Seed Law Protects The Farmer

October 22.—The new seed law, passed by the 47th legislature, will help eliminate one of the hazards of farming—that is, the purchase of seed, according to J. E. McCarty, State Commissioner of Agriculture. The law requires that seed offered for sale for planting purposes must be tagged, commonly accepted name, germination percentage, mechanical purity and other information. Thus, the farmer will be able to buy seed for his purposes without taking the risk of its actual value.

Other states had more stringent laws governing the sale and distribution of seed, it was necessary to draw uniform laws for farmers from other states, as well as to protect the individual farmer from inferior quality of seed through the channels of Texas trade.

The act, designed by agricultural leaders and Texas Seed Council members, passed by the legislature in the House and without a vote in the Senate.

The use of good seed is a vital factor in any farm program, states a pamphlet on the new law issued by J. E. McCarty, Commissioner of Agriculture. Landon Jones, Chief of the Laboratory Division. "If the farmer will plant seed of known quality, more uniform stands will be obtained, resulting in a substantially increased income for our farm families."

Nothing in the act to prevent a farmer from selling to another farmer seed grown on his farm. The seed is not advertised in the press outside the vendor's territory and not shipped by common carrier.

The farmer leaves on consignee to sell planting seed to a merchant processor or seed dealer in his county, the dealer is required to have the seed tested and before it is offered or exchanged.

Improvement Program of Wheat Is Advancing

College Station.—An outstanding result of the Extension Service wheat program in Texas is characterized by E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas Extension Service as "a remarkable reduction of stinking smut." He attributes this to seed treatment demonstrations and other educational work by extension county agricultural agents, "and has meant many thousands of dollars extra profit to wheat producers."

For instance, Miller explains, in 1931 more than 1,000 carloads of wheat graded smutty at the Amarillo grain grading laboratory, which is one of several laboratories in the state. During the past few years, however, only a few cars have been so classed. Smut not only reduces yield, but also causes a dockage when the wheat is sold.

Miller, who recently attended a series of meetings conducted in cooperation with the Texas Wheat Improvement Association in most of the wheat growing counties, says that the wheat quality improvement program was started to counteract the increasing acreage of certain poor baking quality varieties. Some of these had been increased in several counties to the point where there was danger that Texas would lose its enviable reputation of producing high quality wheat.

Educational meetings called by extension county agricultural agents were held in most of the leading wheat growing counties in the summer of 1940 to discuss with farmers the importance of growing only good quality wheat and in that way maintain good markets. Follow-up educational meetings in which county agricultural agents, vocational teachers and others cooperated, were held in 1941.

The agronomist quotes a recent progress report of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station which recommends three hard red winter varieties: Turkey, Tenmarq and Standard Blackhull—for the main wheat area of the state on the basis of their baking quality and performance in experimental tests. In the section east of Denton and Grayson counties the soft winter varieties of Red May and Mediterranean are recommended.

Sheppard Field Will be Dedicated Friday

Wichita Falls.—Sheppard Field, world's largest air corps technical training school, will be officially dedicated Friday as the headline feature of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma's historic two-day Sheppard Field Jubilee celebration.

Jubilee officials estimate 100,000 visitors will participate in the dedicatory ceremonies, scheduled to start at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

Mrs. Morris Sheppard, wife of the late, famed Texas statesman in whose honor the $18,000,000 air corps technical training school will be named, will attend the dedication in company with scores of high ranking government, army and air corps officials.

Jubilee festivities will start Thursday night and continue at a streamlined speed through Saturday. Participation of military units from Camp Barkeley at Abilene and Fort Sill, Oklahoma is assured. Artillery, infantry and military band units from both posts will figure prominently in the dedicatory ceremonies and other Jubilee activities.

Saturday's events will be headlined at 10:30 a. m. with the Jubilee and Grand Military Parade. Final plans indicate it will surpass in size and grandeur anything ever presented in the history of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Entertainment, both day and night, will be plentiful throughout the celebration. There will be rodeos and horse shows afternoon and night on both days, Indians, Hardin-Simmons famous Cowboy band with its six white horses and beautiful Cowgirls, entertainment by Sheppard Field soldiers, old fiddler's contests, whiskey judging, square and street dancing and a bevy of sports events including bowling, sail boating, casting, horse shoe pitching and golf.

