Jury Will Judge Sanity Of Graham

DENVER (AP)—A jury trial is set to start March 5 to determine if John Gilbert Graham was sane last Nov. 1 when he is accused of dynamiting an airliner that buried his mother and 43 others to death. Trial on the sanity issue was requested by court-appointed defense attorneys who rejected the findings of four psychiatrists that the 25-year-old defendant was sane. In effect, the doctors found Graham knew right from wrong and could refrain from doing wrong. The defense had its choice of having a separate trial on the sanity issue or including it in a trial to determine Graham's guilt or innocence to charges of murdering his mother Mrs. Daisy E. King, 55. The sanity trial—expected to last about 10 days—will focus on the testimony of the four psychiatrists, who will report on their examinations of Graham. Details of the bombing of the United Air Lines plane will probably come into this trial only incidentally. If Graham is found sane, he will then be tried on his plea of innocent to the murder charge. If the jury finds him insane he would be committed to Colorado State Hospital—never to be tried on the murder charge.

Two state-employed psychiatrists, Dr. James Garin and Dr. John Macdonald, reported to Dist. Judge John M. McDonald yesterday they had found Graham sane. Their findings were the same as Dr. Leo V. Tepley and Dr. R. Robert Cohen, private psychiatrists who had been appointed by the court to represent the defense in the observation of Graham. All the psychiatrists conducted independent examinations of Graham over a 30-day period after he was sent to Colorado Psychopathic Hospital Dec. 9. Federal officials said Graham signed a confession Nov. 14 admitting he had planted a dynamite bomb in the luggage put aboard the plane by his mother. He has since repudiated the statement.

Aid Sought In School Census

Parents and guardians of all children up to 18 years of age (as of Sept. 1, 1956) were urged again Friday to make sure their children are included in the annual school census. W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said that preliminary reports indicated teachers were making good progress and had covered their territories for the first time. In almost all instances, however, they must call back to make contacts of those who were not at home. It is imperative that every school-age child (those born before Sept. 1, 1956 and on or after Sept. 1, 1956) be enumerated, he said. Parents or patrons whose children have not been counted are asked to call the school administrative office (4-4694) so some one can be sent to make the count. The Big Spring Independent School District this year also is attempting to make a head count by age groups of children up to 6 years of age in order to help trustees in planning for plant and staff.

THEIR LUCKY DAY Cashword Winners To Divide Prize

Two surprised and happy people Thursday didn't seem to mind a bit having to divvy up $1,027.50. Yep, The Herald's "cashword puzzle" had finally hit another winner. Two of them, in fact. They were Nancy King, a high school junior, and Harral Steele, driver for Merchants Fast Motor Lines. The pair split the entire prize, including the $825 base, the $150 for turning entries in at Lewis 5 & 10, the $50 for being Herald subscribers, and the $2.50 for turning the winning entries in on post cards. It all divided up to $513.75 each. Both winners expressed disbelief on being informed of their success. "Your voice sounded like a guy's I know over in Abilene," said Steele. "I thought it was him, pulling my leg." Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. King, 1510 Tucson, learned of her victory through her parents. She was downtown when The Herald called her home. "Oh, that's fine," she declared when it was explained that she would have to divide the prizes with another puzzle master. Both Steele and Miss King said

'Copter Stands By Missionaries

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—The arrival of a ground search party at a campsite in rugged Andean Indian country was awaited today to identify four bodies believed those of missing American missionaries. There was no report on a fifth missing evangelist. A U. S. Air Force helicopter crew—which remained at the scene—reported by radio telephone the finding of the bodies last night. Its messages did not identify any of them. A search for the Protestant missionaries began last weekend after they disappeared in an area on the eastern slopes of the Ecuadorian Andes. They had flown in to Christianize the Aucas tribesmen. The helicopter, after finding the bodies, combed a seven-mile area around the camp but saw no sign of life. Members of the missionary party were Peter Fleming, Seattle, Wash.; Nathaniel Saint, Huntington Valley, Pa.; James Elliot, Portland, Ore.; Edward McCulley, Milwaukee; and Roger Youderian, Lansing, Mich. Entries in Fleming's diary, found at the base camp, indicated the missionaries were lured to the

Mystery Of Missing Girl Is Solved

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say the mystery of missing Jacqueline Smith has been solved with the arrest of two men on charges of homicide. But authorities must now go through the gruesome process of finding the 20-year-old girl's body. Held without bail yesterday for hearing next Thursday were Thomas G. Daniel, 24, the pretty blonde's boy friend, and Leo P. Juan, 46, accused of performing a fatal abortion. Both assertedly admitted they dissected the girl's body and dumped the dismembered parts in trash containers. The case broke wide open with the questioning of a young Mexican doctor, Ramiro Morales, who said he was called in during the course of the alleged abortion in Daniel's Manhattan apartment. "Oh, goodness! I don't know what I'll do with mine," Nancy exclaimed. Later, she said it probably will go into her college fund. This week's puzzle was No. 49. Entries numbered more than 16,300—the second largest week for the contest. Nancy and Steele were the first winners since May 26 when Mrs. Gene Graham, 1006 Stadium, pulled down $627.50 in prizes. They had been plugging away at the Cashword for a long time, but didn't really expect to win. Steele said he and Mrs. Steele submitted 12 entries this week. Nancy turned in "several." Mr. and Mrs. Steele said they may use their winnings for carpeting for the new house they've just bought at 404 Birdwell. "Oh, goodness! I don't know what I'll do with mine," Nancy exclaimed. Fairris Clemency Plea Turned Down

Satellite Will Be Launched At Patrick AFB

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy and Air Force announced today that the launching site for the earth satellite project will be Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla. The base has a firing range for rocket and missile tests which extends southeastward over the Atlantic. The statement recalled a previous announcement that test firings of the components of the satellite would be carried out first, although exact launching dates have not been determined. It added that a complete "vanguard" satellite unit "will be launched after flight tests of the components indicate that there is a good chance of putting the satellite into orbit." The satellite plan, to be part of the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, was announced by President Eisenhower last July. Under the program, several satellites are to be fired into the lower fringes of space. It is anticipated that they will orbit around the earth at altitudes of several hundred miles for several days or weeks. At the time of the President's announcement, scientists said the satellite probably would be about the size of a basketball.

FRIDAY 13TH IS DOOMSDAY FOR FAIRRIS

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Friday the 13th was doomsday for Hurlie Fairris Jr., but he maintained his usual calm when told he had lost his last chance for life. A guard was shaving Fairris in his death row cell when prison secretary Park Anderson interrupted with the bad news. Fairris looked up and said casually: "We got that's the breaks." A moment of silence followed and then Fairris told the guard to keep on shaving. He said nothing else about his date with death at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

Convict Must Die For Slaying Cop

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Pardon Board refused today to recommend clemency for Hurlie Fairris Jr., 22, of Dallas, sentenced to be electrocuted Wednesday for the slaying of an Oklahoma City detective. Gov. Raymond Gary had said he would not override the board's decision. The board said: "We have fully reappraised this application for commutation to life imprisonment and we regret to advise that we find no justification whatsoever to change our previous decision. "Therefore we must respectfully decline to recommend the setting aside for modification of the court's decree in this matter." Fairris, wan and pale from a year in death row, appealed for his life earlier this week. He told the Pardon Board Tiny Eggleston, slain Fort Worth gangster, killed Bennie Cravatt during an attempted supermarket robbery here July 16, 1954. Two months ago Raymond Price, 25, accomplice in the robbery attempt, made an eleven-hour confession that it was he and not Fairris who shot Cravatt to death. Gov. Raymond Gary ordered a 60-day stay of execution and told the board to conduct a thorough review of the evidence. Appearing at a December hearing, state and county officers attacked Price's confession bitterly. They said ballistics tests prove Price could not have fired the fatal shot. His gun was at the scene, but the murder weapon was not found. The board then scheduled a hearing at McAlester Tuesday, and listened to Fairris, Price and a Dallas call girl whose testimony supported Fairris. Price first brought Eggleston's name in the picture. He testified the police character, killed last summer in gangland fashion, was in the store at the time of the shooting. He said he was grappling with Cravatt when the detective was killed. At first he thought it was

Kelly's Ould Sod Kin Okay

COUNTY MAYO, Ireland (AP)—Grace Kelly might like to know that her cousins in the Ould Sod heartily approve of her marriage to Prince Rainier of Monaco. And, sure, by way of passing they think the handsome prince should be complimented on his choice, too. The Kellys are a clanish lot. You don't have to be a blood relation to be a cousin. Wasn't her grandfather a Mayo man. That's enough. John Kelly, 54, who runs a garage in Castlebar, summed up the feelings here — "A Kelly never makes a wrong move." And Michael, 44, a butcher, wants it made plain: "With her name Kelly, she's a princess in her own right." The Kellys are proud about the romance. May Kelly, wife of a Westport town councillor, said with a bit of "Sure, they must think a lot of the Irish over there." Some are ready with advice, like Kate, 53, a widow who has a son in the United States — "I do hope she gives up films. Home life first." Maura Kelly, only 27 but already the mother of seven children, said "Grace has good Mayo blood in her. It's enough." And John, a farmer, offered this toast: "Here's wishing them a child every year." Among the colleens and young men in Mayo there's a bit of envy even. Michael, only 18, gave this masculine view: "I wish we had a Kelly like Grace here." Kathleen, the same age, retorted: "Yes, and I wish we had a prince or two around here."

Shoemaker Remains Unconscious, But Condition Betters

WACO (AP)—A. B. Shoemaker, president of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. remained unconscious today but attendants said he was improving. Shoemaker cleared his throat yesterday and moved both his hands and feet. Physicians said despite the improvement, he remained in critical condition. Shoemaker shot himself in his right temple Saturday night. The bullet went through his brain and came out the left temple. Doctors said they were unable to determine the extent of brain damage but that blood in the spinal fluid indicated it was extensive. He was given sustenance, a high concentrate nourishment, intravenously. Doctors said his temperature was normal and his blood pressure steady.

