Special Interest Cotton Farmers Over Floyd County

Attention has just been received from the County Agent's Office in the placing of cotton in the county which was illegally obtained. The cotton was placed in Loan. It recently came to our attention that some cotton buyers are getting the cotton under the CCC loan by the device of getting the seller to execute the loan forms with their own names and turn over the money to the buyers. We are in most cases of this kind the producers are unaware that they are perpetrating a fraud on the United States, since they have no confidence in the integrity of the cotton buyers and are acting with the provisions of the act.

Schools Dismiss For Armistice Day Game With Matador Matadors

Floydada Public Schools will get a full holiday Thursday, Armistice Day, and in the afternoon at three o'clock the Matador Matadors will meet the Floydada Whirlwinds on Westerfield, it has been announced by Superintendent Cummings.

Schools will take up their work again Friday morning as usual, after the holiday. It is expected that there will be the largest crowd this season due to the fact that most of the stores will take a holiday, all or a part of the day and see the game.

Floydada Whirlwinds Lost Conference Game to Paducah Dragons

Floydada High School's Whirlwinds lost their conference game Friday night to Paducah by a score of 6 to 0. The hard fought battle took place on Wester Field. The teams were fairly even in strength, consequently the game was played largely in midfield. Floydada threatened in the first quarter when they penetrated deep into Paducah territory; however, the Whirlwind drive "fizzled" near Paducah's ten yard line. Late in the fourth quarter, Hinesman, Paducah back, scored on a drive over his own right end. The ball had been placed in scoring position by passes from Gibson to Isbell, tall Paducah end.

Floydada had a more powerful running attack than the Dragons were able to display Friday night; but the Whirlwinds were beaten by the brilliant passing of Paducah's Gibson, who out-classed the Floydada passer. Floydada played most of the game without the services of two valuable regulars: Martin, guard, and Hollingsworth, end. Martin received an ankle injury in the first quarter of the game and was unable to play longer, while Hollingsworth had been ill for a few days and was not allowed to enter the game.

Home Economics Teachers Attended District Meeting

Misses Lois Pouts and Fannie Mae Rees, home economics teachers, attended the district meeting for instructors of home economics held at Amarillo Friday of last week.

Miss Ester Sorenson, district supervisor, presided over the sessions. Miss Sorenson has her headquarters at Lubbock.

The new course of study was discussed by various home economics instructors, and also by state and district officials. About sixty five teachers were present at the gathering.

placing his cotton under loan because his landlord refuses to cooperate in 1938. A tenant may place his share of the cotton under loan even though he has not as yet found a place to farm in 1938. It is only required that he agree to participate in 1938 agricultural programs and in the event he does not he will not be entitled to the full benefit of the loan agreement, that is, he will remain liable for the fact amount of the note plus accrued interest and charges.

"With respect to the cotton price adjustment payment, the tenant becomes entitled to receive payment provided he submits proof of compliance with the 1938 Agricultural Adjustment Program to be formulated. It is immaterial whether he complies on the same farm operated in 1937 or another farm wherever located. It is easily understood how the landlord's refusal to cooperate in 1938 is forcing many tenants to leave the farms. However, we wonder if such landlords have given full consideration to the probable effects of their refusal. In so refusing the landlord himself will be unable to procure desirable tenants in 1938.

"Possibly landlords are refusing now for the reason that they wish first to understand the nature of the program to be formulated. While no accurate prediction can be made as to the precise nature of the contemplated legislation, it may be assumed that the program formulated under it will not be a radical departure from past programs. Congress convenes on November 15 and soon thereafter will begin consideration of the 1938 agricultural adjustment programs cited in the legislation provided for cotton price adjustment payments."

C. H. Grummish, High School Band Director attended the State Convention of Band and Orchestra Directors held at Lubbock Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. Mr. Grummish reported a very interesting and profitable gathering of music directors.

The Victor Class Method, which has been adopted by the State Association, was demonstrated by an eighty piece band, selected from those ranking first in the music contests held last spring. Proper methods for starting beginners on various types of string and wind instruments were also discussed and demonstrated. Various noted band conductors from many states were present as guest conductors. Among these was H. E. Nutt of Chicago.

