A student pilot, 2nd Lt. John A. Swenson, 24, was killed and three other fliers parachuted to safety following the collision of two Webb AFB jets above Roscoe this morning.

O'Daniel's Six Insurance Firms Face Rough Go

AUSTIN (AP)—Reports filed with the Insurance Commission indicate that former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's six life insurance companies will have to sell many insurance policies to keep their state licenses after Sept. 6.

Right now, all six firms have not sold enough insurance to keep even one of the firms going after Sept. 6, the deadline required by law for companies to show they have at least 100 policyholders and $200,000 in insurance in force.

The financial statements of the six firms for 1955 show that the combined total of insurance in force is less than $150,000, Insurance Commission records show.

O'Daniel's major company, the W. Lee O'Daniel Life Insurance Co., of Dallas, shows a total of $114,624 in force. The others range from $5,000 to $8,500.

Reached for comment yesterday, Mrs. O'Daniel, of Dallas, said her husband was out of town and she did not know where he could be located.

"The people are expecting them to do something like this. They know what the insurance commission is. There will be no comment," Mrs. O'Daniel said.

O'Daniel, in a radio address last Saturday, hinted he was thinking of entering the race for governor but stated he was not announcing.

However, he asked his listeners to write him, letting him know what they want done to "clean up the mess in Austin."

The story was first published yesterday by the Dallas Times Herald in a dispatch from Margaret Mayer, head of the newspaper's Austin bureau.

The 1955 Legislature passed a set of new, "get-tough" insurance laws which went into effect last Sept. 6. Texas companies were given one year from that date to meet the minimum requirements for policyholders and in-force insurance.

A spokesman in the Insurance Commission said there probably were other insurance firms that did not have at present the required number of policyholders or the required amount of insurance.

These firms still have until Sept. 6 to reach these requirements.

Thinking

Secretary of Defense Wilson isn't napping at the Senate subcommittee disarmament hearing, he just closed his eyes, pondering a reply to another question. Wilson said no safe atomic disarmament control plan is "in immediate prospect," and that "technical weapons" in control of nuclear weapons "must be appreciated."

Woman Hurt In Wreck With Police

Mrs. Bessie Mae Wood, 2107 Johnson, underwent surgery at Big Spring Hospital for injuries sustained in a two-car accident at the corner of Fourth and Johnson early this morning.

Mrs. Wood was in a car which collided with a police patrol car driven by Ellis Eubanks, James Oral Whitefield, 1301 Settles, was driver of the 1954 Mercury in which Mrs. Woods was riding. The patrol car was a 1955 Chevrolet.

Also injured in the accident was G. G. Colbert, 1614 E. 15th. He was treated for lacerations on the head at Big Spring Hospital.

Both of the patrolmen, Eubanks and J. C. Godwin, were taken to Cowper Hospital for checks but were released. Godwin received a slight cut on his right leg.

The police car was going east on Fourth on a call of a possible break-in at the time of the accident. The Mercury was proceeding south on Johnson. Chief of Police C. L. Rogers said that the police car hit the rear end of the Whitefield auto.

Whitefield is owner of the Rainbow Inn, 908 E. 3rd, and Colbert and Mrs. Wood were employees there. The three were on their way home when the collision occurred.

At the time of the mishap—about 12:30 a.m.—the signal lights were not working.

Rogers said a complete investigation was under way to determine the cause of the accident this morning.

An accident at NE 2nd and Benton involved Elsie Frank Daniels, 212 N. Goliad, and Edwin Maurice Wright, 1305 Mulberry, Friday.

This morning at 19th and Gregg, Rufus Calvin Rogers, Rt. 2, and Ronald George Morris, were in collision.

Terrorist Band Stages Daring Raid In Algiers

ALGIERS (AP)—French police clamped a midnight to 5 a.m. curfew on Algiers today after masked terrorist gunners staged a daring raid in the heart of the Algerian metropolis.

The terrorists seized a giant French garage, held off the night watchmen with guns, and then set fire to it after pouring a thousand gallons of gasoline over the floor.

The raiders made their escape as the blaze swept through the garage, located below a big French apartment house. The fire destroyed more than 100 cars.

French families in the apartment house fled when a young French soldier spotted the flames and gave the alarm.

The raid, most sensational terrorist outburst in Algiers of the 16-month-old revolt, came only a few hours after the French Parliament in Paris gave Premier Mollet's government the final go-ahead for an all-out fight to smash the rebellion.

The two Moslem watchmen at the garage were unable to identify the raiders. Police assumed they were rebels but did not exclude the possibility they might have been French counterterrorists seeking to provoke stronger government action against the nationalists.

Such counterterrorists were active in French Morocco before France granted that protectorate freedom.

Robert Lacoste, France's minister for Algerian affairs, was due to fly here from Paris tomorrow to begin putting the government's new emergency powers into effect.

Moslem terrorists shot down one European in the Bougie region and carried out other harassing attacks around Bone. French troops fought a running battle with 80 rebels north of Lafayette, killing 20 of them. One French soldier was reported killed.

But French colonists in the stormy North Africa area posed a more immediate problem with a demand that the government hanging over some 85 Moslem terrorists be carried out by next Wednesday.

A committee representing virtually every major group among the one million European residents of Algeria said they would shut down all municipal offices and stop cooperating with authorities if their ultimatum was not met.

One veteran observer of the 16-month-old revolt warned in Algiers: "The whole thing could blow up in our faces in a minute."

Four attacks on Frenchmen or pro-French Moslems were reported from the city of Algiers itself while the Council of the Republic's Senate, was meeting in Paris to endorse Mollet's program for stamping out the revolt. The reports listed no casualties but said property damage was considerable.

Authorities said French forces killed 37 rebels in 15 scattered actions yesterday in central and eastern Algeria. At least one French soldier was killed and two were wounded.

The Senate gave an overwhelming 294-7 vote of approval to the bill granting the government emergency powers for military, economic and administrative decisions. The measure was approved by the National Assembly earlier this week.

Speaking just before the vote, France's minister for Algerian affairs, said: "We are in a veritable race against time in dealing with the rebels. The worst crime of the rebels is that through attacks on innocent people they are creating a chasm between the European and Moslem populations (of Algeria) which can lead our compatriots to Lord only knows what sort of despairing action."

Farm Bill Action May Come Tonight

Stuck In The Mud

Police and firemen pull Joseph Oliver, 12, from a mud sinkhole in which he became trapped for half an hour while taking a shortcut home from school in Pawtucket, R. I. He was rescued shoeless but unharmed. The rescuers, standing on ladders immersed in the clayey mud for support, are unidentified. The mishap took place in a vacant lot made into a quagmire by snow and rains.

TOUGHEST YET Curfew Clamped On Cyprus Port

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British troops isolated the major Cypriot port of Limassol today, clamping on the toughest curfew yet seen on this violence-riddled East Mediterranean island.

The order confining Limassol's 25,000 citizens to their homes said the curfew would continue until "further notice."

British officials said the port 38 miles southwest of Nicosia "has always been a bad trouble spot" and that terrorist incidents had increased there. Authorities launched an intensive search of the city for fugitive terrorists.

The village of Cato Zochi, near Paphos, also was put under a strict curfew after a stone-throwing incident.

Communist leaders of the big labor union called for an end to the general strike protesting the deportation of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the island's movement for union with Greece. But Greek shopkeepers, laborers and clerks so far ignored the union appeal and continued their shut-down, now in its fifth day. Gasoline and fuel oil shortages were reported from some sections of the island.

The spontaneous work stoppage has paralyzed most business activity on the island since Monday and halted construction work at big British military projects. Labor leaders said the walkout may end by Tuesday. Sunday and Monday are religious holidays.

Pro-Greek terrorists continued their bitter fight against British control. A Royal Air Force man was wounded outside an army barracks here. Two policemen were injured in an exchange of gunfire.

A British army officer's wife and 6-year-old child were cut by flying glass when a bomb was thrown into their home.

A military vehicle "was the target of a bomb at Famagusta. Another bomb was tossed at a military patrol in the village of Drousha, near Paphos. No injuries were reported in those two incidents.

Fatigued Senators Stand By For Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fatigued but still full of fight, the Senate meets today for a session which leaders said should bring passage of the politically hot election-year farm bill.

Both Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California urged senators to stay nearby, ready to vote and complete action.

A 12-hour session yesterday reshaped several sections of the omnibus bill but still left a thick stack of proposed amendments undecided.

Both Sen. Ellender (D-La.), floor manager for the bill, and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), who usually speaks for the administration on it, said they expect to wind up action sometime tonight.

The highly controversial measure—already containing features the administration opposes and others it did not ask—then moves to the House, which voted last year for a two-year restoration of mandatory rigid supports on basic crops. The Senate voted instead, by close margins, to stick with President Eisenhower's system of flexible and lower supports.

Eisenhower lost a Senate vote yesterday, however, as the Senate voted 45-44 to retain a "dual parity" system for determining the price support levels of wheat, cotton, corn, peanuts and other crops eligible for the price props.

Under "dual parity," farmers can use the higher of old or new systems for computing a fair exchange value on their crops. Converted from a few cents a bushel or pound into existing price supports, the differences could mean hundreds of millions of dollars on crops this campaign year.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture who has opposed high-level supports, said "dual parity could cost up to a billion dollars in loss."

Other senators thought it might mean between 300 to 400 million dollars more to farmers or in government farm costs.

If the final farm bill includes this, Anderson said, "I think the President will be inclined not to sign it."

Just before quitting last night, the Senate by voice vote added 100 million dollars to the soil bank plan in a move led by Sen. Allott (R-Colo.). That raised the authorized total to $1,200,000,000.

Under the administration-sponsored soil bank proposal, farmers would be paid for retiring land from production. This is designed to reduce the multibillion-dollar stocks of farm surpluses in government hands.

Allott won approval of a boost from 350 to 450 million dollars a year in funds authorized for the conservation reserve, or long-range phase of the soil bank.

These are payments that would go to farmers who contract to convert croplands into grass, trees, water storage or similar conservation uses. Farmers must agree to divert these lands for 3 to 15 years.

The other part, the acreage reserve, now earmarks 750 million dollars for each of four years to farmers who agree not to plant allotments to cotton, wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Senate Chiefs Seek Limit On Political Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said today he and Republican Leader Knowland of California are working on a proposal to limit the size of individual gifts to political funds. He termed it "a sharper crackdown" on big contributions.

Johnson and Knowland have collaborated in drafting what they refer to as a "clean elections" bill which 83 other senators have cosponsored with them. They said they hope Congress will act in time to apply it to this year's presidential and congressional campaigns.

The proposed limit on individual gifts would be offered as an amendment to this bill.

Johnson declined to give any details, or indicate the size of the "ceiling" to be proposed.

Existing law places a $5,000 limit on the amount an individual may contribute legally to a political candidate or committee. But it allows any number of $5,000 contributions to different candidates and committees.

In presidential campaigns, there are usually several committees working for each of the major party candidates. Sometimes wealthy partisans give $5,000 to each of these committees—and have their wives and children make additional gifts.

As it now stands, the Johnson-Knowland bill would require contributors to make public all contributions which exceed $5,000 in the aggregate, but it would set no limit on the total. This is where their new amendment would apply.

When the Senate takes up their bill, it probably will be by consideration of it as a substitute for one already on the calendar. The latter bill was introduced by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) and others, and was approved by the Senate Rules Committee last June.

The Rules Committee, to which the Johnson-Knowland bill was referred, has taken no action on it.

Aiken called this a "millionaire amendment" and Kerr shot back that Aiken was the "black knight from Vermont" who had "ripped the guts" out of several proposals to aid small farmers.

The Kerr-Monroney proposal was beaten 63-24.

Stalin Blasted In Secret Red Speech

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today that Nikita S. Khrushchev gave the recent Soviet Communist Party Congress a secret explanation of the desanctifying of Joseph Stalin that made public criticisms of the late dictator during the Congress sound "like milk and water."

The Times report was written by the paper's former Moscow correspondent, Harrison E. Salisbury, who said his information came from diplomatic reports reaching the United States from Moscow. He said the Moscow censorship had prevented correspondents there from cabling rumors about the Khrushchev speech circulating in the Soviet capital.

According to Salisbury: Khrushchev, the Soviet party's first secretary, made his sensational speech at a closed Congress session Feb. 24 from which delegates from foreign Communist parties were barred. The "comprehensive and forthright" address touched on events surrounding Lenin's death in 1924, the great purges of the 1930s, and Stalin's last years.

Railroad Commission Cuts Oil Allowable For April

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today ordered a cut of 64,159 barrels per day in the Texas oil allowable for April, dropping the permissible flow to 3,356,857 barrels per day.

The cutback from a current record allowable will result from granting one less day of production for April than for March statewide and in the East Texas field.

This will mean 16 days of flow, in line with recommendations of six purchasers testifying at today's statewide proration hearing.

Five purchasers proposed only 15 days production, which would have meant a 210,000 barrel per day slash under the current allowable.

Prior to setting the allowable, the commission also heard from top executives of 22 companies concerning their views on desirable levels of national stocks, how much they are importing and the outlook for increased demand in 1956.

The consensus was that stocks of gasoline are excessive but those of crude oil and other products are about right. Most of the purchasers foresaw a four to five per cent increase in domestic demand for petroleum this year.

Minnesota Primary Will Place Adlai, Estes In First Direct Test

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota voters in next Tuesday's primary will provide another outpouring of votes for President Eisenhower and choose between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver in their first direct test.

Wormy Cigarettes Not In Jurisdiction Of Farm Bureau

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The State Agriculture Department is sorry, but it can't do anything about wormy cigarettes.

Miles A. Nelson, head of the Bureau of Foods and Standards, reported he received the complaint about the wormy cigarettes from Grand Rapids.

"Since they certainly would not be edible," Nelson said, "they don't come under our jurisdiction."

around a bit. Stevenson—he's a pretty good man, ain't he?"

J. R. Swigum, who operates a large motel on the edge of town, reported that 95 per cent of the numerous traveling men who stop there say they are for Eisenhower because business is good.

The truck driver gassing up at Albany said that "I'm a union man and I'm for Ike again. A lot of us are." The farmer who pulled up by the pump said he hasn't been hurt too badly and "I suppose I'll be for Ike again if things don't get any worse."

Then there are farmers who talk like John Zwach of Walnut Grove, an independent who is inclined to be a Republican. He said he thinks there will be a swing to the Democrats because things are "rough out on the farm."

The Luck Of The Irish

Highway Boosters Will Gather Here

About 20 representatives of U. S. 80 cities in Texas are expected here Saturday morning for a meeting of the central division of the U. S. 80 Highway Association.

The group will discuss plans for promoting traffic on Highway 80. Paul Limer, Big Spring, division president, will be in charge of the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce. Also on the program will be M. N. Caddell of Colorado City, president of the national association. The meeting will start at 10:30 a.m.

But also this year, both for the primary and the general election, Republicans are plagued by rumblings on farms where prices are down and costs up.

Businessmen in some small towns are feeling the squeeze on the farmer. A regional distributor of farm implements reports sales are down. The State Banking Department says farm conditions are reflected in a higher ratio of loans to deposits.

