Miss Honora Childers Palace Theatre Revue to Be Friday Night

The Palace Theatre Revue, featuring Miss Honora Childers, will be a feature attraction at the Palace Theatre here Friday evening of this week.

Miss Childers has presented other entertainments of this nature in Floydada previously to this time which were favorably received by the public. It is believed that this revue will climax the other entertainments that Miss Childers has directed.

Miss Childers' revue Friday night will include a girls chorus, specialty song and musical numbers, men's quartette in a group of songs; dance specialties, harmonica band and a blackout.

Members of the girls chorus, which will present three routines during the evening, include: Bernice Bishop, Adelaide Scott, Blanche Hilton, Elizabeth Hollingsworth, Ardrea Johnson, Mary Helen White and Alice Mae Pyffe.

Specialty Numbers

Several specialty musical and comedy numbers will include: Song numbers by a girls trio consisting of Vera and Verla Blassengame and Vera Bishop, songs by Noryne Spence and Mary Prickett; Men's quartette with Garland Glover, Roy Holmes, Kyle Glover and Clyde Maddox.

Dance specialties by Betty Blyker, clever, vivacious little girl; Yama, Arizona, who is spending the summer in Floydada, are expected to prove popular.

Another outstanding feature of the revue will be dance specialty combinations with Honora Childers and Evelyn Daily.

A harmonica band, which has proved popular in other successful presentations, will be one of the supplementary numbers. A blackout with the following cast: Counsellor, O. B. Olson, Jr.; wife, Evelyn Daily; husband, Otto Johnson, will be given especial prominence.

Costumes will be snappy, new creations which have become popular in the latest musical comedy successes. "The Wet Parade" will be the cinema feature for the evening's show, in addition to Miss Childers' Palace Theatre Revue, will be the regular run of picture program.

Miss Oma Johnson visited in Fort Worth last week, as the guest of Mrs. Sandlin Jones.

Mrs. R. Bishop, of Waco, arrived Friday to visit for several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bishop, at 312 South Street in Floydada. Mr. Bishop is district salesman for the Rubber and Tire Company.

Completion of the securing of a right-of-way over Highway 28 through Floyd County is expected by Monday of next week, according to J. N. Johnston, Right-of-Way Committee chairman.

Although a definite date for the closing of the right-of-way through Floyd County has been set it is expected that land owners along the proposed route will sign over by Monday of the week.

Reports from the south Floyd County and Floydada right-of-way committees were heard Monday morning in a meeting at the Floyd County court room at 10:30 o'clock. In this meeting a decision was made by those present to rush the obtaining of the right-of-way as much as possible and to get the highway ready for pavement by the state.

"Several routes through Floydada have been proposed, although none have been definitely established", J. N. Johnston, general chairman of the right-of-way group said Monday. "The committee has no authority to definitely fix the route through Floydada", Mr. Johnston further stated.

Members of the committees engaged in securing the right-of-way through Floyd County at the present are: Floydada general committee: J. N. Johnston, chairman; J. B. Jenkins, N. A. Armstrong, Glad Snodgrass and S. W. Ross. Floydada Right of Way committee: R. E. Fry, Lon M. Davis and Jim Willson; East of Floydada to Motley County line: A. H. Kreis and A. C. Goen; Lockney: H. M. Mason, A. R. Merriweather and Arthur Barker; Aiken: Robert Jones and J. E. McAvoy.

Reports received by Chairman Johnston from the Aiken committee indicate that the right-of-way from the end of the Hale County paved highway to the edge of the Aiken district, has practically been secured. Much advancement is reported by this committee in obtaining the right-of-way.

All committees are busily engaged in securing the right-of-way this week, and reports are favorable on the project. Several landowners along the route have indicated that they will sign over enough of their land to complete the present 80 foot highway and widen it to 100 feet as required by the state and federal highway specifications.

"The state has indicated that the project is ready to go into operation just as soon as the right-of-way is secured," Mr. Johnston said Monday.

"According to the present plans of the committees working on the right-of-way, if the right-of-way is secured by Monday, within a week the State Highway Commission will begin their work on the grading preparatory to the paving of Highway 28", Chairman Johnston stated.

"There are about 100 land owners along the right-of-way that we will have to obtain releases from before the project can be started. We are experiencing some difficulty in corresponding with out-of-county resident landowners and obtaining their signatures on the idea," Mr. Johnston explained.

