Crash Kills Five Near Big Spring

T. L. Griffin Dies Saturday; Rites Set Today

Thomas L. Griffin, 85, well-known Howard and Borden County rancher, died in a hospital here Saturday evening.

Funeral services have been scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today at the River Funeral Chapel. Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist pastor, will officiate. Following the services, the body will be taken to Olney for interment.

Funeral in Olney will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the Baptist Church and burial will be in the family plot at Olney.

Mr. Griffin, who resided at 502 Washington Boulevard in Big Spring since 1945, had been in failing health since last November when he underwent surgery for an eye ailment.

He was owner of a ranch in southeast Borden County on which the Hobo oil field was discovered a few years ago. He and his family came to this area about 25 years ago from Fort Worth. Previously, they had lived near Olney and in Oklahoma.

Mr. Griffin's son, Carl Thomas Griffin, who was associated with his father in operation of the Borden ranch, died here only about two weeks ago. He suffered a heart attack on Jan. 25 and died enroute to the hospital.

Another son, Hardy Buck Griffin, died Aug. 26, 1953.

Mr. Griffin is survived by his wife, Mrs. T. L. Griffin of Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. Wagnette Collins of Elberta; two sisters, Mrs. Mary L. Christian of Olney and Mrs. Mattie Blewett of Littlefield; one grandson, T. L. Griffin II of Ira; and one great-grandson, Thomas Lane Griffin of Ira.

Palbearers will be A. L. Cooper, Bob Currie, Temp Currie, Guy Guffey, Jim Hodnett, Willis Winters, Jess Wilbanks and J. L. Wood.

Girl Critically Hurt In County's Worst Accident

One of the worst traffic accidents in Howard County history left five dead and one in critical condition Saturday night.

All of the victims were from Odessa.

Orvin Severt Wollum, 28, alone in one car, was killed instantly, as were Mrs. Cleo Sweeney, 45, driver of the other car; Mrs. Charles E. Arnold, 44; her daughter, Mrs. Ruby Arnold McCann; and the infant son of Mrs. McCann.

Critically injured was Evelyn Janel Arnold, 15, also Mrs. Charles Arnold's daughter.

Mrs. Arnold, her daughters and grandson and Mrs. Sweeney had been visiting her sister, a Mrs. Carr, in San Angelo. They left there about 6 p.m. to return to Odessa.

Their late-model Buick collided head-on with Wollum's Ford 9.6 miles south of Big Spring on U.S. 87 about 8:45 p.m. Wollum was traveling south.

Skid marks indicated that Wollum apparently had swerved on to the right shoulder of the highway and then back across the pavement into the path of Mrs. Sweeney, officers said.

"They were mowed up so bad, it's hard to tell what happened," said Deputy Sheriff Fred Taylor.

An unidentified truck driver told Sheriff Buster Cox of Glascock County that the Ford was weaving badly, a mile or two before the crash occurred.

Evelyn Arnold was fighting for her life in an iron lung at the Cooper Hospital late Saturday night. Attendants applied artificial respiration for about 30 minutes before the lung could be brought in.

Mrs. Arnold was identified as the wife of the owner of Arnold Auto Supply in Odessa. Mrs. Sweeney was the wife of Paul Thomas Sweeney, whose late supervisor for Phillips Petroleum Company.

Mrs. McCann's husband, J. C. McCann, is serving with the Armed Forces in Europe.

Wollum was a truck pusher for Rumbaugh Rig Company of Odessa.

Not since May 18, 1952, had as many as five persons been killed in one wreck in Howard County. Mr. and Mrs. Fidel Ceballos and their three children were killed in a car-truck collision 10 miles west of Big Spring. Four were killed July 18, 1952, in bus-truck wreck east of Coahoma.

The Saturday night toll brought Howard County traffic fatalities for this year to eight. A ninth person, Johnny B. Baker of Garden City, was killed Jan. 7 almost on the Howard-Glascock line near Fort San.

Bodies of last night's wreck victims were brought to both Nalley-Pickle and River Funeral Homes. Sheriff's officers joined Highway Patrolmen Jimmy Parks and Ben Wagner of Big Spring in the investigation. Other area Highway Patrol officers, the Glascock sheriff and Justice of the Peace Walter Grice also were summoned to assist with traffic and the initial attempts to identify the bodies.

Abbott Convicted In Map Theft Case

DALLAS, Feb. 11 (AP)—Wayne Rosser Abbott, 43, was convicted by a federal court jury today on two counts of an indictment involving theft of geophysical maps.

The verdict was returned to U.S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

Deliberations started Friday afternoon.

Judge Davidson said Abbott will be sentenced at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The defendant was charged with causing a geophysical map stolen from Magnolia Petroleum Company to be taken across state lines, and also with mailing a letter in behalf of a plan to keep him supplied with other such maps.

Fastest Prop Craft Arrives At Kelley

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 11 (AP)—The world's fastest propeller-driven transport aircraft was delivered to the Military Air Transport Service's test squadron at Kelly Air Force Base Saturday.

Maj. Robert A. Schneider of Chicago was at the controls of the four-engine, turbo-prop Lockheed Constellation which covered the 1,200 miles from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to Kelly in two hours and 5 minutes, averaging 450 miles an hour.

ELECTION FACTOR?

Doctors Complete Test Series On Ike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower spent 70 minutes today at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital where physicians completed a new series of medical tests on him.

The results, to be announced in three or four days, could be a big factor in whether he seeks reelection.

A smile on the President's face as he left the hospital broke into a broad grin when he recognized the wife of an old Army friend and planted a kiss on her cheek.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced after the hospital visit that a team of top-flight doctors had completed medical tests which included X-rays, fluoroscopic studies, a blood chemistry analysis, and a cardiogram tracing heart performance and repair of heart damage since Eisenhower's attack last Sept. 24.

On Tuesday the doctors will get together for consultations based on results of the medical tests. They will make public their findings either that same day or Wednesday morning.

This was the first full-scale physical examination the President had undergone since mid-December.

When he arrived at the hospital with Mrs. Eisenhower in mid-afternoon the President looked a bit grim. On leaving one hour and ten minutes later, however, his face lighted in a smile. There was no immediate word on what the physicians may have told the Chief Executive and Hagerty said there would be no announcement before Tuesday.

The Eisenhower smile broadened into a grin as he left the hospital. He recognized Mrs. Virgil L. Peterson, wife of a retired major general and an old friend of the President. Peterson is at Walter Reed recovering from a heart attack.

A drizzling rain slowed traffic during the five-mile drive by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower from the White House to the hospital.

The tests, as analyzed by a team of top-flight heart specialists, are designed to show how well the President has recovered from the heart attack he suffered in Denver last Sept. 24, and how well he has stood the strain since his return Jan. 9 to what he called "the full duties of the presidency."

The tests and the study of them are to be completed sometime Tuesday, and the physicians' findings will be made public either that same day or Wednesday morning.

Gasoline Prices Up A Half Penny

Retail gasoline prices are expected to jump here within the next few days—if they have not already—following an increase of wholesale prices this past week.

All major gasoline distributors reported Saturday they had raised their wholesale prices a half cent per gallon on both regular and ethyl gasolines. They also indicated the retail merchants would have the option of raising prices as much or as little as they wished.

Only Humble Oil Co. reported setting the price of retail gas levels and then only at commission stations.

These commission stations will be raising their regular gasoline price to 27.8 cents per gallon and ethyl to 30.3. Humble's dealer stations, however, can regulate their prices as they wish.

Distributors reporting they were increasing their products a half cent per gallon were the Texas, Standard, Shell, Phillips, Magnolia, Cities Service, Sinclair, Continental, Gulf and Cosden companies.

Sen. Bridges Seeks Seat At Convention

CONCORD, N.H., Feb. 11 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) jumped into New Hampshire's presidential primary as a delegate candidate at the 11th hour tonight amid reports of an impending all-out struggle for control of the state's delegation to the Republican National Convention.

Bridges, who was in Washington, entered the March 13 primary picture by remote control. A messenger acting for the state's senior senator appeared at the secretary of state's office here just 25 minutes before the 8 p.m. deadline.

"If they do accept this challenge," he declared, "America will be better for it, because we will score a landslide victory that will even overshadow the sweeping success of 1952."

"In fact," he added, "we'll do that whether they do or don't accept the challenge."

Hill's speech, prepared for a Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by the Illinois Republican State Central Committee, drew what he called "remarkable parallels" between Eisenhower and Abraham Lincoln.

Adlai Claims GOP Playing 'Shell Game'

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 11 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, speaking out against shell-game politics, tonight accused the Republicans of ducking the issues of the 1956 elections.

Until President Eisenhower announces whether he'll seek a second term, the Democratic presidential contender said:

"Nobody actually knows where the Republican party stands, much less where it is going to stand, in most of the vital questions that face the nation."

He said it is already plain the principal Republican tactic this year "is going to be not to debate the issues but to get the voters to sign a blank check."

On specific points, the former Illinois governor poured especially heavy criticism on the Eisenhower handling of farm problems and natural resources—both sensitive issues in the Pacific Northwest.

He held a $25-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinner, in a prepared speech:

"On no issue is the traditional Republican concept of special interest more apparent than in the management of our natural resources."

Stevenson, who has not agreed to enter the Oregon presidential primary, declared he came here to stand beside Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse for re-election.

As for the May 13 presidential primary, the state Democratic chairman, Howard Morgan, predicted neither Stevenson or Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee would campaign for Oregon's 16 delegates. He said it's likely the delegation would be unopposed.

Stevenson told the Democratic dinner that Eisenhower had just sent Congress a series of messages which accept, "although grudgingly," some principles and programs long espoused by Democrats.

"We don't like this kind of shell-game politics. We're tired of being asked to guess whether administration policy lies under this Cabinet member's statements and actions or that one's."

Stevenson said the Democratic party position on the development and conservation of natural resources "places people's needs above corporate earnings, values above profits, tomorrow above today."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said it really settles nothing to say the waters of the rivers belong to no man, and to no corporation, but to all the people.

"But it settles a great deal to say that the magic power of those rivers must, as a matter of right, be developed in whatever way will bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

"I don't argue, nor does any responsible person I know, for public power for public power's sake."

"But I do argue for cheap power... and I argue for flood control and an irrigation potential."

Bergstrom Flier Killed In Crash

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—Bergstrom Air Force Base officials today confirmed that Maj. Edward McMillan of Austin and Chicago was killed in the crash of a jet plane in Denmark yesterday.

He is survived by his wife and two children here.

McMillan, 35, was assigned to the 12th Strategic Fighter Wing at Bergstrom Air Force Base here and was attached to the Military Advisory group at Copenhagen.

He died when his F84 jet crashed on a routine training flight with the Danish Air Force.

Oilman Denies He Knew Of Case Gift

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—The $2,500 cash "campaign donation" rejected by Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) at the height of the hot fight over the natural gas bill came from the president of an oil and gas company, Senate investigators learned today.

But Howard B. Keck, president of Superior Oil Co. of California, swore he never knew the money was offered to Case until the senator arose in the Senate Feb. 9 and announced he was turning it down.

Elmer Patman, an Austin, Tex., lawyer for Superior Oil, testified he happened to have some "personal funds" belonging to Keck, and used them to make the $2,500 contribution. He turned the money over to John M. Neff, lawyer-lobbyist, who gave it in the form of 25 $100 bills to a friend of Case's in Sioux Falls, S. D.

Neff declared Patman produced the money after Neff expressed belief Case would support the gas bill. Both Neff and Patman denied the gift had anything to do with the bill.

"There were no strings attached," they said.

Case told the Senate the contribution made him suspect there must be "extraordinary profits" for somebody in the bill, which would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation. He voted against the bill Monday, but it passed the Senate and is now on President Eisenhower's desk.

The principal business of Superior Oil Co. is crude oil and natural gas. Foes of the gas legislation charged it would cost consumers millions in higher gas bills; backers of the legislation denied this, and said the measure was necessary to encourage exploration for gas.

MARY TODD'S INFLUENCE

Lincoln's Poison Pen Notes Nearly Involved Him In Duel

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 (AP)—In the most embarrassing incident of his life, Abraham Lincoln once was carried to the verge of a duel with a rival politician. This time, the sword was almost mightier than the pen, but persuasive lawyer friends finally proved stronger than either.

The dueling incident was the result of anonymous poison pen letters Lincoln sent to Simeon Francis, his friend and editor of the Sangamo Journal of Springfield, Ill., in 1842. It sobored him to the point where he never denied it but, at the same time, he never desired to discuss it.