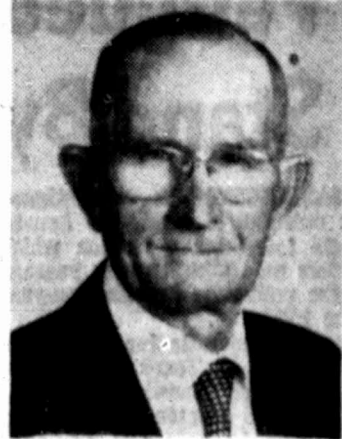

WESLEY METHODIST CHURCH Silver anniversary services planned.

Wesley Methodists Mark Anniversary

Wesley Methodist Church begins Saturday evening a week of special services commemorating the Silver Anniversary of its founding. During the period nine former ministers of the church will speak, plus the presiding elder of the district when the church came into being. Actual anniversary of the date is March 25, when two men who served the congregation at its inception will speak, and a dinner and tea will be held. The Rev. Ansil Lynn, Dallas, now retired, will open the series of observances at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. John English, comes here from the St. John's Church in Lubbock for the 11 a.m. Sunday worship, and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. the Rev. Billy Porterfield, Post, will speak. Monday at 7 p.m. the sub-district youth meeting will be held at the church. Tuesday the Rev. Cecil Hardaway, Channing, speaks; Wednesday it will be Dr. O. W. Carter, Big Spring District superintendent; Thursday the Rev. Aubrey White, Claude; Friday the Rev. M. E. Fisher, McLean; Saturday (March 24) the Rev. J. E. Peters, Shallowater. The final day, Dr. J. H. Crawford, Plainview, and Dr. Marvin Boyd, Midland, will speak. There will be a tea and dinner at the church. Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of the Sweetwater District, and J. H. Crawford were on hand for the organization of the church with 16 charter members. Earlier the Rev. W. M. Whitley had done spade work for the organization. Of the charter members, Mrs. Alta King, Seminole, is the only one whose whereabouts is now known. At the outset the group met in different places including the South Ward School, the Nazarene Church and finally in a 30x40 plank building which was put up in May 1931 on Owens Street. Subsequently a basement was added and during the ministry of the Rev. John English an additional basement and sanctuary were added.

Malenkov Sees London

LONDON (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov, smiling and gay, joined Londoners' morning rush hour today for his first real look at the teeming British capital.

From the Soviet Embassy he was driven through jam-packed streets past Hyde Park and Marble Arch to Oxford Street, London's busiest shopping area. He even made a slight detour past the U.S. Embassy in Grosvenor Square.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, ended up at the offices of the Central Electricity Authority. They are hosts for the three-week tour of British power installations by Malenkov and his party of Soviet power experts.

Office girls and early shoppers clustered round as Malenkov stepped from his car with a broad smile across his sallow, pudgy face.

BPOD To Hold '57 Meet Here

Texas BPO Does will hold their 1957 state convention in Big Spring, it was decided at the '56 meeting held in Midland this week.

The group also elected Mary Ragsdale of Big Spring as state chairman for the next year. Other state officers chosen were Ann Jensen, Sweetwater, vice chairman; Mary Jane Davis, Plainview, secretary; and Alma Marchant, Amarillo, treasurer.

Date for the 1957 meeting will be set later.

Thelma Coon, Rochester, Minn., supreme president of the BPO Does, spoke at the Midland meeting Tuesday and Wednesday on the "do's and don'ts" of the order. Bill Frasier of El Paso, another guest speaker, discussed the Elks Crippled Children's Home and introduced a young girl who had lived in the home until recently. Ritualistic exemplifications were conducted for instructional purposes, with corrections by Mrs. Coon.

Does were registered from Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene, Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Pampa and San Angelo.

Blackfoot Chief Dies At Age 82

CARDSTON, Alta. (AP)—Chief Shed Roth Sider, one of the last links with the free-wheeling days of the old West, is dead. The 82-year-old chief of the Bloods, main tribe of the Blackfoot confederacy, died yesterday in the Indian Hospital in this southwestern Alberta town.

Housewife Helps Nab Bank Robbers

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two men who held up a suburban Fort Worth bank yesterday were arrested quickly when an alert housewife spotted a "strange" car pull into the garage of a neighborhood home.

Police arrested and jailed an ex-actor drawing full disability pay and a man who said he was an Air Force officer in World War II and the Korean War.

One took about $3,500 in bills from a University State Bank teller and the other drove the getaway car.

Held for questioning were H. B. Wood, 27, Fort Worth, a Navy veteran; and Patrick Calvin Jones, 39, a transient.

Police swept down on the pair at the home of a girl friend of a tavern operator they knew after a tip from a housewife, Mrs. Richard Lahmer.

Mrs. Lahmer said she heard of the bank robbery on a Fort Worth telecast. A short time later she saw a "strange" car drive into the garage of the nearby house.

Police said Wood walked into the bank about 12:45 p.m. and handed Miss Judy Stephens, a teller, a check. "This is a holdup. Make it big bills," was printed on the check.

Miss Stephens said the man pulled a pistol from an inside coat pocket. She handed him mutilated $50 and $100 bills which the man stuffed in his shirt.

"He stopped half way across the lobby, looked back at me and then went on," she said.

The holdup man eased out without customers or other tellers knowing the robbery had taken place. The money was recovered from the man after their arrest.

Wood readily admitted his part in the holdup in city jail. Asked if lack of money was the cause of the robbery, he said, "Certainly I'm broke. I do not have one cent. And now I still got no sense."

Kefauver Says U.S. Nearing 'Brink' Again

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says "there are ominous signs that we may be walking up to the brink again." The threat of war this time, says the Tennessee Democrat, is in North Africa and the Middle East.

Campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, Kefauver told a rally of the United Steelworkers in West Duluth last night: "I do not think that it was Secretary (of State) Dulles who brought us back from the brink of war. I think we came back by the grace of God."

Kefauver said Dulles had boasted that, during the three years the Republicans have been in power, he had "taken us to the brink of war three times and brought us back again."

The senator also said he favors outright repeal rather than amendment of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

"Then we can start fresh with a clean slate and a clean bill," he told an audience of United Steelworkers. "Labor must be free from the disruptions of labor-management relations which have been the heritage of this act."

Kefauver, subject of an attack by Adlai Stevenson yesterday, told newsmen he would not comment on the episode. The two are campaigning for Democratic delegates in the Minnesota presidential primary Tuesday. Last night Stevenson spoke at Eveleth, 60 miles to the north, while Kefauver was appearing here.

"You will not hear one word from my lips, not one word of criticism of Mr. Stevenson," Kefauver said. "He is a man of high principles."

Stevenson had said at Nashua, Minn., he regretted that Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.) and other Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor leaders should be attacked by my distinguished and respected friend Sen. Kefauver merely because they saw fit to endorse me.

In north central Minnesota yesterday, Kefauver continued to hammer at the Eisenhower farm policies. He reiterated his stand for 100 per cent parity prices for farmers with incomes up to $7,000 per year.

Resident's Niece Killed By Train

HILLSBORO (AP)—Mrs. Reva Rape, niece of Mrs. A. L. Wasson of Big Spring, was killed instantly Thursday when she was struck by an M-KT passenger train here.

Mrs. Rape, 53, was walking over a railway crossing at the time.

She is survived by two children, Leslie Rape and Mrs. Joe Quinn, both of Whitney; her mother, Mrs. Pearl Wheelwright of Whitney; one granddaughter and her aunt, Mrs. Wasson. Her husband, Leslie Rape, died in 1942.

Funeral services will be in charge of the Marshall Funeral Home of Hillsboro.

Daniel To Abide By Reaction To Talk

DALLAS (AP)—Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) says that he is going to be "completely honest" with the people of Texas as to the result of replies to his statewide broadcast and that the mailbags will determine whether he will run for governor or finish his term in the Senate.

And if he does make the race and wins the Democratic nomination for governor, Daniel says he has no intention of resigning his Senate seat until after the primaries.

As to interposition, which Allan Shivers and other Southern governors have urged, Daniel said he has not yet explored all of the legal angles involved to reach a decision on its possible effectiveness.

The junior senator from Texas, who arrived in Dallas by plane from Washington at midnight, held a brief press conference at Love Field with newsmen early today. He spent the night here and today goes to Howard Payne College in Brownwood, where he will make an address and receive an honorary degree.

Daniel, traveling alone, told newsmen and Dallas Democratic leaders who met his plane that he was "mighty pleased" with the response to his Monday night state-wide TV and radio broadcast in which he said he was willing to run for governor but wanted to hear from at least 25,000 Texans before making a definite decision.

"When I left Washington (early last night), we had received at least 3,000 regular letters in addition to the telegrams and air-mail letters which came in earlier," he said. "The regular letters are just starting to come in, and we are expecting even more in the next few days."

Daniel said that while the results of yesterday's mail had not been completely tabulated when he left Washington, the great majority of the replies received to date urged him to run for governor.

Asked if he was going to make the exact results of the tabulations public, Daniel said he was going to be completely honest as to the results of the poll and that the replies he received would determine whether he served out the remaining two years of his Senate term or make the race for governor.

Earlier yesterday in Washington he told newsmen he had received about 1,000 telegrams signed by 1,850 persons and more than 2,000 air mail letters. He said that 95 per cent of these urged him to run for governor.

He said the letters brought cash and checks totaling $1,686 for expenses of his proposed campaign and payment of his Monday radio and television expenses. Most of the contributions were small, many of them dollar bills. The largest contribution was a $250 check. Daniel declined to identify the donor.

GOP Leader Sees More Negro Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, today predicted a big upswing in the northern Negro vote for Republicans this year.

Simpson and two Democratic congressional campaign committee members, Representatives Madden (Ind.) and Bennett (Fla.), disagreed with a statement by Rep. Powell (D-NY) that there is "a distinct possibility" a new political party will result from the bitter battle over segregation.

Powell, one of three Negro House members, told a news conference yesterday "many Negroes will desert" the Democratic party unless it returns to what he called the stronger civil rights policies of former President Truman.

Powell said President Eisenhower has not been as affirmative in favor of civil rights as he was earlier in his term, and added: "If President Eisenhower goes back to where he left off two years ago on civil rights — and (Adlai) Stevenson or other Democratic candidates continue to stand in the middle of the road (on civil rights)—I'd probably vote Republican" this year.

Simpson said the Negro vote in big Northern cities ran about 4-1 in favor of the Democrats in 1952, but now is swinging "very definitely toward the Republicans."

By election time this fall, he said, it should be evenly split between the two parties and should help swing into the GOP column some contested congressional seats. He specifically mentioned Philadelphia and St. Louis.

He declared the Negroes "appreciate" what he termed civil rights gains under the Eisenhower administration. "I don't think there is any room in the country for a third party," Simpson added.

Madden, chairman of the executive committee for the Democratic campaign group, said he too doubts the segregation dispute will lead to a third party. And he said he doesn't think it will cost the Democrats votes either.

Story Of Girl's Diabetic Battle Lesson In Valor

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the story of my 16-year-old daughter Barbara, who won a $500 scholarship prize today—the same day she took her 1,561st daily shot of insulin.

She didn't get the prize for taking the insulin; rather, you might say, she got it in spite of it.

She won the prize in a competitive examination—the fourth award of various kinds she has won in three years.

Naturally, her mother, her two sisters and I are proud. We are especially proud because Barbara is a diabetic.

She has jabbed herself with a needle every morning since Dec. 6, 1951, the day after we found out she was ill. She has to do it; otherwise she would die.

I'm telling her story because it occurred to her mother and me that it might be encouraging to other juvenile diabetics, and to their parents, or to any child with a handicapping illness.

My wife and I thought the bottom had dropped out of the world that day, almost 4½ years ago, when a doctor gave us the verdict.

And I'll never forget his telling Barbara—then a child of 12—that unless scientists came up with something else, she'd probably have to stick that needle into herself every day for the rest of her life.

She took the verdict without a whimper, and she hasn't whimpered since.

We knew that, compared to some illnesses, diabetes is not a major tragedy. Still, there was the plaguing thought of that daily injection... the possibility of insulin "reactions"...

We were afraid her illness might have a bad psychological effect upon her. We were afraid that the daily need for insulin, and for adhering closely to a sugar-free diet, might tend to make her feel different from her friends—perhaps leading her to retire into a shell.

How wrong we were! After she was graduated from our parish grammar school, St. Thomas More in Arlington, Va., she entered Holy Cross Academy in Washington—an hour's bus ride (with two changes) from our house.

She became active in debating, in working for her school newspaper and in dramatics and glee club.

As a sophomore, she won a scholarship to take a summer journalism course at the Catholic University of America. Last year, she won the District of Columbia oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion. A few weeks ago, she won the poetry section of an essay contest conducted by the Washington Evening Star.

Today's award—the $500 one—was for winning second honors among District of Columbia high school girls in the Betty Crocker "Home Maker of Tomorrow" examination sponsored by General Mills, Inc.

An honor student scholastically, she has a happy social life too. She loves to dance, is a good swimmer, and is not bad at tennis.

She even jokes about her "jabber"—saying she's "probably the only diabetic ever to take a hypo to a formal dance." (She carried the needle in the pocket of her mother's fur jacket one night when she planned to stay overnight at a friend's house after a school prom.)

So, that's the story of my Barbara, and I hope it may help someone with the same or a similar "handicap."

Barbara herself is going to try to help people in another way; she's planning to be a nurse.

NAACP To Picket Shivers Speech At TSU Sunday

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People voted last night to go ahead with plans to picket a speech by Gov. Allan Shivers Sunday at Texas Southern University.

Earlier the presidents of three Negro civic groups said they do not approve plans to boycott the governor's speech at the Negro university and there were several persons among the 105 attending the NAACP meeting who voted against the picketing.

Atty. Francis L. Williams, president of the NAACP chapter, said that 200 pickets would carry signs Sunday afternoon around the TSU campus where Gov. Shivers is to speak at the inauguration of TSU's new president, Dr. S. M. Nabrit.

"We intend to go about this picketing in a lawful and prudent manner," Williams said.

A resolution from the NAACP executive board was read by Williams. It said, in part:

"We recognize that Gov. Shivers has a right to say anything that he desires to say and we do not challenge his right to speak... but we do believe that we have a right to boycott his speech, refrain from attending and to influence other people not to... listen to

Couple Leaves Town Where Son Vanished

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)—The Gerald Dammans head for a new home in Iowa today, sad but desperately hopeful that someday some clue will disclose what happened to their missing 3-year-old son.

Gerald, 26, and his wife Marilyn, 22, packed with tears in their eyes yesterday as 2-year-old Pamela, their other child, romped around amid shipping crates.

The couple's little boy Steven disappeared here last Oct. 31 from in front of a supermarket. His mother had left him outside for a few minutes with Pamela, who was in a baby carriage.

Dammans has been stationed with the Air Force at nearby Mitchell Field. His four-year enlistment was up three months ago, but he has been getting 30-day extensions in the hope some word would be received concerning Steven.

Last February a brief flicker of hope turned to despair when a young boy was found in New Mexico. The child was not Steven. The family is going by car to Newton, Iowa, and will live on a farm belonging to Damman's father.