A banquet for all guests was given at the Lubbock Hotel Friday night.

Memphis Citizens Hail News Of New Silvertown Highway Announcement

Memphis, Nov. 9.—Citizens were elated here Monday over advice received from the Texas State Highway Department, that a state highway had been designated in Hall and Briscoe counties from Memphis to Silvertown.

The lateral paved highway pioneered in Hall County a few years ago, extending southwest from Memphis a distance of 22 miles to Mulberry bridge, will become a part of the new state highway, and will be extended from its present terminal into Silvertown a distance of 20 miles to connect at the latter place with highway 86.

Prospects are good for the newly designated highway to become a part of an interstate highway connecting Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico and points west, M. O. oodpasture, county judge, stated.

Preliminary investigation of the newly designated state highway was made Monday by the division engineer's office of Childers.

Mayor of Floydada Solicits Cooperation In Taking Of Census

As Mayor of Floydada, with the postal employees and others cooperating in the National unemployment census, we are going to need your help, and appeal for your support.

The President of the United States has approved plans for taking a national census of unemployed and partly employed.

The number of unemployed will be determined from information secured by voluntary individual registration. A card to be filled in and returned to the post office will be delivered to every dwelling on November 16th, 1937. If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight Saturday, November 20th, 1937 (No postage needed). The President of the United States has stated to us under his signature as follows: "If you give me the facts, I will try to use them for the benefit of all who need work and do not have it now."

Any one wishing information is requested to confer with the post office department, who will distribute the cards and furnish other helpful information to registrants.

This is a very big job, and to be really valuable this voluntary registration of the unemployed must be honest and as nearly complete and accurate as humanly possible. With Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the U. S., John D. Biggers, administrator; Barbara Smith, postmaster, and the committee named, I again appeal for your support.
GLAD SNOODGRASS,
Mayor of Floydada, Texas.

Mr. Travis returned home Tuesday night.

School Dismisses For Armistice Day Celebration; Special Chapel Held

At a special chapel held Wednesday morning at Floydada High School, Superintendent A. D. Cummings stated that there would be no school Thursday, but that the students would be set free to celebrate the day at their own will.

High school students are taking part in many celebration activities in observance of Armistice Day, November 11. These activities include: a parade, which is being held this morning at ten-thirty; and a football game, which will begin at three o'clock this afternoon. The parade features the local band and pep squad, and will start from the Commercial Hotel. Beginning at three the Floydada Whirlwinds will battle the Matador Matadors on Wester Field. This game is the last home game of the season.

Several high school students also took part in a special assembly held Wednesday; however, most of the program was rendered by visitors, the program having been arranged by Principal O. K. Davis. Mrs. A. D. Cummings played three violin selections: "Memories", "Picardy", and "There's a Long, Long Trail". Roy Snodgrass made an interesting talk on his experiences in the World War. He also showed some very interesting war relics, one of which was the gas mask. Mrs. Ed Bond sang three numbers: "The Rose of No Man's Land", "Sing Me a Love Lullaby", and "That Old Pal of Mine".

The true spirit of Armistice was continued throughout the entire program, but was especially evident when members of the American Legion sang a medley of war songs. Two skits were presented, one illustrating the correct treatment of the flag at sunset, and the other illustrating "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning". The program concluded with the entire student body, under the direction of Mr. Grummish, singing "America". School will be resumed Friday.

Floydada Residents Contracting Several Blocks Of Street Topping

Approximately twenty-four blocks of paving have been contracted for by individuals in different residential sections of Floydada during the past few days to pave their portion of the property in the block that they own.

The Lone Star Construction Company who have recently completed paving work on highway 207, offered to do the paving for individuals for $75.00 per block.

Most of the streets that are being paved were built up several months ago with a caliche roadbed, and the paving crew are now planing and rolling the surface, after which they will put on the application of asphalt and gravel topping. Several blocks were completed last week, but the work has been halted this week waiting for the receipt of material to complete the job.

