Panic During Fire Is Fatal To 10 Women

BALTIMORE (AP)—At least 10 women perished in a mad dash for the exits and nine other persons were reported missing last night after fire touched off panic in a hall jammed with a church crowd of about 1,000.

More than 200 were injured in the frantic clawing, shoving and trampling which erupted as the swiftly spreading flames consumed Arundel Park Auditorium on the south edge of Baltimore.

Red Cross officials reported 18 were admitted to nine hospitals and 111 were released after treatment. Firemen said about 100 others were treated at the scene.

Survivors said one minute they were sipping beer, munching food and listening to an orchestra play "Tea for Two" at the St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church oyster roast.

A few moments later the celebrants, including many children, were a shrieking, stampeding pack of humanity.

As the fire swooshed along the wooden rafters and roof of the one-story cinder-block building, hundreds broke for two large doors in the front and rear.

One of the doors, which were of the overhead sliding type used in garages, was never opened.

Finding this escape barred, scores made for nearby windows.

Nine of the first bodies recovered were found huddled under one of these.

Al Barthelme, former professional basketball coach of the old Baltimore Bullets and one of the survivors, described the scene at one window as "real panic."

"With everybody trying to get out of that window, it was pretty brutal," he said.

"Some were being pulled back by others as they started through. Some were even throwing out the windows. I think they didn't think could make it any other way."

Barthelme said the fire was first detected in a duct.

"Several of the fellows got up on a ladder to put it out. All at once the flames burst out. You might say it was an explosion. The fire engulfed the guys on the ladder for a minute. I don't know what happened to them."

Like scores of others who squeezed through the steel-framed windows of about 18 by 30 inches, Barthelme suffered cuts from broken glass.

Another of the lucky ones was Mrs. Veronica Sparrow, who lives in the surrounding Brooklyn Park section.

"I could feel the flames on the back of my neck," she said. "I kept saying 'This is it, this is it.' All I could think about was a friend of mine who was there with four small children. Then finally I got pulled out of a door."

Brooklyn Park firemen, first of some 35 companies to respond, logged their first alarm at 5:10 p.m., 50 minutes before the five-hour celebration was scheduled to end.

"Some man called us from the hall and said he wanted to report a small fire," said Lt. Charles Doegen. "He sounded very calm and collected."

Doegen said the tar-paper-covered wooden roof was ablaze throughout by the time he arrived on one of the first engines.

The whole thing went up in 15 minutes," he added. Only the white-painted walls were standing as he spoke.

Hospital Scene One Of Chaos As Injured Arrive

By EDWARD NICKERSON

BALTIMORE (AP)—"I was there," said the cab driver. "They had people in the hallways, on the floor, on the benches, on the front steps."

He was talking about South Baltimore General Hospital, where many of the injured from the fire at Arundel Park Auditorium were taken.

"Grown men knelt down in the halls here and prayed and cried," said Bill Morrissey, a Baltimore Sun reporter.

First came the injured. They had been burned, or cut by glass they had broken—or others had broken—in frantic attempts to escape the holocaust. Or brained by the fists of frantic people trying to beat their way out through the crowds.

Then came their relatives. They swarmed into the hospital, causing what had been hurry and confusion to become near chaos. But no one would turn them away.

Other relatives kept the switchboard operators talking, talking. "No, we don't know of anyone with that name on our injured list." "Yes, we'll try to check."

The injured arrived in waves of ambulances, punctual as bus lines. They would roll up to the accident ward entrance, their sirens in a dying wail, deposit their loads, gun their motors and take off for the scene once again, their sirens screaming.

Doctors and nurses, called in from other hospitals and from off-duty relaxation, worked without letup for hours. Blood plasma was administered on the floor of the waiting room, while nurses threaded their way through the crowds, bearing bandages and medicine.

One of those hurt, Leo Rust, rubbed his injured back while waiting for X-rays, recalled: "I've seen a lot of fires—we have 'em all the time down at the oil refinery where I work—but this is the worst I ever saw."

"It went up like someone poured gasoline on it. Once I got out, I tried to get back in again, but the smoke was too dense."

New Chance At TV Quiz Money

NEW YORK (AP)—George L. Wright III, 14, will get another chance at the $100,000 jackpot on the "Big Surprise" NBC TV quiz show next Saturday night.

George missed the final section of a six-part question last Saturday when he failed to name the author of the song "Betty Coed," written by Rudy Vallee and Paul Fegarty.

Yesterday the show's producer Steve Carlin, announced that George will get another chance this week because "Betty Coed" had been incorrectly identified in the question as a song of the 1920s, whereas it was actually published in 1930. Carlin said George will be asked another question on songs of the 1920s. If he misses, he still will get $25,000 of winnings thus far.

County To Contact Engineer Applicant

County commissioners today expressed interest in an applicant for the post of county engineer and asked Judge R. H. Weaver to determine when the engineer would be able to start work here.

The judge is to telephone Walter G. Parks of Milavtown, N.J., for references and to find out where he could report here. The engineer said in a letter received Friday that he probably would be available in about a month.

Judge Weaver said Parks is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and has about five years of experience in the highway construction field. He is registered as a civil engineer in New Jersey and probably can secure his Texas registration certificates in a few weeks.

Parks is an attorney-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Abernathy of Big Spring and conferred with Judge Weaver and Commissioner G. E.

Satellite Path

This is the elliptical orbit around the earth which scientists announced will be the path of the first made-in-America satellites. After launching from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., satellites will follow a course about 5,000 miles wide along the Equator, ranging from the two latitudes of 40 degrees north and south. The satellites will be about 30 inches in size and weigh 21.5 pounds each.

ASIA, NEAR EAST Eden, Ike Meet For Strategy Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden met here today to seek a new formula for peace in Palestine and a better strategy for combating communism in Asia and the Middle East.

Even before the two Western leaders shook hands, Soviet Premier Bulganin had stolen a march on them with his highly publicized bid for a 20-year friendship treaty with the United States.

Eisenhower turned it down over the weekend in a conciliatory letter designed to smash the idea of a two-way deal between Moscow and Washington while keeping open his personal contact with Bulganin.

Eisenhower released his and Bulganin's letters to try to get the Soviet move as far to one side as possible prior to Eden's arrival. The two were sure to discuss the proposal and assess Soviet motives.

Eden and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles for lunch at the White House.

British and American officials have done much spade work for the talks, particularly on the Middle Eastern situation. Two weeks ago they decided it was essential to get Israel and the Arab states into active negotiations early this year if the Middle East is to be saved from a crisis later on.

Officials say that without an Israeli-Arab peace it is difficult to see what actions can be taken effectively to block the spread of Communist influence and Soviet power in that petroleum center of the world.

British and American informants say Eisenhower and Eden will discuss every problem of common interest in the world.

These problems include:

1. Eden would like to relax trade controls and expand commerce with Red China and the Communist bloc generally. Eisenhower is described as strongly opposed.
2. Eden would like to bring the long struggle over seating Red China in the United Nations to an end, although he may not press the issue forcefully since this is an election year here. Eisenhower is on record as strongly opposed to Red China's U.N. membership.
3. Eden wants American support in his argument with Saudi Arabia over the Buraimi oasis and surrounding land which may produce oil. Eisenhower had resisted becoming deeply involved. The United States has a huge investment in oil lands which Saudi Arabia controls.
4. Eden would like to see some kind of agreement to "restrict and regularize" tests of atomic weapons. Eisenhower does not foresee the possibility of such an agreement, although Dulles said recently that the United States also would like to have it. He said no formula which would surely work had been found.

Auto-Bus Crash Kills Two Men

MT. VERNON, Tex. (AP)—A bus and an auto slammed together near here yesterday, killing two men and injuring the bus driver and 12 passengers.

Injuries aboard the Dallas-Memphis bus were slight, however.

Milton G. Tonic, Dallas bus driver, said the right wheel of the bound car ran off the pavement, the driver apparently jerked the wheel to the left and the bus and car collided.

The dead men were identified as Eddie G. Timmerman, 42, Route 2, Hughes Springs, and Cornelius Jones, believed to be from Hughes Springs.

Boy Electrocutd By Television Set

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A 4-year-old boy was electrocuted by a television set.

Gary Putnam was viewing a program with his mother Mrs. Arnold Putnam and his half-sister. "One minute he was sitting there and when I looked again he was lying on the floor," the weeping mother related.

Authorities said the boy simultaneously touched the metal chassis of the television set and a nearby radiator. A short circuit in the set sent current through his body.

Yarborough Won't Seek Senate Seat

Keeps His Eye On Governor's Chair

AUSTIN (AP)—Ralph Yarborough announced today that if he runs for any office this year, "it will be for governor."

That definitely took him out of speculation that he might have his eye on the U.S. Senate seat which may be vacated by Price Daniel.

Yarborough, Austin attorney with heavy backing from the liberal or loyalist wing of the Democratic party in Texas, has been defeated twice for governor by Allan Shivers.

