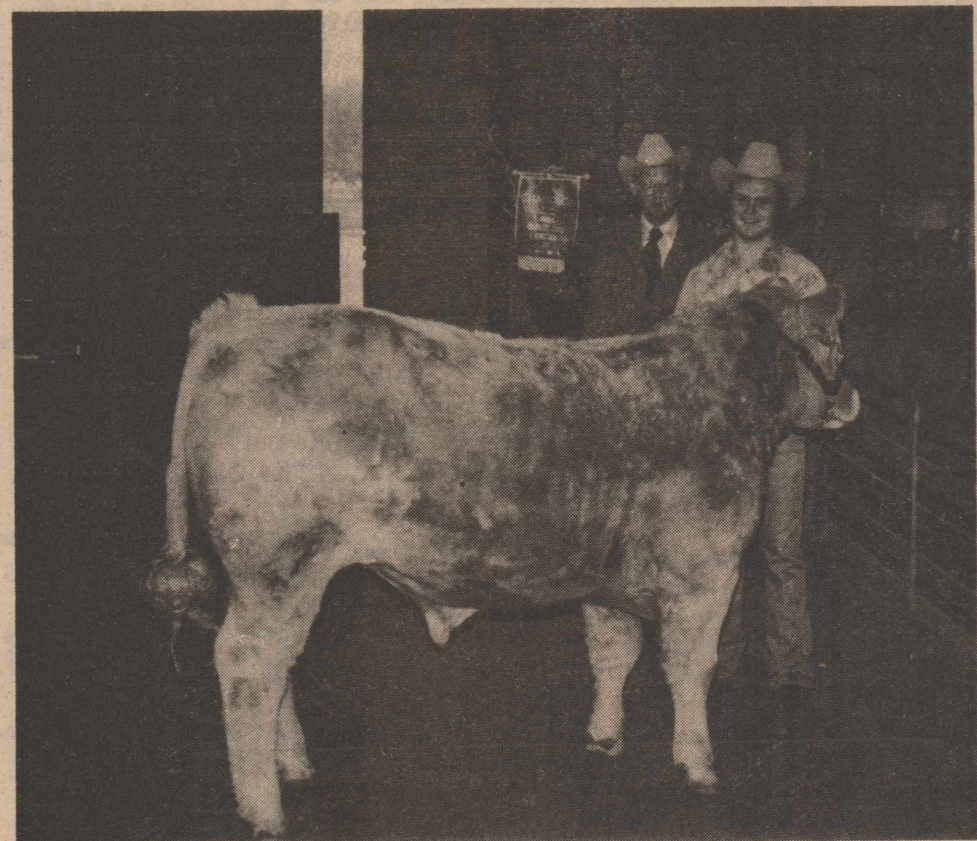

As an immediate measure for airport revenue, Jack Williams made and Marley seconded the following motion: "Any airplane hangar owner will pay ground rent for the privilege of owning and maintaining a hangar at the airport. 1. The present rental will be $15 for space for one plane or $30 for space for two planes. 2. All ground space rental will be collected by the airport manager-operator. 3. In lieu of ground space rental, hangar owners will be paid $1.00 per month by the County and the County will utilize the hangars from month to month."

This motion applies to existing hangars as well as any structures which may be built in the future.

It was the consensus that the airport controversy had been going on years too long, and the situation should be settled as soon as possible.

The Hospital Board minutes were read to the Court. The board recommended that Dudley McCary be relieved of all responsibility in the hospital, care center and doctors' clinic with Merlin Schoenhals to take over the maintenance duties. In a subsequent discussion, McCary stated that he refuses to work with Schoenhals because he is uncooperative and unwilling to take instruction. The Court asked Dudley to turn over any and all keys to the hospital complex over to the administrator, and that in future he would have no duties there except maintaining the laws. McCary was instructed to continue his duties as usual except for the hospital's resolution re-

OIL DIPLOMACY

"I don't believe that the oil price decision should be a factor in the ultimate political decision concerning the Middle East...I see no connection between their oil prices and the political decisions in the Middle East."

So spoke President-elect Carter recently in commenting on the decision of Saudi Arabia to break with its OPEC partners and hold its own oil price rise to 5%. Mr. Carter preferred to take the view that the Saudis were acting solely out of a responsible desire to hold down the world rate of inflation.

