Kitty's Korner

By

We have known for some years that the Social Security system is in trouble. In spite of this we have raised benefits, diverted social security funds to supplement low-paid workers' salaries, and used the money in numerous ways which seemed actually calculated to bankrupt the program.

Suddenly we are face to face with a reform bill which will double taxes on the salaried worker, more than double taxes for the employer, in the next ten years. The bill was rushed through the House and will probably be through the Senate by the time you read this lament.

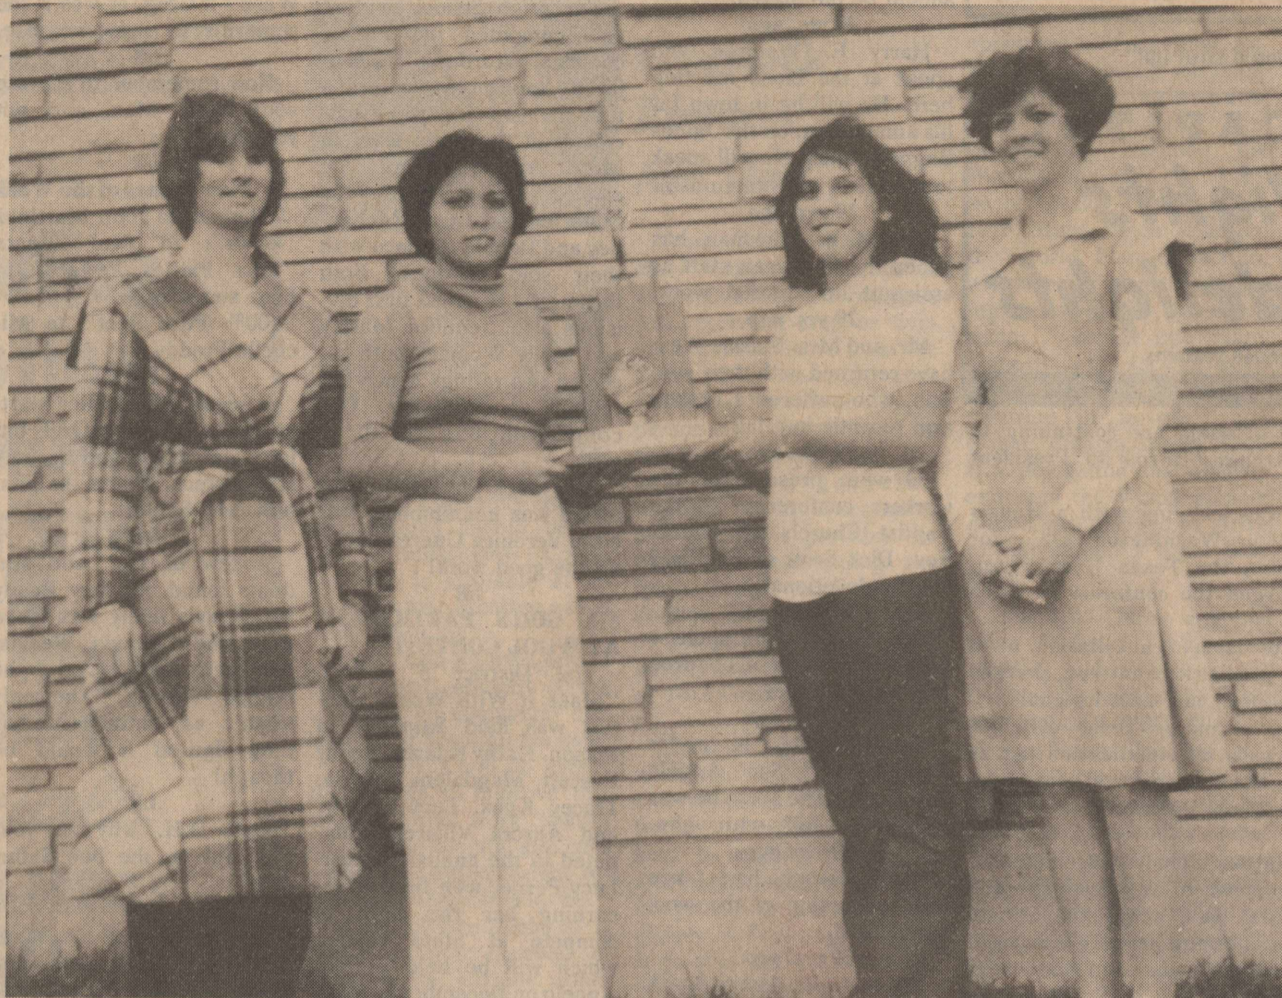

If the very legislators who are passing this so-called reform bill, were under the social security system and forced to pay a big part of their salaries in social security taxes each year, the outcome might well have been different and they might have found a way to keep the system solvent without taxing the wage-earner into bankruptcy, to say nothing of the small businessman who employees 96% of the working people in this country.

I frankly do not see why federal employees are not forced to pay social security taxes under the system just like every other wage earner in the private sector, including all the elected officials whose salaries are much higher than those of comparable jobs elsewhere.

The officials say this would place too big a burden on the system, but it surely would be adding to the balance before time for the retirement of most of those who would be added. At least they would be paying the tax until they qualify.

The system started out to be a retirement program for the worker. In other words, he would have his money returned to him with interest when he retired. However, this money was not placed in any interest-bearing fund, but is instead being paid out each month to beneficiaries. Of course, their social security taxes were paid out to those who went before them, and it becomes a vicious cycle. Today's workers, whom the reform bill will affect, will never live long enough to have their social security taxes returned to them. Moreover, the bill as is, will see many more young people unemployed. And, if indeed, the employer is forced to pay more than the worker, there are probably

Lions Lose To Kermit In 14-13 Heartbreaker

The Ozona Lions lost their second straight district game here Friday night in a 14-13 loss to the Kermit Yellowjackets, as their hopes for a second straight district title vanished. They will be in Sonora Friday night for the final game of the season, a game the Lions must win if they are to stay out of the cellar.

