North Texas State Teachers Meeting For Practice

Denton, Texas, December 10.—Meeting for practice sessions twice a day, the Eagle cagers of North Texas State Teachers College are smoothing their leathers before entering the spirited Lone Star Conference cage race.

In warm-up games, the Dentonites dropped two hot tuts to the towering basketcoers of Texas Wesleyan College last week. The first duel counted 37-31 in favor of the Rams, and the second tussel was 44-38 in the Ram's favor. T. W. C., boasting veteran forwards and plenty of sky-scraping guards, showed speed and experience in topping new Eagle mentor, Lloyd Russell.

The North Texans started the season with four returning lettermen and several other lads who are looking fine in early-season play. Russell is leaning his victory hopes on the steller playing of shifty Ross Cotins of Elsasville, who led Eagle scoring through both of the bouts with T. W. C.

Bill Menefee, hailing from Granddalis, is serving his second year as captain of the Eagle cage team and is showing smooth style in his final year of service for the green and white. Other veterans include Kenneth Eason, junior from Vernon; J. B. Lane, junior from Goodiet; and Bud Hopkins, sophomore from Krum.

Last year the Eagles split top honors in the Lone Star Conference with East Texas State and this year year the Denton team is setting the sights of its guns on full first-place honors. Twenty-two men compose the squad at home games, but only ten will journey to out-of-town meets. Lack of transportation facilities has limited the traveling squad, but not the fight for berths on that squad. Plenty of pep and ginger in the new cage team should develop into winning basketball tactics and the Eagles will be out to tack victories to their season record.

This week will see the Eagle returning games with two Fort Worth teams, T. C. U. on Decem-

Four questions every American should ask himself

1. HOW CAN I HELP WIN THE WAR?
2. HOW CAN I KEEP THE COST OF LIVING DOWN?
3. HOW CAN I BE SURE TO HAVE SOME MONEY TO TIDE ME OVER THE PERIOD OF RE-ADJUSTMENT WHEN THE WAR IS WON?
4. HOW CAN I GET $4 FOR $3?

• An answer to all four questions is: BUY WAR BONDS through the Payroll Savings Plan.

The more bonds you buy, the more quickly we can win the war.

The more bonds you buy, the more you reduce the possibility of a rising cost of living.

The more bonds you buy now, the more money you will have when the war is won.

The more bonds you buy, the more four dollars you'll get for threes!

Put at least 10%—not 6%, or 7%, or even 9%, but 10%—of your earnings into War Bonds. Do it through your company. Twenty-one million Americans are doing it now. Let's make it at least 10% for every American!

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

If you are...

1. Already setting aside 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan—boost that 10% if you can.
2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
3. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
4. Unable to get in on the Payroll Savings Plan for any reason, go to your local bank. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

New Year's Game At Cotton Bowl In Dallas

Dallas, Texas, December 10.—Roy Dale McKay, the Old Man River of D. K. Bible's Southwest Conference champions, the University of Texas Longhorns, will have a prominent role in New Year's Day doings at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas when Texas plays Georgia Tech, winner of nine and loser of one game this past season.

McKay, listed on several All-American selections, is considered the best all-around back to play in the Southwest in several seasons, being a unanimous choice for all-Conference honors this year. He has consistently been at the top among college kickers, passers and runners this season, leading the Conference in ground gained rushing. In addition, he plays a fine defensive game.

Georgia Tech is one of three teams which tied for the Southeastern Conference title this year, and numbered among its victims this season such outstanding teams as Alabama, Duke, Notre Dame, Navy, Kentucky and Florida.

Tech is one of the perennial powers in American collegiate foot ball, having defeated California in the Rose Bowl game of 1928 and having won from Missouri in the Orange Bowl in 1940.

Canadian Paratroops Graduate at Fort Benning, Ga.

Example of United States-Canadian cooperation in the all-out war against the Axis was the graduation of the great U. S. Army paratroop school at Fort Benning of selected Canadian soldiers.

It was a matter of considerable pride to the Canadians that they were presented the same paratrooper insignia as that of the United States army men who had finished their training. Later, they will be supplied with their own Canadian Army paratrooper badge. In the upper photo, General George P. Howell, head of the paratroop school at Fort Benning, is shown pinning the wings on the tunic of Captain H. A. Fauquier, of Ottawa. The Captain is a brother of the famed R.C.A.F. fighter ace Johnny Fauquier, D.F.C. In the lower photo, the Canadian paratroopers are shown marching out to the graduation ceremonies, under the wings of a giant U. S. troop transport.

Now that the formation of the first paratroop unit is well under way, it is expected that the Canadian Army will broaden its training activities in this latest type of warfare.

58,307 U. S. Casualties

Washington, Dec. 7.—The first year of war cost the United States armed forces 58,307 casualties, the Office of War Information reported today.

This total, complete to today, includes dead, wounded, missing, interned in neutral countries, and prisoners.