But this is not quite the Saudi interpretation. Speaking on an NBC television interview, the Saudi oil minister, Sheikh Zaki Yamani, said, "We definitely are waiting for appreciation from the West for what we did. And this appreciation has to be shown in two forms, in the Middle East dispute and in the North-South dialogue in Paris."

The Middle East dispute refers to Israel's borders and the future of the Palestinians. The North-South dialogue refers to economic concessions by the industrialized nations.

To be sure, Saudi Arabia did not specifically ask for anything in advance before taking its moderate stand on oil prices. But in various ways, privately as well as publicly, it has communicated its hope that the new Carter Administration will reciprocate. If there is no U.S. pressure on Israel to be more accommodating, the Saudis may not be so accommodating themselves the next time around. And the next oil price review will come in six months.

It is a clever ploy. The Arabs - at least some of them - are becoming more sophisticated in their diplomacy. The accent now is to be on honey, not vinegar.

But the vinegar, in the form of a crippling price hike, is an ever present possibility if there is no movement toward a satisfactory Mideast peace. The ever growing U.S. dependence on foreign oil sources gives the Arab nations more leverage on us now than they have ever enjoyed before. We are being very foolish if we suppose that this leverage will not be used.

All of which will put a heavy urgency on Mr. Carter's Mideast policy almost as soon as he takes office. We doubt that Israel can be feeling very happy over the latest turn of events.

KILL THAT CONGRESSIONAL PAY RAISE!!

Of all the crazy ideas to come out of Washington, D.C., the nuttiest one of 1976 was the proposal by the Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries to raise the pay of Congressmen and government bosses anywhere from 22 percent to 47.6 percent in 1977. In cash figures, that comes to a minimum pay raise of $12,900 for some, all the way up to a $20,000 raise per year for others. In round numbers, if Congress goes ahead and approves the raise, it will cost American taxpayers at least another $130 million per year.

Specifically, the nine-man Commission urges that the salary of the Vice President be raised from the present $65,600 to $80,000 (or a raise of $14,400 a year); the same amount for the Speaker of the House; for members of Congress, an increase of $12,900 a year (from $44,600 to $57,500 a year); Federal Judges would be given a raise of $20,000 a year (giving them a salary of $62,000 a year) and so on for all Cabinet members, agency heads, Under Secretaries, Assistant Secretaries, and bureau chiefs.

Our compatriot William Loeb, Editor-Publisher of the Manchester (New Hampshire) Union Leader commented with his usual restraint: "What an incredible piece of arrogance these recommendations are! At a time when we are trying to combat inflation, our rulers in Washington want to give themselves a 25 percent pay raise. Somebody has to be out of his mind down there!"

Mr. Loeb also reminds us that the proposed raise in pay exceeds the entire yearly income of most wage earners. To put it another way, the present pay enjoyed by members of Congress ($44,600 per year) is about $30,000 a year more than the average income of most wage earners. And that doesn't begin to take into consideration all of the so-called "fringe benefits" such as free hair cuts, medical care, postage and stationery allowances, travel expenses, and all the rest. And now they want even more?!

There is only one thing to do: pick up pencil and paper, or get out the typewriter, or get on the telephone, and let the Congressmen and Senators from your state know how you feel about the matter. It is time for Congress to stop ripping off long-suffering taxpayers back home.

Pecan Production Dives By Near Three-Fourths

AUSTIN-With Texas crop was 68 million pounds, we were expecting around 30 to 40 million pounds this year," White explained.

However, a plague of poor growing conditions, including insects and diseases, have contributed to the small harvest throughout the season.

At the same time, harvesting has also been slowed due to sleet and rain throughout much of Texas. "The only bright side to the poor pecan crop is the good prices being paid for the pecans which are available.

"In pecan production, every other year a large crop develops. Because the 1975

AUSTIN - A new $1 million program designed to catch dope smugglers along the 800-mile Texas-Mexico border has been approved.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's Criminal Justice Division authorized a grant for the Department of Public Safety project, which will include a helicopter patrol.

Atty. Gen. John Hill, who had been turned down on a smaller request to step up his investigation of the narcotics traffic in Starr County, applauded approval of the DPS grant and welcomed cooperative efforts of state and federal agencies.

Smuggling of marijuana, heroin, automobiles, people and securities will be the target of the DPS special unit.

Undercover and uniformed agents and civilian back-up personnel will work with DPS officers already assigned to the South Texas area.