Mrs. Damman told newsmen: "It's just like leaving part of yourself behind. I don't believe we'll ever see Steven again, but we can never adjust our lives without him."

"We'll be thinking and talking and praying about him the rest of our lives." "I have two theories," the father said. "I think Steven was picked up by a woman who wanted a child or that he was stolen for the black market baby racket."

Rocket Power Will Move World

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All forms of motive power on earth eventually will be rocket, completely revolutionizing vehicular movement, says Andrew G. Haley, board chairman of the American Rocket Society. He told an ARS conference that all present conceptions of speed will have to be discarded for autos, trains, ships and everything that moves by power.

Creation Of New Worlds Proposed

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—An astrophysicist proposes that man solve his problem of overpopulation by creating a hundred new planets with a climate like the earth's and moving to them.

Such a project definitely is possible with atomic energy, Dr. Fritz Zwicky, noted California Institute of Technology rocket expert, told a reporter.

Great portions of major planets like Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune would be scooped up under the plan and transferred to smaller planets and their satellites. Orbits of the enlarged planets would be changed to make their course around the sun roughly comparable to the earth's.

Forces unleashed with the hydrogen bomb make it possible to provide suitable planets for emigrants from our sphere, Dr. Zwicky said.

"We can bomb Jupiter and other major planets out of their orbits and into other orbits more to our liking," he said. "We can transfer great masses from the surfaces of the big planets to the smaller planets and satellites and make them larger."

"Increasing the size of the moon, for instance, would increase its gravitational pull to a point where it could build up and retain an atmosphere similar to that of earth."

A ship to carry men from one planet to another could be built within 10 years or so, he said.

Texas Weather Due Warm-Up

A general warm-up of this weekend in Texas was predicted Friday in the wake of an early morning freeze that covered the northern half of the state. Heavy clouds that brought a light snow in the Panhandle and sprinkles elsewhere Thursday had almost completely disappeared before dawn Friday. Early morning readings ranged from 15 degrees at Dalhart to 27 at Brownsville. Amarillo had 19, Lubbock 20, Childress 22, Wichita Falls and Midland 28, Abilene 27, Salt Flat and Mineral Wells 30, Junction and San Angelo 31, and Fort Worth 32. Warmer weather was predicted for West Texas and North Central Texas Friday and over the rest of the state Saturday. The Weather Bureau said there was no overnight precipitation in the state. Friday afternoon temperatures ranged from 27 at Amarillo to 81 at Cotulla and Laredo.

Stevenson Sees A 'Deadly Drift'

EVELETH, Minn. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson last night accused the administration of "a deadly drift... while a chorus of Madison Avenue hucksters cries peace—peace and prosperity."

Davy Crockett 'Dead' Again; Kids No Longer Go For Caps

About the only fellow left who still wears a coonskin cap is Estes Kefauver and it may well be that even Estes won't stick with that picturesque headgear much longer.

Davy Crockett, who died the first time most heroically in defense of the Alamo 129 years ago, has died again.

Big Spring youngsters no longer want to be Davy Crocketts. Disney's genius revived the old frontiersman for the television receivers everywhere were attuned to the adventures of the colorful character as portrayed by Fess Parker.

But today Davy's dead as a doornail. This time, in all probability, he will be permitted to rest in peace for a long long time to come.

There was a hint in the air that you could get a real bargain if you were in the market for such merchandise. It was quite a temptation.

Well, since Davy's dead," says the reporter, "do the kids have a new hero?"

The sales girl thinks this over. "Not really," she says. "We have 'Buffalo Bill Jr.' sets and 'Texas Ranger' outfits. Some buy these but not the way they used to go for Davy Crockett."

"No, there's no replacement for Davy yet. Kids are going back to plain cowboy and Indian. You still sell a lot of fancy six shooters with silver scabbards and things like that."

So, apparently, sturdy old Davy has given up the ghost again—just as he did back in 1836.

Arsonist Sets Fire In Church

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Breaking in through a side door, an arsonist piled the American and papal flags, brocaded cloths, and a Latin missal on the main marble altar at St. Vibiana's Catholic Cathedral and then started a fire with an altar taper.

Sexton Joseph Welter discovered the blaze when he arrived yesterday to prepare for the first Mass. His excited cries brought four priests, who fought the flames until firemen arrived.

While firemen cut a hole in the vestibule ceiling to allow smoke to dissipate, the Rev. John Keenan said Mass for some 100 persons.

"I regret that your congressman, John Blatnik, and other DFL leaders should be attacked by my distinguished and respected friend Sen. Kefauver, merely because they saw fit to endorse me..."

"We all know the unrelenting purpose of the Republicans is to divide the Democrats and set us to fighting among ourselves. Certainly the Republicans should not have the assistance of Democrats in that mission."

Kefauver, campaigning at Duluth, said he would not comment on Stevenson's remarks.

In his talk here, Stevenson said the GOP apparently has accepted the stock market as a national economic barometer.

"On Wednesday," he continued, "when the President seemed to reopen the door to Richard, I heard the stock market reacted to Vice President Nixon's improved political position by going up a few points."

"I don't know exactly what this means. But I do recall that the market normally rises in the face of a declaration of war or other national calamity."

Educator Stands To Lose Pension Over Racial Stand

ATLANTA (AP)—A Georgia educational leader under fire from the state's two principal school boards for charged integration views today faced possible loss of his $518.90 a month pension and an honorary college title.

The Board of Regents, without commenting on its action, yesterday voted unanimously to take back the title it gave Dr. Guy H. Wells two years ago as president emeritus of Georgia State College for Women.

Wells currently is executive secretary of the Georgia Committee on Interracial Cooperation, an affiliate of the Southern Regional Council.

March Is Measles Month, If State Report Is Standard

March could easily be titled 'Measles Month' in Texas — at least this year.

Reports from the State Department of Health reveal that during the past week, the number of cases of measles were over twice as high as the previous five-year average for the disease.

Locally, the number of cases is about the same as in 1955 although a great part of the total recorded this year has come in March.

For the first two months of 1956 and the first 15 days of this month, the county has had 109 cases of measles, according to the city-county health unit.

And for the same period in 1955, the total was 99 cases.

For this year, however, almost 80 per cent of measles cases were reported during March. Only two cases were noted in January of this year, and then only 25 cases came in February, leaving 82 cases here in March. This is an average

Teacher Fired For Paddling

MCCONNELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A high school teacher in nearby Deavertown has been fired by the Deavertown Board of Education for allegedly paddling at least five of his girl students and for teaching Bible subjects contrary to state law.

A. B. Mercer, attorney for the board, said the teacher, Jack Eberle, 25, of McConnellsville, is supposed to have paddled the girls for talking in class.

Eberle is free on $500 bond pending grand jury action on a charge of assault and battery brought by the parents of Tremna Kennel, 15, one of the five girls. He has denied the charge.

Eberle, a graduate of the Bob Jones Evangelistic College in North Carolina, was an instructor in English and government. It was his first year as a teacher.

The health unit urges all parents to watch exposed children carefully and at the first sign of temperature, flushed face, sniffler or watering eyes, the child should be put to bed at once and placed under a doctor's care.

If a child is under five years of age and in poor physical health, the doctor may recommend giving immune globulin. The serum, however, is only protection for about three weeks, the health unit added, but there is no limit to the number of times it can be used.

Sullivans Invited To See Destroyer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Navy has invited all New Yorkers named Sullivan to an open house aboard the destroyer The Sullivans.

The O'Sullivans will be welcome too. The open house is set for tomorrow—St. Patrick's Day—and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

The destroyer, lying at a Hudson River pier, was named for the four Sullivan brothers of Waterloo, Iowa, who died in the battle of Guadalcanal.

The nation's top St. Patrick's Day event—the Fifth Avenue parade—starts at noon tomorrow, John Joseph Sheehan, chairman of the parade for the past 20 years, said he expects more than 120,000 marchers.

Plenty Of Jap Ohars - No Irish

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Ah, the shame of it. Seven thousand Marines and Navy men at the huge U. S. naval base here, and not an O'Hara in the lot.

The idea was a picture for St. Patrick's Day of an American O'Hara, preferably big and red-headed, posed with a cute little almond-eyed Japanese miss of the same name.

All the press officers could find were a dozen minus-apostrophe Oharas among the Japanese nationals employed at the base.

Veteran Salesman

Nine-year-old Annie Lee Nuttall hunts for prospective customers for her Girl Scout cookies. Brownie Annie has already chalked up 100 boxes to her salesmanship credit this week. Last year, as a novice, Annie sold 65. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nuttall, 1211 Settles, and a third grade student at Washington School.

NCO Wives' Club To Have Tourney

Plans are underway at Webb Air Force Base for a bowling tournament, sponsored by the NCO Wives bowling team, "The Webb Chicks." Stated for March 24-25, the tournament will be held at the alleys on the Base.

Team captains are Mrs. Vincent Best, Mrs. Harold Kain, Mrs. Lamar Hayes and Mrs. Dave Souza. Prizes, which have been donated by local merchants are on display at the Base Exchange.

On March 27, a banquet will be given at the NCO Club, and awards will be made to the winners in the tournament.

Mrs. Morrison Gives Credit Club Program

Mrs. H. C. Morrison described "A Woman of Distinction" to 19 members of Credit Women's Club at noon Thursday in the Colonial Room.

One guest, Mrs. Ray Carter of Sterling City, was present. Mrs. Houston Cowden won a special prize contributed by Mrs. Dorothy Ragan.

Las Artistas Meeting

The Las Artistas workshop, usually held on Saturday afternoon at St. Paul Presbyterian Church, has been canceled for this week.

Six members of the TEL Class brought covered dishes to a supper meeting Thursday night at First Baptist Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Bernice Slater presided. Taking a topic from Hebrews, Mrs. R. D. Ulrey gave the devotion.

Summer Stoles

Your best friend — a Summer stole protects you from chilly breezes. No. 204 has crochet and sew directions; hot-iron transfer for embroidery.

Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern to MARTHA MADISON, Big Spring Herald, 367 W. Adams St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Mrs. Young Reviews At 1948 Hyperion Tea

According to the friends of Lloyd C. Douglass's daughters, he was "not much like a preacher." This was brought out in a review of "The Shape of Sunday" which was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. T. D. Young of Sweetwater.

Mrs. Young, a sister of Mrs. R. W. Whipkey of this city, gave the highlight of minister-author's life as written by his two daughters, Betty and Virginia.

The occasion was a guest tea, given by the 1948 Hyperion Club in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Wasson. Other hostesses were Mrs. Choc Jones, Mrs. H. W. Smith and Mrs. Marion Edwards. Mrs. Merle Stewart, club president, introduced guests of the club, and members named their individual guests.

Mrs. Stewart presented Mrs. Young, who told of the carefree spirit on Monday in the Douglass household. She then developed a week in the life of the family, with the shape of the Sunday sermon hovering above each member.

The girls told of their father's civic work in the town of Ann Arbor, Mich., of his delight in entertaining their friends, and of his talent for mimicry. His idea of "some day" writing a novel became a family joke.

His writing was not easily done, and not until Douglass had written "The Robe" did he really find his happy combination of religion and writing, the reviewer said.

Following the review, refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of Women Are Not Good Drivers, Eh?

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Think you're a good driver? Here's a woman who has driven 800,000 miles about 32 times around the world—without an accident.

That's the mileage rolled up by 66-year-old Mrs. Myrtle Getso in 38 years of driving.

In all that time the Flint housewife has never been involved in an accident or received a moving violation ticket.

What's her formula for safety? She says:

"I have avoided accidents by figuring the other guy is going to do the wrong thing."

Men who regard women drivers with scorn because "they don't drive as much as we do" have no grounds against Mrs. Getso. She averages 20,000 miles a year. Most people do between 10,000 and 15,000 miles.

She's no fuddy-duddy on the highway either. One of her pet peeves is "old people who poke at 25 miles an hour on highways with speed limits of 50 or more. They cause a great many accidents."

Mrs. Getso herself goes between 60 and 65 on the open highway. But she's not in favor of speeding and isn't afraid of state police.

Mrs. Getso recently received an award from the Genesee County Traffic Safety Commission for her driving record. And the commission promised her another award when she makes it a million safe miles.

Mrs. Getso is confident she'll collect it.

Two 4-H Members Prepare Snacks At HDC Meeting

Two Elbow 4-H Club members made snack sandwiches with butter and garlic for the Lomax Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon.

Elizabeth Pace, county agent, assisted at the demonstration, which was held in the home of Mrs. T. E. Newman. The girls were Glenda Rutherford and Glenda Ruth Box.

The devotion, from Romans 15:1-6, was given by Mrs. Newman. During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Wiley Williams, president, Mrs. Ralph Newman gave the council report and Mrs. Wayne Etchison reported on a recent 4-H Club sale.

Mrs. Paul Blusterbaum, will attend a special session for parliamentarians in Elbow Tuesday.

The eight members present elected Mrs. Neil Fryar their candidate for Woman of the Year. Refreshments were served.

The April session, an all-day meeting with a covered dish luncheon, will be held in the home of Mrs. Ralph Newman.

Stanton To Send Rebekah Delegate

STANTON — Mrs. Pearl Ory, will attend the Rebekah Assembly in Dallas as representative from Stanton Rebekah Lodge 287. It was planned at a recent meeting. The Assembly will meet Sunday through Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert White, noble grand, presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Roy Linney and Mrs. Emma Garrett visited in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone and daughter and Suzanna Reynolds spent the weekend in Dallas visiting Gordon Stone Jr., college student there.

Walter Graves and Billy Avery were Big Spring visitors.

Mrs. Lila Flanagan, Mrs. Margaret Moffett and Mrs. Finley Rhodes are spending a week in California visiting Mrs. Flanagan's sister and Mrs. Hila Weathers.

Dr. Nell Sanders Discusses Health For Airport P-TA

Dr. Nell Sanders discussed "Health Trends" at Parent-Teacher Association meeting at Airport School Thursday afternoon.

A fathers' night is to be held April 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

New officers have been announced. They are Mrs. Cecil Earp, president; Mrs. Billy Joe Evers, vice president; Mrs. E. Gregg, secretary, and Eulalia Mitchell, treasurer.

Second graders presented a special program for the group. About 75 attended. Miss Mitchell's second grade won room count. A special prize was awarded to Mrs. W. H. Baker.

Health Nurse Uses Film During Talk

Health Nurse Jewel Barton illustrated a talk on "Communicable Diseases" with pamphlets and a film at a Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday afternoon at East Ward School.

Bringing the devotion was Mrs. R. M. Stroup. Mrs. R. F. Davis's first grade students presented a song and dance program with Mrs. Jack Everett accompanying on the piano.

During the business session, Mrs. Robert Lee was elected vice president by the 46 attending. Mrs. Davis's room won the attendance prize.

Lamesa Music Pupils Will Enter Contest

LAMESA — Entering the State Music Contest for high school students in Odessa will be, as vocalists, Lu Ann Parks, Delinda Shillingberg, John Lee Bryant, Julia Holder, Hubert Murphy, Sandra Oliver, Ronny Acuff, Ruth Evans, Kathryn Koger, Shirley Spenter, J. L. Mayhew, and Marion McDonald.

Entering in piano are Linda Peterson, Nancy Mitchell and John Lee Bryant.