Police Take Car With Baby Inside

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—New Haven police towed a car containing a five-month-old baby away from a restricted parking area last night. The frantic mother, Mrs. Jack Zimmer of Cheshire, rushed three blocks to police headquarters when she discovered, after making what her husband called "a brief stop," that the car and infant were gone. A quick reunion occurred at the garage to which the car had been towed. Mrs. Zimmer paid a $1 parking fine and $4 towing charge. Police Lt. William Roche said the officers who ordered the car towed away had gone off duty, and he was unable to say whether they knew there was a baby in a car crib on the rear seat.

Freeman Hearing Set Next Friday

Hearing on B. E. Freeman's petition for probation of a penitentiary sentence was postponed today until next Friday. Judge Charlie Sullivan granted a motion by George Thomas, Freeman's attorney, for a delay in the hearing and for permission to file an amendment to the original petition. The hearing, set for 10 a.m. today, was rescheduled for 10 a.m. next Friday. Several other matters are set for the same day, including Dr. Frank Sainburg's application for denial of extradition to New York on kidnapping charges. Freeman is asking that a two-year penitentiary sentence, assessed by a jury last December, be probated. Freeman was found guilty of embezzling county funds while he was tax assessor-collector during the latter part of 1952.

Yugoslavia, Iran Call For Reparations From Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Two small powers on the U.N. Security Council were lined up today with Russia's demand that Israel pay damages for her Dec. 11 attack on Syria. The council scheduled a second round of debate today on Soviet and Western resolutions to ensure Israel. Both condemn the raid on Syrian outposts near the Sea of Galilee, but only the Russians called for a demand on Israel for compensation. Yugoslavia and Iran were the first supporters of the Soviet contention that Israel should pay damages for the killing of 56 Syrians and destruction of several

Youth Acquitted In Father's Death

GROESBECK (AP)—Joe Pounds, 18, Mexico, charged with murdering his father was acquitted yesterday. Pounds was accused of shooting I. D. Pounds, 56. The state had qualified jurors including six women for the death penalty. The defense argued that the elder Pounds had beaten the youth and his mother on occasions. They contended he picked up the rifle May 15 as a threat and that it discharged accidentally.

Draftsman Is Wed After Slaying Rival

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A Fort Worth girl and a 25-year-old draftsman who earlier in the day shot and killed her jilted suitor were married last night behind the locked doors of Trinity Lutheran Church. Serious and unsmiling, Frankie J. Wilcoxon was wed to Miss Janice McKee, 18, in rites attended by only seven persons. Five uninvited guests — a reporter, photographer, and three small boys — watched the ceremony through the glass windows of the locked doors. Wilcoxon's wedding day started shortly after midnight when he shot and killed John Hoyt Blythe, 23, a railroad employe and a student at Arlington State College. Wilcoxon told police his car was curbed by an automobile driven by Blythe. "If you're not man enough to get out, I'll drag you out," Wilcoxon quoted Blythe as saying. The draftsman said he had a pistol in the car and when Blythe grabbed the keys to his car, he pointed the weapon at him. "He made a grab for it and it went flying," Wilcoxon said. The bullet struck Blythe in the forehead. He died a short time later in a hospital. Wilcoxon said Blythe had once dated Miss McKee and more recently had been "bothering" her. The mother of the slain man, Mrs. Virginia Blythe, refused to believe Wilcoxon's version of the shooting. "Hoyt was decoyed to the scene. He will never be able to tell his side," she said. Wilcoxon was charged with carrying a pistol and released on $1,000 bond. Ass. Dist. Atty. Randall Riley said the case will be presented to the grand jury

U. S. To Continue Pacific Atom Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is going ahead this spring with more atomic weapons tests in the Pacific. Apparently heeding outcries from abroad, however, it will tone down the nuclear blasts. In what amounted to an official rejection at this time of demands that all the big powers quit testing nuclear weapons, the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department announced last night: 1. Preparations are under way for a series of nuclear tests to begin this spring at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Marshall Islands of the mid-Pacific. 2. Because there are no "effective international agreements" in effect to limit or control armaments, the United States must continuously endeavor "to maintain the most modern, efficient military strength for the purposes of peace." 3. The tests will involve use of weapons for which the power will be "substantially below that of the maximum 1954 test." This refer-

IF IKE DOESN'T RUN

Bridges To Fight 'Cornering' Of New Hampshire Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said today he will fight any attempt to "corner" New Hampshire's Republican delegation for any other candidate if President Eisenhower doesn't run again. Bridges, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told reporters that if persons close to the White House attempt to name a slate in the March 13 primary in his state, he may file his own name as a delegate candidate. "I understand there is to be no slate chosen among the list of candidates for delegate, all of whom will be favorable to President Eisenhower," he said. "If any effort is made to create a slate and he corner the delegation I probably will become a candidate myself." Bridges, who is friendly to Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), made it clear he is opposed to election of a New Hampshire delegation previously committed to any candidate Eisenhower might designate if he decides not to seek a second term. Although he didn't say so, it obviously was Bridges' belief that Sherman Adams and others in the administration hope for such a result in the New Hampshire primary. Adams, a former governor of the state, is Eisenhower's No. 1 pick in the White House. The New Hampshire vote is the first in the nation. Bridges said he expects the same results as in 1952, with Eisenhower sweeping the Republican preferential vote and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee winning in the Democratic contest. Kefauver's backers yesterday obtained petitions to file his name in the April 17 primary in New Jersey, where no other prominent Democratic candidate has yet indicated an intent to run. Bridges said yesterday's announcement by Gov. Lane Dwinell that he would file Eisenhower's name in the New Hampshire primary came as "no surprise to me." "From the information I have," Bridges said, "the President will consent to his name remaining on the ballot, either by a statement or by acquiescence." Bridges added, however, that as far as he can see this "doesn't mean anything" in connection with disclosing Eisenhower's plans about a possible second-term race. The President has indicated he has made a tentative decision but could change his mind. He has not indicated what the decision is. The 14-vote New Hampshire delegation is elected at the same time as the preference primary. The delegates are not required to support any particular candidate unless they pledged to do so in advance. A candidate's name may be filed in the preference voting without his consent. He is told if this is done, however, and then has 10 days to request that his name be withdrawn. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday he anticipates that if Eisenhower is notified that his name has been filed, "the notification will be answered by the President." A report from the state quoted a political source who was not named as saying yesterday Eisenhower will say he has no objection to having his name entered. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), meanwhile, urged an end to the second-term suspense. "I'd like to see President Eisenhower make a decision," McCarthy said in an interview. "The longer he waits the worse it is for the Republican party and the worse it is for the country. "If he delays his decision and does not run, it makes it triply bad for it blocks out potentially good candidates."

YMCA Names New Program Secretary

Truett Mobley, 26, has been selected as the new program secretary at the YMCA, according to Bobo Hardy, general secretary. Mobley is to take over his duties Jan. 24, Hardy said. He is graduating this month from Southwest Texas State with a degree in physical education. He is a graduate of Austin High School. He is married and has a son, three months old. Mobley will take over junior club work and the physical program here. He has experience in giving children physical tests and has served as a camp counselor at a summer camp. He is a former baseball and basketball player for A&M and he lettered two years in 1948-49. He has served two years in the Army with about six months in Korea. He played on the Brooke Medical baseball team while in service. The personnel committee of the YMCA interviewed Mobley while they were in Austin for the Youth and Government program. Later, he visited Big Spring and was impressed by the position and the city and agreed to accept the job.

Dallas Citizens Crowd Last Streetcar As Final Hour Nears

By TIM PARKER
DALLAS (AP)—So many folk want to ride Dallas' last streetcar they may have to make it a double-header. The last car is happily named Sunset, but it will be in the chill before dawn Sunday that the sun sets here on the clanging, swaying trolleys. The last run begins at 1:28 a.m. and motorman L. N. Ramsey, 35, will bring his trolley into the car barn at 2:08 a.m. That's the way the Dallas Transit Co. planned it. But so many sentimentalists want to make that last ride that the plans are getting some elaboration from the transit company, whose officers are a mite wet-eyed about the occasion themselves. "We keep getting calls from people who want to ride the last car," said traffic Supt. Tom Owens. "They don't seem worried about the inconvenient time of morning. So we'll be prepared to accommodate them." Cars on the Sunset line hold only 60 passengers. More than 100 people have sought "reservations."

The company may add a second car. The two cars would be hooked together as they enter the barn so that all aboard can share the glory. Then if they want to get in some more history, the riders can wait around until 4 a.m. and be the first paying riders as Dallas converts to an all-bus system. Dallas is one of the last cities in the Southwest to give up trolleys. Fort Worth saw the last of the noisy vehicles June 10, 1939. San Antonio said goodbye to them in 1930. Corpus Christi in 1931. Houston in 1940 and Austin in 1941. The transit company is raffling off what it calls a $15,000 streetcar. Anyone who wants to take a chance just writes his name and address on a slip of paper and drops it into one of several downtown booths. The winner will have to cart the thing off and, trying to be honest it costs $150 to do this and old streetcars sell for only $100.

Medical Official Visits Hospital

Dr. Charles Beasley, area medical director for the Veterans Administration, was a visitor in the city Wednesday. He was on an inspection tour of the Veterans Administration Hospital here. Beasley is supervisor of the VA installations in Texas, Louisiana, Colorado, and New Mexico. His office is in St. Louis. The visit was his first trip here since 1954, when he accompanied Vice Adm. Joel T. Boone, chief medical director for the VA from Washington, D. C., on a tour of the hospital.

