Demos Claim Bright Omen In First Victory Of The Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Democrats claimed a bright 1956 omen today from their party's 3-1 victory in the first congressional election of the year. Republicans, however, saw no such significance in it.

made for other offices. Mrs. Buchanan won then, 36,896 to 23,474, approximately a 3-2 margin. In 1954, when Pennsylvania elected a Democratic governor, Mrs. Buchanan was elected by 38,318 to 44,157 for Smith.

Holland's Republican opponent, David J. Smith, McKeesport confectionery store operator, commented after the votes were counted that "Republican leaders refused to enter this contest."

Tunnel Under N.Y. River Is Flooded

NEW YORK (AP) — Water early today burst into a new tube being dug for the Lincoln automobile tunnel under the Hudson River. No one was injured. Workmen struggled to prevent water from flowing into the two tubes now in use.

Complete unofficial returns from the 30th Pennsylvania District, a heavily industrial area including five Pittsburgh wards and adjoining sections of Allegheny County, showed:

The breakthrough occurred in the new shaft at a point approximately 60 feet below the 12th Avenue in Manhattan. This is near the Hudson River's edge but to the landward side.

Yesterday's election was concerned only with the unexpired congressional term. No other office was on the ballot. Holland and Smith were the only candidates.

Youth Principal Concern Of 'Y'

The first Young Man's Christian Association grew out of the efforts of 12 young clerks in a dry-goods establishment to face the problems of their time.

Today, with the movement so international in character that it reaches into 68 nations, the YMCA is still fundamentally seeking to help groups of young people meet the problems of this time.

Guiding spirit behind the creation of YMCA was George Williams, a

HCJC Contract Let For Wire Around Track

Contract for a heavy mesh-type wire fence surrounding the new Howard County Junior College track was let by trustees Tuesday at a called meeting.

Low bidder on the 2,174-foot structure was Ableme Chain & Fence Company on a proposal of $3,849.51. The firm's original bid was for $4,434.50, but it had bid on a greater number of feet than specified, when the same per foot price was applied, the final figure resulted. Two other bids on the same footage were for $4,196 and $4,661. The fence will be a six-foot structure topped by barbed wire strands. Wire will be 9-gauge; gate posts will be three-inch, line posts two-inch, the top rail two-inch, and all posts set a minimum of 24-inches in the ground.

Trustees also approved a payment of $30 per day for all junior college instructors who take part in the annual state junior college clinic in Austin Feb. 24-25. This would be to cover all expenses, including travel.

Contract with Texas Electric Service Company was approved. HCJC came under a WG-2 type of rate with a $50 minimum and a volume scale that lowers KW charges rapidly as consumption goes up.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, presented some estimates on what furnishings of the new plant would cost. He pegged them at $34,082. He estimated that around $4,500 would be needed for the industrial arts building, $10,930 for the science building, $8,151 for the library, $7,500 for the music building, and $3,000 for the agriculture greenhouse laboratory.

Employment of Reba Shipp, effective Sept. 1, 1936, as a member of the business administration department staff was approved.

IN SCHOOL TALK

Stoddard Cautions On 'Generalities'

Dr. A. J. Stoddard, one of the nation's leading educators, cautioned teachers Tuesday against the danger of dealing in generalities.

"I almost hate the tendency to generalize about boys and girls," declared the venerable superintendent emeritus of the Los Angeles, Calif., Schools. He spoke to a faculty meeting in the Senior High School auditorium, where instructors from Howard County Junior College as well as a number of out-of-town schools joined.

This address climaxed a day of visitation with the local schools. Dr. Stoddard gave for the first time, he said, a talk on "Characteristics of a Good American."

Those with a few of the characteristics would include:

- One who cares what happens in the world where he isn't.
- One who is concerned with what will happen in this world where he is gone.
- One who learns to think in specifics and does not allow his life to be governed by generalities.
- One who loves his country.

"This is on delicate ground these days," he said, "but I believe someone in education must speak out on it. There are two types of individuals dangerous to our country. One is the Communist in America, the most indefensible and despicable person who would sell out his nation. The other is the fanatic who is so poisonous in his avowed patriotism that he hates all who do not see exactly as he sees."

Dr. Stoddard lashed at the tendency to generalize youngsters on the basis of their IQs.

"The intelligence quotient is only one phase of it," he said. "I wished we had a backbone quotient—a love quotient—a neighborly quotient—a kindness quotient. . . . We are in bad business when we go around generalizing about children. Don't be too sure about people until all the case is in."

Prejudices grow out of generalizations about groups because of race, creed, color, economics and a host of other reasons, some no more substantial than a snap of the finger, he said.

"Nothing is more out of place than prejudice in America. America stands for the sanctity of the individual, and for the right to be different and have that difference respected by others."

When he was superintendent in Philadelphia, he said, a five-year study on how people develop prejudices revealed no more sobering fact than that even children have prejudices, and that they develop

Editor, 9, Writes '30'

BOSTON (U)—The newspaper, "The Boston Rocket," was out of existence today. Its editor, 9-year-old Robert Decker who had hoped to be a real newspaperman some day, died yesterday of cirrhosis of the liver.

Bobby put out his pencilled news sheet from his bed in the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. He wrote of other patients, the nurses and doctors — and seven weeks ago he noted: "Only 17 days to Christmas. . . . Santa will be here soon."

One of the highlights of Bobby's short life came recently when an Associated Press reporter interviewed him and an Associated Press photographer took his picture. The sheaves of clippings about himself, sent by news clipping services, brightened his life for days.

But this is the end of Robert Decker's brave story — "30," in the journalistic tradition.

Tire Pump Saves Auto Gas Victim

TERRACE, B. C. (U)—An automobile tire pump was credited with saving the life of a motorist who had been left for dead in his car.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported a passersby thought Graham Whatman, 34, of Prince Rupert, and Mrs. Ann Ezilda, 36, were both dead of carbon monoxide fumes when they found the couple in a car stalled in a snowbank Monday. They hurried to notify authorities here and Mr. and Mrs. William McRae, who lived near the scene.

The McRaes revived Whatman by forcing air into his lungs with a tire pump. His woman companion, however, was dead.

'Baby Traffic' In Oklahoma, Texas Hit In Kefauver Bill

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn)—citing what he called cases of babies being sold in Texas and Oklahoma—introduced a bill yesterday to end "traffic in human life."

Kefauver said testimony given at the Chicago hearings of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee showed that Mrs. Mary Jane Dunning of Norman, Okla., and her sister, Myrtle Hurd, operated a maternity home and adoptive service at Sherman, Tex. Investigators said pregnant girls and new babies were shuffled across the Oklahoma border at night and the children were sold in interstate commerce.

Mrs. Dunning testified she had cards distributed telling of a "free maternity home" and "a home for unfortunate mothers." She said she also placed ads in the Oklahoma newspapers.

Mrs. Dunning also testified of a maternity home operated by Mae Marshall at Edmond, Okla.

Mrs. Dunning said Mrs. Marshall requested that "girls in trouble" be sent to her. Mrs. Dunning said the girls lived in a "shanty shack" behind the Marshall home.

A subcommittee spokesman said these operations were not illegal because neither Texas nor Oklahoma has laws requiring licenses for such homes or prohibiting the sale of babies.

Peru's Breadbasket Suffers Drought

LIMA, Peru (U)—The fertile central zone of Peru, the nation's breadbasket and chief dollar producer, is in the grip of a severe and damaging drought.

The dry spell that began with the advent of the Peruvian spring—fall in the United States—has had its crippling economic effect not only on agriculture but on mining as well.

The few rivers that course down to the sometimes arid coastal areas are far below their normal levels, or entirely dry. Mining of zinc, lead, copper and vanadium is almost at a standstill because there is no water to turn the hydroelectric generators.

Experts blame the drought on an unexplained retreat of the Andean glaciers.

Natural Gas Bill Sponsors Hope For Vote Next Week

WASHINGTON (U)—Proponents said today they hope voting will start early next week on a bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct control by the Federal Power Commission.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) prepared to close his Senate speech against the bill—a speech he has been delivering, with some interruptions, since last week.

Douglas is sponsoring a substitute bill to exempt from federal regulation producers whose sales of natural gas in interstate commerce aggregate less than 2 billion cubic feet a year.

This, he said, still would require the regulation of 197 producing companies setting 69 per cent of all gas marketed across state lines.

The measure before the Senate differs only in minor details from a similar one which the House last year approved by a narrow margin.

The Senate vote is expected to be close, too, with present signs indicating probable passage.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) spoke for the bill yesterday, saying it is "clearly in the public interest. He said it would assure consumers of "much more gas at much less cost."

Douglas contended the bill would "gouge consumers of added charges totaling 600 to 900 million dollars a year."

Dixie Governors Meet

'INTERPOSITION'

Southern Governors Agree To Fight Supreme Court Ruling

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Governors of four Southern states have agreed to ask their legislatures to pre-empt by "interposition"—the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that outlawed segregation in public schools.

The degree of protest that would be incorporated in the various interposition resolutions was left to the individual states, but there were indications three states would stop short of defying the high court.

Such an amendment would have to be proposed by two-thirds of the members of both houses of Congress. It would then have to be approved by three-fourths of the states.

Widow's Home Teeters On Cliff

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A widow's nine-room house partly resembles a castle in the air and she isn't happy about it. Because of landslides and erosion, the home of Mrs. Edith Taylor now hangs 18 feet over Portero Canyon, 300 feet deep.

ing the outcome of the proposed amendment, the protested decision should be declared null and void. Timmerman's statement said the four governors declare:

"1. That there be adopted a resolution of interposition or protest in appropriate language against the encroachment of the central government upon the sovereignty of the several states and their people."

Veteran Judge Calls Home Life Youth's Best Bet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There is nothing wrong with most kids today that a little more stable home life can't cure, says a judge who has handled more than 100,000 children in the last five years.

"The kids of 1956 are no worse than those of 1906 or 1856," the judge said in an interview. "They just have more machinery for getting into trouble today."

Princess Meg Wasn't Quite 'Out'

LONDON (AP)—Onlookers gasped when Princess Margaret stepped from her car at the theater, but the Queen's pretty young sister hadn't quite come out in her stocking feet.

Steers Rack Up Victory

Uncanny ability to hit from outside kept Vernon in contention but the Big Spring Steers romped to a relatively easy 63-56 District 1-AAA basketball victory over the Lions here Tuesday night.

