HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adopting a new Section to be known as section 51d, which shall provide that the Legislature shall have the power to provide, under such limitations and restrictions as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient for assistance to destitute children and for the payment of same not to exceed Eight Dollars ($8) for one child or Twelve Dollars ($12) for the children of any one family per month; further providing that the Legislature may impose such restrictions and regulations as to it may seem expedient; providing that the amount to be expended out of State funds in any one year for such assistance shall never exceed the sum of One Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000); and providing that the Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Government of the United States financial aid for assistance to destitute children; providing for an election on the question of adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof, and prescribing the form of ballot.

Be It Resolved By The Legislature Of The State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a Section to be known as Section 51d, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51d. Subject to the limitations and restrictions herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions, and regulations as may be provided by law, the Legislature shall have the power to provide for assistance to destitute children under the age of fourteen (14) years; such assistance shall not exceed Eight Dollars ($8) per month for one child nor more than Twelve Dollars ($12) per month for such children of any one family; provided that the amount to be expended for such assistance out of State funds shall never exceed the sum of One Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000) per year. The Legislature may impose residential restrictions, limitations, and regulations as to it may seem expedient.

"The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Government of the United States such financial assistance to destitute children as that Government may offer not inconsistent with the restrictions herein above provided."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Monday in August, 1937, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"FOR the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for assistance to destitute children under the age of fourteen (14) years not to exceed Eight Dollars ($8) per month for one child nor more than Twelve Dollars ($12) per month for such children of any one family, and providing for acceptance from the Government of the United States of America financial assistance for such payment."

Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for assistance to destitute children under the age of fourteen (14) years not to exceed Eight Dollars ($8) per month for one child nor more than Twelve Dollars ($12) per month for such children of any one family, and providing for acceptance from the Government of the United States of America financial assistance for such payment."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

Why I Want to See The Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition

By James Wester.

I want to go to Dallas to see the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition because I could see things from the entire New World that otherwise I might not get to see. I would want to see the riches from oil wells and mines, the best cotton and wheat from the vast ranches and farms, the enormous machines from the factories, and the ruins of American cities which were great and beautiful before Columbus found the New World.

The Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition will cost an enormous amount of money which will run up in the millions, but millions of people will come to see it. The exposition will open in Dallas on June 12, 1937 and it will be like traveling from New York to Buenos Aires, from Nome to Mexico City, from Dallas to Rio de Janeiro.

This exposition will have the largest display of modern science, industry, and culture that has ever been brought together. It will give practical demonstration of the "Good Neighbors Policy" which President Roosevelt has urged upon all the nations of the New World. It will also be very educational. You can learn about the different countries in the Pan American section. A new exposition was based not only on the hope of keeping the southwest and its resources before the world, but it is based on still another and more human and fundamental idea than the attraction of mere dollars.

The study of history of Texas inspired by the Centennial awakened all Texans to the realization of their priceless heritage; they have in this an indissoluble link with the Latin American people. They found that instead of celebrating their one hundredth anniversary, they could date their beginnings back four hundred years. They found that white men were marching across the vast plains of Texas a century before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock.

Texas discovered also that we have useful resources that we have long overlooked. They found that marble and granite can be used as building stone. Our vast acres of pine trees will make as good paper as any in the world. The soy bean which has a thousand or more industrial uses thrives in Texas soil.

The Texas Centennial Celebration ended last year. A new theme had to be chosen for 1937. The Southwest had not been too friendly with us, so we decided to do something to be friends with them. We decided on an exposition for us and the southwest. The directors named it the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition. It is the first exposition based upon sincere international friendship in the New World.

One thing that can not be easily forgotten is the Esplanade. At one end of the Esplanade are the main gate and the main plaza. At the opposite end is the shrine of Texas greatness, the $1,250,000 State of Texas building. In this shrine are preserved for all time many of the relics of Texas past and the names of her heroes. It is said that this building is to Texas what Westminster Abbey is to England.

This year there will be a cavalcade also, but it will be named the cavalcade of the Americas.

There are railroads, highways, buses, and taxicabs to use for transportation.

I am sure the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition will be worth my money.

