It Didn't Stop

Friday's sandstorm, worst of the year for this section, whistled past signs and everything else in its path as winds up to about 50 miles an hour pushed West Texas and New Mexico dirt deep into Central Texas. Herald Photographer Keith McMillin recorded the scene above on the U.S. 80 freeway west of Stanton. Sand all but obscured the automobile at extreme right, which was less than 25 yards from the camera. Vehicles in the center of the picture are just across the north lane of the freeway. Headlights glowed, but failed to penetrate the dust.

Tail End Of Duster Blows Seaward, Leaves 3 Dead

By The Associated Press. Mexico and ships in the lower Gulf of Mexico Saturday night were suffering the tail end of the worst Southwestern dust storm of the season. The dust and severe wind took at least three lives. Right behind the dust came damaging winds in parts of central and east Texas. One observer said a tornado might have occurred. The major dust storm struck Friday, reducing visibility to zero at some places. Winds ranging up to 95 miles an hour blasted the dust along. The pall shifted course from its usual path to the southeast during Saturday and whipped directly south into the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

By midafternoon, it had passed into Mexico and the Gulf. Behind the cloud of choking dust, skies cleared and winds died. Temperatures which had soared ahead of the dust line dropped sharply behind it, and some freezing weather was expected by Sunday morning. Two prairie fires in the Texas south plains which raged out of control during the dust storm were extinguished when the wind died. At the height of the storm, volunteer firemen couldn't see the fire for the dust. "You could smell it, and you just followed your nose," said Doug Meador of the Matador Tribune. He helped fight one.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

For a long time we have thought that everyone ought to have a little of this wonderful land. Friday we began to think that God had the same idea, only He was exporting it a little more vigorously than we had in mind.

Besides the punishing weather, our area had its share of violence for the week. A week ago today Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hughs of Odessa died of shock and exposure after swimming to an island when their board capsized in Lake J. B. Thomas. Thursday a Lamesa man had to shoot his son, who had come home "crazy drunk" and threatened the entire family. Saturday a Lamesa man, Herman Curtis, 61, was found shot to death. And Saturday morning a Navy man, Alfred J. Rogers, was killed when he ran into a house that was being trucked along a highway near Gail.

On the brighter side, Stanolind No. 1 Stevenson cut capers when it tested the Strawn section. Besides yielding 55 barrels of high gravity oil (some sources said it was well above 60 gravity which is approaching Diesel grades) in five hours, it had such a great volume of gas that it popped a tank at (See THE WEEK, Pg. 4, Col. 4)

HEAVY DAMAGE Tornado Slashes Illinois, Kills 6

SUMMERFIELD, Ill., Feb. 25 (AP)—A death-dealing tornado ripped across a Southern Illinois county early today, leaving six dead, hundreds homeless and more than a million dollars worth of damage. This little town of 500 bore the brunt of the savage twister which struck when most persons were asleep.

Three of the dead and at least six of the dozen injured were counted here. About half the town's 106 buildings, residence and business, were either demolished or damaged. "It sounded like a terrible funnel which was going to suck you up," said Mrs. Arnold Beutler, a housewife living at the southwestern edge of Summerfield. She was awake caring for her sick husband. Millstadt, a small St. Clair County town along the Mississippi River just south of St. Louis, was the first town hit. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freese were killed in the rubble of their home there. Willard Holloway Jr., 4, was killed in the East St. Louis suburb of Centerville.

Victims in the hard-hit town of Summerfield were Darrel Butler, 16-year-old high school student; August Ganz, 64-year-old bartender; and Miss Elizabeth Krumley, 83. Mayor Eldon Loehring of Summerfield, dressed in coveralls and

5 Workers Die In Road Crash

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 25 (AP)—Five employees of the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant at Bethlehem, were killed today when their automobile crashed head-on with a truck on a road near here.

The victims were identified by State Police as: William A. Soduskas, Robert Yienst, Nicholas Copper, all of Mahony City; Peter Soper of McAdoo, and Walter Medialis of Keokuk. Police said all were killed instantly in the tragedy which occurred about 8:30 a.m. as the men were on their way home from working the night shift. Police said it took more than an hour to extricate the bodies from the twisted automobile.

The driver of the truck, owned by the Lehigh Farm Bureau Co-operative, was identified as Raymond E. Hausman of New Tripoli. He was slightly hurt. Police said the accident occurred on a two-lane stretch of highway about a mile north of Pleasant Corners, which is part of Jordan, a Lehigh County community of some 90 residents.

X-Rays May Clear Up Mystery Of Abandoned Boy

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Feb. 25 (AP)—Sheriff A. P. Garnett said today he expects mailed X-rays to prove that a boy apparently abandoned near here is 3 1/2-year-old Jimmy Trout of Marshall, Del.

Widespread efforts to identify him have continued ever since the youngster was found whimpering and cold outside a filling station on U.S. 66 Monday. He had bruises on his body and his nose appears to have been broken and badly set. Police looking for Carl and Sarah Trout, Jimmy's parents, have turned up nothing yet. Garnett said a warrant for felonious abandonment has been sworn out against the couple, he said.

City Approves Salary Raises For Employees

In their second called meeting of the week Friday night, city commissioners completed tentative salary scales for the city's 172 employees. Blanket five per cent raises were set for everyone except the police department personnel.

In addition, they raised the salaries of 24 monthly scaled workers and four hourly-paid employees. The proposed raises are in the budget being drawn up for the coming fiscal year beginning April 1. Following the study of the budget, the commission authorized Herbert Whitney, city manager to advertise for bids on two new police cars. The bids then will be opened at the commission's regular meeting March 13. Two 1955 Chevrolets will be traded in on the new autos.

The commissioners first looked at the proposed budget at a called session Tuesday night and at that time instructed Whitney to increase all salaries five per cent, make additional recommendations for raises, and submit the proposed report Friday night. The salaries submitted by Whitney were raised on only eight employees by the commission.

With six exceptions, salaries for the police department remained the same. Reason for this was the proposed changing from 10-hour to eight-hour workdays. Their present salaries would be carried over despite the shortening of hours.

Proposed raises in the department were for the chief, two captains and sergeants, and the clerk. The chief's salary was raised to $450, the captains to $350, and sergeants to $315. The clerk's salary was increased to $220 in line with other city clerks. The chief now receives $400, captains $220 and sergeants $220.

The fire chief's wage will match that of the police chief, and fire captains will draw $340. Lieutenants will receive $315. Other than the police and fire department, raises above the five per cent blanket up-grade went to the stenographer-receptionist, city secretary, assistant city secretary, tax assessor-collector, deputy collector, city engineer, two draftsman, plumbing and building inspectors, billing machine operator, city electrician, water and water distribution superintendents, and office manager. These raises total less than $1,000 per year.

Hourly paid employees drawing proposed raises include meter readers, park workers, and mechanics. The commission mentioned possibly raising all employees working per hour for less than $1 up to that figure but took no action.

Cotton Producers Finally Get Break

By JOE PICKLE

West Texas cotton producers, convinced they came out on the short end of the deal when the state ASC committee passed out cotton reserve allotments, have at last been rewarded with a favorable break. Friday in Lamesa a review committee, hearing a Dawson County acreage protest aimed squarely at the state ASC committee, upheld the protest. For the first time the government was confronted with the question which has plagued the West Texans: "What is the next step?"

There are many who believe that regulations—and the law—say that when a review committee changes acreage allotments for any cause, there is no appeal. The law does not indicate that such acreage comes from any pool or state quota—it is more or less pulled out of thin air. Government attorneys, clearly abashed when the review committee held that it did have jurisdiction to hear the protest, could not say what their next step would be. They hope to have word from Washington by Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the same thing could happen elsewhere. If protesting farmers in other counties can have their acreage made to conform to the state pattern, why not farmers who filed protests in Howard County? And if farmers who filed protests can get such relief, why not all farmers?

Until Friday review committees had upheld the federal government position that the acreage allotment

Wing Numbers May Be Raised To 45 Planes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Air Force may substantially increase the number of heavy, nuclear-armed bombers in each strategic wing to give them even greater striking power.

A proposal is under study to expand from 30 to 45 the number of bombers in a strategic Air Force wing as deliveries of the new all-jet B52 accumulate, it was learned today. Under this plan, the Strategic Air Force would have upwards of 160 more B52s even if no change is made in the present plan for 11 heavy bomber wings under the 137-wing Air Force program scheduled for attainment in mid-1957.

How fast the big long-range B52s are being turned out is a matter of controversy among critics of administration defense policy. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said yesterday it will be "a great many months to come" before the B52 production rate reaches as many as 17 a month. Air Force officials have said in recent months that while the 137-wing total unit strength now appears adequate, further expansion of the numbers of modern aircraft in the Soviet jet force might call for reconsideration of the program.

The present 137-wing program provides for 54 wings of Strategic Air Command planes. Included in this total are several jet fighter wings, assigned the mission of protecting SAC bases and escorting bombers on missions. The Air Force may reduce SAC's total strength by three fighter wings, but this would be offset by the increase of unit strength in the Tactical Air Command, which will increase from the present 24 to 41 wings under the program. This increase will be in day fighter planes, used for both defense and ground attack missions. Virtually all TAC combat aircraft are capable of carrying at least the smaller size atomic bombs.

There also has been talk, so far not officially expressed, that some of the B47 medium range jet bombers now in SAC could be used for tactical missions, to augment the light bombers and fighter-bombers.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air chief of staff, told a Senate Committee recently that the flexibility and range of the Tactical Air Force is being augmented by aerial refueling.

Dawson Farmer's Acreage Restored

LAMESA, Feb. 25 — A South Plains cotton allotment review committee took the West Texas cotton acreage problem by the horns here Friday.

It restored a Dawson County farmer's cotton acreage to its 1955 level, less three per cent which is the nationwide reduction in cotton acreage for 1956. The action may set the pattern for action by other West Texas acreage review committees. The upset of acreage allotted for this year by the state ASC committee left a Department of Agriculture attorney, Howard Rooney, looking for some recourse. He objected repeatedly to the committee's action.

The committee hiked the acreage on two farms, both operated by Ralph O. Gary of Route No. 2, O'Donnell. One one of Gary's farms, consisting of 290 acres of cropland, the state ASC committee had allocated 133.1 acres for cotton in 1956. The committee raised this to 144.4 acres, which is just three per cent above Gary's 1955 allotment of 144.4 acres.

On the other farm of 160 acres, Gary had been given a 72.5-acre cotton allotment for 1956. The committee raised this to 77.9 acres—three per cent above the 79.5-acre allotment of 1955.

Hearing on Gary's protest of his original 1956 allotments consumed most of Friday afternoon. Gary's case was supported by Austin Wilson, attorney for West Texas farmers who are seeking to upset the ASC allotment formula which they charge discriminates against West Texas cotton producers.

About 200 other protesters were on the calendar, but they were postponed until after March 1. Both Rooney and Wilson said that an effort will be made to "streamline" future hearings.

The Department of Agriculture has 90 days in which to appeal the action of the review committee, but apparently no provisions have been made for any such appeal. Members of the committee ruled on the Gary protest are Jim Bridges of Lamesa, W. T. Albright of Andrews County and Tom O. Hunt of Martin County. The group is to be in Seminole Monday where 30 protests are awaiting hearings. Set for hearings in Stanton Tuesday are 143 protests, while two cases are awaiting hearings in Garden City on Wednesday.

Borden Crash Kills Navy Man

Alfred Joseph Rogers, 30—3C, U.S.N., was killed instantly and his wife and two children were injured when he shattered a house on a highway Saturday morning.

The truck was being hauled on a truck by Reginald Owen Baker, Seminole. Baker, who also owned the truck, said that Rogers may have gone to sleep. Although he had cleared more than half the highway for the westbound car, Rogers' automobile seemed to steadily veer into the frame house. A winch truck had to be used to pull the wreckage apart so Rogers' body could be extricated. Mrs. Rogers and her two children, Dana Ray, 2, and Dwan Gail, 5-months, were rushed to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder. Their condition was not thought serious.

The mishap occurred about 11 miles east of Gail at 8 a.m. Investigating were State Highway Patrolmen Henry Crump and Ralph Ward of Lamesa, together with Sheriff Sid Reeder of Gail and Sheriff Homer Wishnand of Snyder.

W. L. Baker, Seminole, father of Reginald Baker, was with his son. Neither was hurt. Impact of the collision literally shattered the house, one of the five being moved from Snyder to Andrews for an oil company. The roof and one wall pitched into the road and blocked traffic temporarily. Wreckage—mostly kindling—was littered down the highway for about 300 feet, the distance it took Rogers car to stop.

Rogers had been stationed at San Diego, Calif., in a Navy base and was en route from Lakeland, Fla., where his parents and those of his wife reside. Her permanent address was 1017 S. New York St., Lakeland. Remains were at Bell Funeral Home in Snyder.

Lamesa Filling Station Attendant Shot To Death

LAMESA, Feb. 25—Herman L. Curtis, 61-year-old filling station attendant, became Lamesa's second shooting fatality in as many days when he was shot to death Friday evening.

He was found dead at 9:30 p.m. in the McGuire Service station where he is employed. He had been shot two times. The body was discovered by Elton Curtis, 17, his son, who went to the station to visit his father. He summoned an ambulance and the body was removed to Higginbotham Funeral Home. It was at the funeral home discovery was made that Curtis had died of gunshot wounds.

An autopsy was performed Friday night at the Lamesa General Hospital, and Jim Edwards, justice of the peace, said he is withholding verdict in the inquest until further investigation can be made into the shooting. No arrests have been made and

C-City Youth Dies In Hunting Mishap

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 25 — Jimmy Vest, 15, was killed instantly in a gun mishap a mile west of here about 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Young Vest, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Vest of Colorado City, and three companions had been on an all-day hunting expedition and had started home when the accident occurred. A 22-caliber rifle held by Ronald Wallace, also 15, discharged accidentally, sending a bullet into Jimmy's head.

Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rip Wallace of Colorado City, told District Attorney Eldon Mahon that the group had been sitting on the rim of a water-filled gravel pit near the Colorado River shooting turtles. Wallace said he had his gun cradled in his arms. When the boys rose to go home, he turned and the weapon discharged, he said. Vest, who was about four feet away, was hit under the right ear. He was killed instantly.

Secret Data Shows Allies Tricked By Russians In 1939

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Documents held secret 17 years disclosed today Soviet diplomats booby-trapped Britain and France despite "at least six" American warnings that Russia was dicker with Nazi Germany on a pact which helped touch off World War II.

This information was contained in a 1,709-page collection of letters, cables and statements—the great bulk of them hitherto secret—made public by the State Department in a volume concerning U.S. foreign relations in 1939. Documents dated two days before Hitler marched on Poland showed efforts to avoid fighting had reached such a dramatic point that Hitler was sending special messengers by secret planes in London "to get the personal English touch from inside men in the British government."

Plastic Diapers For Farm Ponds That Won't Hold Water

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Diapers for farm ponds?

Certainly. Plastic, at that.

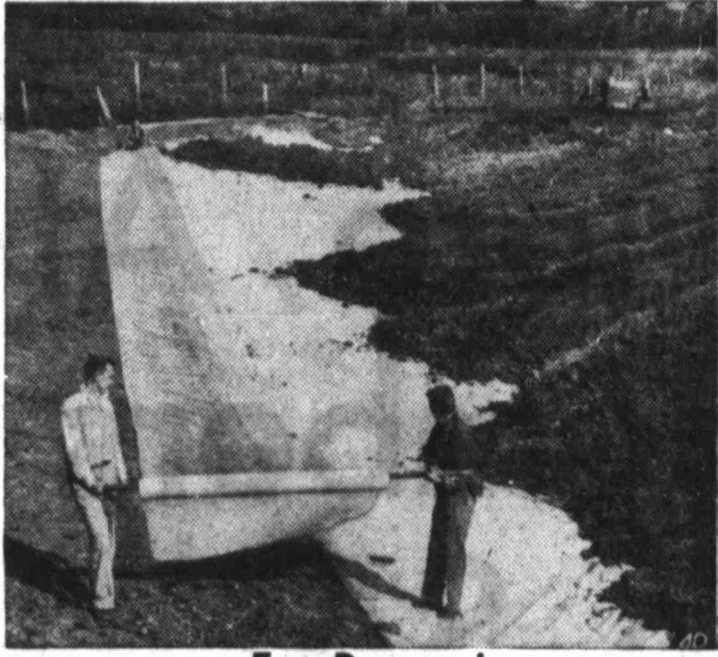

The man-made bottom, no thicker than a plastic raincoat, might solve the old problem of ponds that won't hold water.

A test demonstration of the only plastic-bottom pond in Kentucky is under way on the E. M. Emmert farm. Once the six-foot deep reservoir is filled, results can be checked by water level changes, explained Earl Welch, University of Kentucky agricultural engineer.

The idea developed from a plastic covering for greenhouses. The material kept water out of greenhouses and engineers figure it might keep it in ponds.

Loose dirt was removed and sheets of plastic (polyethylene) 6 1/2 inches wide and 12 feet wide placed on the pond floor, lapped a foot at the seams, and covered with eight inches of dirt.

The material costs about 2 1/2 cents a square foot and its life is estimated at 20 years. Welch says a cheaper plastic, only two-thirds as thick, might be satisfactory.

For Reservoir

Workmen lay plastic in the bottom of what will be a farm pond while a bulldozer moves dirt to cover it and hold it down.

IS HE MELLOWING?

Crusty Old Syngman Rhee Says Korea's In Good Shape

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 25 (AP)—The living conditions of 20 million South Koreans, so miserable only a short time ago, have greatly improved in the last 12 months and they have a bright new outlook, in the opinion of President Syngman Rhee.

This optimistic view, given in an interview, is a sudden change of attitude for the peppery 80-year-old President. Either things are better, or the crusty old patriot is mellowing.

Actually, there has been improvement. The United States has spent two billion dollars of its taxpayers' money in military and economic aid here in the last three years.

Most people living outside city limits say the sandstorm Friday was one of the worst in years. The wind didn't blow any harder than the one a week earlier, but a lot more soil was moving and it lasted longer.

Gib Madison of Lenora, who had to drive through it after dark, said it was the dustiest one he ever saw. A filling station owner in Lamesa said nearly every motorist stopping there reported more sand in the air than they had ever seen before.

I drove to Seagraves and back after 5 p.m. and don't ever remember driving conditions so hazardous. The worst blowing on that road was just north of Fairview and again a few miles this side of Lamesa. Ackerly as usual had lots of dust, but the sand wasn't so bad.

The fields blowing the worst were where strippers had been used. The plowed land wasn't so bad, but the maize land where feed had been cut short blew just as bad as the cotton patches. Over in Gaines County, which is one of the sandiest in Texas, the fields fared much better, because most of the land has been deep-broken. Some of the fields between here and Lamesa must have lost a half inch of topsoil.

Oscar Fanning, manager of the Basin Growers Association at Stanton, probably knows as much about Mexican Nationals as any man in this area. Fanning spent three years in Mexico working with the Hoof and Mouth Commission and in the labor processing centers. He not only speaks the language fluently but understands the Mexican people.

He said one of the worst mistakes a farmer makes with brucellosis is threatening to send them back to Mexico. To them Mexico is a wonderful country. It is their homeland, and they are fiercely loyal to it. When a farmer speaks disparagingly of the country as if it were a punishment to send them back, they don't like it and usually take the farmer up on the proposition.

Fanning believes a little understanding would go a long way in keeping the workers satisfied while they are up here.

Douglas Jones of Big Spring is planning to try some of the 1517BR Acala cotton on his irrigation farm near Brownfield. Jones did all right with Lankard this past year. He made around two bales per acre, which was a lot more than the county average.

He intends to plant 200 to 300 pounds of the long staple seed for a trial, if they are available.

New tractors are moving out so slowly that it's a red letter day when a dealer sells one. One Big Spring dealer said business was almost at a standstill.

"Farmers don't have anything to buy with," he said, "and they won't be buying until a good rain comes."

Another dealer said he was doing some repair work, but no many farmers were waiting to get it done. He said if a big rain comes, the shop will be so swamped that customers might have to wait awhile to get their tractors fixed up.

And speaking of hard times, a country grocer has quit stocking ten-cent cigars. He says farmers will still pay six cents for one but not a dime.

I just hope the dealers keep selling the six-cent kind. I've smoked from two to four of these stogies a day for the last few years, and noted with some satisfaction that while lettuce and butter and so on went up, the six-cent cigar stayed the same.

Perhaps they're a bit smaller

Two women were talking in a country store yesterday about the sandstorm. The young one, barely in her twenties, said she had to go over the floor and furniture three times to get all the dust.

"Stuck, honey," said the older woman. "When you've kept house in this country 25 years like I have, you'll just give it a lick and a promise. What I don't get the first time over, the family just rubs off."

The Basin Growers Association at Stanton has received official notice that the contracting fee for Mexican Nationals has been raised from $3 to $5 per man, and the recontracting fee from $1 to $3.

At one time the fee was $15, but a surplus of money was built up and the price kept dropping until it reached the $3 charged last year.

This money is used to pay for the feeding and care of Mexican Nationals at the processing centers in Mexico. The money is collected by the United States government.

Several people around Stanton said the government inspector probably drove across this area from Lamesa to Midland, made the inspection through a dirty windshield and wrote to his superior officers that Martin County ranchers were in fine shape.

Hanson says the dollar a hundred saving on grain and 10 to 15 dollars a ton on hay would be a big help, as most ranchers are feeding heavily.

At one time the fee was $15, but a surplus of money was built up and the price kept dropping until it reached the $3 charged last year.

Bus-Boycotting Negroes Ignore Legal Reprisals

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 25 (AP)—A historic week of racial unrest in the cradle of the Confederacy found bus-boycotting Negroes undismayed today despite the onset of legal reprisals.

But there was still an atmosphere of tension which led an investigating grand jury to warn of violence unless race relations in Montgomery take a more favorable course.

White and Negro leaders alike have appealed to both races to scorn the use of force and seek instead a law-abiding, peaceful settlement of their differences.

Negro ministers, 24 of their own number charged with violating the state's antiboycott law, answered the mass of grand jury indictments with prayers for "Those who hate us" and with urgent pleas for a continuing campaign of "passive resistance" without violence.

The protest brought promise of support from Negro leaders elsewhere in the United States. A group of clergymen in New York called for a nationwide one-hour stoppage of all Negroes March 28.

A spokesman said there might be a Negro congressman, asked for "White House" protection for the Montgomery Negroes and denounced the grand jury prosecution as a "new low in American barbarism."

The grand jury, which called the 11-week-old protest against segregated facilities on Montgomery City Lines buses an illegal boycott, returned indictments against 100 Negroes last Tuesday.

In each indictment, the bus boycott leaders and participants were charged with violating a 35-year-old law originally enacted as a break on labor disturbances and rarely if ever used before.

The maximum penalty for each defendant is six months in jail and a $1,000 fine. The trials will start March 19.

Until then, Negro leaders have vowed to carry on the bus protest as though no legal action had been taken, because, as the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy said, "Our actions have not been found to be illegal as of this day. The courts will decide that." Abernathy is one of the 24 Negro clergymen indicted.