The dueling incident was the result of anonymous poison pen letters Lincoln sent to Simeon Francis, his friend and editor of the Sangamo Journal of Springfield, Ill., in 1842. It sobored him to the point where he never denied it but, at the same time, he never desired to discuss it.

Involved James Shields, a bachelor of 32, who had been a lawyer for 10 years and a member of the Legislature, and Lincoln, then a struggling lawyer of 33.

Lincoln's skill with a pen made Shields the prime target in a series of letters to the editor signed "Rebecca." His was the second of four "Rebecca" letters published. The fourth, and fatal one, he admitted writing but actually it was concocted by his fiancée Mary Todd and her friend Julie Jane.

Lincoln thought no more of it until about two weeks later when Shields demanded satisfaction.

As the challenged party, Lincoln had the choice of weapons and he shrewdly selected long, cavalry broadswords. Since Shields was the shorter man, it was obvious who had the advantage.

Lincoln methodically set down the conditions of the duel: weapons ("Cavalry broadswords of the largest size"); time (Thursday evening at 5); place ("within three miles of Alton, Ill."). But the most detail was reserved for what Lincoln called position.

"To be on each side of a plank ten feet long and nine to twelve inches wide firmly fixed on edge on the ground, as the line between us which neither is to pass his foot over upon forfeit of his life," the future President wrote.

On Sept. 22 the two parties traveled by horse and buggy and by an old horse ferry and met on a sand bar called "Bloody Island" in the middle of the river, beyond the Illinois laws against dueling.

Lincoln sat on a log and practiced swings and swishes in the air with his cavalry broadsword, recalls Carl Sandburg in his book "Abraham Lincoln," while friends, lawyers, seconds on both sides held long conferences.

Then a statement was drawn up declaring that "although Mr. Lincoln was the writer of the article signed 'Rebecca' in the Sangamo Journal of Sept. 2 he had no intention of injuring the personal or private character or standing of Mr. Shields as a gentleman or a man, that he did not think that said article could produce such an effect; and had he anticipated such an effect he would have foreborne to write it; said article was written solely for political effect, and not to gratify any personal pique against Mr. Shields for he had none and knew of no cause for any."

Thus ended the famous Lincoln-Shields duel as the opponents shook hands and departed. But Lincoln always considered the affair his most embarrassing moment.

City Fire Marshal Joe Pena said it appeared the fire started around 7:30 a.m. from a fire in a wood stove. He said there were indications Jones, a salvage dealer, started the fire. Firemen were unable to get inside the house because of the flames.

Neighbors said Mr. and Mrs. Jones left about 6 a.m. for Houston in their 1949 model car pulling a trailer loaded with junk metal.

The Jones house, on the edge of this Gulf Coast town, burned to the ground, leaving only the blackened foundation, the wood stove and metal bedsteads.

The stove was in one room between two beds. All of the bodies were around the stove and beds.

Sadie Portez, 18, a neighbor, turned in the alarm. She said the house was a mass of flames when she first saw it. Firemen were unable to get inside the house because of the flames.

Neighbors said Mr. and Mrs. Jones left about 6 a.m. for Houston in their 1949 model car pulling a trailer loaded with junk metal.

Ridgway Talks With Chairman

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, left, talks with Chairman George Mahon (D-Tex) of the House Appropriations subcommittee in Washington. Ridgway was called for closed door testimony before the subcommittee. He reportedly told the Congressmen he thinks "pre-set manpower and financial limits" still are hampering U.S. defenses.

BUT CAUSE FINES

Chemicals Aid In Preserving Meats

During December, state health officials working with local city-county health units employees made a spot check of 12 meat counters here looking for possible pure food and drug law violations.

Out of the 12 checked, two have since been found guilty in Justice Court of adding preservatives to meat.

One of the samples found contaminated was ground beef and the other was sausage. Both products are highly perishable and cannot be kept more than a short time—without freezing.

In the average fresh meat counter, ground meat will not keep more than 24 hours. But by adding a minute portion of preservative, the product will keep two to three times as long.

Lawfully, preservative can be added to meats up to a tenth of one per cent, but if any is added, the meat must be labeled as such. This, according to Lige Fox, city sanitarian, would naturally keep people from buying the meat.

One of the two found guilty of the preservative-added meat testified he had gotten the meat from a wholesaler and that the additive must have been there when he received the shipment. He denied having added anything to the sausage.

The merchant had to pay the fine, nevertheless, because the product was picked up from his store. His fine was $25 or the minimum for the violation; the maximum is $200.

Benzolate was the preservative placed in the sausage. The city sanitarian, Fox, said that many merchants are not aware they are liable for meat that might contain preservative before they receive it.

State pure food and drug laws stipulate that "no dealer shall be prosecuted . . . when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, manufacturer, or other party . . . from whom he purchased such article, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded."

"Said guaranty . . . shall contain the name and address of the party making the sale of such article . . . and in such case said party shall be amenable to the fines and other penalties which would attach in due course to the dealer."

This, then, would free the retailer of responsibility should any products be examined and found to contain unreported stabilizers. Fox said that all wholesalers are checked by state food officials, but naturally it is impractical to have these officials check every piece of meat leaving the packers.

Not only in Big Spring have merchants been guilty of stabilizing their meats. Three cases were reported in Midland recently.

The preservative there was a type of embalming fluid, which would keep ground meats fresh for weeks—even if left on a hot sidewalk, Fox said.

$46 Million Wiped From Ford Values

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Nearly 46 million dollars has been wiped from the market valuation of the new Ford Motor Co. common stock since it was first offered to the public less than a month ago.

The 10,200,000 shares were sold at $64.50 each for a total of $657,900,000. At the end of this week they were quoted in the over-the-counter market at around $50 apiece for a paper loss of $45,900,000. The shares are due to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange around March 1.

For a time immediately after the sale of the issue was cleared by the Securities and Exchange Commission Jan. 17, the shares were quoted at above $70. At that figure, investors had a paper profit of $56,100,000.

Wall Streeters were agreed that the steady decline in quotations from that high could be attributed to unfortunate timing. The shares were sold, they said, at a time when auto makers were cutting back production and when the stock market was in a decline.

The fact that traders looking for a fast profit sold the stock right after the public offering contributed to the decline, market observers said.

Brokers also reported some investors sold their shares simply because they weren't able to get as many as they wanted at the offering price. If, for instance, an investor asked for 100 shares and was allotted only 10, he may have felt it was not worth holding such a small amount.

In any event, the fact is that you can now buy at a much lower price, shares of a stock for which there was such a demand that there wasn't enough to go around.

Wall Streeters noted in this connection that Henry Ford II had cautioned prospective purchasers of Ford shares that they mustn't consider the stock as a certain road to a fast fortune. The automobile industry, he said, was as competitive as ever, and the outlook was that auto makers would not do as well in 1956 as they did in record 1955.

Where does the price of Ford stock go from here? Signs of a quickening of auto production could help send it up, and so could an improvement in the stock market as a whole. Right now, the market is nervous. It is likely to continue so until a major uncertainty is removed: Whether President Eisenhower will stand for reelection.

7 Big Springers Enlist In Navy

Seven Big Springers enlisted in the Navy during the week, according to Chief R. E. LaFon, local recruiter.

Four of the boys were sent to Great Lakes, Ill., for basic training. LaFon said, and the others were sent to San Diego, Calif.

The boys sent to Illinois were Melbie Edd Morrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrell, 1111 W. 2nd; Jerry Dean Creswell, son of A. D. Creswell, 503 Owens; Burnett Randal Mainous, son of Mrs. Mary Lee Collins, 1210 W. 6th; and Otis Leon White, son of Mrs. Mildred Sparks, 1107 Lamesa Road.

The other boys were Sam Williams Jr., son of Sam Williams, 504 NW 3rd; Cornelius Price Jr., son of Mrs. Eddie Lee Warren, 904 NW 2nd; and Clarence Willie Williams, son of Mrs. Annie Mae Anderson, 408 N. Aylford.

Trustees Change Meeting Time; Set Up Agenda

The Big Spring school board has moved its February meeting up to 5 p.m. Tuesday to avoid conflict with the Chamber of Commerce membership banquet Tuesday night. The board usually meets at 7:30 p.m.

The agenda calls for reports on school attendance and the recent scholastic census, the resignation of teachers, and the election of new teachers. Trustees also are expected to call the school board election which traditionally is held on the first Saturday in April.

Discussion of applications for the post of superintendent of Big Spring schools also may take place at the meeting in the school tax office.

Terms expire this year for three members of the present school board. Trustees whose terms end are Clyde Angel, board chairman; R. E. McKinney, secretary; and Robert Stripling, who was appointed to the board following the resignation of Dan Conley, former secretary.

HCJC Enrollment Smashes Records

All records for enrollment at Howard County Junior College have been shattered by registration for the spring semester.

The final figure Saturday was 652 individuals, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. Of this number 509 were taking one or more courses for academic credit. The remaining 143 were represented in non-credit courses for blueprint reading (a Cosden course), conversational Spanish, and a special group in typing for Webb AFB personnel.

Director Breaks Arm
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Henry Koster fell and broke his right arm in a movie studio projection room. The 20th Century-Fox director had been viewing movie rushes. Last year he fractured his left wrist in a fall.

The number of semester hours, although not tabulated in final form, will also exceed the number of semester hours for the fall term, said Dr. Hunt.

Increase in head count over the fall semester is approximately 17 per cent, according to the president.

The 652 total enrollment is not only the most ever registered at one time at HCJC, but it is more than the combined total for fall and spring semesters in the 1953-54 term, Dr. Hunt added.

Deadline for spring enrollment was passed Friday evening.

TORCHY TOUCH FOR THE MINSTREL
Patty Gregory steps out of the chorus for a solo

ANNUAL SHOW

Lions' Minstrel Has Stage Jumping

Things are living a bit down at the City Auditorium in anticipation of the ninth annual Minstrel Show put on by the Lions Club.

Curtain time is set for 8 p.m. Thursday, with a second performance Friday evening, but in the meantime there will be a lot of polishing done as Orland Johnson, director, puts the show together.

There will be rehearsals Monday and Wednesday evenings for all elements of the cast, and some may work out Tuesday while part of the group takes out for the Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Musical backbone of the minstrel will be the chorus, which happens also to be the Howard County Junior College choir. Among numbers it will sing are "When the Saints Go Marching In," "Muskrat Ramble," "In That Great Gittin' Up Mornin'," "Sewanee," and "Oklahoma." The chorus also provides the background music for Moonlight Medley, done by the Sportsmen, a trio composed of Walter Dickinson, Johnny Janak and Ronnie King with Julie Rainwater the accompanist.

Jack Hendrix will be accompanist for the chorus and will cue the remainder to the show as well as accompany most of the solo and specialty acts.

Solos will be sung by Arnold Marshall, Jim Cramsie and Patty Gregory, while Betty Farrar will give a novelty tap dance.

Doing the "Rockaway" will be

Susanne Whately, Virginia Wilson, Karen Kee, Linda McNew, Mary Wilson and Ann Puckett. The "Bop Dancers" are Suzan Zack, Gil Jones Jr., Katie Bess Morgan, Bobby Moore, Deane Mansfield, Jimmy Hinds, Linda McNew, and Jim Burk.

Straight man for the black-face endmen will be Gil Jones as Mr. Interlocutor. The end men are Joe Pickle, Dr. C. W. Deats, B. M. Keese, Vince Larsen, Elbert Boulion Jr., and Emmett Broderson.

These in the chorus are Jimmy Airhart, Dorothy Baker, Tommy Birkhead, Claudine Butler, James Day, Pat Duncan, Mary Ann Fairchild, Lela Fletcher, Mary Forehand, Patty Gregory, Willela Hanks, Arlene Martin, Kenneth Honeycutt, Marcella Hill, Doyle Jenkins, Sharon Lewis, Don Lovelace, Frankie Marstrand, Neldon Millstead, Yvonne Peterson, Dee Phillips, Dennis Phillips, Margaret Pierce, George Pike, Bob Smith, Lynn Thames, Shirley Ward, Ray Weathers, Martha Winans and Sue Neal.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd will be the "barker" for the intermission popcorn sale, as much a tradition as the minstrel itself.

All net proceeds from the minstrel go to the club's welfare and youth activities funds. One of the chief beneficiaries will be the Lions League of Texas Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

3,000 Boy Scouts Parade In Capital, Hear Shivers

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—An estimated 3,000 Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts paraded up Congress Ave. to the Capitol today to bring their 1956 report to the state and to hear Gov. Shivers open their new four-year program.

The governor commended the Boy Scout movement, praising competition in scouting as the same spirit that has made America a great nation.