His closest friends have insisted that he still has his head set on seeking the governorship, and that talk that he wanted to run for the Senate was unfounded.

Yarborough's one-sentence typewritten announcement this morning said:

"If I run for any office in 1956, it will be for governor of Texas."

The announcement obviously was aimed at recent charges by former House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt, a candidate for governor, that Yarborough and Daniel have a political deal.

It was, Senterfitt said, an arrangement under which Daniel would support Yarborough for senator if Yarborough would throw his support to Daniel for governor.

Senterfitt's statement was presumed on the possibility that Daniel would become a candidate for governor, that he would resign from the Senate if he won in the Democratic primary, and that a special election would be held to fill the vacancy.

At a recent press conference, Daniel said he was rather a governor than a senator. He said he would not seek re-election at the end of his current term as senator—which has three years to go.

He did not say flatly whether or not he would run for governor, but most political professionals are expecting him to.

Daniel said he would announce one way or another within 30 days.

In addition to Senterfitt, the only announced candidate for governor is state Sen. Jimmy Phillips.

Shivers has not said what his political plans are, if any.

Yarborough's announcement today also may have been designed to get his foot in the door first as a candidate for the liberal faction. Austin attorney James P. Hart recently has shown revival of interest in making the race and another prospect is agriculture commissioner John White. Both would draw considerable loyalist support.

Deadline Near On Poll Taxes; Total Is 8,368

Length of time until the deadline for paying poll tax has dropped from days to hours, with the last possible moment for securing the voting eligibility being Tuesday at midnight.

The running count of this year in comparison with the last presidential election year, 1952, shows the 1956 drive is lagging 708 below that of the $52 figure.

Through noon today, the total of paid poll tax and exempt receipts showed $368 for the county against 9,076 through Jan. 30 in '52.

The tax office in the courthouse will be open until the deadline Tuesday night for collections to give the prospective voters every possible chance to pay the tax.

Mrs. Viola Robinson, tax assessor-collector, said that last year the last tax payer waked in at 11:50 p.m. And if that is necessary to swell the total, the office will be open for them, she said.

In addition to the courthouse, a booth has been set up in the lobby of the Settles Hotel for collection sponsored by the Jaycees. The booth is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. both today and Tuesday.

Poll Taxes About Normal In Martin

STANTON (AP)—Poll tax payments are running about normal for an "on" year in Martin County.

Monday morning the office of Dan Saunders, sheriff and tax assessor-collector, reported a total of 1,103 poll tax receipts issued and approximately 23 exemption certificates.

A. C. Fleming, deputy, estimated around 400 or more polls might be paid before deadline Tuesday midnight.

Lamesa Poll Taxes Behind '52 Rate

LAMESA (AP)—Poll tax payments in Dawson County are lagging even behind the rate in 1952, let alone the last presidential year of 1952.

At 9:15 a.m. Monday, according to Louis C. White, County tax assessor-collector, a total of 3,265 polls and 720 exemptions had been secured, an aggregate of 3,985. Two years ago on the same date the total stood at 3,274 polls and 732 exemptions, or total of 4,006.

Services Slated For Former Newsmen

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Funeral services were to be held today for William Allan Perry Sr., 81, longtime West Texas newspaperman and grocery store operator, Perry died Saturday. He owned and operated the Miles Messenger and Sweetwater Reporter newspapers from 1907 until 1918, when he entered the grocery business.

SURPRISE DEVELOPMENT No Defense Is Offered In Abortion Death Of Heiress

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Milton and Rosalie Schwartz in a surprise development pleaded no contest to a charge of "abortion resulting in death" in connection with an illegal operation performed in their apartment on a 22-year-old food chain heiress.

Mrs. Gertrude Silver — mother of the dead girl, Mrs. Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher — also pleaded no defense before Judge Vincent A. Carroll to a commonwealth charge that accused her of being an accessory before the fact of abortion.

Mrs. Ostreicher, a red-haired beauty who was six weeks pregnant, died last Aug. 24 in the Philadelphia apartment of the Schwartzes. Her death came three days before her 23rd birthday and two months after her storybook elopement with Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman, Earl M. Ostreicher.

The two women were near tears as they stood with bowed heads before Judge Carroll.

Morris Wolf, attorney for Mrs. Silver, said that the decision by Special Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash to bring Mrs. Silver to trial at the same time as the Schwartzes, was a surprise and it is not unlikely that "we would be able to obtain a continuance under the law."

However, Wolf told Judge Carroll that "the strain of the tragic situation that confronts Mrs. Silver may be too much for her if we extend this ordeal. She is near the breaking point."

Then Wolf asked the court to permit his client to make a plea of nolo contendere and Carroll permitted Mrs. Silver to so plead. William Gray, representing the Schwartzes, made a similar request and Judge Carroll also granted that. The pleas came on only part of the charges that the commonwealth lodged against the three defendants.

Charges in the case include abortion, abortion causing death, and conspiracy. The maximum penalty is 10 years in prison and a fine of $5,000.

H. L. Mencken, Doubting Critic Of Civilization, Dies In Sleep

BALTIMORE (AP)—Doubting H. L. Mencken, whose needle-sharp pen pricked at civilization for nearly half a century, is dead. And how—as he literally inquired—shall they stage his "inescapable last act?"

The "Sage of Baltimore"—newsman, author, wit, and critic—died quietly in his sleep early yesterday. He was 75.

A doctor said a blood clot probably was the cause of death.

His brother August said funeral services, when arranged, will be "strictly private."

Mencken once wrote: "One of the crying needs of the time in this incomparable republic is for a suitable burial service for the admittedly damned."

"What is needed, and what I bawled for politically, is a service that is free from the pious but unsupported assertions that revolt so many of our best minds, and yet remains happily graceful and consoling. . . a suitable funeral for doubters, full of lovely poetry, but devoid of any specific pronouncement on the subject of a future life. . . ."

"Such a libretto for the inescapable last act would be humane and valuable. I renew my suggestion that the poets spit upon their hands and confection it at once."

This was typical of Mencken as he viewed the passing scene. His views, laced with humor and vitality, were given life in two dozen books and thousands of essays.

"The American Language," a scholarly investigation of the origins of our speech, is a monument to his intellect. His three "Days" books — "Happy Days," "Newspaper Days" and "Heaven Days" — exude his personal charm.

A stroke which affected sight and speech forced Mencken to lay aside his pen in 1948.

But just last week, in his last public statement, Mencken told The Associated Press about a "forgotten" manuscript he had worked up shortly before his stroke.

It will be published next May as "Minority Report."

Mencken's career began at 19 as a cub reporter on the old Baltimore Herald. Three years later he became city editor.

The Baltimore Sunpapers employed him in 1906 and for the next 42 years, off and on, he was a contributor.

The vibrant '20s were Mencken's stepping-stone to literary prominence.

In 1924, with George Jean Nathan and Alfred Knopf—who will publish his last book—he founded the American Mercury magazine. Not only did it serve Mencken as a platform for his views, but through it he helped such authors as Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser along the road to fame.

He married Sara Hardt of Montgomery, Ala., in 1933. She died five years later.

After illness stilled his pen, Mencken spent much of his time sorting the correspondence and private papers collected during a lifetime of intimacy with great men.

He enjoyed puttering in the small walled garden behind the three-story red brick rowhouse where he and August lived most of their lives. Summer evenings were spent there with friends.

Mencken mellowed in his waning years. But there was nothing to indicate he had changed his beliefs in any way.

Although an agnostic to the last, he insisted he held no grudge against the pious and recently acknowledged that churches were "good forces in any community." But in the same conversation he found the idea of anyone attempting to convert him "horrifying."

Mencken, in addition to his literary contributions, left: —These survivors — August, another brother, Charles of Pittsburgh, and a sister, Anna Gertrude of Baltimore.

And this epitaph, penned long ago—"If after I depart this vale, you ever remember me and have thought to please my ghost, give some sinner and wink your eye at some homely girl."

Morse Lashes Gas Bill As 'Producer Raid'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Morse (D-Ore) today described a controversial natural gas bill as a "producer raid on consumer pocketbooks" and said that there is no prospect President Eisenhower will veto it.

He said former President Truman "saved the gas consumers of the nation" when he vetoed a similar bill in 1950 but that "there is no such prospect for a presidential veto, if it should become necessary, this year."

Morse's remarks were prepared for a Senate speech marking the start of a third week of debate on a bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation.

The legislation, in slightly different form, squeaked through the House last year.

Morse said the Senate vote is going to be so close that a presidential veto could not be overridden. That requires a two-thirds majority.

"The people should know who protects their interests and how important it is to have in the White House a president prepared to do battle for the public interest," he said.

Voting on proposed amendments may get under way tomorrow or the next day. Senate leaders were trying to work out an agreement to limit further debate and bring the issue to a showdown.