"Nothing has changed" in the boycott, Abernathy declared, meaning the Negroes will continue to find other means of transportation and motor pools will operate as they have since the protest began last Dec. 5. Some of the car pool drivers were among those indicted.

Teachers To Get Airplane Rides

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—When a survey showed that 70 per cent of New York City's teachers had never flown in an airplane, the Air Force decided to do something about it. Starting next week, a group of teachers will get a special course in aviation, including rides in military planes. It is hoped they'll then have the answers when air-minded pupils pestler them with questions about aviation.

'Positive' Rejection Of Russian Peace Pact Proposal Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are expected to dispatch next week a new "positive" rejection of Soviet Premier Bulganin's persistent proposal for a British-American friendship treaty.

Diplomatic officials speculated that one way to handle the Bulganin offer would be to make a counterproposal of a treaty acceptable to the United States, Britain and France. But they have had trouble finding a formula which would do this within the requirements of American policy.

Various drafts have been worked out in the State Department for consideration by Eisenhower and Dulles. Dulles is understood to have come back from his Bahamas vacation with some ideas of the line to take.

Eisenhower returned to Washington today for the first time in 10 days. There is a deadline on their action on the Bulganin proposal which the Soviet Premier renewed most recently Feb. 1, because Dulles leaves Friday for a month-long tour of Asia and the Far East.

A "positive" reply instead of another more or less bald rejection of the Bulganin proposition is considered important by diplomatic officials. They feel there is a need to take the propaganda and political initiative away from Russia.

Even many of the experts of his own State Department do not appear to share the full degree of optimism about Western strength in the cold war which Dulles indicated to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday.

It seems likely that Dulles will find himself in increasing controversy on his estimate of the situation, perhaps with some of his own words and actions of the past employed in argument against him.

Observers wondered today whether he may not have been reacting to critical, election-year questions from Democrats when he emphasized one side of the story of Soviet-American cold war conflict, almost to the exclusion of the other side, which he has also emphasized in the past.

Dulles told the committee that the Soviet Union is changing its policies at "this minute in Moscow" because the intolerance and violence employed in Stalin's day "have failed." He said the Russians had made "very little progress" with their new emphasis on peace and cooperation with the rest of the world and their soft-pedaling of tough talk and threats.

Dulles has spoken in similarly hopeful vein about the success of the Western policies of unity and strength before but has normally balanced his comments with warnings of what these changes mean for the future.

In Chicago in December Dulles said the Soviet rulers, having been "balked" in their efforts to expand by force in Western Europe, had switched to underdeveloped countries of the world as "targets of their guile."

"We need not become panicky because Soviet communism now disports itself in this new garb," he said. "However, the coming years pose a challenge to our nation and its people. A grudging response will not be enough." He called not only for a revised U.S. foreign aid program but also for a revival of the "crusading spirit of our past."

At a news conference last Jan. 11 Dulles put out with his endorsement a statement from the United States delegation to the United Nations. It called on the nation to "wake up" to the dangers of the "bitterly competitive struggle now opening up with the Soviet Union."

"STEVENS' HEDGE" SEPARATES THE SAND FROM THE WIND
Tumbleweeds make up a fence to catch sand before it drifts into rock ballast of track

Tumbleweed Fence Keeps Sand Off T&P Roadbed

By JOE PICKLE
A. C. LaCroix almost had apoplexy when he came across the waybill for a car load of tumbleweeds.

Mr. LaCroix is division superintendent for the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, and tumbleweeds had always rated high on the T&P's list of nuisances.

Section crews pick them off the right-of-way fences and stuff them inside the parallel fences until they have a hedge made of tumbleweeds.

Friday—with its earth-moving quality—was such a day as fitting of the Stevens hedge. In simplest terms, it stops the sand—at least long enough to keep it from piling up against the rock ballast of the track.

"Next we hit upon a 'glasscraft' fence," he said. This was a paper-like material made of glass fibre.

Appeals Court Affirms Verdict In Malone & Hogan Tax Case

The Court of Civil Appeals has upheld a judgment of 118th District Court denying tax exemption to the Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital Foundation.

508.64 in taxes for 1952 and $1,389.52 for 1953. The school district claims $2,040.55 for 1952 and $1,882.92 for 1953.

versus O. D. O'Daniel and others. The appeals court earlier reversed a declaratory judgment of 118th District Court, which held that the royalty concern held no interest in mineral rights on land owned by O'Daniel.

Flood-Ravaged City Has Late Christmas

YUBA CITY, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Wind-lashed rain pelted battered Yuba City again today but the hearts of the people were warm. Christmas finally had come for the children who were cheated of its warmth and cheer by ram-paging December floods.

Two months ago, on Christmas Eve, the levee at Shanghai Bend broke under the mammoth pressure of the surging Feather River. Water poured through the silent and deserted streets to a depth of four feet, homes were twisted and torn from their foundations, families were separated—and 39 persons were drowned.

Today Santa Claus paid a delayed visit to 15,000 children from the Yuba City area—just as most of them had known all along he would.

Two months ago the only sound in the city was a loud "whoosh" as the river waters raced unchecked. Today the dominant sound was shrieks of joy as the children unwrapped their presents and hugged their dolls, their toy trains and their teddy bears.

It was a memorable day. Festivities started with a parade led by military bands. Then came trucks heavily burdened with toys and other presents. They were followed by the Mouseketeers of Disneyland and finally old Santa Claus himself—a wet and shivering Santa Claus to be sure, but one of the happiest days you ever saw.

Because of the weather, which seemed to be doing its best to wash out this "Christmas" too, the festivities were moved indoors to the high school gym.

There Santa Claus distributed tons of presents, which came from all over the country—from Lions clubs throughout California, from the listeners of radio station WMTR in Newark, N. J., from Seattle, Chicago, Vancouver, B. C., New York City.

It seemed like real Christmas for 6-year-old Judy Westcott. "Santa Claus just didn't know where to find us when he left the North Pole," she explained. "After all, he couldn't spend all night just looking for us. Did you ever stop to think of that?"

Rev. Conley Evans, pastor of the Belmont Baptist Church in Odessa, is to preach at revival services to be held at 7:30 p.m. each day this week at the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church. Dean Simpson will be in charge of music. Rev. Ed Welsh, pastor, opens the revival today and Evans will begin his sermons Monday.

Other workers needed at Webb include painters, electrical installation and n d repairmen, simulated flight trainer repairmen, ware-hausemen, sheet metal workers, welders, parachute packers, aircraft instrument mechanics, jet engine mechanics, aircraft repairmen, and junior aircraft mechanics.

Many of these positions pay more than $2 per hour. In the classified field, Webb has openings for clerks and clerk-typists, property and supply clerks, civil engineers, fire-fighters, recreation leaders, nurses, and radio technicians. Salaries for these jobs range from $2,990 to $5,440.

Persons interested in these positions are asked to contact the Civilian Personnel Officer at Webb.

Four boys who have been disrupting T&P Railway Company communications for the past week and a half were in juvenile jail Saturday night.

They are accused of stealing copper wire from communication lines along the T&P right-of-way. Sheriff Jess Slaughter said about 800 feet of the wire has been chopped out of the lines in the past 10 days.

Also taken into custody were two adults who Slaughter said will be charged with receiving and concealing stolen goods. The sheriff said the pair, who operate a junk yard, have been buying the wire for about 10 cents a pound.

Slaughter, Deputies Floyd Moore and Rufus Davidson, T&P Agents A. G. Mitchell and Leo Hull, and Juvenile Officer A. E. Long surrounded the boys on a hillside west of town Saturday afternoon, about 15 minutes after dispatchers noticed that another telephone line had been cut. One of the youths was rolling up a length of the wire. The juveniles led officers to the two adults they said had been buying the wire.

Jimmy Thomas, 35, Dies In New York
Final rites were conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday in Athol, Mass., for Jimmy Thomas, 35, husband of the former Dorothy Stump of Big Spring.

Mrs. Thomas died Tuesday in Beacons, N. Y., where the couple lived. Services were held Friday in Beacons. He also is survived by two brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Seven more boys got on the line for a lot of excitement and fun when they entered the Soap Box Derby Saturday afternoon. Many more inquired and some of them wanted to know when the deadline for entries would fall. Loyd Wooten of Tidwell Chevrolet, said that this wouldn't be far off. He urged others who plan to get into the annual event to sign up next Saturday if at all possible.

Latest entries are Ronnie Hamby, 1614 Eleventh Place; Willie Robinson, 705 Ayford; Edward McRae, 1509 E. 17th; Butch Kinal, Route 1, (Midway); S. M. P. Robertson, 909 Lancaster; Robert Prichard, 1102 E. 8th; and Ronnie Goforth, 1207 Main.

The Derby is open to boys 11-15 who want to build a coaster type car and race it in the local eliminations next summer. The winner will get a free trip to the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio.

Cabot Honors Employees For Safe Records

Honorees At Cabot Safety Dinner
The company. They are, left to right, W. B. Burch, R. A. Gibbs, Oscar Cagle, Luther Meek, Leon White, Frank Bordefske, H. C. Blackshear, J. H. Pollard, M. B. Turner and Davenport.

Cabot Carbon honored 31 employees of the Big Spring plant Saturday night with a dinner at the Settles Hotel. The 31 completed either five or 10 years with the company without losing any time from injuries.

Nine of the 31 received plaques for 10 years of injury-free service, and the remainder received like awards for five years of safe work. In Big Spring for the dinner from the southwestern division headquarters in Pampa were Don Conley, safety and insurance director; Bert Arney, assistant to Conley; Jay Meador, safety engineer; W. S. Dixon, district superintendent; and N. D. Steele, assistant general production superintendent.

Steele and Dixon made short talks commending the men for their safe records. Dixon and Conley presented the men with their plaques.

Cabot's plant here has been one year today without a disabling injury and during that time, the employees have worked over 180,000 hours.

Receiving 10-year awards were W. B. Burch, F. A. Gibbs, Oscar Cagle, Luther Meek, Leon White, Frank Bordefske, H. C. Blackshear, J. H. Pollard and M. B. Turner.

Wrecks Keep Police Busy

After only two accidents Thursday, the city recorded five mishaps during the course of activity Friday and three more Saturday.

William H. Calaway, 310 Donley—driving a Dodge pickup belonging to Western Ice—and Donald Joe Robertson of 210 Wright were in collision Friday morning in the 300 block of Johnson. Robertson was driving a 1949 Ford pickup.

An accident at Eleventh Place and Austin during the noon hour Friday involved Bennie Joe Bilsard, Rt. 2, and Jesse Marcus Bailey Jr., 2119 Main. Bilsard was driving a '54 Mercury.

Billy Harkrider was driving a Ford tractor involved in an accident at Birdwell and Purdue. The tractor hit a parked car at the corner. The car, a 1950 Ford, was owned by Harvey Coffman, 1400 Scurry.

At the corner of Fourth and Scurry, Billy Bob Smith, 1600 Canary, and Walter Bruce Moore, 109 Jefferson were in collision. Smith was driving a 1951 Ford and Moore was driving a '54 Mercury.

In collision at Fifth and Main Streets Friday night were Alvin Eugene Nabors of 606 State—driving a 1951 Buick—and Charles Oscar Denton of Webb AFB. Denton was driving a 1953 Ford.

Three accidents were reported Saturday. Cecil Wesley Cooper of Bellmead and William D. Murphy of 901 Aylford were involved in a collision at the Fourth and Aylford corner. Cooper was in a 1953 Mack truck and Murphy in a 1953 Pontiac.

Phil Gore, H.C.J.C., and Janet Hogan, 509 Westover were in collision at the high school Saturday afternoon. Gore was driving a 1955 Dodge.

Involved in a minor mishap in the 300 block of East Third were Louis Gooden, Webb AFB, and Floyd L. Blagrave, Ackerly. Gooden was driving a 1951 Plymouth and Blagrave a '53 Oldsmobile. Damage was estimated at $15.

Symington Heads Air Force Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), former secretary of the Air Force and a sharp critic of administration defense policies, was named today to direct a special Senate investigation of Air Force capabilities.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee named as other members of the subcommittee Sens. Jackson (D-Wash.), Ervin (D-NC), Saltonstall (R-Mass.) and Duff (R-Pa.). Jackson also has been outspoken in criticism of the administration's air-transport program.

Russell, who himself has called for more money for planes and missiles, said the subcommittee will "examine into the condition and progress of the Department of the Air Force to ascertain if present policies, legislative authority, and appropriations are adequate to maintain a force capable of carrying out its assigned missions."

He declined to amplify that announcement. Symington, in Raleigh, N.C., for a Jefferson-Jackson Day speech, said a news conference there with Eisenhower administration "is putting out partial truths" about the nation's missile program. He did not comment directly on the upcoming investigation.

Symington, in his prepared speech at Raleigh said, "This administration is now withholding the facts about our danger from the American people."

He said the administration is "reducing our Navy over 300 million dollars, our Army over 200 million dollars, our Air Force over 450 million dollars, and even our research and development many millions of dollars."

The senator said the U.S. Air Force may now be "second best" to Soviet Russia and added, "If present policies continue, we are certain to have it tomorrow."

Symington said "many hundreds" of new long-range jet B-52 bombers "should be produced at the earliest possible date although present production is 'but a tiny trickle.'"

He urged that President Eisenhower tell the nation how many bombers are being made, how these compare with Communist strength and production. "There has never been a secret government that was free, or a free government that was secret," he said.

Jackson, only member of the new group who was available to newsmen here, said that Trevor Gardner was certain to be an early witness. Gardner resigned as assistant secretary of the Air Force in charge of research and development early this month in a top-level difference with Defense Department leaders over his proposal for rushing production of missiles and jet aircraft at a faster pace. He has been conferring recently with senators.

Club Animals To Go To Houston

Howard County 4-H Clubbers will exhibit four calves and one lamb in the Houston Fat Stock Show this week. Judging is scheduled Wednesday.

To be exhibited from Big Spring are steers owned by Wanda Boatler, Joyce Robinson and Patricia and Jerry Iden. Miss Boatler will show two animals and the Iden youngsters are partners with one calf. The lamb will be shown by Robert Lomax.

The Houston auction will be held Friday, with the top 35 steers and 40 lambs to go through the ring. The Howard club sold three steers at the Abilene auction Friday. They were owned by Del Roy Buchanan, Miss Boatler and Miss Robinson.

Following the Houston show, the Howard club will participate in the Houston Fat Stock Show, and will then return home for the annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show on March 13-14-15.

Interest Shown In Caged Hens

STANTON, Feb. 25 (SC) — At a meeting Thursday night, several farmers said they were interested in building poultry houses and producing caged-hens. About 20 farmers from Martin and Howard counties gathered in Stanton to hear poultry experts outline the caged-hen program.

A steady market has already been assured, according to C. J. Chapman, local feed dealer, who called the meeting. He said at least three markets were available. Two are egg dealers in other towns and the third is a big chain grocery company.

Chapman thinks that several houses may be started soon. He says the type house to be used is a little different from the ones usually found in West Texas. These houses will be 110 feet long and 27 feet wide. The hens will be put two in a cage, and 570 cages used, making a total of 1,140 hens to each house.

This type of house can be built much cheaper than the bigger houses in this area, but will hold almost as many hens because of the way they are built.

He says an association will be formed among producers, and all eggs will be brought to a central location where they are graded and put into cartons.

One Car Found, Another Stolen

One car was found and one was taken Saturday, but the one found was not the one taken.

Saturday morning, a 1953 Plymouth was reported abandoned at 611 E. 13th. And Saturday night, David Gomez called the city police that his '51 Ford convertible had been stolen.

Neither the missing owner nor the missing convertible had been located late Saturday night.

Signs Damaged In Friday Windstorm

Two business establishments here felt effects of the high wind and dust Friday, financially as well as physically.

They had noon signs blown down by the stiff winds.

Part of the Safeway grocery sign on Gregg was blown down Friday afternoon, and then Friday night, Brown's Cleaners on W. Hwy. 80 reported part of their sign was knocked down.

Damage to Brown's sign was estimated at between $50 and $75.

Resistance Urged To Integration Ruling

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) called today for "massive resistance" in the South to challenge the Supreme Court's order for racial integration in the public schools.

Byrd made it clear in an interview he is not advocating or condoning violence in opposing enforcement of the order, but said he wants Southern states to stick together in declaring the court's opinion unconstitutional.

"If we can organize the Southern states for massive resistance to this order I think that in time the rest of the country will realize that racial integration is not going to be accepted in the South," he said.

"Interposition, the South has a perfectly legal means of appeal from the Supreme Court's order."

Interposition is a doctrine under which some students of constitutional government have contended the states could refuse to implement within their own confines a Supreme Court decision they felt did not comply with the Constitution. Legislatures of some of the Southern states already have passed resolutions of this type.

Big Springers Win Debates In Tech Tournament

J. T. Baird and Gary Tidwell, Big Spring High School debaters, won four premiers and a superior rating Saturday at the Tech speech and debate tournament.

The duo was undefeated. Tom Guin and Rodney Sheppard of Big Spring won three of the four debates in which they were entered, as did Nita Jones and Priscilla Pond, another ESSHS team. Wesley Grigg and Dennis Jones, the other Big Spring team, won one match while losing three.

Marilyn Morris of Big Spring placed third in girls' declamation. She was one of Texas schools represented in the tournament.

$1,000 Bond Set In Felony DWI Case

Rudolph Rodriguez is being held in the county jail, under $1,000 bond, charged with drunken driving, second offense.

John Dowling, charged with threatening to kill, was fined $50 and costs for a total of $78.50. He is also still in jail.

THE WEEK

most like a balloon. If other wells in the area can tap this same strata, the Big Spring Fusselman field will be something indeed.

Big Spring people who pay fire insurance premiums will save an extra five per cent. Mark Wentz, fire insurance commissioner and a former Big Spring, announced last week that our credit, effective April 1, would go from 10 to 15 per cent.

The long, hard and often discouraging fight against the state ASC's distribution of the reserve cotton acreage (which cut West Texas while raising East and Central Texas) may be getting some where. Friday a review committee upheld a protest at Lamesa.

This year, I fully expect that even the number of kite kills will be reduced because it seems that every year, boys and girls listen more carefully to warnings and cooperate better in making kite flying safe.

Few "desirable" dwellings are listed in the for-rent files at the C.C. office. Most of these are in the small-apartment category.

The March of Dimes campaign keeps reflecting steady increase. Last week the total had climbed to more than $10,700. That's close enough to the $12,000 goal that some more mail contributions would write success to the effort.

Speaking of organizations, the Alcoholics Anonymous is having an open house affair at the AA home in the 600 block of Settles Street at 2:30 p.m. today. Several members will be celebrating their ninth "birthday" of sobriety. The AA has done and is doing a mighty fine piece of work here.

Chongo Nunez got his life sentence for possession of marijuana reduced to 25 years last week. Officials thought the life sentence was too stiff for a possession case. The defendant might have been billed under the habitual criminal act—and then the sentence would have fit.

School trustees had a long session last week to look at some of the physical property demands upon the district. They could see need for 30 elementary classrooms besides those in sight now; they put provision of more junior high space on the must list. City commissioners had their problems, too, for they were pondering a five per cent increase in the general wage scale . . . something that is certainly needed, but which also puts the question of raising an additional $29,000 per annum.

Real Estate Moves Into South Texas

WESLACO, Feb. 25 (AP)—A rare phenomenon for the I-35 Rio Grande Valley appeared in South Texas skies today — a full-blown West Texas dust storm.

As far as the Valley was concerned, the storm was 600 to 800 miles off course.

Coahoma School Has Busy Week

By MYRNA THOMAS
COAHOMA — This has been a busy week for Coahoma High School. Teachers have been giving tests to the FFA boys before they left for the stock show in Abilene. Also there was the hustle and bustle of rehearsals for the Miss Coahoma High School contest held last night.

Candidates for the most beautiful girl title were Annette Porter, Sadie Nixon, Brenda Hill and Dolores Lindley, freshmen; Jeannie Bobo, Jo Dell Shelburne, Leta Smith and Mary J. Turner, sophomores; Sue Garrett, Billie Nell, Patty Francis and her twin, Peggy Francis, juniors; Martha Camp, Joyce Hill, Natha McMinn and Darla Woodson.

Monday afternoon an assembly was held in the auditorium where an excellent dance team entertained.

A surprise birthday party for Leta Smith was given recently in the home of Myrna Thomas. Attending were Hugh Covert, Leta Smith, Bobby Myrick, Joe Dell Shelburne, David Stoker, Dolores Lindley, Joe Hill, Martha Camp, Lonnie Anderson, Brenda Aberegg, Gene White, Doris Earnest, Larry Greenfield, Wanda Anderson, Ralph Wilkerson, Lefty Lewis and the hostess.

Biddie Dodds also had a party at her home with guests including Gene Hair, Joan Butler, Ralph Wilkerson, Shirley Lee, Art Dodds, Don White, Don Mills, Linda Johnson, Sonny Johnston, Drucilla Curright.

A talent show has been scheduled for next Friday at the high school auditorium. There will be a variety of talent on parade, including some soloists from the band.

Future Homemakers of America are journeying to Odessa for a district meet on Friday. Several will attend from here.

On that same day, the Coahoma High School band will go to Snyder for a contest, playing a march and an overture for rating.

The band, incidentally, is to present a brief concert Tuesday for the junior high school.

DAV Auxiliary To Be Organized

Formation of an auxiliary to Chapter No. 47 of Disabled American Veterans will be undertaken here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Norma Beeson, Texas Department commander for the DAV auxiliaries, will be on hand to assist with organization of the affiliate to the Big Spring DAV chapter. She will be assisted by Mrs. Raymond A. Rapsand, Region No. 1 commander; Mrs. William Gumpert, regional adjutant; and Mrs. Gus Ludwig, treasurer of the El Paso DAV auxiliary.

Wives, mothers, daughters, grandmothers or granddaughters of any man disabled or wounded in the armed forces are eligible to become members of the auxiliary. In addition, any Gold Star relative or any woman eligible for DAV membership may join the auxiliary.

The state and regional DAVA officials will explain the purposes of the auxiliary, including volunteer work in hospitals, child welfare and youth activities, and Americanism programs.

Residents of the area interested in becoming charter members of the Big Spring DAVA should contact James Horton, Phone 4-4145, prior to Tuesday night. The organizational meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Settles.

KBST-TV Starts 'Live' Telecasting

Another chapter in Big Spring's brief television history is being written today as the local Channel 4 station inaugurates "live" programming of the CBS network.

Manager Jack Wallace of KBST-TV said the station's first live presentation will be the popular Ed Sullivan show, at 7 o'clock this evening. Other major CBS presentations will be included on the station's log each day.

Channel 4 is taking its network service by means of microwave relay from national cable outlets. The relay system has been installed by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., on a lease service to the station. AT&T engineers have been running test pictures this past week, and were making final adjustments Saturday.

In addition to a sustained fare of network shows, KBST-TV has scheduled some features that become available because of the microwave connection. Wallace said. He cited the Democratic and Republican conventions this summer; the "Game of the Week" baseball program each Saturday beginning April 7; and a special rehearsal show of Ringling Brothers Circus, which will be presented from Madison Square Garden, New York, at 6:30 p.m. April 3, the eve of the circus' seasonal premiere in New York.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Citizen Sees Need For South Bypass

Dear Sirs: Thank you for commenting on the need for a southeast bypass roadway around the city. That has been needed for a long time and should be completed as soon as possible.

