Blizzard Piles Up Snow In Panhandle

By The Associated Press
A blizzard pushed by howling 40 mile an hour winds piled up snow drifts in the Texas Panhandle Thursday. The winter's first sub-zero temperatures were expected. The storm swept swiftly down through the state, spreading a treacherous coating of sleet and freezing rain over traffic lanes.

Many schools were closed not only in the Panhandle and Plains but as far south as Corsicana. Some highways were closed; almost all were hazardous.

Two-day rains totaling more than two inches in East Texas brought joy to farmers. Gregg County cattlemen who recently met and decided to ask federal drought aid were expected to cancel the idea.

Drifts as deep as two feet, with a slick film of ice underneath, prompted the Highway Patrol to warn against unnecessary travel in the Panhandle.

Panhandle snow depths Thursday morning, with the snowfall continuing but expected to diminish in the afternoon, included Canadian 2 inches, McLean 3 1/2, Perryton 3, Pampa 2 to 3, Borger 2, and Amarillo 2.

Temperatures from 5 below zero to 5 above were predicted for the Panhandle early Friday, 5-15 in the South Plains, 15-25 elsewhere in West Texas, 14-24 in North Central Texas, 18-28 in most of East Texas.

The West Texas snow blanket settled down over moisture-hungry wheat, sorghum and cotton fields and onto cattle ranges which need it.

Mt. Pleasant in Northeast Texas reported two inches of rain in 24 hours, heaviest in almost six months.

At Marfa in the Southwest Texas mountain country, the temperature skidded 48 degrees from Wednesday's 70 to 22 and a 40 mile wind produced a freak: The worst tumbleweed "storm" in 20 years. The big, round weeds stacked up high against fences and buildings.

The lowest temperature Thursday was 7 at Dalhart. Temperatures still were falling.

Dawn found the snow reaching out from the Panhandle eastward to Abilene, south to Midland, Wink, Salt Flat and west to El Paso.

Early Thursday morning the freezing weather extended as far south as Dallas. Pre-dawn temperatures included Childress 15, El Paso 17, Midland 16, Abilene 19, Wichita Falls 23, Dallas 31, Waco 33, Tyler 35 and Texarkana 41.

The Weather Bureau said the northern was racing down the Panhandle into the western part of the state. The mass of frigid air was due to spread into the eastern and southern part of Texas Thursday and Thursday night.

Most Panhandle schools were dismissed for the day and many in the Plains Country around Lubbock also were closed.

Despite drifts, highways were officially closed by early Thursday. Highway 116 near Levelland and Highway 70 near Littlefield were almost impassable. The dry, powdery snow quickly piled up in drifts but many cars and trucks bulldozed through.

For most of West Texas it was the most appreciable moisture since early October. The snow was 4 to 5 inches deep at Plainview, center of a cotton, sorghum, wheat and cattle area badly in need of moisture. Drifts piled in front of garages and forced many city dwellers to walk to work.

A half inch of snow had fallen by 8 a.m. at Pecos and continued. Pecos needed moisture on cattle ranges.

Dawn found ice frosting on shrubs and trees as far south as Austin. Leander, 30 miles north of Austin, closed schools because of icy roads. Mixed sleet and rain accompanied an 8 a.m. thunderstorm at Austin.

Blizzard Brings Little Moisture; Low Of 6 Seen

The sleet and freezing snow which fell during the night and this morning brought more accidents than moisture to Big Spring and the surrounding areas. And the temperature is forecast as stable today with an overnight low of 6 expected.

The groundhog didn't see his shadow this morning unless he was standing underneath a streetlight.

The moisture measured only .01 at the Experiment Station north of town while Webb AFB reported .05 inch, but the sleet brought a rash of minor accidents and three larger wrecks outside the city limits.

The Air Base reported intermittent sleet from 2:10 p.m. Wednesday and the first trace of snow was noted at 9:28 p.m. The overnight low temperature reading was 16, recorded at 4:30 this morning, and the mercury had risen only two degrees by 11 a.m.

The minimum reading at the Experiment Station was 15 which was noted at 8 a.m. today, and at 11, the temperature was showing the same.

weather as today, with "snow and strong northerly winds this afternoon and much colder this afternoon and tonight; partly cloudy tonight and Friday" forecast.

High today is expected to be 20, and the low tonight will be six. Friday's high will be around 28, and weather bureau predicts.

Surrounding areas report approximately the same weather conditions as Big Spring.

Lamesa had a low during the night of 12 degrees, with a light snow causing slippery streets in drifted spots. The snow would probably reach 25 inch.

At Colorado City, the report was the same, with traffic moving at a cautious pace. The snow was still falling lightly there this morning.

The snow almost covered the ground at Garden City, with the mercury dropping to 16 during the night. There were no accidents or mishaps reported in Glasscock County today.

Man Burns To Death In Fire In Empty House

A man tentatively identified as Juan Valdez, 48, burned to death in a vacant house in northwest Big Spring this morning.

He apparently had built a fire in a bathtub on the floor of the unused building. The fire was discovered about 4:30 a.m. and the body was found huddled in one corner of the old house.

The building, charred throughout, is situated at the rear of the Valdez residence, 910 NW 3rd Street. Only the walls of the structure were left standing after flames extinguished the blaze.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice ruled accidental death. He said he was informed that Valdez left home about 2 a.m. today following an argument. He apparently started the fire and went to sleep in the vacant house, the official said.

Grice said a wash tub was found in the house.

Valdez is survived by his wife, three daughters, Lupe, 10; Rosa, 8; and Mary Ellen, 5. Arrangements for funeral services are pending at the River Funeral Home.

Firemen listed the cause of the fire as unknown and the house as a total loss.

Terms Reduced In Abortion Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Vincent A. Carroll today reduced the sentences of Milton and Rosalie Schwartz to 11 to 22 months for their part in the abortion death of Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher.

When the Schwartzes entered pleas of no defense last Tuesday to charges of abortion causing the death of the attractive 22-year-old food chain heiress, Judge Carroll imposed an indeterminate prison term for Mrs. Schwartz, and 3 to 10 years for her husband.

Lauhon Murder Trial Date Set

GALVESTON (AP)—The murder trial of Ellis Lauhon Jr., charged with killing three members of a Dickinson family, has been set for March 19.

His lawyer, Jean Hoseney, said he will plead insanity.

The airman, 26, is charged with the June 22 slaying of Mrs. Ruby McPherson, 44; her mother, Mrs. Zola Norman, 63; and her son, George McPherson, 12.

The first witness was Mrs. Louise Brown, supervisor in the nursery from which the baby, Carolyn Wharton, was taken.

Life Term Assessed In Narcotics Case

A life term in the penitentiary was assessed by a 118th District Court jury this morning against Tiburcio (Chongo) Nunez, Big Spring Latin American.

Nunez was found guilty of charges that he possessed marijuana last Oct. 21.

The life sentence, assessed after the jury deliberated about 50 minutes, is believed to be the first such term assessed under a new Texas narcotics statute. The statute enacted by the last Legislature provides a sentence of from two years to life for a first conviction on narcotics violation.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Thirty-four teachers, parents and pupils this morning were marooned within the Albuquerque city limits by a wind-whipped snow which piled drifts 10 feet high.

After a night trapped in the Hawthorne school, Principal William Nabors said the children and teachers were "holding up well."

Although the storm had abated this morning, 8 to 10-foot drifts were still piled around the school. Cars were stuck in the drifts.

Army trucks made it through early today, leaving 50 blankets for the marooned adults and children.

The Hawthorne school, with an enrollment of 530, found itself isolated within a city because of its location. It's in the extreme north-east section of Albuquerque in an area of widely scattered subdivisions, and is near the base of the towering Sandia Mountains.

Winds to 62 miles an hour slammed the snow off the mountains and piled it into drifts around the school after many of the children had left. Parents of others battled the storm to retrieve their children. Some were forced to remain.

About 26 children, cut off by the storm, were taken into neighboring homes for the night. Others spent the night on the school floor.

Nabors said the Red Cross had told him it was trying to get through with food for those still inside the school this morning.

Searchers Follow Missing Plane Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Searchers tried today to locate an Air Force bomber from San Angelo, Tex., which has been missing six days with four aboard.

Search planes reported yesterday spotting what might be the B-25 on the south slope of Mt. San Geronimo north of Banning. Deep snow and strong winds stopped ground parties.

BEAUMONT (AP)—Testimony started today in the baby kidnapping trial of Mrs. Pauline Schulze before a jury of 10 men and 2 women.

The first witness was Mrs. Louise Brown, supervisor in the nursery from which the baby, Carolyn Wharton, was taken.

Power 2,500 Times That Of A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has received a hint that an earth-shaking hydrogen bomb with 2,500 times the power of the atomic weapon that blasted Hiroshima may be at least in the planning stage.

Confirmation that something is going on in that field came yesterday from Dr. A. G. Hill, professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and scientific director of the weapons evaluation group of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The scientist was a witness before a House Government Operations subcommittee in a hearing aimed at strengthening civil defense.

Chairman Hollifield (D-Calif.) commented that he believed a study in which Hill participated had mentioned a hydrogen bomb that would "go up as high as 50 megatons."

Hill nodded agreement. The matter was dropped without any elaboration.

The atom bomb which flattened Hiroshima was estimated to have the energy equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT, and American A-bombs are understood to have gone far above that level in tests. A megaton is a million tons of TNT, so a 50-megaton weapon would have 2,500 times the power of the Hiroshima bomb.

Speculation set the power of the enormous American blast at Bikini March 1, 1954, as high as 15 to 17 megatons. That explosion caused a small island to disappear.

though Nunez has three previous felony convictions to his credit, he was tried as a first-offender under an indictment which alleged no previous convictions.

Testimony in the case was concluded Wednesday afternoon.

Nunez, the only defense witness, claimed in his testimony that he purchased 16 marijuana cigarettes from John Oakley "under instructions" from Police Capt. M. L. Kirby.

He said the policeman had told him his business would be closed and officers would keep putting him in jail unless he helped develop some marijuana cases.

"I bought it (marijuana) because Kirby said anytime I buy something, nothing's going to happen to me," Nunez testified.

Nunez said he got 16 cigarettes in a tobacco can from Oakley for $2.

"I put them in my room behind the cookstove. Kirby wasn't working that night. The next day I sent a man to tell Kirby that I got him some stuff," Nunez testified.

He said that Kirby, Investigator Bobby West and Oakley came to his house and that the policeman said, "Give me that stuff you bought from this fellow last night."

"I didn't say nothing, just went and got it," Nunez told the jury. Earlier in the trial, Kirby and West testified that they went to the Nunez place after learning from Oakley that he had sold marijuana to Nunez.

Kirby said he was "surprised" when Nunez produced the can of cigarettes after he had asked for them.