Red Cross Chapter Studies Youth Work

Members of the Advisory Board of the Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the American Red Cross heard a report of Junior Red Cross activities Thursday evening. The group met in the home of the chairman, Adolph Swartz. Mrs. H. L. Derrick, Junior Red Cross chairman, told the board that 72 certificates had been presented to pupils finishing the First Aid courses. These are taught by Anna Smith and Arah Phillips. Thirty-two pupils have finished the accident prevention course and will receive certificates. She displayed a workbook used in the course. Membership is 100 per cent. Mrs. Derrick said, with $219.50 collected. She told of the 58 gift boxes sent to foreign countries for school children. These boxes contained a comb, scissors, thread, toothpaste and a toothbrush, soap, crayolas, pencils, a toy and other articles which are needed by everyone. Plans are under way for a First Aid course to be given in Washington Place School. Mrs. Derrick is also planning the exchange of albums with children in other lands. These are to show the life and activities of the children. Leslie Snow gave a report on First Aid work among the members of the Fire Department and the workers in the T&P Railway Co. He was presented with a certificate of appreciation for his work sent from national headquarters. Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, reporting on home services, told the board that funds had been sent from here for the disaster areas on the East Coast during the summer of last year and to the disaster area in Tampico a little later in the year. A report was given of the work done at Christmas in the Veterans Hospital and the Base Hospital at Webb. Mrs. Sawtelle spoke of the routine cases, between 85 and 100 each month, needing assistance with furloughs, loans, grants, help with family matters and other ways in which the service man is helped. Doug Orme was elected chairman of the Disaster Committee to replace Jake Morgan, who has moved from town. A nominating committee was appointed, composed of Bob Whipkey, Orme and Olen Puckett. George Wallace, Red Cross worker at the base, was introduced, and he told of the work he is accomplishing there. A report was given by Swartz on the United Fund Drive. Another meeting of the board was scheduled for April.

Prosecution Readied In Brink's Theft

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts today began prosecution proceedings against 10 of the 11 ex-convicts named by the FBI as the gunmen who staged the nation's biggest cash robbery—the $1,218,211 Brink's haul of six years ago.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday announced "solution" of the case, how the robbery was committed and the 11 men allegedly involved.

Shortly before Hoover's announcement, 6 of the 11 were rounded up by the FBI in Greater Boston. Two others already were in prison on other charges, two are still at large and one died last year of natural causes.

None of the loot was recovered. Within hours of Hoover's announcement, the six newly arrested men were arraigned before a federal commissioner and held in bail totaling $670,000.

The FBI has been working on the case relentlessly since the men went through six locked doors of the Brink's money-carrying firm on the second floor of a waterfront garage and surprised five guards.

Hoover refused to disclose how the case was broken, saying the evidence must be protected for the trial.

However, Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne of Suffolk County, Boston, dropped a hint that one of the men named as a participant has provided valuable information to law enforcers.

Byrne said Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, 47, of Boston, will be a principal witness before the Suffolk County jury, which begins hearing evidence today.

The federal government turned the case over to the state for prosecution because state penalties (up to life imprisonment) are heavier than federal law allows.

O'Keefe was closeted with Byrne for more than five hours last night in a secret discussion of the Brink's case.

O'Keefe was one of the men in jail at the time of Hoover's announcement yesterday. He is doing 27 months in Hampden County Jail, Springfield, for violating his probation on a gun-carrying charge.

He was brought to Boston to confer with the district attorney and later was taken under heavy guard to Middlesex County Jail in nearby Cambridge.

The six men arraigned yesterday were placed in Suffolk County Jail, Boston, pending grand jury action.

The other man already in prison is Stanley A. Gusciara, 36, doing 5 to 20 years in Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, Pa., for a sporting goods store robbery.

Arrested in yesterday's FBI roundup were: Henry Baker, 49, Natick; Adolph Maffie, 44, North Quincy; Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, Boston; Vincent J. Costa, 41, Pembroke, Mass.; Michael V. Geagan, 47, Milton; and Anthony Pino, 48, Boston.

Still at large are Thomas F. Richardson, 48, Weymouth, and James I. Faberty, 44, Boston.

Joseph F. Banfield, 45, Boston, the 11th man named by the FBI, died of natural causes last year.

All 11 have criminal records.

Grand jury proceedings against the 10 survivors comes just five days short of the sixth anniversary of the fantastic robbery in which the men got not only the biggest cash haul but also more than 1½ million dollars in checks, money orders and securities.

Hoover said the men planned the robbery for a year. Included in the preparations were several "trial runs."

Hoover said the men approached the Brink's headquarters in the brick and concrete public garage in Boston's teeming north end in a small truck.

In the trip of a few miles from the Roxbury district, seven of the men donned Navy-type pea jackets, visored caps and foolish Halloween masks. All were armed with pistols.

On a flashlight signal from one of the gang on a nearby rooftop, the men entered the building and went through six locked doors with keys they had obtained while planning the job.

They went up a flight of stairs, through a hallway and a long money-counting room and approached the locked mesh wire door of the caged vault room.

Five male employees were busy handling the money collected that day. It was then 7 p.m.

When the robbers pushed guns through the mesh door, the guards were so situated that their own guns were out of reach on a wall rack. Also out of immediate reach was a buzzer that would have sounded a police alarm.

The robbers forced the five employees to lie face down on the floor, bound and gagged them and pushed money into what appeared to be large laundry sacks.

The guards said later that all the men wore either rubbers or crepe-soled shoes to muffle their footsteps and only the leader did any talking.

Hoover said that before fleeing with the loot, the robbers tried to open a metal box containing the huge General Electric Co. payroll but they brought no tools and were unsuccessful. No figure on the size of the payroll was given by the FBI.

He said the men unloaded their loot at the home of one of the participants in the Roxbury district. It was divided among the men several weeks later.

John D. Allen, chairman of the Brink's board, said in Chicago, "This is a happy day for us."

Brinks Robbery Suspects

Professor Shocks Video Fans With 'Murder' Wish

LONDON (AP)—An erudite but tied archaeologist shocked British TV viewers last night by telling them in a husky voice that he'd like to murder a few million of them.

A spokesman for the British Broadcasting Corp. hastily explained that the professor, Dr. Glyn Daniel, 41, of Cambridge University, had influenza and was feeling "pretty ill under the studio lights."

Dr. Daniel, voted one of Britain's top TV personalities last year, was presiding over the highbrow quiz game Animal, Vegetable, Mineral? The object is for three experts to identify and give the origin of archaeological specimens. Showing a sheaf of poisoned arrows—identified correctly by the experts—Dr. Daniel remarked in a cold voice: "There are a few million people I would like to kill—mostly viewers."

Just before signing off, Dr. Daniel said the next quiz show would be in two weeks time, but "whether I shall be here or not I don't know. That is a matter for discussion with the producer."

BBC admitted viewers swamped it with telephone calls. Some callers were annoyed, some bewildered by the professor.

Acheson Calls For New Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson called last night for a revitalized foreign policy, imaginatively and vigorously pursued, and cautioned against conducting foreign affairs by "hucksterism."

The evil of hucksterism, the Truman administration secretary of state said, is that it glamorizes a product while obscuring the fact that there is no product at all.

"This is the era of the huckster," he told some 200 hearers at a dinner given in his honor by the Woman's National Democratic Club.

"If we go on as we have been doing we'll come to the ultimate slogan of 'weakness is strength.'"

Acheson said it might be well for this country to reappraise its whole foreign policy in view of a Russian shift in emphasis from political to economic methods of waging the cold war, and what he called the increased attention to uncommitted countries from North Africa across the Middle East to Indochina.

"If we look around us," he said, "we will be hard put to find any area in which events of the past few years have not moved to our disadvantage."

"I do not mean to imply that this administration is entirely responsible... Some things are their fault... Some things are beyond their control."

He said U.S. relations with South America and Canada have not improved, those with Britain are formal and distant, Germany is drifting dangerously, France is torn by discord and countries in the Near East have been offended by what he termed "pactomania." Further, he said, the islands of Quemoy and Matsu in the Formosa Strait constitute a "time bomb" and trouble with Communist China may erupt "at any moment."

He made no direct reference to Secretary of State Dulles' assertion, quoted in a current Life magazine article, that a strong American policy of "deterrence" had averted possible war in the Formosa area.

Crucial Test For The Gas Bill

Early action in the Senate on the Fulbright (D-Ark) Bill (S-1853) to end federal regulation of natural gas production has been promised by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who like all members of House and Senate from Texas and a number of other gas-producing states is in favor of the legislation.

contend the net effect of federal controls at the wellhead will be to raise the price of gas to consumers in the cities of the East and North, contrary to the claims of advocates of federal controls. The price paid producers is only a small fraction of the price charged consumers at the end of the big interstate pipelines, and clamping federal control on the price at the producing end could have little or no effect on consumer prices.

Pray For Calm Weather, Too

What experts call the worst erosion threat in recent years faces the farmers and ranchers of Texas, thanks to prolongation of a drought that had its beginning back in 1951 when only 14.83 inches of rainfall was recorded at Abilene, with comparable amounts elsewhere over the state.

suggest that these petitioners might wisely add a codicil to their pleas: let the winds rise over the drought-stricken land, for in many localities there is nothing on range or field to tie the dirt down.

Marquis Childs New War Scare Developing In China?

WASHINGTON — Of all the difficult and delicate issues that Secretary of State Dulles must cope with, China remains the most explosive. The belief is growing here that the Communists are preparing a new war scare. An attack in force against the Nationalist-held offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu is by no means ruled out.

Peking. To anyone who has had even a glimpse of the economic power in the hands of these Chinese in a half-dozen countries this is an impressive argument. But it seems to make little impression on those who are increasingly restive at American insistence on holding to the Nationalist line.

Forum Has Party For Patients

The Modern Woman's Forum, in cooperation with the United Church Women, held a birthday party Thursday night at the State Hospital for the patients who were born in January. There were 14 honorees. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a large birthday cake decorated with yellow rosebuds. The cake was flanked with rainbow colored candles. Around the candles and cake was green ivy. Punch was served from a crystal bowl. During the serving period, Mrs. Charles Boland played the piano. She also accompanied the group in a sing-song led by Mrs. J. Fred Whitaker and Mrs. W. A. Laswell. Hostesses were Mrs. J. D. Leonard, chairman, Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. Harwood Keith. Over 200 patients were present for the party.

