1978 Coke Oil and Gas Production Makes Big Money — $34.2 Million

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Coke County wells in 1978 boosted the county economy and accounted for $34.2-million of the $17.1-billion value placed on Texas production last year, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the top producing counties of Texas, the Dallas-based association said the county ranked 101st among the 202 counties having marketed production valued at $100,000 or more, not including the sale of natural gas liquids.

The county's wells produced 2.6-million barrels of crude oil, valued at $24.2-million, and 9.9-million Mcfs of natural gas, valued at $10-million. Owners of royalty in the county received $4.3-million as their share of the output, the association said.

Edith Residents To Meet Sunday For Homecoming

A large crowd is expected to attend the Edith Homecoming Sunday as friends and relatives gather for the 45th annual get-together of the folks of the Edith Community and surrounding communities.

For many years the annual affair was held in the old Edith Tabernacle. Then for several years the gathering took place in the Green Mountain School but for the past few years, it has been held at the Recreation Center in Robert Lee.

A spokesman of the Homecoming Association said everyone is invited to bring a basket lunch and come enjoy a day of fellowship with old and new friends. Plates, cups and ice will be furnished by the association.

There will be a short devotional program during the morning.

on from every Texas county is more vitally important today than ever before," said the association's president, H.B. (Hank) Harkins of Alice, an independent producer and drilling contractor.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county also supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $1.9-million, according to the association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $1.1-million, while natural gas levies totalled $753,000.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 54 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $665,000 in 1978.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas operators spent a reported $10.4-million in the drilling of 72 wells, including 15 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 47 oil wells, although some $3-million was lost in the drilling of 25 dry holes.

Petroleum processing also contributed to the county economy, with two natural gasoline plants, having a total daily capacity of 66.1 million cubic feet of natural gas, and one petrochemical plant in operation.

Both Glad And Sorry

Here is a story that took place a few thousand years ago.

"Three men were crossing the desert by camel on a long journey. On their way they came to a watering hole and they stopped to refresh their mounts. And as they were resting, a voice spoke to them from the heavens. It said, 'Fill your pockets with sand and tomorrow you shall be both glad and sorry.'

"This they did and they rode on. The next morning they awoke to find that the sand had turned to gold. As the voice had told them they were, indeed, both glad and sorry. Glad they had taken some, and sorry they had not taken more.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

You will find a check for the next year's subscription to the Observer enclosed.

I had hoped to be there in person to take care of the matter this year, but the doctors said no. I spent about 8 months last year in the V.A. hospital, but so far this year I have managed to stay out. So far, I'm just about holding my own at least not losing ground.

I would like to hear from anyone I knew in the past, as I am retired on disability and have lots of time on my hands. Many of them are scattered all over, - the Smiths, the Ditmores, and others I knew at Wildcat, and many whom I went to school with in Robert Lee. I remember Mr. George L. Taylor as one teacher, whom I understand has passed on now. The Varnadores, Pentecosts, Pauline Roe, Bryans, many who I didn't know too well, but remember. This could go on and on but I'll cut it short for now.

Respectfully,
Frank L. Davis

Commissioners Talk About Budget

Members of the Coke County Commissioners' Court spent most of their meeting time Monday discussing financial matters that concern the county.

Judge D.W. Sims said the agenda for the session was short but the group had a lot to talk about.

Main topic for discussion was a review of items on the proposed budget for 1980.

The commissioners also voted to join the five-member appraisal board which, when established, will appraise property for all taxing agencies in the county. Other members of the board would be the cities of Robert Lee and Bronte and the Robert Lee and Bronte Schools.

Judge Sims said the board probably will not be able to become operative before 1982, but a great deal of work will be required to get it into operation.

The commissioners approved and paid outstanding bills.

County Pecan Crop Looking Good

By Sterling Lindsey
The pecan crop in Coke County is possibly the best ever at this stage of growth. But, the nuts are not completely developed yet. We are receiving calls about shedding and have noticed one problem on at least one tree.

Third generation case-bearers are hitting some trees. Normally, when the nuts are the size they are now, one grub will feed on only one nut. But, that nut will be ruined and will usually drop off the tree.

Also, you need to be watching for the hickory shuckworm. The shuckworm feeds in the green shuck and usually hits about the time the nut shell hardens. We are about that stage, depending on the variety, here in the county. The chemicals suggested for shuckworm control are zolone or malathion. You need to check inside the clusters to find the shuckworm. Usually, if they are present, you will see some frass, webbing and possibly one or more nuts slightly smaller than the others because of the damage. At harvest time the shuck will stick to the shell and the kernel will be shrunken and discolored.

If the shuckworm is present, a second spraying two weeks later is recommended.

The pecan weevil should be hitting soon if they are to hit this year's crop. Conditions are good for a weevil infestation. If you have had weevils in your pecans before, I would check for them or go ahead and spray a couple of times with sevin.

The pecan weevil usually hits between August 15 and September 15. The adult lays an egg in the nut, the egg hatches into a small, white grub that will eat the kernel and/or destroy the kernel. This is the insect that people often do not know they have until harvest time. Then they break open a nut and find the grub or they find a hollow nut with a clean hole cut in the side of it.

Again, if you are in doubt, spray a couple of times the last of August using sevin. Make the applications 7 to 10 days apart.

If you have not had weevils in past years, I would check before spraying. This insect is slow to migrate - even from one yard to the next.

To get a fall garden off to a good start, you've got to beat the summer heat.

Many popular, fall gardens vegetable seeds, such as lettuce, carrots and broccoli, germinate poorly when planted during the heat of summer, according to Dr. Sam Cotner and Dr. Jerry Parsons, Extension Horticulturists.

Set out transplants to avoid this problem. Tomatoes, peppers and eggplants should be transplanted to insure production before frost.

Broccoli, cauliflower and other cold-tolerant crops can be transplanted or seeded directly into the garden. However, transplants insure early production and properly spaced plants.

If seeding directly into the soil, bed the soil before planting. After marking the rows, make a seed furrow three-fourths to one inch deep with a hoe handle or stick. Then water the furrow thoroughly, wetting the soil two or three inches deep.

Always plant more seeds than needed, scattering them evenly along the furrow. Cover them with compost, potting soil, peat moss or vermiculite instead of soil to eliminate soil crusting or poor aeration. To cool the seed furrow, use a light colored covering material.

With material like compost, seeding depth is still important but not critical. Depending on the crop, seedlings should emerge in a few days.

Don't allow the soil to dry as seedling emerges. Shade seedlings with a board, cardboard or cloth on the west side to protect them from the intense afternoon summer sun.

Thin the seedlings once they are an inch or two tall.