Trains will run each hour Friday from Wichita Falls to Sheppard Field. Admission to the dedicatory ceremonies within the post grounds will be absolutely free.

Dalton Jones, Carl Lester Minor and Emmett Earl Henson, of Lubbock Tech, spent the week end with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. U. White and son, Bob, who attended the Dallas State Fair last week, returned to their home Sunday evening.

Not Wheat but Milk and Eggs

In 1918 wheat headed the list of farm products needed for national defense purposes. In today's emergency, however, the emphasis is on foods such as milk and eggs. There is plenty of wheat on hand—in fact, nearly a two year's supply is stored in the nation's Ever-Normal Granary. The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges that farmers, in planning for next year, hold down production of surplus crops such as wheat and at the same time expand production of defense foods needed today.

May Grow Cork In Texas as Proving Ground

College Station.—Texas may be chosen as the proving ground to test the feasibility of growing cork oak in the United States.

According to information, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service is planning a small experiment program during the coming year on the planting and cultivation of the species, provided the necessary supply of acorns can be obtained.

It is said that the climate of parts of Texas is very similar to that of the mountainous portions of Spain, Portugal and north Africa, the natural habitat of the cork oak. The bark is the portion of the tree processed for commercial cork production.

Although no cork producing trees grow in Texas now, C. W. Simmons, farm forester of the A. and M. College Extension Service, says that in view of the similarity of climate, together with altitudes and wide choice of soils there seems to be no biological reason why it should not be grown successfully in sections of Texas. Several species of the oak are grown in the state and Simmons is of the opinion that east central Texas, especially the upper end of the live oak areas, might be best suited for propagation of cork oaks in the event the USDA Forest Ser-

Hints on Meat Broiling Given by Hazel Phipps

The secret of successful meat broiling lies in moderate temperatures, says Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Then, too the meat itself has a lot to do with that thick, tender, juicy perfection in meat. For broiling, steaks and chops cut at least an inch and one-half or more from the loin and rib sections of beef and lamb are best. The meat should have plenty of fat, some of it distributed in marbling through the lean. If less tender cuts are broiled they should be ground with suet.

Here is the method Miss Phipps recommends: "Preheat the oven setting the control at 500 degrees F. and allow 10 minutes for heating. Cut down temperature to 350 degrees F. Prepare the steak cutting through the fat and connective tissue on the outside edges about every inch. Oil the broiler rack and place the meat on it. Adjust the height of the broiler so that the upper surface of the meat is three inches from the source of heat."

"Keep the oven door closed when broiling at this low contact heat. Cook the meat without turning for slightly more than half the time. Then turn and broil the other side. Season and serve on a hot platter."

The time required to broil steaks depends on the thickness of the cut, the temperature used in broiling and the degree of doneness desired. A one inch beef steak would require about 30 to 40 minutes to broil at 300 to 350 degrees F. to the medium-well-done stage.

Steaks broiled at lower temperatures (300 to 350 degrees F) are more tender. The low temperature gives a more uniformly cooked product and keeps the steak more juicy.

vice extends its proposed experiment to Texas.

The United States has been importing about $10,000,000 worth of cork yearly from the Mediterranean area. Growing shortage to meet defense requirements has raised the question about the possibility of growing a backlog of the material in this country.

Geo. M. Finkner is Chosen Chairman United China Relief

Dallas, Texas.—Nathan Adams, Texas Chairman for United China Relief announced today that Geo. M. Finkner had consented to serve as United China Relief Chairman for Floydada and adjacent territory.

United China Relief is a nation wide drive to raise funds for the sixty millions of civilian war sufferers in China who are homeless, starving and destitute as the result of Japan's invasion and bombing of their country. The national goal is $5,000,000, of which $1,750,000 has already been raised. The Texas quota is $200,000.

Funds will be raised in hundreds of Texas communities by local committees by direct solicitation and through the staging of entertainments and benefits. All contributions should be sent to the local chairman who will forward them to Nathan Adams, President of the First National Bank in Dallas.