"We'd better wait and see Gil on this," Kirby said he and West agreed after the incident. The officers left Nunez at his house on that day (Oct. 21). Kirby said West filed a complaint against the defendant on Nov. 1 after conferring with Gil Jones, the district attorney.

Under cross-examination, Kirby denied that charges were filed to clear himself of accusations that he had been "covering up" for Nunez.

George Thomas, attorney for Nunez, had asked if a man named Dooley had said in a city court trial that "Chongo is 'stooling' for Kirby and Kirby is protecting Chongo."

Doctor Rules Out Decision By Ike Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's personal physician said today "no man who is just 4 1/2 months past a heart attack is in a position yet" to decide whether to seek a second term.

The White House doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen with respect to Eisenhower and a decision regarding a second term.

"He should have more time—all the time he needs. He is not at a point yet to know whether he can go ahead and hit the ball," Snyder said.

Asked how much more time the President should have before he will be in a position to decide on a basis of physical fitness, Snyder replied:

"I would prefer not to say."

Snyder's statement that the President should have more time for a decision was bound to be disappointing to Republican supporters who have been hoping that Eisenhower would announce his political plans very shortly.

Mrs. Oswalt Denies Theft

EL PASO (AP)—Mrs. Mildred Oswalt, 42, former assistant city secretary at Andrews, denied yesterday she took money from the city's water department funds.

She is charged with misapplication of $2,545 in city funds in April 1954. Her first trial resulted in a hung jury.

She admitted she made "some mistakes" but said they were errors in additions which should have been discovered in posting of the office general ledger.

Character witnesses testified she had a good reputation. Arguments were scheduled today.

THE 'F' LINE Dior Unflattens The Bust Again

PARIS (AP)—Christian Dior this morning pushed the waistline up to just under the bust. He calls the new effect the "F line" or "arrow silhouette."

While he sticks largely to the sheath, with tricky cuts, drapery and pleats for daytime, dressy styles have never been so full-blown. Mannequins floated in and out like puffy clouds.

The "F line," based on the long hand letter rather than the printed one, is achieved by a belt smack under the bosom.

Full-face, the silhouette becomes the arrow, pointing upward, with the top width achieved by sleeve cut.

Dior's newest costume is neither a dress nor a suit but a "caraco," a sort of loosely fitted, bolero-style jacket to the waist. It appears on both dresses and suits, and is the most insistent note of the collection.

The bust, without being too exaggerated, is definitely part of the figure again, after being flattened by Dior's "H" and "A" lines of previous years.

Perjury Trial Of Former Witness Goes To Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—The perjury case against Paul H. Hughes was given to a jury at 10:50 a.m. today.

Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson in a 45-minute charge, emphasized to the jury that politics was not involved in the case. Hughes has claimed he was the tool in a political plot.

The six counts of perjury against Hughes, 35, World War II veteran, stemmed from testimony he gave before a federal grand jury investigating Harvey M. Matusow, former Communist and turn-about government witness.

Hughes allegedly told the grand jury that Matusow became a turn-about witness after being financially prompted by a number of anti-McCarthyites—including Joseph Rauh Jr., head of Americans for Democratic Action, a New Deal organization, and Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Rauh and Fritchey denied on the witness stand that they ever had anything to do with Matusow. But both men admitted being hoodwinked by material submitted by Hughes concerning alleged "illegal activities" of McCarthy while he was chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

Rauh said he gave Hughes more than $10,000 in loans and payments for derogatory information about McCarthy. In 1954, Rauh tried to interest the Washington Post (now the Washington Post and Times Herald) in the material. After checking, the newspaper became convinced that the information was false.

Hughes testified the information was phony. His counsel contends Rauh, Fritchey and others knew the information was bogus but were willing to use it anyway.

Erdmann further argued that Rauh and Fritchey were convinced that if the "plot" blew up "Hughes" word would never be believed against theirs.

Of Rauh and Fritchey, Williams said: "If they wanted to concoct some cock-and-bull story they didn't have to rely on this young amateur..."

"But this young man sold them a bill of goods. Actually he was of value to them only if he was genuine. If he was not genuine then he was a downright liability, a danger and a threat not only to them but to the ADA, the Democratic National Committee and the entire Democratic party."

Erdmann, admitting his client "was a house engaged in filthy practices," charged that "evidence adduced from major government witnesses here (at the trial) was deliberately false..."

If convicted, Hughes would face a possible maximum of 30 years in prison plus a $12,000 fine.

Hurricane Research Slated To Begin In Florida In May

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The greatest concentrated attack ever made on one of man's most pressing weather problems — how to forestall disaster with perfect hurricane forecasts — will be launched in Florida in May.

Robert H. Simpson, tall, balding, driving research expert of the U.S. Weather Bureau's Washington staff, disclosed final plans for the ambitious project today after a conference here with Navy and Air Force experts who will participate. Coming on the heels of history's most terrible hurricane season, the immediate aim of the program, in which scores of scientists of several nations will participate, will be to perfect a foolproof 24-hour hurricane forecast.

Later, they expect to develop forecasting techniques to a point where advance warning can say three days in advance when and where a place a hurricane will hit the coast.

FDR Note Asks West Point Post For Hero's Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — A famous letter Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote 10 days after the 1941 Pearl Harbor attack to "the President of the United States in 1956" has been delivered at last to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The World War II President's letter asked consideration for "the merits of a young American of goodly heritage." Col. P. Kelly III—for appointment as a cadet in the United States military at West Point.

Young Kelly—then an infant and now a 6-foot, 15-year-old high school sophomore—is the son of Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr., the United States' first hero of the war, killed in a bombing mission in the Pacific a few days after Pearl Harbor.

Colin III lives at Concordville, Pa., near Philadelphia, with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow. He attends Westtown Friends School, a Quaker institution.

The White House said today that official inquiries, made with the approval of President Eisenhower, indicate the youth "is interested in going to West Point."

But he will have to wait at least another year and a half, when he will be 17, to be eligible for admission.

Shortly after Roosevelt wrote his letter Dec. 17, 1941, it was sent to the National Archives here for safekeeping.

About two weeks ago the national archivist, Wayne Grover, dug it out of the files and sent it through White House channels to Eisenhower, a 1915 West Point graduate.

Ad Agencies Agree To Halt Rate Fixing

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Assn. of Advertising Agencies has agreed in federal court not to attempt to fix the amount of commissions paid to agencies for placing newspaper and magazine advertising.

The AAAA—one of six defendants in an antitrust action filed also agreed to refrain from eight other specific practices.

A consent decree signed by the AAAA was filed in federal court here yesterday. With entry of the decree, the government dropped civil antitrust proceedings against the association.

The judgment does not involve the five other defendants in the suit, in which the government alleged restraint of trade.

The AAAA said it was innocent of any violation of the antitrust laws. The five other defendants have filed general denials of the government's allegations, which included a contention that a trade system channeled national advertising through out 1,000 agencies at a fixed commission of 15 per cent.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes, head of the Antitrust Division, said in a statement: "It is believed that the termination of this case as to defendant 4-A's will assure the public and members of all branches of the advertising business that 4-A's will no longer participate either in fixing the rate of advertising agency commissions or in influencing newspapers or other advertising media as to the agencies with whom advertisers should do business."

The decree involving the AAAA said that nothing in it should be construed to prohibit any of the 300-odd member agencies from "severally taking any action denied to the consenting defendant."

The AAAA was specifically authorized to continue trade association functions not in conflict with the decree.

Beauties On Film Bring New Plans

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma A&M College Air Force ROTC officers say new "flight" plans had been filed for a recruiting film after a preview showed more bathing beauties than bombers.

Col. Clarence H. Breedlove, director of the Aggie air detachment, said he had no doubt but that the film would stimulate more men to join up for advanced ROTC courses but he wasn't sure how it would go over with taxpayers and other audiences.

The film was made during the Aggie cadets' trips to such places as Las Vegas, Nev., and other scenic spots. The ROTC had planned to show it to civic groups.

Shoemaker's World Narrows To VA Cubicle

MCKINNEY (AP) — The world of A. B. Shoemaker, which once included a seven million dollar insurance empire, had shrunk to a cubicle today in a Veterans Administration hospital.

The president of the defunct U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co., who fired a bullet through his brain Jan. 7, was transferred to the VA hospital here yesterday from Waco, apparently because he had no money to pay hospital bills.

Dr. George McMahon, manager of the VA center, would not say if relatives said he was unable to pay for medical care. He did say that such a statement is a prerequisite for a veteran to enter a VA hospital for a non-service connected disability.

Shoemaker was in the Navy during World War I.

Before Shoemaker made his suicide attempt at his palatial estate in Waco, he wrote a note saying he had no money to conduct a legal fight against bankruptcy proceedings. His funds were tied up by court orders issued after the combination banking and insurance firm had been placed in receivership.

His amazing survival was attributed to the fact that the bullet did not injure the motor and optic nerves. After shooting himself, Shoemaker answered the doorbell of his home to admit a neighbor and seated himself in a chair before collapsing.

His physician in Waco, Dr. Boyd Alexander, said Shoemaker was in "good shape." He said the man was able to recognize his wife, could swallow when given food and water, and could nod his head in answers to questions. The doctor said he had some "weak" spots but no physical paralysis.

Alexander said there was no way of knowing now what mental capacities Shoemaker will have if he survives or if his memory of events before the shooting will be affected.

Should his memory be unimpaired and should he ever recover sufficiently to testify, there are many questions which state Senate and House investigating committees and other probing bodies would like to ask him.

No one has yet been able to throw much light on the operations of the seven million dollar U.S. Trust and Guaranty and its subsidiaries. Witnesses have testified Shoemaker ruled the firm with an iron hand and that he was the only person who knew the intricate operations that were carried out.

Dr. W. H. Buckholts, manager of the VA hospital, said there was no change in Shoemaker's condition. He said Shoemaker, 60, had been placed in a cubicle just off a ward in the hospital.

Buckholts said there were few private rooms at the VA hospital and Shoemaker would be placed in one only if his condition merits it.

Weather Bureau Issues Its Annual Groundhog Denial

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued its annual denial of the groundhog as a competent forecaster.

But the official forecasters were a bit more lenient in their attitude toward other weather proverbs, saying:

"The trouble with weather proverbs is not so much that they're all wrong but that they're not all right for all times in all places."

Which, of course, is just about what some folks say about the Weather Bureau.

The inapplicability of some weather sayings to our land is obvious, says the bureau, because many of the most popular ones are from North Africa and, later, in Europe.

Locality is of utmost importance in considering weather proverbs, it seems.

For instance, the Weather Bureau advises that on the Pacific Coast the moisture bearing winds blow in from the west and the southwest. On the other hand, in the east they come from the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic.

Therefore, "A western wind carries water in his hand" and "When the east wind toucheth it shall wither" would apply only to the West Coast.