He said no better goal could be set than the one symbolized by scouting's three-point program of recent years: Strengthen the arm of liberty, forward on liberty's team, and onward for God and my country.

This year marks the launching of this third phase of the program, "Onward for God and My Country."

In ceremonies broadcast over a statewide network and filmed for later television showing, Shivers was presented a scout statuette and a reproduction of the painting of George Washington in prayer above the heads of a Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer.

Bunky Jordan of Dallas made the annual report to the state. He said 47,463 adults gave leadership. Participating in scouting were 180,881 boys, including 91,853 Cub Scouts in 2,401 Cub Packs; 63,664 Boy Scouts in 3,377 scout troops; and 25,364 Explorers in 1,053 explorer posts, ships and squadrons.

Visitors State Webb May Be Site For Movie

Representatives from Columbia Pictures spent Friday inspecting Webb AFB as a potential site for making a picture.

They had inspected four other bases prior to visiting Webb. Lewis Rachmil, one of the two men, explained to Webb officials a picture was contemplated in which a jet training base fit into the story. With Rachmil was a Mr. Carson.

The two left by air from Midland Saturday morning to return to Hollywood.

Aviation Writers To Visit Webb On Tour Of Air Bases

Preparations are being made at Webb AFB to entertain a dozen or more aviation writers from Midwest newspapers and magazines here Feb. 22.

The guests, on tour of select bases of the nation, will be welcomed here by Col. Charles M. Young, base commander. They also will be entertained at a dinner while here on their one-day visit.

They are making a tour of bases assigned to carry out different types of mission, and Webb has been chosen as the one for jet pilot training.

Representatives are expected from the Wisconsin State Journal, the St. Louis Globe Democrat, the Kansas City Star, the Minneapolis Star, the Peoria Journal, the Springfield State Journal-Register, the East St. Louis Journal, the St. Paul Dispatch, the Bellevue News Democrat, the Bellevue Advocate and possibly the Omaha World Herald and the Newsweek Magazine.

Plans call for the writers to leave McConnell AFB at Wichita, Kan., and arrive here around 10 a.m. After spending the day at Webb, they will depart at 7:30 p.m.

Anti-Segregation Plans Are Outlined

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—Racial segregation in Texas' public elementary schools, parks, swimming pools and buses will be "vigorously" attacked this year by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, a state meeting of the group decided today.

The NAACP said it will indulge in "no compromises." Its Texas branch will conduct a "head-on fight," the group said.

NAACP officials from throughout Texas were called here in special session to press "desegregation strategy."

Simpson Tate, their lawyer, promised a "vigorous legal program throughout the state — the governor and attorney general not withstanding."

"We're not asking any state officials to help us. We've been getting along without their help for 50 years," Tate told the meeting.

The 1955 Supreme Court mandate is "on their desk—it's now up to them whether or not they obey the law," Tate said.

"We'll not fight the governor. We'll not fight the attorney general."

"But our minds are made up. We know where we are going."

Tate called on NAACP officials to give "number one" priority to: Racial integration in public schools, with specific emphasis on the elementary and secondary levels.

Integrated public recreation "in all municipal parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, golf courses and the like," and in "all state owned and operated public parks including hotels, restaurants, swimming pools, golf courses, lakes, reservations and other accommodations."

Abolition of color lines in public transportation, including removal of all signs that suggest racial segregation in bus and train stations; opening of all facilities in these stations to "all travelers regardless of race, including restaurants, rest rooms, baggage rooms, drinking fountains and other facilities."

Integrated public health facilities, including all municipal, county and state establishments. "We shall seek to (abolish) all traces of segregation, including removal of signs that suggest such segregation, and secure all training and assignment opportunities for all races and creeds including nurse training, assignment of nurses and staff physicians and other personnel."

Integrated public housing, to the extent that all public facilities be opened to all citizens on "basis of need," and to the "complete exclusion" of any distinctions based on race or religion.

"An end to police brutality—an evil that has persisted over the years."

Tate said that the NAACP's legal staff has "won" two test cases involving admission of Negro students at North Texas State College at Denton and Texas Western College at El Paso.

State chairman John Jones of Texarkana presided.

Dan Greenwood Candidate For Pct. 3 Place

DAN GREENWOOD

Announcement that he is a candidate for Precinct 3 was made Saturday by Dan Greenwood, life-long resident of Big Spring. He is filing his name subject to action in the Democratic primaries.

In his first bid for public office, Greenwood said "I pledge myself to work for an honest, business administration throughout our county affairs. If elected to the office of Precinct 3 commissioner, I will devote all required time and energy to the county's business. I hope to contact all the voters in my precinct between now and election time, but would like for this to be considered a request for consideration."

Greenwood said he favors organization of a unitized county road department under the direction of a competent engineer. "This is because I think it is the most efficient and economical procedure for our county."

Greenwood is 35, is married and has three children aged 14, 11 and 9. He owns his home at 1201 Douglas. Native of Big Spring, he attended the local schools.

For approximately 15 years he has been employed by Coaden Petroleum Corporation, and is rated as a No. 1 operator at the refinery. Veteran of World War II, he was in the Navy for two years, 13 months of the time in the Pacific area.

Greenwood has been an active worker with the Cub Scouts, and has worked in the Community Chest and United Fund drives. He is financial secretary of Chapter 826 of the IUOE.

Medical Examinations

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11 (AP)—All persons arrested by Mexico's secret service henceforth must undergo a medical examination before appearing in court. The idea is to offset arguments that suspected criminals were tortured into confessions.

FOR EMERGENCIES

Few Residents Know Fire, Police Department Numbers

By DON HENRY
In the movies, they dial M for murder and just holler "fire" into the phone. And either the police or the fire department leaps to immediate assistance.

But it is a different tune in Big Spring. For here, if you want to report a murder, the police are available by dialing 4-311, and the fire department's number is 4-331. However, the number of people who know these two numbers is small, if a poll proves to be in the right proportion.

Death Takes Ex-Resident Of Mitchell

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 11—Funeral services will be held at Westbrook today at 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Robert H. Brown, 74, a former resident of Mitchell County.

Mrs. Brown died at her home in Odessa after a brief illness. Conducting the service today will be the Rev. Levi Price, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Monahans. Burial will be in the Westbrook cemetery and Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City is handling arrangements.

Mrs. Brown was born Aug. 16, 1881, in Tennessee and was married to Mr. Brown in 1908 in Paris. They moved to Mitchell County in 1919 and remained here until moving to Odessa in 1949, shortly after Mr. Brown died.

While in Odessa, she was a member of the Crescent Park Baptist Church. Survivors include two sons, Ed Clifton Brown of Big Lake and Joe Brachen Brown of Andrews; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Dixon of Odessa; three brothers, John Widener of Stanton, Charley Widner of Odessa, and Robert Widner of Hollis, Okla.; eight grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Adlai Aides On Spot By Theme On Integration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson apparently has put some of his Northern and Southern supporters on a political spot by his "moderate" approach to the problem of school integration.

Stevenson, who is running for the Democratic presidential nomination, recently said that if he were elected he would not cut off federal funds from segregated schools or use U.S. troops to enforce racial integration.

He called for a gradual approach to this problem, suggesting that the goal for achieving integration might be set for 1963, a hundred years after the emancipation proclamation.

For some Southerners who don't think integration ever will be accomplished in some sections of the South, this represented little more than a promise to conform with a Supreme Court opinion they are committed to oppose in every legal way.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said nevertheless that he believes Stevenson helped himself in the South by taking the stand he did. Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, is backing Stevenson even though Sparkman is strongly opposed to integration.

"He is the candidate of moderation," Sparkman said. "He has taken a more conciliatory attitude toward this program than any other Democratic candidate of stature. I think it has helped him in the South."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), an advocate of integration who is supporting Stevenson in the South, said he would have preferred a much stronger stand against segregation.

But he said he thinks Stevenson's position "on matters of importance to the country is sound."

Most Democrats seemed to think Stevenson was appealing to an element of voters in the South that think integration is inevitable but must come about gradually.

Stevenson may need more Southern support than he received in 1952 if he is to win the nomination at this year's Chicago convention.

Industrial Exhibit Set For April 12-14

Dates for the second annual manufacturers' exhibit have been set for April 12-13-14, E. B. McCormick, chairman of the committee, announced Saturday.

He also appealed for all individuals and firms who manufacture, process or fabricate materials in Howard County to have a part in the show.

This year's event will be held in the National Guard Armory on the park road just east of Webb AFB. McCormick said efforts had been made to reach potentially interested people by letter but that some may have been overlooked.

"We are anxious to have everyone who is engaged in any manufacturing, processing or fabrication enterprise in Howard County to have an exhibit. The facilities are fine and we want this to be a still better show than last year. If overlooked, please call Edith Gay at the Chamber of Commerce office so that we can have you put on the mailing list."

One of the purposes of the exhibit is to acquaint the people of Big Spring and area with the amount and type of manufacturing, processing and fabrication which is going on in this vicinity.

Pneumonia was the top communicable disease in number of cases last week, according to the city-county health unit's report, with 37 cases.

Seven cases of mumps, six of roseola, four of measles, two each of diarrhea and gonorrhea, and one of erysipelas and scarletina completed the report.

PART OF YOUR PRESENT INCOME SHOULD GO INTO U.S. SAVINGS BONDS!

By Mr. Fred S. Florence

American Bankers Association

Most of us Americans are earning more now than ever before. But when money comes easy, we have a tendency to let it go just as easily. If we're wise, we'll be sure and save part of every paycheck and invest it for our own future benefit.

- You're sure of your principal in Savings Bonds. It isn't subject to market fluctuations.
- You're sure of your returns in Savings Bonds. Your Government guarantees you an average interest of 3% per year, compounded semiannually, when your Bonds are held to maturity.
- You're sure of the future when you invest regularly in Savings Bonds. There's nothing like the feeling of security that a backlog of at least 6 months' living expenses in safe, sure U. S. Savings Bonds will bring you.

I sincerely recommend to every one of my fellow citizens that he talk with his banker or investment counselor about making U. S. Savings Bonds a part of his investment program.

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about Series H Bonds that pay interest semiannually by Treasury check. They earn an average 3% when held to maturity.

For the big things in your life, be ready with U.S. Savings Bonds

Escape From Terror

Pat Smith, 17, is supported by friends and peace officers as she walks from the barn near Taft, where she had been held hostage for 40 minutes with a pistol at the back of her neck by the estranged husband of her father's housekeeper. Her brother, John Smith, 22, surrendered himself to the gunman, Leonard Rollins, so his sister could go free. After hours of persuasion by some 40 officers, Rollins gave up his pistol. He was booked for kidnaping.

County Starts Year Financially Strong

The county's general fund ran out of money before 1935 was finished, but it and all other funds started 1936 in a healthy condition. Cash balances at the end of the first month's operation stood at $290,792.61.

That's because current tax collections of October, November and December went into the "current till" on Jan. 1. Although collected earlier, the tax money was for use in 1935.

The general fund may go into the red again, however, before 1936 is all in the books. Although county property owners voted a tax reallocation to put more money in the general fund, the reallocation won't be effective until next year. It applies to tax funds to be collected after Oct. 1.

Although more than $5,000 was required to bail the general fund out of the hole at the end of December, the fund started 1936 with $80,800.50 in the coffers. At the end of January, the balance had shrunk less than $1,000 since revenues totaling $4,837.42 nearly matched expenditures amounting to $5,509.75.

The jury fund, which will lose part of its annual income through reallocation, began 1936 with $36,039.83 in the bank. It ended the month with about the same sum, although $49,718.16 was invested in U. S. government securities to knock the cash balance down to $7,496.05. Receipts during the month totaled $2,601.97.

The road and bridge fund, starting the year with $149,305.92 on hand, also invested in government securities, to the extent of $99,436.31. After receipt of $6,649.82 and disbursement of $21,000 it had a cash balance of $35,267 Jan. 31. The officers salary fund, with a beginning balance of $36,704.47, received $8,113.02, spent $13,440.66 and ended January with $31,376.83 in the bank.

From the permanent improvements balance of $40,994.25, investments totaled $9,943.62; other expenditures amounted to about $14,000 while income was $1,822.87, leaving cash on hand at $18,095.34. There were no disbursements from the lateral road fund, leaving its balance at $37,553.96. There were no receipts for the courthouse and jail building fund, but investment of $39,774.52 and minor disbursements dropped its balance to $19,622.74.

The courthouse and jail sinking fund received $2,582.04 and invested $64,590.50. Its balance changed from $68,175.88 at the beginning of January to $6,167.42 at the end of the month.