William Burdette Is Altrusans' Speaker

Altrusans heard William Burdette, instructor in Big Spring High School, Thursday at their noon luncheon at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. Loyd Wooten introduced the speaker. Telling of the work of the Industrial Cooperative Training courses, Mr. Burdette told members that the aims of the courses include the financial assistance to the pupil; the providing of an opportunity to stay in school until graduation; guidance in the selection of an occupation and help in establishing an employment record. Two credits per year are given for the course. It provides an industrial background for the pupil, which will benefit him or her after graduation. The work also develops a sense of moral responsibility to the school and to society. As an advantage to the employer, Mr. Burdette mentioned the fact that the pupil is trained from the beginning just as the firm needs the work done. The club was told that the permanent work angle is considered, as well as the safety conditions, in placing pupils in the employment. During the business session, a nominating committee was named, composed of Mrs. Houston Cowden, Mrs. Bill Griese and Mrs. Alma Golinick. Mrs. Norman Read was announced as parliamentarian to replace Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, who has resigned. A discussion was held on the formation of a Golden Age Club. Mrs. Willard Sullivan told the club that books of Mrs. T. C. Thomas have been donated for the sanatorium at Carlsbad. These are "PollyOmy," a book for children. Reports were given by officers and an account of a meeting of the executive board was read. Twenty-seven attended.

'Blocks' Accomplish Much In OWC Work

Working on the principle that "too many cooks spoil the broth," the Officers' Wives' Club at Webb Air Force Base has been divided into small groups. These are divisions along geographical blocks, which have as one purpose the welcoming of newcomers to their neighborhood. A small group of congenial members is a help in establishing friendships and working on various projects. The blocks meet the second Thursday of each month and adopt a welfare project for that month. In the short time of operation of this plan, the groups have filled 12 baskets for needy families and have mapped out various work to be accomplished. Mrs. L. B. Jackson is chairman of Block No. One. These women will deliver a basket of fruit to a local shut-in during this month. Block Two, under the leadership of Mrs. D. C. Davis, collected magazines last month for patients at the State Hospital. This month, they plan to make tarial-proof covers for the silver belonging to the Officers' Wives' Club. Before Christmas, the women of Block No. Three dressed 13 dolls for the Toys For Tots drive held by the firemen of the city. A new block, now in the organizing stage is Block Four. This group, with their leader, Mrs. Elliott Cohen, has not adopted a project at the present time. Blocks Five and Seven are combined, with Mrs. R. C. Jordan as chairman. Curtains for the pediatric ward at the base hospital will be made during this month. With Mrs. G. T. Ward as chairman, Block Six made draperies for the orderly room belonging to Section One. The nursery at the base was the recipient of stuffed toys made by Block Eight, whose chairman is Mrs. Jerry Welch. The group is now working on plaques for the

Shaw's 'Pygmalion' Scheduled For Monday

Second in the series to be presented by the Big Spring Concert Association is the play, "Pygmalion," scheduled for Monday evening at the Municipal Auditorium. Admission will be by membership card only. No tickets will be sold at the door. George Bernard Shaw's drama is taken from an ancient Greek story of a sculptor who fell in love with his work, a marble statue of a lovely woman. Paralleling this story is the account, so ably acted by the Dublin Players, of a professor who attempted to make "a lady" of a London flower seller from the lower classes. Her antics and his embarrassing experiences make for an evening of delightful entertainment. The Dublin Players, drawn from Ireland's two classic theatres, the Abbey and the Gate, are doing their fifth season, coast-to-coast in this country. Ronald Ibbs, who portrays the part of Professor Higgins in "Pygmalion," formed and has maintained the company since 1947. It was this company which performed "Hamlet" in tweeds and modern dress in Ireland. The production caused an international stir. After touring Ireland the com-

Food Middleman Caught In Middle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The middleman in the food industry is also in the middle of a bitter election-year controversy over farm prices and income.

Traditionally the least popular of economic groups, processors and distributors are being criticized by farmers, some labor leaders, some political leaders and some government agencies for a widening spread between the prices farmers get and consumers pay.

Demands have been made by some farm groups for a congressional investigation of food prices and middlemen's profits. It was largely a belief that profits may be too large that led Congress last year to appropriate $250,000 for special Agriculture Department studies on food product margins.

In recent weeks, results of some of these studies have been made public by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. In brief, they show that the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar has dropped from 53 cents in 1945 to 39 cents at present.

They show furthermore that reductions in farm prices have in large measure not been passed along to consumers.

The department reports say marketing margins have widened largely because of substantial increases in the cost of processing, transporting and distributing food products and also because of the housewife's demand for greater services with her food—partial if not full preparation of foods, designed to cut down on kitchen work.

Benson has made no charges that profits have been too high, as some farm, labor and political leaders claim. But he has pointed a finger at labor, claiming its wage increases have added greatly to food costs to the detriment of both farmers and consumers.

Nevertheless, he has indicated that he believes the food industry could, in many cases, increase the efficiency of its operations to a point where it could offer food at lower prices.

Spokesmen for the industry insist there are no excessive profits. They point to the competition in their field and say a battle for business holds profits down.

The department sought in a recent document to create better understanding among farmers, middlemen and consumers. It said there was too much distrust on all sides.

"The department went to some length to explain what was called 'a revolution in the American kitchen'—that is, a growing demand for more fully prepared foods. It cited, for example, the kitchen work that used to be required in serving fish, as given in a popular cook book. The directions for cleaning and cooking took more than 125 words.

The document said labor is the big item in food marketing, accounting for about half of the total cost. It added that there is "strong evidence" that the efficiency of farm labor has been increasing more rapidly than the efficiency of labor employed in the marketing of food.

Mahon Warns Against Lower Cotton Price Props

WASHINGTON — Rep. George Mahon warned here Thursday on the eve of scheduled Senate hearings on a new farm law that steps should be taken to prevent the adoption of a plan for lower supports on cotton of less than one inch staple.

"The present law requires that cotton loans be based on 1/8 inch staple. There is considerable sentiment in the U. S. Senate to raise the 1/8 inch basis to one inch. This would tend to reduce the support on all cotton on an average of about 2 1/2 cents per pound," Mahon declared.

He said Senator Ellender, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, has indicated his committee might favor raising the basis from 1/8-inch to one inch.

"One proposal would require 90 per cent of parity support for one inch staple, but a support level of less than 90 per cent for cotton having less than one inch staple," Mahon said.

"For example, the support level on one inch cotton might be 90 per cent of parity and the support for 1/8 inch staple might be 75 per cent of parity." This would not only be discriminatory, according to Mahon, but would deal a disastrous blow to West Texas cotton producers.

Since his return to Washington, Mahon has discussed the problem with officials of the Department of Agriculture and members of

Response Ordered In Paternity Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grocery chain heir Huntington Hartford II has been directed to respond within 30 days to a paternity suit seeking to have him acknowledge that he is the father of Edward Barton Colt, 37.

Superior Judge Aubrey N. Irwin yesterday denied Hartford's motion to quash service of a summons in the suit which was made in New York City.

The suit, filed last November, seeks to have Colt established legally as Hartford's son so that he can obtain a passport for travel abroad.

Colt does not seek money, claiming he receives $800 a month from a $285,000 trust fund established for him by Hartford in 1939.

The complaint states the boy is the son of Hartford, 44, and the late Mary Barton, night club singer who died in New York in 1941.

"We are interested in getting something done reasonably soon, but we are more interested in getting the right kind of legislation and most anxious to safeguard ourselves against discrimination in the new law as applied to West Texas," Mahon declared.

Uncle Ray: Old Trick Showed Boy Without Head

By RAMON COFFMAN

The word "magic" came to us from "Magi." The Magi were ancient priests of Persia, and were said to have power over demons. They were described as wise men.

The sixth of January carried a memory of the Magi. Sometimes this day is described as Little Christmas or as Twelfth Day. In the New Testament we read about the arrival of the Magi at Bethlehem 12 days after the birth of Jesus. In Spanish and Portuguese countries, it is the custom for children to receive presents on Twelfth Night or Twelfth Day.

Our word "magician" grew from the same root. In past articles, I have spoken about magicians in ancient Egypt and Rome. There were others in Babylonia and Greece.

Modern magic, however, has grown up chiefly during the past 200 years. It has been a changing art, with one type of trick or illusion giving way to another.

One old trick, used in hundreds of places, showed a boy or other human being holding his own head after it had been cut off, as it seemed!

If the head was struck off in view of the audience, we may well believe that it was a false head! Properly prepared, the person could hide his real head under his coat.

The time came, however, when

the head was able to speak and show other signs of life. Seated near a table, a figure seemed to hold its own head. Actually there was a hole in the drape which hung from the table, and the head of a person was poked through. A device, such as a quick change of lighting, allowed the figure to get back his head!

In another trick a magician held a bottle from which he poured a liquid. A little later he broke the bottle and out came a bird.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

These First Dates

Dear Miss Brandow:

How old should a girl be before she no longer has to spend all her first dates with new boy friends at home?

Nancy

Let me ask you one. How old should one be before he may park his car without using the parking brake? If that seems a strange question let me point out that neither are relevant to age. Age just isn't a factor in the advisability of doing either. The reason is safety and practicality.

I am old enough to vote—yes, old enough to be married and have children, but I still audition my dates in the living room.

Almost all of my single friends, whether they live at home or share apartments bring their dates home to pass the inspection of parents or roommates.

When you put your foot inside the car of a relative stranger, you are stuck until the car stops. It may go anywhere. You have to trust the driver and you can't until you know him. No girl who values her life and her reputation places them in the hands of a nice looking stranger without first knowing him.

Boys with dishonorable motives do exist, and frequently they are difficult to spot. The boy who is willing to spend a "home" date with you is probably on the up and up and indicates he has nothing to hide and is really interested in friendship not just a girl.

Dear Miss Brandow:

Should a girl not pass judgment on a boy after only a first date? I disliked a boy very much after a first date. He insists I can't know him after one date and should give him a second chance. What do you think?

Juanita

Much can be said on both sides. Boys frequently are not at their best on first dates. If he was too quiet or maybe giggled too much he may have suffered first date shyness. When personality is at fault on a first date, it is wise to "try" a second date.

Things like cheap character, abusive language, sloppy, dirty clothes, or body odor can be quickly detected. These things will not be likely to improve on subsequent dates; they give a quick insight to the type person. If, by these things you know he is not your type, there is no point in further dates.