S. J. R. No. 9 A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Section 16, Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas; providing that the Legislature shall authorize the incorporation of banking bodies and provide for the supervision and regulation of same; providing for all of the capital stock to be subscribed and paid for before charter issued; restricting foreign corporations from doing banking business, restricting corporate business to one place.

Be It Resolved By The Legislature Of The State Of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 16, Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 16. The Legislature shall by general laws, authorize the incorporation of corporate bodies with banking and discounting privileges, and shall provide for a system of State supervision, regulation and control of such bodies which will adequately protect and secure the depositors and creditors thereof.

"No such corporate body shall be chartered until all of the authorized capital stock has been subscribed and paid for in full in cash. Such body corporate shall not be authorized to engage in business at more than one place which shall be designated in its charter.

"No foreign corporation, other than the national banks of the United States, shall be permitted to exercise banking or discounting privileges in this State."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Monday in August, 1937. At this election all voters favoring the proposed amendment shall write, or have printed, on their ballots the following words:

"FOR the amendment of Section 16 to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the amount of the liability of stock-holders in State banks."

Those voters opposing said amendment shall write, or have printed, on their ballots the following words:

"AGAINST the amendment of Section 16 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the amount of the liability of stock-holders in State banks."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and to have same published as required by the Constitution and the amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

FINGER PRINTS TO PROTECT CIVILIANS

Increasing Number Being Recorded in Washington.

Washington, D. C.—"Realizing that finger prints may be an effective means of identification in case of death or amnesia, increasing numbers of civilians are having their prints recorded at the federal bureau of investigation, a division of the United States Department of Justice that is perhaps better known as 'the G-Men,'" says the National Geographic society.

"Visitors are conducted on tours through the identification division at the rate of several hundred a day. Many remain to have their fingerprints taken. In long chattering lines, business men and their wives, giggling girls, and solemn small boys pass before the recorder with his yellow stamp pad and small white cards marked off into spaces for each finger's print.

"A young girl approaches, holding out red-nailed white hands. The recorder presses her right thumb firmly on the stamp pad and then down on the card, rolling it from right to left. 'Just relax, don't try to help me,' he instructs her, for if she presses with her thumb, it overinks and smudges the pattern.

Offer Telltale Evidence. "He takes the marks of her right hand's fingers, one after another, and then those of her left hand, individually.

"Next, he records, at a single impression, all the fingertips of her right hand, and, with another impression, all those of the left, as a check upon the sequence of the preceding prints. She stares amazed at the dark whorls on the card made by her unstained white fingertips. The colorless chemical solution on the stamp pad acts on the chemically-treated card, but remains invisible on the hand.

"The federal bureau of investigation, with 267,000 sets of fingerprints in its civilian files, is increasing them at the rate of almost 800 a day. The bureau does not search for fingerprints of criminals among the prints in these files, but it may search for them among the prints of civil service employees, which are filed to keep men with prison records from holding positions of public trust.

"Exhibited on the wall of the federal bureau of investigation is a device like a large automobile-mileage-meter. Each time the last number on the right changes, it marks, not another mile, but a new set of criminal fingerprints received at the bureau. The number changes about 175 times an hour. The bureau, on duty twenty-four hours a day, receives during that time about 4,200 new records of people under arrest. These are sent in from more than 10,000 law enforcement agencies all over the United States and from eighty foreign countries.

It Works This Way.

"Imagine that a suspect, Bill Smith, is arrested in Los Angeles. His fingerprints are taken with printer's black ink, which, with his photograph, are rushed to Washington to the federal bureau of investigation. There they will be checked against fingerprints in the criminal files to see if he has a previous criminal record. If the check reveals that Bill Smith is really ex-convict 'Butcherknife Joe,' wanted in New Orleans for murder, two telegrams are sent, one to inform the Los Angeles authorities, another to tell New Orleans officials the Los Angeles police have their man.

"Fingerprints found on weapons, woodwork, glass, and articles near a scene of a crime are also checked against prints in the bureau's criminal files and aid in capturing law violators.

"Since no two fingers have ever been discovered whose patterns were identical, fingerprints offer such tell-tale evidence that criminals have tried to change theirs. But they cannot be entirely changed, even by the painful process of removing the skin.