Morse said "one of the extraordinary aspects of this producer raid on consumer pocketbooks is the fact . . . that the people of the producer states will be among the hardest hit."

But Sen. Ellender (D-La) said opponents of the bill, in predicting that consumer gas bills would be increased 600 to 900 million dollars a year, "are seeing non-existent burglars under the bed."

Flier Hops Ocean, Abandons Record Try

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Airline Capt. William J. Judd completed a solo transatlantic hop today but radioed he was abandoning his attempt to set a nonstop New York-to-Cairo distance record in his light plane.

Judd, a Trans World Airways veteran, flew over the southern coast of Ireland this morning and headed for Rome in his 230-horsepower, single-engine Cessna-180.

He had reported earlier that he expected to reach Rome about 6:30 p.m. and that he would decide then whether to land for refueling or push on to Cairo.

The Egyptian capital is 1,360 airline miles from Rome. Judd, 40, has flown the Atlantic 120 times as a pilot for TWA. He took off at 8:31 a.m. yesterday from White Plains, N.Y., in a freezing drizzle and said he would shoot for Cairo if he had 50 gallons of fuel remaining when he reached Rome.

Judd hoped to better the nonstop record for light planes set in 1949 when the late William Odom flew 4,957.24 miles from Honolulu to Teterboro, N.J. The New York-Cairo flight totals 5,643 miles.

Judd took along on the trip two roast beef sandwiches, milk, a bag of oranges and apples, raisins and malted milk tablets.

His plane was "overloaded" by 2,000 pounds of extra gasoline, an airport official said, which would cut his normal 155 m.p.h. cruising speed to about 130 m.p.h.

A native of New Haven, Kan., Judd has lived in Cairo five years with his wife and two sons. He said he wanted the plane in Cairo and decided to fly it there because it was "easier" than having it shipped.

Mollet To Ask Approval Of New French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Socialist Premier-designate Guy Mollet asks the National Assembly tomorrow to approve his government team of 13 Cabinet ministers and 22 under-secretaries.

Some observers predicted Mollet would be confirmed in office by nearly 400 of the chamber's 596 deputies. A major factor was believed to be his appointment of ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, Radical party leader, as deputy premier without a departmental portfolio, rather than to the Foreign Ministry he wanted.

This was counted on to bring Mollet votes from the Catholic MRP (Popular Republican Movement), which is still bitter against Mendes-France for his refusal to push the ill-fated European army plan while he was in office.

If approved by the deputies as expected, Mollet plans to be off soon to Algeria for a try at halting the guerrilla revolt there.

He also plans to install 79-year-old Gen. Georges Catroux as resident Cabinet minister for Algeria. Previously Algerian affairs have been administered by the Interior Ministry because legally the North African territory is considered an integral part of France. Creation of a special department for Algeria could foreshadow a measure of independence for the area plagued by Nationalist strife.

Motive Sought In Deaths Of Six In Family

PARSIPPANY - TROY HILLS, N. J. (AP)—Investigators questioned relatives today in a continued effort to learn why William Bauer wiped out six members of his family with a shotgun and then took his own life.

Morris County Prosecutor John D. Collins said that, to all intents, the case of the shocking rampage by the 48-year-old churchgoer is closed on a verdict of homicide and suicide.

He said, however, that county detectives will question relatives of Bauer's wife in a probe for the motive.

Bauer, a civil engineer described by neighbors as a kindly and devoted family man, used a 12-gauge shotgun Friday to slay his wife, two children, his wife's two parents, his own mother, and finally himself. The family had been preparing to go to Florida for a two-week vacation.

Murder, Suicide Suspected In Deaths Of Father, Son

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A prominent Rockford banker and his 26-year-old son were found shot to death yesterday.

State's Atty. Robert R. Canfield termed it "an apparent murder and suicide" but declined to comment further.

The bodies of George H. Arnold, 59, vice president of the Illinois National Bank & Trust Co. for 23 years, and his son Robert were found by the elder Arnold's wife Rose. They were four feet apart in the two-car garage of the family house—a showplace near the Rockford Country Club.

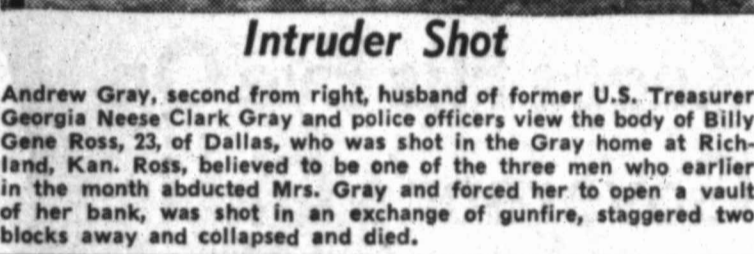

George Arnold had been shot once in the right temple. The son had been shot three times—once in the back of the head, once be-

A .22-caliber revolver was found at the feet of the banker.

Georgia Leads New Integration Tactic

By The Associated Press
From throughout the deep South comes a rising crescendo of voices against integration of the races but Georgia apparently is willing to take a stronger stand than other southern states on the idea of interposition.

Interposition is a doctrine based on a constitutional provision that states uniting themselves into a federal government, retain unto themselves rights and powers they did not surrender to the central government. It has been advanced by Virginia. Five southern governors conferred on the issue at Richmond last week.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia wanted the South to unite in declaring the U.S. Supreme Court's anti-segregation decision "null and void." Other governors were unwilling to go further than to lodge a protest against the historic decision. They would call on Congress to take action, within constitutional limits, to protect the rights of states to "regulate" their schools.

The idea of "nullification" was left up to individual states. Only governors whose legislatures were in session were invited. States represented, in addition to Georgia and host Virginia, were North Carolina, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Alabama thus far is the only state to adopt the policy of "nullification." Other southern states have adopted, or are in process of adopting, a plan to abolish public schools in favor of tax-supported private schools rather than permit integration.

The private school plan adopted by Georgia would shut off funds for integrated schools and proposes court action against anyone who attempts to mix the white and Negro races in class rooms.

Virginia's Gov. Thomas Stanley led a futile fight in his state Senate last week to delete the word "illegal" from phraseology pertaining to the Supreme Court decision.

The Virginia Senate's Courts of Justice Committee on Interposition unanimously approved a resolution calling the anti-segregation ruling "illegal encroachment" after voting 14 to 4 against deleting "illegal." Some felt it smacked of "nullification."

Stanley and the resolution's chief sponsor, Rep. Harry Stuart, insist it does not mean "nullification." An identical resolution has been introduced in the House.

Stanley said Thursday any relief the South may get from the Supreme Court decision "has got to be through Congress."

Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi insists he favors interposition but is opposed to "nullification." He says the latter implies use of force to support the stand. "It's treason and we couldn't win any way," he commented, adding he has no desire to call out the militia to resist the U.S. government.

Mississippi has been interposing since the May 17, 1954, decision, Coleman declares, and all laws designated to maintain segregation are acts of interposition.

The Mississippi House passed a bill requiring railroad and bus companies to provide separate waiting rooms and other facilities for whites and Negroes. Another measure would prohibit passengers—interstate and intrastate—from using facilities not marked for his race.

South Carolina's Gov. George Timmerman has pledged his support to the interposition idea, although it has not yet been considered by the General Assembly.

Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, not invited to the conference because his Legislature is not in session, said, "It is just as well that I was not there because I do not believe it could have served our state any useful purpose for me to have attended."

percent of all people in that state "are opposed to integration of the races at this time."

Arkansas' school districts are charged with management of school affairs and any integration will be left to them.

Tennessee Atty. Gen. George F. McCasless, a segregationist, says the interposition doctrine is "completely ineffective" and of no value.

It is a "vague governmental doctrine with no judicial recognition," he said in an interview Saturday. He added "if it amounts to nullification I want no part of it."

Meanwhile, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) has introduced a constitutional amendment in Congress reaffirming the "several states' rights to manage their own internal affairs."

North Carolina's Gov. Luther H. Hodges attended the Richmond meeting as an observer since his Legislature is not in session. "The other governors' joint statement will of course be given serious consideration by our advisory committee on education and myself for possible recommendations to our General Assembly at its next meeting," Hodges said.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas has requested full information on interposition.

AEC Expands Hunt For Hydrogen Energy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission reported today a big expansion of its research program aimed at eventually harnessing the deadly hydrogen bomb for peaceful development of power. But "many years" will be required before the problem can be solved, it added in its semiannual report.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss announced the long-range research program, named "Project Sherwood," at the Geneva International Atomic Conference last year. But, said the report, the project "is considered a very long-range effort."

The research is being conducted at AEC laboratories operated by the University of California at Los Alamos, N. M., and Livermore, Calif.; and at Princeton University. Smaller projects also are carried on at the AEC's Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant and at New York University.

Safety Proved In Jet Flying

Jet accidents have been halved since 1951, according to the Air Force Air Training Command. Substantiating a claim that the past five years have proven jet safety, the ATC pointed out that in 1951 there were about 29 accidents for every 100,000 flying hours. Last year the rate was less than 15, or more than 40 times around the world per accident.