Crane and Kermit, both 2-0 in district play, will square off for the championship in Kermit Friday night. While Kermit was getting the best of the Lions, Crane beat Sonora 18-7.

Kermit originally was tapped to win the District 7-AA title, but Crane has come on strong, downing both Sonora and Ozona with greater ease than Kermit with either team so the outcome will be a toss-up.

Kermit scored late in the first quarter on a 15-yard run by McGilbra, and kicked the PAT to take a 7-0 lead at the end of the quarter.

Ozona came back to tie it up in the middle of the second quarter after Joe Borrego intercepted a Kermit pass and returned it to the 9-yard line. Blake Moody plowed over for the touchdown and booted the extra point for the tie. Kermit scored with 58 seconds remaining in the first half to take a 14-7 lead into halftime.

Ozona scored in the third quarter after a 72 yard drive with Moody slipping in the last three yards for the score. The Lions tried to take the lead attempting to pass for the two points, but the pass failed to connect.

4-H Food Projects To Begin

Deadline for participating in a food and nutrition project group is December 1. All youths between the ages of 9 and 19 are welcome to participate. Call the County Extension Office, 392-2721, if you would like to participate in the 4-H food projects.

Volunteer leaders teach small groups of youths about cooking skills, nutrition, buying food, storage and much more. Join the fun, join 4-H.

The Lions defense stiffened in the second half and shut down the Kermit offense completely, allowing no further scoring on behalf of the Yellowjackets.

Moody sparked the Ozona team with 98 yards in 24 carries. The Lions only managed 114 yards on the ground and 14 in the air for a total of 128 yards, while the Jackets had 249 total offensive yards.

The Lions completed 2 out of 8 passes and had one intercepted. They lost 2 fumbles while the Yellowjackets lost none.

Friday night's game against Sonora is sure to be a thriller with traditional rivalry of many years standing between the two teams and fans may expect both teams to be playing as if for the title instead of trying to avoid the bottom spot.

VFW BARBECUE SAT.

The Ozona Veterans of Foreign Wars will have a barbecue at the post Saturday night for members and guests.

Serving will begin at 7 o'clock.

Lion Band Gets #1 UIL Rating

The Ozona High School Lion Band won a #1 rating at UIL Contest in Brady Saturday, the first "excellent" rating for the band in 15 years. The band won its rating on marching and musical ability.

The majorette ensemble of Gigi McKinney, Debbie Wallace, Jennifer Marley and Molly Womack, received a first division rating and will compete at the state level in Austin in May.

Gigi McKinney and Debbie Wallace won first place ratings on their solo routines and will compete at state. Jennifer Marley and Molly Womack both received #2 ratings on their solo routines.

History Books For Christmas

As the Holiday Season approaches, the Crockett County Historical Society would like to remind Ozonans and friends that a Crockett County History would make a nice gift.

The books continue to sell well and when the present remaining limited number are sold there will be no more available. Already they are considered Collectors' items.

Some of the funds from the sales are to be used to improve exhibits in the Crockett County Museum; others are being invested at the Ozona National Bank to be used for future Museum expansion, thus benefiting all citizens of our county.

Rainfall Amounts To Half Inch

Slow falling rain late Monday night and early Tuesday morning left .52 of an inch of moisture for Ozona, the first rainfall for the month of November.

After a record hot, dry summer, October bowed out with a respectable 2.07 inches of rainfall.

7 Fire Units Battle Grass Fire. 20 Sections Burned

Seven fire fighting units from three area towns battled more than seven hours Tuesday to control a fast moving grass fire, driven by 35 mile an hour winds, in southern Reagan and north Crockett county ranch lands.

The racing flames seared nearly 20 sections of ranch land before it was finally brought under control by the fire fighting units from Big Lake, Ozona and Mertzon, with the assistance of county maintainers, ranch sprayers and water trucks assembled to assist in the battle to control the dangerous fire outbreak.

At noon Tuesday, Ozona firemen were called to a grass fire on the Powell Field road. Two units were dispatched. The fire had started on the Reagan county ranch of Bill Schneemann and spread to Crockett County before the gusting winds of the season's first northerly duster which enveloped West Texas Tuesday morning.

Firemen were hampered not only by the fierce winds but by the thick mesquite growth which made the movement of fire trucks difficult. Big Lake firemen estimated the blaze stretched 8 miles in length and approximately 2 1/2 miles wide at the widest point.

Racing across the dry pastures at lightning speed the fire would sometimes race under the trucks before firemen could put it out. No loss of livestock was reported and no ranch houses damaged, although the fire was headed toward the Sam Mann ranch when firemen were able to stop it at a ranch road to the Mann headquarters.

Fighting the fire besides the Ozona fire units were three units from Big Lake, and two from Mertzon. Before returning to Ozona, the local fire fighting units were called on to help halt a small grass fire south of Big Lake. One unit had to be towed back to Ozona after a fan belt caught in the radiator. No injuries were reported among firemen and area ranchers stayed with the smoldering fire throughout the night.

Governor Appoints 7 Local Men

Seven agriculture leaders from Crockett County have been appointed by Governor Dolph Briscoe to serve on the Governor's Committee to Make Texas Agriculture No. 1 in Income and Profit.

The County committees have the responsibility of promoting cooperation and mutual support among agencies, organizations and groups involved in agriculture and agribusiness.

Committee members from this county include Joe Couch, Bill Black, John Parks, C.H. Sinclair, Joe Tom Davidson, R.J. Everett, Jr., and Dr. Gary Vannoy.

Local Girls Win Places In Wool Contest

Six Ozona High School students participated in the District 5 and 6 Make It Yourself With Wool Contest held in Mason Saturday, and two of the girls were winners. There were 34 contestants in the competition.