A meeting of the right-of-way committees will be held in the County Court room Monday night to report on progress made during the current week.

MISS ALTA LLOYD OF LAKEVIEW MADE MUCH IMPROVEMENT OF ROOM IN BEDROOM CONTEST IN DEMONSTRATION CLUB WORK

"Well, I did not know anything could be changed so much as this room," said Alta Lloyd, member of the Lakeview Home Demonstration Club for girls, when speaking of her bedroom. Miss Lloyd is one of the ten bedroom demonstrators in Floyd County who entered the bedroom contest in March.

Prior to the contest improvement of the room, Miss Lloyd's room had unfinished wall and floor, no closet, no base boards, no curtains, an old light socket, out of repair, a bed, a high dresser, with a small mirror, two trunks, a baby bed and old clothes hanging on the wall.

Miss Lloyd, by spending $12.99, has changed this dark, gloomy place into a light cheerful bedroom with well equipped clothes closet and furniture adequate for her needs.

The demonstrator first built a closet then canvassed and papered the room. A floral design of pastel colors, pink predominating, was used for the walls, and white paper for the ceiling. She added base boards, painted the wood work and refinshed the floor.

"My bed is the only piece of furniture I have in my room that was there when I entered the contest," Miss Lloyd said. She traded her old style dresser for a princess type one without and additional expense. A used table was secured for $1.00 in trade for canned goods. A visit to the junk pile resulted in a chair and a foot stool made from old stove legs and scrap lumber with a cost of 50c for cretonne for upholstering.

FLOYD COUNTY TAXPAYERS ATTENDED BUDGET MAKING CONFERENCE HELD IN LUBBOCK FRIDAY OF LAST WEEK

Rev. G. W. Tubbs, chairman of the Floyd County Tax Payers League, Mayor W. C. Hanna, W. M. Massie, Geo. A. Linder, S. W. Ross, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce; C. A. Jay, Dallas tax expert, and City Manager Edy of Dallas, D. A. Bandeen, Stamford, General Manager of WTCC and C. M. Caldwell, of Abilene.

Spencer Well of Lubbock called the meeting to order and presided over the all-day session. The Floydada delegates returned Friday afternoon late.

Alex Gullion will return to his home in Detroit, Texas, after having visited for two weeks with his uncle, J. N. Gullion and family in Floydada.

Miss Estelle Hyars spent Friday and Saturday in Floydada as a guest of Miss Eula Gullion.

Lumber obtained from a glass crate was used to make a wall shelf for books and writing material, and still another portion of the crate made attractive book ends. The old shades were taken from the windows, turned and rehemmed. Curtains were made of cream colored marquisette with dainty flower tie backs made of pastel colored material taken from the scrap bag.

The furniture, consisting of bed, dresser, reading table, two chairs and a foot stool were refinshed in a cream, just a shade darker than the wood work. The floor covering is a hook rug, costing 35c for dye, made of old silk hose and rayon underwear in colors harmonizing with her room. Light fixtures that had been on hand for years were installed. These consisted of a drop in the center of the ceiling and a wall light above the dresser.

Her closet was equipped with a shoe rack, hat racks, padded clothes hangers, and shelves for linens and folded wearing apparel.

Old enlarged photographs were removed from the walls and two small hand painted pictures and one tinted print took their places. A cover made of feed sacks protects the mattress. A pink cotton bed spread, a scarf made of a feed sack, oblong in shape, conforming to the lines of her dresser, and plain sheets and pillow cases compose her linen supply.

Oil barrels, and rubbish were cleared away and now a view from Alta's window reveals a garden and a well kept orchard.

Second Half Tax Payments May Be Made By July 10th Without Penalty, Interest

Notice is being given this week that the last half of the "split payment" plan taxes, which the law requires to be paid by June 30th, may be paid by July 10th, without interest or penalty.

The notice to taxpayers being issued this week by C. M. Meredith, tax collector states:

"Owing to harvest conditions, the county collector's office will accept payment on these items to July 10th without interest or penalty."

"Due to the fact that notices have appeared in the papers relative to filing of suits on property for Independent School District taxes, inquiries have come to the county collector's office about this matter. For your information, you are advised that it is not the intention of the county to file any suits on property for collection of taxes until conditions become better, then we believe it will not be necessary, at least in most cases."