About four to five million pounds of marijuana are distributed in Texas each year with an annual dollar volume of between $360 million and $675 million. Mexico has replaced Asia as the primary source of heroin in Texas.

Under the budget for the "South Texas Border Stepped-Up Law Enforcement Program" $400,000 will go to purchase of evidence, surveillance, expenses and informer fees. Helicopter operations are budgeted at $135,000 and other transportation and office expenses for $144,400.

Another $94,242 will go to personnel, $261,800 for travel, $30,000 for upgrading radio communications equipment and $9,838 for office equipment.

Implementation of the project by DPS began immediately.

Briscoe Unhappy
Gov. Dolph Briscoe frowned on proposed acquisition of "mitigation lands" to ease environmental impact of Palmetto Bend project on the Navidad River near Edna.

Briscoe expresses himself to the Department of Interior in response to an official inquiry as to his position on the issue.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and some environmental groups want to establish a 4,000 acre wildlife refuge to soften impact of destroying wildlife habitat by the 11,000-acre reservoir. That would add between $3 and $4 million to cost of the $74.3 million Palmetto project.

"The overall project is over half complete, and the dam is one third constructed. Acquisition of mitigation properties at this late date is untimely, could severely delay the project and would adversely affect economic and financial arrangements already in place," Briscoe wrote Acting Secretary of Interior Kent Frizzell.

AG Opinions
Atty. Gen. John Hill told municipalities they have had power to require regulated utilities to reimburse reasonable costs of rate experts in rate-making proceedings, since Sept. 1, 1975.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Non-current personnel files on dead persons transferred to the State Archives are public unless disclosure of information would be an unwarranted invasion of privacy of living individuals.

A school district should not contract with a company employing a member of the district's board of trustees in a managerial position.

Lamb County commissioners have legal authority to spend public funds for a feasibility study preparatory to its hospital authority's issuing revenue bonds.

'Little Tex' Sells TAP

AUSTIN-A tow-headed character called "Little Tex" will be the master salesman for TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) in 1977, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Introduced at the State Fair in Dallas, Little Tex was conceived as a complement to Big Tex, the mammoth symbol of the Fair. The cartoon character is now appearing on all TAP promotional material and will be featured on a float, which will be seen in parades across the state.

Little Tex will also become a symbol of good nutrition for school children when a pilot program with the Houston Independent School District is completed. The study material will be available to all schools.

"With 1977 being a 'make or break' year for many farmers and ranchers in our state, we need to encourage consumers to look for Texas products in the grocery store. Even if Little Tex isn't on the package, shoppers should buy items with a Texas origin on the label," White urged.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I have children from previous marriages and we've made no will. Would they be entitled to any benefits from our retirement programs and insurance policies, which name each other as beneficiaries? And, how would our other assets, such as common stock, be divided if my husband dies first?

A: Benefits from a retirement program and proceeds from insurance policies would pass, upon the death of the owner, to the beneficiaries designated in each case. Those beneficiaries alone would be entitled to the benefits and proceeds. Other property belonging to a married person who died without leaving a will would pass to the deceased spouse's children, with two possible exceptions: the surviving spouse would receive one-third of any separate personal property, and any separate real property would be subject to a life estate one-third ownership and homestead rights to which the surviving spouse is entitled.

Q: I made a down payment on a mobile home several months before I remarried. My husband and I have been making payments on the mobile home from our joint checking account. We want to make sure his children have no claims to the mobile home if one of us dies. How could we do this?

A: When divorced parents have reached agreement concerning the claiming of exemptions for the children and the exemptions are lawful and not duplicated, the arrangement generally will be accepted by the IRS. The internal revenue service code provides that an individual who furnishes over one-half of a dependent's support is entitled to claim the exemption credit for that dependent on his or her tax return. Special rules are provided for exemptions for children of divorced parents, and these rules vary according to the amount of support furnished by each parent and the wording of the divorce decree.

Q: My husband's salary is $19,000. He pays child support totaling $3,120 for two dependents. Can he carry one dependent as a tax exemption, leaving me to claim the other child?

A: Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P. O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Home gardeners have always been ones to seek advise and over the years there has never been a shortage of experts to give it. Have the passage of years and development of new ways and means changed the value of old-time advice? Surprisingly, a good deal of it, tracked down in faded magazines, in the brittle pages of old books and catalogs, is good today. We try to give you the latest news and methods of all phases of gardening too, so if at any time you have a special request or problem, leave it at the Stockman office or call me and we will do our best to find the correct information.