But, east of the Rockies, the more applicable proverb would be: "When the wind is in the west the weather is always best."

One of the more popular sayings is "the south wind warms the aged." Actually, says the Weather Bureau, the south wind "is about the wettest, stormiest

Body Beautiful

Special exercises to keep the body beautiful are passed on by night club dancer and motion picture star Lili St. Cyr. She also talks about the use of oil as a beauty preparation.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Some Special Exercise, By Night Club Artist

By LYDIA LANE

Hollywood — One of the most popular night club acts in the country is Lili St. Cyr, who is billed as "The Strip Teaser With a Theme." Lili appears in only the very best night clubs around the country, being a favorite at Hollywood's Ciro's and the plush Las Vegas hotels.

"I dislike vulgarity," Lili told me when I caught her act in Las Vegas recently. "I think of my act as a dance act. I really wanted to be a ballet dancer but I couldn't afford lessons."

Miss St. Cyr is reputed to have the flattest stomach in show business.

"I've built strong muscles through dancing and exercise," she admitted. "One of my favorite exercises is to stand up close to a high chest or high-back chair and stretch one leg out across the top, keeping my knees straight. Then I bend down and touch my foot to my extended knee."

"I have to keep myself what would normally be considered underweight," she continued. "The moment my clothes feel tight I stop eating. There is only one thing that puts on fat," she smiled and named a four letter word — "food."

Lili has a beautiful even tan which is an attractive contrast to her blonde hair.

"I'm a great believer in oil as a body conditioner," she explained. "I use lanolin before and after sunbathing. One in my line of work must care for her body as carefully as her face. Several times a week before I go to bed I oil my skin from top to toe. This gives my skin a shiny look."

"I use oil to remove my nail polish and rub some into my cuticle every night and I find my nails never become brittle."

"I use lots of oil on my hair, too," she continued. "I've been bleaching it for so long that it needs plenty of oil to keep it in good condition. I wash my hair every three days and the night before a shampoo I cover it with oil and let it soak in overnight."

"You don't have to use expensive preparations. It's the care that counts," she said. "But the best beauty tip of all is sufficient sleep. You can't look your best when you're worn out."

Although Miss St. Cyr gets paid for undressing in public, her hobby is clothes.

"I follow fashion very closely and I am very extravagant about my wardrobe. It's my ambition to someday be chosen one of the ten best-dressed women in the country," she concluded.

Big Spring Gardeners Have Varied Program

The program Wednesday at the meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club was divided into three parts: compost beds, grasses and pruning. Members met in the home of Mrs. John Coffee.

Mrs. J. P. Dodd told the group about "Compost Beds." She said that you should build a strong container and construct it according to the size of your yard and flowerbeds. Kitchen refuse, salt and other breakdown materials should be added to the soil, the speaker explained.

In her talk on "Grasses," Mrs. W. G. Wilson stressed that Bermuda was the "queen of the grasses." She said that San Augustine was next in line.

"Bermuda is the best grass to have in West Texas because it requires less water and is more hardy than San Augustine," she told the group.

Mrs. J. B. Knox said in her report on "Pruning" that a tree seldom grows in a desired shape. "Pruning should be done while the tree or shrub is young and before it gets too large and straggly," she pointed out.

She said that you should try to prune artistic shapes and that all blooming shrubs should be pruned after they have bloomed. The best time to prune is when the last freeze is over, but she quickly added that this was a difficult thing to judge in this area.

"You must be very careful in pruning roses," she said, "for if they are pruned too early a slight freeze will kill them."

During the business session presided over by Mrs. Norman Read, the members voted to contribute $20 to the Ministers' Association to go in the fund for Chaplain C. E. Thiele at the State Hospital.

There were 19 present. The next meeting will be March 7 at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington.

Be Like The English, Take Time For An Afternoon Tea

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Afternoon tea, when I was a little girl in Canada, was an everyday occurrence. But tea on Saturday or Sunday afternoon was often a special occasion. Then my mother might serve her rich crusty brown baking powder biscuits. When you split one, dabbed it with butter, and tasted the soft downy insides, you thought you were eating angel wings. My mother used a concoction of her own—made from honey and walnuts—as a spread for the biscuits and I can still remember how good the combination tasted.

A friend tells me that she likes to use Lemon Butter—of English origin and sometimes called Lemon Curd or Lemon Cheese—as a biscuit spread. Not long ago, on a trip through Pennsylvania's Chester County, I discovered that Lemon Butter has been a favorite in that region for many years, and that the recipe for it used to appear in ladies-aid cook books. Here in New York we understand that you can buy the lemon spread imported from Scotland, in some retail shops. You can also buy an utterly delectable homemade variety of it in a little downtown Ninth Avenue shop run by a tiny lady in her seventies.

If you want to prepare the Lemon Butter at home, you might try this recipe. It produces a fine flavored smooth spread good to have on hand in the refrigerator. We ourselves like it best, in English fashion, as a tart or cake filling.

But no matter how delicious your tea accompaniments are, they will taste best if the tea itself is made well. It cannot be said too often that your teapot should be pre-heated; that you should use fresh cold water and bring it to a full rolling boil just

Concert Association To Present String Ensemble Saturday

Members of the Big Spring Concert Association will gather at the City Auditorium Saturday evening at 8 o'clock to hear the Virtuosi di Roma, the third presentation of the association.

Admission to this program will be by membership card only as has been the case previously.

The string ensemble is composed of six violins, two violas, two cellos, one contrabass, or double bass, one flute and one piano.

Each musician is an artist on his chosen instrument, but the director, Renate Fasano, requires a subtle blending of all tones. To achieve his desired result, Fasano has brought together leading instrumentalists from many cities in Italy. Any one in the ensemble may be presented as a soloist.

The group first toured the United States in 1955. Their second transcontinental tour was in 1952, and public demand brought them back in 1953. This is their fourth time to appear in this country.

Mrs. Lee Will Show Art Work At Settles

Through an arrangement with the Settles Hotel, Mrs. Myrtle Lee will display one of her paintings each month in the space over the stairs in the lobby. This has been named "The Art Spot of the Month."

January painting was one which Mrs. Lee had done with a copal formula applied instead of a brush. For February, the painting will show a scene in the City Park, which was painted last year during the snow. This picture was done with a brush.

Each month, there will be a different painting in the space, and the public is invited to view the pictures.

'Texas Heritage' Is 1905 Hyperion Study

"Texas Heritage" was the subject of the program given for the 1905 Hyperion Club Wednesday at their meeting in the home of Mrs. Shelby Read.

Mrs. Clyde Angel read a paper prepared by Mrs. J. H. Greene on Famous Homes of Texas. This included an account of the building of the Governor's Mansion, which was constructed by Governor Pease about 100 years ago.

Members were told that the cedar pillars used in the house were hauled by slaves from Bastrop. The original house was built on the "dog-run" principle — a hall or open porch between rows of rooms on each side.

Sam Houston's home at Huntsville was described for the club. It is called "The Wigwag" and has nails with square heads. The house of Stephen F. Austin, which has been restored recently, was built in 1832 at Peach Point.

The speaker said that most of the architecture of early times was of the bit-or-miss variety since ideas were brought from various countries by the settlers.

Mrs. W. A. Hunt discussed famous buildings of Texas. The Alamo, she told the club, was originally a mission and a school for the Indians taught by the Franciscan Order.

Our state capitol, conceived in 1876 and completed in 1888, is the largest capitol in the United States, members were told by Mrs. Hunt. For the payment of construction, Farwell Brothers were given 3 million acres of land. Later, 50 thousand acres comprising 10 counties in the Panhandle, were sold to obtain money for the furnishing and completion.

Money was borrowed by the Farwells from England, and they received their money from the construction in 1905. This deal was the beginning of the old KIT Ranch.

The building made of sandstone and granite, the latter being hauled from Marble Falls. The cornerstone weighs 18,000 pounds.

The capitol building covers three acres and took 15,000 cartloads of granite for its completion.

The Browning Library at Baylor University was also discussed by Mrs. Hunt. It houses first editions of the works of Robert and Elizabeth Browning as well as some of their furniture and personal belongings.

Forty-one stained glass windows decorate the building and it contains rooms for meditation. Organ music is played five hours a day. The next meeting was announced Currie. Eighteen were present Wednesday.

Susannah SS Class

Susannah Wesley Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church has postponed their meeting for Friday at noon due to the cold weather. Another meeting date will be announced later.

Central Ward Organizes Study Group

A Central Ward P-TA Study Group was organized when six interested women met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Jack Irons.

The group will meet the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the Teachers' Lounge at Central Ward.

Officers include Mrs. Harold Homan, chairman; Mrs. James Horton, recorder; Mrs. Andy Jones, publicity chairman.

Following organization, the group decided to have "Mental Health" as the first topic of study. Mrs. Roy Sloan gave a report on the needs versus the actual situation of mental institutions in the state of Texas. She emphasized the operation at the local hospital.

Open discussion was held on the local schools. Mrs. Homan read an article on the "School Situations Abroad."

Services were held in the Mason Funeral Chapel with Rev. Roy Shaheen, Baptist minister, officiating. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery.

March Of Dimes To Continue Toward Its Goal

With January gone and the goal only half reached, the March of Dimes campaign continues in Howard County.

Next big push is a "Talent Show for Polio," scheduled over KBST-TV Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Tentative plans call for the program to continue until 2 a.m. Sunday.

While youngsters from fine arts studios, string bands, and performers from high school and Howard County Junior College furnish entertainment, voluntary contributions will be acknowledged.

Local "ham" operators and the National Guard will assist, and as listeners call the studio, word will be flashed to the units which will call at the home of the donor almost immediately. Some merchandise prizes will be given during progress of the program.

Rad Ware, chapter chairman, said some contributions were beginning to be received in response to the 7,500 letters of appeal placed in the mail this week. Cards from the schools and coin collectors in various business places have not yet been gathered and reported.

Total of the campaign so far is in excess of $5,500, whereas the chapter goal is $12,000.

Bob Burns, Famous Comedian, Is Dead

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Bob Burns, top comic of a decade ago who was famed for his bazooka tooting and Arkansas jokes, died today of cancer.

Burns, 63, had been in a coma for six days.

The Arkansas native had been active in real estate in the San Fernando Valley in recent years.

The comedian was born Robin Burns, son of civil engineer W. A. Burns, in Van Buren, Ark. As a youngster he learned to play the mandolin, guitar, fiddle, piano and cornet—not necessarily with excellence but entertainingly.

The creation of his famous bazooka was an experimental accident. He put together a couple of lengths of gas pipe, blew and heard some amusing-sounding bass notes; added a funnel and, presto, the bazooka.

His career was a kaleidoscope of geography and varied pursuits—an orchestra musician and leader, river ferry pilot, hat salesman, peanut grower, advertising salesman in Chicago, marine service in World War I, carnivals, vaudeville and, finally, the show business big time.