It is expected that many of the last half payments using the 'split payment' plan will be received at the collector's office by the time the deadline is reached.

Harvest Activities Renewed After Delay Caused By Rains

98 Women Completed Wardrobe Demonstration; $539 Estimated Saved

Twenty club demonstrators and 78 cooperators from home demonstration clubs in Floyd County completed the Wardrobe Demonstration and had all records completed at the annual achievement day held recently.

The records of the 20 demonstrators reveal that $539.99 was saved as the result of the demonstration. $538.23 was expended by the 20 demonstrators for clothing for one year, which shows an average of $26.91 for each during the entire year.

Donators made 75 garments by foundation patterns at a saving of $148.04 or an average of $1.97 saved on each garment made.

Each demonstrator and cooperator reported one foundation pattern made for her self, making 98 in all; in addition 267 others were assisted with their foundation patterns. 14 of the 20 demonstrators made new closets for their clothes and the other six added shelves, rods for clothes hangers, shoe racks, hat racks and made other improvements. 219 other cooperators have reported greatly improved storage space; out of this number, 33 have completely built closets. A total of 47 new closets have been built and 192 greatly improved during the wardrobe demonstrations, making a total of 239 completed in the county in all clubs.

A wild west rodeo, sponsored by the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department, and conducted by Powell Keeling and his show troupe was successfully staged this week end. The rodeo was held in the Floydada Municipal Ball Park, Saturday, Sunday afternoon and night, and Monday night.

Several hundred people were present at each of the performances, including Floyd County people and visitors from neighboring cities. Due to inclement and unsettled weather conditions, the record crowds expected were not able to attend.

Directors of the event were, Cleo Stephens, John Buchanan and Buri Bedford, a committee appointed in a meeting of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department. Powell Keeling was assisted in the presentation of the show by some eight riders and assistants.

A special constructed corral and chutes were used in the rodeo. The typical western rodeo included calf roping and tying, steer riding, steer roping, mule and brine riding.

Events, announced by Powell Keeling, from the field moved in rapid order and the spectators' attention was held during the entire show.

Two parades were staged, as an advertisement feature of the event, Saturday afternoon and Monday afternoon and night. Parades included the fire trucks, rodeo riders, wild broncs and a chuck wagon.

Local Riders Featured

Anumber of local people participated in the rodeo, including members of the fire department and others. Riders from the Floydada Fire Department included, Everett Price, Jake Hill, Dee Johnston, Virgil Shaw, Jess Lanier and others. Riders of Floydada, not members of the fire department included, Fred Jones, George Sherill, Jim Hargrove, Aubrey Martin and others. Dee Johnston and Jake Hill participated in the calf roping contest. Many of the fire boys, in true western spirit, domed their big John B's, boots and spurs, saddled a bronc and assisted in "putting the show over in a big way." One of the outstanding events of Sunday afternoon was the mule riding contest. A wild mule, furnished by Dave Sherill, did some 'plain' and 'fancy' bucking. Everett Price was one of the riders to get "spilled" but he gave a fine exhibition of bronc riding.

The Sunday afternoon show was climaxed by a calf roping from an automobile, a difficult and unique feat. "This is the first time that I have ever known of this act being performed, and you can tell your friends that this is the first time that an event of this nature has been done at a rodeo," Powell Keeling declared in accounting the event.

The show Monday night was climaxed by the riding of a dangerous bronc, Sirengo, by a colored boy. This event was the outstanding feature of the night's performance. Other activities including steer riding and roping, calf roping, bronc riding were booked on the evening's entertainment.

About twelve horses and fifteen steers were brought from Floyd County and neighboring county ranches, as the herd for the rodeo, by Powell Keeling's show.

Fireboys, other than the committeees and riders keeping the gate and in charge of other arrangements included: Vern Elliott, G. G. Glover, Lace Martin, Hal Drace, Jess Lanier, E. S. Johnson, Bill Sisson, Douglas Maddox and Melvin Henry.

A percentage of the gate receipts go into the fire department treasury at the fireboys' disposal.

Spain Glories in Past

Americanization has reached many parts of Europe, but in Spain its influence is less apparent. Pride in birth, pride in history, pride in great works of art and literature and pride in cities whose beauty is unequalled, have kept the Spaniards aloof from imitation of other nations. It is true that there is a subway in Madrid, and a broadcasting station at Seville, but the poetic charm of old Spain is still in evidence everywhere.—Exchange.

