NUMBER 26

Rain, Wind and Hail Causes Some Damage to Wheat Friday Evening

Floyd County received more moisture this week in the form of hard beating rains. Rainfall varied from a quarter of an inch to about one and one-half inches. Wheat in parts of the county was slightly damaged by hail which fell Friday afternoon.

Thursday and Friday, May 30th and 31st high winds damaged several farm buildings in the county. A twenty by fourth foot chicken house on the A. H. Kreis farm east of Floydada, on Thursday afternoon, and five camp houses at the Blue Goose Tourist Camp in the eastern part of the city, were completely demolished by wind.

Some farmers in this section have planted cotton as many as three times this spring, each time just before a rain which causes the seed to decompose in the ground before it has time to sprout.

Dairymen Have Special Program At Farmers Short Course

College Station—O. E. Reed, chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Washington, D. C., and Lynn Copeland, in charge of Register of Merit testing, American Jersey Cattle Club, New York, are on the program planned for Texas dairymen at the 26th annual Farmers' Short Course to be held at College Station from July 28 through August 2, according to O. C. Copeland, dairy husbandman, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who is in charge of the dairy program.

These men will speak on Thursday, August 1, which has been designated as "Breeder's Day." Reed will discuss "The Program of the Bureau of Dairy Industry," and Copeland will speak on "Proven Sires." Copeland's special will be followed by an inspection of the college dairy herd.

No program will be held for the dairy group Monday, July 29, as the dairymen will probably want to attend the hog discussions of the livestock group, Copeland said. The dairy group will also meet with the livestock group Friday, August 2, to hear Louis P. Merrill, Regional Director, Soil Conservation Service, Lindale, and Dr. H. V. Geib, Regional Director, Soil Conservation Service, Temple, discuss Permanent Pastures and Soil Erosion.

Demonstrations of handling milk and cream will be given at the College creamery. An inspection of silos and silage at the dairy and animal husbandry department of the college and an inspection trip to the feeding and breeding station dairy have also been planned, Copeland said.

Other speakers on the week's program are: Jack Shelton, manager of the Luling Foundation, Luling; A. B. Jolley, Dallas county agricultural agent; W. H. DuPuy, Fayette county agricultural agent; and J. W. Ridgway, former head of the dairy husbandry department at A. and M. College. The following men from A. and M. College will also speak: E. R. Congressman Mahon Recommends Mrs. Bargar H. Smith for Postmaster Letters have been received from Congressman George Mahon this week by several in this city in regards to the appointment of the postmaster in Floydada. However, an official appointment announcement has not been received at the local postoffice.

Following is a letter to Mr. H. O. Cline, which is self explanatory: Washington, D. C., May 31, 1935.

Mr. Howard O. Cline
Floydada, Texas.
Dear Mr. Cline:

Some time ago a so-called examination was held at Floydada by the Civil Service Commission looking toward the appointment of a regular postmaster at Floydada. After the examination had been taken, the Civil Service Commission made an independent investigation of all the applicants for postmaster there. This was in the form of a questionnaire sent to various Floyd County people who were asked to confidentially report as to the desirability of each applicant. This is not subject to my inspection, but I am sure that these reports have a great deal to do with the grades of applicants.

Based upon the examination and also the questionnaires that they had sent out, the Civil Service Commission gave each applicant a grade. By this method the three highest grades were determined. This constitutes the eligible list, and an applicant whose name is not upon the eligible list of three can under no circumstances be appointed regular postmaster. I had nothing directly nor indirectly to do with the selection of the eligible list. This is a matter wholly outside the control of a Congressman. Many people believe that the above statement is untrue, and that a Congressman can name anyone postmaster that he wants to name. For that reason I wanted to make the facts clear. A Congressman may recommend any one of the three eligible for postmaster, but he cannot select the eligible list nor recommend anyone for postmaster who is not on the eligible list.

The three on the list of eligibles are as follows: Mr. W. E. Brown, Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, Mr. O. K. Davis. No doubt either of these three would make a good postmaster. As a matter of fact, I think that several applicants whose names are not upon the eligible list would, if they had the opportunity, make equally good postmasters.

I am recommending Mrs. Barbara H. Smith for postmaster.

In post office appointments a member of Congress is placed in a most unfortunate position. Only one person can receive the appointment, and when so many of the applicants are his personal friends, and are likewise capable, he is always involved in difficulty because there is no pleasure in passing on any problem where the interests of his friends are conflicting.