There are several reasons this needs to be rushed to completion. One is the need to route traffic from the Monticello area to Webb AFB in a way to speed the movement of cars and by eliminating much turning and traffic congestion, as well as traffic lights. Second and even more important, there needs to be some relief to the traffic problem in front of schools—Washington Place, High School, Junior High and the Junior College. Then there are the churches caught in all that traffic—Church of Christ, Temple Baptist, Trinity Baptist, St. Paul Presbyterian, College Baptist.

A bypass road without too much turning and traffic lights would eliminate a lot of the above mentioned problems. Several things already have been done to further this road. The County Commissioners, and in particular Red Gilliam, have done what they can in extending Birdwell Lane south to a point that would be 25th Street. I have donated 100 feet of right-of-way on that 25th Street across my land as far as it goes and have had the street opened and paid the cost myself. Part of the 25th street is open now on west of my place at Birdwell Lane. What needs to be done is to complete this road or street. It would connect Birdwell with Farm Road 700 around Scenic Drive. It should be extended on east and curved into U. S. 89 also. Connecting of Birdwell Lane and 25th already is a fact.

There is further development in this direction, but really it just can't come too soon. I appreciate all you had to say about it.

Sincerely,
James B. Frazier

CURTIS DRIVER

Driver Asks Re-Election To City Commission

Announcement that he is submitting his name for re-election to the Big Spring City Commission was made Saturday by Curtis Driver, long-time resident of the city and operator of an implement concern.

Driver, who has served one term, said he will file officially with the city secretary.

Driver said, "If my fellow citizens of Big Spring feel that I have accomplished some good on the Commission this past two years, and they want me to continue in office, then I am willing to put my name on the ticket."

"Whatever I have contributed toward the city's welfare shows in the record. Perhaps we have not done all the things we should have done, but we have made conscientious effort. I will continue to put this conscientious effort into every task that comes before the Commission. We have some large programs under way, and if I can be of help in bringing these to completion, then I want to offer that help."

Driver has been a Big Springer since 1922, finished school here, and has had several business associations in the city. He was with the T&P Railway Company for four years, and after attending the University of Texas, was assistant city secretary for three years. He later operated his own accounting firm. After service in World War II, he entered the truck business, and in 1950 established the Driver Truck & Implement Company.

Driver has been active in civic affairs as a Rotarian, Chamber of Commerce director, a leader in the Rodeo Association, and a worker in the Boy Scout and Cub Scout programs. He and his wife and two sons reside at 804 Birdwell.

Damage Heavy In Friday Sandstorm

By SAM BLACKBURN
Friday's duster with peak winds up to 48 miles per hour was as damaging to soils in this area as are similar storms with 70-mile-per-hour winds in the Plains area, according to Marion Everhart, soil conservationist here.

"I have not had opportunity to make a survey but it is obvious that the sandstorm yesterday did heavy damage to most of the cotton land," Everhart said. "I estimate that peak of the winds were around 48 miles an hour and anytime we have that sort of wind with drought conditions as they are, the land is heavily damaged."

Everhart said that heavy driftage of loose soil particles poses a second problem to the county and State Highway Department in that borrow ditches trap the sand.

Too little preparatory work has been done on lands which could have been protected somewhat against the sand erosion, Everhart pointed out.

"There are three principal types of land in this county," he explained. "We classify them as tight land, sandy land and mixed land. On the sandy land, in dry times, nothing can be done which will be very effective in protecting them from wind."

"A great deal of good can be done on the tight lands, however. Farmers should go into the fields and apply chiseling. It should have been done before this, of course, but future damage can be lessened, if steps are taken now."

I suggest that the entire field be broken up into sizable clods. Tight land resists deeply clod up and these resist erosion and block driftage of the loose soil.

"Mixed land also responds to chiseling to some degree. The benefits are adequate to the effort.

"We might as well prepare for more of the same sort of conditions we have already experienced. There is no relief without moisture and there is no immediate promise of such relief," he said.

"As to the loose sandy lands, we are pressing farmers to get them under cover crops as soon as possible and save them until such time as normal operations can be resumed."

"We suggest that such lands be planted in red cane in May. When the cane is ripened, it should not be harvested but allowed to fall over and cover the ground. This is one protection. Grassing should follow—the grass seeds being planted in the cane," Everhart recommended.

What in the area which has come up and showed some revival after the January snows is taking a bad beating from the winds and Everhart said that in the majority of instances, there is no hope for its survival.

Farmers, he said, had better go into the fields and chisel them as a protection against further wind damage.

This will probably get worse before it gets better, he warned.

Cow Price Drop Said Not Felt By Consumers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Earl Butz, assistant secretary of agriculture, told Congress today that recent declines in cattle prices haven't been "fully reflected" in prices which consumers pay for beef.

Butz testified before a House Agriculture subcommittee checking the cattle situation.

The increased spread between prices "has resulted in wider margins for processors and distributors," Butz said. "Marketing margins for beef alone have been growing wider since 1950."

The department recognizes that there are fluctuations in margin, Butz said, but he added that "a widening of margins such as that which has taken place since 1950 is a clear indication of a more permanent upward trend in the cost of marketing beef, which is a cause for concern on the part of beef producers and consumers."

Butz said the meat industry has no alternative but to add rising marketing costs to the price of meat.

"Nevertheless," he said, "there is an indication of a gradual widening of profits and margins in packing and distributing beef that causes producers to raise justifiable complaints of having to bear more than the full force of the price decline on beef sold to consumers."

Butz said the cattle industry faces a serious problem in marketing heavyweights, well finished cattle, due to a combination of factors.

Cattle feeders held animals off the market last year because of lower prices; meantime hog marketings increased.

As a result a record number of cattle were on feed Jan. 1. Many had been fed longer than usual and they are correspondingly heavier.

Production of beef this year has been 11 per cent above a year ago with an unusual proportion of the total beef produced being in the highest grades, Butz said.

He said the department has been unable to find any "sound and practical method" for cattle price supports.

But, he said, the department has acted to help the general situation. It purchased 12 million pounds of hamburger for the school lunch program, requested that the armed services increase their beef purchases and made efforts to stimulate beef exports, he added.

Extradition Of Dowling Asked

Request for extradition of Dr. Charles D. Dowling, formerly with the Veterans Administration Hospital here, from Maywood, Ill. to face charges of illegal removal of mortgaged property was dispatched to Gov. Allan Shivers today.

Gulford Jones, district attorney, prepared the request for extradition and sent it to Austin.

The petition recites that Dowling bought a new car from the Tarbox Motor Co., here on Jan. 5. He paid $200 down on the car and signed a mortgage for $3,254.

On Jan. 30, the petition alleges that Dowling left Big Spring, leaving no forwarding address.

He was located in Maywood, Ill. He was arrested there, but was later released to a Veterans Hospital in that town where he is now said to be a patient.

Players Hunting Low-Cost Play

The Big Spring Civic Theatre is looking for the same thing many a Hollywood producer would like to have—a low budget, sure-fire play.

However, the Civic Theatre is in the position of having extremely limited funds. All costs of the first three one-act plays, which have been put on for the State Hospital and VA Hospital patients have been borne by members of the theatre group. Hence the search for a low-royalty, low-production-cost play to present as a means of raising some working capital.

At the meeting on Thursday, there were 28 members on hand. Prior to the membership meeting, directors convened, including a new appointee, Edith Gay, who was named to the play-reading committee.

Next meeting has been set for Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Justice of Peace courtroom in the courthouse. President Dewey Maas Jr. urged a large attendance.

Lions Reactivate Scout Troop No. 7

Boy Scout Troop No. 7, sponsored by the Lions Club for nearly 25 years, is being rejuvenated.

Fourteen parents took part this week in a meeting to arrange for reactivation of the troop, and arrangements were made for a scoutmaster and a meeting place. Johnny Corrales will be the scoutmaster and the Rev. William J. Burnett, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, said that the parish hall would be available for meetings. Four assistants have been lined up for Corrales, said Pete Cook, chairman of the troop committee. Arrangements for the meeting which resulted in putting the troop back into action were made by Mrs. Eloise Bestrd, principal of the Kate Morrison School.

FOR BALLOT

Shepperd Okays Interposition Plan

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Shepperd said today it would be legal for political party state conventions to put the question of interposition on the ballot for the July primary.

The suggestion that such action be considered, with a view to testing public sentiment on states' rights, was made earlier this week by Gov. Shivers.

"Aside from its slowness, I can find no fault with the idea recently put forth that the question of interposition be discussed in the precinct and county conventions, and that a decision be made at the state convention as to whether the matter should be placed on the ballot for the July primary," Shepperd told the Civitan Club.

"If the convention orders interposition placed on the ballot, it will be legal. The parties control their primary elections, and if they so desired they could select Miss Texas by that method."

Shepperd said he had hoped "some immediate action might be taken by the Texas Legislature on a resolution for interposition which would challenge the authority of the federal government to assume control of the conservation, production, and gathering of oil and gas in various states—a power traditionally performed by the conservation agencies of the states."

"If the legislators of Texas believe this matter should be firmly dealt with, I hope a special session will be called immediately," said Shepperd.

He said he was "frankly amazed that no attempt has been made to override the President's veto" of the Harris Bill, which had been designed to free independent gas producers from direct federal control.

No Hub Cap Thefts Since Thursday

Big Spring escaped the last three days of the week without a report of any hub caps reported stolen, but the average for the past 12 days is still over a set per day.

Through Thursday, the total of caps reported stolen was 58 in nine days and no thefts have been reported since.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers said the display of stolen hub caps was not exclusive in Big Spring, however, he said Midland and Odessa were daily having complaints of caps being taken.

Cloud Of Hats Due In Political Ring

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—An outbreak of announcements in state races expected next week may clear the political air considerably, especially on Gov. Shivers' plans. The governor climaxed a week of renewed political activity today by saying he will state his plans on television Thursday night and by statewide radio broadcasts March 2.

Several other possible candidates for governor may let Texans in on their hopes around March 1.

One is Agriculture Commissioner John White, who says he is not interested in any political race except for re-election or for governor. He said today he hoped to say what he would do next week.

Another was James Hart, Austin lawyer who has made no secret of his interest in running for governor. Hart, a former Supreme Court justice and former chancellor of the University of Texas, also said he hoped he could make his plans known around March 1.

Ralph Yarborough, Austin lawyer twice beaten in campaigns for governor, isn't ready to say when he will announce. His candidacy has long been regarded as certain.

Sen. Price Daniel said he hopes to give his plans after the Senate has completed work on the farm bill. He said Shivers' expression of renewed interest has made no change in his plans.

Two announced candidates are in the governor's race: Former House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba who is already running hard, and J. J. Holmes, an Austin contractor who apparently has not yet started campaigning. Shivers said he would announce his plans in a 15-minute broadcast, but that the precise times and stations for the TV and radio appearances would not be worked out until next week.

Shivers' new and aggressive political stirring has led to speculation that he may seek a fourth term. Most political professionals are saying they believe he is merely opening a strong push to regain control of the presidential year conventions this spring.

Often Shivers' closest friends don't know in advance of his plans. He is known as a politician who plays his cards close to his chest.

Red-Faced Cops Follow Bum Steer

"There's someone in the 100 block of West Seventh scratching paint off a car's fender skirts," the voice said over the phone in a report to the police department Friday.

To the police this was music to their ears, for it could be the solution to the rash of fender skirt and hub cap thefts here the past two weeks.

So out W. Seventh went the police to catch the thief redhanded. They returned red faced, though. For the "someone" scratching paint off the skirts turned out to be the car's owner just washing the auto.

Lamesa Man Asks Charges In Son's Death

LAMESA, Feb. 25—W. W. Gilbreath was charged with murder at his own request Friday in the death of his son, Walter Russell (Buck) Gilbreath. He posted $2,000 bond and was released.

The younger Gilbreath died of gunshot wounds at his father's home about midnight Thursday. The father told sheriff's officers that his son had attacked members of the family.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday. Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor, officiated at services in the Bryan Street Baptist Church.

Gilbreath is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gilbreath; a daughter, Lonnie Ruth Gilbreath; and a brother, Billy Ray Gilbreath, all of Lamesa; and by two sisters, Mrs. E. X. Hill of Lamesa and Avis Gilbreath of Hobbs, N. M.

33 Lunacy Cases Are Heard Friday

A near record number of lunacy matters—33—were tried Friday afternoon at the Big Spring State Hospital and all of the principals were ordered committed.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said that the cases represented the accumulation of approximately one month. Three additional cases had already been dismissed which left the 33 to be tried.

Missing Air Force Plane Spotted North Of Madrid

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 25 (AP)—A U.S. Air Force plane, missing for 24 hours with six persons aboard, has been spotted in the snow-covered mountains north of Madrid, the Air Force announced tonight.

A spokesman said there were signs of life around the wreckage, but that he did not know how many of the men were alive.

Medical corps parachutists landed 1,000 feet below the downed ship, and were hauled to the spot at the end of ropes attached to helicopters. Spanish ski troops also were on the way. The plane crashed in a blinding snowstorm which also hampered efforts to spot the wreckage. Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden said three survivors have been found.

Big League Teams Await Opening Of Workouts

Fans Asking Questions

By JOE REICHLER
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—With the major league training season ready to open on all fronts this week, baseball-hungry fans across the country are asking more questions than the master of ceremonies at a television quiz program.

Here are some of those heard most frequently:

1. Can the Brooklyn Dodgers avoid the feeling of over-confidence and complacency that helped deflate the New York Giants last year and-or will old age finally catch up with the Brook veterans to end their championship reign?
2. Which team got the better of the big winter trade between Cleveland and Chicago? Did the Indians sacrifice too much power for shortstop Chico Carrasquel? Or did the White Sox leave themselves vulnerable at shortstop in their anxiety to get the much-needed left-handed batting strength of Larry Doby?

3. Does the acquisition of lefty Maury McDermott from Washington mean another New York Yankee pennant, just as the "steal" of righthander Bob Turley and Don Larsen from Baltimore helped the Yanks last year?
4. With Ted Williams apparently due to make his first opening-day appearance in five years, can baseball's greatest hitter provide the punch and inspiration to lead the improved Boston Red Sox to their first pennant in 10 years?
5. Will the kiddie Cards of St. Louis come of age under the new leadership of Frank Lane and Fred Hutchinson and is the Redbird pitching, even with the return of Vinegar Bend Mizell, strong enough to lift them out of the second division?

6. Can Cleveland's veteran Big Three of Ernie Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, all well past 30, continue to hold the Indians together and can Al Rosen and Bobby Avila rebound after disastrous seasons?
7. Can Billy Rigney rally the depleted forces of the Giants, who wound up the 1955 season with only two regulars in the lineup, Willie Mays and Don Mueller, as injuries sidelined Alvin Dark, Davey Williams, Wes Westrum and others while old age caught up with Sal Maglie and Mofette Irvin?
8. Will Charlie Dressen's all-out youth movement on the Washington Senators lift the Nats out of the American League cellar?
9. Have such stars as Gene Conley, Curt Simmons, Carl Erskine, Bobby Shantz, Mel Parnell, Vic Wertz, Joe Adcock, Bobby Thomson, Billy Loes, Grant Hamner, Loren Hansen, Greenbaum, Frank Smith, Dark and Westrum recovered from injuries and illness that robbed them of their usual efficiency last year?
10. Will the so-called "Sophomore Jinx" prove insurmountable to Rookies in the Year winners Herb Score of Cleveland and Bill Virdon of St. Louis and such freshmen standouts as Ken Boyer, Jack Meyer, Elton Howard, Johnny Kucks, Billy Kliao, Hal Smith, Gus Triandos, Hector Lopez, Don Bessent, Roger Craig, Frank Lary, Larry Jackson, Luis Arroyo and Sam Jones?

11. Will their performance on the field match the advance publicity for newcomers such as Chicago's Luis Aparicio and Joe Dalke, Cincinnati's Charlie Rube and Pat Scanlon; Milwaukee's Red Murf, Frank Torre, and Wes Covington; St. Louis' Don Blasingame, Hal Smith and Russell Racz; the Yankees' Jerry Lumpe and Jim Coates; the Giants' Foster Castellman and Pete Burnside; Baltimore's Don Ferrarese and Bob Harrison; Pittsburgh's Bob Skinner and Joe Trimble; Boston's Frank Baumann and Frank Malone; Detroit's Pete Woyce and Bud Black; Kansas City's Jack Crimian and Lance Fless; Philadelphia's Jim Owens and Washington's host of newcomers?
Many of these answers will not be known until September but some of them will be evident before the training season comes to an end in April. Until then, there'll be an epidemic of finger-nail biting by 16 big league members.

And if all of these aren't enough to whet the appetite of the fans, here are some more:

Will Mickey Mantle finally make full use of his great potential and reach the heights that will place his name among the greatest stars in the game?
Will Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella be able to win their fourth Most Valuable Player awards, and harvest extra niches of their own in baseball's record books?
Can Cincinnati finally come up with enough pitching to go along with the awesome hitting of Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post, Gus Bell and Co.?
Will newswormer Bobby Bragan, who has never managed a second division team, be able to lead Pittsburgh out of the basement, which it has occupied for the past four years?
Will Stan Musial achieve his goal of a seventh batting title? Will Ted Williams be able to accumulate the 400 official times at bat necessary to win a batting title, after his high average failed to win official recognition two years in succession because he did not have the required minimum of at bats?

District 19-B Titlists

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Frosty Robison, Big Spring's gift to the SMU football team, may do much of the punting for the Ponies the next three seasons. . . The crunching runner booted the ball 72 yards out of bounds on the opposition's 10 in a game against the Baylor freshmen last year. . . His punting has improved since he departed here and he was good enough to be the regular kicker then. . . Incidentally, Frosty gained over 100 yards in the mud against the Arkansas fish in a game played at Texarkana last year. . . SMU is said to be creating new plays in which he and Ray Masters, also running fullback, will carry the mail more. . . The Dallas Morning News stated last weekend Robison was "making an excellent showing as he competes with five others for the right to play behind Ray Masters". . . Frosty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robison, planned to drive down this weekend to see him play in an intra-squad game. . . Topped by a 24-point effort against HSU the other night, Big Spring's Gene Carpenter scored a total of 284 points in Texas Tech's first 22 basketball games this season. . . The figures include Tech's losing effort against New Mexico A&M last Wednesday night. . . In his first 20 games, Gene rebounded 223 times. . . Snyder's basketball team, according to scribe Buck Francis, defeated three district champions during the course of the 1955-56 season—Port Arthur, Brownwood and Stamford. . . Port Arthur, incidentally, has four starters back next year, plus a fine freshman crop of players who won 28 of their 30 starts. . . One of Big Spring Bobby Savage's predecessors as head football coach at East High School in Des Moines, Iowa, was Ossie Solen, who went on to coach Iowa State and Syracuse. . . Pat Stasey, the former Big Spring baseball operative, will help with the Washington Senators' farm camp at Fernandez Beach, Fla., this spring.

Athletes' Identity To Be Made Known

Names of the HCJC track and field athletes will be sewn across the back of their tops, to make identification by spectators easier. . . Coach George McAllister reasons it'll prove a psychological boost for the boys. . . Jim Blasingame, the HCJC basketball center and trackster, is a Physics major, a straight A student and is being nominated for the college's "Who's Who". . . The stodgy AAU has made "professionalism" sound like a dirty word in ruling that Wes Santee accepted money for attending track meets. . . How hypocritical can you get? Santee may not be the best-kick person to come down the pike in some time but his case varies little from others who go around the country to take part in the various meets. . . Obviously, it's not a question of whether or not the athlete receives money but how much he got. . . Charles Russell, the Big Spring Junior High School eger, is a brother to Cleo and Clarence Russell, both of whom ran on the Steer track team several years ago. . . Cleo is now employed by a local grocery concern. . . Clarence is in Texas Tech. . . A Washington D. C. man named Wilfred Hetzel says there's no excuse for a basketball player missing free throws. . . He's supposed to be the world's best, has been known to sink 98 out of 100 from the foul line, made 139 without a miss on one foot and 144 straight on one foot. . . "It's a matter of concentration," says he. . . He tosses underhanded, rocking on the soles of his feet. . . He contends it should be complete bodily motion, from the feet to the head. . . In the three years it has been in the big leagues, Milwaukee has averaged 28,850 paying customers for each contest, a remarkable record. . . Dean Stafford, one of the best hitters in minor league baseball, is quitting the game to keep a job with an oil refinery in Corpus Christi. . . His throwing arm was all that kept him out of the big leagues.

4 Unanimous Choices On All-Foe 5

Four of the five players chosen on the Big Spring High School's 1955-56 all-opponent team were unanimous choices. . . They are Gene Arrington, Palo Duro; Carroll Stephens, Monterey; Jerry Hall, Borger; and Billy Taegel, Plainview. . . The fifth boy was Snyder's Milton Ham. Ham beat out Larry Stevens of Angleton by one vote. . . It's surprising to note that Sweetwater's well-known Dale McKeenan didn't finish near the top in the voting. . . Jerry Selfridge of Borger and Monterey's James Wiley received more votes than McKeenan. Larry Stevens, incidentally, is the athlete who rated the Fort Worth Star Telegram's "super" all-state team, along with Big Spring's Jerry Graves. . . The Big Spring High School cagers may get to make an out-of-state trip next season. George McAllister, the HCJC track mentor, thinks now he may hold several meets during the fall. . . He points out that the weather is generally excellent then and such a program would help fill a void

Mertzson Foe Of Billies

MERTSON, Feb. 25. (SC)—Mertzson won the right to meet Knott in girls' bi-district basketball play by defeating Bronte here Friday night, 48-33. Mertzson and Knott will clash in Sterling City in a "sudden death" playoff Tuesday night. Mertzson is the 20-B champion while Knott reigns as the 19-B titlist. Bronte had won the North Half title in 20-B. Mertzson was the South Half champ. The playoff was forced into the third game. Bronte had won the first game, 39-38, but Mertzson came back to win the second set, 60-44. Mertzson led by only one point, 20-19, at the half but outscored the visitors, 16-5, in the third period of the Friday night engagement. Wanda Wulstinger and Carylyn Borney each scored 19 points for Mertzson.

Ackerly Team Has 1 Senior

ACKERLY, Jan. 25. (SC)—The Ackerly High School girls' basketball team has wound up its most successful season in several years, during which time it won 20 while losing only six games. The Eagles, coached by Cliff Prathin, finished in a tie for second place in District 9-B standings. Ackerly won exclusive possession of the spot right behind champion Loop during the regular campaign while Flower rove forged into the finals in the district tournament, before losing to Loop, 42-40. The Eagles scored a total of 1,207 points, averaging 50 a game. The opposition counted 964, averaging 37 a game. Letter winners with the team are Patricia Williams, who won her fourth numeral; Wanda Williams, third letter; Delphine Richter, second letter; Esther Reithmayer, third letter; Marcie Rhea, second letter; Fay Bearden, second letter; Barbara Davidson, first letter; Dorothy Williams, first letter; Janie Kunkle, first letter; Joyce Franks, first letter; Patsy Bristow, first letter; and Winnie Taylor, first letter. Iden is the only senior in the group. Wanda Williams, Richter, and Reithmayer are juniors. Bearden and Davidson are sophomores. The others are freshmen. Wanda Williams led the team in scoring, with a total of 383 points and a game average of 24. Dorothy Williams was second, with 278 and 11. The Eagles won 15 games while losing nine in 1954-55. Two years ago, their record was 9-17 while the 1952-53 club won only two of ten starts.