Lucy Perner won a first place in the junior division for her three-piece 100% wool gaucho suit. She will compete at the state level December 3, in Houston Harte Center in San Angelo at 8:00 a.m.

Maggie Galvan won a third place in the division for her wool coat.

All six students are members of Mrs. Baugh's home economics class, and all entered wool garments they had constructed especially for the contest.

Other Ozona girls entering the contest were Kathy Adams, Becky Everett, Tracey Knox and Aurora Villarreal. All were entered in the junior division and were awarded yardages of wool fabric for their efforts.

Commissioners Are Returned To Serve

All Crockett County precincts will be represented by a commissioner when the commissioners court convenes in regular session Monday morning, due to an amendment of judgement filed in U.S. District Court October 20.

In the original order, filed by the three-judge panel, the posts of commissioner, precincts 1 and 3, were declared vacant and a new election was ordered. The election was declared illegal because of the apportionment plan used in last year's primary. There was disagreement at the time on paragraph 12 of the original order, attorney for the plaintiffs declaring the positions should be vacated upon date of the order, and attorney for the county filing a motion for amendment which would allow the two commissioners to serve until the results of the election are known.

County Judge Johnny Jones was notified last week that the motion had been approved and the order amended.

Paragraph 12 remains the same with the following amendment added, "and provided further that Jesse C. Marley and Jack Williams currently serving as Commissioners of Precincts One (1) and Three (3), respectively, shall continue to hold the offices and serve as members of the Commissioners Court for such precincts until their successors have duly qualified.

Filing deadline for the December 10 special election was Tuesday. As of late Monday afternoon only one more candidate, Eloise Whitley, had filed in Precinct 3, bringing the number of candidates for the post to six. The count in Precinct 1 remained steady at four.

To be eligible to vote in the Dec. 10 election, voters must be registered by Friday, Nov. 11. The precinct lines will be those used before August 1974. Anyone in doubt about what precinct to vote in should go by the tax office or refer to the map printed in the Oct. 27, edition of the Stockman.

In the May Democratic Primary last year incumbent commissioner of Precinct 3, Jack Williams narrowly defeated Jim Marks, the only other contender. Three contenders in Precinct 1 forced a run-off when one failed to get a majority of the vote. Jerry Hayes, Sostenes De Hoyos and incumbent Jesse C. Marley were on the ballot. DeHoyos led the ticket with Marley second. In the run-off election in June, Marley defeated DeHoyos and was returned to office.

With so many candidates for the Dec. 10 election, a second election is a probability in both races. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes in either race, there will be a second election Jan. 7, 1978.

LIONS LOSE HEARTBREAKER to the Kermit Yellowjackets here Friday in their last home game of the season and next to last game. The Jackets came out with a 14-13 victory, but they knew they had been in a ball game. The Lions will be in Sonora Friday for the final game of the season. [Photo by Joel Sanchez]

LOCAL WINNERS in Make It Yourself With Wool contest Saturday in Mason were Lucy Perner, first place winner in junior division, who will compete at the state level; and Magdalena Galvan, third place winner. The girls are wearing their winning ensembles. Six Ozona High School home ec. students competed.

SOCIAL SECURITY

WASHINGTON—Every man, woman and child in this country has a stake in the future of the Social Security system, and the choices we in the Congress make now to shore up its sagging financial structure will determine if generations of working Americans to come can expect benefits in return for their years of contributions.

To listen to the dire warnings of some members of Congress, the only remedies for Social Security's anemic financial state rest with drastic retirement benefit reductions or wholesale tax increases both for the employer and the employee, each of whom contributes an equal amount to the Social Security trust fund now.

Don't believe it for a minute. To be sure, hard choices must be made now. And they will not be easy ones because there can be no quick-fixes. Each solution contains drawbacks, but restoring the financial integrity to the system must and will be of highest priority for Congress.

Because far more has been expected—and asked—of the Social Security system than its original drafters envisioned, because government has failed to recognize at times, then correct recurring technical flaws in the funding structure, and because of unforeseen economic conditions over the last 40 years, there are both short-term and long-term changes we must make now if Social Security is to fulfill its commitment to millions of working Americans.

Based on an assessment of responses to a questionnaire mailed to thousands of Texans in July, and on the immediate and long term needs of the system, there are at a minimum five critical areas on which legislation should focus to stabilize the current drain on trust funds and to return the system to actuarial soundness over the coming years.

To achieve these goals, my proposals reallocate currently scheduled tax resources among trust funds so that we can realize the most efficient use of limited funds; and they correct certain indexing deficiencies inadvertently written into 1972 amendments to the law which have proven costly, and which contributed to the rapid depletion of certain of the trust funds—but they do so in a way that ensures benefits keep pace with the cost of living.

They also call for a repeal of the outside earnings limitations currently placed on the Nation's elderly, which needlessly restrict their ability to keep pace with rising inflation; coupled with an analysis of the benefit structure to determine if it can be liberalized in other appropriate ways. Also corrected under my proposals are problems created by the Supreme Court decisions affecting dependency provisions of current law to ensure equality of treatment for men and women.

Finally, it is necessary for a top to bottom reform of the system to be carried out by an appointed Blue Ribbon panel. It would be instructed to find comprehensive solutions without shifting general revenue funds to Social Security, or without breaking the historic partnership of the employer and employee in financing the system on an equal basis. The panel also would be instructed to review in detail the welfare components of the trust fund to assure changes are made equalizing benefits with contributions actually paid into the system.

For too many years, Social Security expenditures have exceeded revenues, and a succession of liberal Congresses has avoided changes necessary to correct the drain on resources, and by doing so merely postponed the day of reckoning indefinitely. That day is now here.

