TIME SHORT TO ACT ON ACREAGE CONTROVERSY

Austin, January 24.—St. Valentine's Day, February 14, being the cotton planting day of some Texas farmers—those residing near the Gulf—time for deciding what to do about the Texas cotton acreage reduction law is short.

Judge W. C. Davis of the Eighty-fifth Judicial District, who presided last week at Franklin over trial of a test case, which ultimately will determine the genuineness of the cotton ban statute, announced he would hand down a decision Friday.

Governor Sterling last week received additional letters requesting that he call an extraordinary session of the Legislature to repeal the law, enacted at a special session called specifically for that purpose last September.

Texas' position in the cotton acreage reduction movement was further accentuated last week when Mississippi's law, patterned along the same lines as the Lone Star State statute, expired automatically.

Governor Opposes Session

Mississippi's law provided that it should be repealed automatically if a majority of the cotton-growing states failed to pass similar legislation by Jan. 20 of this year. The Texas law made no provision for noncompliance should other cotton states not get in.

Only Texas, Arkansas and South line.

Carolina passed laws similar to the Texas statute, which provided that there should be planted to cotton in 1932 not more than 30 per cent of the acreage devoted to cotton in 1931.

Governor Sterling has indicated that he would not convene a special session of the Legislature to revoke the law. He said that even though the statute were not adopted by other cotton growing states it should be a good thing for Texas, basing his opinion on the deduction that the more cotton Texas farmers planted the less advantageous would be their economic standing.

However, at this time, with the law in the courts for a test, there seems no occasion for a legislative session immediately. Should the District Court hold the law unconstitutional, as many students believe it will, there would be no necessity of legislative action.

In a meeting of the Floydada High School Athletic Council Monday afternoon at the high school building it was decided that the Floydada Invitation Tournament scheduled to be held here Friday and Saturday would be cancelled.

He further stated that cage tourneys were becoming a common occasional thing that a great deal of benefit was not received from them.

Many teams invited were unable to attend but a few others signified that they would and could enter the tournament.

Temper Shortens When Age of 40 is Reached

Are you approaching forty? Beware! Between the ages of forty and sixty one's "pet peeves" are "at peak." Savants of the international congress of psychology announce that the child, and the young man and woman, are fairly broad-minded about annoyances.
Having survived such trivialities untill forty, one is inclined to let go, and it is from that time until one is sixty that you should guard against becoming slave to your dislikes.

A better plan would be to remove one's self from the scenes of temptation. If one dislikes mosquitoes, he should try to find a place where there aren't any. If a man, and it irks you to dance with stout ladies, crash the high school dances and sub-deb parties. If, now in the thirties, you develop murderous tendencies when the saxophone player next door tunes up, move away before forty, unless you wish to give your murder complex play. This may be bad psychology, but it's good advice.

Humble Cow Looked On as Evidence of Wealth

In the early centuries the cow was looked upon as a source of wealth as well as food. One of the first words for money was "pecunia," from the Greek word "pecunia," meaning cattle or herd, and the first coins made in Greece and Rome were stamped with the cow's head.

Another interesting connection between cattle and gold is found in the story of the discovery of gold in California. People came overland by pack train, around the isthmus of Panama, and in sailing vessels around the Horn. More people meant more cows and to meet the growing demand, large numbers of cows were brought from Kentucky and England. In the early mining days these sold for $300 to $500 a head—so a cow was almost as good as a gold mine.—Kansas City Times.

When Sails Beat Steam

When the steamer Enterprise, commanded by Capt. James Henry Johnston, English pioneer navigator, reached the Cape of Good Hope on October 13, 1825, it is recorded that "a great crowd gathered on the foreshore to admire the wondrous object that could move at will without direction of the wind and to the accompaniment. It must be said, of a mighty puffing and volume of smoke."

The Enterprise, which had left Falmouth, England, on August 16 for Calcutta, took so long (113 days) to reach her destination that every one, including her captain, was disappointed, for under favorable conditions the great sailing ships, at less expense, could make the voyage to Calcutta in 90 days.

Probably Fervent Wish

On a shore-bound train recently the Stroller sat behind a fussy old lady.

The seat in front of the woman was occupied by a gentleman who had his window open.

"I wish that man would shut his window, my hair is blowing around something awful," she remarked to a woman in the seat beside her.