Dozen Guests Attend Pink, Blue Shower

A dozen guests honored Mrs. Melvin Witter at a pink and blue shower Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Bob Dean was hostess in her home, 1514 Vine, assisted by Mrs. Rayford Gillihan.

A pink and blue stork and its bundle were surrounded by spring flowers on the pink linen-covered refreshment table.

Favors were safety pin storks.

Mrs. Yates Named HDC Candidate

Mrs. Denver Yates was chosen as Woman of the Year candidate by Elbow Home Demonstration Club at a Wednesday afternoon meeting.

Mrs. R. I. Findley, who was hostess at the school, brought the devotion. The next meeting will be held at the school March 28 with Mrs. LeRoy Findley as hostess.

Kouples Dance Klub

About 20 couples attended the dance given Thursday evening by the Kouples Dance Klub. The group met in the Elks Club. Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oakes and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jennings.

Abilene Pair Tells Plans For Wedding

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Campbell announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol, to the Rev. Rodney Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams of Midland. Both are students at McMurry College in Abilene.

The wedding date has been set for June 4 at 7 p.m. at First Methodist Church.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of Lamesa High School and is a member of the college band, Volunteers, Christian Foundation Council, and Gold Star Dormitory Council. She is employed in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Abilene.

Rev. Williams is the pastor of the Lomax Home Church in Abilene. He is a 1953 graduate of Sweetwater High School and, at McMurry, is president of the Big Deu Tshen Indians, a German club, and a member of the Forum Christian Foundation Council, Koe Sari Social Club, Circle K, and Sigma Tau Delta.

Pastel Color Theme Highlights Shower For Easter Bride

A shower in pastel blue and yellow, the chosen colors of bride-elect Robbie Gay, complimented her approaching marriage Thursday night in the home of Mrs. C. Wheeler Meek, 409 Dallas.

Cohostessing were Mrs. Morris Gay, Joan Gay and Edith Gay. In the receiving line were Mrs. Gay; the honoree; her mother, Mrs. A. Z. Gay, and her grandmother, Mrs. Sam Wright.

About 30 guests called during the evening. Daisies in the bridal colors and white stock formed floral arrangements on the lace-covered refreshment table and in the gift display room.

Miss Gay is engaged to Thad R. Magee. Rites are scheduled for April 1.

67 OWC Members Play Table Games At Webb Thursday

Sixty-seven Officers' Wives' Club members played bridge and canasta Thursday afternoon at Ellis Hall.

Hostessing was Block One with Mrs. L. B. Jackson as chairman. Game prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. W. Moellenberg, high; Mrs. J. C. Alexander, second high; Mrs. R. Vaughan, third high; Mrs. Harold Dewall, low; Mrs. Augusta Comstock, travel; Mrs. Nelson Thomas, intermediate; Mrs. Larry McMullen, beginner; Mrs. John Ivers, canasta.

Winning party prizes were Mrs. Edward Harrison; Mrs. John Swenson, Mrs. Alfred Peterson and Mrs. Ridsen Wall.

Ranch Party Fetes Engaged Couple

LAMESA—Gingham and denim-clad guests honored Flora Jane Leunberger and Sonny Garnett, who will be married March 31, with a ranch style dinner Wednesday night.

The home of Mrs. Hayes Walker was lighted by lanterns for the occasion. A blue and white checked cloth covered the serving table. Tiny horses surrounded the cactus centerpiece.

Cohostesses were Mrs. M. E. Smart and Mrs. Frank Barkhurst. The couple was presented with a place setting of dinnerware.

AMONG LAMESA CLUBS
Lamesa Groups Have Business Meetings

LAMESA — The Dawson County Garden Club met Thursday at the Lamesa Woman's Study Club for a covered dish luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. Charnell Jobe read the requirements for the 13 committees. Each chairman then gave her report for the year. During the reports, it was stated that the club has landscaped two rural schools under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Randal, and that the Junior Gardening Club has put in 430 hours on horticulture, conservation, nature study and flower arrangement.

A committee composed of Mrs. Hoyt McClelland, Mrs. R. L. Mires and Mrs. L. D. Echols was appointed to select the club's nominee for the outstanding club woman of the year. Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. V. Z. Rogers, and Mrs. O. H. Sires.

The DeMolay Mothers Club met Wednesday morning in the director's room of the First National Bank. An election of officers was

Mrs. Mark Is Speaker For Spaders

Members of the Spaders Garden Club heard a discussion of chrysanthemums Thursday afternoon when they met in the home of Mrs. Don Williams.

Mrs. Dewey Mark was the speaker. She told the group that the flower originated in Japan. There have been more than 500 varieties counted, ranging from the tiny ones to the large "football corsage" type.

The disabbing and pruning processes were illustrated by charts.

Schedules for the Spring Flower Show, to be sponsored by the group, were distributed. Announcement was made that they have been sent to local clubs and to garden clubs of this area. The show is scheduled for April 10 at Cosden Country Club.

Mrs. Bruce Frazier will be the next hostess. Mrs. Bob Carlile was elected president to replace Mrs. Dale Smith, who resigned her office. Mrs. Bob Tawater, a former member, was present as a guest. Seventeen attended.

Mrs. H. M. Compton, 201 Malvern, has returned home after a week's visit in Mineral Wells. She was the guest of her son, Munson Compton, Mrs. Compton and her grandson, Chip.

Strategy Session

Longhorns Seek 2nd Win In Snyder Game Today

Smarting from a 16-0 defeat administered by the Andrews Mustangs earlier this week—which they reason they handed to the visitors on a silver platter—the Big Spring Steers seek a return to winning ways in a 4:15 p.m. baseball engagement here today with the Snyder Tigers. The Bengals will also be trying to 'get up' after a 15-1 drubbing handed them by the Midland Bulldogs. The Longhorns surrendered 11 unearned runs to Andrews as the Mustangs won their second straight decision over the locals. Big Spring and Snyder are old rivals. In the past couple of years, the Tigers have held the upper hand over the locals, not only in baseball but in practically all sports. Though they are licking their wounds after that gosh-awful defeat by Midland, the Tigers have potentially a fine club and could prove it here today.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Coach Bob Carter's decision to forfeit Amarillo College's right to attend the National Junior College Basketball Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan., means that HCJC gained a second place finish in West Zone standings.

Had the eligibility of Charles Brown, the classy Negro guard with the Badgers, been determined earlier, the Hawks would have got to compete in the State Tournament at College Station, too. Brown played in five West Zone games during the spring term, four of which Amarillo won. One of those wins came over HCJC in Amarillo and Brown was the difference between victory and defeat. The revised standings show HCJC with a 5-3 won-lost record within the zone. Frank Phillips of Borger led with a 7-1 mark.

It's doubtful Carter can play Brown next season without a challenge, for some rules clearly state that "any player who gives wrong information in registering for school can be declared ineligible."

When Brown began to play for the Badgers, other coaches expressed the opinion that he was too good not to have benefited from college experience somewhere along the line.

Carter insisted, however, that he had checked on Brown in every way he knew how, and nothing to indicate he had ever played college ball had turned up.

At any rate, Cameron—the team picked to replace Amarillo in the National Meet—will probably represent the Region more ably than the Badgers.

Most sideline observers in the Amarillo tournament agreed that the Aggies had the better club but couldn't get 'up' for the championship test.

Darrell Royal doubled his annual income when he resigned the job as football coach at Mississippi State to accept a similar post at the University of Washington. Some Texas high schools pay their coaches more than does Mississippi State.

Tay Brown, a very successful mentor at Compton Junior College in California, says he'd like very much to be Jess Hill's successor as head mentor at the University of Southern California.

There is strong opposition to him, however. Brown's Compton teams have won 106, lost 17 and played nine ties since he's been there.

Big Spring High School should have one of the fastest backfields around next fall, if Johnny Janak can make use of the great speed he has shown in track.

Janak looks to best advantage in the 220. Ronnie Phillips isn't far behind in any race and Ronnie Phillips isn't the slowest boy around, by any means. Track is helping all three boys.

Billy Johnson, who will probably be the Steers' quarterback, is fairly quick, too.

I look for Chicago to lose one of its professional football teams within the next few years.

Neither team is benefiting from television money at the present time, because one has a home game when the other is on the road. That's a big item these days.

Chances are the Cardinals will wind up in Miami, where pro football was tried once and failed miserably.

Texas Southern Defeats Midwestern, 85 To 82

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Texas Southern, a Negro team, is in the semifinals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament to the delight of the crowd. Texas Southern is the major attraction as the nation's small colleges decide their cage kings for the season. Especially is loose-jointed, long-armed Bennie Swain something to watch. This prospect for the Harlem Globe Trotters does tricks with a basketball that even that famed expert, Goose Tatum, might watch with interest.

The Globe Trotters, noted touring Negro basketball team, already have taken one star from Texas Southern—Woodrow Saulsbery.

Swain, a sophomore is 6 feet 8 inches tall and his arms are so long they almost reach to his knees. His hamlike hands pretty well cover the basketball. Swain passes and bats the ball around so cleverly it's difficult to keep up with it. He'll pass it back or between his legs, or just hold it above his head and dare somebody to get it. He does what might be termed a reverse hook shot. That is, he moves one way on the hook shot but swings around and hooks it from the other direction. He also is a tip-in artist. And he averages more than 20 rebounds per game, has gotten as high as 36 in a sin-

Hawk Tracksters Go To Fort Worth Meet

Coach George McAllister and nine members of the Howard County Junior College track and field team departed today for Fort Worth, where Saturday morning the Hawks open competition in the Southwestern Exposition Meet.

Those making the trip with McAllister are John Dale Curtis, Jim Blassingame, Harold Hicks, Fred Stuart, Jimmy Joe Robinson, Tommy Black, Charles Brown, Harold Baker and David Hodnett. None of the boys have attained top condition but Coach McAllister reasons the experience will be good for them.

The Hawks will be running against the toughest kind of opposition.

Bearcats Triumph In 3-Way Meet

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Targe Lindsay's Garden City Bearcats scored 57½ points to win a triangular track and field practice meet here Thursday from Forsan and Sterling City.

Forsan wound up with 51 5-6 while Sterling trailed with 38 5-6. The Bearcats won six first places and a flock of seconds and thirds to wind up in front. Dale Hilliger was a double winner for Garden City, finishing first in the shot put and discus.

The outstanding individual performer was Pat Brunton of Forsan, who won both the century and the quarter mile. Brunton scored a total of 15½ points. Forsan won first places in the in the high jump, sprint relay and addition to the 100 and 440.

Sterling settled for blue ribbons in the high jump, sprint relay and broad jump.

The lineup of teams will stage another meet next Wednesday in Forsan.

Lynn Glass, ace shot putter for Sterling, did not participate due to illness.

The summary:

100 High Hurdles—1. Childers, Garden City, 2. Dave, Garden City, 3. McWhorter, Sterling City, 4. Duffler, Forsan, 5. Blyle, Garden City, 6. Brunton, Forsan, 7. Blackman, Sterling City, 8. FORT WORTH (AP)—More than 1,300 athletes were moving in today for the massive Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet that may hang up the most records in its 33-year history.

Oklahoma A&M, Abilene Christian College, Texas and Dallas Sunset are favored for the university college, junior college-freshman and high school division championships. Between 30 and 35 new records appear likely if the weather is favorable.

It will be cold but warming up this afternoon when 806 schoolboy tracksters swirl out in the meet's opening program. The colleges swing into action tomorrow morning, cheered by prospects of ideal weather conditions.

The Oklahoma Aggies, spearheaded by quarter-miler J. W. Mashburn, distance runner Sture Landqvist, pole vaulter James Graham, hurdler Eddie Roberts and a steaming mile relay team, are heavy choices to return to the university throne.

Champions of the Border Olympics are not having to face the schools that gave them the most competition there—Texas and Texas A&M—Oklahoma W&M seems an absolute shoe-in. There are nine teams in the university class, with Baylor likely to offer the most serious trouble for the hurrying

Eight Schools Drop Baseball

AUSTIN (AP)—Eight fewer teams are taking part in interscholastic League baseball this year than last, Athletic Director Rhea Williams said today.

Baseball is divided into B, A and AA conferences. B nine go only to bi-district championships. Conference A schools play to regional titles.

Conference AA determines a state champion in a tournament of bi-district titlists in Austin June 6-8.

Distribution of teams this year is: Conference AA, with 103 teams, has 5 more than last year; A, 6 fewer than last year, with 180; B, 437, or 7 schools less than last season.

All three conferences must certify district winners by May 16, with May 30 the final date for determining AA bi-district championships. Bi-district winners in B and regional champions in A must be settled by June 8.

Coach Johnny Johnson has lined up eight matches for his Big Spring High School tennis team and has indicated the Steers will play at least one more.

The Longhorns begin their play Monday, March 19, at which time Sterling City comes here.

Johnson said he was looking for a match for March 29.

Prospects are lean here this year but most of the candidates are young and Johnson will build for the future.

The schedule: March 19—Sterling here. March 21—Snyder here. March 22—Coahoma here. March 23-24—Odessa Invitational Tournament.

March 25—Sterling there (tentative). March 27—Snyder there. April 3—Coahoma here. April 6-7—District meet in Odessa.

Not only the best junior college teams will be on hand, the Hawks must run against senior college freshmen teams, as well.

Curtis will compete against Eddie Southern, perhaps the finest 220 and 440 prospect in the country. Southern, a Dallas product, set an intercollegiate hurdles record while in high school and can run just about any race he desires.

Stuart will compete in the sprints. Blassingame will go in the 800, Hicks the 440 and in the relay races, if the Hawks enter a team. Robinson and Black are pole vaulters. Brown is a sprinter, as is Hodnett, while Baker runs the mile.

The Jayhawks will be the host team in a three-way meet here next week.

Joe Gordon May Go At Second

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Unless Manager Bucky Harris changes his mind at the last minute, Detroit's starting lineup against the Pittsburgh Pirates today is to have this line in it: Gordon, 2b.

Yep, you're right it will be the same Joe Gordon, a 41-year-old youngster who retired in 1950 from the American League wars, after seven years with the Yankees and four with the Cleveland Indians as a master second baseman.

Maybe it's just to put up Detroit's No. 1 deficiency, or to show the youngsters how, or maybe Harris is just kidding.

Aggies. Abilene Christian College is expected to spread-eagle a field that has 12 other teams in the college division. Texas, with its great relay teams and featuring Eddie Southern, talented middle-distance runner and hurdler, and Hollis Gaine, blazing sprint man, seems to have little competition in the junior college-college freshman class.

There are 68 high schools with defending champion Abilene in the field but with the Eagles accorded small chance of overpowering the brilliant all-around Sunset and Fort Worth Arlington Heights teams.

A golf meet is being run off at the same time as track and field with 74 schools entering teams in three divisions. North Texas State is favored in the university-college class over defending co-champions Oklahoma A&M and University of Houston. There are 16 universities and colleges, 14 junior college-freshman teams and 44 high school teams.

The American Legion Helps Build a Better America!

The young men on the steps of our nation's capitol are the citizens of tomorrow. Having attended Boys State and Boys Nation, sponsored by The American Legion, they know the rights and responsibilities of American citizenship.