He caught on with Rudy Vallee's show in New York and then with Bing Crosby and the Kraft Music Hall in Hollywood. His bazooka and his tall tales about his mythical

Voter Tally Above 10,400; To Go Higher

Howard county's voting potential continued to climb today, and the total will easily exceed 10,400, Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax assessor-collector, said today.

More mail receipts—both for exemptions and paid poll taxes—are to be counted, but through this morning the total already counted numbered 10,399. Of the total, 8,840 were paid taxes and 1,559 were exempt receipts.

These figures were including some voided receipts. Mrs. Robinson said, but the number of voids would be very few. More mail requests were received this morning. Possibly there may be some from service men scattered throughout the nation in the mails now that wouldn't be received until next week, she added.

The figure will still be below the 1952 total, when the county counted 11,315 authorized voters.

In 1954, the county showed only 7,213 registered voters, with an even 6,000 of those paying for the voting privilege. The rest were exemptions.

Final figures for Glasscock County showed 442 poll taxes paid, plus about 25 exemptions. The exempt certificates, however, are not required in the county as a condition for voting.

In Martin County, the visible voting strength will exceed 1,500 this year, although actual voting numbers will be substantially higher because exemptions are not required.

The office of tax assessor-collector Dan Saunders showed 1,470 paid receipts and about 50 exempt certificates recorded.

Registration At HCJC To 563

Registration at Howard County Junior College climbed to 563 Thursday, according to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president.

Included in this total are some 30 people who have signed for the course in conversational Spanish, a class designed to teach the rudiments of communication with Latin Americans and Mexican nationals. The totals also include 24 in a blueprint class for Coaden employees and 30 in a special typing class from Webb AFB.

Some class sections have had to be closed because they reached the maximum number permitted, said Dr. Hunt.

Dr. Hunt was to leave Thursday for Austin to get a final audit report on the state aid payments to HCJC. They reached $69,000 this year.

Real Estate Exams Slated At Lubbock

Examinations for real estate brokers and salesmen seeking state licenses will be held in Lubbock Feb. 24 and March 29, according to the Texas Real Estate Commission.

Previously the announcement had shown the place as room No. 169 at Texas Tech administration building. However, the corrected announcement shows that the examinations will be given at 1 p.m. on both Feb. 24 and March 29 at the Reddy Room of the Southwestern Public Service, 1005 Avenue K in Lubbock. Any applicant may take the examinations in Austin at 1400 Guadalupe on any date Monday through Friday.

License Tag Rush On At Tax Office

The tax office personnel had a lull of some eight hours Wednesday between 1 and 8 a.m. before they were again swamped with business.

The poll tax rush ended at midnight Tuesday, and then Wednesday morning the first 1956 auto license plates went on sale.

There was a line waiting at the door when the office opened.

During the day, a total of 222 sets of auto licenses—plus tractors, trailers, etc.—were issued. This was exclusive of new car and out-of-state registrations for 1955 plates. Fourteen new cars alone were handled in this category.

Sale of the new plates will continue through March 31 before penalties will be assessed.

The same color combinations are used on the '56 plates, but the colors have been reversed. This year, the black is the background and the letters are white.

Howard County's plates this year will be lettered "CL" and "CK." The CL lettered licenses went on sale first.

Texasans, was not hurt.

Driving while intoxicated charges were filed in County Court today against Jack Keith Tweedie, after his car was in collision with a parked auto in the 300 block of Scurry.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter arrested Tweedie in the 500 block of Scurry shortly after the accident last night. The parked car was owned by Lorne Coker. It was machine gunned by Willie Johnson, parked nearby, were damaged when they were thrown together by the impact, Slaughter said.

PORTLAND, Ore. — A mother and five children died in a fire that destroyed their home in a matter of minutes in a suburban area five miles east of here last night. Only the father, Arthur Merrill Graham, 50, escaped. He said an explosion, presumably of an oil heater, blew him through a window.

Draft Plan May Take More Men For Shorter Periods

WASHINGTON — More young men may be drafted to serve for shorter periods in a temporary move to bolster the lagging ready reserve program. Secretary of Defense Wilson disclosed the tentative plans at a news conference yesterday. Still under discussion, it would cut from 24 to 18 months the required active service of as many as 100,000 present draftees who agree to re-

Last time, she caught the fellow and took him in for attempted rape. Miss Suzuki, 29, is a plain-clothes policeman.

Benson Defends Ike Farm Program, Boosts Candidate

SPOKANE, Wash. — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson militantly defended administration farm policies and put in a plug for a Cabinet colleague as a possible senatorial candidate during a flying stopover here last night. Benson said Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, former Oregon governor, was the Republican party's best hope of capturing the seat now held by Sen. Morse (D-Ore). "Next to the election of Eisenhower, the defeat of Wayne Morse is the most important task before the Republicans," he said. Benson, who will address the National Assn. of Grain Growers at Portland today and fund raising luncheons in eastern Washington Friday, called the Administration's proposed farm measures a "billion-dollar-plus program."

H. L. Mencken's Beliefs Scored

To the Editor:

The editorial in the Herald of Feb. 1st, "The Scoffer Withereth Away" was interesting and appropriate. H. L. Mencken the critic, the iconoclast, the scoffer and the agnostic, in my opinion, left little that will be of permanent value to the world. He had a brilliant mind, his pen was caustic, cutting and somewhat devastating, but to me, some of his positions were inexcusable. Like most of the brilliant agnostics he ridiculed the belief in immortality and to the very last of his life he spoke lightly of those verities of the Christian religion. He is reported to have said in substance that if he were immortal he would square it all with the twelve apostles very easily. Perhaps not so easy, after all, Mr. Mencken, for continuing in his light and flippant vein if he comes into the sacred presence of the Apostles they may consistently say to him "get to Hell out of here Mr. Mencken." That could be retributive justice.

Teacher Has Poem Published

Mrs. Lena M. Manning, who formerly taught at the Knott High School and who now is English instructor at Hart High School, has her poem, "Rocks," in the current National Poetry Anthology.

The anthology, published annually since 1949 by the National Poetry Association of Los Angeles, Calif., has carried one of Mrs. Manning's poems in each of its seven preceding issues.

Her first was "Jewelry," followed by "A Thought on Teaching." Others were "To a Sunflower in the Rain," "Memories," "Teaching Profession," "My Complaint" and "Choice."

Mrs. Manning's poem in the current issue is as follows:

"Stones. A geologist studies stones and reads the history of the earth. A naturalist looks on rocks and sees a habitat for living things. An archeologist sees rocks warm, and rubbed, and old and wonders about the men who shaped them. But who but God can see into the hearts molded of stone, impervious to all good, hardened against mankind, and bitter to all those who live and breathe."

Prize Money For Stock Show Hiked

LAMESA — Members of the club boys activities committee of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon took action to boost the prize money to be paid boys in the Dawson-Borden Junior Livestock Show, Feb. 16-18.

The committee decided to ask Lamesa firms to donate prize money to be used here rather than sending several hundred dollars to Lubbock to increase price of animals sold in auction there. There is no sale in connection with the show here.

Herbert Green, chairman of the club boys activities committee, said he felt the action would be supported by the merchants of Lamesa. Many details of the plan are still to be worked out, but each by winning a place in the show will be given certificate to take to the donating merchants to receive his prize money.

Dawson Poll Tax Total At 5,007

LAMESA — Poll tax payments in Dawson County reached 5,007 yesterday as mail brought in several more payments than had been reported at midnight Tuesday, said Dawson County Tax Collector Louis C. White.

A total of 4,110 of the eligible voters paid poll taxes, and 897 exemptions were issued.

1955 Traffic Accidents Took Heavy Toll Of 38,300 U.S. Lives

CHICAGO (U) — Traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans in 1955—one of the heaviest tolls in history. The motor vehicle held its perilous place as the No. 1 killer in accidents.

The National Safety Council today reported that last year:

Accidents of all types brought death to 92,000 persons, injured 9,200,000 and resulted in $10,300,000,000 in financial setbacks—such as equipment and property damage, lost wages and medical expenses.

Traffic accidents alone cost 38,300 lives, approximately 1,350,000 nonfatal injuries and $4,700,000,000 in terms of cash.

Last year's motor vehicle death toll tied with the 1953 toll for the third highest on record. It was 1,669 under the all-time high of 39,969 reached in 1941 and approached closer to the 39,643 registered in 1937, the runner-up year.

The 1955 traffic toll showed an 8 per cent gain over the 35,356 total of 1954.

Traffic deaths rode a steady upward trend last year, and zoomed to record holiday heights during the Christmas period. The December toll of 3,960 was the largest for any month since December 1941.

WEATHER PROPHETS

It's A Big Day For Groundhog Fans

PHILADELPHIA (U) — Rival "weather capitals of the world" ganged up today on a little animal with a big reputation—the sometimes shy groundhog who is credited with prophetic powers on Feb. 2.

If the groundhog, uncurling from his warmth and taking a peek at daylight, sees his shadow, he ducks back into his hole; that means six more weeks of winter. If he sees no trace of shadow, he grows bold and ventures into the open. That guarantees an early spring.

Pennsylvania has four centers of this higher science, each swearing to be top banana and each crushingly scornful of the other fellow's claims. Only in Pennsylvania, they all assert, does the true groundhog cult flourish.

The Punxsutawney club in northwestern Pennsylvania boasts of a big edge, on seniority alone. Ever since 1888 its members have tramped up Canoe Ridge in the foothills of the Alleghenies and stationed themselves on Gobbler's Knob to watch and record the groundhog's behavior. For the entire Punxsutawney region this is a kind of fete day, with the selection of a Groundhog Day king and queen and of a man of the year, and, at night, a banquet and Groundhog Hop.

But to the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs of Quarryville, in Lancaster County, the western seers are "the upstart gang of Gobbler's Knob."

The Slumberers head for the woods in top hats and swallowtail coats, in great fur cloaks and gallant cockades, in togs that could be mistaken for vast night-shirts. Some travel on horseback. Others carry diving rods and other mysterious gear which has a vague association with groundhog-gerry. The lodge mans 135 separate observation posts, which send their findings to a field communications center.

Third of the groundhog groups, also on the prowl early, is the uncompromising Pennsylvania Dutch clan of the Allentown area which goes by the name of "Grundsow Lodge Number Ains on Da Lehigh," or more to the point, "Anything you can do we can do better."

Finally, Greater Philadelphia groundhogs bank heavily on their famed zoo. Unhappily, Emmie, the specimen that was coached for the big occasion, died less than 48 hours ago. The zoo has other groundhogs, though, including the notorious one-eyed Connelly, who doesn't give a hoot about shade or shadow but just wants to be let alone.

