Interest Lowered In National Farm Loan Associations Loans

The interest rate on all Federal Land Bank loans made through National farm loan associations will be reduced to 3 1-2 per cent for all interest payable in the one-year period commencing July 1, 1935, and to 4 per cent for all interest payable in the two-year period commencing July 1, 1936, according to C. M. Meredith, secretary treasurer of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association. This announcement was made June 10, 1935, when Mr. Meredith was notified of the new loan rate by A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston and general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston.

This temporary reduction of interest on Federal Land Bank loans having installments due prior to July 1, 1935, is the result of new legislation, the Farm Credit Act of 1935, which was signed by President Roosevelt June 3. Interest payable on installment dates occurring after July 30, 1935, will be at the original contract rate, which is 4 1-2 per cent on loans now being made through National farm loan associations and varies from 5 to 6 per cent on loans made prior to April 1, 1935.

The Farm Credit Act of 1935 also provides for another important innovation. Under its terms, the Land Bank Commissioner now may make loans to finance the purchase of farms by deserving tenant farmers. Formerly, commissioner loans could be made only for the purpose of refinancing debts, for repurchasing farms lost through foreclosure and for working capital. The Act extends to January 1, 1940, the time in which the Land Bank Commissioner may make direct loans to farmers on first and second mortgages. The commissioner loan plus any prior encumbrances on the property may not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised net value. Commenting on the new provisions Mr. Meredith said: "The new provision enabling the Land Bank Commissioner to make loans for the purpose of purchasing farms provides a new opportunity for young farmers and deserving tenants to become farm owners and home owners in their own right. We shall be glad to talk things over with worthy tenants who wish to buy farms of their own."

Since May 12, 1933, when the Farm Credit Administration was established, the Federal Land Bank of Houston, acting for itself and as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner has made 42,738 loans aggregating $129,192,350.00. This is almost as large as the amount of business carried on the books of the bank on May 1, 1933, after 17 years of operation. The interest rate reduction provided by the Act will affect only Federal land bank loans, all of which are first mortgage loans. The interest rate on Land Bank Commissioner loans, which are made on either first or second mortgages on farm property, will remain unchanged at 5 per cent.

NATURAL FORCES AID BUSINESS RECOVERY

By R. S. HECHT
President American Bankers Association

ALTHOUGH, as official studies of business conditions show, business is still far from having struck its full stride, nevertheless, I believe that it is undoubtedly true that the natural economic processes which have always brought the nation out of a slump are now and have been for some time steadily at work laying the foundations for more active business conditions.

I believe that there is growing a broader public perception that the people of this country must make their own prosperity and not wait for the Government at Washington to make it for them. In other words, the normal economic vigor and vitality of the United States is slowly but inevitably bringing recovery. Like a doctor, the administration can help nature. But the fundamental healing processes will come from natural causes and not from political remedies. Despite the slackening of business now apparent, despite expressions of disappointment we hear from various quarters, nevertheless I am confident that these fundamental healing processes, if not spectacular, are none the less surely at work.

Gradually our business leaders are showing greater confidence in the future and are assuming a more forward looking position. I firmly believe that if we will make up our minds to replace fear-psychology with confidence-psychology the results will fully justify such a new attitude.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION STIMULATES ADVERTISING

The American Bankers Association's Advertising Department reports rapid progress of the use by banks of the informative bank newspaper advertising prepared by it for members to assist them in rebuilding public confidence and good will in their communities.

The central theme of this advertising service deals with the "essential line of economic and social service that all sound banking inherently renders the depositor and the public," the report says, showing that "it is not banking laws which make banking useful and safe, but that it is honesty and skill in management under private initiative."

The Advertising Department is supplying about a thousand members of the association with newspaper and other advertising material. The newspaper material totals about 50,000 advertisements annually. The growth of the work of the department is shown by the following figures: On September 1, 1934, the number of banks being served regularly each month was 623. The total number on April 1, 1935, was 924, an increase of 301 regular subscribers, or 49 per cent.

WAR ON BANK BANDITS

National Bankers Association Pressing Active Measures to Protect Members—Losses Cut

Imprisonment or death of many desperate bank criminals the past year has brought no appreciable reduction in attacks on banks. James E. Baum, in charge of the American Bankers Association Protective Department, has reported to his organization.

In the six months ended February 28, 1935, he says, banks were targets for 169 daylight holdups and 40 night burglaries. He added that although banks that are not members number only about half those enrolled in the association, they suffered a far greater rate of attack, namely, 51 per cent of all the bank robberies.