More than twenty thousand like them, age 15 to 17, attend Boys States every year and "learn by doing" at these annual sessions of functional citizenship. As "voters" and "office holders" they discover what makes our system of government "tick."

A million more youngsters get basic training in good sportsmanship on American Legion baseball and junior baseball teams. Three hundred and fifty thousand participate in The American Legion's state and national oratorical contests and get a working knowledge of the U. S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Twenty thousand are selected annually for The American Legion's School Medal Awards. These are just a few of the fine character building activities spearheaded by the Legion.

Your local American Legion Post is one of the 17,200 posts which help support such Americanism programs; help promote equally important programs of Child Welfare, Rehabilitation and National Security; help build a better America.

All America salutes The American Legion on the 37th anniversary of its birth, March 15 to 17. Eligible veterans of World War I, World War II, or the Korean War are invited to join The American Legion. Why not contact your local post today?

Steer Thinly Clads Entries At Snyder

Fuller Aims At Mile Mark

Big Spring is one of 37 entries in the fourth annual Canyon Reef Relays, billed for the Snyder track all day Saturday.

Latest contingent to enter into competition is Abilene but the Eagles' main squad will not be on hand. Most of Bob Grosenclose's team will be running in the Southwestern Recreational Meet in Fort Worth.

Close to 500 athletes will be in attendance at Snyder. Big Spring is due to supply upwards to 22 of that number.

Coch Harold Bentley of Big Spring is highly pleased with the showing the Longhorns made at the Possum Kingdom Relays in Graham last week.

At that time, the Longhorns wound up in third place, just one point behind second place Pampa. Abilene won the meet.

The Steers' best bats tomorrow appear to be Bobby Fuller in the mile, Milton Davis in the quarter and Johnny Janak in the sprints.

Pampa may take the favorite's role at Snyder, in view of the fact that the Abilene squad will be split.

Ed Strickland, who scored 134 points at Graham, leads the Pampans into action. Strickland is an ace shot putter and broad jumper.

Midland is the defending champion at Snyder and is one of the favorites to repeat. The Bulldogs have come up with another strong entry this year. The Bulldogs wound up fourth in the Border Olympics in Laredo last weekend.

Fuller may shatter the Canyon Reef Relays record in the mile. He was under it in winning that event at Graham last week in the time 4:41.7. He faces strong competition from Lamesa's R. D. Ross, however.

Preliminaries in the big show begin at 9 a.m., finals at 1 p.m. Local entries and the events in which they will enter are:

100-220—Johnny Janak.
440—Milton Davis, Guinite Gibbs.

440 Relay—Janak, Ronnie King, Jerry Barron, Davis.

Sprint medley—King, Sanders, Janak and Richard Engle or Ronnie Phillips.

880 relay—King, Clyde McMahon, Phillips, Barron.

High hurdles—Don Anderson, Low Hurdles—Barron, Bobby Loudermilk, Alton McCarty.

Mile relay—Davis, McMahon, Phillips, Darrell Sanders.

Mile run—Fuller.
Broad jump—Bobby Wallace, Benny Compton.

High jump—Wallace, David DiBrel, Jimmy Bice.

Show put—Bunky Grimes, McCoy Gilliland, Lewis Porter.
Discus—Grimes, Gilliland, Porter.

Pole Vault—Frank Powell.

SUNNY JIM SAYS NASHUA READY FOR ONE OF STERNEST TESTS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nashua, the million-dollar race horse, faces one of the sternest tests of his brilliant career in the $100,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap at a mile and a quarter tomorrow but the trainer of the big bay colt says he is "ready."

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who conditions Nashua, sent his 4-year-old star over the Hialeah track yesterday and Nashua did the half mile in :46 2-5 and the 5 furlongs in a blistering :59.

Nashua will carry 129 pounds—heaviest impost of his career—and will spot his opponents from 4 to 19 pounds.

However, handicappers have made the Leslie Combs II the favored 4-5 favorite to take the $85,300 winner's share and push his total earnings to $1,121,215. That would surpass Citation's world record of $1,085,760. Eddie Arcaro, Nashua's regular rider, will be aboard.

Second choice in the early time is Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action, who set a new track record of 1:09 for 6 furlongs at Hialeah last month and gets in the race tomorrow under 125 pounds.

Decision On Wes Santee Delayed

CLEVELAND (AP)—His court battle to remain an amateur continued until Monday, Wes Santee runs the mile tonight at Cleveland's arena against token opposition and the meet record he set here a year ago.

It will be the third race for the 23-year-old Marine lieutenant since the Amateur Athletic Union's Executive Committee by a 14-1 vote suspended him for life last Feb. 15.

After opening statements in the State Supreme Court in New York yesterday, a recess was declared until Monday in Santee's effort to get a permanent injunction preventing the AAU from enforcing its ban. Meanwhile, a temporary injunction remains in force against the AAU action, which was based on charges Santee took excessive expenses.

Santee's 4:04.6 time here last year was the best in the 15-year history of local Knights of Columbus indoor meets. In the two races he has run since the AAU suspension, he posted 4:10.5 at Milwaukee and 4:13.8 in New York.

There will be two sections of the mile race here, as there were in New York and Milwaukee. Other runners are wary of risking Olympic-year eligibility by competing against Santee until the court decides his case.

Santee probably will run in a second section of the mile against Ed Kirk of Lockbourne air base near Columbus and Bill Taylor, a fellow Marine from Quantico, Va. AAU rules permit servicemen to compete against any opposition.

The first section has these entries: Ted Wheeler, Big Ten champion from Iowa; Phil Coleman of the University of Chicago Track Club; Ike Matza of New York University; John Walter, Michigan State graduate student; and Jack Blackburn of Ohio State.

AT ST. PETE

Hebert Nursing A Stroke Lead

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A tightly bunched field of par-busters, with Lionel Hebert nursing a lead of one lone stroke, swung into the second round of the St. Petersburg Open Tournament today.

And from the way this classy collection of swingers man-handled the Lakewood Country Club course yesterday, par golf or better will be required to qualify for the final 36 holes and a shot at the $12,500 prize money.

Fifty-three pros and one amateur bettered the par of 36-36-72 over the 6,489-yard course in the opening round. Another 21 matched par. The field will be cut to the low 60 pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties, for the final two rounds.

Hebert toured the sandy layout in 31-34-65, seven under par. The short, husky French-Canadian from Erie, Pa., was one of the early starters and he posted his brilliant score with more than 100 rivals still on the course.

Until late in the day, when Frank Stranahan and Art Wall Jr. came cruising in with 66s, it appeared no one was coming close to Hebert. Stranahan, former British Amateur champion from Toledo, and Wall, a pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., had 4-under-par 32s on the back nine.

Hans Merrill, Mogadore, Ohio, and Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., winner of last week's Pensacola Open, fired identical 33-34-67s to tie for fourth.

Nine others were within three strokes of first place with 68s. These included Hebert's brother Jay, who registers from Sanford, Fla.; Ted Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; and National Open champion Jack Fleck, Davenport, Iowa.

Forsan Sweeps Yearling Set

FORSAN (SC)—Forsan High School's girls won all three volleyball games from Big Spring Junior High contingents here Thursday.

The Forsan A team turned back the Ninth Grade Yearlings from Big Spring in the feature game, 16-12, after its B team had subdued the Yearling Eighth Graders, 30-26; and the C team had won over the visiting Seventh Graders, 30-22.

In the feature game, Forsan held only a 7-4 advantage at half time but continued in command after play was resumed.

Darlene Williams had five points for Big Spring. Punky Boyd counted four and Anita Lane two.

For Forsan, Ann Griffin scored five, Patsy Shouls four, Nancy Fetcock two and Lovelle Fletcher two.

June Ann Johnston and Martha Cobb, along with Peggy Isaacs, played excellent ball for Big Spring.

In the Eighth Graders' game, Janie Phillips and Pat Scheider each tallied seven points for Big Spring while Dawn Moore had five. For Forsan, Jean Shouls, Glenda Scudday and Jean Huestis each tallied seven. Big Spring led at half time, 13-12.

Elaine Patterson led the Big Spring Seventh Graders with nine points. Linda Sneed had seven and Carol Phillips, Margie Roberts and Madilyn Dick three each.

For Forsan, Patsy Goch served successfully 22 times, Ann Sullivan 12. Forsan led at half time, 30-26.

It takes a FORD to squeeze maximum power out of today's gasoline

Prefer a SIX?
Ford is the only manufacturer who gives you a Short Stroke Six in the light-duty field. It's the most modern, most efficient Six because it gives you more horsepower per cubic inch than any other Six. And in a Ford Six you get integral valve guides, free-turb intake and exhaust valves—plus a deep-spirit crankcase for longer, smoother engine operation.

Shown above is the biggest Pickup box in the 1/2-ton field—a new 8-ft. box, available on the Ford Pickup at low extra cost.

Only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power—V-8 or Six—in every truck! Short Stroke design means up to 53% more power with no increase in engine size

Just one kind of engine can give you all the mileage built into today's gas. And that's a modern Short Stroke engine—the new kind of truck power pioneered by Ford.

Short Stroke engines develop the kind of power that used to be possible only with much bigger engines. And Short Stroke engines do it on less gas! The shorter stroke means less piston travel, which means less friction to waste power and gas, and less wear, too. You get more usable power also—power that works for you at the rear wheels!

New Ford Trucks save you money when you buy! Ford is America's lowest-priced line of V-8 trucks.* And right now your Ford Dealer is offering attractive terms for spring. Call him today and find out what a sweet deal you can get!

FORD TRUCKS
Ford Trucks Last Longer! Certified by independent insurance actuaries for the sixth consecutive year! Studies of over 10,000,000 current license registrations show that Ford Trucks last up to 9.9% longer than any of the other 4 leading truck makes!

First Methodist Launches Canvass

In one of the largest dinner gatherings on record here, the First Methodist Church launched its church-wide canvass Thursday evening. An estimated 900 persons participated in the Loyalty Dinner held at the National Guard armory on Mountain Park Road. Campaign objective is $250,000 for retirement of indebtedness on the recently renovated Fellowship Hall and the residue of the debt on the sanctuary, as well as for the year's operational budget and special causes. Advance and special gifts committees have been at work for the past two weeks, laying the ground work for the general canvass which started Friday. Horace Garrett, general chairman of the canvass, served as

New Howard Producer Finals On Potential Of 363 Barrels

A producer in north Howard County has been completed, flowing over 350 barrels in a potential test through a partial choke. Completed in the Luther Southeast (Siluro-Devonian) field is 42.1, and gas-oil ratio is 582.1. Operator treated with 2,000 gallons acid. Total depth is 7,846 feet, and top of pay zone is 6,534 feet. Five and a half inch casing is set at 7,000 feet and perforations are between 6,334-39 feet. Site is 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines, 42-36-38, T&P Survey. Warren No. 2 Hutchison has been completed in the Clear Fork of the Spraberry Trend Area. It pumped 128.23 barrels of oil in a 24-hour potential. Gravity is 42.1, and gas-oil ratio is 582.1. Operator treated with 2,000 gallons acid. Total depth is 7,846 feet, and top of pay zone is 6,534 feet. Five and a half inch casing is set at 7,000 feet and perforations are between 6,334-39 feet. Site is 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines, 42-36-38, T&P Survey. Soho No. 19-C Davenport flowed 248 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a 20-64 inch choke in finaling. Gravity is 39.8, and gas-oil ratio is 962.1. Pay was reached at 6,360 feet, and maximum depth is 6,945 feet. Perforations are between 6,360-70 feet. The well is located 1,900 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines, 11-37-56, T&P Survey in the Spraberry Trend (Clear Fork) Area. Tubing pressure is 275, and casing pressure is 575. Operator acidized with 2,000 gallons. Hanley No. 4 Moeller completed with a flowing potential test of 266.96 barrels of oil, plus five per cent water. The producer is in the Spraberry Trend Area. The potential test was through a 20-64 inch choke. Total depth is 7,930 feet, and top of the pay is 6,910 feet. The seven-inch casing is at 7,898 feet and n perforations are between 7,826-7,828 feet. Gravity is 39.1, and gas-oil ratio is 835.1. Tubing pressure is 275. The well was treated with 59,062 gallons of acid. Site is 2,540 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines, 10-37-55, T&P Survey. Southern California No. 4-J Jones has deepened to 2,628 feet in lime. Site is C SE NW, 421-97, H&C Survey. Southland No. 1 Dorward, at C NW NW NW, 1-32-5n, T&P Survey, is waiting on orders. Texas Pacific No. 1-B Johnson swabbed 32 barrels of oil and 264 barrels of salt water in 24 hours. Operator is still swabbing. Site is C SW NW, 7-32-5n, T&P Survey. Midwest No. 2 Scott is coring at 8,159 feet. Site is C SE NW, 25-35-5n, T&P Survey.

Phillips No. 2 Satterwhite sampled the top of the Fusselman in the Big Spring field and is now running electrical logs at 9,614 feet. The top of the formation was reached at 9,574 feet. Borden Tennessee No. 1 Fred Thomas is shutin. Location is C SW NE, 7-33-3n, T&P Survey. Tennessee No. 1 Cluck is drilling at 2,030 feet in salt and anhydrite. Site is 1,900 feet from south and east lines, 7-33-3n, T&P Survey. Seaboard No. 1-33 Good, C SE NE, 33-33-4n, T&P Survey, is progressing at 4,463 feet in lime and shale. Freeze Hits Corpse Of Fruit Blossoms

It dropped to a chilly 18 degrees last night but in the gloomy opinion of farm experts, the new freeze did no harm to fruit trees or crops. The reason no harm was done, said the experts, was simply because there was nothing left to be hurt. Cold weather earlier in the month had already dealt the fruit crop and what spring growth had developed a lethal blow. "Last night's cold was just kicking an already dead corpse," was the opinion of Jimmy Taylor, County Agent. "The unseasonably warm weather had caused widespread blooming of fruit trees and in my opinion the cold earlier in March had already killed all of these. So, this new blow probably did no additional harm." The chill was still on at 8 a.m. today. At that hour the temperature had crawled up the tube to a cold 24 degrees. The sun was out and the skies nearly clear in the forenoon. High reading for Thursday was 60 degrees. Cold weather was ushered into the area Thursday afternoon with strong winds which stirred up considerable dust. Prediction for the area called for a warming up starting today. Saturday is supposed to be moderately warm with an estimated high of 74 degrees. There will be westerly winds and rain on Saturday afternoon of 15 to 20 miles per hour velocity and local dust, the weatherman predicted.

Senterfitt Hits Daniel Delay

HAMILTON, Tex. (AP)—Reuben Senterfitt lashed out at U.S. Sen. Price Daniel today in a radio address, stating that Daniel "does not have the fortitude to resign from the Senate to make the governor's race." The speech, one of Senterfitt's fiercest of the campaign, was delivered over station KCLW here and will be re-broadcast over other Texas stations during the next 10 days. On March 12, Daniel made a statewide radio-television address asking Texans to let him know if they wanted him to enter the governorship race. He did not announce as a candidate as many political observers believed he would. Senterfitt pictured Daniel on March 12 as a "man completely devoid of courage. Here was a man warped with political importance to the point that he actually thought he was so indispensable he should be president, governor and senator all at the same time." Senterfitt continued by telling his listeners: "Price Daniel has not had the fortitude to announce for governor. He does not have the fortitude to resign from the Senate in order to make the governor's race. He does not have the fortitude to tell the truth to the Texans that the 10-mile tidelands limit have not been restored. "He does not have the fortitude to defend Texas freedoms from such federal aid to education... to defend the sovereignty of Texas in the Congress against the socialist-segregation decision of the Supreme Court. He said he hoped that "my friends who are supporting me over this state will never experience the same feeling of disgust with me that the followers of Price Daniel felt after his broadcast."