The Longhorns, using their height to good advantage, pulled into an 18-point lead at one stage of the game only to have the visitors change their offensive tactics and maneuver to within three points of a tie.

Charley Johnson proved somewhat of an "eagle-eye" himself, however, to combine with Jimmy Bice and Jan Loudermilk and gave the Steers the needed cushion.

Johnson scored 20 points, most of them from quarter court, and played a fine all-around game. Bice tied him for scoring laurels. Most of his points came on tip-ins.

Loudermilk didn't shoot too much—he counted 11 points—but he controlled the backboards, along with Bice.

Marvin Thomas banged away for 14 points to lead Vernon. Keith Morris had 12 points and Mac Percival, son of the Vernon coach, 11 for the Lions.

The win was Big Spring's third in conference play, against eight losses, and anchored Vernon more firmly in the 1-AAA cellar.

Frank Hardesty led a last quarter surge that enabled the Big Spring reserves to defeat the highly regarded Vernon Bees in the preliminary, 53-44.

In that one, Vernon led going into the final eight minutes, 35-32, but Hardesty tossed in five field goals in that quarter to swing the issue.

Hardesty scored 18 points to easily lead Big Spring. Lloyd Harrison, who was to see his first varsity action in the A game, contributed 12 points toward the Dogie aggregate, eight of them from the penalty line.

Don Adamson paced Vernon with 16 points.

Most Of Favored Quintets Lose Out In Cage Play

By BEN OLAN
By The Associated Press

It would have taken a guy with a sharply focused crystal ball to correctly predict which teams would be at the top of the nation's college basketball heap at the season's midway mark.

The experts who called 'em as they saw 'em before the start of the campaign didn't see 'em too well.

Only San Francisco, which will be shooting for a record 40th straight victory against California Saturday night, has made the boys look good.

The Dons, voted the team most likely to succeed in the preseason Associated Press poll, still enjoyed a whopping plurality in the latest balloting.

But that's as far as it goes. Utah, Brigham Young and Dequesne, each rated a power prior to the season's first basket, are not among the top 20 teams. Iowa, considered the fourth best team behind San Francisco, Kentucky and North Carolina State, was 13th in the latest rankings. And Alabama, put in the No. 6 slot at the start, is now in 12th position.

The surprise teams are Dayton, Illinois, Temple, Vanderbilt, North Carolina, Louisville and Duke. Only Dayton and Illinois from among this group were listed in the top 10 in the preseason experting.

The Flyers of Dayton, currently ranked No. 2, have compiled the nation's best record, 14-0, but something or someone will have to give in their game with Louisville (No. 9) Saturday night. Louisville is 15-1 on the season, having lost only to Western Kentucky.

None of the top 10 teams saw action on last night's slim card. Oklahoma City, ranked 10th, nipped Wichita 56-55 with a tight stall throughout much of the second half.

Robinson Agrees To Slash Of $4,500 In Pay Check

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN (AP)—Jackie Robinson, who yesterday swallowed his pride and agreed to a $4,500 slash in salary, served notice today he was prepared to make "the fight of my life" to retain his regular third base job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"This will be my last year," he said, "and I intend to make it one of my best."

The veteran infielder, now in the twilight of a brilliant nine-year major league career, said in a telephone interview he was already preparing himself for the "big battle" and that his weight was now down to a respectable 210 pounds.

"I know everybody, and maybe that includes the Brooklyn front office too, has already conceded the third base job to Randy Jackson," he said. "But, as far as I'm concerned, he's got to take it away from me. And that's not going to be easy because I have no intention of sitting on the bench. If I didn't think I could play regularly, I wouldn't have signed for another year. I'd have quit."

The 37-year-old Robinson hastened to add this wasn't meant to cast any reflection upon the Jackson, who came to the Dodgers last December in a trade involving Don Hoak, Russ Meyer and others.

"Jackson is a great guy and a fine third baseman," he said.

GREEN TO BE HERE FRIDAY

W. J. Green, president of the new Class B Southwestern League, will meet with local business men at the Settles Hotel at 7:30 p.m. Friday to discuss Big Spring's status in the circuit.

A place in the ten-circuit circuit is available to Big Spring, provided its option is picked up and the salary guarantee is made.

Sammy Sain is leading a drive to save professional baseball for Big Spring.

At 6:25 p.m. Friday, Green will appear with Sain over KBST-TV Big Spring to explain what has to be done to save the club here.

Illinois May Not Indorse NY Move

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois State Athletic Commission has decided to "hold in abeyance" action on a resolution backing New York's ban against the boxing managers' guild.

Two of the three commission members, Lou Radzienda and John Behr, yesterday voted to withhold support of a National Boxing Assn. resolution backing Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission until the NBA's full convention in August.

Helfand banned the managers' guild from New York Jan. 15 by threatening to revoke a member's license.

Graves Chosen All-American

Jerry Graves of Big Spring was one of four Texas players chosen on the 1955 All-American high school football team Tuesday in Scholastic magazine, which is published in New York.

The others are Sam Caudle, Abilene guard; Larry Stevens, Angleton end; and Charles Milstead, Tyler quarterback.

The selection of Graves completes a sweep of honors for the Big Spring senior.

He previously had been named to the All-State teams of the Texas Sports Writers Association, the Waco News-Tribune and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram; the Star-Telegram's "Super" team; and the All-Southern squad.

Although it has not yet been officially announced, he will get to play in the All-Star game in Lubbock next August.

The 210-pound senior will delay the choice of the school he will attend until after baseball season. He is a catcher in baseball.

Jerry took the news of his latest honor very calmly. Last night, he operated the loud speaker at the Big Spring-Vernon basketball game.

More honors have come to him than any other Big Spring player in history. It is all the more remarkable, considering the fact that Big Spring won only four of ten games and, of course, did not get out of its own district.

Midland Rallies To Nip Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — Down by 17 points at the half, the Midland Bulldogs staged an incredible rally in the second half to tip the Lamesa Tornados, 71-63, in a practice basketball game here Tuesday night.

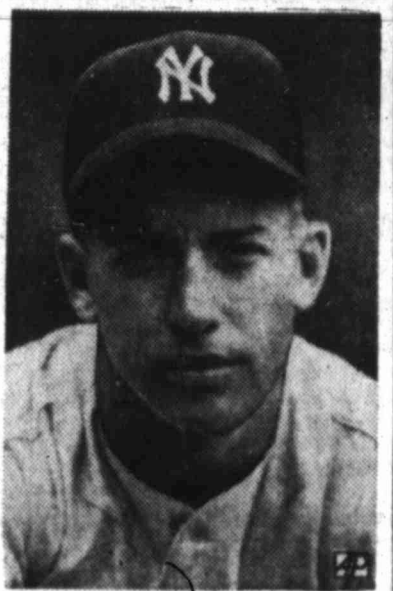

The visitors held the Tornados to 17 points in the last 15 minutes. Gary Robertson tossed in 24 points to lead Midland. Bobby Seal was tops for Lamesa with 16.

Mantle Says Yanks Will Again Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle, now the second highest salaried player on the New York Yankees, believes the American League champions will repeat in 1956 if the young pitchers come through.

The star centerfielder, fully recovered from the thigh injury that limited his World Series action to just two games, made no predictions concerning his own work for next season but indicated he was due for his greatest year.

After signing a contract at a reported $30,000 figure, which represents a $5,000 increase over his 1955 salary, Mantle stated he had been given a clean bill of health by the Yankee club physician for the first time since he injured his right knee in the 1951 World Series.

"The doc said the knee is stronger now than at any time since the injury," he said. "For the first time I can run as hard as I wish without feeling any twinge of pain. Except for a slight weakness which the doctors say is only natural following a tonsillectomy, I'm in perfect health. I plan to leave for Florida about a week before the regular squad arrives and get in playing shape as early as possible."

Mantle was rewarded for his fine work last year when he batted .306, drove in 97 runs and led the American League with 37 home runs. He said he had no specific aims for next year except to cut down on his strikeout total. Last year he fanned 97 times, an improvement over his 107 total of the previous year.

Snyder Upsets Ponies, 71-64

SWEETWATER (SC) — Snyder staged a mild upset here Tuesday night by toppling Sweetwater, 71-64, in a District 1-AAA basketball game.

The loss knocked the Ponies out of the running for the 1-AAA title. Snyder led by only one point at the half but the Tigers began to pull away after that.

Dale McKeenan of Sweetwater scored 29 points for Sweetwater but three of his teammates — Lawrence Bredemeyer, Bubba Meyer and Jerry Lamm — fouled out early in the fourth and he had to go it alone.

Sweetwater now has a 6-4 conference record. Snyder is 3-7. Sweetwater won the B game, 51-50.

Track Drills Launched Here

Full scale track and field workouts got under way at Big Spring High School Monday, at which time 33 boys reported.

Coach Harold Bentley said the thinly clad wild condition at Steer Stadium until the H.C.J.C. cinder track is ready. That is due to be sometime later this month.

The Longhorns will see their first action March 17, at which time they will enter the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder.

The Big Springers will be hosts for the American Business Club Relays, which take place Friday, March 30.

Bentley said the Steers will engage in at least two dual meets with nearby schools, in event they condition according to plan.

Field men out for practice include Marvin Wooten, Bobby Wallace, Noland Seary, Donnie Bryant, Newlin James, Roy Hughes, Lewis Porter, Bunky Grimes, Clay Cagle, Randall Hamby, Walter Dickinson, Frank Powell, McCoy Gilliland, Pat Hale, Knox Pitzer and J. D. Adams.

Runners who have reported are Guinette Gibbs, Milton Davis, Darrell Sanders, Richard Engle, Alton McCarty, Bobby Fuller, Don Collins, Jerry Barron, Ronnie King, Herschel Stocks, Clyde McMahan, John Westbrook, Ronnie Phillips, Wesley Grigsby, David Dibrrell, Johnny Janak and Bennie Campbell.

Bentley has most of the runners on the 440, reasoning that, if they can run that, they're capable of running in most any event.

Santee Heads Good Field In Boston

BOSTON (AP)—A glittering field, headed by Wes Santee if the mile, is down to start in the 67th Boston AA track meet Saturday night at the Boston Garden.

Santee, the nation's top miler hobbled by a leg injury since Dec. 30, will make his first start of the indoor season in the Hunter Mile—the event in which he hunted the world record last year.