Jesus Calls for Repentance

THE LORD IS GOOD AND READY TO FORGIVE THEM THAT CALL UPON HIM

Scripture—Luke 13:1-35.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

REPENT YE, Jesus says again and again in today's lesson. There are times, especially when one reads the front page of the morning newspaper, that the world seems full of crime.

We all sin in one way or another, but most of us repent even our minor sins and try to live lives worthy of Christ and our Father who is in heaven.

Luke tells that there were some people in the multitude about Jesus who told Him that in years gone by, some Galileans had been slain by Pilate.

Jesus asked these people if they considered that these Galileans were sinners above others because they had suffered thus. Then He thou art loosed from thine in armity. And He laid His hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

The chief man of the synagogue became indignant, and rebuked not only Jesus and the woman but all within hearing, saying: "There are six days in which men ought to work; in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day."

The Lord answered, "Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him a way to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham whom Satan hath bound, . . . be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?"

Luke says that all the Lord's adversaries were ashamed, and the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that Jesus had done.

Jesus likens the kingdom of God to a tiny grain of mustard seed which, when planted, grows into a great tree in a short time. Or it is like the leaven in bread, which a housewife mixes with answered, "Nay, but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." Jesus also asked these people if, when the tower of Siloam fell and killed 18 persons, they died because they were wicked? No; that was an accident.

MEMORY VERSE

"For Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy to all them that call upon Thee."—Psalm 86:5.

Then Jesus told a parable about a man who owned a fig tree that had not borne any fruit for three years. He told his gardener to cut the tree down. The man asked his master to let the tree alone. He would dig around it, and apply fertilizer to the soil, and then, if it failed to bear figs the next spring, it could be cut down.

"Give it another chance," the man seemed to be saying about the tree that was unproductive. Even so, our loving God gives us chance after chance to acknowledge our sins—even the vilest ones—and He will forgive if we truly repent and make of ourselves the type of human being He wants us to be.

One Sabbath Jesus was preaching in the synagogue, when He saw a woman who had been suffering from a dreadful disease that had bowed her body so that she could not lift herself upright. Even so she had dragged herself to the synagogue, and Jesus called her to Him and said: "Woman, based on copyrighted outlines prepared by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. other materials and it makes the whole mass light. It is easy to forgive little children their faults, if they have been trained to good behavior and instructed in moral precepts. However, even men and women who have lived evil lives, need not despair if they acknowledge their sins in all sincerity and turn to a gracious God, "ready to forgive and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon Him."

Certain Pharisees came to Jesus saying "Get Thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill Thee." Jesus, so ready to forgive sin and help the suffering, spoke contemptuously of Herod, sending this message to him: "Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold I cast out devils, and I do cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I shall be perfected," referring to the coming of His death and resurrection which were approaching.

Then the Lord uttered His anguished cry: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!"

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

TO GUIDE...AND TO MEASURE...

A ruler... the humblest of instruments! Yet it meets two tremendously important needs. It guides... giving man a straight, sure rule by which to draw his lines and sketch his plans. And it measures... showing man where to begin, and where to end, proving the dimensions of his work. That which the simple ruler does in the physical realm of life is the work of the Church in the spiritual realm. For every man's life is like a blank sheet of paper, until, by his own living, he places upon it the lines which give it meaning and character. The Church is our guide... giving us the tried and sure truths by which we can live... pointing us to the straight and unwavering paths which lead to God. And the Church is our measure... showing us the standards by which every man's life must be judged... revealing the Christ whose teaching and example are the beginning and ending of all spiritual achievement, the perfect dimensions of life. Are you letting the Church meet these tremendous needs in your life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Badgers, Hawks Collide At 8

A basketball "natural"—a West Zone clash between Howard County Junior College and Amarillo's Badgers—takes place at 8 o'clock this evening in the local college gym. HCJC is the defending champion in the circuit and is coming fast, after a slow start. Amarillo, however, showed great potential in the recent Howard College Tournament here, winning fifth place after losing to Wharton in the opening game.

Knott, Flower Grove Teams Win In Meet

GARDEN CITY, (SC) — Knott's Hill Billies won their eighth straight game in the opening round of the Garden City Basketball Tournament here Thursday night by routing Water Valley, 80-28. The Billies, led by Woody Long and John Shanks, breezed to an 18-2 lead in the opening quarter and coasted home.

Helfand Stand Gains Support, Despite Codes

CHICAGO (U)—Outmoded codes are hampering some National Boxing Assn. members who are just as interested as Julius Helfand in ridding boxing of undesirables, NBA President Lou Razienda said today.

Razienda, member of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, indicated that full backing of Helfand's crushing of the New York boxing managers' guild can be expected at a regularly scheduled meeting of the NBA Executive Committee here tomorrow.

"But while the various NBA members are just as interested as Helfand in cleaning out boxing's undesirables, archaic codes stand in the way of some," Razienda said. "For instance in Illinois we lack the power that Helfand has in being able to take specific action. A person denied a license in Illinois has the right to appeal and commission suspensions are subject to administrative review.

"I've been trying to modernize our state boxing code for seven years. It hasn't been substantially altered for some 28 years," Razienda said. The NBA will "do something" about following up on the Executive Committee meeting. He said developments in New York made it impossible for him to attend.

"As far as the entire picture is concerned, I think it will turn out nicely. Take away the New York guild and what is the International guild? In Chicago, you don't know it's in existence."

Hawkettes Win Double Header

The Hawkettes, the girls' basketball team representing Howard County Junior College, swept a double header from Odessa here Thursday night, 74-50 and 68-34. Quarters in the second game were limited to five minutes each. In the opener, Edna Harrell scored 25 points for HCJC. Mary Forehand and Willella Hanks each had 14, Donna Smith 11 and Betty Hester 10.

San Francisco Can Equal Record In Game Tonight

By ED WILKS The Associated Press The all-conquering San Francisco Dons, who in little more than a year have bounded out of obscurity to become the top team in major college basketball, shoot for a record-equaling 39th consecutive victory tonight — Friday the 13th.

The Dons play Fresno State. And it doesn't figure to be a Black Friday for Coach Phil Woolpert's powerhouses.

Two seasons ago, San Francisco was classified as a small college, missing out in a bid for the NIAI season-end tournament. Last season, the Dons erupted, rolling to the NCAA championship against the big boys.

Now with a 12-0 season record and 35 straight overall, the Dons are on the threshold of tying the all-time major college mark set by Long Island University in 1935-37 and matched by Seton Hall in 1939-41.

If the Dons, paced by All American Bill Russell and Casey Jones, pack away No. 39 as expected tonight, they'll have a two-week layoff before trying for a record in their next game Jan. 28 against California.

per to beat Davidson 72-70 in a Southern Conference game, and Houston dumped Tulsa 69-60 in a Missouri Valley Conference contest. N.C. State led by 23 points midway in the second half before the Terps caught fire and closed the gap to 67-62 with about a minute to play. Two quick baskets put State beyond reach.

Maryland's Bob O'Brien matched State's Ren Shavik for scoring honors with 22. The Terps dropped out of a first-place tie with Duke in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Jerry Byrd led Kentucky with 24 points. The Wildcats played reserves most of the second half against outmanned Tulane, which had only seven men.

Furman's Dick Wright sank two free throws in the last minute to edge Davidson, which paired Rich Weeks and Semi Mintz to hold All America Darrell Floyd to 18 points. The nation's leading scorer had never been held to less than 20 in 38 games.

Longhorns Oppose Angelo At 7:30

ODESSA, (SC) — Big Spring makes its debut in the Odessa Invitational Basketball Tournament here at 7:30 o'clock this evening, taking the court against the San Angelo Bobcats. In other first round contests, Ahlense tangles with Lubbock High School at 6 p.m., while Odessa battles Hereford at 9 p.m.

Odessa and Lubbock are favored to gain the Saturday night finals, which start at 9 p.m. If Big Spring loses to San Angelo, it plays the loser in the Odessa-Hereford engagement at 9 a.m. tomorrow. If it wins, it plays the survivor of that contest Saturday afternoon.

Win, lose or draw, the Steers are assured of playing three games during the tournament, since all games will be determined by one game. The game for seventh place goes on at 4 p.m. Saturday, the game for fifth at 6 p.m., and the third place contest at 7:30 p.m. Midland advanced into the semi-finals Thursday night with a 53-45 victory over Alpine, which had replaced Colorado City in the tournament.

Gary Robertson led the victory surge by scoring 19 points for Midland, which trailed until the second quarter. Midland meets the winner of the Ahlense-Lubbock engagement at 1 p.m. tomorrow. The other semifinal engagement goes on at 2:30 p.m.

Ahlense takes a record of eight wins and seven losses to the tournament. Big Spring has won five and lost 11. LOS ANGELES (U)—The East and West opponents in the sixth annual post-season Pro Bowl football game, got in their last serious drill today for a contest that has in the past been as exciting as a regular season encounter in the National Football League.

Bulldogs Guests At Grid Party

COAHOMA, (SC) — Friends of football here pay homage to the Coahoma High School gridders at a banquet in the High School cafeteria this evening starting at 7 o'clock. Tickets, priced at $1 each, are available at most business houses downtown. Those unable to take time off to purchase them can buy them at the entrance immediately prior to the meal.

Max Bumgarner, head coach at San Angelo College, has tentatively agreed to serve as speaker. If he arrives, he will have with him action pictures of one of the San Angelo Ram games. Gerry Hoover, former Coahoma student, will bring several HCJC students with him to supply part of the musical entertainment on the program.

Principal Fred Salling will serve as master of ceremonies. Tickets, priced at $1 each, are available at most business houses downtown. Those unable to take time off to purchase them can buy them at the entrance immediately prior to the meal.

Red Birds Sign Two Standouts

ST. LOUIS (U)—The St. Louis Cardinals have signed the backbone of their team Stan (The Man) Musial and Red Schoendienst. The long-time National League stars expressed satisfaction at the ceremony yesterday where they put their names to contracts calling for a reported $125,000 total.

