Senator A. P. Duggan Favors Bill to Protect Home Merchant From Itinerant

Legislative bulwarks against itinerant and irresponsible merchants who prey on Texas cities during busy seasons were sought in the senate during the past week.

Protection of legitimate home merchants and provisions for issuing of state and local vendor's licenses are contained in measures of a bill sponsored by A. P. Duggan of the 30th Senatorial District.

Wandering retailers, setting up temporary business establishments in towns, must, according to the terms of act, deposit $500.00 with the secretary of state, this to constitute a special deposit subject to attachment by creditors. A state license fee of $25.00 will be required for operation of the store for one month. Municipalities may, also, by proper ordinance, fix a license for itinerant merchants. If the merchant operates the store for a longer period than six consecutive months, he will not thereafter be required to pay the license fees.

Provisions of the bill do not apply to bona fide residents of a county engaged in business in that county nor to commercial travelers for wholesale houses.

Another bill propose dby Senator Duggan would place collection of all occupational taxes under control of the state comptroller of public accounts. It is believed the revenue of the state would be increased one half million dollars by this move.

The comptroller's report now shows a $200,000 loss in occupational taxes through local collection.

The "liquid test"

... It ENDS bowel worries for many people

This is a test that tells you whether the system needs a cathartic change. If you have constant sluggish spells or bilious attacks, and laxatives seem to make things worse, it would be wise to try this:

Stop all use of any laxative that does not encourage variation from a "fixed dose" (which may be entirely too large a dose for your individual need). Use instead, a liquid laxative that you can measure and regulate as to dose. As necessary to repeat, take smaller doses, less and less often, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

Doctors use liquid laxatives, and a properly prepared liquid laxative, containing natural laxative agents like senna and cascara is a joy and a comfort; a real help in establishing regularity. Ask your doctor about this! (Doctors use liquid laxatives.) You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a most dependable liquid laxative, at any drug store.

The program opened with the song, "My Faith Looks Up to Me," being sung by the group, followed with a prayer by Rev. C. R. Hooten.

The devotional was given by Mrs. W. L. Tittle, of Plainview. Her theme was, "Leave Ship of Doubt and Board Ship of Faith With Jesus as Our Pilot; and Our Chart and Compass Coming From Him." Some thoughts given were the following: The resources of God have not been tested by this generation. We do not know God because we have failed to know His son. We need to pray not as a duty but as a necessity. She urged members to read John 17 as a model prayer with verse 19 as the key verse.

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Hooten then sang a duet, "Just a Word With Jesus."

Mrs. Miller gave the statement from Spurgeon: "Prayer pulls the rope that rings the great bells in heaven. Some pray so languidly that scarcely a tingle sounds in heaven. But the person who wins it who grasps the rope with energy and holds on believing that his prayer will be answered."

The welcome address was given by Mrs. T. W. Whigham, Floydada, with the response by Mrs. Lee Rushing of Fairview. In her response she gave a story to illustrate that we today are only preparing the way for our daughters of tomorrow.

Mrs. Arch Crayer of Lockney, gave a beautiful solo, "My Task" accompanied at the piano by Miss

The devotional was closed with prayer by Rev. Walden.

Rev. and Mrs. Dennison, sang a beautiful duet, "Satisfied With Jesus."

Mrs. Ray Lee, district superintendent of study, discussed that phrase of the work. Our study for credit should mean more to us than just getting credit. Through study we get information and go on with other work.

District study slogan: "Study more prayerfully, intelligently and earnestly." She stated that she believed 75 per cent of the classes would be on the roll of honor. She also urged groups to begin their study classes with prayer and stress that part of the work. "We need to grow in knowledge and in grace. Study to show yourselves approved unto God".

Mrs. Eldridge of McAdoo, presented the study plan as arranged by Jayton, Spur, and McAdoo, wherein each group buys only one set of books and exchange with the others.

Mrs. Stueker of Plainview, gave several thoughts. Some of which were: Boxes of supplies. 98 given last year of 100 pledged.

Each auxiliary urged to give 4 boxes in 1935.

Boxes of clothing or cash to be sent to needy preachers. Send boxes to institutions supported by women work. Get the list from Mrs. J. G. Merritt of Colorado, Texas. Study three books per year; Bible, Home Mission, and Foreign Mission.

Each society then made their pledge and the number of boxes they will send.

