THE SPURT IN THE STOCK MARKET

We do not know, because nobody ever knows, all of the causes for the recent noticeable rise in prices of securities on the New York Stock Exchange. Neither do we know how long this beginning of a bull movement is going to last. We say those things by way of warning to such of our readers as are inclined to speculate, that they have no assurance that Stock Exchange prices are going to continue upward. We strongly advise everybody who is not in a position to lose money not to take any chances in the effort to win money by gambling in stocks. We think a great deal of the financial difficulties the nation has been going through came from the fact that millions of people who had no business to gamble were playing the stock market in the hope of getting rich quick without work.

Nevertheless, this new activity in the stock market is an encouraging sign. It signifies, primarily, that capital has got over the worst of its fear of the future. Fear has been the principal deterrent influence operating against a speedy recovery in business and industry. There is more free capital in the United States today, the economist tell us, than ever was before. But it is owned principally by people who have been afraid to do anything with it for fear that something worse was going to happen than had already occurred. Now this money is coming out of hiding. It is one thing to express such a belief in words, but it must be taken seriously when it is expressed in money.

Let's Look In On The Smiths

In 1929 the Smiths had an income of $40.00 a week.
In 1929 the Smiths were paying $50.00 for a $35.00 house.
In 1929 Mrs. Smith was forced to do considerable squeezing of pennies to keep the grocery bill within $12.00 a week.
In 1932 the Smiths had their wages cut to $34.00 a week.

In 1932 the Smiths forced the landlord to accept $35.00 for his $35.00 house. Rather he refused to accept it and the Smiths moved to a house owned by a landlord who had discovered that times had changed.

The Smiths' income had been reduced $312 a year, but the Smiths have cut their rent bill $180 a year.

In 1932 Mrs. Smith has discovered she feeds the family better on $7.00 a week than she could in 1929 on $12.00. The Smiths are saving $260 a year on food.

Rent and food saving amounts to $440. Wage cuts amount to $312.00.

In 1929 the Smiths were in debt some $500.00.

In 1932 the Smiths are in debt some $60.00.

Mrs. Smith needs two new dresses, which can be bought at less than half of the 1929 price. Mr. Smith needs a new suit.

The radio which cost the Smiths $160 in 1928 can be duplicated now for less than $75. The old radio has started to wheeze.

The small car the Smiths own is getting a bit shabby. Mr. Smith is thinking thoughts about a newcar.

The Smiths in 1932 have more money than in 1929.

The Smiths have been a bit cautious in their buying because they heard so much depression talk. . . . but now they've begun to suspect that things are not so bad as some people painted them.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO ADOPT BUDGET FOR 1932-33 IN MEETING TUESDAY

A school budget for the 1932-33 school term of the Floydada Independent School District will be adopted in a meeting of the trustees of the district to be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Any and all tax payers of the Floydada Independent School District are invited to be present for this meeting to be held in the tax collector's office of the Floydada District. Tax payers are invited to the budget meeting to confer with the trustees regarding the ensuing school term, and to discuss the proposed budget.

"Many questions, vital to the schools of Floydada District and the taxpayers, will be discussed in the meeting Tuesday," W. Edd Brown, president of the board of trustees, said.

"Floydada Independent School District has thousands of dollars outstanding in delinquent taxes, which is enough to pay all debts, exclusive of bonded indebtedness, and retire all unpaid warrants and enable the schools to open without owing a dollar, if this could be collected," Mr. Brown said in announcing the meeting.

To Discuss Tax Rolls

The tax rolls of the Floydada Independent School District will be opened for inspection and discussion at the meeting next Tuesday afternoon—a frank and open discussion as to the procedure of the trustees in collection of this delinquent tax money will be had.

"It is hoped by each member of the school board that all tax payers in the district and all patrons of the schools, who are interested in the ongoing of Floydada's schools, will take notice of this meeting and be present to discuss the school matters with the board of trustees," President Brown further explained.

Attention of tax payers is called to the fact that if the schools are not being operated according to personal ideas of school management, there will not in all probability be a change made unless they meet with the board and offer suggestions for betterment.