For Musial it will be the sixth season at an estimated $80,000. Schoendienst will get a reported $45,000, believed to be the same as last year. Said General Manager Frank Lane: "It wouldn't seem like Cardinal team without Red and Stan."

Freshman Senator Gets Insurance Probe Chair

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN (AP)—A freshman senator from South Texas today took the hot-spot job of heading Senate investigation of the Texas insurance scandal. Sen. William Fly of Victoria promised to "let the chips fall where they may."

Fly was appointed yesterday by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey after Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston had angrily resigned.

Bracewell said he wouldn't remain on a committee whose members wanted to do some of their investigating in secret.

Fly, an attorney, said he knew nothing of the background which made the other four members want executive sessions and would remain "an open mind on that problem."

He said he expects the committee "fully to investigate the U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. and other insurance companies which may be operating in violation of the laws, the Insurance Commission and any members of the Legislature who may have violated the trust of the public."

Affairs of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. were the first target when the Senate investigators met Wednesday before Bracewell's resignation.

After Bracewell quit, the other four committee members—Sens. Wardlow Lane of Center, Johnnie Rogers of Austin, Otis Lock of Lufkin and Jarrard Secret of Temple—studied a report on U.S. Trust spending for advertising, publicity, legal services and other purposes.

The report, made public by State Auditor C. H. Cavness, listed "cash" withdrawals from January 1954 to Dec. 14, 1955, totaling $50,550—much for unexplained purposes. Heavy withdrawals, some from U.S. Trust's branch office in Austin, were recorded during the January-June 1955 period when the Legislature was in session.

R. C. Lanning of Austin, former senator from Jackboro and former member of the State Board of Control, got some of the largest individual payments. He was paid three checks totaling $10,000 for public relations and legal services.

Lanning said he worked on legislation in behalf of A. B. Shoemaker, president of U.S. Trust and Guaranty who has been in a hospital at Waco since Saturday from a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Bracewell said he had been aware that efforts to put U.S. Trust and Guaranty under Banking Commission supervision were "highly lobbied" against during the 1955 Legislature. He said he knew, but did not name, who did the lobbying.

The Legislature considered two bills with a strong bearing on companies like U.S. Trust and Guaranty.

One was by Rep. Tom Joseph of Waco to bring combination banking-insurance firms like U.S. Trust under strict regulation by the Banking Commission.

The bill passed the House by a heavy majority. In the Senate, it was referred to the Banking Committee headed by Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton.

On April 26, 1955, the bill was sent to a three-member subcommittee on the motion of Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llanos, who has said he was employed by Shoemaker at one time to render legal services.

Wrong Horse Proves Costly

LONDON (AP)—Michael Ross, 21, picked the wrong horse last night and it cost him 992 pounds ($2,777.60).

Ross, a statistical clerk for an outfit that buys and breeds thoroughbred horses, didn't take his loss at the track. He was the first contestant to try for the 1,024 pound ($2,867.20) jackpot on Britain's Double-Your-Money television quiz program.

Ross was asked to name the sire, dam and grandparents of Eclipse, whose descendants have won more than 100 Epsom Derbys. He got everything right but the dam's name—Mother Western. Ross said Charming Jenny, and wound up with 32 pounds ($89.50) consolation money.

The House refused to accept the Senate version of the bill. A conference committee finally deleted the exemption and the bill became law. The authority granted by this bill enabled the Insurance Commission to reject U.S. Trust and Guaranty's application for a dealer's license to sell securities. This rejection came Dec. 12, three days before Dist. Judge Charles Betts put U.S. Trust and Guaranty into temporary receivership.

Protest By Death

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken of Vermont, senior Republican on the Senate Agriculture Committee, voiced confidence today that "we can get together on a soil bank plan."

And Sen. Ellender (D-La.), the committee chairman, assigned top priority to the soil bank in the committee's efforts to write a new farm law based on recommendations President Eisenhower made to Congress Monday.

In essence, the soil bank program contemplates that farmers would be paid federal subsidies, ranging perhaps as high as 400 million dollars this year, for voluntarily taking land out of the production of crops which are in surplus and planting them to grass and trees. The subsidies would be in cash or in commodities from the government's eight-billion-dollar stock of surpluses.

The aim is to cut down on production of crops which already are in oversupply, while establishing a "bank" of fertile land against a time when increased harvests may be needed.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson assured the Senate committee yesterday that soil bank payments could bolster sagging farm prices this year if Congress acts promptly.

Ellender said that in addition to the soil bank, his committee will consider:

1. Improved methods for disposal of existing surpluses.

2. A possible limit on the amount of price support loans to any one farm operator. This was suggested by Eisenhower as one way of giving the family-sized farm a break in competing with big corporate operators.

3. Which parity formula should be used in fixing the levels for government supports. An older formula, now expiring, gives a wheat farmer 25 to 30 cents a bushel more and a cotton farmer 1 to 2 cents more a pound. Parity is a legal standard for farm prices said to be fair to producers in relation to their costs.

4. Whether the administration's flexible price supports should be retained or modified.

5. Whether a two-price system should be tried for wheat, rice and other crops: a higher price with supports for crops used in this country or for food, and a lower one at market levels for those exported or used as livestock feed.

Freakish Weather In Eastern U. S. Shows Little Change

By The Associated Press

The freakish weather pattern over the eastern third of the nation the past several days showed little change today.

Although the deep storm center off the Atlantic coast moved northward, unseasonable cold weather continued in much of the Southeast. More rain, freezing rain and snow fell in Northern areas.

Temperature changes in the past 24 hours were minor, with readings 3 to 8 degrees lower in most of the Eastern and Southern sections. There was a little warming in Florida, which has reported millions of dollars damage to growing vegetables from the near-freezing weather.

The wet belt extended over New England southwestward into Ohio and the Virginias.

Below-freezing temperatures were reported from northern New England southwestward along the Appalachians into Mississippi and Louisiana and northwestward into Colorado and western Montana.

Yesterday was the fifth straight cold day in the Southeast. High readings were near freezing in northern parts of Mississippi. The top at Tampa, Fla., was 50. The maximum at Miami was 62 but this morning the mercury had dropped to 45 compared to 41 degrees 24 hours earlier.

3 Unlucky Days

CHICAGO (AP)—Persons who are superstitious probably are a little more cautious today—Friday the 13th. There will be two more Fridays falling on the 13th of the month in 1956—in April and July. Last year there was only one, in May, and only one in 1954, in August.

Explanation Of More Difficult Clues

CLUES DOWN:

- 3. Ste. is correct. The dictionary defines a designation as an appointment or nomination. This rules out Sue, a girl's name. Neither could it be She, which is furthermore ruled out since the clue says (abbrev.).
6. Outlet is best. The clue mentions "some complaints". This means, of course, a number of complaints. This makes Outlet unlikely for if your Outlet is too small you would hardly complain to a number of people but probably only to say, the waiter or your butcher. Why any more? As for Outlet, this would affect many people as a sink or sewer, or even the Outlet to a lake, etc.
7. The answer, clearly, is "something to worry about" and Raid, therefore, is favored. In many cases Rain is something to hope for, not worry about.
8. Clay is a medium of creative expression because it is used for modelling of all sorts of things. Play is too general a term. Furthermore, the Play is the finished product, not the medium. Neither is it correctly "creative" and the clue purposely says "creative". With Clay you create something. With Play you do not necessarily.
10. "Stately" favors Crest, as of an old English family. An old Chest may well be found in many a humble home.
14. String best fits the reference in the clue to being on the safe side. String is used to secure parcels, etc., safely. Springs, on the other hand, come in hundreds of types and few of them have much to do with safety.
22. "Manager" suggests a professional club, and Gate. Everybody concerned with any club wants the Game to be a good one.

- 23. Old is apt because the clue says "might". A man's wife would certainly not want him to wear Old socks but she might, or might not, want him to wear Old socks, depending on what condition the socks were in. They might be Old and still be very good.
25. Car is correct. Many a man, including golfers, enjoy going around in a Car. However, he can't enjoy going around in Par because he doesn't know he has gone around in Par until he has finished going around.

CLUES ACROSS:

- 1. Full is more apt. A life spent in the pursuit of pleasure can hardly be a Full one. Amusements pall, and they may find life extremely Dull.
3. Stocks is an excellent answer which embraces Stacks, thus covering both cases. Stacks are Stocks, or part of the Stocks. Stocks is not favored.
16. They would certainly regard it as a Treat and a privilege to be taken up; but whether or not they thought it was Great would depend on how they felt when in the air.
18. Dare is best. The clue says "by this". Dark is, therefore, out since while one refers to being scared by a Dare, one says scared of the Dark, not by the Dark.
20. It is only "when you are tired" that it may mean an effort merely to lift your Legs. It may well mean an effort to lift heavy Logs, however fit you feel.
21. Hope is good, but the clue is an overstatement for Home. Many a person has been utterly forsaken and desolate, and yet had a Home. Since, in this usage, "forsaken" particularly means Hopeless, Hope is a particularly good answer.

PUZZLE BEING DISCONTINUED

This is the last, for an indefinite period, of the Cashword Puzzle Series in The Herald.

HCJC Trustees Hear Progress Reports, Okay Spanish Courses

Progress reports on various activities were heard by trustees of Howard County Junior College at their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening. The few official actions taken included approval of a conversational Spanish on an extension course basis; off-campus Bible courses for credit; authorizing alteration of the electric system; approval of a small sign; adoption of the financial report showing $155,417 general and interest and sinking fund balances. Bible courses may be offered off campus for regular credit provided such classes have a minimum of 21 students; the $15 tuition is paid to the college; the students satisfy all regular academic requirements; and the instructor be approved by the college administration. Some groups, primarily for denominational reasons, have requested such Bible classes. Tuition for extension courses in Spanish would be $25 for those offered in town, and for those out-of-town there would be a $5 mileage charge for the instructor. Instruction would be two times a week for three hours each. The course is designed primarily for farmers and business men who want to develop the ability to conduct basic communication with Mexican nationals and other Spanish speaking people. Dr. P. W. Malone, board president, said the new electric distribution system, bought by the college was to be tied in at the end of the week. Trustees approved an alteration in plans to serve the new science building by bringing lines from a transformer on the north side via underground conduit. A. F. Kasch & Sons, contractors, have started work on all the new units, he said.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, said negotiations were under way to attempt to get used mesh-metal fence for the new track area. He said the 6-inch tap to city mains had been put across Kentucky Way and would be extended to the track and enclosed area with a 4-inch line. He said the county commissioners court had agreed to apply caliche base treated with asphalt emulsion to the road bisecting the campus.