PERFECT COTTON PICKING WEATHER AIDS FARMERS IN GATHERING CROPS

Farmers, aided by the beautiful, sunny days, have been able to get under good headway with their cotton crops. A total of 5,100 bales had been ginned at the local gins late Wednesday, ginners reported. The total is expected to soar rapidly if the sunny weather continues.

Light showers which fell Tuesday morning have been the only hindrance, and we are hoping that the weather man will smile on us a few more days and give the farmers a chance to gather the remainder of their bounteous crop.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hollums and Harold Merrick made a business trip to Amarillo Saturday.

Congressman Mahon Will Leave For Washington To Attend Special Session

Colorado, Texas. — Congressman George Mahon, prior to his departure for Washington to attend the special session which convenes Monday, November 15th, made the following statement concerning the prospects for farm legislation:

"I think it is impossible to predict just what kind of bill will be passed. In our district a strong preference for a compulsory control bill has been expressed by a great majority of the farmers with whom I have come in contact in farm meetings or otherwise. Most cotton producers favor adjusted payments equivalent to parity, 16 cents or above, on that portion of the crop produced for domestic consumption. They feel that a moderate reduction program is necessary, but that adjustment payments will be required in order to get a price for cotton domestically consumed commensurate with the American standard or living. In view of the tremendous foreign production they realize that American cotton sold abroad will have to be sold in competition with the world and at a low price. In each county they favor allotments to each farm on a uniform basis of equality regardless of the length of time the farm has been in cultivation. They favor no discrimination against new farms in areas where a normal development of agricultural land is taking place. They favor a program which will place the emphasis on a normal size farm in each locality. They favor a farm policy which will encourage operation of farms by tenants and occupant owners and which will discourage the displacement of tenants and large operations through hired labor methods.

"In the minds of the producers there is a wide variety of opinion as to what should be done. In Congress, which is made up of representatives from all sections of the nation, there will be even a greater diversity of opinion. However, I think it can be safely predicted that the new program will be an improvement over the old."

South Plains People Are Invited To See "Parade of Progress"

The world famous "Parade of Progress," a miniature world's fair, will be brought to the South Plains for a three day showing in Lubbock November 21, 22 and 23, according to announcement made this week by local General Motors dealers.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific hundreds of thousands of men, women and children, hardly able to believe what their eyes beheld, have seen liquid light; music on a light beam; how a voice looks; water boiling, and an egg frying on a cold stove, frozen motion, the magic eye, and many other scientific phenomena. And now the people of the South Plains area will be given an opportunity to view for themselves these so-called unbelievable.

The Parade of Progress, on its cross-country tour, consists of some 41 mobile units. These huge "Leviathans of the Highways" which transport this "Circus of Science" are of special construction, and so large that special dispensation of the highway laws in almost every state must be secured before this caravan can proceed.

In the big silver top tent which comfortably seats fifteen hundred people, is told the story, both by motion picture and stage performances, of the past, present and future in economical and industrial life. Such narrators as Edwin C. Hill and Lowell Thomas will tell the story of industrial advancement.

The Texas campus has been selected as the site for the erection of this huge show. With nothing to buy, everything free and no admission charge, this dramatic and educational exposition is expected to attract thousands.

MINE TOWNS OF OLD WEST COME TO LIFE

Renewal of Hydraulic Operations the Cause.

Nevada City, Calif.—Names long since forgotten, which carried much of the color and romance of the old West, returned to prominence with an announcement that hydraulic mining operations in California may soon be resumed.

Ghostly Sierra towns, silent and deserted since hydraulic operations were stopped by court decision more than fifty years ago, are showing renewed signs of life.

The resurgence of these glittering camps of the forty-niner era will be occasioned by allocation of federal funds to build debris dams in several rivers of importance both to mining and agricultural and shipping interests in northern California. President Roosevelt signed the bill which appropriated $1,500,000 for this purpose.

The roll call of towns once famed for hydraulic mining reads like a page from the Bret Harte days. There is North San Juan, North Bloomfield, Columbia Hill, French Corral, the Lucky Jane drift mine, Relief Hill—each has its history, each its place in the stirring history of gold in California.