The library fund received a $12,500 transfer from the permanent improvements fund, received $126.01 from other sources and spent $1,253.08 as its balance increased from $2,925.78 Jan. 1 to $14,298.71 on Jan. 31.

The 1934 road bond sinking fund had income of $1,573.95, with no disbursements, as its balance grew from $39,265.36 to $40,839.31 in January.

January revenues (all funds) totaled $41,171.77. Expenditures, including the $264,463.11 in investments, totaled $321,731.46. Cash balances at the end of the month, not including funds invested, amounted to $290,792.61.

The county's indebtedness Jan. 31 amounted to $1,184,000.

Foam Rubber Beds Not Most Popular

First came straw, then feathers, and following that cotton for the best in mattresses. After that the finest in sleeping comfort was the innerspring.

Now, according to latest advertising and sales reports, the best mattresses are constructed of foam rubber.

This is a nationwide report, but in Big Spring sale of foam rubber mattresses is not currently keeping up with innersprings. Foam rubber mattresses came on the market, according to one dealer, before World War II, but when the war started naturally all rubber was thrown into the war effort.

After the end of hostilities and the shortage of rubber ended, the mattress industry again turned to making foam rubber creations. But only in the past four years have these mattresses come to the front. Some dealers in Big Spring prefer innerspring to foam rubber, but the majority think the latter to be the better.

No matter what the preference, the innerspring continued to lead in sales here. One dealer reported his sales of foam rubber models amounted to only about five per cent of his total, but he said he was of the opinion that innerspring models were the better. "And if you aren't completely sold on a product personally, how can you sell your customers on it?" he asked.

Most of the furniture men, though, agreed that foam rubber is the better. One merchant noted that a person would have to sleep on one more than 10 days to truthfully make a choice. Just one night of sleep on one would not suffice, he said.

What has turned the public away from the foam rubber types has been sale of cheaper models, merchants claim. Cheaper types naturally are not as good as more expensive models, and they are the ones selling the best currently. And when people are dissatisfied, they blame the dissatisfaction on foam rubber mattresses as a whole rather than considering the price range from which they purchased.

One merchant said that people are content to buy a cheap mattress, but then they complain that foam rubber is not as good as innerspring.

On a wide scale, however, foam rubber models are selling better than previously, the furniture men say.

Sales are four times as great now as two years ago, and they are selling 10 times as many foam rubber sofas, couches and furniture pieces other than mattresses now as then.

"It's just what you want," one said. "Personally, I wouldn't have anything else."

Abbott Taken To Death Row For Execution In Slaying

OAKLAND, Calif. Feb. 11 (AP)—Burton W. Abbott, 28, was taken to San Quentin to await death in the gas chamber for the kidnaping and murder of Stephanie Bryan, 14.

Judge Charles Snook sentenced Abbott to die on both counts. The conviction is subject to automatic review by the State Supreme Court. If the high court denies an appeal, Snook will set the execution date.

Stephanie disappeared April 28 on her way home from school. Her personal effects were found in Abbott's basement in Alameda July 15. Her battered body was exhumed from a shallow grave near Abbott's summer cabin in Trinity County five days later.

Rainy Spell Helps Bring Christmas Lights Down

GILMER, Feb. 11 (AP)—Recent rains brought many benefits to Upshur County, not the least of which was the removal of Christmas lights and decorations from the courthouse here.

It happened this way. Gilmer firemen, who somehow were saddened with the annual chore, were kept on the run during much of January answering calls to woods and grass fires in the dry countryside. They also held a fire training course which kept them from getting the lights down.

Except for a few minor fires during the icy weather, the wet spell finally brought a hull.

Big Spring Pilot On Record Atlantic Hop

Maj. Calvin Jarnagin, Big Spring, was a member of the crew of the Boeing YC-97J Stratofreighter, which recently shattered records for the Newfoundland-Scotland flight. The craft was credited in the British press with having made the "fastest time for a propeller-driven plane." It is from the Military Air Transport Service's 1700th Air Transport Group. The flight from Newfoundland to Scotland was made in six hours and three minutes. Normal time for a MATS flight over the same 2,360-mile route is more than 10 hours. The big plane, one of two production C-97s modified by Boeing to test the Pratt & Whitney T34 turboprop engines, left its home base at Kelly AFB in San Antonio on Jan. 26. It made stops at Dover AFB, Del., and Harmon AFB, Nfld., before hopping to Prestwick, Scotland. Total time from Kelly Field to Prestwick was 13 hours and 35 minutes. The craft since has returned home. Several records were established on the flight, said Col. Claude W. Smith, commanding officer of the 1700th ATSG. At one point the craft was climbing at a rate of 2,500 feet per minute, considered slow for the power of the four turboprops, when a request came from the ground controller: "Please slow down. You are fast climbing out of my radar scope." During the entire flight the plane required the addition of only four quarts of oil and no other maintenance.

Uncle Ray: High Speed Is Big Factor In Accidents

By RAMON COFFMAN
The last time there was a Friday the thirteenth (that is, during the second week of January) I read an interesting item in the "Miami Daily News." The item told about an accident which befell a girl with the initials of J. J. J.
She was driving a car which struck a culvert. The car was "demolished," but the account said that J. J. J. received "only a bump on the nose." Because she escaped with her life, the reporter considered that she met good fortune in her Friday the thirteenth accident.
There is a question about the kind of "fortune" which the young driver met. When a car is smashed up, the event often spells much trouble for a family. The loss may hurt the household treasury seriously. If, however, only a bump on the nose was suffered by the driver, the accident caused less sorrow than might have been expected.
Experts in the field of highway safety say that many accidents are due to high speed, or are made worse by the speed. When a person is flung from a car to a distance of from 40 to 80 feet, it suggests that the rate of travel was too high.
That accident reminded me of the fact that insurance companies charge high rates for cars which are operated by young drivers. Sometimes this rate is twice as high as for adults.
Are those companies trying to be "mean" to teen-age drivers? Hardly that! They have learned by bitter experience that teen-age drivers have had more than their share of accidents.
Can teen-age drivers do anything to bring the insurance rates down? Yes, they can. I shall take up this question in detail a week from today.

Now And Then

Back in 1923, two years after he had opened his first service station at Rankin, Ted O. Groebl sold so many tires that he paid for an extra carload from the bonus and took his bride, the former Ethel Smith, to Akron on a trip. They posed against a massive tire turned out by one of the rubber plants. Today, he demonstrates at one of the 31 stations operated in his jobbership that he still has the touch which got him added business nearly three decades ago when he advertised that he cleaned windshields.

'Service Station' Pioneering By Groebl Recalled In Article

Development of a jobbership in West Texas long before there was general activity is traced in a story devoted to Ted O. Groebl, Big Spring, in the February issue of "Shell Progress."

Groebl, president of Groebl Oil Company which is headquartered in Big Spring, made his initial West Texas connection with Shell back in 1927 at Rankin. Today his concern operates 31 Shell service stations and four bulk plants in Texas and New Mexico within an area 200 miles long and 175 miles wide.

From the start, Groebl was a hustling salesman and a promoter of service.

Ted Groebl had been in the trucking business on the West Coast. He got the feeling that the relatively recent discovery of oil in the Yates and the World-Powell pools would change West Texas in time from great expanses of space to a busy, growing area.

With his mother's backing and his brother's help, he built a service station in Rankin at what is now the intersection of State Highway 349-U. S. 67. There were plenty of problems, and one of them was water. The only water available in the small town was on the wrong side of the street from Groebl's station, so he dug a ditch across the not-so-busy U. S. 67 Highway.

To bid for the limited plentiful business, Groebl hit on the service angle and advertised that he cleaned windshields. That was unheard of then, and gradually he began getting more than his share of the trade. Among those who came were Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Smith. One day their daughter, Ethel, came in with them, and from that moment Groebl had a romance as well as a business to run. They were married Sept. 8, 1927.

When this sponge and chamois advertised day or night road service. One cold midnight he took a $1.90 tube and a hand pump to O. H. McAlister, now a prominent oil field trucking contractor, and Mr. Mac never forgot it. He is still a Groebl customer.

Another innovation for those days was addition of tires, batteries and accessories to the "filling station" trade in West Texas. In 1929-30 he won two national tire sales contests. The bonus was enough to buy another carload of tires and for a trip to Los Angeles and Akron for Groebl and his wife. By 1933 he convinced Shell officials in St. Louis that a jobbership in West Texas was practical. He was given the green light on March 3, 1933.

In the intervening years he has continued his policy of pushing something new until it will stand alone, then turning to something else. He also has brought up several key officials through his organization. One is B. L. (Bernie) Coughlin, executive vice president, who joined the concern May 1, 1940 as a truck driver. Another is O. Dewey Young, who joined Groebl in 1932 before the headquarters were moved from McCamey to Big Spring. Mrs. Rose Stringfellow, his secretary, has been with the organization since 1935.

Groebl has a long record of civic service in Big Spring. He is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, headed innumerable war bond drives, was a key figure in promoting extensive paving programs, headed the first USO drive during World War II, worked with the Community Chest, serving as its campaign chairman, to reach the quota by sheer determination, and served on Cancer and Red Cross campaigns as well as many others.

Today he is turning his attention to oil production as well as keeping his hands on policy matters for this jobbership. Everything—and more—that he dreamed for West Texas has come true.

Area Wildcats Report New Oil In Testing Saturday

Wildcats in Martin and Sterling County reported new oil recovery Saturday. Glascock County had two projects preparing to plug back for re-completion in the Clear Fork and one project was reported completed in this zone.

In Martin County, Pan American No. 1 Singleton is swabbing perforations between 10,988-11,002 feet. This is the Pennsylvanian formation. On last report, the operator recovered 16 barrels of new oil on one run of the swab.

This project is an offset to the No. 1 Shook well. Devonian discovery in the northwest corner of the county. The Singleton project found the Devonian barren and is plugged back to 11,012 feet from 12,890 feet for tests in the Pennsylvanian. It is C SW SW Labor 11, League 259, Borden CSL survey.

Warren No. 1 Flynt Ranch, another Devonian test in Martin County, is preparing to spud. This project is about eight miles south of the Pan American projects. It is C SE SE labor 8, league 249, Hartley CSL survey.

Sun No. 1 Stringer, Sterling County test, is still pumping oil and water. In 18 hours, the project pumped 18 barrels of oil and 50 barrels of water. It is C NE SE, 11-11-SPRR survey.

Sun No. 1 Ellwood, wildcat about 13 miles northeast of Sterling City, is drilling at 4,668 feet in lime and shale. It is C NE NE, 10-2-H&TC survey.

Glascock County had two projects making ready to plug back for tests in the Clear Fork. Both are former producers from the Spraberry Trend. Texas Crude Company No. 1-46 R. S. Davenport is pulling unit now to re-complete in the shallower zone. It is 30 miles southeast of Midland and is 660 from south and east lines, 46-37-4s, T&P survey. Humble Oil and Refining No. 1-J TXL is the other project. It is 17 miles southwest of Garden City and 960 from north and west lines, 23-36-4s, T&P survey.

A Clear Fork re-completion was reported Saturday. It is Atlantic No. 1-37-Lane. It flowed 97.60 barrels of 38.6 gravity oil, 3 of one per cent water, with a gas-oil ratio of 1,116-1. The top of the pay zone is 6,560 feet and the 5 1/2-inch casing goes to 3,381.81 feet. Perforations are between 6,560-70 feet. Drill site is 660 from south and west lines, 37-37-4s, T&P survey.

Progress Is Made In Scurry Tests

Last 3 wells came in flowing. No dry holes on any of company's property. This lease is producing from 3 different pay zones with two other proven pay sands. This lease has new equipment throughout and is clear of debt. Need money to develop. This will stand any type of investigation you might want to give it. Other company holdings just as good as this one. Investigate this today and drive out and see this property. Just $4.00 will make you a partner in the oil business. We maintain a market at all times for our stock.

Oil Industry Anticipates More Threats

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—The oil industry hailed Senate passage of the Natural Gas Bill this week but with misgivings.

The prolonged and bitter Senate debate sounded warnings.

"The attitudes expressed clearly demonstrate that there will be new dangers and repeated attacks which the industry cannot ignore," Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America told IPAA members.

The gas bill, awaiting President Eisenhower's action, would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal price controls. The bill passed the House last year 209-203. The Senate added its approval Monday, 53-38.

Quoting from four senators who opposed the measure, Brown said: "The threat of federal control of the entire oil and gas industry, weakening of the industry's tax base and undermining the industry through excessive imports are matters of unfinished business and of immediate concern to every producer."