Other late entries came from Ernie Shelton, the Southern California high jumper, and Charlie Capozzoli of Georgetown, the last 2-miler to upset Olympic steeplechase champion Horace Ashenfelter in Boston.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The problem is probably universal. It certainly is no less pronounced here than elsewhere.

It is a favorite practice of a few but conspicuous number of athletes at the local high school to discriminate against new boys in the program, through abuse, ridicule and even physical violence.

Positions on any athletic team are not or should not be determined through seniority but, if the new lad is possessed with talent, he is even more likely to have to put up with such shoddy and uncomplimentary treatment by boys who have "been around" longer than he has.

Athletes in one sport, too, have been prone to make disparaging remarks against boys in another endeavor. That is inexcusable. The boy being discriminated against usually can look for such treatment until such time as he is accepted in the inner circle, at which time he is expected to take a similar attitude toward other newcomers. It is an unwritten rule but a most despicable one.

Some time ago, one of the finest football players ever to wear a local uniform several times threatened to hang up his togs for good. A few jealous teammates were making life miserable for him.

Individually, they didn't dare hurt him. When running in packs, however, they showed him with invective and dared him to take a course. He bore up but there was no doubt that the harmony of the team suffered.

Coaches do what they can to combat the problem, reasoning that jealousy is a very human trait. Such practices have no place on any ball club, however. The calibre of play always suffers where harmony is "sacking."

Dub Behrens, the Coahoma coach, says it will be mandatory for all his football players to compete in track, unless they have valid excuses for being elsewhere.

Dub is strong for track and says it is next to impossible to build a really good football team unless you utilize all their speed and master the art of timing. Nowhere can they learn that better, he adds, than in track.

Dub will probably have upwards to 40 boys out for track this year.

Behrens also states that Harold Harrington, his sophomore end last fall, is one of the two best footballers he's ever coached. Harold should be recognized as one of the state's best, before he gets out of school.

Obie Bristow, the coach turned state legislator, has an idea which he says would take the underworld element out of professional boxing. Obie would have newspapers promote professional fistcutting on the order of the Golden Gloves tournaments. That way, he says, the fighters could be policed closely and the undesirable element be expelled.

Larry McCulloch, basketball coach at Odessa JC, dreaded to make the trip to Borger last week because of the "home-town officiating" he knew he would encounter in the game against Frank Phillips of Borger.

It is the practice of both McCulloch and Harold Davis of HCCJ to hire out-of-town arbiters for their West Zone games. On the other hand, Frank Phillips officials hire local talent for their games.

McCulloch's fears were borne out. Odessa beat the Plainsmen handily from the field but the Plainsmen made 37 free tosses to win the game, 61-69.

Ackerly Teams Win Double Bill From Klondike Clubs

ACKERLY, (SC) — The Ackerly Eagles finished their regular season district basketball play by beating Klondike, 63-52, here Tuesday night.

The Eagles, who now will compete in the district tournament, wound up with a 2-3 won-lost record.

The War Birds grabbed an early lead and led all the way. Joe Cook led the home club with 26 points while Adams had 22 for Klondike.

Ackerly also won the girls' game, 56-33. Wanda Williams scored 33 points for Ackerly. Patricia Iden had 18 and Dorothy Williams six.

For Klondike, Fayrene Kunkel tallied eight, Judy Airhart 21 and Beeman four.

NEW YORK (AP)—Tex Sullivan, co-promoter of the St. Nicholas Arena fights, stood alone before New York State Athletic Commissioner Julius Helfand today as the latter delved further into the methods used to obtain fighters for the club shows.

Sullivan's partner in the venture, the formal name is the London Sporting Club, Willie Gluzenberg, resigned yesterday, surrendering his license as corporation secretary and selling his interest in the club to Sullivan.

Helfand, however, refused to accept the resignation, pending an inquiry into the circumstances surrounding it.

Meanwhile, he tied in fight manager Charley Johnston, Bill Daly and Jack Kearns with the TV promotions. He drew from Robert Dreyer, general counsel for the DuMont network which carries the Monday night fights, the admission that he also dealt with the three managers in arranging the St. Nick's contract. This Daly promptly denied.

Andrea Lawrence Among Olympic Champs Back

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—The plusher Winter Olympics yet opens tomorrow in the shadow of an injury jinx and a surprising threat from a Russian powerhouse.

There's also a disturbing lack of snow. Eight gold medal winners from the 1952 games at Oslo will be among the 1,100 athletes representing 32 countries in the opening parade.

Returning champions include Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Parshall Colo., a double winner on ski, and Norway's Hjalmar Andersen, a triple winner on speed skates.

Shortly after the parade, the rink will be cleared and the first actual competition begins with Austria meeting Italy and Canada playing Germany in ice hockey.

Missing from the opening parade will be many of the 30 who have suffered practice injuries. Five were added to the casualty list yesterday, including Serge Giacchini of France, whose two-man bobsled shot off the icy, mile-long course at a mile-a-minute clip for the second time in a week.

Seven of the injured definitely will miss the competition, including Katy Rodolph of Reno, Nev., who fractured a neck vertebra in a ski spill.

Most of the casualties are skiers and most of the accidents have been caused by the lack of snow. There hasn't been a snowfall in two weeks and the light covering scattered over the ski runs each night hasn't kept the slopes from becoming too icy—and dangerous.

Keen competition also has contributed to the injury list. On the eve of the games, the outlook was like this:

The Russians, entering their first winter games, will clean up in speed skating and will do well in cross-country skiing. They'll also challenge in hockey.

Norway, entering the seventh Winter Olympics with one of its strongest teams, probably will squeak out a team victory in the unofficial point standings.

The United States, with Mrs. Lawrence below par, will be content to win two gold medals—in the women's figure skating with Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., despite her gashed leg, and in the men's figure event with Hayes Allen Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Italy will take the two-man and four-man bobs, unless the U. S. team—or possibly the Germans or Swiss—can crowd in.

Canada will win the hockey, pressed by Russia, Czechoslovakia and—as a long shot—the United States.

Still, this is international amateur competition at its most intense pitch, and upsets are almost certain.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Powerful entries from Calumet and Hasty House Farms will be among 14 handicap horses going in the 14th and richest Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park today.

If all 14 start in the 7-furlong feature, the race will gross $26,800 and net the winning owner $19,375. Sharing top impost of 124 pounds will be Calumet's Trentonian and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Social Outcast. Calumet also has entered Commodore M., at 116 pounds and Hasty House has entered the trio of Prince Noor, Mister Black and Sea O Erin, the latter under 120 pounds, the same weight assigned G. S. Colella's Switch On.

Next in the weights comes Clearwater Stable's Cavort, at 119, followed by Mister Black at 118 and J. W. Rodgers' Due de Fer at 117. Greentree Stable's Diving Board and High Tide Stable's Fabulist get in with 116. The same weight on Commodore M. Spring Hill Farm's 1 Appeal is assigned 115. Prince Noor 113 with 112 pounds on Cain Hoy Stable's Giant Cracker and Brookmeade's County Clare.

Calumet's entry probably will be the favorite. Trentonian went 6 furlongs last week to win in 1:09 4-5 after taking his last two at Garden State. Commodore M. also won last week, at 7 furlongs.

Still Undecided

DALLAS (AP)—Dick Butler, president of the Texas Baseball League who is being considered for the post of manager of the Kentucky State Fair Grounds, said last night he has reached no decision on his plans.

NY Giants Have 'Best Rookie Crop,' Says Club Official

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Garry Schumacher, personal assistant to New York Giants President Horace Stoneham, is of the opinion that the current Giant crop of rookies "is the best I have ever seen."

Among the hopefuls are the No. 1 percentage pitcher of the American Assn.; the Texas League's strikeout king and the loop's Most Valuable Player; a couple of 30-plus home run clouters and a youngster Manager Bill Rigney is touting as the regular second baseman "if his knees hold up."

"I believe we've got the finest crop of youngsters of any club in our minor league organization," said Schumacher. "We've got four great prospects you've probably never even heard about—except perhaps Bill White, a 22-year-old first baseman who played with Dallas last year. None of them are big fellow, with 77 stolen bases."

Of the seven new pitchers, Allen (Red) Worthington, a righthander, and Pete Burnside, a southpaw, appear to have the best chance to stick. Worthington is the young man who broke in so sensationally three years ago when he hurled shutouts in his first two major league starts. Wildness, however, prompted his return to the minors.

Burnside, a year Worthington's junior at 25, had an 18-11 record at Dallas, leading the Texas League with 235 strikeouts in 255 innings. His 2.48 earned run average was among the best. High hopes also are held out for Steve Riddick, former Philadelphia and Cincinnati righthander who was drafted from San Diego. Riddick was 13-2 in Puerto Rico through games of last week. Other new pitchers include Jim Constable, 12-9 and Joe Margoneri, 9-6 at Minneapolis. Dom Zanni, 15-12 at Sioux City and Ernie Broglio, a 20-year-old righthander from Stockton, Calif.

It may be a youngster who may be the best shortstop in baseball some day. Remember the name. It's Andre Rogers. He's only 19 and he stands 6-2. He's got enormous hands, rifle arm and covers acres of ground. He's a real good hitter, too. He used to be a cricket player in the Bahamas. He played with St. Cloud in the Northern League last year. White is the most advanced, however. In three years in pro ball he's hit 72 home runs. He's fast, too, for a skis, and Norway's Hjalmar Andersen, a triple winner on speed skates.

Shortly after the parade, the rink will be cleared and the first actual competition begins with Austria meeting Italy and Canada playing Germany in ice hockey.

Missing from the opening parade will be many of the 30 who have suffered practice injuries. Five were added to the casualty list yesterday, including Serge Giacchini of France, whose two-man bobsled shot off the icy, mile-long course at a mile-a-minute clip for the second time in a week.

Seven of the injured definitely will miss the competition, including Katy Rodolph of Reno, Nev., who fractured a neck vertebra in a ski spill.

Most of the casualties are skiers and most of the accidents have been caused by the lack of snow. There hasn't been a snowfall in two weeks and the light covering scattered over the ski runs each night hasn't kept the slopes from becoming too icy—and dangerous.

Keen competition also has contributed to the injury list. On the eve of the games, the outlook was like this:

The Russians, entering their first winter games, will clean up in speed skating and will do well in cross-country skiing. They'll also challenge in hockey.