Mining men foresee far-reaching activity, great benefits to come. They said natural erosion from the Sierra, now carried down the Sacramento river, will be stopped by the debris dams, and the federal governments will save thousands of dollars spent to keep the river open to navigation.

The Sacramento, a major inland waterway, is used extensively by San Francisco bay region and upper California shipping interests.

Meantime, at Relief Hill, the sight of outlet tunnels, sluiceways and ditches, familiar to oldtime miners, is reassuring to residents of that vicinity. Maximum operation is expected by 1938.

One mining man, elated by prospects of renewed operations, said:

"We of the old school of hydraulic mining will install every new method for the recovery of not only the fine free gold but the black sands which also contain fine gold, platinum and other precious minerals, the great part of which was lost by the old methods of hydraulic mining."

Kentucky Relics Reveal New Prehistoric People

Lexington, Ky.—Evidence of a prehistoric race of cave dwellers that buried its women and children and cremated its men has been discovered by University of Kentucky anthropologists in rock shelters of eastern Kentucky.

The anthropologists—Professors W. S. Webb and W. D. Funkhouser—completely excavated the Newt Kasch shelter in Menifee county and reported it differed greatly from caves in surrounding counties.

There was a decided dearth of flint, pottery and bone but an unusual amount of vegetable matter and some surprisingly fine fabric.

The excavating party was puzzled by a series of large pits dug in the subsoil. It was believed the pits were used for storage purposes.

Other unique features of the cave were several curious masses of matting, cane grass and fragments of textiles. It was believed they were used as mattresses or possibly as bags for transporting food to the shelter.

Only one burial site was found in the shelter proper. Located between two large boulders, the grave contained the fragmentary remains of a male infant. The grave was crudely dug, leading to the belief that the burial was hasty and informal.

In no other shelters in Kentucky have graves containing male bones been found, although large numbers of female skeletons have been discovered.

Indian Mummy Is Boom to Mammoth Cave's Gate

Washington.—A pre-Columbian Indian mummy is a great attraction at Kentucky's Mammoth cave. Not only has the relic fascinated scientists but it has drawn record public attendance.

Lying but a few feet from the spot where it was discovered by Civilian Conservation corps enrollees, the body rests in the same posture it has maintained for centuries. Near by hangs suspended the five-ton rock that caused the death of the prehistoric miner as he worked far under ground, and at least five miles from the only entrance to the cave then in existence.

Bermuda Bans Motor on Yank's Bicycle

Hamilton, Bermuda.—Carl G. Wirt, an American resident, thinks cyclists are entitled to some assistance on Bermuda's steep hills and has imported a small motor for attachment to his bicycle.

Mr. Wirt is unable to use highways because of the strict laws against motor vehicles but can enjoy motor-assisted rides on private property.

Several legislators who have tried the device say there is little possibility of approval of its use on roads.

Report of the Grand Jury of the District Court of Floyd County Texas

To the Honorable Alton B. Chapman, Judge of said Court:

We, your grand jury for the October term of the district court of Floyd county, Texas, wish to report that we have been in session three days during this term of court, and after having thoroughly investigated into all matters brought to our attention have returned 7 felony indictments, and having completed all of our investigations now desire to adjourn for the term.

We desire to call to the attention of the public generally that the farmers over the county are now in the midst of a heavy harvest and that there is a great deal of transportation of cotton and other crops over the roads and highways of Floyd County at night. And there are many farmers who transport their cotton to the gins at night in wagons and trailers without having any kind of light or reflector on the rear of such vehicles, making it almost impossible for anyone approaching from the rear to see such vehicles in time to avoid collision; that such vehicles without lights, in addition to being a violation of the law, are a great menace to the traveling public, and if not corrected will, in all probability result, before the harvest season is over, in the death of several innocent people, and in great property damage. We, your grand jury, therefore recommend to the officers of this county, to the safety committees of the various organizations of the county, to the farmers, and to the public generally that every effort be put forth to have all vehicles traversing the roads at night properly lighted both in front and at the rear, as a safeguard against such calamities.

