VERMONT TO MARK 150 YEARS IN UNION

Prepare Now for Celebration in Year 1941.

Montpelier, Vt.—"Fourteen years as an Independent Republic—One Hundred and Fifty Years as a State of the Union." Such is the unique story which will be reviewed in 1941 when Vermont dedicates the entire year to a statewide recognition and celebration of the 150th anniversary of her admission to the Union.

Plans are to be outlined by a state commission provided for in a joint resolution just signed by Governor Aiken. The commission is to report its suggested plans and program to the Vermont legislature of 1939.

This recognition by Vermont may tend to make all states of the Union admission-conscious, since Vermont was the first state to be admitted to the Union after the original thirteen. This was the starting of a "Long Trail," over which thirty-four other states have followed Vermont into the United States, a procession of states beginning with Kentucky in 1792 and culminating with New Mexico in 1912.

Build Up Program.

Governor Aiken's signing of the joint resolution passed by the legislature is not merely an official commitment to the idea of the recognition of the 150th anniversary in 1941 but also a signal for the mobilization of the people of the state in support of a 1939-1941 program of so-called "Sesquicentennial Objectives."

The attainment of these objectives during 1937-41 is regarded by Vermont as the building of an appropriate and necessary preliminary stage setting to prepare the state for the formal recognition and celebration in 1941.

A five-point program has been built up out of suggestions sent to the state chamber of commerce by individuals, organizations and newspapers. The program affords the following picture of some phases of the Green Mountain state in 1941, resulting from the proposed pioneering and perfecting activities during the last four years of the first 150 years of the life of the state:

During 1937-41 the attractiveness of Vermont shall be greatly enhanced through the wholesale removal of roadside and other blemishes which here and there disturb the exquisite beauty of Vermont scenery. Special attention by the towns to the erection of road direction signs along town rural roads will enable citizens and guests easily to find their routes.

Expect to Be Busy.

Vermont's welcoming hospitality both in winter and in summer shall become familiar to many more people through the speeding up of various activities and developments.

Vermont shall become busier through playing to the movement for the decentralization of industry, thus restoring and building up industrial activity in the valley and mountain villages.

Vermont shall become more widely known through the expansion into other fields of originality and initiative recently displayed in the official handling and reporting of town and state finances and affairs. Vermont town and state reports have become "news" in other states, because they have demonstrated "modernization" in the handling and reporting of local and state finances and affairs. Four other states have adopted the Vermont plan of a "town report competition."

During 1937-41 Vermont shall witness the utter extinction of the old-fashioned town report. "Modernization" in these documents shall seep into every nook and corner of the state. Thus the mass production of modernized public reports shall be achieved in Vermont, which is serving as an experimental demonstration plot in this regard.

The Rose Walker Circle and the Blanche Groves Circle of the W. M. S. held their joint monthly meeting at the First Baptist Church Monday, July 12. Each of the twenty members present brought a covered dish, which helped make up a lovely luncheon served at 12:30.

After lunch the regular monthly missionary meeting was held, followed by a short business meeting. The program consisted of various discussions concerning the "Negro Problem".

At the close of the meeting the group made up a lovely sunshine box for Mrs. Clifford Tubbs, one of their members who is ill. Many gifts were included in the box and presented to her. She was requested to open only one gift each day.

The next meeting of the circles will be Monday, July 19 at 4 o'clock. It was decided that they would also meet at the church in order that the mothers could bring their small children to a meeting of the Sunbeam Band, which is being organized for children between three and nine years of age. Mrs. Stultz is in charge of the band and invites all mothers to bring their children.

Who Would Think Of Plowing Through A Drawing Room?

Motoring Tips by J. M. Crawford Chief Engineer Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corporation.

It is strange, but nevertheless true, that many persons who wouldn't think of plowing through a drawing room with cries of "Gangway! Here I come!" climb into their cars every day of the week and commit, on the streets and highways, the exact parallel of that social offense.

This fact lends point to the slogan of so many safety campaigns, to the effect that courtesy and safety go hand in hand. It's a long time since Alphonse and Gaston disappeared from the comic pages; but the spirit of "You first, my dear Alphonse!" would go a long way, today, to remedy traffic ills.

One of the most glaring instances of discourtesy is to be seen on almost any busy artery, during the rush hour. Traffic on the through street will pile up solidly, blocking intersecting streets, so that it is only by matching rudeness with rudeness, and forcing their way through, that drivers on the latter can cross busy thoroughfares.

A moment's reflection would convince any motorist that he would really lose no time at all by leaving a gap ahead, when approaching a cross street. As soon as cross-traffic has cleared, he will be on his way again, with no net loss whatever. And the fellow whom he let through will be merry on his way.

I know one driver who always makes it a point, when driving in heavy traffic, to pause for cross-traffic to go through. He does it even when there is a car-length or so which would permit him to clear the intersection himself. "The point is," he explains, "that only about one driver in a dozen will give these other fellows a break. If I don't stop the procession long enough to let the mocsos, the line may start and stop half a dozen times before someone takes pity on them and does it."

Cars today embody comfort approaching that of the drawing room. There doesn't seem to be any good reason why motorists should not take their drawing room manners when they climb in behind the wheel. If enough drivers will do it, they will not only serve the ends of safety but facilitate the movement of traffic as well.

Roy Davis of Odessa, Texas, was here Sunday visiting with his cousin, Roy Patton.