He cited these utterances:

By Sen. Barkley (D-Ky)—"Gas and oil companies are 'monopolies' because gas and oil are part of the nation's natural resources.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY)—"The bill will increase profits of oil and gas companies and lead to a demand for remedial action to eliminate or greatly reduce 'the iniquitous 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance.'"

This allowance is permitted oil and gas producers for income tax purposes.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn)—"We cannot ask a businessman connected with a normal corporation to pay his 52 per cent corporate tax, or the farmer to pay his personal income tax, or a doctor, or a lawyer, or a teacher, or a factory worker, to pay his tax and then give the oil and gas companies a 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance, quick write-offs, exploration and development deductions and other favors."

Sen. Margaret Smith (R-Maine)—"The producers who seek the exempting legislation are the same people who produce fuel oil that heats Maine homes and at the same time 'continue their vigorous efforts to restrict the importation of offshore oil into Maine.'"

Meanwhile, Sen. Monroney (D-Okl), floor manager for the bill, told of plans to push his measure to require the Washington (D.C.) Gas Light Co. to show on its monthly bills to consumers how much of the bill represented the cost of natural gas at the well-head, the cost of pipeline transportation to Washington and so on.

He has said such a requirement might result in "saving quarters instead of pennies" for the consumer. He and other backers of the exempting legislation contend that producers receive only a small part of the delivered gas price.

Unifining Unit Put On Stream

Cosden Petroleum Corporation has placed on stream—a 2,100 barrel per stream day Unifining unit.

Currently, the Unifining unit is pretreating a high sulfur naphtha, derived from West Texas crudes, which boils in the range of 300 to 400 degrees F. When a 3,900 barrel per stream day UOP Reforming unit — now under construction — goes on stream, the Unifining unit will supply feed stock to the Reforming for upgrading into a high octane motor fuel blending component.

Cosden is operating a Platforming unit which is integrated with a Udex unit. The former facility is running on a blocked-out basis to produce motor fuel and aromatics. When the Reforming goes into operation the Platformer will process only light naphthas for continuous preparation of aromatic feed stock for the Udex unit. The Reforming will process heavy naphthas for conversion into high octane blending component.

The Unifining unit was built by Cosden personnel. Universal Oil Products Company not only licensed the unit but also designed it.

DO IT YOURSELF Bookcase-Coffee Table Makes Unusual Item

By BILL BAKER

If your tastes run toward unusual yet beautiful items of furniture, I'm sure you like this bookcase-coffee table. And I know it will quickly become one of your favorite pieces.

Both long sides of the 22-inch by 36-inch rectangle have deep openings running the full length of the table. Each recess is deep enough to hold several dozen books.

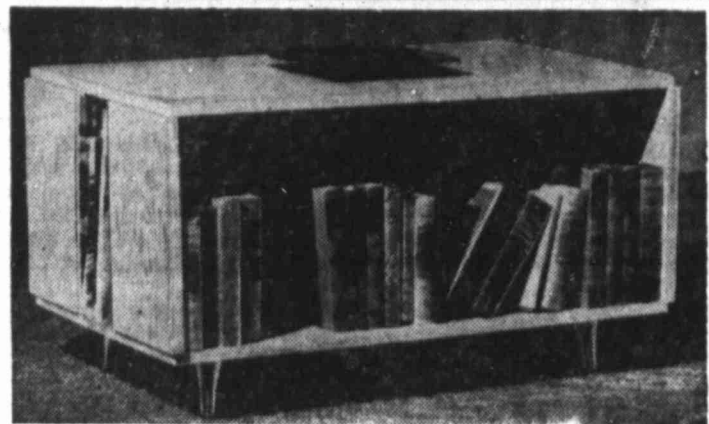

In the center of both ends are wide slots where you'll be able to store all of your current newspapers and magazines.

You'll build the bookcase-coffee table in your home workshop with the help of my pattern package No. 107.

Exact-size paper pattern pieces made of heavy-weight paper allow you to trace each section of the table directly to the wood. Cutting and assembling is made easy with this method.

Easy-to-understand directions, a full material list and suggestions for finishing the unit are also included in the pattern package to make an easy job easier.

Here's how to get your pattern: send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only one dollar ($1) in check, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Be sure to ask for pattern 107.

Congressmen Call Meeting On Civil Rights Measures

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Two congressmen — a Democrat and a Republican — today called a meeting for Thursday to plan strategy for civil rights legislation this year.

In a joint statement, Reps. Diggs (D-Mich.) and Scott (R-Penn.) said they have asked "the liberal bipartisan bloc of Congress" to meet with them.

They said the meeting "is designed to counteract the growing determination of the Southern bloc in its resistance to constitutional guarantees."

A few days ago Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif.) said the Justice Department had told him it was preparing comprehensive legislation on civil rights and planned to recommend it to the President for transmission to Congress.

Diggs, a Negro mortician from Detroit, and Scott, a Virginia-born Philadelphia lawyer who is a former chairman of the Republican National Committee, have been calling for civil rights legislation for some time.

Patricia Back In Ring Today

Pat McCormick, gored in a practice fight on Jan. 29, returns to the ring today at Autlan, Jalisco.

Stitches from the thigh wound she suffered, when a cow stopped short on a charge and hooked her, were removed only a matter of days ago. Whether today's appearance was a full fledged fight was not known, but Pat left the impression that it was perhaps an informal session at the Indian pueblo.

She spoke of a regular corrala at Matamoros on Feb. 26, but she did not say which of the Matamoros it was—Pubelba, Coahuilla, or Tamulipas.

In the meantime she is to be a guest while on the fiestas at the rancho of Don Eduardo Salazarro at San Mateo.

Pat wrote her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, that she plans to come home for a few days after her Matamoros fight.

Although it has not been arranged definitely, she may fight in Acapulco sometime in March, and then soak up sunshine in the resort city for a few days.

Algeria Now More Divided Than Before

ALGIERS, Algeria, Feb. 11 (AP)—Algeria finished a week of crisis today with a new and untried minister-governor general in charge and the country clearly more divided than before.

Muslims who wanted to cooperate with the French in shaping a new and more independent Algeria could only look on in disillusion and discouragement. For they know that their country slowly is falling under the sway of terrorists, or government by rebelling Muslim leaders they neither know nor respect but only fear.

One French official from the Aures country estimates that half the population already is under the control of the rebels and the number is growing daily.

Perhaps his estimate of the number under rebel sway is excessive but even officials obliged to be more optimistic in public concede it is 15 to 20 per cent.

Girl Takes Walk, Airmen Arrested After Pickup Try

Three airmen were turned over to Webb Air Force Base authorities Saturday after questioning by sheriff's officers and the district attorney concerning advances toward a 15-year-old girl.

The sheriff's department reported the trio picked up the girl near the air base late Friday afternoon and drove with her to a rural road west of Big Spring.

The girl left the car at that point and started walking back to town. A truck driver who saw the three men attempt to pick her up a second time gave the girl a ride to Big Spring.

Relatives of the girl reported the incident but declined to file a complaint against the airmen.

Air Force authorities said they would handle the case.

Expense Payment Ruled Out In Engineer Talks

County Attorney Harvey Hooser has told the commissioners court it isn't legally possible to pay the expenses of an engineer applicant to Big Spring for an interview.

Commissioners were studying the advisability of paying expenses of Walter Parks from Imlaystown, N. J., to Big Spring for an interview concerning his application for the post of Howard County engineer. They asked Hooser's opinion on legality of the proposition.

Parks has expressed interest in the local job, but County Judge R. H. Weaver said Saturday the engineer doesn't appear willing to accept the position at the $6,000 per year salary the county budget provides.

Commissioners are expected to devote more time to the application Monday. They also will discuss various phases of the county's proposed paving program for 1956.

Also on the Monday agenda is the opening of bids on a new, 10-ton power shovel to replace a six-year-old loader now in service in the county road department. Commissioners propose to trade the old equipment in on the new shovel.

Waterworks School To Open Here For 2-Week Sessions

A water works school will be conducted in Big Spring starting Feb. 13 sponsored by the City of Big Spring, Permian Basin Water and Sewage Association, and the State Health Department.

The school is conducted by the Texas Engineering Extension Service of the Texas A&M College System in cooperation with the Texas Board of Vocational Education. Leon R. Holbert will be the instructor and it will be held in the Water Treatment Plant at Virginia and Sixteenth.

All eligible persons who satisfactorily complete the course will receive 20 hours credit toward the requirements of certification under the Texas law of 1945.

Herbert Whitney, city manager, said the classes will be held five nights each week for two weeks. Each period will be two hours long starting at 7:30 p.m.

About 25 people are expected to attend the school, he said. Representatives from Coahoma, Colorado City, Snyder, Webb AFB, CRM-WD, as well as local men will make up the students.

Early Morning Ceremony Unites Miss Zahradka, Airman Giasson

In an early morning ceremony at St. Thomas Catholic Church, Mary Ann Zahradka, 805 Johnson, became the bride of A1C Donald R. Giasson of Webb Air Force Base.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Zahradka of Granton, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Giasson of Fall River, Mass.

Father William J. Moore, OMI, officiated for the semi-formal nuptial mass in which matching wedding bands were exchanged.

At the base of the altar was a wedding arch of plumoseous fern, with wedding bells and white satin bows. The background was formed of white stock and camellia foliage.

Mrs. Leslie Green organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Mary Ann as she sang "Ave Maria," "Pani Angelicus" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

At the end of the wedding mass, the bride presented a bouquet of flowers to the Virgin Mary as Miss Hass sang "Mother, At Thy Feet We're Kneeling." The arrangement was a tiny nosegay of pink sweetheart roses showered with pink and blue satin ribbon.

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown, designed by a friend, Mrs. Walter Dugan, was made of white satin with heart-shaped neckline and bouffant skirt.

Chantilly lace was used over the satin to form a fitted bodice, which featured a Princess Anne collar and long sleeves that tapered to a point over the hands. The bride's pumps were of white satin and she wore a pearl necklace and earrings.

Chantilly lace also made the crown which held the elbow length veil of illusion. Pearls and sequins frosted the headress. The bride carried vanda orchids surrounded by white feathered carnations atop a mother of pearl prayer book. Satin ribbons on the flowers were tied in love-knots.

Mrs. Richard Eibergen of Granton, Wis., attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown, styled in a fashion similar to that of the bride, was of red satin and net combined with Alencon lace which made the bodice and bolero.

The heart-shaped neckline went into a stand-up collar, and her headress was red net in the shape of a heart. She wore rhinestone jewelry and carried a nosegay of white carnations with red ribbon and net.

Mr. Eibergen was best man. Guests were seated by Russel Hunt and Walter Dugan.

For a buffet luncheon, which followed the wedding, hearts, wedding bells and orange blossoms were used in the decorations. This affair was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Feliz Diez, 1001 E. 21st.

Guests were greeted by Mr. Diez, who presented the parents of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom. Serving was done by Mrs. Diez and Mrs. Dean McMullan.

The table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with candles and orange blossoms. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with love-birds holding wedding rings and was frosted with bells and lilies of the valley. There was also a birthday cake for the bridegroom.

Pat Ellison and Mr. Hunt assisted with the hospitality, which included a about 75. Out-of-town guests were present from Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Chicago and Coahoma.

Leaving for a wedding trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, the bride wore a knit dress of beige, with angora and gold trim. She chose accessories of gold and wore a white orchid corsage. Her pumps and bag were of brown calf.

Mrs. Giasson, who is now employed as a secretary at WFAB, was graduated from St. Mary's School of X-ray Technology in Wausau, Wis. She also attended the University of Wisconsin Extension Center in Wausau. She is a member of the local St. Thomas Club.

The bridegroom is at Webb Air Force Base as an altitude chamber technician. He also attends Howard County Junior College. He is vice president of the St. Thomas Club.

The couple will be at home at the Johnson Street address.

Vows Taken In California By Lt. Wood, Margaret Stenzel

A military wedding in Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., Saturday evening, united Margaret Elizabeth Stenzel of the California address, and Lt. Thomas Barkley Wood Jr. of Chase Field, Beville, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Werner Stenzel of Palos Verdes. Lt. Wood is the son of Mrs. Earl Ezzell of San Angelo and Thomas B. Wood of Corpus Christi.

The bridegroom is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Shlne Phillips, 1304 Scurry, and is a former resident of Big Spring.

Vows were exchanged in the Palos Verdes Neighborhood Church, with a friend of the Stenzel family, Dr. David D. Eitzen, officiating for the candlelight service.