Norway, entering the seventh Winter Olympics with one of its strongest teams, probably will squeak out a team victory in the unofficial point standings.

The United States, with Mrs. Lawrence below par, will be content to win two gold medals—in the women's figure skating with Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., despite her gashed leg, and in the men's figure event with Hayes Allen Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Italy will take the two-man and four-man bobs, unless the U. S. team—or possibly the Germans or Swiss—can crowd in.

Canada will win the hockey, pressed by Russia, Czechoslovakia and—as a long shot—the United States.

Still, this is international amateur competition at its most intense pitch, and upsets are almost certain.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Powerful entries from Calumet and Hasty House Farms will be among 14 handicap horses going in the 14th and richest Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park today.

If all 14 start in the 7-furlong feature, the race will gross $26,800 and net the winning owner $19,375. Sharing top impost of 124 pounds will be Calumet's Trentonian and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Social Outcast. Calumet also has entered Commodore M., at 116 pounds and Hasty House has entered the trio of Prince Noor, Mister Black and Sea O Erin, the latter under 120 pounds, the same weight assigned G. S. Colella's Switch On.

Next in the weights comes Clearwater Stable's Cavort, at 119, followed by Mister Black at 118 and J. W. Rodgers' Due de Fer at 117. Greentree Stable's Diving Board and High Tide Stable's Fabulist get in with 116. The same weight on Commodore M. Spring Hill Farm's 1 Appeal is assigned 115. Prince Noor 113 with 112 pounds on Cain Hoy Stable's Giant Cracker and Brookmeade's County Clare.

Calumet's entry probably will be the favorite. Trentonian went 6 furlongs last week to win in 1:09 4-5 after taking his last two at Garden State. Commodore M. also won last week, at 7 furlongs.

Still Undecided

DALLAS (AP)—Dick Butler, president of the Texas Baseball League who is being considered for the post of manager of the Kentucky State Fair Grounds, said last night he has reached no decision on his plans.

Plains Cotton Growers Plan Organization

LAMESA — With a record of supplying 10 per cent of the nation's cotton and one-third of that in Texas, South Plains cotton growers girded Tuesday to do a better job of protecting their interests.

The 1,178 representatives of the cotton industry from 20 counties named W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock County cotton grower, as president of the yet unnamed organization. Each of the counties named representatives, one from the cotton producers and one from business.

Dawson county had 31 representatives attending under the chairmanship of Fred T. Raney. Selected to represent Dawson County on the area council were Ben Dopson, producer, and E. D. David, president of the Lamesa National Bank.

Don Jones, member of the Texas Tech textile research department, told the group that synthetic manufacturers spend $84 million each year in promotion of synthetic fibers; the cotton trade spends $2,100,000. There are only seven major synthetic producers, he added, yet there are untold thousands of cotton producers.

Meetings in counties will be held later to develop grass-root proposals for programs of watching after the interests of the vast South Plains and West Texas cotton interests.

Baptist Banquet Attracts 300

More than 300 persons attended the "birthday banquet" for members of the First Baptist Church last night.

The speakerless program included a tumbling act by physical education pupils of Billie Clyburn, songs directed by Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gambill, and readings by Frankie Brown, A.C. student.

This year the 14th year of the annual birthday banquet has been held. Members of the church dined at tables in accordance with the months in which they were born.

Several out-of-town guests and members of other local churches also were present last night. The affair was held in the junior high gymnasium.

Haywood Rites Due At Seminole

LAMESA — Ollie Fern Haywood, 73, a retired Semole barber, died at 6 a. m. Tuesday at Lamesa Hospital.

He was born in Coleman County and was a 32nd degree Mason and a Methodist and had lived here the last two months.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. O. F. Haywood, Lamesa; three sons, J. L. Haywood, Lamesa; O. S. Haywood, Helena, Mont.; Paul Haywood, Perryton; three sisters, Mrs. Alma Ford, Levelland; Mrs. Lillie Flynn, San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Cora Conlee, San Fernando, Calif.; five brothers, G. F. Haywood, Brownfield; A. W. Haywood, Alpine; C. C. Haywood and W. C. Haywood, Levelland; L. B. Haywood, Hemmet, Calif.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. today at the Seminole Methodist Church with the Rev. Horace Brooks, pastor, officiating. Interment is to be in the Seminole Cemetery under direction of the Phillips Funeral Home.

Billboard Burns

The billboard in front of the Rio Theatre was destroyed by fire about 8 p. m. Tuesday. Firemen said the cause of the blaze is unknown.

Committee Urges Move From Farms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development suggested today the government should explore the idea of offering financial aid to farm families who want to quit an overexpanded agriculture.

It suggested also that the government study the possibility of encouraging industrialization in rural areas.

The committee—which describes itself as a nonprofit, nonpolitical research and education organization supported by business concerns—said agriculture's present economic distress reflects too much production of some farm products, too much instability of farmers' income and too many full-time farm families with very low incomes.

There were, meanwhile, these other developments in the politically explosive farm situation:

1. A group of about 25 Midwestern Republican House members arranged to call on Secretary of Agriculture Benson to present proposals for emergency action to bolster prices. "We want action, and action now," said Rep. Lovre (R-ND), heading the unofficial nine-state delegation.

2. Sen. Young (R-ND) said "it will be a miracle" if Congress can act on new farm legislation before crop planting time. Young noted that the Senate Agriculture Committee on which he serves has just started to draft a bill, which then will require action by the Senate and the House.

The CED study of the farm situation was made by a research and policy committee headed by Frazar B. Wilde, president of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Hartford.

It went on record for the administration's flexible price support system and for the new administration soil bank plan to pay farmers for taking land out of production as a means of bringing production and consumption into balance within a five-year period.

To alleviate problems of about one million farm families in areas of persistent low incomes, the committee recommended "stimulation" of migration from the land to urban areas. It added that farmers who remain in low-income areas should be assisted in obtaining larger farms.

The Midwestern House Republicans prepared to urge Benson to launch large-scale purchases to support hog and cattle prices, and to ease farm credit restrictions, including a moratorium on federal farm mortgage loan payments.

In his economic message to Congress yesterday, President Eisenhower put new farm legislation as the "first and most pressing" job before Congress.

Despite Young's avowed pessimism about prospects for early action, Chairman Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he still hopes an omnibus farm bill will get through Congress before the end of February. Ellender and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), senior GOP member of the committee, reported general agreement was reached yesterday on desirability of the soil bank program, but they said details hadn't been worked out.

Demos Won't Leave Foreign Policy Out Of Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of Senate Democrats signaled unwillingness today to label specific foreign policy issues out of bounds for political campaign discussion.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said there must be room for "constructive criticism" of Eisenhower administration actions. He added both parties are in basic agreement on the objective of preserving peace.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday he has talked to Democratic leaders about the possibility of keeping one or two foreign problems out of campaign debate. He said constructive criticism is appropriate, but didn't define what is constructive. Nor did he name the issues he had in mind.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said Congress is going to examine thoroughly Dulles' "atomic-rattling foreign policy."

"I know of no coalition of Democrats or Republicans who can keep it out of political debate because Mr. Dulles and his political henchmen have already thrown it into the debate," he said.

"So long as he proposes to lead the American people to the precipice of war as a deterrent to war, it is the duty of Congress to examine and publicly debate his policies," Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said in a separate interview Dulles "talks about bipartisanship but all his actions are partisan."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said if Dulles wants to "set a good example" he can "apologize for the Republican platform plank in 1952" and for statements in a recent Life magazine article.

Dulles has been criticized by Democrats for statements attributed to him in the article that the ability to go to the verge of war without involvement is a "necessary art" of diplomacy.

Weather Just Won't Make Driver Happy

COVENTRY, R. I. (AP)—The sun came out yesterday to end a snow storm but it brought little joy to Ephraim Langlais, superintendent of Coventry school buses.

A previous snow storm had brought parental criticism of Langlais. The children were late getting home when a bus was stranded in the snow.

When the flakes began to pelt down yesterday, Langlais decided to take no chances—he had school officials dismiss classes an hour early.

A short while later the sun came out.

Socialist Premier Urged For France

PARIS (AP)—Communist leader Jacques Duclos today urged President Rene Coty to nominate a Socialist premier. All indications pointed to the naming of Socialist Guy Mollet, probably by Friday.

Coty summoned Duclos in his canvass of top political leaders' opinions on who might be able to form a government that could win majority approval from the new National Assembly.

Duclos' recommendation of a Socialist appeared to promise Mollet the Reds' 151 assembly votes. With the 81 Socialists and approximately 70 followers of Radical Socialist ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, Mollet's ally in the "Republican front," that would give the Socialist chief a small majority in the 596-member Chamber of Deputies.

Even if Coty has already made up his mind, custom requires him to interview the leaders of the major political factions before he announces his decision. But Mollet has been the leading contender since soon after the results of the Jan. 2 parliamentary election became known.

The President had his first talk with Andre le Troquer, newly elected president (speaker) of the National Assembly and also a Socialist.

"I think on Friday he may call the first man capable of forming the next cabinet," Le Troquer told reporters as he left Coty's office. In winning the Assembly presidency, Le Troquer drew on Communist votes as well as those of his own Socialists and the allied Radical (Moderate) party followers of ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France. He defeated outgoing Assembly President Pierre Schneider of the Catholic MRP (Popular Republican Movement) 280-205. It was believed Mollet too could count on Red support although he is offering the Communists no Cabinet posts in exchange. With the Socialist-Radical Republican Front holding only about 150 of the 596 seats in the chamber and the right-of-center coalition of outgoing Premier Edgar Faure opposing him or uncommitted, Mollet needs the 151 Communist votes to ensure confirmation by the Assembly.

Any cabinet Mollet forms is likely to have an important job in it for Mendes-France. The two had a long talk yesterday on division of the ministries between their factions.

Faure, whose Cabinet had continued in office after he dissolved the Assembly Nov. 30, submitted his resignation to Coty after Le Troquer's election.

Glasscock Sheriff Seeks Re-Election
GARDEN CITY, (SC)—Sam F. (Buster) Cox, Glasscock County sheriff, today announced he will seek re-election to the office.

The Glasscock sheriff also serves as county tax assessor-collector. Cox has held the post for the past three years.

Fresh Competition Seen In Electronics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top Justice Department officials today foresaw fresh competition in the electronics field as a result of an anti-trust judgment releasing American Telephone and Telegraph Co. patents.