With the passing of the holidays, I'm sure all of you are making plans for a new garden year in both flowers and vegetables.

Ordering seeds from new catalogs early will mean early delivery and sure not to be too late for seed. Especially some seed needs to be started this month. Some that were tried last year with ratings are All-American Selections, "Showgirl" geranium from seed, rated near perfect; second, "Del Greco Matador," bright red geranium, large-flowered, fast and robust grower; third place was a tie for seed geraniums "Cherie", a compact grower with salmon-pink flowers and "Sprinter White" that performed superbly all season. Only one point down in a four-way tie for fourth place were "Nicki-Rose", Nicotiana; "Gypsy Sunshine" Marigold; "Yellow Galore" marigold and "Primrose Lady" marigold.

In vegetables top place went to Jerusalem artichokes, based on production, pest, heat and drought resistance, minimum care and quality of product. Second place was a tie between Yellow Belle peppers and Yellow Baby watermelon, another All-American selection. Third place went to Sweet 100 cherry tomato, a really superior variety in every respect. Fourth place was Lady Bell sweet pepper. In roses, only recently introduced varieties, there are many older than three years that are still rated high.

First in last years' roses went to "Double Delight", hybrid tea; second place was "Sunsong", grandiflora; third place was "Snowfire", hybrid tea.

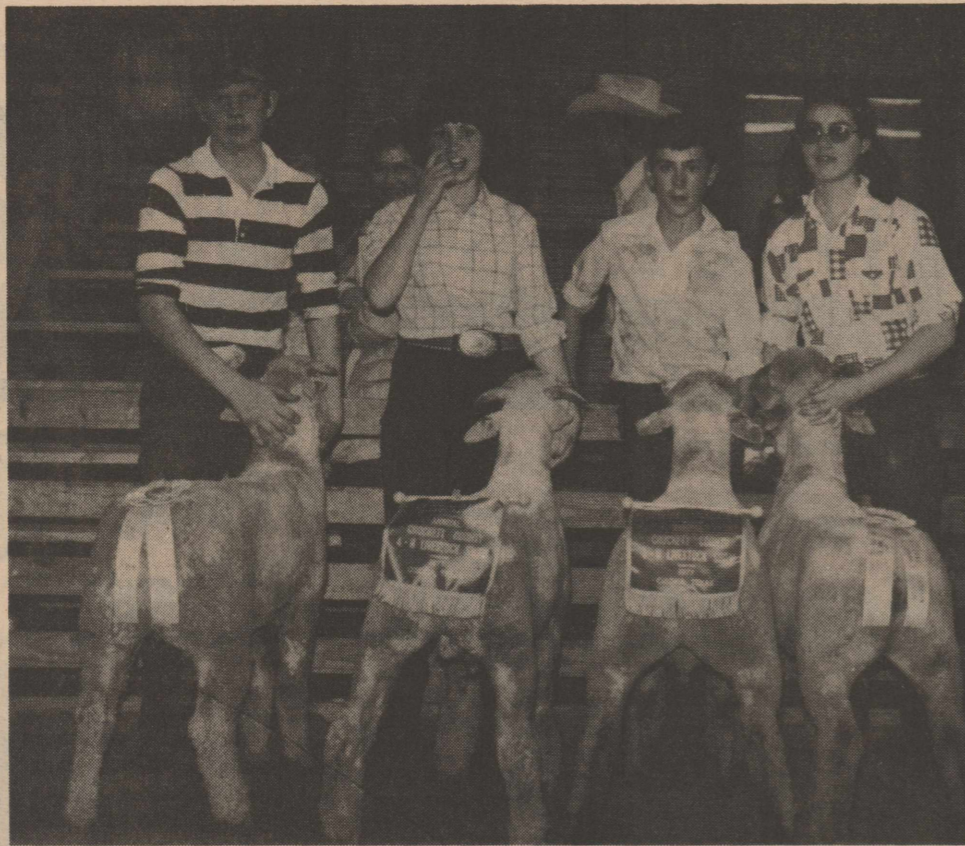

Crysanthemums-first place was "Daisy Pink", near perfect rating based on garden performance, landscape value, not cut flowers-lavender-pink daisy flowers that nearly hid the foliage and best of all, insects left them alone.