DOAN'S PILLS

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging back-ache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, feel nervous, miserable—all upset. Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

Haircuts in the Gutter

Hair-cutting and shaving are much the same the world over. It is only the methods that differ. In China, for instance, the customer does not have to wait in a room looking at last year's magazines before his turn comes. Here the barber carries his trade in the street. When he sees a customer the barber follows him until he finds a suitable spot on the pavement or in the street, and sets his stool up there.

International Sports Will Meet in Dallas July 15th to 18th

Dallas, July 14.—Athletes from the four corners of the Western Hemisphere have been congregating in Dallas for the past few days to compete in the Pan American Games, an international sports meet costing $50,000 to stage, offered free to Pan American Exposition visitors July 15 to 18.

Second only to the world Olympics held in Los Angeles in 1932, the Games will make athletic history in this nation. Never before have Uncle Sam's crack stars competed against a field composed only of men from South and Central America and Canada.

Events will be held in the Cotton Bowl, a concrete stadium seating 46,000. All events are free to international fair visitors despite a cost of approximately $50,000 for transporting and caring for the 200 champions from a score of nations.

The United States squad is expected to steal the track and field show. The team is composed of the now national A. A. U. champions and runners-up picked in the July 2 and 3 National A. A. U. meet at Milwaukee. The veteran miler, Glenn Cunningham, and Archie Sam Roman will meet again in their historic duel in the mile run. Such Olympic stars as Ken Carpenter, discus king, and Forrest Towns, hurdler, will compete.

Most famous of the South American aggregation is Jesse Ribas, of Argentina, a world record marathon star. Mel Porter, national A. A. U. champion, will wear the U. S. colors in the 26-mile marathon to be held the final night of the games.

NIGHT ESSENTIAL TO PLANT GROWTH

Earth Would Be Dreary Place Without Darkness.

Washington, D. C.—Darkness as well as light seems to be essential for life on earth. If there were no night this would be a desolate planet with extremely stunted vegetation and correspondingly meager food supply for animal life.

This appears from experiments on the curious phenomenon of phototropism, in which plants bend toward a source of light such as the sun, recently reported by Dr. Earl S. Johnston of the Smithsonian Institution, and Dr. Paul R. Burkholder of Connecticut college.

These experiments also give a clew to the mechanism of the rapid growth of plants in darkness which has often been reported.

Phototropism, as has long since been established, is due to the fact that growth of the plant is inhibited on the illuminated side. It bends its head in the direction of least growth.

Plant growth is activated by various substances, chemically very complex, which are present in the growing tips. These auxins, or plant hormones, Drs. Johnston and Burkholder find, tend to be inactivated by intense illumination. Consequently they are exerting less influence on the side of a plant upon which the light shines directly.

They conducted their experiments with oat, corn and tobacco seedlings. The growing tips containing the auxin were cut off. Some were illuminated and some were kept in darkness. Then their relative power of promoting growth in the decapitated seedlings upon which they were replaced was measured. Those kept in the dark, it was found, in some instances were twice as effective growth activators as those which had been irradiated.

The destruction or inactivation of the growth substance, the experimenters found, varied with the length and intensity of the illumination. It also varied, as might have been expected, with the variety of plant. Some plants, such as the sunflower, are much more sensitive than others—so sensitive, in fact, that its movements seem superficially to be controlled by an animal-like intention.

Offhand it appears somewhat paradoxical that growth should be most rapid in darkness, yet the phenomenon has often been observed. From these experiments it appears that light and darkness play complementary roles in growth. Light is required for the synthesis of the hormone in the growing tip of the plant, but, once formed, it is most effective as a growth activator in darkness.

Monoxide Gas Peril Is Ended by New Invention

Boston.—Breath of death—carbon monoxide fumes of automobile engines—may be eliminated by the invention of two Holyoke brothers.

Tests of the device, brain child of Romeo and Raoul Chentier, were made at the chemical laboratories of the occupational hygiene division of the state department of labor and industries.

The invention is a small motor-like attachment placed on the front of the engine under the hood of an automobile, and attached to the carburetor and to the exhaust pipe leading from the combustion chamber.

Raw gas from the carburetor is broken up as it enters the combustion chamber. All light gases in the gasoline are burned in the explosion, leaving no smoke from solids and gases to pass out of the exhaust.

Although tests at the state laboratories showed that a certain amount of carbon monoxide gas did pass out of the exhaust in spite of the device, the inventors claim that the major part of the danger from carbon monoxide gas is eliminated. They claim the device allows an automobile to travel from seven to eight more miles per gallon.

Girl Scientist Helps Blind Biology Students

Pittsburgh.—Velva Seyler, a graduate student at the University of Pittsburgh, has a strange medium for her art. A major student in biology, Miss Seyler "draws" animals and microscopic matter in wire, solder and ground glass so that blind students may "see" with their sensitive fingers what their more fortunate fellow students study on glass slides through the microscope.

The presence of several blind students at the university led Dr. Robert T. Hance, professor of biology, to experiment with methods of instruction so that sightless students could meet the laboratory requirements for degrees. He hit upon the idea of twisting solder and soft aluminum wire into the desired shapes and cementing them to cardboard.

Experts Roast Iron Ore to Make Market Product

Minneapolis.—Hopes of University of Minnesota scientists to convert low-grade iron ore into a salable product have been raised by success of an experimental plant. A roasting process converts hematite into a nonmagnetic substance which allows extraction of the iron on a commercial basis.

The hostess served ice cream cones and used small flags as favors.