Background for the formal double ring rites was a sunburst of pink and white carnations, flanked by candelabra and trees of fern. The arrangement was repeated in front of the choir rail on each side of the center aisle, with the addition of large baskets of white stock and white chrysanthemums. The white carpeted aisle was marked with candelabra tied with clusters of pink and white carnations and blue pink streamers which reached the floor.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Cleland Graham, who accompanied Evan Anderson as the sang Grieg's "I Love Thee," "The Lord's Prayer" and "O, Perfect Love."

Dr. Stenzel gave his daughter in marriage. Ivory satin made the wedding gown, which had been adapted from the wedding dress of the bride's mother. It was worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. Donald W. Jones of Pomona, Calif., for her wedding. Heirloom lace, encrusted with seed pearls, formed the top half of a fitted bodice, with an off-shoulder fold of lace making the tiny completed her attire.

The full skirt swept into a train, inset with lace and pearls, and a full-length veil of illusion was attached to a rose point cap. This, too, had been part of her mother's wedding ensemble.

The bride's flowers were phalaenopsis orchids and white hyacinths in a French lace arrangement.

The frocks of the feminine attendants were of crystalline in heavenly pink and cherry red, with colors alternating in the procession. Fashioned with full skirts, the dresses featured high waists with self cummerbunds and large bows. Tiny covered buttons extended the length of the waist in the back. Their flowers were French line arrangements of dianthus.

Mrs. Jones attended her sister as matron of honor; maid of honor was Mary Ann Lawason of San Diego, Calif. Bridesmaids were Mrs. R. Wayne Murray and Mrs. Maurice L. Muehle, both of Los Angeles, and Lucille Radovich of Delano, Calif. Richard Douglas Jones, four-year-old nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer; tapers were lighted by Ronald Sims and William Johnson, both of Palos Verdes Estates.

Serving as best man was Lt. Paul D. Roman, USN, of Arlington, Kan. Groomsman were Lt.

(j.g.) Robert W. Thomas, Lt. (j.g.) William R. Grayson, (j.g.) Stanley A. Smith, all of Beville and Lt. Carlos D' A McCough, Monterey, Calif. All are with the United States Navy.

Richard P. Stenzel, brother of the bride was head usher. Others who assisted in seating guests were O. Mel Kendall Jr. of San Diego; Lt. (j.g.) Robert H. Caines, USN, Monterey, Calif., and Lt. (j.g.) C. M. Anderson, USN; Lt. (j.g.) Charles F. Adams, USNR; Lt. (j.g.) James O. Ball, USNR; Lt. Neal Kincaannon, USN, all of Beville.

For the wedding reception, held in LaVenta, Palo Verdes, the couple received guests with their mothers, and the feminine attendants.

At the guest book was Mrs. Morgan Moore of Redondo Beach, Calif.

Candelabra were used at each end of the bride's table, which was centered with the tiered, heart-shaped cake in a blush pink shade. Orchids surrounded and topped the cake, which was cut with the sword of the bridegroom.

For traveling, the bride chose a suit of Italian silk in an avocado shade. Her shoes and bag were of avocado, with a hat and gloves in sun tan. Mrs. Wood has a degree in Psychology from Occidental College, Los Angeles. She is a member of Delta Omicron Tau Sorority and for the past year, she has been as social worker with the San Diego County Department of Public Welfare.

Lt. Wood is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where he was president of the student body. He was graduated from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. in 1949. He is now a jet flight instructor in the Naval Air Advanced Training Command at Chase Field, Beville, where the couple will make a home.

HI--TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

DAVID DIBRELL

Active in numerous phases of club and school work, David Dibrell occupies the spotlight as senior-of-the-week. Perhaps his latest achievement is that of being elected master counselor of the DeMolay organization last week. David, in his DeMolay activity, has held a number of other offices. These include sixth preceptor, third preceptor, marshal, junior steward, senior steward, junior deacon and junior counselor.

A member of the First Methodist Church, David acts as faith chairman in the MYF division. He has served on the "A" football team, and has lettered two years in that sport.

David is among the three boys from BSHS who passed the Naval ROTC test, which qualified him to take an examination in Dallas this week. Success in this will qualify him for a Naval ROTC college scholarship.

Whoopie! Grab your boots and ten gallon hats, for Ranch Week—Ranch Days—are here again. Thursday and Friday are the days chosen in which Ranch Days will be staged at BSHS.

Kangaroo Court will be held in the gym on Friday from 12:30 to 1:30. This event will include pie eating, stick horse races, hog calling, sack races, girl roping, and a beard growing contest. The jail will be located in front of the school, as always, and Gerald Lackey is to be in charge of it.

Ranch queen, sheriff and foreman nominations were made in separate class meetings Friday afternoon. Three nominees were chosen by each class for the three honors and the ranch queen and foreman will be announced and crowned in an assembly Friday.

The Senior Class nominations are Joyce Horne, Sandra Webb, and LaRue Casey for ranch queen. Their sheriff nominations are Richard Pachall, Leon Clark, and J. D. Adams. For foreman nominees from this class are Randal Hamby, Jerry Graves, and Stormy Edwards.

Londa Coker, Barbara Shields, and Lou Ann White are queen nominees from the junior class. Their deputies are Louis Porter, Mike Hull, and Hershel Stocks. For foreman, they have nominated Ronnie King, Johnny Janak, and Gerald Lackey.

For foreman, the Juniors nominated George Peacock, Jimmy Tucker, and Bobby Lauder milk. Queen nominations are Opal Hancock, ValJean LaCroix, and Sammie Sue McComb. Their deputies are Jimmy Evans, Jan Lauder milk, and Tommy Buckner.

The track team was scheduled for a track meet with Midland on Friday, but because of weather conditions, the tournament was postponed until Tuesday. Coaches Harold Bentley and Emmett Broaderson have set up a schedule for entries. Johnny Janak and Ronnie King will run the 100-yard dash; Johnny Janak, Ronnie King and Milton Davis will run the 220; Milton Davis, Clyde McMahon, and Richard Engle will run the 440; and Bobby Fuller and Derrell Sanders will run the 880.

Frank Powell will enter the pole vaulting competition; Bobby Wallace and David Dibrell will be the high jump men.

Mile relay competition will be entered by Guinette Bibbs, Hershel Stocks, Ronnie Phillips, and Jerry Barron. Shot put entries will be McCoy Gilliland, Pat Hale, Donnie Bryant, Walter Dickenson, Lewis Porter and Bunkay Grimes. Discus throwing will be entered by Lewis Porter, Walter Dickenson, and Donnie Bryant.

A book of favorite recipes has been compiled by Miss Edna McGregor's fourth period class unit of FHA No. One. Favorite recipes have been obtained from members of the faculty, football team, officers of the student council, and FHA for this booklet which will be ready for sale about Feb. 15.

This project's purpose is to raise money for the March of Dimes in the fight against polio. A goal of $100 has been set by the club to donate to the MOD.

The BSHS Pollies of '56 were presented again Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium because of popular demand. Former presentation dates were Feb. 2 and 3. Because of the snow, a third performance was given by the cast.

A new wrinkle in the study of interior decoration is being successfully carried out by Mrs. Nancy Annen's first period Home-making Class. During this phase in their study of interior decoration, they are visiting modern homes in which they observe color schemes, floor coverings, and furniture arrangement. The class agrees that this method is much more successful and interesting than mere textbook study of interior decoration alone.

The four homes that the group have visited during this phase are those of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tidwell at 106 Lincoln; Dr. and Mrs. John Hogan, 509 Westover Road; Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington Place; and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Guin, Indian Hills Drive.

The club also has future appointments in homes of this city and the surrounding area. Outstanding students from departments in BSHS were selected by the faculty this week. These students rank highest in the department they represent.

Heading the class in shop are Pete Gregory and Leon Byrd; speech, Tom Guin and Nita Jones; senior language arts, J. T. Baird and Patsy Grant; junior L. A., Bobby Grant and Jean Robinson; sophomore L. A., Julius Glickman and Nita Jones; home economics, Averell Greenwood and Darlene Agee.

Distributive Education, Mary Helen Lee and Clarence Thompson; diversified occupation, Mary Ivey and Roger Fryar; Spanish, Gay Bownds and Bobby Grant; journalism, Eunice Freeman and Alton McCarty; band, Billy Evans and Nelda Garrison; shorthand, Leta Sampson and Sandra Webb; typing, Richard Engle and Jacqueline Smith; bookkeeping, Wanda McCleskey and Jess Bailey; government, Glenda Adams and John Davenport.

Biology, Patsy Grant and Steven Baird; chemistry, Sue Barnes and Barton Grooms; physics, J. T. Baird and Tommie Jo Williamson; mechanical drawing, Mary Beth Stratton; algebra I, Barbara Burchett; algebra II, Bill Owen; plane geometry, Lou Ann White; trigonometry, Tommie Jo Williamson; American history, Patsy Turdol and Walter Dickenson; economics, Patsy Grant; world history, Douglas Wilson and Karen Terry; Texas history, Bobby Fuller; girl's physical education, Ann Richbourg; Bible, Wilma Cole and James Johnson.

Make plans now to attend the program at the City Auditorium Feb. 20, when the Spiritual Singers of Southwestern Christian College will give a performance. The curtain will go up at 8 p.m., and admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

GE FILTER-FLO WASHER

REMOVES LINT
SAND and SOAP SCUM
While It Washes

NEW 1956 GENERAL ELECTRIC FILTER-FLO AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleans and Recleans Wash Water to Give You Cleaner Clothes.

HERE'S PROOF that the new G-E Filter-Flo Washer washes clothes without leaving lint fuzz! After 11 washings in an ordinary washer, the sock at left was flecked with lint. After 11 washings the G-E way, an identical sock showed practically no lint.

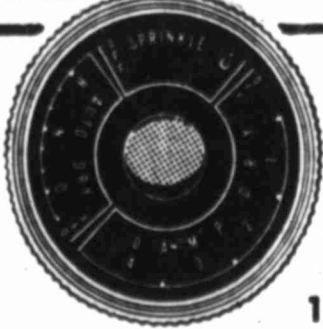

Here's how the Filter-Flo Washing System works... Wash water circulates and filters at the rate of six gallons a minute to give you clean, bright clothes. As the washbasket continuously overflows, soap suds float away. Sand settles out at the bottom of the washbasket. Lint is trapped in the filter which lets only cleansed, sudsy water flow back into the washbasket. BIG CAPACITY, TOO. Over 50% more clothes capacity than many other automatics. ACTIVATOR® WASHING Action dips, flexes and cleanses clothes, piece by piece, gently and thoroughly washing them as though by hand. WATER SAVER saves detergent and gallons of hot water when you do small loads. 5 YEAR WRITTEN PROTECTION plan backs famous G-E dependability—one year warranty on entire washer and four additional years on Sealed-In Transmission parts.

YOUNG SOPHISTICATION

Special Cut And Darts Give Shape To Midriff

Anne Klein is the young designer for Junior Sophisticates whose talents are being praised by knowing fashion editors and buyers, and whose clothes are being worn by smart young people desiring sophistication at their own age level.

This princess model with its snap-in fluted gilet and collar is cut with a special curve over the bust and side darts that give shape in the midriff. This is the kind of handling that gives a "made-to-order" look and is simple to achieve since the pattern is accurately cut by hand.

A step-in dress that can be lined if you make it in the three quarter sleeve version in wool, it is delightful for summer in novelty cottons, shantung or linen with contrasting trim. The ruffles are gathered onto the buttoned bands for easy laundering and ironing.

This pattern is cut to DESIGN.

Sally Brown Is Bride Of Lt. Julian Sutton

Arrangements of white gladioli and white stock made the background for the informal double ring ceremony for Sally Jane Brown and Lt. Julian Glenn Sutton Friday evening.

Chaplain C. J. Fix officiated for the wedding rites in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown, 609 W. 18th, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Sutton of Ripley, Tenn.

Mrs. Omar Pittman, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music, including "Because" and "I Love You Truly" as well as the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her bridal gown was of white metallic faille, on princess lines, with push-up sleeves, bracelet length. Her tiny hat was studded with brilliants and she wore a well. She wore rhinestone jewelry and white net mitts, with rhinestone trimmed ruffles.

The bridal flowers were lilies of the valley, centered with a blue iris in corsage. This was carried on a white Bible.

Following wedding tradition, the bride carried a silk handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Callihan; she wore a sweetheart bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom; she had borrowed the Bible from her aunt, Mrs. Dudley McKaskle, and she wore a blue garter. There was a penny in her shoe.

