Another forward advance was well underway when the first half ended with the whistle. Bridges made a beautiful 20 yard run to top off the first half of the tilt.

Ralls Scores in Fourth

The first half started with Ralls kicking to Floydada and Cothern receiving the ball. A group of play ers from the 'B' squad of the Whirl. winds started the second half.

In spite of the fact that some o the green and white first string mer were on the sideline the Jackrabbits could make no advancement against the fighting Whirlwinds. A pass from Murray to de Cordova resulted in a first touchdown for the local boys in the third quarter. Attempt to convert extra point by a kick

Another counter went to the credi of the green and white in the third quarter when Floyd Murray, brilliant fullback, after a series of long gains went through the center of the line for a touchdown. Murray on the receiving end of a spin play crashed through the Ralls forward wall and reached pay dirt standing up. Jenkins failed to complete a long pass for the extra point, from

Do Outstanding Playing

Glover and Cothern, of the B' squad started the game in the right half back and quarterback positions respectively and made exceptionally good men in these positions. eVrne Easteridge, right halfback regular, was out of the game Friday due to a hip injury, and Glover filled his olace.

Malcolm Bridges, veteran halfback, did his usual good playing Friday, making several long runs. Bridges showed a change of pace on runs Friday that baffles the opposition, he appeared to stop motion for an instant and then shot forward like a flash to elude an oncoming player.

Jackson, right tackle, L. Murray, guard, and Johnston, left tackle, turned in ste lar games on the Whirlwind line. Ginn and Bishop shared honors at the pivot position. A new wing arrangement with Jenkins on right end for Johnston who was sent to tackle proved very successful. J. R. and D. Powell, recruit ment who hail from Dougherty, were stars among the reserves seeing service in the game.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.

At fifty, you can be in your

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years? There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pep-sin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

SHOWING HOW TO CUT DISEASE LOSS

Simple Rules for Guarding Farm Poultry.

By following five simple rules in planning a farm sanitation program, it is possible to reduce losses from diseases and parasites to a minimum, according to C. M. Ferguson, extension specialist in poultry for the Ohlo State university. The first rule, he states, consists in confining the hens entirely to the laying house or to the cinder yard. If a yard is used the cinders should be removed each year. A system of rotated yards around the house will permit the birds to be on fresh ground each year and permit cultivation of the yards while they are not being used for poultry. Rotate the chicks, is Ferguson's second step in a poultry sanitation program. Rearing chicks in confinement has not proved to be adapted to farm conditions except for a few weeks when the chicks are small. Wire porches or cinder yards offer a means of confinement for a few weeks, but as soon as the chicks are old enough to be with out heat they should have access to good green range.

Fall house cleaning, another step in the program, also helps in cutting losses from disease and parasites. The removal of all contaminated material, and a thorough disinfection of the house is the only guarantee that the pullets are going to be free of attack from such disease producing organisms as may have been carried over from the flock during the previous year.

Careful cleaning throughout the year and proper disposal of droppings and litter are also essential parts of an effective plan for guarding the birds against the ravages of disease.

Matter of Insulation

for the Poultry House While dead or trapped air is one of the best insulating materials we have, an air space between two walls does not insulate very well because the circulation of the air carries the heat or cold from one wall to the other, says the Wisconsin Agriculturist. But if dry sawdust, mill shavings, or chopped hay or straw is packed in lightly to fill this space and prevent air circula tion such a wall makes a very warm and comfortable poultry house.

In using such filling, however, it is wise to make the inner and outer walls as tight as possible so as to minimize the danger of the filling getting damp and partially losing its insulating value. Also the upper and lower boards should be put on with screws for quick removal, taken out and sunned or renovated in case it becomes damp or infest-

Feeding Too Late

It was formerly a common practice to feed baby chicks too soon after hatching but now many farmers and poultrymen are going to it is to the advantage of all church the opposite extreme and waiting too long before feeding. About Smith, pastor of the First Methodist 24 hours are required to complete a hatch. That is it will be 24 hours from the time the first chicks hatch until the last ones are out of the shell. If the chicks are not fed until more than 48 hours after the hatch is completed some of the chicks are more than 72 hours old before they receive any nourishment. The long wait makes them weak and past desire to eat.

Forty-eight hours after the hatch is completed is now recommended as the maximum amount of time to withhold feeding. For best results the first feed should be given

Stage Set For Whirlwinds Clash With Paducah Dragons

Floydada High School's green and white Whirlwinds, accompanied by a delegation of fans and the Floydada High pep squad, will journey to Paducah Friday afternoon for the first conference tilt between the Whirlwinds and the orange and white Paducah Dragons.

Plans are being made in the hosess city for a gala afternoon when the Dragons defend their liar from the green and white Whirlwinds. The Dragons have suffered defeat at the hands of the Whirlwinds for the past two seasons and are fighting with their backs to the wall to win their first conference.

Coach R. P. Terrell is sending his Whirlwinds through their final work out before the game this afternoon and giving final coaching instructions before the game. Expectations are high for a record crowd at th Dragon-Whirlwind tilt in Paducah.

schedule as that of two years ago, a special train over the Q. A. & P. will carry the Whirlwind team, the fans and pep squad to the scene of the conflict. This crowd of upward past few years. of three hundred, together with those that will go through in their cars and the home fans will crowd the Padueah High School Dragen field for the first conference tilt.

Whether Coach Terrell's Whirlwinds will be able to stop the charges of the orange and white defenders remains to be ascertained but fans are promised a hearing on the Dragons mighty roar.

Insights on the Whirlwinds of fensive play was obtained by a group of Paducah high scouts who were o the sideline of the Floydada-Ralls game. The defenders knowledge of the invaders offensive play will be rather limited as the Whirlwinds were playing conservative football Friday and a second string of backs did the ball toting during the most of the game Friday.

The special train carrying th Whirlwinds, the Whirlwind fans and the pep squad will leave tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, arriving in Paducah an hour before the game which is at three thirty o'clock. The special will leave Paducah at clock, following the ball game.

Superintendent A. D. Cummings completed negotiations for th special train yesterday afternoo of the Floydada Chapter of Order of when it was revealed that 200 tick ets had been signed for.