Idiocy of Homer?

"Have you got the 'Odyssey and Idiocy of Homer?'" was the somewhat startling request recently made by a small boy to the librarian of Brightwood branch. When she pointed out his understanding and pronunciation of Greek words was a variation from accuracy, the youngster scornfully said that it "didn't matter—they sounded just like, anyway."—Indianapolis News.

Lion Should Defeat Grizzly

In an open fight between a full-grown grizzly and a full-grown lion, the victory would depend somewhat upon circumstances. As a general rule, the lion, in addition to strength and vigor, has a degree of cunning not found in a grizzly bear. Consequently, he would have the advantage over the bear and, in most cases, would come out the victor.

RAIL TRANSPORTATION IS EFFICIENT AND ECONOMICAL

● THE RAILROAD is the most efficient and the most economical transportation agency the human mind has ever devised.

The ability of commercial trucks to operate with various charges for their services has been because they are not required to carry all kinds and classes of freight. The truck can choose its freight and is privileged to reject that which it cannot handle, either because it is not equipped for such heavy service or the rates are too low to be profitable. The railroad CANNOT DISCRIMINATE but must accept all freight offered it.

In 1930 the shippers of Texas paid the railroads $225,223,142 in freight charges. If the same volume and character of traffic had been carried by trucks it would have cost the shippers, according to the best available data on trucking costs, $900,000,000, or four times as much.

What will be the effect on the shippers of Texas if only the traffic which the trucks cannot handle is left to the railroads? If traffic paying the higher rate is taken from the railroads by the trucks, it will be necessary for the rail carriers to increase their rates on the low grade traffic or go out of business. The total transportation bill will be greatly increased.

The railroad rate structure is a composite designed for the purpose of enabling the free movement of ALL ARTICLES OF COMMERCE, making it possible to bring even the cheapest commodities into general use and distribution. Were it not for the low rates made available by the railroads on many low grade commodities and raw materials, their distribution and use would be impossible and all commerce and industry would be seriously affected.

● THE RAILROADS CANNOT SUBSIST ON LOW GRADE TRAFFIC ALONE.

MRS. T. J. BOYD SAVED $225.21 BY BEING CLUB WARDROBE DEMONSTRATOR

Mrs. T. J. Boyd, of Antelope Home Demonstration Club, first place winner among demonstrators in the recent wardrobe achievement day contest, showed a saving of $225.21 on her wardrobe during the demonstration.

"The wardrobe demonstration has been of value to me in that it taught me how to plan and achieve an economical, harmonious, well fitted and cared for wardrobe," Mrs. Boyd said in her report during the achievement day.

Mrs. Boyd states that she saved $225.21 by renovating discarded garments and by using the foundation patterns. Mrs. Boyd's records show that she had a total expenditure of $57.01 for her now complete wardrobe, this amount included money paid out for outer clothing, under clothing, dresses, head wear, foot wear, accessories and cosmetics.

"Never before I began this demonstration did I realize how much one's wardrobe was influenced by economic shopping, and serious planning as to line, color, construction, combinations and selection of garments to be purchased and in the renovation of those on hand," Mrs. Boyd said in her narrative on the wardrobe demonstration.

"Until I became demonstrator I never realized how useful a clothes closet could be and how many defects mine had. My closet was papered a dark brown, the hat shelf was high above the closet door and useless. There were no other shelves, no pockets, nothing but a sagging pine rod for metal hangers that left puffed out, soiled spots on tops of sleeves.

"My closet now has been papered with light paper, lowered hat shelf, added four short shelved linen, also an iron rod to hold neatly padded clothes hangers. I painted my shelves and rod a light color, made hat stands for hats, and made sachet bags out of baby's 'out grown' booties and gloves and filled them with rose leaves. The coat hangers were padded with old silk hose," Mrs. Boyd further said.

NOTICE To Taxpayers!

The law provides that JUNE 30th, of this year is the last date that last-half tax payments for 1931 can be made without interest and penalty. Owing to harvest conditions, the county collector's office will accept payment on these items up to JULY 10th, without interest or penalty.

Due to the fact that notices have appeared in the papers relative to filing of suits on property for Independent School District taxes, inquiries have come to the county collector's office about this matter. For your information, you are advised that it is not the intention of the county to file any suits on property for collection of taxes until conditions become better, then we believe it will not be necessary, at least, in most cases.