Halt To Mixed Dancing Urged

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (U)—The board directors of Chattanooga's Memorial Auditorium, where a "rock 'n' roll" dance exploded into a brawl between Negro dancers and white spectators Monday night, will be asked to adopt a resolution banning the mixing of races at dances there.

Tommy Thompson, auditorium manager, said last night he will recommend the action because "the mixing of races at these dances is a dangerous practice and should be stopped before an unnecessary tragedy occurs."

The dance, featuring nationally known Negro singer Roy Hamilton, flared into a furious bottle and chair throwing melee that required every available city and county policeman, both white and Negro, to put down.

At least three whites and three Negroes received minor injuries and nine Negroes were arrested. Disorderly conduct charges against eight of them were dismissed in City Court yesterday, but public drunkenness charges against three of them brought $50 fines. A 17-year-old Negro girl was scheduled for a juvenile court hearing.

Police declined to say what caused the outbreak, but several witnesses reported it came after a nonperforming member of the entertainment group sat down in the dress circle, reserved for white spectators. An unidentified Negro sought to remove him and a fight, joined by some Negro dancers, followed.

New Bomb Blast Stirs Race Cauldron

ATLANTA (U)—Ingredients from court and Legislature simmered uneasily today in the South's racial cauldron, kindled anew by a bomb blast in Alabama.

Virginia legislators voted strong approval to a resolution of interposition which denounced the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on public school segregation as an "illegal encroachment" on the sovereign rights of a state.

They voiced the pledge that Virginia, where the interposition doctrine was first promulgated, would follow whatever legal and honorable means it could muster to impede the mixing of white and Negro students in the classroom.

The vote yesterday left no doubt as to Virginia's stand: in the Senate the resolution passed 36-2; in the House 90-5.

In Georgia, a House committee approved a bill that would take away the charter of any city that fails to maintain racially segregated facilities. The measure apparently was aimed directly at Atlanta, where a federal court order recently brought an end to segregation on public golf courses.

Alabama was the first state to adopt an interpositionist plan which seeks to hold void the racial rulings of the Supreme Court—and the plan became official and went into effect without the governor's endorsement.

The deadline for executive action on Alabama's nullification resolution came yesterday, and Gov. James E. Folsom said then that he was washing his hands of the matter. Thus lacking action by the governor, the bill was not returned to the House, where it originated, and it thereby became an act automatically.

The bomb blast came last night. The bomb exploded in the front yard of the home of E. D. Nixon, a Negro Pullman car porter and former president of the Alabama Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Monday night a bomb was tossed at the parsonage home of the Rev. M. L. King, a Negro Baptist preacher.

Both Nixon and King have been active in directing the boycott of Montgomery buses.

No one was harmed at either explosion. Considerable damage was done to the front porch of King's home; the blast at the Nixon dwelling did only minor damage to a gate post.

Dawson Farm Unit Slates Meeting

LAMESA — Directors of the Dawson County Farm Bureau will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Farm Bureau Office, according to Fred Raney, president.

The hospital steering committee of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce is expected to meet with them to discuss tentative plans for construction of a county hospital here. A petition is now being circulated in the county and is expected to be presented to the Dawson County commissioners at their meeting Monday. It will ask that an election be called.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to all the kind friends, neighbors and relatives for expressions of sympathy, beautiful flowers, food and other courtesies extended to us during our recent bereavement.

10 years old —and still growing

(MOTHERS, FATHERS, AUNTS AND UNCLES, PLEASE NOTE)

Chubby legs lengthened into pipe stems...

Dress hems suddenly way up above the knees...

Shoes outgrown before they're worn out...

—signs that the 1946 baby in your family is growing up.

One of the few things that has almost kept pace with the rapid growth of your 10-year-old child is your 1946 investment in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. For example, the $75.00 you paid then for a Bond has grown into an investment worth $100.00 today.

And your Bond's current growth, just like your youngster's, is only an indication of even greater things to come! For under the present Bond law the earning power of Series E Bonds has been extended a full 10 years past the original maturity date. That means that 10 years from now the Bond you bought for $75.00 will have grown to be worth $134.68—80% more than you paid for it back in 1946.

There's nothing for you to sign—no visit to the bank required for you to take advantage of these extended earnings. Just hold your Bonds and let them go right on growing and earning extra money for you. That's what 3 out of 4 present Bond holders are doing—why more and more Americans are investing in United States Savings Bonds now on the convenient Payroll Savings Plan or are buying Bonds regularly where they bank.

Looking for a present for the new baby in your family? You can't do better than a United States Savings Bond, the gift that will grow right along with the child.

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks, for their patriotic donation, the Advertising Council and

by Jess Blair

The Farmers Co-Op Gin at Big Spring finished the season a few weeks ago with 4,321 bales ginned, which compares with 4,823 for 1954.

The gin was equipped to treat the burs against pink bollworms, but most farmers were too busy to bother with the burs during the early part of the season. However, the burs from the last 1,000 bales were for the most part hauled back by the growers. Gordon Hodnett, gin manager, said most of these were put on the land for fertilizer.

A committee at Midland has undertaken to name the sandstorms in much the same way hurricanes are christened. But instead of using the names of girls, the dusters are being called by masculine names.

The first one of the year last Sunday was called Old Abe, and he puffed across the prairie at the speed of 48 miles an hour. Wonder if the next one will be called Benson?

There is no more Grohler guard seed for sale anywhere, says W. W. Posey, who has 100 pounds of the seed. He said the new type guard seed came from the Vernon area and that no more was available. There should be a supply for 1957, however.

Posey made a fair crop of guar on the land he rented from the Big Spring State Hospital. It threshed out about 300 pounds to the acre.

J. C. Sale, who ranches in Western Martin County, says he didn't get enough rain last year to bring up much new grass, but his cattle are in good condition. He is feeding cake and hay on alternate days. Sale thinks the cattle market will hold firm for awhile or maybe increase a little. He says the demand for stocker cattle is good, and this should give prices a slight boost.

Pat Patterson is feeding out 75 head of steers on his place southwest of Big Spring. He is one of several ranchers using the hormone sublethal.

County Agent James Taylor says that five steers and 15 fine wool lambs from Howard County 4-H Club members will be entered in the livestock show at San Angelo in early March.

One thing that makes this an attractive show is the size of the premiums offered. Only the grand champions are sold, but the first 25 lambs will win prizes, with the lowest one bringing $15. The top six steers in each class will win prizes, and the champion will draw $100. With so much money offered, the entry list for this show is always large and the competition keen.

Tractor dealers at Stanton and Big Spring report that not many new tractors have been sold. Most farmers will keep the tractors they have and repair them during the winter. Two dealers say they are doing more repair work than they've done in several years. A few new tractors would be sold if a good general rain fell, but not many dryland farmers intend to invest in a new tractor as long as the ground is dry.

The Howard County ASC is getting ready to start measuring new cotton land. This is land which has grown only one crop, and is now eligible for cotton allotments.

Charles Eberley has about 70 acres near Lomax on which cotton can be allotted and grown for the first time. Terrell Schaeffer has between 50 and 60 acres at Vincent and Ray Russell has 37 acres. Also, C. A. Walker has a 40 or 50-acre field on which he has requested cotton allotments. The allotments on these new fields will not come out of the Howard County pool but from a reserve set aside to take care of new land.

Besides these farmers, there are about 25 more who have new fields that were broken out last year. Many of the fields are very small, and included small farm pasture, odd corners and tiny strips amounting to only a few acres.

Virgil Little, farming at Fay Hill, says there is no moisture at all up this way. A few farmers are chiseling and some are trying to list, but the ground is too dry to do a good job of it.

Several farmers over the county say chiselling will make their land blow even more, so they intend to leave whatever stalks they have on the surface.

Not everyone is going to be in favor of the soil bank plan. According to an editorial in the latest Capper's Farmer, the cost will be around 500 million dollars the first year. As the proposed plan now stands, the farmer will be paid from five to seven per cent of the appraised value of the land to put it into grass or legumes. He will also receive from $15 to $20 an acre for seeding. Payments to some of the large landowners might reach as high as $5,000. Altogether, about 10 per cent of the nation's cropland would be put into "reserve."

The main thing cattlemen and sheepmen are worried about is that the new grass and legumes might be grazed. The USDA officials say that probably no restrictions will be put on whether or not a farmer can graze it. They admit that such a law would be impossible to enforce, since fences would get holes and the owner's cattle would be in the grass or legume field much of the time.

This, the ranchers say, will increase the already top-heavy numbers of livestock and beat prices down still further. E. E. Hamlin, ranching north of Big Spring, said many ranchers in West Texas had already gone on record as opposing the soil bank plan because it would subsidize farmers to enter the livestock business as competitors.

Sen. Carlos Ashley Gives Back Fees Of Surety Firm

AUSTIN (U)—Another senator has relinquished claim to cash fees paid him by U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco.

Carlos Ashley, a lawyer-legislator from Llano, gave up $10,000 yesterday to the state insurance liquidator-receiver, J. D. Wheeler.

Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi said earlier this week he would refund a $3,000 retainer because he had performed no services for U. S. Trust during the one-year period to January, 1956, covered by the retainer.

Ashley said he had earned part of his fee through legal services aimed at helping U. S. Trust in "centralizing, coordinating and improving, within the law, the operations, control and management of the corporation."

However, he said, since receivership action against the banking and insurance firm had interrupted his services, he decided he was "not going to claim any amount, but I am refunding to the receiver the full amount of the fee paid to me."

Ashley had appeared before the Senate Investigating Committee to reveal his acceptance of $10,000 in cash from A. B. Shoemaker, U. S. Trust president, who is recovering from a self-inflicted bullet wound through the head.

Both Senate and House committees are in recess. Their chairmen, Sen. William Fly and Rep. Wade Spilman, said they did not expect renewal of the separate inquiries into insurance matters before next week.

Fly said he is hopeful his group can meet late next week "to try to tie some loose ends on this thing—the things we've heard so far on U. S. Trust."

Natural Gas Bill Debate Seems Running Low On Gas

WASHINGTON (U)—Three weeks of Senate debate on the Natural Gas Bill appeared today to be running out of gas.

Senate leaders had no more requests for speaking time on the measure to exempt producers of natural gas from direct federal controls.

There is no prospect of a vote this week on the issue which has cut across party lines. The showdown will come Monday, when a limit on debate goes into effect and a final vote is scheduled.

Enlivening yesterday's discussion was a statement by Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas that a group of big city mayors opposing the bill are "worshipping at the shrine of the Insults."

Samuel Insull headed a big Midwest utility chain in the 1920s. Some gas utility firms are opposing the bill.

Johnson spoke to the Senate as Mayors Robert Wagner of New York, Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia and Ben West of Nashville conferred in the Capitol with measure.

Wagner said a committee of mayors he heads represents 30 million gas consumers whose bills, he said, would be increased if the measure is passed.