I feel confident that you will understand this situation, however, I thank you for your patience, and conclude by sending you my best wishes and assurances of my high personal esteem.

Yours very sincerely,
GEORGE MAHON.

Typhoid Fever Should be Guarded Against Says Dr. Reece

Austin, Texas, June 4.—Now is the time, according to Dr. Charles D. Reece, director, bureau of communicable diseases, to be vaccinated against typhoid fever, a disease that has cost the lives of more than 2,000 Texans in the past four years.

Typhoid fever has been eliminated in our army and navy through vaccination. The typhoid vaccine is not a serum. This preventive treatment of typhoid fever consists of three hypodermic "shots" given every 5 to 7 days until three injections are given. Such a treatment protects you from taking the typhoid fever for two to three years.

Consult your family physician today in regards to typhoid prevention. Invest in typhoid protection against this often fatal disease. This form of protection insures you and your family against possible long confinement, great economic loss, and perhaps death.

"Tire Hunt" Gives Approval of "G-3" Built by Goodyear Rubber Co.

Akron, Ohio—One of the most unusual and spectacular surveys ever conducted by an American manufacturer has just come to an end in New York City with the arrival there following a two-months' "tire hunt," of Joseph A. Faurot, one time Deputy Police Commissioner of that city and the man who first used fingerprints as evidence in an American courtroom.

The famed detective's inquiry has revealed overwhelming national approval of the new "G-3" All-Weather Terad tire made by Goodyear.

Setting out from New York with James Cannon, ace Manhattan newspaper man, Faurot visited parking lots, gas stations, garages and back yards from New York to San Francisco and from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, to Detroit. Wherever he paused, he "tried-degreed" car owners for tire clues. They interviewed thousands of tire users and the results of this inquiry produced evidence of the outstanding performance of the "G-3" in all parts of the nation.

"I have been gathering evidence for a long time," Faurot stated on his return to New York. "I guess I have worked on every kind of case that comes into a big police department's jurisdiction. But never have I seen a clearer case than that in favor of the 'G-3'. My notes contain cold facts I gathered in Whitesville, W. Va., Kansas City, Mo., Royal Oak, Mich., Albuquerque, N. M., and hundreds of other places. I say they are cold facts. That's the truth. Every leaf out of my notebook shows satisfaction in the ownership of G-3's."

Faurot is present Chief of the Department of Identification of the Commercial Crime Commission. Formerly, as Deputy Police Commissioner of New York, he headed all detective activities for Greater New York. He is widely known as the man who introduced the Bertillon system of fingerprint identification to America. He was chosen by the Goodrich Tire & Rubber Company as the ideal man to gather facts on the nation's response to the new All-Weather Tread.

According to P. W. Litchfield, president of Goodyear, who greeted Faurot on his arrival in New York, the trip has already registered results. "It is the most successful inquiry into consumer demands and consumer reaction that we have ever undertaken," said Mr. Litchfield. "Our new G-3 tire had been subjected to most elaborate tests at our factories, but we wanted the real facts showing how it was performing in the hands of tire users. Mr. Faurot has brought us our answer—a report from the country at large. His reports more than confirm every claim we have made for the tire. We are highly gratified."

Big Lake and Salt Bed Combined in Australia

Although several water courses, frequently swollen by tropical rains, pour their waters into Lake Buchanan, Central Queensland, the lake empties itself almost as quickly as it is filled and is often a vast white field containing millions of tons of salt. The glare of the sun on this 100-mile-round field is intense.

A circle of hills forms a natural basin for Lake Buchanan, from which there is apparently no outlet for its waters. Scientists, however, declare that the contents find their way to the Great Artesian basin, which lies under a part of Central Queensland and Northern New South Wales.

Explosions resembling heavy artillery frequently boom forth from within one of the lake's surrounding hills, earning for it the name of Rumble Hill. Their origin is unexplained, as is the fact that a vapor continuously sprays up from a cavern there, drifting to earth as a fine salt. Ranch owners in the district obtain their salt supplies from the deposits left by this vapor. Owing to the lake's remoteness, no attempt has been made to use its salt supply commercially.—New York Times.