The meeting Tuesday afternoon follows the completion of the work by the board of equalization which was in session Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Another occasion will probably not be given to tax payers and patrons of the Floydada school district to meet jointly with the board of trustees and the meeting Tuesday is pointed out as a very important and essential one.

peculiar Formation of Tasmanian Apple Tree

Tasmania, Australia, is known to the veteran traveler as apple land, although were the American asked to identify the fruit by the manner in which it grows he would find it difficult.

The trees are not more than six feet high. They are trimmed every year and only the stump is permitted to remain. Sprouts grow from the stump and the apples do not hang from the limbs as here. The blossoms bloom from the body of the limb, which is covered with apples, once fittingly described thus: "Apples grow from the limb as freckles on an arm."

Apple growing is a considerable industry in Tasmania, upward of 3,500,000 bushels a year being shipped. The earth is especially suitable for the growth of the fruit, which thrives as no other would there. Large orchards dot the sides of the rocky hills.

The trees grow bushy and as many as twenty bushels of apples often can be picked from one. Fruit growers with ten acres of apple land in southern Tasmania earn a comfortable yearly income.

Old Roman Water-Organ Unearthed in Budapest

The present city of Budapest stands on the exact site of the old Roman city Aquincum. In recent excavations in the northern part of Buda many interesting remains of this old city have been brought to the surface.

According to descriptions from the old Roman authors the water-organ was the largest of Roman musical instruments. It was known only from the literature of this period, as up to the present day not one had actually been found. Recent excavations have been most successful in producing a very fine example of the water-organ.

It is hoped that with the help of the notes from Heron and Vitruvius the reconstruction of this ancient instrument can be carried out successfully.

This water-organ has proved to be the property of a college and probably was built in 228 A. D. The name of Mestus and Probus are inscribed on a bronze plate as of those exercising power that year.

Poison Danced Away

The tarantula, commonly associated with stalks of bananas, is in reality a large running spider of the warm countries. The true tarantula is a native of southern Europe, principally in Italy. Because of its prevalence in Taranto, Italy, its name became associated with the

The tarantula does not build a web, but lives rather in a nest of holes or under rocks, nests which it lines with a silklike material.

It lies in wait for its prey, and as an unsuspecting bit of animated food goes by, the spider rushes out and seizes it.

It was believed at one time that its bite would bring on a certain type of epilepsy unless the victim of the bite danced to a particular type of music until exhausted.

Oil-Burning Development

Oil has been used for fuel and for heating from a very early period, but the mechanical development of the oil burner dates from the middle of the nineteenth century; its widespread use in the United States from about the year 1922. Public interest was attracted to the possibility of oil burning with a very considerable increase in the oil production of California and Texas about 1900. Small burners were soon produced and larger ones for power and heat. The first attempts at commercial oil burning were crude. They were followed by natural-draught vaporizing burners, and a later development was the mechanical-draught automatic burner, the foundation of the modern domestic oil-heating industry.

Formaldehyde Good for Treating Smut in Oats

Smut infection in oats was more general than average in 1931 and cut yields sharply on many fields. This means that the spores are more widely distributed than usual on oats that will be used for seed this year.

Therefore, treating against smut should be the general practice this spring. With the improved methods of using formaldehyde for treatment, not only is treating inexpensive but it eliminates the old problem of swollen oats that might be injured by a sharp freeze and always were difficult to get through the seeder at the desired rate. It is now known that applying formaldehyde with the spray gun, a method which leaves the oats only slightly damp, is as effective as soaking with a sprinkling can.

Mercuric dust also has proved not only convenient but highly effective in treating for smut. Approximately two ounces of dust is used per bushel of wheat and rye. Oats and barley require about three ounces. Dusts are convenient in that the seed grain may be treated several weeks ahead of seeding.—Wallace's Farmer.