We also respectfully call attention to the fact that a majority of the indictments returned by us have been for operating motor vehicles on the public roads of the county while intoxicated and while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. We respectfully direct the attention of the public to the fact that such a crime is one of the most dangerous to society that we have. That it endangers the lives of innocent women and children and of all who use the roads of the county, and an automobile in the hands of a drunken driver is potentially one of the most dangerous weapons that can be turned loose on the traveling public, and a person who will deliberately operate an automobile while in such a condition necessarily must be indifferent to the welfare of others and devoid of all sense of responsibility for the safety of his neighbors. We respectfully urge the citizens of our county to help curb this tendency and to do all in their power to prevent such occurrences.

We desire to commend all of the officers of this county for their diligent efforts in enforcing the laws of Floyd County, and for the effective manner in which our investigations reveal they have discharged their duty.

W. EDD BROWN, Foreman of the grand jury.

Seniors Make Good Profit On Rummage Sale Saturday

The Senior Class of Floydada High School sponsored a rummage sale Saturday of last week for the purpose of raising funds to be used for the activities of the class. The sale was held in the Brown Brothers building, the use of which was donated. Utilities were also donated, and most of the stores added something to the store of "rummage."

Almost everything, including dresses, suits, shoes, hats, toys, food, and household furnishings, was listed in the sale, all of which came through donations. The class reports a net profit of thirty-four or thirty-five dollars, and desires to express its appreciation for all the cooperation and donations given.

It is likely that the stock will be replenished and that another sale of the same type will be held Saturday, November 20. Definite arrangements have not yet been made.

Mrs. L. G. Mathews visited over the week end in Denver, Colorado, with her daughter, Miss Irene Mathews. Miss Mathews is attending college in that city. Mrs. Mathews returned home Monday night.

Egyptian Pyramids Are Built of Stone, Brick

There are in all 70 of the Egyptian pyramids. Seven of these are at Gizeh, five at Abusir, eleven at Sak-kara, five at Dashur and the remainder scattered throughout the country. Some are built of stone and others of brick.

The principal ones, including the great pyramid of Cheops, are at Gizeh. The great pyramid was erected as a mausoleum for Khufu or Cheops, of the fourth Egyptian dynasty, who reigned about 3800 B. C. It is constructed of stone, transported for the most part, over a causeway eight miles long, extending from the quarries to the site. It is said that the construction of this causeway alone occupied 100,000 men ten years.

Twenty years more were consumed in building the pyramid itself, which is 450 feet 9 inches in height, and 746 feet square at the base, and is estimated to contain 6,800,000 tons of stone. The four sides exactly face the four cardinal points. This is the case with all the pyramids, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The interior contains what are called the king's chamber and the queen's chamber, in which the sarcophagi and the bodies of the sovereigns were found, and numerous small chambers.

Various theories have been advanced as to the religious and astronomical uses intended in the construction of the great pyramid and several of the lesser ones. While for the most part conjectural, these explanations of the monuments have brought into being a very extensive literature.

Old Village in England Does Not Know Real Name

Lymminster, Sussex, one of the oldest villages in England, does not know its real name, observes Pearson's London Weekly.

Its history goes back to the year 901, when King Alfred the Great bequeathed the village to his nephew. It was then known as Lullymminster. Ever since then, different names for it have continually cropped up, and things became so confused that the villagers met and decided on the present name, though there is still much doubt as to whether they have chosen correctly.

Lymminster, like most villages, has its pond, but it is a very special pond. Tradition declares that it once sheltered a fierce dragon, and some villagers firmly believe that the pond is bottomless. Many a tale is told in Lymminster of people who have been drowned in it, and the bodies have never been recovered. Geologists, however, think that there is an underwater tunnel at the bed of the pond, and a submerged current sucks down anything that sinks below the surface.

Mrs. L. G. Mathews visited over the week end in Denver, Colorado, with her daughter, Miss Irene Mathews. Miss Mathews is attending college in that city. Mrs. Mathews returned home Monday night.