Town in Spain Demands Comedy With Bullfights

Comic opera bullfights are frequently staged in San Sebastian, matadors masquerading as clowns. The bull selected for the sport must be young and without much courage, while the matador himself makes a better comedian than bullfighter. Two great wooden balls cover the bull's horns to protect the fighter, who dresses in bizarre costume. Sometimes he masquerades, keeping the bull off with a bamboo cane instead of a regular sword. The fight itself is rough-and-tumble sport, the matador jabbing wildly at the bull, and the animal repeatedly knocking him down.

When the attention of the audience begins to lag, the matador leaps upon the bulls back. If this does not provoke laughter, he lets the bull catch him on its horns, and goes hurtling wildly through the air.

Eventually, however, the crowd, wearied of the fight, and then occurs the only tragedy of the day. People call for the death of the bull, a sword is brought and the unfortunate beast killed in the ring.

Burial Place of Norse Gods

In Old Uppsala, north of Stockholm, are three huge mounds beneath which, ancient legend says, the old Norse gods—Odin, Thor and Freya—were buried when they died on the introduction of Christianity. Modern scholarship, however, contends that they are ceremonial mounds. From the highest the ancient kings addressed their people when the tribes assembled for what the Scandinavians called a "thing." Near the mounds is the sacred grove where, on festival days, thousands of victims were slaughtered in Odin's name. The castle in modern Uppsala, incidentally, was the favorite home of Queen Kristine. Here she abdicated the Swedish throne.

Getting Out of Crime

Most American courts still consider pleas of insanity from the standpoint of moral responsibility instead of mental derangement, writes J. W. McKenna, Milwaukee, Wis., in Collier's Weekly. In 29 states a person is not liable for a crime when he proves that he did not know that the act was wrong. In 17 states, even when knowing the difference between right and wrong, he is immune from punishment when his crime was committed under "an irresistible impulse" due to a mental disease.

When the Earth Rumbles

An earthquake sounds like the rumble of a heavy freight train, and the noise apparently precedes the actual shock by a few seconds, has been reported in Science by Prof. Alvin L. Lugo, associate professor of geology at the University of Nebraska, who heard and experienced a shock. The true sound of earthquakes is seldom detected because it is often masked by the rashing of masonry and glass, and vice of victims.—Literary Digest.

"Thumbs Down," "Thumbs Up"

Webster gives the meaning of "thumbs down" as a gesture of condemnation, and of "thumbs up" as a gesture of approval. There is some controversy among authorities as to how these signals were used, some claiming that "thumbs down" meant the gladiator's life was spared while "thumbs up" meant death.

Farmers Do Not Live on Farms

The people of the Bahamas do not live on their farms, as is customary in America, but in small settlements by the sea. On the majority of farms there are no buildings at all save occasional thatched huts. As a matter of fact, excepting the island of Eleuthera, agriculture can hardly be considered a major industry in the islands.

BOY SCOUTS WRITE ESSAYS ON "SAFETY"

Members of the Floydada Boy Scout Troop 44 are required to write an essay on "safety" in order to pass tests in their scout work. Following is a theme written by Watson Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Jones, which was graded 100 per cent:

"Safety is something everyone should practice. You should always put safety first. Safety at home is the first rule of safety to learn. Some of the most important points to notice are: Always keep pins and things the baby might put into its mouth out of the way. Do not leave a tub of scalding water on the floor that the baby might fall into. Always help old people around the home and fix their chairs so they will not fall with them. Do not leave ladders or such things around for the small children to climb upon.

"Safety at school is very important. It would be nice if there were a group of boys to conduct the small school children. Many children are killed every month when crossing the streets. If there were a group of boy scouts to conduct them these accidents might not happen."

"Another very important safety rule is safety in public buildings. The first things to notice as you enter a public building should be an exit. When you find the exit show it to your friends. When a large building catches on fire a Boy Scout should assist in keeping the people from stampeding and there would not be near as many injuries. Never push small children or old people when entering an elevator. If you will always take your time there will not be as many accidents."

"You should always be careful on the streets. You should not 'jay' walk or cut across the streets, you should help old people across the streets and also small children. Every one should know the proper way to enter a street car. Always look from right to left when crossing a street."

"Safety on a farm is another safety rule. You should never go around strange animals because they might not know you and do a little kicking. You should know all about farm machinery. You should be careful and not let large bolts etc. slip off and grab you."