PLAINVIEW DISTRICT MISSIONARY CONFERENCE HELD HERE LAST FRIDAY WAS WELL ATTENDED BY DELEGATES

Approximately 200 delegates from Women's Missionary Societies of churches in the Plainview District were present for the all-day conference held at the First Methodist Church here Thursday. Delegates present included those from Muleshoe, Lockney, Matador, Fairview, Petersburg, Plainview, Carr's Chapel and From Floydada.

Several churches in the Plainview District were unable to send delegates to the conference due to the condition of the roads and inclement weather.

Resignation of delegates began Thursday morning at 9 o'clock with Mrs. Wilson Kimble, Mrs. Lorain Leibfried, Mrs. L. A. Smith and Miss Maurine Hay in charge.

Mrs. Sloneker in Charge Mrs. S. S. Sloneker, secretary of the Plainview District, presided over the all-day session. Mrs. J. D. Colville, Floyd County Conference Chairman, called the conference to order Thursday morning at 9:30. A hymn was sung as the opening number on the program.

Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the Floydada First Methodist Church, made the welcome address to the assembly. Response to Rev. Smith's welcome, on behalf of the First Methodist Church here, was said by Mrs. McFadrige of Muleshoe.

Mrs. J. Frank Potts, Abilene, vice president of the Northwest Texas Conference, Mrs. R. A. Metcalf, Slaton, superintendent of children's work and Mrs. C. A. Bickley, Lubbock, superintendent of Women's Circles, were the Northwest Texas Conference officers scheduled to appear on the program Thursday. None of these officers were able to be in Floydada during the day.

In the morning session of the conference, following the welcome address and response, a special number was given by all of the members of the Young Women's Circle. An address by Mrs. S. S. Sloneker of Plainview completed the program for the morning. Numbers by Mrs. Potts, Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. R. S. Watkins of Hale Center were omitted in the morning session due to the absence of those named.

A luncheon was served at the noon hour to those present with Mrs. Wilson Kimble, Mrs. Lorain Leibfried, Mrs. L. A. Smith and Miss Maurine Hay as hostesses. The lunch was in charge of Mrs. E. C. Henry and Mrs. W. M. Colville, assisted by members of Mrs. Kimble's Girls Sunday School Class, and was served in the church dining room.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Strong of Petersburg at the morning session and by Rev. Chism of Matador for the evening session.

Miss Hoster West, Medical Missionary to China, made an address Thursday afternoon, as the feature number of the program for the day. Miss West, who recently completed Scarritt College in Tennessee, discussed the work in Scarritt College stressing student fellowship and missionary work in that school. The speaker also outlined her work to be done in China as a medical missionary.

Miss West is being sent as Floydada's Missionary to Foreign Fields by members of the Methodist Missionary Societies.

Impressive Memorial An impressive tribute was paid to those persons on the memorial roll, by the delegates present. Misses Helene and Maureen Hay sang a special duet, "Footsteps of Jesus," as a memorial tribute to the following on the memorial roll: Mrs. M. A. Wheeler, Plainview; Miss Ruthie Grimes, member of the Plainview Boys and Girls World Club; Mrs. T. F. Payne, Matador, and Mrs. H. E. Smith, Floydada.

Circle Named "Hester West" The Young Women's Circle was named, in the afternoon session of conference, by Mrs. Bailey of Plainview. Hester West was the name selected; naming the group from Floydada's Missionary to China.

In her address, following the naming of the circle, Mrs. Bailey referred to the Young Women's Circle as those who "are keeping the home fires burning for Missionaries in Foreign Fields."

Following a brief business session, during which time zone reports were heard from delegates, a playlet, "The Yes But—ers," was given by members of the local church missionary groups.

Rev. Strong of Petersburg, said the benediction, following a short consecration service.

Misses Pauline Rogers and Katie Lee Thurman returned yesterday afternoon from Abilene where they had visited for a month. They accompanied Lurline Clouts.

Temper Shortens When Age of 40 Is Reached
Are you approaching forty? Beware! Between the ages of forty and sixty one's "pet peeves" are "at peak." Savants of the international congress of psychology announce that the child, and the young man and woman, are fairly broad-minded about annoyances. Having survived such trivialities until forty, one is inclined to let go, and it is from that time until one is sixty that you should guard against becoming slave to your dislikes.