The patents, held by AT&T and its manufacturing affiliate Western Electric, cover every known means of electrical communication. They represent the fruits of 70 years of research in AT&T's Bell Laboratories.

The judgment was entered yesterday in Federal District Court at Newark, N. J., after government-company negotiation.

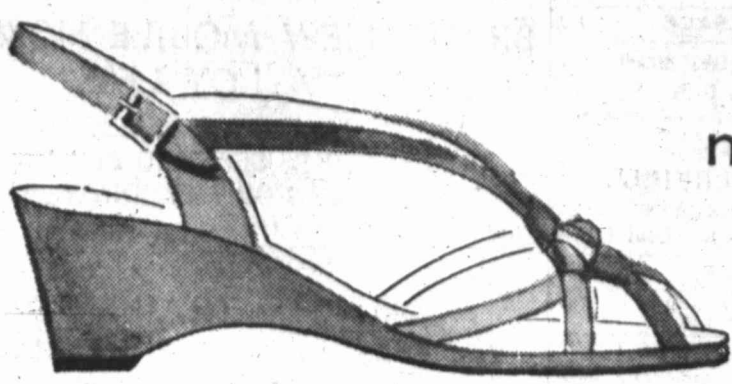

Some 8,600 of these patents will be available to any other U. S. concern that wants to use them—and without any royalty payment. Under the decree all other AT&T-Western Electric patents, now or in the future, must be made available to the general public "at reasonable and nondiscriminatory royalties." Where there is disagreement over what is reasonable, the court will fix the fee.

In granting patent rights, AT&T and Western Electric, will also be required to furnish "at reasonable charges" the technical know-how for the most efficient use of the devices involved. Included in the freed patent list are such modern-day miracles as the tiny transistor and the AT&T solar battery. In addition, the companies have developed a complete color television system which has never been offered publicly.

The consent judgment terminated antitrust action brought against the companies in 1949. In the settlement, the government dropped its original demand that Western Electric be divorced from AT&T and dissolved.

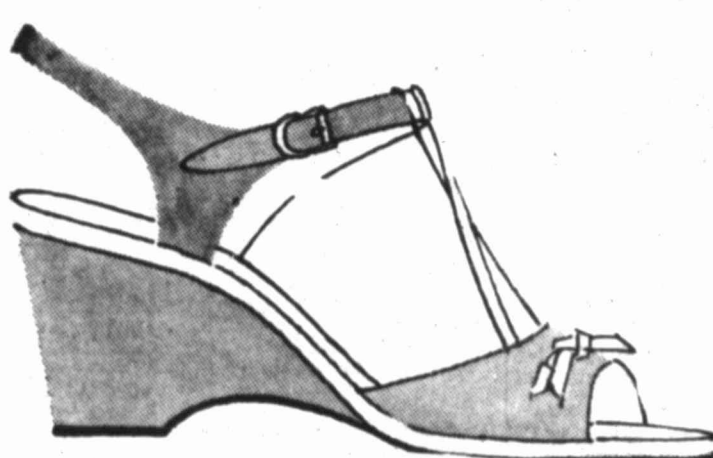

However, Western Electric will be restricted in the future to services as the manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone system and to work for the federal government.

Son's Whisky Drinking Too Much

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother told a judge she could stand her husband beating her but the sight of their 9-year-old son pouring himself a shot of whisky was "just too much."

Mrs. Kathryn Wdowiak's testimony in Superior Court yesterday won her $25 a week support money for the boy, Edward, and a court order barring her husband Matt, 46, a bus driver, from their home. The mother, 45, told Judge Harry G. Hershenson that when she asked her drinking son what he was doing, he asked her for "a wash." She said the boy told her, "Daddy says it's (whisky) good for me. It'll make a man of me."

4-H Clubbers Will Enter El Paso Show

Less than two weeks remain before the next stock show for Howard County 4-H Club members as the date nears for the annual El Paso Livestock meet.

A total of 12 steers and 20 lambs have been entered in the show starting Feb. 6.

Following the El Paso meet, the club members plan to enter either the Houston show or at Abilene, with the two shows being held the same week. James Taylor, county agent, said they would probably go to Abilene because it is closer.

Highway (on Route 1), and Newton has spent his lifetime within a mile of it.

Growing up on the farm, he worked with his father, E. M. Newton, until 1940, when he bought adjoining land. Today he works 240 acres of his own and works another 160 acres on a rental basis with his father. Some of it has been in cultivation for 40 years.

The Newton farm has seen some steady development since Mr. and Mrs. Newton acquired it. They built a home, barns and tenant house in 1946, then in 1951 added garage and pump house. All the improvements together today add up to a well-established farmstead. Newton, of course, has had the faithful help of Mrs. Newton, who has set the pace in landscaping around the home, a work that she likes.

Newton has mostly stayed with cotton farming, and generally has planted all the acreage he can to this crop. This past year he had 274 acres in cotton, the rest in grain sorghum. He has not gone in heavily for livestock raising, and has no cattle now. At times in the past he has run a few head.

Newton has worked with the Soil Conservation Service, and plans further work to improve productivity of his place. Last year he deep-broke his land, to a depth of 18-30 inches. This season he plans now to use some fertilizing methods, and, if the program works out with the SCS approval, will strip row his cotton with Australian peas.

Last year, Newton made 79 bales of cotton. The year 1949 saw his biggest year production-wise, when he got 268 bales off 300 acres, but he remembers 1950 as a more profitable year, with better income off 189 bales planted on 184 acres.

Farming under these arrangements, and with a comfortable home, suits the Newtons just fine.

It happens that the farm takes a back seat in interest these days, because No. 1 with the Newtons are two young grandsons, Gary Stallings, 3, and Jim Dick Stallings, 3 months. They are the children of the Newtons' only child, Mrs. Faye Stallings, who lives in the Center Point Community.

Mrs. Newton is the former Miss Zelma Anderson, and she has lived practically all her life in Howard County. She came here as a baby when her family moved from Mitchell County.

The Newtons belong to the Prairie View Baptist Church. He is a Mason, holding membership in the lodge in Big Spring, and in the Shrines Temple in Dallas.

Norther Pushes Across Texas

A norther has pushed across Texas to the Gulf. Increasing cloudiness was predicted for Wednesday, and no quick end was seen to the muggy weather covering most of the state.

A hard freeze hit the Panhandle and South Plains but most state temperatures were well above freezing.

A light drizzle fell at a number of points Tuesday but hardly enough to measure. Low clouds covered a section of North and Central Texas. Elsewhere skies were partly cloudy to clear.

Before dawn temperatures ranged from 20 degrees at Dalhart to 60 at Brownsville. Amarillo and Lubbock had 25 and Wichita Falls and Childress 30.

Slightly colder weather before dawn Thursday was predicted.

Cold Air Moves Into Southeast

A fresh batch of cold air moved into the Southeast today as far south as northern Florida. The chilly weather followed the season's worst snowstorm in some areas.

Temperatures dropped into the 40s in northern Florida and to the low 60s in the southeastern section. However, Key West reported a mild 71 compared with 61 at Miami.

The snowstorm earlier this week swept over areas from Arkansas to Virginia, with falls ranging up to a foot in parts of Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia.

Today's new snow extended in a belt from the Eastern Plains into Minnesota and southward into Iowa, Missouri and southern Illinois. Falls in most places were light, under an inch.

Light snow also fell in the lower Great Lakes region and near Lake Michigan.

A blanket of clouds covered the Midwest and held temperatures mostly between 15 and 25 degrees, a little warmer than yesterday. However, readings in Wisconsin were 10 to 25 degrees higher than the below-zero readings 24 hours earlier. At Grantsburg it was 39 degrees warmer than yesterday's -15.

Hearings To Open On Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee opens hearings today on a bill to liberalize certain social security benefits, with several members expressing doubts about key provisions.

Most of the questions about the House-passed measure were raised by Republicans, who are in a minority on the committee.

Democratic sources said they remained confident a social security bill would be passed this year.

It is understood the administration is not yet ready to present its recommendations on the bill. Secretary of Welfare Folsom is due to testify later.

In his economic message to Congress yesterday, President Eisenhower made no mention of the House-approved bill. He confined his social security remarks to renewing a request that coverage be extended to federal employees and those self-employed persons who still are not under the system.

The House bill would lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women may draw social security benefits and would make persons totally disabled after 50 eligible for payments.

The measure also would extend coverage to about 250,000 additional persons. These would be mainly self-employed professional groups including lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths and optometrists.

The additional benefits would be financed by raising the social security tax one half of 1 per cent on both employer and employee. The levy on each now is 2 per cent of the first $4,200 of annual earnings.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah), a finance committee member, said the proposed $21 tax increase under the House bill "would wipe out the projected (income) tax relief which Democrats talk about."

Winner To Appear On Other Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Morris, the 75-year-old widow who recently won $32,000 by answering questions about Charles Dickens on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question," is going in for personal appearances.

She will be on the "Quiz Kids" show Feb. 2 and she is booked as a guest of honor at a dinner Feb. 7 observing the 144th anniversary of the birth of Dickens.

Graham's Listeners Mounting Steadily

MADRAS, India (AP)—Billy Graham's crowds are mounting steadily in India. About 40,000 including some caste Hindus, jammed the Madras convention grounds last night for the American evangelist's second service in the big southeast Indian port.

Graham's first night service in Madras drew a crowd of 30,000. He also addressed a gathering of some 10,000 pastors.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Deductible Items Are Easily Figured

By FRANK O'BRIEN

After you have claimed your exemptions, the next work in filing your income tax return is the business of putting down your total income and determining how much you can deduct from it, for business-connected and personal expenses. After that, you may be able to reduce your income subject to tax further by exclusion of pay received while you were ill, or injured.

At line 5, on page 1 of Form 1040, you put down your income in 1955. Notice that you are directed to put down all income. That means, put down your total income as though no deductions had been made by your employer for federal income tax, social security, union dues, charity contributions, etc.

But in using Form 1040 you may have to go behind the scenes and do a little figuring before you put down your 1955 income. This is because business-connected expenses are deducted here.

THERE ARE FOUR TYPES OF BUSINESS CONNECTED EXPENSES deductible at this point. Just what is included under each heading is set forth in detail on pages 5 and 6 of the instructions pamphlet under the title "Trade and business deductions of employees." (Expenses of businessmen are not the subject here — just business expenses of employees.)