The board approved erection of a small sign at Birdwell Lane and Kentucky Way directing traffic to KBST-TV studios, provided that it meet with board approval and could be removed at pleasure of the board. Dr. Hunt said that the recent HCJC invitational tournament would more than pay its way. He also said that HCJC would furnish classroom facilities for a blueprint reading course for Couden employees. Board members made plans for attending a Feb. 14 meeting in Austin for junior college boards, administrators, etc. Financial reports showed receipts of $110,769 and disbursements of $23,289 from the general fund in December. Interest and sinking receipts amounted to $39,461 for the month and $15,721 expended.

Files Libel Suit

Murray Chotiner, left, Los Angeles attorney who was Vice President Nixon's 1952 campaign manager, and Attorney Jerry Giesler exhibit a copy of a 1 1/2-million-dollar libel suit Chotiner filed against "Behind the Scene" magazine in Los Angeles. Chotiner says the magazine carried an article in its March issue calling him "Nixon's secret link with the underworld." He said the article was part of a conspiracy to discredit him in an attempt to smirch Nixon.

IN HOUSE

Ike School Plan Faces First Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's program of federal aid for school construction may get its first test in a direct contest on the House floor.

Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.), senior Republican on the House Education Committee, said today efforts would be made on the floor to change a Democratic-sponsored measure to fit the President's program.

The Democratic bill, by Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), has been approved by the Education Committee and awaits Rules Committee clearance. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he expects it to reach the floor "reasonably soon."

In the Senate, Chairman Hill (D-Ala.) said the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee will hold some hearings on the administration plan. A bill to carry it out was introduced yesterday by Sen. Smith (R-N.J.). Eisenhower proposed a five-year

1 1/2 billion dollar program of federal matching grants along with financing aid and planning funds as means of meeting the classroom shortage. The Kelley bill would provide a four-year $1,600,000,000 program of grants. The touchy subject of racial segregation, unmentioned by Eisenhower, threatened passage of any school aid measure. "The only thing which will prevent enactment of a bill with the same principles as the President proposed is an antisegregation amendment. An antisegregation amendment will kill the bill," Hill said.

Rep. Powell (D-NY) has said he will push an amendment to deny federal aid to states or school districts not practicing racial integration in their schools. Southerners oppose any such restriction.

Income Tax Statute Gives Benefits To Military Men

Military personnel enjoy certain benefits under the income tax law, Ellis Campbell Jr., district director of the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas has explained.

Such items as subsistence and rental allowance, state bonus, mustering out pay, uniform allowance, gratuity pay, and National Service Life Insurance dividends, are not taxable and should not be included on the return.

Lump sum payments received by Air Corps Reserve officers in termination of service under Act of June, 1936, are not considered mustering out pay and are therefore taxable. Compensation for services, longevity pay, and reenlistment bonus, are taxable and are usually included in the amount shown on the Form W-2, he explained.

Those persons who complete the long Form 1040 and itemize deductions on page 2 may deduct amount expended for insignia and attachments for the uniform, loss due to replacement of shorts in accounts not due to negligence, and other deductions allowable to individuals not in the military service. Items not deductible include auto upkeep, damage to household equipment in moving, depreciation on uniforms, expense of visiting home, uniforms or alterations, and war insurance premiums.

The card form 1040A will again be available for the person whose total wages are less than $5,000 and who did not have over $100 of other income. Form 1040 will meet the needs of those who do not use Form 1040A.

"In completing the form," Campbell said, "You should add your service serial number after your name. The instruction booklet issued with the return will answer a lot of your questions." Campbell urged all military persons to contact their personnel who have been especially trained in the preparation of income tax returns.

New Traffic Light Up On 4th Street

The city installed another traffic signal this morning. It is at Fourth and Douglas streets and was recommended by the Citizens Traffic Commission and approved by the city commission.

The light is not controlled by the central box that works the other lights downtown. It is set up on its own system. The majority of the green light time is given to Fourth Street, about 60 per cent. It will work in with the 20-minute speed limit on Fourth Street.

Former Resident In VA Hospital

A former resident of Big Spring who has directed the city band in the 20's has been admitted to the VA Hospital in critical condition.

G. A. Hartman, 74, of San Angelo was taken to the hospital Wednesday. He was a resident of Big Spring until 1934 when he moved to San Angelo. During the 1920's he was director of the Big Spring city band and was a music teacher

Cubs 'Pirate'

Members of Den No. 3, Pack No. 1 put in an afternoon of "pirating" at their regular meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Robert Hayes, 100 Abilene. The six Cubs taking part heard Mrs. Jack C. Watson read a treasure hunt with refreshments as the "treasure." Leroy Green won first place in the Jolly Roger and map contest.

Jail Escapees Still At Large

GARDEN CITY, (SC)—No indication as to the whereabouts of two men who escaped from the Glascock County jail Jan. 4 has been received here by county officials.

The two men, Robert Gene Walker and Leroy Wilkum, both of Milwaukee, Wis., were being held and were charged with taking a car from A. D. Calloway of Garden City Dec. 10.

The pair had pried a door loose and escaped through the roof during the night. During the spring of 1955 another person had worked his way out of the jail, which last December came under fire for its condition.

Telecasts To Start Sunday

KBST-TV will go on the air with regular telecasting of programs at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Jack Wallace, president of the Big Spring Telecasting Corp., said that operations would open with a dedicatory prayer and dedicatory program lasting about 30 minutes. From that time on the station will be on its regular programming.

Test patterns were put on Tuesday night for the first time and reports from outlying area indicate good pictures up to 45 and 50 miles distant. Since that time engineers have been engaged in final installations and adjustments. The microwave system which will permit network programs is not due for completion before another month.

Parts Of Spudding Rig Are Stolen

Theft of a reel, bearings and brake bands from an oil well spudding rig owned by C. W. Guthrie was reported today.

Guthrie told sheriff's officers the machinery was taken from the Chester Jones lease near Vincent sometime this week. He valued the equipment at from $1,200 to $1,400. A white truck apparently was required to move the gear, which weighed more than a ton, sheriff's officers said. Truck tracks were seen near the spudder.

Elks In Contest For Polio Funds

Big Spring Elks will contest Odessa Elks in a March of Dimes fund raising effort.

Exact nature of the project has not been decided, but Oliver Cofer, exalted ruler of the Big Spring Elks, said that a challenge issued by Odessa Elks had been accepted. The contest, probably some type of street solicitation, will be pitched on a per capita basis. William Conger Jr. has been installed as a new member of the local lodge, said Cofer.

Three Burglary Complaints Filed

Three felony complaints were filed today in Justice Court. Two of the complaints were against Jackson Porter, the other against Elmer Lavender. Lavender and Porter are charged separately with burglarizing the Tip-Top Drive-In Tuesday night. Porter is also charged with burglary of the John Nutt Drive-In on the same date.

Anti-Clotting Drugs Aid In Brain Strokes

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Many crippling and fatal brain strokes apparently can be prevented by wise use of anti-blood-clotting drugs.

The drugs are bringing encouraging results against brain strokes caused by formation of blood clots blocking main arteries to the brain. They cannot help against strokes due to other causes, such as the blow-out of weakened arteries in the brain.

Dr. Clark H. Millikan and Dr. Robert G. Siekert began using the drugs on patients suffering from special types of strokes. These strokes bring numbness, staggering gait, weakness, sometimes temporary paralysis of the eyes or limbs, slurred speech, unconsciousness or other troubles.

Some persons have several such strokes a day, or several a week. Without treatment, many die within a short time when a severe stroke hits.

These strokes apparently come because blood clots are building up in either the basilar artery, supplying the brainstem with blood, or the carotid artery which runs up through the side of the neck. Autopsy studies showed that fatal clots in these arteries have a layered appearance, as though they had been built up gradually in layers.

The Mayo neurologists reasoned that each little stroke might be due to temporary interference in blood flow to the brain as the clot increased in size with a new layer. Anticoagulant drugs might prevent growth of the clot. If the clot blocks the artery completely, death or severe and permanent damage results.

Dr. Millikan and Dr. Siekert report promising results from daily or regular use of heparin or dicumarol, the same anticoagulants often used in treating heart attacks caused by blood clots.

In a number of patients, the little strokes stopped completely with no further trouble. Other patients showed great improvement. The drugs have been used to date on 53 patients, with only 14 per cent succumbing to strokes. But in another 23 persons not given the drugs, nearly half have since died from strokes.

The studies are continuing.

Lamesa Woman Dies In Sleep

LAMESA — Mrs. Ora E. Hornbeck, 59, found dead in bed at a family home at 1320 Segmole Road at 7:15 a.m. Friday.

Her husband, George W. Hornbeck, found her dead when he went to awaken her. Dr. Tom Privreau and Justice of Peace Jim Edwards said that death occurred around midnight and resulted from a coronary occlusion. The remains are at Higginbotham Funeral Home pending arrangements.

Lamesa 'Queens' Defeat Levelland In Volleyball

LAMESA — The Lamesa Queens won two volleyball games from Levelland teams here Thursday evening.

The B team, paced by Kay Huse and Olga Gonzales with eight points each, clipped the visitors 33-19. Pinkie McKenzie scored eight points for Levelland.

In the A game a bulky 15-7 half-time lead was largely what saved the Queens, for in the second half Levelland rallied to narrow the gap to 25-18. Joan Howard scored nine points and Marion McDonald seven for the queens and Irene Blakeley eight for Levelland.