Johnson declared it used to be a "popular game of the liberals to attack the utilities." Agreeing with Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) that big city utilities—not producers—are reaping the largest profits from the gas business, Johnson said "it seems some dashing young liberals are going to bed with the utilities and feel they are on the side of the angels."

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), favoring the legislation, said a former senator told him of accepting "a very substantial retainer" to lobby against it.

Truman Says MacArthur Lost Touch With U.S.

WASHINGTON (U)—Former President Truman says he thinks Gen. Douglas MacArthur became too "wrapped up in the East" and lost touch with this country during his 14-year absence.

Truman both praises and criticizes MacArthur in the latest installment of his memoirs, appearing in Life magazine. But he expresses regret that the general, who remained in the Far East from 1936 until Truman fired him early in 1951, didn't visit this country more often "to familiarize himself with the situation at home."

Only two months after MacArthur took command of U. N. forces fighting in the Korean War, Truman said, he considered sending Gen. Omar Bradley to replace MacArthur in that command. MacArthur would have continued in charge of the Japanese occupation. But Truman says, "After weighing it carefully, I decided against such a step. It would have been difficult to avoid the appearance of a demotion, and I had no desire to hurt Gen. MacArthur personally."

In New York, an aide to MacArthur said the general had no immediate comment.

Truman, who stripped MacArthur of all his commands on April 11, 1951, said he had considered removing him as military commander in August 1950.

That followed a statement MacArthur sent to the Veterans of Foreign Wars stressing the importance of preventing Formosa from falling into hostile hands. He contended the fall of that Nationalist Chinese island would create an enemy salient within America's Far East line of defenses.

The official U. S. policy at the time was stated to be that the United States had no designs on Formosa and was guarding it only to keep the Korean War from spreading.

"My only concern," Truman writes, "was to let the world know that his (MacArthur's) statement was not official policy." The White House said then that the general was directed to withdraw his statement "in order to avoid confusion as to the U. S. position."

Truman says MacArthur's statement "contradicted" this policy, and he added:

"Of course, I would never deny Gen. MacArthur or anyone else the right to differ with me in opinions. The official position of the United States, however, is defined by decisions and declarations of the President."

Truman praises MacArthur as a "master strategist," and speaks warmly of the general's actions in the early part of the Korean conflict. He also says he found MacArthur "a most stimulating and interesting person" when the two met on Wake Island in October 1951. At that time, two months after the controversial August statement, Truman says, MacArthur told him "he was sorry if he had caused any embarrassment."

Bristow Says Grand Juries Can Study 'Influence Peddling'

Rep. Obie Bristow has suggested that grand juries have the power to deal with "influence peddling."

Answering a questionnaire sent out by the correspondent of a Houston paper, Rep. Bristow said he had not only had never been asked to represent an insurance company but "since I have been a member of the legislature, I have never received any money from anyone for any service."

"Offering to pay for influence and accepting pay for influence constitutes bribery," he wrote. "It seems to me that the grand juries of this state have the power to deal with influence peddling."

He indicated that grand juries might be the logical instrument for getting the facts quickly and completely from members of the legislature regarding outside activities which might fall under the pale of influence peddling.

Rep. Bristow said that he did not favor a special session, either now or later, unless an evaluation of the audit of insurance firms shows one to be necessary.

"I feel that laws, like cars, can always be improved and we should constantly strive to make them better," he said. "Inasmuch as there is an audit now being made of the insurance companies, and this will not be concluded with evaluation until late summer, we would not gain much time by special session."

Aside from having received no funds for influence, Bristow said the total contributions in "funds for my two campaigns was one horned toad, one Indian arrowhead two pieces of bubble gum and 37 cents, given mostly by kids in my neighborhood. Reports on these are in file in the Secretary of State's office."

He declared that he thought the legislature should do everything it can to eliminate influence peddling, but cautioned that laws alone cannot do it.

"There was one traitor among the 12 Disciples. I would like to make the observation that there is no cure for dishonesty except honesty."

Salesman Held In Attack On Child

SAN ANTONIO (U)—A magazine salesman arrested in a San Antonio hotel was returned to Seguin today to face a 10-year-old girl, who accused him of rape.

Guadalupe County Sheriff Phil Medlin arrested Louis Wright, 18, of New York on a warrant obtained after the child was attacked near her farm home at Marion Tuesday afternoon.

The girl told officers she was gathering eggs in a barn when the salesman dragged her into a hay bin. Parents of the victim were away.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Questions? Here's How To Find Out

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Associated Press Staff

Every year as taxpaying time comes around the Revenue Service is bombarded with questions from millions of taxpayers puzzled by the ins and outs of the income tax law as applied to their particular income.

The Revenue Service has been keeping track of the questions, to find out what are the most frequent queries. In this and the following article are answers to questions on the 20 subjects which apparently bother the ordinary income taxpayer the most.

You can find more comprehensive answers to these questions in the instructions that come with your tax forms, under the general heading where these questions would fit. For instance, the subject of the first question, having to do with income in some form other than money, is discussed in the instructions for Form 1040, the basic tax form, on page 5, under the heading "What Income Is Taxed."

Additionally, you can obtain from any Revenue Service office for 25 cents, the Service's own authoritative survey of income tax matters, a small book entitled "Your Federal Income Tax." This contains fairly simply written discussions (with examples, in many cases) of most problems the individual income taxpayer, even the one with a complex income, would come up against.

And this year, the Revenue Service is distributing, free, through its offices and Agricultural Extension Service offices and agents, a special and comprehensive work on the farmer's particular tax problems, called "The Farmers' Tax Guide."

Here are questions having to do with 10 subjects apparently most troubling to taxpayers. The answers were supplied, like the questions, by the Revenue Service:

1. (Income in some form other than money) I helped my boss (or someone else) build his summer cottage, and he gave me a beach lot for my work. Is that taxable income?

Yes, because it was given to you for services you rendered, and is therefore not a gift. You report as income the fair market value of the lot.

2. (Moving expenses) My employer transferred me from one town to another, and paid all my moving expenses to the transfer company. Is that expense money part of my salary—my taxable income?

It is if you requested the transfer. It is not if the transfer was at your employer's order.

3. (Sale of a home) I sold my residence, at a profit of $3,000 last June. I used the 15,000 I got for my residence, including my $3,000 profit, to buy a new residence in December. Is the $3,000 profit on my sale taxable?

Not in your case. In the sale and purchase of a residence, both being the taxpayer's own home, any profit made on the sale is not taxable if the profit is reinvested in another home within a year (18 months in case you build the new home, instead of buying one already built). But if the transaction results in a loss, the loss is not deductible.

4. (Exclusion of dividend income) My wife and I received

$300 in dividends on stock we own during 1955. Is some part of this excludable from our income subject to tax?

Yes, but the amount excludable depends on just how you got the dividends. Each of you may exclude up to $50 dividend income, but only if each of you had at least that much dividends from qualified corporations. For instance, if the husband had dividends of $270 and the wife $30, the husband can exclude $50 and the wife only $30, a total of $80.

5. (Dividends from a savings and loan association) Can I claim a tax credit (or exclusion) for dividends I received from a building and loan association.

No. Quite the contrary, such dividends are considered interest, and as such they are fully taxable.

6. (Board and lodging from an employer) Must I include my income the value of room and meals furnished to me by my employer?

It depends entirely on where and why you got the meals and room, and it is different for meals and room. You need not report the value of the meals if they were furnished on the business premises, and for the convenience of the employer. The value of your room can be excluded if it meets those same tests, and in addition you were required to live on the business premises as a condition of your job.

7. (Gifts from an employer) Must I include in my income a $300 Christmas gift from my employer?

Yes, because gifts from employers are considered a return for services rendered. So are tips, bonuses, and the like.

8. (The "self-employment tax") Am I required to pay self-employment (social security) tax on the net profit from my grocery store?

Yes, if the net profit is over $400. The social security tax is 3 per cent of net profits up to $4,200 for the self-employed. (But if in addition to self-employment income you had wages from which social security taxes were withheld, you pay the 3 per cent tax only on the difference between your wages and any amount of self-employment income up to $4,200.)

9. (When to file a return, if you are self-employed) The net profits from my grocery store in 1955 were $500. Must I file an income tax return?

Yes, for two reasons. First anyone with gross income of $600 and over (almost certainly the case here) is required to file a return, even if they have no tax to pay. Secondly, a net profit of $500 would require you to pay the social security tax of the self-employed.

10. (When is income received) My bank entered a credit of $50, for interest, in my passbook on Jan. 2, 1946. But I find the amount was credited to my account in the bank on Dec. 28, 1955. In which year's income do I include this interest?

In your income for 1955, because it was credited to your account in 1955, because it was credited to your account in 1955, and you could have drawn upon it then. The deciding factor is—when did the money become yours? It becomes yours when credited to your account. When it got entered in your passbook does not matter.

Livingstone Found Huge Waterfalls

By RAMON COFFMAN

David Livingstone had a strong desire to explore unknown parts of Africa. His home was in a fairly pleasant location, but he wanted to see other portions of the continent.

At length he decided to send his family to safety while he went into an area which white men never had entered. He took his wife and children to Cape Town, and saw them aboard a vessel bound for Great Britain.

With a group of 27 natives he traveled from southern Africa to Angola, a Portuguese colony on the Atlantic coast. The natives carried several tusks of elephants, and these were traded to the Portuguese for muskets, gunpowder, beads and calico cloth.

Turning eastward, the party went through land never trodden before by anyone from Europe. At one point a native chief ordered his men to block the way, but Livingstone pointed his "six-barreled revolver" at the chief. The chief shouted that he would be friendly, and the strangers were allowed to go on with their trip.

After months of traveling, they reached the Zambezi Valley, and followed the river downstream. At length they came to one of the natural wonders of the world—the mightiest falls to be seen anywhere. Natives of the Makololo tribe (who were with Livingstone) called the falls by a name meaning "Noisy Smoke." They mistook the mist for smoke! All large waterfalls cause mist to rise at their base.

To honor Victoria, the queen

who then held the British throne. Livingstone called the tumbling waters the "Falls of Victoria." The common name for them later was changed to Victoria Falls.

Victoria Falls are more than twice as high as Niagara Falls. During the rainy season, the volume of water going over the brink is far larger than that of Niagara.

Jap Balloons War's Worst-Kept Secret

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

Resigns

Garland A. (Chink) Smith, above, resigned as life insurance commissioner in Austin, Smith, a former aide of Gov. Allan Shivers, has been under fire in connection with the current insurance scandals. He has been hospitalized recently with a stomach ailment.

That balloon that floated unseen across Texas recently on a high-riding trip from Japan no doubt reminds many Texans of World War II's worst-kept secret.