Five years ago 17 per cent of the command's 3,000 aircraft were jets. Now, with almost 6,000 aircraft, nearly half are jets. Accidents decreased as jet strength increased. Most of ATC flying is done by inexperienced pilots and accidents rates could be high, but the ATC report shows that fledgling pilots had better than the Air Force-wide record—a 17.2 average.

'Tokyo Rose' To Learn Terms Of Her Parole

CHICAGO (AP)—Tokyo Rose, welcomed home from prison by her family, reports to the U. S. court-house in Chicago today to learn the terms of her parole from the federal reformatory at Alderson, W. Va. She served 6½ years of a 10-year term for treason.

Tokyo Rose — Mrs. Iva Ikuo Toguri D'Aquino — whose low-voiced talk of pretty girls and home over Radio Tokyo tantalized GIs in the Pacific in World War II — went into hiding from reporters after her arrival in Chicago yesterday.

Final Hearing Set In Receivership Case

AUSTIN (AP)—Final hearing was set for today on the state's plea for permanent injunction against U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. based on allegations of fraud in its operation.

The receivership trial was to be held in Judge Charles O. Betts 98th District Court—the court which put U. S. Trust and Guaranty under temporary injunction five weeks ago.

Among the questions about U. S. Trust and Guaranty which may arise at the hearing is what happened to $98,000 in cash that president A. B. Shoemaker was reported to have taken from company of funds.

CITY GROWING Coahoma Getting Paving, New Homes

COAHOMA, (SC)—After several years of inactivity, Coahoma has come out of the doldrums and started growing, according to Mrs. J. D. Miller, city secretary and tax collector. At least three important improvement projects are under way now.

The county is paving 13 blocks in the northeast part of town. Starting from the old pavement north of town, the new paving leads past the schoolhouse, turns south two blocks, thence west again to the old pavement, making a complete loop. This is the school bus route and has first priority over other paving projects.

West Okays Ike Treaty Turndown

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western world has generally approved President Eisenhower's turndown of a 20-year "treaty of friendship" between Russia and the United States proffered by Premier Bulganin.

The Kremlin, as had been forecast by officials here, gave evidence that it intends to squeeze every bit of propaganda it can from the exchange of letters between the two.

The Soviet press yesterday headlined the news of Bulganin's proposal. Moscow papers carried the full text of his letter and treaty draft.

But Russian papers carried no word of Eisenhower's reply that such a pact is unneeded and might create a false illusion. Thus it appeared that Moscow hoped later publication of the rejection would give it greater impact on the Russian people.

In its issue today, the Communist party paper Pravda called Bulganin's offer "a deeply thought-out system of measures to re-establish the historical friendship between the Soviet Union and the United States."

It cautioned, however, that "it cannot be considered that the threat of a new war has disappeared."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Keep In Good Condition By Intelligent Eating

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Ann Harding makes no attempt to hide the fact that she is fifty years old. She has a right to feel proud of the way she looks today. The beauty that was hers when she was a reigning movie queen is still much in evidence.

"I've never lied about my age. This clinging to youth desperately can be most unattractive," she told me. "I watched an aging but once-famous star as Peter Pan when she was 65. She had so completely lost perspective that she felt she could play any age and I'm afraid there are a great many women like her."

"I find this attitude difficult to understand," Miss Harding continued. "There is so much of life to be lived and enjoyed beyond the youth years."

Although Miss Harding is not preoccupied with looking young, she refuses to allow herself to get fat, purely as a health measure. "I can still wear the dress I had on when I met my husband twenty years ago," she said. "In fact, I bring it out each anniversary and we laugh about it."

When I asked her secret for staying the same, she replied, "Intelligent eating—and by this I don't mean dieting. My husband is the nutrition expert in our house. He knows all there is to know about food values and anyone who has dined at our home when he did the cooking..." Her expression indicated it was sheer joy.

"Food can be healthy and delicious at the same time," she said with conviction. "In our house we play down the starches and we don't overeat. Stuffing yourself is too uncomfortable and besides, overeating is no guarantee against undernourishment. None of us has ever had a skin, hair or fingernail problem and I attribute this to a proper diet.

"People who indulge for a while and then go on drastic reducing diets deplete their energy and their bodies look haggard. Being thin is not attractive unless it is accompanied by well-being."

Miss Harding's soft blonde hair is obviously natural and has a healthy lustre. She credits this to the fact that she has never bleached, cut, permanented her hair or sat under a drier.

"But I do brush it faithfully," she added, "and have had regular scalp treatments for years."

I asked Miss Harding how she so successfully manages to combine her marriage and her still active career. She is much in demand by the television playhouses such as CBS' "Climax," "20th Century-Fox Hour" and "Front Row Center."

"There must be an underlying understanding and attachment," she explained. "A wife can help her husband to become the perfect mate, but these adjustments have to be brought about with deep love."

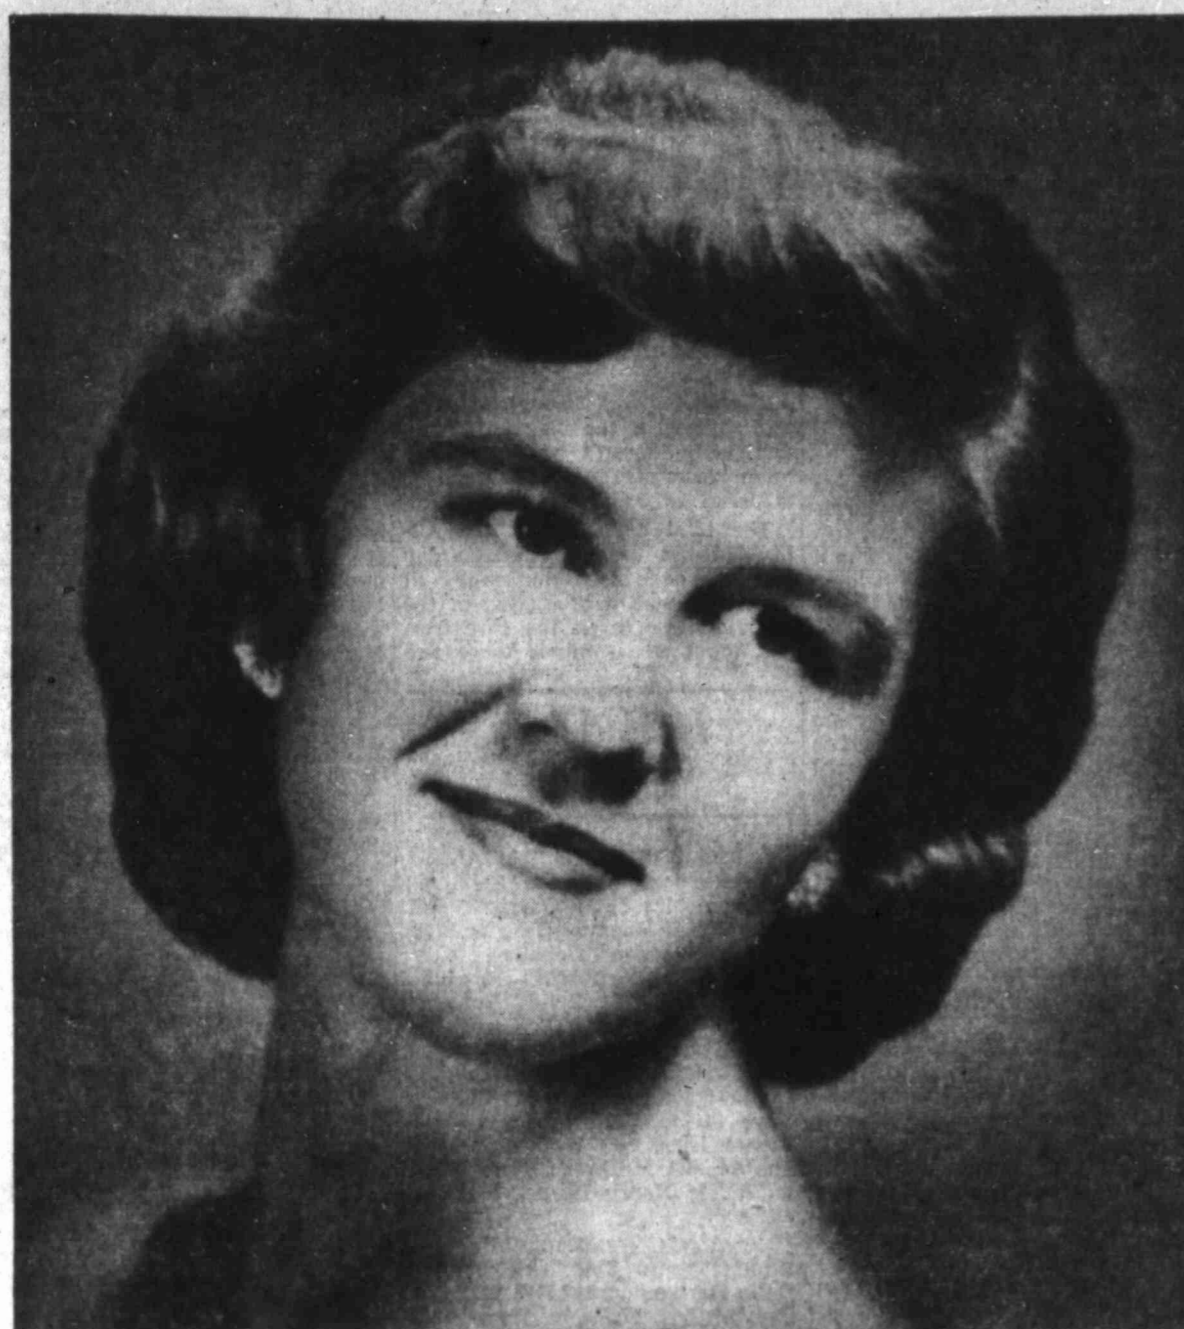

FOR THE MATURE WOMAN You'll find a lot of valuable beauty information in leaflet M-4, "For the Mature Woman."