Basilio Called 'Club Fighter'

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio was described as a "club fighter" today by the scrapper who will try to dethrone him at the Chicago Stadium March 14. Former light king, Johnny Saxton, said in an interview that "I'm not trying to belittle Basilio, but let's face it—he's a banger who keeps throwing wild punches to please the crowd—a club fighter." These were pretty harsh words for a man stripped of the welter crown by the same brawler, Tony DeMarco, who was twice chilled by Basilio.

Ponies To Open In Breckenridge

SWEETWATER, Feb. 25. (SC)—The Sweetwater Mustangs will open their 1956 football schedule Sept. 14, at which time they visit Breckenridge. The Ponies will play non-conference games with Abilene, Stamford, Big Spring, Monahans and Midland, in addition to the Buckies. The schedule: Sept. 14—Breckenridge here. Sept. 21—Abilene here. Sept. 28—Stamford here. Oct. 5—Big Spring here. Oct. 12—Monahans here. Oct. 19—Midland here. Oct. 26—Luka View here (C). Nov. 2—Buxley here (C). Nov. 9—Colorado City here (C). Nov. 16—Lamesa here (C). (C)—Conference games.

Top Amateurs Set To Box In Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Nation's best amateur boxers west of the Alleghenies, some 250 strong from 32 widely scattered cities, will be slinging leather Monday night as the 29th annual Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions opens at the Chicago Stadium. There will be three nights of eliminations in the eight weight classes, reducing the field to semifinal size for the grand finale at the stadium Friday night, March 9. St. Louis is seeking its third straight team title, while the only returning individual title-holder is Don Eddington of St. Louis, last year's 118-pound winner, and the 1953 flyweight champion, Pete Melendez of Fort Worth, Tex. Monday night's action will involve the four lighter classes, 112, 118, 126 and 135-pound. Tuesday night, eliminations begin in the four heavier weights, 147, 160, 175 and heavyweight. Wednesday night, the quarter-finals will be staged in all eight classes. Although lacking in former champions, the field is jammed with seasoned Golden Gloves performers, including heavyweight Ben Bankhead of St. Louis, making his third tourney appearance. Other experienced big boys include Jim Smith, Denver, who was discharged from the Army last Saturday; Jerry Bailey of Minneapolis; Harold Lamb of Muncie, Ind.; and Esker Harris, Los Angeles, a 175-pound contender last year. Heading the list of 175-pounders is hard-hitting Jim Boyd of Montgomery, Ala., who reached the semifinals last year. Another former semifinalist back in Toledo's Pete Thomson, who reached 1953 welter semis as a Gary, Ind., representative. Ed Cook, a soldier representing Montgomery, Ala., joins Thomson as a middleweight threat this year. Among the returning welterweights is Donald Hallinger of Toledo, Ohio, Hullinger, representing Columbus, Ohio, last year lost a bitter quarter-final scrap with Cincinnati's Hubert Stewart. Irving Tucker of Memphis, Tenn., Wendell Stewart of Omaha, Neb., and Gene E. Billings, Mont., are leading bantamweight contenders. Formidable flyweight scrappers are Joe Willie de Meyers of Detroit, twice a runner-up, and Leon Banks of Montgomery, Ala., 1955 semifinalist. In the featherweight class, Virgie Hutcherson of Cincinnati will be making his third stadium visit.

RESERVES LOSE Steer Linksters Defeat Midland

Dan Lewis' Big Spring High School links team shaded the Midland Bulldogs in a series of matches played on the front nine of the county course here Saturday morning. The Steers had a medal score of 345, compared to 350 for the opposition. Richard Pachall led the locals with a 40-41-81. Eddie Don Harris chipped in with a 42-41-83. Midland's low linker in the A team matches was Cruz Sanchez, who had a 45-42-85. However, Barry Minks of the Midland B team pieced together an 84, with rounds of 42-42. Midland's aggregate score in the B matches was 345, compared to the 367 registered by the Dogies. The linksters played the front nine of the course twice because the back nine was being mowed and watered. The individual scoring: (A Teams) BIG SPRING—Richard Pachall 40-41-81; Roland McKenzie, 47-43-90. Eddie Don Harris, 42-41-83. Charles Johnson, 46-45-91. Total score—345. MIDLAND—Charles Long, 45-42-87; John Mareno 48-41-89. Jack Wilkinson, 47-42-89. Cruz Sanchez—43-42-85. Total score—350. (B Teams) BIG SPRING—Donald Lovelady 45-42-88. Newlin James—50-45-95. John Roy Phillips—46-42-95. Charles Morris—49-40-89. Total score—367. MIDLAND—Gary Howard 39-39-77. Barry Minks 42-42-84. Gary Littlejohn 43-43-86. Ted Lawson 48-50-98. Total score—345.

Needles Comes On To Win $148,000 Flamingo Race

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—In a blazing finish, Florida-born Needles shot up from 12th place to win the $148,000 Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah today and emerge as a solid prospect for the Kentucky Derby and the other "Triple Crown" events for 3-year-old thoroughbreds. The 5-pound weight advantage awarded Florida-bred colts apparently helped Needles as he went to the outside in the stretch and rocketed past the leaders to defeat Golf Ace by 2 1/2 lengths. Another 2 lengths back in third was Fabius. Nail, the 1955 champion juvenile, took the lead on the first turn and held it in a duel with Bushler's Idol until the pack turned out of the back stretch. Both of them faded in the run for the wire and Nail wound up a badly-beaten ninth. Golf Ace snatched a brief lead down the home stretch but could not cope with the tremendous final drive of Needles. Needles rewarded his backers with a $725 win payoff. Golf Ace returned $11.60 to place and Fabius $3.90 to show.

Cards To Get New Toggery

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25 (AP)—The 1956 version of the St. Louis Cardinals is going to be complete with newly-designed uniforms. The Cardinal office announced the change in uniforms today in a release under the name of General Manager Frank Lane, who is at the spring training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla. Lane said the new home uniforms will be white flannel, with the name "Cardinals" across the chest in script letters of cardinal red on navy blue. A Cardinal wearing a but will adorn the left sleeve. The navy blue cap with an interlocking "St. L." on the front will be worn both at home and on the road. Road uniforms will be pearl-gray flannel with a large, interlocking "St. L." on the left breast and the same cardinal and bat on the sleeve. "We hope the new uniforms will match the new, bold look and attitude of the 1956 Cardinals," Lane said. "We have striven for a lighter, roomier uniform that will allow for more comfort, greater speed and greater agility for the players."

Purse Increased At Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—The Gulfstream Park Handicap, to be decided at a mile and a quarter on March 17, has been increased from $50,000 to $100,000, President James Donn of Gulfstream Park announced today. This now gives Florida a four $100,000 races each winter—the Widener and Flamingo at Hialeah and the Gulfstream Park Handicap and Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park. An earlier announcement said value of the Gulfstream Park Handicap would be doubled if Nashua and Swaps, both nominated, appeared in the race. Today's announcement carried no such conditions.

Early Wynn Signs Cleveland Pact

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25 (AP)—Early Wynn signed his eighth Cleveland Indians contract today. Miller is very much in contention, however, having scored 167 in the same number of games for a 1.44-per-game average. Donald Hale, who like Miller played for Michigan's Concretors, is a distant third in the race with 145 points and a 12.1 game average.

Rameriz Bought By Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today announced the purchase of switch-hitting shortstop Carlos Rameriz from the Mexico City Reds of the Mexican League for their Austin farm club in the Class AA Texas League. No purchase price was announced.

HCJC Tracksters To See First Action March 10

HOWARD COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE will send its track and field team into action for the first time March 10, at which time the Hawks will run in a three-way meet at Gorman. Other competing schools at Gorman will be Cisco and Ranger. Coach George McAllister, who has had his hands full in recent weeks completing HCJC's new $30,000 cinder track, will take his boys to Fort Worth March 16-17 for the Southwestern Exposition Meet. Present plans call for the Hawks to participate in a dual meet with Ranger here March 23. On March

Miller Of Borger Rates All-State 4A Quintet

Only one state tournament team—Laredo—placed a man on the all-state Class AAAA school basketball team selected by the Texas Sports Writers Assn. Phillip Trammel, the high-scoring star of Laredo, made the team announced Saturday by George Raborn of the Waco News-Tribune, the all-state chairman. Some 21 members of the Sports Writers Assn. made up the all-state committee. Baytown's Jerry Smith and Trammel were picked at forwards, Pat Noakes of Fort Worth Poly at center and Max Miller of Borger and Billy Hall of Tyler at guards. All are seniors. Noakes at 6-10 is one of the tallest players ever to come along in Texas high school basketball. Smith is 6-6; Trammel, Miller and Hall are 6-1. No player was a unanimous choice. Only one junior got on the first three teams—Bobby Smith of North Dallas, on the third team.

RESERVES LOSE

The second all-state team: Forwards—George Alberts of Port Arthur and Sammy Myers of Beaumont; center—Joe Davis of Pasadena; guard—Frank Fortilla of Milby and Don Abbott of San Angelo. The third team: Forwards—Joe Chavez of El Paso and Bobby Smith of North Dallas; Center—Don Hill of Odessa; guards—Jerry Miller of Borger and Doyle Smith of Wichita Falls. The honorable mention list included James Baker, Waco; Ernesto Perea, El Paso Bowie; Sonny Henderson, Odessa; Gary Roberson, Midland; Joe Esquivel, El Paso; Max Hood, Lubbock; Johnny Cutbirth, Odessa; Joe Carrillo, El Paso Jefferson and Warner Gamblin, Odessa.

Shea Is Sure We Can Win

NEW YORK (AP)—G.H. Shea of Los Angeles, just back from the Australian tennis tour, believes the Australians can be taken in Davis Cup play—and he may be just the man to help do it. "It's not going to be easy," he said after a smashing quarter-final victory in the New South Wales Championships last night. "But it's not such a forlorn hope as many believe." "I think Ken Rosewall can be beaten. He's very intense, a lot like Frank Parker was several years ago. As for Lew Hoad, well, it appears he's going to have a great year. But remember he's temperamental. Anything might happen with him." Shea, sixth ranked nationally, played the best tennis of the field last night in crushing Grand Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 6-2, 6-4. "I felt great," said Shea, who with Herbie Flam represented Uncle Sam in the recent Aussie tennis tournaments. "I have a lot more confidence on my forehead." "The all-Sweden final is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. (EST) tomorrow at the 7th Regiment Armory, with the doubles final following.

Yanks Beaten In Net Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Two lowering sons of Sweden, Sven Davidsson and Ulf Schmidt, another American Art Larsen and Gilbert Shea in straight sets today to set up the first all-foreign national indoor tennis final in 29 years. Davidson, 26-year-old Davis Cup veteran playing his last year of big-time tennis, smashed Larsen, former champion from San Leandro, Calif., 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. Schmidt, 22-year-old Stockholm toy salesman, cut down Shea, Los Angeles Davis Cup hope, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9. It was one of the darkest days for American tennis in three decades as the two Swedes, trained to the lightning-fast hardwood bounces and indoor lighting, swept forward without a service. The all-Sweden final is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. (EST) tomorrow at the 7th Regiment Armory, with the doubles final following.

Rankin Grabs Scoring Lead

HORACE (HOSS) RANKIN of the Tate, Bristow and Parks Insurance Company team has replaced D. A. Miller as the individual scoring leader in the YMCA Industrial Basketball League. Rankin has counted 173 points in 12 games for a 14.5 game average. Miller is very much in contention, however, having scored 167 in the same number of games for a 14.4-per-game average. Donald Hale, who like Miller played for Michigan's Concretors, is a distant third in the race with 145 points and a 12.1 game average.

Two More Teams In Playoffs

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—DePaul and Canisius today were selected as at-large representatives in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Basketball tournament. DePaul, with a 14-7 record going into Saturday night's game against Notre Dame at Chicago, will play its first-round game in either the sectional tournament at Fort Wayne, Ind., or the one at Wichita, Kan. Play at Fort Wayne is slated for March 12 and at Wichita March 13. Canisius, showing a 14-6 record going into meeting Detroit at Buffalo Saturday night, joins Holy Cross as an at-large team in the first-round competition at New York's Madison Square Garden, March 12-13. Drawings for the New York competition will not be made until two more at-large teams are selected.

Replacements Are Sought By Coach

MIDLAND, Feb. 25. (SC)—Coach Dub Heidrick, who has started giving basement workouts, must find replacements for the departed center fielder; Gene Howard, second baseman; and Dennis Patton, catcher. The four provided much of the power for last year's Bulldog team. Larry Cooper, a stylish left-handed hurler, will miss part of the season due to a broken ankle. But Howard will probably be moved from third to second base by Heidrick. The Bulldogs open their season in a series in El Paso March 9-10.

Talent Pleases

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson and General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals say they're delighted with the young talent at their spring training school. They figure a dozen of the rookies will make the big time sooner or later and catcher Hal Smith, up from Houston in the Texas League, is one of the best bets.

Ted Kroll Takes Narrow Lead In Houston Open

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ted Kroll took a one-stroke lead in the third round of the $30,000 Houston Open today but the slow-speaking Pennsylvanian was not pleased with the one-under-71 score that turned the trick.

"I played bad," the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., pro said. "I haven't played well this week."

Kroll's 70-67-71—208, eight under par, left him one stroke ahead of a popular hometown favorite, Jackie Burke Jr.

While Jerry Barber, who had held or shared the lead through 36 holes, was zooming to a 76, Burke, a former Houston caddy birdied the last two holes for a 68. Earlier rounds of 68 and 73 gave him a 209.

Two strokes back at 211 were Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif. Wininger, with a 67, had the day's best round on the 7,122-yard, par-72 Memorial Park course. Clark had a 71.

Tied at 212 were Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., who won here in 1954, and Jim Turnesa, Spring Valley, N. Y., the 1952 PGA champion.

Mike Souchak, the defending champion from Grossinger's, N. Y., was among those eliminated as the field was cut to the 60 pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties, for tomorrow's final round. The cutoff was 221, five over par, and Souchak finished with a 71-74-78—223. A year ago he won the $8,000 first prize here with a competitive course record 273 for 72 holes.

Swaps Stays Out, Brocato Runs Away At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—The feared Swaps elected to stay out of the race today and Bobby Brocato, the betting favorite, took advantage of the occasion to score a run-off victory in the $135,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

Running before 62,500 fans, the largest handicap day crowd since the epic Nor-Citation duel in 1950, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kerr's Bobby Brocato made it practically a wire to wire triumph and finished some 6 lengths in front of Turk's Delight. Honeys Alibi was third.

The time for the mile and one quarter was 2:04 3/5 over a track tabbed slow.

Johnny Longden, scoring his fourth victory in this 19th running of the famed hundred grander, was aboard the 5-year-old Bobby Brocato.

The payoff was $6.70, $3.70 and $2.90 for the winner; $3.90 and $3 for Turk's Delight, and $4 for the W-L Ranch's Honeys Alibi.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, racing for the second time in a week in an $100,000 classic having run in the Widener in Florida last Saturday, trailed all the way. He finished a disappointing seventh.

Swaps was scratched from the race in mid-afternoon because of a combination of the off going and the fact that he is not at peak racing form.

Ten days ago, in his first start since the losing Nashua race in August, he easily whipped Bobby Brocato at a mile and one sixteenth.

The absence of the pride of California, who would have been the big betting favorite, robbed the handicap of much of its excitement.

Champs Defeated
LUBBOCK, Feb. 25 (SC)—Phillips defeated Seminole, the 1955 state AA basketball champion, in the Regional Tournament here Saturday night, 70-69.

Teams' scores included Billy Maxwell of Odessa, 73-72-76-221; Don January, Abilene, 76-73-73-221; and Ernie Vester, Fort Worth, 73-72-77-222.

Fort Stockton Wins Tourney

Fort Stockton gathered steam after a slow start and went on to defeat Monahans, 17-8, in the finals of the 11th Annual Big Spring Girls' Volleyball Tournament here Saturday night.

Fort Stockton succeeds Imperial as the champion. Imperial was noised out by Denver City in the battle for third place, 18-16.

Midland prevailed as the consolation round winner, edging by a scrapping Big Spring A team, 21-20.

Fort Stockton had reached the finals by vanquishing Denver City, 23-12, while Monahans outlasted Imperial, 18-11.

Monahans fought Fort Stockton on even terms for the first five minutes of the first half but superior net play by Sue Simpson propelled the blue-clad team to a 6-3 lead at intermission time.

In the last half, Fort Stockton quickly padded its lead and won going away.

For the second year in a row, two tournament queens were chosen. They were Janice Martin of Denver City and Big Spring's Enice Freeman. Nora Zorita of Fort Stockton, one of the queens last year, and Bessie Allison of Denver City also received votes from the five judges.

Named as all-tournament setups were Nita Farquhar, Big Spring; Bessie Allison, Denver City; Wanda Whitman, Monahans; Rosalie Fondren, Phillips; Lena Zeiler, Imperial; Tiny Drake, Midland; Gay Ledbetter, Monahans; and Isara Bueno, Fort Stockton.

All tournament spikers included Jean Peters, Big Spring; Janice Martin, Denver City; Minnie Cox, Lamesa; Jerry Wood, Odessa; Eloma Greer, Imperial; Jeanne Snelson, Monahans; Sue Simpson, Fort Stockton; and Janice Woolsey, Midland.

Saturday's Results:
Imperial 43, Big Spring Junior High 8 (second round, championship); Big Spring 23, Phillips 26 (first round, consolation); Odessa 27, Furman 11 (second round, consolation); Midland 42, Snyder 11 (third round, consolation); Denver City 18, Midland 18 (second round, championship); Big Spring A 23, Odessa 14 (third round, consolation); Midland 25, Big Spring 21 (third round, consolation); Fort Stockton 23, Denver City 15 (semi-final, championship); Midland 18, Phillips 19 (consolation); Denver City 18, Imperial 18 (third place); Fort Stockton 17, Monahans 8 (championship).

DONS DEFEAT GOPHER FIVE

AMARILLO, Feb. 25 (SC)—Palo Duro of Amarillo advanced to the State Basketball Tournament by defeating Grand Prairie, 63-57, in the rubber game of the series here Saturday night.

The Dons had lost the first game of the set in Grand Prairie last Tuesday but came back to even matters Friday night.

Other teams in the AAA playoffs include French of Beaumont, Marshall and Hartlingen.

Gay Hill Teams Beat Courtney

COURTNEY, Feb. 25 (SC)—Two Gay Hill teams made successful invasions of Courtney basketball courts here Friday night.

The Gay Hill Junior girls won a close 23-20 verdict. Mary Joe Rawlings had a big hand in the victory.

The Gay Hill Junior boys prevailed, 36-25, as Sonny Anderson tossed in 14 points.

Two More Sign

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25 (AP)—Catchers Jack Shepard and Toby Atwell today signed 1956 contracts with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Pirates now have 42 players signed for the coming season. Unsigned are outfielder Roberto Clemente and pitcher Red Mungler.

Warren Is Named Plainview Coach

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 25 (AP)—Buist (Buzz) Warren, former backfield coach at Texas Tech, was hired today as head football coach and athletic director for Plainview High School.

He replaces Don Mouser, who resigned Feb. 16 to enter private business. Warren, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, was given a three-year contract.

He will take over his duties Monday. Plainview is a member of District-AAAA.

MUSTANGS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—Southern Methodist rushed back in the last half to beat Arkansas 80 to 72 tonight to win its second straight Southwest Conference basketball championship.

Behind 42-37 at the intermission, the Methodists scored 11 points before Arkansas could count in the second half and pushed to a lead they never surrendered. At one time SMU increased its lead to 14 points.

Well stymied in the first half by Arkansas' rugged zone defense, the Methodists were far off on their outside shooting and but for one point early in the game—when they managed to get ahead 10-8—the Mustangs were either tied or behind the remainder of the half.

Larry Showalter, noted for his long field goals, failed to register a single point the first half—demonstrating how cold the Mustangs were.

SMU hit on only 33 per cent of its field goals while Arkansas was very hot from the outside, landing 11 of 17 field goals from far out to show 43 per cent.

But in the last half, Bobby Mills, Joe Krog, Rick Herrschel and Ronnie Morris beat a steady tattoo on the basket scoring half of their field goals on layups.

Southern Methodist ran its season record to 21 victories against its 22 defeats. It was the 15th straight victory and the 23rd consecutive victory on the home court.

SMU, as champion of the Southwest Conference, will now meet the champion of the Border Conference in a play-off game at Wichita, Kan., for the right to compete in the NCAA tournament.

Krog and Mills led the scoring, pitching in 22 and 21 points respectively. High men for Arkansas were Manuel Whitely and Jerald Barnett, each with 16.

Southern Methodist was winning its 11th straight conference game. If it defeats Rice at Houston Tuesday in the finale, it will be the first team to win all conference games since Texas turned the trick in 1947.

It was Southern Methodist's unerring accuracy on the free throw line that wrapped up the ball game. The Methodists sank 38 of 41 attempts, an average of almost 93 per cent. Arkansas, while outstripping SMU in field goals, 27-21, registered only 18 of 25 free throws.

Insurers Win Garden City Cage Tournament Crown

GARDEN CITY, Feb. 25 (SC)—Tate, Bristow and Parks Insurance Company of Big Spring romped to a 66-38 victory over Garden City in the finals of the first annual Garden City Independent Basketball Tournament here Saturday night.

The Insurers limited the Garden City team to nine points in the first half while getting 31 themselves.

Ricketts Gilmore scored 18 points to pace the T-B-P attack while Targe Lindsey and Clayton Henson paced Garden City with 11 and 10, respectively.

McMahon's Concrete of Big Spring capped consolation laurels with a 49-44 victory over McGibbon Phillips 66. D. A. Miller and Charles Caraway waxed warm for McMahon's, counting 12 and 16 points, respectively.

Six players were named to the all-tournament team. They were Horace Rankin and Gilmore, both of Tate, Bristow and Parks; Miller and Caraway, both of McMahon's; and Henderson and Lindsey, both of Garden City.

A crowd of about 200 witnessed the finals.

Loading Rack On A New Road

A tank car takes on a cargo of liquefied petroleum gas at a rack on Mitchell County's first railroad since the Texas & Pacific pushed into Colorado City in 1881. This month Santa Fe completed an 18.3 mile railway spur from Maryneal to a point 25 miles southeast of Colorado City.

Two Locations And Five New Wells Reported In Howard

Two new locations and five completions were reported in Howard County at the end of the week. One of the new field tests is the O. P. Leonard of Fort Worth No.

Oil Allowable Tops 3,400,000

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—The average daily Texas crude oil allowable reached 3,403,390 barrels today, an all-time record. The allowable production figure gained 13,662 barrels per day last week.

Under the Railroad Commission's oil order for March, the permissive flow will drop back about 16,000 barrels March 1. The record had been 3,387,245 barrels daily for the week ending Nov. 29, 1955.