The recent balloon was one of two released by the U.S. Navy at Oppama, Japan. One fell into the Pacific near Hawaii. The second, whipped along by the miles-high jet stream, crossed Texas and fell in Mississippi.

Texas newspapers politely gave it the "oddy" treatment. "Balloon Sails High Over City," said one headline. All the way from Japan, and no one could see it because it was so high.

In 1944 and 1945, Texas newspapermen stewed and fumed. A Japan at war was sending many explosives-laden balloons across the Pacific. Our own government's chief censor wouldn't let newspapers print a line about it. But luncheon club audiences heard all about them, in "public education" lectures by Army officers.

Newspapermen got their news about the balloons from censors' directives telling them what they shouldn't publish. The fact is, newspapermen were told less about the Japanese explosive balloons than were the luncheon club members.

The luncheon club members no doubt told their wives. What better way to confirm one's importance than to let slip a few words of real "hush hush" stuff? Newspapermen probably told their wives, too, for the same reason.

At any rate, not long after the "public education" luncheon talks, newspapermen began getting phone calls from people who "saw" balloons that probably weren't there at all.

One of the balloons landed in Erath County in the spring of 1945. It did not explode and was one of few complete balloons recovered. It was taken to Dallas with many a "hush, hush" but Army Intelligence quickly claimed it and it was spirited off to Washington.

So many people were in on the secret of the Japanese balloons that several Texas newspaper editors wrote the chief censor, Byron Price, protesting. But Price wouldn't let them publish a line. He wanted: 1. To avoid public hysteria, and 2. To avoid letting the Japanese know how many balloons had reached the U.S. and what damage they caused.

The balloons consisted of a bag of five layers of silk paper, about 35 feet in diameter. They were inflated with inflammable hydrogen gas. The "jet stream"—a 100 miles an hour and faster current of air at 25,000 to 35,000 feet—carried them across the Pacific and over the U.S.

They had a control device. When gas leakage dropped a balloon to 25,000 feet, a bag of ballast was dropped and the balloon rose again. When it slipped down again, another bag of ballast dropped and the balloon rose again. When all the ballast was gone, the Japanese scientists figured, the balloon would be over the U.S. Many times they were right.

Then the balloon began dropping incendiary bombs. When the balloon itself fell, an explosive contained in it was supposed to blow up the whole gadget so the U.S. couldn't figure them out.

Straight From Italy Comes Classic Dish

Want to try a classic dish from the Italian cuisine? Then fill small squares of homemade pasta with a divine three-cheese filling. A filling so tempting that you want to eat it by the spoonful as soon as you mix it!

If your kitchen equipment boasts two rolling pins, the short thick kind and the long thin variety, choose the latter for rolling out the dough. The narrow old-fashioned roller—the sort our mothers always used for noodle dough—will help you make your pasta thin. And the thinner the dough, the more tender those outer double edges of the ravioli.

Nowadays Romano and Parmesan cheese are widely available, and so it is easy to join them with cream-style cottage cheese for the delectable filling. Get acquainted with the two Italian cheeses, if you don't already know them: they give marvelous flavor to so many dishes.

Also on this rectangle, starting 1/4-inch in and 1/4-inch down from upper left-hand corner, drop slightly rounded teaspoonfuls of Three-Cheese Filling 1 1/2 inches apart over the pasta. Cover with second rectangle. Gently press dough together, around each mound, with finger-tips. Cut into 1 1/2-inch squares with pastry wheel. Place ravioli on rack and allow to stand (uncovered) 1 hour to dry. Drop ravioli one by one into 8 quarts of rapidly boiling salted water; cook until tender—10 to 15 minutes. Remove with slotted spoon and place in colander to finish draining. Serve at once with hot tomato sauce and sprinkle with 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese remaining from Three-Cheese Filling. Makes about 48 ravioli.

THREE-CHEESE FILLING (FOR RAVIOLI)

Ingredients: Two cups cream-style cottage cheese, 1/4 cup grated Romano cheese, 3 packages (1 1/2 ounces each) grated Parmesan cheese, 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 eggs, salt, pepper.

Method: Put 1 egg and 1 egg yolk in a large mixing bowl; reserve remaining egg white. Beat whole egg and egg yolk enough to combine yolks and white; stir in water, melted butter and salt. Beat in flour a little at a time. On a well-floured board or pastry cloth, with well-floured hands, knead dough gently until smooth. Let stand covered with a warm bowl about 10 minutes at room temperature. Cut dough in half. On well-floured board or pastry cloth, roll each half very thin into large matching rectangles. Beat reserved egg white until stiff; brush one rectangle with beaten egg white.

Skewer Cookery Originated With Armenian Shepherd

The "little stick" policy is now a diplomatic way to a delicious meal.

Cooking on skewers never fails to intrigue guests, particularly when they can construct and grill their own "kebab."

Although skewer cooking has gained its popularity just lately with the general movement "out of doors and informal living," it is much older than any barbecue pit. The idea originated centuries ago in the Near East when Armenian shepherds impaled their food on sticks and cooked it over open fires.

The dish Armenians made famous, shish kebab, consists of chunks of marinated lamb alternated on a skewer with pieces of green pepper and onion and broiled until well done and crisp brown. For flaming versions, it is served on long swords, tipped with cotton which can be ignited for an impressive parade to the dinner table.

Skewer cooking is not just for company, however. Fruit on skewers in the morning is an excellent way to stir children's interest in downing a really big breakfast. Even an ice cream sundae gains appetizing appeal when a skewer of fruits, and nuts, too is stuck on top.

SHISH KEBAB FOR A CROWD

1 leg of lamb (5 to 7 pounds) boned
1 peeled, minced clove garlic
One-third cup salad or olive oil
One-third cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon crushed oregano
1/2 teaspoon crushed thyme
1 teaspoon salt
8 to 10 green peppers
16 to 20 small white onions

Have your meat man remove bone from leg of lamb. Cut boned lamb into 1 1/2-inch cubes. Remove gristle and most of fat. Place in a large bowl. Cover with garlic, olive oil, vinegar, black pepper, oregano, thyme and salt. Mix well. Cover and let stand in the refrigerator at least 1 hour or overnight. Cut washed green peppers into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Peel onions and cut into halves. When ready to cook, alternate marinated lamb, chunks, green peppers and halved onions on 8 to 10 metal skewers. Brush vegetables with butter or olive oil. Broil 3 inches from heat source or over coals until tender, about 20 minutes, turning skewers to brown food evenly. To serve, push off onto individual plates. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

If you like tomatoes with shish kebab, be sure to broil them separately since they cook more quickly than the lamb, green pepper and onion. Allow at least one tomato for each serving and select ripe but firm tomatoes. Cut each into 4 to 6 wedges, depending upon their size, then thread the tomato pieces on a skewer and broil only until heated and lightly browned.

Fruit Compote

Sliced fresh pears are delightful added to a compote of pineapple, oranges, grapefruit and fresh dates. Put the fruit combination in your best glass bowl and serve for a company dessert. Use small pieces of canned pineapple rather than the crushed fruit for appearance sake. Have the oranges and grapefruit cut into membrane-free sections. Add some maraschino cherries, if you like, for extra-pretty color.

Mexican Dishes Spark Appetite During Winter

What could taste better on a crisp, wintry evening than a heaping plate of Mexican food accompanied by corn chips?

A hearty helping of food from South of the Border, served with crunchy, golden corn chips, is sure to score a hit with the family which enjoys spicy cookery. These new recipes are the answer to meal-planning problems of the busy housewife, for they require little time and yet furnish all the essentials of a sumptuous dinner.

CHILI PIE

2 cups corn chips (lightly crushed) (measured after crushing)
1 large can chili (without beans)
1 large onion (chopped)
1 cup grated American cheese

Directions: Place half of the crushed corn chips in a casserole. Pour half of the chili over the corn chips. Top with half of the chopped onion and cheese. Repeat these layers. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until well-heated, not cooking the onions thoroughly.

TAMALE LOAF

2 bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 cup finely crushed corn chips (measured after crushing)

1/2 cup onion (chopped)
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs

FILLING

1 pound ground beef
1 pound salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chili powder

1/2 cup tomato sauce
1 egg
Directions: Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. To the bouillon add corn chips, onion, seasonings and two beaten eggs. Pour half of this mixture into a greased square baking dish. Filling: Mix ground beef with seasonings, tomato sauce and egg to form the second layer in the baking dish. Top with remainder of the first mixture and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

MEXICAN HONINY

1 can (or 2 cups) hominy
1 can (or 2 cups) chili
1 medium onion (chopped)
1 cup lightly crushed corn chips (measured after crushing)

Famous Italian Dish Is Prepared At Home

If you feel lasagne — famous Italian dish — is worth working for, you can prepare it at home. There's not a trick to it, but this combination of pasta, meat, cheese and tomato sauce needs time and attention.

If you can get the Italian ingredients called for in our Lasagne recipe, use them. If not, make the following substitutions: For the broad flat lasagne noodles use regular wide egg noodles. For Italian-style peeled tomatoes, use canned whole tomatoes and simmer long enough to bring the sauce to good consistency. For ricotta, use cream-style (small curd) cottage cheese. For Italian sweet sausage, use regular pork sausage. The tomato paste and sauce are, of course, available everywhere. Mozzarella cheese, once hard to come by, can now usually be found in grocery stores in vacuum-sealed plastic bags.

LASAGNE

Ingredients: One egg, 2 slices white bread, ¼ cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, ¼ pound ground chuck beef, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ½ pound Italian sweet sausage, ¼ cup finely diced onion, 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 can (about 2 pounds) Italian-style peeled tomatoes, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, basil, oregano, 8 ounces lasagne noodles, 3 quarts water, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ pound Mozzarella cheese (diced), 1 pound ricotta cheese.

Method: To shape meatballs, beat one egg in a medium-sized mixing bowl; crumble 2 slices bread and mix with egg. Add ¼ cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, ¼ pound ground chuck beef, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ½ pound Italian sweet sausage, ¼ cup finely diced onion, 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 can (about 2 pounds) Italian-style peeled tomatoes, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, basil, oregano, 8 ounces lasagne noodles, 3 quarts water, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ pound Mozzarella cheese (diced), 1 pound ricotta cheese.

To make tomato-meat sauce, heat 2 tablespoons olive oil in deep 12-inch skillet or in a Dutch oven. Add ¼ pound uncut Italian sweet sausage, ¼ cup chopped onion and the meatballs. Lightly brown the sausage, onion and meatballs. Add 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 can (about 2 pounds) Italian-style peeled tomatoes, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, basil, oregano, 8 ounces lasagne noodles, 3 quarts water, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ pound Mozzarella cheese (diced), 1 pound ricotta cheese.