Included is good news on prevention and cure of the double chin, plus suggestions for keeping the hands looking young and lovely. You'll get your copy when you send a self-addressed, stamped envelope AND only 5 cents to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, care of the Big Spring Herald. Be sure to ask for M-6.

She Stays Youthful

You'll look twice as lovely when you reach the mature years if you establish strong beauty routines when you are young, contends popular actress Ann Harding. She passes on some of her secrets of youth in an exclusive interview with Lydia Lane.

MRS. CARL SAURBER

Miss Fulmer Is Bride Of Carl Saurber

In an early Sunday morning wedding at East Fourth Baptist Church, Sybil Carrol Fulmer became the bride of A.C. Carl Saurber. The Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Kay Jamison, pianist, played "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the exchange of vows.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street length dress of blue with matching shoes. She wore a white hat and white accessories. Following tradition, she wore old shoes; she carried a new white handkerchief, a gift of the bridegroom's mother; a white Bible was borrowed from Miss Jamison, and her dress was blue.

The bridal flowers were a corsage of white carnations.

The couple will make a home at 419 Dallas. The bride is a senior in Big Spring High School.

The bridegroom was educated in the schools of Hamilton, Ohio, and he is now stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

No Bargain Offers Taken During Month Of January

By ANNE LEFEVER

I don't know about you, but January is the wrong month for magazine companies to send me bargain offers in subscription or renewals! I have heard from at least a dozen this month, either quite anxious for me to begin taking their periodical or equally anxious for me to renew the subscription I already have.

Well, in the first place, until I can see my way over the Christmas bills, I'm not letting myself in for two years of any more expense. Another thing, because of the Christmas rush, I still have a big stack of their magazines (which are described in such glowing terms) pushed back "to read some day." I'll never get caught up with them!

And, mixed in all the "come-ons" for subscriptions, what did I find the other day but a generous offer from a mail order house to send me one of their catalogs! Just mail the enclosed card, and a charge account was mine—just like that!

There was, of course, the simple matter of a few questions for me to answer. For instance, the first one, "What is your age?" Well, really! They should know that it's going to take more than a catalog to get women to reveal their ages! And another question, "What is the name of the bank where you keep an account?" All I can say to that is "Optimists!" Or, "Flattery will get you nowhere!"

But the most personal question of all is "How many rooms do you have in your house?" That's one thing they're not going to learn! Do you suppose those Yankens are getting ready to move to Texas and want to know where there are extra rooms? Or maybe they can't believe that we have indoor plumbing yet!

Anyway, I'll just have to do without the catalog—I'm not telling the size of my house—it'd fill up with kinfolks!

Miss Long, Mr. Pearson Recite Vows

LAMESA — Friday afternoon in the parsonage of the Bryan Street Baptist Church, Vera Joyce Long became the bride of Billy James Pearson a double ring ceremony solemnized by the Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Long, Route B, Lamesa, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pearson, 205 N. 17th, Lamesa.

Mrs. Pearson is a graduate of Lamesa High School, a former cheer leader, member of the student council, Booster Club and Future Homemakers of America. She is employed in the office of Stansell Clement, attorney.

The bridegroom is a 1950 graduate of Lamesa High School, was a member of the athletic association and Spanish Club. He spent three years in the U.S. Army, two years of that time in Germany. He attended Sul Ross College and Texas Tech before taking over the operation of a service station business here. The couple will make a home at 415 N. 15th St.

Use Color To Help That Ailing Budget

Castling about for ways to look smart on a shoe-string? To compete with the best-dressed on practically nothing-a-year? This predicament is not an uncommon one, what with income taxes just around the corner.

One way out of this dilemma is the use of color: small in outline, big in returns.

Besides new make-up colors, which can lift last spring's wardrobe out of the doldrums (a new pink lipstick can light up an old pink dress like a neon bulb), try bold touches of color in fabric, turned loose here and there in a costume. Especially use print fabrics.

Line a sweater with a gay new print. Or use the print to line and freshen up last year's tote bag.

Wrap up last year's skirts with a this-year's colored cummerbund. Or tuck a new silk handkerchief—wear it like a banner of color—in a belt that's seen service.

Open up last year's necklines, and stuff in soft masses of scarf-chiffon bright as jockeys' silks.

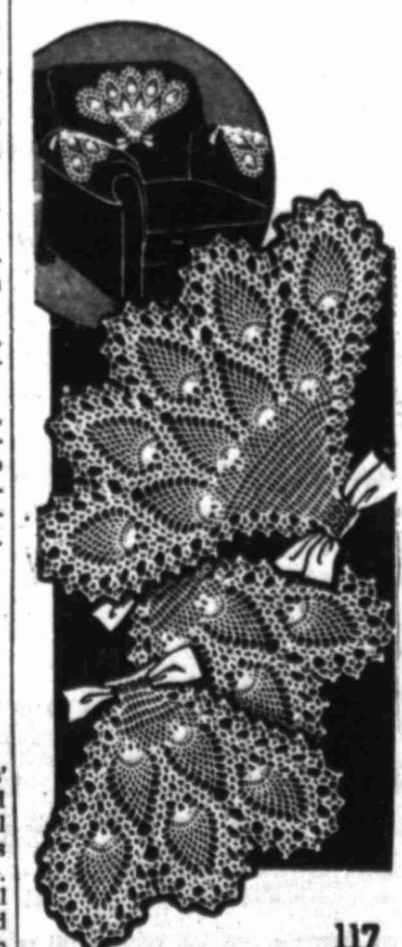

If lingerie must be replenished, see that replacements are as colorful as a can-can cutie's. Or dip last year's pale shades into spirit-lifting tints of mint green, turquoise, sunshine yellow, or mauve.

"What do you want me to say?" the guard asked.

Money Saving Water Softener

E. A. Fivesash, owner of Fivesash Plumbing Company, shows M. K. Moelling the new Mayco water softener which he says operates at less than a fourth of the cost of conventional softeners. The Mayco requires charging only three or four times per year, and the recharging operation is as simple as pouring in a new bag of softening material. There's no troublesome, messy "backwashing" to worry with.

Mayco Softener At Fivesash Plumbing Co. Is Money Saver

Are you using soft water rental service? If so, you are paying five to six times more for soft water than you need to pay. And if you want to cut down on the money you are spending, the answer to your problem is available at Fivesash Plumbing Company on East Third Street in the form of a Mayco water softening unit.

The average capacity of a rental water softener unit is 20,000 grains and the average cost is $3. A Mayco water softener, available at Fivesash Plumbing, has 30,000 grains capacity—50 per cent more than the average rental unit. And only 15 pounds of softening salt is required to generate that 30,000 grains capacity.

Therefore, at three cents per pound for salt, 30,000 grains capacity costs 45 cents. And that is only 15 per cent of the cost of the soft water rental way. Mayco boasts turbo-action water softeners, and there is a size for you—whether it be a home or business establishment. Three sizes are available at Fivesash—30,000, 50,000, and 83,000 capacities.

The turbo-action improvement entirely eliminates old-fashioned "backwashing" by instituting an over-the-top turbulent water action which quickly removes any sediment accumulated in the softener. The units are easy to maintain also. After the unit has been installed, it is trouble-free. Approximately every three or four months a bag of softener for the small size and two bags for the medium model will recharge the unit. These recharge bags are also available at Fivesash.

And they are priced at only 45 cents per bag. Not only will the water be safer and softer, the money saved in soap bills will easily pay for having the unit re-charged in one or two washings. Tests have proved that one box of soap does the work of three when the water is soft. Housewives report that clothes come out cleaner and brighter where the water is soft, too.