Wreckage Of Plane Sighted

Wreckage of an airplane, believed to be the light military plane missing on the Clovis, N.M., Air Force Base, was found near here this morning. The burned and scattered wreckage of an airplane was found about 15 miles east and 2 miles north of here. There were no apparent signs of survivors. Search planes began looking for the missing plane yesterday. The plane, a silver-colored L20 bearing the military number 16310, was sighted over Childers, Westwood, Tex., at 10:30 p.m. Friday. It carried five persons and was en route from Ft. Sill, Okla., to Clovis. Fox Stripling, a civic leader and developer of Big Spring for half a century, died at 80 p.m. Friday. Mr. Stripling had been in ill health for several years. Arrangements are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Surviving Mr. Stripling are five sons, Hayes Stripling, Robert Stripling, Big Spring; Stripling, Vernon, Duncan, Colorado City; and M. L. Duncan, Fort Worth. There are two daughters, Mrs. Carl Bates of Coahoma, and Miss Jean Duncan, Big Spring. Sisters are Mrs. Mary Massey, Coahoma; Mrs. Maggie Bishop, Lovington, N. M.; and Mrs. Willie Collins, Mission. There are five grandchildren. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home will return the body to Big Spring this afternoon. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Fox Stripling Dies Friday

HOUSTON (AP)—George B. Parr, South Texas political leader, and eight other men entered pleas of not guilty today to federal mail fraud indictment. The March 6 indictment named the nine men and two banks, alleging the defendants diverted $173,500 in Benavides Independent School District funds to themselves, their relatives, associates and supporters. The government contends the defendants knew that school district annual statements placed in the mail contained false representations. Today's pleas were made during arraignment before federal Judge Allen B. Hannay, who continued bonds at $5,000 each. The bonds were posted earlier in Corpus Christi. Hannay allowed Percy Foreman, Houston attorney representing the defendants, 30 days in which to file motions. Foreman gave no details but said one motion "will concern jurisdiction."

Champ Steer Brings $1,262.50 At Livestock Show's Auction

Grand champion steer of the Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock show brought its owner a fancy price of $1,262.50 at the auction sale Thursday night. The sale ran down the curtain on the 1956 edition of the stock show. Robert Lomax was the exhibitor of the grand champion. Reserve champion steer netted Joyce Robinson, its owner, a flat $1 per pound for all of the steer's 745-pound weight. George Lovke's reserve champion lamb, weight 95 pounds was sold for $142.50. Lonnie Anderson's grand champion capon brought the highest price of the evening. The 12-pound bird sold for around $100. This was an average of better than 18 per pound. Reserve grand champion capon, sold by Don White, netted him $50. The fowl weighed 11 pounds. No official total on the entire sale was available early today but Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent, said that it was "one of the best sales at any county show I have attended in a long time." Despite the chilling winds which swept into town late in the day, the big barn was nearly filled to capacity when Walter Britten, auctioneer from College Station, banged his gavel to open the sale. The price levels stood remarkably high throughout the entire sale. None of the 18 steers sold brought less than $40 per hundred and only two of the lot were sold for that price. Seventy lambs were sold. After the two champions were purchased the remainder of the lambs were rapidly disposed of at prices which never went below $40 and ranged upward to as much as $55. Prices paid for the capons after the two top birds had been sold were never under $10 and in several instances were as high as $20. The capons were sold without regard to weight and the buying bid was for the individual bird. Britten worked the sale rapidly. Opening shortly after 7:30 p.m. the last animal had been sold before 10 o'clock. Packer buyers on hand posted premium repurchase prices which they will pay to all buyers who wish to dispose of their purchases. Swift and Company agreed to pay a flat 20.50 for resale steers; Armour agreed to buy all lambs at resale price of 18.50. Both these prices were well above the normal market, stockmen said. Bulk of the buyers sold their animals to the packers but a few of every class were kept by their new owners. Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce members were ring assistants to the auctioneer. The young exhibitors who had stock for sale moved efficiently and there was never a lag in the proceedings. As rapidly as one animal was sold, bidding on the next was under way. Most of the buyers were Big Spring individuals and firms but also on hand to talk up prices for their own community youngsters were bidders from Coahoma, Foran and other Howard County communities. John Taylor, president of the Big Spring Jaycees, spoke briefly at the opening of the sale to express his appreciation to his fellow members and to the citizenship of the town for their cooperation in making the show the success it was.

Segregation Issue Flares Up In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The segregation issue flared up again in the Senate today when Sen. Lehman (D-NY) called for President Eisenhower to "assume the responsibility" for enforcement of the Supreme Court's school integration decree. "I cannot stand above the battle, like President Eisenhower, and say with fine impartiality that both sides must show restraint," Lehman said. Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) chimed in with a renewal of his suggestion that President Eisenhower call a White House conference on racial problems. He said that "it is incumbent on the President, whose office represents the acme of national leadership, to exercise that leadership in a national crisis as grave and as far-reaching as this one." "The sooner the President does so," Neuberger said, "the better are the chances to head off further deterioration of our country's strength at home and abroad." Neuberger said it was "inconsistent" for the President to call for patience and moderation while asking for a congressional commission which Neuberger said would have no "powers of compulsion." Eisenhower suggested Jan. 5 the creation of a congressional commission to make a continuing study of racial tensions. He has said such a body would have greater powers than any commission he appointed since it could be given the congressional authority to subpoena witnesses. Lehman quoted the President as having advocated moderation and as having warned against "the extremists" at his news conference Wednesday. "Does he (Eisenhower) picture himself as a mediator between two contending factions, the rights and merits of whose respective positions he is unable to assess?" Lehman asked. "In this situation, is he a neutralist?" Lehman said the manifesto in the Senate Monday, signed by most Southern congressmen, "would be absurd, if it were not so deadly serious and so highly dangerous." That document pledged the signers to oppose by all lawful means the ending of race segregation in public schools. Lehman said the "manifesto" was not inflammatory in tone, but that its effect was to support a doctrine of nullification which he said "has been enunciated in one form or another" by the legislatures of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia. "I only ask that the law be enforced in a lawful manner, and in such a graduated fashion as the courts themselves shall find feasible and practical," Lehman said. He said he asked Eisenhower to "fulfill the obligations of his oath of office" by seeing that the laws "are faithfully executed."

Charge Added At Assault Trial

DALLAS, March 16 (AP)—A charge of intimidation was added to the aggravated assault charge against San Angelo Attorney Clyde Vinson this morning as his trial began at Dallas County Criminal Court. Vinson is on trial for the alleged assault of WBAP-TV news cameraman Ken Martin during a murder trial Nov. 1. Vinson objected to the photographing of his client, a woman witness in the T. Clifton Clary murder trial. The trial of Vinson was held up this morning when defense attorneys Robert Benavides and Tom Howard, objected to pictures being made in the courtroom. After defense attorneys submitted the objection in writing, Judge Joe B. Brown recessed the court until 1:30 p.m. to study legal points of the objection. Prosecutors are Harvey Lindsey and Jack Cole, assistant district attorneys.

Body Of Mussolini Girlfriend Met By Fascist Salutes

ROME (AP)—A scattering of Fascist salutes and a wreath from ex-King Farouk of Egypt, paid tribute today to Claretta Petacci, mistress of Benito Mussolini, as she was reburied in Rome. About 250 friends, relatives and curious followed her body quickly to the family's new $30,000 glass and marble tomb in a cemetery alongside the church of San Lorenzo, outside the city walls. Church rites were refused. A priest rode in the funeral limousine, however, and said prayers inside the tomb. Eleven years ago Partisan guns felled Claretta and her paunchy lover. She and Mussolini were strung up by their heels in a Milan square before tens of thousands of Partisans. Her body was brought here from a hidden grave near Milan. The location of Mussolini's grave has never been disclosed.

Services Set For Patterson Baby

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Trinity Baptist Church for Ricky Lynn Patterson, 17-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Avice Patterson. The baby died Thursday night in a hospital. He had suffered from a heart condition since birth. Rites will be conducted by the Rev. L. J. Power, pastor of Trinity, and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of River Funeral Home. Besides the parents, the baby leaves his paternal grandparents, William E. Patterson and Mrs. Myrtle Patterson, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Froman, all of Big Spring.

Clara Jo Visits The President

President Eisenhower, a grandfather of no little experience, smiles and pats the cheek of four-year-old Clara Jo Proudfoot, of Miami, Fla., during her visit to the White House. Clara Jo is the 1956 Easter Seal child of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults and her visit launched the society's Seal sale. With them is Gov. Joe Foss of South Dakota, World War II Marine flying ace, who is chairman of the campaign.

Tire Is Stolen At High School

Vandals worked practically in the shadows of the high school Thursday in taking a spare tire and wheel from a car. Beth Ferguson, 1902 Eleventh Place, reported to police Thursday afternoon that someone had taken the tire and wheel from her 1955 Mercury while the car was parked at the school.

Peron Says He's Still 'Top Man' In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan D. Peron says he still is the big man in Argentina but the rebels who ousted him just six months ago today declare the ex-dictator's following has "declined enormously."

"This nation is well on the road to restoration of democratic life," Provisional President Pedro Aramburu asserted in an interview marking the half-year anniversary of the revolt which blew Peron off the pinnacle of power he had held for a decade.

Aramburu said he was confident Peron's reign "will serve as a lesson" to prevent Argentina from ever again falling into the hands of a dictator.

The Provisional President's statements coincided with publication in Santiago, Chile, of the memoirs Peron has written while in exile in Panama. "For: Is the Right of Beasts" Publication was in the magazine Ve (See), which had close contact with Peron in the past.

Peron wrote that if free elections were held now in Argentina, his forces would take at least 70 per cent of the vote.

Men Organize At Wesley Church

A Methodist Men's Club was organized by men of the Wesley Methodist Church Thursday evening at a charter banquet in the church's fellowship hall.

Officers installed were Paul Price, president; Tommy Lovelace, vice president; Don Newlon, secretary; Ray Eckler, treasurer; and Raymond Hamby, charge lay leader.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, district lay leader, installed the officers and presented the charter. Dr. O. W. Carter, district superintendent, presented the devotional. Invocation was by Rev. C. W. Parmenter, the pastor. About 125 men attended.

Water Situation Worries Lamesans

LAMESA — The city council last night heard a report from City Manager Carroll Taylor that the water situation is "not too good" here at the present time.

Taylor reported that the water level in several of the city's wells has dropped from 20-21 feet in the last few years. He told the councilmen that it would be six or seven years at least before Canadian River water is available here. He reported that one of three wells drilled recently was good, that one of the other two will be retested and that the value of the third is questionable.

Taylor said that the search for additional ground water would be continued. The council passed a resolution accepting the results of the election held Tuesday in which the contract with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority was approved.

"We are in no particular hurry to obtain a site for the airport, but want to find the best site available at the best price available."

The council agreed to furnish materials to light a softball diamond in Forest Park for use by the two Lamesa softball leagues this summer. The action had been recommended previously by the parks board. Taylor estimated that a turnkey job on the project would cost about $2,100 and that the bill for materials alone would be about $1,300. R. C. Lott, a representative of the leagues, told the council he felt sure that the ball-players would do the work.

The council also voted to put Lobo park into playing condition and to pay the light bill at the park when used by the Lamesa Semi-pro club.

Pacific Finance 'Off Limits'

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post yesterday said the armed forces have ordered service men to stop doing business with the Pacific Finance Corp. in the San Antonio and Corpus Christi areas because of what it called high rates and unnecessary insurance charges.

The Post quoted a Washington official of the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Board as saying the orders were effective yesterday but will not be actively enforced until April 1.

Former U.S. Sen. Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, the Post said, appealed to Secretary Wilson an "off limits" order made by the board, claiming the armed forces had no authority to fix rates charged by loan companies.

"If the disciplinary board can fix the terms of a contract between a soldier who has been admitted by the Army to be physically and mentally sound, they can also fix the policy on what he'll watch on television or buy in the grocery store," Lucas was quoted as saying.

A director of State Loan and Finance Co. of Washington, Lucas said it was his understanding Pacific Finance was still "on limits." Texas attorneys for Pacific Finance declined to comment.

Newton Rites To Be Sunday

Last rites for E. M. Newton, 76, who came to Howard County 50 years ago this year to pioneer on a new farming frontier, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Newton died suddenly Thursday morning.

Services will be held at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Elra Phillips, pastor of the Methodist Church at Wolforth, officiating, assisted by the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, Wesley Methodist pastor, and the Rev. Dan Oglesby, Prairie View Baptist minister. Burial will be in the family plot of the City Cemetery under direction of River Funeral Home.

Mr. Newton leaves six sons, two daughters, two step-sons, a step-daughter and two brothers.

Pallbearers will be B. F. White of Stanton, W. J. Rogers, Luther Smith, Milton Broughton, Morris Sneed and Harry Hurt.

Fire Reported

One call was made by the fire department Thursday. A trash fire was reported at 711 Gregg, but no damage was done by the blaze.

Artist's Name Is Upside Down, But Picture Hangs Right

CLEVELAND (AP) — The artist's signature is upside down, but the winning painting at the Chicago Art Institute's annual exhibition is hanging right side up.

"It's hanging the way I wanted it to hang," said the artist, 28-year-old Miss Anna P. Baker of Cleveland.

Two students laughed when they noticed the upside-down signature on Miss Baker's "High Frequency Ping," which topped the show's top prize of $1,500, her first big award.

"When I started painting it, I signed it the second day," explained the young artist. "I painted it on it for nearly a year, and as it progressed I decided it looked better the other way around. The other way there is a big area that gives it a certain amount of depth, and I didn't want that."

Miss Baker said her picture of diamonds and triangles was a "self-imposed technical problem."

Students' Request Nothing To Sniff At

GOVERNEUR, N. Y. (AP) — Buddy Graves and John Norton walked into Gouverneur Junior High School today and suggested they be separated from their classmates.

Last night, they explained, they stopped to remove a dead skunk from a trap. But he wasn't.

Uncle Ray: Maypole Dancing Was Common In England

By RAMON COFFMAN
May is ranked among the most beautiful months of the year in the northern Hemisphere. Some persons say that June and October are the only months which compare with May for good weather — but this opinion depends on the part of the globe in which you live.

You might expect such a fine month to be named after a pretty goddess of long ago, but I regret that the history of the month is in doubt. There actually was a Roman goddess named Maia, and a feast was held in her honor on the first of May. Some scholars (but not all) believe that her name was given to May.

Other scholars believe that the month was named after Maius, a short form of Mavus Jupiter. We may translate "Mavus Jupiter" as "Greater Jupiter."