ICE

TO KEEP FRESH SUMMER FOODS

It is false economy to save money on ice and waste it in the food that spoils for the lack of it. And it is likewise false economy to buy foods in such small quantities that they can be completely consumed in one day. That way the prices are always high. Be economical. Save money by spending. And spend it on ice.

With the opening of the summer season we are prepared to meet your demands in ice needs. Our plant is ready for full capacity, if it is found to be necessary to fill all orders.

CONGRESSMAN MAHON CONFERS WITH OFFICIALS FOR EXTENDED AID

Washington—Congressman George Mahon has conferred with government officials in Washington in an effort to secure an extension of the aid that has been rendered farmers of the drouth area. He has been working with the commodities purchase section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Interstate Commerce Commission regarding a 30 day extension of the reduced freight rates on hay and feed being shipped into the counties that have suffered from the drouth.
The agreement which made possible the reduced rates during the last few months expired May 31. The commodities purchase section has included 131 counties from the drouth states, 60 of which are in West Texas.

He has also made an effort through the Farm Credit Administration and the Texas Relief Commission to secure an increase in the amount of loan allowed farmers for feed for livestock.

He has conferred with Mr. C. A.
Cobb of the cotton section and filed a brief with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace asking that those wheat farmers who are in the cotton belt and whose wheat crops have been completely ruined by the drouth be allowed a limited allotment under the cotton program. The reaction to this request has not been encouraging but it is being seriously considered and a definite report is expected in a few days.

Mr. Mahon said: "Now that rains have come over West Texas, our farmers have an opportunity to bring themselves back to basis of prosperity if they can only be carried over a few more months until a new crop can be raised. I believe that those steps which the government has taken to help the farmers should not be withdrawn at this crucial time but should be continued until returns from a new crop can be realized."

BANKHEAD APPLICATIONS TO BE TAKEN NEXT WEEK

Local committees will take applications for Bankhead certificates the week beginning June 10th. Every cotton producer who desires tax exemption certificates should make application.

At the same time that these applications are taken those producers who made application for 1935 contracts will sign the final contract.

A. A. Tubbs, chairman of the Floydada committee stated yesterday that he would take applications in Floydada on the 10th and 11th and 12th at the crop loan office and would be in Center on the 13th and 14th and back in Floydada on the 15th.

Marion Hassell, chairman of the McCoy committee, will sign up certificates in McCoy on the 10th and 11th, in Itasca on the 12th and in Lakeview on the 13th and 14th.

CHANGES URGED IN BANKING ACT

Business Men and Bankers
Agree in Objecting to Political Control Over Banks.

AMENDMENTS SUGGESTED

Political Domination of Federal Reserve Board Declared to Be Undesirable for Depositors as Well as Their Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Business men and bankers alike who have appeared before committees of Congress to present views regarding the Banking Act of 1935 have found common cause for criticism in those provisions which they agree would create the means for undesirable political control over the Federal Reserve System and thereby over individual banks throughout the United States. They have made the point that this undesirable condition would affect depositors in banks even more than the banks themselves.

This view has been stressed in criticisms by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the question of partisan control over banking was the central theme of a statement presented by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, who appeared before the Senate Sub-Committee on Banking and Currency hearings here. Mr. Hecht declared that his organization is actuated by a desire to be helpful to Congress "in enacting effective and workable banking legislation in the interest of all our people." He said in part:

"If it is finally decided that it is necessary to carry this legislation through at this session, we are strongly of the opinion that special care should be taken to keep our credit control and banking mechanism free from any sort of political considerations.

"In making this statement I do not wish to appear to question the propriety of the Government's exerting a certain amount of control over banking operations so far as they affect the nation's currency and general monetary policy. Nor do we object to broad powers of supervision over the operation of our banking institutions because of the semi-public responsibilities they carry. But when it comes to such matters as the granting of credit and the making of investments by our banks, these are questions of business policies that surely should not be under the sole control of a board so constituted as to be dependent upon partisan or political considerations under any administration.

The Basis of Sound Credit
"The real conditions that create the necessity for the expansion or contraction of credit arise from the needs of agriculture, industry and trade themselves, wholly independent of the administrative policies of the party which happens to be in power. We feel that the financial requirements of the nation's business constitute a continuing economic process that is not related to political changes. The fundamental principles of sound credit do not vary with variations in public thought. All experience teaches that the quality of credit is sound only so long as it is based purely on the requirements of sound business. It is not sound when any other considerations or motives enter into its composition.