In addition, when soft water is coming out of the taps, there are no rusty-colored stains left. Also there are not harmful chemicals present in soft water to corrode plumbing fixtures and pipes.

Fivesash Plumbing has just the size for you, and will be glad to install one of these Mayco water softeners in your home. Just call 4-6111 and they will be ready to serve you by installing a water softener or any other plumbing appliance.

Driver Firm Gives Complete Service For Trucks, Tractors

One of the best equipped truck shops in this area, and one that is used almost exclusively for truck repair and service, is operated by the Driver Truck and Implement Company on the Lamesa Highway in north Big Spring.

The firm, of course, also provides tractor repair and service. Since personnel is trained in both tractor and truck service, but mechanics are truck and tractor specialists and devote all their energies to those two fields.

Truckers who know that proper service adds thousands of miles of service to their equipment have learned to depend on the Driver Truck and Implement Company for the thorough service their vehicles require. Driver mechanics are trained to work on trucks of all makes and sizes.

The firm, operated by Curtis Driver, also is dealer in this area for International trucks and International Harvester Company tractors. Driver said this week that he now has a few used trucks for sale, along with the new trucks and tractors.

He also suggested that farm operators take steps now to get their tractors in shape for the crop season ahead. Overhauls or other repairs can be made now and the farmer will have his equipment ready to roll when the need arises.

Among the trucks Driver is showing is a new line of light-duty Internationals. Called the "S" line, these range from pickups, travel-trucks, panel trucks, stake trucks, service-utility and dump trucks.

All are powered by the famous truck engines, built for long life and economical operation. It is an I-block, short stroke, six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine embodying the latest advances in engine design.

The S-line includes a selection of transmissions to meet specific job requirements. Power steering is optional and the standard steering mechanism features the cam and twin lever unit with a dual ratio gear providing easy, positive control. The steering gear is mounted in front of the front axle to give greater stability. This permits rear shacking of the front springs for improved roadability.

Auto, Given Good Care, Provides Best Of Service

An automobile demands the best care, but in return, as if by saying thanks, gives the finest service.

If you want to see that your vehicle gets A-1 treatment, take it to the Harland Magnolia Service station located at 1000 Lamesa Highway in Big Spring.

Employees of the establishment specialize in giving the best in service to automobiles, whether the customer wants a change in crankcase oil or washing and greasing.

The concern is owned and operated by Grady Harland, who has spent much of his adult life in that line of business. He believes in "service with a smile," as do all of his employees.

If you are in doubt as to the weight and grade of oil to use in your vehicle through the seasons, consult Harland or any of his personnel. They can offer recommendations in such matters, because they are equipped with up-to-date charts from automobile manufacturers.

When a car is washed and cleaned by the concern, it is vacuum-cleaned on the interior.

If you have a hankering to change cars, perhaps all you actually need is to have the old car cleaned up. Harland's employees work hard to make the vehicle look like new.

Harland's is also the headquarters for the finest in Magnolia motor oils and premium gasolines and maintains a limited supply of automobile accessories.

If your automobile needs a new set of tires, Harland can order them for you at a modest price.

With each purchase, Harland's station gives away S&H green premium stamps.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Jerry Graves was in elite company when he was named to the All-America scholastic football team chosen recently by Scholastic magazine.

Eighty gridders from 37 states and Hawaii were chosen, including nine centers. The other pivot men selected were Warner Alford, McComb, Miss.; Keith Bohannon, San Lorenzo, Calif.; Bill Draddy, Iowa High of New Rochelle, N.Y.;

It will be interesting to see how they all fare in college. Dolph Camilli, son of the former Brooklyn first baseman-manager of the same name, was a fullback on the team. He attends Santa Rosa High School in California.

Dewey Johnson, brother to Big Spring High School's cage coach, Eddie Hart of Kenocho, Wis., who broke Alan Ameche's school-boy rushing record with 11.8 yards per carry, was another.

Also included were Calvin James of Chattanooga Baylor High, a brother to Auburn's heralded Fob James; and Joe Bellone of Winchester, Mass., who scored in 22 straight ball games over a period of three years.

Stubby Greer has been offered a job as utility player with Buffalo of the International League. Phil Cavaretta, the former Chicago Cub manager, will pilot the Buffalo team.

Gus D'Amato, manager of the up and coming Heavyweight boxer, Floyd Patterson, likes the buck as well as the next man.

He stated for publication recently he thought Rocky Marciano could have whipped Jack Dempsey in the Mauler's prime.

D'Amato is grooming his young man for a 1957 engagement with The Rock.

Still on the subject of professional boxing, 11 championship matches last year drew a total of 170,120 customers and gross gate receipts of $1,048,894 (from Heavyweights through Flyweights).

The money figure does not include income from TV, radio, motion picture or closed-circuit theatre-TV.

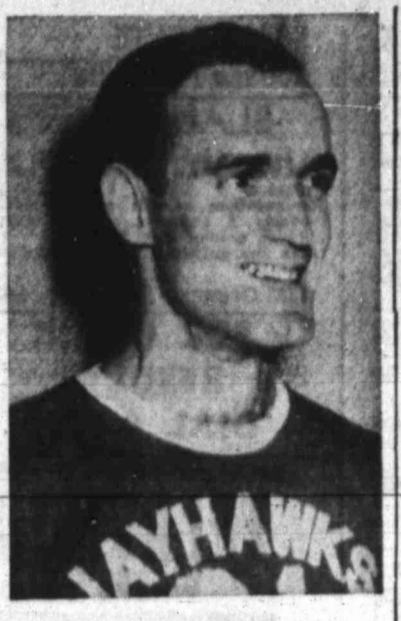

Ed Price, who rode out a storm to keep his job as head football coach at the University of Texas not long ago, will speak at the Ex-Students dinner in Sweetwater the night of March 2.

The Big Spring ex, Witty Quintana, struck out no fewer than 125 times in 162 games with San Antonio of the Texas League last year.

Is any better coaching job being done anywhere than that by Harold Davis at HCJC?

The Jayhawk cagers lost four starters, including the great Jim Knotts, off last year's team, yet Davis had developed another winner at the local school.

Odessa was the odds-on favorite to cop the West Zone bunting. Yet what did the Hawks do but invade the Odessa gym and escape with a 29-75 victory?

Jayhawks Test Phillips In Borger Go Tonight

Coach Harold Davis takes his Howard County Junior College Jayhawks to Borger tonight, where at 8 p.m. they meet the Frank Phillips Plainsmen in another crucial West Zone basketball test.

First place in the conference goes to the winner of the game. Each team has won twice in two outings.

Frank Phillips, coached by Jimmy Holsten, has measured Clarendon and Odessa, in that order. HCJC has knocked off Amarillo and Odessa, respectively.

Phillips is double tough in its own gym, as it proved against Odessa. The Wranglers went to town favored to win by 15 to 20 points but the Plainsmen beat the Odessans, 81-69.

The Plainsmen offer a big basket threat in tall Bob Dunn, professional baseball player during the summer months, who has been averaging better than 30 points a game.

Dunn has great talent for hitting outside. He gets a great percentage of his points from quarter court.

The Hawks have won eight straight games, after a slow start. They carry an 11-8 record north with them. They've kept much busier this season than the Plainsmen, who apparently have difficulty booking games.

The game will be the first of two for the Big Springers this week. On Friday the Hawks play another conference game here, at Odessa.

You've got to hand it to the guy. He gets the most out of his material.

Moberly, Mo., JC recently beat the St. Louis University freshmen, 70-61. Hannibal-LaGrange JC recently scored 105 points on the same team. HCJC has met both teams in the National Juco Tournament.

RUSSIAN SUCCESS STORY SIMPLE, SAYS SOVIETS' OLYMPIC COACH

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (R) — The Russians' fabulous speed-skating success in the Olympics has everyone here wondering how they do it.

"It's no big secret," Michail Semenov, Russia's representative to the International Skating Union, said today. "Training is the essential thing and that certainly isn't fantastic."

"This is a year-round job and it includes not only calisthenics but dry skating in summer." Dry skating, as practiced in Europe, means going through the motions of ice skating on a gymnasium floor in the off season, sometimes with elastic bands attached to the ankles to exercise the leg muscles.

Some Americans are inclined to agree with Semenov. They point out that the young Yank skaters aren't willing to take the tough training grind.

"I've been skating for years," said one American veteran, "and I'm on my way out. But when I trained back home the younger fellows dropped out after a day or two. They couldn't keep up. "Skating in this class of competition requires the strictest training. Our fellows baby themselves."

"Then too," another old-timer added, "we've got jobs. We train when we can. It would be different if the government subsidized athletes."

Demaret Is Winner At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (R) — The second-round 76, came back with a rush. His last-round 66 went for 277, third place and $750.

Tied for fourth were Julius Boros, who began the day in third position, and Gardner Dickinson Jr., who was in fifth place. Boros took a 73 and Dickinson a 70 for 278.