Ends Rebellion

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 25 (AP)—The government announced today that Brig. Gen. Marcial Merino, who led a jungle revolt centered at Iquitos in remote northeastern Peru, surrendered last night after a nine-day-old rebellion.

VETO AFTER-EFFECT

Operators Still Believe Gas Well Completions Will Drop

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Oil operators remain firm in their belief there will be shortages of natural gas if the vetoed Harris Bill is not replaced by new legislation. President Eisenhower's veto stunned the industry. Some spokesmen still have made no public comment. Most have repeated forecasts made before Congress debated the bill: Shortages and higher prices are inevitable unless the threat of federal control over the gas producer and gatherer is removed.

They contend the risk, under federal price controls, is too great to gamble on expensive and uncertain exploration and development programs. There is evidence such programs began to be curtailed shortly after the Supreme Court in June, 1954, held that the Federal Power Commission has authority to control field prices.

There is an indication that billions of cubic feet of existing proved reserves will go without market commitments until the situation is clarified. John Hussey, Louisiana conservation commissioner, said this week it appears 1955 will be the first annual period in many years in which Louisiana did not have a very substantial increase in gas reserves.

"I think that is very greatly due to the federal assertion of jurisdiction over producers," he said. The 1955 report of the committee on natural gas reserves of the American Gas Assn. is expected next month. Gov. Shivers, of Texas, which holds nearly half the nation's gas reserves, said he feels President Eisenhower was badly advised. "I think his action will result in less gas at higher prices," Shivers said. When the President vetoed the bill Feb. 17, he said he was "in accord with its basic provisions" but denounced what he called "arrogant" and "highly questionable activities" on the part of some of its supporters. He apparently referred to charges by Sen. Case (R-S-C) that Case had been offered a $2,500 campaign contribution by some apparently interested in passage of the measure. Atty. Gen. Shepperd said the veto was a "slap in the face to Texas." Unless Congress passes the bill over the veto, Shepperd said, he will send the Legislature an interposition resolution. Interposition is a legal doctrine whereby a state may interpose its sovereignty against further encroachment on its constitutional rights. A. P. King Jr., president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., said his group may call for a special session of the Legislature. Ernest Thompson, senior member of the Railroad Commission, said Texas possibly should start keeping its natural gas at home. "We have the gas to build a great empire," he said. "We have tried to share it with our sister states but the restrictions are so rigorous that much of our gas will be sent into interstate commerce under Federal Power Commission utility regulation."

House Minority Leader Joseph Martin (R-Mass.) said legislation free producers of federal control could be revived "fairly soon." Influential House Democrats expressed doubt in Washington that new legislation could pass this year. Hines Baker, president of Humble Oil, a major gas reserves owner, said the veto message recognizes the need for such legislation to increase exploration and development of new gas supplies. "This legislation which both the Congress and the President believe is needed in the national interest is struck down," he said. Baker expressed hope the President will take the initiative in securing the needed legislation. "In the absence of such legislation, the consumers will suffer from a shortage of supplies for the reasons stated by the President," Baker said. L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Co., called for corrective legislation before it is too late to protect the consumer against a shortage of gas and an increase in prices. "Officials of two oil and gas associations expressed surprise over the veto of a bill which followed recommendations of the President's Cabinet Advisory Committee on energy supplies and resources. "The veto is a shocking disappointment," said French Robertson, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. "An industry accustomed to the bad news of dry holes will try to keep its perspective in the days ahead. Failure of the bill to become law jeopardizes the gas supply of thousands of American families." Robert Wood, president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said the issue is so basic that every reasonable effort should be made to obtain an early solution. But he said there was an acute shortage of helium last year and it was withheld from such private purposes as advertising—presumably in blimps and balloons—in the last six months of 1955. During that period, he said, the bureau was unable to fill all demands of the Defense Department, Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies. The AEC uses helium in research. But, he continued, "by changing our production methods at the helium plants and introducing new improvements in operations and drawing heavily on the recharged higher grade helium gases in the ground, we were able to expand production to the point where we could again resume commercial deliveries, and we began then to deliver helium for whatever purpose. "We want all people who need helium to have it for whatever purpose they want except for export. The export of helium is carefully controlled." Commercial production comes from Amarillo mainly, and other spots in the Southwest. The government finds its helium by testing samples of natural gas from new gas producing wells as they are drilled by oil and gas companies. This job is handled by the Bureau of Mines. If helium is found, the government negotiates with the company either to buy the gas rights or to extract the helium and return the natural gas to the company. There is no law giving the government exclusive rights to the helium thus found, but the oil companies have found it is not economical for them to extract and sell the helium. Miller said the bureau will make every effort to find new helium fields and to develop more efficient methods for extracting it from present sources.

He said the 1954 period was immediately prior to the Supreme Court decision during the comparable 1955 period, he said, the search for and development for gas did not keep pace with 1954. The 1954 report by the American Gas Assn. committee on natural gas reserves, in many respects, was discouraging. Extensions of existing reserves increased only 4.8 trillion cubic feet in 1954, compared to over 13 trillion in 1953. Discoveries of new fields and new pools in 1954 added slightly less than five trillion cubic feet in 1954, compared to over seven trillion in the previous year. Net production in 1954 was 187 billion cubic feet above 1953, while proved reserves increased only 263 billion. In 1953, net production increased 596 billion cubic feet but reserves jumped over 11 trillion.

Sharon Ridge 1700 Field Finals Pair

Two completions from the Sharon Ridge 1700 field have been reported from Mitchell County, and two new locations in the county are in the Westbrook field.

Both completions were drilled by A. B. Stallworth. Completed at a depth of 1,603 feet is the Stallworth No. 2 Crawford. The well pumped 68 barrels of 39.6 gravity oil in a 24-hour potential. The site is 990 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines, Subdivision 13, O'Keefe Subdivision, George Retger No. 218 Survey, and 10 miles north of Colorado City.

Top of the pay zone is 1,583 feet, and the 4 1/2-inch casing is set at 1,685 feet. Perforations are between 1,642-30 feet, and operator fractured with 10,000 gallons. Stallworth No. 3 Hardee has been completed at a total depth of 1,695 feet. Operator pumped 78.28 barrels of oil in potential. The gravity is 28. The 4 1/2-inch casing is set at 1,669 feet, and the top of the pay is 1,602 feet. The well was fractured with 10,000 gallons.

The well is 11 miles northeast of Colorado City and is 330 feet from south and east lines, 99-97, H&T Survey. Blue Danube Oil Company of Fort Worth is staking the No. 4 Strain and the No. 2-A Simpson in the Westbrook field. The No. 4 E. T. Strain is eight miles north of Westbrook and will be drilled to 3,300 feet with cable tools. Site is 330 feet from north and 1,459.5 feet from east lines, 12-28-In, T&P Survey.

Nine miles north of Westbrook, Blue Danube No. 2-A, O. L. Simpson will go to 3,300 feet with cable equipment. Site is 330 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter, 1-26, H&T Survey. The venture will be drilled from an elevation of 2,151.7 feet.

The other was D. W. Varel No. 1 Richardson, 330 from the south and west lines of section 9-33-In, T&P, elevation 2,556.4. The surface string was set at 117 feet and the oil string at 3,120. Top of pay was 3,050, and the casing was perforated from 3,050-60. In 24 hours the well pumped 65.66 barrels of 29.1 gravity oil plus 12 per cent water. The gas-oil ratio was 170-1.

In the Howard-Glasscock pool Cosden No. 5 Clay, 990 from the west and 330 from the south lines of section 12-29-1s, T&P, pumped 46 barrels of 30.4 gravity oil in 24 hours after fracturing with 3,000 gallons, the gas-oil ratio was nil. Operator bottomed at 1,802 feet, set the 4 1/2-in. string at 1,719 and perforated. Top of pay was 1,781. Cosden No. 6 Patterson, Moore Field well, completed for 81 barrels of oil in 24 hours, flowing through 16-64 choke. Total depth was 3,090, the 5 1/2-inch string set at 3,053, top of pay at 3,054, and the well fraced through perforations with 4,900 gallons of gas. The well is 29.8 and the gas-oil ratio was 275-1. Location is 990 from the west and 2,310 from the south lines of section 22-33-1s, T&P.

In the Snyder pool, Kipkin, Div. vine and S. arts No. 12-B Snyder, 330 from the south and west lines of section 20-30-1s, T&P, bottomed at 2,617 feet and set the 5 1/2-inch oil string at 2,567. It fraced with 20,000 pounds of sand and 500 barrels, and pumped 116.03 barrels of 32-gravity oil in 24 hours.

Commercial production and sale of helium—the highest gas except hydrogen—is controlled by the government. Commercial production involves extracting it from the natural gas in which it is found. Helium is used for inflating blimps and weather balloons, for medical purposes, and in research. "We are just about in balance now on production and demand," Miller told the committee.

DAWSON TESTS MAKE PROGRESS

In Dawson County, Humble No. 1 J. R. Weaver is drilling at 3,345 feet in lime. The venture is a wildcat 10 miles northwest of Lamesa going to 13,000 feet to test the Ellenburger. Site is C NW NW SW, League 1, Taylor CSL Survey. Another wildcat in Dawson, Monterey No. 1 Vogler, is coring at 12,093 feet in shale. The venture is 660 feet from south and east lines, Tract 17, League 269, Moore CSL Survey. It is 10 miles southwest of Lamesa.

Borden Gains Spraberry, Deep Test

Two new locations have been staked in Borden County this week-end. One of the two is in the Fluvanna (Ellenburger) field and the other in the Jo-Mill Spraberry Pool. Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has staked the No. 8-A R. H. Jordan about three and a half miles northwest of Fluvanna. The site is 600 feet from south and west lines of Section 579, Block 97, H&T Survey. Operator will carry the project to 8,600 feet with rotary equipment. Located in the Jo-Mill Spraberry field will be the Midwest No. 3-A Morris Miller. The project is staked about nine miles north of Vealmoor.

The venture will drill to 7,900 feet with rotary tools from an elevation of 2,621 feet. Site is 3,550 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines, 24-33-4n, T&P Survey. Seaboard No. 1-33 Good is reported drilling at 6,785 feet in lime and shale. The wildcat is seven and a half miles north of Vealmoor and is C SE NE, 33-33-4n, T&P Survey.

In Sterling County, Sun's wildcat project 13 miles northeast of Sterling City, the No. 1 Ellwood is drilling ahead at 6,894 feet in lime and shale. The venture is 660 feet from north and east lines, 10-2, H&T Survey.

Miller said the bureau will make every effort to find new helium fields and to develop more efficient methods for extracting it from present sources.

improvements in operations and drawing heavily on the recharged higher grade helium gases in the ground, we were able to expand production to the point where we could again resume commercial deliveries, and we began then to deliver helium for whatever purpose. "We want all people who need helium to have it for whatever purpose they want except for export. The export of helium is carefully controlled." Commercial production comes from Amarillo mainly, and other spots in the Southwest. The government finds its helium by testing samples of natural gas from new gas producing wells as they are drilled by oil and gas companies. This job is handled by the Bureau of Mines. If helium is found, the government negotiates with the company either to buy the gas rights or to extract the helium and return the natural gas to the company. There is no law giving the government exclusive rights to the helium thus found, but the oil companies have found it is not economical for them to extract and sell the helium. Miller said the bureau will make every effort to find new helium fields and to develop more efficient methods for extracting it from present sources.

Well Shut In After Testing The Strawn

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company No. 1 J. B. Stevenson was shot in during the weekend pending more testing for probable dual completion in the Big Spring Fusselman Field.

In five hours of testing reported Friday, the venture made 55 barrels of distillate in five hours together with a heavy volume of gas. There were no official figures on the volume of gas, but it was sufficient to pass through two separators and still distend a storage tank badly. Seams were cracked in one tank and some oil escaped. Gravity of oil has been estimated as high as 60 or better. There were reports that a third separator is to be moved in, and that perhaps storage will be increased.

The zone tested is in the Strawn from 8,944-90 and the testing was through a 13-64th choke, pressure was up to 1,650 pounds. This prospector already had completed in the Fusselman for 234 barrels per day. Location is 660 from the south and west lines of section 1-32-In, T&P.

Duncan Drilling Company No. 1 Little, 2,310 from the south and 330 from the west lines of section 31-33-2n, T&P, a prospector seeking pay above the 3,500 level 10 miles northwest of Big Spring progressed to 1,700 feet Saturday. In the southeast part of the Moore pool, Cosden No. 7 L. S.

NAACP Seeks New Members In Texas

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—The National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People opens a campaign tomorrow to win 22,000 new members in Texas before June 14. "We have not limited our membership to Negroes," said George Flemings, general chairman of the campaign in Texas. Area chairmen include W. A. Sweet of Lubbock, the Rev. I. M. Woodward of Midland and the Rev. R. H. Hines of Amarillo.

Three Water Talks Set In West Texas

ARILENE, Feb. 25 (AP)—Three conferences on water resources will be held in West Texas during March, sponsored by the Water Resources Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. All three members of the state Board of Water Engineers will appear at conferences March 1 in San Angelo, March 15 in Lubbock and March 29 in Mineral Wells.

Plants For Plastics?

NEW YORK (AP)—A new phase in the boom in petrochemicals in the Texas Gulf coast region was forecast today by the general manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce. Gordon Turrentine told the New York Society of Security Analysts "The next great development in the area undoubtedly will be plants to process plastics intermediates" into consumer goods. "Practically all of the area's output of plastics intermediates is being shipped elsewhere for final processing, and it just doesn't make sense," said Turrentine. "Eighty-five per cent of the nation's petrochemical capacity sprawls over the broad coastal prairies of Texas, with Houston the hub. All of this capacity has been developed within the past 15 years," he said. "The refineries and chemical plants in the area represent investments of between two billion and two and one-half billion dollars each."

He predicted the Texas Gulf coast would be able to provide the necessary raw materials for the petroleum refining and petrochemical industries far into the future.

ard-Glasscock test 330 from the south and west lines of the north-west quarter of section 126-29, W&NW, was at 1,845 and was going on pumps.

Cosden No. 8 Clay, 1,650 'from the north and 2,310 from the east lines of section 126-29x, W&NW, located about three miles east of Forsan, set the surface string of 3 1/2-inch pipe at 305 feet. It was waiting on cement to set.

Cosden No. 1-B Clay, 330 from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 127-29, W&NW, had bottomed at 1,858 and set the 4 1/2-inch string at 1,832 feet. Drilling is to be resumed with cable tools.

Continental No. 33-A Settles was stymied with a fishing job. In the Iatan-East Howard pool, Nathan Schwartz, Lipkin & Devine No. 14 Susie B. Snyder was at 2,557 in gray lime. C. D. Turner, contractor for the well, was due to move in Monday another well in the lease.

Khrushchev Ends Party Congress

MOSCOW, Feb. 25 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev brought the 20th Communist party congress to an end late today after it completed its work by approving his policies and electing a new Central Committee. The delegates gave Khrushchev a big hand, but there was no cheering for Stalin.

Everything on the agenda has been taken care of, said the Soviet chief, who held the center of the stage of the 11-day confab of 1,355 voting Soviet Communist delegates and distinguished foreign Communist guests.

The Congress wound up its work after adopting resolutions: 1. Approving collective leadership of the party and the foreign and domestic program of that leadership as set forth in Khrushchev's keynote address.

2. Setting forth the directives for the new sixth five-year plan; 3. Adopting a draft decision on preparation of a new party program.

The five-year plan directive provides for a massive increase in heavy industry output in line with one frequently stated objective of readied plans, troops and relief supplies for any new disaster area. The big danger was that melting snows might overload river already piled high with pack ice. Deaths in the Continent's worst freeze in 50 years reached 851.

Soviet leadership—to catch and surpass the United States in industrial development. There were no shouts for the late Generalissimo Joseph Stalin. This put the finishing touches to one of the most dramatic works of the current Congress—the reduction in stature of the man who single-handedly ruled the Communist world for 20 years until his death three years ago.

Yesterday the Congress directed the Central Committee to make certain none of the top men gets a chance to assume the role of a dictator as Stalin did. This Congress, which its members have called the most important event in the Soviet Union since the death of Lenin, set the line which the Communist party will follow until the next Congress. Among other things it endorsed the Khrushchev revision of the Leninist line that war is inevitable as long as capitalist states exist for a new one saying that war is not inevitable.

Hope Seen For No Veto On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.), renewing his prediction that the Senate will approve right price supports as part of the new farm bill, expressed hope tonight that President Eisenhower "will permit it to become law."

Ellender declared that if Benson wants to push cotton "down to about 25 cents a pound, then I think he should come out and say so."

He should not hide behind a smokescreen of fancy words, and blindly lash out at those of us who are doing our utmost to increase farm income and keep our small farmers in business," Ellender said.

County's Bond Record Is Tops

Howard County's United States Savings Bond record during January was among the best in West Texas.

Ira L. Thurman, who is both district and county bond chairman, reported sales of $86,652 in E bonds and $30,500 in H bonds, a combined total of $117,152. This accounted for 14.9 per cent of the year's quota.

Only county in the area with a better percentage was Mitchell with 18.7. Mitchell sold $30,969 in E bonds and $25,000 in H bonds for a total of $55,969. The Howard County dollar total was more than that of Tom Green, Midland or Ector counties.

Other sales records for January showed Scurry with $19,477 E bonds, $10,000 H bonds and $29,477 total, a percentage of 4.8 per cent.

In Texas, the total sales for January stood at $17,814,531 of which $13,328,631 was in E bonds and $4,485,900 in H bonds. The record represented over eight per cent of the year's total.

Worker Hurt By Truck Tire Rim

Oliver Nichols Jr. is in Cowper Hospital for observation as a result of an accident at noon Saturday. Nichols was mounting a truck tire and the rim blew off, striking him in the chest.

Hospital attaches said that no ribs were broken and that it was believed his injuries were not serious. He was kept at the hospital as a precautionary measure to more fully evaluate the results of the mishap.

IF YOU OWN A CAR...
IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN ITS CONDITION
... THEN ...
YOU WILL BE INTERESTED IN THIS MESSAGE

YOUR SERVICE STATION OPERATOR... is a most important member of our community. He is essential to our well being, since he is dedicated to the proper maintenance of a possession which is extremely valuable to most of us... our motor car.

YOUR SERVICE STATION OPERATOR... knows that we depend upon top performance of our car for our business... the comfort of our family... and for the pure luxury which a car provides. He knows that next to our home, most of us regard our car as our most valuable possession.

YOUR SERVICE STATION OPERATOR... is engaged in one of today's most competitive businesses. In order that he continue to be favored by your patronage he must convince you that he can best service your car with superior products and superior service, which can only be provided by the superior skill of trustworthy, well trained employees.

OVER THE YEARS COMMODITY PRICES... and wage increases have descended upon all retail businesses and most of them have, in turn, been promptly passed on to you... the consumer... Most retail businesses have, from their beginning, established an appreciable percentage of profit which has been maintained... regardless of cost of operation.

YOUR SERVICE STATION OPERATOR... has, through the years, realized a critically low margin of profit... in ratio to his investment and his volume of gross business. Regardless of general increases in price, you will find that your Service Station Operator has been the last to pass these on to you... the consumer. And yet... through all these increases there has been no curtailment in the many "extras" (no charge) which have become a part of the retail gasoline business.

YOU ARE INVITED TO COMPARE... the cost of the services of the gasoline retailer with those of others upon whose skill you depend... the plumber... the TV repair man... the electrician, etc. Your Service Station Operator feels that such a comparison will surprise you.

YOUR SERVICE STATION OPERATOR... with it all... is proud of his niche in the business world. He may work longer hours than most business men, but he realizes that this is necessary in his chosen field if he is to maintain his standard of service.

YOUR CAR MAY BE... an "old timer"... or perhaps it is one of those examples of American engineering skill which was manufactured in 1956... In either case, your Service Station Operator has at your disposal the very latest equipment (you would be surprised at its cost) with which to provide the most demanding service.

YOU WILL NOTICE THAT... your Service Station Operator finds the time to participate in civic activities... in spite of long business hours. You will discover him at church... at your favorite luncheon club... or, perhaps, at the charity drive which you last attended.

SHOULD YOU INVESTIGATE... it is felt that you will agree that your Service Station Operator conducts his business on a minimum margin of profit... regardless of what his charge to you may be from time to time, you may be assured that he will see to it that this continues to be the case.

REGARDLESS OF PROFIT... your Service Station Operator will always fulfill his self-assigned obligation of giving your car the best that his highly specialized industry can provide.

DO IT YOURSELF Bedside Tables Marked
By Simplicity Of Design

By BILL BAKER
Why not make a pair of bedside tables your next workshop project? Using my pattern package number 120 you'll be able to produce these handsome pieces easily. Even the novice woodworker, for that matter, will be able to build professional-looking tables.

Simplicity of design—for both the pattern and the bedside table itself—will appeal to you. Exact-size duplication in heavy-weight paper of each section of the table make it possible for you to tack, trace and cut. There's no chance for error when you use this method.

Complete assembly directions, in easy-to-understand language, a full material list and finishing instructions are also included to make the job easy.

The finished table, which is 20 inches deep and 17 inches wide, features a 17 x 15 drawer that will please you. The ample top is ideal for lamp or radio.

Standard wooden legs, pictured above and available in any lumberyard, can be used on your table. Standard wrought iron legs also look nice. Your pattern package will be on the way to you when you do the following: send your name and address (very clearly printed), together with only one dollar ($1) in check, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Be sure that you ask for pattern number 120.

Traffic Control With TV Cameras

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—New York City will use television for the first time to check traffic arrangements at Columbus Circle. Cameras will be mounted on mobile towers and feed into a monitoring station that can cover all the angles by remote control.

Abilenian Faces Burglary Charge

Charges of burglary have been filed against James W. Downs, 33, Abilene, in connection with the Thursday night attempt to loot the safe of the Stanley Hardware Co. Downs, arrested in the building by police and sheriff's deputies, is being held in county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond set by A. M. Sullivan, justice of the peace.

A man was sighted in the store by a passing motorist at 8:30 p.m. Thursday. The motorist notified two city policemen who summoned additional officers. Police and sheriff's deputies surrounded the building and arrested Downs. The knob on the safe had been battered but the door had not been opened. There was $400 in the safe, according to the owners.

Ship Repair Base

CAIRO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Egypt is inviting international construction firms to bid before July 31 for building a ship repair base including a drydock at Alexandria.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Large oil company with holdings in Texas and Oklahoma is offering a limited amount of stock to the public. This company has 850 acres in Howard-Glassecock field with 18 producing wells. Last 3 wells came in flowing. No dry holes on any of company's property. This lease is producing from 3 different pay zones with two other proven pay sands. This lease has new equipment throughout and is clear of debt. Need money to develop. This will stand any type of investigation you might want to give it. Other company holdings just as good as this one. Investigate this today and drive out and see this property. Just $4.00 will make you a partner in the oil business. We maintain a market at all times for our stock.

Youth Admits Theft Of Pistol

A. E. Long, juvenile officer, said that a .22-caliber pistol stolen a week ago from Russell Courts on West Third, was recovered Friday.