Mississippi Racial Legislation Looms

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A barrage of segregation bills waits today for action by the Mississippi Legislature.

One bill would place a fine of $1,000 a day against any railroad or bus company which failed to keep segregated waiting rooms for intrastate passengers.

Another bill is designated to prevent outside lawyers from handling segregation cases in state courts. Three bills, taken together, apparently would form an attempt to prevent all integration in railroad and bus stations, whether passengers were traveling only within Mississippi or were crossing state lines.

Passengers who refuse to wait in rooms marked for their race could be fined a maximum of $1,000 and sent to jail for one year.

Some of the bills were introduced to combat the Interstate Commerce Commission ruling that interstate passengers cannot be segregated in waiting rooms. The ICC order went into effect Jan. 10.

Several cities moved without waiting for further legislative action. State laws already require segregation, but enforcement of the laws is left to the Public Service Commission or to the cities.

The railroad and bus bills:

1. Would require carriers to provide separate accommodations for the races traveling intrastate. The waiting rooms would be marked "colored waiting-room, intrastate passengers" or "white waiting room, intrastate passengers."

2. Would require all persons in intrastate travel to use rooms marked for them. The same bill also provides that no white person and no colored person can enter a room marked for the other race. This section does not differentiate between intrastate and interstate passengers.

Mind Papa, Judge Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Papa knows best was the advice given by a Superior Court judge to a teenager who wanted to be emancipated from her father's authority.

"The court advises the child to cooperate with the father and follow his sage advice for her future welfare," Judge Elmer Doyle held yesterday.

The daughter, Ione Turner, 17, had claimed her father Joseph Turner, 47, cafe owner in nearby Sierra Madre, had abused his parent authority by fining her for such household infractions as failing to brush the swimming pool properly and not making her bed. She had asked $500 a month for education and support.

Miss Turner had been living with her father four months. She had been reared by her grandparents in Chicago after her parents' divorce when she was an infant.

Turner, who later remarried, said he exacted fines from her monthly allowance of $100 to combat what he termed her tendency of laziness.

Horse Gets Even

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Johnnie S. Martinez told police he was driving along Las Positas Road when a horse ran out of a field and leaped on the hood of his car. He smashed the windshield and damaged the hood, a fender and the radio antenna. Martinez suffered a cut that required five stitches. The horse, he said, ran back into the field.

Inconvenient Time For Tax Worries

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman, author of best-seller "Cell 2455, Death Row," received a "final notice" yesterday from the Internal Revenue Service asking for $3,433.62 in unpaid 1954 taxes and interest.

The convict, who still is fighting through courts his 1948 death sentence for kidnap-rape, was advised:

"Avoid the inconvenience, embarrassment and additional costs that result from further delay."

Cross, Resigned ICC Chief, Admits 'Indiscreet' Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hugh W. Cross, resigned chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was quoted in testimony released today as admitting some "indiscreet" actions in connection with a Chicago contract.

But he denied that he used his office to help swing the contract to a friend, John L. Keeshin of Chicago, and declared that whatever stigma might fall on him personally, "the pain I never can survive would be any reflection" on the ICC because of anything he did.

"I have never had a finger or whisper of suspicion pointed at me before," he said. "I cannot believe that my action in any way affected those contracts."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee made public the testimony given by Cross and others in a closed door hearing last Nov. 15.

The subcommittee's Democratic majority overrode protests from its Republican members in releasing the transcript. Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), one of the members, denounced the release as "grossly unfair to Mr. Cross" without hearing more witnesses. Further hearings were abandoned after Cross resigned Nov. 23.

There was no immediate statement from Cross. He wrote to President Eisenhower in resigning that he had been the target of "baseless charges" which nevertheless would impair his service on the commission.

Cross, a Republican and former lieutenant governor of Illinois, was originally appointed to the ICC by former President Truman.

The inquiry revolved about the role Cross played in negotiations last summer which shifted to Keeshin's Railroad Transfer Service, Inc., a contract to haul train passengers by bus between railway depots in Chicago. The contract had been held for more than a century by the Parmalee Co. of Chicago.

Cross said he had "received what I consider to be threats" from Lee Freeman, whom he described as counsel for Parmalee. He said Freeman had told him "I am warning you, because you are going to hear about this for a long, long time." Cross said he thought the Parmalee group had spread a story that he influenced the contract award in return for a promise of a job.

"I say now that I was indiscreet, and I should not have done it," Cross said of his acknowledged talks about the contract with presidents of three railroads who had a voice in awarding it.

He named them as Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad; Paul E. Feucht, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co.; and Howard E. Simpson, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.

He denied vigorously that he had been offered a job with Keeshin if Keeshin got the contract, and disputed Johnston's testimony that Cross had spoken of expecting to get the job "if things worked out."

"There never was any promise of reward, and I have never had any interest in any enterprise of Mr. Keeshin, directly or indirectly, and there never was anything between us," Cross said.

He said Keeshin had mentioned a desire to employ him about two years ago, in connection with a plan to buy a bus line, but the plan "fell through" and there was no "carryover" of the job offer as far as he knew.

Keeshin had testified that he once did offer Cross a job, and that Cross understood that if he ever wanted to quit his government post and get out of politics "I would always be able to sit down and work out something with him." He said it was a standing offer.

Mississippi Racial Legislation Looms

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A barrage of segregation bills waits today for action by the Mississippi Legislature.

One bill would place a fine of $1,000 a day against any railroad or bus company which failed to keep segregated waiting rooms for intra-state passengers.

Another bill is designated to prevent outside lawyers from handling segregation cases in state courts.

Three bills, taken together, apparently would form an attempt to prevent all integration in railroad and bus stations, whether passengers were traveling only within Mississippi or were crossing state lines.

Passengers who refuse to wait in rooms marked for their race could be fined a maximum of $1,000 and sent to jail for one year.

vide separate accommodations for the races traveling intrastate. The waiting rooms would be marked "colored waiting room, intrastate passengers" or "white waiting room, intrastate passengers."

2. Would require all persons in intrastate travel to use rooms marked for them. The same bill also provides that no white person and no colored person can enter a room marked for the other race. This section does not differentiate between intrastate and interstate passengers.

Mind Papa, Judge Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Papa knows best was the advice given by a Superior Court judge to a teenager who wanted to be emancipated from her father's authority.

"The court advises the child to cooperate with the father and follow his sage advice for her future welfare," Judge Elmer Doyle held yesterday.

The daughter, Ione Turner, 17, had claimed her father Joseph Turner, 47, cafe owner in nearby Sierra Madre, had abused his parent authority by fining her for such household infractions as failing to brush the swimming pool properly and not making her bed. She had asked $500 a month for education and support.

Miss Turner had been living with her father four months. She had been reared by her grandparents in Chicago after her parents' divorce when she was an infant.

Turner, who later remarried, said he exacted fines from her monthly allowance of $100 to combat what he termed her tendency of laziness.

Horse Gets Even

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Johnnie S. Martinez told police he was driving along Las Positas Road when a horse ran out of a field and leaped on the hood of his car. He smashed the windshield and damaged the hood, a fender and the radio antenna. Martinez suffered a cut that required five stitches. The horse, he said, ran back into the field.

Inconvenient Time For Tax Worries

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman, author of best-seller "Cell 2455, Death Row," received a "final notice" yesterday from the Internal Revenue Service asking for $3,433.62 in unpaid 1954 taxes and interest.

The convict, who still is fighting through courts his 1948 death sentence for kidnap-rape, was advised:

"Avoid the inconvenience, embarrassment and additional costs that result from further delay."

Cross, Resigned ICC Chief, Admits 'Indiscreet' Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hugh W. Cross, resigned chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was quoted in testimony released today as admitting some "indiscreet" actions in connection with a Chicago contract.

But he denied that he used his office to help swing the contract to a friend, John L. Keeshin of Chicago, and declared that whatever stigma might fall on him personally, "the pain I never can survive would be any reflection" on the ICC because of anything he did.

He said Freeman had told him "I am warning you, because you are going to hear about this for a long, long time." Cross said he believed that his action in any way affected those contracts.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee made public the testimony given by Cross and others in a closed door hearing last Nov. 15.

The subcommittee's Democratic majority overrode protests from its Republican members in releasing the transcript. Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), one of the members, denounced the release as "grossly unfair to Mr. Cross" without hearing more witnesses. Further hearings were abandoned after Cross resigned Nov. 23.

described as counsel for Parmelee. He said Freeman had told him "I am warning you, because you are going to hear about this for a long, long time." Cross said he believed that his action in any way affected those contracts.

The subcommittee's Democratic majority overrode protests from its Republican members in releasing the transcript. Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), one of the members, denounced the release as "grossly unfair to Mr. Cross" without hearing more witnesses. Further hearings were abandoned after Cross resigned Nov. 23.

There was no immediate statement from Cross. He wrote to President Eisenhower in resigning that he had been the target of "baseless charges" which nevertheless would impair his service on the commission.

Cross, a Republican and former lieutenant governor of Illinois, was originally appointed to the ICC by former President Truman.

The inquiry revolved about the role Cross played in negotiations last summer which shifted to Keeshin's Railroad Transfer Service, Inc., a contract to haul train passengers by bus between railway depots in Chicago. The contract had been held for more than a century by the Parmelee Co. of Chicago.

Cross said he had "received what I consider to be threats" from Lee Freeman, whom he

He named them as Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad; Paul E. Feucht, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co.; and Howard E. Simpson, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.

He denied vigorously that he had been offered a job with Keeshin if Keeshin got the contract, and disputed Johnston's statement that Cross had spoken of expecting to get the job "if things worked out."

"There never was any promise of reward, and I have never had any interest in any enterprise of Mr. Keeshin, directly or indirectly, and there never was anything between us," Cross said.

He said Keeshin had mentioned a desire to employ him about two years ago, in connection with a plan to buy a bus line, but the plan "fell through" and there was no "carryover" of the job offer as far as he knew.

Keeshin had testified that he once did offer Cross a job, and that Cross understood that if he ever wanted to quit his government post and get out of politics "I would always be able to sit down and work out something with him." He said it was a standing offer.
