VOLUME NO. 5

Floydada, Floyd County, Texas, July 12, 1934

NUMBER 31

Floyd County Building And Loan Association Has Been Liquidated

The Floyd County Building and Loan Association, organized in Floydada in May, 1928, has been liquidated and stockholders been paid 100 percent on their stock plus eight percent interest for every year with the exception of the past year.

W. H. Henderson, secretary of the association, completed distribution of $3,611.90 to nineteen stockholders of the county last week. All of the loans of the Floyd County Building and Loan Association, with the exception of one which was ineligible, were re-financed through the Home Owners Loan Corporation and the association accepted Home Owners Loan bonds in settlement.

At the time the Floyd County Building and Loan Association's loans were being re-financed the Home Owners Loan Corporation bonds were worth about 82 cents on the dollar but the bonds later went to par value and Mr. Henderson sold the association's bonds to the First National Bank for par value plus accrued interest. Each $100.00 worth of stock brought $102.00.

The one remaining loan, which was ineligible to be re-financed through the Home Owners Loan Corporation, was given to Mr. Henderson for collection as part pay for his services as secretary of the association since its organization.

The Floyd County Loan Association became inactive within a short time after the organization in May, 1928. Due to the depression in financial conditions member stockholders began dropping out and withdrawing their deposits. Payment of the stockholders was made possible through the Home Owners Loan Corporation re-financing plan.

Floyd County Receives Report On Audit Made By Rankin Audit Company

A report on the audit made recently by John C. Newton, of the Rankin Auditing Company of Houston, was received by County Judge J. W. Howard last week. The report stated that all county officials books were in good condition.

The report further stated and advised as follows:

"The present tax rate of 3 cents for the jury fund is inadequate and should be increased to at least 5 cents to prevent the borrowing from other funds, which is bad practice and if continued will eventually throw the county back into the red."

"It will also be necessary to increase your tax rate at least 1 cent for both the 4th and 6th class funds as the present rate does not produce enough to pay the principal and interest maturing and you have had to borrow from the 5th class fund to make up the deficit."

Pardon Us, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, It Was All Just A Big Mistake

Control Cutworms With Poison Bait

Bran Mixture Is Suggested for Use on the Early Spring Crops.

By G. H. Brannon, Extension Entomologist, North Carolina State College—WNU Service.

The use of a poisoned bran mixture to kill cutworms and prevent their damaging early vegetable crops is especially recommended.

Early in the spring, when the worms first get busy, the young plants are particularly susceptible to damage. Growers should watch their plants closely and apply the poisonous bait at the first sign of cutworms.

In experiments, best results have been obtained from a mixture of one pound of paris green to 50 pounds of bran. Sodium fluoride will also give good results, but lead arsenate and calcium arsenate should be avoided.

The poisoned bait should never be left where children or live stock can get at it.

About four pounds of bran-paris green bait should be applied to each 100 square yards of tobacco plant bed to control cutworms. No lumps will come in direct contact with the tender young plants.

For most other crops, the bait should be broadcast at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds to the acre. The bait should be applied a few days before the plants come up, or on the day they come up, at the latest. Applications are most effective in the evening so that the bait will be fresh when the worms go to work. New applications should be made after heavy rains.

The bran and poison should be well mixed while dry, then moistened with just enough water to dampen but not wet it. The mixed bait should not form large lumps or be sticky and mushy.

Test Proves Old Style Corn Ears Out of Date

The model ear of corn of a few years ago is as much out of date as the motor car of the same period, and production methods are undergoing changes which increase the efficiency of the corn farmer as much as improved methods have benefited mechanical industries.

These facts are disclosed in a survey of the records of the ten-acre corn yield tests conducted in Nebraska during the past ten years. What is true of corn production is equally true of other branches of agriculture. P. H. Stewart, extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska, says:

The corn ear now most in demand for seed, Stewart points out, is no longer the longest ear. The emphasis is placed on smooth, hard starch, medium size ears. Ten years of experimentation in ten-acre tests have proved that corn from seed of this type shows in the best production records.

The result of the experimentation has been an increase in production and a decrease in the cost per bushel. Farmers have been able to reduce greatly the number of hours per acre of labor required to grow corn.