Losses Show Decrease During the period under report, bank burglars and bandits exacted tribute amounting to $943,561 compared with losses totaling $1,257,000 a year ago, he said. This reduction in losses is attributed to the time-locking restrictions and other limitations in the exposure of surplus cash imposed last year by underwriters and bank supervisory authorities.

The sharp reduction in the material loss of money and securities resulting from bank robbery this year was "overshadowed by the killing of 1 bank employee, one bystander and 5 arresting officers," and since last August bank robbery also cost the lives of 15 criminals and caused physical injuries to 10 bank employees, 12 bystanders, 9 arresting officers and 8 bandits, a total of 62 casualties.

Investigations by the association's agents resulted in the arrest of 35 forgers, 42 bandits and one burglar, or 79 of the 141 bank criminals reported as being apprehended during the period.

PEPPER AGAIN SEEN AS TROUBLE MAKER

Commodity Long Has Been Cause of Contention.

Washington.—Falling companies closed their doors and 23,500 tons of pepper—several years' supply—piled up in London warehouses during the recent attempt by London speculators to corner the world supply of white pepper.

"This is not the first time pepper has caused excitement," says the National Geographic society. "This fiery commodity was long a cause of contention between the early European trading companies operating in India and the Far East. Pepper cargoes raised the ire of rival sea captains of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries, and along with other spices, led to pitched battles among Portuguese, Dutch and English."

"Native to the moist forests of southwestern India, especially the Malabar coast, black pepper has long been prized by eastern peoples to quicken languid appetites. They used it not only as a pungent condiment, but even as a medicine. For centuries pepper was the staple article of commerce between India and Europe. As far back as the Fourth century, B. C. Greeks relished pepper as seasoning, and sneezes from it echoed in the kitchens of Rome. It was once valued on a par with precious metals. When Alaric, king of the Goths, pounded on the gates of Rome in 408, he demanded as the city's ransom 5,000 pounds of gold, 30 pounds of silver, and 8,000 pounds of pepper."

Most Prized of All Spices. "In the Middle ages, pepper was prized above all spices. The most important early English guild was the Peppercor's guild. In that time, the spice was so valuable it frequently took the place of money. Soldiers swaggered off with pounds of it as part of their booty. People received rewards in pepper, often paid their rent in pepper, and when a will was read, held their breath to hear how much pepper they had been bequeathed."

"The constant cry for pepper, and its high price, was largely what set canny Portuguese explorers searching for an all-sea route to the Indies. Vasco da Gama, sailing around the Cape of Good Hope, reached the home of pepper, the Malabar coast, in 1498. Venetians and Genoese who until then had practically monopolized the trade in pepper, now watched the Portuguese sail away with it. The Portuguese held the pepper purse-strings until the Seventeenth century. Under their control, less pepper was raised on the Malabar coast, but its cultivation was extended to the islands of the Malay archipelago. Malacca, a port on the west coast of the Malay peninsula, became a great pepper emporium."

"So flourishing was the trade in pepper and other spices that in 1595 the Dutch organized an East India company; in 1600 Queen Elizabeth chartered the East India company; Danish, French, Swiss and other organizations followed rapidly on their heels."

"Most important commercially and historically of all these companies was the English East India company."

Forced to Raise Pepper. "For years, pepper was the object of England's trade with Sumatra. There the company made contracts with rajahs who were obliged to compel their dependents to cultivate pepper. Each native family was forced to plant 1,000 pepper vines, and each bachelor 500. The system of compelling natives to raise pepper for the company to buy was practiced by Dutch East India colonies until fairly recent times."

"A second system of cultivation, fostered by European trading companies, was to lend the Malays money with which to cultivate pepper. But since most of the borrowers never paid back the loans, often whole villages under local laws became liable for the debt, and in effect, 'pepper slaves.'"

"Although black pepper claims a lot of relatives scattered throughout the tropics, these do not include sweet peppers, red peppers, and chilies, which belong to an entirely different family."

"The pepper vine is a symbol of perseverance, a plant that simply doesn't know when it is licked. Taken from its natural habitat in the moist leafmold of shady jungles, it will grow in plantations, though often given scant shade, and on poor soil, if fertilized. Although it climbs freely in jungles, sometimes up to 30 feet, it continues to thrive on plantations when tied to a rough-barked tree, hardwood post, or even a stone post, and kept pruned to about twelve feet."

May Revive Horse and Buggy Measure for Cars Sacramento.—Reverting to a custom of the horse and buggy days, a California legislative bill would prevent creditors from seizing automobiles valued at less than $250. In the old days a person's horse and buggy could not be seized for nonpayment of debt, but this law does not apply to motor vehicles.