"The suffering in China after four years of fighting to maintain her independence as a democracy is beyond description," Mr. Adams says. "Chinese cities have been bombed without mercy and thousands of wounded lack surgical supplies, especially anaesthetics. China's resistance to Axis aggression lessens the likelihood that America will have to fight Japan. This democratic nation is fighting for the same ideals as our own. American help to China will keep up the morale of this brave nation and encourage it to continue to resist Hitler's ally. An American dollar will but ten times as much in China as it will at home. United China Relief is a great humane and patriotic cause which should appeal to every Texan."

Harold Chapman, of Camp Bowie, Brownwood, arrived in Floydada Monday. Harold plans to spend his ten day furlough visiting friends here and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman, at Lubbock.

Once the county goals are fixed, a state wide farm to farm canvass will be made to obtain pledges of increased production from Texas farmers who are being asked to up their milk production four percent, egg production ten percent, and the pring pig crop seventeen percent over 1941. The sign-up will get under way in November.

Goals set for the counties were in all cases minimum goals, Vance declared, and are subject to revision by county boards.

TEXAS WHEAT INSURANCE SHOWS SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE

Texas wheat farmers have obtained loans on 9,024,471 bushels of wheat in the last 30 days, according to P. C. Colgin, commodity loan supervisor of the state AAA.

Total figures for the state show 15,868,728 bushels have been used as collateral for $15,409,529 with three months remaining until the closing date, December 31. Included in the state figures are regular warehouse, Federal Crop Insurance, farm mortgage and excess wheat loans, the AAA official said.

Heaviest increase during the 30-day period is in farm storage loans which jumped from 10 loans on 10,998 bushels to 246 loans on 549,604 bushels.

Regular warehouse loans, made to producers planting within acreage allotments, lead with 19,215 loans on 14,173,053 bushels for a total of $14,030,997. FCI loans have been made to 1,849 producers on 943,458 bushels. Only 16 excess wheat loans have been made to date in the states, Colgin said.

To secure 319 barley loans for $153,304, Texas farmers have stored 404,609 bushels. Barley loans will also be taken until December 31.

According to latest figures released by the Commodity Credit Corporation, Texas led only by Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma in the amount of money advanced to co-operating farmers, the AAA official said. Total CCC figures show 206,398,926 bushels have been stored to secure $207,775,924 in loans throughout the wheat states.

BIGGER AND BETTER PIG LITTERS ASKED

College Station.—Texas hog producers were asked today to save 17 percent more pigs out of their spring litters in 1942 and 15 percent more out of their fall litters this year.

In a statement clarifying the tentative pork production goals for Texas announced at the recent Southern regional meeting of USDA defense boards, H. H. Williamson, vice-chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board and director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, declared the figures given were minimum goals in all cases.

"Hog marketings and farm slaughter for Texas in 1942 are expected to be 489,700,000 pounds as compared with 524,576,000 pounds in 1940", Williamson said. "The figure for 1942 is in no sense a maximum, but we are trying to be honest with ourselves and with the people administering the farm defense program. We don't want to promise more pork than we can produce. If we can produce more, then that's all to the good."

USDA DEFENSE BOARD SETS COUNTY PRODUCTION GOALS

College Station.—The Texas USDA Defense Board, meeting in College Station Tuesday, set tentative production of foods needed for defense for every county in the state in the national "Food For Freedom" campaign.

State production goals, which were announced last week, were broken down by counties by the Agricultural Marketing Service for the consideration of the defense board. Sitting with the board in its study of the county goals were specialists from the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service and the Farm Security Administration who are familiar with the productive capacities and outlets of the various farming areas of the State.

The county goals, asking for increases in milk, eggs, pork, vegetables and various other crops, are being submitted to the 254 county USDA defense boards in the state for their consideration, B. F. Vance chairman of the Texas board, said. The county boards may either accept the goals as submitted or adjust

Will the tires you buy be safe after you bump into a curb?

By accident, most of us have bumped into a curb. Sometimes we sail over ruts and pavement breaks or bounce over railroad tracks too fast. These are the sudden shocks that put tires to a severe test... one of the times when top quality counts... where low quality tires bruise easily—bruises that in time become slow leaks or blowouts. Only quality tires can give the greatest protection against blowouts.