"The federal bureau of investigation has nearly seven million criminal fingerprint records on file, in more than 1,000 great green cases stretching for two city blocks within the building. Only 300,000 of these are records of women, the rest are of men. Workers search through these prints by hand, to check an incoming set of criminal prints against them. If the incoming fingerprints fall into a certain common classification, chiefly the ulnar loop type of pattern, the search is speeded up by a machine which automatically sorts the cards at the rate of 475 a minute."

Children Borrow Rats From Museum for Pets

Springfield, Mass.—Lending rats to boys and girls who like them for pets has become quite an extensive practice with Trailside museum, a bureau of the Springfield Museum of natural history.

The museum breeds the rats for study purposes.

When a child borrows one he can keep it as long as he likes. Some boys try their luck in training several rats at different intervals, and this is all right with the museum.

Some of the rats have been borrowed and returned three or four times.

Man of Hudson Believes in Diamonds

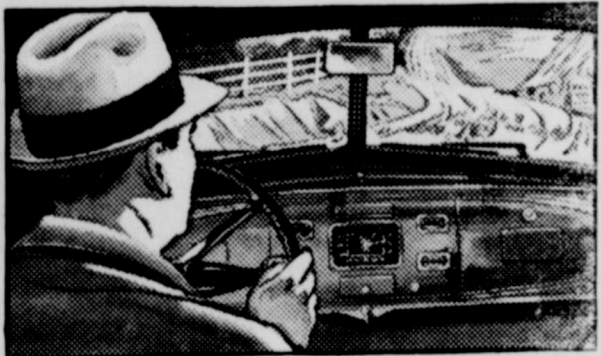

On this operation there is a diamond drill, says veteran machinist in the Hudson Motor Car Company. It is one of the many operations to be held to extremely high accuracy. Ed Link states that he has the leeway on this operation of the machine shop the hole has to be held within plus zero and minus three-tenths. This means that it cannot be oversized at all nor undersize more than three-tenths of one thousandth of an inch. This is splitting hairs as far as accuracy is concerned and that is why the diamond drill is used on Hudson and Terraplane piston pin holes drilled in the aluminum alloy pistons.

Why I Want to See The Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition

By Charline Field.
I hope very much to attend the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition being shown at Dallas, Texas, during the summer. This exposition will not only be entertaining, but educational as well.

Last year, Texas decided to celebrate her hundredth birthday by erecting the Texas Centennial. Texas had a wonderful and hair-raising story to tell. She built a great show-window in which to display her exhibits. Texas put millions into the making of the Centennial, but she received billions in profit.

One of the greatest attractions of the Texas Centennial was the Cavalcade of Texas, in which the history of Texas was re-created. This year the attraction will be entitled "The Cavalcade of the Americas" and the pageant will begin with the coming of Columbus.

The most beautiful building on the Centennial grounds is the Texas State Building, which is made of stone from the Texas quarries. Relics important in Texas history have been placed here. The products of Texas are also exhibited here. Upon attending the new fair, it would please me very much to inspect the great works placed in this building.

Right across from the Texas State Building, a Latin American Building is rapidly taking form. Exhibits from Mexico, South America, and Central America are being arranged in this building.

Most persons have observed some of the Spanish dances in the movies. For the celebration this summer, a large cafe and night club is being erected. Here you may dine on foreign dishes and dance to the music of foreign orchestras. A cast of entertainers from all of the foreign countries partaking in this event is being selected.

Every person who beheld the gorgeous Esplanade of the recent Centennial was astonished by the magical beauty of it. Beautiful lights reflect all over the Esplanade. Electricians are now employed to make the lights even more astonishing and breath-taking. Such scenes thrill me very much.

Many persons may not be so foolish as I am about seeing foreign people. I have understood that persons from all countries involved in the celebration will mingle with the crowd at the exposition.

The Federal Government spent a million dollars erecting a Federal Building at the Centennial. In this building are found documents and other articles belonging to the Federal government. This exhibit is being enlarged and I wish to observe the new exhibit.