Temporary officers were elected. Serving as president will be Mike Jefferys, vice-president, Lynn McCracken and Pat Hulseman, secretary-treasurer. Board of Directors are Bobby Aycock, Jim Dodd, Charles Huffman and alternate, Cecil Hedrick. The next meeting will be January 18 at 8:00 p.m. in the small room of the Civic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend. For more information call 392-3672.

T.O.P.S. CLUB MEETS
The weekly meeting of Tops Club 937 was held Friday morning in the Chamber of Commerce Building. Twelve members were present. The total loss for the past two weeks was 26 1/4 pounds. Queen of the month was Wanda Layman. Susan Gunnels was Queen last week. Connie Baker was the top loser for the year. Two new members were welcomed to the club. They were Mary and Joyce Tinney. Following the meeting a baby shower was given for Kathy Layman.

CHAMPION AND RESERVE CHAMPION LAMBS in Saturday's 4-H Livestock Show were pretty well wrapped up by the Everett kids. Cliff McMullan, left, had the reserve finewool, Becky Everett showed the champion finewool, Bubba Everett had the Champion Crossbred and Regina Everett is holding Bubba's reserve champion crossbred.

Debra Says
by Debra Price

To many of us the kitchen is synonymous with feeling good because it is the hub of family activity. Unfortunately, the kitchen is also among the most potentially dangerous rooms in the house, the place where many accidents can and do occur unless you are careful. Be certain you haven't overlooked the following possible hazards, and be prepared for emergencies.

Fire is always a very real danger. Window curtains near the stove should be tied back to avoid blowing into open flames. Grease fires are a constant danger, even in everyday cooking -- keep a fire extinguisher or a coarse salt handy near the stove for dousing small fires quickly. If fire spreads get everyone out of the house and call the fire department on a neighbor's phone.

Household cleaning agents should be used only as directed -- and safely stored in locked cabinets out of reach of children or pets. Whenever possible, avoid using cleaners which contain harsh chemicals.

A first aid kit is a must in any kitchen. Make sure yours is fully equipped, including burn ointment and a tourniquet.

A gas leak is another possible hazard. If you smell gas, open windows, check range dials to see if they are in "off" position. Do not light matches or use any spark-producing items. If pilot lights are working, you may have a major leak -- turn off the master dial, get everyone out of the house and call the utility company without delay!

Spoiled foods can cause illness -- even death. Check dates printed on prepared foods for your protection and use items no more than two or three days past the indicated "safe" dates. Mark and date meats you've re-wrapped for freezing. Most meats can be kept up to six months, but time varies depending on the freezer.

For power failures, keep a flashlight handy, perhaps one with a magnetic handle which can be latched onto the side of your refrigerator for easy accessibility. Refrigerator doors should not be opened more than absolutely necessary -- loss of cold temperature can cause foods to spoil.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Meets With Mrs. Wallace

The Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, January 10, in the home of Mrs. Bob Wallace with Mrs. Randy Hall serving as co-hostess.

Garden Club Officers For Year Elected

The Ozona Garden Club met Monday afternoon in the Granny Miller Hall and elected officers for the coming year. Heading up the slate of officers is Mrs. J.W. Howell, president.

Mrs. Richard Mayfield will serve as vice-president, Mrs. Larry Elliott, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph Jones, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fleet Coates, treasurer; Mrs. Armond Hoover, historian and publicity; Mrs. J.C. Schroeder, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Ginger Lennamon, flower show chairman.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Armond Hoover, Jr., and Mrs. J.B. Miller. Mrs. Bob Childress presided over the business meeting.

The club's bulb sale was continued. Anyone wanting bulbs may call any member for delivery or call Mrs. Glenn Sutton. Club members say it is not too late to plant bulbs for later spring blooming.

The arrangement of the day was presented by Mrs. Fleet Coates. The program, Taking Care of Acid-Loving Plants in the Southwest, was given by Mrs. Richard Mayfield.

A fifteen minute garden clinic was held with questions and answers. Others present were Mrs. Max Schneemann, Mrs. O. D. West, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. Stephen Perner, Mrs. Johnnie Hokit, Mrs. Bailey Post and a guest, Mrs. Buford Josie.

order by the President, Mrs. Johnny Meyer. Mrs. Jack Bentley, Recording Secretary, called roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

A letter was read about the Beta Sigma Phi State Project, the Wade Barron Fund. A donation will be made to that fund from our chapter.