The point needing explanation is how these deductions are handled. In the case of business-connected expenses for which your employer partly or entirely reimburses you, (except expenses of travel and transportation) you add the amount of expense money he paid you to your wages. Then you subtract all the law allows you to deduct, up to the amount of expense money you received. This may be less than the expense money you got, and that would mean entering at Line 5 the total of your wages plus expense money you cannot deduct.

But if your allowable business-connected deductions are more than the expense money you received, you can deduct the remainder among your personal expenses, on page 2 of the form, under miscellaneous expenses. In either case, attach a worksheet showing your calculations, to your return.

In the case of the other three types of business-connected expenses — out-of-town travel costs, other transportation, and expenses of outside salesmen — you add to your wages the amount of expense money you received, then subtract the total of your allowable expenses (whether less or more than the expense money you got). Enter the result as your total wages for the year.

This sounds complex, but it is worthwhile, because proper handling of your business-connected expenses influences your adjusted gross income (total income less business-connected expenses). And the adjusted gross income figure is the basic figure from which your tax is computed.

BUSINESSMEN AND FARMERS deduct their business expenses on separate schedules.

The law allows you a minimum of 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income, within certain dollar limits, as tax-free, personal expenses. You can claim 10 per cent, or the dollar maximum, in the tax computation table at the bottom of page 2 of Form 1040.

The dollar limits are $1,000 on a joint return, $500 for a married person filing separately, or $1,000 for all others.

If you think your deductible expenses may come to more than that (this includes deductions of both husband and wife on a joint return) you can claim the total by itemizing. You list your itemized expenses in the special box for them on page 2 of Form 1040.

Deductible items are listed, and their handling explained, in the instructions pamphlet, beginning on page 11. There has been no change in deductions from last year. The change this year is that you can now itemize your personal expenses while using the short form.

In a nutshell, deductible expenses include contributions to churches, charities and many non-profit organizations; interest paid by you, including interest often disguised as "handling charges" in installment payment contracts, within certain limits; most non-federal tax payments; your net loss resulting from fire, storm, auto accident, shipwreck, storms or thefts; medical and dental costs over and above 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income, within dollar limits listed in the instructions (the dollar limits, but not the 3 per cent rule, apply to persons 65 or over); expenses of child care under specific limits; allowable business-connected expenses not deducted on page 1.

Expenses reimbursed by insurance benefits are not deductible, but the cost (to you) of accident and health insurance is deductible, as a medical cost.

Next comes another item that may be of considerable benefit to you. Like your business-connected expenses, it can reduce your adjusted gross income. This is the sick pay exclusion. This provision of the 1954 tax code lets you exclude (within limits) from your income amounts you received from your employer while you were away from work due to illness or injury.

HERE are the sick pay rules (more clearly and fully than set forth in the instructions):

In the case of absence from work due to injury, your sick pay exclusion begins with the first dollar paid while you were away. In the case of sickness, it begins only with your second week's sick pay, unless you were hospitalized at least one day the first week. In that case, the exclusion begins with your pay for the first day away.

It is easy to figure out the amount of your income you can set aside, tax free (exclude) as sick pay. The top amount you can claim is $100 a week.

Therefore, if you make anything up to and including $100 a week, you can exclude all the sick pay you receive (except that the first week's pay in the case of illness — not injury — may not count). Just determine your dollar limit of pay (your weekly pay divided by the number of days in your normal work week), and multiply that by the number of work days when you were absent and paid. That is your total exclusion.

Since the top rate is $100 a week, persons who earn more than $100 a week get their exclusion like this: Divide $100 by the number of days in your normal work week. That gives you your daily exclusion. Then multiply by the number of work days you were absent. That gives you your total exclusion. But remember that in the case of illness, the first week's pay may not count.

THE REVENUE SERVICE has ruled that pregnancy itself is not an illness. So if you were on paid absence due to pregnancy, that alone does not make your leave pay excludable. But if you were actually ill during any of that time, your pay for the work days you were ill is deductible.

You may have changed jobs during the year. If so, your employers may have collected more than the $4.00 maximum of Social Security (F.I.C.A.) tax. If this happened, you can claim credit for the surplus you paid at Line 5 of Form 1040 in the "where employed" column. If you are filing a joint return and both have this type of credit, compute and claim them separately.

Also, you may have made estimated tax payments in 1955 in addition to withholdings from your salary. You get credit for this on line 17b of Form 1040, page 1. Persons with wage and salary income only, now have the information they need to complete the new "wage earner's short form."

Heart Victim Due Operation

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP)—A frisky 3-year-old who can't understand why he tires so easily will fly to Minneapolis tomorrow for an operation his parents pray will enable him to live a normal life. Five days later three carloads journey by car, to donate blood while he undergoes delicate heart surgery at the University of Minnesota Clinic.

Tiny, bright-eyed Eddie Bekins was born, doctors said, with one, and possibly more openings in the chambers of his heart. The condition prevents his respiratory and circulatory systems from functioning properly, and has retarded his growth.

Surgeons will attempt to close the opening in a precarious, six-hour operation. "Doctors tell us chances are only about 3 in 10 that the operation will be successful," said Eddie's mother, Mrs. Henry Bekins. "But we're willing to take the chance. Otherwise, they say, his chances for a long life are slim."

Chicago Youth Is Gang Victim

CHICAGO (AP)—A 19-year-old youth was stabbed to death last night in the city's second apparently unprovoked teen-age gang violence in three days.

Witnesses told police that the victim, William J. McNeft, and a companion were attacked by a gang of four boys after they stepped from a car on the South-West Side.

One pulled a switchblade knife and stabbed McNeft in the heart. McNeft's companion John Gahler, 20, escaped injury. He said he recognized the slayer but knew of no reason for the attack.

A gang of teen-age hoodlums seriously beat Donald Stevens, 18, with an auto jack handle on the South Side Sunday night. One of the four youths reportedly named in grand jury true bills charging assault to kill was quoted as saying the gang "had nothing to do and thought we'd get us a few kicks."

Mistake Is Fatal

PRATTVILLE, Ala. (AP)—A Negro mother, half-awake and frantic with anxiety over the safety of her baby, grabbed a small bundle from a bed and rushed from her burning home yesterday. Outside, she discovered she had picked up a pillow instead of the child. The baby, Otis Roper Jr., perished in the flames.

Uncle Roy: 'Black Art' Was Forbidden By Rulers

By RAMON COFFMAN

Yesterday I spoke about the story of Nicholas Flamel, who declared that he had succeeded in making gold and silver out of mercury. Here is the English meaning of the record he is supposed to have left:

"I made silver at about noon on the 17th day of January in the year 1382. My wife was present to watch what happened. Later I placed the red stone on the same amount of mercury, and turned it into pure gold.

"I have made gold three times with the help of my wife. I was afraid that she might feel so joyful that she would give away the secret. As it proved, she was careful in her speech. We gave some of our wealth to deeds of mercy."

Your and I may feel sure that those statements were false, but many persons believed the tale during the Middle Ages. The fame of Flamel spread far across Europe.

France was only one of many lands where alchemists tried to do the wonderful work of turning low-priced metals into silver or gold. Germany, Poland, Italy and England were among the other countries which had alchemists.

Some kings and nobles employed alchemists, hoping that the secret, when discovered, would add to their riches. Failing to obtain gold from the alchemists, some of the rulers became angry. Laws were made against following the "black art," as it was called. King Henry IV of England decreed: "From now on, nobody shall multiply gold and silver."

Under a similar law, a French alchemist was arrested and narrowly escaped being hanged. Nevertheless the efforts went on to produce easy wealth in this manner.

Howard O. Kemper, one-time resident of Big Spring, has been named agency manager for the state of Arizona by the Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Houston.

Kemper, employed by Radio Station KBST during the 1930's, is married to a former Big Spring girl, Jean Dublin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Dublin, who live at 600 Scurry St. in Big Spring.

A native of Cicero, Kemper was educated in the public schools of Abilene, graduating from there in 1937. He later served as manager of the city bus system in Abilene until August, 1945, when he resigned to take employment with the insurance concern.

Kemper has maintained his interest in radio as a licensed amateur operator. His station, WSVHF, has served as the net control station for the Northwest Texas Emergency Net.

The Kempers will make their home in Phoenix. They have two children, Dorothy, 16, and John Howard, 6.

British Chief Sails For U. S., Talks With Ike

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Prime Minister Eden sailed today for the United States and talks with President Eisenhower. He reportedly will seek a pledge of joint U.S.-British air action against any major aggression by Israel or Arabs in the troubled Middle East.

In a statement before leaving aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, he said he hoped his trip would contribute "not only to the happiness and welfare of both our countries, but also to the peace of the world."

British informants said Eden will ask that the United States join Britain in a warning that air arms of the two big powers would move against any aggressor in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

These sources said he is ready to designate some Royal Air Force units based on Cyprus for such action in the event of large-scale violation of the Palestine armistice agreements or frontier lines. They said he may suggest similar stand-by instructions be given U.S. planes on two aircraft carriers of the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

According to the informants, Britain feels that the 1950 U.S.-British-French declaration that they will prevent any forcible change of existing frontiers in the Holy Land already forms a commitment for the Western Big three, and that a pledge of air action would strengthen the existing guarantee.

Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday the U. S. and British governments have been talking about a possible formula for limiting atomic and hydrogen bomb tests and that subject may come up in the talks with Eden.

Eden and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will fly to Washington immediately after reaching New York Monday.

Interposition Seen As Oil, Gas Weapon

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The attorney general of Texas said yesterday he may ask the State Legislature to adopt "interposition" resolutions but not for the purpose of preventing integration of white and Negro students in the public schools.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said "interposition"—a rarely used legal stand in which a state rejects a federal court order because it feels it violates rights reserved for the states—might prove useful in protecting state regulation of gas and oil in case Congress fails to pass legislation granting that power to the states.

"Segregation is out," Shepperd said, "but the State of Texas may want to employ interposition as a means of protecting its regulation of natural resources."

The states regulated all production of gas as well as oil until the U.S. Supreme Court ruled otherwise. The Harris bill, now pending in Congress, would restore that authority to the states.

Shepperd expressed the fear that if gas is under federal control, oil production will soon follow. Gas is produced with oil in many cases.

In declaring that interposition would not halt integration of white and Negro students in the public schools of this state, Shepperd cited the recent Texas Supreme Court action in upholding a district court ruling that the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation also knocked out the state's school segregation laws.