Q: I'm a widower in my 70's. I want to spare my children the cost of probate if I will them my modest home, yet I've seen cases where an aged parent deeded their property to their children and then was placed in a nursing home and ignored by the children. Can I deed the home to my three children now, but not have the deed recorded until it's delivered to my heirs after my death?

A: To be effective, a deed must be delivered during the lifetime of the person giving away the property. There is an inexpensive form of probate which would allow property to be passed to heirs and also facilitate the winding up of affairs after death.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—High level state officials are continuing to express their objections in strongest terms to President Carter's energy program.

While Gov. Dolph Briscoe was lobbying with a House-Senate conference committee in Washington, D.C., for additional production incentives, the Texas Energy Advisory Council unanimously urged the conferees to ditch key presidential proposals.

Briscoe, indignant at White House cancellation of a conference with governors on production matters, charged there is no way the Carter program can meet its goals.

The state council, made up of major Texas officials, meanwhile, advised killing a crude oil equalization tax as a burden on Texas consumers, the economy and state governmental ability to levy the taxes necessary to finance services.

Other features of the resolution included recommendations to reject the House proposal to tax business and utility users of oil and natural gas, adopt the Senate version of natural gas pricing and assign priority in natural gas supply and pricing preferences to gas used for irrigation pumping and crop drying.

The council further went on record for a White House conference to discuss with the president how to achieve his coal production goals consistent with national environmental objectives. And members urged research into agricultural products as possible alternative sources of energy.

The State Board of Education will approve the final list of textbooks for adoption at its Saturday (November 12) meeting following a public hearing by the board's committee of the whole Thursday.

The tenth job matching fair to help the unemployed find jobs is scheduled November 19 in Cisco.

Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Jim Wells, Maverick, Starr, Webb, Willacy and Val Verde counties were designated disaster areas due to economic injury from peso devaluation.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said his auditors collected an additional $81 million in taxes owed the state during fiscal 1977.

The Railroad Commission has suspended a 57 per cent increase in rates for natural gas service in unincorporated areas of Limestone and Freestone counties and ordered a hearing on the Brown Oil and Gas Company proposal for December 20.

U.S. Marshal Clint Peoples received the governor's tourist development award for helping establish the Fort Fisher Park complex in Waco.

Alonzo King of San Antonio received the Texas Hospitality award, and Ila Loetscher of South Padre Island received a special citation for saving endangered species of sea turtles. Presentations were made at the 12th annual Texas Conference on Tourist Development here.

Hearings Set

Texas Air Control Board held 24 hearings this month to determine what citizens want to do about new requirements in the Federal Clean Air Act.

New amendments will "affect the daily lives of every Texan because of the sweeping changes required in the state's air pollution control program," TACB Executive Director Bill Stewart said.

Hearings were conducted in Waco, Wichita Falls, Bryan, Abilene, Beaumont, Lake Jackson, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Harlingen, Austin, Houston, Tyler, Odessa, Corpus Christi, Longview, Laredo, Texas City, Fort Worth and Victoria during the first week of November.

Other hearings were set for Denison and Texarkana November 10, Lubbock November 14 and Amarillo November 15.

Courts Speak

Negligence of a pathologist who ordered radiation treatment for a man mistakenly diagnosed as lung cancer victim cannot be the basis of a suit against a hospital when the doctor was not an officer or employee there, the Supreme Court held.

In other action, the high court affirmed rulings awarding $80,000 and a $586 a month pension to heirs of a telephone company executive, T. O. Gravit, who committed suicide.

The Supreme Court also turned down the suit of a suspended Potter County attorney seeking reinstatement following allegations he had taken county property and misapplied funds.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the attempted murder conviction of a Shelby County man based on a faulty indictment.

Attorney General Opinions

A newspaper used for legal notices must meet the requirements of Article 28a of civil statutes, including entry as second class postal matter in the county of publication, Atty. Gen. John L. Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Legislation permitting incorporation of an area with at least 8,000 residents located within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another municipality is not unconstitutional as a local or special law.

A bill which abolishes the civil, criminal, juvenile and probate jurisdiction of the Reeves County Court is constitutional.

BAND RECEIVES SUPERIOR RATING

The Pride of Lion Country gave it their best at UIL Marching Contest in Brady Saturday. They came out on top with a first division rating after being judged on marching ability and musicianship. This is the first time in at least fifteen years that this has happened. Way to go, Lion Band!

The High School twirlers also competed in twirling contests Saturday. The majorette ensemble received a first division and will participate on the State level in May. Also winning the chance to compete on the State level are Gigi McKinney and Debbie Wallace with their solo routines. Both these girls received first divisions also. Jennifer Marley and Molly Womack both received two ratings which are ratings of excellence. Our congratulations to these girls.

This week the Band effort award was unanimously voted to Veronica Guerra. Keep up the good work!

SIX GIRLS PARTICIPATE AT WOOL CONTEST

The District 5 and 6 "Make It With Wool" Contest was held Saturday in Mason. Kathy Adams, Becky Everett, Magdalena Galvan, Tracey Knox, Lucy Perner, and Aurora Villareal competed in the annual contest. Lucy Perner won first place, earning her the right to compete at State contest which will be held in San Angelo on December 3. Magdalena Galvan received third place at the contest, winning wool material as a prize. Our deepest congrats to these girls!

QUARTER TESTS TAKEN

Tests for the first quarter were taken Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. We hope everyone who had to take them studied hard! Those with passing averages, no more than three absences, and no more than two unexcused tardies, earned a little "holiday" this week! Isn't that just hunky-dory?

SPIRIT BUILDERS

The High School cheerleaders and Varsity Football Captains presented a pep rally for the Primary School last Thursday. The cheerleaders led the kids in yells and chants and the captains gave speeches. One of the children remarked, "Gosh, they're Big" talking about the captains. We want to recognize these youngsters for their spirit and support throughout the football season. They made signs for the games and decorated their rooms showing their feelings about the Ozona Lions.