Alfalfa Long Favored

Alfalfa came into Greece from Asia and then was carried to Italy. Several Roman farmers told about their farming. They said, "Of all the legumes, alfalfa is the best because when it is sown it lasts ten years, because it can be mowed four times or even six times a year, and because it improves the soil." Plowing under crops for green manure was known to be good, especially before planting corn. Clover and field beans were recommended by the best Roman farmers as good cattle feed. They recommended a three-year rotation for crops; the land was left bare one year, planted to grain the next, and followed by some legume the third year. Many of the methods we consider quite modern to use on our farms, observes an authority, are really centuries old.—Exchange.

Land Checked New Way

Methods for estimating the area in fields of various shapes are explained in a new circular on "How to Calculate Field Areas," which has been issued by the University of Maryland extension service. It deals with triangular, rectangular and irregularly shaped fields and explains how to make the necessary corrections for fields that are sloping. The plan is helpful to farmers who have signed contracts to reduce their wheat production by adding them in checking their acreage.

Preserving Beef on Farm

Any part of a beef carcass may be preserved by corning. Cut the beef into five or six-pound pieces and rub with salt. Pack these chunks in a clean vessel of stone-ware or hardwood and cover with a pickle made of one and a half pounds of salt, one ounce of salt peter, one-quarter pound of sugar or sirup and one gallon of pure water. Allow the meat to stand in this pickle for about two weeks. It may then be smoked lightly to improve the flavor or it may be allowed to hang some time.

ARTHUR BARKER, LOCKNEY, PAYS $460 FOR COVERED WAGON, A MODERN HOME

Back in the good 'ole' days a covered wagon would hardly have been considered a modern home with comforts and luxuries but Arthur Barker, Lockney auto dealer, has purchased a covered wagon which is modern in every respect.

The covered wagon which Mr. Barker brought through Floydada Saturday morning is a traveling arrangement built by a firm in Detroit, Michigan. This modern home, of necessity built on a small scale, yet comfortable, is constructed of wood and metal and set on two wheels. It is arranged to be trailed behind an automobile on trips and vacations.

Incorporated in the "Covered Wagon" is a sleeping compartment, consisting of two berths which easily fold out of the way during the day time or when not in use; a kitchen, with modern conveniences including a cabinet, sink and refrigerator, cook stove and storage space; a dining table which is folded and placed away when not in use and other modern conveniences including electric lights, both from the car or straight line, radio attachment. All in all it is a modern home on "wheels" for comfort and economy while traveling.

"When you go fishing you can take this home right with you to the creek and sleep with safety from the mosquitoes because of the screens and ventilating system," Mr. Barker said.

FLOYD COUNTY PLACED IN SECONDARY DROUTH RELIEF AREA, MAY GET RELIEF

Notice has been received here that Floyd County has been placed in the secondary government drouth relief area. The action came as a result of a meeting of Floyd County farmers asking for drouth aid recently.

An observation and study will be made and if it is found necessary Floyd County will be placed in a drouth relief area and given drouth aid for feed and for seed for feed.

In 1934, we again reduced them 10% or about $8,250,000.

The total reduction since I have been County Judge, $5,470,000.

We have reduced the running expense of the county about 40%.

Farmers May Now Get After Weeds

Land Removed From Corn and Wheat Provides Good Opportunity.

By Bruce Thornton, Associate Botanist, Colorado Agricultural College, WNU Service.

An exceptional opportunity for farmers to control harmful weeds is offered in the removal of large acreages of land from wheat and corn under the government's plan of controlled production.

Such weeds as field bindweed or wild morning glory, white weed or perennial peppergrass, poverty weeds, Canada thistle and Russian knapweed may be controlled or eradicated by cultivating often enough to prevent any green growth appearing above the surface of the ground. Clean cultivation is the cheapest method of eradication available at present.

This usually requires cultivating once a week for two consecutive years, although cultivations may be less frequent as the plants are weakened. One year of clean cultivation has produced desired results under some conditions, weakening weeds so that a heavy sowing of alfalfa has smothered them out completely. However, there is always a chance that some plants will survive under this method.

These weed pests defy ordinary control methods because of the huge amount of food material held in reserve in their extensive, creeping root systems. Usual cultural practices, where care is not taken to keep green growth from appearing, often increases rather than decreases the growth and spread of the weeds.