A motion was made that we have the next zone meeting during the approaching quarter with Fairview. Motion carried. A motion was made and carried that Mrs. T. W. Whigham, Floydada be made permanent zone secretary.

Number present at end of meeting: Floydada, 21; Lockney, 13; Carrs Chapel, 3; Matador, 13; White Flat, 4; McAdoo, 7; Wake, 7; and Plainview, 5.

McAdoo and Wake are now groups that have recently transferred into our zone.

Mrs. Slonaker then asked all the auxiliary officers to come forward for a dedication service. In it she urged the ladies to pray daily, observe their morning devotionals, and to consider office as coming from God and do what you can.

The meeting then adjourned.

By L. L. STEVENSON

In order to make this story understandable to those not familiar with ocean liners, a bit of explanation must be made, old travelers, of course, having permission to skip it. Each day there is a pool on the run of the ship. Twenty numbers are sold and in this spread is supposed to be the average twenty-four-hour run. Then the low field, which means any number lower than the lowest, and the high field, any number over the highest, are sold at auction. Of course, weather conditions affect the run of the ship. Now for the story, which is vouched for by my informant. A gambler bought the low field, and as the day progressed, found the weather beautifully clear and the wind favorable. Taking a long chance, he leaped overboard. Naturally, the ship was delayed in circling to pick him up and by the time he was rescued had lost so much distance, he won the low field. Of course, he might have drowned, but as was said, he is a gambler.

One afternoon, during the football season, Joe Haynes, who was leading an orchestra in a mid-town hotel, sneaked off to attend a game. He knew he should have been playing for tea dancing, but his love of the gridiron was too strong to resist. It was an exciting game, so exciting, indeed, that before long Haynes and a stranger were pounding each other on the back. By the time the last whistle was blown, they were fast friends. Haynes went on back to the hotel where he found that his truancy had cost him his job. He didn't worry, however. The stranger whose back he had pounded was John J. Woelfle who, on learning his identity, had hired him to lead the orchestra in the hotel of which Woelfle is manager.

A story I just heard is ironical to say the least. Jack Powell resigned his job with the City News association to act as director of publicity for one of the bigger steamship lines. Never having done any publicity previously, he prayed that he might carry the job along until he found his way around. His one hope was a big story—something that would put his line on the front pages. Four days after he took the job, the big story broke—a story that put the line on front pages all over the world. That story was the burning of the Morro Castle. Powell still has his job, however.

Two vaudevillians met in front of the palace. "I've just returned from six weeks' solid booking," declared one. "That's swell in these times," answered his friend. "How much do you think I made?" continued the one who had been working. "Shoot," was the reply, "and it's half of that."

Now a yarn about a man well known over the various networks, but who must be nameless here. The other night as he was about to go on the air, the sign "Silence" caught his eye. He arranged his manuscript and glanced again at the sign. The signal was given him and he tried to start to read. Not a word came from his throat—that sign seemed to have burned into his consciousness so deeply he couldn't disobey it. The second hand seemed to race around the clock. He was committing one of the most deadly sins known to radio but couldn't help it. Try as he would, his vocal cords wouldn't obey the orders of his brain.

Finally the production man stopped signaling and came over and touched the victim on the shoulder. With that, the paralysis vanished and he started to read with such a roar that he awakened his wife who started to scream because she thought he surely was being murdered. The nightmare was so terrifying that now when he goes into the studio he won't even glance at a "silence" sign.

George Linder Class at Methodist Church Entertained With Social

Rev. I. A. Smith's Young Men's Class entertained the George Linder Class with a social last Thursday night in the church basement. The opening welcome was given by Rev. Smith. George Linder gave a response to the address. Short talks were given by N. W. Williams, Edd Johnson and Charles Butler. Carl Rogers played a very delightful piano solo. A very enjoyable duet was sung by G. C. Potter and F. Shenefelt. After the program several games were played with Turner Whigham acting as leader. B. Lora Liebfried, president of the hostess class acted as master of ceremonies. The girls in Mrs. Geo. A. Linder's class prepared a very delicious plate of sandwiches and hot coffee. The George Linder Class invited the Rev. I. A. Smith's Class to be their guests at a social March 7. The purpose of the entertainments is to stimulate more interest in the classes and increase the attendance at Sunday school.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Plainsman we carried a news story of a party given for the cast of the senior play, in which we stated that Mrs. Lon Smith was hostess in the home of Mrs. Lon Davis. We should have stated that Mrs. Lon Davis was hostess to the class in her home.