The gentleman of the open window, having heard the indirect request, turned, and with the woman's features mirrored in his bar-ren dome, smilingly said: "I wish the wind would blow my hair!"— Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Where Criminals Hung

The little triangular garden at Kensington gate, London, was once known as Dead Man's green and had a somewhat gruesome history. Tradition avers that Dead Man's green, as it used to be called, was the site of the Surrey gallows, where many a highwayman and less romantic scoundrel met his doom in the Eighteenth century. Here, too, some of the Scottish followers of Prince Charlie were "hanged, drawn, and quartered" after the rebellion of 1745.

Language Peculiarities

English has twenty-six alphabet letters, twenty-one for consonants and five for vowels. English has some forty-four sounds, twenty-four consonantal and twenty vocalic. To represent these forty-four sounds in spelling, English has well over 400 separate orthographic combinations, making an average of ten possible spellings per sound. What can you do with a language like that? And yet there is a charm about it.—Janet Rankin Aiken, in the Bookman.

Cleaning Plaster Statues

When plaster statues have become dingy and dusty first give a thorough brushing and dusting.
Take a good quality of white cream colored paint and make it thin with turpentine. Apply this to the statue with great care so that no paint settles in the crevices to impair the modeling. The statue can then be kept clean by wiping carefully with a wet cloth. Many statues in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, are treated in this way.

Wind Sweeps Skyscrapers

Strong gusts of wind against tall steel buildings cause the structures to sway and vibrate, tests have shown. According to reports, two of the tallest buildings in New York city bend as much as six inches at the top of their towers, three inches in either direction from the neutral fixed position, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Designers of a tall building soon to be built in Chicago allowed for a sway of two inches in either direction.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proved perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not clean you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, indigestion, gassy condition warns of constipation.

WOODMAN CIRCLE GIVE LUNCHEON HONORING MRS. ELLA B. STARKS

On Tuesday, January 19th, Mrs. C. Surginer threw open her home to the members and visitors of the Woodman Circle for a surprise luncheon honoring Mrs. Ella B. Starks who is retiring after seventeen years of faithful service as financial secretary of the Floydada Grove No. 1033. As Mrs. Starks entered the living room the members of the Circle lined up and gave her the Grove honors. The tables were arranged in a wedge shape and decorated with the Grove colors, green and lavender. During the luncheon Mrs. Lon V. Smith in her usual charming way presented the honoree with a lovely purse as appreciation from the Floydada Grove. Later Mrs. Hilton presented Mrs. McCauley retiring guardian with a beautiful pair of hose from the Grove. After the luncheon the tables were arranged for 42 after they were seated a lovely shower of handkerchiefs fell on Mrs. Starks and very much to the surprise of the honoree.

THE VERY LATEST BY MARY MARSHALL

At first glance we fell in love with this new sleeve. It was something new and most flattering to the arm on the young woman who wore the dress. The sleeve of the dress ends a few inches above the elbows, and is continued on over the elbow by a loosely fitting extension of chiffon or net to match the dress. The edge of the net or chiffon is finished with a narrow hem run with fine round rubber so as to make the sleeve puff slightly over the elbow. Velvet ribbon to match the dress is used for the trimming. It should be an inch or a little more in width and you will need about one yard and a quarter for each sleeve, the exact amount depending on the size of the arm. Cut the velvet ribbon in four pieces for each sleeve. Join the ends to form four circles and then gather each along the top, and sew to the sleeve as shown in the sketch.

CORPORATIONS' FRANCHISE TAX RETURNS ARE 'OPEN TO ASSESSORS'

Austin, January 24.—Texas county tax assessors, in quest of new items for their taxable property rolls, are permitted by law to scrutinize franchise tax returns filed by corporations.

The decision was given to State Auditor Lynn, who asked if county assessors were entitled to peruse the official franchise tax reports on record with the Secretary of State.

The opinion held that "county tax assessors are a part of the machinery of the State necessary to the assessment and collection of state taxes and they are charged by law with definite duties with reference to the assessment and discovery of property tax liability."

Lynn was advised by the Secretary of State that before a tax assessor will be allowed to inspect any return, a sworn statement will be required from him, giving the purpose for which the information is to be used.

Mrs. G. E. Edelman, of Plainview, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Bolding, here Sunday.