Dorris Sutton, a sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor. Her dress was of blue faille, made on princess lines, similar to that of the bride's frock. Mr. Sutton served his son as best man.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride wore a three piece blue linen suit. Her accessories were black patent. Upon their return from the trip, the couple will be at home at 1806 1/2 Nolan.

Mrs. Sutton was graduated from Big Spring High School in 1955. She attended Texas Tech and has been employed by the State National Bank.

Lt. Sutton is a graduate of Halls, Tenn., High School and received

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Margaret Pierce

Monday morning, the snow had cleared off very well and all students were on hand for classes. Slight colds may be observed around the campus, but Jayhawkers seem to agree that they had fun "catching those colds."

During the activity period Monday morning, a movie was shown in the auditorium. It was of Key West, Fla., and was named "Cruising the Keys." Another movie, which was shown Friday morning, was "The Reconstruction of Williamsburg." It featured the reconstruction of Williamsburg, Va., as it was in Colonial times.

The Valentine party, which was to be held Tuesday night after the Hardin-Simmons-Hawks ball game has been postponed. It will be played in the Big Spring High School Gymnasium following a game of the Steers.

A Sweetheart party, sponsored by the Lass-O Club for all students holding activity cards and their dates, will be held Saturday night. It will begin at 7:30 and is to be semi-formal. To carry out the Leap Year tradition, girls may ask the boys for dates. So—be aware, boys!!

The choir from the college is polishing up and getting ready for the ninth annual minstrel show to be given by the Lion's Club. The chorus will be one feature of the show, with several soloists and the choir doing numbers, too. It will be held Thursday and Friday, beginning at 8 p. m. each night.

Choir rehearsal will be held Monday night and Wednesday night at the city auditorium, beginning at 7:00 p. m. sharp! All choir members please be there on time!

The Hawkettes have put another victory behind them. Thursday night, they played the Knott outsiders basketball team and won with a narrow margin of 44-38. They are now making plans to attend a basketball tournament at Sul Ross College March 4. Several more games will be scheduled with San Angelo College, Forsan, Coahoma, and the Knott outsiders again.

Plans are still being made for the ski trip to be taken by the WRA members to Sante Fe, N. M. This trip will be taken over the weekend of Feb. 24-26. Mrs. Betty Walker is the sponsor and will go on the trip.

The Hawks left Friday morning bound for Amarillo to play games with Amarillo Junior College and Clarendon Junior College. They will return Sunday evening if the weather permits.

After the exciting game between the Hawks and Odessa Junior College Tuesday night, the SUB was opened for a social. The Hawks won the game. Most of the Odessa College visitors attended. Refreshments were served and a majority of the persons danced for entertainment.

We want to welcome Virginia Carpenter, a new student at the college. She is from Big Spring and began her education there Thursday. Welcome to the HCJC campus, Virginia.

Sue Neal visited with her parents in Levelland over the weekend but returned Sunday afternoon.

Myrna Sproul spent the weekend with Lela Fletcher in Forsan.

When Your Child Catches Cold Does More Than Work on Chest

She needs Vicks VapoRub—the proved medication that acts two ways at once.

When you rub it on, VapoRub quickly relieves muscular soreness. At the same time, VapoRub's medicated vapors bring relief with every breath. Soothing medication travels deep into your child's nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Warming relief comes, lasts for hours.

So when colds strike, depend on—

The Natural Look

Singer Dinah Shore tells Lydia Lane her secret for the "natural look" in make-up. The NBC-TV star and recording artist also talks about hair care, proper eating.

Dinah Shore Learned The 'Natural Look'

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Everyone agrees that Dinah Shore is more attractive now than ever before. "I never stop trying to improve myself," Dinah admitted with a little laugh. "I have never felt that I was pretty so I've always experimented and tried to get as much helpful advice as possible. "Of course everyone would like to be born beautiful," Dinah said, "but when you are not, you must try to accept the assets you do have and be cheerful about it. Analyze yourself, be realistic and make any changes you feel may help. Sometimes a girl who is not pretty will feel she has to make up for her lack of beauty by being the life of a party when this isn't her true personality at all. Whatever makes you feel comfortable will always make the best impression with others.

"It is surprising what you can do toward improving yourself if you really work at it. I've tried a lot of tricks," Dinah continued, "and learned by trial and error, I've tried plucking my eyebrows and extending their natural line and I've shaped my mouth in various outlines, but in the end I was convinced that simplicity and the natural look were the best for me. "That is with one exception," Dinah added. "I find that being a blonde is more becoming to me than my natural shade of hair. I love to spend a lot of time in the sun and when I have a tanned skin, my light hair presents a more flattering contrast. But when you do bleach your hair you must be careful to protect it from the sun.

"I used to feel that I could only wear my hair one way," Dinah said, "but with my weekly NBC-TV show we needed more variety and I am delighted because I discovered that changing my hairdo gives me the same kind of lift as buying a new hat. Now I wear my hair piled high or parted in the middle, page boy, chignon and sometimes in bangs. One thing I do try to avoid however is too many curls. Today the trend is to a casual hairdo. A tight permanent may last longer but it is rarely becoming." Noticing Dinah's lovely, natural looking makeup as we lunched at the Brown Derby, I commented on it, hopeful of a tip or two. "I've experimented with make-up," Dinah obliged, "and have discovered that the big secret of looking natural is to select your powder to exactly match the tone of your skin. The right shade of powder is very important because if it is too light or too dark it will be conspicuous. "I keep three basic shades of powder on hand and blend them according to the color of my skin. A clean puff is also essential."

Special for a little while only!

A gift atomizer with Lenele Bellezza cologne. It's the fragrance to make you feel beautiful and gay... a little adventurous.

Dinah told me, "because any oil from your skin that is left on your puff will cause your powder to streak. Scrubbing with soap suds and a nail brush is the best way to clean puffs.

"I've made mistakes before in using rouge, but now I know a pale pink shade in a fluid type rouge gives the most natural effect for me. The whole trend today," Dinah concluded, "is toward naturalness and simplicity in everything."

As Dinah was served a patty of meat and sliced tomatoes, I inquired if she might be following a diet.

"Oh no," she volunteered, "I solved my weight problem long ago by learning to eat well-balanced meals. I keep a scale in my bathroom and weigh myself each morning before I dress—but sometimes my weight fluctuates as much as four pounds so the real test with me is how my clothes feel. The moment a skirt is too snug, I cut down immediately. The trick is to do something about it right then, without delay.

"It isn't necessary," Dinah continued, "to put yourself on a strict diet—just cut down on every meal. Instead of two pieces of toast for breakfast, take only one. Have a salad for lunch instead of a sandwich and skip that pat of butter at dinner.

Dinah highly recommended developing an appreciation for the nutritional value of certain foods. "If you stay away from the fattening foods, you can stay away from starvation diets," she said, "and you will feel and look so much better."

We always enjoy going to the Classroom Teacher's meetings. It's always enlightening to find out what teachers are interested in doing for their students especially when you have students at home who are going to be on the receiving end of what the teachers do. I don't know whether the teachers work harder or the children are smarter, but we seem to have a better background for their work than their mama did.

Heard the Lawrence Welk show Friday night and I remembered back about 25 years ago when he played here for several months and made a lot of friends in Big Spring. Opening prayer was by Mrs. Leroy Findley. Mrs. James Findley led the games. Mrs. Leroy Stout gave the devotion from First Corinthians, Chapter 13.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with two Valentine-shaped cakes decorated with red and white icing. An arrangement of white carnations was flanked by candles. One large heart and two smaller hearts were on the wall back of the serving table. Red and white crepe paper streamers hung from the ceiling.

Seventeen were present.

What Do We Need To Do About This?

We have no record on the actual number of collisions at Fourth and Birdwell Lane, but we can recall off hand a couple within the last fortnight which barely escaped fatal endings. In one instance, three were hurt critically.

The snap opinion is that there ought to be a traffic light there. This may or may not be the answer. It may be that a light with stop signs on the South and North approaches and caution blinkers on the West will suffice.

Extending A Good Man's Shadow

Many splendid things have been said about Wayne White, the young vocational agriculture teacher at Coahoma, whose unexpected and untimely death came as such a shock a week ago.

Back of both the showmanship, the selection and of the feeding job was Wayne White. Fittingly, many of the boys won first places with their calves and lambs and otherwise placed high in the judging.

The Influence Of Law Partnerships

WASHINGTON — The Senate of the United States, which calls itself the greatest deliberative body in the world, looks more and more like a kind of trade fair at which the representatives of economic and geographic interests push their wares.

ground that he was a director of a building and loan association.

The investigation into lobbying behind the passage of the bill taking natural gas out from under Federal regulation may show how some of the money was spent to influence the favorable vote. But it will not get at the most pervasive form of influence, which is so common that it is taken for granted.

Senator Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), who said that he was also a building-and-loan director, challenged the stand of his fellow Republican and debate followed on the floor.

It works in a variety of ways, often in close conjunction with the dominant economic interest in the Senator's home state. The oil and gas interests hire the leading political law firm in the state and that firm has its connections either directly or indirectly with the state's Congressional delegation.

The question of conflict of interest was raised during the long debate over the gas bill. It was pointed out that Senator Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) owned gas and oil properties worth many millions of dollars.

The Senator may have severed his connection with his law firm when he came to Washington. But his former partner is given a handsome retainer and when he gets on the telephone with the man whom he helped to elect to office and with whom he worked over the years his word naturally carries some weight.

No Senate investigation is likely to touch the system of interlocking law partnerships. It is too widespread and it has been too long an accepted practice. The $2,500 offered to Senator Francis Case (R-S. D.) as a campaign contribution made the headlines. But that is not even a drop in the bucket when compared to the large sums spent on the lobby law firms.

One of the most recent instances was in 1951 when former Senator Robert C. Hendrickson of New Jersey asked to be excused from voting on a bill involving taxation of mutual savings banks and building and loan associations on the

The Market's Performance In An Election Year

Let's face it. This is an election year. President Eisenhower hasn't said yes, no, or maybe. And the stock market's jumpy. Is it jumpy because of the President's heart, or because of business uncertainty?

The long-term record is not that conclusive. When you examine election returns in prior Presidential years, you can't be certain what caused the stock market to go up or down—politics or economics.

September; a pre-election rally to then, after the returns came in, slump. But business also was approaching a peak. Nineteen forty-nine was a recession year.

True, more and more persons are getting mentally adjusted to the idea that Eisenhower won't run. But have they adjusted their stock portfolios? If they haven't, the market could tumble if the President says "No." Two: Cutbacks in auto production are spreading doubts about 1956 prospects. Therefore, the market's vulnerable to "bad" election news even as it was in '48.

Yet, many business analysts argue that it doesn't much matter who wins in '56. They grant that business men feel more comfortable when Republicans are in the White House. But they also reason that getting along with Democrats is a business man's business, too.

And the record supports them. It suggests that stocks are less susceptible to election returns than to business. Therefore, if business holds up, so ought the market, in spite of election-year jitters.

What is at stake in this surrender to a mob is whether Alabama is in fact, not merely in name, a sovereign state. For what has happened in Tuscaloosa is a quite different kind of thing from what has happened in any of the other Southern states which are opposing integration in the schools.

Bible Words for Today

COLOSSIANS 4:2-4 — "Continue steadfastly in prayer, being watchful in it with thanksgiving; and pray for us also, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison, that I may make it clear, as I ought to speak." (RSV)

To kick open doors and force an entrance is human nature. To open doors for the truly humble to enter and be a servant to man and God is the way and prerogative of God alone.

Paul was convinced of a fact which we should understand; doors of opportunity for service are open all around us. Do we see them? Do we enter? Do we proclaim the mystery of Christ? Only the sensitive person will see these open doors.

It is not enough to see the door and declare the mystery of Christ. Many an entrance is made and the entrant stands haltingly on the threshold mumbling inanities which only confuse and frustrate the hearer.

Can you speak the message of the mystery of Christ to your neighbor when God has opened the door for you? Does the radiance and Truth of Christ shine through your countenance, acts and words?

Whose Wife Do You Want To Ride With?

Things never do get to be just exactly right. There are always a few worries. What if all your bills were paid; your wife were completely satisfied with the house, the furniture and the yard; the children had shoes enough to last them for two years. You think you'd be OK?

You remember a couple of years ago, Life magazine had a dissertation on the American classes, neatly putting them into such categories as highbrows, middlebrows and lowbrows. The classification was determined by what one ate, or drank, or read, and so on.

Now another writer has come up with a new method of classifying, and some of his findings are disturbing. He says, for instance, if you and your wife get into a car with another couple, this is the grading system: If you get into the back seat with your own wife, you're lower middle class; if two men get in front and two wives in back, that's upper middle class.