Bill Ogden, the fourth man at the outset, fell back with a 76 for 283.

Others to move up were Mike Souchak, with a 68; Tommy Holt, 69; Arnold Palmer, 67; and Fred Hawkins, 70, all tied at 279.

Walter Burkemo, with the day's low score of 65; Doug Ford, 69; Billy Maxwell, 69; and Canada's Al Baldwin, a 68, tied at 280.

He came from behind to defeat Cary Middlecoff with a last-round 69 and a 72-hole score of 289. Middlecoff had a par 71 and a total of 270.

He caught Middlecoff on the 15th, banging out a pair of birdies that were decisive.

Gene Littler, who all but shot himself out of the tournament with the low score:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Score, Total. Includes Jim Demaret (82,000) 66-69-76=289, Cary Middlecoff (81,000) 67-69-74=270, Gene Littler (71,000) 67-69-76=289, etc.

Tom Salter, a handsome six-footer from Austria, is the darling of the Olympic world today.

Back home they call him "The Kid." But he didn't look like a kid yesterday when he won the giant slalom by 6 seconds—an event that usually is decided by tenths of a second.

His fantastic clocking of 3:00.1 was the same as a runner reeling off a 4-minute mile and he was mobbed by spectators, most of them girls.

Tom is a handsome, black-haired lad of 21, who likes to flash a big grin.

"He's fantastic, just fantastic," sighed 17-year-old Penelope Pitou.

There are two more events to be decided in the skiing competition and Tom probably will be in both. They are a special slalom and a downhill.

Tenley Albright Is Near Skating Medal

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, (R)—Tenley Albright, the poised world champion figure skater from Newton Center, Mass., who conquered a childhood attack of infantile paralysis, took a decisive lead at the Winter Olympics today in the first three compulsory figures.

She amassed 623.1 points to 614.5 for her arch-rival, Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N. Y. Between the two of them, the United States seems assured of at least one gold medal.

While Tenley and Carol dominated the compulsory figure phase at the Olympic rink, a 27-year-old Norwegian woodchopper gave Norway its first championship in the 15-kilometer cross-country ski race.

Hjalgeir Brenden, a Norwegian athlete idol who won the 20-kilometer title in 1952, staged a front-running race through the snow-covered Campezo Valley to win in 49 minutes, 39 seconds. The distance covered nine miles, 360 yards.

Reason for the cheering by the so-far non-winning Americans was that Tenley showed she had completely recovered from the accident 11 days ago in which she gashed her right ankle.

Brenden captured the 18-kilometer championship at Oslo in 1952. The race was made shorter this year.

Snow fell throughout the grueling event and that's something Brenden appears to like. He won in 1952 under similar conditions.

It was an ice-breaking triumph for Norway, usually a formidable power in these games. The Norwegians won seven gold medals in 1952 and captured the unofficial team championship.

Second place went to Sweden's Sixten Jernberg, who also won a silver medal in last Friday's 30-kilometer grind. He was timed in 50:14. Russia earned a bronze medal, a bronze one, with the third place finish of Pavel Kolchinn, in 54:17. He also took third in the 30-kilometer championship.

Veikko Hakulinen, Finland's winner of the 30-kilometer gold medal, took fourth today in 54:17 followed by two Norwegians, Hakon Brustev in 50:36 and Martin Stokken in 50:45.

Uncle Sam's two entries finished far behind as expected. Arthur Miller, a 24-year-old soldier from Me-

Call, Idaho, was 41st in 56:08 and Larry Simon, 22-year-old collegian from Burlington, Vt., was 51st with 57:18.

The Russian third place in the cross-country was worth four points in the unofficial team standings and upped the formidable Soviets' total to 64, more than twice that of the runner-up Austrians who has 29. The United States is far back with 6 1/2 points, good only for a tie for seventh with Switzerland.

Russia, in its first appearance in the games, could make this a one-team show.

AT FAYETTEVILLE SWC Leaders Meet Saturday Evening

By WHITEY SAWYER The Associated Press The Southwest Conference returns to full-time basketball this week with the current leaders, Arkansas and Southern Methodist, clashing at Fayetteville Saturday.

Both teams must face other conference foes earlier in the week. SMU plays Baylor Tuesday and Arkansas meets Texas Christian the Mustangs are currently tied for the lead with 4-0 league records.

SMU pulled back into the tie last week with a wild scoring display against TCU winning the only conference game 105-64. Arkansas kept its winning streak going by dumping Mississippi 85-69 in the only other game.

Dick O'Neal rolled up 28 points against SMU in a brilliant but vain attempt to offset the SMU team shooting. The spurge hoisted O'Neal into a tie with Temple Tucker of Rice for the season scoring.

Baylor Gridders Open Workouts

WACO (R)—The Baylor Bears open the Southwest Conference spring football training grind today with 75 to 80 candidates expected on the field.

The group will include 21 letter-carriers. Two other lettermen, half-back Del Shofner and tackle Clyde Ledbetter, have been excused from the spring work. Shofner is currently on the basketball squad. Ledbetter, who lettered in 1953, won't finish his military service until April.

The 18 days of practice are scheduled to end Feb. 25 with the annual spring squad game.

San Fran Dons Riding High After Setting New Record

By ED WILKS The Associated Press Will success spoil the San Francisco Dons? It's not likely. But that's about the only thing that figures to trouble the all-winning Dons until they put their major college basketball championship on the line in March in the NCAA Tournament.

Coach Phil Woolpert's club has leveled everything in sight, ringing up 40 straight victories for an all-time major college record. And the 11 games remaining on their regular season schedule wouldn't scare your timid Aunt Minnie.

What's more, top-ranked San Francisco now is really all alone atop the national rankings. Dayton, which gave the Dons at least token opposition for the No. 1 spot while rolling to a 14-0 mark, was chopped down by Louisville 66-64 in overtime last weekend.

All that stands between the Dons and a 51-0 record are the weak sisters of their California Basketball Assn.—San Jose State (tabbed as victory No. 41 tomorrow night), Santa Clara, College of the Pacific and the like.

The Dons never ran into anybody quite like the California Bears, who became victim No. 40 Saturday, 33-24. A stalling game by the Bears prevented the Dons from scoring more than one field goal in the second half, but it couldn't prevent the inevitable and San Francisco smashed the 39-

Jackson Tries Baker Tonight

The Associated Press Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson returns from a three-month layoff to take on high-ranked Bob Baker Friday night at Madison Square Garden in an important heavy-weight test.

Although the Hurricane huffed and puffed to no effect in losing to Jimmy Slade Oct. 28 explaining "I couldn't get my arms and legs working right," he currently is rated No. 3 among Rocky Marciano's challengers—with a 25-1 record.

Baker ranks even higher, No. 1 under the National Boxing Assn., and No. 2, behind Archie Moore, in the Ring ratings. He lost plenty of prestige in a dull winning effort against Nino Valdes at Cleveland Dec. 9 although he plodded to his 13th straight victory.

Carmine Fiore of Brooklyn and Gene Poitier of Niagara Falls, N. Y., will try to top their exciting first match when they meet again tonight at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Du Mont will telecast. The two welters fought to a draw in 10 rounds Dec. 19 although Fiore was a heavy favorite. The 26-year-old Brooklyn left hooker had been out of action for 13 months before whipping Rinzi Nocero Nov. 21. The Poitier scrap was his first important "comeback" fight.

West Texas Risks Basketball Lead

PHOENIX, Ariz. (R)—West Texas State risks its Border Conference basketball leadership this week against the two teams tied for second, Arizona and Arizona State.

West Texas has a 3-1 record and both Arizona entries have 3-2 marks.

A loss to either would shove West Texas down and Arizona State could consolidate a jump into first place in its two other conference encounters, one against lackluster Hardin-Simmons, the other against Texas Tech, tied for fourth.

Arizona's visit to Canyon is its only league game this week. In the other conference game, Texas Western's Miners host New Mexico A&M Saturday.

This week's non-conference schedule sees Arizona against Arizona State at Flagstaff, West Texas against Texas and New Mexico A&M playing host to Santa Barbara Wednesday and Hardin-Simmons travels to Midwestern Thursday.

WACO (R)—Ned (Sonny) Long, all-state guard from Houston Reagan High School, has accepted a Baylor football scholarship, Bear Coach Sam Boyd said yesterday.

Long, a mid-term graduate, is 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 190 pounds. He plans to enroll for the spring quarter at Baylor in March.

Yearlings Draw Bowie As Foe

Charles Caraway's Big Spring Yearlings meet Odessa Bowie at 5:30 p.m. Friday in the first round of the Midland Junior High School Basketball Tournament.

Eight teams are entered. All teams which competed in the Odessa tournament last week, with the exception of Levelland, are entered. Crane will replace Levelland. Big Spring won seventh place in the Odessa Tournament.