Saving Waste Products

For every pound of farm products profitably used there are from one to two and a half pounds from which the farmer gets little or no return, states Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the bureau of chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture. His department is trying to find profitable methods of using the millions of tons of farm by-products which annually go to waste. Cornstalks and such waste products offer a greater benefit to farmers than would an increased production of the important crops when there is already a surplus in most of them, the chief believes.

Potato Decrease

Farmers intend to decrease their potato acreage about 1 1/4 per cent, according to the "intention-to-plant" report of growers to the United States Department of Agriculture. If no changes are made in the present plans, there will be 3,328,000 acres this summer, as compared with 3,382,000 acres in 1931. Most of this reduction is planned in the commercial-producing states, while the late-grown potatoes produced mainly for home and local consumption in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois may show an increase of about 4 per cent.—Indiana Farmer's Guide.

Agricultural Notes

The earlier lime is applied the sooner it begins to correct acidity for next year's clover.

In Virginia some raspberry growers are using 500 pounds per acre of 6-10-4 fertilizer between the rows.

One way to cut down the cost of raising apples is to weed out the varieties it doesn't pay to grow.

Inventory values of live stock on farms in the United States are $3,000,000,000 lower than they were two years ago.

Wyoming ranks third in the production of sheep and wool, producing 3,100,000 sheep and 25,000,000 pounds of wool annually.

Work corn ground well before planting, then cultivation can be delayed until the corn is high enough to cultivate easily. Kill the weeds before rather than after planting.

The problem of neglected orchards is really a community problem, for such an orchard is a breeding ground for pests which infest other orchards in the vicinity.

Factors Making for Weed Seeds in Soil

Get Control by Draining and Summer Fallowing.

The length of time weed seeds remain vital depends on a number of factors, such as having an oily coat like wild mustard seed, the kind of soil and the depth to which the weed seeds are plowed. Seeds may be a long time in heavy soils where they are below the point of germination. Seeds of any kind need air, moisture and heat to start germination, which usually obtains in the top two or three inches of the soil. Below five inches of soil too many vital weed seeds may be found which, when they are brought up to the surface spring into life and grow. The use of summer fallow and hoed crops are the best agencies in controlling weeds. Equisetum or horse tail is a non-flowering plant, is perennial and spreads by spores instead of seeds. It grows more frequently in damp or springy sour soils, but also grows on high, well drained places, as along railway banks. Too much of it in hay fed to horses has caused trouble. Getting the soil better drained and summer fallowing the land infested will hold it in control. Where green moss is seen forming on the surface of the land one may be sure it is a sign of sourness and it needs lime in some form to sweeten it. Some ground limestone is the cheapest of lime to use.

Pilgrims Ascend Mount

St. Patrick Made Famous

One of the most unusual of all pilgrimages is that made annually to the mountain-top shrine of St. Patrick on the high, bare, cone-shaped mountain which bears his name and which overlooks Clew Bay, County Mayo, on the west coast of Ireland.

According to tradition it was from this mountain that St. Patrick drove all the serpents from Ireland into the sea.

The pilgrimage up the side of the holy mountain, where St. Patrick spent the 40 days of Lent in penance, fasting and prayer, 1,600 years ago, begins on Saturday evening any time between six o'clock and midnight.

Torchlights are carried by many to light the way and guard against precipitous falls. Often the crowd breaks into a hymn to make the walking easier or to help them to forget the difficulty of trudging over stony paths. For the climb up the last 200 yards before reaching the summit the pilgrims remove their shoes and finish the journey barefooted. Many of the more religious make the entire climb without foot protection.

St. Patrick was seventy years old when he first climbed the mountain. Now many a pilgrim of the same age makes the journey, taking a keen pride in this imitation of a part of the rigid Lenten penance of the patron saint of Ireland.

Devil Worshipers Must Not Mention His Name

A strange tribe of Yezidi "devil worshipers" has been discovered in the mountains of Iraq by Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, vice president of the Georgetown university.

"This tribe," he said, "worships the evil spirit under the name of 'Melek Taus,' symbolized by a bronze peacock, before which they offer incense, sing, dance and prostrate themselves. Their history goes back at least to the Seventh century."