A better plan would be to remove one's self from the scenes of temptation. If one dislikes mosquitoes, he should try to find a place where there aren't any. If a man, and it irks you to dance with stout ladies, crash the high school dances and substitute parties. If, now in the thirties, you develop murderous tendencies when the saxophone player next door tunes up, move away before forty, unless you wish to give your murder complex play. This may be bad psychology, but it's good advice.

Humble Cow Looked On as Evidence of Wealth
In the early centuries the cow was looked upon as a source of wealth as well as food. One of the first words for money was "pecunia" from the Greek word "pekus," meaning cattle or herd, and the first coins made in Greece and Rome were stamped with the cow's head.

Another interesting connection between cattle and gold is found in the story of the discovery of gold in California. People came overland by pack train, around the Isthmus of Panama, and in sailing vessels around the Horn. More people meant more cows and to meet the growing demand, large numbers of cows were brought from Kentucky and England. In the early mining days these sold for $300 to $500 a head, so a cow was almost as good as a gold mine.—Kansas City Times.

When Sails Beat Steam
When the steamer Enterprise, commanded by Capt. James Henry Johnston, English pioneer navigator, reached the Cape of Good Hope on October 13, 1825, it is recorded that a great crowd gathered on the foreshore to admire the wonderful object that could move at will without direction of the wind and to the accompaniment, it must be said, of a mighty puffing and voicing of smoke.

The Enterprise, which had left Falmouth, England, on August 16 for Calcutta, took so long (113 days) to reach her destination that every one, including her captain, was disappointed, for under favorable conditions the great sailing ships, at less expense, could make the voyage to Calcutta in 90 days.

Probably Fervent Wish
On a shore-bound train recently the Stroller sat behind a fussy old lady. The seat in front of the woman was occupied by a gentleman who had his window open.

"I wish that man would shut his window, my hair is blowing around something awful," she remarked to a woman in the seat beside her.

The gentleman of the open window, having heard the indirect request, turned, and with the woman's features mirrored in his barren dome, smilingly said: "I wish the wind would blow my hair!"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Where Criminals Hung
The little triangular garden at Kensington gate, London, was once known as Dead Man's green and has a somewhat gruesome history. Tradition avers that Dead Man's green, as it used to be called, was the site of the Surrey gallows, where many a highwayman and less romantic scoundrel met his doom in the eighteenth century. Here, too, some of the Scottish followers of Prince Charlie were "hanged, drawn, and quartered" after the rebellion of 1745.

In the Same Boat
"Do you know what the hanging committee have done?" said the first artist. "They've ruined my picture by putting it next to the worst daub in the exhibition."

"I've got the same complaint," said the second artist. "I looked in yesterday, and I found they've hung my picture beside an absolutely frightful thing. Don't know what the place is coming to."

"How do you do, you fellows?" said artist number three, joining them. "I see they've hung your pictures side by side this year."

Imposing State Capitol
The Nebraska state capitol at Lincoln is a notable innovation in American state edifices. It is a broad, low main building, 400 feet square, constructed around four courts. In the center rises an impressive square tower 400 feet high. The facade, with its setback, suggests that of the Pitti palace at Florence (1490); while the tower indicates modern German influence, recalling at the same time the turreted structure over the crossing in the older cathedral at Salamanca, Spain. Bertram Grosvenor Cookhue was the architect.

Orchids Need Much Care
Orchids, of which there are numerous varieties, are the most costly of cut flowers, for good reason. It takes seven to eight years for the plant to reach the flowering stage, and in all that long period it must be cultivated under a uniform temperature and otherwise cared for, even after it begins its single bloom a year.

The sowing and incubation of the seeds are done in the laboratory in flasks or test tubes, in which the seedlings germinate under sterilized conditions.

Has Something to Learn

Small Things That May Handicap the Worker
Study of more than a million workers, made by Statistician James Layfield, show that the following are the eleven best ways to annoy the boss—"minor characteristics in employees which keep them from moving ahead in the world":

1. Wisecracking in the presence of the boss; affecting of a southern accent; a weak memory which requires its owner to be introduced to folks five or six times before he is able to recognize them; giggling; know-it-all; holding the fork backwards in cutting beefsteak; furtive manners; wearing of vivid red neckties; happy-go-lucky; inferiority complex; superiority complex.