The casualties number those of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, merchant marine and the Philippine Scouts, it was stated.

The army's casualties totaled 35,678, most of them classified as missing and presumed to have been made prisoners of war after the campaigns in the Philippines and Dutch East Indies. Definite information is lacking because of the absence of accurate prisoner lists from Japan.

The navy department reported, or now is in the process of reporting, 22,629 casualties.

All Cotton Farmers are Eligible to Vote Saturday

Colege Station, December 10.—All farmers engaged in cotton production in 1942 are eligible to vote in the cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 12th.

Not only are they eligible, but they are urged to participate in the balloting which will decide the course of cotton during 1943, Fred Rennels, assistant AAA administrative officer, declared.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting in Saturday's referendum favor quotas, then they will be in effect on the 1943 crop, but Rennels pointed out that for the vote to be truly representative of grower opinion, a large vote is necessary.

AAA regulations provide that all farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1942 as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant, or landlord of a share tenant, or as share tenant or sharecropper are eligible to vote, except that farmers who produce only cotton with a staple length of one one-half inches or more in length are not eligible. Such cotton is not subject to quotas.

Rennels emphasized that the referendum would affect only the 1943 crop, and he pointed out that if quotas are rejected then no government loan can be offered on the 1943 crop. According to law, loans at 90 percent of aprity will be offered if necessary to support the price of cotton.

SNOW GENERAL OVER FLOYD COUNTY; GOOD MOISTURE CONTENT

The first snow of the season blanketed Floyd County early Sunday morning and continued falling throughout the day. The snow amounted to about five inches in Floydada, with some parts of the county reporting more. The R. E. A. weather gauge in Floydada registered .46 inches of moisture from the snow.

Reports from all parts of the county indicated that the snow was general, and the general belief is that winter wheat will benefit from the added moisture.

Over the Top by New Year's Is the Plea of Secretary Morgenthau

As of today twenty-one million American workers are investing eight per cent of their salary—every pay day—in United States War Savings Bonds. This is a very remarkable tribute to our armed forces who are fighting this war. But this job is only two-thirds accomplished.

There are nine million additional American workers who are not investing in War Bonds every pay day.

This appeal is directed to two groups of Americans:

First—the twenty-one million people who are investing eight per cent of their wages. We ask them to increase their investment to ten per cent or more.

Second—the other nine million whom we ask to join the Payroll Savings Plan and to invest ten per cent or more of their earnings.

It is our earnest hope here at the Treasury Department that by New Year's Day thirty million Americans will be investing ten per cent or more of their wages in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

1943 aaa Program Is Geared to War Needs

College Station, December 10.—Maximum production from America's wartime agricultural plant is the basis of the 1943 AAA program announced this week.

The program places emphasis on the production of war crops and provides stiff payment deductions on farms failing to meet war production goals, George Slaughter, Texas AAA committee chairman, pointed out.

Payments are designed to help get full production of the kinds and in the amounts needed, and all crop payments are to be contingent on the degree to which the farmer meets his goals, the AAA official pointed out. Deductions will be made from the farm's maximum production adjustment payments, or allowance, for failure to meet specified goals of both allotment crops and special war-crops.

Every farmer in the state cooperating with the program must sign a farm plan outlining his part in wartime production. In the plan the farmer will list the wartime crop adjustments he will make to help him meet his war production goals and the conservation practices he will undertake to help get increased yields in 1943.

Failure to plant at least 90 percent of special crop allotments for cotton, wheat and rice will result in payment deductions at the rate of five times the compliance rate, which means that a farmer's crop payment would be wiped out entirely should he plant only 70 percent of his allotment. Under certain conditions, however, farmers will be allowed to substitute special warcrops or designated feed crops for their allotment crops and still remain in compliance.

Failure to achieve 90 per cent of warcrop goals for a farm will incur crop payment deductions at the rate of $15 per acre, Slaughter said.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS FOR WEEK ENDING DECEMBER 5

The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending December 5, 1942, were 22,694 compared with 23,739 for the same week in 1941. Cars received from connections totaled 11,666 compared with 8,341 for the same week in 1941. Total cars moved were 34,360 compared with 32,080 for the same week in 1941. Santa Fe handled a total of 33,057 cars in the preceding week of this year.

The Texas State Capitol Building at Austin has 18 acres of floor space and approximately 500 rooms.

Janey
Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peeked out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing-paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister Rose was such a pig about. She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau," and held her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class.

"Here are my stamps for a bond. $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud to say I worked hard to get it."

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen elegantly in air. "Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had sealed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane go humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Jan-ey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr nor a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

(Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Grown-ups and children alike should all help the "breadwinner" of the family to budget for War Bonds. Let's all join a payroll savings plan and "top that 194 by New Year's."