Shepperd had argued for segregation, contending that Texas segregation laws should be allowed to stand since none of the federal cases directly involve Texas.

Associate Justice Few Brewster of the Texas Supreme Court said Shepperd's argument on this point "is so utterly without merit that we should overrule it without further discussion."

"The United States Constitution shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby," Judge Brewster said.

Reds Like 'Porgy'

VIENNA (AP)—Radio Warsaw reported the touring American company presenting the opera "Porgy and Bess" received "frantic applause" in its opening last night in the Warsaw Opera House.

A Bible Thought For Today

For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. (Malachi 4:1)

Editorial

Public Business Is Public Property

If the Texas AP Managing Editors Association and other organs of the newspaper publishing business keep hammering away on the evils of news suppression, as it did in its meeting at Dallas last weekend, there is a good reason for it. Newspapers are continually plagued with the old cover-up, the old run-around, and the old barricade of the shut door, the star-chamber session, and the secret meeting of public bodies.

state governments, on up to Congress and the federal bureaus, are tempted to indulge in this door-shutting exercise at one time or another. A recent example of it was the decision of a Texas legislative committee investigating the insurance situation to consider a report of a state official on the subject in secret, a decision that led to the resignation of the committee, chairman, Senator Searcy Bracewell, in protest.

So-called "executive sessions" are seldom justified, but they are often called to save the "executives" from embarrassment — that is, from being called to account for their actions taken in secret. In general, only two forms of secret sessions can be justified in every case—the deliberation of grand and petit juries.

Nehru Has Some Of Own Worries

Pandit Nehru of India has fewer spare hours on his hands these days in which to entertain Russian bigwigs or put in his ten cents' worth in the field of diplomacy and international politics. Riots which started several days ago in Bombay have now spread to all parts of the country, and the count of dead at week's end was somewhere between 300 and 400. And to make bad matters worse the Communists were moving in and exploiting the situation with their customary forehandedness, though the spark that set off the disorder had nothing to do with communism.

From that area the dispute over new state lines spread far and wide, and while the Nehru government is trying to suppress the riots with ruthless force and meeting with some success, the issue is likely to plague the Indian government for a long time to come.

The uprising serves to remind us that India is not one country and one people, but a subcontinent of many races, speaking many languages, worshipping many gods, with no common culture or interest to bind them together. For generations these diverse elements were held together by the common tie of British rule, with the crown as the symbol of power.

Sloan Has Eye For Style-In Cars And Models

NEW YORK — Who's Who indicates Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. will be 81 on May 23. He uses a hearing aid. But don't let outward evidence of oregonianism fool you. The chairman of General Motors Corp. has not lost his sense of play, values, or pretty girls.

C. Alexander, president of J. P. Morgan & Co.; J. Stewart Baker, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank; James S. Rockefeller, president of First National City Bank, all of New York; Charles T. Fisher Jr., president of the National Bank of Detroit, G.M.'s big deposits to move here, there and thataway.

Sloan put a new twist on his now-famous remark, "In the auto industry, we do everything possible to satisfy a customer, and then turn around the next year and do everything possible to make him dissatisfied," thus:

"The policy of the industry is to upgrade our customers, make them reach for something better. And then it is up to them to find the money to pay for it." The Federal Reserve Board, ever on the worry about the rise in consumer debt, is well aware of the auto industry's outstanding success in doing just that.

Regarding G. M.'s 1956 cars, Sloan said: "The architecture may not seem so very different from the '55's. But there are changes in power, in appointments, and in the cars are being set off, as usual, by M. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee; Bethlehem, by Eugene G. Grace, chairman, and Arthur B. Homer, president; Republic, by C. M. White, president; Allegheny Ludlum, by E. G. Hanley, president. G. M.'s a good customer for steel.

There were publishers and editors, including Donald C. McGraw, president of McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.; Robert E. MacNeal, president of Curtis Publishing Co.; Henry E. Luce, head of Time-Life; Bernard M. Kilgore, president of the Wall Street Journal; Bernard J. Riddler, publisher of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce. G. M.'s a big advertiser.

Hold That Line

NEW YORK — The nation seems to be getting ready for a switch to "hold that line" tactics on the business front.

The momentum of good times is carrying over into the start of the new year. But earlier fears of a threat of inflation have been stilled of late by the turnaround in auto production and home building — the two fields in which dangers of a runaway boom were once believed concentrated.

And so businessmen were all set for President Eisenhower's report today on the state of the nation's economy to forecast a 400-billion-dollar year but a slowdown from 1955's rapid rate of gain.

In the first nine months of 1955 the nation's dollar total of production of goods and services averaged out at a 320-billion annual rate. But a roaring fourth quarter probably brought that gross national production to a kissing distance of the 400-billion mark.

Business economists think the first three to five months of this year will see that level maintained.

Then comes the testing time. The "hold that line" policies now shaping up are seen in the assertions of administration leaders that a sharp turnaround in business would be considered a reason to reduce taxes. Increased government spending is proposed on several fronts.

House-building credit rules have already been relaxed to keep home building from taking too much of a tumble. Federal reserve executives have pledged that money and credit supplies will be increased should any pronounced business downturn warrant it.

The downturn in farm income has worried many economists. It is now getting the full scale attention of congressmen — which may or may not be a good thing.

And now the all-powerful consumer is beginning to worry businessmen. Retail sales continue high, but have started to level off. Bankers report a switch at year-end from free spending to more saving.

-SAM DAWSON

The Two Biggest Issues!

James Marlow Overdoing Of Credit Buying

WASHINGTON — Buying on credit is more than an American custom. It's one of the props of the economy. It can be dangerous if it's overdone. The Eisenhower administration seems concerned that could happen.

Credit buying zoomed in 1955. It shot up more last year than in the previous two years of President Eisenhower's term. Auto buying was a big part of it.

Eisenhower didn't come right out and ask Congress to pass a law giving the government authority to slap curbs on credit whenever necessary. Instead, he suggested Congress consider doing it.

But credit curbs are unpopular with businessmen and with consumers.

Law Limiting Dogs Exposed As Legal Ghost

SARK, Channel Islands — A dog limit law, long observed on Sark, has been exposed as a legal ghost.

Musty archives have given up a secret 136 years old, and a man who covets a Corgi, fancies a Chihuahua no longer is dogged by the threat of jail.

In fact, no reason exists why any of Sark's 500 dwellers can't dash out forthwith and purchase a dog. And it all came to light by accident.

Not long ago a nose count of the island's dog population was taken, and it developed there were 75 of them. Officials recalled that under a law passed by the Sark parliament in 1785, the maximum number of dogs was fixed at 49—one for each of the original 16th Century settlers.

The future looked grim, and there were sad faces in the audience when parliament convened to consider the problem.

Then up stepped Hilary Carrel, the island's Greiffer, or Chancellor of the Exchequer, still dusty from research in the yellowing statutes of long ago. He had great news.

It was true that a 40-dog law was passed in 1785. But the records plainly showed that it had been repealed quietly in 1820.

It still is the law, Carrel said, that only one person on the island is permitted to own a female dog. Under a statute dating back to the middle of the 1500's, that right belongs at present to the hereditary Dame of Sark—Mrs. Sibyl Hathaway.

Mrs. Hathaway owns a French poodle named Bella. How did Mrs. Hathaway take the news? "It," she said, "am going to start breeding poodles."

Sudan Lines Up For Red Arms

CAIRO, Egypt — Newly-independent Sudan is joining the Arab countries lining up for possible arms deals with Soviet-bloc nations. But the Sudanese are ready to buy from the West, too.

Foreign Minister Mubarak Zargot said Sudan has sent arms-shopping missions to Britain, France, India, Pakistan and Czechoslovakia.

He told a news conference "nothing definite has been decided yet," but added that his government has no objections to purchasing arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

The Sudanese defense forces total 12,000 men, Zargot said, representing a doubling in strength in the past two years.

Sudan declared its independence Jan. 1 and won 57 years of joint British-Egyptian rule.

Hal Boyle And May Our Tribe Increase

NEW YORK — Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That there are more than 1,500,000 people named Smith in the United States, and the number increases by about 110 every day. This doesn't include the Smyths, Smythes, Schmitts, Schmidts or Psmiths.

That if you pick up a handful of good soil you hold more living organisms in your fist than there are human beings in the entire world.

That American industry in the next 10 years will spend $6 1/2 billion dollars on research and development, more than 1 1/2 times the total expended since the birth of the nation.

That in 1941 only about a million American families owned two or more cars, but now 4 1/2 million do. But do they fit in a 1941 garage? That in autopsies performed on 193 cats killed in highway accidents one was found to have consumed a wild bird. The stomach contents consisted mostly of mice, young rabbits and rats.

That perhaps the most crime-free community in the world is Karakelic, a Turkish village with a population of 450. In the last 99 years not one of its inhabitants has been arrested.

That you may not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, but Joseph W. Lippincott, a Philadelphia bird authority, found old crows learned to speak more readily than younger ones.

That it is safer to drive in the city than in the country. Of the 36,000 fatal car accidents in 1954, only 9,000 occurred in rural areas.

That woman's place is now in the business office as well as in the home. In 1890 men clerical workers outnumbered women eight to one, but today women hold a three-to-one edge.

That a "winnyburger" is a hamburger made from horsemeat.

Around The Rim An Educational Trip

You meet some mighty interesting people on the bus.

There must be something about a bus that causes them to bare their innermost secrets; all you have to do is sit and listen, dropping in a non-committal prod every now and then.

Take my friend, I say my friend, because he said I was his. Hardly had the seat of my trousers caressed the seat beside him than he said: "Where are you bound, My Friend?" Thereafter I got in a few, "well I'll say" and "whadya-knows" and I learned a lot. Besides, it helped pass the miles away.

I learned that he had floated up and down U. S. 80 from Abilene to El Paso for the past 35 years, working at various jobs. He could name a lot of people by name and knew a lot more by their occupations.

I also got his reaction to the automobile: "The greatest curse of mankind outside of the motion pictures."

This, of course, excepted buses, on account of he found it wiser to pay his money and let the other fellow worry about the driving. The fact that he had two cars at home was not regarded as an inconsistency.

He has not, he confided, eaten breakfast since 1944, not over a dozen times, anyhow. And if he were to eat, "You know what I'd want? You'll laugh when I tell you and if you do I'll laugh right with you. But it's Brer' Rabbit syrup, butter and plenty of Irish potatoes. Ain't it awful to eat potatoes for breakfast?"