To cook lasagne noodles, bring 3 quarts water and 1 tablespoon salt to a rapid boil in large kettle. Add 8 ounces lasagne noodles one

Bread Treat

Slice a loaf of rye bread but do not cut all the way through to the bottom. Cream a quarter cup of butter or margarine and a quarter cup of firmly-packed soft cheddar cheese together. Spread the cut surfaces of the bread with the cheese mixture. Just before serving heat the bread in a moderate or hot oven. Worcestershire sauce, celery salt or other seasonings may be added to the cheese mixture.

Cake, Icing Recipes Given By Mrs. Smith

The last five months have been busy ones for Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith. On the day her daughter, Nancy Carolyn, was born, the contractors started to work on the Smith's new home.

"I had quite a time trying to build a house from a hospital bed," said Mrs. Smith.

Last week they moved into the new brick home at 400 Birdwell. A graduate of Texas University with a degree in interior decorating, Mrs. Smith selected all the colors and designs for the new home.

The three bedroom home features a large living and dining room combination with a picture window ten feet wide and a spacious kitchen that looks off through a bar window into the den. Outside in the back yard is a large patio and plans have been made for a barbecue pit.

The Smiths have another child, Stephen Ray, who is three. Mrs. Smith explained that she liked to make desserts and gives a recipe for Banana Nut Cake. "My homemaker teacher in college gave me this recipe," she said, "and I got the Pinnocchio Icing recipe from my mother."

BANANA NUT CAKE

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
6 bananas
1 cup chopped nuts
4 eggs
2 teaspoons soda
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons vanilla
Cream sugar and shortening. Add well beaten egg yolks. Mix flour with soda and sift three times. Add flour and soda to sugar, shortening and egg mixture. Then add mashed bananas, nuts, beaten egg whites and vanilla. Bake at 300 degrees until cake springs back to touch.

CARAMEL ICING

½ pound butter
2 cups sugar
¼ cup condensed milk
Mix together and cook until it forms a hard ball in cool water.

Remove from heat and beat until smooth and creamy.

Mrs. Smith gave a recipe for two icings, both of which are good on the banana nut cake.

PINNOCHIO ICING

1 stick butter
1 cup sugar
¼ cup condensed milk
Boil two or three minutes. Sift in 1½ cups powdered sugar and add ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth and creamy.

Nice For Snack

Start by washing and coring a red-skinned apple. Cut the apple in ¼-inch rounds and dip in pineapple or orange juice. Make sandwiches of apple rounds and one round of cheddar cheese. Serve with salted nuts and good hot coffee.

Edible Centerpiece

Try a decorative edible centerpiece made of frosted grapes. Separate the grapes into comfortable clusters, wash them and drain thoroughly. Dip the clusters quickly in heavy cream and shake them gently. Then dip them in granulated or powdered sugar, and let them rest on wire racks until they're dry.

Shortening Measure

Ever try the water-displacement method of measuring shortening if you haven't the fraction you need among your cup sizes? You fill with water a regular marked measuring cup to the 1-cup level, then pour off an amount of water equal to the amount of shortening you'll need. Put pieces of shortening (pushing them below the liquid level) into the cup until the water reaches the 1-cup line again, and you'll have the required amount of shortening when you pour off the water.

Breakfast Dish

Cook sausage cakes, browning both sides, then place in separate baking dishes or ramekins. Break an egg on each sausage cake and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until the egg is set.

Long Conflict Ahead For U. S., Russia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Foreign News Analyst

There is a long political-economic war ahead for the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the years go by, developments in superweapons may minimize the question of superiority of one side or the other in the military field.

Already, a standoff in nuclear weapons is forcing the East-West quarrel into the field of economic and political competition. And with each year of such competition, the military picture will be changing.

The free world still has the ability and the power to retaliate massively to aggression, and even political aggression such as that which seized Czechoslovakia would carry with it today the threat of atomic world war. Thus, in the opinion of some highly placed observers, the Russians are prevented from seizing many an otherwise alluring opportunity.

The Soviet Communist party's 20th congress, opening two weeks hence, undoubtedly will set off a flood of propaganda for unconditional prohibition of nuclear weapons by international agreement. Even today, Western leaders are asking: Aside from the obvious question of foolproof safeguards in such an agreement, is it going to be possible in the future to distinguish between atomic and non-atomic war?

Perhaps the question of nuclear warfare already has become one of degree. Within a few years the use of weapons capable of erasing vast areas might be automatically excluded, for fear of retaliation on both sides. The standoff in that field would seem complete.

At the moment, American military thinking relies heavily on its Strategic Air Command and SAC's ability to deliver the hydrogen bomb anywhere. In three or four years, Communist orbit developments could pare down the advantage.

But in the electronic age, tactical atomic weapons seem to have arrived virtually at the point of becoming conventional weapons. The United States probably has a long lead in this field.

If tactical atomic weapons were used to counter a Red aggression, would that lead eventually to use of the big bombs? If fear of that existed, the advantage would swing back to conventional forces.

On the continent of Europe, the U.S.S.R. has and will have for a long time to come a great superiority in ground forces. There are only about 15 active divisions available to the NATO command to protect a European front of hundreds of miles. German rearmament progresses slowly. NATO's members are reluctant to build up their effective forces. Without the threat of what Secretary of State Dulles calls "massive retaliation," little would stand in the way of Red military aggression.

Some American leaders feel a complete ban on nuclear weapons therefore would be handing the Soviet Union a long-range political advantage generated by the mass of Soviet land power. Thus, the current discussion of a "new look" in atomic weapons becomes a matter of grave importance.

A highly placed informant in Washington indicates this was the line of thinking behind the recent "brink of war" statement attributed to Secretary Dulles. It points out the dangers of miscalculating American intentions.

The propaganda disadvantages of announcing such an American policy of strong deterrents are obvious, and Soviet propagandists can be expected to make the most of them.

But the deterrent still leaves the free world with time to build its counteroffensive. While the Soviet Union is short of its economic goals at home, while it is struggling with its own long-range strategic planning to protect the U.S.S.R. against the possibility of global war, the Kremlin is unlikely to move aggressively beyond its noisy but still ineffective economic grandstand plays.

War on that field — economic competition — is bringing the game to American home grounds. It offers the free world the opportunity to seize the initiative. It offers an anxious world hope of safety from a major shooting war for years to come, years in which to wage the economic and political war for peace.

Molotov Lends Support To World Tongue

LONDON (AP)—Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who made "nyet" a household word, soon may be proclaiming "ne" — or even possibly "yes" — in world conferences.

Molotov has turned up as the latest bigwig supporter of Esperanto, the international language which boomed with the prewar League of Nations and declined with World War II.

Molotov recently cabled greetings in Esperanto — and English — to the Japanese "People's Council for Restoration of Peace with Soviet Russia and Communist China," and thus lent Russia's unofficial support to its use.

John Leslie, secretary of the British Esperanto Society, finds the language is catching on fast again, with a lot of its support coming from behind the Iron Curtain.

He said in an interview that in Hungary, Esperanto is taught in a number of schools.

The Council of Europe also is considering a pilot scheme to teach Esperanto in five different countries.

Leslie said the British movement has noted a steady increase in world interest over the last several years. Requests for Esperanto "pen pals" have come in from places as far apart as Peking and Poland and British classes correspond regularly with groups in Siberia and Japan.

But Molotov's use of the language has given Esperanto its biggest boost in years.

"We had no idea Mr. Molotov was an Esperanto advocate," said Leslie. "The Russians, of course, have produced some fine Esperanto magazines and it is taught in a number of classes throughout the Soviet Union."

"But this is the first time Esperanto has been used in any important international communication," Leslie said. There is an international council with 14 Esperanto circles in Hungary, and another big group in Poland. The Communist World Federation of Youth in Budapest has approved Esperanto as one of the official languages for next year's Moscow Festival.

Soviet enthusiasm for Esperanto may be explained by the fact that it was invented by a Russian, Dr. L. L. Zamenhof, who adopted the name "Dr. Esperanto" in 1887. The language he contrived is based as far as possible on words common to European languages, but sounds peculiar to any one language are eliminated.

Its grammar is so simple that its proponents say it can be grasped in half an hour.

House Of Lords Comes To Grips With Burning Issue

LONDON (AP)—The House of Lords has come to grips with one of the burning questions of our time — is a cow elephant wholly happy riding in a jalopy in a feathered headdress?

For what it's worth, the Bishop of Norwich once patted a full grown lion on the head and got his arm back, complete with a hand and five fingers.

For a day in the Lords, man, it was real crazy.

Instigator of all the roaring and gnashing of teeth was 41-year-old Lord Strabolgi, a peer with few peers in his compassion for dumb beasts. Strabolgi strongly suspects that most performing animals are trained by cruel methods, and he wanted a government investigation.

He particularly objected to making bears ride around on 10-foot bicycles or dressing an elephant up in ostrich plumes and cramming her into the driver's seat of a small car. Said Strabolgi:

"These acts are degrading — not only degrading, but cruel as well, particularly the act where a lion or tiger is made to jump through a flaming hoop. It seems a most repugnant way to treat a noble animal, particularly one such as a lion which is the symbol of our great country."

Strabolgi said one French trainer was so mean to his lions and tigers he shocked Joseph Goebbels, who told the manager of the Berlin Wintergarten, "He's too brutal with his animals."

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Too Possessive?

Here come a few tips to those of you who long to go steady and are tired of having those promising first dates never develop into anything.

Many teens face the riddle of having a wonderful time on a date, getting along beautifully, and being ecstatically happy, only to be caught up short. Just as they are getting excited and really making plans, they are never asked out again — or in the case of the boy, he finds she is ever-after always "busy."

Why? All too often the trouble is that somebody gets possessive and the "somebody else" just doesn't go for it. Boys don't like to be maneuvered into going steady or being "special" even though they may want to arrange it themselves.

Girls like to be liked a lot by boys but they don't like to feel that they are not free to date or talk to whoever they wish, as long as the boy has not actually suggested going steady.

"If a boy isn't willing to be my steady," I don't owe him any special loyalty, and I intend to play the field," one girl said, expressing the views of most.

Boys hate to see that "pride of ownership" gleam come into a girl's eye. They want to feel they are free to come and go, date or not date, and it's strictly a "don't fence me in" proposition until he announces he's ready and wants to be a steady.

Enjoy your dates, but even though you're thrilled to pieces with him, don't make a lot of future date plans. That's his department. Never take him for granted. Be glad when he calls and Never tell him "you've been waiting for him to call" unless he did promise to phone at a certain time.

Boys, don't expect a girl to be an eager beaver thinking only of you because you've had a couple of grand dates. Better call early or she may have a date with someone else. Girls, too, dislike having a boy assume they are obligated to wait for his call or his date bid, unless he has laid things on the line and said he wants them to go steady.

Otherwise, to possess is to lose. (You may write Miss Brandow in care of The Herald. Enclosing a 3 cent stamp will bring a personal answer.)