In England (also in other lands) the Maypole custom gained ground long ago. The first day of May was set aside for festivities. It became usual for girls in every village to dance around a Maypole. One maiden in a village was chosen as Queen of the May.

Q. Have the old Maypole customs died out?
A. Not completely, but May Day (the first of May) is now chiefly a labor holiday. It is celebrated in Russia and some other countries with marches by workmen, also with public speeches.

Q. What important birthdays are there in May?
A. Among them are the birthdays of Robert Browning, English poet; Horace Mann, American educator; Florence Nightingale, pl-

A scientist, explorer and nurse, all born in May.

Electric Co-Op Makes Report

Consumption increased by almost one-third along the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative system during February, according to monthly operating statistics.

The system purchased 2,363,800 KWH and sold an aggregate of 2,187,879 KWH. This compared with 1,734,160 purchased and 1,562,544 sold in January. For the first two months of this year Cap Rock has purchased 4,097,960 and sold 2,750,423 KWH. For the same period in 1955, the purchase total was barely half, or 2,109,940 KWH, and the sales were less than half, or 1,777,086 KWH.

At the end of February there were 1,841 miles of line energized, a gain of 12 for the month. Members connected gained from 3,169 to 3,197, giving a density of 1.68 members per mile.

Average KWH consumption was 684 and average bill was $14.50, and there were only 292 minimum bills. A month ago average consumption was 356, the average bill $12.84, and the number of minimum bills 335.

Principal reason for the sharp increase in consumption is the pre-irrigation of land in central Martin County in anticipation of the crop year.

San Antonio Minister To Hold Services Here

Dr. George Mauze, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of San Antonio, will begin a series of pre-Easter services at First Presbyterian Church Sunday night.

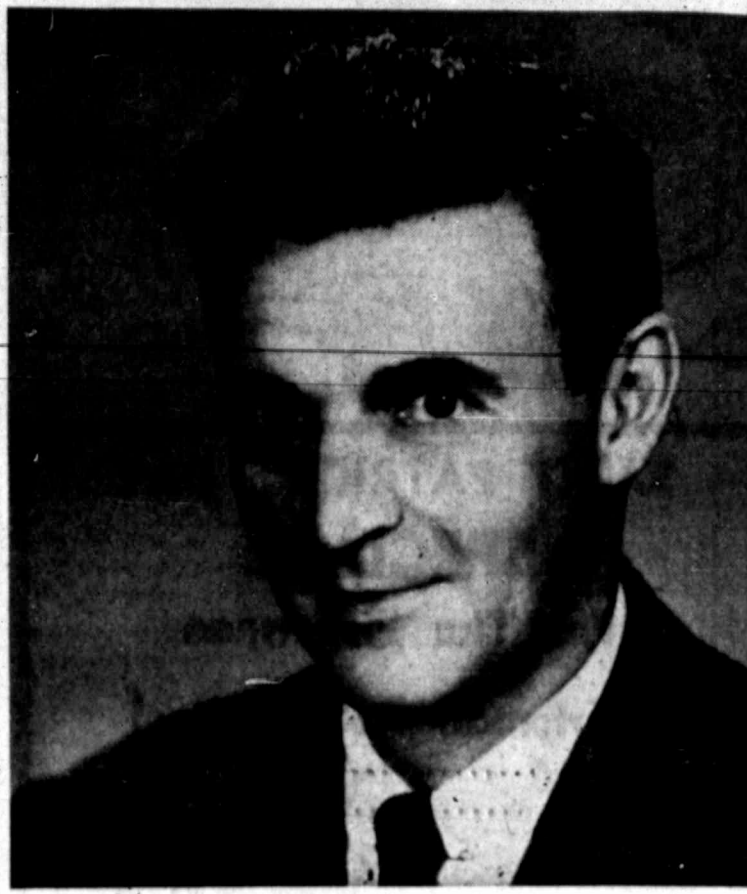

Another pre-Easter series has been slated by Birdwell Lane Church of Christ. Darrell Flynt, minister, will open a Gospel meeting Sunday morning. Services will be held daily at 8 p.m. through March 28. Beginning Tuesday, the evangelist will be Elbert Garretson, Phoenix, Ariz.

Nightly services at First Presbyterian will be held at 7:30 through Friday. Breakfasts for men will be held on weekdays at Fellowship Hall from 7 to 7:50 a.m. The public is invited to attend all services.

Dr. Mauze has been a member of the Board of Church Extension, Presbyterian Church U.S., since 1944. In the Synod he has served as a member of the Long Range Planning Committee, Latin American Work Subcommittee and Schreiner Institute Board of Trustees.

He has also served as chairman of the Western Texas Presbyterian Church Extension Committee. A native of Virginia, he was educated at Davidson College, N. C.; Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., where he received his doctor of divinity degree.

At Airport Baptist Church the guest speaker for Sunday services will be the Rev. L. V. Weaver.

DR. GEORGE MAUZE

The Rev. A. H. Posey will fill the pulpit for both Sunday services at Baptist Temple.

A series of "The Seven Last Words of Jesus" will be continued Sunday morning at East Fourth Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Maple Avery, who will also preach at the evening service.

At First Baptist Church, Dr. Frank Nix, associate pastor of Lubbock First Baptist Church, will speak in the morning and Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor, preach at the evening service.

At College Chapel the evening sermon by the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Bartlett, will be "The Covenant That Binds Us Together." His morning topic has not been announced.

The Rev. Clyde Nichols, First Christian Church, will bring the fourth in a pre-Easter series, "This We Proclaim." Sunday morning with a message, "Our Faith in the Future," from Heb. 11:8-12. At night he will take his sermon, "The Challenging Christ," from Matt. 16:24.

Mass will be said by the Rev. W. J. Moore, OMI, at 7 a.m. and 10 a.m. at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Confessions will be heard from 5:30 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Saturday. Benediction will follow the last Mass.

The Rev. Jerome Burnett will say Mass at Sacred Heart Church (Spanish speaking) at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Confessions will be heard from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The idolatry of relying on material rather than spiritual power will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" in Golden Text from Isaiah 42:8: "I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" include the following: 277:29: "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

The following is among the passages to be read from the Bible, Isaiah 44:9: "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed."

At Park Methodist Church the Rev. Jesse Young will take his morning sermon, "Magnetic Christ," from John 12:32. At night he will speak on "How Shall I Think?" from Matt. 22:42.

The Rev. John English, Lubbock, will fill the Wesley Memorial Church pulpit in the morning. The Rev. Billy Porterfield will speak at night.

The Rev. L. V. Reazin will bring both services at Church of the Nazarene.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd will end a series of pre-Easter sermons (See CHURCHES, Pg. 8, Col. 5)

Jesus Institutes the Lord's Supper

HE ASKS HIS DISCIPLES TO EAT AND DRINK IN REMEMBRANCE OF HIM

Scripture—Luke 22:1-71.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE FEAST of unleavened bread, called the Passover, was near. It was celebrated in memory of the flight of the Israelites from Egypt after the firstborn of the Egyptians were slain by the Lord, but the children of the Israelites were spared because of the lamb's blood splashed on the lintels of their doors.

Now, the chief priests and scribes plotted to kill Jesus, but they feared the people. Then Judas Iscariot, whom Satan had entered, went to them and told them that he would help them to trap Christ when He was away from the crowd, and they were glad to pay him for the job.

It seems impossible that a man who had been a companion of Jesus for two years or more, could, for a paltry sum of money, betray Him to His enemies. Satan indeed must have taken complete possession of Judas.

Then came the day of the Passover, and Jesus sent Peter and John to prepare the feast. Asked where it would be held, Jesus told the two that as they entered the city they would meet a man carrying a pitcher of water on his head. They were to follow him to a house, where the owner had a large upper room. There would they hold the Passover.

Jesus and the 12 assembled in cup is the new testament in my blood which is shed for you."

Then Christ said a most startling thing: "Behold, the hand of him that betrayeth Me is with Me on the table. And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined; but who unto that man by whom He is betrayed."

Imagine!—at this dramatic moment the disciples began an argument about whom among them was greatest! Jesus told them he who would be greatest would be the one who served, as He came to earth to serve. He told Peter that He had "prayed for thee that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted strengthen thy brethren."

Peter told Jesus he was ready to go to prison with Him and even to death, but Christ told him that "the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest Me."

Imagine!—an angel from heaven appeared to Him, strengthening Him. Going back to the disciples He told them to sleep, and He told them to "rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation."

Even as He spoke a multitude came, and Judas with them. The traitor went to Jesus and kissed Him as a sign that this was He.

Jesus said to Judas, "Betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?"

One of Jesus' companions cut off the ear of a servant of the high priest with a sword, but Jesus told him to stop and healed the man. Jesus asked His enemies why they came to Him as if He were a common thief, armed with swords and staves? Why did they wait in the temple daily they raised no hand against Him?

When the mob had taken Jesus to the high priest's house where Peter followed, a maid recognized Peter as being Jesus' companion, but he denied it. Three times he repeated his denial, and then he heard the cock crow, and he went out weeping bitterly.

Christ was beaten, mocked and in the morning He was taken to the council and asked: "Art thou the Christ?" He said, "If I tell you, ye will not believe." "Art Thou then the Son of God?" "Ye say that I am," Jesus said.

"And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of His own mouth." This was Jesus' first trial by these unbelieving, cruel men in whom there was no sense of right or justice.

Jesus took the cup of wine, probably laced with opium, and divided it among yourselves. And He took bread, and gave it to them, saying, "This is My body which is given for you; this do in remembrance of Me." After supper He passed the second cup of wine, saying: "This is My blood of the new testament, which is shed for you; this do in remembrance of Me."

NEW LIFE

So many things develop from within, and so do we. The chick comes out of the egg, the flower from a tiny seed, the tree adds rings year after year to its outer core. Always it is the inner life.

And so it is with the heart of man. When the inner man is fed by God's Holy Word, the outer life becomes a joyful expression, a vital power that overcomes all obstacles and sweeps on to eternal life.

The Church nourishes the inner life of spirit so essential to outer growth and beautiful expression. From the Church comes the instruction and inspiration for happy, worthwhile living. Attend some church regularly, and see what a difference it makes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bible Thought For Today

But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. (St. Mark 6:4)

Editorial

Folksy Notes Of Long Ago

Not long ago AP Writer Ledgerwood Sloan told how Texans of the future will be dependent for many of the old folk songs and ballads on a tiny blind lady of 84 who has "cut" for the University of Texas and the Library of Congress scores of recordings of her voice singing the old songs of our forefathers.

She is Mrs. Mittie Banks Howard, a native of Goliad, whose mother before her was a native Texan, and she now lives in Dallas. Recording these songs is a labor of love for her. She heard most of them as a child as her mother sang them.

One of these old songs had a purely nomenclature interest for us. It is listed as "Billy Grimes," and it tells of an English mother changing her mind about letting her daughter marry "that ugly drover." She changed her mind on hearing that "old man Grimes is dead," and the son Billy would come into an inheritance of 10,000 pounds — about $50,000 in those far off days.

We hadn't heard that song mentioned in 40 years, whereas from the War Between the States up until the turn of the century it was pervasive, at least in the South. If we were asked, as a boy, if we were related to "old man Grimes" of the song once we were asked a thousand times; and generally the asker persisted in singing a stanza for our benefit:

"Old Grimes is dead, that good old man. We never shall see more; He used to wear a long black coat. All buttoned down before."

We take this version from Bartlett's Quotations, though the way we heard the second line it went: "We ne'er shall see him more." The song is attributed to Albert Gorton Greene (1802-1868). It must have had many stanzas, for Bartlett quotes from the 8th: "He had no malice in his mind. No ruffles on his shirt." That's us, all right, but the 10th stanza isn't like us at all: "His knowledge hid from public gaze. He did not bring to view. Nor made a noise town-meeting days. As many people do."

The name originated as Grim in England A.D. 1095, when some old sorcerer had his census blank filled out in the Domesday Book. Names in those days were new and descriptive.

Out Of Respect Grows Brotherhood

So much intolerance is rampant in the world today that the observance of Brotherhood Week here comes like a breath of fresh air. We do not have to cast our eyes a long way off to see the seething tensions of humanity in bitter ferment.

Unhappily, the unyielding hate of Arab and Jew in the Near East can find some shadow among racial extremists in our own country. Similarly, the frictions between classes of foreign people can find its counterpart among promoters of class struggle here.

We can ill afford to shrug off these tensions as something that has always existed, and is destined to continue. None can deny that there have been differences of all sorts down through the chronology of history. No intelligent person would contend that prejudices and misunderstandings can be waved away by the touch of some wand. But can any reasonable person contend that we have any just claim to progress in civilized living if this generalization fails to contribute its part to weaving away of these barriers?

Have we not all one father, asked the prophet.

Ethnologically we might be different, but biologically as human beings we are biological members of the same family, a fact that underlines Malachi's searching question.

Certainly there are differences in religions, in customs, in colors, in strata of society, in political philosophies, and in many other ways. But cannot we have the warmth and the broadness to respect and appreciate those differences? Can we not leave off theological hair-splitting and the ponderous rearrangement of our prejudices long enough to perceive that we do not have to accept another's viewpoint, but that we can respect it? Out of that respect will come a solid foundation for tolerance — and brotherhood.

Nation Has A Proud Record In Art

WASHINGTON — The tide of fortune and favor that has carried America to a position of unparalleled wealth is underscored by an anniversary shortly to be observed here.

More than production totals—the millions of tons of steel, the millions of automobiles, television sets, gadgets of every kind, the anniversary signifies the reach of the nation's wealth.

The National Gallery of Art in Washington is marking the 15th year of its opening. In that short time, an unprecedented thing has happened.

From princes and kings, the vaults of private collectors in every corner of Europe, from castles in England and palaces in Venice there has been assembled one of the most comprehensive collections of art in history. The paintings and sculpture have been bought by private philanthropy and given to the government under tax-exemption provisions.

To assemble the collections in the Louvre in Paris, the National Gallery in London, the Prado in Madrid took many decades, if not centuries. A combination of American productivity under the free enterprise system and government intervention made it possible to put together in a few years in a public museum masterpieces by every great painter from the 13th through the 19th centuries.

It began with the late Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, who amassed a vast fortune that extended into every phase of industry.

As men of wealth have traditionally done, Mellon toward the end of his life turned to the accumulation of precious and beautiful things. On the walls of his apartment in Washington, when he was Secretary of the Treasury in the '20s and early '30s, were the works of Rembrandt, Goya, the masters of the Italian Renaissance.

The late Lord Duveen, the dealer who was buying for Mellon, was able to get more than 20 notable pictures out of the Czarist collections in the Soviet Union when the Soviets were hard up for gold and foreign exchange.

At the beginning of the New Deal, an income tax charge which stirred angry political repercussions was brought against Mellon. The government alleged that he had created a tax-exempt charitable and educational foundation to pass his paintings on to his children free of inheritance tax.

The civil suit, as it wound through the ramifications of Mellon's extraordinary career, was without precedent in its complexity.

The end result was, in effect, a draw with the financier paying relatively small penalties. His gift of $20,000,000 built the great gallery on Constitution Avenue and endowed it. His pictures looked a little lonely in the marble-floored rooms.