There was also a lot of spirit at the pep rally Friday. The Junior High Cheerleaders participated in this pep rally and did their yells to help build the spirit for the game that night. The Spirit Mug Winner last week went to Angie Rodriguez. Way to go, Angie!

CUBS WIN FINAL GAMES

The Junior High Cubs smashed the Crane Cranes all over the field last Saturday in Ozona. The 7th grade won with a score of 28-0 and the 8th grade smoked them, 40-6. Those were both the Cub teams' last games and ended a good season. The 7th grade had three wins, two losses, and one tie; the 8th grade had seven wins and only one loss. Way to go Cubs!

LIONS' PLAY CLOSE GAME

Debra Says

by Debra Price

I hope everyone in Ozona will make plans to enter the second annual Crockett County Pecan Show, November 18 and 21. All it takes to enter pecans is gather 45 pecans, put them in a sack and bring them to the Extension office or Civic Center.

The food division of the Pecan Show is November 21. Pecans must be in the recipes in the cake, pie, cookies, candy, bread, and miscellaneous categories. Bring food entries to the Civic Center on Monday, November 21, from 8:00 to 9:30 a.m.

Pecans have a place in the well-planned diet because of their good flavor, food value and many uses in main dishes, breads, cakes, cookies, desserts, salads and candies.

Nutrition studies show that pecans provide essential vitamins and minerals and are particularly good as energy food. The American Indians who first used pecans for food were aware of their nutritional benefits.

Cabeza de Vaca, one of the early Spanish explorers wrote, "The Indians came to the place of which we had been told, to eat walnuts (as pecans were then known). These are found with a kind of small grain, and this is the substance of the people for two months in the year, without any other thing."

While no one food provides all the nutrients needed for good health, pecans are a good source of protein, phosphorus, thiamin, unsaturated fats and energy. Pecans also provide some iron, calcium, vitamin A, potassium, riboflavin, niacin and small amounts of vitamin C. Although pecans are a high energy food, they have fewer calories than most nuts.

TEXAS PECAN PIE

- 1 cup pecans, halved or chopped
3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

Beat eggs. Add sugar and syrup, then salt and vanilla and last, the melted fat. Place the pecans in the bottom of an unbaked pie crust. Add the filling and bake at 350° for 50 to 60 minutes. The nuts rise to the top of the filling and form a crusted layer.

PECAN-BUTTERMILK PRALINES

- 2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup buttermilk
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups pecan halves
Mix sugar, soda and milk in heavy saucepan and cook over medium heat to soft-ball stage (234°). Remove from heat and add vanilla and pecans. Begin beating immediately. Beat until candy begins to thicken. Drop by teaspoon on waxed paper or greased baking sheet. Cool. Yields 30 small patties. Note: If mixture become too thick before all is dropped, stir in one or two drops of warm water.

Tips For Gardeners From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Many of our trees and shrubs are coming alive with brilliant fall color. One of the earliest are a few Chinese tallows in Ozona, if they miss a killing frost and only hold their leaves for a short time. Others are the sumacs, crepe myrtle, elm, pecan, nandina, oaks, fruit trees, China berries and others. Too, the pyracanthas are beautiful with their red and orange berries. Perhaps you noticed the Serinsas over town in bloom after the rain, and that they survived the dry summer better than most shrubs.

Also, the fall mums, margolds and roses have not been as colorful as usual, so make your plans to try again next year.

One of the most colorful house plants is the croton (codiaeum variegatum) and any of its many hybrids. Crotons will grow to a height of 6 feet in their native habitat. In the home they seldom grow much over 24 inches. Depending on the variety, there is a wide selection of leaf shapes and colors. The foliage comes in colors of bronze, pink, red, yellows and a wide assortment of colors. The more light the croton gets, the deeper the color of the foliage. Any good potting soil high in humus is adequate for planting. They are tropical, so require plenty of moisture. Keep the soil evenly moist for the best results. An application of water-soluble fertilizer every two weeks will keep the plants looking healthy. One major problem with crotons is leaf drop. A sudden drop in humidity or temperature can cause the plant to lose all its leaves. Any change, especially from outside to inside, should be gradual. Even if the plants defoliate, chances are good it will put on new leaves once it becomes accustomed to the new climate. I found mine really perked up soon after I took it outside for the summer. I placed it where the strong and hot sun wind would not hit it directly and in a filtered sunlight spot. From now through Feb. is the best time of the year for planting or transplanting trees, shrubs and woody vines.

If you order your roses, select nurseries that sell bushes with strong, healthy canes. Select varieties known to do well in this area. Prepare the rose bed before they arrive, work the soil well and add a generous amount of organic matter. Group the plants in a well-drained, sunny exposure for easier care.

OHS Band News

By Rhonda Yeager

The band worked hard this past week, with eleven hours of rehearsal getting ready for Marching Contest and last Saturday their efforts paid off. Everyone started getting nervous when we entered the warm-up room. One lead cornet got upset when she couldn't remember a single note of the whole show but out on the field, everything came back loud and clear. We stepped outside the warm-up room to let our horns adjust to the weather and tune a little more. We took a few minutes out to say a silent prayer. Then we marched around the field to start our show. The drum major finally yelled her commands loud enough for the end flags to hear and we were on our way. Everyone settled down after the entrance and started concentration on the show. One band member remarked that they knew the show had to be going pretty good because the drum major had an ear-to-ear grin on her face during the feature "Riders".

We had our picture made and were going to the stands to wait for our rating when the announcer started the ratings for the bands that marched in front of us. Everybody froze. Some band members bowed their heads, while others crossed their fingers. And then it came "Ozona.....One!!!" A mighty cheer filled the air. The band members were jumping up and down, crying and hugging each other. We had finally gotten our "1"! It was the first in 15 years for the Ozona Lion Band.