The pistol was in possession of a 12-year-old boy. He readily admitted the theft, Long said.

Long said that he now has two juveniles who are to be removed to the Boys Ranch at San Angelo. Applications for the boy's admission to the ranch have been approved and he will take the pair there soon.

"This will make four Big Spring boys we will have at the San Angelo Boy's Ranch," the juvenile officer said. "We find that the Ranch is a great help to us in dealing with juveniles and I believe it is entitled to more generous support from our citizens than it is now receiving."

"I wish that Howard County residents would familiarize themselves with the work that is being done at the Ranch and then be more liberal with gifts to it."

He said that the second boy he proposes to take to the Ranch has a long record of juvenile misdeeds. The boy who confessed to the theft of the pistol has also been involved in previous minor incidents, he added.

The FBI wants these men on Brink's robbery charges

THOMAS RICHARDSON

ARMED, DANGEROUS

FBI Seeking Pair In Brink's Robbery

Two of the men charged in the robbery of Brink's Inc., Boston, still are being sought by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

They are Thomas Francis Richardson and James Ignatius Faherty, both of Boston. In addition to armed robbery, both are charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

The FBI listed these descriptions for the two men:

Richardson—Age 48; height five feet, seven inches; weight, 140-145 pounds, medium build, gray hair, blue eyes, ruddy complexion. He has a scar on the left side of his head and may be wearing rimless glasses. He has false teeth and speaks in a hoarse voice. He dresses neatly, is a chain smoker and is reported to be a heavy drinker.

of intoxicants. He often loses his false teeth when drinking.

Faherty — Age 44; height five feet, seven inches; weight 155-170 pounds, medium build, brown hair, hazel eyes, medium light complexion. He has a large scar on the right side of the lower jaw and a scar from an appendectomy. He occasionally wears a mustache. He also is reported to be a heavy drinker.

Both men were born in Boston and both have worked as longshoremen. Faherty also qualifies as a bartender, steam fitter, electrician, custodian and clerk.

The FBI says both Richardson and Faherty are likely to be armed and should be considered extremely dangerous.

Rape Suspect Not Located

Search for a Big Spring man, said by officers to have been several times previously implicated in investigations, to answer charges of rape on a 15-year-old girl so far have proved fruitless.

The man, it is said, has deserted his usual haunts and efforts to trace him have been unproductive. The alleged offense was committed on Feb. 15.

Charges have been filed against the suspect in justice court.

County To Study Automobile Bids

Howard County Commissioners Court will consider bids for a new car for the sheriff's office at a meeting Monday morning at 10.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said that one bid has been received so far but that he anticipated additional bids would be on hand by the time the commissioners are ready to consider the matter.

Directors will be asked to approve the project at their March 5 meeting. The workshop will include panels on industrial develop-

C-C Clinic Gets Approval Of Executive Committee

A "workshop" to assist Chamber of Commerce members in setting up a program and carrying out its objectives has been given approval by the executive committee of the local Chamber.

The executive group, and C-C leaders who participated in a regional workshop at Lubbock recently, voted Friday to recommend to the board of directors that such a program be conducted here April 2. Two U. S. Chamber of Commerce executives are available on that date to assist with the clinic, said J. H. Greene, C-C manager.

Directors will be asked to approve the project at their March 5 meeting. The workshop will include panels on industrial development, program building and finance, duties of officers and directors, and possibly other subjects. The program will be conducted so that individual members may attend the panel of their choice. The clinic will require about two and a half hours.

U. S. C-C officials who have agreed to participate are James G. Roberts, Dallas, Southwestern Division manager, and Lester Fleener, Houston, a district manager for the national agency.

Youth Sought In Theft Case

Sheriff's officers are seeking a young man wanted in connection with the theft of a quantity of clothing, cash and personal papers from the home of F. A. Howard, 308 Madison.

The theft occurred Friday. Don Freeman, reporting the matter for Howard, said that a pair of boots, a leather belt, two white shirts, one pair of pants, a blue jacket and a billfold containing $30 were missing from the house.

Personal papers belonging to Howard are also gone. The sheriff's office said that a definite suspect is being sought in the case.

No Report On Truth Tests

Bob West, investigator for the district attorney's office, said that report on the findings of a lie-detector test on two burglary suspects will not be available for several days.

West and Jack Shaffer, city detective, returned from Austin Friday night with the two men—Dorrell Jackson Porter, 24, Odessa, and Elmer Lavender, 29, Altus, Okla. The pair had requested they be taken to the capital for a polygraph test after a jury had disagreed in the trial of Porter.

West said the two men are being held in county jail here. They are charged with having burglarized a Big Spring cafe on Nov. 19, taking cigarettes, money and other articles.

Elbow Cubs To Hold Blue-Gold Banquet

Cub Scout Pack No. 101 of Elbow will hold its annual blue and gold banquet Tuesday evening in the school cafeteria, Cubmaster George W. Bailey has announced. Walker Bailey, superintendent of Howard County schools, will speak. Following the program, Cubs of Den No. 1 will play the Den No. 2 boys in a basketball game in the Elbow gymnasium. The banquet will start at 7 p.m. The cubmaster will preside.

Fair Game, Girls!

The approach of Leap Year Day (Wednesday, February 29) puts emphasis on the old tradition that a man may be pursued by a maid. As a sort of starter for the young ladies, The Herald herewith presents just a few of the city's eligible bachelors. From here on, each man is on his own. (Photos by Keith McMillin)

TIME OUT TO RELAX—for two eligibles, Charles Caraway, left, science teacher at Junior High School, and John Moreland, coach in that school. Too bad, isn't it, that the name of their favorite "eatshop" isn't given here. Anyway, girls, now you know where they are most of the day.

IF YOU GO FOR THE INTELLECTUAL TYPE—Tom Earnest will fill the bill. He is the principal for Junior High School. As the camera caught him, he was quite busy—grading papers, or checking his "little black book?"

HE CAN KEEP HOUSE, TOO—George Oldham takes over at a friend's indoor barbecue to whip up his own tasty creations. He is executive secretary of the Citizens' Traffic Committee and resides at 103 Canyon.

PHONE 4-7719—In case of a busy signal, this single male may be reached at home, 608 W. 17th. Bill Bradford, Boy Scout leader, is filling out his income tax form. Maybe he's wishing for an attractive dependent?

WANTA COOK, GIRLS?—Then Carol Belton is the bachelor for you! He is quite good at preparing little informal dinners, which he serves in his home at 200 Washington. He works for Cosden.

ALWAYS PREPARED—The contemporary Beau Brummel, pictured at left, Rex Thompson, has a recording machine attached to his phone to take messages from lady friends (and business associates).

MRS. GILBERT SADLER BRIDGES

Chesser-Bridges Vows Read In Stanton Saturday Evening

Double ring rites before a glad-ly-banked altar wed Angle Lou Chesser and Gilbert Sadler Bridges at 8 p.m. Saturday in First Methodist Church, Stanton.

The Rev. W. H. Kirby, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Chesser; those of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges. All are of Stanton.

Mary Beth Ory sang "O, Promise Me," "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer." Organist was Mrs. James Jones.

Shirley Chesser, the bride's brother, Stanton, gave her in marriage. Chantilly lace veil.

Her waist-length white taffeta gown featured a bodice of French imported Chantilly lace and a tulle skirt. The Peter Pan collar was trimmed with sequins. Long, petal point sleeves fastened with tiny self-covered buttons.

Her tiara of matching lace was covered with sequins and held a circular French illusion veil.

She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered by a large white orchid with silver-edged Chantilly lace leaves.

Mrs. Shirley Chesser was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Beth White and Mrs. Gerald Hanson, both of Stanton.

They wore waist-length red chrysothron taffeta, cut low with full puffed sleeves. They had white nylon hats and lace gloves. Their flowers were red carnation bouquets.

Best man was J. W. Graham, College Station. Groomsman were Neil Stovall, Odessa, and Jim Miller, New London.

Ushers and candlelighters were Guy M. Eiland of Midland and Gerald Hanson.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a champagne brocade satin sheath and jacket with a tulle collar, brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple will live in Odessa. Before her marriage, Mrs. Bridges held a secretarial position. She graduated from Stanton High School, as did the bridegroom, and is a member of the Rho Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The bridegroom attended Texas A & M and belongs to the Permian Basin A & M Club and American Institute of Electrical Engineering.

At the reception in the church parlor guests were received by the wedding pair, their mothers and the women attendants.

The bridesmaids' flowers decorated the refreshment table, which was laid with a white organdy floor-length cloth.

Serving were Mrs. L. O. Burnett, San Angelo, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Fred T. Post, cousin of both the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Jack Davis, Levelland, presided at the register.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Burnett, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Redwine, El Paso; Mrs. B. W. Chesser, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Sadler, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Sadler and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lamar and Tommie, Brownfield; Lucille Smith, Mrs. R. H. Mints and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKinley and Judy and Mrs. G. M. Eiland, Midland; Mrs. Neil Stovall and Mrs. Larry Hendrickson, Odessa.

Mrs. Henry Joins Staff Of Herald

Have you noticed a new voice on the phone in the Women's Department of the Big Spring Herald?

That is Mrs. Don Henry, otherwise known as Pat, and she is filling the vacancy left by Joyce Conaway. Miss Conaway resigned from the staff following her marriage to Glenn Coates.

Mrs. Henry is a graduate of North Texas State College in Denton. She has been employed in newspaper work since her high school days, the papers being The Denton Record-Chronicle and The Observer, Fayetteville, N. C.

Her work on The Observer was done while her husband was stationed in Fayetteville with the United States Army. Going from there to Germany, the couple lived near Ulm until October, 1955.

Mrs. Henry's former home is Gainesville, but her parents moved to Perryton following her graduation from high school.

She and her husband met while both were working on the college paper, "The Campus Chat." Their home is at 1605 Pennsylvania.

Use For Liquids

Here's a way to use the liquid leftover from such cooked vegetables as carrots, celery, snapbeans or peas. Add 1-3 cup of it to a can of condensed mushroom soup with a teaspoon of curry powder. Heat this quick curry sauce with cooked leftover lamb, beef or chicken; serve over rice with chopped peanuts, crumbed crisply cooked bacon, chutney, sweet pickle relish and coconut.

Cold Tip

An old-fashioned remedy still in high favor for treatment of colds consists of baking soda and lemon. The basic formula is a half glass of water, the juice of one fresh lemon and a half-teaspoon of soda added just before serving, so it fizzes. To make it palatable for children, a teaspoon of sugar may be added.

Hot 'N' Cold Carrier

A new insulated two-temperature bag is designed with two removable watertight insulated inner carriers so that bags can be used separately or as a unit. The outer zippered closure is good for storing utensils and is a convenient compartment for carrying magazines or newspapers.

It All Takes Time

HOUSTON, Tex. — To encourage members dining out, the Houston Club circulated an item-by-item time survey on preparing a big dinner. It figured 15 hours and 10 minutes—including 2 hours for doing the dishes.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

If words were water we would surely have been flooded in Big Spring this past week! A few hundred women can stir up quite a bit of talk, but when you add that many more men, as the hosts for the Hospitality Hour did Tuesday night, that, my friends, adds up to a bunch of talk. And don't think the men can't bend an ear along with the 'girls.'

One of the best remarks of the party was by a very attractive guest, who upon greeting one of the hostesses with whom she had been in the afternoon, glanced at her low cut dinner dress and said, "I expected to see you this evening but not quite so much of you."

I was glad to see WINSTON MANUEL again. Even though he has been no farther away than Midland I just always miss him when he visits his relatives here. He was having fun seeing friends he hadn't seen in more than twenty years.

MRS. TRAVIS CARLETON was sitting around the edge of the party out of respect to a badly sprained ankle.

Two people who have really enjoyed the season's round of parties are MRS. DELLA AGNELL and MRS. JOE HARDESTY. Mrs. Hardesty confided that parties with so many people were hard on her throat—They are on mine, too. I don't want anyone to talk louder than I.

Had a delightful visit with MRS. ADAM TALLEY from Odessa.

Met JERRY BRANDON who is here from Longview to be with her sister, MRS. EVA FYEATT, who is now at home after having major surgery.

MRS. HANK MCDANIEL looked pretty in a blue dress studded with rhinestones and her slippers matched beautifully. . . . MRS. J. E. HOGAN'S dress was a turquoise velvet sheath type, simply trimmed around the low cut neckline. . . . a striking color for her. MRS. RAY WHITE'S blond hair was perfectly set off by the solid black dress and accessories.

The thing that attracted me most at the tea table was not the food, although it was delicious, but the bird's nest with the three little eggs. Now if that doesn't show spring is on the way there just isn't any way to tell.

Words also flowed freely Thursday morning at the C. M. BOLESSES when MRS. HOWARD MARKLEY of Bartlesville, Okla. visited here for several hours. Mrs. Boles asked her friends in for coffee to meet her friend, who formerly lived in Odessa. Mrs. Markley and MRS. MALCOLM PATTERSON are close friends and had a few thousand words to say about mutual acquaintances in Bartlesville.

MRS. EUNICE MYERS is back at work at Hemphill-Wells after having had a bout with influenza.

Four couples who had more fun than anybody last weekend were MR. AND MRS. TOMMY GAGE, MR. AND MRS. HAROLD HALL, MR. AND MRS. RED WOMACK AND MR. AND MRS. GENE NABORS. They had their first experience at skiing in Santa Fe. All are complete novices and they are believers that the sport is one that calls every muscle to the fore. . . . Red and Tommy have water-skied but never tried their skill on snow. The men really went all out to get every bit of the pleasures offered. . . . they went in swimming in the heated pool but had to cross the snow barefooted.

LT. KIRK BROWN who is stationed at Webb is a weekend instructor at the Santa Fe resort and, according to the manager at the lodge, he is the best one they have ever had. He is a native of Seattle, Wash., and every weekend he takes a carload of friends from the base to the resort.

MRS. MARVIN HOUSE SR. is in El Paso to visit with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin House Jr. She plans an indefinite stay.

When STEPHAN A. UNDERWOOD of the Kansas City Star arrived here Wednesday morning with the group of aviation writers who were touring Webb, he had a good surprise waiting for him. MRS. C. W. DICKERSON, whose daughter, JAN, is a feature writer for the same paper, presented Mr. Underwood with a big four layer cake. He tucked it aboard the plane and planned to share it with his fellow passengers when they were again aloft.

MRS. PAUL KASCH and daughter, Nancy, have returned to Bryan after visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cantrell, and other relatives.

MR. AND MRS. CHESTER MATHENY were pleasantly surprised by a visit from his cousin, Pete Matheny, and his wife, whom he hadn't seen in 28 years. They live in Fort Worth and were here on business.

MR. AND MRS. S. E. BROWN of Dalhart were house guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats Thursday and Friday. They were neighbors when The Deats lived in Dalhart 28 years ago.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON MOODY of Long Beach, Calif. spent Thursday and Friday in the home of his brother, MR. AND MRS. ALFRED MOODY. They went from here to San Antonio to visit with a sister before returning to their home.

Had a nice letter from MARY WHALEY LITTELL, former Herald staffer, who tells us she is in the folder stage of another European trip. She was given a six months maternity leave from her duties with Time and Life magazines to devote to her little daughter. The Littells spent one year in Europe, mostly France and Holland, when the two boys were little fellows. When the littlest one gets big enough to travel they hope to go again. They live in Ithaca, N. Y.

PAUL MCGAHEN of White Sands, N. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGahen of Terminal, former Big Spring residents, was married Saturday morning to NANCY LEE GRAVES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Graves of Las Cruces, N. M.

The ceremony took place at 10 a.m. in the First Christian Church in Las Cruces.

MR. AND MRS. BOB MARTIN and MRS. J. C. IRWIN of the J. C. Penney store are in Dallas to market for spring ready-to-wear.

If his plans worked out JERRY CHOATE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Choate, 102 E. 10th St., is spending this weekend in New York City. The three-day expense paid trip is part of his prize for having been selected Airman of the Month at McGuire AFB at Trenton, N. J. He will also have an interview with the commanding officer and receive $25 in cash.

He is due to be discharged Feb. 29 after four years of service. As he hasn't been home in 14 months his parents expect him very soon after the first of the month. He plans to enter A&M College after his discharge.

LT. and MRS. RUSSELL SCOTT of Phoenix, Ariz., are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Nalley.

Brighten Fish Day With Sardine Dish

"Surely it can't be fish-day again!" How many times do you hear that during the Lenten season? Too often for comfort!

But you can bring variety to meatless days and to your regular fish fare by using your tried and true familiar recipes with different fish as the base. For instance, do you think of the sardine as merely a tasty tidbit on a cracker. . . . or have you tried this high-protein delicacy in main dishes, in casseroles, in salads? Here's a new and delicious recipe for Sardine Rollups with Tomato Sauce.

Sardine Rollups with Tomato Sauce

2 cans sardines (3/4 or 4 oz.), drained
1/4 cup chopped black olives
1/4 cup finely chopped mushrooms
1 teaspoon chopped chives
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
2 cups biscuit mix
Prepared tomato sauce

Break up sardines and combine with black olives, mushrooms, chives and soup. Mix well. Prepare mix as directed on package for biscuits. Roll into oblong about 1/4" thick. Spread filling on biscuit dough and roll up, sealing along the long edge. Cut dough roll into 2" rounds. Place rounds, cut side down, in greased muffin tins. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until done. Serve two rounds to a portion with tomato sauce, flavored with a pinch of rosemary. Makes 4 servings.

Man Of The Hour

That's what Keith Witmer is when he can find someone to wind his toy tractor. The coffee table in the living room makes a wonderful place for operations, too, at any time, when it's cleared for play or when it holds fascinating ash trays, vases or car keys. He and his mother and daddy, A.I.C and Mrs. Allen Witmer, live at 113 E. 16th.

Family's Opinion Of 'Our Town' Pleasing

Music to a West Texan's ears is the opinion of A. C. Allen Witmer, 113 E. 16th St.

He had been stationed in Big Spring before he was separated from the Air Force; then, when he decided to reenlist, he made sure it was in this city in order that he might remain here.

Now the Witmers, with their 19 month old son, Keith, are happily settled on Sixteenth. They were even better satisfied after a trip Christmas to their former home in Saint Clements, Ontario, when they drove on ice for a day at a time.

Both were born in Canada, but young Keith, born at Webb Air Force Base, shows all the marks of a Texan—boots, jeans and big hat. The braggier is missing, but that's because he's only beginning to put sentences together!

Airman Witmer and his wife met on a blind date, arranged through the efforts of Mrs. Witmer's brother, when she was about 16 years old.

He is quite interested in making model planes and boats, and "loves tinkering with the car." She crochets when there is time to spare, which isn't very often, with Keith around.

Keith's hobby is dressing up in his mother's sweaters, slips or any other garments he can find. And that is regardless of whether or not they have just arrived from the cleaners.

Jenny Miller Wed To Samuel Sonntag In Candlelight Scene At First Baptist

A candlelight ceremony Saturday evening was the scene of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Homer Sonntag.

Mrs. Sonntag is the former Jenny Miller, daughter of Kyle Miller, Luther.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien read the double ring ceremony in First Baptist Church. Greenery banked the altar, and gladioli and stock made a bridal white background.

Before the vows, Mrs. William R. Daves sang, "God Gave Me You." "The Wedding Prayer" followed the pastor's benediction over the kneeling couple. During the following reception Mrs. Daves sang "I Love Thee" in German and "Oh, Promise Me." Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, organist, played a medley of love songs.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Sam Miller, wore an original model white gown of imported French lace, embroidered with sequins and seed pearls and a billowing tulle skirt, over net and taffeta. The bodice, designed with a high scalloped bateau neckline, had three-quarter length sleeves and a wide, waist-accenting midriff.

She wore matching tulle wristlets and carried a white Bible, the wedding Bible of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Lemons. It was showered with lily-of-the-valley and covered with pink roses.

Her late mother's opal lavaliers, a cluster of seed pearls worn by her two sisters in their weddings, was "something old." She wore a blue garter. Something new was a pair of earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Her veil of silk illusion was joined to a plateau cap of matching lace, sequins and pearls. The cap was outlined with a tiny pleated ruffle of tulle.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Lemons, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Sterling Grim, Hobbs, N. M., the bridegroom's niece, carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Reverend Bishop, a co-worker of the bridegroom at Veterans Administration Hospital, was best man. Sterling Grim was groomsman. Ushers were R. B. Sullivan, Sherman, bridegroom's nephew; Kyle Miller Jr., the bride's brother, and J. H. Lemons and Joe Havenner Jr., brothers-in-law of the bride.

Gail Sullivan and Joan Lemons were flower girls. Lynn and Ronald Miller lit the cathedral tapers.

For her going-away suit, the bride chose an original model of imported wool in a soft rose. A classic-lined ensemble, it featured a tailored belt and sheath skirt. She wore a matching hat, white gloves and silver and white shoes and bag.

She attended Howard County Junior College and Texas State College for Women and belongs to Beta Sigma Phi.

The bridegroom attended Southern Methodist University and North Texas State College. He is a director of Kiwanis International and vice chairman of Organization and Extension of Boy Scout Council.

In the receiving line at the reception in the church parlor were the wedding couple; Mrs. Joe Havenner, bride's sister; Mrs. Powell Hodges, sister of the bridegroom, the matron of honor and the bridesmaid.

A three-tiered cake with pink and white rose petals was served from a lace-covered table by Mrs. Gerald Oakes. Mrs. Loyd Wooten

Bridal Tea Honors Mrs. J. Washburn

A miscellaneous bridal shower was a courtesy given Mrs. James Washburn Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Mary Bridges. Mrs. H. J. Covert was hostess.

Mrs. Washburn is the former Joan Derington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Derington, 302 NE 2nd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Washburn, 1802 Scurry.

Guests were met by Mrs. Covert, who presented the honoree and her mother and the mother and grandmother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. E. J. Davis registered guests, and Denise Honey displayed the gifts. Mrs. Tom McAdams and Mrs. Earl Hughes served refreshments.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth. The center decoration was an arrangement of stock and Shasta daisies.

Mrs. Washburn was dressed in a beige linen made on pencil lines, with a round collar piped in cocoa linen. Her pumps were in a matching shade. She wore a yellow rose corsage.

About 50 attended the party.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Margaret Pierce

School was begun with a pep rally held during Activity Period in the SUB Monday morning. The school spirit was good; the students joined in with the cheerleaders on the yells and on recognizing the basketball players. The rally ended with the school song and a blasting "hip-hip-hooray" for the boys.

The ball game with Frank Phillips Junior College from Borger was an exciting one. Even though the Hawks were outscored during the last few minutes of the game, they played a marvelous game. Wiley Brown was high-point man with 28 points. After the game, a social, sponsored by the Business Club, was held in the SUB. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served. Records were played for couples who cared to dance; some preferred to play ping-pong and checkers.

Lass-O's met Tuesday night in a regular night meeting. Their candidate for the "Ugly Boy Contest" was chosen, Kenneth Honeycutt from Lamesa. This contest is to be tri-sponsored by the Lass-O's, Future Teachers of America Chapter and the Women's Recreation Association, and is to promote activities and interest in the activities on the campus.