Arlene Hill will represent the Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi as a Duchess at the annual Queen of Hearts Ball to be held in San Angelo in February. The Queen of Hearts Ball is a fund raising project for the Concho Valley Home for Girls, the public is invited, tickets should be purchased in advance.

It was decided that we would donate the money to the 4-H Club to purchase a Singer Sewing Machine. The magazines for the patients in the Hospital were discussed, it was noted there are no children's books or magazines. The Chapter voted to subscribe to one children's hardback book and one children's hardback book and one children's magazine for the Hospital.

Mrs. Randy Hall presented the program on "Art-Sculpture." She showed various sculptures, telling how each was a different type of work. Each member was then given some sculpturing dough and sculpturing talents were revealed?

SOUTH OF THE SAHARA

Does he long for the hot breezes and wide spaces south of the Sahara? Can he remember the feeling of free air rushing past, as he ran with his fellows?

Oh, it's a lovely zoo, wide and airy. The giraffe's home duplicates his native habitat. But, as he nibbles among the tree-tops, I wonder. Does he wish for a quiet stream?

I know what it's like to feel displaced. When first I came to this country, I was not at home with the language and unfamiliar with its customs. Often I felt confused and bewildered.

The one place that was no stranger to me was my church. Here, although the words were foreign, I recognized well-known melodies and litanies and the sure feeling of God's love.

If you feel disturbed and disoriented by events in your life, turn to the one place that knows no aliens. Your church has a welcome for everyone. God's love is universal.

Changes In Structure Of Community Effects Crime

By - Sgt. Sidney Lyle

In the last three decades there has been many changes in the structure of the community as well as differences in basic social values. Of the multitude of changes that have an effect upon society, perhaps none have had the impact that is felt as a result of neighborhood isolation. Because we do not want to get involved in what we think of as other peoples' problems, we try to hide our head in the sand of indifference. This attitude only worsens the problem and results in a dangerous degree of apathy. What is needed is more involvement and concern for one another. More interest in the safety and well being of each of our neighbors, and a more positive attitude toward efforts to reduce criminal opportunity. Neighborhood Watch is an activity that meets all the needs of community involvement. Furthermore, the watch program helps all members of the neighborhood retain ownership of their private property. At first glance it would appear that the organization is both complex and time consuming. The contrary is true. The simplicity of the watch program is one of the reasons it works so well. The group will usually meet once a month with people living in the neighborhood to discuss whatever your group deems relevant. You may have a district judge explain to the group reasons why more people aren't tried before the court. Or perhaps the uniform police officer from your patrol district will be asked to explain what can be done to help reduce crime. All you are asked to do is call the police whenever you see a thief robbing your neighbor's house or stealing a car or bicycle from a neighbor's garage. That's it. How simple can a program be? Just call the police when you see a thief, just as you would call the fire department if you saw a neighbor's house ablaze. Getting a group together is as easy as talking to your neighbors and inviting them over for coffee some evening and, then have a local representative from law enforcement come by to answer questions and offer reasonable suggestions for preventing crime. We must be willing to offer reasonable assistance in times of need. Otherwise, we will relive the plight of Catherine Genovese, a young lady who was stabbed on three separate occasions over a span of 40 minutes by a knife wielding assailant. No less than 38 persons witnessed the attack; yet no one called the authorities. Finally, almost an hour later, a 70 year old woman telephoned the police.

In the next few days, you will become one of the millions of families who are waiting in the wings for their turn on the stage of life. At this point they are not sure whether they will play the role of a happy family, free from crime, or the unhappy victims paying the price for public apathy. Unless you and your neighbors become actively involved in a community wide effort to reduce criminal opportunity, you had better hold on to both scripts.

Arbor Day Time To Plant Trees

Arbor Day coming up Jan. 21 signals the time for Texans to beautify home landscapes and communities by planting trees.

"Trees have long been appreciated for their beauty and by-products such as lumber and cooling shade. But trees have proved they are worth much more," says Everett Janne, a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Majestic oaks, pecans, cedars, pines and elms are being used to combat noise and air pollution and as protection from erosion.

"Our ancestors realized the permanent beauty of trees and their value to each coming generation. Such a thought should be kept in mind when planting a tree this Arbor Day," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

The tree to be planted should be selected for the climate and soil of the area, emphasizes Janne.

"Arbor Day comes at prime planting time for trees, when cool, moist soil allows roots to become established before top growth begins.