But his belief that this beginning would attract other donors to create a great collection has been vindicated many times over.

On the formal observance of the anniversary, there will be shown 84 new paintings from the collection of the late Samuel H. Kress and his brother, Rush. These are in addition to more than 250 Kress paintings, most of them of the Italian Renaissance, already on display.

The Kress brothers have devoted a large part of their fortune, which came from chain stores across the country, to combing Europe for owners who could be persuaded to sell masterpieces sometimes held in the same family for many generations. Thanks in part to two wars, innumerable revolutions and their agents, the Kress brothers have been remarkably successful.

Other collections have come more or less intact to the gallery. Notable among these are the Widener collection from Philadelphia and the Chester Dale collection of French art. Lessing Rosenwald presented the museum with his collection of drawings and prints which is one of the most comprehensive in the world. And the retiring director of the gallery, David E. Finley, has been tireless in his search for wealthy collectors who would leave their pictures to the nation.

It is impossible to put any money value on the treasure that has been given to the Federal government. Paintings have had a boom greater than any stock or security.

Last summer, in the London auction rooms, third and fourth rate examples of second and third rate painters of the Italian Renaissance brought from $40,000. The pictures in the National Gallery are virtually all first-rate examples of first-rate painters.

Long a political capital, Washington is now one of the great art centers of the world.

Fretful politicians struggling with the problems of a time of troubles might remember that art is long and life is short. If they were of a mind to walk the short distance from the capitol to the National Gallery, they would see the portraits of others who struggled in past times to balance wealth and power against stability and discipline and who are remembered chiefly because of the artist who painted them or for their patronage of great art.

No Action On Race Conference

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower could, if he wanted to, create a commission to examine racial tensions in the South or he could call a White House conference of Southern white and Negro leaders to seek a solution. Instead, he has passed the ball to Congress, suggesting the lawmakers set up a commission. When he proposed it Jan. 5, he said he hoped it would be done "promptly."

It hasn't been done. There's no sign it will be in a Congress where 101 Southern senators and representatives have just signed a "manifesto" seeking to reverse the Supreme Court ruling against public school segregation.

As of now, judging from what Eisenhower told his news conference this week, he has no intention of taking the bull by the horns and appointing a commission himself or calling a White House conference.

Why does he want Congress to do the job? He told his news conference a commission created by Congress would have power to issue subpoenas for witnesses and compel them to appear and testify.

He explained further: "Now, if I merely appoint, call in a party, and let everybody air their views, that would be one thing to do." He seemed to have in mind here not the appointment of a commission but the calling of a conference of whites and Negroes. And he added: "But it is not the thing I want done. . . I would like to have that body organized, bipartisan, and with every point of view represented on it, and as quickly as possible."

His insistence on letting Congress do the job, when apparently Congress has no intention of doing anything of the kind, seems to mean that nothing will be done except for some conversation from time to time.

Nevertheless Eisenhower, as president, has authority to create a commission to examine the civil rights problem in the South and search for some answer to the heat building up there over school segregation and integration.

By his executive authority President Truman created a number of commissions to study special problems. One of them was a committee on civil rights. And Eisenhower has appointed a number of commissions to study other national problems.

When The Irish Are Irish

Editor's Note—Stirred by his annual admiration of St. Patrick, whose disciples parade tomorrow, one of our Irish-descended reporters offers again a piece that has gone before.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — What is it to be Irish?

On 364 days of the year being Irish isn't visibly different from being French, Italian, Jewish, Serbian, Dutch, or — yes — even English.

The Irishman pays his bills, complains against his taxes, does his work, and listens to his wife like the man of any other race.

But on this day of the year — holy St. Patrick's Day — the Irishman becomes an Irishman. And on this day you have to be Irish to know what it is to be Irish.

The outer signs, of course, can't be seen by all. The Irishman overnight grows a foot taller and stalks the earth a giant. All traffic lights turn green before him, and if they don't he sees red.

But this air of majesty is only token evidence of interior change. The men of other races who walk the Irishman has bearing on St.

Patrick's Day would envy him far more if they could look inside the Irishman's soul.

What is it to be Irish? It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things. Does an Irishman pause and turn an ear to a tree? It is because on his day he wants to hear what one sleepy bud said to another as it opens its pale green hands to the warm sun of spring.

What is it to be Irish? It isn't only the realization that he is descended from kings. It is the realization that he is a king himself, an empire on two feet striding in power, a strolling continent of awe.

What is it to be Irish? Why on St. Patrick's Day, to be Irish is to know more glory, adventure, magic, victory, exultation, gratitude and gladness than any other man can experience in a lifetime.

What is it to be Irish? It is to walk in complete mystic understanding with God for 24 wonderful hours.

Priest Is Bus Driver

NEW ULM, Minn. — The Rev. Otto Neudecker helped raise $9,000 to buy a new school bus for Holy Trinity Catholic grade and high school, then took over the wheel himself on the daily rounds. He decided this was the most practical way to help provide an education for his parish students.

One-Cell Communism, 13-Month Year

Back in my college days I heard a weird argument by one of the 20-odd Reds on the University of Texas campus, in support of the Communist thesis. The poor kid apparently had been reading too much science fiction, for she pointed out how, in the course of evolution, individual one-celled organisms, like the amoeba, had cast off their individuality in favor of co-operation. This co-operation, as the millennia passed, gradually resulted in a total loss of individuality of the one-celled creatures, and in turn created a new individual made up of body cells. Our little Red then propounded the startling thesis that humanity's higher destiny will follow the same course — that we, as individuals, will gradually lose our identity to the State which, in turn, will become a living organism in itself. Even those professors who leaned slightly to the left were shocked upon hearing her expound this thesis. I'm happy to say, however, that the girl has grown up — disillusioned with communism, she is now happily married to a capitalist, raising a family like the rest of us amoebas.

Did you ever stop to think how our calendar is mixed up? The world has already had to change its calendar once, since the first one wasn't quite accurate. The present calendar is accurate enough, but confusing. A person always has to consult the calendar to see what day of the week falls on what day of the month — not to mention having to check on such things as paydays and car payments. Those who are paid by the week find themselves in slight confusion with four paydays a month for a varying number of months, then five paydays in one month later on.

Well, there's a new calendar system I just thought up which is the answer to all our problems. This new system would have 28 days in each month, so you won't have to teach your kids the old nursery rhyme about "30 days had September, etc." Each month would start on a Sunday, in the upper left of the calendar, and end on a Saturday, in the lower right corner — exactly four weeks to every month. We'd have to add an extra month, though, making 13 in all. But it's about time we had a new month, anyway. The ancient and original twelve are becoming worn at the seams.

And think what a joke on our superstitious neighbors — what with 13 months in the year, and every second Friday of every month being a Friday the 13th.

There's only one hitch, but it may actually be an advantage — the 28-day month calendar would leave one day over each year. We could then have a leap year every year, and every four years a double header. And then, we might leave the extra day each year as a New Year holiday (that day's usually lost to us, anyway) and every fourth year's extra day for presidential inaugurations.

So it might throw business offices all over the country (to say nothing of the Internal Revenue Bureau) into hopeless confusion—it would all be straightened out sooner or later and we would all be repaid by less calendar confusion.

Progress marches on. —BOB SMITH

For A Give-Em-Hell Campaign—Truman

WASHINGTON — There's a surprising amount of talk among the professional politicians on the Democratic side about the possibility of drafting Harry Truman to run again for the presidency.

Part of it is due to a dissatisfaction with the most-often-mentioned candidates—Messrs. Stevenson, Kefauver and Harriman. Part of it is based on the theory that no other candidate would have the solid backing that Mr. Truman would get from labor-union and radical organizations as well as the big city political organizations.

It so happens that Mr. Truman will be traveling abroad during most of the time when the pre-convention campaign will be in full swing and will avoid participation therein. Europeans admire Harry Truman. Under his regime the biggest amount of money ever given away by any country to any other countries was sent abroad out of the U.S. Treasury, and much of it was in the form of grants—not loans.

But there is another reason for European admiration. The Democratic party itself is much more highly regarded in London and Paris than the Republican party. Even though General Eisenhower led the rescue of France from Hitler's military power and saved Britain from a similar fate, most newspapers abroad wanted Adlai Stevenson to win in 1952. To this day, while they like Eisenhower in Europe, it is only because they think the New York City clique which is influential in the Republican party will keep the so-called "right wing" in that party from getting on top.

Actually, if the Democratic party's personnel is examined carefully in this regard, it will be found that men like Senators George of Georgia and Lyndon Johnson of Texas are not a bit different from many Republicans in feeling that America has gone too far in appropriating billions for foreign aid and that the time has come to take a careful look at the "give-away" programs, especially as they relate to Asia.

But the selection of Mr. Truman to head the Democratic party once more would not be altogether because of the preponderant influence which the internationalist exercised during his administration. It is related primarily to the Truman kind of campaigning, which some professionals on the Democratic side believe would be most effective this year.

What is desired, according to the Trumanites, is a "give 'em hell" campaign, which means recklessness of statement and impugning of motives. It's the pattern of so-called "McCarthyism," but nobody in Congress ever arises to "condemn" it. It is felt that neither Mr. Stevenson nor Mr. Kefauver fill the requirements of vigorous campaigning.

Mr. Truman is cocky about his political prowess and is convinced that he could have won in 1952—and he implies he could win in 1956. That's what he tells his intimate friends. This attitude is due in some respects to the well-known habit among politicians of exuding confidence so as to conceal altogether any signs of weakness in a campaign year. But some of it is actually believed by Mr. Truman, whose recently published memoirs show that he doesn't think much of the candidates now being put forward by the Democrats. He has already brushed off Mr. Stevenson in some of his comments, and he hasn't quite forgiven Mr. Kefauver for once bailing him in the New Hampshire primary election. The few remarks favorable to Governor Harriman that have come from Mr. Truman are not indicative of any great enthusiasm for the New Yorker and stem largely from forgotten contributions made by Mr. Harriman to the Truman cause when the party treasury was empty.

So it all comes down to the same old query—who else but Mr. Truman? He is, of course, eligible to run for another term, since the constitutional amendment which limits a president to two terms exempts specifically the President who was in office when the amendment was being processed for adoption in 1951.

In many respects, Harry Truman is the logical nominee of his party. He still stands on both the Fair Deal and the New Deal and is proud of his record in international affairs, including intervention in Korea and his dismissal of General MacArthur.

Mr. Truman will be 72 years old on May 8 next, but Chancellor Adenauer is 80 and still in power, and Churchill was past 80 when he retired. So the former President is being looked over by the politicians on the theory that, on the personal side, Truman's age will be no more of a barrier than Ike's heart attack and that the chief concern of the Democratic National Convention should be basic issues and the choice of the best man to interpret them to the people.

One thing is fairly certain already—if Harry Truman doesn't desire the nomination himself, he will have more to say about who the nominee shall be than any other single personality among the party's bosses.

Could Be That We're Insulting The Apes

Dear me! Whatever became of the "eternal verities"? Changeless truth is a fickle wench, circa 1956, and Russian history isn't the only revealed truth that changes every hour on the hour.

Now, just as man at long last has knuckled under to the once-controversial fact that he is descended from the apes, along come modern anthropologists and say it ain't necessarily so. Fossils discovered in an Italian coalpit lead these scientists to believe man up-graded himself from a "humanoid" rather than a simian ancestor.

Well, let me tell you, the modern anthropologist has probably bitten off more than he can chew! The weight of evidence is against him if he hopes to disprove the now accepted ape thesis of the late Charles Robert Darwin, who raised merry hob among our Victorian ancestors with his monkey business.

Darwin may have made a monkey out of man in the first place. But ever since, and particularly in my lifetime, man has done everything in his power to prove that Darwin was right.

One has only to read the daily papers to be convinced that Darwin was on the right track when he insisted that man evolved from the apes, if the apes will pardon the insinuation.

Twentieth century man, aided by unparalleled inventive genius and scientific discovery, has succeeded in creating in this best of all possible worlds not a living paradise but a murky, torturous purgatory that threatens, at any moment, to turn into a flaming hell.

Man everywhere is at the throat of his brother, neighbor contends with neighbor and men of good will are despised.

Darwin may have begun the job, but man has confirmed it. And, furthermore, it is my honest opinion that if apes went into court and sued for libel, they could collect hands down.

Are apes engaged in a life and death struggle with one another? Are they dedicated to civil strife and inter-ape warfare? Are they plotting to fire the powderkegs, pull down the jungle and destroy themselves in the process?

No, no, a thousand times NO! As man plays out the rope to hang himself, the happy ape skip through the jungle, organize, coocon hunt and live and let live.

Even though the Italian fossils indicate that man was well along the evolutionary process as much as 10 million years ago and that he was then a human-like rather than an ape-like creature, anthropologists are still looking for the missing link.

Okay, then. Let the scientists take a good, long look at modern man. There are days when I am convinced that all his links are missing.

Even so, I am not willing yet to concede the battle to the fundamentalists and the late William Jennings Bryan. In any contest between modern man vs. monkey, the smart money still would be on Jocko.

Play Safe While You Drive!

Keep alert—chew gum

Avoid traffic jitters and driving drowsiness. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension—helps keep you feeling fresh and alert for safer driving. Chew any brand of gum you like but chew while you drive. Naturally, we recommend refreshing, delicious Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, satisfying flavor and real chewing enjoyment.

Missile Can Track, Kill At High Altitudes

By ELTON C. FAY
ABOARD THE USS NORTHAMPTON, in the Caribbean Sea (AP)—The Navy showed publicly how its antiaircraft guided missile, the Terrier, can track and kill a high-flying combat plane. Yesterday two missiles spiraled up a radar beam from the Navy's first robot weapon ship, the Boston. The drone target plane—and P-6F Hellcat traveling at 350 miles per hour—was out of sight six miles distant and at 15,000 feet altitude. But the two Terriers turned and weaved in their super-sonic-speed ascent, then converged. Spectators saw a flash in the sky, a blooming cloud of smoke, another flash as the second missile detonated. And the lattered wreckage of the Hellcat drifted down. Officials said the World War II Hellcat was an easy target for the 1,500-mile-per-hour Terrier, adding that it was capable of coping with the best jet bomber. The Navy's dramatic demonstration, however, was preceded by a bobble. Instead of blasting off, the pair of missiles stood stolidly on their launchers while a flare burned briefly and brilliantly at the base of one of the weapons. Officials said there was at no time any danger. Apparently restrained by top Department of Defense levels, the Army has been unable to show off in actual firing its Nike missile. The same situation appears to prevail in the case of the Air Force, which has, among its air-to-air missiles, the Falcon.

Pupils Seek To Name Atom Ship

GRANTS, N. M. (AP)—Fifth grade students here see no reason why the first atom-powered cruiser shouldn't be named the USS Grants. They built and sent to the Navy Dept. a model of a cruiser—along with 10 pages of reasons why it should be given the uranium town's name. The model was mounted on a chunk of uranium ore. The youngsters were turned down on an earlier request that an atomic submarine be given the name. The Navy said submarines were named for deep sea fish. "Grants supplied the uranium," said the kids. The town is on the edge of the uranium-loaded Colorado Plateau.
