Highway Traffic Is Counted Exactly by the Robot Watchman

Provides Basis for All Safety Regulations

Washington.—A roadway's traffic pattern which varies with the day of the week, the hour of the day and the day of the month, is the dictator of all safety and traffic regulation policies, as well as the selector of all new highway undertakings.

Robot infra-red light beam "watchmen" are one of the new mechanisms by which highway engineers now keep a 24-hour watch on roads where changes are needed.

Infra-red beams directed across the highway onto photoelectric cells now keep watch and are able to count as high as 24,000 vehicles an hour. Operation of the device costs $150 a year compared with $5,000 for a continuous manual counter check.

The photo-electric counter is seldom noticed by even the most observing motorists. It consists of two short posts with cross arms, one on either side of the road. The post supporting the light source is equipped with two ordinary automobile headlight bulbs whose light is rendered invisible by filters. This eliminates any confusion which might result in night traffic. Parallel beams projected across the road and spaced 20 inches apart provide a current path to the photo tubes on the opposite post.

Count Is Almost Perfect.

Whenever the two light beams are intercepted simultaneously the interruption is recorded by the counting mechanism in the receiving box. At the end of each hour the printing apparatus stamps the day of the week, the time, and the cumulative traffic total. If the current should fail, the time of the failure is recorded, as well as the number of vehicles counted up to the breakdown.

Errors in the count never exceed 5 per cent of actual traffic volumes, and are usually held to within 1 or 2 per cent of accuracy. There are, however, several unavoidable sources of error, such as when two cars passing the counter in opposite directions intercept the light beams at the same time. Only one vehicle is then recorded.

"Phantom" trucks have been found which pass by the electric eyes without being seen. This mystery was solved when it was observed that the ghost trucks were painted either white or aluminum, with the result that at certain hours during spring or fall days sufficient light was reflected back to a receiving unit which faced north so that the light ordinarily furnished by the light source was replaced.

Most of the freak errors encountered cancel out, and the automatic recorders can be relied upon, with a minimum of attention, to provide accurate 24-hour information.

Curtains of Light Used to Measure Projectile Speed

Ottawa, Can.—An artillery shell crashing through invisible curtains of light is the newest means of determining the speed of projectiles developed by scientists at the National Research Laboratories here. Particular merit of the system is its portability which enables it to be used in the field and bring added accuracy to computations of range in actual combat.

Light beams, mirrors, photoelectric cells and sensitive recording mechanism are the equipment which makes possible the new development of Dr. D. C. Rose, physicist in the division of physics and electrical engineering of the Canadian NRL.

Curtain of Light Used.

In effect the artillery shell passes down a narrow tunnel and every 50 feet intersects a beam of light falling on a photocell. Momentarily the shell blocks off the light beam and this decrease in light intensity cuts down the electrical output of the cell. By an amplifying system this electrical change produces a permanent record on photographic film.

In field tests at the military camp at Petawawa, Dr. Rose set up metal frames whose upper and lower surfaces consisted of mirrors. A beam of light started from the bottom and was reflected back and forth across the space between the mirrors until its ray finally fell on a photoelectric cell concealed in a small box attached to the upper part of the frame. Thus the entire space within the frame was filled with a light beam which could be blocked out by the onrushing shell.

A series of four of these frames were carefully lined up before an artillery piece which at a known, and automatically registered instant fired its shell through the frames.

Miss Lera Opal Patton Becomes Bride of C. L. McMurray

Dodging local publicity, Miss Lera Opal Patton and C. L. McMurray left Floydada early Tuesday morning and headed toward Vernon, where they planned to be married by Dr. James, pastor of the Baptist Church in Vernon. Their intentions were whispered only to immediate relatives and friends.

Having lived in Floydada for a number of years and having graduated from the Floydada High School with the class of '34, the bride was well known here. She was formerly employed with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DRILLING HALTED ON THOMAS MONTGOMERY NO. 1 FOR FISHING JOB

Drilling on the Thomas Montgomery No. 1 halted Tuesday at the depth of 5,082 feet, when a fishing job became necessary. While drilling Tuesday, the bit stuck, and efforts to release it pulled the drill stem into. Officials stated that the fishing job was very indefinite. Several days might be required to pick up the stem, while it might be picked up in a very short time. Drilling was going faster when the bit stuck Tuesday than was reported for last week, 412 feet having been drilled from Wednesday of last week until the halt was made Tuesday of this week; while a total depth of 390 feet was drilled the previous week.

Miss Mary Katherine Daniel, who has been in a long cast for the past eight weeks for the correction of a dislocated bone, is now able to be about; however, she is being required to wear a shorter cast for some time. Miss Daniel, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Daniel, returned from Dallas Tuesday after having been there since Sunday. While in Dallas, Miss Daniel was taken from the long cast and placed in the smaller one, thus enabling her to walk. Examination showed that she was doing as well as could be expected. It is thought likely that she will be able to resume her school work next week.

Mrs. Maurine Thompson of San Antonio and Baird Bishop of this city were wed Saturday morning at 8:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daily. Rev. ROTARY CLUB CELEBRATED TENTH ANNIVERSARY WEDNESDAY

The Rotary Club met at noon Wednesday in celebration of its tenth anniversary. Forty persons, including members and guests were present for the celebration. Guests, which numbered ten or twelve, were former rotarians.

A birthday cake, beautifully decorated, bore ten lighted candles. A red carnation with a sprig of fern was pinned on the coat lapel of each one present, adding color to the gay affair.

The program opened with a piano selection by the club's regular pianist, Miss Sappho Ward. S. W. Ross followed with a talk on "Achievements of the Club." Homer Steen, former member and also former president of the club, spoke on "My Recollections as a former Rotarian," which concluded the program for the day.

During the ten years since the organization of the Rotary Club, ten presidents have served, all of which were present for Wednesday's celebration. Pictures were made of the presidents in a group, and group pictures were also made of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Austin and family of Lubbock spent the week end here at the home of Mrs. Austin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shaw.