"Their beliefs are contained in two sacred books which are preserved secretly somewhere in the mountains—the Book of Revelation and the Black Book.

"The Book of Revelation, which no foreigner has ever seen or been allowed to read, purporting to contain the personal instructions of Satan to his chosen people. One of the curious injunctions of his satanic majesty forbids the Yezidi ever to mention his name or even the syllables that compose it."

When Georgia Had Navy

Georgia had a navy of her own a year before the adoption of the Confederate constitution. Although of doubtful constitutional status, in 1801 it often was referred to as the Georgia fleet or the Georgia navy and sometimes as the Mosquito fleet. Originally it was composed of an old river steamer and two or three small tug boats on which were mounted cannon. Later it boasted four small gunboats: the Savannah, the Resolute, Sampson and the Lady Davis. In the Civil war the Georgia navy participated in engagements around Port Royal, S. C., and at points along the coast of Georgia and Florida. Savannah seems to have been its base. To prevent capture when Savannah fell to General Sherman, the Georgia navy was sunk by its commander, Commodore Tattnall.—Detroit News.

Two Act Play and Lawn Social Sponsored by Hester West Circle

A two act play, entitled "An Important Question," was presented Friday night of last week by members of the Hester West Missionary Circle of the First Methodist Church. The play was given in connection with an ice cream supper and lawn party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Wilmina Salisbury had the leading role in the play, the setting of which was on a college campus.

A stage on the lawn was arranged to represent a college campus, with deck chairs placed nearby, which with the natural background of trees and shrubbery greatly resembled a college campus. The stage was lighted by an electric spot light. The others in the cast of characters included: Misses Maxine and Helene Hay, Mary Gasztle, Bernice Bishop, Veda Woodson, Vela and Verla Blasengasse, Nora Smith, Madge Dorsch, Elizabeth McKinney, and Mrs. M. L. Solomon.

Following the play refreshments were served, during which readings were given by Miss Salisbury and Miss Isabel Adams, of Lubbock. Miss Adams also directed the play.

Several people were present for the entertainment which was given to finance a trip of the Hester West Society members to the young people's encampment at Palo Duro Canyon. Mrs. T. W. Whigham is sponsor of the Hester West Missionary Circle.

THE CITY-PARK CHURCH OF CHRIST

Bro. Black of Plainview brought to us a wonderful message from God's word last Lord's Day. Among the many good things that he said, "I do not know how to become a Christian only as revealed in God's Word."

There will be no Wednesday night meeting for a time as the services that have been rendered on Wednesday nights will be given Sunday nights instead.

The Bible Study Sunday morning begins promptly at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 11, communion immediately following. Young peoples meeting at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Evening services at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Wilson Kimble and daughter, Miss Mary Ann, returned yesterday from Fort Worth where they had been for several weeks visiting with relatives. H. Kimble, of Fort Worth, returned with them and will visit with his son, Wilson Kimble, for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Walling and family, of Burkhardt, and Homer Thomas, of Clarendon, arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit with Mr. Walling's sisters, Mrs. M. B. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Ben G. Morton in this city. Homer is a nephew of Mrs. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Morton.

Lost 20 Lbs. Of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 23 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment." Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tons of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Roy Snodgrass was a business visitor in Plainview Monday of this week.

J. W. Howard, Jr., and family, of Pueblo, Colorado, left Sunday to return to his home after having visited for a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard here. They returned by Amarillo where he will visit with his sister, Mrs. Dora Tye and family.

After Ruth's Crown

Jimmy Foxx, Hercules batsman of the Philadelphia Athletics, is being picked by baseball critics as the man who will make the fans forget the mighty Babe Ruth. When he pounded out his fortieth homerun the other day, Foxx was more than a month ahead of the Babe's mark at that date in 1927, which was Ruth's record season of 60 homeruns.

Engineer Retires

Wm. E. Mayo, for a quarter century power engineer with Henry Ford, announces his retirement from the company, effective September 1. He is 66 years old.