The Banking Act would centralize in the Federal Reserve Board at Washington means aimed to control the supply of money in the country, which term includes the sum total of currency in circulation and demand deposits in the banks which become current through checks. The powers which it is proposed to give the Board are intended to enable it to influence the quantity of this deposit money through open market operations, the discount rate and reserve requirements.

The Need for Independence
"That is the reason why we are so strongly in favor of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it would be definitely removed from all political thought, influence and dictation. Its members should be free to study and to act in accordance with the needs and conditions of agriculture, industry and trade. The policies of the board should have no reference to the politics or the changes in politics of the national administration.

"In our studies of the bank bill, we have been strongly impressed with the fact that it would set up a situation under which the Federal Reserve Board and its policies might be subject to control from the political administration of the country. In saying this I do not charge that it is the intention of the present administration to bring about any undue control over the nation's banking mechanism. The point is that if the bill passed as now proposed, opportunity for control would be there for the use of the present or whatever future administration might be in power.

"Our criticisms of the bill are not aimed, therefore, at the motives of the present administration, but they are wholly impersonal and non-political and are aimed entirely at the basic principles involved."

Desirable Changes Proposed Careful study by his organization, Mr. Hecht said, had resulted in a number of suggestions for constructive revisions in the bill which he submitted to Congress. On the other hand, he declared that many of the changes proposed by the act in existing laws "are of a constructive nature and should have the support of bankers, if the method of appointment and tenure of office of the members of the Federal Reserve Board, in whose hands it is planned to concentrate greater power than ever before, could be so altered as to insure, as far as possible, the absolute independence of the Board from partisan or political considerations." He added:

Supreme Court of Banking
"Since the passage of the Federal Reserve Act over 20 years ago, opinion in Congress and among bankers has been striving towards the ideal of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it might be described as the Supreme Court of Finance and Banking. We believe there is greater need now than ever before for realizing this ideal."

Mr. Hecht emphasized that it is "the genuine desire of the banking fraternity to be helpful and constructive in making suggestions in connection with this pending legislation. The changes we are urging are we believe essential to the continued independence of the Federal Reserve System."

"We have made it clear that we do not object to a measure of public control in the national interest for proper coordination of our manifold credit operations," he said, "and we do not believe the sponsors of the legislation desire any political domination over these activities through our Federal Reserve System.

"Under such circumstances we feel that our recommendations should be favorably acted upon because they would enable the reconstructed Federal Reserve Board to function freely as a nonpolitical body actuated only by the dictates of sound financial and economic policies conceived in the interest of all of our people.

"The adoption of our suggestions would both place operation of the Federal Reserve System wholly and distinctly apart from the fluctuations and vicissitudes of political conditions and free from undue influence by banking opinion only. Such a solution would thus have a stabilizing and confidence inspiring effect on the entire business situation."

Banks Rapidly Reduce Debt

Although the sum of $1,860,000,000 has been advanced to banks and trust companies by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation since it began operations in February, 1932, down to April 30, 1935, these institutions have repaid no less than $1,349,000,000, or more than 72%. This rate of repayment is reported as being considerably in excess of that made by any other type of borrower.

Loans were authorized by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to 7,396 banks and trust companies in an aggregate amount of $2,350,000,000, but of this sum $345,000,000 was withdrawn or cancelled and $140,000,000 has not yet been taken out by the borrowers.

Simplification of Bank Checks

New York.—In a bulletin issued by the Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association, plans are described for carrying on the simplification of bank checks, notes, drafts and similar instruments in respect to size and uniformity of arrangement of subject matter.

Detailed recommendations for this end were formulated by the association about ten years ago, the bulletin says, and promulgated by the United States Department of Commerce among banks, business houses using large numbers of checks, commercial stationers and lithographers. As a result about 85 per cent adherence to the recommendations was brought about. The present bulletin, which describes the standard specifications in full, is issued to maintain this high level of adherence to the recommendations.

DISTINCT AMERICAN TYPE SEEN COMING

Expert Sees Gradual Disappearance of Blondes.

Minneapolis.—If gentlemen of the future will still prefer blondes they may have a difficult time to find them in the United States. So believes Prof. Albert E. Jenks, anthropologist of the University of Minnesota.