The twirlers did their solos and ensemble soon after and kept up the winning. The ensemble got a "1". Gigi McKinney and Debbie Wallace received ones with their solos and Jennifer Marley and Molly Womack got twos.

The band is very proud of these girls. If you see a band member congratulate him on a job well done and well deserved. Any band member will tell you that the work was well worth it for this "1".

BIG BUCKS

By James Crumley, SCS

Many ranchers count on the additional income they derive from leasing their land for hunting. Hunters, in turn, are usually anxious to find a lease where there is a reasonable chance for them to take a trophy buck. Obviously a lease with numerous trophy sized animals will be more desirable than a lease with few or no trophy bucks.

Regretably for ranchers and hunters alike, fewer trophy bucks are being taken on hunting leases in Crockett County and in other counties in the Hill Country. One contributing factor is that bucks are not fully mature until approximately 4½ years old. It is at this age a buck is capable of producing its first trophy size antlers, that is, if nutrition is adequate and the buck is genetically able to produce a good rack. The first 3 or 4 years of a buck's life, body growth is of the most importance with antler development taking second place. Unfortunately, in most areas, Crockett County included, bucks never reach the ripe old age of 4½ years and therefore never have respectable racks.

Many game biologists are now recommending that the "small racked" buck not be taken. If nutrition is favorable these "small racked" bucks should be 2½ to 3½ years and are potentially next year's trophy buck. As a rule of thumb it is recommended that only trophy bucks, spikes and does be harvested. Biologists state that spikes are often inferior animals and have little potential for developing into a bull of the woods and therefore should be taken.

It is essential to hunt does. Biologists recommend that does be harvested on a 1:1 ratio with bucks. Failure to take does can result in very lopsided buck to doe ratios and excessive numbers. Much of the Hill Country deer population is in this situation. The result has been over grazing and over browsing. This, in turn, affects the nutrition of the animals and the end product has been what we lovingly refer to as the "Texas Jack-rabbit Deer". We must remember, excessive numbers of deer mean poor nutrition and poor nutrition means stunted deer, stunted antlers and No Big Bucks. Often the solution to this is adequate harvest, but not over harvest, of both bucks and does.

Annual Crockett County Pecan Show Coming Up

The second annual Crockett County Pecan Show will be held on November 18 and 21 at the Ozona Civic Center. The show is sponsored by the Crockett County Program Building Committee. The pecans will be judged Friday, November 18 and the food entries will be judged on Monday, November 21.

Cash prizes for the pecan show include $50.00 for Grand Champion Pecan, $25.00 for Reserve Champion Pecan, and $15.00 for Runner-up Pecan. $10.00 will be presented to the person with the most pecan varieties entered.

In order for the variety category to be judged, there must be three or more entries in the same variety. All varieties entered with less than three entries will be classed as 'others'. The judge will identify the variety of your pecans.

Each entry must be exhibited in their natural state; no artificial alterations. All entries must be in by noon, November 18 at the Civic Center or may be left at the County Extension Office prior to that date. All pecans become property of the Crockett County Pecan Show. The show is open to entries from Crockett County and adjoining counties.

The first three winners in each category will be submitted to the regional pecan show.

In the food division of the Pecan Show, pecans must be in the recipe in all categories. The entire recipe must be entered for judging, or in case of cookies, at least 3 dozen. Place food on disposable dishes, cover with clear plastic wrap, and place your name and food division entered on bottom of container.

Entry recipe must be turned in with food. Bring food entries to the Civic Center, on Monday, November 21 from 8:00 to 9:30 a.m. There is no limit on number of entries. The food show will open to the public at 2:00 p.m. The food categories which may be entered are as follows:

- Cake
- Pie
- Cookies
- Candy
- Bread
- Miscellaneous

An award of $10.00 will be presented to the champion in each food category. $5.00 cash will be awarded to the runner-up in each food category. $10.00 cash will be awarded to the person with the most food entries. Both youth and adults are welcome to enter.

The Pecan Show will be open to the public at 2:00 p.m. on Monday November 21 at the Civic Center. Everyone is urged to stop by and see the pecan and food entries.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

Last week we received a lovely surprise! Nine beautiful lap robes (quilts) all handmade by Mrs. Leon Dowdy are most gratefully received at the Center and will benefit many in the future. Thank you so much. The jackets that Mildred Fields made are really coming into their own these days when one never knows whether air conditioning or heat is the order of the day, and for those who enjoy the front or back patios, they are just right.

We have two residents in particular who really enjoy the outdoors; one is Jacinto (Shorty) Flores, our oldest resident, who walks out to the patio at will, and suns himself regularly with the added comfort of his ever present cigar! (I haven't quite made up my mind which he enjoys more—smoking them or chewing them), anyway, his pal, Charlie Fuantoz, keeps him supplied. Refugio Fierro, who cannot speak, but sees well, seems to find peace and the tranquility he needs in the outdoors. Both men had occupations that kept them in the fresh air, so it is understandable.

Speaking of tranquility, I am finding that early morning taped music, of the easy listening variety, apparently provides enjoyment as the residents emerge from their rooms and bathing schedules prior to jumping straight into the TV programs, and then, whatever activity is planned.

Working with the speech pathology this past week has been most rewarding because the three ladies I am working with have made so much progress, I wouldn't have believed it possible. If I don't catch them in their rooms, we usually go, individually, to the Day Room at the back, unless someone is watching the other TV there. Total concentration is most important.

It is great to see Camille Montgomery out and playing Bingo with us all again, and she thoroughly enjoyed 42 on Tuesday morning; she and her partner, Paul Cavin, were winners over Nita DePriest and Frances Tolson. Mike Pena, Gordon Smith and I had another round of dominoes going, and Mike beat us again. At first, I thought I had him, but he just wore that little all-knowing smile of his, thought about the whole thing an awful lot, and started totaling up those points like magic. It'll be the day anyone beats him!