Grow Your Own Christmas Poinsettia Plant Now

That poinsettia plant you received for Christmas can be brought into flower next Christmas season with a little luck and plenty of tender loving care.

"If you enjoy working with plants and can be satisfied with a poinsettia plant of somewhat less quality than the one you received, than the attempt to produce an attractive poinsettia for next Christmas can be rewarding," says Everett Janne.

The landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests that once the colorful bracts are no longer attractive, watering should be gradually reduced until the soil is dry. Supply just enough water to prevent the stems from shriveling. Then store the dormant plant in a cool, well ventilated place at 60 degrees F. or above.

About mid-April, cut the stems back to 6 inches above the ground and repot the plant into a container that is 1 to 2 inches larger in diameter than the original pot. A good potting mix has two parts soil, one part peat moss, and one part perlite, by volume.

Janne advises watering the plant thoroughly and placing it in a sunny window where the temperature ranges between 70 and 75 degrees F. When new growth begins, fertilize the poinsettia every two weeks with a water soluble, complete fertilizer. Use the rate recommended for pot plants as shown on the fertilizer label.

"After danger of frost is past, move the plant outdoors where it will receive moderate shade in mid-afternoon. As growth develops, cut or pinch back the top, leaving three or four leaves on each shoot. Repeat the pinching each time the plant sends out new shoots until mid-August," explains Janne.

"Bring the plant indoors before any danger of frost and once again place it near a sunny window where the temperature will remain between 65 and 70 degrees F. Continue watering and fertilizing but take care not to overwater," cautions the horticulturist. "As the plant puts on new growth, it will require additional water."

To have the plant in full bloom by Christmas, it must be kept in complete darkness from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. starting the first week in October and continuing until Thanksgiving. Flowering will be delayed if the plant receives any light during these hours. This is because the poinsettia will set flower buds about 10 weeks after daylight time drops to 11 hours or less per day.

However, in the daytime the plant must be near a sunny window for maximum growth and development of bracts and flowers. Fertilizer applications should continue until mid-December, then the amount should be reduced one-half.

"The greatest mistake most people make in caring for poinsettias is not providing enough sunlight at the right time, watering incorrectly and not cutting back the stems at the proper time," notes Janne.

Texas Bankers To Have Ag. Loan School At Texas A&M

Texas bankers involved in making agricultural loans need firsthand knowledge about what's down the road for various agricultural commodities. And that's just what they're going to get at the 25th Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers, Feb. 7-9, at Texas A&M University.

A special session will provide "outlook" information on livestock, grain, cotton and the money market, explains Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist in management and the school's publicity chairman. Speakers for the session include Michael Jeane, vice president and economist, First City National Bank, Houston; Calvin Brints, president, Cotton Marketing Corporation, Lubbock; and Dr. Ernest Davis, Dr. Randall Stelly, Roland Smith and Dr. Ed Uvacek, all Extension economists.

"We think this session will be of special interest to bankers since it will give them an idea of what to expect in these areas in the coming months," notes Trimble. "Many of the decisions bankers will have to make during the year will be based on this kind of 'outlook' information."

Other features of the school will include sessions on loans for field crops, cow-calf operations, feedlots, grain storage and warehousing, dairying and rice production. Attending bankers will also learn about dealer methods of financing farm equipment, correspondent banking relationships, farmers and outside equity capital, and the banker and his customer.

In conjunction with the school, an in-depth Agricultural Credit Analysis Workshop will be offered beginning the afternoon of Feb. 9 and ending at noon on Feb. 11. The workshop will provide practical "pencil pushing" experience in the preparation of financial statements and cash flow projections along with analyzing and reconciling farm records. Study of case problems will be an important part of the workshop, points out Trimble.

Running concurrently with this credit workshop will be a special two-day Commodity Hedging Session. This session will look at hedging as a forward pricing tool, hedging decision guides, and how to live with a hedged loan.

To register for the school, write Trimble at Room 108A Agriculture Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

New Protection Against Lead Poisoning

Now it's possible for the first time to determine immediately if a child is in danger of lead poisoning. It is done through a unique x-ray fluorescence technique on teeth, developed by Dr. Irving M. Shapiro (left) and Dr. Peter H. Boch, both of the University of Pennsylvania. Shown with them is Michele Snyder, one of 300 children they screened for a feasibility study that they now consider totally successful. Until now the method of measuring lead exposure involved time-consuming chemical analysis of blood samples that yielded little information on long-term exposure.