Some human beings enjoy collecting samples. The Foods Building is a delightful place for such enthusiasts. Many different products are displayed here and samples may be obtained. I would delight in such a place.

On the exposition grounds, different kinds of animals are found. In one building, fish have been collected and livestock are exhibited in another one. Animal enthusiasts, such as I, adore this building.

The Ford, General Motors, and Texaco Companies will all arrange exhibits again this year. In these exhibits will be many strange and interesting things. I enjoy interesting sights such as these.

Everyone attending the Centennial talked about the wonderful side shows. One of the most brilliant side shows was "Ripley's Believe It Or Not." Some of the strangest people in the world are members of the entertaining cast. "The Midget City" was also amusing and educational. Midgets from all over the world lived about half of the summer in this little city established for them.

I never liked to leave a fair ground without seeing the Midway. All other places are interesting, but the Midway is the place for real amusement. Ferris wheels, merry-go-rounds, rocket speedways, and bug-houses crowd this section of the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition.

Of all theatrics in the world, Dallas is the most hospitable. Last year, the whole city welcomed their visitors heartily. When the plans for this new affair were completed, the mayor of Dallas gave an address asking the people under his jurisdiction to work as hard for this new celebration, as they did the Centennial. If it is my good fortune for my plans for attending the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition to succeed, I feel sure of a wonderful time. I feel sure that this new exposition will be a success, for all of the Dallas people will strive to make it so.

Miss Genna Mae Owen, of Sulphur Springs, spent Friday here visiting with friends. She is the sister of Roy Owen, formerly of Floydada.

Y. W. A. GIRLS WILL ATTEND CAMP AT CETA CANYON

Several members of the Y. W. A. will attend camp at Ceta Canyon, next week beginning Monday and continuing through Wednesday. The girls of district 9, including Floyd County, Brownfield, Lubbock, Staked Plains, Pierra Blanco, and West Plains, will attend the camp.

Mrs. Vernon Shaw, Floydada, is camp counselor. Mrs. J. W. Ware, of Dimmitt, young people's leader, made the plans for the camp. Talks will be given by Mrs. B. L. Lockett, Abilene, who is a returned missionary from Africa; Mrs. J. Howard Williams, Mrs. G. W. McDonald, of Plainview, Mrs. C. E. Roark, Plainview; Mrs. A. L. Shaw, of Lockney, Miss Clara May, of Wilson, Miss May Preston, of Tahoka.

Mrs. O. J. Hull, of Amarillo, will teach a leaders course.

Rev. C. E. Hereford, of Lubbock, is the guest pastor.

Those attending from Floydada will be Misses Imogene and Evelyn Roy, Mary Wilson and Evelyn Hicks, Florrie Conway, Dorothy Nell Swinson, Lanell Shirey, Muriel Fagan, Faye Newell, Jeraldine Hale, Geraldine Gamblin; Mesdames C. W. McCarty, J. B. Grundy, Madrell Williams, Vernon Shaw and J. M. Gambelin.

Miss Thelma Joe Hamilton, student of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview, returned home Wednesday to spend the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Hamilton.

Misses Evelyn and Imogene Roy, students of Wayland Baptist College, returned home last Wednesday afternoon to spend the vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Roy.

Herman Wright, who has been employed driving a truck from Phoenix, Arizona, returned home Friday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Wright.

cook electrically

it costs so little to

The facts are: a recent survey of our electric range users showed the average cost of cooking to be less than 2 1/2c per meal for an average family of four people.

But economy is only one feature. A demonstration will tell more. May we have that privilege?

Summerize YOUR CAR

MAKES ENGINES RUN BETTER

Mobil Upperlube lubricates the top part of your motor not reached by crankcase oil. Silences valve noise! Retards hard carbon, promotes smoother performance. Put Mobil Upperlube in your gasoline when you stop for Summerize Service.

REMEMBER that the light motor and gear oils you use for quick winter starting are not made to stand the blistering heat of Southwestern summers. Anti-freeze should be drained and your radiator cleaned. A Magnolia Summerize job includes all these important points, plus a thorough inspection of your battery, tires, lights and other services you may need to prepare your car for safe, economical summer driving. Stop at the sign of the "Flying Red Horse".