Yes, sir, these tools have a big responsibility during the war, but you won't find them shirking. The war has made their job increasingly difficult. New appliances are gradually disappearing from our shelves and it will be our job, yours and mine, to keep the old ones in repair. It takes trained labor and service parts requiring critical materials to make a service department function efficiently. Uncle Sam needs both labor and material. Therefore, we on the Home Front are called upon to help, by taking care of the appliances you have.

You can help by advising us of your service needs as far in advance as possible. You can help by exercising a patient understanding when parts, which under normal times could be obtained in a few days, are delayed much longer. Emergency jobs must be taken care of first, and here again we will ask your indulgence. Before you throw away ANY appliance that just doesn't work, consult us! Our Repair Department may be able to keep it in service.

Scene of Malta Knights

Orders That Once Razed by Nazi Air Raids.

MALTA. MALTA.—Many of the most famous and historic buildings, including the palace of the Grand Masters, Auberges, or the Grand Buildings, where Napoleon had his capture of the island, the Knights of St. John in the city have been either destroyed or damaged in the Germans' non-stop attacks against the island. The Knights of St. John has been destroyed or damaged. The Auberges of Italy, which was of the museum, the Auberges of the Auvergne are now of stone debris, in contrast to the former palatial exteriors. The Military Hospital of Knights, the 100-foot-long ward, stated the longest hall in Europe, has been badly damaged. The Royal Palace and the principal Maltese houses and distinguished visitors to the island were entertained, were destroyed.

Outline Is Changed.

The outline of Valletta has been changed as many church spires and domes are missing and jagged gaps among the buildings are visible everywhere.

The churches either damaged or destroyed were St. Ursula, St. Barbara, St. Francis, St. Peter's church, All Souls and St. Andrew's cathedral.

Every square in the city is pitted with bomb craters. The Grand Master's drawn swords guarding the gates have been smashed.

Many homes, offices and public buildings have also been devastated. In Florina, the immediate suburb of Valletta, very few buildings of the Musta church, the third largest dome in Malta, was pierced by a bomb, which exploded.

The largest number of fatalities in a single day was when bombs fell on a crowded market and Malta's principal harbor and the island's promenade were killed and whole families were wiped out, or, in some cases, young children survived with their relatives.

People Enlarge Tunnels.

As people have never lost hope and are straining to carry on, shopkeepers, continually being driven elsewhere, demonstrate clearance squads are busy clearing the streets.

The largest shelters in Valletta are really an underground tunnel built out of rock by the people three centuries ago have been enlarged and widened. Grate openings on both sides of the tunnels are cubicles that are the contribution to the enlargement of the public shelters.

The pattern deliver letters to the underground shelters. What is really the smallest chapel in Malta is in one of the cubicles. Large enough to hold a small altar and three men. Marriages are performed and baptisms are performed in this underground city.

McGee Upholds Stand of Potter Ration Board

State OPA Director Mark McGee's discussion with the Potter County Rationing Board on its policy of denying preferred gasoline rations to some of the government agencies turned into somewhat of a back-patting affair.

Mr. McGee spent the day in Amarillo Monday. He praised the board for its stand; in turn, the board praised Mr. McGee for his work. Mr. McGee said he was backing the board in its policy and that all boards in Texas were obliged to follow the same course the Potter board has said all along was right.

There was no appearance of any controversy between Mr. McGee and the board, but the board was prepared to stand by its guns.

At a board meeting in the forenoon, the board showed Mr. McGee how it was handling government agency applications for preference by granting some applications and denying others while the state director was in the room.—The Amarillo Daily News.

Rulings of the Amarillo board had caused considerable publicity and conversation throughout the country, and a meeting of the state director with the Amarillo board was announced and awaited by many people with a degree of interest.

WOMEN AT WAR

Irene
When Irene got home from the airplane factory she was good and tired. This was the hour, after work and before dinner, that she always looked forward to. Her private name for it was "My sissy hour." Into it, these days, she packed all the lazy, luxurious little things she loved—things that used to take up a lot more than an hour of her peace-time days.

She sat down at the little desk in her room. You could tell quite a lot about Irene from that desk. The water-glass filled with the small bouquet of flowers she sometimes bought on the way home. The paper-weight of pink marble. The thin, crackly blue air-mail stationery. And the big, framed photograph of a young man in a corporal's uniform—as good-looking a man as Irene was pretty. On the blotter pad lay the telegram that had come that morning just as she was leaving for work.

With those long, well-shaped fingers she reached for a sheet of paper. She nibbled the end of her pen for a bit, and then she wrinkled up her nose at the picture of the soldier and began to write, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau", but the corporal's name was Jackson and she called him Pete. Her round handwriting spread across the page. "My boy friend is with the A.E.F. in Ireland. He has cabled me fifty dollars with which to buy a diamond ring. I've been thinking it over and decided to buy a War Bond to help Uncle Sam instead. This may help to bring my boy friend home sooner, and then he can help me select my ring."

Slowly she began to sign her name. "Irene —"