Jessie Deaton surprised us all by coming to the lobby minus her wheel chair on Wednesday, aided by a walker, and doing very well with it. That was just the beginning; first we had music, then singing and then everyone joined in exercises and she was doing leg and arm raising with the best of them. Congratulations Jessie! Keep it up! When I left, she was engaged in lots of lunchtime conversation at the table, and I discovered she has quite a sense of humor.

Volunteers Doris Karr and Velma Marley are both assisting with handicrafts. We have added several colorful cork trivets to the show case and Nita DePriest, Paul Cavin, Frances Tolson, and Mike Pena prepared some more and they will be sprayed with the shiny finish in a day or two. Dill Eversole, for the first time, decorated a trivet and really enjoyed creating something he didn't think he could.

Tuesday night Bingo was a huge success. We have instituted a new rule that if someone bingos for a third time, instead of receiving another prize, he or she receives 10 points toward a special prize to be given at the end of the month.

Tommy Womack is much better and played Bingo on Friday. She really tucked into that popcorn!

Don't forget to look in the scrapbook in the lobby when you visit. There are quite a few interesting snapshots being included now.

Please come and adopt our pretty kittens! They do need good homes so badly, and are so cute. Floy Clare Short suspects Mother Kitty is expecting again. Good gracious! Already?

KIM TAMBUNGA ON WINNING TEAM

Kim Tambunga, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nato Tambunga, Jr., recently moved back here with his family from Rupert, Idaho, where he played a big part in winning the championship for the East Eighth Grade gridders.

Kim, the star fullback and defensive guard for the East, broke his collarbone and was lost for the final game. However, his coach said "Kim is one of the finest defensive linemen I have ever coached. He is a nice kid and I hated to see him get hurt. He leaves a big hole to be filled."

Export of Bobcat Pelts Has Been Halted In US

While sheep and goat producers were busy trying to keep the bobcat off the endangered species list, a strange series of events succeeded in giving the cat much of the same protection. Export of bobcat pelts has been halted, and ranchers were caught almost totally unaware.

It was one of those cases where you watch something happening, never quite realize what's going on, and are powerless to do anything about it anyway. Then when it's all over, you really have no one to blame.

Government trapping programs and ranchers' efforts have failed to keep up with predation in recent years, so ranchers have welcomed high export-boosted fur prices which have stimulated free-lance trapping. Authorities estimate that up to 95 percent of bobcat pelts taken in Texas are sold on the international market; there is almost no domestic demand.

Unfortunately, the same situation exists in Africa, but in their case, many sought-after cats face extinction. An international agreement designed to protect a multitude of endangered plants and animals by restricting trade has thrown a wider loop than necessary, and our bobcats were caught in it.

The United States is one of more than 80 nations cooperating in the agreement. During a 1976 meeting of the group, members voted to restrict trade in all wild cat products, and that's where our troubles began.

U.S. species covered under the restriction may be exported only under permit from the Fish and Wildlife Service. The permits are granted only if a new agency, the Endangered Species Scientific Authority, can show "scientific" proof that such export will not endanger the species.

Dr. William Y. Brown, ESSA executive secretary, admits that bobcats are not truly considered endangered, particularly in Texas. They are being protected, he says, simply because they are cats; they will remain protected until ESSA can "prove" they're not threatened by exportation.

Brown and ESSA are caught in the middle. They are required to "prove" a negative, much like herbicide and pharmaceutical companies are required to "prove" that new products are absolutely, unquestionably safe in all instances before manufacture is allowed.

For Texas ranchers and trappers, the problem is sticky; proof is required only on a statewide basis, fortunately, but Texas state

Chas. Huffman In Race For Commissioner

Charles Huffman, owner and operator of Crockett Automotive, made his formal announcement for the post of Commissioner, Precinct 3, in the special election December 10, this week.

CHARLES HUFFMAN

In making his announcement, Huffman said, "my concern for the future welfare of Ozona and Crockett County has prompted me to enter the race for Commissioner, Precinct 3 in the special election Dec. 10."

Huffman went on to say he realized the job was not an easy one, but he feels capable of holding the position. "I believe the office of commissioner could best be filled by someone who would listen to all of the citizens," Huffman said, "and further, I believe it is time for local government to be given back to the people."

"If elected," he said, "I pledge to do my utmost to work for the betterment of this county and all of its citizens. Your consideration in this election will be greatly appreciated."

Huffman and his wife, Betty, live in Precinct 3, and have been residents of Ozona since 1958. They have two sons, Bubs, an Ozona High School junior, and Vince, who is in business with his father.

Huffman is a member of the Ozona Lions Club and has been on the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Mrs. Hallcomb To Tourist Conference

Zona Hallcomb represented the Circle Bar Truck Corral at the annual Texas Conference on Tourist Development held in Austin Nov. 1-2.

Dr. Douglas Frechtling, Director of the U.S. Travel Center in Washington, D.C. told conference goers that travelers spent $6.1 billion in Texas last year, making Texas the fourth leading tourist attraction in the U.S.

47 tourists from Quebec since the opening in August.

Mrs. Hallcomb attended the first Tourist Conference in Austin twelve years ago, and has attended several times since then.

Local Officials Key Growth

The indication that a new industry will locate in a community is a matter that concerns the local decision makers and the industry itself, says Dr. Richard L. Floyd.

The economist in business development for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that the local officials should make the first step.

"Support for any new economic development can be encouraged simply by a letter from the mayor or some other elected official inviting the company to the community," suggests the business economist. The industry then sends its representatives for a sampling of the present wage rates, labor market and possible production rates. These representatives will also assess the value the political leadership places on the offered economic development.

The industry is further interested in the local business climate as a future promoter and co-worker in their economic efforts.