"Our first group of immigrants included British, Germans, and Scandinavians—tall and blond," says Professor Jenks. "Our later arrivals included the short and more heavily pigmented groups from southern Europe. These different groups have intermarried and the result will be a typical American race—fairly tall, dark haired, dark eyed, and darker skinned than the present average."

In time, doubtless, will evolve a distinct American type—a composite of several principal strains. Whether the eventual type will be as Professor Jenks predicts can be answered only by time. The history of other nations can be cited in support of the blending processes.

In the year 1776 the population of the United States was 2,500,000, mostly English, but with a smattering of other racial groups. In 1930 the population was 122,775,046. This growth was phenomenal, almost 50-fold in less than 200 years, with the biggest gain, 47,000,000, from 1900.

This meant immigration from countries other than the old contributors, and today, while the old solid, native American strains still predominate, the foreign groups are far from being a small minority. This is shown in the complexion of the nation's several thousand counties. Before 1870 they were almost 100 per cent homogeneous. Today they are only one-third homogeneous.

The 1930 census showed the largest German groups in this order: German, Italian, English, Scottish, Welsh and North Irish, Polish, Canadian, Free State Irish, Swedish, Slavish, Norwegian, Austrian, and Hungarian.

Year by year intermarriage among groups grows, pointing toward an eventual American type.

De Soto Indian Massacre Site Is Believed Found

New Orleans.—Maurice Ries of the Department of Middle American Research, Tulane, believed that the site of one of Hernando de Soto's massacres of coastal Indians had been found.

This theory arose with the finding of a large number of skeletons on the farm of H. P. Deere at Mangham, La. More than two score skulls have been dug up.

From the condition of the bones it was estimated they had been in the ground about 400 years, Mr. Ries said.

"This appears to be an important discovery," he said. "Condition of the bones and their location indicates a small war party encountered De Soto's expedition and paid with its lives."

Maps compiled by De Soto's band of adventurers in their travels through Louisiana and Arkansas showed they traveled a route passing right through Deere's farm, Ries explained.

Oklahoman, 80, Is Still Running Spinning Wheel

Waynoka, Okla.—Spinning wheels have come to be regarded as fit museum pieces—but not so with the one owned by Mrs. Phoebe Davidson.

Mrs. Davidson, now eighty, has owned a spinning wheel since childhood and has used it since her father gave it to her in her twelfth birthday, two years after the Civil war.

She recently demonstrated to a group of friends just how their grandmothers and great-grandmothers used to make the family's clothing.

Mrs. Davidson carded the wool on cards that showed the wear and tear of years of use. She displayed numerous articles she has made, including mittens, Sox and wool-filled comforters.

Four Million Cars Listed in Storage

Atlantic City.—Out of the 26,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States, between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 are in storage. But by the end of 1935 improving conditions will bring 1,500,000 of them back into service.

Edward P. Chalfant, of Detroit, president of the American Trade association executives, gave that forecast. He added that the end of 1935 also will see 2,500,000 new cars and trucks produced and sold, and 1,500,000 old autos junked.

Lee Mayhew And Miss Irene Kries Wed In Home Ceremony

Miss Irene Kries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kries, and Lee Mayhew, son of Mrs. E. B. Mayhew, were married at the Kries home on Monday, June third at ten o'clock.

Miss Kries and Mr. Mayhew were both very popular among the younger social set in Floydada and Dougherty.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of fern and spring flowers. The bride entered the wedding chamber with her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. She wore a suit of white crepe with quilted taffeta collar and cuffs, a white picture hat and accessories of white. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Edelle King, the bridesmaid wore a suit of salmon pink crepe with accessories of white and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. T. A. Norman was best man.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. E. L. Angus sang, "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. O. G. Glassmoyer. Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Floydada, read the ring ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride cut the three-tiered wedding cake and the guests were served cake and punch. Mrs. George Stiles presided at the punch bowl.

The bride and groom changed to traveling clothes and left soon after the ceremony for a ten day wedding trip to the Ozark Mountains.

The guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gound, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Norman, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Solomon, Mrs. E. L. Angus, Mrs. Maud Burrus, Mrs. O. G. Glassmoyer, Mrs. George Stiles, Miss Ruth Kries, Miss Amy McRoberts, Miss Oleta Jackson, Messrs. Roy Holmes and Carl Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Edwards returned Monday from a month's vacation trip to Hot Springs, Arkansas. Pat Stansell, who has been attending McMurry College at Abilene, returned home Saturday.