Each of the clubs on the campus will choose a candidate and will campaign for him until March 23, when he will be elected and recognized as the winner of the contest. A special program in being planned for the presentation of the winner. After the program, a dance will be held in the SUB. This will also bring "twirp week" to an end as it will be held March 19-23.

The Aggie Club met Tuesday and selected Silas Flournoy as their candidate for the "Ugly Boy Contest."

It was an excited group of WRA girls who left early Friday morning bound for Sante Fe, N. M. for a ski trip. Mrs. Bill Walker, women's physical training instructor at the college, is sponsoring the group. Those taking the trip are Belva Wren, Pat Dunn, Nancy Rogers, Rita Gale, Patsy Reeves, Myrtice Jones, Wilella Hanks, Rosetta Williams, Jan Burns, Alice Ann Martin, Laverne Cooper, Maxine Stocks, Anna Belle Lane, and Mary Jean Troxel. They will return to Big Spring this afternoon.

Friday was a holiday for the Jayhawkers as the instructors of the college attended a convention for Junior College teachers. Many of the students took advantage of this holiday and went visiting: B. Burnett, Dee Phillips, Dennis Phillips, Kenneth Honeycutt, Bob Smith, and Marcella Hill went to Lamesa; Bob Patterson to Gay Hill; Margaret Pierce to Tarzan and Edna Harrell to Knott. Jimmie Airhart and Neldon Milstead took off for Sparenburg; Silas Flournoy for Fluvanna; Gene Brawley and Ertis Davis for Hobbs; N. M. Jimmie Joe Robinson and Tommy Black are in Lovington, N. M. Don Isham and Phil Gore in Clovis; Jimmy Castleberry and Betty Hester, Meadow; and John Dale Curtis and Billy Ray Moore in Denver City.

Thursday afternoon a group of geology students and their instructor, plus a few visitors, took a trip to a ranch out past Vealmoor for a laboratory study. Some of the students who went were Lael Roberts, Betty Richardson, Sally Baber, Mary Lou Garcia, Margaret Pierce, Darlene Sneed, Jack Morrison, Jim Blasingame, Tommy Henry, Charles Boyd, Ronald Farquhar, Ray Dabney, Deedroy Anderson, and Mr. Bruce Frazier.

The Basketball Sweetheart has been chosen by the Hawks; however, her identity is being kept a secret until the time of presentation. There were three nominees to choose from, Wilella Hanks, Marjion Harrison, and Marliou Stagg.

Wilella Hanks visited a friend at Howard-Payne College in Brownwood last Sunday.

Phillip Stovall was home from college in Ranger this weekend. He returned to Ranger Sunday afternoon.

MRS. WILLIAM ROBERT WATSON

Candace Dickinson Is Bride Of William Robert Watson

For the wedding of Candace Dickinson and William Robert Watson Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, white cathedral tapers were arranged to form a huge candelabra. Tapers, flanking the altar, also followed the outline of the large cross used as a background.

The bridal altar was banked with woodwardia fern and pedestal arrangements of white gladioli, while the aisle was bordered with tapers entwined with smilax and white majestic daisies.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. A. A. Collins, 1605 Eleventh Place. She is the niece of Dr. and Mrs. Jordan Grooms, 101 Washington Blvd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson, former residents of Big Spring, now living in Austin.

Dr. Grooms officiated for the formal double ring rites.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Champ Rainwater, organist, played "Indian Love Call," a selection which had been played at the wedding of the bride's parents and at that of her uncle and aunt, Mrs. Rainwater accompanied Mrs. Don Newsom as she sang "O, Perfect Love," and she played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her brother, Walter Dickinson, the bride was attired in a gown of white imported silk tulle. The fitted bodice featured a wide sweetheart neckline and brief sleeves, veiled in pearls of d'Almeida lace. The tiny sleeves were complemented with white gloves in 24 button length.

Taffeta covered buttons extended down the back of the pointed bodice, which was attached to a bouffant skirt. This was enhanced with appliques of the floral motif in the lace and sprinkled with iridescent paillettes. The skirt swept into a chapel train.

The bridal veil of imported French silk illusion extended in tiers beyond her fingertips from a narrow pearl coronet. She carried a white Bible with a cascade of white orchids, yellow-throated, and touched with lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Yvonne Pratt of Lamesa was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Suzanne Trichel of Houston, Ehes Louise Gracy of Robstown, Jane Watson of Austin, a sister of the bridegroom and Telle Grooms of Big Spring, a cousin of the bride. The attendants were identically dressed in frocks of yellow crystal silk, waist length. The skirts were full and the cap sleeves were formed into the wide portrait necklines. All wore Juliet caps of tiny yellow Goldilock roses and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of yellow rosebuds. The flowers were tied with white satin leaves and yellow and white maine.

Frank Pendleton of Pecos served as best man. Groomsman were Charles Rainwater, and Gordon Dickinson, a brother of the bride, both of Big Spring. Other groomsman were John Andrews, of Enid, Okla., and George Tait of Beeville.

Guests were seated by a cousin of the bride, Bartoon Grooms of Big Spring, John Carter of Blanco, Joe Birdwell of Midland, Jimmy Shafer and Louis Smith of Austin. Altar tapers were the two ushers last named.

In the church parlors, the bridal party assisted the couple in receiving guests. The same theme of smilax, gladioli, woodwardia fern and stock was used here as for the sanctuary.

The bride's table held an arrangement of yellow and white roses. The tiered cake, with yellow and white decoration, was topped with a replica of the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. G. T. Hall, Mrs. Horace Garrett, Mrs. J. B. Claiborne of Lamesa, and Mrs. F. E. Collins of Lovington, N. M., the bride's aunt, assisted with the serving.

At the guest register were Mrs. W. C. Hubbard of Midland and Mrs. J. R. Anderson of Gall; cousins of the bride. Others in the house party were Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Rev Baggett, Mrs. B. M. Keese, Mrs. Vic Alexander, Mrs. R. W. Thompson and Kenda McGibbon.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride chose a beige cashmere suit with a jacket on boxy lines. Her jewelry was gold and her accessories were in a French bread shade. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will return to make their home at 2800 Rae Dell, Austin.

Mrs. Watson has been attending Southwestern University after her graduation from Big Spring High School. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi.

The bridegroom was graduated from the local high school and from Howard County Junior College. He attended Texas University, where was a member of Delta Sigma Phi. He is now construction superintendent for Sheppard Construction Co. of Austin.

Out-of-town guests were from Amarillo, Houston, Austin, Strawn, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Lamesa, Garden City, Midland, Slaton and Odessa.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Hubbard were hostesses for a bridesmaid luncheon for their cousin Saturday at noon. The party was given in the Colonial Room of the Howard House.

Decorations centered around an arrangement of yellow roses and candytuft in combination with tiny tapers. Similar, small nosegays marked places for the bridesmaids, Miss Dickinson, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. Grooms and Mrs. A. A. Collins, and the hostesses.

Parents of the bridegroom were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Howard House. Decorations were in a bridal theme, with places for the bridal party, their wives or husbands and out-of-town guests. They were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Frazier of Strawn, Mrs. L. C. Smith of Austin, grandmother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Collins of Lovington, N. M.

Bowdens On Trip After Friday Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Bowden will be at home at 1100 Main following their wedding trip to New Mexico.

The couple married Friday at 7 p.m. in a candlelight, double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, in Post.

Mrs. Bowden is the former Jackie Faye Williams. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowden, 705 Lancaster.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy Shahan, Post Baptist Church, before a white gladioli-banked altar. Palms and blue satin-beribboned candelabra formed the background.

Before the bride was given in marriage by her father, Elwanda Davies sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The princess bridal gown of white Capri tulle had a full, waltz-length skirt, high, round collar and tiny sleeves. Small covered buttons fastened the front of the fitted bodice.

She contrasted white accessories with red Happiness roses on a white Bible, borrowed from an aunt, Mrs. Jimmie Medford, who used it in her own wedding.

For "something old" she wore a white gold wrist watch in which her mother was wed. She wore a blue ribbon on her lingerie.

She chose her sister, Mrs. Homer Joe Mason, Post, as matron of honor. Mrs. Mason was attired in a baby blue dress designed similar to the bride's. She had white accessories and carnations.

Best man was A. D. Meynig, Snyder. Taper lighters were Mary Ann Williams, sister of the bride, and Dorinda Kay Medford, the bride's cousin.

For traveling, the bride changed into a light blue suit with toast accents.

She attended Post High School. The bridegroom, a Cosden employe, was graduated from Big Spring High School and served four years in the Navy.

White gladioli and blue satin centered the serving table at the reception. A miniature bride and groom were topped the three-tiered white cake, served by Wilma Johnston, Post.

Virginia Caylor, Post, was at the punch bowl; Mrs. A. D. Meynig, Snyder, at the register.

In the receiving line were the couple's parents and Mrs. Mason. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Alvis, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Banks, Miss Wanda Weatherford and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Oakley, all of Big Spring and Mrs. Clara Williams, Amarillo.

Mrs. Tyler To Speak
Mrs. James Tyler will be the speaker at a meeting of the Spousal Forum Tuesday evening. The club will meet in the home of Mrs. Bob Lebkowsky, 1513 Vines. Mrs. Tyler's subject will be "Texans Look At Fine Art."

Tulips Blossom In Spring Beds

One of the first signs of spring is the blossoming of tulips in florists' windows or in your own back yard.

And one of the best ways to bring spring into the house is to make these colorful flowers a part of your decorative scheme, and enjoy them throughout their brief season.

The history of tulips began in Persia (now Iran) where they were used in formal gardens. Tulips form a motif in any Persian tapestries and rugs.

From Persia tulips spread to the rest of the Near East and eventually to western Europe and Holland, where most of the current world's supply of bulbs is grown.

Experts say, however, that the formal symmetry and vivid color of tulips suggest Persian art; and they recommend a formal arrangement of the flowers for best effect. A bouquet of red, white and yellow tulips will add to the Persian feeling.

Refreshments were served following the recreation period to seven. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Nan Cearly.

The Jolly Club members met this week at the Legion Hall. Mrs. Claud Robertson won a special prize. A style show was discussed for March. Ten members attended.

The Friendship Class of the Methodist Church entertained with a tappy party Tuesday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Burrell Cramer and R. D. Cramer won prizes for being dressed the tazziest. The menu consisted of cornbread, red beans, salad, onions, syrup and peanut butter.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Cochran and Phil visited this week in Anson with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Cochran.

Guests this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Engle are his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Engle of New Castle, Wyo. While here, they visited with the Ed Murphey, Jim Sorrel, Carl Gray families and Nolan Von Roder, all of Borden County. The Bill Engles are former residents of Howard County. Other guests in the home of the Engles included Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Engle and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engle and family of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Humphrey and family of Post.

Mrs. Mattie Duncan is confined to the Big Spring hospital where she underwent surgery Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Duncan and family of Fort Worth and Vernon Duncan of Colorado City are here at her bedside.

OWC Guests Hear Talk

Colonel R. D. Whittington, wing surgeon at Webb Air Force Base, spoke on "Dependents' Medical Care in the Armed Services" at a newcomers' coffee Friday morning. Webb Officers' Wives' Club gave the affair in the lounge of the Officers' Club.

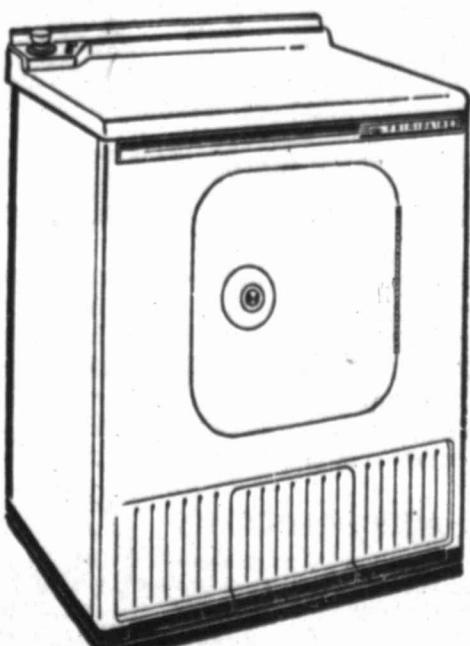

Colonel Whittington traced the medical care back to the Civil War and explained the facilities currently provided at Webb.

A humorous reading, "The Air Force Wife," was given by Mrs. A. C. Peterson.

The patriotic centerpiece featured red gladioli, low white snapdragons, miniature American flags and a cherry tree with a bird and nest. Blue candles and red and white napkins were placed on the white-covered table.

Mrs. J. D. Henderson awarded special prizes to Mrs. J. C. Alexander, Mrs. Carlton Virden, Mrs. J. F. Wylam and Mrs. R. L. James.

HI--TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

Guest writer today, China Carroll.

Although Marlene Mann, senior of the week, moved here from Clovis, N. M., less than two years ago, she has made a name for herself as an outstanding student at BSHS.

An active participant in the band, Marlene, who plays the saxophone, was elected majorette for the past two years by her fellow band members. In addition, she serves as secretary of that organization this year. Marlene ably assists in editing The Corral, serving as associate editor that publication. She is also Tri-Hi-Y chaplain and treasurer of the Rainbow Girls. A three-year Spanish Club member, Marlene spent this summer in Monterrey, Mexico, at an advanced Spanish summer workshop.

Scholastically, Marlene is among the top ten highest ranking seniors. She was selected as outstanding student in typing during her junior year, meaning that she ranked highest scholastically in that course. Although Marlene's after graduation plans are not yet definite, HCJC will probably become her headquarters next year.

This week proved to be an active one at BSHS. Last Sunday afternoon, the school was the site of a Key Club district rally. About 40 boys were in town for the occasion. Big Spring, Lamesa, Odessa and Colorado City were represented. The election of next year's officers was a highlight of the meeting. A Big Spring student, Ronnie Phillips, was elected lieutenant-governor of the district.

Tryouts for the spring all-school play, "Father of the Bride," were held on Monday with quite a few students turning out for the auditions. Director Dell McComb decided upon the cast which includes the following: J. D. Adams, Mr. Banks, the father; Clara Freeman, Mrs. Banks; Kend a McGibbon, Kay, the bride; Rodney Sheppard, the bridegroom; Margaret Fryar, Deillah; Danna Green, Miss Belberry; Bobby McMillan, Mr. Mansoul; Richard Engle, Joe; David Dibrell, Pete; Jimmy Simmons, Ben Banks; John Westbrook, Tommy Banks; Ronnie Burnam, Buzz Taylor; Marilyn Morris, Mrs. Pulitz; Jimmy Montgomery, Pete; Charlie McCarty, the florist; and Marilyn Morris, student director.

Something new was added in the way of programs at both the sophomore and the senior Tri-Hi-Y meetings Monday night. The sophomore club held a potluck supper for their mothers, while the seniors and juniors toured Lucelle's interior decorating shop.

The sophomores not only ate heartily but they also enjoyed the fellowship with their mothers. The seniors and juniors were thoroughly entertained by the tour of Lucelle's, learning how fabrics are chosen and how different pieces of furniture can change the entire appearance of a house.

Tuesday morning two young performers presented an assembly program featuring four centuries of American popular music and dance. Camille Monte and Clark Beacher sang songs that told the history of music in the United States. This was the third assembly this year from the Southern School Assembly Association.

The Leon Moffett Chapter of the DeMolay installed its new officers in a ceremony held at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening. David Dibrell was installed as master counsellor; Richard Engle as senior counsellor; and Wesley Grigsby as junior counsellor. Other officers are Dennis Jones, senior deacon; Jerry McMahan, junior deacon; Joe Conrad, senior steward; Clyde McMahon, junior steward; Walter Dickinson, orator; George Peacock, scribe; Haley Haynes, sentinel; Julius Glickman, chaplain; Norman Gound, marshal; Jesse McCormick, standard bearer; Carrol Glenn, almoner; Bob by McMillan, Bunky Grimes, Ben Lockhart, George Peacock, Tim Gum, John Puckett, and Barton Grooms, preceptors.

Congratulations are in style for Mike Musgrove for winning the Phillips Sportsmanship award for basketball. Mike, who is the fifth player to receive this award, is a junior guard on the Steer team. The award was presented at the annual basketball banquet sponsored by the Quarterback Club. Eunice Freeman, accompanied by Julie Rainwater, entertained with "A Teenage Prayer." Some of the couples attending the banquet were

After an impressive showing at Waco last week, our debaters, J. T. Baird, Gary Tidwell, Tom Guin, and Rodney Sheppard are off again, debating in Lubbock. The boys, who left Friday, are expected to return today.

Quite a few Tri-Hi-Y and HI-Y members, 41 to be exact, attended the spring training conference at Wichita Falls this weekend. The meetings, made up of discussion groups, lectures, a banquet, devotions, elections and a rededication service, were attended by a large group of Big Spring members.

Bernie Compton presided at the general assembly at which time Big Spring entered Sue Boykin as its nominee for secretary of the conference. Entered in the talent contest were Sandy Sloan and Bill French. Richard Engle and Tommie Jo Williamson entered the speech contests, while Tommie Jo and Marlene Mann were in charge of the devotions.

In the sports events, Buddy Martin, Frank Powell, Franklin Williamson, Mary Lane Edwards, Sue Barnes, Tommie Jo Williamson and Marlene Mann entered the contests which included swimming, tennis, basketball and volleyball. Thirteen adults accompanied the group as sponsors. Because Mary Sue Hale attended the conference, the column this week was written by China Carroll.

Don Lovelady, Glenna Harmon; Maxie Carey, Frances Reagan; LeRoy LeFevre, Melva Turner; and Charles Johnson and Mary Ann Nugent.

Thursday, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band was received with great enthusiasm by the entire student body. Included in the program were "Burst of Flame," "Tear's Bride," "Bugler's Holiday," and Vincent Youman's "Fantasy." A combo and a vocalist were especially enjoyed by the students who called the band back for two encores.

The eleventh annual Girls' Volleyball Tournament, which began Thursday, came to a climax Saturday night with the presentation of trophies to the winning teams, the team showing the best sportsmanship, and the members of the all-tournament. The volleyball queen, chosen from the players, and the coaches also received awards. This annual event, sponsored by the Phillips Tire Company, drew entries from 19 cities with approximately 350 participating.

Several of our band members received an honor worth bragging about this week. Helen Winchester, Billy Evans, Julius Glickman, Norman Gound, Leon Byrd, Pat Rudd, J. T. Baird, Jennie McEvers and Billy Gage were chosen to represent BSHS in the Region 8 band which will perform in Odessa on April 14. In order to get in tip-top shape for the April contests, these members attended a practice session in Odessa on Thursday.

Miss Edna McGregor's home-making classes are sponsoring a worthwhile project which we should all get behind. In order to raise money for the March of Dimes, they have compiled a booklet of favorite recipes from tried and tested dishes submitted by students, football players, and teachers. These booklets are now on sale for $1 each, with all proceeds going to fight polio. Why don't you join in this project by purchasing one of these books.

Odessa was the site of the First Christian Church Spring Conference which was held Saturday. Representatives to the conference from Big Spring were Jerry McMahan, Don Anderson, Gerry Girdner, Lynn Porter, Nancy King, Martha Bost and sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn White. After the discussion groups, recreation, and devotions, the group returned with many new ideas and inspirations.

With the last shipment of El Rodeo due to be sent to the printer next Thursday, staff members are really hustling around to get

After an impressive showing at Waco last week, our debaters, J. T. Baird, Gary Tidwell, Tom Guin, and Rodney Sheppard are off again, debating in Lubbock. The boys, who left Friday, are expected to return today.

Quite a few Tri-Hi-Y and HI-Y members, 41 to be exact, attended the spring training conference at Wichita Falls this weekend. The meetings, made up of discussion groups, lectures, a banquet, devotions, elections and a rededication service, were attended by a large group of Big Spring members.

Bernie Compton presided at the general assembly at which time Big Spring entered Sue Boykin as its nominee for secretary of the conference. Entered in the talent contest were Sandy Sloan and Bill French. Richard Engle and Tommie Jo Williamson entered the speech contests, while Tommie Jo and Marlene Mann were in charge of the devotions.

In the sports events, Buddy Martin, Frank Powell, Franklin Williamson, Mary Lane Edwards, Sue Barnes, Tommie Jo Williamson and Marlene Mann entered the contests which included swimming, tennis, basketball and volleyball. Thirteen adults accompanied the group as sponsors. Because Mary Sue Hale attended the conference, the column this week was written by China Carroll.

BIAS DRAPERY

Bodice And Sleeves, On Bias Cut Are Flattering

In one of her prettiest uses of bodice drapery, Cecil Chapman cuts the front waist of this original model on a true bias with the customary figure flattering results. The tiny sleeves look draped but actually are made with a series of bias folds worked on an under sleeve for easy handling.

The skirt, which is slim and straight in front, has an exciting exit line in its center back treatment, consisting of a godet of released pleats flanked on either side with a folded box pleat.

Most effective in plain or printed silks, novelty cottons, taffeta or peau de soie, it is easy to make in spite of its detail because the pattern is accurately perforated and measured.

This pattern is cut to DESIGNER MEASUREMENTS, not STANDARD Pattern Measurements.

Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 3/4; size 14, bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 3/4.

Size 12 requires 4 yards of 50-inch material for dress and 3/4 of a yard of 35-inch material for interfacing.

To order Pattern No. 1251, state size; send $1.00; address SPADEA FASHIONS, INC., P. O. Box 535, G. P. O., Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. Add 25 cents for Airmail handling. New 144-page Pattern Booklet XII—50 cents. Add four cents if paid by check.

Fish Sticks Vary Breakfast Routine

Does your family dribble in to breakfast on Sunday, so that you find yourself preparing what seems like an endless stream of separate meals? Don't have your own day of rest stolen. Set the table with all the makings and let them fend for themselves in their own time.

To keep them out of the kitchen, put your electric griddle out, with fresh eggs in a bowl, bacon or sausage and for variety, fish. Breakfast habits become so static that it's no wonder many people say they can't face a big morning meal. Sardines with fried eggs are simply delicious! They can be cooked on the same griddle in the same time, because, of course, the sardines only require heating.

Your family will find that these high-protein little fish sticks to the ribs until it's dinner time.

Italian Salad Dressing Adds Foreign Flavor

To give your salad a foreign flavor, serve it with Italian Salad Dressing.

ITALIAN SALAD DRESSING

Combine 1 teaspoon chopped canned anchovies, 2 tablespoons capers, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons wine vinegar and 1/2 cup canned olive oil. Shake well in jar with tight fitting cover. Use as dressing on your favorite mixed green salad. Makes 3/4 cup dressing.

Vary Cake Frosting

Vary that seven-minute frosting. Use your standard recipe, but when you add the vanilla, beat in a cup of marshmallow-snippets. To get the snippets ready, cut regular-size marshmallows — using a kitchen scissors — into small pieces.

R&K CREATES a look that typifies Spring. It's fresh. The line is clean, flattering as only a "princess" can be. The detail, a fresh-to-the-face collar, cut in satin. The fabric, pure silk woven like linen.

Capt. Weathereye Wears Petticoats

ST. CLAIR, Mich. (AP)—A graying woman, blue-eyed and forty-ish, is "Captain Weathereye" to those who sail the Great Lakes.