I assured him that lots of people found potatoes appropriate for breakfast. This seemed to warm him to a favorite subject—food in the old days when he was reared on the farm.

"They said it was 13 in Abilene the other morning," he mused, "What a morning to hand up a shoot! I remember my dad killed nine hogs at one time and they averaged up better'n 200 pounds apiece. We screwed down the hand meat grinder and I quit the kids next morning before dawn and went to sleep, but my sisters said they ground sausage until 2 o'clock the next afternoon. Mama had a right good sewing machine and she fixed all the sacks and seasoned the sausage with sage she had grown in her own garden."

"Papa knowed how to salt down the meat and when was time to take it out. Well sir, he fixed a big tub of boiling water and he would take and stick a piece of meat down in that water for a minute or two and then hand it up. Then we gathered the hickory wood — Papa wouldn't have no wood but hickory — and kept a fire going for two or three weeks."

"Well sir, that meat kept lasting until it didn't look so good — some of it got almost yellow. But when Mama fried some of that, it was good enough to make a hound dog break his chain. Boy she could make that milk gravy too — now I don't mean thick'd gravy, tho' I don't hold nothing against thick'd gravy, you understand — and turn it rich black with pepper. . . J' ever eat any fried red beans. Now you'll laugh when I tell this, and I'll laugh with you, but you boll them beans with hog jowl and run 'em through a colander, I meant like nobody's business and then fry them good. Now you got to fry them with meat fryings— don't get no Cottleore or cookin' oil — but fryings, and fry 'em. Man that crispin' will make a hobo quit his train."

I was sorry, but about that point I had to quit my bus. —JOE PICKLE

The Gallup Poll Military Training Has Public Support

PRINCETON, N.J.—One issue where Congressional action and public opinion have been at widest variance is that of universal military training.

The most recent survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion finds seven out of 10 adults in favor of a UMT program which would require young men to spend one year in military training and then join the reserves.

The public has supported such a plan since 1942. In more than a score of separate surveys since then, the proportion in favor of universal training has never fallen below a 60 per cent majority.

These surveys have consistently found all groups of any size in the population and all areas of the country to be in favor of the idea of universal military service for young men.

In fact, while leaders of certain groups have, from time to time, spoken up against UMT, the rank-and-file of these groups have been, at the time, strongly in favor of it.

A case in point was the opposition of some of the women leaders of the Protestant Church to UMT early in 1955. A special survey at that time found seven out of 10 Protestant women in favor of universal service.

The issue in today's survey was put to a cross-section of American adults in the following manner:

"Would you favor or oppose requiring every able-bodied young man in this country when he reaches the age 18, to spend one year in military training and then join the reserves?"

Table with 2 columns: Today's vote, Percent. Favor... 69, Oppose... 23, No opinion... 8.

Today's vote: Favor... 69, Oppose... 23, No opinion... 8.

Sentiment in favor of UMT rose to its highest point after the United States entered the Korean War. In August of 1950, 78 per cent of all persons interviewed on the subject signified their approval.

The low point, with 60 per cent in favor, came in March, 1952.

The following summary of survey results since 1942 shows how the general public has felt about the principle of requiring all able-bodied young men to devote a period of their lives to national service:

Table with 2 columns: Favor Op No., per cent. Dec. 1942... 66 27 7, Dec. 1944... 70 25 5, Dec. 1945... 70 25 5, Feb. 1947... 72 23 5, Apr. 1948... 77 16 7, Mar. 1949... 73 22 5, Aug. 1950... 78 17 5, Mar. 1952... 60 33 7, Feb. 1953... 74 21 5, Jan. 1955... 75 23 2, TODAY... 69 23 8.

When the attitudes of various major population groups were analyzed in today's survey, it was found that women are somewhat less in favor of UMT than are men and that Catholics tend to be more in favor than do Protestants.

Easterners are more in favor of the proposal than are persons interviewed in any other part of the country.

It would be impossible, however, to conduct a scientific sampling of any group in the population and not find, as of today, a substantial majority approving of universal military training.

That the public has always shown great interest in the issue of universal training for all youths is evidenced by the low "no opinion" vote which has varied little over the years.

While Congress passed the Universal Military Training and Service Act in 1951, it was not made operative largely because the Selective Service Act was also on the books.

Supporters of the present draft law—under which the draftee serves two years on active duty and is then obligated to join the reserves—claim that this plan is, in effect, universal military training for all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 26 with deferments being granted to only a few categories.

Hollywood Review Disney's First Western

HOLLYWOOD — Walt Disney has embarked on his first Western movie with a determination to avoid the horse opera cliches.

The cavalry won't arrive in the nick of time to save the settlers. Redskins won't be slain in wholesale lots.

And the hero (Fess Parker) even gets to kiss the girl! Trust Walt to do things differently. It seems incredible that the prolific producer hasn't tackled a Western before, but it's true. He classifies his brief cartoon feature, "Pecos Bill," as legend. "Davy Crockett" was historical with some legend thrown in, and his forthcoming "Great Locomotive Chase" can be called a Southern.

Now he's shooting "Westward Ho the Wagons," the story of a pioneer drive across the Plains.

"There'll be no cavalry," he announced. "And the Indian fight comes in the middle, not at the end. But the settlers don't form a circle to fight the Indians off. They race toward a gap, where safety lies."

"The Indians aren't just killers; they want the settlement. So Fess stampedes a herd of horses right into their charge. Each Indian scrambles to get a horse for himself, and the attack is broken."

"We'll have to wound a few of them, but we aren't going overboard. Yakima Canutt (action adviser) wanted to explode one of the wagons for a spectacular scene. But I told him settlers wouldn't be carrying that much powder."

Disney said he planned the picture as a change of pace for Fess. The famed King of the Wild Frontier gets to play er morning," he mused, "What a morning to hand up a shoot! I remember my dad killed nine hogs at one time and they averaged up better'n 200 pounds apiece. Dr. Stoddard Quotes 'Price' Of Freedom

Man's quest for freedom has gone forward with his development of speech, his capacity for "putting himself" into learning, and his willingness to make the sacrifices that freedom requires.

That was Dr. A. J. Stoddard's summation of his "three-act speech" at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday.

Dr. Stoddard, superintendent emeritus of the Los Angeles school system, was in Big Spring for conferences with local school officials, a talk at the high school and the luncheon appearance.

The educator divided his Rotary talk into three parts, the first dealing with the development of speech, the second with application of man's five senses to learning, and the final portion with the search for freedom.

Emphasizing man's speech and senses are still developing, Dr.

Stoddard declared that man must also be willing "to go on endlessly in quest of freedom."

"And I'm not sure that our people are willing to pay the price that it will take to get it," he warned.

Stoddard, who helped rewrite the Japanese constitution after World War II, was introduced by W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring school superintendent. Guests were present from several other service clubs and from other cities.

Dr. Stoddard, long-time friend of Blankenship, praised the superintendent for his work in directing the Big Spring school system.

"He's done an outstanding job, and we in his profession are conscious of it," he said.

The speaker said man's ability to think has progressed with the development of his language. His capacity for learning has developed along with the five senses, but only "to the extent to which you put yourself into any situation."

He said the Japanese found during World War II that "the union of 80 million slaves is not as strong as freedom."

Quoting a Japanese educator, Dr. Stoddard said that "maybe freedom is the strongest thing in the world, if you can make it work."

He said acceptance of the responsibilities that freedom entails, and a willingness to "go on endlessly" in the search will make freedom work.

"It'll not be found in a bargain basement. It means sacrifice," he declared.

Race Issue Due At Church Meet

TYLER (AP)—Problems related to racial integration will probably be one of the major topics considered by the annual council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas which convenes in Tyler Thursday.

The Rt. Rev. John Hines, bishop of the diocese, in an article in the Texas Churchman said, "Since the 106th annual council is on record as standing behind the Supreme Court's judgment in the matter of the integration of races in the public school systems, this diocese will be called upon to give this whole matter careful and prayerful consideration."

Bishop Hines indicated he would recommend a committee to study the question and report the 108th council in 1957.

"The church can no longer move uncertainly in the unclear atmosphere created by this dramatic aspect of a social and cultural revolution—but must now speak and act according to the obligations of Christian statesmanship," Bishop Hines declared.

President's Cabinet Committee Submits Important Report on Transportation Policy

Urges Greater Competitive Freedom in Rate Making. Potential Savings to Public Great.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 25—In July, 1954, President Eisenhower appointed a special Cabinet Committee to study our national transportation policies and problems and, in due time, submit its recommendations for his consideration.

To aid it in making the study and in drafting the Report, the Committee selected a group of seven prominent and successful business and professional men, none of whom had any special interests to serve or axes to grind.

In April, 1955, the Committee submitted its Report to the President and shortly thereafter he passed it on to Congress with his approval.

The Report contains many sound recommendations . . . all designed to promote the public interest by making it possible for the railroads, trucks and inland water carriers to compete for the nation's traffic on an equal basis.

The Committee recommends that each carrier be given the freedom to offer the public the lowest possible rates, so long as such rates show a profit over and above the cost of providing the services and provided such rates are not unfair.

The Interstate Commerce Commission would retain its power to prevent effectively any carrier from becoming a monopoly or from engaging in any unjust or unreasonable rate cutting.

Under the recommendations of the Report, the railroads would not have any rights or privileges not enjoyed by other modes of transportation.

All of the carriers would be on an equal rate-making basis . . . all enjoying the same rights and privileges under precisely the same wording of the law. Where the inherent advantages made it possible for one carrier to establish a rate lower than that of some other carrier, it would be permitted to do so.

All the railroads seek, or all they are entitled to, is the right to compete on an equal basis with all other modes of transportation. That is what the Report of the Cabinet Committee recommends. The consuming public has everything to gain and nothing to lose by applying this principle of our free enterprise system to transportation.

The people of our nation always have been inherently just when they have the facts. If they are aware of the fairness and the equity of the Report of the President's Cabinet Committee, they will favor its adoption. Equity and justice are on its side.

Its strength and its virtue rest upon the principles of our free economy.

Its chief and only purpose is to promote the welfare of all the people.

The Report constitutes a fair and forward look in the national transportation policy. Copies of the Report may be obtained by addressing The T & P Railway, Room 712, Dallas, Texas.