If you get in the back seat with the other guy's wife, that's climbing higher in the social scale. The guy doesn't say what you are if you have a ride around four in the seat of a pickup truck. Absolutely hopeless, I guess.

per napkins as a determining factor in social standings. "Paper napkins in the home," he says, "are considered by the upper-upper groups to be a mark of insufficient breeding."

Then, what about your dining room sideboard? If you use it as a catch-all for car keys, last month's bills, and next month's wedding invitations, you are definitely not for the higher levels. The fellow doesn't say where to keep this necessary impediment, but seems to me that if nothing were on the sideboard but the silver pitcher and the artificial fruit, 'twould be a very un-homelike dining room indeed.

Apparently the upper-upper classes have well safes for such articles. Lower-upper probably put these in a desk; upper-middle folks stick them in the sideboard drawer; lower-middle try to pay the bills as fast as they come in; upper-lower classes just say the heck with it.

The guy didn't say so, but it must be supposed that if you take off your shoes when you get home, or if your wife puts on that wrapper for the early morning chores, neither of you can expect to get above the lower-middle. You either have your comfort or your social standing.

Another point: none of the classes is entirely content. The upper-middles want to be lower-uppers; the lower uppers, want to be upper-uppers. Just like I said, things never get to be exactly right.

Come to think of it, I hate paper napkins myself.

The Law And Good Sense Must Prevail

As of now at the University of Alabama the situation appears to be this. Because the state government of Alabama has failed to maintain law and order on the campus of the state university, the authorities of the university have felt compelled to yield to the violence of a mob.

This has raised an issue within the state of Alabama as to whether a great question of public policy is to be decided because a governor, instead of coming to the support of the local police, has stood aside and let a mob have its way.

Dr. Carmichael, the president of the university, was in the act of complying faithfully with the order of the Court that Miss Lucy be allowed to attend classes. There is no evidence that the university authorities and the faculty were not prepared to comply with the law.

And the record supports them. It suggests that stocks are less susceptible to election returns than to business. Therefore, if business holds up, so ought the market, in spite of election-year jitters.

What is at stake in this surrender to a mob is whether Alabama is in fact, not merely in name, a sovereign state. For what has happened in Tuscaloosa is a quite different kind of thing from what has happened in any of the other Southern states which are opposing integration in the schools.

That makes a difference as between night and day. For it keeps the issue on a level where, though it cannot be settled quickly, it can be treated by the civilized process of accommodation and persuasion. This will not be possible where state governments abandon their authority to enforce the law.

A number of politicians have been amusing themselves lately with deriding the notion that moderation could be, especially among Democrats, the sound and true approach to serious conflicts. Well, here in the wake of the Supreme Court decision, they can see in the concrete how there is no decent prospect unless we can preserve the spirit of moderation. They have here what is almost certainly the hardest and most dangerous internal American issue. They can see here how there is no way of dealing with it unless moderate men backed by the great moderate majority of our people are able to take the lead.

For the decision of the Supreme Court must be carried out. But it can be carried out only by winning the consent of the people who must live with it. The essential principle of the Court's order is that a way must be found between that mob in Alabama, which insists on absolute segregation, and those Northern politicians who ask for Federal coercion to bring about the immediate ending of all segregation.

In the moderate course, which is the one that the Court calls for, desegregation is not one action, to be taken simultaneously everywhere. It is a complex process which must vary with the conditions in the differing localities. The same kind and the same rate of integration cannot be applied everywhere at once, in the Deep South and in the border states.

Broadly speaking, it can be said, I suppose, that at the higher levels of education, the professional and graduate schools, integration is most easily put into effect. Integration is most difficult, on the other hand, in the schools for teenagers, among high school students and underclassmen, in co-educational institutions for adolescents. There may well be parts of the South where integration at the teen-age level cannot wisely be put into effect for a long time to come.

That is another reason why the case of Miss Lucy, who wants to go to college to become a librarian, is such a setback to law and to good sense.

A successful business man and leading citizen of his midwestern community has not always been so outstanding a figure. In fact, not too many years ago, he was sentenced to prison for forging checks.

In prison, he peddled dope and broke all rules. He came to be classified as an incorrigible. It seemed certain that he would spend most of his life behind bars. Then, one day, he began to spit blood. The doctors said he had tuberculosis and the next thing he knew, he was in the prison hospital with a raging fever.

The chaplain came to see him and said, "Son, I have to tell you you're going to die. Don't you want me to pray with you?" The answer was short and impolite, "I haven't prayed since I was a kid, and I don't like preachers. Get away from me and leave me alone."

When, a bit later, the nurse took his temperature, he pulled the thermometer out himself and stared at it disbelievingly. It read one hundred and five degrees. That really frightened him. Then he heard the doctor say he had only a few hours to live.

He lay in the silence his eyes closed, screened off from the rest of the ward. And then a queer thing happened. He seemed to hear a voice saying, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil." It was unmistakably real, he says. "I saw no one. I heard no actual voice, yet I did hear those words."

He remembered learning that psalm as a boy and something in him now responded to it. "O.K., Lord," he said, "I've been wrong. I haven't lived the way I should have. Now I want to change and I give in to you. Make me a different person. And that was all there was to it. But it was real, a real desire to change, and you will have a new confidence.

'Ulysses'

Kirk Douglas and Silvano Mangano are starred in the Technicolor picture "Ulysses" at the Ritz starting today. The romantic-adventure story is taken from the epic poem by the blind poet Homer.

Kirk Douglas Is Star Of 'Ulysses'

About 3,000 years ago, a man returned home after being away from his wife for 10 years and offered the wildest tale imaginable because of his long stay. But the classical poet Homer set the story down in poetry and it has become one of the greatest adventure stories in history. Homer called his poem "The Odyssey."

Hollywood's Paramount Studios filmed the story under the title of "Ulysses" after the leading character, Kirk Douglas plays the lead with Silvano Mangano playing a dual role, as Penelope and Circe.

Ulysses left his wife, Penelope, behind to help fight the Trojan War. The Technicolor screen shows the gigantic wooden horse which was built to destroy the city of Troy. The battle won, Ulysses and his warriors set sail for home. But, Homer tells us, the city of Troy was a favorite of the god, Neptune. Neptune, in revenge, set all the forces of his power against Ulysses and his ship. The mighty one-eyed giant Cyclops hurled 10 ton rocks at the ship. Then, the ship sails past the island where the Sirens try to trap the men. Their songs usually trap even the most earnest sailor. Ulysses was strapped to the mast of his ship so that he could not heed their call. Then, he is enchanted by the goddess Circe. She tells him that she will make him immortal if he will only stay with her and forget his wife.

But he refuses and continues on home. Meanwhile, his wife Penelope is beset by numerous suitors who tell her that her husband will never return. Antony Quinn plays one of the more ardent suitors.

Just in the nick of time, Ulysses arrives and saves his marriage. The other actors in this picture are all Italian, Douglas and Quinn being the only Americans. Miss Mangano is one of the better foreign actresses. This picture is a romantic-adventure story to stand with the best that Hollywood has produced. It will play at the Ritz starting today, continuing through Tuesday.

'The Littlest Outlaw'

The newest Walt Disney full-length feature will play at the Ritz Wednesday through Saturday. It is the story of a boy in Mexico who steals a horse to save its life. The picture is in Technicolor.

'Littlest Outlaw' Is Walt Disney Film

"The Littlest Outlaw" is the most recent of Walt Disney's full-length features. This one has no cartoon characters, but uses all real actors.

The Technicolor picture introduces Andres Valasquez in the leading role as a small boy in Mexico who protects a horse he loves from death.

The audience gets a travelogue of the major sites in Mexico as the cameras follow the trail of the boy and horse on an escape route. The picture is exciting in spots, humorous in others, and dramatic throughout.

The story begins with a horse who has been treated cruelly being condemned to die because it lost a bet for its owner. The small boy steals the horse to protect its life and the adventure begins.

Once they hid in a church. Another time they bed with outlaws. Finally, and inevitably, they arrive in a bull arena. The horse is sold by some gypsies to a bull ring owner who uses the horse to challenge the charge of the bulls.

The little outlaw saves the horse again, however, and the two return to their original home. A color cartoon appearing with the "Littlest Outlaw" is "Johnny Appleseed." It is the story of the little man who walked for 40 years sowing apple seeds everywhere he went.

Both pictures are ideal for the children as all Disney pictures. And they should prove interesting and amusing to adults too. They will play at the Ritz starting Wednesday and playing through Saturday.

Italians Starred

Italian stars are featured in three pictures playing here this week.

Saturday night, Silvano Mangano is starred in "Lure of Sila" at the Jet Drive-in. This picture will play on a twin-bill with "David Crockett" starring George Montgomery.

Today and Monday, Eleanor Rossi Drago is starred in "The Barefoot Savage" at the State. Miss Mangano is also featured at the Ritz today in "Ulysses."

Frank Sinatra Stars In Film Of Narcotic Addiction

The movies have shown again and again the impact of the picture, though, that score. This is to the credit of Otto Priminger, who produced and directed. The ad call "The Man With The Golden Arm" an "unforgettable experience." This time they are quite right.—BW.

The latest demonstration is in the production, "The Man With The Golden Arm," due for a booking at the Ritz Theatre soon. It was previewed one night this week for a local group. The viewers came out of the theatre shaking heads, as if to break loose from a "spell" created by the sheer force of the picture.

"Golden Arm," as you may know, deals with the problem of narcotic addiction. Because the general category of narcotics is on the taboo list of the movie production code people, this picture hasn't been given the seal of approval. Regardless of the seal, have no fear that the "Golden Arm" upsets any moral code. It may be a bit strong for immature minds, and is recommended for adults, but in this opinion, is strong preachment against the whole sordid narcotics business.

Frank Sinatra is the star, in the role of a young man who, living on the border of a city's skid row, has fallen victim to the "fix" (a shot of narcotics). By profession, Frankie is a dealer in underworld poker games, and the pressures on his life have contributed (along with a weakness of character) to his downfall. He is sent to a federal house of correction, however, cured, and with the resolve to stay off the "fix." The story picks him up here, and relates his experiences as he tries to find "straight" work and to avoid his old habits and haunts. Circumstances pile up against him, and he is reduced to a craven creature needing his needle. The influences of a narcotics dealer, and the boss who needs an expert dealer for his poker game—plus those of a psychotic wife who is determined to hold on to Frankie regardless of price—are factors in the story that take it to the depths of human degradation.

There is a climax that might not be too realistic, but is necessary to give the story an uplift which it has to have.

Sinatra as the addict plays expertly, and has shown again, as he did in "From Here To Eternity" that he can put raw realism into a role of the downtrodden. Kim Novak as a girl habitue of the bars has a sympathetic part as the person who gives Frankie his one anchor to cling to. Eleanor Parker, as the wife, is due an Academy nomination for one of the best supporting roles (that of the wife with the perverted mind) seen in many a month.

Harlem Globetrotters

Dane Clark, Patricia Breslin, and the Harlem Globetrotters are starred in "Go Man Go" at the State starting Thursday. The picture is the story of the beginnings of the basketball team under Abe Saperstein.

Harlem Globetrotters Star In 'Go Man Go' At State

The story of Abe Saperstein and his winning Harlem Globetrotters will play at the State starting Thursday and playing through Saturday. The picture is "Go Man Go."

Dane Clark plays the part of the manager Saperstein. The Globetrotters play themselves. There are many scenes of the Globetrotters as they practice and play. The picture is built around the championship games with their amazing skill. The life of Saperstein with the emphasis on the work he did trying to get the Globetrotters in games with other leading teams. Patricia Breslin plays the bathing beauty that Saperstein met in Wisconsin and persuaded to marry him.

The Globetrotters will be playing in person here Wednesday evening at the high school gymnasium. Sy Oliver wrote the title tune, "Go Man Go" for this picture. Slim Gaillard sings the song in the film. The colorful antics of these basketball players makes it one of the better sport pictures of all-time.

Science Fiction Thriller

Patricia Laffan is starred as a visitor from another world in "Devil Girl From Mars" at the State Tuesday and Wednesday.

Twin Bills At Local Drive-Ins

Both local Drive-ins are still playing double features every night. Many of the pictures are new, having played first-run only a few weeks ago.

At the Jet, "Trial" will play tonight starring Glenn Ford in the leading role as a teacher of law who is forced to accept a case in court. The case is almost more than he can handle.

"Lady Godiva" starring Maureen O'Hara will play Tuesday and Wednesday at the Jet. Next will come "Sincerely Yours" with Liberace.