Dorice E. Loveland operates a battery of seven short wave radios, each tuned to a different channel, to monitor ship-to-shore telephone conversations and keep a daily log of ship positions, destinations and sailing conditions.

A barometer and wind and temperature gauges help her keep a daily weather chart.

Newspapers, state police, Coast Guard and other agencies frequently call on her for news, especially during lake storms.

Freighters which glide within 300 feet of her home on the St. Clair River salute as they pass. She lives alone.

Miss Loveland's interest developed some 10 years ago when she read Dana Bowen's "Lore of the Lakes."

Lamesa Couple Wed In Friday Ceremony

LAMESA — An informal double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday united Linda Ross and Larry Stephens Moffatt.

Miss Ross is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larrison. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moffatt. All are of Lamesa.

The Rev. J. W. Kesner, conducted the services in Hillcrest Baptist Church. White mums flanked with greenery decorated the altar.

Sirley Spencer sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Pianist was Mrs. R. W. Mitchell.

The bride's stepfather gave her in marriage. She wore an off-white faille suit and chose white accessories and a white carnation bouquet.

Her maid of honor, Margaret Mitchell of Lamesa, wore toast linen with beige accessories and carried gold snapdragons.

Best man was Dick Womack, Lamesa.

Mrs. Moffatt was attired in a two-piece blue linen dress with black accessories when the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso and Cloudcroft, N. M.

Faculty Ma'ams Plan Luncheon, Spring Style Show

SEC. III BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1956 SEC. III

JUST TRY THIS QUIZ

So They Just Don't Teach Like They Used To, Eh?

By Herman R. ALLEN
AP Writer

So they don't teach 'em in high school like they did in your day? So they can't read, or write good grammar, or think out problems—or just plain think?

Maybe so, but just for fun why not sample the tests that some of today's seniors take to win National Honor Society college scholarships?

Last year, about 10,000 students in more than 2,500 high schools went after the awards, trying to help pay their college tuitions. This year's tests will be held March 20, and 78 awards are available, totaling $17,500. The largest is $1,500—divided $500 for each of three years.

Highest test scores in the last few years have run a shade over 80 per cent. The full test takes 90 minutes. You should get through the following questions—samples selected from several different examinations—in between 15 and 20 minutes.

PART 1:
Directions: Four of the terms in each of the following series of five are alike in some respect and one is different in that respect. Circle the word in each series that does not belong with the others. Score one point for each correct answer.

1. Honesty honor legality probity upright
2. Freud Jenner Koch Lister Pasteur
3. Hindu Mongolic Shinto Taoist Zoroastrian
4. Egotistic exhibitional ostentatious pompous pretentious

PART 2:
Directions: Match the numbered terms on top with the lettered terms below. This is a test of ability to make fine distinctions. Score one point for each correct matching.

1. Capriciousness of chance
2. General matter of chance
3. Favorable development
4. Single circumstance
5. Train of circumstances

PART 3:
Directions: For the following set of words find one group of five letters which can be arranged to spell a synonym for each of the words in the set. Score five points for the set.

- Here's a sample—
1. Portion share
 2. Rabbits hares
 3. Cut shear
- Got the idea? Now you're on your own:
1. Smallest —
 2. Rob —
 3. Rancid —
 4. Stories —
 5. Blackboard —

PART 4:
Directions: Below are four quotations from speeches or writings of American presidents. Following them are the names of five presidents. Match each quotation with the name of the proper president. One point for each correct answer.

1. "The only limit of our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today."
2. "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."
3. "The American spirit of rugged individualism."
4. "I should like to be known as a former president who tries to mind his own business."

- A. Calvin Coolidge
- B. Dwight D. Eisenhower

PART 5:
At an imaginary point in the United States three rivers unite to form a fourth. One river flows south, one flows southwest, one north and one west. The bed of River A is dry half of the year. Excessive fog tends to form over River B. The water in River C is warm and muddy, but that in River D is cold and clear. If a dam were constructed in River B for power generation purposes it would soon become useless because of silt deposits.

From your knowledge of the general topography of the United States and from the facts given above, in which direction does each river flow? Score one point for each correct answer.

PART 6:
I can build a fence in 4½ eight-hour days. After I have worked on the job for three days my brother comes to help me. Together we finish the fence in seven hours.

1. Who is the faster fence builder, or is there no difference?

2. If different, in what ratio (such as 9 to 7, or 4 to 3)? Score one point for each correct answer.

Here are answers to the college scholarship questions. If you score 18 points you're right up their with top high school seniors. A perfect score is 24.

- Part 1: 1. legality; 2. Freud; 3. Mongolic; 4. egotistic.
Part 2: 1-C, 2-A, 3-B, 4-E, 5-D.
Part 3: Least, steal, stale, tales, slate.
Part 4: 1-D, 2-E, 3-C, 4-A.
Part 5: A. North; B. Southwest; C. South; D. West.
Part 6: 1. I am faster than my brother. Ratio: 7-5.

If You Have $15,000 Insurance Not Required

Do you have $15,000 to plunk down as security right now?

Chances are you don't, but for $27 or a little more per year you can have that much in readiness. That is the cost of the liability insurance that all motorists are required to have in Texas.

All accidents involving damages over $100 to either or both cars, must be reported to the Texas Highway Department at Austin. To report an accident, each driver should obtain a special form from the police department or a highway patrolman.

This form asks that you describe the accident and give other pertinent information. One of the questions asks if you have liability insurance. You may purchase this insurance in all denominations, but the minimum required by law is $15,000.

If you don't have the insurance, then the state will require that you put on deposit with the department, cash or securities equal to the total amount of damage, including injuries or death, to both parties.

Either of these two methods are satisfactory to comply with the law. If you fail to turn in a form or deposit the money, then the department is authorized to confiscate your license tags and cancel your driver's license. This latter action will remain in force until all claims are settled.

The minimum cost of this insurance is $27, provided there are no drivers under 25 years of age. The rates are determined largely by age and some of them go as high as $50.

Where teen-agers drive the car, it is cheaper to have a daughter than a son. The cost where the teen-ager is a girl is lower than when the young driver is a boy. Also, if the teen-ager is a graduate of a driver training course, there is a 10 per cent discount on the cost.

The minimum $15,000 liability insurance policy is divided into three parts. The amount in case of an injury or death is $5,000. If there is more than one injury or death, the total is $10,000. The remaining $5,000 is for property damage to the other car.

Any or all of these figures may be boosted to any amount of protection the driver would like to have.

Leads Police On A Chatty Chase

DENVER (AP)—Leading officers a 60-block chase in a stolen police car, Samuel B. Hughes, 40, chatted pleasantly all the while with the police radio dispatcher at headquarters.

But at one point the dispatcher grew silent, and Hughes chided: "Now you're mad at me, aren't you?"

Stopped and later booked for investigation of auto theft, Hughes explained: "I just wanted to travel."

Just Wasn't Constitutional

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A one-sided hearing was held by Maryland's House Judiciary Committee on a bill permitting merchants to detain persons caught shoplifting in their stores.

The bill was endorsed by several proponents at the hearing conducted by Chairman Lloyd Simpkins.

When they were finished, Simpkins asked: "Now are there any shoplifters who would like to be heard?" There was no response, but the committee disapproved the measure anyway.

Demanding Baby Breaks Up Sitting

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—A demanding baby forced a Denton babysitter to leave her job here.

A married couple at North Texas State College asked a neighbor to baby-sit with their children for the evening but when they returned another neighbor had taken her place. The substitute explained that the original baby-sitter had gone to the hospital to have a baby.

That King Of Swing

That would be, of course, Benny Goodman, a great among the greats of jazz. His career is dramatized in "The Benny Goodman Story," a Technicolor opus filled with famed tunes, which will open at the Ritz Friday for an extended run. Goodman's part is played by Steve Allen of TV fame, but Mr. G. himself furnishes the clarinet music. Donna Reed appears as Mrs. Goodman.

Benny Goodman Story, With Plenty Of Swing, Due Friday

If you know swing music, you know Benny Goodman, and vice versa. They're brought together in entertaining fashion, in "The Benny Goodman Story," which opens Friday at the Ritz theatre as one of the top attractions of recent months.

It follows the pattern of the popular "Glenn Miller Story," and is said to surpass even that one in general appeal.

The film follows the career of the king of swing, and in so doing brings about presentation of scores of the famous tunes that Goodman made famous.

While the role of Goodman is played by the TV notable, Steve Allen, Goodman himself is behind the scenes all the time, to make his own clarinet music, and to play in the various combos and big bands that send the picture to tuneful heights.

Donna Reed has an appealing role as Goodman's wife. The Goodman music, which is stressed in the picture, is pointed up by the fact that more than $5,000,000 of his records have been sold over the music counters up to 1956. Few men have captured the dance band field as has Benny, the originator of swing. Many people will recall his opening day at the Paramount, when there were 21,000 paid admissions; and his famed Carnegie Hall concert when he brought jazz up to the long-hair level.

Goodman has had with him such music notables as Gene Krupa, Harry James, Teddy Wilson, Lionel Hampton, Bunny Berigan, Ziggy Elman, Claude Thornhill and Mel Powell; such singers as Peggy Lee, Dick Haymes, Helen Forrest, Martha Tilton and Mel Tormé.

You can hear such acclaimed Goodman interpretations as Bugle Call Rag, Don't Be That Way, Let's Dance, Moon Glow, Shine, Stompin' At The Savoy, Sing, Sing, Sing, Way Down Yonder In New Orleans, And The Angels Sing, Avalon, Sunny Side Of The Street, and I've Found A New Baby.

Yes sir, it's the Benny Goodman story, with B. G. music.

Pigeon's Mother Love Is Fatal
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A mother pigeon could have flown to safety like scores of others when fire destroyed a church but she stayed behind.

Her body was found by steeplejacks razing the belfry. Through all the heat and smoke she never stirred from her nest and eggs. She apparently suffocated.

Actress Files Suit Against Air Lines
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Film actress Pier Angeli, 23, seeks $200,000 damages from Western Air Lines for injuries she says she suffered on a flight to Palm Springs, Calif., last year.

The suit also named stewardess Patricia Duke. The actress, wife of singer Vic Damone, claims she was seriously injured in a fall in the airliner's rest room because she was not warned of rough weather.

Miss Angeli, pregnant at the time, suffered a fractured pelvis and facial lacerations. Her baby was born healthy last August.

Likes Spain As A Location For Big Film Epics

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The benefits of using Spain as a location for movie epics are hailed by Robert Rossen, triple-threat film creator back in Hollywood after a lengthy absence.

Last year writer-director-producer Rossen, whose "All The King's Men" was named the best picture by the Academy in 1949, filmed "Alexander The Great" in Spain. It was the first big production made there, and Rossen reports the experience turned out well.

"Of course we encountered difficulties," he remarked. "The Spanish are not up on modern methods. They still farm the land the way they did 2,000 years ago. They have a film industry that makes 50 or 60 films a year, but their equipment is pretty much out of date.

"But the Spanish technicians are eager to learn. I brought in top craftsmen to head the departments, and the results were slow but thorough. I found the Spaniards to be very friendly and eager to please. The government did everything to help, even lending army troops for battle scenes.

"The picture cost a little over three million dollars to make. The same production would have run six million in Hollywood."

But the cost wasn't the only factor in his selection of Spain. "I think a lot of big pictures fail because the extras are not convincing," he explained. "Alexander The Great" takes place in Greece, Persia and India. How could you find enough extras in Hollywood that would be convincing?

I think too many Hollywood films fail because there is too big a gap between the believability of the leading actors and the atmosphere.

"I have always felt that way. When I did 'The Brave Bulls,' I went to Mexico, because the story could be believed nowhere else. 'All The King's Men' needed a real American town, so I went to Stockton, Calif. I don't think it would have been half as effective if I had shot it all in Hollywood."

The School Teacher

That's Jennifer Jones, who has a starring role in "Good Morning Miss Dove," the story of a school m'arm who made a great impression upon the community. Robert Douglas, shown here, is among the supporting players. "Good Morning Miss Dove" is at the Jet Thursday and Friday, twin-billed with a drama titled "Black Widow."

Academy Nominee, 'Mr. Roberts,' Due

If you've missed "Mister Roberts" in other screenings, you have a chance to see one of the top bidders for the year's Academy Award. It returns to the Terrace drive in tonight and Monday.

Regarded as the best comedy to come out of World War II, "Mister Roberts" was a sensational stage success, and moved into filmdom at top grade, too. It has been nominated for the Oscar for the best film, to be awarded in March.

Henry Fonda, James Cagney and William Powell are big names in the cast, but there's another fellow, Jack Lemmon, who also has been nominated for an Oscar as the year's best supporting player.

There's a second picture on the Terrace Sunday-Monday bill, a Lemmon plays Ensign Pulver, the hapless junior officer whose antics provide many of the laughs.

"Mister Roberts" deals with the tedium of wartime which presses down upon the crew of a Navy cargo ship, called the "Bucket" by its men. There's not much action aboard a cargo ship, but when the captain of the vessel is an old tyrant, then the crew spends its time trying to outwit the captain.

Cagney is the domineering skipper who won't release Fonda (Mister Roberts) for some war action duty. Mister Roberts very subtly leads the war against the captain, to the full endorsement of others aboard the Bucket. Powell is the medical officer.

There's a second picture on the Terrace Sunday-Monday bill, a Lemmon plays Ensign Pulver, the hapless junior officer whose antics

Jennifer Jones As 'Miss Dove'

A touching piece about a stern schoolmarm in a small New England town, who influences the lives of a generation of the townspeople—that's "Good Morning Miss Dove." It's a feature at the Jet drive in Thursday and Friday.

The capable Jennifer Jones plays the title role, and has Robert Stack as co-star. The picture is a CinemaScope DeLuxe color production.

Emotional appeal and dramatic structure are combined in this story of Miss Dove, who kept her own passions and compassionate nature hidden under a rather severe exterior she believed necessary for the proper instruction of her pupils.

In one way or another she affects the lives of nearly every person living in the small town, and when a crisis finally cracks her austerity, it permits her former pupils to demonstrate their gratitude and respect.

A different sort of woman, it appears, is dramatized in the Jet's second bill for the Thursday-Friday program. This picture is "Black Widow," with Gene Tierney and Van Heflin.

Spectacular Of Ancient Days--'Helen Of Troy'

"Helen Of Troy," a spectacular film from the story of Homer's "Iliad," opens a five-day run at the Ritz theatre today. It depicts the period fabled in the history of the ancient world when the Greek city states and the city of Troy fought for world supremacy. One version has it that the entire encounter was started by Queen Helen's love for Paris, the Prince of Troy.

"Helen Of Troy" was filmed in CinemaScope and WarnerColor, in Rome, and in locations throughout Italy. It is given high ranking for pictorial splendor. The story is that of Spartan Queen Helen and Trojan Prince Paris, and a war which raged for ten years. The battles of barbaric fury which Homer described are brought to the screen on vast scale. There are such standouts as the burning and pillage of Troy; the storming of the golden gates; the hand-to-hand combat of Paris and Ajax; the death of Achilles; the wonder horse built by the Greeks.

Scene Of History

Jack Sernas and Rossana Podesta are in a scene of reunion here, from the film, "Helen Of Troy," an action-filled drama about a storied character. The picture, in CinemaScope and WarnerColor, plays at the Ritz Sunday through Thursday.

Electrician Peers At Heart Mystery

OMAHA, Feb. 25 (AP)—A 45-year-old Omaha electrician is trying to solve one of the mysteries of heart disease by putting it in terms of electrical law.

Harry Lobel's theory contends that the malfunction of the circulatory system called hypertension (high blood pressure) is not a great deal different from what happens when an electrical system goes wrong.

Two years ago Lobel walked into the Creighton University Medical Center, an organization active in heart research, to handle a minor wiring job. He noticed some students measuring blood pressure and decided they were ignoring some vital elements of the problem.

Today he is working under a grant from the Nebraska chapter of the American Heart Assn., and Creighton has poured almost $10,000 into his research project.

When Lobel first watched the Creighton students, he immediately thought of a standard term used by the electrician — impedance. He felt the students were ignoring this.

Impedance, in an electrical wiring system, for example, results when voltage and amperage are out of phase. It means malfunctioning of the machine, loss of efficiency and excessive pressure. On the other hand, when the system is in phase, there is resonance.

Roughly speaking, resonance can be compared to a water system in perfect working order — the water flows evenly and smoothly out of the faucet. Impedance, when a system is out of phase, similarly can be likened to a water system where the water spurts erratically from the faucet and the pipes clang with the irregular flow of water.

Lobel felt that phase relationships could be applied to the vastly more complex human circulatory system. When the circulatory system is out of phase, he reasoned, it might result in hypertension, inefficiency and sometimes death.

His device, if successful, might be able to differentiate between various causes of impedance in the circulatory system, study the effects of various drugs upon impedance and even predict circulatory failure before the critical stage is reached.

Such success would greatly expand the existing store of knowledge about high blood pressure, a disease which now afflicts more than 15 million people in this country.

Excessive blood pressure affects the entire circulatory system, usually hardening the arteries and weakening the heart, and can prove fatal over a period of years. Death can come sooner, when, for no explained reason, hypertension becomes malignant and the process of deterioration accelerates.

Indians Can Grow Beards On Chins

By RAMON COFFMAN

Questions about beards and Indians appear in this letter from Mary Cantor, a junior high school student.

"I have always wondered why you never see a bearded Indian. Is the skin of an Indian so different that he can't grow a beard? When white men discovered America, they found Indians without beards or razors. Did the Indians have a tonic which stopped the growth of whiskers?"

The question about a possible Indian tonic to stop the growth of hair on the face is of special interest. If a safe tonic of that kind could be found, there would be a vast number of customers. Teenage boys may be eager to have their first shave, but men feel that shaving takes too much time.

If the tonic had to be swallowed, there would be danger. It might keep hair from growing on the face, but what a shock if all the hair fell from the head!

Nothing in the nature of a "hair-stop" tonic was known to American Indians. Almost all of them were seen without beards. Little hair would grow on the face of an Indian man (and less on an Indian woman!) if nothing was done. It was the custom for the warriors to get rid of what little hair did grow on their faces.

Although Indian facial hair is rare, it will grow on the upper lip and chin if nothing is done to stop it. The chin beard is a scraggly affair which may reach a length of two or three inches. Side whiskers are even more rare among Indians than chin beards.

Some Indians used to pull out the widely-spaced hairs which appeared on their faces, or this service was performed by their wives or friends. In other cases broken shells were employed to cut such hairs.

TREADING WARILY

Communist Party Congress Proves Cold War's Not Over

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The Soviet Communist party's 20th Congress belies Moscow's peace offensive. The cold war will continue indefinitely, the Congress has shown, and world communism has explicit instructions on how to interfere in the internal affairs of nations.

However, if this carefully constructed Communist program is to realize its aims, the Soviet Union is forced to tread warily. It must avoid a world war for at least 10 years to come.

The Congress appears to have been one of the most important since the death of V. I. Lenin, founder of Soviet bolshevism.

While it brought boasts of growing industrial might, it also laid bare some glaring Soviet weaknesses.

While it brought pleas for peaceful coexistence, it exposed communism's abiding hope that a period of coexistence would simply be a prelude to world domination.

While the Congress heard expressions of friendship for all countries, it received an outline of how world communism looks forward to the total economic collapse of capitalist nations, headed by the United States.

The Communist leadership by its own admission faces monumental problems—all the way from supplying sufficient food, manufacturing consumer goods and housing for the population to the need for strategic planning. It must, in Nikita Khrushchev's words, "safeguard the motherland and the entire commonwealth of Socialist (Communist) countries against any contingencies and unexpected occurrences."

Thus, it is a matter of self-protection for the U. S. S. R. to instruct foreign Communist parties to tread warily, so Moscow will not herself stumble prematurely into war.

Top-ranking representatives from 55 foreign Communist parties attended the Congress. These were the instructions they got:

Each leader must return home prepared to adapt his party's tactics to the peculiarity of his nation.

Communists in non-Red countries must woo all sections of society with the lure of an antiwar movement. They will make concessions in the name of "unity" of the working class and the political left. Individual responsibility, without direct interference from Moscow, will be extended local leaders so long as they toe the general line.

Party leaders in "colonial and dependent areas"—and Moscow includes Latin America in this category—have the promise of Soviet help in the form of trade, economic and technical aid to advance the cause of isolating the United States.

Most important, virtually every important speaker told the Communists never to forget that their goal is revolution.

This revolution — as distinct from evolution — may be violent in some countries. In others it may be accomplished through gradual seizure of parliamentary power and working class movements. Lenin was referred to frequently in these statements, and the Lenin precept is that parliaments may be used only with the objective of destroying them. Working class movements may be used to mold them to the Communist program.

Thus the fight between communism and the free world will continue to be relentless. But the Communists must keep in mind that the time is not ripe for actions which might provoke war. The time will not come, by Soviet reckoning, until the U.S.S.R. can "overtake and outstrip" the United States in economic and industrial potential.

The Kremlin at the moment bases its entire hopes, apparently, on the notion of a final economic collapse of capitalism. It seems resigned to waiting.

Dirt Loader Finds Cache

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Fred Chrest, Pocatello, Idaho, thought he had found a good hiding place for $46,000 in government bonds — but along came Frank Melendez and his dirt loader.

Chrest, a retired railroad engineer vacationing here, said he was afraid his bonds would be stolen so he buried them in a road bank near here.

Melendez scooped up the bonds yesterday while operating his dirt loader.

Sharp Decline In Hog Prices May Mean Leaner Cuts Of Pork

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP) — Leaner cuts of pork — such as chops, roasts, hams, shoulders and bacon — may be headed toward American dinner tables as a consequence of recent sharp declines in hog prices.

This change could also bring a marked improvement in the income farmers get from hogs.

For years farm leaders and officials have been urging producers to shift from the production of heavy, lard-type hogs to smaller, meat-type animals. This proposed change was designed to reflect a shift in consumer demand from fat to lean meats and from lard to vegetable oils for cooking fats.

But many farmers have failed to make such a change. They have kept producing the big, lard-type hogs that were in demand before the advent of so much labor-saving machinery and equipment — an age when workers required more fats in their diets than they do now.

Continuation of this practice of producing fatty hogs contributed heavily to the fact that farm prices of hogs dropped 30 per cent between 1954 and 1955. This cut a big slice out of farm income—particularly in the big hog-producing states of the Midwest.

In 1954, when there was an average-size hog crop, farmers got an annual average of $21.60 a hundred pounds for their hogs. That was about 100 per cent of the parity price goal of federal farm programs. This price gave farmers a good margin of profit.

This situation influenced many farmers to jump into hog production for the first time and others to expand their production volume. As a result, 10 per cent more pork was dumped onto consumer markets in 1955. Each 1 per cent increase in the supply was followed by a 3 per cent reduction in prices.

During some periods of heavy marketings prices dropped as low as $10 a hundred pounds. But for the full year, prices averaged $15.21. Most of the hogs went to market at heavy weights — 300 pounds or higher—carrying excess fat.

This unfavorable development in the hog market has, in the view of many farm leaders, done more to awaken producers to the need for a change to smaller, meat-type hogs than anything else that has happened in recent years.

In many areas, farmers have started their own "self-help" programs to reduce the price-depressing oversupply of pork.