Polio Marches Set Tonight

LAMESA — March of Dimes activities in Dawson will be highlighted by two marches tonight. In Lamesa the National Guard will "march" on the Latin American residential section from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, and in O'Donnell the 1946 Study Club will conduct its annual Mothers' March from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Everyone one wishing to contribute is asked to turn on his porch light and have contributions ready.

Gene Pierson, MOD campaign director, reported this morning the total funds raised to date at almost $5,500. The City of Lamesa is having Coffee Day Monday and Tuesday. Returns from the first day, Sunday, showed about $300.

The Vernon W. Bryant chapter of the Yachol Saturday raised over $900 for the polio campaign with polio roadblocks at strategic intersections.

High Schoolers Due Teacher Training In San Angelo Plan

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Selected high school students will start actually teaching one day a month in elementary grades in a program aimed at interesting more young people in teaching as a profession, Supt. G. B. Wadzeck announced yesterday.

All teaching sessions will be supervised by regular school instructors, but Wadzeck emphasized that the student teachers will be actual beginning instructors.

The program starts this week. The one-month teaching schedule was decided upon to avoid conflict with the regular scholastic program.

Wadzeck said those selected for teaching experience will be students "whose scholastic aptitude and personality are indicative of good prospective teacher material."

Firemen Douse Cotton Burr Fires

LAMESA — City firemen Sunday battled cotton burr fires at two Lamesa gins. Blazes which required the presence of both regular and volunteer firemen were at the Jenkins and Co-op Gins.

No damage was reported from either except to the burrs. High winds aggravated the fire and endangered other property.

Polar Whiteout Strands Group

LITTLE AMERICA V, Antarctica — American trailblazers have been pinned down for two days by a blinding whiteout a little more than halfway on their journey deep into Marie Byrd Land.

The seven-man team last reported its position as about 330 miles southeast of Little America V, Operation Deepfreeze's main base on the Ross ice shelf.

The whiteout, an antarctic phenomenon in which the horizon and snow terrain are lost in a white-blue light refraction, also grounded a plane flown out from the base to do reconnaissance work for the ground party.

The small caravan is composed of one Weasel (a tractor-treaded jeep), and two tractor-type "Snowcats." It left this base Jan. 14.

The Snowcats, which like the Weasels are heated and enclosed, are towing nine sleds loaded with rations and equipment. Their assigned goal is a point where an International Geophysical Year base is to be constructed for use by American scientists.

Korean Anti-Spy Slain On Street

SEOUL — Maj. Gen. Kim Chang Yong, Communist-fighting chief of the South Korean Counterintelligence Corps, was shot to death today by assassins who ambushed him on the streets of Seoul.

The tough, 37-year-old general was struck down by a gunman who fired after pumping three pistol bullets into him.

The government, military and police officials immediately pushed a citywide search for the gunman and an accomplice who drove the getaway jeep.

President Syngman Rhee personally rushed to CIC headquarters in Seoul to direct the hunt. Earlier he had visited the hospital but Kim, a close adviser, had been pronounced dead on arrival.

YOUR INCOME TAX Retirement Income May Be Deducted

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Associated Press Staff

About 8 1/2 million Americans are 65-years-of-age or older, and are getting retirement pay of one kind or another.

Other millions, whether or not retired, receive annuities—either as pensions or as benefits from some kind of insurance.

The tax law gives you a special break if you are among these millions of persons with retirement, or annuity, income.

This article is designed to help you determine if you qualify for the special tax benefits given to retirement income, and to annuities and pensions, and to help you take advantage of your status if you do qualify.

Here is one very basic point to remember—you do not have to be formally retired to get the benefits accorded to retirement income. You qualify, or do not qualify, according to what kind of income you have. Your age, and your other earnings may—or may not—limit the advantage you can take of the retirement income provisions.

Depending upon your qualifications, you may be able to do two things with your retirement or annuity income:

1. You may be able to exclude part of it from your taxable income—set it aside, tax free.
2. You may be able in addition to get a tax credit on the part you do not exclude—that is, you may not be required to pay the full tax on this part of your income.

The exclusion and the credit must be handled separately in making your tax return. So we will deal first with the exclusion, and after that with the retirement income tax credit.

The provisions under which you may be able to exclude some of your annuity or pensions income from taxation are dealt with in the instructions booklet that comes with Form 1040 (which you must use if you have this kind of income) on pages 8 and 9, under the title "Annuities and Pensions." The retirement income tax credit provisions are dealt with in the instructions on page 15, as one of several "Credits" against your tax. Schedule "E" in the middle of page 3 of Form 1040 is the special part of the form for claiming an exclusion of part of your pension or annuity income.

However—some kinds of pension or annuity income are entirely excludable. That means you need not even report that you got the income. Consequently, if you have income from these tax exempt sources, you need not fill in Schedule "E", because it is for the use of those whose pension or annuity income is only partly tax free.

The fully exempt pension or annuity incomes are:

Benefits from the social security system, from the railroad retirement system, and pensions received as workman's compensation for a disability.

You can only exclude from your taxable income, over the years, an amount equal to what the pension or annuity cost you. Your cost is the total of what you paid to get the annuity, or what you contributed to your pension fund. If your employer contributed to your pension fund, but counted his contribution as part of your wages, and you paid income tax on his contributions, the law regards the total of his contributions as part of your cost.

Here is the general rule for finding out how much of your annual pension or annuity income you can exclude (special cases are dealt with on page 9 of the instructions): Part II of Schedule "E" on Page of Form 1040 deals with the special case of pensions where the total cost is recovered in three years or less.

First, you must find out what the pension or annuity cost you.

Secondly, you must find out how much you can expect to get out of it. The Revenue Service will tell you this, from actuarial tables. Your employer must have the tables drawn up by Revenue.

You then divide your total cost by what you can expect to receive, getting a percentage figure which is your "exclusion factor." You continue using the same exclusion factor as long as you get the pension or annuity income. As an example:

Say you have a pension (or annuity) which cost you $5,000, and that you can expect to get $10,000 in pension payments, all told. Dividing $5,000 by $10,000 gives you 50 per cent. That means that you can exclude, every year, 50 per cent of your pension or annuity payments from taxation. Part I of Schedule "E" leads you through the steps to find your exclusion according to this general rule for pensions and annuities to which you contributed.

With your exclusion determined, you are ready to find out if you can also get a credit against your retirement income tax. You work this out in Schedule "K" on page 4 of Form 1040.

You are not permitted to enter in Schedule "K" any pension or annuity income you have excluded from your taxable income. And you can qualify for a retirement income tax credit only if you (or your deceased wife or husband) earned at least $600 in each of 10 years before 1955 (not necessarily 10 consecutive years).

Taxpayers under 65 years of age through Dec. 31, 1955 may use in Schedule "K" only qualified income from pensions and annuities under public retirement systems. This includes retirement systems of federal, state and local governments. Retirement pay of the Armed Services — formerly not counted here — may now be used. If both husband and wife had qualified retirement pay, both may get a credit.

Taxpayers 65 or older at any time in 1955 may include in their retirement pay for tax credit income from any qualified pensions or annuities, and also gross rental income and income from interests and dividends — no other kinds of income.

What income qualifies for use in determine a tax credit?

Any of the above types of income (according to your age) that you have not excluded from your taxable income.

However—your qualified income, and hence your credit, may be reduced if you had income during the year from Social Security, Railroad Retirement, or any other totally exempt type of pension or annuity except a disability pension. Also, persons under 75 must deduct any amounts they earn by personal services over $900.

In practical terms, these limitations mean that if you had pension or annuity income of $1,200 or more in 1955 from any totally exempt source (like Social Security), except a disability pension, or if you were under 75 years of age in 1955 and earned $2,100 or more by personal services (dividends, interest, rent and royalties do not count) you can not get a retirement income credit.

With these definitions and conditions in mind, you can work through Schedule "K" without difficulty.

Uncle Ray: Livingstone Married Daughter Of Physician

By RAMON COFFMAN

Many men have helped to explore Africa, but none of them should be ranked above David Livingstone. He was a pioneer in exploring the continent from the Equator southward.

Q. When was Livingstone born? A. He was born at Blantyre, a village in Scotland, 143 years ago. At the age of 19 he was put to work in a cotton mill, but became interested in books and studied at night.

Q. Did he become a doctor of medicine? A. Yes, he studied medicine during his young manhood, and obtained a degree when he was 27 years old. In the same year that he got his degree, he sailed on his first journey to Africa.

Livingstone had a joint purpose in going to Africa. He desired to convert the natives to the Christian faith, also to heal them when they became sick.

After a roundabout voyage (which took him first to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil) he reached Cape Town.

Leaving Cape Town after a short visit, he traveled northward by ox cart for 700 miles. In his diary he wrote:

"I like this traveling very much... there is so much freedom... we pitch our tent and make our fire wherever we choose."

Reaching the village of Kuruman, the young physician found a family of whites—the Moffatts. He was made welcome and stayed in the village for a few months.