Clean cultivation has been hindered in the past by the hesitancy to take land out of production, although crops produced in weedy areas usually are of poor quality and low yield. Now that farmers are being paid rentals by the government to keep land out of corn and wheat, or the production of any crop competing with any basic commodity, an unusual opportunity presents itself for eradicating injurious weeds by clean cultivation. Weed eradication will increase the value of the land and remove a source of possible further damage.

Quail, Farmers' Friend, Must Have Food Supply

Among the chief causes for lack of quail and upland birds on farms may be scarcity of necessary food and cover. Failure to supply substitute "patches" when natural feeding ground has been destroyed and neglect to preserve the natural cover for the bob-white's habitat, are among the chief causes of gradual reduction, says the Missouri Farmer. Many measures may be taken on the average farm to increase or improve the food for quail and help bring about an increase in their numbers.

Seed can be broadcast in early spring around gulleys and washes, on roadsides, around the borders of fields and like situations. Cain, hemp, lespedeza, clover and many species of small wild beans and cowpeas provide excellent sustenance for quail. Once started lespedeza volunteers year after year, unless killed out by burning the land over after the seed germinates in the spring. When harvesting grain a few rows on the outside near cover may be advantageously left for the birds. Quail at times do much work on the farm by destroying serious insect pests and are considered one of the farmer's best allies and deserve the serious consideration on any man's farm.

Beet Sugar Industry

More than 31,600 farmers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, produced $25,300,000 worth of sugar, dried beet pulp and molasses the past year. In the four states there are 23 beet sugar factories, which, it is estimated, will produce 872,654,000 pounds of refined sugar, pulp and molasses. Under the participating contracts, in effect with most of these factories, the farmers get half of the net cash return from the sale of these products.—Indiana Farmer's Guide.

Along the Furrows

Pruning before growth starts is best for trees and shrubs.

Consumers in this country ate more than 15,000,000,000 pounds of meat in 1933.

Sugar beet shipments from Utah in 1933 were 10 per cent higher than those of 1932.

Number of farms supplied with high-line electric service in Ohio rose from 16,000 in 1923 to 48,000 in 1933.

Ohioans destroyed in 1933, a total of 178,994 common barberry bushes on 575 properties in 28 counties.

In recent years, over 90 per cent of the United States flax crop has been produced in North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana, the states ranking in production in the order named.

POLICEMAN LOSES 62 POUNDS OF FAT

Mr. J. W. Frost writes: "I've used 7 bottles of Kruschen and reduced from 272 to 210 lbs. with no ill effects whatsoever. In fact I feel much better than I have for some years. As a police officer I recommend Kruschen to brother officers to keep in regulation weight and health."

Kruschen is the safe, healthy, sensible way to lose unhealthy, surplus fat—simply take a half teaspoonful every morning in a glass of warm water—you'll feel so good—so energetic. You'll gain in strength and ambition—you feel years younger and look it. By reducing excess fat you'll be apt to live years longer. One bottle lasts 4 weeks. You can get Kruschen Salts at any drug store in the world.

Electric Refrigeration

Food has always been the actuating problem of the human race, and the question now is not so much its production as its preservation.

Our primitive ancestors found that food could be dried, smoked, salted and for a time kept from deterioration, and thus processes of curing began. The people in more northern countries found that meats and other foods kept perfectly when frozen and idea of refrigeration had its inception.

The electric refrigerator solved the problem of the perfect preservation of foods during the warmer seasons. For a small sum you can buy an electric refrigerator that will soon pay for itself in preventing the spoilage of foods in a medium sized family, not to speak of the greater comfort of having frozen desserts and ice cubes for drinks as a by-product.

The electric refrigerator is perhaps the outstanding invention for the home of all ages.

ALTON B. CHAPMAN
Candidate For District Attorney

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As friends of the candidacy of Alton B. Chapman for District Attorney we want to express our appreciation for the fine reception the people of this county have given him as he has presented his candidacy to the voters.

The endorsements he has are positive proof of his qualifications and of his worthiness to hold this office. He has lived in West Texas thirty years. His entire private life has been above reproach. Those who have observed his official acts say he has performed his duties without fear or favor.

We believe Alton Chapman will conduct the affairs of the District Attorney's office for the service of the people. He lays no claim to being a politician and says politics should be kept out of public office and efficiency substituted in its place. Consider seriously his candidacy, for this district needs the ability, the firmness, the honesty and the efficiency that is so much a part of him.