"Recognition of the needs of the industry as well as those of the community increases the chances that both will be pleased with their ultimate choice," notes Floyd.

Jim Marks Announces In Prec. 3

Jim Marks, owner of a local super market, authorized The Stockman to formally announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct 3, subject to the Dec. 10, special election.

JIM MARKS

Marks was narrowly defeated by incumbent Jack Williams in the Democratic Primary last year, which has since been declared illegal. In making his announcement, Marks said, "I feel county business is big business and I certainly think a businessman should be on the Commissioners Court, one who is available at all times for any situation which might arise."

Marks said he feels one of our biggest concerns is the large loss of taxpayers' dollars at the hospital. He said, "If elected, I will do everything I can to improve this situation and work toward making the hospital and care center the self-sufficient institutions they should be."

Marks said he thinks he is qualified and capable of handling the job and asked the support of all the voters in Precinct 3. "If elected," he said "I plan to be responsible to the people and there will certainly be no ignoring the wishes of 695 petitioners."

During his 16 years as manager of The Foodway Store here, Marks said he had learned to work with people from all walks of life. He feels this experience a valuable asset in his race for commissioner. Jim purchased the store from Winn-Dixie the latter part of October.

Jim and his wife, Beth, have lived in Chandler Addition for the past 16 years and raised both their daughters here. Both girls attend Ozona schools. Suzie is an Ozona High School sophomore and Anita, an OHS graduate, is attending school in San Angelo.

Jim has been active in civic affairs throughout his years in Ozona. He is an active Ozona Volunteer Fireman, serving as Chief 3 years out of his 15 years of service. He is a past president of the Ozona Lions Club, Ozona Chamber of Commerce, was a member of the draft board and the County Historical Survey Committee. (Pd. Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Jim Marks)

Livestock Reports Are Due

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the State of Texas and for each county.

Reliable information on what is produced, how much, and where is important to farmers, ranchers, and others in making production and marketing decisions and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. It is also the basis for determining allotment and payment levels to producers by USDA under the various commodity programs.

Cooperation by producers is the key to all crop and livestock estimates. Farmers and ranchers have recognized the need for accurate and timely statistics by participation in the program since its start over a century ago. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential.

Speaker Here For Women Who Want To Be Women

Approximately 70 people heard Elizabeth Rohn of Kerrville when she spoke at the Civic Center Wednesday afternoon, November 2.

Mrs. Rohn is a member of The W's--Women Who Want to be Women--and the Eagle Forum, both organizations dedicated to preserving the home and family, and Christian ideals and principles.

Specifically, Mrs. Rohn informed the group about the International Women's Year Commission, its goals and purposes and their effect on American families.

The United Nations designated 1975 as International Women's Year and President Ford, by Executive Order, appointed a 35 member National Commission on International Women's Year. With Federal funds, the Commission attended the World Conference for Women in Mexico City in June, 1975, from which emerged the World Plan of Action, which in addition to endorsing the so-called "women's issues," delves into many domestic and foreign matters, such as "equitable distribution of income" and world disarmament. The U.S. delegation unanimously endorsed the World Plan of Action and pledged to strive to implement it into U.S. laws.

President Carter appointed a National TWY Commission and Congress authorized $5 million for State and National TWY Conferences. State Conferences have been completed and the National Conference will be in Houston November 18-21. The end result of these conferences will be a report to the President, which he must submit to Congress, showing what U.S. women want, and furnish a blueprint for future legislation.

The blueprint has been drawn by the National Committee and in effect would create a Big Sister government, with sex quotas imposed on industry and government, and sweeping new programs which would not only increase Federal involvement in private lives, but escalate taxes and inflation. Federally funded and controlled 24-hour child development centers for all children, school-based programs in sex education and family planning, government-financed abortions on demand, public election financing, removing all preferences for veterans, full legal and social status for homosexuals, international interdependence, reduced national defense, and ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment are plans also included in the blueprint, with the ERA ratification listed as top priority. "Women are not going to enjoy being equal" says Mrs. Rohn. "In Minnesota, where the ERA is enforced, women are being sent home from a packing company because they cannot lift the heavy sides of beef, like a man can."

Mrs. Rohn who attended the Texas TWY Conference in June of this year in Austin, reported that the meeting was controlled by women who embrace the humanist feminist philosophy as opposed to those who uphold the pro-family biblical values

VOTE FOR

SOSTENES DEHOYOS

The December 10 election has again allowed the county to seek and work for a possible solution to the difficulties it faces. It is you as a voter who will determine whether you elected officials are accountable and responsible to you, or arbitrary and capricious in their own ways. I am just as undaunted now as when I first entered this. I had a desire to run for office and if elected to represent the precinct to the best of my abilities. Only through careful study can knowledgeable judgements be made for the good of Crockett County. My only pledge to the voters as a candidate is to inform you of key issues where as a citizen you can express your views. Your vote and support will be appreciated.

going to be many high-paid executives out of a job before the end of the ten-year period.

Reform has come to mean "make worse if possible" when used by those who run our country. I can't think of any "reform" undertaken in the past ten years that did anything but hurt the wage earner and the taxpayer. When are they finally going to kill the goose that laid the golden egg? Heaven knows, they are trying with all their might.

Appliance Cord Safety

Follow safety rules for appliance cords, urges Dr. Carolyn McKinney, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For home safety, consumers should make a special effort to protect their families from appliance hazards--through proper use and care of appliance cords.

Always disconnect the appliance cord from the wall outlet before disconnecting the cord from the appliance. To disconnect, grasp the plug instead of the cord, Dr. McKinney says.

Keep oil and grease away from cords and do not run cords under floor coverings.

Store cords in a cool and dry place. To lengthen their lives, roll appliance cords loosely (never wrap tightly). Or hang them over a smooth, broad surface.