"These are a few of the qualities in mortal man which the bosses of a million workers tabbed as 'little habits with big consequences,'" says Mr. Layfield in the American Magazine. "The surprising fact is that bosses are so sensitive toward idiosyncrasies which one might think were too trivial to have any bearing on success or failure." In other words, you would be astonished to learn exactly how much your boss knows about you—how violently he may be swayed for or against you by the repeated exhibition of some trait of which you may not even be aware."

Passenger Might Have Figured It for Himself
There's a long steep climb when the train to California ascends the Continental divide and usually an extra engine or so is added to make the pull. But there was no extra on this particular section of overloaded tourist traffic pouring into the Golden state and the single locomotive, taxed to its utmost, staggered until even the conductor got nervous.

Finally one of the passengers, more temperamental than the rest, could stand it no longer and began to call down the conductor. "What on earth's the matter?" he demanded, as if the conductor knew any more about it than he himself did.

"That's a fool question," snapped the irate conductor. "You ought to know as well as I do that the engineer is teaching his wife how to drive."—Los Angeles Times.

Training Librarians
The first school in the world established solely for the professional training of librarians was started at Columbia college, New York city in 1887, by Melvil Dewey, then librarian of the college. Dewey's plan for such a school had been presented to the American Library association as early as 1885, but was opposed by some of the leading librarians. Opposition gradually gave way, however, as the value of formal professional training for library workers was demonstrated, and other schools were established in various parts of the country beginning with the Pratt institute of Library Science in 1893.

North Dakota Settlement
It is believed that a party of Frenchmen led by Pierre de la Verendrye were the first Europeans to set foot on the territory now comprising the state of North Dakota. This party crossed from the Assiniboin river in Canada to the Missouri river in 1738 and were searching for a "river to the west."

In 1742 two sons of Verendrye passed over the same region on the same mission, but after months of wandering southwest of the Missouri they were forced to return. In 1780 a French trader settled at Pembina in what is now North Dakota.

Growth of Fire Engines
When the greater part of London was burned in 1666 fire engines were operated by hand, and water was ejected by means of a giant syringe. A tank and a pump worked by hand were introduced later, but water could be squirted by this device only a short distance. It frequently happened that the engine itself was destroyed by fire. The pumps were gradually improved, and flexible pipes were used, but invented until the nineteenth century. Horse-drawn engines were employed until 1903 when the first self-propelled fire engines were built.

Frying into the Future
A few of the ancient superstitions that have drifted down to present days are quite amusing. Some of them work in well when one is planning an evening's jollification, as, for instance, the telling of fortunes by means of tea leaves. Tea grounds, floating in the cup were supposed to indicate company, soft ones representing a woman and hard ones a man. When small, the guest was expected to be a large person; long grounds foretold a tall visitor. If the grounds were thrown under the table the guest was expected to remain over night, or longer, but if left in the cup, the call would be of short duration. Grounds remaining in a cup after the tea had been taken imparted still further knowledge. The cup was turned about several times and placed bottom up on the saucer, when the turning process was continued for a few minutes before setting the cup upright and studying the grounds. An open pathway through the grounds indicated a journey, its length depending on the length of the path. When the cup was turned sideways, if any tea ran out tears were anticipated on the journey. A ring of grounds, with a small dot in the center, represented a wish, and the owner of the cup was advised to think of what was most deeply desired, as it would certainly be granted.—American Agriculturist.

"Red Hat" Bestowed on Cardinals as a Symbol
The red hat, the most conspicuous feature of the insignia of Roman Catholic cardinals, dates as a vestment from 1245. In that year it was bestowed on secular cardinals by Pope Innocent IV as a symbol of their readiness to shed their blood for Christ and the church. Gregory XIV in 1591 extended the privilege of wearing the red hat to cardinals belonging to religious orders. As now made, the ecclesiastical hat is scarlet in color and has a small, flat crown and a broad brim with curls and tassels of special patterns hanging over it. It is placed on the head of the newly appointed cardinal by the hand of the pope at a public consistory, but the hat is very seldom worn afterward. Instead it is usually laid aside until the funeral obsequies of the cardinal, when it is placed on his catafalque. In the absence of the cardinal, and sometimes after his death, the red hat may be hung from the roof of the cathedral. The color of the cardinal's hat has become known as cardinal red, and a species of American finch is called the cardinal bird or the red cardinal because of the brilliant plumage of the male.—Pittsfield Magazine.