Resolutions of Respect

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Floydada Lodge No. 712, A. F. & A. M., Floydada, Texas:

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions upon the death of Brother G. W. Hart, whose death occurred on Sunday, the 20th day of January, A. D. 1935, at his home in Floyd County, Texas, beg to report the following:

First; That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved family, his relatives and friends and sincerely share with them their cup of sorrow; humbly submitting to the will of the Supreme Grand Master of the universe, realizing that it is His will, not ours, that should be done.

Second; That a good man, a kind husband, a loving father, a worthy mason and a patriotic, progressive citizen has gone to his final reward, to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler will return, but not without leaving behind him many memories which will always endear him to those who knew him.

We are hereby reminded that ere long, we too, will be consigned to the narrow limits of the silent tomb; yet, through the mercy of God we confidently hope, in the morn of resurrection, to meet our departed friends and loved ones, there to dwell in eternal spring, where parting shall be no more.

Third; That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, a copy furnished the local press for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
N. W. WILLIAMS,
H. O. CLINE,
W. H. HENDERSON,
Committee.

Oleomargarine Known as Margarine and Butterine

Oleomargarine is known also as margarine and butterine. It is an artificial substitute for butter, first manufactured in 1870, in France, by its inventor Mege-Mouries. It is made from oil obtained from beef fat, neutral lard, and cottonseed oil, with a little butter, cream, or milk added during the churning. In preparing the oil, the fat cut from beef cattle at the time of slaughter is washed, chilled, and steamed to purify it and separate the membrane. The stearine is allowed to crystallize out, and the oil is separated from it by pressing. Several grades of oil are made, depending on the source of the fat, and the treatment. Neutral lard, or neutral, as it is called, is made from the leaf and back fat of pigs.

In the production of oleomargarine, says the Indianapolis News, the oil and neutral are melted and mixed in definite proportions, the cottonseed oil being added to the mixture, the poorer grades containing larger amounts. Milk or buttermilk (rarely melted butter or cream) is added to the mixture, which is then churned, salted, and worked. Stringent laws in the United States forbid the addition of coloring matter unless a heavy tax is paid on the product; but means have been found of evading the law by adding a fat which imparts the desired color. When properly made, oleomargarine is a wholesome and nutritious product.

South Pole Once Warmer; Various Places Now Cold

There is evidence that while the gigantic dinosaurs of 150,000,000 years ago were wallowing in swamps where Rocky mountain peaks now pierce the sky the South pole was humid and subtropical. It is even seen as possible that under the great Antarctic ice cap may lie the fossilized bones of giant reptiles which once grazed the lush vegetation then growing where there is now nothing but ice, observes a correspondent in Pathfinder Magazine.

Fossilized plants and bones found near the South pole and in other sections of the world indicate that the earth during her long life has been subject to chills and fever. Regions now cold have alternately been hot and cold in past ages, and the tropics of today may have at some time been covered with polar ice sheets. Scientists are much interested in what future discoveries may reveal about the Antarctic continent.

The First Congress

The first national congress convened on March 4, 1789. The day was ushered in by the firing of cannon and the ringing of bells in New York, and this ceremony was repeated at noon and at sunset, but in Federal hall only eight senators and thirteen representatives made their appearance—not enough to form a quorum of either house. A whole week passed, and no more senators arriving, those present sent out a circular letter to their colleagues urging them to hasten their coming. A second circular letter followed, a week later, but nearly a month had elapsed before either house could muster a quorum. The house was able to organize on March 30, but the senate not until April 6.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

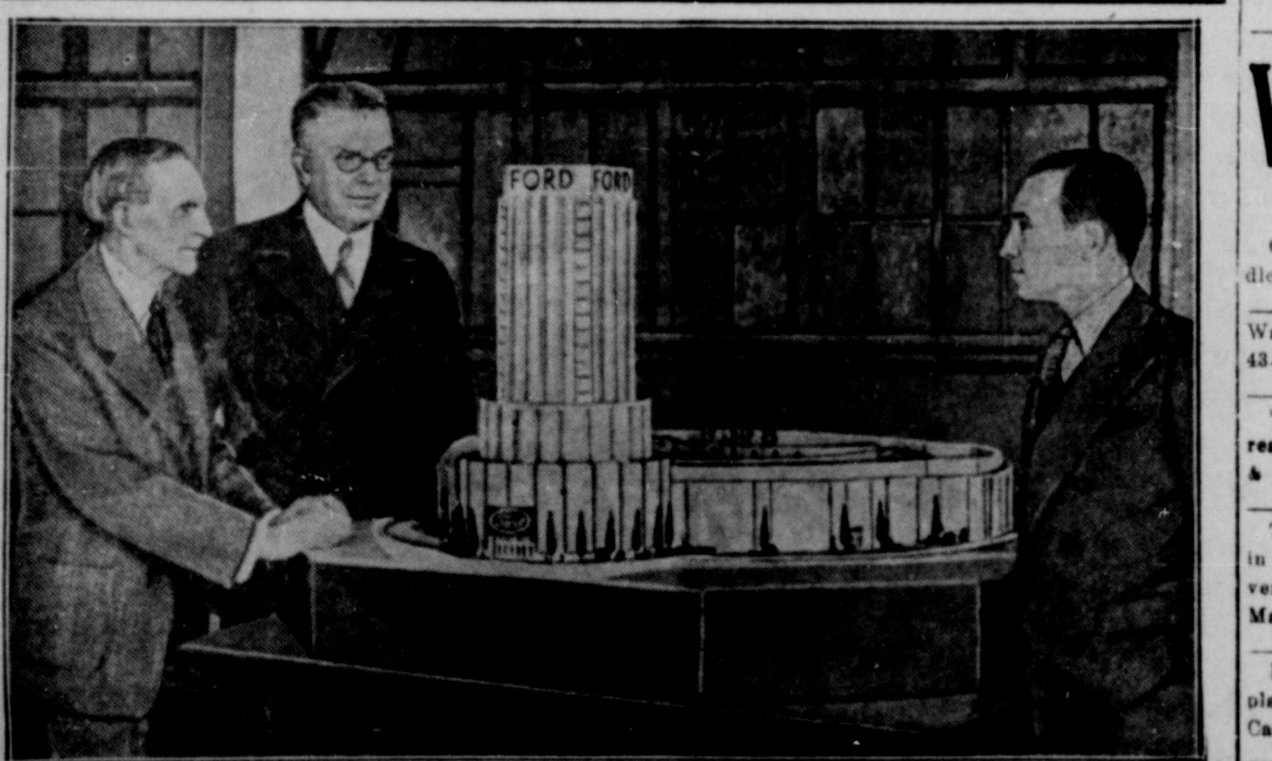

Then you may suffer nagging headache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

The Fords Plan Their San Diego Exhibit

Here are Henry and Edsel Ford getting their first glimpse of a model of the building that will house the Ford exhibition at the California Pacific International Exposition at San Diego, Calif. Between them is G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition.

DEARBORN, Mich.—Both Henry Ford, and Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., will visit the California Pacific International Exposition this summer. So they told G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition, who was here to make final arrangements for the Ford exhibit at the Exposition.

Mr. Davidson told the Fords that it is hoped that the exposition will make a definite contribution toward world unity, as the assembly of more than 30 representatives of countries whose shores line the Pacific Ocean is bound to bring about greater understanding and good-will. The building that is to house the Ford exhibit is to be a permanent structure that will remain in beautiful Balboa Park, site of the exposition, after the show is over and the exhibit removed. A huge circular building, partially roofed, is fronted by a tower rising from what appear to be two immense gears, one inside the other. The building, architecturally, is done in the modern motif, but its open court, in the center, is characteristic of the Spanish and Mexican types of architecture that dominate the exposition.

The circular main section of the building will be 340 feet in diameter. The tower, resting on a base 221 feet above the Pacific, will rise 198 feet. The outer walls of the building will be 40 feet high. The tower will be lighted in a manner to make it resplendent in varying colors.

A special feature of the Ford exhibit will be a series of dioramas showing, in pictured story, life in the principal countries on the Pacific Ocean.

Inside the main section will be two great corridors. Along one will be shown the actual manufacture of Ford parts, including the rolling of steel and some of the more interesting foundry operations, such as die-casting. In the other corridor will be grouped a number of exhibits showing the technical development of the Ford car—torsion, tensile and other tests of steel; ball-bearing and piston-ring tests and inspection; methods of testing the action of weather on upholstery and other features. Construction of the Ford exhibit will start immediately.
